Cub Scouts Planning Different Activities

The two Cub Scout troops of Wayne are going different routes on activities this month. Both have "Mountains of America" as the main theme, however. Cubmaster Al Ehlers of Pack 174 will take the boys to Sioux City, Apr. 22 to visit Goodwill Industries. This will take the place of a pack meeting for this month. Pack 175, Melvin Froehlich, Cubmaster, was scheduled to have a kite flying contest Sunday at the airport with Gene Fletcher in charge. The Cubs are also planting things in terrariums as a project.

Approve Vo-Tech Plan

The state board of vocational education Saturday gave unanimous approval to the plan for a vocational-technical school in Northeast Nebraska. It is the third such area plan approved in Nebraska. Glenn Strain, coordinator of vocational education division of the state department of education, in an exclusive interview with The Herald Friday afternoon said there were five board members present to hear the presentation of the plan and all favored it. One board member was absent. According to Strain, Leo

Ringer, chairman of the steering committee for the northeast tech school, made the presentation of the case for a district. There were others present to speak in favor of the district but no one appeared to oppose it. Next step for the governors recently appointed is to set a special election, expected to be in the middle of May. After the election, if the people approve of the school, a governing board will be set up, president, vice president and other officers named and a site selected so work can start on getting the school in operation. Biggest disappointment of the hearing was allowing Dakota County to fall out. That county had gone along with the plan and then decided not to. Thirston County had also asked to be counted out after being counted in. The county governing board there reversed itself at the last minute and decided to be included. Supl. Francis Haun of Wayne High had given another boost for the plan at a meeting in Pender Thursday, the day the board decided to stay in after all. Colfax County is not included because that county could not meet legal requirements. To wait for that county to meet requirements would have delayed the entire set-up, Strain said. He added that Colfax can petition for inclusion in the area later if the other counties approve formation of the vocational-technical school district. Hastings has the first area vo-tech school, serving South Central Nebraska and North Platte, the second for Southwest Nebraska.

Centennial Art Show Lasts Full Month

Wayne is the second city in Nebraska to get a showing of the centennial art show. It was moved the past week from Joslyn Art Museum, Omaha, to the Fine Arts Building, Wayne State College. The show will open here later in the week and run for a full month. It will then go to other cities in the state for similar showings. "Nebraska Art Today" includes work by people living in Nebraska and by native Nebraskans still living in the state or living in other parts of the world. Sculpturing and painting of various types are offered, including the latest and the oldest in fashion trends. Joslyn and Sheldon Art Museums have loaned many items as have the State Historical Society and firms such as Northern Natural Gas, Wayne State College has sculpture and painting entries from Wil-

Ham Cordner and Dick Lesh. Visitors will see oldtime paintings as far back as the 1700's showing buffalo hunts, wagon trains, the Bodmer paintings, still life, stage coach on a California mountain trail, Egyptian sculpture, Greek vases, abandoned farm home, the sandhills, abstract art, modernistic art, welded steel in "Luribo," bust of John Neihardt, a funny "Kitchen Sculpture" made of welded junk, merry-go-round made out of a bird cage, paintings by Terence Duren, paintings by Aaron Pyle, paintings by Dale Nichols and others. In all, it is a fitting centennial exhibition. No matter what type of art you like, there is bound to be some here. Visitors will be welcomed while the showing is here. Details on the dates and hours will be given in Thursday's paper.

State Finalist from Winside

Mary Jane Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Hansen, Winside, is one of ten state finalists in a division of yearbook layout in conjunction with the state journalism contest. Her instructor, Mrs. Judy Picard, has been informed. Miss Hansen is the only finalist from Class C schools in Nebraska. All nine others are from Class B or Class A schools. She submitted a double page layout for a yearbook. Monday (today) she submits another to be judged by instructors at the University of Nebraska. The top three winners will get silver key awards. The other seven will get certificates signifying they were finalists. Miss Hansen is the feature editor of the school paper this year. She is also the town correspondent for the Omaha World-Herald and is underclass editor for the WHS yearbook. This is the second top honor for Winside journalists in a week. The journalism class won the sweepstakes trophy for all Class C schools in the state last week.

Set 'Sound of Music' at WH

A musical that is called one of the greatest ever in stage and motion picture history, "The Sound of Music," will be presented two nights in May by the vocal music department of Wayne High School under the direction of Clayton Southwick. Reserved seats will be available at Wayne Music Co. and Dale's Jewelry for the production to be given May 11 and 12 at Wayne City Auditorium. Several of the major roles will be split so different ones will handle the roles each night. Marcia Olson is student director. All music students will take part in one way or another in putting on the spectacular—it's really spectacular too, the movie version having run two years straight at Omaha's

Dundee Theatre and is still going strong. The lead role of Maria will be played one night by Sallie Bergt and one night by Pam Seymour. Mother Abbess will be played by Karen Wills one night and Connie Ditch the other. Capt. Von Trapp will be played by John Brandstetter one night and Bob Barr the other and Liesel will be played by Mary Stevenson one night and Cindy Meyer the other. Other characters will be the same both nights: Sister Berthe, Bebinda Babee, Sister Margareta, Gloria Magnuson; Sister Sophia, Chris Bernthal; Franz, Doug Danielson; Frau Schmidt, Jane Williams; Fredrick, George John;

Louisa, Sue Brown; Kurt, Danny Proett; Brigitta, Pam Middleton; Marta, Valerie Schumacher; Gretl, Kristi Southwick; Rolf Gruber, Tom Havener; Elsa Schroeder, Debi Armbruster; Ursula, Louise Kamish; Max Detwiler, Jo Merriman; Herr Zeller, Larry Magnuson; Baron Elbertfeld, Dave Brown; a postulate, Sherril Nelson; and Admiral Von Schriber, Dave Rees. The Wayne High music department has come up with some gems. If this one does not top them all, it will be a surprise for the school has some outstanding musicians, outstanding directors and now has chosen THE outstanding musical for production.

Fire in Hoskins School 'Timed Right'

If there was going to be a fire in the Hoskins Elementary School, Wednesday noon was the right time. The pupils were all outside due to the nice weather. The fire was not too big to start with, but everyone gets a lump in their throat when they ask where a fire is and someone replies: "The school." That's the way it was in Hoskins Wednesday. Shelving in one of the school storerooms caught fire. Smoke was noticed and the fire department called. Firemen had no trouble getting the small fire out. They used "fog" and smothered the blaze shortly after arriving. The school was a little smoky and had to be aired out but the damage was small. Paper and supplies are kept in the storage room. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Open house will be held Saturday, Apr. 22, from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Carroll Public Library. All residents of the area are invited. Refreshments will be served and visitors will be shown the facilities and the books available. The library is almost 65 years old, having been started in 1903 by A. C. Childs. Mrs. Clarence Morris is chairman and Mrs. E. L. Pearson is librarian. Other board members are Mrs. Charles Whitney, secretary, Mrs. Willard Moore and Mrs. Otto Wagner. More details on open house will be given in Thursday's paper.

School Work Progresses

Work on the new Wayne High School building is moving along at a satisfactory pace, Supt. Francis Haun reports. The architect has met two days the past week with the board and superintendent and final plans are being made. In the classroom wing the work is virtually completed. The roof is now complete so all interior work can go on no matter what the weather is like. Final layout of the physical education plant was made the past week. It includes court markings for basketball, badminton, volleyball and tennis. Arrangements have been made for four stoves in the homemaking department, two natural gas and two electric. Changes are being contemplated in the library to provide more periodical storage along the south wall and changes are contemplated for higher railings on the stairwells to make it less likely for pupils to fall or be shoved accidentally over the rails. Final approval has been given to the plan for cabinets in the music department. They are completely revised from the original plans due to space allowances, millwork being chosen rather than factory-ready cabinets. They take care of uniform and instrument storage. The school is also making plans for bus routes. A new one will involve the children coming in from District 15 north of town, the first year they have been provided bus service since the district was contracting with District 17 in the past.

Will Purchase Choir Robes

The Music Parents have decided to buy new choir robes. A committee has been named to help decide on the style, color and material. Fred Gildersleeve, outgoing president, reports that all funds needed are not available but will be. Funds from the treasury plus those raised by special events such as an old-time picnic at the first band concert with homemade ice cream as a special attraction. Named to the committee are Mrs. Ed Wolske, chairman, Mrs. John Ritze, Mrs. Lyle Seymour and Mrs. Gordon Nedergaard. They will meet with Clayton Southwick of the music department and with class members to make the decision on the robes. Mrs. Al Ehlers will be the president after the end of this term. She has worked with Mrs. Gildersleeve and others in planning the project.

The school choir is using a variety of robes now. They are not all the same style, the same color or the same length. Music Parents feel that the choir deserves better and will raise money to pay for the new robes.

Anyone Beat This?

Can anyone beat this record for an oldtime document in excellent condition in excellent condition? K. N. Parke, of Wayne, has a small sheet of paper, which is dated at Saint Louis, August 6th, 1858. It says: "Nelson R. Parke, has this day deposited with us forty dollars to enter 320 acres land at 1 1/2 cents in Jackson District. He has also paid our fee Twenty Dollars for selecting and locating same. Harris & Dudley." Parke said the document was given to his grandfather 109 years ago when he acquired land in the St. Louis area.

'Ticket Caravan' Next Week

A ticket caravan is being planned for Thursday, Apr. 20, to boost the Wayne County Historical Society's centennial show Apr. 25. Members will go in oldtime dress to Sholes, Carroll, Winside, Hoskins and Wayne to sell tickets. "The more the merrier," according to Ken Magill. Anyone wishing to go in oldtime clothes for the caravan should contact him by 8 p.m. Wednesday, Apr. 19, at 375-2027.

Eight kits are to be presented at the program. They will be: An olden school; the Charleston; medicine man; oldtime wedding; pioneers entering Nebraska; pioneers at an entertainment bee; the grasshopper and drought plague; and a surprise skit. All cast members will rehearse Monday, Apr. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium. Anyone wishing to help can see Goldie Leonard, Dorothy Kabisch, Tillie Harms or Magill. Veterans will be recognized with a color guard appearing in uniforms of years goneby. Mrs. Alvin Schmode has joined the Charleston scene and Penny Schlueter will be the teacher in the school scene. Mrs. Kabisch and Mrs. Vernon Predoehl are in charge of the color guard and flag ceremony plans.

Recognition of pioneer residents is still in the air, although there will probably be some prize giving for native born and oldest. More definite information could be given later. Music will be provided but the committee lining up some of the numbers has not completed arrangements. This too is something that will be arranged for between now and Apr. 25 when the program is to be presented.

The Spook Speaks

A potential customer was in a Wayne insurance agency. He had been quoted rates on his needs. He said he thought he would check on prices elsewhere. He asked to use the telephone, called another insurance agency and bought the deal the other fellow offered over the other insurance agency's telephone. Between Dixon and Allen there are two farmers who are related. Across a field they live one-half mile apart. Yet to call Dixon from Allen the call goes to Sioux City, over to Norfolk and then to Dixon. In all it covers about 150 miles for that half-mile conversation. Pinger ought to win the district music contest. Charinet quartet competition hands down. They may have quality but they will definitely outdo the other schools on quantity too. A press release from PHS lists the members of the quartet—five girls.

Courthouse Closed

The Wayne County courthouse will be closed all day Friday, Apr. 21. How come? It's Arbor Day. This will give the county officials a three-day holiday of Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Teenage Road-e-o Planned

Wayne Jaycees will sponsor a Teenage Road-e-o again this year for the young people of this area. Chief change in this year's competition is that there will be two divisions, one for girls and one for boys. Jaycees point out that in the past, the girls and the boys have competed together in one division. Now prizes for each group are scheduled and more young people can be winners. The Road-e-o will be held Sunday, Apr. 23, which does not give much time for planning. However, entries will be accepted right up until starting time that day so everyone should have a chance. Entry blanks may be obtained from Marvin Young or Dick Hammer who are planning the event or from any other Jaycee. They also may be obtained at Wortman Auto Co., co-sponsor with Ford-Mercury and the Jaycees. Any boys or girls who are not yet 19 and who have valid driver's licenses are entitled to enter locally. No married teenagers will be allowed to compete, however. Entrants will be ineligible if they are found to

Special Prizes Planned at Fair

A Centennial Special (it will be family outfit) will consist of clothes for parents and at least one child (more children is all right). Prizes will be $5, $3 and $2. A centennial cake contest is also set. This will be any type decorated in the centennial theme with prizes the same as for above. The fair board has announced a change in plans. It will be a three-day fair this year, with entry day Aug. 10 from 8 to 12, judging the afternoon and evening and regular fair days Aug. 11 and 12.

Courthouse Closed

The Wayne County courthouse will be closed all day Friday, Apr. 21. How come? It's Arbor Day. This will give the county officials a three-day holiday of Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

New Chemical Could Oust Hoe - Gillaspie

County Agent Howard Gillaspie of Allen says there is a new chemical that could take the place of hoeing in gardens. He says the lack of interest in it indicates that housewives are either considering more rest for the hoe, or more rest for the man of the house too lightly.

Dachal is expected to take the place of hoeing for brassicas, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, kale, field beans, snap beans, cantaloupe, honeydew melons, watermelons, cucumbers, squash, onions, lettuce, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes and peppers.

The Dixon County agent said the chemical has been cleared for those garden crops as well as for control of crabgrass, barnyard grass, foxtail, big grass, goose grass, pigweed, lamb's quarters, carpet weed, chickweed and purslane.

Dachal can be used in strawberry beds but label instructions must be followed closely. Dowpon and Telvar can be used in asparagus beds to control weeds but Telvar has a time restriction, according to Gillaspie.

April's Showers Bring Big Smiles

The area has been blessed with showers in April, bringing smiles to many faces. What's more, the forecasters were calling for more typically April weather for the week ahead, meaning more moisture and more smiles.

Ralph Watson, who reads government gauges two miles north of Wayne, reports 1.02 inches of rain so far in April. The moisture came in two periods, the Apr. 8 showers bringing .53 and the Apr. 13 rain amounting to .49.

Other reports more or less. Since the moisture is in shower form it can be heavy at one spot and sparse a few miles away. The nice thing about the rains that have come so far is that they have been widespread. When it was raining here it was also raining in the Panhandle, in South Dakota, in the dust bowl area of Colorado and in the parched plains of Kansas and in Iowa.

April's Showers Bring Big Smiles

Farmers were alighting in field work but they had no time getting back to work once the fields were dry enough. Once again lights could be seen at night as tractors were kept going well after sunset.

Spring has offered warmth, cold dry periods, showers, wind, tornados forecasts and other types of weather. No snow has been reported here, but mountaintops areas west of here have had some.

Winside Third, Wayne Sixth in Two Classes of Invitational at Norfolk

Winside tied for third in Class B and Wayne was sixth in Class A of the Norfolk Invitational Friday. Battle Creek and Fremont won the two titles.

Fremont ran away from the field in Class A with 92 points. Columbus had 76, South Sioux City 29, Laurel 21, Norfolk 15, Wayne 13, Pierce 9, Madison 1. Wayne points were scored thus: High hurdles, Brown third; broad jump, Brown second; low hurdles, Brown second; shot put, Keith Warrelman fifth; mile, Steve Johnson fifth.

Three school records were set by Winside. Randy Jacobsen ran the 220 in 27.8 to beat Bob Dharma's record of 23.9; Gary Barg was fifth in the mile in 5:01 to break the record he held in that event; and the 880-yard relay team of Bob Dangberg, Randy Jacobsen, Reed Wacker and Harold Meyer won first in that event with 1:36.9 to break the old record of 1:37.7.

Here's how Coach Pete Kropp's Wildcats scored: The 100, Harold Meyer third; 200, Jacobsen second; mile, Barg fifth; pole vault, Bob Wacker, third; broad jump, Bob Dangberg fourth; high jump, Jacobsen third; 880-yard relay, Winside first; mile relay, Winside fifth (Kirk Troutman, Rich Duering, Neal Brogren, Keith Wacker); low hurdles, Bob Dangberg first, 22.0; and high hurdles, Reed Wacker first, 16.1.

Beemer Woman Misses Out on Prize

Mrs. Ver Gene Vollmer, Beemer, was probably home Thursday night. It was worth about $6 a mile for her to be in Wayne.

Her name was drawn for the Silver Dollar Drawing. Because she was not here, she will get a consolation prize of $10.

Because Mrs. Vollmer was not here, someone has a chance to win $400 this coming Thursday night at 8 when the drawing will be held again. If no one wins then, a reserve fund will start building up at the rate of $50 a week.

All area residents are invited to register. The drawing is open to anyone 18 years of age or older. If you have not registered you may do so at most of the business places in Wayne and the rural area near Wayne as the promotion is sponsored by all types of businesses.

Soil Conservation District Enters National Competition for Efforts

Wayne County Soil and Water Conservation District has entered the 21st annual Goodyear competition to select the nation's top 53 conservation districts, according to Werner Mann, Winside, SCS district chairman.

Activities of the district will be weighed against the performance of other districts in the state in determining the outstanding district in the annual event sponsored by Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio.

Key agricultural leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil conservation efforts from Jan. 1, 1967, through Dec. 31, 1967, will be considered.

Grant award for the 53

districts selected nationally will be expense paid, work-study trips to Arizona in December, 1968, for one member of the district governing body and the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each winning district. The 105 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix.

District supervisors are Leo Hansen, Wayne; Dwayne Willers, Wayne; Stanley Morris, Carroll; Fredrick Lemme, Wayne; and Werner Mann, Winside. Mann said the district's outstanding cooperator will be selected from the 837 farm operators enrolled in the district program. Nationally, over two million farmers in over 2,700 districts have signed cooperative agreements with local Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

ED HECHENS is the new administrator of Allen Consolidated Schools. He will come to Allen this summer from Cook, where he has been administrator. He replaced Supt. K. R. Mitchell, who has served at Allen longer than any other administrator in the state has served at a single school.

Three Accidents in Three Days in City

Wayne police officers investigated three accidents that occurred Wednesday and Thursday. It was the greatest number of accidents in a short period in several weeks in Wayne.

It started Apr. 12 at Fifth and Sherman. William Dill, Wayne, was southbound on Sherman, made an attempt to turn left, went too far to the right and hit a utility pole. Officer Keith Reed investigated.

Apr. 13 in the 800 block on Nebraska Street Robert L. Johnson, Wayne, was leaving his parking stall and collided with a car driven south by Larry Wilson, Wayne. Damage came to $123 to the Wilson vehicle. Officers Reed and Ronald Penlerick investigated.

Later that day in the 900 block on Main, Linda Doring, Wayne, was stopped when her car was struck in the rear by one driven by

Rural Life Rites Set This Month

Rural Life Sunday will be observed Apr. 24, according to Howard Gillaspie, Dixon County extension agent. Soil Conservation Districts are supplying churches with material to help in the observance.

Gillaspie reports it will be "Rogation Sunday," which is the beginning of the week of Ascension observances. He called those who till the soil "True stewards of the soil" so the season has been designated Rural Life Sunday and Soil Stewardship Week.

Dixon County Junior Leaders are encouraging 4-H members to observe the rural Sunday rite. Many Dixon County clubs are planning with clergy, Gillaspie reports.

The Wakefield Ministerial Association is working with 4-H Junior Leaders for a special observance service at Wakefield High School Sunday evening, Apr. 30.

Pilger Senior Class Members Will 'Slave'

Seniors at Pilger High School will slave away Saturday, Apr. 22. They also "slaved" last Saturday. It is voluntary servitude, however, as they sold themselves at a slave auction Wednesday.

They will be farmers, cleaners, gardeners, babysitters, painters, yard workers and other type workers. They will clean houses, garages, basements, yards and cars and perform other jobs to raise money for their class.

Clarence Kruse was auctioneer for the seniors on Pilger's Main Street. Residents of the area took advantage of a chance to get work done, help their kids raise money and boost school activities.

One family received a police warning for burning at improper hours. A business firm was notified that doors had been found unlocked on night patrol. EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers. It is the duty of an editorial writer to weigh all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Art for New School

Bravos to that group that wants to get some art work for the new Wayne High School. But, may we make a suggestion? We know there will be wrathful expressions from those who "know" art and can be considered "patrons of art" but let's remember that the high school is for the multitude. Let's get art that is recognizable.

With all due respect to those who can cover a canvas with something, give it a title and call it a painting, we don't think WHS needs any such pictures. We've seen too many that can hang upside down sideways or even face to the wall and no one knows the difference.

Let's get pictures that can be appreciated. They can be surrealistic or abstract but let's get art that doesn't have to be explained. If the artist knows what he wants to paint, let him, but let's also know what we want to buy.

Three comparative examples might do. If someone composes music, there is a difference between a bunch of notes to be played haphazardly and music with a melody or meaning or even a challenge. If someone writes and just puts down a number of letters or a group of letters in certain order that does not make it "writing." We wouldn't buy that stuff to read.

Combining cooking ingredients does not necessarily create food. A jumble of ingredients without meaning can result in plain slop. Who is expected to learn to like that?

Stick By Your Guns

This is to applaud the decision of the Wayne City Council to put in four-way stop signs at the intersection of Seventh and Main and to resist efforts of the state to prevent it.

Wayne has had about all of the accidents it needs at that intersection. It has also had a lot of close calls that might have been serious (perhaps fatal) but for quick-thinking drivers who managed to react just right and just in time.

Who among us has not come in on Seventh and been held back for many minutes while Main Street traffic goes wittily by? Who hasn't seen someone in desperation finally pull out with not enough room, hoping the ones coming will slow down and let him make it safely?

Sure, the state sent personnel here to count the traffic. They counted. They found a lot of traffic and then suggested nothing but channelizing traffic (at considerable cost) to the city.

The answer the city council arrived at is much more practical. It can go into effect now with only the cost of two more stop signs involved. This can be a temporary measure until channelizing is possible or it can be a semi-permanent situation that will last throughout most of our lives.

Cities may not have full control over the routes through town but they deserve some control. How else can decisions be made about what is right and what is wrong? Someone sitting in an office in Lincoln with a computer may or may not

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Then why should we make an exception of art? This is to be a public high school with facilities for all. Putting a blob of paint on a piece of canvas and selling it to a school is not very creative. Better we should use some of the art work from the kindergarten.

As said before, our friends who are artists are not going to love us for saying this. Nevertheless, we think the majority would agree with us rather than with them. Some will say people have to learn to appreciate such art, but we can reply: "When should they also learn to like meaningless music notes masquerading as music, meaningless letters of the alphabet masquerading as writing and meaningless combinations of ingredients served up as food?"

Before we give any money to a fund to help beautify the interior of WHS we intend to find out what type of art the committee has in mind. If they have the good of the school, the future use of the facilities and the wisest use of the funds for the benefit of the most in mind, we'll give. Otherwise, we'll go to some of the talented young people who can paint something recognizable, buy the work ourself and present it to the school.

Art critics are here to stay. To them, we may be a peasant when it comes to appreciating some art, but everyone to their own tastes. We just hope someone doesn't have a taste for something unrecognizable. —CEG.

come up with the right answer.

If the state gets too brusque about this, let's be prepared with some questions. Let's ask why Pender is permitted a traffic signal on two highways that carry a fraction of the traffic Highways 15 and 35 do through the Seventh and Main intersection.

Ask the state why Central City, with much of its Highway 80 traffic lost to Interstate 80 is still allowed to operate five traffic signals which mean two or more stops going through town, east to west or back.

Let's find out why Decatur with a population of 800 has a traffic signal that blocks Main Street and the route to the Decatur bridge.

Maybe the state can explain why Uehling (Pop. 231) has a four-lane highway with big concrete left-turn islands at four intersections on the edge of town. There are a lot of questions that could be asked the state highway department. Most of them would be based on situations that make a lot less sense than a couple of stop signs on Highway 15 in Wayne.

You can bet your life if the state decided to put stop signs up, Wayne would not be asked what its wishes are. Let's hope the city council members do not let the big brother in Lincoln push them around on this matter—unless we here in Wayne can also decide what they need in the way of traffic controls in the capital city. —CEG.

Out of Old Nebraska

The Ames Sugar Beet Factory. The latter years of the 19th Century witnessed a number of developments regarding agriculture which were called "scientific" in that they were innovations designed to improve the economic position of the farmer. The holdings of the Nebraska State Historical Society, in particular many of the state periodicals, contain much information regarding new devices and methods which were instituted. A January 1900 issue of the Nebraska Farmer relates the building of the Standard Beet Sugar Company facilities at Ames (near Fremont) from its start in May 1899 until it was formally opened for business on January 13, 1900, and goes into considerable detail in explaining the refining process.

It was noted that some 150 people witnessed the initial processing operation in the main part of the complex, a brick and steel building, 100 by 300 feet. There was also a sugar refining tower of 103 feet, a boiler house, a lime kiln and a storage shed which could hold 3,000 tons of beets. The operation was designed to process 500 tons of beets daily, but it was now believed that some 600 tons could be handled quite conveniently.

The process of making sugar was described as follows: First the roots were washed and then sliced into ribbons; as "thick as large slate pencils and water at a temperature of 150 degrees was forced through the beets. This resulted in a juice which was passed into a purifying tank where lime was used to destroy impurities. The "sweet water" (juice) was then processed again and passed through condensers and evaporated as a thin syrup. This was then subjected to sulphur fumes and bone charcoal which whitened the product and then through a filter into a vacuum, where by extracting the air and steam with a pump, the syrup was boiled at a temperature of about 180 degrees.

This "mushy syrup" was then allowed to cool slowly turning cylinders and then whirled by centrifugal means to crystallization and subjected to washing by water. After this was completed, the sugar was elevated to a dryer where any remaining moisture was removed and the sugar placed in sacks ready for commercial use.

The article concluded that the factory "combines manufacturing with farm production on the most advanced scientific farming. The factory affords a ready market, for cash, at a fair price, for a farm crop adaptable to every farm in this section of the country."

Dear Editor:

In your last issue the article about the 4-way stop signs at Seventh and Main emphasized the stupidity of our city council. The placement of four stop signs at that intersection "regardless of what the State wants" is just about the worst thing that the city of Wayne could do to relieve the situation. In a recent article in the Legion magazine dealing with traffic safety it said that the erecting of stop signs and lower speed limits increased the rear-end collisions considerably. It also pointed out that many accidents are caused by local traffic "experts" pushing through local legislation to erect stop signs where they are not needed.

Did the council take into consideration the study by state engineers last summer who suggested the removal of two stoplights on Main Street?

The council members feel they know the needs as well as anyone and something has to be done so they're doing it. If they know what to do I hope they can get started this winter. At least they have stopped at the bottom of the hill. I hope that they can consider some way to stop their car when they come down the hill this winter and see three other cars waiting in line at the

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Wayne Herald—April 18, 1907

A very serious accident occurred on Thursday afternoon, when Eric Norling fell from a disc and perhaps fatally injuring himself. He was in the field discing in small grain and the bolt fastening the seat spring to the frame of the disc gave way leaving Mr. Norling fall in some manner he fell on the corner of the spring cutting the cords of the bladder. Two physicians were called and then labored diligently with him until Friday morning, when he was taken to the hospital at Sioux City, where he will be operated on. What should you tell your daughter about Cougar owners?

Face up. Tell her the truth. Tell her that Cougar owners are apt to be a little bolder. A little more daring. A little more debonaire. Often we find it hard to tell if they were that way before. Or after—after they bought a Mercury Cougar. (It's that kind of car: European flair, lean lines, luxurious interior, bucket seats, muscular V-8 engine standard. And there's a new Mercury Cougar XR-7 with extra accessories. Extra everything.)

Maybe you ought to come in and take a look at the Cougar for yourself. Who knows? You may be the kind of person who becomes a Cougar owner, too. (And then what will you tell your daughter?)

A demonstration ride in a new Mercury entitles you to three genuine Arnold Palmer golf balls for only $1.50. Hurry! Supplies are limited.

Sue Paulson First All League Choice

Not many people can be chosen all-conference the first year they participate in a sport. Sue Paulson, Winside, made it.

Miss Paulson was named a member of the all-conference volleyball team for the season just past. She was a member of a Winside team that finished near the bottom in standings.

It was the first year of volleyball at Winside in a conference. The first part of the season Mrs. Harlin Brugger coached the team but the team was taken over later by Gary Klindt.

Miss Paulson was cited for her work in all phases of the game, defense, offense, serving and at the net.

SUE PAULSON was named on the Lewis & Clark all-conference team in volleyball the first year she competed in the sport at Winside High. She is shown with Coach Gary Klindt.

Baseball Rained Out

Baseball for Wayne High School was rained out twice this past week. The Blue Devils were scheduled to play at West Point Central Catholic Thursday but were forced to postpone the game a day. It rained Friday morning too so the game had to be rescheduled for Tuesday, Apr. 25. Randolph St. Frances will be here Monday, Apr. 17, and Wayne goes to Dodge, Friday, Apr. 21.

Not Wayne High

Several have called attention to an oldtime picture in last week's Herald identified as the former Wayne High School building. It was not WHS at any time. The present building replaced a frame building. The stone building shown was thought to be a parochial school in Emerson, according to Martin Ringer. He said it burned down about eight to ten years ago. Ringer said the picture of a float with a log cabin on it was made by the Philleg-Von Seggern Lumber Co. for the July 4, 1910 parade. The log cabin was taken from the float to Bressler Park, where it stood for a number of years as a playhouse for children, Ringer said.
