

Easter 'Special' at Concord

The Easter weekend is an occasion in most homes. In homes of pastors it is an extra special occasion. This year in the home of a Concord pastor it is an extra special blessed occasion.

Rev. and Mrs. John Erlandson have a son. They did not know they were to have this child until last Tuesday when they were informed they were to become parents of a son.

They serve Concordia Lutheran Church, Concord, and First Lutheran Church, Allen. They have been hoping for a son for the past few months.

Rev. and Mrs. Erlandson have a daughter, Lisa, who was two in January. She was adopted at Immanuel, Inc., social service department, Omaha, two years ago. Under somewhat of a "planned parenthood" arrangement, the adoption agency (which is a social ministry institution of the Nebraska Synod, Lutheran Church in America) has rules that before a couple may adopt a second child, the first must be at least two years old.

Within the past year the Erlandsons decided they wanted a son so applied at Immanuel, Mondays are the days calls are made to inform prospective parents of their child being ready so when last Monday arrived and went the Erlandsons figured they were due for more waiting.

Tuesday they received a telephone call. They could pick up their boy, an eight-pound, two-ounce, 20½-inch lad born Mar. 14. His name, John Mark, had already been picked out and Thursday they went after him.

Lisa was delighted with her new brother, Mark, which is what he will be called. Coming home she decided she wanted to make sure he was still in his blankets so asked to see him. He was asleep so she wanted to have his eyes opened to make sure he was still in there.

Almost as delighted with the newcomer were Mrs. Erlandson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lindahl, Geneva, Ill. They had planned to spend the Easter weekend at Concord and were informed that a new grandson would be there too. They came Thursday to share the joy in the household.

The other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Erlandson, Rockford, Ill., will see their newest grandchild later. Both sets of grandparents now have four grandchildren.

Mark is to be baptized Sunday, Apr. 30, at Concordia Lutheran Church. Dr. Reuben Swanson, synod president from Omaha, will be in charge.

Easter season, which has a meaning of new life for Christians around the world, has a special meaning to add in the Erlandson home in Concord this year.

HAPPY EASTER at the Rev. John Erlandson home, Concord, involved a new son, Mark John, adopted Thursday. Lisa is enthused with her new little brother, forgetting all other aspects of the season in her excitement over the newcomer.

Planning Centennial Show

"Portraits of Nebraska" is the theme chosen for a presentation to be made Tuesday, Apr. 25, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium under auspices of the Wayne County Historical Society. It is an event to help mark the state's centennial.

The idea of "living pictures" will be developed to portray certain phases of history in Nebraska starting out with the first settlers who came to what is now this state. Entertainment will be provided between each change of picture.

Wayne State College, the city of Wayne and the entire county are being asked to work together on the plans. WSC has already given some of the biggest assists.

Ken Magill, WSC student from Wymore, is chairman of the group planning the program. Goldie Leonard, Tillie Harms and Dorothy Kabisch are also on the committee. Any can be contacted for information on the program or for supplying authentic oldtime costumes to be used.

Dr. T. H. McDonald, WSC instructor, will be narrator. Dr. Aaron Butler of WSC will provide centennial songs. Mrs. Harms has lined up an oldtime "kitchen band" and is seeking other numbers for between-scene entertainment. Workers will go out seeking help this coming week. They are hoping that wherever they turn they will meet with enthusiastic response.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan True of the WSC staff have agreed to make the tickets and programs. Several other college staff members and students have agreed to help in various ways.

Some of the pictures will show settlers moving in, the grasshopper invasion, a school room in the early days and the old farm-to-farm salesman who used to make the rounds. Other ideas are being considered and new ideas will be welcomed.

Anyone play a harmonica? The WCHS wants to find one for the program. If you have any oldtime clothing that is wearable you may find a spot in a style revue to follow the living pictures.

Proceeds from the affair will go to the WCHS which hopes to get a museum for the county some day. Further information will be presented between now and Apr. 25.

Editor Admits Error, Extra Appraising for City Returns Boy to Folks

Kirk Troutman, Winside's representative at Boys State, is being "returned" to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Troutman, by the Wayne Herald. Last week in the account of his being chosen it was stated that he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Troutman. The Herald editor made the error and apologizes.

Wayne, you're too much! That's the verdict of the Clemmshaw appraisers who were supposed to take care of inquiries from residents of Wayne concerning property appraisal Thursday.

County Assessor Henry Arr reports the crew was unable to take care of all those who showed up. So, another day has been set aside, Wednesday, Mar. 29, for city of Wayne residents to come in with property description to compare and check appraisals.

Originally, the last day for the appraisers to be here was Tuesday. That is a "clean-up day" when residents of any part of the county may come in.

Now the clean-up day will be held and then another day will be added for residents of the city of Wayne. Monday will be Altona and Wakefield days plus Logan, Leslie and Plum Creek Precincts.

Long lines have been present no matter which precincts are involved. The assessor and appraisers are pleased with the response. There is a lack of seating but people have been patient. It's just a matter of more responding than anticipated and, in an effort to please, an extra day being added.

Lions Talent Show Tuesday

Competition for the right to represent this area in the district Lions Club talent show will be kept Tuesday, Mar. 28, at 7:30 p.m. when the Wayne Lions Club holds its annual talent show in the Wayne City Auditorium.

There will be three divisions by age group. Each of the division winners will get the right to go to the Fremont district talent show Friday, Apr. 29. Winners at Fremont will represent the district in the state show at Columbus in June.

Clarence Boling is vice president in charge of youth activities for the club. Pat Atkins is chairman for the project. Several other Lions have put in a lot of time on preparations. They report Cleve Sharer agreeing to be master of ceremonies again, which insures a well-paced show. They also have a variety of numbers in all age groups, the final compilation being made as this paper went to press.

Committee members remind contestants that they must sign in by 7 p.m. at the auditorium. Those not signed in will be scratched from the program since it is difficult to know what to expect if someone has not signed in.

The talent show is a non-profit project for the Lions. They spend the money earned on auditorium rental and prizes. The prizes include plaques with the winners' names engraved on them for the first three places in each division plus expenses for the trip to the district meet for the first place winners.

Rural District's Truck Big

A bigger and better fire truck has been ordered by the Wayne Rural Fire District No. 1. International Harvester submitted the low bid for the chassis with four Wayne firms submitting bids.

Meeting Wednesday night at the Wayne Fire Hall, the board of the district approved the contract with International. On order now is a four-wheel drive truck that is even bigger than the one the rural district has now.

It is bigger and heavier and will give better protection. Holding 750 gallons of water and equipped with a pump, auxiliary pump and all of the latest fire-fighting equipment for rural trucks, it will be the most modern in the area.

While the chassis itself will be here in two months, the equipment that goes on it will take longer. It could be as long as six months before the new rural truck is here, according to the district president, Ralph Boeckenhauer.

An 18-year-old truck is being sold. It is one of two the rural district owns, both being kept at the Wayne Fire Hall and manned by volunteers of the Wayne Fire Department.

'NFO Dumps Spoonful Milk'

The National Farmers Organization, engaged in a milk-holding action in 25 states, has not dumped much milk in Wayne County, according to Rolland Victor, county president. He said a spoonful is all he knows about.

He was personally responsible for that spoonful being dumped. Sitting in a restaurant, he dipped out a spoonful of milk and dumped it in a dirty plate. As far as he knows there has been no other dumping.

This is a contrast to dumping procedures in other states where truckloads have been dumped. However, most NFO members in this county are not producing milk, he said, but are supporting the action.

Victor said some non-members have joined in holding back milk but they have not dumped it. Pigs have been getting a lot of it and use of it has been made in farm homes, he noted.

He said NFO members have been buying milk in volume in Wayne and other towns to cut down on the supply in stores. He admitted to having had more milk to drink in his home than ever before.

The over-all picture for negotiating contracts is favorable, Victor was told Thursday by Val Ackersland, Valley, state of Nebraska coordinator for NFO.

Victor said: "A major breakthrough in the pricing structure of milk could open the door to further negotiations on all food products. I am sure this is sorely needed in view of declining livestock prices."

He noted that the government has not intervened in the milk-holding action, pointing up the necessity of farmers bargaining together to price products. (Federal officials said Thursday night that farmers had good reason for taking action of some kind).

The government claims to want cheap food, Victor said. "That can be borne out by the amount of imports entering this country." He said that about the time farmers get supply and demand in balance the balance is broken by these very imports.

"The sad part of this is," he continued, "the American taxpayer is being asked to feed the hungry of the world and our government is bringing imports into this country to depress farm prices while those same countries that are exporting these products to us are actually taking food out of the mouths of their own people for the American dollar."

Victor said further information on the holding action would be given at a meeting Monday, Mar. 27, at 8 p.m. in the ASCS office, Wayne. Whether the holding action will have reached a conclusion or will be intensified by then could not be foretold at the time this was printed.

(Victor called Friday afternoon to report five New England states have asked NFO to extend its milk-holding to those states. He said a contract had been signed in South Dakota. Finally, he said everyone is urged to buy up all the milk possible to aid the NFO in its action).

Speaks at Winside

Del Benjamin, promotion manager for Channel 9, Sioux City, will be guest speaker at the Winside Community Club meeting Monday, Mar. 27, at 7 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The dog in Allen had been struck by a car. He laid there, feet up, dead. Two sympathetic girls came along, saw his condition, got a box and wagon, laid him tenderly in it and then started pulling the wagon away, figuring the least they could do was get the body out of public sight. A boy witnessed it all. Not until he told them did they find out that the dog was having no part of it—he'd bounded out of the box and wagon and was headed in another direction.

A recent accident near Winside was investigated by a safety patrol trooper. Sheriff Don Weible could have investigated it but the trooper was closer to the scene. The driver of one car was a cousin of the sheriff's; the driver of the other was a cousin of the sheriff's wife.

Then there's the Wayne business area employee who usually walks to work. He lives many blocks from work. The other day he drove to work, forgot he drove, walked home and then had to walk back to get the car.

FOUR TRUCKS are inside this building. These are the only entries. The Wayne truck on the right, the rural truck (being traded in for a bigger one) is in the center and the city's "little white truck" is on the left. The other rural truck is behind the two trucks on the left.

Firemen Fight, Drill, Pay Too

Wayne Volunteer Fire Department members say they want the people of Wayne to know that they are not asking taxpayers to pay for something firemen want with the idea the people will pay. In fact, they remind the public that they are taxpayers too.

The firemen have been campaigning for a new fire hall. They feel that no one is better able to judge the needs than the ones who use the facilities, which means those who have been or are firemen or even those who have visited the hall and that's why they are planning an open house.

First of all, they point out that as firemen they want the station. But, they also pay taxes so they do double duty—they fight the fires and they pay taxes to provide the facilities.

They train, which takes their time. Almost every week there is a meeting or a drill. This they toss in as experience needed so they will be prepared to fight fires better.

Firemen are wearing off shoe leather campaigning for the fire hall. It's their shoe leather and everyone else's equipment but they see the need the most so they are willing to work for it.

They are also willing to give up a Sunday afternoon, Apr. 2 for open house so the people can visit the fire station. They will take people through the hall and explain the situation regarding trucks, hose drying, equipment storage and drill area.

What they want the public to know is that the VFD is not asking for something for nothing. As firemen they will be taxed, they will drill, they will attend meetings, they will fight fires, they will take chances in order to save property, they will leave work and they will give up leisure time, all in order to serve. The only one of these the rest of the people are asked to do is join the firemen in paying a two-mill levy to modernize facilities erected 55 years ago.

Three Men Go to Service

Three young Wayne County men left Thursday for the armed forces. They are the first to be called in 1967, none leaving through the local board during January or February.

Two volunteered to leave, Jerold Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson, Winside, and Dean Skokan, son of Mrs. Marie Skokan, Wayne. Third one inducted is Gary Asmus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Asmus, Hopkins.

Three other young men left for physical examinations. This is quite a contrast to the Apr. 26 call when one will leave for induction and 16 will be taken to Omaha for physicals.

Selective Service Clerk Mary Graef sent the boys to Omaha Thursday by commercial bus. Because of the large number leaving next month, a special bus will take the young men down and the departure hour will be earlier.

ARMY BOUND Thursday morning were these three young men, the March inductees for Wayne County. Left to right are Dean Skokan, Jerold Thompson and Gary Asmus. They are recruiting literature behind the trio.

BLIZZARD OF '88 IN '67: This is a scene from Girl Scout Troop 191's skit depicting the Blizzard of 1888. If your imagination is in tune, you can hear the wind screaming, see the snow sifting past windows — and shiver with the "pupils" as they parade around the schoolroom singing a patriotic march, to keep warm. The pupils are (from left) Cathy Barclay, Marjje Lundstrom, Jean Proett, Ann Owens and Debbie Lundgren.

Girl Scouts Relive

Nebraska Blizzard

Girl Scout Troop 191 re-enacted the Blizzard of 1888 Wednesday afternoon as their contribution to Nebraska's centennial.

They chose an appropriate setting—the Mamie McCorkindale Schoolhouse Museum on Wayne State's campus. Troop Dramatics Badge group prepared the reenactment, in costume of the time, and the Hostess Badge group invited parents and served refreshments.

The dramatic group used the real-life Nebraska story of the Minnie Freeman school where the teacher, Miss Freeman, led 18 pupils to safety through the historic blizzard. Lynn Kamish played the role of Miss Freeman, and the pupils were Debbie Lundgren, Jean Proett, Ann Owens, Marjje Lundstrom and Cathy Barclay.

More than 50, including other members of the troop and parents, packed the small schoolhouse to watch the drama, directed by Mrs. Max Lundstrom, leader of the troop.

The troop has junior-level girls of fourth, fifth and sixth grade.

'KEEPING WARM': Re-enacting the Minnie Freeman school incident of the Blizzard of 1888, girls of Scout Troop 191 huddle around the old wood stove (which is located in the Mamie McCorkindale School Museum at Wayne State). At left is Lynn Kamish, as teacher Minnie Freeman, leading her pupils in songs to take their minds off the blizzard. Girls at right are other members of the troop.

Schoolmen's Unit Meets in Wayne

The Northeast Nebraska Schoolmen's Association will devote its annual meeting here Thursday to educational television.

Andred Hansen of Cole-ridge, association president, announced that V. J. Christenson, director of the Nebraska Council for Educational Television, will explain what the state is doing in ETV, especially the development scheduled in Northeast Nebraska next fall.

His talk at the morning session, in the Wayne State Fine Arts Center, will present the philosophy and techniques of ETV. At the afternoon session, in the Student Center Birch Room, Christenson will present one of the studio teachers who actually gives television lessons and a classroom teacher who uses television as a teaching method.

Bill Stafford of Wayne, director of Mid-Continent Regional Education Laboratory, will talk about ETV and the school administrator.

Bob Carhart, Wayne, will explain developments toward the proposed Northeast Nebraska vocational-technical school.

Wayne Firemen Go to Carr Implement Blaze

The busy busy Wayne Volunteer Fire Department was called out again Friday. This time the fire was at the Carr Implement on Highway 15 north of town.

Trash was being burned, the wind shifted and the dry grass caught fire. It burned up to a steel building and fire got inside, damaging some new wheels stored there.

Some antique cars belonging to Lyle Cleveland are kept in the metal structure. They were undamaged. One is a 1903 Oakland and the other is a 1914 Velie.

Firemen put out the fire in the building first, then extinguished the flames in the grass and shrubbery around the structure. Three fire trucks were at the scene. Little damage was reported.

Under the proposal to be voted on in 15 counties, a vocational school would be set up. A one mill levy is anticipated on a valuation of $466 million.

MOLLY McKay prize for February's best recipe went to Mrs. Henry Koch, Winside, who submitted a recipe for sweet rolls. She is shown receiving a check for $5 from Cliff Johnson of Johnson's Lockers, one of the sponsors of the feature.

Spring Bounds In; Temperatures Soar

Spring came bounding in this week. The mercury took the cue and temperatures in the 80's were recorded Thursday and Friday.

It was almost too much. Spring just look over and that was that. Winter was over. (No one was forgetting a snowstorm of a year ago, but it seemed only a remote possibility).

Rain is needed. It has been a dry winter, not too severe for any period of time. What snow did fall drifted a lot so did not do too much good. Timely rains can rectify that. The forecasters have been calling for showers. March has lived up to its reputation with winds. If April is as wet as March was windy there should be ample moisture in the area before May.

Only Four Lettermen Out for Track This Year With Entire Squad Small

There are four good lettermen back and some outstanding prospects among non-lettermen on the track squad at Wayne High School this year. The team is going to have to make up in quality what it lacks in quantity because only 23 are out for the sport.

John Tollakson coaches the thinclads as they prepare for the Blue Devil Relays Friday, Mar. 31. He is also lining up several dual meets and will take the squad to several other meets prior to the district and state tests.

Dennis Beckman is the only senior letterman back and he was injured in football so may not be in top form until mid-season. He runs the half mile, Dave Brown, Steve Johnson and Bill Swinney are junior lettermen, Brown taking in the hurdles, broad jump and high jump, Johnson the mile and Swinney the sprints.

Other seniors out for the squad are Graham Butler, Phadret Gawsombat and Ken Nolte; juniors, Keith Warrelmann, Bob Penn, Rocco Marr, Larry Magnuson, Robert Barr and Doug Ritzke; Sophomores, Bernie Binger, Seth Swanstrom, Jon Lambert, Terry Meyer and Alan Thompson; and freshmen, Dan Sutherland, Les Echtenkamp, Randy Robins, Rick Robins and Alan Meyer.

Binger and Sutherland are transfers from Texas and the Robins twins transferred from Wausa. Gawsombat is the exchange student from Thailand.

Fred G. Dale Leaves Mark at Wayne State

Fred G. Dale left some permanent marks on Wayne State College which his death last Tuesday will not erase. One that will endure as a perennial reminder of his name is the one he probably liked best—the Fred Dale Athlete-Scholar Award. Another is the Fred Dale Scholarship, Wayne State Foundation, established in his memory.

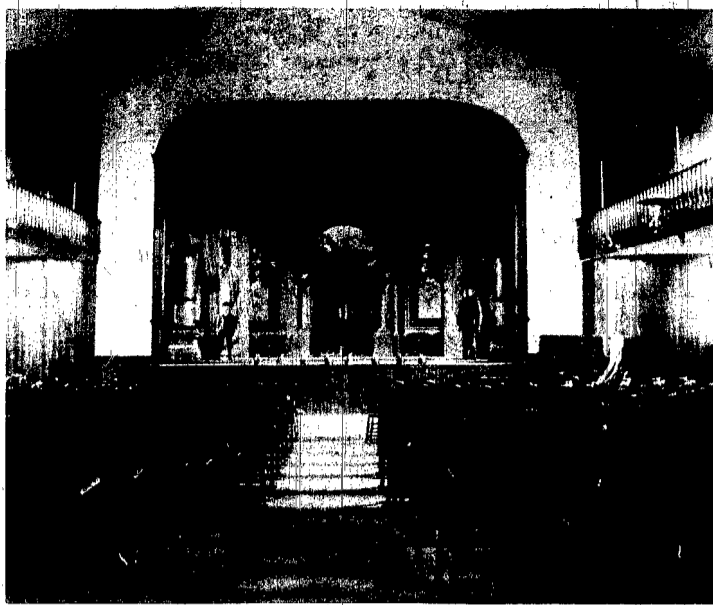

This award summarized his Wayne career, first as a student and athlete and second as a professor and coach. Before his graduation in 1916 from Wayne State, then a two-year college, he established some athletic distinctions which old-timers still remember.

Some of the Dale friends recalled a few of his feats three years ago at the Wayne State W Club homecoming alumni reunion. On that occasion Dale received the club's first alumni award.

Although athletics were in their infancy during Dale's time, he set a hammer throw record which stood as long as the event was included in Wayne track meets.

After graduating here, Dale went to the University of Nebraska for three years and added luster to his athletic career in both football as a fullback and track as a sprinter and weight man.

With a Nebraska degree, Dale returned to his alma mater as coach of all sports. Several years later the geography professor asked Dale to substitute for him in class one day, and the coach discovered that he liked teaching geography. Dale converted himself to the subject, and that is what he taught, along with conservation, until a stroke forced his retirement in February, 1961. His 40 years was the longest Wayne State faculty tenure.

WAYNE OPERA HOUSE in "the good old days" looked like this. Close inspection will show gas or kerosene lamps hanging at the sides. A boy and a man stand on the stage. They are unidentified. The opera house stood on the corner of Fifth and Main where the Sinclair station is now. Lyman Studio furnished this picture.

In the years since then, he had been an almost daily commuter to the college coffee tables. After his retirement, the college honored him with its Distinguished Service Award. And this year the Wayne State Foundation established the Dale Athlete-Scholar Award. The scholarship is a new one established as a memorial following his death.

Intramural Teams in Wayne Keeping Busy

Seven games were played by intramural teams in three leagues in the city recreation program the past week. Hank Overin is in charge of the teams.

Tuesday night in senior high play, Sophomores beat Freshman A 64-46. Joedy Hoogner had 23, Dae Tietgen 19 and Charles Fisher 10 for the winners. Ted Armbruster had 12, Jerry Titze 12 and Mike Biltoft 11 for the losers.

Boys Club A romped over Boys Club Sophomores-Juniors 83-41. Duane Peterson had 30, John Matson 22 and Carl Matson 14 for the winners. Bill Carlson with 14, Steve Hix 10 and Don Cary 5 led the losers.

The Freshmen B lost to Boys Club B 40-39. Dennis Redel had 12, Ken Jorgensen 10 and Mickey Carlson 8 for the winners. Terry Ellis hit 9, Pat Chambers 8 and Doug Maurer 6 for the losers.

Wednesday night in junior play Biltoft beat Kamish 42-29. Lonnie Biltoft led all scorers with 20. Kelly Dill added 12 and Chris Luaders 5 for the losers. Steve Kamish with 12 and Breck Giese with 7 led the losers.

Tietgen beat first place Mau 37-32 in an upset. Dwight Clatanoff had 22, Don Hansen 7 and Dick Tietgen 6 for the winners. Don Mau and Craig Johnson each hit 10 and Mike Creighton 5 for the losing team.

Mau now leads the loop with a 4-1 record. Tietgen is 4-2, Biltoft 3-3, Kamish 1-4 and St. Mary's 0-2. Thursday grade school play saw two close games. Sturm beat Scheel 38-36, Doug Sturm had 22 and Mary Hansen 10 for the Sturm team while Dave Scheel with 21 and Randy Nelson with 9 led Scheel team.

Giese beat Brown 24-21. Shane Giese hit 11 and Tom Peterson 8 for the winners. Roger Saul had 10 and Bill Schwartz 5 for the losers.

Monday Games to Be Played This Tuesday

Because of the holiday Monday, the league that usually plays that night will play Tuesday instead, according to Hank Overin, director of the Wayne recreation program.

Tuesday in senior high league action Boys Club A plays Freshman B at 6:30; Freshman A plays Boys Club B at 7:30; and Sophomores play Boys Club Sophomores-Juniors at 8:45.

In games Wednesday night, Mau plays Kamish at 4:15 in the junior high league. Biltoft meets Tietgen in a 5:15 game.

Thursday the grade school teams play. Sturm meets Giese at 4:15 and Brown goes against Scheel at 5:15.

Winside Girls in Volleyball Meet

Winside is one of twelve teams entered in a girls' volleyball tournament at Randolph High School Tuesday through Friday, Mar. 28-31. The outlook is better for Coach Gary Klindt's sextet with victories recorded the last two outings.

Winside plays first Mar. 28 at 8:30 against Wynot. If the Wildkitties win, they will play Randolph Mar. 29 at 8:30. In the same bracket are Kellbert against Osmond with the winner to play Hartington.

In the upper bracket, Crofton, Ponca, Newcastle, Randolph St. Frances, Coleridge and Laurel are the teams. The last two drew byes, being two of the seeded teams. Hartington and Randolph are the other seeded teams.

The Nebraskaland Conference tournament features top records by Laurel, Randolph, Hartington and Coleridge. All other teams are capable of having their moments although not consistent.

Winside won games against Randolph St. Frances and Crofton last week. Both the first and the second teams from WHS posted victories.

Seven Lettermen Among 45 Thinclads Turning Out for Winside Track Team

Coach Pete Kropp has quantity galore for track this year. He has seven lettermen among the 45 boys out for track at Winside High School. Dan Cahill and Jim Connick (student teacher) are assisting with the boys.

First action for the Wildcats is Friday, Mar. 31, in the Blue Devil Relays, Wayne. The rest of the schedule looks like this: Apr. 4, Midland Invitational, Fremont; Apr. 7, dual with Allen at Winside; Apr. 14, Norfolk Invitational; Apr. 27, Lewis & Clark Conference, Wayne State; May 11, district, Norfolk; and May 17, junior high invitational, Winside.

Two of the lettermen back qualified for the state track meet last year. Reed Wacker in the high hurdles and Bob Dangberg in the low hurdles, were state meet qualifiers. Wacker also runs the 440 and relays and Dangberg runs the 220 and relays.

Other lettermen are: Bill Holtgrew, 880 and 440; Keith Krueger, hurdles; Harold Meyer, 100 and 220; Gene Barg, mile; and Randy Jacobsen, 100 and 220. Several of the boys also run on relay teams.

Dixon Hall Gets Redecorating Job

Dixon Auditorium will never look the same. It is being redecorated on the inside.

The oft-used community building has served for years for functions of all types for groups of all ages. It was packed last week for instance for the benefit basketball game.

This is centennial year and there will be the usual big Aug. 15 celebration in Dixon so the town board decided it would be a good time to redecorate. Rather than wait until the busy season for painters, the board had the work started the past week.

It is thought the job will take two weeks. Then the hall will once again become one of the most-used buildings in town.

Confirmation Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Krueger entertained the following at dinner Sunday in honor of the confirmation of Donna Jean, who was confirmed at Trinity Lutheran Church Palm Sunday. Guests were Mrs. Frank Krueger, Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Johnson and family, Wakefield, Mr. and Dale Krueger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Krueger and daughters and the Rev. H. F. Otto Muellers.

Class Confirmed

Donna Krueger and Carol Von Seggern were confirmed at Trinity Lutheran church Mar. 19. Rev. H. F. Otto Mueller officiated. The junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Lyle Krueger, sang at the Palm Sunday service.

Cub Scouts Meet

Cub scouts, den 2, pack 170 met with den mothers, Mrs. Walter Bleich and Mrs. Lloyd Paulson at the Bleich home. The Blue and Gold banquet was discussed. Games and refreshments were enjoyed. Frank King, scribe.

Royal Neighbors Meet

Royal Neighbor Lodge met Mar. 17 with Mrs. Howard Iversen as hostess. Members voted to contribute to the Scholarship fund. Mrs. Chester Wylie will entertain May 19.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rohlf and Mrs. Paul Zofka and Le Nell spent last Friday to Sunday in the Virgil Rohlf home, Onjaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burreis of Missoula, Mont., left Thursday after visiting a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Krause, Hoskins, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Burreis, Winside.

Leaders' Dinner Date Announced

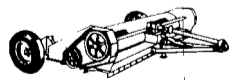

County Agent Harold Ingalls has announced the date for the annual Wayne County 4-H Leaders' Recognition banquet. It will be held Thursday, Apr. 6, at 6:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Catholic School.

Husbands and wives of leaders are invited to attend with the leaders. In order to know how many to prepare for, reservations have to be back at the county agent's office by Apr. 1.

Hosting the affair will be State National Bank and First National Bank, Wayne; Commercial State Bank, Hoskins; Winside State Bank, Winside; and Farmers State Bank, Carroll.

Program feature will be a slide presentation, "Exploring the Northwest Territories." It will be narrated by Dr. F. H. McDonald, WSC professor.

HOW WILL YOU HANDLE ALL OF THOSE STALKS?

BRADY 4-ROW CHOPPER

The best way to handle the tangled mass of tough, heavy hybrid stalks is a Brady flail shredder. It shreds your stalks, makes plowing easier, faster, better... knocks out most of your corn borers, too. You can even pull a tandem disc behind a Brady and be ready for minimum tillage. It's a great labor-saver... and excellent for clipping pastures and idle acres.

Two, three, and four-row available. See them today at

Local People Have Roles for Festival

Two local residents have major roles in the District III Nebraska Federated Fine Arts Festival Thursday, Mar. 30, in the Madison City Auditorium. They are Mrs. Duane Clatanoff and Mrs. Vernon Predoehl.

Mrs. Clatanoff is district president. Mrs. Predoehl is district music chairman. Others in charge are Mrs. Harlan Schauer of Fremont, Mrs. Kenneth Housel of Madison, Mrs. Robert Werner of Meadow Grove and Mrs. John O'Neal of Clarkson.

Members of 62 clubs will enter the art, crafts, sewing, speech and press book contests. There is also an art contest for students. Judging will be in the morning with a lunch at noon. Formal program begins at 2 with a style show by sewing contestants, performances by all-state music scholarship winners and a speech contest. A tea will be served by Madison Woman's Club.

Winning entries in all categories will represent the district at the state contest at the NFWC convention in Norfolk in April.

Car Rolls Down Hill

One of those incidents that proved minor but could have proved serious occurred this past week. A car's brakes released, allowing the car to roll down hill. It did not roll far before hitting another car. Fortunately, neither was damaged to any extent. In other cases the past week the police checked on a dog that was reported lost and then found; checked the high school where lights were still on at 2:45 (left on by a boy); and checked West Elementary where a window had been broken out but nothing was reported missing.

WEARING BONNETS for Easter Thursday were the cooks at West Elementary School. Mrs. Merton Ellis is shown waiting on a group of youngsters.

Workshop Hears About Alcohol Use

"Modern society is lubricated with alcohol," David Hancock, guest speaker at the workshop on "Your Community and Alcohol," told about 30 present at the Wayne City Auditorium Tuesday of last week. Hancock is executive director of the Lincoln Council on Alcoholism.

Volunteers for a five-county committee to plan future action included: Bill Luaders, Wayne; Mrs. Ronald Ankeny and Mrs. Harold George, Dixon; Neal Boeshart, Laurel; Mrs. Ruth Lauritsen, South Sioux City; Mrs. Martin Nieman, Coleridge; Rev. G. C. Aalberts, Winnebago; and Mrs. Ida Lammers, Mrs. Wilma Gootz and Shirley Arens, Hartington.

Audience discussion groups made the following suggestions for community action: Campaign against glorified liquor advertising; promotion of teenage education on alcoholism; development of local problems and possible corrective or preventive practices; addresses by qualified speakers at school and community meetings; create greater interest in legislation dealing with alcohol.

Rev. Aalberts reviewed previous workshops attended by Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston County leaders. "Teenage Use of Alcohol—Effects on the Family," was discussed by A. E. Hunter, social workers at boys and girls home in Sioux City. He pointed out that six per cent of all teenagers will become alcoholics sometime in their lives. Hancock and Hunter stressed the need for public to know and recognize symptoms of alcoholism. They added that communities and families must accept the fact that alcohol and its use creates problems, including alcoholism. The workshop was sponsored by the state mental health clinic at Norfolk and Northeast Station, Concord. Mrs. Barbara Gaither, social worker at the clinic, introduced speakers. Anna Marie Kreifels, area extension agent, handled registration. Wayne Chamber of Commerce served coffee.

Cases Assigned to District Court

Four cases have been assigned to the District court in Wayne after hearings in county court. Four individuals are involved in three separate hearings. Steve Fluieger, Wayne, appealed his case to the district court. He posted $100 after a hearing on a speeding charge brought by Trooper B. L. Cooper of the Nebraska Safety Patrol.

Two Winside men, William Lee Hawkins and Richard Swanson, were bound over to district court. Hawkins was bound over on his own recognizance and Swanson on $500 bond.

The two were in county court on a charge of cattle stealing. Complaint in the case was filed by Deputy Sheriff S. C. Thompson. Melvin Jordan, Wayne, is involved in the third case. He is the man Sheriff Don Weible went to Wenatchee, Wash., after recently.

Jordan was bound over to district court with bond set at $2,000. He faces two counts of forgery on a complaint by Lowell Peterson.

Districts Divided

The five districts for the vocational-technical school are almost equal in population—about as equal as could be obtained without splitting counties

Burt and Cuming; and District 1, 29,700, Holt, Antelope, Wheeler and Boyd.

Cancer Society Meeting Special

A meeting of the Wayne County Cancer Society will be held Friday, Mar. 31, at 1:30 p.m. in the Birch Room of the student center on the Wayne State College campus. "Cancer of the Digestive System" will be the subject.

Main speaker will be Dr. G. E. Larson, chief surgeon at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Lincoln. He urges everyone to hear what he has to say, especially men, in whom this cancer is most frequently found.

Dr. Larson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska college of medicine, is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, is certified by American Board of Surgery, is an associate fellow of the American Proctologic Society, is attending staff of Bryan Memorial and Veterans Hospitals, Lincoln, and is attending and chief of surgery at St. Elizabeth's.

Coffee will be served following the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

If you're a young man on the way up here's something to take along—Ohio National's "Step Rate/9"—a workable, affordable life insurance program designed for the young man who's destined for great things.

If you need more life insurance protection now, but can't really afford it, Step Rate/9 is for you. It combines the low cost of term insurance protection with the investment advantages of permanent life insurance.

Here's how it works: Your premium is low initially. Each year it increases slightly and so does your amount of permanent insurance. At the end of 9 years, the premium remains constant. During that time, you've had life insurance protection and built considerable cash savings.

To find out how Step Rate/9 can help you on the way up, call:

The problems of owning a Cougar — and remaining a bachelor.

We know a customer. Perfectly happy young bachelor. Bought a Mercury Cougar in November. Became engaged two days ago. It's a problem. There's something about this cool new luxury personal car that women really go for. Maybe it's the lithe lines, the sports car flair, the gleaming die-cast grille, the muscular V-8 engine. Or maybe it's all of these. (It's easy to see why Cougar has been named "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend Magazine. Quite an honor. Quite a car!) Come in and see for yourself. But if you're a bachelor, don't say we didn't warn you.

Winside Gets Scare

Winside received a scare Saturday of last week. The fire alarm started ringing at the beautiful Winside High School. Neighbors were unable to find anyone around. They could see no smoke but they decided firemen should be called. The Winside VFD was called and found that not only was there no smoke, there was no fire. It is thought a short in the wiring for the fire alarm had caused it to ring.

WSC Audience Hears Four Provocative Talks by State Penitentiary Inmates

It was a sobering experience, thought-provoking. And when the program ended, Wayne State students gave an ovation much longer than ordinary to the four prisoners of the Nebraska Penal Complex who had bared their lives.

WSC students Thursday afternoon heard the Project Youth panel which in the past year has spoken more than 120 times in Nebraska, mostly to high schools and junior highs. The panel is one of only three or four similar groups in the nation telling the story of crime—from the side that most people never see it, the criminal's side, looking out through steel bars to stone walls.

Tell the story these men certainly did! Ken introduced his panel colleagues with a brief but candid comment on the career of each. First there was Jim, a life term in for murder; then Nick, a former dope addict now serving time for (as Ken tabbed it) burn checks; next Dave, now in for forgery, last of five major felonies before the age of 22.

Each told his story, with even more candor than Ken's introduction.

Jim, now 31, explained: parents separated...so he lived with grandparents in New England...they thought he had musical talent (he did), made him practice long hours at the piano (he hated it) while his friends were out playing like grade schoolers do...finally, at 11, he decided to get his play too, his own way—sneaking out his bedroom window late at night...you can imagine the kind of boys who were out at that hour, Jim noted...he wanted to prove he was one of them...the first arrest came soon...and more arrests, each time for more serious charges...

...Finally he was sent to Nebraska to live with his mother and step-father and seven children...a jolt because they could not give him anything...his grandparents had always given him anything, everything...so now that he had nothing, he took what he wanted...more trouble with the law...did time in the training school...more trouble...

...Then he had opportunity to go straight and use his musical talents when he was invited to play in a combo for parties at homes of prominent people...but he blew the opportunity...went back to burglary because he had learned the insides of many wealthy homes, the location of safes and valuables...Got caught, did time...decided burglary not successful, switched to robbery...bought pistol...discovered that all his old friends were as good as dead...he dared not see them for fear of being turned in...dared not make new friends; they might ask where he got his money...always on move...afraid when anybody looked twice at him...began to understand that only two things can happen—go to prison or go to morgue with policeman's bullet in head...oh yes, a third thing could happen...

...Finally killed a man in armed robbery...court looked at record...it was a miracle I didn't get the electric chair. That's the third thing that could happen...

...Went to Nebraska penitentiary for life...tough guy...wanted to let everybody know it...spent several hours in the Hole (solitary confinement)...

...But something finally penetrated, said Jim...gradually he began to recognize the mess he had made of his life...realized there are no odds in living outside the law...nothing to be acquired for nothing...

Nick's story was different, but the same...different beginning...normal life as youngster; nothing notable...went into Army paratroopers in World War II...wounded on jump in North Africa...surgeons extracted quantities of shrapnel, finally had to amputate a leg...after three years in hospitals, finally discharged as civilian...

...accustomed to almost constant morphine, to kill pain.

...Liked morphine, got kicks from it...managed to get more of it from doctors on claims of pain...drifted from doctor to doctor...if doc refused to prescribe morphine, Nick came back at night and stole all the morphine he could find...

...Caught, sent to federal hospital for cure...wouldn't wish it on my worst enemy...felt like a thousand ants crawling inside me...did 10 years in prison...off dope, of course...released...got married to a woman who has stood by me, helped me over the tough times...did all right until debts piled up...my fault; I bought things I didn't need...got desperate, wrote bad checks...back to prison for five year sentence, but this time not on narcotics charge...

...In a way, I'm glad it happened because it set me straight...and Nick expects to return to a respectable life with his family because he, like Jim, knows now there's nothing to be acquired for nothing.

Then Dave revealed his life...traced his wrong path back to grade school...I never wanted to do what teachers said...as one child in family of 13, he got little of anything, affection or "things" a child wants...first offense was shop-lifting at age of seven...got by with stern reprimand from police...

...Kept on stealing...got in with Pachucho gang...black leather jacket, duck-tail haircut...switchblade knife...caught, sent to training school...came out still hating idea of work...more crimes...nothing successful...finally tried forgery because it seemed easier...that didn't succeed either...now in prison...

...And Dave, with a devoted wife waiting, says he finally has realized—like Jim and Nick—there's nothing to be acquired for nothing...he's learning the meatcutter trade...and when he has done his time, he anticipates earning his first paycheck.

In summary, moderator Ken told about life in prison: the newcomer goes into 30-day quarantine while officials record his life's record in detail...then each newcomer get some job assignment in the penal complex...life thereafter is the same every day...strict routine, regulated by bells and sirens and clocks and cell checks...

...Work about three hours every morning, every afternoon (seven days a week)...get paid 30 cents a day, eventually earn raise to 40, then perhaps 50 cents a day...part of it put into prisoner's savings account against the day he is released; the rest credited to his account in the store...

...Food monotonous; nutritious but monotonous...Prisoner permitted to write to and receive letters from only a few authorized persons—family and a few friends...can write only six letters a month, all censored by some stranger...big event in prisoner's life is receiving mail...four hours a month permitted to see visitors...some opportunities exist—chance to get education, play in athletics (in warm months), participate in clubs like Jaycees, Gavel Club and others...education is required for all under 22 who have not completed high school...then college correspondence courses are available.

Ken could speak with unusual authority. He edits the weekly prison newspaper, the Forum. Rather, he co-edits it with Jim, whose story we related earlier. When one of the many student questions inquired about the newspaper, Ken described its problems, putting on a mock grimace. "We have one problem. Censorship. Heavy censorship." He smiled, and the students laughed. But Ken conceded matter-of-factly that a prison paper necessarily has to be censored.

The real problem: filling the Forum's columns weekly, especially in the off-season of sports. Yet fill it they do, and newsmen outside who read it (as the Wayne Herald does) say the Forum is lively indeed. In fact, one sometimes wonders how much it is censored.

Question from the audience evoked straight-forward answers—always candid, sometimes witty. One student asked, "What do other prisoners think of your Project Youth?" Jim replied, "Do you understand the connotation of the word rat?" The audience understood, with a hearty laugh. Jim continued, "Some of the prisoners hate us. Most of them don't care. They're too concerned with themselves." How are the Project Youth panel members chosen? They volunteer, come the answer. Of course, they are also selected. Certainly not every prisoner could, and many would not be allowed, to serve on the panel. They must have some ability to speak. Most important, they must have something to say.

The audience could wholly agree the four had something to say and could say it masterfully. They had, true, said it many times. Yet their answers flowed as fluently as their prepared talks. Their language was of high level.

Questions came rapidly and were still coming when Dr. Bigelow, the prison psychologist who accompanied the prisoners, decided it was time to stop. He had, when introducing the panel, asked the audience to withhold applause—"if you think they merit applause"—until after the question period. The students did applaud, and in the opinion of a long-time Wayne State observer, few college programs have received a heartier tribute.

Afterwards, somebody suggested coffee, and the panel happily accepted the invitation. With several students and faculty members, they trooped into the Student Center, mildly conspicuous in prison garb of blue denim. Conversation covered a range of subjects, but much of it concerned prison life, and still the prisoners talked easily, candidly.

Dr. Bigelow seemed in no hurry.

Ken talked earnestly about penal practices, both progressive and out-moded.

Nick revealed one attitude of the panelists: "It's hard to make the switch to the outside world when

Career Night to Be Held This Week

Career Night for juniors and seniors of Laurel and Wayne High Schools will be held Friday, Mar. 31, at Wayne High School. Speakers are expected to take on 45 different careers.

Most of the speakers are business and professional people, teachers from WSC and a few from University of Nebraska, Norfolk and Milford.

They will tell about what fields are open. They are brought to Wayne through assistance of the vocational guidance committee of the Wayne Kiwanis Club.

Representatives will be on hand from the following fields: Agriculture, accounting, armed forces for women, armed forces for men, art, aviation, architects, data processing, biological science, interior decorating, diesel mechanics, business administration,

Journalism, forestry, beauty shops, library science, government employment, engineering, medical technician, mathematics, farming, medicine, music, florist, planning for college, operation of heavy equipment, home economics, religion, photography, law, secretarial-clerical,

Physical education, registered and practical nursing, social work, physical therapy, psychology, secondary teaching, police, firemen, radio-TV repair, building trades, elementary teaching, salesmanship, trucking, veterinary and auto mechanics.

Pupils have indicated three vocational periods of 50 minutes each which they may take. Some will attend one, some two and some three periods.

Work Goes Ahead on Minimum Tillage Day

Sub-committee appointments have been made and work is already started on the Quad-State Minimum Tillage Field day, scheduled in Wayne May 2.

Working under the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural committee, Harold Ingalls has been appointed chairman of local arrangements for the day; Ingalls made the following appointments for his sub-committee: Plot Layout, Leland Foote; Assembly and Tours, Al Bahe; Parking, Norris Weible; Publicity, Bill Richardson, and cleanup, entire ag committee.

Ingalls said Thursday that letters of invitation had already been sent to machinery and equipment companies asking that they respond by April 7.

The minimum tillage demonstrations will be held on the Bob Shulteis and we leave the prison to make these talks, and it's hard to make the switch back when we return." Without rancor, he added, "And getting harder every time."—Dick Manley.

EARLYDAY HOSKINS appeared like this following a storm. The year was not given. Mrs. Erwin Ulrich supplied the picture. Identification of some of the places had been penciled in on the photograph. The brick building is the bank in the picture and is still the location of the Commercial State Bank.

Lifetime Hoskins Resident Recalls Much of History of That Community

Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, who has resided in the Hoskins area all her life so far, has compiled an early history of Hoskins. She also has supplied some pictures of earlyday Hoskins. Here is her historical account.

First postmaster was Frank Puls, the post office being in his home two miles southwest of the present site of Hoskins. Mail was carried from Stanton on foot. In the winter, skis were often used to make the trip.

The early settlement was called "Donop." (She did not know where that name came from). First postmaster was Frank Puls, the post office being in his home two miles southwest of the present site of Hoskins. Mail was carried from Stanton on foot. In the winter, skis were often used to make the trip.

to the Hoskins area from Germany in 1869. Not much colonization had taken place prior to that, Norfolk was just a hamlet and Hoskins did not exist at all. The Hoskins Evangelical United Brethren Church was organized June 5, 1878, with 13 charter members, the Frederic Schroeders, August Roekers, Frank Falks, Carl Falks, Frederic Blaese and Mrs. Herman Marten, sr. It was known as "the Spring-branch appointment" in the earlier days, pastors serving from Norfolk or Stanton. The first EUB building was erected in 1882.

Louis Langenberg, Frank Puls and Friederich Strate met to discuss the founding of the Peace Evangelical Reformed Church. July 3, 1881, the first service was conducted in the school located south of Hoskins on Frederick Fuhrman's farm. At this time Caroline Meier and Louis Langenberg were married. Peter Brumels fired the engine, No. 43, on the first Norfolk-Sioux City trip when it steamed slowly over newly laid track in the winter of 1882.

Brumels, a native of Wisconsin, met his wife-to-be at Hoskins, Augusta Stork. She had come over from Germany at the age of 42 with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Puls, homesteaders in 1868 south of Hoskins.

Mrs. Brumels often told of the hail and grasshopper years, especially when the winged pests came like clouds between the earth and sun, stripping everything bare and then disappearing.

When the railroad was put through in 1881, the present Hoskins was laid out. The land had belonged to Simon Gehle, which William Falk bought. David Rees was the first postmaster in the new town of Hoskins.

Rees and William Sonnen established the first stores in Hoskins, handling general merchandise. John Crosby had the first bank. School was first held in one of the homes, but in 1878 a school building was put up, District 3, 1 1/2 miles west of Hoskins.

First teacher was David Patterson. There were five "beginners" each one a different age. For many years the pioneers in the community made trips to Wisner by oxen and wagons to get groceries.

In 1883 a Methodist Church was established. In the fall of 1886 Lutheran services were conducted by Rev. M. Panchow of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Norfolk. Dec. 6, 1886, a meeting was held in the William Zutz home in Hoskins and Trinity Lutheran Church was organized. Services were conducted twice a month on Sundays in the Hoskins Public School. Nov. 13, 1887, the first church building was dedicated.

In the period from 1910 to 1920 Hoskins had two banks, barber shop, millinery shop, three general merchandise stores, a hotel, a butcher shop and meat market, Hoskins Headlight (newspaper), drug store, two doctors, two lumber yards, two saloons, city hall, depot, dray line, post office, churches, school, two garages, two implement dealers, two cafes; two cream stations and two filling stations.

Piano lessons were taught by Mrs. Fred Nelson and Ruth Rohrer.

In January, 1925, the Lutheran parochial school was built.

Allen Consolidated Schools Losing Eight Teachers from Present Staff

Allen Consolidated Schools are losing 8 of the 20 teachers on the staff at the end of the current term. Supt. K. R. Mitchell reports only one of the eight positions has been filled.

Supt. and Mrs. Mitchell are retiring after 32 years in the system. He has been superintendent and she has taught home economics.

In longevity, the only other long-term teacher resigning is Mrs. Phil Dietz, who has been librarian and instructed special courses for 14 years. Most others resigning have been there 1 to 4 years.

Others resigning are: Mrs. Douglas Deming, kindergarten; Annette Schutte, second grade; Mrs. Charles Emmons, sixth; Wesley Wingett, junior high social studies and speech; Mrs. Dennis Lohse, mathematics; Jenene Kunzman, Wakefield, has been signed to teach home economics.

Staying on the staff are: Mrs. Garold Jewell, first grade; Mrs. Bill Chambers, third; Mrs. Wilfred Lunz, fourth; Mrs. Marvin Reuter, fifth; Mrs. LeRoy Wilch, junior high science; Roger Sandman, vocational agriculture;

Jon Olson, commercial; Mrs. Dwaine Erickson, English; Mary Ducey, music; Noelyn Isom, science; LeRoy Wilch, social science and coach; and Mrs. George John, Spanish.

Cooks, custodians and bus drivers will be hired at a later date. It is expected all of them will be retained.

In District Court

Two new cases were filed in district court the past week. Wayne Federal Savings & Loan Association is plaintiff in an accounting action against Ray Nelson. Warren Bilson seeks the right to sell real estate owned by an incompetent.

Dixon County's 4-H Enrollment Goes Up

Howard Gillaspie, Dixon County extension agent, reports 4-H enrollment up considerably over 1966 in the county. There are six new clubs which have increased Dixon County enrollment by about 60 members.

Organized for 1967 are the following clubs listed with organizational leaders: Concordettes, Mrs. Norman Anderson; Dixon Belles, Mrs. Carol Hirschort; Do Bees, Mrs. Dale Pearson; Future Feeders, Evert Johnson; Gays and Dolls, Mrs. Harold Kjer;

Liberty Belles & Beaus, Mrs. Carl Armstrong; Lucky Charms, Mrs. Bernice Gustafson; Martinsburg Merry Makers, Mrs. Darrold Harder; Maskellies, Mrs. Wilbur Van Cleave; Meado Larks, Mrs. William Yost; Odds and Ends, Jim Warner;

Pals and Partners, Dorwood Wrodit; Pleasure and Profit, Mrs. Courtland Roberts; Pop's Partners, Willis Wahl; Tweeners and Teens, Mrs. Winton Wallin; Wednesday Workers, Mrs. Kermit Turner; Woodland Producers, Ross Armstrong; Wranglers, Francis Flueger; and an unnamed club, Joe Bennett.

4-H Club News

Leslie Livewires 4-H club met Mar. 20 in the Clifford Baker home. The club's representative told what was discussed at the 4-H council meeting. The year's program was completed. Discussion next meeting will be on swine. Apr. 17 meeting will be at the Harry Gust home. Jeanette Meyer, reporter.

Concord to Get Street Repairs

The Concord town board is planning a program of street resurfacing. Ten or more blocks will be resurfaced in May.

Two years ago there was some street resurfacing work. Some of the streets where work was begun will be completed and other streets that were not touched in 1965 will get work now.

Some of the asphalt is pretty badly broken up and sprinkled with chuckholes. The worst of these will be eliminated in the street improvement program authorized at the last council meeting.
