

Deposits Up $2.6 Million

Bank Deposits are up again. Compared with a year ago, they are $2,650,000 higher. However, they are down slightly from the high reached three months ago.

A resume of the reports of the three banks in the county showed $16,994,000 in deposits in July of 1966. In July of 1967 the deposits are $19,649,000.

Loans are also up. In 1967 the total was $12,560,000. Reports issued for this year showed them to be $13,324,000.

Deposits last May came to $20,071,000 with loans $13,595,000. This means a slight drop in both over the three-month period as farmers make purchases, people go on vacations and other factors enter the picture.

Following are the 1966 and 1967 deposit figures for July: Commercial State; Hoskins, $2,402,000 and $2,535,000; State National; Wayne, $7,895,000 and $8,704,000; Winside State $2,015,000 and $2,250,000; First National, Wayne, $4,039,000 and $5,280,000; and Farmers State, Carroll, $648,000 to $880,000.

In the period from May to July only two banks increased deposits. First National, Wayne, rose from $5,198,000 to $5,280,000 and Farmers State, Carroll, from $825,000 to $880,000.

Mrs. Jaycees Plan Parade

Mrs. Wayne Jaycees are to be in charge of the kiddies parade for this year's county fair. As with most everything else, anything with a centennial theme will be looked upon with favor.

This will be the first year the Mrs. Jaycees have sponsored the kiddies parade and they are anxious to make it a success. To insure that success, they are asking that all groups, clubs and individuals planning to enter register prior to Tuesday, Aug. 8 with Mrs. Marvin Young or Mrs. Dick Hammer.

The parade route is comparatively short for the youngsters. It will start at the former Sinclair station and parents may pick up their children at Carhart's Lumber. It is preferred that parents not march in the parade with the youngsters.

There will be three prize divisions with three prizes in each. One division will be for costumes, one for pets and the third for bikes.

The main point, parade chairmen point out, is that registration be made in advance. Without this they will have such a conglomeration of kids, vehicles and pets at 9 a.m. Aug. 11 they will not be able to get the parade started off in an orderly manner at 9:30.

Seed, Sod, Set

Seeding and sodding are planned for the campus of the new Wayne High School. Supt. Francis Haun reports bids will be taken Monday, Aug. 7. Some of the high slopes north of the school and some areas east toward Sherman Street will get sod. The rest will be seeded to grass.

Winside Summer School Courses Over

Supt. James Christensen reports the summer courses at Winside ended Friday. Included were math, reading, physical education and swimming.

There were 12 in the reading and math program with Mrs. Maryann Langemeier teaching math and Mrs. Judy Picard reading. Pupils were Debra Jeffrey, Mary Jane Swenson, Phyllis Hoeman, Terry Swenson, Don Paulson, Roger Anderson, Barbara Rehms, Linda Wagner, Patti Quinn, Larry Wagner, Keith Wills and Brad Brockman.

The physical education program Tuesday and Thursdays conducted by Pete Kropp drew from two to 20. Kropp expressed regret that more youngsters did not participate.

In the swimming program, 78 took part at the Pilger pool. Mrs. John Picard was in charge for beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate and swimmer classes. Aids were Carol Bleich, Donna Krueger and Diana Weible. Of the swimming pupils, 48 completed requirements for courses. Failures could be attributed to absenteeism. There are three degrees of achievement for each class (excellent, good and passing) so it is possible for swimmers with varied abilities to receive the same certificates.

Red Cross swimmer certificates went to Jerry Wacker, Debbie Bargstadt, Gene Weible, Larry Weible, Bob Kropp, Mona Langenberg, Barbara Jackson and Tom Kropp. Intermediate certificates from the Red Cross went to LaRue Langenberg, Ken Christensen, Debby Marshall, Roger Anderson, and Janis Swenson.

Those getting beginner status awards were Mark and Will Parker, Kevin Johnson, Danny Marshall, Valerie Waller, Lou Ann Bohm, Peggy Theis, Brad Brockman, Sally Theis, Barbara Ritze, Roger Larson, Keith Wills, Debi Jeffrey, Denise Waller, Tricia Quinn, Phyllis Hoeman, Carla Carter and David Behmer.

Pupils will receive achievement certificates later.

Go to National Meet

Several Wayne County home extension club members plan to attend the national extension council meeting at Brookings, S.D., July 31-Aug. 4. Members who will attend the full four days are Myrtle Anderson, Concord; Mrs. James Robinson; Mrs. Fred Brumels; Mrs. Erwin Ulrich; Mrs. Clarence Schroeder and Mrs. Adolph Bruggeman, all of Hoskins. Those attending Aug. 2 for the one-day session will be Mrs. Rudy Longe, Mrs. Gus Long and Mrs. Walter Ote, all of Wakefield.

Will Discuss Housing Plans

Wayne Housing Authority will meet Tuesday, Aug. 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Birch Room of the WSC Student Center. Around 25 or 30 organizations have been asked to send representatives.

The housing authority is working on the problem of low-rent housing for Wayne. Civic groups and other organizations have been asked to send representatives to meet with an architect who will have plans to offer.

An experienced man in the field, the architect has designed over a dozen other housing projects for Nebraska and Iowa towns. He will explain basically what the housing authority is being created for.

Questions will be answered, the operation of such housing units will be explained, how such projects are paid for without any local tax money involved will be pointed out and how it is determined who is eligible for occupancy will be discussed.

Later it will be determined how many such units would be needed in Wayne to serve Wayne County. Voters would then be asked to approve or disapprove going ahead with a housing project for the elderly here.

Third Child Dies

Sara Lynn Hill, daughter of the Gordon Hills, Omaha, died the past week. She was the third daughter of the Hills to die from an unknown disease. Burial was in Pleasant View Cemetery, Winside. Tests were conducted to find out what the disease is and what the cause is. The Hills have lost three of their four children, having a daughter, Janet left. Grandparents of the deceased include Mr. and Mrs. Otto Grace of Winside, parents of Mrs. Hill.

Wakefield Man Has Name Drawn

No winner in the Silver Dollar Night drawing Thursday. Forrest Jose, Wakefield, had his name drawn but he was not present to claim a check for $50 from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Because there was no winner, the prize sum jumps another $50. This Thursday, some lucky person could take home a $200 check from the C. of C. just for being in the right business place at 8 p.m.

The "right" business place is any of those taking part in the Silver Dollar Night drawing. Not all Wayne business places participate but there are many in town and just outside town that do contribute regularly to make the promotion possible.

If you are 18, you can register at one of the participating firms.

Some Rains in Area

While most of the area is hoping for rain, most of it is not getting it. One Hoskins couple reported the first of the week they had received .60 inches of rain Tuesday. The rains have been more general to the south and in some parts of the state they have added up to several inches.

Many Help Out Former Allenite

Jack Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ellis, Allen, finds he has many friends. He lost his left arm in a sideswipe accident last week and is still in St. Vincent's Hospital, Sioux City, but is out of the intensive care ward.

Ellis, who is employed at a packing plant, had just been promoted to foreman. He has been informed that the loss of the arm will not affect his status and he will still move up to the new post.

Officials of the firm where he worked checked to see how he was coming on a new house he was building at Homer. They found out what type of work was needed and experts in those fields went out to finish the work. As a result, the house will be ready before he is home.

Then there are the friends in the community of Allen where he grew up. They have gone to help. People from Wakefield, Dakota City, Homer, Sioux City and other places have turned up to help him and his family in every way possible.

He has been told it may be possible for him to get an artificial arm. And, in spite of what he has gone through just when things were looking so bright with a promotion and new home, he has remained in the best of spirits and doctors commented more than once on how helpful his attitude has been in his recovery.

His mother is still a patient in Methodist Hospital but is able to get short release periods to go to St. Vincent's to see him. She is still recovering from burns suffered several weeks ago.

Painting Door Prize at Art Exhibit

Wayne State College art students are planning an art exhibit aimed at everyone not just those interested in art for arts sake, or even for purchasing. An original work of art will be given as a door prize opening night Thursday, Aug. 3.

The exhibit will be open from 7-9 p.m. and everyone is invited. The entire exhibit will be left up in the upstairs section of the student center on the campus through Sept. 3.

Faculty members in the art department and the students themselves picked out the picture to be given as a door prize. They have not shown it but have placed a healthy figure on its worth.

The exhibit is being held to give the public a chance to look, comment and buy. Free punch and cookies will be served opening night just to help everyone have a good time looking around. People of all areas are asked to come in to visit, explore the exhibit and enjoy themselves.

Emphasis is will be on sculpture. There will also be a Polaroid box that should attract a lot of attention. Although there is no color in it, by peering in one can see colors and shapes.

Instructors Richard Lesh, Gary Woodward and Carlos Frey are faculty members helping. The summer art class members are actually putting up the paintings and sculptures. Many of the drawings, sketches and other exhibits will be for sale.

Bull Calf, Car Both Suffer in Accident

A bull calf lost its life and a car was heavily damaged Wednesday night on Highway 31 3.2 miles south of Weetown. Driver of the car was Sam Olson, Carroll.

Trooper Terry Rogers of the Nebraska State Patrol, who investigated the mishap, said the Black Angus calf wandered onto the highway. It could not be seen until it was too late for Olson to stop.

The resulting impact killed the calf, valued at $200, and owned by Darrel Placer, Pierce. Estimates placed damage to the Olson car at $800.

First Harvest Report Good

The first harvest report for the Wayne County area is good. However, this covers the small grains and the main crops of corn, sorghum, beans and alfalfa are still to be heard from.

Farmers are getting their combining of oats done. Elevators report the quality of the grain is good and the yield is good, although no one would admit to hearing of any exceptionally high yields.

The good ground is doing well in producing oats. Poor ground, where farmers have neglected to use fertilizer needed, production of oats has not come up to standard.

Dry weather is a big factor for the other crops. Believe it or not, the wet June is not helping now and the corn and beans show signs of lack of moisture.

Rootworms are showing up in corn and unless there is rain they will be more of a threat to the corn.

Alfalfa has been good. There has been only one cutting instead of the usual two by this time but June's moisture eliminated one of these. Unless the area gets rain, grainmen report the "third cutting" will be short.

As for grain sorghum, it needs moisture. Pastures too are getting dry. The fickle weather has played a dirty trick. Some of that over-abundant rain the area had in June would be most welcome now.

Norfolk, flooded earlier this year, is now asking residents to cut down on the use of water because there is danger of a shortage. That's the type of odd-ball year it has been weatherwise in Northeast Nebraska.

Wayne Among Cities Bidding for School

Wayne is among the five cities that have submitted bids for having the new Northeast Nebraska Vocational-Technical School, it was revealed at a meeting in Norfolk Thursday night. Many other towns are expected to submit bids.

Wakefield, Emerson, Plainview, Wayne and Norfolk are the first five towns to submit formal bids. Dennis Poeschel, Stanton, secretary of the board, has been instructed to accept bids from all other towns in the districts where there is interest.

Steve Finn, Neligh, heads a new committee of the board. The committee will set the policies of the board for future action. Next meeting will be Saturday, Aug. 12, in Norfolk.

State to Build Near Wayne

The highway department of the State of Nebraska has plans all but ready for a new L-shaped building east of Wayne. It would be more than twice as big as the present highway department structure.

The present facilities are about 10 years old and cannot handle all of the equipment. The new building will take care of most of the rest of the equipment, provide office and kitchen space and give other needed facilities.

Plans call for construction to start soon on a building with one portion 38 feet by 67 feet paralleling Highway 35. Bids should be taken Aug. 4. A "wing" would be extended to the north and this wing would be even bigger, 422 by 129 feet. Brick and block construction would be used.

Maintenance shops, offices, engineering rooms and other facilities would be included. All of the present maintenance crew and engineering staff would have ample space. At present there are over two dozen men involved in various phases of state highway work out of the Wayne office.

Dale Poehlman is in charge of the highway construction engineers here. Harold Schwartzbach is in charge of the highway maintenance staff.

'Fifty Year Medals' Many Years Apart

W. R. Ellis received his 50-year pin as a Mason in 1947. Thirty years later he witnessed the award of the 50-year Masonic pin to his son, Leslie Ellis and to Russell Larson.

Larson and Ellis received their pins at the Wayne AF & AM Lodge July 18. K. N. Parke made the presentations in behalf of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska.

Two oldtimers present were A. F. Gullivar and W. R. Ellis. Gullivar was superintendent of schools at Bloomfield years ago when both Larson and L. Ellis attended school. W. R. Ellis is 97.

Larson joined the Masonic Lodge at Randolph April 4, 1917. By some coincidence, L. Ellis joined the same day, but he joined the Wayne Lodge. Larson transferred here in 1922.

W. R. Ellis holds the local lodge's Jordan medal, designating the oldest member of the lodge. At 97, he is also one of the oldest Masons in Nebraska. Gene Fletcher is master of the lodge this year.

Class Members Meet for Reunion

Wayne High School class of 1957 held a reunion July 1 at the Wagon Wheel, Laurel. A family gathering was held July 2 at Wayne Country Club. Committee in charge included Stanley Baier, Kenneth Dahl, Mrs. Jack March, Mrs. LaVonne Anderson, Mrs. Nila Brummond and Mrs. Judy Echtenkamp. Recognitions given at the banquet included Mrs. Arthur Barker and Mrs. LeRoy Clarkson, most children; Mrs. Barker, married longest time; Louis Lutt, married shortest time; Mrs. Joyce Pateouillet, coming the longest distance; Allen Otte and Neil Stuthman, bachelors; Dr. Colleen Dilley, most education; Mary Smith, purple heart for bravery, and to Bob Longe, youngest child. Forty-three of the 57 class members were present for the reunion.

A 287-pound field-dressed white-tailed deer is the largest reported taken in Nebraska. Live weight of this deer would be about 355 pounds.

Wayne Soldier Back from Vietnam Favors Getting War Over Right Now

"Let's end it now." That's the way Dennis Otte described the Vietnam war. He has definite opinions about it since he has just returned from a year in that country where he saw friends and acquaintances die and get critically injured.

How does he mean "end it"? Get out? No. He wants the United States to go all out, win that war and end the killing. Otherwise he foresees at least another five years of sending boys over there to die—too many have died already.

"Is Vietnam worth fighting for?" he was asked. "We're not fighting for Vietnam," he replied. "We're fighting for us."

If we get out, the Communists move in. If we don't stop them there they are ready to move in somewhere else. Somewhere they have to be stopped.

How does the war compare sitting in Wayne and crawling through Vietnam? Otte says it is worse here because you know you are not getting the full picture. The newspaper, radio and television reports are incomplete. They report light casualties but in your heart you know they are not "light" to anyone taking part.

For example, he cited an attack of North Vietnamese on an outfit. They had the Americans outnumbered several times over. That's the only way they attack, when they have the big advantage. Then we get reports that do not tell the full story here.

How about news over there? Otte says you don't read about protests, those who won't serve and those who fled to Canada. After all, only so much news can be printed and that type of news is not going to serve much purpose among a group of men who know why they are there, who know what has to be done, and who know we are right in being there.

Otte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Otte, Wayne, was stationed near Pleiku, a real "hot spot" as it is near the trails where the North Vietnamese move down into South Vietnam. He accented the fact that most of the fighting is against the North Vietnamese now, the Viet Cong being a comparative minor fighting force.

Who are the Viet Cong? He described them as a "militia-like" group that does not agree with the way the majority of the people want things. They work in towns by day and conduct their VC activities at night. He cited an example. A group of his buddies got haircuts in town one day. That night they were subjected to a mortar attack from VC and killed many of the attackers. When the Americans went out to pick up the dead in the daylight hours they found several that could be identified as the barbers who had cut their hair the day before.

The North Vietnamese are a well-trained group, getting as much training as Americans do. Most of their equipment is Russian but some is Chinese. Few are captured and fewer still are convinced that the Americans are really all right and to switch allegiance is worthwhile.

Otte knows the loss of buddies. An even dozen in his outfit were killed. Included were his two best friends, one from Crofton and the other from New York.

As for Vietnam itself, he finds it centuries behind in progress with the people in villages mostly illiterate. Children there run around without clothes until they are ten or older. They are filthy for the most part. Mud huts, thatched huts and other behind-the-times facilities are common.

He does not blame the people. They have known war for years. They have never had a chance to catch up. The U.S. army is helping them in every way it can and in contrast to the communist has "peace corps" type workers who pick out the smarter ones, teach them better farming methods and hope they will be able to pass on their new knowledge to others.

Otte had two R&R leaves. He went to Japan once and to Thailand another time. In each case he was in "another world" far from the fighting of Vietnam. He entered the service through selective service

Otte had two R&R leaves. He went to Japan once and to Thailand another time. In each case he was in "another world" far from the fighting of Vietnam. He entered the service through selective service

Nov. 28, 1965. After induction at Omaha he went to Ft. Hood, Tex., for basic, Ft. Lewis, Wash., for advanced infantry training, home for 21 days and then shipped out July 21, 1966 for Vietnam from Ft. Lewis.

His troopship made a short stop at Okinawa and then continued to Vietnam Aug. 5, 1966. He served there with the Second Brigade, First and Twenty-Second Infantry, Fourth Infantry as a machine gunner and a rifle man.

The happy day he started home was July 12, 1967. The day he arrived home was July 12, 1967. In fact, he was home "about four hours" after he left Vietnam. This was possible only because of the international date line situation.

What lies ahead for this young soldier who matured so much in a few months in one of the world's hottest spots. More service for one thing. He leaves Aug. 28 for Ft. Carson, Colo., where he will work in an administration company for the rest of his time in the army.

Then he will get out. He will probably celebrate, take a trip somewhere, see things. One thing, it probably won't even be in the direction of Vietnam. He has had all of that he ever wants but he knows better than the average man why he was there, why others went there and why others must go there until we achieve our goal of giving these people a chance at freedom. The only other chance they have is communism and to these poor underprivileged people communism will amount to slavery. To keep this from coming about is worth fighting for. Ask Dennis Otte, Vietnam veteran.

One-Act Play to Be Fine Art Presentation

"The Tiger", a one-act tragicomedy, will be presented by WSC students during the fine arts camp next week. It will be given Tuesday, Aug. 1, at 8 in Ramsey Theatre and the public is invited.

Described as "a fiercely social commentary," the play has lots of humor. Pat Kim and Lyle Courley take the two roles and George Tubb directs.

A modest admission charge is made at the door with no advance ticket sale. High school pupils attending the camp will be admitted free of charge.

Mary Dierks Weds Stephen Schutte
In Ceremony at Canon City, Colo.

Mary Joanne Dierks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dierks, Canon City, Colo., and Stephen Emil Schutte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schutte, Dixon, were married July 15 at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Canon City. Father Jerome Healy officiated at the double ring, nuptial mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace fashioned with long pointed lace sleeves, scalloped neckline and a sheath neck skirt with slight back fullness. The chantilly lace train, held at the shoulder line, was accented with pearls and rhinestones. Her fingertip veil of white illusion was held by a crown of rosebuds and petals trimmed with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid corsage in the center.

Katherine Dierks, Canon City, served her sister as maid of honor. Jacqueline and Deborah Dierks, the bride's sisters, and Joan Schutte, the bridegroom's sister, were bridesmaids. All wore gowns of apricot bonded crepe with lace sleeves and lace trains held at the shoulders. Each had a matching bow headpiece and each carried a bouquet of white and apricot carnations and white roses.

Dennis Mattis, Omaha, was best man. Groomsmen were Herbert and Stephen Dierks, the bride's brothers, and Ronald Peterson, Dixon. Charles Thomas, Dixon, and Allen Schutte, Burlington, Colo., were ushers. Harry Dierks and Stephan Logue were mass servers.

The bride's mother chose a bone-white suit of silk shantung with aqua accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale pink two-piece ensemble with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids and tropicanna roses.

A reception was held at Club Belvedere, Canon City, following the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from St. Scholastica Academy, Canon City, and Mount Marty College, Yankton, S. D., with a degree in medical technology. She is presently employed as a medical technologist at Sacred Heart Hospital, Yankton.

The bridegroom was graduated from Laurel High School and attended Norfolk Junior College. He served two years in the U. S. Army. He is presently engaged in farming.

Following a wedding trip the couple will reside at Dixon.

Wayne Juniors Upset Two Teams to Take District

Wayne Juniors upset favored Homer 14-7 and then came from behind to beat Laurel 1-3 in the finals to take the championship of the district tournament at Coleridge Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the time of this writing the only thing known about the next action was that it was to be in a double elimination tournament at Scribner. Wayne was to play another district winner at 8:30 Sunday. If they lost, they will play at 2 p.m. Monday. If they win, they will play at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Homer banged out eight hits, including two doubles against Wayne pitching. However, the locals responded with 11 hits, including four doubles and a triple to more than equal the hard-hitting Dixon County team.

Bob Dangberg hurled the win for Wayne, striking out seven. His opposite number for Homer was John Albrecht, who was replaced by Wayne Rewinkel in the fifth. Together, they struck out nine.

There were several Wayne batters with power at the plate. For instance, Dean Elofson had a triple, a double and a single in four trips to the plate. George Eynon had two doubles and Mark Johnson had a double and a single. Bob Dangberg helped his own cause with two singles and Bob Morris and Doug Farrns each had one.

Rick Janritzen had a double and a single for the best Homer effort. Wayne Rewinkel had two singles and Ben Longwell, John Albrecht and Denny Criss one apiece.

Winside Midgets Win Two in Meet

Winside Midgets won two games before being dropped in the finals of the district tournament at Coleridge the past week. Coach Kenny Fleer's team defeated Hartington 6-1 and Coleridge 14-8.

In the Hartington game, Randy Jacobsen pitched for the winners, striking out 13 and allowing only six hits. Opposing him on the mound was Rossiter, who fanned 12 and yielded nine hits.

Jacobsen contributed to his own cause considerably, getting a home run and a single. Other Winside hits were: Tom Behmer, single; Kirk Schellenberg, two singles; Dave Witt, single; Mark Witt, single; Tom Witt, three singles; and Lee Trautwein, single. Hartington hits included: Rossiter, single; K. Spenner, single; M. Goeden, single; D. Spenner, two singles; and Hirsch, single.

Doug Deck hurled the win for Winside against Coleridge, striking out seven and allowing eight hits. On the mound for Coleridge were Rhode, Brodersen and Leaplay at various times, fanning four and giving up 16 hits.

Tom Behmer was fantastic at the plate, getting a double and four singles in five trips to bat for Winside. Phil Witt had two singles, Mark Witt a double and two singles, Doug Deck three singles, Scott Duerling two singles and Randy Jacobsen a double.

Other Wayne hits looked like this: Doug Farrns and Gordon Jorgensen each hit a double. Lynn Lessmann had a single.

Laurel's eight hits were singles. Jim Pederson and Nick Calcavecchia each had two and Dennis Eby, Hart Vollars, Tom Pearson and Mike Roeber one apiece.

one of Anderson's being a double. Craig Jones had a double and a single, Murray White a double, Dave Diediker two singles and Neil Blohm and Craig Blohm a single each.

In the Midget game, Craig Schultz struck out 16 hurling for Martinsburg but lacked hitting and fielding support. Bob Anderson's single was the only Martinsburg hit. McClary, Asmusen, Voss and Knerl each had a single for Ponca. Steinbecker struck out three for the winners.

Goeden Pitches Masterful Tilt

Don Goeden stepped on the mound against an Emerson team that had slaughtered Wayne last week. When he was through pitching, he had limited the visitors to a single hit—that by the first man who came to bat, and he faced three men per inning seven of the nine frames as Wayne posted a thrilling 2-0 Northeast Nebraska League win Thursday night on the Wayne diamond.

Goeden was completely in control. He pitched no-hit-no-run ball for the last eight stanzas, striking out ten while doing it. His only hit went to Bill Guinan, Emerson shortstop, who doubled the first time at bat. Only two other men for Emerson got on base, one walking the other getting on with an error.

On the other hand, Wayne managed a respectable five hits, all singles off the pitching of Jerry Winnesky, who struck out nine. His only hits allowed were two singles to Ray Vrtiska and one each to Dennis Bowers, Bob Ditman and Hank Overin. Winnesky pitched no-hit-no-run ball five of the eight frames.

It was a classic for the local field, one of these games everyone enjoys. For Wayne, fans it was particularly satisfying after the way Emerson had manhandled the locals in a previous encounter this month.

Local Midgets Win District Tournament Over Winside

It's a different group of boys, but the Wayne Midgets are district champions again. Following in the footsteps of last year's state champions, they won the district title in a 6-1 decision over Winside Wednesday night on the Coleridge diamond.

Hank Overin did not know who the local midgets were to play at Scribner at 4:30 p.m. Monday, July 31. However, he did know the Midget journey is single elimination and one loss ends the season for one team or the other.

Wayne started off early against Winside, scoring two runs in the second inning. The locals had a 6-0 lead before the losers could push across a run.

Randy Helgren went the route on the mound for Wayne, allowing five singles and striking out eight. Randy Jacobsen struck out 12 and gave up only three hits but was plagued with the walk-rule and 10 Wayne men got 10 free passes to first.

Winside's hits were one each by Doug Deck, Jacobsen, Tom Behmer, Mark Witt and Kirk Schellenberg. Wayne's three were by Dwight Clatonoff, Jerry Titze and Dave Tietgen.

New Coach in Alaska Anticipating Experience

Al Svenningson, Wayne State College basketball coach who has accepted the post of head coach at Alaska University, is anticipating many new experiences in the northern-most state.

He doesn't expect to drive a dog team to work, he won't live in an igloo, he won't be miles from civilization and he won't be teaching eskimos exclusively. He will be active in ways he was not active in his eight successful coaching years in Wayne. The University of Alaska is not even as big as Wayne State College, enrolling around 2,000 students. However, it is the biggest university in that state, the next largest being a Methodist university at Anchorage.

Located in College, a town four miles from Fairbanks, AU has a new campus. Few buildings are more than four or five years old and it is a beautiful set-up with the latest in equipment and facilities. Fairbanks itself is second largest town in Alaska (Anchorage is largest) and Fairbanks boasts 30,000 residents.

Coach Svenningson said his decision to take the Alaska post met mixed emotions. It was difficult to decide to leave Wayne as he has come to love this place. At the same time, it was difficult to turn down the challenge offered in the only real frontier land left in America. He tried not to express emotion as he told of his regret at leaving. But he did say for publication: "I doubt if I ever find a place where rapport between community and college is as complete as it is here."

He cited the adults who time after time were at the college events, the kids who followed the Wildcats avidly and the others who showed in so many ways they appreciate the college and city.

As head coach, he will inherit three players in the GWC bracket, but he knows nothing of their talent. One of his jobs will be to visit Alaska high schools to contact prospects and interest them in coming to AU.

How will he get around? By airplane. That's the way the college team travels and that's the way the high school teams travel. In fact, the high schools usually line up schedules so games are played Saturday, Sunday and Monday so the aerial jaunts are worthwhile.

About 50 per cent of the players Svenningson will have will come from Alaska. Most of the rest will be from Montana, Washington, Oregon and even California. There are even three players there from the East Coast, New York and New Jersey.

There are many military bases in Alaska. Svenningson hopes to interest some of those who want to go back to college to stay in Alaska and finish their schooling.

He has a job also of building up an interesting schedule for AU. The coach for the past two years started an accelerated program of games but it should be improved more. The schedule in the past has included junior colleges, military bases, town teams and others. Svenningson hopes to gain the interest of Alaska people who love their university by building up a schedule of competition that will help build up renewed pride in the school.

Already on the schedule is Hawaii, at Alaska this year, at Honolulu next. Other schools are Portland, Idaho, San Francisco State, San Diego State and Central Washington State. Canadian schools may also be played.

Even more intriguing is the fact that Alaska U. is as close to some Scandinavian schools over the polar route as it is to schools south of San Francisco. Because of that, there is a strong possibility that Svenningson will be asked to investigate scheduling games with teams in these

A HANGING? No, this was the scene at the laying of the new Wayne county courthouse in 1898. It's still there in case you want to go look at it. Does that building in the background resemble the sheriff's residence and jail used until last year? Maybe not. J. G. Mines owned this picture. No one in it is identified.

Five Fined in Wayne Court During Week

Five people received fines in Wayne County court during the past half week. Only one of the fines assessed by Judge David Hamer was paid by a Wayne resident.

July 24 Clifford Strivens, Dixon, was fined $10 and $5 costs for drinking beer on a public street. City Policeman Keith Reed signed the complaint.

July 25 Eugene Steinman, Emerson, paid $10 and costs of $5 for speeding. Sheriff Don Weible filed the charge.

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Monday, July 31, 1967

The same day Roger Kassebaum, Wayne, was fined $10 for speeding. Court costs of $5 were added as a result of the complaint filed by Policeman Ron Penlerick. Roy Monickton, Sioux City, was fined $15 plus $5 costs on July 25 for displaying fictitious number plates. State Patrolman C. E. Hoemann filed charges.

The final case on July 25 was one in which Frank Teach, Jr., paid $10 and $5 costs for speeding. Ron Penlerick signed the complaint.

The Service Station

One of the nicest color pictures we received for use in the SWAY stories was one of Bob Jordan. You'd never have guessed it from the reproduction we obtained last week. So, here and now we're reprinting the picture and if it does not come out to our satisfaction, we'll keep running it until it does. This is an excellent color picture, the type we need for black and white reproduction. Jordan is in Germany where his wife is allowed to stay while he is based there. His address is Sp-5 Robert Jordan, 11th Finance Section, APO, New York, N. Y. 09028.

A new second lieutenant is Robert Oberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Oberg, Pender. He was commissioned in the air force at Lackland AFB, Tex., upon completion of officer training school. He was selected for OTS through competitive examinations and is now to be assigned to Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, for training and duty in the air university, which conducts professional military education programs for officers, and administers the air force reserve officers training corps program. Lt. Oberg is a 1963 graduate of Pender High School. He received a BS degree from Wayne State College in 1967.

A young Pender man, Radioman Seaman Thomas Diehl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Diehl, Pender, husband of the former Arel McQuistan, Pender, is serving aboard the USS Enterprise which is back at North Island Naval Air Station, San Diego, after completing a six-month tour of duty in Southeast Asia on the staff of Commander Carrier Division 1. The Enterprise is a nuclear-powered aircraft carrier and crew members planned and directed air strikes against North Vietnam. Pilots from the carrier destroyed power plants, railroads, industries and other facilities deep inside North Vietnam territory. Of particular note is the highly successful strike against Kep Airfield, one of the largest air bases in North Vietnam.

Ken Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Chambers, Lincoln, wants the news from home so he is among the newest recipients of a gift subscription to The Herald. We have no information about him except his address: Ken Chambers W-3 Div, DEG-4, USS Talbot, FPO, New York, N. Y.

Leon Jorgensen and Dennis Morris entered the Navy together and have stayed together so far, although in different barracks in the navy at present. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Wayne, was pictured last week as a SWAY winner. Leon, son of Mrs. Dorothy Jorgensen, Wayne, is pictured here. Both Dennis and Leon finished in the top one-third of their class of 189 boys at AMFV-R school in Memphis and have now started AMS school for nine months. Then they will be coming home on leave. This is a color picture reproduced in black and white.

For the first time we're printing two pictures of one fellow with a paragraph. The first is to show how not to pose for a picture. Notice the tank; it's fine, but if Ron Tentme had been standing in the foreground we could still see the tank and see him too. That's a hint for you other guys who send pictures home or to The Herald. We cut off part of the picture in the barracks below (one of Ron's friends was clad in tee shirt, shorts and shower clogs and as much as we would have liked to have printed it, we promised we wouldn't). But, that's Ron leaning on the bunk. Ron is the son dress at present is Pfc. Ronald A. Tentme, RA 169799 6, G Troop, 2nd Sqdn, 14th AC, APO New York, N. Y. 09330.

E-2 Larry Fuoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fuoss, Wayne, arrived home July 14 from Ft. Sill, Okla., and left July 29 for Ft. Carson, Colo. He has been taking training in rockets and missiles at Ft. Sill following training at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He is not sure what his training schedule will be at Ft. Carson. He went through basic training with John Gustafson, Wakefield, but the two went separate ways when Fuoss went into missile and rocket training and Gustafson took a different course. The two had been together since leaving Omaha for the service.

Seaman Apprentice Terry Schrieber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schrieber, Laurel, is serving aboard the USS Providence, a light guided missile cruiser. The ship left Singapore late this month after completing a three-day goodwill visit.

The crew visited English ships while the Providence was moored there. Visitors were also allowed to visit the Providence, which is the flagship for the commander of the seventh fleet and has Yokosuka, Japan, as a home port.

Stacy Swinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Swinney, Wayne, is taking his basic training at Ft. Polk, La. He has the following address: Pvt. Stacy Swinney, US 5643593, A-4-2, Ft. Polk, La. 71449. He was one of 17 chosen to be in a special rifle unit to appear in a parade the past weekend. He is also doing right well at firing the rifle, ranking among the top marksmen each week and the past week making the best score among 200 men.

AB Thomas D. Beckenhauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beckenhauer, Wayne, left July 21 from Omaha for service with the air force. His address now is: AB Thomas D. Beckenhauer, AF 16981738, Ft. 259, Sqdn, 4333 BWS, Amarillo AFB, Tex. 79111. He is taking basic training there and has enlisted for three years. He graduated in 1964 from Wayne High School. He is not sure which field of training he will be assigned by the air force.

Takes Special Study

Max Lundstrom, assistant dean of administration at Wayne State College, is one of 429 university and college business officers attending the 14th annual college business management course at the University of Omaha. Students are present from 46 states, Puerto Rico and Canada. With Dr. Kirk Naylor in charge of the studies which end Saturday. Training is in college management areas such as purchasing, budget preparation, physical plant, personnel, college law, insurance and retirement.

Dixon's Unusual Events Revealed

A powder-puff tractor pull, recognition for residents 77 years of age and over and other unusual events are being lined up for the centennial year observance of Dixon's annual Aug. 15 celebration.

Representatives met last week at Dixon Cafe to continue plans. The powder-puff tractor pull was definitely set as a special event.

Nancy Griffin, Atkinson, state centennial queen, will be featured on the program in a brief speech. She will also present awards to Dixon County residents who are 77 or over.

Norman Lubberstedt and Gordon Hansen will be in charge of the parade at 1. The program will follow and then a tractor pull will be held.

The evening program will feature the Master Melodiers from Morning-side and the Klown Band from Plainview. A dance will conclude the day's activities.

A carnival has been signed to provide rides and concessions throughout the day. Church groups and 4-H junior leaders will operate food booths.

Before the meeting closed, a booster trip was set for Aug. 5. Then Mrs. Sterling Borg served refreshments. Mrs. John Young will serve at the Aug. 7 meeting.

Announce More Dixon

County Fair Events

Members of the Dixon County Fair Association are continuing to make plans for the Aug. 21-23 fair at Concord. A free barbecue, a centennial family night program, a tractor pull, free acts, style revue and other events are on the agenda.

The centennial family night program will honor Dixon County residents whose families have lived in the state 100 years or more. Ak-Sar-Ben awards will be given to those whose land has been in the same family 100 years or more. Nancy Ehle, county centennial queen, will make awards.

A tractor pull with four weight classes is scheduled, the weigh-in set for morning and the pull in the afternoon. Generous prizes are guaranteed with entry fees ranging from $5 and prizes from $15 to $35.

A grand parade, the 4-H style review, free acts and other events are still being worked out. Details will be announced later.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Marvelous Medical Mayo Miracle

You knew it was coming, an editorial on Mayo's Clinic. It could never be untimely; after all, as far as is known, two from Concord and five from Wayne were up there during one week, among several thousand others from around the world.

There's the miracle of the sidewalk, "cuts" made in them so wheel chairs do not have to be raised over curbs. There's the system of departments in several buildings, each one different, yet each one alike in some respects. Atop the main building eight more floors are going up. Underground are tunnels leading to hotels, drug stores, restaurants, diet kitchens and other places, all planned so in the worst weather you need never go outdoors.

There's the miracle of the system. On one Monday 1,800 patients showed up, 500 of them without appointments. Those with appointments were taken care of first but many of the unscheduled 500 were worked into the routine and those who thought their cases might be emergency received check-ups at once.

But the real miracle of Mayo's is human. Start with the doormen. All day they stand outside by a pillar. A wheelchair or a man on crutches comes along. Three doors must be opened to get into the main clinic building but with a push of a button the doormen have all three doors opening in succession and they remain open until wheel chair or cripple are inside.

Take the women at the downstairs desks. They face a daily onslaught of people wanting in, seeking information, explaining why their cases are special, willing to tell ills to office help when only the specialists are qualified to listen.

Spare a moment for a typical floor, West-9 for example. Mrs. Evelyn Wright and Rita Doescher are out at that desk five days a week, keeping records in order, receiving the appointment cards, instructing the patients of the procedures expected of them in five or more days of appointments, keeping people from wandering back into the consultation rooms, straightening out the errors that someone else made because the "someone else" happens to be human too and doing a hundred and one other jobs.

But the doctors, where do they find the doctors? If we had contacted all, we could salute them all. We can only tell of two but we're sure they are typical of the specialists Mayo insists on having. They are the true miracles.

Dr. Philip Brown, jr., specializes in internal medicine. How dare they send us to him? He's young. He must just be out of school. We must be being slighted by not getting some gray-haired man who has been there for years and is an acknowledged expert in his field.

But, it's Dr. Brown we got so it's Dr. Brown we talk to. Does he talk to us as if we were just one of the thousands of people he must see each year, all with troubles? No, he has that intimate interest in a man who is sick, a man he might have known all his life so far. He wins our confidence, he makes note of what we describe and how we describe it and he plans appointments.

Then there's the neurologist, Dr. O. E. Ham, jr. He's even "worse." He is so young looking you wonder at first if he might be the youth who will direct you to your experts. However, inside that youthful head he has crammed knowledge that has qualified him as a "Mayo man."

He took talks to us as a friend. He sympathizes. He checks with others to make sure what he has determined is correct and then he lets us know what he has found, sends us back to that other youth, Dr. Brown. We leave with the feeling that instead of being sent down a secondary route, we are one of the lucky ones. First we were assigned Dr. Brown and then we were assigned Dr. Ham.

When we leave, we know what is wrong. We know what they have done. We know what we must do. We leave with admiration, respect, gratitude and a new feeling that we were the fortunate one—we could hardly have done better than be assigned to the two young doctors we consulted.

There are others at Mayo's, technicians, nurses, aides, helpers, information booth operators, elevator supervisors, mechanics, office workers, girls who lead you to your appointments, many many more, all a part of the Mayo miracle.

For us, the miracle starts with men such as Dr. Brown and Dr. Ham. For you it may start with someone else. But Mayo's can only be called a miracle, one of the wonders of the world. You can see it free just by taking a tour of the clinic on a weekday, but you'll never know the wonders of it until you have gone through as one of almost a million getting check-ups each year.

As its main building is built ever higher, the founding Mayo brothers could know wherever they are that from a small beginning in a little Minnesota town has arisen a modern miracle of medicine, an everlasting tribute to those who started it and those who keep it going. It is indeed one of the medical marvels of the world.—CEG.

Our 'Lousy' Coverage

One of the most sincere comments we have received on our coverage of baseball this year came the other day. In a word: "Lousy."

Why? Because we are not using box scores. We don't put in details of plays. We're covering Hoskins, Allen and Winside games too.

If it were possible, we would like to have some of the critics (and we know there are many) attempt to write up a baseball game without seeing the game itself. It would be exceptionally interesting to see them try to figure out a game from the score sheets turned in.

Some sheets have no first names for players. At least one had no names at all for the opposing players. Some put an "H" down to indicate a "hit." Great, but who is the mind reader who is supposed to figure out whether it was a single, double, triple or homer?

Most score sheets that come in are not added up in one direction. Usually the inning totals are there but no one has bothered to add up the times at bat, the number of hits and the runs.

Now we ask you, wouldn't it be fun just to write up ONE game using this type of score sheet? Well, we cover from five to fifteen games a week. Try to imagine what we would go through trying to figure out all the box scores so they could be printed in the paper.

They're Negroes, Too

With the race rioting that has gone on in Newark, Detroit and other cities, the Negro has been given the blame. Not just the Negroes sniping, throwing, breaking, fighting, looting and burning, but "Negroes."

People forget, but there have been some poignant reminders that there are other Negroes too. Life Magazine showed a Negro boy lying in the streets, wounded, an innocent victim of a shot from a white or Negro gun.

The Omaha World-Herald showed some Negro women comforting their children. Their crime? They lived in a Negro neighborhood and their home and all possessions had burned.

CBS interviewed some Negro women who wept as they gazed at their burning homes. Fire engines were unable to get to them to save them. What had these people done wrong? Nothing. They worked for livings; they tried to raise respectable families. Their homes burned because they lived in a Negro ghetto.

Where else can they go? Only a privileged few are allowed to move elsewhere. Thousands cheer a Negro as he bangs another hit. Willie Mays. A Negro breaks loose for a touchdown and thousands rise to cheer him, Gale Sayers, many cheering who wouldn't think of letting him live next door to them.

A white soldier is injured in Vietnam. He needs blood. A Negro soldier has the same type. His blood is used. His blood saves a white man's life.

We're sick, sick, sick of hearing the term "the Negroes" when referring to what is being done. Adam Clayton Powell is "A" Negro but he is not "the" Negroes. Cassius Clay is one Negro, not Negroes.

Can't we treat the Negroes as we do all others? If the Italians are in charge of the Mafia no one condemns all Italians. They condemn the Mafia. If an Irishman snipes down 13 people we don't say the Irish did it. If a Japanese goes berserk, it's reported that a man went berserk and not the Japanese did.

Negroes are individuals. Why are they not given the right to stand on individual rights as human beings? Why must they always be lumped together when something wrong is done? If we were to be consistent, when Wilt Chamberlain stars on the basketball court, all Negroes should be cheered as great people.

Are you guilty of classifying all men of one color together because of your limited knowledge of a few of the same color? If you are, take a step above God—we don't think He has found it necessary to react in that manner and we doubt if He finds it a sign of responsibility and Christian living when you do.—CEG

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Wayne Herald, August 1, 1907

The Bloomfield baseball team missed their train on last Thursday evening so were forced to remain over here till Friday morning.

The country people crowded the Chautauqua grounds the last few evenings. Last night every hitching post in town was in use and the teams and rigs that lined the side streets afforded a sight seldom seen in Wayne.

Two youngsters of the town evidently received an inspiration from the circus that held the boards in Carroll Friday, for they left before the following Monday, either to follow the show; to find greener pastures or a more congenial climate in which their ambition might flourish and be recognized. One of the boys returned, satisfied before the second day had passed. However the second youth has failed to turn up thus far and very likely he has joined the circus.

We call attention to the aid of the "Whipple" Humane Horse Collar which appears in this issue. The farmers of Wayne county will no doubt be interested in this new collar if it will prevent sore necks and shoulders as the manufacturer claims, as every farmer has too much pride to use horses that are sore and galled if it can be prevented.

The editor of the Hoskins Headlight was displeased with Wayne's Chautauqua. In his disappointment he refers to it as "the limit of tame affairs" and that "aside from band and Tillman, there were no attractions, except there were plenty of drunks at the grog shops."

It is to be regretted that Br. Nellor was not accorded a band and carriage on arriving in Wayne. The self esteemed scribe from the west end had had his feelings hurt by being overlooked, and because he was left to use his own "wits to locate the place of amusement," he whines. But we notice he finally drifted into his element and found "attractions" he was looking for. "Give an ass the run of a field of thistles, and it will pass the juicy morsels of clover by." Chautauquas are not for everybody, but its sure the best people everywhere support and attend them. The tastes and appetitles, as well as the mental caliber of people, is easily determined by kind of entertainment they prefer. There are merry-go-rounds for the children, but for our friend Nellor, a "huggin' bee" as he terms them, is the only real article.

Peter Brumel's horse ran away Tuesday morning, capsizing the buggy, breaking the till and considerably mutilating two of Peter's fingers. (Hoskins Headlight).

The postal department rules that any rural route handling less than 5000 pieces each month will be discontinued. Route No. 1 has made good, but we are informed that No. 2 is falling short about 450 pieces of mail. If this continues the route will be discontinued so those who want the service should take another paper and write a few more letters. (Hoskins Headlight).

A new law which has been on the statute books for some time, and which has not been enforced in this state, will, in the future, be enforced to the letter. We refer to the law regulating the sale of poison fly paper. According to law nobody but a registered pharmacist has authority to sell poison fly paper, but heretofore most all grocery and general stores have sold it. A member of the state pharmacy board informed our merchants of the existence of such a law and warned them against a further violation of the law. So in the future the drug stores are the only places you will be able to procure poison fly paper, and if you should send the children for it, it will be necessary for you to send a written request for the same, as the law forbids selling anything of a poisonous nature to minors.

W. E. Liddle has decided to resign his position as traveling salesman for the Norfolk Candy Co. While he has met with good success so far, yet he finds himself unsuited to the life of a traveling man. To be up at all hours of the night to make connections on trains, and living away from home continually is not his kind of life. (Carroll News).

J. H. Prescott was inaugurated as manager of the Benson Grain Co., business in Winside this morning. He says he is to receive $210 a month. At any price, Harry is a good man. (Winside News).

A Mr. Schingel and family of Foster have moved into the hotel and will soon be ready for boarders. Mr. Schingel will run a barber shop in conjunction with the hotel. Everyone is glad to see the hotel running again. (Sholes News).

Out of Old Nebraska

Bierstadt in Nebraska

One of the most famous artists to portray the American West was Albert Bierstadt. His large impressive paintings hang in many museums and private collections where they depict in colorful and romantic style the grandeur of the Western landscape. The German born Bierstadt traveled through the Plains and mountains several times making sketches which he later used in producing his huge canvases.

In 1863 he was in Nebraska. He stopped at the home of a Nebraska pioneer and frontiersman named E. C. Comstock who operated Oak Grove ranch along the Oregon Trail in Nuckolls County. While there, Bierstadt went on a buffalo hunt. Mr. Comstock's recollections of the hunt were published in 1882 in a book by A. T. Andreas entitled History of Nebraska, a copy of which is in the library of the Nebraska State Historical Society. Following is Comstock's account of the artist's Nebraska adventure.

"In 1863 Bierstadt on his return from his travels in California, stopped at Oak Grove for rest and recreation. He desired to see an enraged buffalo, so that he could the better paint the picture of one charging in his gigantic fury. Accompanied by a writer for the New York Evening Post and George and E. S. Comstock, he proceeded to a grove about a mile west of Superior, where they found buffalo. They succeeded in getting a large bull separated from the herd, when they shot him after the artist had seated himself for the purpose of sketching the scene. The bull, not being very ferocious, Bierstadt desired to have him wounded again. One man stood ready to make a fatal shot should it become necessary while another again wounded the monster. Infuriated with pain and bleeding at the nostrils he made for his assailant, but perceiving the artist, he turned toward

BE CAREFUL! Prevent Farm Accidents

A Safe Farm Is a Profitable Farm

Safety is the prime factor in the success of modern farming, for accidents can prove more costly than maintenance. Your farm can be a showplace of progress and efficiency if you keep tools and equipment in top condition, check buildings for cleanliness, soundness. Keeping everything in apple-pie order eliminates many fire hazards. Practice good safety habits and prosper!
