NATIVE GRASS PLOTS are located in several areas in Nebraska as part of the centennial observance. This one is located near the Northeast Station, Concord.

Centennial Grass Plots Many Locations

Centennial grass plots have sprung up all over Nebraska. Among the best marked is one near the Northeast Station, Concord, sponsored by the station, the soil and water conservation district and the Dixon County Centennial Society.

A large sign identifies the plot made up of native Nebraska grasses. Species of grasses pioneer residents depended upon when settling the plains are concerned.

Many people do not realize that the grasses the pioneers found were used for livestock grazing, fuel for cooking and heating, construction of sod houses and many other ways, including bedding.

Howard Gillaspie, Dixon County agriculture agent, said the grasses all contributed greatly to the development of Nebraska. He Winside has a small native grass plot. Cedar County has one at Hartington and Dixon County has one at the ASCSU office in Ponca in addition to the one at Concord.

Dorcey's Letter

Tom Dorcey is well-settled near Assumption, Uruguay. He is getting better acquainted with the people and the conditions of his country. He sat down, wrote a letter carefully following rules of Peace Corps, hoping it would be published in the Herald.

The letter was fastened securely to a clipboard because it was considered one of the prime features of this issue of the paper.

Thursday it was on the clipboard. Thursday afternoon it was not. No one has been able to find it.

Word is being sent to Thomas that he should write another letter. It will then be glued to the wall or fastened securely somewhere else so nothing can happen to it.

Some of the information he wrote can be recalled, but rather than misquote him, the entire bit is being omitted. The last word he wrote to gladden the heart of both the post office department and The Herald is that these newspapers are coming through regularly now. His father, Felix Dorcey, Wayne, reports his son reads virtually every word in each issue, it being one of his main contacts with the old home town.

Guests from Other States

Dixon, Thurston and Wayne counties will be among the Nebraska counties hosting visitors from 43 states and Puerto Rico this summer. The National Agricultural Youth Institute has completed arrangements.

Under the plan, young people come to Lincoln where they meet their "hosts" and spend a few days. They then go to the home of the hosts to spend a few more days.

Dennis Eckberg, Wayne, will host the visitor to Wayne County. His guest will be Clarence Haynes, Middletown Springs, Va.

Emerson will have two guests. Donny Jasper, Nicholasville, Ky., will stay with Warren Habcock, Emerson, as a Thurston County guest. Bud Kunkel, Dexter, N. M., will be a guest of Jeff Mackling, Emerson, as a Dixon County guest.

Outstanding young men from all over the nation are to get acquainted with Nebraska in the program.

Dies in Colorado

W. E. James, 89, Peetz, Colo., died in a Sterling, Colo. hospital July 16. He was a former resident of Wayne County, moving to Peetz around 52 years ago. His wife, the former Blanche Young, Wayne, preceded him in death. They had many relatives and friends in this county.

His appearance at 8 p.m. in Wayne State's Ramsey Theater's open to the public, no admission charge. Harley produces what he

It was "only" $100, but worth an effort. No one claimed it Thursday night so the Silver Dollar prize jumps to $150 this coming Thursday.

Wynn Carter, Emerson, would have been $100 richer had he been in Wayne Thursday night for the drawing. Since he was not, he will get $10, which is a 10 per cent consolation prize.

The Chamber of Commerce is anxious to get more newcomers and area residents signed up for the drawing. No one would be too disappointed if there were a winner each week.

If you have not registered, you can, provided you are 18 or over. Those who have just turned that age should register at once. Those from outside the area, who are finding it more and more convenient to shop in Wayne Thursday nights, should give themselves a chance to win by signing up at any of the participating firms.

Mrs. Vernon Ellis, Allen, burned her leg two weeks ago while lighting briquettes. Second degree burns were incurred. Infection set in, however, and she has now been hospitalized. She has been a patient in Methodist Hospital, Sioux City, the past week.

The Spook Speaks

An Allen pre-school boy was being taken to Wakefield where his older brothers and sisters were going swimming. He was told he couldn't swim with them but he could go in the kiddie pool. When he reached Wakefield he suddenly blurted out: "I don't want to go in any cat pool."

The Wayne father had put on plenty of weight in recent months. His young son asked one day: "Daddy, what does handsome mean?" "Well, came the reply, "your father is handsome." So the youngster responded: "Now I know. Handsome means fat."

A Dixon centennial beard-grower was taken aback when his six-year-old daughter studied the growth on his chin and then remarked: "When it gets a little longer, Daddy, you can put one of my hair ribbons in it."

Old Settlers Reunion 'Great'

Chalk up another successful Old Settlers Reunion for Winside. Things could hardly have gone better for this centennial year celebration of an event that has been a tradition for 67 years.

Take the weather—and it was easy to take. A bit warm, but there was a breeze most of the time. Consider the parade. It was a big one and instead of people taking off as soon as the parade was over they just stuck around to take in so many events that they felt they didn't want to miss any of them.

The Canyon Kid had to be a favorite of the kids. He had them cheering from start to finish with old and new routines. Some of the oldtimers thought he was just as great as the kids did and he helped the parade a lot by describing the entries, thanks to a well-prepared list of everyone of the 90 entries in the grand parade and the use of three walkie-talkies to keep things moving.

Oldtimers were conspicuous. While not all could be named, four were cited for having lived in the county 81 years, Mrs. John H. Bruger, Fred Muehlmeier, Chris Hansen and Otto Ulrich. There were 17 pioneers riding in the parade. In the grand parade, Trinity Lutheran, Hoskins, won first with an old-fashioned church scene, including passing the collection plate; Trinity Lutheran, Winside, was second, with a miniature church; and Methodist, Winside, had a big cash register denoting the 2 1/2% sales tax that Nebraska has after a century without such a tax.

In clubs, Hoskins also won, the Hi Land club winning first. Coleridge won second and Winside Federated Woman's Club third. Holman Plumbing, Hoskins, won the commercial division with types of wells from past to present, all flowing water; Commercial State Bank, Hoskins, was second; and Hill's Lockers, Winside, was third. Hoskins made it a clean sweep for first places by winning the saddle club division with Carroll second and Winside third.

In the children's parade, Byron Schellenberg won first for theme, Charles and Barbie Peter second and Gary, Carman and Caroline Vrbka third; in pets, Patty Langenberg was first, Tom Kramer second and Kevin Davis third. Monte Pfeiffer won the bicycle division with Brad Jaeger second and LaNell Zoffka third. A free square dance was held on the street at night with Paul Callahan calling. For the teenagers a combo furnished music at the Winside Auditorium.

The talent show was called off because of lack of entries but Dr. Don Vrbka and Dr. N. L. Ditman gave awards to those who did enter: Patty Dangberg, vocal solo; Billy and Kathy Thomas, vocal duet; Carol Bleich, Joan Deck, Phil Witt and Dave Witt, Charleston; Theresa Stenwall, vocal solo; Carla Miller, baton, Debbie Jaeger and Phyllis Miller, baton duet and Federated Woman's Club, chorus.

Bernard Shine, Spencer, Ia., put on a magic show which was a pleaser; Eileen Damme's starlettes and twiflers entertained on the street; Canyon Kid had a special program; minor sports were called off due to lack of time; Norfolk Drum and Bugle Corps gave a precision demonstration; Haz-Been Band from Pilger played music; The Hungry Five from Wayne played also.

A listing of some of the winners, the parade entries and more information on the celebration is contained on an inside page.

Trained Bird Makes Getaway; Wants Back

It seemed such an opportune time. There were trees galore, a small flight would take her out of human reach so a trained bird owned by a magician appearing at Old Settlers Day in Winside Thursday night couldn't resist temptation. She chose freedom.

One night was enough. She was down on the ground and even strangers could walk up to her. Dale Langenberg finally walked up, picked her up and she was once again a captive.

The dove belongs to "The Great Bernardino", who comes from Lake Okoboji, Ia. He had returned, unwilling to stay for an all-night bird-chasing episode and unwilling to let Winside residents keep taking chances as they brought poles, nets, ladders and (See BIRD Page 8)

Beard Contest August Event

A beard contest is to be one of the Wayne County Fair Centennial features. Men of the county are asked to get ready to compete for county honors and the privilege of representing the county in the state competition.

Anyone interested should get in touch with members of the Wayne Jaycees unit which is sponsoring the contest. There are several different categories but only one winner can go to state.

Some of the categories include the best groomed beard, the most unique beard, the best "try," the curliest beard, the best moustache and possibly other divisions. Out of all of these one "best beard" will be chosen to represent Wayne County in a state centennial beard-growing contest.

It is not too late to start a beard. Some men have pretty healthy growths but they can only win in one category. Those with later starts may even pull into contention for best efforts, best grooming and other prizes.

The beard-growing contest is just one of the centennial events sponsored by the Jaycees. There is a possibility that a centennial promotion for women of the county may be announced soon.

Former Allen Man Loses Arm in Mishap

Jack Ellis, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ellis, Allen, was a victim of an unusual accident Thursday evening. He suffered the loss of an arm in a side-swiping mishap.

Ellis was driving on the highway near Homer in a pickup truck. He works at the Iowa Beef Packing Plant at Dakota City and lives in Homer.

His pickup and one driven by Denny Ray, Sioux City, sideswiped. The left arm of Ellis, which he had out the window, was severed just above the elbow. He was rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital for medical care.

Ray and a passenger in his car, Herbert Ross,

Sioux City, were uninjured. They were given credit for saving the life of the injured man as they applied a tourniquet to his arm to stop the bleeding until an ambulance arrived.

Ellis is a native of Allen and has lived most of his life there. He is married to the former Lorraine Malcom, Allen. They have six children.

At last report Ellis was still in serious condition in St. Vincent's Hospital. His mother, Mrs. Vernon Ellis, Allen, was a patient in Methodist Hospital in Sioux City at the same time, recuperating from burns received two weeks ago.

Summer Classes End Here the Past Week

Summer classes are over. Supt. Francis Haun reports all of the special courses being offered in Wayne schools this summer were completed the past week.

Drivers training was the first to be completed. Then followed remedial math, remedial reading and recreation, the latter three ending Friday.

Approximately 200 pupils took part in the summer program with 12 teachers in charge. Supt. Haun reports many favorable comments from pupils, teachers and parents on the benefits derived from the program.

Next step: Regular school term. This is closer than you might suspect. Classes get underway in just a little over six weeks and preparations are being made for resumption of school at elementary, middle and high schools.

Special Services Offered at Winside

Residents of District 95-R, Winside, are now eligible for services from Educational Unit 1, Supt. James Christensen reports. Guidance, testing, school nurse, audio visual aid and other areas are proposed by Harry Mills, director of Educational Service Unit 1, which covers the Winside area.

Supt. Christensen reports if patrons of the district are in need of special educational services for their children, they should contact him. He can inform them of the availability of Unit 1 facilities.

Services must be initiated through the local educational agency so parents must take the initiative in informing the administration of the Winside Schools of their needs in special

Adult Classes, Show Set

Adult classes and a water show are two of the features planned at the Wayne Municipal Swimming Pool, according to Manager Rich Brown. Wednesday evenings will be adult nights.

The adult night plans call for reserving the pool for adults. Lessons will be given to any adult desiring them.

Pam Seymour and Carol Fitzgerald are in charge of plans for a water show. It is to be presented Sunday, Aug. 6, at 9:30 p.m. at the pool.

Features will include synchronized swimming, diving, clown events and other events. Following the water show a party will be held for the swimming team and the members of the synchronized swimming group with music furnished by The Pawmen, a Wayne combo.

Swimmers in the synchronized unit are Margie Lundstrom, Monnie Fergeneau, Elaine Lundstrom, Nancy Robinson, Gloria Magnuson, Jan Zach, Sue Ehlers, Marcia Ehlers, Linda Schneider, Nancy Ehlers, Pam Swanstrom, Bev Brown, Jeanne Whorlow, Jill Netherda, Amy Echtenkamp, Tammi Fredrickson, Debbie Armstrong, Barbara Schwab, and Vickie Maciejowski. Divers will be Ron Brown, Rich Brown, Fred Netherda and Doug Maurer.

The bagpipes are a fairly recent addition to his skills—he got the idea when he heard a bagpipe band playing in the funeral procession for President Kennedy. Harley, however, has developed a new sound for the ancient Scottish instrument, the sound of jazz.

The Service Station

David Manz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Manz, Dixon, is taking part in an air force reserve officers training corps (AFROTC) field training encampment at Holloman AFB, N.M. He is one of 5,700 AFROTC cadets attending four-week encampments throughout the country. The encampments are planned to familiarize cadets with life and activities on air force bases and to examine career opportunities in which they may want to serve as officers. Survival training, aircraft and air crew indoctrination, small arms training and visits to other air force bases are on the agenda. Cadet Manz, shown with one of the planes, is a member of the University of Nebraska AFROTC unit and is a 1964 graduate of Laurel High School, where he was salutatorian of his class.

Sp-5 Randall Carlson, who had spent the past two years in the army, received his discharge at Presidio, Calif. recently. He had spent his service time in electronics work at Presidio. Carlson is a 1961 graduate of Wakefield High School. His plans for the future are indefinite. He is the son of the Vern Carlsons, Wakefield.

Midshipman James Kern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kern, Wayne, is one of 12 Annapolis midshipmen on a training cruise with the fleet in the Mediterranean. He is shown at Naples, Italy, having arrived there aboard the USS Sylvania. The midshipmen are receiving training courses of all types aboard ship, preparing them for commissioned officer service on ships. They apply classroom knowledge and gain experience in combat information center, radio central, engineering, supply and deck departments, bridge watches, quarterdeck watches, port duty and assisting regular officers. Kern is a management major at Annapolis. He played a year at varsity golf and participated in intramural basketball and rugby. He is a 1964 graduate of Wayne High and will graduate at Annapolis in 1968.

A new second lieutenant is Theodore Huettmann, 24, son of Mrs. T.H. Huettmann, Wisner. He is a recent graduate from the signal officer candidate school at Ft. Gordon, Ga. During a 23-week course he was trained in the use and maintenance of signal on communications and leadership. He also received instruction in firing light weapons and in squad tactics. Lt. Huettmann received his BS degree from South Dakota State University, Brookings, 1966, and entered the army that year. His last assignment was Ft. McClellan, Ala.

A/2c Larry Ritze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ritze, Winside, is home from Phoenix, Ariz. He will leave later this month for Phan Rang, Vietnam, where Ft. Riley is pretty much deserted now, about one-third of the space being occupied. His address is: PFC. Emil H. Nelson, US 56542094, Dept. of Army, 384th Maint Co., Ft. Riley, Kan. 66442.

Cadet James Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norris, Wisner, fired expert with the M-14 rifle during army reserve officers training corps summer camp at Ft. Lewis, Wash. The rating, highest a soldier can achieve in his weapons qualification, was earned while Cadet Norris was preparing for a reserve commission as a second lieutenant in the army. He is a student at South Dakota State University, Brookings.

The twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sherman, Dixon, have completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. and advanced infantry training at Ft. Gordon, Ga. Perry is one of the sons and Paul is the other. Both are 1966 graduates of Newcastle High School, living about halfway between Dixon and Newcastle. They are members of the Yankton National Guard unit and are now at home helping their father on their farm. They graduated from the advanced course July 7.

Sgt. Douglas Manske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Manske, Wayne, left recently for Germany after spending 30 days here. He went back just in time for three months of field maneuvers. He is a mechanized unit commander. His address is: Sgt. Douglas Manske, US 55855753, A Btry, 3rd Bn., 11th Arty, APO New York, N. Y. 09029. He flew home for his visit and then back to his base in Germany.

Judge Has Busy Week in Court

Seven cases were heard by Judge David Hamer in Wayne County Court during the past half week. Four of the cases resulted from speeding charges filed by the same state patrolman.

July 18 Donald Asmus, Hoskins, was fined $15 and court costs of $5 for speeding. State Patrolman C. Franssen signed the complaint.

The same day Roger Crane, Norfolk, paid $12 and $5 costs for speeding. Franssen again signed the complaint.

July 19 Terry Murkin, Sioux City, was assessed $20 and costs of $5 on a speeding charge filed by Officer Franssen.

Donald Sock, Norfolk, paid a fine of $10 for speeding on July 19. Court costs of $5 were added as a result of the complaint signed by Franssen.

July 20 Reginald Roth, Bancroft, was fined $100 and $5 costs for being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages. City Policeman Ron Penlerick filed the charge.

Dennis Stradley, Wayne, paid $10 plus $5 court fees on July 20 for improper passing. Patrolman C. L. Howell signed the complaint.

July 20 Louis Mortensen, Royal, Ia., paid $10 and $5 costs for making an illegal turn. Wayne Policeman John Redel filed charges.

NEBRASKA'S MOST WIDELY traveled oxen, Neb and Rasko, will be in Wayne Aug. 11 as part of the Centennial Day parade. The bovine ambassadors will be pulling a replica of the Conestoga wagon, a large boat-like vehicle that carried many settlers west through Nebraska 100 years ago.

Dixon County Group Covers Many Topics

Dixon County Historical Society met Wednesday night at the Dixon Community Hall. A variety of subjects was covered during the course of the evening.

Mrs. Sterling Borg discussed the "hundred-year-in-Nebraska" families. An effort is being made to locate as many families as possible who can trace their lineage back 100 years in this state without a break.

Mrs. Ron Ankeny told of the organization of the Methodist Church in Dixon. She gave many sidelights on the problems involved in getting a new church started in a comparatively new area.

Mrs. Miile of Newcastle gave a resume of the Mormon Trail up the Niobrara River. Several other topics of information came up. Many of those attending from Allen, Ponca, Dixon, and Newcastle were present.

Begins Fiftieth Year at College

Forty-nine years with his one and only employer—that is the unusual record of Fred Denkinger, who this month began his fiftieth year with Wayne State College.

Not only has the college been his only employer, Wayne has been Denkinger's only residence for all his 64 years. In fact, he lived his early years right on the campus, in a house then located near the present power plant where Denkinger now makes his headquarters as superintendent of buildings. Even now he lives across the street from the campus, at 1209 Walnut.

His father George also worked for the college. "I don't know when he started," Fred says, "but it was before the state bought President Pile's college (the Nebraska Normal College) in 1909. I guess he came with the property."

Fred started his Wayne State employment in 1918, but found time to be a student too and earned a two-year diploma in 1924. In his 49 years with WSC he has done all sorts of jobs—"just about everything except teach," he recalls.

"We didn't have much of a maintenance staff in those days, but then, there wasn't much campus either."

Denkinger remembers the construction of all the present buildings except the oldest still

Concord Having No More Water Problem

Concord has had about all of the water troubles it wants. Two major leaks have developed in recent weeks in the water tower and it is hoped both have been solved.

The town board has had a "baltic bleeder" installed in the tower. This takes the static electricity out of the water and prevents rusting inside the tank as well as prolonging the life of the tank.

Of course there are some disadvantages. At present the water in Concord has a painty taste. The town board plans to eliminate this by draining the tank and refilling it.

When this happens, everyone should drink happily ever after.

Popular WS Cage Coach to Go to University of Alaska

Al Svenningson, basketball coach at Wayne State College since 1959, has resigned to become head basketball coach at the University of Alaska.

Wayne President W. A. Brandenburg announced the resignation Friday, expressing regret.

Svenningson, a graduate of Winona (Minn.) State College, has compiled a strong winning record in eight seasons as head mentor at Wayne. His teams won 121 games, lost 73, and shared championship of the Nebraska College Conference twice, in 1961 and 1963.

Besides his basketball duties, Svenningson coached golf and taught health and physical education. He earned a master's degree at Colorado State College. At Winona State Svenningson led conference basketball scoring for three years and was an NAIA All-American honorable mention.

Want Safety Entries

The Cornhusker Motor Club is seeking entries from grade school girls. Photographs of girls from kindergarten through sixth grade are wanted to be used on safety posters and to be reproduced in newspapers throughout the state. An oil portrait of the winners should be sent to Cornhusker Motor Club, 611 Capitol Ave., Omaha, along with photo or snapshot, name, age, address, school, grade and signature of parent or sponsor. Entries are due by Aug. 15.

The local youth heard reports from specialists that 75 per cent of the grafting had "taken." This means the extra skin areas of skin taken from his stomach and grafted to his arm will take the place of the bothersome scar tissue that has hampered him since he was struck by lightning three years ago.

According to his parents, the articles appearing about it in the Wayne Herald and in the Omaha World Herald resulted in a virtual avalanche of mail. Some even came from those who had lost members of the family who had been struck by lightning. It is impossible for the youth to answer the mail. He is limited in his activities, has his arm in a sling and will have to go easy on his moving about for awhile.

Ahead of him lies a brighter future. After three years of nursing along the scar tissues, being limited in the use of the arm and suffering other inconveniences, he is offered encouragement for a more normal life when grafting work is complete, and as specialists told him, the worst part of the surgery was taken care of first.

Rosemary Mintz placed a call to Bernardo at Okoboji, seeking to learn the type of feed, the type of attention and the facilities to be offered until the dove could be returned home. ### Flower Boxes Help To Beautify Dixon

That "blomin'" town of Dixon is blooming with flowers. Five boxes have been placed along the main business block.

Various types of flowers have been planted so there will be color throughout the year. Scouts, 4-H clubs and business places have joined in sponsoring the project.

Lowell Saunders, Dixon postmaster, has been a one-man gang for flower beautification on Main Street. He has flowers growing in front and around the post office. The pleasure of the company of more flower boxes, and more flower is welcomed.

Gary Munson Returns After Skin Grafting

Gary Munson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Munson, Wayne, is back home. He has undergone the first phase of skin grafting to replace scar tissue on his arm.

The local youth heard reports from specialists that 75 per cent of the grafting had "taken." This means the extra skin areas of skin taken from his stomach and grafted to his arm will take the place of the bothersome scar tissue that has hampered him since he was struck by lightning three years ago.

The mystery play was originally scheduled this month. Due to the illness of one having a lead role, it was decided to move the production date back.

Advance sale of tickets has been going on. These tickets will be honored at the September presentation. However, anyone wishing to have their money refunded may do so by contacting those from whom purchases were made.

H.M. & Public Productions are planning the mystery. All of the proceeds will be devoted to local charities.

Police Impound Bikes, BB Guns During Week

In addition to making the regular street patrol, the department also notified one Wayne merchant that the door to his business place was unlocked.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Just One Week of Safety

July 23-29 is National Farm Safety Week. Let them have it, Wayne County and the adjoining counties should resolve right now to observe a Farm Safety Year.

Since when is it necessary to concentrate one week on thinking and acting safely on a farm? Just try to name a month when there isn't some type of rural mishap resulting in injury or death.

Of course it's nice to be reminded, but safety is a year-around job. We don't go out on the highways with the idea of "Let's be safe this trip." Likewise each day on a farm should be started out with the idea of being safe that day.

Okay, so National Farm Safety Week is July 23-29. Let's resolve July 23 that nothing is going to go wrong. We're going to be careful. July 24 let's resolve that July 25 we're going to get up, look back at July 24 and be satisfied that we were careful and nothing went wrong.

Let's resolve to be careful July 25, July 26, July 27, July 28, July 29. Then safety week will be over. But let's not let it stop there. Let's resolve that July 30 to Aug. 5 is going to be as safe as July 23-29. With July over, let's make August as safe as July, September as safe as August, and so on. Let's make all the rest of 1967 safe. Then let's concentrate on 1968, not as a year but a day at a time. With the first day over, concentrate on the first week. Then the second. A month can go by, and we can concentrate on the next weeks and months.

You farmers are too darned valuable to have you laid up. We have no desire to lose all or part of you. Your family needs you whole. We need the whole lot of you.

National Farm Safety Week is a start. Don't let it be a finish. Resolve each day that the next day you're going to look back with satisfaction on another day with a job well done and a safe record.

Wayne County farmers and those in nearby counties are worth too much to put a price tag on. How many dollars would you put on a life, an arm, a leg, a hand or an eye? You can't put a value on them as they are near priceless—ask the family that has to face the loss of a helper for one reason or another.

National Farm Safety Week starts right now. Let's have 100 per cent of you in 100 per cent capacity around to start the observance of another such year in July of 1968.—CEG.

The Boys in Uniform

We have always reserved a little respect for the boys in uniform in peacetime and in wartime. Uniformly we have never had greater respect for them than we do right now.

What would you call the situation now, "semi-war"? Actually we are at war. We have been at war with communism for generations. Admit it or not, we'll be at war until communism or capitalism is dominant. Some claim we can live side by side but the aim of communism is to "defeat" the entire world—anything less is "defeat" as far as communists are concerned. They say so themselves.

But getting down to points, we're engaged in what is called the "most unpopular" war in this nation's history. Frankly, we can't think of any popular wars in our time.

We respect the boys from Wayne County and this area who don the uniforms of their nation. They could easily stay home and even make good money. They could be safe. They could let someone else do the job.

But they go proudly, not with a sense of being heroes but with a sense of doing a job that has to be done. As can be seen when they return, they have a new insight into why they served. They have a new respect for what our nation is trying to do.

Wayne County has set up a SWAY (Servicemen We Appreciate You) organization to let these men know that we at home think they're something special. It's small in amount but it gives them an idea of the respect and admiration we hold for them.

There are good men at home not serving. This is not to belittle them. However, an extra measure of devotion and heart-felt longing goes out to those who have not hesitated to leave everything near and dear to cast their lots with an unknown factor.

They have the greatest nation on earth. Thank God we have the greatest men on earth willing to serve. Men such as these have kept our nation free from Valley Forge through Gettysburg, Iwo Jima, Korea and now Vietnam. As long as men are willing to make the sacrifice to serve, there is still hope that their children and grandchildren will have a nation of freedom and justice for all, dissenters, protesters, as well as patriots, for generations to come.

Servicemen we appreciate you. God keep you safe wherever you may be.—CEG.

We Don't Want It in the Paper

What can an editor do when the only source of information on a news story refuses to give the facts? The editor could go ahead and put in what he overheard from reliable sources, but then he takes a chance on being wrong.

Here is an example: A farmer in this county lost two dozen cattle. It could have happened to anyone. Circumstances were unusual. This may happen again to others. He refused to give the facts. We imagine the story made the rounds, changing in details as it went. If it wound up correct it was purely coincidental. If we had been able to get the facts, some other farmer might have been spared a similar fate in months to come.

Another example: A new business comes to town. We're denied information. By the time the story is ready for release it has made the rounds, sometimes wrong, sometimes partly right. We could have gotten facts correctly, dispelled rumors and started things off on the right foot.

There are other examples. You probably know of some. You no doubt have sat around telling your version of a story, listening to a second version of the same story and finally hearing two or three more versions. Chances are none of them are entirely right and possibly all of them are entirely wrong.

Trust your paper to get the news right. It's our job. We go to the sources. We try to get exact information so there will be no doubt. We aim to be accurate. Being human, we will make mistakes but we'll be right more often than the gossip-mongers will.

Learn to trust your newspaper to give you the news. Learn to trust your paper to handle your news. Learn to depend on the one local source that deals in accuracy. You'll be helping us; you'll be helping your friends; and more important, you'll be helping yourself.—CEG.

THINK AND ACT SAFELY

Letters to the Editor

Hayden was commissioned to conduct the survey. Nebraskans eagerly awaited the outcome of this work, but were sorely disappointed when it appeared. Hayden suggested that the pioneers would be well advised to spend their time planting trees instead of prospecting for nonexistent coal. Nebraskans of that day did not accept this evaluation and continued their search for the elusive fuel. In 1870, Hayden was again asked by Congress to conduct a geological survey. In his second report, he acknowledged the existence of a few thin veins of coal but insisted Nebraska had no coal of commercial value. The State Journal denounced his as either ignorant or malicious.

By the late 1870's, the search began to wear down the patience of even the most ardent "boomer." One state legislator facetiously introduced a bill to limit the number of counties allowed to discover "coal of superior quality" during a year. Commenting upon a supposed strike near Nebraska City, the State Journal commented that this was the "8,649th coal mine" found in Otoe County in the previous 20 years and that coal "will soon be cheap down there if they discover many more mines."

In their long search, the coal seekers did find a few thin veins but only one mine proved out, Honey Creek mine near Peru, opened in 1906, produced 200,000 tons of medium grade bituminous coal before the vein ran out.

Dear Editor:

Received the SWAY letter and check and was very surprised to see that I had finally won something in my life. To some people $10.00 doesn't seem like much, but to me it represents three days pay.

As of now, I have one week of AMFV "A" school left, which gives a basic run down on things which will help later on while in the Navy, then will go to AMH school which is on the hydraulic system of the school. After this school I will probably come home for two weeks before going to my next duty station—This will probably be in about nine weeks.

In ending this I would like to thank everybody associated with SWAY for thinking of us that are away from home in the service.

Dennis Morris

I was going to say something about regretting that I have but one life to give to my country but it didn't sound catchy enough to become very popular. (Dennis Morris, AA B609872, Company C, 5-32, Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn. 38115.)

4-H Club News

Modern Misses
Modern Misses 4-H Club met July 11 with Jean, Connie and Cindy Thomas. Roll call was to name a fruit used in baking. Plans were made for a booth. The girls practiced for the song contest and practiced modeling. Pat Dangberg, reporter.

90s are being contracted at 31 cents on a 90-day delivery. This is a better offer for this season of the year than has prevailed for some time.

The beautiful new building opposite the First National Bank, is now the home of the big general merchandise store of the Orr & Morris Company. This popular business firm moved their stock of goods from the Ahern building the first of the week and are now comfortably settled in their new quarters. The store room was fitted up for their especial use, and the location is one of the handiest in the city. It is well lighted and airy, and provided with all the elements of convenience. The frontage on Second street opens directly into the grocery department which makes the handling of the farmer's produce an easy matter.

"Harvest" is by no means the jubilee now that it was 25 or 30 years ago," ruminates Ross Hammond, and it brings to mind a familiar picture of bygone days. In those of the self rake there were so many men required that it gave the work an air of the picnic. Now the farmer hitches four horses to his binder and sweeps through his field with an 8-foot swath, depositing the machine-made bundles in a windrow where two men put them in shocks. In days past, the old McCormick, with its long arm, surmounted with a rake that revolved in a mighty circle like a gigantic octopus grabbing for its victims, deposited the unbundled bundles in the stubble behind it, five men following it to bind the sheaves. The bands were made of a wisp of wheat picked from the bundle. The wisp was seized by the left hand near the heads, then the right hand parted it in the middle and with the forefinger extended a twist of the wrist gave a half hitch to the band so the heads were tied together and the band made double the length of the straw, was put about the sheaf, drawn tightly the two butt-ends brought together and a tuck with the thumb completed the bundle. Each man had a "station" that is the circuit of the field was divided into five segments. The owner usually did the driving and as he paid the men $2.50 a day he gave them a merry chase. The men had an inducement to work lively for if they finished their stations before the reaper came around they were permitted to sit down and breathe and mop their brows with their bandanas. It was extremely hard work and severe on the hands. The complement of men also consisted of a boy. He was the water carrier. Mounted on the old mare or a pony he tacked water in a jug to the men. In those days there were required eight men and a boy for a full gang. That made harvest time a period of sociability, albeit of hard work. Now the gang is reduced to three men, to say nothing of the boy. The old harvest jubilee is gone forever, and there are those who give a sigh of regret for the vanished hands and a sound of the voices that are still.

That the farmer's tributary to Wayne are taking advantage of Chautauqua attractions was evident last evening by the great number of teams that lined the side streets where the hitching posts are located as well as by the way the lively barns were taxed. With these delightful, moonlight nights there is no reason why all the country people should not enjoy the rich lot of entertainment being provided at the high school grounds.

The Bensen-Faucett company, the company incorporated to control the mail sack clasp lock invented by Postmaster Bensen of Hoskins and M. M. Faucett of Norfolk, has made arrangements to have their lock brot before the attention of the government. If the postmaster general approved the lock, it will be riveted to millions of government mail sacks over the land and the inventors will stand to become wealthy.

John Kayl, who has been second man for Edward & Bradford here the past three months, quit his job Saturday because he thought he wasn't getting wages enough. The average wage earner in these parts does a 25ct piece of work and expects a dollar pay. (Hoskins Headlight).

J. E. Kenney has hauled the sand and brick and is going to have a seven room house built on his farm east of town. (Sholes Items).

The store building south of the post office is being fitted up as a place of business for Oscar McKay, who will move from his present quarters as soon as their new room is put in order. Mr. Peterson has arranged for a plate glass front in the store and a steel ceiling will also be put in. Mr. McKay has worked up a good trade in fancy and staple groceries and with this he has handled summer refreshments of all kinds. His new location is centrally located and is generally recognized as one of the best in town. (Carroll News).

Several Mishaps Occur in Wayne

Two minor accidents were investigated by the Wayne Police Department during the past half week. Neither of the accidents resulted in injury.

The first accident occurred Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. when a parked car belonging to Wayne Greunke, Wayne Rt. 1, was backed into by a car driven by Robert Dalton. According to Investigating Officer Keith Reed, the Greunke auto received $1,92 worth of damages, and the Dalton car was damaged less. Thursday at 2:15 p.m. a collision between a parked car owned by Harold Forbes, Wayne and a car driven by Vicki Hilton, Wayne, resulted when Miss Hilton dropped her glasses and lost control of her auto when she reached for them. There were no damage estimates according to Melvin La mb, investigating officer.

Out of Old Nebraska

The Search for Coal in Nebraska
The June, 1966, issue of Nebraska History, published by the Nebraska State Historical Society, contains an interesting article by Robert N. Manley entitled "Wealth beneath the Prairie: The Search for Coal in Nebraska."

1885, it was reported that coal could be "picked up by the bucketfuls" near Florence. By 1870, coal "in paying quantities" had been reported in eight southeastern counties. As of 1872, mining operations were being or had been conducted near Plattsmouth, Pawnee City, Brownville, Aspinwall, and Otoe City, all in the southeastern part of Nebraska. In late 1872, Seward County promoters were planning a city to be named Pittsburgh, Nebraska, at the site of their "strike."

Storage Can Help You Do It!

Don't let hot, dry weather cut you completely out of your corn crop profits! An investment in Butler sealed storage can save the day!

If you normally expect a yield of 100 bushels per acre—and dry weather cuts this yield in half—your 50-bushel crop, cut as silage and stored in a Butler Stor-N-Feed unit, will produce as many pounds of beef or pounds of milk as your 100-bushel yield, when harvested as grain. It also will pay you to investigate late forage crops such as sudan hybrids. Put up as low moisture silage, the nutrient yield per acre is very attractive.

See us today for details on a proven Butler Stor-N-Feed system... big capacities, fast discharge rate, mechanically reliable—and priced thousands of dollars less than some systems. Low-cost "Pay-As-You-Grow" financing readily available!
