Two Office Staffs 'Happy'

There were two happy offices in the Wayne County courthouse this past week. The state board of equalization had voted to leave real estate valuations, as they were instead of requiring increases.
Wayne County had expected a raise in valuation for rural property of 30 per cent and a raise in valuation for urban property of 20 per cent. County officials knew this would raise too much money so planned to cut the levy if the valuations were raised.
In County Assessor Henry App's office, about three weeks of extra work was eliminated by the state board's action. The staff would have had to raise valuations on every piece of real estate in the county had the board of equalization not changed the requirement.
Then they would have gone to work to report on personal, real estate, motor vehicle and special property. This would have to be set so the levy would be established and Aug. 28 is the state-set deadline, for setting the levy.
In County Clerk Norris Weible's office the staff also had reason to applaud the decision. If the board had stuck to its raise in valuation stand, the office would have had to refigure the budget for the county all over again. It had already been completed on the previous valuation.
What would have been involved would have been several extra days of figuring to get the levy figures needed for the various county districts. Work there could go forward when work on valuations was complete in the assessor's office.
Meantime, back in the assessor's office, there is plenty of work anyway. A professional firm, completed a reappraisal of Wayne County real estate and now the staff has until Jan. 1 to get on the books all the valuation amounts on land in the county. Then notices will be sent to land owners telling them what their new valuations are.
Nebraska had tried to equalize by setting valuations in all counties, raising some, lowering others. However, almost every county in the state sent delegations protesting the new policy.
With the state out of the property tax business, valuations are more important to counties and other subdivisions of government than to the state so the counties wanted to set values on the basis of local knowledge, not on a statewide basis. That is what the resulting decision of the board has brought about.

Seek City of Wayne Slogan

Can you think of a clever, catching, appealing and descriptive slogan for the city of Wayne? If so, you can probably win a prize.
Wayne Jaycees are conducting a contest for a slogan for this city. They are offering a $25 savings bond for the winning entry.
There is no age limit on entrants. You need not be a resident of the city of Wayne in order to enter but you must limit your slogan to 10 words or less.
An entry blank appears in an ad in this issue of The Herald. Another will be published in the Thursday edition of the paper.
What is wanted is something that will refer to the progress or opportunity in Wayne. The college, the location, the products, the good life, any aspect of this city could be included.
Examples of some other cities and slogans they have include: "Allen, Small in Size But Big Otherwise"; "Omaha (Can Do)"; "Rapidly Honored Capital of the Nation"; "Hartington, Nebraska's Cleanest City"; "Hastings Has It!"; "Fremont, Trading Center of Mid-East Nebraska"; "Alliance, Cattle Capital of Nebraska"; "Clarkson, Center of Czechland"; "Emerson, Biggest City in Three Counties."
There are others, such as the one, boosting Alma for its location on the lake at Harlan County Dam, Ogallala as the cowboy capital of the state, Oakland and Stromsburg as the Swede centers, Gothenburg as the pony express station, Kimball as the oil capital and many more.
Use your imagination. Enter the contest. The slogan chosen could be used a lot. You could become famous. You could win the bond.

come. Excess money goes into the SWAY fund to draw interest. It will eventually all go to those in the school forces from this county. When all have been drawn, another system will be set up and the money will start going out again so long as there is money and as long as there are those in uniform they will be reminded the folks are backing them in their home county and town.

The elder Christensen is well-known to people in Northeast Nebraska. Those who know him will be especially interested in hearing his son, but everyone is welcome, whether they know the Christensens or not.

Identified Wrong

On Thursday's front page, Wilma Roberts was pictured for ranking highest in the summer graduating class at WSC. It was stated she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldin Roberts. Actually, she is Mrs. Eldin Roberts, the former Wilma Dunklau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunklau. IBM gets the blame for this. The Herald called her to get the name of her parents and IBM came up with "Eldin Roberts" so that's the way it appeared. For once the mistake was not ours.

Wayne Man Heads Vietnam Blood Unit

Chief Hospital Corpsman J.W. Lynch, Wayne, heads a three-man team supplying blood to casualties, according to an article by Seaman Dave Hough of the U. S. Naval Support Activity, DaNang, Vietnam.
Lynch, a brother of John Lynch, Wayne, heads the largest and best-known job of supplying blood. He and three other corpsmen cross match blood samples of arriving casualties, rush the required blood type to them and do quick and precise laboratory work for many hours continuously each day.
The hospital is the most modern and effective combat hospital in history. In fact, over 90 per cent of those brought there survive.
The blood bank is the most dynamic aspect, according to Lt. Eric Stafford, officer in charge. "Never before in the history of war has a blood bank been located in a combat zone," he said. "This single factor has saved more lives in Vietnam than any other."
Life or death of every patient requiring blood is

Guard-Army War Impresses

Impressive! Spectacular! Awesome!
These and many other such words don't seem quite adequate to describe Operation Thunder Track, a 48-hour field exercise in which the Nebraska National Guard and other Nebraska Guard units took part during the annual summer field training program at Fort Carson, Colo. last week.
I, along with Harold Surber as guide and advisor, spent Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the Red Devil Area of Fort Carson as guests of the 67th Infantry Brigade (Mechanized).
Our chore there was to observe, photograph and write about Wayne's National Guardsmen who are part of Company A, 1st Battalion, 134th Infantry. Another portion of the company is stationed at O'Neill. Company commander is Captain Harmon Grunke.
With clock-like efficiency we were flown to Peterson Field, Colorado Springs, driven about 40 miles to the training area, fed a brief meal of Army rations and jipped to the exercise which was already in progress. . . . all before noon Monday. With barely enough time to slip field clothing over traveling clothes and don a pair of hunting boots, we were

School Change in Progress

With the Sept. 5 opening date drawing nearer fast, changes are being made faster than ever at Wayne's three public schools. Biggest change this week is in the office set-up.
The high school office will be in the new high school effective Tuesday, Aug. 22. Until then there will be personnel in both the present (old) high school office and the new office.
A new telephone system will be in use. Each will have its own number so mark these down. High school will be 375-3150; middle school 375-2230; and elementary school 375-3854. You must call the school you want as calls cannot be transferred, although an intercom system will allow calls among personnel in all three buildings on a separate line.
Supt. Francis Haun reports he still lacks an elementary principal. All other teachers are signed and all have found rooms, apartments or houses.
The librarian has already moved to the new WHS building. Carpeting has been laid by King's, grass has been planted by Barner's, turf has been put in on sloped areas, classroom furniture (including teachers' desks) is in, shop equipment is being put in, office furniture is expected this week, football practice starts Monday and things are going smoothly as the state's first new concept school system gets ready to open in two short weeks.
One more bid letting is set. This is for fuel oil to be purchased from a local firm. They have been notified. Schools are heated by natural gas but are required to have fuel oil ready on a standby basis in case an emergency arises and gas supply is cut back.

The Spook Speaks

A Concord couple's four-year-old son watched his mother tearing up bits of paper and putting them into a kettle of hot water for papier mache. After watching this for a while, he announced: "I don't want that for dinner!"
In the same town, Cub Scout projects were being discussed. One boy told the den mother proudly: "My room is already decorated." He was assured that he was lucky to have it that way. He responded: "Yeah, it was decorated with a mess!"
A little Wayne boy said some of his friends wanted to know where his father was. His mother told him: "He went to Colorado with the National Guard unit." Overhearing the boy explaining it outside to his little friends, she heard her reply come out like this: "He went to Colorado with the National Guard you nut."

Mark Johnson Chosen from Stars as Recipient of Sportsmanship Honor

Mark Johnson, Carroll, gave a good account of himself at the north-south all-star series in Grant this past weekend. He also gave area residents a lot of reasons to be glad he was chosen when he won the sportsmanship trophy.

Just one of these given: The 34 players from the two teams vote on the one player they want to get it and Johnson received the most votes and the trophy.

Players not acquainted with each other by eating and practicing together and by partaking of other activities together. Then when the series was over they voted.

Johnson, who played for the Wayne team this year, was chosen for the North squad. He got one hit and walked twice, which does not sound impressive until one considers that the entire North team managed only four hits in three games against superb South pitching. South won the series two games to one. Johnson played in 21 of the 27 innings.

Each player that took part was given a trophy. They all received meal tickets so they never had to buy a meal and they were guests in homes in the Grant area. They left impressed with the western hospitality they had heard about.

Bob Johnson, father, and Joy Turker, grandfather, both from Carroll, attended the series at Grant.

TOP SPORTSMAN: Mark Johnson, Carroll, was awarded the sportsmanship trophy (right) at the all-star north-south game in Grant. He has played ball in Wayne for years. The smaller trophy is the type every player participating received.

medley girls 9-10, Pat Barclay sixth; medley boys, Monte Lowe third, Kevin Jech third; medley boys, Dave Scheel second, Bill Lambert fourth; and medley boys, Dave Noyes first, Fred Netherda third.

C Feature, Linda Wittler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wittler, Hoskins, was trophy race queen.

The Brudigan brothers all had trouble in the A Feature. One lost a wheel, another had a wire fall off the engine and the third had a flat tire, all in the same race.

Hoskins Drivers Bring in Money Winside, Wakefield Facilities Honored

Hoskins stock car drivers continue to bring in the money. They won more of the loot at Albion Friday and at Norfolk Sunday. Albion will have races at 8:30 next Friday. At the Aug. 25 county fair program the championship race will be held with the top 15 in point standings taking part, this including most of the Hoskins drivers.

In the Friday Albion races, Larry Brudigan was second in the first heat, Harold Brudigan fourth in the second heat, Gene Brudigan first in the third heat and first in a Feature and Gene Wagner third in third heat and fourth in a Feature.

Sunday night at Norfolk Larry Brudigan was second in the first heat, Harold Brudigan fourth in the second heat, Gene Brudigan fifth in the third heat and Gerald Bruggeman third in

Baseball Season Ends Wednesday

Emerson defeated Wayne 6-2 Wednesday night on the local diamond to win the playoff championship. It ended the baseball season locally and a good thing too for it was one of the wildest games fans have seen in years.

Wayne went ahead 1-0 and from there on everything happened. The locals got pipe hits to only four for 11 hitters on but out-guessed the visitors by quite a margin, even though Emerson pulled some plays that were so impossible but they're still hard to believe.

Twice Emerson caught Wayne runners off base and twice the runners outfought the visitors and got back on base safely. Once Emerson pulled a goodie, Wayne had the bases loaded, the third baseman faked a throw to second, the runner pulled off and he was tagged out.

Wayne got plenty of men on base but couldn't buy a run. The local team left 15 men stranded on the bases. On the other hand, Emerson used its few opportunities for perfect bunts or perfect hits to score the rather lopsided win.

Don Goeden went all the way on the mound for Wayne, striking out nine. Wisniewski pitched all except the last two outs for Emerson, fanning 11. Kelly came in to kill a bases-loaded Wayne rally in the bottom of the ninth by striking out two men.

Goeden was the only player on either team to get two hits. Don Helgren, Jerry Kinnan, Dennis Bowers, Randy Olson, Mark Johnson, Jim Dodge and Ray Vrtiska one each. All were singles. Guinen and Kelly each had a double and Jirovsky and Flaherty each had a single for Emerson.

Three Wayne Players Among Tops in Loop

Three Wayne players finished among the top baseball players in the Northeast Nebraska League the past season, according to Lefty Olson, Wakefield, official record keeper for the loop.

Don Goeden scored as the second best pitcher, winning 6 and losing 3. Only Martin Mittels of Lyons with a 7-2 record ranked better.

Jerry Kinnan, Wayne, was second from the top and Dennis Bowers, Wayne, fourth from the top in batting. Ray Casey, Homer, led the league with a .383 average.

Kinnan had a .357 average and Bowers a .310 average. For Kinnan he had 20 hits in 56 trips to the plate and for Bowers it was 13 hits in 42 trips to the plate.

Wayne finished third in the league in hitting with a .229 average, 99 hits in 433 times at bat.

CHILDREN'S ENTRIES are shown in the parade at Dixon for the Aug. 15 celebration.

Father Plays Son in Country Club's Finale Wayne County Courthouse Roundup

It will be father against son in one section of the finale of the Wednesday Night Golf League this week. Play in the league came to an end this past week and the playoffs are now set.

Jim Marsh is the "A" player on the team leading the upper division. His father, Wayne Marsh, is the "A" player on the team leading the lower division. In playoffs, A meets B, B meets C, etc.

There are two divisions in summer play, an upper and a lower. Each has 60 teams of four men each. On each team there are A, B, C and D players so the teams play each other with the men of the same rank always playing each other.

The top four teams from each league are in the playoffs for the championship. The four teams from the upper league are Teams 4, 1, 2 and 3 in that order. The four teams from the lower league are Teams 18, 13, 17 and 20 in that order.

AN OLD THRESHER is in use for the last time on the Fred Liedman farm near Carroll. Liedman, Robert Jones, Ernest Larson and John Walters are in the crew shown. Don Liedman, LaRee Jones and Cliff Schwarting were bringing in the shocked oats.

Some Still Thresh

Grain in Territory

Combines are used for most grain harvesting but some farmers still use threshing machines. Several were seen in operation in the county the past week.

These threshers are fine in leaving a stack of straw, which some farmers want. However, they take more men to operate and don't do the job combines do.

Fred Liedman, Carroll, harvested 20 acres of oats last week. He used combines on the rest of the oats fields.

He said this would probably be the last year he used a threshing machine at all. Help is too hard to find. You can't buy new threshers and parts are harder to get.

In days gone by, threshers moved with crews from farm to farm with the well-known dinners where everyone "ate like threshers." That has been out of style for years now and few threshers are even kept in running order.

TWO PIECES of equipment you may see on Nebraska highways at nights now are shown. One is a truck that carries line-stripping equipment. Its paint dries in 30 seconds, the paint can be seen at night, it can paint two stripes at once on multi-lane roads and it can be used in cold weather, all advantages over the old daylight-only striper the state had been using. The other truck follows the striper with reflecting signs to warn traffic that the lane is closed from that truck to beyond the stripping truck ahead. Operation of the equipment takes five min. Daylight stripping equipment similar to this took nine min.

Funeral Services For Leo Krueger Held at Pierce

Allen Youth Boosts Using of Seat Belts

Brian Ellis, 20, Allen, is a seat belt booster. He feels he owes his life to having his fastened Wednesday, Aug. 9.
Ellis had been working long hours at South Sioux City, driving back and forth to Allen daily. Wednesday he had left South Sioux City after long hours at work when he apparently fell asleep west of Waterbury on a county road.
Within three miles of home the car hit a bridge abutment. He realized what was happening and snapped off the ignition. That's the last thing he remembers until regaining consciousness an unknown period of time later.
He was in a 16-foot deep creek bed. His car was a total wreck. His shoulder was sore and his head hurt but he walked to the nearby Cliff Rasmussen farm home for help.
At St. Joseph's Hospital, Sioux City, it was found his shoulder was just sore and bruised; his head had a bump, apparently from the blow that knocked him unconscious, but he suffered no injuries of consequence.
He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ellis, Allen. The entire family joins him in having a renewed respect in fastening seat belts.

Leo Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krueger, was born Apr. 20, 1909 in Madison County. He attended rural schools in Madison County and Lutheran parochial school at Norfolk. He was married Oct. 24, 1929 to Lenora Keller, Pierce. He spent most of his lifetime farming in the Hoskins and Pierce area.

thick in the red dust of the exercise.

In Operation Thunder Track, the 67th Brigade was pitted against an aggressor force of units of the 5th Infantry Division, a regular army division from Fort Carson. The exercise, designed to provide a readiness evaluation of the brigade, consisted of training in movement to assembly areas, a defense, a night withdrawal, an attack and a night relief.

Movement and defense operations and the night withdrawal, all during the first day and night were conducted with precision and speed that seemed almost unbelievable... but the highlight came next day.

During a pre-exercise briefing, the Regular Army lieutenant colonel who commanded the forces directly opposing A company and the 1st Battalion, had boasted that he would "chase those guys right off the reservation!"

But, early next morning when the attack started this lieutenant colonel, a long with other officers and 100 enlisted men, were captured by 1st Battalion forces. Red-faced and abashed, he met his captor, Lt. Col. George W. Schauer, who commands the 1st Battalion.

Regular Army umpires were in the thick of all activities, declaring tanks out of commission, groups captured or destroyed.

Brigade, battalion and company officers and men were extremely cooperative. Information was given to us when at all possible, transportation was furnished us in armored personnel carriers and command jeeps, keeping us in the thick of the action.

The parade which followed on Wednesday, saw more than 600 vehicles lined up in spectacular display for Governor Norbert Tiemann, general officers and senators.

A familiar face on the plane returning us to Lincoln was that of Capt. Mike Matsukis, a native of Concord and now full time with the Nebraska Military department at Lincoln.

Shown here are some of the scenes we witnessed during the Operation Thunder Track and the parade which followed:

More Information on Armed Forces Given

The Wayne County Selective Service Office has released more information of interest to young men and parents. Information was secured because questions that come up from one person often are the same questions others have.

Following are examples: What are the limitations on how long a person can be deferred as an undergraduate college student? Answer: Until he satisfies the requirement for his baccalaureate degree if completed within the normal and specified time, fails to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course or becomes 24, whichever occurs first.

Will registrants who become fathers after the new selective service law became effective be deferred in Class III-A? Answer: Each case is considered individually. The only change from the previous law is the addition of a restriction that registrants who are in Class II-A after June 30, 1967, shall not be eligible for classification in Class III-A as fathers but may qualify on the basis of hardship to dependents.

More information from the local board will be given as space permits in future editions of The Herald.

Ex-Dixon-Allen Youth Honored

Sp-1 Richard Boeshart, 20, Sioux City, has been awarded the silver star in Vietnam for saving lives of buddies. He is a former resident of the Allen and Dixon areas.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Boeshart, reside on a farm in the Dixon County area between the two towns for years. A few years ago they moved to 1121 Correctionville Rd., Sioux City.

Young Boeshart was credited with saving several wounded members of his platoon near Bong Son, Vietnam. His silver star is the nation's third highest honor for heroism.

He was serving as a machine gunner when his unit was attacked by the North Vietnam army. Greatly outnumbered, one of the platoons became pinned down by fire and Boeshart moved from his own secure position into the open field to treat and evacuate the wounded even though under heavy fire.

He returned to his position, killed two enemy soldiers and captured their weapons. He then killed several bunkers of the enemy with grenades, destroying them.

When he got back to his own position, he took over the machine gun again from a wounded soldier and covered evacuation.

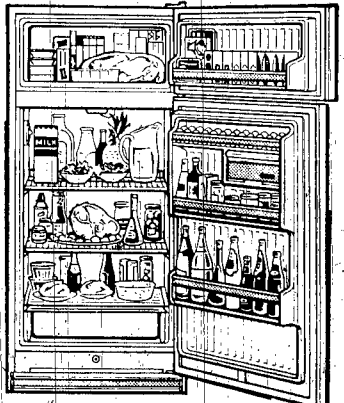

Boeshart has a brother, Sp-5 Gary Boeshart, in the army at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. He also has two sisters and four other brothers in Sioux City. He is a graduate of Sioux City High School. Mrs. Bill Snyder, Allen, is his aunt.

'Everyone in Taiwan Likes Americans'

Chief Communications Technician Kerry Hanson has been in many countries of the world since he enlisted in the navy 13 years ago. He says of all the places he has been, nowhere are Americans as universally liked as they are in Taiwan (Republic of China).

CTC Hanson left with his wife and four children Thursday after an extended visit with her parents at Allen. She is the former LuJean McCaw, daughter of the Earl McCaws, he is an Allen native and his father (loyd) now lives in New Mexico, his mother in Sioux City.

July 12 the Hanson family returned from Taiwan, which was formerly Formosa. They had lived there 2 years and prior to that 2 1/2 years on Okinawa. They brought home one more child than they took over, a daughter being born in Okinawa.

He graduated from Allen High School in 1954 and she graduated in 1956. He joined the navy in August, 1954, and has served at Great Lakes; Imperial Beach, Calif.; Hawaii; Okinawa; Cheltenham, Md. (where he was discharged), stayed out 69 days and re-enlisted, and where he and LuJean McCaw were married; Iceland; Ft. Meade, Md.; Okinawa; and Taiwan.

Hanson is in communications security work with the navy so could say little about service life in "Free China." However, he and his wife revealed a lot about that nation of a few million that proposes to take over Red China (400 million people) some day.

In the first place, the people of Taiwan consider their government is China's government and that they are at war with Red China. Sea skirmishes take place often between units of the two Chinas.

In the second place, all the people of Taiwan can talk about is going back to the mainland. They have a well-trained army of 600,000 men and now that Israel overcame the Arab odds and won, the people are not so sure but what Free China could overcome Red China, especially with the help they expect to get once they get established footholds in Red China.

As in divided Germany and divided Berlin, communist and free way of living offer contrast. Taiwan has the second highest standard of living in the Orient, next to Japan, and is coming up fast.

Hanson said food there is cheap and the pork the best he has ever eaten. This was a surprise for he said in most countries servicemen cannot eat native pork since it is too often diseased. The same is true of mians which men getting powdered milk only since local milk is not pasteurized.

Fruits and vegetables are cheap on the island but water is high. The water they drank cost 30 cents for five gallons. They were not allowed to drink anything except distilled water.

For two years the Hanson family rented a four-bedroom house in the American colony for $125 a month. They had a live-in maid who was paid $30 a month and a yard boy who came once a week to work in the yard and take care of the cat for $2.50 a month (that figure is correct). They found they had to have a full-time servant since theft is so common it is necessary to have someone in the house at all times.

Michael, 8, Richard, 6, and Carrie, 5, went to schools that were privately run for Americans with the government paying the tuition. Debbie, 4, was born in Okinawa and did not get to go to school overseas.

Every mode of transportation is common in Taipei and other towns. Bicycles are dominant but water buffaloes pull carts, there are small taxicabs, cars of all types and of course the army, navy and air force vehicles of the US and ROC.

In her spare time, Mrs. Hanson helped at an orphanage, Hanson and other American servicemen sponsored the orphanage for 24 girls.

The family had freedom and went to movies in town. Although the theatres are Chinese, most films are in English with Chinese piped for the patrons. For those like the Hansons, they have no subtitles.

TV was a different matter. There is only one station on the island and all programs except one hour a day were in Chinese. For one hour the programs were in English each day.

Taiwan is progressing fast, according to the Hansons. They praised that country, not only for its appreciation of Americans but for the fact that America gave financial aid for a few years, Taiwan got on its feet, no longer needed aid and asked that it be stopped. No other nation has done this.

Farmers in this area would be interested in Taiwan farming. The Hansons said not an inch of ground is wasted. Intense farming methods are used but the methods are slow, hand work and water buffalo furnishing the power. Rice, sugar cane, tea, fruits and vegetables are the main crops.

As for Okinawa, they found life was more like that in the States. Most people are Japanese on a beautiful island 66 miles long and 4 miles wide. The rest of the people are Chinese. Okinawa is known as "the military bastion of the world" because of its strategic location.

When Hanson left there two years ago it had been serving as a member of the operations department, CPO Hanson "distinguished himself by exemplary performance in a highly technical area." His judgment, skill, initiative and other efforts "contributed greatly to the national cryptologic objective," the citation reads.

The Hansons will live in Maryland and the kids will attend school in the United States for the first time. After 4 1/2 years in the Far East, they're all ready for finding out what it's like to live in America.

WINSIDE HORSE SHOW competitors include Doug Deck, Hoskins.

ice 1963-65 from the national security agency for the Joint Soho Processing Center, Okinawa, in recognition of his leadership and achievement for the military security agency.

The second was awarded just before the Hansons left Taiwan. It was from the secretary of the navy, Paul H. Nitze, a man who was killed in a plane crash recently.

This citation is a commendation for outstanding achievement in the performance of duties while serving as a reporting analyst. As a member of the operations department, CPO Hanson "distinguished himself by exemplary performance in a highly technical area." Business Notes

Hog Shows Will Accent Quality

The purpose of area hog shows is to place emphasis on carcass quality, it has been announced at Northeast Station, Concord. First two shows will be Aug. 28 at Laurel and Sept. 1 at Bloomfield.

Each producer will be allowed to enter two pens of three market hogs weighing between 190 and 240 pounds. Hogs will be judged and placed live and then sent to slaughter and placed again on a ham and loil per cent.

Producers entering hogs will get such information as: Length of carcass, backfat measurement, loin eye area and per cent ham and loin. Fritschen said: "Producers cannot afford to miss opportunities such as the area hog show. The free carcass information is invaluable as a guide in buying future breeding stock."

In addition to the free carcass information, over $150 in premiums and trophies will be awarded at each of the area shows. Producers can get entry cards and regulations by contacting their county agent or Northeast Station, Concord.

Laurel's show is sponsored by Northeast Swine Association and Bloomfield's by North Central Swine Association. University of Nebraska Extension Service and Hormel & Co. are cooperating. Ardette White, Fremont, will be judge.

Give Diver Training

Diver training is now being offered. That's right, "diver," not "driver." SFC A. K. Coleman of the army recruiting service says diver training is a new enlistment option. There will be 16 openings in each class, starting dates Aug. 28 and Oct. 23. Deadlines for signing up are five days earlier. Diver training will be conducted at San Diego and besides being trained for diving duty, men in the course will get swimming tests. Coleman can give information to anyone who contacts him at the Norfolk army recruiting station.

Concord Has Pair of Cases of Vandalism

Concord, one of the small towns that rarely has vandalism, had two cases of it the past week. No one is sure who was responsible in either case.

In the more senseless of the two, someone ripped apart a garden. Mrs. Harold Gunnarson, who has worked hard in her garden all summer, found it torn up one morning.

During the night someone had pulled up plants, pulled tomatoes off the vines and thrown them around, split open squashes and caused other damage so the garden is almost a complete loss.

Gary Nobbe went to get his car in the other case. It was gone. Remembering a case last week where a Laurel boy's car was taken and found near Hartington smashed up and torn up, he had visions of the same thing happening to his car.

ST. ANNE'S CYO of Dixon had an entry in the parade at Dixon Aug. 15.

However, before calling authorities the family checked around and found that the car had just been pushed a little over a block away and was undamaged.

earned 75 per cent of credits needed for a degree but has a low grade average. Can he be deferred for his final year? Yes, he can be classified II-S, student deferment for the fourth year of undergraduate standing. Class standing does not have anything to do with deferment as long as one is a full-time student.

Selective Service

Give More Answers

More questions come in to the selective service office in Wayne. They are of general interest. Following are examples of some.

One said he received a degree in June and has been accepted for graduate study in September. He wonders if he qualifies for a II-S deferment. Yes, for one year only, or until he stops pursuing the course of instruction, whichever is first.

Another has completed three years of college and

Still a third question is: What is Class-III classification? This is given one who is not qualified under the present standards for service but might be if the nation went to war or a national emergency was declared.

The 1,625 rifle permits for the 1967 antelope season in Nebraska were sold out in five days.

A GAS EXPLOSION at Dixon last week knocked the house of Bill Kraemer off its foundation a little bit. One corner is shown above. Note that the house is a little to the right of the foundation, and that is a big crack in the lower left corner. Windows blown out are covered as shown until repairs can be made.
