

Dramatics Work Needed for 'Music'

There is considerable work in the dramatics field for the production, "Sound of Music," to be presented May 11-12. Miron Jenness is assisting Clayton Southwick in this phase of the production.

acting ability necessary to the success of the production.

In the musical there are Nazis, Catholic nuns, children, civilians and others. A variety of acting assignments are required so the help by Jenness is proving a big assist.

Don Schumacher is in charge of the WIS orchestra for the production.

With music the backbone of what has proved to be one of the greatest stage plays and motion pictures of all time, the instrumental music is important.

Sponsoring Benefit

Wayne Lions Club is sponsoring an organ recital Tuesday, May 2, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium.

All proceeds go to the sight conservation fund. Playing for the concert is Hal Shutz, nationally known organist. Co-sponsoring his appearance here is the Wayne Music Co.

The project of Lions everywhere is helping those with sight save it and doing everything they can do to promote sight conservation.

Some projects of Lions international include trained dogs for the blind, eye-banks such as the one at Omaha where the eyes of the living are willed when they die to the blind so sight can be restored, selling blind-made products and other such work.

Tillage Day Is Tuesday

The first of two minimum tillage days for Wayne will be held Tuesday, May 2. The second in the series will be held in the fall to see the results of the first such day.

Site of the quad-state event will be the adjacent Ivan Press and Robert Shutz farms, three miles west of Wayne on Highway 12. The demonstrations start at 9:30 a.m. and continue all day. In case of bad weather the event will be postponed until May 5.

Gene Schwartz, area agronomist at the Northeast Station, Concord, reports a minimum tillage is a modern approach to soil management. He points out the planting machines and other equipment that will be demonstrated.

Four-row and six-row machines in both 30-inch and 40-inch row spacing will be demonstrated. Machines will plant, apply fertilizer and put on chemicals for weed and insect control.

Going back over such days in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, the sponsors find that over 5,000 can be expected for the event. It is the first such project ever held in Nebraska by the sponsors.

Wayne Chamber of Commerce, Northeast Station, University of Nebraska, Nebraska Extension Service and WNAX, Yankton, are sponsors. They picked two uniform fields to show the demonstrations in.

Sorghum, corn and soybean growers may see the latest machinery by major manufacturers. All are designed to cut production costs and procedures in row-crop production.

A company representative and an agricultural engineer from NI will explain each machine and then demonstrate action. In the morning, one machine will operate at a time. In the afternoon, all machines will be operating to complete planting of assigned plots.

The range of machines will be from those doing no previous soil preparation to those that are plow-plant combinations. Both fields have been soil tested and uniform applications of lime and fertilizer put on. Each machine will apply the same amount of starter fertilizer.

Manufacturers have chosen the row spacings they wish to demonstrate. In the fall minimum tillage day showing, the results will be seen. The fields will also be open for public inspection all growing season.

Wayne Jaycees and Mrs. Jaycees will operate concession stands at the site throughout the day. Arrangements have been made for parking for hundreds of cars at the scene.

Beauty Pageant Wednesday

Eight Wayne State College coeds are contenders for the college's entry in the Miss Nebraskaland contest Wednesday, May 3, at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend. Girls will be judged on appearance, poise, a speech on recreational attractions in their home areas and on questions and answers.

Musical interludes will be provided between each section of the pageant.

Judges will announce the winner at the close of the program.

The girl who wins will get several local prizes. She will also get to represent WSC at the state finals during Nebraska Days in Lincoln in June. All colleges in the state have been asked to have representatives.

As for the state winner, she will travel all over Nebraska throughout the year. She will get a number of big prizes and will be honored in various ways during the centennial observance.

Building Permits Issued

City Clerk Dan Sherry has issued several building permits during the month of April. Under the new procedure, the permits are not acted upon by the council but decisions on them may be appealed to the zoning commission.

Another change is the lack of a provision for estimated costs of construction. For that reason it is not possible to report how much the buildings to be erected will cost.

Two new homes are among the structures planned. Richard Carman received a permit for a residence in the Wilcliff Subdivision, the exact location not being listed. Len Hansen received a permit for a residence on Sherman Street, Westwood Addition, no definite location being listed.

Garage permits went to two. Ed Kluge will build one at 106 South Sherman and W. G. Ingram will build one at 926 Windom.

Finally, there were two remodeling permits. Dorothy Kabisch received a permit to add a porch at 320 West Sixth and Ray Kling was granted a permit for an enclosed patio at 402 East Fifth.

County Schools Mark Year

Each rural school in the county is having a centennial program. Co. Supt. Gladys Porter reports. A few of them have already been presented while the majority remain to be presented.

Five songs are to be included in all programs. They are: My Nebraska; There's a Long Long Trail a Winding; Home on the Range; America the Beautiful; and A Merry Life.

The individual school programs are presented instead of having a county music festival. Each teacher sends copies of the program to the superintendent to show compliance with centennial requirements.

District 71, Mrs. Flo Sandahl, teacher, presented an unusual program with extras added. Swinging signs welcomed people to an antique show.

The pupils wore centennial clothes, sang the songs and had other features. Mrs. Sandahl baked a Nebraska-shaped cake and served it with ice cream. Mothers received special invitations and other guests were present.

The District 71 presentation was unusual in that so many boys were involved. There is only one girl among the nine pupils.

District 25, Alma Geewe and Helen Kait teachers, had parents as guests for a program. The story centered around a trail boss and a covered wagon. The five required songs were worked into the story.

Other schools worked out similar plans. In each case the individual ideas of the teachers and pupils were incorporated into the centennial theme.

Dog Licenses Due First of Month

Stray dogs of Wayne have their days of liberty numbered. City officials report that the city's ordinance regarding loose dogs is to be enforced.

City Clerk Dan Sherry reports he has had "scads of complaints" about dogs running loose. The police department is also fielding a lot of complaints.

According to the ordinance, dogs must be penned, leashed or under control at all times. This means kept in the owner's yard-leashes which allow dogs to wander over into the neighbors' yards are not legal.

The licensing period is May 1-10. Anyone who gets the dog licensed before May 10 can pay without penalty. After that day, the price on the tags goes up 50 per cent.

A word to the wise is sufficient. Dogs will be picked up effective with this notice appearing in the paper.

C. K. Corbit Succumbs

Funeral services were held Sunday at 3 p.m. at the United Presbyterian Church, Wayne, for Clarence K. Corbit, 88, who died Thursday at the Dahl Retirement Center. Hixcox Funeral Home was in charge with burial in Greenwood Cemetery.

Corbit had been a resident of the Wayne area 80 years, except for two years at Dixon. He is survived by one son, Joe; one daughter, Mrs. Romaine Best; two grandsons; one granddaughter; and two great-grandsons.

A complete obituary will be carried in the Thursday edition of The Herald.

Third Term Enrollment Rises at WSC

Registration for the first session of Wayne State's third term will close Monday, May 1, Registrar Stanley Wills announced.

Enrollment for the term, which began last Monday, is well above the previous third-term record, and a few more registrations are expected before the deadline.

The first session ends June 13 and will be followed by the second session—also called summer session—lasting until the Aug. 9 commencement.

A sizable number of in-service teachers took advantage of the third-term evening courses being offered this first session.

Teenagers Featured in Unusual Movie

With the accent on youth, "The Restless Ones" will be presented at the Gay Theatre May 2, 3 and 4.

"The Spook Speaks" features professional actors in a story of the troubles young people face and what can be done about them.

The reviews point out that the movie speaks pretty plainly about some personal subjects. However, there is nothing offensive about the picture and adults as well as young people are urged to attend.

Churches of the area are supporting the showing.

Called "A penetrating motion picture that dares to provide an answer to youth's relentless search for reality," the movie features professional actors in a story of the troubles young people face and what can be done about them.

The reviews point out that the movie speaks pretty plainly about some personal subjects. However, there is nothing offensive about the picture and adults as well as young people are urged to attend.

Alcoholism, teenage pregnancy, family relationships and the problems of what to do in a mobile society come into focus in the picture. Without getting sticky, the movie comes up with an answer—not an easy answer—but one that will work.

Wayne church congregations have been told about the movie. Information on it has been sent to neighboring towns. The movie is set for four showings in three nights to handle the crowds expected.

Get Summer School Plans

Summer school programs in three separate fields are set for Wayne High School, according to Supt. Francis Haun. Title I classes are federally sponsored while driver's education and summer band are separate.

The summer program will offer classes in remedial reading, mathematics and recreation. These begin Monday, June 12 at West Elementary and run for six weeks.

These classes are set up for children "who are not achieving up to their ability level." They are in no way similar to programs for retarded children.

All children are being tested to determine their eligibility to attend these classes. They are open to Wayne County pupils and all those not attending Wayne, Carroll or St. Mary's schools must apply through County Supt. Gladys Porter to take qualifying placement tests.

Supt. Porter reports 27 rural pupils have applied to attend the Wayne summer courses. They are being tested by the teachers in their respective schools.

All three of the above courses come under the Title I program, educational and secondary education act of 1965. Names of teachers will be announced later.

Driver's education will be a popular course this summer. Ron Carnes and Mike Mallette will teach it and already have 77 registered. They can accept pupils from other public and parochial high schools in the area for the course starting as soon as school is out in May.

This course will include 30 hours of classroom study and six hours of "behind the wheel" driving. The classes will be in the morning and the driving in the afternoon and evening.

Don Schumacher will have a summer band program again. Area pupils interested should contact him. Pupils in music in the fifth through twelfth grades are wanted in the band.

School Work Moves Rapidly

Wayne's beautiful new high school structure is nearing completion rapidly with favorable weather boosting the exterior work and the arrival of supplies advancing the interior work.

Supt. Francis Haun reports the structure should be completed by the first of August. Paving of streets, laying of sidewalks and landscaping should be finished by mid-summer.

The street set-up provides for paving to be extended west from Sixth and Sherman, "jogging to the south" around the building, curving to the north and connecting with a parking lot on the west and a drive with two outlets along the north.

Included with the drive on the north side of the building will be a small parking lot for visitors. The drive will probably be one-way, west to east.

The front of the structure has a new rock terrace which adds to the beauty. Crushed rock will be used for parking lots. Sidewalks will be built on the north and east sides of the building and on the south to connect with West Elementary.

The paving, sidewalks, and parking are part of the general contract for the structure. Christiansen & Son, Pender, has the contract for all this work. No contracting has been let for landscaping yet.

Inside the building work is going on putting in lighting in the gym and ceiling in the auditorium. Home-making equipment was moved into the building the past week. Bids are to be taken soon on carpeting for the library.

Blueprints are ready for the band room and vocal room. This consists of storage for instruments, music, uniforms, robes and other music supplies.

Take Action on Three Bills

Three bills—two on the state level and one in Congress—took much of the time of the legislative committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce this week. They are:

LB 259—a bill which would raise the amount of money a county could levy for the repair, maintenance or construction of a courthouse or jail in counties the size of Wayne from $10,000 per year to $25,000 per year, and permit the construction of new courthouse under certain conditions without a vote of the people.

The bill was ambiguously worded, committee members felt, and as such could open the gates to wholesale building of courthouses—needed or not.

In addition, the bill set no limit on the total accumulation of funds for such purposes.

A call to Senator Elmer Wallwey helped stopped the bill just before final reading Friday. Final reading was postponed until Monday so more time could be used for study of the bill.

which would increase social Security benefits, change the base for benefits from number of dollars earned to number of years worked; extend coverage to another 500,000 persons; extend Medicare benefits increase the amount of earnings taxed so that by 1974 employees and employers would pay on a base of $10,800; and increase tax rates (exclusive of Medicare) to five per cent by 1974.

Two reports from Washington indicate that the percentage of tax take by 1974 would be far in excess of the amount needed for the added benefits and the committee expressed approval of the bill except for the tax increase. The benefits could be financed through use of excess tax revenues, the report said, and should a tax increase become necessary later it could be added when needed.

LB 853—a bill to permit banks and savings and loan associations to turn over three per cent of their surplus capital to a state business development corporation for lending to small business at prime interest rates.

This bill has the support of Gov. Norbert Tiemann who said such corporations would provide a better balance between agriculture and industry. South Dakota, Kansas and Colorado have similar laws. The plan in Kansas has been especially successful in the creation or sustaining of manufacturing jobs, according to a report from Northern Natural Gas. After discussion of the bill, the committee voted approval and sent a letter to Sen. Wallwey and the governor expressing this approval.

Centennial Health Fair Set in Lincoln

The Nebraska Centennial Health Fair is on in Lincoln Apr. 29-May 5, in Pershing Auditorium, Lincoln. Local doctors, dentists, veterinarians and nurses are urging area residents who get to the Lincoln area to attend.

One example: A living steer has a permanent window installed so you can see inside its stomach and see the digestive process.

A new dentist's chair is another example. It floats on air.

Identifying medical "quacks," an aeronautics exhibit, computers that answer questions, doctor's offices from bygone years, dental offices of years ago, careers in medicine, the health industry, dozens of booths and many other attractions are offered.

Wisner Man's Name Drawn Thursday

The $400 Silver Dollar Night prize did not get paid Thursday. A Wisner man could have had the prize by being in Wayne at 8.

Because he was not here, Darrell Brauning will get a $10 consolation check from the Chamber of Commerce instead. The prize money is provided by the Wayne 1, 2, 3 and sponsoring business places.

The failure of Brauning to win means the "reserve fund" goes up. It is now at $200 and that will be the prize amount May 11 if someone wins the Silver Dollar prize May 4. If there is no winner Thursday, the reserve fund will jump another $50.

All newcomers to the area who are 18 or over are urged to register. Information can be secured at most stores in Wayne and several just outside Wayne. You need register only once.

Given 'Eagle' Trophy

The Board of Directors of the Wayne Country Club awarded Les Lutt a huge trophy Friday night for scoring an "Eagle" 3 on the number 2 hole. Par on that hole is 5.

PART OF THE CROWD that attended the preview meeting of the Dale Carnegie Course is shown listening to Area Manager Len Eichhorn at the Women's Club Room Friday night. The course begins next Friday (May 5), at 7:30 p.m. for participating Wayne area residents.

Carnegie Course Preview Success

There were 61 from Wayne and surrounding communities at the Dale Carnegie preview meeting Friday at the Women's Club Rooms.

A highlight of the meeting was a memory lesson conducted by Len Eichhorn, area manager of Dale Carnegie Courses. In seven minutes he taught the entire group how to call off the first 13 colonies in order of their admission to the United States.

Eichhorn also demonstrated another memory technique by having the group call out 20 different objects by number and then he recited the list forward, backward, and at random. He told the group they would learn how to do this in the second evening of the course.

"We have room for five more people," Eichhorn reported, "and anyone desiring to make a reservation should call the Wayne Herald immediately."

'I Will Prepare Myself ...'

It was an interesting conversation to hear. A young lady of eighteen was talking with a learned man. He had asked her about her career, that line of training she wanted to pursue. She said, "Well you know, sir, I would like to become a psychologist, but it requires so much time in school that I am afraid I would be too old." The wise man sat in silence for a few moments and then asked, "Young lady, how long would it take you to become a psychologist?" She said, "Probably seven years." "How old would you be then?" was the next question. "I would probably be about 25." Then the man asked, "How old will you be in seven years if you don't become a psychologist?" Of course, her answer was, "Well, I guess I would be about 25."

A provocative thought. How many people have created themselves? How many have relinquished their desires and forfeited their dreams because the voices of procrastination and failure whispered negative thoughts into their ears. "[This is where many fall into the trap of growing old when they are, in reality, still young. They grow prematurely old because, in their early years, they start planning to grow old. If you were to drop your left arm to your side, let it hang limp and not move a muscle for 6 weeks it would, of course, wither and become useless. But, in contrast, if you chin yourself twenty times before breakfast each morning, or lift the bar bells, your muscles will become strong and responsive. Our mind is like our muscles. If we allow it to get lazy and inactive, then it will lose its keenness, but if we exercise it regularly, it too will become strong and responsive. It was Frank Bantger who said, "The man who keeps learning stays young. The greatest thing in life is to keep the mind young." Henry Ford put it this way, "The man who stops learning is old, whether he be twenty or eighty." We have but to look around us, no matter where we may live, and we can spot evidence of this great truth. We can see people young in years, but old in mind and spirit, simply because they allowed themselves to fall into a mental rut. They stopped exercising their minds. They stopped learning. Look just a little farther. Pick out that vibrant, happy older man or lady who has lived more years but is still young in spirit and comparatively young in body. Study that person. You will probably find him, or her, to be one who is always looking for new experiences. One who is interested in things, and in people, and in life. You will probably find him to be a person who is constantly wanting to learn. He has exercised his mind. This is why youth has blessed him all these years and will probably continue. What we do with our lives today, what we do to discover and develop our hidden talents and abilities now, when we don't have to...this will determine what and where we will be when the day comes when we can no longer help it. This is a part of the self-preparation that is so vital to those who want to make the most of life.

Stress Lung Cancer in Area Schools

April was "cancer control month" and the relation of smoking and lung cancer was stressed in schools of the area by Mrs. Myrtle Day, State Department of Health.

Oakland and Stanton schools were visited Monday, Wayne and Winside schools Tuesday and Hartington and Laurel schools Wednesday. Grades 4-8 saw "Time Pulls the Trigger", Senior high saw "Is Smoking Worth It?" an American Cancer Society film.

To demonstrate how breathing is accomplished, Mrs. Day used fresh lungs from a healthy animal. A permanently inflated set of lungs was on exhibit.

Variety of Weather Offered in Nebraska

Nebraska has had variety in weather the past week. No extremes were encountered but the state has had about everything in the book.

Snow was falling in Western Nebraska Friday. Wind was blowing in Northeast Nebraska Friday. Southeast Nebraska had frost in the orchard country. It rained at points. Dust blew in Southwest Nebraska.

In the Wayne area the cold of Wednesday was replaced by a fairly sunny Thursday. Friday moved in with strong winds and Saturday brought cloudiness and cold again with the threat of rain or even snow.

April has been a funny month as far as weather goes. For most people, it is just as well that the April weather is gone. Now for a springlike May!

Judge Tries Six Cases in Court

Six court cases were held in Wayne County during the past week. From Monday to Thursday, Judge David Hamer tried two cases concerning speeding complaints, two involving illegal parking charges and two petit larceny complaints.

April 24 Robert Koser, Omaha, was fined $10 and $5 costs for illegal parking. City Policeman John Redel filed the complaint.

John Tollakson of Wayne appeared the same day on a charge of speeding. A fine of $10 plus court costs of $5 were assessed as a result of the charge brought before the court by State Patrolman C. Franssen.

April 25, Roger Victor of Wakefield paid $25 and $5 costs on a charge of petit larceny. Restitution in the amount of 47¢ also resulted from the charge filed by Officer Redel. The same day Kevin Victor, Wakefield, was fined $25 and court costs of $5 on the same charge of petit larceny. Restitution of 47¢ also resulted from the complaint signed by Redel.

April 27, Jack Juelsgaard, Elkhorn, Iowa, was fined $10 for speeding. Court costs of $5 were added due to the complaint filed by City Policeman Melvin Lamb.

The final case of the week was one in which Richard Thompson of York paid $10 and $5 costs for a parking violation. John Redel brought the complaint before the court on April 27.

History of 'Two ConCORDS' in Dixon County Tells Interesting Incidents

A brief history of Concord (the one today and the one that did not last long) has been compiled by Mrs. Jerry Alvin, correspondent for The Herald. She supplied the pictures through the cooperation of residents of the Concord area. Her account follows:

with the Dixon County town now called Concord.

Concord, as we now know it, was started in the 1880's. Originally Main Street ran east and west, parallel to Nebraska Spur 1136, and one block to the south.

The first home in Concord was built by George Acres. He ferried the lumber for this home across the Missouri River. This house is now being torn down. Acres was active in town affairs, ran a lumber yard and was a partner in one of the town's early banks.

The first church in Concord was Concordia Lutheran. It was organized in the early 1890's in the Concord depot. It is believed that this is the only church ever to be begun in a depot.

Originally the Evangelical Free Church had a building southwest of town. Later it moved to its present site in Concord.

The original school, a wood structure, stood at the present site. The brick structure now in use was built in 1930, the gym in 1937.

The cemetery was originally on the hill in what is now the school yard. When the present cemetery was established the graves were moved to it. Two little boys killed in a massacre were the first ones buried in the new cemetery.

There were once two banks in Concord, one where Concord Produce, owned by Bob Sherry is now, and the other where the post office is now.

The home of Mayor Bob Sherry was the hotel owned by Mrs. Minnie Foote. There have been some spectacular fires in the history of Concord. In one fire the stores of Olsens, Peterson and Benson and a meat market burned. In another the newspaper office, town hall, bank and a general store burned. Other fires engulfed the Farmers Union Store, livery stable and elevator east of the present elevator. Also there was a fire in 1917 in the oil storage tanks near the railroad.

Dixon County Fair was first held around 1914 in Concord.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to read all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Go Out to a Movie

If you can find the strength to pull yourself away from the monster tube in your home long enough, it is suggested you take in a movie Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday night at the Gay Theatre.

"The Restless Ones" is the name of the show and the churches of the area are giving it endorsement.

Don't go with the idea you are going to get a religious sermon or a do-good approach to teenagers. If you do, you will be disappointed. This is a show that pulls no punches.

It uses professional actors and actresses to tell a story of young people today. It faces facts. Young people can drink. Girls can get pregnant. Boys can become hoods. Life can be ugly. Without preaching, without tear-

The 'Leader' Has a Point

The Pierce County Leader at Pierce editorially stresses the fact that has probably gone unobserved by many of its readers and many of The Herald readers: There are many fines for "minors in possession of intoxicating beverages" but there are few fines for "procuring intoxicating beverages for minors."

It should be apparent that where there is one there should be the other. The trouble is, as the Leader points out, the code of minors today is to pay the fine, take the punishment but don't squeal on the source.

Perhaps if some of the young people who "protect" the procurers of liquor think about it they might act otherwise. They might just stop to consider that these same sources may be supplying their little brothers or sisters with booze in a few years.

Another thing to consider is that anyone who procures liquor for beer for minors could be held responsible in case of an accident. If some minor gets drunk, has an accident and someone is killed, the one who arranged for the drinks is more guilty than the driver.

It is too bad there is not a provision for an "alternate" to the fine and punishment. If the minor tells the source, the

One Full Week

Wayne should entertain a lot of guests this week. Some will be here for the first time; others will be here for the umpteenth time.

Minimum Tillage Day Tuesday could attract over 5,000. It is an event that could mean a lot to Wayne for one day and even more to Wayne County and the farmers of the area in the years ahead.

Dollar Days are being held all week in conjunction with this four-state farm event. This is another promotion effort by the ever-active Chamber of Commerce and retail businesses to make Wayne a more attractive shopping center.

If the farmers of the area take the

We're Only No. 2

The Wayne Herald knows exactly how Avis Rent-A-Car feels. It is only No. 2, so will try harder.

For some time the Avis magazine and newspaper ads have been the talk of the nation as Avis tries to overtake the giant of the field, Hertz Rent-a-Car. The clever slogan is known everywhere for the theme of the underdog trying harder.

Last week The Sidney Telegraph won first in general excellence in Nebraska for newspapers published in towns of over 2,000 population. Finishing in No. 2 spot was The Wayne Herald.

Out of Old

Nebraska

An Omaha Beer Garden By 1928 the old Ruhe roadhouse and beer garden at Omaha were all but forgotten. An Omaha newspaper of that year, on file in the Nebraska State Historical Society, refers to it as a "tumbledown shack" and described it further as being "many wings and eels, all as dilapidated as the main quarter, and in the various walls are numerous doors most of them padlocked tight."

Known as the Ruhe or Columbia beer garden, it had played an interesting role in Omaha's history. "To many Omahans," the article said, "mention of the Columbia beer garden with its convivial memories. The roadhouse where the proprietor entertained the hungry guest, the saloon to the west with wide swinging doors and long bar and floor covered with sawdust. The dancing pavilion thronged of nights with pleasure seekers, where music sounded long and loud. The retreat where tables stood in the shade of trees in season and families sat and quaffed lager and perhaps ate the lunches they had lugged from home."

But the writer pointed out that there was more to the history of the beer garden than that of a place of pleasure.

On May 4, 1886, an anarchist threw a bomb in Chicago, killing several jerking, it tells the story of some of these kids. It offers a solution.

Told in a way to hold the interest of adults and young people, it comes highly recommended as a movie all should see. For that reason, many are joining the churches in urging attendance.

If you don't get anything out of it, you have lost a couple of hours. But there is a good chance you will get something out of what this picture has to say. There is a good chance you'll be glad you went and a better chance that if you see it the first night you will want to see it the following two nights.

Don't wait to hear about it from someone else. You attend and then you tell the someone else who didn't attend.—CEG.

fine could be cut in half. Maybe this puts the "informer" caption on the minor but if it even leads to one source out of 50 it is worth trying.

There are adults, some even relatives of minors, who do not mind securing drinks for the kids. There are others who will be glad to have an extra buck for making the purchase. Still others do it just for kicks.

Licensed firms do not like the "procurers for minors" for the most part but they have no way of telling who they are. They realize (or ought to) that they stand a better chance of staying in business if there are fewer law violations of this type.

This is a matter the legislature could well spend some time on. It seems there is time for a lot of pretty nonsensical bill-consideration but this is a field where some careful thought is needed.

Next time you see that "minors in possession" designation in a news item, stop and wonder just where those minors obtained their drinks in the first place. There has to be a source and the time for locating the source is then and there. Anyone else interested in pushing such an idea?—CEG.

time to learn what minimum tillage is all about, this day could be a turning point in their careers in agriculture. There is much knowledge to be gained from the offerings by the sponsors.

Thrifty men and women are sure to benefit in days ahead from their wise buys made in Wayne. The bargains to be offered are worth driving miles for.

So whether in the area for one day or the full week, many should benefit. Both the Minimum Tillage Day and the Dollar Days deserve unqualified support of business places and area residents. No half-hearted efforts on behalf of either will do much to insure success.—CEG.

Not making excuses, it should be pointed out that Sidney is a town of 8,000 population with a paper coming out three times a week. The Telegraph is the only newspaper in a county with seven other towns besides Sidney. It is an excellent newspaper printed offset as The Herald is and it has loads of features, pictures, editorials and news. It deserves the No. 1 spot.

We at The Herald are flattered to be in the same company with The Telegraph. But, we're warning: We're not satisfied. After all, we don't have to stay No. 2, not if we try harder.—CEG.

policemen, resulting in what became known to history as the Haymarket Square Riot.

A short time later, Balthazar Rau, an anarchist and apparently one of the Chicago plotters, was arrested at the Ruhe beer garden in Omaha, though he denied having any knowledge of the killings, saying he had left the square before the bomb was thrown.

Rau was held by the Omaha police until Chicago police officers could come for him. Though he was taken back to Chicago to face charges, Rau was not among those convicted and sentenced to death or prison as were eight of his fellows. Four were hanged, one died in prison, and the last three were paroled in 1892.

During this period, the old roadhouse was reputed to be a rendezvous for anarchists and socialists. It was here that the famous Emma Goldman stayed, while in Omaha, lecturing at the old Cunningham Hall on behalf of the Haymarket

The bricks, of a cream color, are being laid in red mortar, and the promises are that the building will be one of the most attractive of Wayne business structures.

If the Norfolk News is correct, she deserved it, for the opera house management at Norfolk cancelled her engagements after a night or two of show and ordered the outfit from the house, discovering to his thorough satisfaction that Annie as a "mind reader" was a "fake" and that the woman was a fraud of bold order, and not entitled to the patronage of theatre goers in North Nebraska or anywhere else.

What should you tell your daughter about Cougar owners?

Face up. Tell her the truth. Tell her that Cougar owners are apt to be a little bolder. A little more debonaire. Often we find it hard to tell if they were that way before. Or after—after they bought a Mercury Cougar. (It's that kind of car: European flair, lean lines, luxurious interior, bucket seats, muscular V-8 engine standard. And there's a new Mercury Cougar XR-7 with extra accessories. Extra everything.)

Maybe you ought to come in and take a look at the Cougar for yourself. Who knows? You may be the kind of person who becomes a Cougar owner, too. (And then what will you tell your daughter?)

Dodge Pitcher Hits Three-Run Home Run Helping Hand Wayne First Loss

Dodge handed Wayne High its first loss in baseball this season Thursday afternoon on the WSC diamond. A three-run homer by the Dodge pitcher, Prokop, helped the visitors reverse the tables as Wayne had beaten DHS at Dodge previously.

Coach Mike Mallette's Blue Devils play two games the first of this week, Monday afternoon at 3 West Point Central Catholic will be here for a game and Tuesday at 4 the locals play Creighton at St. Ludwig's.

Wayne took a 4-1 lead in the second frame Thursday after Dodge had opened with a run in the first frame. However, after that second inning Wayne was held to no hits and no runs by effective pitching and team play on the part of the visitors.

Menklik was a powerhouse for Dodge, getting three singles in three times at the plate. He was the only player on either team who was able to get more than one hit. Steve Kerl's triple for Wayne and Prokop's home run were the only extra base blows.

Delmar Wacker started on the mound for Wayne, pitching 4 2/3 innings, striking out four and giving up five hits. George Eynon hurled the final 3-2/3 frames, fanning five and allowing two hits. Prokop won the route, striking out ten and allowing five hits.

Winside Drops Town Team Baseball; Ponca, Lyons, Wayne in NEN League

Winside has dropped out of the Northeast Nebraska League for town teams for the coming season. Ponca and Lyons are new teams in the league along with Wayne, Wakefield, Homer and Emerson.

Anthony, Ia., Walthill and Winside will have town teams. Lawton, Ia., has switched to the newly formed West Iowa League.

Sunday, May 28, is opening day with Ponca at Wayne, Wakefield at Lyons and Emerson at Homer. Wayne won the playoff title last year and Homer was the season champion.

Lefty Olson of Wakefield, league secretary, reports revisions in the by-laws for the 1967 season. Two umpires will be hired for each game by the league. Anyone interested in umpiring should contact Olson.

Players must play in at least one game the first half in order to be eligible for the second half or the playoffs. Top four teams in the league will be in the playoffs in August.

An all-star game will be played matching the league leader against stars from the other five teams. The top players from this contest will play against an all-star Dodge County League team.

League directors are: Hank Overin, Wayne; Hubert Eaton, Wakefield; Harry Prokop, Emerson; Bud Vissar, Homer; Merlin Mittels, Lyons; and Gordon Nelson, Ponca. Dale Dunlap, Homer, is league president.

all the singles matches: Rod Whorlow over Jim Stevens, 6-3 6-3; Rich Ollenburg over Tom Butler, 6-4, 8-6; Roger Uecker over Ron Daniels, 6-4 6-8, 6-3; John Lang over Rog Gibson, 6-4, 13-15, 6-4; Chuck Frazier over Scott Nelson, 6-2, 6-2.

Frazier and Whorlow teamed to beat Daniels and Nelson in doubles, 6-2, 6-3. Morningside's only win came on the double decision of Stevens and Butler over Ollenburg and Uecker, 4-6, 8-6, 6-0.

Wayne netmen and the golf team also have meets Monday with Concordia at Seward, and the tennis team entertains Midland here Tuesday. Wildcat golfers play Morningside at Sioux City Thursday, May 4.

WSC Track Meet Adds New Attraction

Wayne State's annual invitational track meet Friday, May 5, will have an added attraction, an open two-mile run.

WSC Track Coach Dale Pennbaker said several ex-college aces have accepted an invitation to run, among them Ken Gould and Carl Dwezarzak, graduates of Omaha University and Wayne, respectively.

The afternoon evening meet will feature the full schedule of standard events in both college and high school classes. All high school teams will compete in one class.

College entries so far include defending champion Chadroff State which scored 120 points last year, double the points of runner-up Peru State which also is expected to compete, Dakota Wesleyan, and Midland. Southern State has indicated it likely will enter.

Preliminary events will start at 3 p.m., finals at 6 p.m.

Two Winside Schools Mark National Week

Winside High School and Winside Elementary School observed National Library Week April 17-21. Mrs. F. Ruth Bennett was in charge.

At the elementary school library, each grade visiting the library heard the record story of "101 Dalmatians" and received Dalmatian puppy book marks. Winners of prize books were Bobby Ollendick, Linda Holtzgraw and Susan Thompson. The books given were "Animal Babies"; "Mystery of Redtop Hill"; and "Mystery of the Double Kidnap."

Allen's Eighth Grade Collects Many Bottles

Allen's eighth grade class went out after pop bottles Monday to Thursday to help finance a field trip. By Thursday noon they had collected 2,013, an average of well over five bottles for every person in Allen.

Wes Wingett is sponsor of the class. He reports the youngsters are seeking to raise $60 to pay for expenses for Lincoln. They will realize around $40 from the pop bottles returned to bottlers.

Brad Kellogg and Brian Lindefler were the champions in collecting the bottles. Kellogg brought in 400 and Lindefler 275, representing about one-third of those brought in.

Next project for the class is washing school buses. Class members hope this brings in the remaining money.

The field trip will be made as soon as arrangements can be made. Included in the tour to Lincoln will be the centennial health fair, Morrill Hall, Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, penitentiary, State Historical Society, capitol and the planetarium.

Two Nearly Identical Traffic Mishaps

Wayne had only two traffic mishaps the middle and latter part of last week but they were almost identical in involving parked and backing cars. Officer E. L. Bailey investigated both. April 29 in the 600 block on Lincoln St., Jerome Baalberg, jr., Wayne, was backing out of a driveway. His car struck the side of a parked car belonging to Gordon Jorgensen, Wayne. In the 100 block on West Third Apr. 28, Darlyne Beldin, Wakefield, backed from the curb. She cut too close and scraped the parked car of Wayne Hurlbut, Omaha.

PIONEER SCHOOL, with wooden benches, dance made up one scene in the elegant wooden water bucket and wooden head 'the put on by WCHS last week.
