

County Region Reports Many Thefts

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department reports a rash of farm thefts in a region northwest of Wayne and east and north of Carroll. Most thefts have been reported since the first of this month.

Farmers have been coming in from the area to report items taken from tractors, combines and other equipment. Nothing is stripped from the machinery but loose items are removed.

Larceny is the term and some of the items are quite valuable. Taken have been grease guns, wrenches, log chains, batteries and other such items.

Farmers report they leave combines in a field on land they are farming where there is no one residing. Finished with their own combining, they return to get the equipment a week or so later and find tools or others report the tractors and other machinery are left in fields away from sight of the farm homes. When they go back, someone has been there and removed what they wanted, often leaving larger and more valuable equipment but taking things that can be picked up and carried off without too much trouble.

Sheriff's department officers are urging farmers not to leave loose items with machinery on vacant farms or in fields away from the farm house. Any one losing items and not reporting them yet, should notify the sheriff's department as each bit of information could help in solving the series of thefts.

WS Enrollment Near 3,000

Enrollment at Wayne State College Friday reached 2,939 students, Registrar Stanley Willis said. A few more are expected to register.

The total is 249 higher than fall-term enrollment a year ago. Dr. Willis said an increase in transfer students and in evening class students accounted for part of the gain. There may also be greater retention of students from last year, he said.

Ten years ago Wayne enrollment was 1,038 and 17 years ago it was 697.

WSC Gets Building Priority

Wayne State College has received a No. 1 priority for federal aid on construction expected to be allocated to Nebraska colleges.

This priority came from the Nebraska Commission for Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963, which met Wednesday in Lincoln. Although Congress has not yet appropriated funds to implement this act for the fiscal year, the commission has been advised that the fund, when approved, likely will give Nebraska about $1,400,000.

Wayne State received top priority for a full $700,000 grant from the funds. This sum will augment a legislative allotment to Wayne which will construct a new science building, an addition to the library, and major renovation of the Main Building.

WSC officials plan to use $500,000 of the federal money to go with $1,000,000 state money for the science building, and $200,000 federal aid with $800,000 state money for the library addition.

Preliminary plans for the science building propose a structure of about 60,000 square feet, to be located a block east of the Student Center. It will house classrooms, laboratories, research facilities, and offices for the sciences and mathematics. Also planned: an observatory and planetarium.

The library addition will double present space, provide 200 more seats for students (there are 300 now), and allow stacking of 50,000 more books.

More significant, the library addition will house the first electronics learning facilities among state colleges, closed circuit television, and space for numerous technical services.

It is hoped that construction will begin next spring. Dr. Gordon Shupe of Wayne, a member of the commission, said priorities for allotting the expected federal funds were compiled by an extensive formula. It included factors such as college enrollment, growth, and facilities.

Four other Nebraska institutions received priorities, in this order: Chadron State, University of Omaha, Kearney State College, and University of Nebraska.

Area Unit Services Started

Harry Mills, administrator of Education Service Unit 1, reports services are being rendered in the six counties in the district. In his first report he revealed the names of the workers and where they are assigned.

Speech therapists have worked in Verdigris, Ponca, Newcastle, Walthill, Pender, Allen, South Sioux City, Niobrara and Randolph the past two weeks. Cooperation from administrators, teachers and superintendents has been excellent, Mills said.

Therapists found speech and hearing problems in about 10 per cent of the pupils tested. It will be some time before a definite ratio of pupils with speech and hearing defects can be set, however.

Raymond Ernster is speech therapist for Wayne, Winside, Laurel, Cole-ridge, Randolph and Randolph St. Francis; Kent Gerlach for South Sioux City and Homer; Mrs. Ronald Johnson for Wausa, Bloomfield, Creighton, Creighton St. Judger's, Verdigris and Niobrara.

Mrs. Ronald Beckman for Allen, Wakefield, Pender, Emerson, Emerson Sacred Heart, Walthill, Winnebago and Rosalie; and Floanne Hadd for Ponca, Newcastle, Wynot, Obert, Maskell, Crofton, Hartington and Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Therapists will also test pupils in rural schools but it will take some time to complete testing in assigned schools. In all cases, the speech therapists will arrange with the county superintendents in rural K-8 schools on Fridays.

Where schools are small, the district will bring the pupils to a central location for testing. Schools with 70 pupils or more will be visited by the therapists on a schedule arranged by the county superintendents.

Mills reports school nurses have visited all K-12 systems in the unit and have made arrangements most places to work with the schools in giving physical examinations. Where schools have hired doctors, nurses have arranged to help.

Schools not hiring doctors will have the school nurses examine eyes, ears, nose and throat. Her schedule will follow the same rule therapists use for the small and large schools, working through county superintendents.

Spook Speaks

One of the wedding reports came to The Herald, complete in every detail except one. The bride-to-be had made out the report, the only bit of information left out being the name of the bridegroom!

A Wayne girl has two Siamese cats. Within a few weeks of each other they gave birth to kittens, five to each litter. The greedy mother cats kept stealing the other cat's kittens but the dilemma has been solved with one cat family in the basement and one on the second floor of the house. The mother cats never miss a chance to sneak out and try to "kidnap" another kitten if someone leaves a door open.

With antelope hunting season approaching, Wayne hunters were discussing the experience in Western Nebraska last year. An antelope had been hit but not downed. Unable to get over or under a fence, it was trapped and the hunter wanted to end its misery. With nothing else available, he used a frying pan to hit it over the head. Later the hunters asked a nearby farm resident if they could hunt antelope on his place. The farmer replied something like this: "Sure, but I'll be sure never see one bagged like I did. I saw a hunter bag an antelope with a frying pan!"

What Will My Husband Say Tonight?

"I have gone home many times from the drawing and told my husband 'Guess what, I won the money!' Now what will he say tonight when I go home and tell him that?" Those are approximately the words of a Silver Dollar Night Drawing winner Thursday.

Mrs. Mike Smith, 106 S. Sherman, won $400. She was at Wittig's Super Valu store at 8 p.m. when her name was announced.

According to Mrs. Smith, she has been doing her shopping Thursday evenings since coming to Wayne 3 1/2 years ago from Lyons. Her husband is ser-

Board Approves New Restaurant in Wayne

The five-man board of adjustment met Thursday night to consider the application of Larson & Jipp, for a restaurant at Seventh and Main. A vote gave approval to the application.

According to the members, the vote approved the building permit as applied for. There had been some discussion concerning it and a meeting was held earlier at which time, arguments for and against the restaurant were heard.

It is not known when the restaurant will be built. A $35,000 "Little Duffer" is planned on the northwest corner of the intersection. Other restaurants by the name are operating in Blair and other cities.

WSC Name Omitted

A story in Thursday's Herald reporting the graduate assistants at Wayne State College omitted one name. Lawrence Jones, a graduate of WSC, is a graduate assistant in industrial arts.

Carroll Postmaster Named on Committee

Postmaster John Rethwisch, Carroll, has been named on the publicity committee for the National Association of Postmasters convention. He is the only postmaster from this part of the state on a committee and one of few named from Nebraska.

Rethwisch was named by James O'Toole, national president of the organization, who lives in Sharon, Pa. The postmasters are preparing for the Oct. 4-10 convention when 4,000 are expected in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The postmasters attend at their own expense. Those going from this area include Mr. and Mrs. Jean Boyd, Winside, and Mr. and Mrs. Rethwisch.

Wayne Site of Meet Regarding State Aid

Wayne is the site of one of 14 meetings scheduled throughout the state to explain state aid education. A new law was enacted by the 1967 legislature.

The Wayne meeting will be Monday, Sept. 18. Columbus and Plainview are the other two area meetings nearest here.

Slides and report forms will explain how to apply for state aid under the law which provides payments to school districts in December of 1968. This will be the first half of the payments, the other half to come in April of 1969.

The new law aims at helping relatively poor school districts to provide minimum programs for public school pupils. It also makes payment based on average daily school membership plus incentive and summer school aid.

Housing Verdict Tuesday

Wayne voters will go to the polls Tuesday, Sept. 19, to decide whether or not to allow a housing authority to be established. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The usual polling places will be in use. Ward 1 voters will cast ballots at the fire hall, Ward 2 at the library and Ward 3 at the courthouse.

Appearing on the ballot will be this wording: "Shall the City of Wayne be permitted to cooperate with and aid a Housing Authority in planning, undertaking construction and operation of housing projects for the elderly and families of low income?" The vote is either

"Yes" or "No."

Wayne City Council appointed five men to a housing authority for Wayne. These five decided there was enough interest in such a project to warrant asking the city council to call the election.

Attorney Budd Bornhoff, a member of the authority, was asked to appear for the group at a council meeting to ask that an election be scheduled. The council then set the election Sept. 19.

Members of the housing authority are George Thorbeck, Robert Lund, Rev. Frank Pedersen, William Eynon and Dale Johansen. Any of them will answer questions coming from Wayne residents in regard to the vote, the project or any phase of the issue.

There is no set number of housing units decided upon nor will there be unity and if a housing authority is given the "go ahead" by the voters, a housing authority would also have to decide who would be eligible and where residents could come from. No local bonds or tax levy changes are included.

A series of articles has appeared in The Herald covering the proposal as presented in questions and answers regarding housing projects in general and one here in particular. The paper itself has not taken an editorial stand on the proposal.

There are some who have expressed opposition. Others have expressed approval and have been waiting for a vote favoring passage.

If the final vote is "No" by a simple majority, the issue will be dropped. If the vote is "Yes" by a simple majority, the council can go ahead, authorize a study of the actual interest and needs, decide how many would like to live in such units and cure land upon which to erect them.

Voters are expected to turn out in large numbers. There is considerable interest and as the voting date draws nearer, activity both for and against is expected to become more intense.

AREA BOOSTERS for a better Highway 15 posed beside a pickup with a message before leaving for Lincoln Friday. They figure "for a few dollars more" they can get the road smoothed. Delegates included Chelmer Wilkerson, Coleridge; Bob Sherry, E. J. Hughes, James Kirchner and Jerry-Mortingale, Concord; Charles Paulsen, Don Sherry, Glenn Marton and E. C. Huddleston, Laurel; and Ted Armbruster, Harold Kemble, Don Reed, Bud Froehlich and Al Schmode, Wayne. Rowan Wiltsie was the group in Lincoln. They carried letters from business places and people that use the highway, stressing the need for highway improvement now.

Almost 350 farmers attended the agronomy field day Wednesday, Sept. 13. Supt. Cal Ward said the rain the evening and morning prior to the event probably helped attendance.

Many farmers were having but found fields too wet so went to Concord for the day. Counting those who registered and the known average on each trip around the various sites, the estimate on attendance was made.

Bob Roselle, extension entomologist, discussed corn rootworm control methods. Root damage and standability of corn treated with eight different chemicals could be seen. Variations in effectiveness of control was obvious.

When and how much nitrogen should be applied for corn was discussed by Dr. Don Sander, agronomist. Farmers observed a See FIELD DAY, Page 3

Carroll Gets Street Work

A $5,000 street improvement program was completed the past week in Carroll. While the amount does not sound overwhelming, it provided considerable improvement.

Mayor Perry Johnson reported about one-half the streets in town are now surfaced with armor coating. This does not include Main Street, which has brick surfacing that appears to be good for another thousand years or so.

Johns on Construction Co., Randolph, did the surfacing work. Crew men followed up Bill Helmers, Sholes, who did the

Residents Support Calf Sale

Another Wayne County 4-H calf sale was held Wednesday night at the Wayne Sales Co. As in the past, area business and professional people supported the sale by purchasing calves.

The 4-H members were allowed to sell calves that were shown at the county fair. Others, who did not show and sell individual calves, were allowed to enter pens of five calves.

County Agent Harold Ingalls reportedly was well-pleased with the sale. The young owners of the entries also seemed satisfied.

Wayne Sales Co. donated its facilities for the sale as usual and auctioneers from the area did the selling. Auctioneers were Tom Hughes, Jim Troutman, Orville Lage, Stan Bajer and Ivan Nison.

He is now wearing a cast from his hand to his elbow. His physician expects him to be wearing it for six weeks.

Town board members were generous in praise of the work of the Helmers and Johnson crews. It appears that the work done has resulted in Carroll streets being in the best condition in years.

Flames Destroy Barn Near Carroll

"It was one big ball of fire when I saw it." That's the way Don Bodenstedt, Carroll described the early-morning fire that burned the barn on the Bodenstedt farm to the ground Saturday.

Bodenstedt, who farms 6 1/2 miles northwest of Carroll, shares the home with his mother. He said he first saw the flames at 1:30 a.m. and called Carroll's fire department at once. Help was also summoned from Randolph's fire department.

The fire had been going too long and with 700 bales of hay inside, there was plenty to burn. There was some milking equipment inside also but nothing else burned. Bodenstedt said the one door had been left open so calves could go in but he thought none of them were inside at the time.

Flames leaped so high they lit up the sky. One farmer returning to the area reported he could see the fire as far away as the Highway 29-116 junction north of Dixon.

Heat was intense, buckling the shingles and scorching the sides of a corn crib 30 yards away from the barn. Firemen were kept at a distance until they could get the flames under control.

Carroll firemen stayed until later in the morning to see that there was no further danger. The barn itself was gone less than an hour after the alarm was turned in but the hay continued to blaze away for hours.

Farmers in the area turned out to offer their help. Their wives came along to serve coffee and food to the fire-fighters.

Explorer Scouts to Help Other Groups

Wayne Explorer Scouts are active again for the fall and winter season. One of their aims is to give assistance to other groups that need help on projects.

Any organizations wanting help can contact the Explorers by calling 375-1487. Rocco Marr is the president of the post and that is his number.

Of interest to members is the main project of the post, automobile mechanics. The Explorers will have several projects, all coming under this general heading.

In the first place, most of the boys do not have their own cars but want to learn about keeping them in good shape, so they will work on building a car of their own. They will pick up spare parts wherever offered and will try to build a working model.

Secondly, once the car is built, they will learn how mechanics take care of cars so they can do some of the tuning and other jobs. Anyone having car parts they don't want, will find the Explorers ready to pick them up.

Finally, they want to earn merit badges. A number are near the Eagle Scout rank and the post will do all it can to get these boys to the top rank.

Veterans' Advice on Many Matters Given

Chris Bargholz, veterans service officer for Wayne County, has advice for vets on several matters. Information is gained from answers given to questions coming to the VA.

One had a loan on a 30-day NSLI policy and wanted to make an additional loan on it. He was informed the amount borrowed is limited to 94 per cent of the present cash value, an additional loan may be secured as long as the two together do not exceed 94 per cent of cash value.

Another asks what a funding fee is in regards to a home being purchased with a GI loan. This funding fee applies to vets eligible for loans arising out of military service performed since Jan. 31, 1955. The fee is one-half of one per cent of the loan which is paid to the lender, who then submits it to the VA. A widow applied for the proceeds from her husband's NSLI policy following his death. She found he had not changed the name of the beneficiary on his policy so she would not get the insurance money unless the one named on the policy recognizes the unfairness of the situation and assigns all or part of proceeds to her. Bargholz therefore urges vets to make sure beneficiary designations are up to date.

Winside Driving Course 'Sold Out'

Winside should soon be a safer place to drive. The defensive driving course being sponsored by the Winside Community Club has been a "sell out" for several weeks.

Fred Brader, chairman for the WCC on this project, reports 35 signed up, which is about the number recommended. However, he has had numerous calls from others wanting to take the course and has told them they can get in only if someone who has signed up fails to show or another course is organized.

Trooper James O'Dell of the Nebraska State Patrol will teach the class. He will have at his disposal the latest films, pictures and other devices for use in such courses.

The classes start Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m. and will be held the following Tuesdays, Sept. 26, Oct. 3 and Oct. 10. All sessions will be at the high school.

Dr. Laren Robinson, weed control specialist, conducted a session on pre-plant chemical weed control of corn, sorghum and soybeans. Differences in chemical effectiveness was evident in corn and sorghum but soybean chemical weed control was less effective due to early season flooding.

New soybean varieties were shown by Dr. Lester Leininger, agronomist. Several new soybean varieties appear promising for the area.

Row spacing and plant populations of corn, sorghum and soybeans were discussed by Gene Schwartz, agronomist, while farmers looked at row spacing varying from 7 inches to 40 inches.

Farmers observed 63 outstate testing forage and grain sorghum hybrids. Ulverd Alexander, agronomist, discussed methods of testing and previous years' yield results.

Final tour stop involved grain drying and harvesting equipment. E. A. Olson and Delbert Lane, agricultural engineers, showed minimum-till, narrow-row equipment used from land preparation in the spring to harvest and storage in the fall.

Final yield results on the Concord station field experiments will be available to farmers later this fall. Results are to be published in NJ outstate testing circulars and progress reports of Ulverd Alexander and Gene Schwartz.

(Continued from page 1) rural pupils must be examined by a doctor or nurse. He said his office has been flooded with calls and letters in regard to this service, and advises all that it will just take time since every child has to be tested this year.

Art, reading and testing consultants have worked in Bloomfield, Verdigris, Niobrara, Homer, Winnebago and Washburn. Next week they will be in the Creighton-Wausa area.

Basically they have been working in elementary schools but will work in junior and senior high schools if administrators request this service. The problem is, there are more calls for service than can possibly be filled at this time, the demand being greater than anticipated.

Mills said the workers plan to visit all K-12 systems by the first of November. Arrangements have been made with county superintendents for workshops with rural teachers. Consultants hope to visit each school at least three times a year.

LYNN LESSMANN was driving for the goal line in Friday night's 38-19 victory over Wisner when this picture was taken. Quarterback Dave Tietgen (10) made a key block in setting up one of the Blue Devils' touchdowns. Lessmann didn't cross the goal line on this run but on the next play from scrimmage he dove one yard for the TD.

Wayne Ends 6-Year Wisner Reign With 38-19 Victory

Coach Allen Hansen's Wayne High Blue Devils ended a 6-year Wisner dynasty Friday night with a convincing 38-19 victory on the Bulldogs' home field. The last time Wayne outscored Wisner was in 1960 when the Blue and White won 20-13.

Wisner scored the first touchdown of the evening with 6:09 remaining in the first quarter when they intercepted a Blue Devil pass and moved 42 yards in five plays. Wayne linemen Harry Lindner and Lavern Brown stopped the extra point attempt.

Dan Sutherland plunged across the goal line from the three yard line in the second quarter for Wayne's first touchdown. The TD capped a 36 yard drive which began on the Blue Devils' own four yard line in the first quarter. Gordie Jorgensen's PAT attempt was kicked wide and with 7:15 remaining in the first half the teams were tied 6-6.

Wayne broke the tie with less than a minute left in the half when Sutherland again scored from the three. The drive began on Wayne's 20 when a Bull-dog punt sailed into the end zone. This time Jorgensen's extra point kick (with Dan Skokan holding) was good and the Blue Devils led 13-6. Wisner was unable to score following Jerry Titse's kickoff and the half ended with Wayne leading by seven points. Another touchdown was added to Wayne's score in the third quarter when the Blue Devils drove 72 yards in nine plays. The drive ended with a 16-yard touchdown pass from quarter-back Dave Tietgen to Gordie Jorgensen. The extra point attempt failed but with 7:34 remaining in the third stanza Wayne led 19-6.

Dave Brown set up Wayne's fourth touchdown when he intercepted a pass on Wisner's 30 and carried it to the nine yard line before he was pushed out of bounds. Three plays later junior lineman Bernie Binger recovered a fumble in the end zone for the TD. Again the extra point attempt failed but with 5:39 left in the third quarter the Blue Devils held a comfortable 25-6 lead.

An unusual play gave Wisner its second touchdown with 10:24 remaining in the game when a Bulldog lineman picked up a loose ball in the Wayne backfield and scampered 86 yards to the goal line. The extra point was good, making the score 25-13.

A one-yard drive by Lynn Lessmann added six more points to the Blue Devils score with 8:17 left in the game. The touchdown was the result of a drive which began with Gordie Jorgensen's 25-yard kickoff return. Jorgensen's PAT kick went through the uprights and the score was 32-13.

Wisner's final touchdown was scored with 1:37 remaining in the game when the Bulldogs drove 68 yards in ten plays. The extra point attempt failed and the Blue Devils held a 38-19 lead as time ran out.

Leading ground gainers for Wayne were Lynn Lessmann (17 carries—120 yards), Dan Sutherland (12 carries—50 yards) and Randy Helgren (9 carries—47 yards). Dave Tietgen completed eight passes for 103 yards and Helgren connected on four passes for 77 yards. Gordie Jorgensen caught six passes for 67 yards, Lynn Lessmann caught two passes for 34 yards and Steve Herl caught one pass for 32 yards.

Blue Devil defensive leaders were Harry Lindner (10 tackles—1 assist), Keith Warrtelman (6 tackles—3 assists) and Lavern Brown and Dan Sutherland with four tackles and three assists apiece.

This Friday night (Sept. 22) will find Wayne hosting Neligh at the Wayne State College Stadium. Gametime is 7:30.

the score was 32-19. With only eight seconds left in the game, reserve quarterback Randy Helgren scored a touchdown from the two yard line. The TD capped a drive which began on Wayne's own 36. The extra point attempt failed but the Blue Devils held a 38-

Allen's Long Runs Beat Winside

Two long touchdown runs sparked Allen to a 14-7 win over Winside Friday night on the AHS gridiron. The Eagles scored TD's on runs of 64 yards by Kevin Hill and 53 yards by Alan Smith.

This coming Friday Winside travels to Hartington, hoping to break a two-game losing streak. The same night Allen plays Ponca on the AHS field, hoping to extend a two-game winning skid.

It took the Coach Leroy Wiley's Allen team just three plays to score after receiving the opening kickoff, Bob Wacker kicked to the 14 and Craig Schultz returned to the 27. Jim Ellis gained 3, Schultz 6 and Hill broke loose for 64 yards and a TD. Alan Smith carried for the extra point and Allen led 7-0.

The two teams traded yardage into the second stanza. Smith kicked out on the 40, Keith Wacker went for 1 for WHS, Roy Wagner 4, Randy Jacobsen 9, K. Wacker 5 and 38 yards to have a 15-yard penalty nullify the long run. ## Wayne Frosh in Win Over Pierce

Wayne Freshmen opened their football season on Thursday afternoon with a 19-7 win over Pierce on the PHS field. Coach Ron Carnes takes his squad to Laurel next Thursday for a 4 p.m. game.

Pierce scored the first time it got the ball, Charles Schwank going 19 yards. Schwank was the leading ground-gainer all afternoon for Pierce. Wayne had received the kickoff, gained only 4 yards (Dwight Clatanoff carrying) and had to kick. Steve Pennington threw Pierce for a two-yard loss but that only slowed the TD drive a little. The pat gave Pierce a 7-0 lead.

Clatanoff received the kickoff on the 23, returning to the 37. Dick Tietgen passed to Clatanoff for 31 and carried for 2. The locals were thrown back twice and Clatanoff kicked to the 17.

Two plays later the host team fumbled, Mike Creighton recovering on the 33. Clatanoff went 13, Tietgen passed to Clatanoff for 18 and Clatanoff went over. A pass for extra point was no good and Wayne trailed 7-6. Clatanoff kicked off, Pierce made a first down, passed and Clatanoff intercepted, racing 60 yards untouched for a touchdown. A pass for PAT was no good, but Wayne led 12-7. Clatanoff kicked to the 20, Breck Giese threw a vicious tackle and the ball carrier fumbled, Paul Craig recovering on the 32.

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Monday, September 18, 1967 5

Tietgen passed to Clatanoff for 8, Creighton went 6, Clatanoff 2, Tietgen passed to Don Mau for 4 and Pierce held. Mau threw Pierce back 2 yards, forcing a kick. Tietgen passed to Mau for 5, Creighton went 16 and Tietgen passed to Clatanoff for 23 yards and a TD. Creighton went around end for an extra point and it was 14-7 in favor of Wayne. Lynn Gunderson kicked to the 19. The half ended before Pierce could get going.

The second half was seen. Gunderson kicked to the 29. Rod Cook threw a 2-yard loss and Pierce had to kick. Clatanoff recovering on the 27 and returning to the Pierce 48. Clatanoff went 17, Creighton 2 and 3, Tietgen passed to Mau for 5, Pierce intercepted and that drive ended.

Craig Johnson threw a 6-yard loss and Pierce kicked. Creighton gained 3, Tietgen passed to Mau for 8, Clatanoff gained 2 and Pierce forced a kick. Charles Weible threw a 10-yard loss and Pierce had to kick. Creighton went 2 and Wayne had to kick. Steve Kamish threw Pierce back 2 and Pierce punted. Kamish gained 2, Pierce held and Wayne punted. Pierce gained 32 yards in five plays before Kamish threw them back 6 yards and the game was over. Wayne led in first downs 4-1, in yards gained 161-83, in pass completions, 8 out of 12 compared to 1 out of 3. Pierce was penalized 15 yards, Wayne 5.

Youth Breaks Leg in Recreation Football

One of the few injuries of consequence in recreation football in Wayne occurred the past week. John Meyer, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Meyer, broke his leg.

Young Meyer was carrying the ball in practice at the baseball diamond. He was tackled hard, went down hard and his left leg was broken just above the ankle.

He is scheduled to have the bone set and a cast put on the leg the first of this week. Insurance carried on the city recreation program will help with costs.

Vote NO September 19

ARE YOU GOING TO SIGN A BLANK CHECK FOR LOW INCOME HOUSING?

Your local Housing Authority cannot tell you how many units of housing will be built, how much they will cost, what the eligibility requirements for residency will be, yet they ask you to vote in favor of something they or you know very little about.

CAN YOU REALLY GET SOMETHING FOR NOTHING?

Low Income Housing is proposed for Wayne on the premise and promise that no expenditure of cash or taxes is required of Wayne and in all probability the repayment of indebtedness will never be required, the Federal Government will write this off, only a small interest payment will be required. We will all pay for the cost of these units in the taxes we pay to the Federal Government, mainly as income tax. You cannot get something for nothing.

DO YOU WANT TO APPROVE AN ENTERPRISE THAT IS RELATIVELY TAX FREE?

In lieu of taxes the Housing Authority will pay to the county, city and school, 10% of a low shelter rent (does not include the part of rent paid for utilities). This will be but a fraction of the tax you will pay on a similar valuation. Do you want to help pay someone else's tax? Your own taxes will have to be higher to help pay the load.

IS THERE A NEED FOR LOW INCOME HOUSING IN THE WAYNE COMMUNITY?

There has been considerable question in the minds of many taxpayers as to whether or not there are very many people in and around Wayne who are now living in sub-standard housing. The Wayne Housing Authority has not presented evidence that such a housing project is needed here.

Nurse, 82, Has Inspiring Story for Those Who Drop Out of School Now

A school "dropout" at the turn of the century has some inspiration for those who are dropouts (with a different connotation) today. She dropped out because there was no other choice, a contrast to those who drop out now but could go on through school.

Sophie Wieland, now at Dahl's Retirement Center recuperating from a hip injury, had to drop out of school at the age of 14. So determined was she not to stop with education there, she went on to study when she could, pay her own way and gain the rank of "registered nurse." She succeeded at the age of 39.

Her life story starts Apr. 17, 1885, when she was born to Wilhelm and Katherine Wieland, the fourth child in the family residing on the east half of the southeast quarter of Section 9, Plum Creek Precinct, Range 25-4 East, Wayne County. She recalls her father breaking the sod in the early days, she and her brother following along to find "Indian turnips" and open by the plowshare. They were considered a delicacy and were divided equally.

Right here it should be pointed out that all of this description seems pretty detailed. However, that is the way she remembers it.

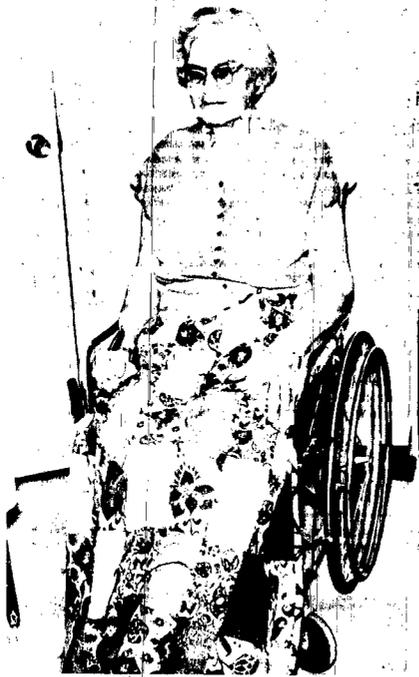

In a display of remarkable memory and a steady hand, she jotted down some of her memoirs during the last few weeks, her memory and writing being her 82 years.

At the age of 6 she started school at District 34, transferring at age 12 to Trinity Evangelical School one-half mile east of Altona. She received religious instruction there preceding her confirmation at the age of 14.

Her education was considered complete then. In those days, few went on to college and many had grade school education, and that is all.

For several years, Miss Wieland helped out in neighborhood homes to earn money at the rate of $2 a week. In February, 1909, her parents and family moved to Edmond, Okla., where there was a state normal college. Still, it was not feasible for her to go to school then so she took a three-month dress-making course. In December, 1909, the family moved back to Nebraska. Dress-making provided income for several years.

March 2, 1910, the Wielands moved into Wayne but Sophie stayed on the farm. She kept house for her brother, William Wie-

SOPHIE WIELAND, recuperating from a hip injury, recalls the days when she worked for $2 a week, decided at 31 to become a registered nurse and eight years later made it land, for years, and when he was married Aug. 19, 1919, Sophie moved to Wayne.

The turning point of her life had come in February, 1916, when she was sent to Omaha to have an operation on her eyes (she even remembers the doctors' names). In Methodist Hospital her desire to become a nurse was born. She loved the nurse who cared for her for 1 1/2 days while she was blindfolded. Sophie said she would always remember how kind that nurse was in bathing, feeding and helping her.

After she returned home, she wrote Methodist Hospital to ask the superintendent of nurses what she had to do to become a nurse. Hopes fell when the reply came that she needed at least a year of high school in order to enter training to become a nurse.

By then she was 31 so she did not try to go back to high school. Instead she was so determined to become a nurse she answered an ad in a magazine offering a correspondence course in nursing at $5 a month for 12 months.

Money was scarce so Sophie picked corn all fall and earned $75.75. She sent in the money for a full course and had some money left over for uniforms.

But it was not so easy even then. She became sick in the fall of 1917 and could not keep up with the course. She was sick almost every night and picked corn all day. In March, 1918, she went to Rochester, Minn., for two major operations.

This took money but it helped her back to health and she returned to her correspondence course, finally finishing and earning the rating of "Practical Nurse." She then went to work caring for mothers and babies for $5 a day—24 hour days.

After several years, her desire to become an RN remained strong and with money saved, she went to Chicago's West End Hospital to take nurse's training. She graduated June 26, 1924, and later that year received a diploma.

Sinus infection caught up with her right then. So sick was Sophie, she could not go on, after taking her final exams for nursing school. She recalls studying for the exams "holding my poor head with one hand and writing with the other."

Unable to bear it any longer, she submitted to surgery, the doctor operating on one side of her head one week and two weeks later operating on the other side. After many doctor calls, she returned home Feb. 19, 1925.

Now she was ready to take state board exams. She returned to Chicago to study for the qualifying exams. She passed. Ready for life as a nurse, her plans were again thwarted as tonsil infection set in. Dec. 18, 1925, she had them removed. She remained in Chicago until August, 1926, and then returned home to Wayne.

Since then she worked at Bentback Clinic and for others until her retirement, Dec. 15, 1952. She has had four bone fractures since that time, the last being a hip fracture, which she describes as "the most trying one of all."

Miss Wieland has been remembered by former patients who have come from miles around. She says she has heard people say they were praying for someone, and she knows what it means since after her latest mishap she was in so much pain and under so much anesthesia she could not pray for herself.

able to get around now in a wheel chair; she stays alert and loves visitors. Her remarkable memory is matched by her personable ways and her love of life. It has been an eventful 82-year-period for her.

no matter how many obstacles appear in their paths. An education was worth the efforts she had to make and she thinks one will always prove worth extra effort by others.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

On Low Rent Housing

Tomorrow (Tuesday, Sept. 19) Wayne voters will decide whether or not their Housing Commission will be directed to "plan, undertake, construct and operate" a housing project for "the elderly and families of low income."

The Wayne Herald invites its readers to consider several serious questions before they go to the polls. The writer cannot decide himself how to vote. Some of the questions that each voter must answer for himself are listed.

1. Is there a need or are we asking for the money just because it is available?
2. Are we inviting people to be slothful and not look toward their own future and prepare for it?
3. Is an architect's fee of nearly $60,000 on a million dollar project excessive?

4. The government agency admits the project cannot support itself. Is this consistent with our American beliefs, or another step toward the Welfare State?

5. Will local apartment investors, home owners, builders and contractors, be hurt by the project—and if so would the damage be significant?

No person, no newspaper, no government agency can tell you how to vote on this issue. Matters of personal political philosophy may conflict with a sense of duty to our aged and needy. Consider the questions carefully when at the polls. If the majority of Wayne voters vote contrary to your opinion, be sure that at least you have expressed it where it counts—the voting booth.—AC.

In Praise of Teachers

This old world is hard to figure out. For generations now the teachers of the world have been trying hard to get better working conditions, better pay, better assurance of some support in the future and better relations with the public.

So what happens. So they strike. Not in Wayne, Sholes or Randolph, but in Detroit, New York and other cities.

What a time to offer a word of praise for teachers, but that's what we're going to do. We're admirers of teachers in general and area teachers in particular.

We like the dedication teachers have in the rural schools as well as those in Sholes, Dixon, Concord, Carroll, Hoskins, Allen, Winslow and Wayne. We do not expect them to strike, and they probably do not have any intentions of striking.

No doubt they are disturbed by the actions of their fellow instructors in the big city. Certainly we would be embarrassed by our co-citizens if they conducted themselves in such a manner.

The fact that the teachers are striking is bad enough, giving an indication that they just have jobs and that is all they really care about. What hurts is their actions, often more despicable than some of the pupils they instruct. If pupils threw the type of tantrums some teachers have, they would be disciplined in most cases.

Teachers who conduct themselves in a manner unbecoming their rank will lose the respect of the public, their fellow teachers and more important, the respect of the pupils themselves. Once lost, it may be difficult to regain.

The actions of the teachers in other places have given people of this area more reason than ever to be grateful for the type of individuals we have in our schools. Teachers spend more time each day with young people than the parents do so it is important that the teachers be capable.

Growing up used to be a time when teachers were looked upon with some admiration and respect, thoughts even wandering to the idea of becoming teachers some day. It is still that way around here, but sadly enough, the scene can be changing in some of the cities where teachers have shown a lack of care and consideration in their tactics.

Just when we need the assistance of teachers the most in helping to shape a world that is getting a little out of kilter, the teachers in some areas lose face and we lose faith. Thank goodness for the majority, true to their calling. May no large segments of other professions ever wander so far from the code of ethics and good taste.—CFG.

Lawrence Welk, a Square

Let's face it, Lawrence Welk is not the most popular orchestra leader in America today. In fact, teenagers complained about the recent state fair because he is "the leader of the squares."

To any teenagers who agreed, we might cite the record-breaking attendance at this year's state fair. We might also point out that for the first time in many years the grandstand could not hold all the people who wanted to attend the stage show so standees were allowed.

As far as many of us are concerned, "square" is a complimentary term. We can name a lot of non-squares, such as The Beatles, Herman's Hermits, Stokely Carmichael, Rap Brown, the draft dodgers running to Canada, the hippies, the teenie-boppers and many more.

Welk deserves a lot of credit. Coming from a town of 612 people, Strasburg, N. D., he has remained "small-townish" and has never forgotten his old home town. Few other famous people are so thoughtful in remembering that they once lived in a small town and life not only could be but was beautiful.

How many famous people would be considerate enough to walk down the aisle at the fair and thrill a smalltown Wayne, Nebr., housewife by asking her to dance? Not many, but Mrs. Floyd Sullivan and others know the thrill and thoughtfulness of a down-to-earth human being who remembers that he may be a celebrity but he is still just a human being.

Lawrence Welk has outlasted many of his critics. His show is one of the long-running highlights of television and his popularity has grown while non-squares have come and gone in a twinkling of an eye.

The world would be better off with more squares. In fact, it seems the trouble-makers are among those who may be well-rounded but they often scream loudest, condemn most often and are least prepared to do anything about the wrongs that do need righting.

One final plug for Welk. He is admired by a lot of people who watch his program and like to hear his music. Years from now his music will still be enjoyed. But these too-loud combos are another thing. They may be injuring the eardrums of the young so in a few years they won't be able to hear anything, not even Lawrence Welk.

He'll still be around, even though he's a square.—CFG.

"IF THE SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES MY PLAN, IT MAY WELL BE YOU WILL HAVE LONGER VACATIONS AND A SHORTER WORK WEEK."

always carried for emergencies, chopped down the willows, got the team out, hitched on the rig again, and... reached the station on time.

Streeter decided to enroll in the Methodist University in York. He continues: "I paid a six month feed bill in advance for my horse, rented a room for myself, with fuel and light furnished, where I could do my own cooking, paying six months rent. I purchased the following articles of food with the idea of having just enough to last until the last day of school: 185 bread tickets, 185 milk tickets, good for one quart each; a 100 pound barrel of oat meal; 100 pounds of sugar; 200 pounds of potatoes; and a $10.00 coupon book. The hundred pounds of sugar was mostly for my horse. I visited him frequently, and always took him some bread and sugar or a bottle of beer, of which he was very fond, and for which he never forgot to thank me in his horse language.

By going to a haberdashery I found what the college boys were wearing and outfitted myself with appropriate clothes. These included, among other things, a tall, silk hat, a swallow-tailed coat and white spats... Sometimes I would look in the mirror and indulge in a good laugh at myself....

"I took part in most of the sports, and excelled in the broad jump and wrestling, but would have nothing to do with football. It was too rough a game for me... for up to that time I had never done anything more dangerous than fighting a mad bull, twisting a wild steer down by the horns (bulldozing), or riding an outlaw horse. So I was afraid I would not be able to hold my own in a football skirmish."

Backing Up Mishaps Checked by Officers

Two traffic accidents were investigated the first of last week by Wayne police officers. Both involved cars that were backing up.

The first occurred Sept. 11 at the Sav-Mor and Arnie's parking lot and was investigated by Officer Melvin Lamb, Dennis Beckman, Wayne, was backing a car owned by his father, Russell Beckman, and struck the side of a car owned by Roger Johanson, Ponca.

In the 600 block on Pearl St. Sept. 13, Sgt. Keith Reed investigated an accident. John Krause, Plainview, had stopped at a stop sign and then backed up to clear the crosswalk. He backed into the car of Ella Cooper, Wakefield, who had stopped behind him.

Here in Nebraska, where winter is really winter, gas heat heats best.

In Nebraska, when we talk about cold it could mean zero, 10 below, 20 below, 30 below, or more, and that biting wind howling out of the North can make it seem lots colder. It takes a lot of man to stand up to cold like that. And, it takes a lot of heating system, too. That's why natural gas heating systems are the choice of more Nebraskans than any other heating system. So, for really dependable heat this winter, contact your local gas heating dealer or Peoples Natural Gas today.

- Gas heat heats best because:
- There are no fuel shortage worries with gas
  - There are no fuel storage worries with gas
  - A gas furnace has few moving parts to wear out or break down
  - A gas furnace circulates and cleans the air as it heats
  - A gas conversion burner usually takes less than one day to install
  - Gas is the most economical way to heat your home

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Wayne Herald—Sept. 19, 1907

Under an eight line "scare head" the Norfolk News, for Tuesday published the following article as special telegraphic news from Wayne. It's an excellent product of enterprising journalism: Wayne, Nebr., "No dancing for teachers during the school year," is the edict of his boss-ship, County Superintendent Littell, and great is the indignation thereat. Pretty school ma'ams, heretofore queens of the ball room, are so angry they cry about it, the beaux three for every school ma'am, are downcast, and those financially interested in the success of the dance vow vengeance. With the queens gone the cavilliers are missing and no dollars drop into the cash box from each of them. "I will not permit it," says Mr. Littell, and he means what he says. So it's no more two-steps, three-steps or waltzes for Alyss or Carryel and Charlie and George must do his wooing in the parlor and "There's always somebody hanging around." "I won't teach any more," says some of the school ma'ams and they act like they mean it. Unless this resolution is broken, enough old maids long resigned to their fate and indifferent to the thrill of the music, will have to be imported to fill the broken ranks and wield the rod in the future.

Two gangs of cement walk builders are having their hands full in Wayne at present. The amount of permanent walks that has been put in this season is surprising. A cement walk is recognized as a necessity and the property owner who has not improved his premises to this extent is behind the times.

While driving in for school Monday morning two of O. S. Gamble's children got the team mixed up with a cow while crossing the bridge south of town, with the result that the horses ran away and threw them from the buggy. The girl was hurt about the head while the boy complained of slight injuries.

The Remender boy experienced a severe jolt on last Sunday afternoon. He with a friend was riding horseback and in turning rather rapidly at the First National Bank, the horse stumbled and fell on the boy but he got up and went his way as though nothing had happened, receiving a few bruises. Congressman Boyd will be in Wayne Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3, arriving on the one o'clock train from Bloomfield. He desires to meet all having matters for his attention, especially old soldiers regarding their pension claims.

Quite a number of the country papers are raising their subscription prices to $1.50 and $2.00 per year, and with the present price of paper on which they are printed, and the increased price of labor, ink, machinery, etc., the country weekly is well worth it. We are just waiting to see what some of the other fellows do.

H. J. Paterson, a veterinary surgeon, has decided to locate in Carroll and will make his headquarters at the Stephen's liver barn. (Carroll News).

Several of the Wayne hunters have constructed a portable house for use on their expeditions at the reservation lakes in duck season.

If rapid and numerous changes in the business life of a town are a good sign, Carroll is surely the healthiest business community in the state. It is doubtful whether any other town in this section can approach Carroll's record in this respect. Last Monday a double header was turned out as the results of a trade, making two new firms under the likely title of Francis Bros., and Johnson, Beebe & Johnson. The implement, harness, flour and feed store, heretofore conducted by Johnson, Belford & Johnson, will pass into the hands of Frank and Burt Francis, while the general merchandise store of Beebe & Francis, will hereafter be conducted by Chas. Beebe, J. W. Johnson and Ed Johnson. The change in proprietorship takes place October 1 and invoice will be begun Monday while the implement, harness and feed business will be invoiced about November 1. All the parties involved in the deals are present residents of Carroll and well known to everybody. Here's hoping all concerned are well pleased with the change and that the public in general will be gainers as well. (Carroll News).

The Republicans met in Lincoln Tuesday and endorsed President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and the Republican delegation in congress.

Banker Tucker of Winfield was a Wayne visitor on Tuesday. While here he worked off some of his surplus avoirdupois at lawn tennis.

Editor Clossen, of Carroll, was in Wayne Monday on legal business. He combined business with pleasure by playing lawn tennis after business was over.

Preparing for College
The Library of the Nebraska State Historical Society contains several copies of "Nebraska Folklore," a publication of the Federal Writers' Project of the W. P. A. Number 19 of this series contains a reminiscence by George W. "Dad" Streeter of going to college in the 1880's. Streeter had begun to work in the early 1880's at the age of 14 as a freight-wagon driver, stage-coach driver, and cowboy. One of his stories about driving a stage-coach is as follows: "One day I had only one passenger, a large fat man, who became violently seasick from the swaying of the stage. Thinking fresh air might make him feel better, I invited him to on top of the stage with me. . . . All went well until we reached Break Neck Hill, which was a long steep grade going down to the White River near Fort Robinson. "As there was snow on the ground I knew my brake would not do any good, so I got out to put the rough-lock on and to my horror it wasn't there. It had probably been taken out for repairs and not put back. So I took the desperate chance of going down the hill without a brake. My wheelers, although a large powerful team, were not able to hold the heavy rig, so we found ourselves gaining speed every second. I was lashing the leaders with all my might to keep them out of the way, realizing that if the wheelers became tangled in the leaders' stretchers they would cause a pile up that would kill both the passenger and myself. My passenger, not realizing that, and thinking I was trying to scare him, made a grab for the lines. In defense I threw them on the horses backs. Then he tried to take the whip away from me, but that was useless, although he was much more, larger and stouter, because it took too much of his time and energy to keep from falling off the seat. We reached the bottom of the hill in safety, but right at the bottom was a small stream that was only partly frozen over, so when the front wheels went in, instead of rolling up over the ice they went under and held fast. The abrupt stop caused us both to sail through the air for about fifty feet. We landed without any serious injury. The horses broke loose from the stage and ran into a clump of willows. When the shock had subsided the willows straightened up, lifting the lead team off the ground. I got out my ax, which we

Among the dignitaries he has seen at rites in the ceremony are President Johnson, Vice President Humphrey, the king and queen of Thailand and the president of Iceland. Gomer Pyle was there for a movie and they saw him around quite a bit. Longe sent home an article telling of the all-black and all-white horses that pull the caissons for funerals, including three special black horses that are never ridden but carry boots of the deceased in stirrups backward. This is an honor reserved for presidents and few others. The article is too long to reprint here.

Feeder Cattle Will Move Later

Feeder cattle will move later than usual this fall and many a heavier weight because of plentiful feed in range areas, panelists concluded at the Northeast Livestock Feeders Outlook meeting in Laurel Sept. 11. A Bassett rancher indicated calves will be light because of the late pasture start but yearlings are in good condition since pastures "hardened up."

Walt Tolman, beef nutritionist at Northeast Station, reported on the meeting. He said auction market operators report the demand for feeders irregular. He attributed reluctance of buyers to dry weather and low cattle feeding returns.

Marvin Dunklau, Wayne, pointed out that unfavorable weather is a local condition. He said large supplies of roughage and grain will be available at lower prices than last year, nationwide, for cattle feeding.

Asking prices of 30 to 33 cents for calves were mentioned even though calf movement will not develop in volume for a few weeks. Uncertainties in feeder demand hinge on an early frost, trend of the fat cattle market and demand calves to use wheat pasture depending on fall moisture, Tolman said as panel moderator.

Eugene Munson, Norfolk PCA manager, reported good business outlook and probable strong consumer demand for beef. He forecast no credit shortage but predicted interest rates will remain near current levels.

About 150 feeders from

Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties were present. They expressed interest in pre-conditioned calves. Weaning, shipping fever vaccination and grub treatment can be done on ranches more economically, they believe. Ranchers explained the cost and shrink involved in these treatments and said sale prices would have to compensate for both.
