

Soil-Water Action Urged

This is the time of the year to apply soil and water conservation measures on your farm, according to personnel at the Wayne County Soil Conservation District office. Most crops will soon be harvested. The fields will soon be "open" to allow conservation practices to be constructed.

Due to the extreme weather conditions, many tons of fertile topsoil and many gallons of water were lost from Wayne County farms this year. By having a good conservation program, more of this water can be conserved in the soil for crop usage later in the growing season, the SWCD reports.

A conservation program includes good crop rotations, grassed waterways, farm ponds, terraces and other practices. Terraces are the best means of conserving soil and water on the area where the rain falls. The Wayne County ASC office makes an incentive payment for this type of conservation work. The average 160-acre farm can be terraced for less than $300.00.

Any farmers interested in conservation work this fall should contact the SCSD office soon. The ASC office has money available for cost-sharing and conservation contractors are available.

WAYNE FIREMEN were out selling tickets to the firemen's ball and giving out special cards to put in business place windows giving information on who should be called in case of fire during hours when places are closed: Roger Kassebaum, left, holds the window cards; Max Hendrickson, Morning Skopper, had his billfold out to buy a ticket; and Harvey Brasch holds a supply of the tickets.

Where Are '67 AH, WH, WH Grads?

The Herald has been asked to print a list of the graduates of the Class of 1967 to show where they are now. Many are in college, many are in the service and others are working.

This we will do for Allen High School, Winside High School and Wayne High School. We will get a list of graduates from each of the schools and then write the whereabouts of the students now beside the names. Then we will publish the lists.

Anyone knowing the present location of any graduates of any of the three high schools should drop a card to The Herald. Those who wish to telephone the information in, may do so.

Your assistance on this project would be appreciated. The Herald would like to print these lists by the end of this month, sooner if possible.

If the school is one of the area schools that will be well-known, Hastings, Nebraska U, Morningside, Chadron, WSC, etc., no address need be given. If, however, they are attending colleges where the address might not be known, William Jewell, Gustavus Adolphus, Dakota Wesleyan, etc., the name of the town and state where located should be given.

Nutrition Scientist Will Speak at College

"Current Problems in Pediatric Nutrition" will be discussed by Dr. L. J. Filer, nutrition scientist, at Wayne State College Thursday, Oct. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at Ramsey Theatre. It is one of two appearances the nationally-known expert will make in Nebraska this month.

The American Medical Association is offering a series of lectures in clinical nutrition on college and university campuses to stimulate interest in clinical nutrition and allied medical sciences as professional careers. Lecturers are clinicians and investigators of international reputation.

Dr. Filer is professor of pediatrics at the University of Iowa college of medicine. He is a member of national and international professional societies and had served on industrial and governmental advisory committees.

In lectures, he points out that problems in pediatric nutrition are problems of social forces also. Treatment of chronic over-nutrition or under-nutrition requires consideration of both nutritional and cultural factors, he says.

Dr. Filer will also discuss recent advancements in understanding the importance and function of "micronutrients" in human nutrition, especially pediatric nutrition.

Mrs. Fred Roeber Dies

Mrs. Fred Roeber, 63, Wayne passed away Oct. 6 at the Wakefield hospital. Funeral service will be Monday, Oct. 9, 2 p.m., at the Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne.

Dr. L. J. Filer

A Carroll man practices golf in a pasture, often inviting some Carroll man or kid to go with him. The other day he asked one of a set of identical twins to accompany him. The kid went into the house to change clothes. He emerged later, the pasture golfer said: "Ready to go?" the kid got in and away they went, leaving behind a frantically waving twin who had just changed clothes so he could go golfing.

Leaving bowling one evening, a Wayne man noticed a car behind him. The car pulled up closer, honked and he knew at once it was a bowling friend being funny. When the lead driver finally stopped beside the police station, the "friend" following him also pulled up. It was a policeman, with a warning ticket for speeding.

At a big family style picnic in Wayne one boy in the sixth grade was leaving the food-laden tables with a plate stacked high with chicken. A lady helping dish out food asked him if he didn't want some salad. "No, thanks," he replied, "I'm strictly carnivorous."

Favor 'Rural' Vo-Tech Plans

Several towns were represented Thursday night at a meeting in Laurel at which a resolution was passed recommending the vocational-technical school for Northeast Nebraska be located in the geographical center, wherever that is. It was generally agreed that a rural self-contained set-up would be best.

Dr. E. Schabauer, Plainview, was in charge with temporary officers handling duties. At the close of the meeting, towns interested in promoting this idea named one man each to a board of directors and this group of directors met to name permanent officers.

Two purposes appear to be the aim of the group.

Firemen Putting Out Tickets, Not Blazes Showers Finally Fall Here

Wayne Volunteer Fire Department is putting out tickets instead of blazes right now. The annual firemen's ball is coming up Friday, Oct. 27, at the National Guard Armory.

Firemen have been making as many contacts as possible. They are meeting with excellent response and in appreciation are performing an added service in the business district this year.

At each business place they leave a red card to be placed in a prominent position in a window. These cards list numbers to be called in case there is a

The rain showers finally found the Northeast Nebraska area Friday night. While mulling up football fields and fouling up homecomings at several schools, showers were generally appreciated.

Fof Wayne it was only the third rain of any consequence since June. Ralph Watson reported .42 of an inch of moisture at his farm north of town where government gauges are kept.

Watson said there had been only two showers of consequence between the rains in June and the rains Friday night. In each of them, around one-half inch of moisture fell.

While the rain cannot help this year's crops any, it will go into the ground to help out on next year's. Just holding the dust down during harvest will also be of benefit.

Fall pastures will gain sustenance from the moisture and there will be less danger of fire as farmers take to the fields as soon as they dry out.

Forecasters indicated Saturday there could be more showers through the weekend. This figures, all adding up to typical fall weather for this part of the nation.

PTA to Take 'Forbidden' Canoe Trip

Wayne PTA members are in for an exciting meeting Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 8 p.m. in the lecture hall at Wayne High School. They will "take" a canoe trip that has been forbidden by the Canadian government for around 35 years.

Dr. T. H. McDonald, associate professor of history at WSC, took the color slide pictures on a trip retracing the route of Sir Alexander Mackenzie (1789). His trip was made to help write a book about the Mackenzie trip, Dr. McDonald writing the annotation.

Canada has not allowed anyone to "shoot the rapids" at certain points along the river because they are so dangerous, dropping 254 feet in 16 miles. However, Dr. McDonald and his party were given permission to shoot the rapids until they reached one fort, where they were to report to Royal Canadian Mounted Police, transfer the canoe by portage to a point below the worst rapids and then proceed by canoe.

When they reached the fort, no RCMP members were present. So they got back into the canoe and shot the forbidden rapids. They came through alive See CANOE TRIP, page 6

No Silver Dollar Winner Thursday

There was no Silver Dollar Night winner Thursday in Wayne. The name of Louie W. Petersen, Pilger, was called for the prize.

Because there was no winner, the amount in the drawing this coming week will be $150. The sponsoring Chamber of Commerce adds $50 each week until the fund reaches $400, when a reserve fund is started and $50 is added each week to that until there is a winner.

Anyone 18 years of age or older is eligible to register. Anyone in the area wishing to take part, including college students, can get information at business places of all types. The one rule they must remember is that they must be present at 8 p.m. in one of the sponsoring business places in order to claim the prize money when their name is called.

George Gahl on Winside Council

George Gahl, Winside grocer, is a new member of the town council in that city. He was named at the town board meeting, Monday, Oct. 2.

He takes over the unexpired term of John Gallop. The vacancy came about when Gallop moved to the country, making him ineligible to serve any longer.

Gallop had about 1 1/2 years left on his present term. Gahl will serve this period and then be eligible to run for the post for full term.

Mayor N. L. Ditman is chairman of the board. Other members besides Gahl and Dr. Ditman are Dale Langenberg, Warren Jacobsen and Vernon Hill.

Winside Pupils District Officers

Two Winside High School pupils are district officers in the Student Library Assistants Association. They are Lee Trautwein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Trautwein, and Denise Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hansen.

Trautwein was elected president at the district meeting in Emerson Saturday, Sept. 30. He was among 133 pupils from all over Northeast Nebraska attending.

Under the rules, he is allowed to appoint a secretary from his own school. Miss Hansen was his choice.

James Connick is librarian at the school. Student assistants going to the Emerson meeting included Trautwein, Sharon Paul

Close Courthouse

Wayne County Courthouse will be closed all day Thursday, Oct. 12. It is Columbus Day and that is a legal holiday. The offices will be open again for Friday the 13th, not a holiday, and then will be closed Saturday and Sunday, resuming the regular schedule Monday, Oct. 16.

Fall Tillage Day Plans Made

A fall minimum tillage field day has been set at the site where the four-state minimum tillage day was held near Wayne this spring. Committees are working on final details, which will be revealed in forthcoming issues of The Herald.

County Agent Harold Ingalls met Wednesday with representatives of local firms handling harvesters. They agreed to harvest the crops which are planted in 30- and 40-inch rows.

The corn seed was supplied by DeKalb, represented locally by George Thorbeck. WNAX Radio, co-sponsor of the spring field day, will help publicize the Oct. 17 harvest field day.

According to Agent Ingalls, demonstrations will be presented throughout the day from 10 to 4. University of Nebraska personnel may help out on the project.

Present plans call for a preliminary harvest of each section to determine yields. Figures can then be given farmers attending the actual harvesting demonstrations and they can watch the machinery at work.

Field-shelling is planned for the corn with at least three different types of harvesters. No lunch will be served, as was at the spring field day.

Site of the fall field day will be the adjoining Ivan Frese and Bob Shultze farms three miles west of Wayne on Highway 35. The ground had some heavy rains and endured an unusual summer but it is thought some good comparisons will still be obtained.

Crowning Delayed Set 'Camelot' Theme at WS

Rain caused postponement of the crowning of homecoming royalty Friday night at the Wayne-Plainview football game. Girls in beautiful formal outfits on a rainy night just did not seem right. The crowning ceremony was postponed until the homecoming dance Saturday at the National Guard Armory. Details on that event will be carried in Thursday's Herald.

"Camelot" is the theme for Wayne State's 1967 Homecoming, scheduled for Oct. 18-21. Elaborate campus displays will be featured this year instead of parade floats.

The lighted displays will be unveiled Thursday, Oct. 19, at 7 p.m. Thursday is Wayne Night and area visitors are invited to shop in Wayne and tour the campus. The displays will be located at the entrance to each dormitory and on the perimeter of the campus. Children will enjoy large, animated figures, and the colorful rendering of King Arthur's Court.

A carillon concert is also scheduled for Thursday evening and music from "Camelot" will be heard throughout the city.

Wayne residents may also enjoy a tournament, sponsored by the campus Greek organizations, scheduled for Friday evening, Oct. 20, at 7:00 in the Willow Bowl. A member of one of the campus sororities will be crowned Helen of Troy at the tournament.

Saturday activities begin at 10:00 when all campus buildings will be open to visitors. Members of Blue Key and Cardinal Key will be hosts to all alumni from 11:00 to 1:00 in the Student Center.

The pre-game show at Memorial Stadium will begin at 1:30. Wayne meets William Jewell at 2:00, with special halftime ceremonies planned. An alumni amorgasbord, open to Wayne visitors, will follow in the Student Center from 4:30 to 6:30.

Jan Garber and his orchestra will play for the homecoming ball Saturday evening in Rice Auditorium at 9:00. Tickets will be available at the door and by advance sale from members of the student senate.

Seven girls have been named finalists for Homecoming Queen. The Queen will be crowned Wednesday evening, Oct. 18, in Rice. Visitors are invited to attend the Coronation Night, which will be followed by presentation of freshman skits.

ASC Has 'Map' for Hunters

The Wayne County Agricultural and Stabilization Conservation Service has an interest in land, water and the resources of the land, which includes wildlife. Taking the latter in view, wildlife areas have been contracted for on farms and now a map has been prepared of farms where wildlife shelters are provided and where hunters will be allowed free access.

Government rules provide that farmers be paid for lands taken out of production. To qualify for a further payment, they must sign to allow free access for hunting, hiking, fishing and trapping on CAP (Crop Adjustment Program) land.

The mimeographed map the ASCS office prepared lists 16 farms in Wayne County where the hunters will be allowed with no charge made. It shows the locations of these farms from the towns.

On the back of the map is a letter from the Wayne ASC county committee, John Mohr, Harry Heidemann and Lloyd Morris. In it they urge hunters to enjoy themselves and to help preserve the beauty of the recreation land opened to them.

Finally, they offer tips to the hunters, pointing out that "an ounce of caution is worth a ton of regret." Tips include handling guns, shooting, clothing types recommended, moving about with a gun, avoiding use of alcohol and other safety measures.

Allen Boys Go To FFA Convention

Four members of the Allen High School FFA will attend the national Future Farmers of America convention in Kansas City, Oct. 11-13. They will be among 15,000 boys attending from 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Roger Sandman, adviser, will take the four. They are Wayne Rasmussen, president; Bob Anderson, sentinel; Bill Sahoo, reporter; and Larry Carr, representative.

An early morning start is scheduled Wednesday, departure time set at 3 a.m. The boys have to be back Friday afternoon in time for the Coleridge football game as two are regulars on the team.

In Kansas City they will observe the American Farmers and Star Farmers awards and the making of laws for the national association. They will take several tours, including one to the Agricultural Hall of Fame and Farmland Industries.

Lutheran Teachers Having Convention

Teachers in Wisconsin Synod Lutheran schools will have their annual four-state teachers convention Oct. 12-13 at Mission, S. D. Two years ago the meeting was held at Hoskins and last year it was at Norfolk.

Rolland Menk, Hoskins Trinity School, will give a paper on "The Best of '67 in Children's Literature" at the session. Prin. Menk, Mrs. Irma Zander and Marcella Hoefer will attend from the Hoskins parochial school.

Representatives of synod schools in South Dakota, Colorado, Nebraska and Iowa will attend. Stanton and Norfolk are among the other area towns with Wisconsin Synod schools sending representatives.

Prin. Menk is a "visitor" for the synod. Last week he visited church schools in Valentine and Mission and this week visited two schools in Omaha. There are three visitors for the synod in this area. Mrs. Menk substitutes as teacher when he is gone.

Two on WSC Faculty Chosen for Project

Two members of the Wayne State College physical education faculty have been selected to attend the Lifetime Sports Education Project Clinic Oct. 12-14 in Des Moines.

They are Dr. Dale Pennybaker, director of athletics and chairman of the division of health and physical education, and Mrs. Bernice Fulton, instructor in physical education.

They are among 140 educators and recreation specialists chosen to attend the tri-state clinic in bowling, golf, tennis, archery and badminton. Dr. Pennybaker was selected in golf, Mrs. Fulton in archery.

The teachers will take part in sports instruction classes which will qualify them to conduct similar clinics for teachers in their home areas. The objective is to make lifetime sports instruction a basic part of the physical education curriculum throughout the area.

Wayne State's PE curriculum already offers all five of these sports in the basic course required of all students.

The Lifetime Sports Education Project is a nationwide effort to improve and expand the teaching of individual sports skills which almost anyone can play into the later years of life.

The project is funded by the Lifetime Sports Foundation, which is headed by Bud Wilkinson and conducted nationally by the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, a department of the National Education Association.

Now in its third year, the project has reached more than 40,000 educators in 45 states.

Car Abandoned Here

A 1957 car was abandoned on Highway 35 at the east edge of Wayne so Wayne police had it towed in the first of last week. It bore a Thurston County license. A resident moved Sunday, a long distance telephone message came for him and he could not be located by telephone so the police were asked to find him, which they finally were able to do. A professional office door was left unlocked. Two accidents were investigated. Funeral escorts were provided. It's

Hoskins Boy's Pets Delight Friends

Two pet crows, Charlie and Herman, are owned by Mark Brogie, 11, seventh grade pupil at Hoskins Public School. His friends delight in the birds and once a week he brings them to school.

He has had the crows since they were about a week old, which is nearly three months ago. Mark "adopted" them after finding the two at the Brogie home and hearing how his father used to have a pet crow that could speak.

So far, only Charlie has spoken, and that consists of one word, "hello." However, Mark has taught his birds other feats and will continue to teach them as they get bigger and smarter.

Thursday morning he gave a demonstration. He took them from their cage, released them and they flew away to join wild crows in nearby trees. Mark imitated the call of a crow and back came Charlie and Herman, one landing on each arm.

Reward for the return was food. This works when the crows are hungry, but they have minds of their own about coming back once they have been fed.

They have their choice of where they can spend the nights, in their cage or in the trees at the Brogie home. Sometimes they are more like night owls and are out all night, but they always come back, especially if they are hungry.

The two crows mingle with wild crows quite frequently and Mark says Herman has a girlfriend among the wild crows. However, she has never accompanied Herman back to the Brogie place and he never fails to leave her when he decided it was time to get back to Brogie's.

Chow time for the two birds is varied. They prefer beef kidney but they also like pigeon checkers which are kept on hand, for more than 60 pigeons owned by the Brogies. They don't turn up their beaks at just plain bread either.

They have learned to catch things thrown to them, nothing as big as a brick, but small pieces of food or shiny objects. When Mark has more time with them, he expects to have them as adept and as talkative as his father's pet crow was years ago.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brogie. His teacher at Hoskins is Mrs. Zita Jenkins.

Has American Job!

Phadet Gawsombat, the exchange student from Thailand who spent a year in the Dr. J. M. Brown home, Wayne, again has strong American connections. He is staying with an American in Thailand and working for an American firm.

This means he has a new address. Mail should be sent to him as follows: Phadet Gawsombat, c/o John A. Fredenburg, USIS, Udorn, Thailand.

Fredenburg is an American who had befriended Phadet in Bangkok when Phadet was preparing to come to Wayne. By some miracle, Phadet met him 375 miles from his own home town, where he was looking for work.

The American, apparently one of the real "goodwill ambassadors" this country has overseas, again helped out, letting Phadet stay with him. Phadet applied for a job with Air America, Inc., and started to work last week.

He writes that he will work until he makes enough to go back to school again and some day he hopes to visit Wayne and his friends here. In the meantime, he has met another "great American," and he wants to hear from as many as possible as he misses Wayne very much.

Car Overtakes on Road Near Winside

A car overturned on a county gravel road near Winside Friday, Oct. 29. Neither of the two boys in the vehicle was injured.

Stephen Carlson, Winside, was driving a car owned by his father, Alvin Carlson. A passenger in the car was Dave Langenberg, Winside.

According to a report made by the sheriff's department, Carlson lost control of the vehicle. The northbound car went into a deep ditch on the west side of the road, overturned, landing on its wheels.

A stranger gave the boys a ride home. Damage to the overturned vehicle was extensive.

A 12-POUND CABBAGE was grown in the garden plot of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bichel, Wayne. It is shown on a table beside a more normal sized cabbage. Mrs. Bichel will make cole slaw and sauerkraut from the cabbage from their small garden in their own yard and from another garden plot they maintain at a friend's.

THIS PICTURE was taken on the set of double stairways at the west entrance to Wayne High School. The camera was tilted to take in all the cross country team members since neither the photographer nor the team could back up further. Charles Fisher was missing when the picture was taken. WHS Cross Country

Team Starts Action

Wayne high school's cross country team has started action. Without too much practice, Coach Harold Maciejewski's team competed at Crofton Wednesday.

There were 10 teams there, each with about five to eight competitors—all except Crofton. That school has really emphasized cross country as a sport and over 30 are out for the team there.

Guess who won first. Crofton! Ainsworth came in second. Rankings of the other teams were not learned, but Wayne finished about fifth among the ten teams.

Runners for WHS this year, the fourth for the sport at the school, are Charles Fisher, Mike Schneider, Jim Sturm, Scott Kraemaer, Loren Hansen, Terry Ellis and Bruce Pflueger. All are sophomores except Fisher, who is a junior.

Eight Football Tilts

Set During Five Days

Area high schools have eight football games scheduled in a five-day period Oct. 9-13. This includes varsity, reserve and freshman teams.

There are three games Oct. 9, all involving reserve squads. Wayne plays at West Point Central Catholic at 4; Winside at home against Ponca at 4:30; and Allen at home against Wakefield at 4:30. Wayne Frosh play Oct. 12 at West Point at 4.

Four varsity games are set for Friday, Oct. 13. Wayne plays at Bloomfield at 7:30; Randolph visits Winside at 7:30; Allen travels to Coleridge for a 7:30 tilt; and the Wakefield Trojans go to Oakland for a 7:30 game.

Winside Loses Player

Winside lost a player for the rest of the season Thursday night in football practice. Keith Wacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wacker, pulled a cord in the ring finger on his right hand. The junior at WHS will have to have a pin put in the finger for five or six weeks.

Public Hunting for Some Farming Lands

Tom Roberts of the Wayne ASCS office, reports sportsmen have new opportunities for free recreation these days, made possible through the "public access provision" of the National Cropland Adjustment Program.

The Wayne County ASCS points out that signs posted near farm headquarters often will say: "Hunting or fishing—permitted without charge on land in Cropland Adjustment Program."

Such signs are evidence that farmers have agreed to permit, without charge, public access for hunting, fishing, hiking and trapping on land they have diverted from production under CAP. For this, they receive small incentive payments under the program.

Business Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dowling, Dixon, have purchased the building and fixtures of the Dixon Cafe from Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Anderson. They took over operation of the cafe Monday of last week. Dowling will continue his employment with the state highway department. A stock of groceries has been added to the cafe since Dixon's only grocery store closed last month.

Too many times fires occur when firms are locked. It is felt someone in a responsible position at each office or business place should be notified at once in such cases so the cards are being put up all over town.

As for the dance, Paul Moorhead and his orchestra will play. This is the band that plays music anyone any age can dance to. With the proceeds going to the VFD, and the music the type many people miss now that combos have taken over, firemen are hoping for the biggest response in years to their appeal: "You come to our dance; we'll come to your fire."

Grays Leading Loop After Monday Tilts

The Grays lead the city recreation football league after Monday's game. They have won two and tied one; the Blacks won one, tied one and lost one; and the Reds tied two and lost two.

Hank Overin's next game in this league will put the Blacks against the Grays at 4:15 Thursday. His junior high team plays its next game Wednesday, Oct. 11, at 4:45 in Laurel.

Friday the Grays beat the Reds 27-13 after the Reds had led 13-7 at half-time. Shane Giese ran 65 and 85 yards for Red touchdowns and Zachary Harms made an extra point. For the Grays, Glen Biltoff took a 35-yard pass from Bill Schwartz, Earle Overin took a 30-yard pass from Schwartz and Dave Scheel took a 40-yard pass from Schwartz for touchdowns. Randy Nelson ran 19 yards for one TD, Nelson passed to Scheel for one extra point and to Overin for another. Biltoff also scored a PAT.

On offense, Harms and Giese looked best for the Reds and Nelson and Biltoff best for the Grays. On defense, Todd Titze shone for the Reds and Nelson for the Grays. Schwartz had an outstanding day at passing, completing many in addition to the touchdowns plays.

Monday the Blacks beat the Reds 12-6 after a 6-6 halftime tie. Charles Roland on an end-around play raced 42 yards for the Red touchdown while Billy Brown scored twice for the Blacks, going 10 and 40 yards to tally. In the fourth quarter the Blacks stopped the Reds on the 5 with a minute left.

Offensively the Reds were led by Roland who pulled in passes from Titze. Billy Brown and Marjy Hansen led the Blacks on offense and Mark Johnson and Hansen were tops on defense for the Blacks.

WAKEFIELD BLOCKERS aided Kent Bressler on a sizable gain against Allen Tuesday night. Rick Kline (16) is right beside him; Bob Gustafson (14) has cut down two would-be tacklers from AHS, and Ramon Larson (25) and Dan Bard (74) are in position to help David Peterson (77) is the other WHS player shown. Allen players identified are Wayne Rasmussen (61) and Mike Prescott (77).

Pupils' Photos Taken

Photographs of all pupils in the Wayne school system have been taken by Lyman Studio. The middle school and the grade school were completed previously. Friday the high school pupils were "shot." Photos will be used in the yearbook and for the various exchanges, billfolds and other uses pupils find for them.

'Cage the Pirates'

Fun at Wayne High

"Cage the Pirates" proved to be a novel homecoming stunt at Wayne High School Friday as pupils warmed up to the game with Plainview Pirates that night. Prin. Fred Rickers was in charge of the stunt pupils had suggested.

Small cardboard Plainview Pirate football players were made with six given to each class president. At the end of each of the first six periods the names of four pupils were read off, one from each class.

Each one named then had to look up his class president, usually somewhere else in the big building, get a "Pirate" from him and take it to the commons where Prin. Rickers had a cage. Once a Pirate was put inside, no others could go in.

In the seventh period it was announced which class had won by getting the most Pirates in the cage. The Junior class won with three. The stunt added excitement and fun and with "no running" one of the rules, it gave pupils a chance to use ingenious methods in proving adept at caging Pirates.

State Hospital Will Offer Service Here

Norfolk State Hospital will offer a service in Wayne. Mrs. Barbara Gaither, community organizer, has notified Supt. Francis Haun of Wayne Schools that she will be here Tuesday, Oct. 17 and may be contacted by interested personnel there.

Mrs. Gaither will be here in regard to mental health programs in the schools. Her scheduled time for visiting at the high school starts at 1 p.m. Any staff member or parent who wishes to consult her at that time may come to the high school. Further information may be secured by calling the school.

RICH KLINE took off for 30 yards on this play against Allen. It moved Wakefield close to the Allen goal late in their game. Sonny Lund (70) runs ahead to offer blocking assistance.

Cast Selected for Initial WSC Drama Production of Season

The cast has been chosen for the Wayne State Drama Department's presentation of "The Bad Seed," the story of a charming but deadly eight-year-old, according to Dr. Helen Russell, head of the WSC drama department.

Leading roles in this Maxwell Anderson drama will be played by Susan Cook and Julie Hayden, two whose past performances speak for themselves. Miss Cook will portray Rhoda. The tragic role of her mother, Christine, will be handled by Julie Hayden. Supporting them in the role of the father, Col. Kenneth Penmark, will be Bob Pierson, Sioux City.

Susan Cook, Omaha, will be best remembered from her most recent role as Treakle in "Sleeping Beauty" presented last spring for the Children's Theater. Julie Hayden did a fine job as Miss Moffatt in "The Cornis Green" two years ago.

Playing a major role as the amateur psychiatrist, Monica Breedlove, is a nervous, Georgia Wachholtz. She is from Plainview, and is a junior at WSC this year.

Others in the cast include Arne Nelson as Emory Wages; Steve Taylor as Leroy; Marjorie Frechette as Mrs. Daigle; Larry Larsen as Mr. Daigle; Bruce Dickinson as Richard Bravo; Claudia Thomas as Miss Fern; Fred Wigginton as Reginald Tasker; and Roger Bengtson as the messenger. Understudying the two leading roles are Bev Fullner and Sandy Spillman.

This exciting psychological drama will be presented in the Ramsey Theater on Oct. 29, 30 and 31, with a matinee Oct. 29. Season tickets are available to everyone now through any drama student or by calling the Fine Arts Center. Season tickets entitle purchasers priority for seat reservations, a newsletter before each production, plus four evenings of entertainment.

This season, the drama department, besides opening with "The Bad Seed", will offer three one-acts in December, a musical in February, and "Alice in Wonderland" in April.

Jo Merriman to Be on Television Program

Jo Merriman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Merriman, Wayne, is scheduled to appear on "Teens Talk Up," a television program on KCAU, Channel 9, Sioux City, Saturday, Oct. 28. It will be taped for telecasting a week earlier than that.

Kenneth Deissler, WSC counselor, was contacted in regard to Merriman's appearance on the 4:30 p.m. program. He reports representatives of other schools will take part in a panel discussion. Pupils taking part will be given a chance to get acquainted with the topic and fellow panelists prior to the program. They will then be filmed discussing current topics of interest to teenagers (and sometimes others as well) and the film will be shown the following week under Junior League of Sioux City sponsorship.

Make County CCC Storage Available

To help farmers achieve more orderly marketing of their grain and soybean crops this fall, the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee is offering to rent excess Commodity Credit Corporation grain storage space.

This action is being taken by the USDA to help protect farmers against the price-depressing effects of temporary excessive market supplies. At harvest-time such moves are especially desirable, according to John Mohr, ASCS county chairman.

Storage space is available at one cent a bushel per month, based on the rated capacity of the storage facility. For instance, a 3,250-bushel capacity grain bin will rent for $32.50 per month.

Mohr said rent would be payable in advance and would begin the day the lease is executed on storage facilities. Space may be rented on a month-to-month basis but not for any period less than one month. Producers renting space are responsible for care and maintenance of the stored crop.

Rental applications for the CCC storage space are available from the ASCS office in Wayne.

FOUR YOUNG PEOPLE were hurt when this car slid along 100 feet on its side before being stopped by a concrete culvert structure at the south edge of Wayne Friday night. Heavy damage was done to the vehicle.

Sioux City to 'Look'

The Wayne school system was covered recently in a Sunday feature article in the Sioux City Journal, William Bergeron, supervisor of physical education for the Sioux City schools, read the article and then wrote Supt. Francis Haun, asking for an appointment to look over the physical education facilities at the new high school since Sioux City will be facing a building program in a few years. He is scheduled to visit the local high school Oct. 23.

Four Hurt in Friday Night Mishap

Four young Cedar County residents were injured in a one-car accident at the south edge of Wayne Friday night. All were hospitalized here with two scheduled for release Saturday.

Two girls were most seriously injured. Dr. Robert Bentback was to make further tests to determine the extent of their injuries later Saturday. Driver of the car was Marie Huss, 20, Hartington. Passengers were her brother, David Huss, 21, and Clifford Kathol, 19, both of Hartington, and Pat Kaiser, 19, Fordyce.

According to the investigating officers from the sheriff's department, the northbound car left Highway 15 when it went out of control on wet blacktop. It went off the east side, traveled for 287 feet before flipping and then slid another 100 feet on its side before being stopped by a concrete culvert structure.

Miss Huss was the most seriously injured as far as early medical exams showed. She had multiple rib fractures and chest injuries. Miss Kaiser also had undetermined chest injuries. Both boys were to be released Saturday, having only cuts and bruises. They had been riding in the back seat.

The accident scene where the car came to a stop was 63 feet 4 inches south of the south edge of the bridge over Logan Creek, which is the Wayne city limits. The culvert allows water to flow into the deep gully of the creek. Had the culvert not stopped the car, it would have gone on into the creek, a drop of 20-30 feet.

All of this is part of the story Dr. McDonald will tell Tuesday night as he shows slides. His talks on his trip to Northwest Territories, Scandinavia, and Russia are proving so popular he has appointments to go to Western Nebraska and many points all over Northeast Nebraska.

Officers of the PTA are anxious for a big turnout. They feel this will be one of the most exciting presentations of the year and hope men will bring their wives and women will bring their husbands.

SENIOR HALFBACK Bob Penn (24) had just stepped across the goal line and the referee was signaling a touchdown when this picture was taken during Wayne High's 54-0 victory over Plainview Friday night. The Blue Devils passed for 234 yards and ran for 351 yards in their fifth straight win of the season.

Devils Claim 54-0 Homecoming Victory

Wayne High took complete control of the Husker Conference western division lead Friday night with a 54-0 victory over Plainview at the WSC stadium. Cold, sporadic rain showers which began in mid-afternoon and continued throughout most of the first half caused the Blue Devils' homecoming ceremonies to be postponed until Saturday (Oct. 7) night.

The rain had little effect on the Blue Devils as they scored with 9:57 remaining in the first quarter following Plainview's kickoff. Senior halfback Bob Penn capped the 45-yard drive with a dive from the one yard line. The extra point attempt failed but Wayne held a 6-0 lead in a game that would see seven more Blue Devil touchdowns.

Don Skokan set up Wayne's next TD following the kickoff when he intercepted a Pirate pass and returned it to Plainview's 37 before he was brought down. On the next play quarterback Dave Tietgen hit Dave Brown with a pass that added six more points to Wayne's score. Bob Penn scored the PAT and with 7:15 left in the first quarter the Blue Devils were out in front 13-0.

Wayne again assumed control of the ball following the kickoff when the Blue and White defensives forced Plainview into a fourth and 14 punting situation. Randy Hielgren returned the punt to Wayne's 40 but a clipping penalty moved it back to the 25. Four plays later Lynn Lessmann made the score 19-0 with a 24-yard touchdown run. Dan Sutherland scored the PAT and with 3:37 remaining in the first stanza Wayne held a comfortable 20-0 lead.

With 10:45 left in the first half Dan Sutherland scampered nine yards for a TD to end a drive that began on Wayne's own 44 following a blocked Plainview punt. Steve Kerl scored the extra point, increasing Wayne's lead to 27-0. Neither team posed a serious scoring threat for the remainder of the first half.

A 44-yard touchdown pass from Tietgen to Gordie Jorgensen made the score 33-0 with 8:00 left in the third quarter. The drive began on Wayne's 25 yard line after the Pirates were forced into a fourth and 6 punting situation at the Blue Devil 48. Sutherland again scored the PAT and Wayne was out in front 34-0.

Plainview was again forced to punt following Wayne's kickoff when a fourth and 19 situation developed. The ball was blown dead at the 50 where the Blue Devils took over. Three plays later the score was 40-0 when Tietgen hit Jorgensen with a 27-yard touchdown pass. The PAT attempt failed with 5:24 remaining in the third quarter.

With 12 seconds left in the third quarter Steve Kerl capped a 57-yard Blue Devil touchdown drive with a four-yard run. The drive began when Plainview failed to make a first down on a fourth and 11 situation. Kerl also scored the extra point to increase Wayne's lead to 47-0.

Wayne's final touchdown was scored with 3:11 left in the game when Mike Biltoft sprinted 27 yards to nuson (four tackles and one assist); Harry Lindner and Dave Roberts (three tackles and one assist piece); and Les Echtenkamp (three tackles).

Wayne's next game will be Friday, October 13, at Bloomfield.

At Guidance Session

Ken Deissler, counselor at Wayne High School, attended the Nebraska Personnel and Guidance Association meeting in Lincoln Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29-30. Dr. Ken Hoyt, University of Iowa, was principal speaker for the sessions in the Nebraska center. Dr. Hoyt is past president of the American PGA.

Supt. Francis Haun of Wayne High School was at Omaha University Saturday. He is one of the "supervisors of practicum students" for the school and attended a meeting in this group. They are taking an educational administrative program offered by OU.

Two Groups Go to Lincoln Saturday

Two groups of pupils from Wayne High School will go to Lincoln by bus Saturday. One group will take in University of Nebraska "visitation day" and the other will attend a social studies and debate institute.

Kenneth Deissler is in charge of the 16 seniors going to NU. They will spend the visiting classes, talking to the heads of various schools, inspecting dormitories and seeing other features of the state school.

In this group are the following: Sallie Haase, Sherry Nelson, Mary Zimmerman, Cindy Swinney, Ann Baier, Jeanne Whorlow, Tom Havener, Rocci Marr, Keith Warrelmann, Bob Penn, Doug Ritze, Mike Olson, Steve Kerl, Don Skokan, Eric Nedergaard and Larry Magnuson.

Mrs. Leota Moller will take debaters to the institute. A feature will be a debate between teams from the Universities of Nebraska and Wisconsin on the topic this year: "Resolved that congress should enact legislation providing for uniform criminal procedures."

A model discussion will be held. This is to be followed by participation by high school pupils in a discussion.

Advise Farmers

Wayne County farmers are being urged to look over their storage situations to be sure they can take care of this year's corn and soybean crops. Without enough storage, crops must be moved to market right after harvest, and the movement of supplies too large for market demands usually means disorderly marketing and lower farm prices. The Wayne County ASCS office reminds farmers that commodity loans, (which furnish immediate cash) and loans for building on-farm storage facilities and drying equipment, are available at the office.

Dr. Lutgen, Who Started Hospital, Recalled in Memoirs of His Widow

Dr. A. S. Lutgen, for 39 years a physician in Wayne and the man who established the first hospital here, is recalled in memoir of his widow, Mrs. Grace Lutgen, who still resides at Colby, Kan., where he last practiced medicine.

Anson Lutgen married Grace Welsh of Sterling, Jan. 24, 1910. They moved to Wayne, where he established a practice, erving as college physician and surgeon and later establishing a 15-bed hospital on land adjoining the college campus.

The influenza epidemic of 1918 resulted in the need to convert the college gym into an infirmary, since the already established hospital was filled with surgical patients. Right then Dr. Lutgen started planning for a larger hospital. Growing rapidly, the college was needing more land for the campus and the state purchased the property occupied by the 15-bed hospital from Dr. Lutgen.

Ultimately he built a 35-bed institution. He operated this until 1949. At the time of its construction, this 35-bed hospital so pleased area residents and service organizations they furnished one entire floor. Name plates of the donors were placed on the doors of each room.

There were no hospitals serving a wide area and many patients came from South Dakota and Iowa when Dr. Lutgen's first hospital was built. He was also licensed to practice in these states.

World War I brought a need for nurses. With all Wayne physicians helping, plans were made with Cook County Hospital, Mount Sinai Hospital and Presbyterian Hospital, all in Chicago, to start a three-year nurses training course, the last year to be given in one of these hospitals. The plan continued eight years with 39 nurses from the Midwest completing training.

Did you know Wayne once had a radio station? Dr. Lutgen was owner and operator of pioneer radio station KGCH, established in August, 1926, on the hos-

Surprise Visitors

Come to Wakefield

Four strangers were at the door when Mrs. William Wolter, Wakefield, answered the doorbell Thursday noon. Moments later they were deep in conversation with her, in German.

The strangers included a woman from Omaha and three house guests of hers from Germany. They are neighbors of Mrs. Wolter's 86-year-old sister in Germany, whom she has not seen in 62 years.

Bringing greetings from the relatives in Germany, the strangers soon had told many incidents of interest to Mrs. Wolter about life in that country. They spoke no English but Mrs. Wolter can speak German.

Pictures were taken and greetings sent back to the relatives in Germany. From Wakefield the visitors went to Minnesota to visit relatives they had not seen in 40 years.

While in this region they commented on the nice homes and the beautiful farming country. It was their first visit to this country.

Tractor Burns Near Carroll Wednesday

Fire did considerable damage to a tractor four miles east of Carroll Wednesday noon. Wilbur Heftl was driving the tractor on a county road when it suddenly caught fire.

It is thought the fire could have started from a gas leak. Flames flared up and the grass alongside the road caught on fire.

The Carroll fire department was called to the scene but was unable to save the tractor. Carl Jensen, who operates a county road maintainer, and Cyril Hansen also showed up and helped.

ROBERT OLSON, chief engineer for the new educational television station near Carroll, stands beside one of the anchor sites. There are three. Workmen will pour tons of cement into this 10-foot deep hole. The wooden form slants in the direction the 7 1/2" to 13 1/2" cables will run to the top of the tower around 750 feet away.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

'A Pleasure to Look Upon'

The man was from California, a stranger, but willing to talk to anyone, so since we were seated next to him, he talked to us.

"You know," he said, "you certainly have a fine-looking group of young people around here. I have not seen a hippie-type on the streets or anywhere else. These young people are a pleasure to look upon."

Are the young people really so different in not only Wayne but the Midwest? After a few opportunities to observe, we would say that the young people of this part of the nation indeed are "a pleasure to look upon."

Take the University of Nebraska. There is no chance of mistaking it for California University at Berkeley or even Colorado University at Boulder. Those are two schools where there are plenty of "hippie-type" students.

At Lincoln we saw a few boys with long hair, some who looked as if they needed baths and clean shirts, a few stringy-haired girls but in general the students presented a reassuring sight. They might not impress those who have taken the LSD trip or who are on psychedelic kicks, but to pretty average people we think they look special.

Another case in point: Take the homecoming king and queen candidates and the attendants we have pictured for Wayne and Allen schools. They are all neat, clean, sharp looking and a credit

No Vacuum to Live In

We are particularly grateful that we have heard of no one who would deny their boy the right to play football following the death of one of the outstanding young men of our community who played football to the hilt, just as he lived life.

Perhaps people realize that one cannot live in a vacuum, immune from all the dangers that beset us. Maybe parents know that almost every activity has an element of chance involved.

In the first place, there was a school bus accident at Waterloo. If we go on the premise that what happened there can happen here, we have to decide not to let our youngsters ride school buses anymore.

But, there have been car accidents that have taken lives of teenagers. Do we therefore forbid the kids from driving or riding in automobiles?

One can get killed slipping in the bathtub. Stop taking baths. Airplanes crash. Don't take an airliner. A band marched a long route on a hot summer day and a boy collapsed from exhaustion and died. Should we stop having bands? A fire occurred at a dance hall and dozens were killed. No more dancing allowed? People drown every year. Can we tell our young they cannot go near water?

A pair of incidents might illustrate what happened a few years ago in similar instances. At Chappell, Nebr., a boy broke his neck pole vaulting. The school immediately dropped track, not just vaulting, but all track. Schools have done the same when deaths have occurred in football.

At Oshkosh, Nebr., a coach was accidentally hit in the head by a shot put. He didn't die, but there was a community-wide scare. Years earlier in the same community a boy was accidentally shot by a friend while out shooting sparrows. The boy died and parents of boys in that age group took the guns from their kids, forbidding them to hunt. Many in that age group do not hunt to this day.

If we are to avoid all pitfalls, we must live in a vacuum, and that is not really living. Even in bed, there is not safety; people die there too. Riding a common elevator can be dangerous. Walking on a tree-lined street has its hazards.

We are glad to know that there has been no sudden panic to stop boys from participating in a grand sport. Those concerned would not ask that this come about. Boys who would be deprived, should such action take place, might be forced to engage in activities even less wholesome and even more dangerous.

Life goes on, even though tragedy has dimmed the eyes of Wayne's youths and adults with tears. We must have regrets, but we need not take rash action. So far it appears that the situation has been faced, we all mourn the circumstances and with the bereaved parents we agree that sports participation should continue and no boy should be deprived of the privilege of participating in football. —CEG.

In All Fairness

We have heard via grapevine more than once in recent months that there might be a little "snudging" on the Silver Dollar Night drawings. If there has been, we hope it comes to a screeching halt.

In fairness to everyone, we choose to ignore all claims of favoritism and put this statement to all concerned: Let's either have this run right or let's forget it, meaning let's don't allow any reflections to be cast upon one individual, one firm or the entire city.

Perhaps it is unfair to even print this editorial. However, it is better to discuss it openly than to let the matter develop, in case any of the rumors we have heard were true—and there have been various rumors.

We want to assure the people of this area that we will do our best to see that facts are reported correctly. We will print them as given to us and if we know without fear of contradiction that anything is not on the up-and-up, we will let it be known.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

to their schools. We can assure you the same statement will apply when Winside comes along with its homecoming royalty.

Look at the young men photographed as they prepare for induction into the armed forces. You expect them to look sharper after being in the service a while, but these are young men leaving for the service. They appear to be already well along the road to being men, which is more than can be said of some of their hippie brethren around the country.

It did not really take an "outsider" to remind us of how special our young people are. We're aware of them day after day, week after week, year after year. That's just another reason why we are especially proud to chronicle the achievements of our young, their accomplishments far outnumbering their shortcomings.

You parents, teachers, ministers, religious instructors and others can take a bow. You have an effect on these young people and have helped most of the young become smart enough to recognize right from wrong. They're smarter than they're given credit for being sometimes.

As with everything else, there are exceptions, but in general we think the young collegians, high schoolers and even younger people of this area are a pretty terrific bunch and will be even more of a pleasure to look upon as successes in future life than they are now. —CEG.

With all the current discussion of state highway construction, it's interesting to recall the method of roadbuilding adopted by Nebraska's government in the early years of the territory. The library of the Nebraska State Historical Society contains some legislative journals and legal publications by which it is possible to reconstruct this roadbuilding process.

In the first session of the territorial legislative assembly in 1855, ten acts were passed establishing territorial roads. The simplicity of these early roads is illustrated by one act, stating "That Jefferson Salting, Mr. Arnot, and J. Tyson be, and they are here to locate and establish a Territorial Road commencing at Omaha City, and running from thence . . . to the head of Cedar Island in the Platte River . . . They shall have power to employ a surveyor on said road if they deem it necessary." No provision was made by this act for paying anyone involved. Another 1855 act, this one for a road from Nebraska City to Grand Island, specified that "the cost of laying out and establishing said road, shall be paid by the respective counties, through which said road shall pass . . ."

The second session of the territorial legislature approved 17 more territorial roads, some of them covering the same routes as those approved by the first session. This session of the legislature also passed an act dealing with "opening, making, and keeping in repair all Territorial roads." This law delegated these responsibilities to the county where the road was located. The law also specified public roads were to be forty feet wide and all bridges at least sixteen feet wide.

In order to finance these roads, the counties were authorized to collect "a poll-tax of two days' labor" from each "able-bodied male citizen . . . Between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years." Counties were to be divided into "road districts" and the county officials were to appoint a "supervisor of roads" in each district. This road supervisor was responsible for collecting the two days' labor owed by the residents of his district. Substitutes could be hired. Persons providing neither labor nor a substitute were to pay $1.50 for each day of labor they owed the county. Surveyors could be hired at the rate of $2.00 per day.

Apparently the territorial or state government did not appropriate any road-building funds until 1905. That year the state legislature authorized $3000 for the Board of Irrigation, to be used to provide technical assistance to counties contemplating the construction of bridges costing over $200.

In the biennium now ending, the State of Nebraska appropriated nearly $146 million for the administration, maintenance, and construction of highways, roads, and grade-crossing protection.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: Since this is 4-H week, it is an appropriate time to put forth this thought.

There is no longer an adequate place available in this area to accommodate large 4-H club meetings.

We have a fine 4-H building at the fair ground, which gets used only three days of the year. With cooperation and planning an area of this building could well be enclosed and heat provided so 4-H meetings could be held there regularly. There is ample parking space available there also. Thus, we could utilize our building much to the benefit of the community.

Experience shows that much more is accomplished in meetings where there is a table large enough for all the youngsters to sit around with a place to lay their books and materials. As 4-H clubs become larger most homes do not have large enough areas to make this possible.

A 4-H Leader

He, with the blessing of God, will be sure to prove a success in building up an ideal home. Miss J. — needs no words of commendation as she is well known as one of the best young women. She has been for many years an earnest, humble, Christian and one of the best workers and most liberal supporters in the Baptist church."

Mabel Young, Delpha Auker and Jennings Dobbin, went to Wayne Saturday, returning Sunday evening. The gentleman who went to meet them at the depot, had quite a time hauling the school marm home in the dark and rain, but the worst of it all was the upset; how about it Jack? (Hoskins Headlight).

The Pleasantview Sunday School and the patrons of it gave Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher a happy surprise on Saturday night in honor of their little girl. There were forty guests present. A jolly crowd they were and at ten o'clock, George Shirts was asked to present to the little girl a nice baby cab, in behalf of the crowd, which he did in his awkward way. Then the ladies brought in baskets with good things to eat. After refreshments were served, games were played by young and old and at twelve o'clock everybody started for home wishing the family and little girl many good wishes. (Winside Tribune).

'Bike' Involved in One of Two Mishaps

Another motorbike accident occurred in Wayne Tuesday. It was not serious. One other traffic mishap was investigated the fore part of last week by the police department. Tuesday at Eleventh and Main, Harry Lindner, Wayne, was riding a motorbike behind a car driven by Joedy Hoogner, Wayne, and owned by Harold Hoogner.

The car ahead of Hoogner made a right turn onto Eleventh from Main. Hoogner swerved to the left to avoid hitting it and Lindner swerved to the left to avoid hitting the Hoogner vehicle. He was not quite successful, his bike striking the left side of the Hoogner car, upsetting the bike on the left side of the street. Sgt. Keith Reed investigated, reporting $51.02 damage to the motorbike.

The following day on the high school parking lot, Rita Olson, Wakefield, driving a car owned by Glen Olson, started to pull into a parking stall, stopped and started to back up. The rear bumper of the Olson car hit the right side of a car driven by Timothy Hansen and owned by Donald Hansen, Wisner. Assistant Chief E. L. Hailey investigated.

Our man with the Armed Forces

Because beer is such a favorite with service men, we brewers like to do all we can to keep its surroundings right. So USBA representatives serve as adviser members of the Armed Forces Disciplinary Control Boards throughout the country.

These men from the USBA operate hand in hand with service and civilian police, with malt beverage licensees, public boards and committees: military, civil, professional. Object: to protect those who are underage, and to insure strict observance of the law.

We're proud of the work they do.
