

Carroll, Hoskins Planning

Carroll and Hoskins have made more plans for their centennial celebrations. Each week the community features...

Coming up June 13 and 14 will be the festival in Carroll, an annual affair for years. Clair Swanson is to be in charge of a teenage dance, Merlin Jenkins and George Jorgensen in charge of a kiddies' parade and Gordon Davis and Jack Kavanaugh in charge of the grand parade.

Cliff Burbach will be in charge of the band concert and a water fight. Ron Kuhnemann will oversee seating room benches. John Rethwisch advertising, John Schnoor concessions and streets and others will have roles. A street square dance will be a final night feature.

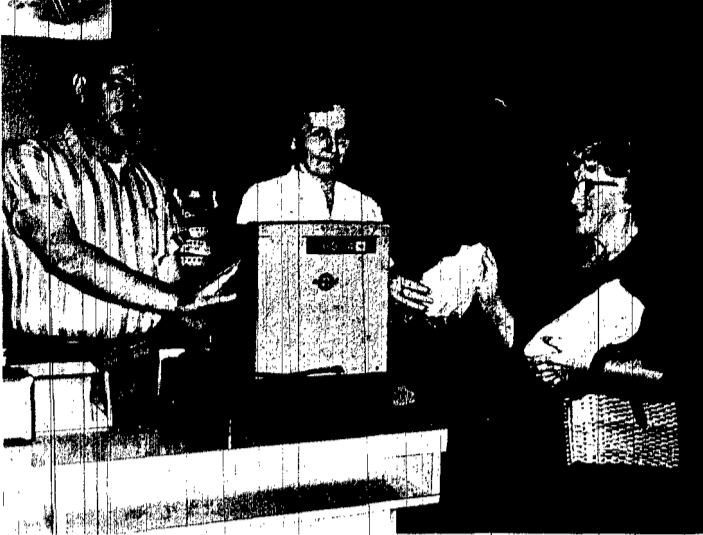

Hoskins will celebrate July 1. A parade at 10 a.m. will be by children's entries with a grand parade to follow. Luncheon will be served by extension and garden clubs.

All saddle clubs that will be in the parade are asked to contact Mr. Gerald Bruggeman. The junior saddle club play day at the ball park will be for all area saddle club members 15 years old and younger.

Antiques will be displayed at the fire hall, games and contests will be held from 2 to 4, a water fight between Carroll and Hoskins will be staged at 4. A free barbecue will last three hours, 5 to 8, with free tickets available just for the asking at all Hoskins business places up to and including June 26.

A centennial program, "Wanna Ask Ya about Nebraska" will be presented by Wayne County Extension club. Other features will be announced from time to time.

Waside, Concord, Dixon and Allen are also planning celebrations of one kind or another to mark the state's centennial year.

STATE TAX of four cents was paid on a purchase by Mrs. Agnes Leonard at Johnson's Bakery Thursday, first day for the new tax. Lowell Johnson and Mrs. Ethel Johnson are shown at the cash register.

Move for Schools 'Involved'

The matter of making the changes from the "old" to the new in Wayne's school system is an involved process, Supt. Francis Haun reports. It does not all come about because of the new high school or the new middle school either.

Changes in four buildings are included in the moves being made. Northeast Elementary is being turned back to Wayne State College; Northeast fifth and sixth are moving to Wayne Middle School (formerly high school) NE kindergarten to fourth are moving to West Elementary; and Wayne High is moving to the new building on Seventh.

Supt. Haun reports the move from Northeast is complete. The move into Wayne High School will be made this fall. Changes in preparation for Wayne Middle School in the old high school building are underway.

The beautiful new high school building was shown on a pre-finish tour this week. It was agreed that District 17 patrons are going to be surprised at the roominess, the well-planned use of space and the many extra features that are included in what is a much larger building than it appears to be from the outside.

Monday night the school board will meet to discuss landscaping for the structure. The board members will also choose the colors for the carpeting from King's Carpets.

Features in brief the school has which should be appreciated are: Roomy gym with no seating for the first year or two; learning centers using electronics to teach; spacious shop, homemaking, science, library and classrooms; adequate storage; roomy shower and dressing rooms with lockers for everyone taking physical education;

Lecture hall that can be split with part for the vocal music department, sound-proof instrumental music room; hot lunch set-up with lunch to be "rolled" over in warming devices from West Elementary; a "commons" that can be used for studying adjacent to the library; ticket selling booths that are bulletin boards (like kiosks) when closed up; terrazzo floors; mercury vapor lighting in the gym;

All administrative and counseling offices in one area; latest equipment in all rooms; wide stairways; big parking lot; exit-trapdoor; heating equipment room with space for more equipment should the need arise; heating system that can handle air-conditioning if it's ever needed in the future; and many many more features.

Supt. Haun and the board have put in a lot of time on getting the best for the least. They continue to devote time to the work.

District 17 grew several hundred acres this week. No one appeared to object to the Wilbur Heithold and Gilmore. Sals land being brought into the district so that is now part of the district.

The summer program is ready to go. Reading, math, recreation and driver's education will be offered. Other summer activities are band trips to Carroll and Lincoln, the NEA national convention for Supt. and Mrs. Haun, the county fair in August and the opening of the new concept of schools, elementary, middle and high, Sept. 8 in Wayne and Carroll.

Price Increases Not All Tax

Nebraska has a sales tax for the first time in history. Everyone expected to pay more due to a 2 1/2 per cent sales tax added on but many of the increases are not due entirely to tax.

Take cigarettes for example. The manufacturers raised the price a nickel a carton. In many stores this meant the price went up a nickel a pack.

Cigarettes have to be at least 30 cents a pack by state law. They have been selling for 35 cents. Some firms now price them at 40 cents or two for 75 cents, including tax. Others price them at 35 cents plus tax (one cent).

The day of the ten-cent beer seems to be gone and ten-cent coffee may be on its way out. Taverns now have 15-cent beer and 20-cent beer by the drink. Places serving coffee still have 10-cent-a-cup prices. But one businessman said he would not be surprised to see the price go up to 15 cents soon.

There is a good reason for both the demise of 10-cent beer and the threatened end of 10-cent coffee, the businessman pointed out. He cited this example for coffee: Four men in days BT (before tax) would have coffee. One would pay for all, paying 40 cents. Now with tax, the same four men can have coffee but each pays a dime, thus avoiding tax. However, the cafe selling the coffee pays 2 1/2 per cent on gross receipts, which means it pays tax on the 40 cents but receives no tax payment from the customers. Added up over the period of a full day when a lot of coffee is served tax-free but on which tax must be paid, this amounts to quite a bit. Over the long haul it is even more sizable.

The same situation is true with beer. The ten-cent beer went out because a lot of people could pay for a beer a drink at a time without tax but at the end of the day the tavern would have to pay tax on all of it. With 15-cent and 20-cent beer, the customer shares the tax with the keeper.

At Allen a doughnut used to be a nickel and a cup of coffee a dime for a total of 15 cents. This has changed. A doughnut is nine cents, coffee a dime and tax one cent for a total of 20 cents.

The state has made it possible for business places to absorb tax one way only—by raising prices. A businessman who has charged 15 cents for an item cannot add the price to 11 cents, add the one-cent tax and still charge 15 cents. He can boost the price to 19 cents, add the one-cent tax and charge 20 cents. The same is true of other prices.

Most business places were referring to tax charts for every sale. It is going to take some getting used to, according to one businessman. However, he said in a few months it will seem so natural it will not even be a talking point.

Tax inspectors are to come around and spot checks to see that the tax is being collected and reported properly. One Wayne businessman said he could hardly wait and he hoped his place was one that was to be checked because he was sure he could use a lot of advice on collecting, recording and reporting tax. The comment was heard

Junior Fire Patrol Pays Off in Home

A Wayne resident gave generous praise this week to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department for its Junior Fire Patrol program. He has reason to be grateful for what the department taught his son at the school the past year.

However, he declined to allow his name to be used, but wanted the VFD to get credit for its program and expressed the hope that others would have their children take the training next year with the knowledge that it can make a difference at the right time.

This man was at home preparing to fry eggs, his wife being gone for the evening. He stepped into the living room to watch TV for a "moment" and the next thing he knew he smelled smoke.

He rushed to the kitchen and found smoke pouring from the pan with grease. Grabbing the pan, he moved it from the burner. This was enough to cause the grease to burst into flame.

His next thought was to get the flaming pan to the sink. Before he could do that, however, his son, a fifth grade pupil who had completed the junior fire patrol last month had reached the cabinet, grabbed a container of baking soda and sprinkled it on the burning grease, extinguishing the flame.

The boy had learned soda will put out a fire in grease. Water is not the answer. The man also realized that in transferring the pan with burning grease he could have spilled some or the curtains could have caught fire.

Dad received a lecture when things settled down. He learned more about putting out fires and what not to do should such a thing ever occur again. Right then and there he resolved to let Wayne firemen know their Junior Fire Patrol work is worth every bit of time and effort.

more than once that the sales tax was the fairest tax there is. Dissenting was a woman with a large family and a small income. She finds her groceries and clothing for the family will cost more but she points out some items for certain groups (farmers) are not taxed so they won't notice it so much.

Coming up is the state's first income tax. It will cover past year's salaries and won't be in effect until later. It will probably draw just as much comment, concern and confusion as the sales tax will for the first few weeks.

Winside in Swing to SWAY

Winside has joined the swing to SWAY. The Winside Community Club has asked to be informed of how the businessmen there can join those in Wayne and Altona in sponsoring the servicemen appreciation project.

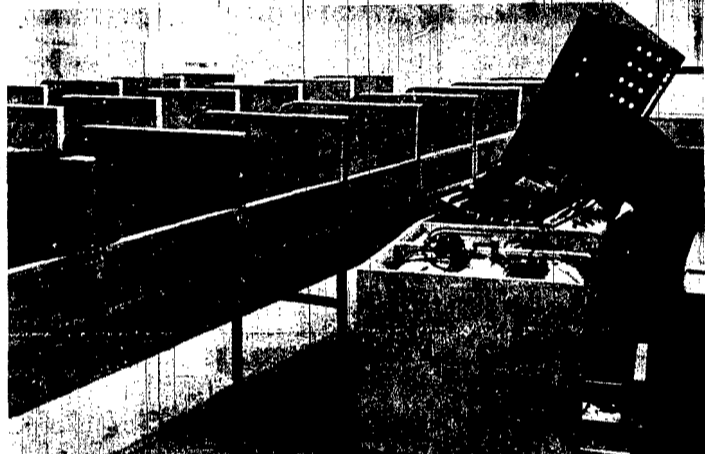

Vernon Hill became interested in the aims of the group of veterans and businessmen. He talked it over with President Cliff Burris of WCF and they agreed Winside should give it consideration.

Clete Sharer and Alfred Sydow will attend the WCC meeting later this month. They will explain how the plan originated with Darel Soden and grew to a county-wide project. They will also tell how Winside can go about becoming a part of the non-commercial venture.

Alphabetized lists of the sponsoring business and professional firms making SWAY possible are being printed. They will be included with a check for $10 and a letter to a serviceman—two being chosen each week to receive the reminder home folks are backing them.

Drawing was boosted to two a week because of the generous response in the Wayne and Altona communities. If other communities follow Winside's example and respond as wholeheartedly as Wayne and Altona did, it is possible the amount given each serviceman will be increased, the number drawn each week will be increased ELECTRONIC TEACHING DEVICES will be used in this classroom at the new high school. A workman is shown installing the master controls. Pupils will sit in compartments and control their reception, go as fast as they are able and work on lessons without regard to what other pupils are working on.

The Spook Speaks

A family from Illinois was visiting in Wayne. The two women were shopping and were walking down the street toward Hotel Morrison. The Illinois guest looked across the street and remarked: "Oh, I see you have a radio station in Wayne, WVED." She was informed that the building she was looking at housed the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, as identified in the letters, and the city has no radio station.

One Wayne man planted his tomatoes a few weeks ago. The weather turned cold, mercury dropped below freezing and the plants froze. His neighbor was wiser. He planted his tomatoes two weeks later. The weather turned hot, mercury hit over 100 and the plants burned up.

A county official in Wayne received a list of people for a report. Some Chicago firm had alphabetized them for the office. Trouble is, the list had been alphabetized by first names!

Centenarian Dies

Gust Carlson, 100, died Thursday at the Wayne Hospital. He had observed his centennial birthday recently at his home in Concord.

Date of birth was Mar. 24, 1867, in Sweden. He had been a resident of the Concord area 73 years.

A daughter, a niece and a nephew are survivors. Funeral rites were Sunday at 2 p.m. in Concordia Lutheran Church, Concord, with burial in the cemetery there.

A complete obituary will be carried in Thursday's paper.

Bicycle Safety School Set

Wayne will have another bicycle safety school starting Wednesday, June 7, and lasting five days, not including Sunday. Assistant Chief of Police, E. L. "Pat" Hailey, who started the school, will be in charge for the seventh straight year.

The young people taking the course will spend 1 1/2 hours each day at the fire hall. They will register the first day. Parents are asked to notify youngsters of the schooling starting at 9 each day.

All young people aged 6 and up will be eligible to take the course. Pupils will learn the laws of the city, the rules of safety and all phases of bicycle riding and bicycle safety.

Hailey said later in the course the youngsters will get to ride in groups with

Set Summer Park Program

Another summer of outdoor fun is being planned for the various parks in Wayne. Equipment is ready to go in Viken, Bressler, East, Swimming Pool and Boy Scout Parks.

Mrs. Mike Karel will handle the park recreation program at Bressler Park for the fourth year in a row. She cites the growth of the program in that period, having 65 enrolled in the first year and over 200 last year.

Registration will be held Monday, June 12 at 10 p.m. for those children in the group from kindergarten this fall through the eighth grade. Park activities are planned weekdays from 9:30 to 11:30 with groups divided according to ages.

Painting, records, games and other activities are set. For the smaller tots there will be projects each day with something to take home to show off after each period.

Mrs. Karel has her staff of workers lined up and will announce the full schedule next week. Further information will be offered on what is planned in the various age groups also.

The swimming pool closed before it opened. Clerk Dan Sherry reports the pool was under pressure when filled and leaks developed with from six to eight inches of water level lost each day.

Rich Brown, who is in charge of the pool, said lessons will start June 12 if the repairs are ready

Almost 300 Attend

Figures on the attendance at the Winside-High School Alumni banquet have been collected. Instead of around 250 present, there were 295. This is about average for the yearly affair. Last year's attendance was considerably higher due to the long Memorial Day weekend.

"I WILL PREPARE MYSELF . . ."

By Mike Reichenberger, Staff Representative Dale Carnegie & Assn., Inc., New York. Copyright 1965, Dale Carnegie & Assn., Inc.

It was the custom of Old Nathan to sit outside the wall of the ancient city where he lived to watch the people come and go. He always sat in the shade of a tree which stood near the entrance gate. Old Nathan was usually surrounded by small boys who loved to hear him tell stories. Travelers frequently stopped to visit with the old gentleman and to ask him for information.

One hot summer day a stranger, who was riding down the dusty road toward the gate of the city, stopped to visit for a few minutes with the old man, who was entertaining his young friends. The stranger said, "I am thinking of moving to your city. Tell me, Sir, what kind of people live here?" Quickly the old man asked "What kind of people live in the town where you come from?" "The people in my town are unkind," the stranger said. "They cheat and they steal and they lie. They talk badly about each other. I am leaving that town because of those undesirable people who live there." The old man looked sadly at the stranger and said, "I'm sorry to tell you but you will find the same kind of people in this town." Without a word, the stranger turned and rode away and the old man went on with the story he had been relating to the boys.

A short time later another stranger came down the road toward the gate. He, too, stopped to chat with Old Nathan. He said, "My good man, I have need to move to a city such as this. Tell me, Sir, what kind of people live here?" The old man asked the same question, "What kind of people live in the town from where you came?" The stranger replied, "The people in my town are good. They are friendly and helpful and they always look for an opportunity to do a good deed for someone. I truly hated to leave that town because of those wonderful people, but my work requires that I move." The old man clasped the hand of the stranger and said, "You'll find the same kind of people here. Welcome to our fine city." The stranger went happily through the gate.

The boys who had come to see the old man stood in silent wonder. Finally, one of them stepped up to him and said, "Why, Sir, did you not tell those men the truth? You told one that our people were bad and the other that they were good."

The old man said, "Sit down, lad, and I shall explain. I did tell the truth to both of the strangers. You see, no matter where we go or what we do, we find in other people just about what we look for. If we look for the good we can always find it; but if we try to find something bad, that is what we will see. Almost everyone has far more good qualities than bad."

Then he admonished them—always look for the best in others. Keep that thought foremost in your mind and you will enjoy greater success and make many friends wherever you go.

Nebraska

The Plum Creek Massacre On August 7th or 8th, 1864 (reports conflict) organized Indian attacks were carried out against white settlements and wagon trains along the Platte from Julesburg to Fort Kearney. One of the bloodiest of these was the massacre near Plum Creek Station in what is now Phelps County. This account of that attack is taken from material in the files of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

A train of freight wagons bound for Denver, belonging to a Mr. Thomas Morton of Sidney, Iowa had been in camp on the Platte along with a train from St. Joseph, Missouri. They had barely gotten under way in the early hours of the morning when they were attacked by a large party of hostile Indians. Most of the wagons were plundered and burned, and only two of those aboard were known to have survived. One of the survivors was Mrs. Morton, wife of the owner of the freight train. She was kept as a prisoner by the Indians for some time before her release was finally negotiated. She later recalled that when the attack occurred there was very little warning, allowing no time to organize resistance. This is borne out by another eye-witness account, that of a Lieutenant Bowen who viewed the attack from about 3/4 mile distant. He estimated that about one hundred Indians took part and it appeared to him that the whites had only revolvers with which to defend themselves.

This was probably the most serious single engagement along the Platte on that day in terms of lives lost. It happened early in the morning, allowing other settlements time to be warned by telegraph. Reports of the number killed in the Plum Creek Massacre vary, but probably twelve or more lives were lost. The bodies of those killed now rest in a small cemetery near the massacre site. In 1930 a stone marker was erected at the cemetery. A recent addition to the site is a facility for visitor registration provided by the Matson family, who own the land on which the cemetery is situated. The location of the site is not on any main highway, but is within easy reach of travelers on Interstate 80.

Why you'll be glad you bought a Fox Custom-7 Forage Harvester

Because its rugged construction gives you "good-as-new" performance and dependability 10 or even 15 years from now.

For example: Tough-one-piece welded frame. Stays in line, keeps shafts and bearings in perfect alignment.

Anti-friction bearings. At every major point of wear. Fifty of them to reduce friction, save power, increase life.

Heavy-duty roller chains, universal joints, shafts and bearings.

Heavy-gauge cutter housing. One-piece welded steel unit, keeps knives in perfect alignment with shear bar.

With construction like this, the heavy-duty Fox Custom-7 just can't help but last longer. Yet it costs little if any more than other forage harvesters.

One- or two-row corn unit. 5 or 6 ft pick-up, 6 or 7 ft mower bar available.

Bad Week for Kids Recorded in Region

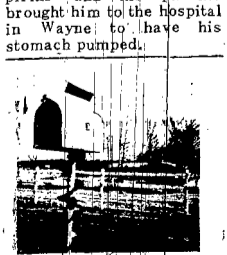

Last week was a bad week for youngsters in the area. They broke bones, suffered bites and swallowed medicine, all of which required medical attention.

Duane Stolle, son of the Marvin Stolle, Concord, was bitten. A dog bit him in the ear and he had to be brought to Wayne for a doctor's care.

Roxanne Gaden, daughter of the Verneal Gadens, Laurel, suffered a broken arm. She fell while riding a bicycle.

Two visitors suffered troubles. Kelly Linnenberger, Kansas, fell while playing in a yard. She suffered a broken arm.

Jeff Reed, Montana, was going through the area with his parents. He swallowed a large supply of baby aspirins and his parents brought him to the hospital in Wayne to have his stomach pumped.

Norfolk Pair Wed 45 Years Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleece, sr., Norfolk, formerly of Hoskins, were honored May 28 at the Community Bible Church on their 45th wedding anniversary. More than 200 were present.

A program in their home was given by their children and their families. Reading "Tribute to Dad" was given by their son Walter Fleece, jr. and "Tribute to Mother" by a daughter, Mrs. George Heusinger. Other readings were given by Mrs. Walter Fleece, jr. and Cheryl Fleece with an original reading by the five grandsons. A piano duet was played by Carol Fleece and Anne Marie Heusinger. Rev. George Heusinger presented the Bernoulli message, closing with a solo.

Greetings were read from a granddaughter and sister of the couple not present for the occasion. Cheryl Fleece, granddaughter, greeted the guests and was in charge of the guestbook. Two other granddaughters, Anne Marie Heusinger and Carol Fleece, presided at the punchbowl.

Mrs. Walter Fleece, jr. and Mrs. George Heusinger cut the cake. Mrs. George Langenberg, sr. and Miss Bernice Langenberg poured.

Guests attending were from North Platte, Hastings, Waltham, Columbus, David City, Fremont, Omaha, Lakefield, Minn., Loma Linda, Calif., Des Moines and Sioux City.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleece were married in Owensville, Mo., and lived on a farm northwest of Hoskins 25 years, before they moved to Norfolk. He has been associated with Norfolk Mutual Insurance Co., having served as president for a number of years.

Cheri Marsh Weds W. Erickson in Methodist Church Rites May 28

Cheri Marsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Marsh, Wayne and William Erickson, Holstein, Ia., were married May 28 at 4 p.m. in the Methodist church, Wayne. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Erickson, Holstein, Ia.

Rev. Cecil Bliss, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Clayton Spitzwick, sang "The Pledge" and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Paulette Merchant was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of crisp linen styled with a Sabrina neckline and elbow-length trumpet sleeves embossed with Venice lace. The empire bodice was accented by Venice lace which fell on the A-line skirt. A detachable court train edged in Venice lace was caught at the shoulders. Her shoulder length veil of re-embroidered alencon washed in place by lace petals trimmed with seeded pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade style bouquet of white and yellow rose buds on a white bible.

Mrs. Don Helgren, Wayne, was maid of honor. Mrs. Allen Zumbrunnen, Kearney, and Mrs. Dean Bruggeman, Wayne, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of mint green linen with short sleeves and batteau neckline.

The yoke bodice was spanned by appliqued daisies accented with green velvet streamers. The back was caught into a train which was held by a green velvet bow over appliqued daisies.

Don Vahs, Holstein, Ia. was best man. Groomsmen were Randy Dehn, Beleno, Ia. and Bob Erickson, Holstein, Ia. James Marsh, Dean Bruggeman and Gene Hunting, Wayne and William Schultz, Beecher, served as ushers. The bridegroom and his attendants wore black tuxedos.

Diane and Jonnie Erickson, Holstein, were candle-lighters. Tommie Carnes, Holstein, was ringbearer and Stacy Marsh, Wayne, was flower girl.

The bride's mother wore a scroll ribbon knit sheath of deep turquoise with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a three piece knit suit of mint green. Each had a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

A reception for 300 guests was held in the church parlors. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. William Koerber, Wayne. Mrs. Harry Zaretsky registered the guests. Mrs. Roger Lutt and Mrs. Dan Gustafson arranged the gifts. Mrs. Connie Suhr and Mrs. Arnold Reeg served the cake.

Mrs. James Marsh and Mrs. Melvin Brown poured. Waitresses were Sandy Tellander, Pat Sullivan, Jeanne Dunklau, Mary Wert and Lynn Janke. Mrs. Eldor Lubberstedt was in charge of the kitchen.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose an emerald green sheath, trimmed in white lace accented with a bow at the neckline.

The bride was graduated from Wayne high school and attended Wayne State College. She is presently employed at Northwestern Bell Company, Wayne. The bridegroom graduated from Wayne State College and has been teaching at Woodbury Central Jr. High in Iowa.

The couple will reside at 312 Lincoln, Wayne.

Wayne Boys Teams Lose to Norfolk

Wayne Midgets and Juniors lost to Norfolk in a pair of long drawn out games Friday night on the Norfolk diamond. The Midgets lost a seven-inning affair 6-5 and the Juniors lost a nine-inning game 3-0.

The Midgets from Wayne led, all the way until the final frame. Going into the bottom of the fifth they had a 5-1 lead. During the last three stanzas they practically gave the ball game away with errors, miscues, poor judgment and goofs.

Wayne Magdanz went the distance for Wayne, fanning 3 and allowing 8 hits. Don Strate, hurling the win for Norfolk, striking out 10 and yielding only 2 safe blows.

The Wayne hits included a single apiece for Dave Tietgen and Randy Helgren. For the host team, Russ Mailhard had a double and a single, Strate two singles and Rick Benson, Randy Bliss, Steve Buskohl and Randy Johnson a single apiece.

In the Junior game,

George Hynon pitched four innings and Delmar Wacker the last five for Wayne. Eynon fanned 3, Wacker 7. Dick Hoile went seven frames for Norfolk, striking out 11, and Mike Fletcher hurled the rest of the game, striking out 5. Hoile pitched no-hit-no-run ball for six frames, Dean Elson finally getting a hit in the seventh. Bob Morris followed with another single. The only other hit was also a single, coming in the eighth by Gordon Jorgensen.

Rick Wilson had a triple and a single for Norfolk, Denny Hodge a triple, Jack Morris two singles and Roger Wilson and Shelley Crwiler a single each.

Norfolk had a 1-0 lead until the bottom of the eighth with two men out. A single and two walks loaded the bases and Wilson came up with a single that drove in two more runs. Wayne loaded the bases with two out in the ninth but stranded those three, bringing to nine the number of men left on base.

Dixonites Take 51-1 Chance - and Lose!

Two Dixon men, John Young and Victor Carlson, went to Indianapolis to see the famous "Indy 500" race, secure in the knowledge that not since 1928 has the race been postponed or halted because of rain. The odds were 51 to 1 the race would be held on schedule - and they lost!

Young wrote the following account: Not since 1926 has the "Indy 500" been postponed or halted because of rain. Upon realizing a lifetime desire to get to see this spectacular event, we were limited to 18 laps because of rain.

We sat in the open stands and waited for the "showers" to quit and the race to resume - along with about 200,000 other fans. After about 1 1/2 hours and no let-up, we waded about a half mile back to our car where the heater felt real welcome.

About 12:30 p.m. the weather man announced 100 per cent chance of rain the remainder of the day and 60 per cent Tuesday night and 60 per cent all day Wednesday. After spending $30 a night for a bed to sleep in, we felt we could not afford to gamble on the other 40 per cent chance of no rain, so left the track for Nebraska.

At any rate, our treat of the 18 laps (which cost about $1 per lap per ticket) has not dampened our desire to return to the Hoosier State another year for another race.

No adjectives can come close to describing the thrill of watching the gleaming, colorful, sleek cars roar by - 30 feet in front of us at about 150 mph.

A tour of the city and a ride around the track, a visit through the track museum of old race cars and equipment and other activities were among the many memories that helped dampen the disappointment in not seeing all of the race and helped make the trip worthwhile.

Young and Carlson said "When" (not "if") they go again, they will try to get friends to go and charter a plane. They could fly from Dixon to Indianapolis in the morning, see the race and fly back to Dixon at night at a lower cost than they could going by car, paying the high rents and food prices and other costs as they did on their initial trip to "the big one."

Allen to Try Again

Allen Babe Ruth and Little League teams were scheduled to try again Sunday, June 4, and Sunday, June 11, to get baseball underway at the bottom-land diamond at Allen Junction north of town. The first games of the season were flooded out by the heavy rains in all six of the towns. Allen was to play at Martinsburg June 4 and is scheduled to play Ponca on the Allen Junction diamond June 11.

Mrs. Wilma Rush and Dennis, Glendo, Wyo., spent the weekend with Mrs. Bess Peterman.

I See By The Herald

Mrs. Paul Goetowski and family, Lincoln, spent last Saturday at the homes of Lottie Perrin and Julia Purdue.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Stoltenberg and family, Carroll, Mo. and Mrs. A.P. Peterson, Lottie Perrin, Julia Purdue, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bush and daughter, Mrs. Alvina Bush and Mr. and Mrs. Al Jugel and daughter were guests Thursday evening in the Al Purdue home in honor of Bob who graduated from Laurel high school.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Gormley attended an alumni banquet at Millford May 27. Dr. Gormley was a 1912 graduate. They spent the rest of the Memorial Day weekend visiting cemeteries at Fremont, Millford and North Platte and visited with relatives at North Platte.

Seabees Seeking Men

Donald Hopkinson, naval recruiter at Norfolk, reports the Seabees need 4,000 men with building skills. Petty officer ratings go to men with 32 or more months of experience up to 40 years of age. A four-week petty officer indoctrination course is scheduled. More information can be secured by seeing or writing Hopkinson at the office in Norfolk.

Dave Brown Scores in Cozad Track Festival

Dave Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown, scored in two events at the Mid-States Track and Field Championships at Cozad the past week. He competed in the junior division for those under 19.

He won fourth in two events, the triple jump and the high hurdles. Competitors included athletes from four states.

Saturday he went to Sioux City for the Junior Olympics. Results were not known at the time this went to press but he was scheduled to participate in the triple jump and the hurdles.

Lots of Baseball in Area Next Few Days

Wayne area fans will get their baseball in large doses this week, the opening week of the season due to the delay caused by rain. In addition to regular games, there will be games that have been postponed already.

Tuesday, June 6, Ponca town team will be here for an 8 p.m. game. Wednesday, June 7, Wayne Juniors play at Homer at 7:30.

Thursday, June 8, there will be three games. The 9-11 year olds play Pender here at 1 and the 12-13 year olds play Pender here at 2:30. Wayne town team goes to Homer for an 8 o'clock tilt that night.

Friday, June 9, Schuyler Midgets and Juniors play at Wayne. Sunday, June 11, Emerson town team meets Wayne in a Northeast Nebraska loop tilt in Wayne Monday, June 12, Wayne Midgets and Juniors play at Laurel.

Hank Overin is also working with other age groups as the summer season gets into full swing. Details on their activities will be carried in Thursday's paper.

Bike Deadline Set by Police

Wayne young people are not doing a speedy job of licensing their bicycles, according to Chief of Police Vern Fairchild. He warns them the deadline for licensing is Thursday, June 15.

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

plates serve a dual purpose. They register the owner's name with the police and they identify bicycles found or stolen.
Chief Fairchild said the issuance of plates involves recording the registration number on the frame, the size tires, the type bicycle and the color. This gives the police a complete record of all bikes in town.
If a bike is taken, it can be traced much easier with all of this information. If a bike is found, the owner can be located at once.
Parents are advised to warn their children of the deadline. License plates are being sold at the fire hall at a slow pace. It will have to speed up if all are to be licensed by the deadline. Those on the streets without plates after June 15 will be impounded, the chief said.

Sun Comes Out After Another Day of Rain

The sun came out Friday after the area experienced another day of rain Wednesday with cloudy skies Thursday. Forecasters were calling for scattered showers in the days ahead.
Ralph Watson recorded another .22 of an inch of rain Wednesday. This brought the total in six days north of Wayne to over 1.90 inches. In Wayne itself the total was nearer 2.40 inches.
Heavier points of rain were reported in the area. One farmer near Winside said his gauge showed 3.60 inches of rain in the six-day period when the skies never cleared. North of Dixon there were several reports of over three inches of rain.
Roads were dried out by Friday and fields were getting dry enough so farmers could get out in them again. The combination of soaking moisture and sunshine gave everyone a better feeling and once again the outlook for crops in this area is good.

WHEN YOU GET around 100 Bible School pupils together it makes quite a group. This bunch of kids was enjoying ice cream bars Friday when this shot was taken. They attended classes at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
In regard to your editorial in the June 1 edition of the Herald concerning saddle club coverage, we would like to say this.
For the past several years, the Wayne Saddle Club has purchased all of their show bills and most of the show advertising from The Herald. Last year, our local saddle club spent a total of $207.92 for show bills and advertising in The Herald. Never have we taken our trade out of town. For this, we received next to nothing news coverage of our horse show last July 4 and almost no mention or pictures of our club in the centennial parade this spring. Yet there was picture after picture of old cars from out of town and complete strangers driving them.
At the Minimum Tillage Day, the Wayne Saddle Club was represented by three volunteers who parked cars both morning and afternoon, afoot and on horseback. For this too, we received little mention and no pictures. However, these members did receive letters of thanks from the Chamber of Commerce.
Our club is small but we are extremely grateful to the local merchants and businessmen who have willingly sponsored classes and donated extra services which have contributed to the successful outcome of our annual horse shows. Again this year, we have placed our order for show bills with The Herald and again we anticipate more club and horse show coverage this season.

We remain board member and secretary-treasurer of the Wayne Saddle Club.
Stacy Swinney
Gerry Gilbert
(This is the type of letter we can tear apart. The "next to nothing" coverage you received last year included a front page story in what is considered the second best spot on the front page June 30. In the July 7 issue you had the No. 2 spot on the front page again. We devoted 57 inches to the story of the saddle club show, including a 3-column picture on Page 1 and three 2-column pictures on Page 8.
(We stood out in that burning July 4 sun to cover your horse show and we had to fight for every bit of information. We were shown no press courtesy at all but we were determined to get the story so we endured the heat during a show that only 200 people showed up for. That's how big a story it was to the public.
(In the old car parade this year we took a picture of your saddle club. Your group was so straggly and not in uniform so we decided not to use the pictures, knowing it would only embarrass your club. Besides, we knew there would be other occasions when it would make a better appearance and therefore a better picture. Your club members agreed with us on that, even if we didn't contact you personally.

(No one told us you helped at the Minimum Tillage Day. Jaycees told of their work. It pays to blow your horn before hand because we would have been glad to have given you credit. Too many clubs wait to see what coverage there is and then do their crying later because The Herald was supposed to know as much about what was going on as the members did. They forget we have hundreds of things to cover while their interests are often confined to one type of club or another.
(Do you know what one complaint was from a Carroll resident? She said we devoted too much space to saddle clubs and "Who cares about them!" Well, we care. We try to cover all types of activities. The clubs that get the best coverage are the ones that keep us informed as to what is coming up—not the ones that hold some event in almost complete secrecy and then complain about it if we do not give them the same coverage we do the clubs that are thoughtful enough to think about the press beforehand and not afterward.

(We will cover your show this year. We'll give the same "next to nothing" coverage we did last year, possibly more, even if that lady in Carroll doesn't care about saddle clubs. We'll bet you don't read the swim meet stories but there are many who do. We can't please you all, but we'll try. Keep chewing. The letters like yours make us more anxious to prove you wrong. We'll try harder. Please try harder to help us try harder.
—Editor.

Thurston Woman's Name Drawn

A Thurston woman's name was called for the $350 Silver Dollar Night prize Thursday. She was not in Wayne so will receive a $10 check from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce as consolation.
Failure to have a winner resulted in the fund being boosted to $400 again. This amount will hold until there is a winner and each week there is no winner a reserve fund will build up.
Anyone in the area can register for this drawing. Many taking this paper for the first time should make note of the fact that they can register at participating business places in and near Wayne as long as they are 18 years of age or over.
The next drawing will be Thursday, June 8. To take the prize, the one whose name is drawn must be in one of the sponsoring business places at 8 p.m. Names of those business places can be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce office.

Kodiak Wants to Know

Chief of Police Vern Fairchild has received several requests for information on Wayne's salesmen licensing law since an article he wrote appeared in a national police officer's magazine. Inquiry coming the greatest distance was one received the past week. It came from the chief of police at Kodiak, Alaska, who requested a copy of the Wayne ordinance governing salesmen.

BULLDOZING OPERATIONS are going on at the Allen School. Sidewalk will be torn out, one row of trees eliminated and other changes made to provide parking closer to the school and leaving more room for traffic when cars are parked on both sides of the street.

Allen School Gets New Parking Ramp

Better parking arrangements are being prepared along the street in front of the Allen school. It will give more room for traffic when vehicles are parked on both sides of the street. Darrel Rohde is doing the work. He is tearing out the old sidewalks along the street from the alley east of the school to the alley west of the school. A "cut" will be made deeper into the hillside so new sidewalks can be put in along the street. Crushed rock will be used so cars can be parked diagonally pulled in off the street on the south side. While the school district is at it, new sidewalks will be put in leading out from the school exits on the north side of the street. Trees along the north edge of the school property will be removed in order to take care of all improvements.

Winside Firemen Get Two Similar Alarms

Winside firemen were called out twice Sunday of last week. In each case an overheated chimney was the cause of the alarm. The first call was to the Richard Miller home four miles south of Winside. The second was to the Marvin Donner home on the east side of town. In each case the furnaces had not been used for some time due to warm weather. Then the weather cooled off and the furnaces were put in use again. Fired up, the furnaces became extra hot, the chimneys overheated and firemen had to be called. No major damage was caused and what damage there was came about because of smoke.

Graduates at NWU

Doreen Pritchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pritchard, Winside, graduated at Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Sunday. She received a bachelor of science degree. Those going from this area for the morning baccalaureate service and evening commencement rites were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Swanson and Mavis of Carroll, Gary Munson of Wayne, Mrs. Roy Jenkins and Lana of Winside and Mrs. Lewis Johnson and Tom and Allan Pritchard of Norfolk.

Set Flag Congress

A state centennial flag congress will be held Sunday, June 11, in Fremont. It is the second such congress ever held in Nebraska, the first also being in Fremont in 1961. Purpose is to discuss ways and means to promote and implement greater respect and display of the American flag in schools, churches, homes and business firms. Flag demonstrations will be given by the marines and other s. James Green, past national American Legion will speak. Registration is from 9 to 10. Representatives of patriotic and service organizations will attend and anyone else interested will be welcomed.

Two Cars Involved in Accident in Allen

Two cars were heavily damaged in a near head-on collision May 27 on Highway 9 in Allen. No one was injured, according to E. H. Mitchell, marshal, who investigated. David Peters, Allen, was eastbound on the street from the elevator to the highway. Jon Olson, Allen, driving a car owned by Gordon Nelson, Ponca, was northbound on Highway 9. Peters told the marshal he was unable to stop on the muddy street, sliding onto the highway. He attempted to turn right but slid across the highway and collided with the car driven by Olson.

Check if Your Check Not Coming on Time

Is your social security check coming on time? Check if it isn't; you may not have notified the Social Security Administration of your correct address. Robert Swan, field representative for the SSA district office at Norfolk, will be in Wayne Tuesday, June 6, to answer questions or to help you with getting such things as late checks straightened out. The Norfolk office is open weekdays 8:30 to 1:30 and Saturdays 9 to 12. You can make an appointment for a conference there or see Swan between 1 and 3 p.m. Tuesday at the courthouse.

Allen Honors Supt. and Mrs. Mitchell Next Month with Open House at School

A committee has set up plans for an open house July 2, to honor Supt. and Mrs. K. R. Mitchell, who have retired. He has been superintendent at AHS 32 years and she has been home economics teacher there 17 years. In appreciation for their service to the school and community, openhouse will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. July 2 in the AHS auditorium. A short program will be presented at 3. A scholarship fund is being established for future AHS graduates who choose the teaching profession and who need financial assistance to further their education. This will be good at Wayne State College, that school helping to work out plans for the type of scholarship.

Financing for the K. R. Mitchell Scholarship will come from former teachers and students at Allen and from friends of the school and community. Contributions are being accepted in Security State Bank, Allen, and should be in by June 18. A letter has been sent out by the committee asking all who ever attended Allen schools to write a letter for the Mitchells. These are to be sent to: Mrs. Ken Linafelter, Allen, Nebr. 68710; Mrs. Linafelter will put the letters in a scrapbook to be presented to the Mitchells at the open house. Allen Alumni Association had scheduled a meeting in June, 1968. The executive committee of the association decided to move the meeting to July 2, 1967, in conjunction with open house so all graduates will have a chance to meet with the Mitchells at open house. Alumni dues are being paid to Mrs. Duane Koester, Allen. Herb Ellis represents the alumni planning the open house; Jim Warner, school board; Mrs. Eldon Barelman and Mrs. James Mitchell, PTA; and Mrs. Florence Jewell, teachers. Mrs. Jewell is chairman. Mrs. Rubel Hutchings is in charge of the program and Mrs. Duane Koester and Mrs. Ken Linafelter the publicity.

Three Men Fined in Court for Speeding

Three out-of-county men were fined in county court the last day of May. Each appeared before Judge David Hamer on a speeding charge. Glen Foster, Newcastle, paid $10 fine and $5 costs on charges brought by Trooper Louis Svoboda, Nebraska Safety Patrol. Another state trooper, B.L. Cooper, brought charges against Douglas Fleetwood, South Sioux City, the fine and costs totaling $15 in that case also. A higher fine was assessed David Fredrickson, Wakefield. He paid $15 fine and $5 costs on charges brought by Patrolman Cooper.

Only Three Winside Pupils Get All 'A's'

Supt. James Christensen reports only three pupils in Winside junior high and senior high earned straight A grades in all classes the past semester. They were among the 32 listed on the honor roll for the period. The three pupils who rated all A's were Kirk Troutman, a junior; Philip Witt, a freshman; and Phyllis Miller, seventh grade. All carried A's in five subjects. Seniors listed on the honor roll were Robert Dangberg, Linda Gohring, Mary

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

Write Him a Letter

This coming Thursday The Herald will carry the pictures and names of the first servicemen to get the SWAY gifts from Wayne County. Addresses will be printed so why not make it a real remembrance and appreciation project by writing to those you know.

You need not write to each one but if a boy is being remembered with a cash gift and he is someone you know, you could make the occasion even more memorable by sending a card or letter. If your boy is the one remembered in such a way, you should be doubly grateful.

The Herald will get pictures from the parents as soon as the names of the winners are known each Friday. This will take time and it is important that the addresses be the latest and absolutely correct, so the winners will not be pictured until the following Thursday.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Then you take over. Make a note of that address that appears with the article. Write a note. Send a picture. Bake a cookie and mail it. Remember that servicemen in some way. Let him know that not only does Wayne County appreciate its servicemen as a governmental unit but as an individual you appreciate the servicemen too.

If you have not given to SWAY, there is time. All Wayne County should share in this. It should be a plan that other communities will want to copy. All servicemen deserve this support and more.—CEG

Picture Your Children Like This

Can you imagine your children brainwashed as children are in some countries, brainwashed to believe communism is the only way of life worth living? Can you imagine your country under outside control with the government taking over everything and then telling where you will work and what you will do?

"It can't happen here!" you say. Why not? It has happened in other countries and if the Soviet Union gets its way it will happen here.

In spite of the fact the masses have never chosen communism as a way of life, it has taken over. Germans in the eastern zone have learned to live with it and are doing better. But, even at their best they are not as well off as Germans in the western zone.

The Chinese are living under it and making some gains. However, their life lacks a lot of being what it is for those who have fled.

Even the people of Russia are not communists but are forced to live under communist rules. The controlling communist party in Russia is a mere fraction of the total number of people but it is in complete control and has been for decades.

When will communists strike in America "Pearl Harbor style"? When they are ready. They are weakening our nation in every way they can by supporting those we oppose in Vietnam, in the Near East and in Cuba. While they start things, we are left to finish them and each new crisis is a drain on US might and money.

The Grouchy Ones

The woman was from a neighboring city. She buys more in Wayne than she does in her home town, but she may not keep doing this.

Some thoughtless clerk offended her. Oh, she didn't kick her in the shins or call her "an old bat" or do anything so obvious but she did cut her short and in general was not too courteous.

What a time to be curt towards a customer. The woman from the other town was paying a bill of considerable size!

The visitor had a right to be upset. She had done considerable business at this store over the years. All the good will that had been won through the years suddenly went down the drain with one

We get spread out more and more and they gain new friends with a pretty clever policy aimed at world domination.

The communists call the shots all over the world. We have to react and usually whatever action is necessary is going to cost us money. That's great because even when we spend a lot we fail to gain as much as communists do with a better-organized campaign.

They have moved as close as Cuba. They will move elsewhere. They will move out into the open in America someday. Will it be too late to stop them then? Time will tell.

The important thing is we have to stop communism somewhere or we will have no choice but to try to stop them at home. Otherwise they will gain their goal of complete domination of the world, your family, your home and your life.

It's a pretty dark outlook but not hopeless. As long as cool minds prevail and we do not get led down the paths of ignorance some ostrich-like anti-war protestors have ostrich-like anti-war a chance. Perish the thought that we will ever listen to them and follow their lead only to find out along with them that they indeed were duped into their beliefs and too late we know the real score on who is aggressive and who is imperialistic.

What can you do? Learn. Read. Talk. Write. Have faith. Remember the past. Remember the communist aim. Be prepared. The nation we save from communism next could be our own.—CEG thoughtless act. It behooves Wayne businessmen to make sure this does not happen in their business places. One customer lost to a store might not hurt so much there but that lost customer may transfer a lot of other business from Wayne to other towns and when that happens it hurts.

Courtesy should not be a problem. Whether it's a kid buying a two-cent sucker or a farmer buying a tractor, courtesy ought to come naturally for those who do the selling. There is never a time or place for being discourteous.

Wayne cannot afford to get reports such as this. Maybe with some people we'll get a second chance; maybe not. Who can afford to find out?—CEG

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: I have never, I repeat NEVER, witnessed so much disrespect for the American flag as was displayed in Wayne Memorial Day. The colors were raised at 1:30 a.m.—yes, that's right—1:30 in the morning, allowed to "fly" during the inclement weather of the day and then "tossed" in a heap at the day's end. Every day we are shocked by news films of drafts of protesters, actions of provocateurs, but none as degrading as was evident here. How do we explain our flag courtesy to the Wayne county boy in Vietnam? How do we explain our actions to our children? How do we explain it to ourselves.

An American (We say "Amen—we can't recall any such disrespect to our flag before either. We hope we never hear of any greater display of thoughtlessness.—Editor).

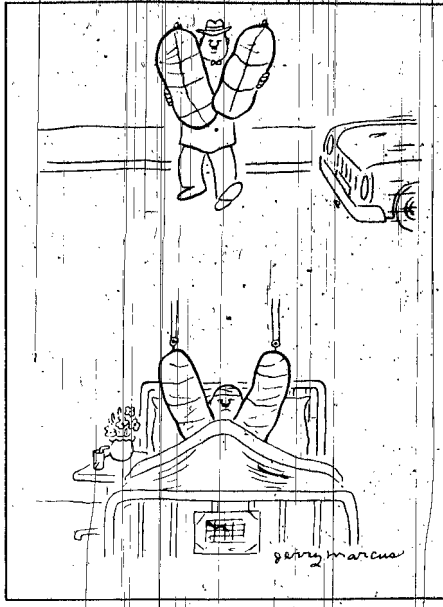

Methodists at Dixon Hold Vacation School

Dixon Methodist Church held Vacation Bible School the past week. Mrs. Louis Abts was in charge with nine helpers for the 38 pupils enrolled.

Sunday morning at the 9 o'clock services the young people presented a program to illustrate what they had learned. Their program took the place of the regular worship service.

Teachers at the school all day five days the past week included Mrs. Carol Hirschert, Rev. Jesse Withers, Mrs. Oliver Noe, Mrs. Sterling Borg and Mrs. Marvin Hartman.

Assisting the teachers in the various classes were Cindy Hirschert, Margaret Ankeny, Joelyn Noe and Deana Thompson.

Crossing between intersections killed 3,630 persons in 1966.

Out of Old

Black Hills Ride

In June 1877, "I. W. M.", the regular correspondent of the Omaha Daily Republican, traveled by stage on the Sidney-Cloud Hills Trail, to Red Cloud Agency, near Fort Robinson. His account, in the files of the Nebraska State Historical Society, gives a vivid account of commercial transportation in frontier regions not served by a railroad. On his trip, the reporter shared the stage with eight others, including one woman.

He wrote, "Will I ever forget that stage ride? I should rather think not. I had experimented on short distances, say from the hotel to the depot, and had occasionally rode a mile or two out, but to get into a coach with eight others, nearly all large men, when the utmost capacity was three on each of the three seats, and start off for a ride of three hundred miles, with stops only for changes of horses and meals, was something entirely fresh and new for me. The time passed pleasantly enough during the day until evening came."

"We held long interviews, smoked our cigars (Mrs. Shepard declaring that she liked the aroma of a good cigar, and all of ours were good), and drank our iced tea. It isn't safe to drink water after leaving the railroad; some of the wells and springs are so strongly impregnated with alkali that the water is very unhealthy. One spring on this route is fatal to all who drink from it. All of our party were afraid they would unintentionally drink of that spring. There were eight flasks of liquor, one bottle of wine (Mrs. Shepard) and my solitary bottle of iced tea, inside the coach."

"But when it came night, Oh! there was the rub! The trouble commenced. We were tired, our eyelids dropped, our heads were nodding, we were all wrapped in our blankets, but we couldn't sleep. A sudden jolt of the coach (and they were frequent) would wake us all up, and then we would laugh at each other. None would admit that they had been napping. Then a story or a song would follow, and afterward another vain attempt to keep from nodding. Suddenly the coach would stop. Were we in the hands of the road agents? No. Were the Indians upon us? No. The voice of the driver was heard as the heavily loaded stage stood at the foot of a long hill, 'come, boys, exercise yourselves,' and we would get out, and in the cold night air, we would walk four or five miles up hill and through deep sand. We would then all get back into the coach, blanket ourselves, nod a few minutes, get a few good bumps on our head, wake a story, nod again, then get out and walk to please the driver, you know. So the long night passed, and morning dawned at last!"

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Wayne Herald, June 6, 1907

Team belonging to W. F. Ramsey aroused considerable excitement for a time in a runaway Friday afternoon. While getting ready to load posts into the wagon at Harrington's lumber yard the horses became frightened and lit out, taking a course west on Second street. When the wagon struck the high part of crossing at the corner near the McNeal residence, the wagon turned upside down, leaving only the front gear hitched to the horses. The team kept up its speed till they ran amuck a telephone pole, near the Ed. Rennie farm adjoining town, when the neckyoke broke, leaving the pole between the horses and against the doubletree. Mail carrier Weber met the runaway in the road and had his team frightened and mail wagon overturned. Mr. Ramsey was able to repair his damage at a cost of $5.

Miss Evelyn Kay has been elected to the second intermediate room at Pierce at a salary of $52.20 per month and her friends are much pleased to see her advance. (Normal Notes).

Prof. Pile reached home Saturday night from his trip to Schuyler and West Point by driving across the country from Pilger. (Normal Notes).

In anticipation of her marriage to Mr. George Arthur Darnell, of Winterset, Iowa, June 19, Miss Hattie Weber was tendered a tin shower at her home on Tuesday evening. About sixteen of her girl friends each brought various articles in tinware and a good lot of useful utensils in housekeeping were left the young lady.

The basketball team went to Tilden Saturday and played a fine game, winning by a score of 13 to 9. The College has some fine players. This is the first outside game played for three years. (Normal Notes).

Lawrence Brown informs us that he has shelled over thirteen hundred thousand bushels of corn in the past six months, besides putting in a crop. (Pleasant Valley News).

At the last meeting of the city council the official dignity of street commissioner and special poll tax collector was conferred upon Fred Benschopf. Special directions passed with the appointment that special effort should be made to gather in such assessments from the college students who voted at the recent spring election. Fred started in with confidence and it's very evident that his experiences have been varied and lively, and that his enthusiasm has been dampened by one or two of the receptions tendered him by the boys on College Hill. Fred is in doubt, whether to don water proof garments, or just put on a bathing suit, the next time he rounds the student voters up.

John Kay has purchased a half interest in the Karo meat market, and hereafter the business will be conducted under the name of Karo & Kay.

The telephone company has given notice that due to increased costs the price of business phones is being raised to $2 per month.

Eighth grade graduates from public schools are Mable McIntosh, Harvey Neely, Levi Giese, Lavina Giese, Margaret Anderson, Della Abbott, Warner Soderberg, Harry Rubeck, Walter Bressler, George Madsen, Alice Rubeck, Oliver Knecht, Edna Tangeman, Neal Weatherholt, Knecht McEachen, James McEachen, Louisa Wendt, Catherine Van Norman, Blanche Milliken, Nora Johnson, Alvina Sals, Carrie Bell Gamble, Bertha Hofeldt, Irma James, Anna Homer, Clarence Woods, Mary Fox, Wayne Evans, Frank Reible, Ruth Beale, George Roe, Willie Rees, John Nairn, Francis Bartels, Mattie McMillan, Edith Prince, Ethel Prince, Minnie Rellman, Grace Darnell, LaRoy Overman, Emma Mumm, Val Ecker, Hazel Davis, Clara Hoyer, Louis Hoyer, Jostie Jensen, Bertha Schrupf, James Anderson, Ella Schneider, Tomie Chapin, A. The stockmen of Carroll and vicinity have organized for a fall stock show in connection with that city's annual carnival, and are going to build a big pavilion for the purpose. $1025.00 in shares were sold at a preliminary meeting held Monday afternoon.

The Old Kentucky Home company appeared at the opera house Saturday and were well received by a big crowd. It proved a good show and gave general satisfaction. The company supports an excellent band and orchestra, Saturday afternoon the band gave a concert on the street much to the entertainment of a good crowd of country people.

About sixteen Wayne people disregarded the rain and threatening elements of Thursday evening and were conveyed in a carryall to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owens for cards and entertainment. Ladies' prize was a china rose jar and men's prize a little match holder.

Stranger in Carroll Uses 'Right' Number

It was 3 a.m. one dark morning last week. It was raining. A stranger passing through Carroll needed gasoline and there was no station open, no business place open and he did not have enough gas left to drive around town and find a light in a home.

What would you do in such a circumstance? Knock on the first door? Wait until someone showed up? Try to guess who ran a filling station and call them?

The stranger did none of these. He called the fire department number 585-4444. In an instant, almost every fire phone in the homes of volunteer fire fighters was answered.

One of the firemen told the firemen where to go—well, he told him where to go after he called the number after a service station operator—and then everyone except the stranger and the service station man went back to bed.
