Canyon Kid Appears; Second Visit Later

The Canyon Kid, a television star for youngsters, appeared at the Wayne City Auditorium Saturday afternoon before a fair-sized crowd. It was a special program put on by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce retail committee.

HELPING CHOOSE underwear to be sent to orphans in Vietnam was Mrs. Harold Goshorn, clerk at J. M. McDonald's. Terry Hasebroock spent all his $15 prize money to buy shorts and T-shirts for the orphans in Vietnam.

Lad's Money Goes to Vietnam Kids

What does a boy of eleven do when he wins $15 in a contest? He spends it, Terry Hasebroock, son of Mrs. Esther Hasebroock, Wayne, is an 11-year-old boy, he won $15 in a contest and he spent it. There ends the similarity.

Terry tried to decide what to do with the money. He doesn't have a bicycle but it wasn't enough for that. There were other things he would have liked, but the matter was left entirely up to him.

Will Divert Acres

The 1968 feed grain program will seek to divert at least 30 million acres, Wayne County ASCS has learned. This would be 10 million more than diverted this year.

Property masters are L. Johnson and S. County Farmer Wins Land Bank Honor

Werner Mann, Winside, was awarded a commemorative medallion at a banquet in Norfolk Tuesday night. He is one of 88 farmers honored in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming, states served by the Federal Land Bank of Omaha.

The Spook Speaks

A Wayne resident was hunting with his six-year-old son. After they returned to town, they stopped in a pool hall. "How many pheasants did your dad get?" asked another man. "Three," the boy replied. "Did he shoot them through the window of the car?" "Nope, he rolled it down."

Fail to Get Winner

The Silver Dollar Night drawing failed to get a winner Friday night, being held then because of the holiday on the regular drawing day. Minnie Carls, Wakefield, was the name drawn for $100. Because there was no winner, the drawing Thursday, Nov. 30, will be for $150.

WERNER MANN, Winside, was chosen from farmers in five counties for the 50th anniversary medallion of Federal Land Bank of Omaha last week. He is shown here with Herman Kuhl, president of the Norfolk branch, who presented the medallion and Ben Thornton, manager of the Norfolk Office. Mrs. Mann stands beside her husband, Donna next and Diane on the extreme left.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Do We Need to Be Ashamed?

Does Wayne need to feel ashamed over having missed its Community Chest goal for the first time in 15 years? In some ways, yes, in other ways, no.

When one considers the support it has given to other enterprises, charitable and otherwise, it is obvious this is a community with a conscience.

For example, Goodwill Industries has tripled its space for receiving donations the last two years because area residents keep giving more and more items that can be repaired and used.

For example, the kids went out at Halloween and raised a record amount for kids of the world through UNICEF.

For example, the young people of seven churches went out for a couple of hours one Sunday and raised almost $350 to help the underprivileged throughout the world.

For example, Wayne has had a foreign exchange student, has one now and is planning a third. There is a good chance that a Wayne student may even go abroad to study a year under the same program.

For example, every time baseball suits, band uniforms, choir robes, church needs, special fund drives, promotional efforts or anything else comes up, Wayne responds generously.

Wayne has supported bond issues to provide top educational facilities. It has paved streets, provided parks and in other ways invested in the future, not just for the good of the living but for the good of those not yet born.

For these reasons, Wayne need not feel ashamed.

But in a way, there should be a sense of shame at not making the goal. After all, the amount asked did not even represent an average of 50 cents a person in the city. Surely this was not too much to ask of the people.

Some gave far more than they were expected to give, but in some homes the donation was from zero to 50 cents. Some business places reported a TOTAL of $2 collected for Community Chest.

Fortunately, Wayne Community Chest has a reserve to go on. None of the provisions of the 1968 budget need be cut back or deleted. However, this is a stopgap fund and either the city must meet its quota in the future or it must decide where cuts are to be made.

Surely no one wants to go back to the days when each organization held its own drive! In towns where there is no Community Chest, it seems there is someone around almost every week collecting for some worthy charitable project.

Wayne residents can still hold their heads high. The workers did a good job, devoting their own time to the project. The city came close but because it did not come close enough, "emergency" funds have to be drawn upon, funds that should be conserved in case the area ever has a really bad crop year, and making a quota comparable to the $9,300 of this year is next to impossible.

Pride, shame and determination can exist at the same time. You should be proud of what was accomplished, ashamed that it was not better and determined that we will do better next year.—CEG.

You Tell 'em Emerson

Several times lately letters have come from different groups in the Emerson area. All seem to have similar letterheads with a listing of Emerson's attractions enumerated down the left side of the page.

For instance, one from Emerson-Hubbard Schools told of the class play. While getting in a plug for that Nov. 28 production of "Night of January 16th," it was possible to put in a plug for Emerson as a community.

Some of the assets listed were: power, municipally owned plus headquarters for an REA district; good water; communications, direct dial phones, short wave radio, telegraph, local and city newspapers, rapid mail service; transportation, two highways, bus service, railroads in three directions, airport, truck lines, close to barge lines;

Schools, public and parochial, close to colleges in Sioux City and Wayne; a list of churches; recreation, pheasant hunting, swimming pool, park, lighted ball park, close to state park, near Crystal lake, short drive to Devils Nest and Gavins Point; industries listed; agricultural products named plus nearness to Northeast Station; and several other good points, new water tower, new water treatment plant, new street lights, disposal plant, excellent fire department, paved streets and ideal building sites; and finally, information that 100 per cent financing for industries is available.

Emerson has shown the same get-up-and-go in its effort to get the new Northeast Nebraska vocational-technical school. While it may not get the school, no one can help but notice the enthusiasm Emersonites are putting into their bid.

Other towns might do well to do the same, towns as big as Wayne or as small as Sholes. All have something of which to be proud. Why not tell about it on all letterheads?

The letterhead coming this way carried the letter's message fine and also got across the point that Emerson is a pretty nice place. Isn't that about what was intended? Isn't it worth copying?—CEG.

The Mansion on the Hill

Ogallala is not Wayne and Wayne is not Ogallala. However, there is much in common, one similarity being deserving of consideration between these two towns of almost identical size.

The Keith County capital had no museum for years. It has one now. Wayne County has no museum, just as it has not had one for years.

What did Ogallala do that Wayne has not? It bought an older home, in this case a brick 2½-story house on Highway 26 leading from Ogallala to Lake McConaughy. This has been converted into a museum.

True, remodeling was necessary and sagging supports had to be replaced, but the point is, Ogallala did something. Now the Mansion on the Hill, as the museum is called, is getting statewide notoriety as one more place to visit when in the Ogallala area.

Does this remind you of any place in Wayne? It should. To us it sounds as if a home with all the antique grandeur of the Dr. Jensen house was made into a showplace. By itself it could be something to gaze upon, but with museum items inside it could be an even bigger attraction.

If you have not visited the Dr. Jensen house near the courthouse in Wayne, you cannot know how well this lovely old house has been preserved. It has original woodwork, wonderful hanging lights, fancy stairs and "gingerbread" that was the rage of years ago.

Lovers of antiquity would love just to wander through its halls with its many bedrooms, bath and a half, front and rear staircase, tiled floors in the bathroom and many other features. It is indeed a showcase.

The point is, it would make a good museum, ideally located. However, no matter where someone decides the museum is to be, someone should get the movement started.

Reading editorials about the need and agreeing with them is one thing—doing something about the need is another. What a pleasant experience it would be if Wayne were to equal and perhaps even exceed Ogallala and its Mansion on the Hill project. Certainly the mansion in Ogallala does not compare with the Dr. Jensen residence in being well-maintained, well-located and in near-perfect shape.

One more week has gone by since the matter was last considered. Is there an answer in Wayne just as there was an answer in Ogallala?—CEG.

Street Repairs for Winside 'Race' Cold

Repair work in Winside is racing cold weather. The town board is hoping the work on paved streets in that town can be completed before severe freezing takes place.

Kenneth Gramberg, city employee, is in charge of the repair work. He is filling cracks with tar and making other improvements where needed.

He started Tuesday in the main business block of Winside. It is thought with a few more good days he can get the major repairs finished and then do minor work until the deep freeze hits.

Winside Paper Staff Hustles Edition Out

"The Wildcat Edition," school paper at Winside, came out Wednesday of last week, the staff hustling to get the issue out before the Thanksgiving holiday. What they turned out is a paper that is just a little different and shows imagination more than some school papers.

Someone made a crossword puzzle. The first word across was "Nov. 23" in twelve letters. Other not so difficult ones were abbreviations for University of Omaha, standing room only, houseyard, Iowa Electronics, northeastern, dog gone, northern highlands, Alcoholics Anonymous and electric kitchen.

Then there were the spaces: On Sunday you attend _____, Plymouth _____, Want _____, and This puzzle is a _____. Definitions to help provide words included: Dull thud; opposite of out; opposite of he; opposite of yes; what you dip pigtails in (three letters); sore on the foot; past tense of do; and mineral from liver.

Letters to the editor were also interesting. Two were from drafting class pupils, "Unsatisfied" and "Agitated." One writer said of facilities: "Can you imagine trying to draw amongst pianos, royalty chairs, and coat racks, pop bottles and other various items?" Another pointed out that the drafting room is also used for extra-curricular activities such as physicals, picture-taking and a storeroom, adding "I suggest that the school get these activities out of our classroom or better yet get us a new classroom."

Two other letters appeared. One wanted Mr. Connick (Jim Connick, the new basketball coach) to have all study halls and the other was a one-liner: "Could a course in agriculture be offered to Winside pupils?" In addition the paper had many news stories, personality sketches of teachers and pupils and other features. Diane Wacker is editor with Sharon Paulson, Joan Deck, Carol Bleich, Danny Jaeger, Mark Witt, Robert Farman, Dan Bruggeman, Kirk Troutman and Sandra Coulter reporters.

Plenty of Work for Pupils Before Play

There is much work to be done for the stage setting of "George Washington Slept Here," the Wayne High School play to be presented Nov. 30 and Dec. 2, according to Mrs. Sherian Frey, director.

Fortunately, Mrs. Frey is an art instructor as well as being the director of the play. Not only is this helping out on preparing sets, but the advertising posters made by Mrs. Frey and her husband are among the finest Wayne High has ever had.

The play itself must be good because it's almost as old as George Washington. Not quite, but it has been put on elsewhere in years past and it did have a long run on Broadway.

In the play the house itself is important because it has been purchased by a man who then lets his wife know what he has done. Things go wrong. The household is in turmoil sometimes trying to make a home out of a house where Washington once slept. It's all good fun and the cast members are having a ball getting ready for onstage appearance while many others are working behind the scenes to make the play come off well in other aspects.

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Wayne Herald, Nov. 28, 1907
W. E. Tucker came from Winside this morning to spend his Thanksgiving home, realizing the scarcity of turkeys in Wayne he brought one along, no questions asked where he got it.

For Sale—5 acres, 4 blocks from First National Bank. Good house, new barn, fine water, fruit, and building spot, $3,000 for a short time. F. M. Skeen. (Want ad).

Farmers have been very busy improving the fine weather by getting their corn in the cribs. The yield varies greatly being all the way from twenty-five to fifty and sixty bushels to the acre.

S. Hughes, living about five miles southwest of town, met with a serious accident one day last week in a runaway. While driving down a hill the neckyoke broke, letting the buggy tongue down. The team started to run away and the buggy was overturned, throwing himself and wife out. Mrs. Hughes was badly bruised while Mr. Hughes fared worse, sustaining a fractured collar bone in two places and being badly bruised about the head.

There is talk of organizing an anti-horse thief association in Wayne county to co-operate with similar organizations in the adjoining counties whenever the necessity arises to run down horse thieves.

A source of some apprehension is the illness of Mrs. Rev. Carter. She has been sick all this week and the preliminary symptoms are those of smallpox. Mrs. Carter went to Bloomfield a couple of weeks ago with a certain party and it was probably in that town that she was exposed to the pesky disease. It is to be hoped that Carroll does not have to undergo the disease. The Carters asked that they be quarantined yesterday so as to prevent the possible spread of the germs. (Carroll Index).

Marshal Maher was called to the Phillip Horn home in the country Wednesday afternoon to take a drunk man in charge who was making the horn home his domicile without the consent of either Mr. or Mrs. Horn. The authorities at Norfolk were notified of the mans presence here and upon a description being given of the party they said he was a man who had escaped from them. (Carroll Index).

A Ponca man, it is said, has invented an arrangement whereby he runs a washing machine from the power in his automobile. There's nothing like the ingenuity of those Ponca fellows.

A. E. Roberts grocery store at Allen was destroyed by fire one night last week. The building containing the post office and the News office was saved only by hard work on the part of the fire department.

A man who chews 20 cents worth of tobacco a week concluded to try a tobacco cure. In two weeks he ate $1.50 worth of the cure and for the next two weeks he used 5 cents worth of candy, 5 cents worth of peanuts and 5 cents worth of gum drops a day. The two weeks he also consumed two large rubber erasers, ate the rubber tips from fourteen lead pencils, chewed up a dozen penholders and browsed off his mustache as high as he could reach. He is now chewing tobacco in the interest of economy.

"People of the present generation don't really know what cheap hogs are," said an oldtime stockman. "In the fall and winter of 1878, I bought lots of hogs in Kansas around $1.75 at $2.25 and that is not all, I lost money on them when I shipped. Along in the spring of 1879 the market firmed up rapidly, however, and I never expect to see hogs get down anywhere near those figures again." (Drovers Journal Stockman).

The few people that have turkeys this year can get their own price. As an illustration a lady near Wayne sold all of her turkeys at 30 cents per pound. So turkeys are sur a luxury this year.

According to the Sioux City Tribune Winside was a closed town on last Sunday. The "lid" was put on securely and not even a cigar or a package of chewing gum could be bought in town. The people are about evenly divided as to the merit or demerits of the lid.

Subject for Sermon at Presbyterian Church Sunday evening "Was Jesus a Winebibber?" Music by the chorus.

Ask Ed Rice or Emory Beckenhauer about that coon they saw run up a tree near W. H. Shearer's recently. The men were returning to town in the dusk of the evening when they saw an animal run across the road and up a tree. They thought it looked and acted like a coon, so stopped and gave chase, with the intention of knocking it out of the tree and killing it. They got it out of the tree all right but found it was one of those striped animals that it's best to remain a safe distance from. They want no more coons. (Laurel Advocate).

Sandra Dunklau Weds Ron Wreidt In Nov. 23 Rites at Redeemer's

Sandra Dunklau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dunklau, Wayne, and Ron Wreidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wriedt, Wayne, were married at 8 p.m. Nov. 23 at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne.

Rev. S. K. de Freese officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Terry Bartling sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love." The church was decorated with candelabra and altar bouquets of bronze and yellow mums. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of ivory jacquard. The gown was fashioned with an empire waistline, fur trimmed elbow length sleeves, and a chapel length train. Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion was held by a fur crown. She carried an arrangement of white chrysanthemums with stephanotis. Mrs. Jerry Baier, Wayne, served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of moss green crepe with satin trim, fashioned with an empire waistline and bell shape sleeves. She carried a hand bouquet of gold mums. Robert Wriedt, Wayne, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Steven Moseman, Emerson, Curtis. The bridegroom and his attendants wore dark business suits. Beth and Lisa Dunklau lighted the candles. Tracy Lynn Baier was flower girl. The bride's mother chose a royal blue crepe dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a copper knit ensemble with brown accessories. Each had a corsage of gold and bronze mums. A reception for 170 guests was held following the ceremony.

Survivors include her husband, Dr. H. A. Teckhaus, a daughter, Mrs. Gretchen Goede, Orange, Calif.; a brother, Henry Kugler, Wayne; three sisters, Mrs. Susie Larsen, Idaho and Mrs. Arthur Chichester and Mrs. William Thompson, Fullerton, and two grandsons, Richard Goede, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Goede, Orange.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 819 Walnut Drive, Wayne.

Nov. 17: Mr. and Mrs. Leland Sawtell, Allen, a daughter, 7 lbs., 13 oz., Wakefield Hospital.

Nov. 21: Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sutherland, Norfolk, a son, Russell Curtis, 10 lbs., 3 oz. The Sutherlands are former Wayne residents.

Nov. 22: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bengston, Wayne, a daughter, Carl Ann, 7 lbs., 12-3/4 oz., Wayne Hospital.

Mrs. H. Teckhaus Former Resident Dies November 2

Mrs. H. A. Teckhaus, 64, died Nov. 2 in Fullerton, Calif. Mrs. Teckhaus, the former Rose Margarete Kugler, was born May 20, 1903 at Wayne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kugler.

She was baptized and confirmed in Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. She attended Wayne State Teachers College and entered the teaching profession. She taught at Laurel and Sioux City.

She was married July 2, 1938 to Rev. Dr. Henry A. Teckhaus. In 1941 the couple moved to California where she continued her education at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles. She then taught at Eastmont Elementary School, Montebello, Calif. from 1943 to June 1967.

Survivors include her husband, Dr. H. A. Teckhaus; a daughter, Mrs. Gretchen Goede, Orange, Calif.; a brother, Henry Kugler, Wayne; three sisters, Mrs. Susie Larsen, Idaho and Mrs. Arthur Chichester and Mrs. William Thompson, Fullerton, and two grandsons, Richard Goede, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Goede, Orange.

Concord Boy Winner

Brian Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlen Johnson, Concord, was a recent winner in a Pillsbury coloring contest. He was one of the Nebraska winners, twelve in all, in the 8-10 age group for boys and girls. For his winning entry, he received a large rocket and a robot. Mrs. Clarence Pearson is his teacher at Concord Elementary School.

Scoter Put in Jail

Wayne Police Department had an unusual case on the record book last week. Two boys were caught riding a motor scooter after dark with no lights. Police found it was an unlicensed scooter and neither boy was old enough to get a license. The scooter was put in jail. Police men also found one business place with the door unlocked and one professional man's office door unlocked.

RICHARD JAEGER, Winside, is shown in Vietnam outside one of the tents which quarter men. About ten men live in a hut, sandbags helping protect them. He has no idea what type of tree he was leaning on when the picture was taken.

'Folks at Home Know More About Vietnam War Than Soldiers There'

Sp-4 Rich Jaeger, a Winside High School graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jaeger, rural Hoskins, said last week he spent a year in Vietnam but he knows the people in the United States were better informed about what was happening than the soldiers there were.

The reason is simple. The Vietnam war includes spotted areas of fighting. Servicemen are mainly concerned with their area and they are not kept informed of what is going on in other units miles away. For that reason, they do not get the comprehensive picture the folks at home do.

Would he go back again? Yes, if he had to, because he feels the war is right and its aims are good. He said he would tell the young who have misgivings: "There is a job to be done. Pulling out is not the answer."

Naturally he heard of the demonstrations and protest marches in this country. He said the men in his outfit were almost unanimous in the feeling that the dissident ones are wrong and are harming the effort to bring peace and stability to a government that appealed to the USA for support and help.

Jaeger came back to the States from Vietnam July 26. He has been at Ft. Riley, Kan., since then and has one month of service time left. He returns to that base Nov. 29, being home right now on furlough.

He went to Vietnam in July, 1966 his ship taking 19 days to get there. Coming home was a matter of hours, the plane taking one day.

As driver of a tractor-trailer with five tons capacity, he transported loads of ammunition, lumber, foodstuffs and other supplies. He was based at the port of Qui Nhon and drove to many points, including Pleiku, a 108-mile trip on "supposedly black-top" which took six hours with the truck loaded and four hours empty.

Around Qui Nhon the Korean ROK army is in control, helping the US and Vietnamese troops. The route to Pleiku is considered "secure" because it is all held by friendly forces. Qui Nhon is also secure.

But life was not all a bed of roses. Once, Jaeger and five other drivers had hauled supplies to a point near the Cambodian border where fighting had been going on with troops all around. They went to sleep, knowing American and Vietnam tanks surrounded them. When they awoke at 8, they found they were alone, the tanks and troops of the other outfit having left. They returned to Pleiku through territory not considered secure with the only weapons the rifles in their trucks.

Another time the trucks were virtually defenseless during an attack. Jaeger spent 1 1/2 hours under his truck tractor during a mortar attack. Some of the trucks had shrapnel holes but no one was injured.

Most men in Vietnam get R&R (rest and relaxation) but when Jaeger was scheduled to go to Hong Kong he took sick and could not go. As a result, he never got out of Vietnam once during the year he spent there.

He reported the living conditions for the Vietnamese are poor, with houses of straw, C ration boxes or anything else that can be used for construction. There are modern structures, mainly in the big cities.

As for the US armed forces, they live in tent barracks on concrete or wooden floors. Water is purified for them, each morning a tank truck bringing water in and soldiers obtaining water from the truck.

In Qui Nhon, Pleiku and other cities he visited, there were many business places catering to the American soldier, marine or sailor. They do this because the Americans earn in a month an amount equal to what many Vietnamese do in a year. For that reason, the natives can cater to the needs of the soldiers with souvenirs and other items.

The Central Highlands, where the longest battle of the war has just been ended, was one of the places where Jaeger hauled supplies that came into port at Qui Nhon. He said it is a mountainous area in the highlands in contrast to the intensified farming in the Qui Nhon area, people having small acreages, using oxen for power, living in villages and going out to their plots each day.

Jaeger's company stayed together nine months, then split up all over Vietnam so a full contingent would not leave one base at the end of the year. He said the men who drove trucks were responsible for their maintenance and when they brought them in they didn't leave them until they were sure they were ready to go for the next driver with fuel, oil and tires in readiness. If any trouble had been encountered, the maintenance department had to be notified.

Vietnamese people are friendly for the most part, according to Jaeger. Some realize what the American troops are there for but others are "on the fence," not knowing how to feel. Vietnam has known war for almost two decades so it is almost a way of life.

There are many orphans there and GI's adopt them to bring back to the States. Jaeger said the orphans can be of mixed or straight Vietnamese parentage, the GI's do not care. They are married and they want to help them.

If Communism is stopped in Vietnam, it will not have to be stopped here, Jaeger feels. It's difficult to fight them, however, for he noted that you cannot look at a man on the street and know whether he is a friend or enemy, patriot or Viet Cong.

What has America done to help? One village used to be mud streets and no sidewalks with straw huts. It has grown into a modern city with street lights, sidewalks and many other facilities, Americans helping all they can to let the Vietnamese know they want nothing except to leave them better off than they have been.

"You're in a whole different world," Jaeger said. Even after being in Vietnam, it seems like a dream. When he arrived back in the US after a year and saw the nice homes, children playing, modern facilities and "life as usual," he found it hard to believe 24 hours earlier he had left a world of poverty, ignorance and war.

While in Vietnam he hoped to see some of the area men in service, so many being over there. He knew Jerry Brudigan's address but never was able to contact him. When Jaeger got to Ft. Riley, he ran into a boy he thought looked familiar. The boy had served in the Jaeger's unit in Vietnam. He is from Walthill.

Finally, Jaeger says, mail is so important. He received The Wayne Herald a week late and every letter and package sent to him arrived in a few days. He said the men really appreciate this service as a morale booster.

When he gets out in a month, Jaeger wants to farm with his brother, Kenneth and his father between Hoskins and Winside. Kenneth has also served in the army. Another brother, Dean, is in college.

Two From WSC Named Officers for Group

Two members of the Wayne State Industrial Arts faculty have been elected to offices in the Nebraska Council on Industrial Arts Teacher Education.

Dr. Glenn Baker will be the 1968 president, Anton Netherda, Jr., the secretary, in the organization's college section. Their election took place Nov. 17 at Hastings.

Also attending from Wayne State were Raymond Schrelner, chairman of the applied arts division, and 12 senior students in industrial arts.

Schrelner has been president this year of the Nebraska Industrial Education Association's high school section. This organization met jointly with the Nebraska Vocational Association Saturday at Hastings, following the Friday conference of the Nebraska Council on Industrial Arts Teacher Education.

The Service Station

Airman Larry Haselhorst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Haselhorst, Randolph, has completed the aviation mechanical fundamentals school at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn. It is a four-week course introducing students to mathematics, physics and the principles of electricity, stress being put on the atomic theory, static and dynamic electricity, magnetic theory and construction of aircraft batteries. Through the course, Airman Haselhorst is now prepared for entrance into more advanced courses at the naval base.

Ronald Hochstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hochstein, Wayne, has been promoted to E-2 upon completion of basic combat training at Ft. Benning, Ga. His promotion came two months earlier than is customary, under an army policy providing incentive for outstanding airmen. As many as 50 per cent of the trainees each cycle are eligible for early promotion. Basis for the decision include scores of range firing, physical combat proficiency, military bearing and leadership potential.

Completing basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., was Airman George Sherry, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Dan) Sherry, Wayne. He is now assigned as a security policeman with a unit of the Strategic Air Command at Robins AFB, Ga. Airman Sherry is a 1966 graduate of Wayne High School and attended Nebraska Technical Institute, Milford.

Ronald Temme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Temme, Wayne, has been promoted from assistant clerk to regular clerk in the motor pool where he serves at Bad Kissingen, Germany. His address is: Pfc. Ronald A. Temme, RA 16979916, G. Trp., 2nd Sqdn., 14th a/c, APO New York, N. Y. 09330.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rasmussen, Dixon, have received word that their son, Earl, is now stationed at the Naval Air Station, Subic Point, Philippine Islands. His address is: AAB Earl D. Rasmussen, 609987, USNAS, Box 3, FPO San Francisco, Calif. 96654.

Cadet Chester Dagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dagle, Emerson, has been accepted for the professional officer course of the air force reserve officers training corps program at the University of Iowa. He has completed the two-year general military course, passed comprehensive examinations and has been selected by a special board for AFROTC. He will receive extensive military classroom instruction and corps training along with normal college academics plus attending four weeks of field training at an air force installation. Cadet Dagle is working toward a degree in law and will be a second lieutenant when he meets AFROTC requirements.

Sp-4 Kenneth Soden returned from Korea Oct. 25 on 30-days furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Soden, Wayne. He left Saturday for Ft. Carson, Colo., where he expects to continue the same work he was doing in Korea—cooking.

Soden is a 1965 graduate of Wayne High School and entered the army through selective service May 25, 1966. He has spent 18 months in the service, 6 in Ft. Polk, La., where he took basic and attended cook school and 12 in Korea. He has 6 months left. He reports he never got out of Korea once while based there and got into the biggest city, Seoul, once. He said the poor life in straw huts yet, but their lot has improved greatly since the end of the Korean conflict.

Gary Friend, son of Mrs. Mary Friend, Hoskins, has been released from the air force at Luke AFB, Ariz., and is now home working at Miller Manufacturing Co., Hoskins. He had been at Luke two months and was released Nov. 9. He had spent service time at Lackland and Lowry Air Force Bases previously.

Sgt. Larry Ritze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ritze, Winslow, was home for Thanksgiving, coming Nov. 16 and leaving Nov. 25. He is hospitalized with the 1079th Med. Services Squadron, Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colo. 80240. Larry injured his right arm two years ago in basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. It was bandaged and healed. While in Vietnam on patrol, the squad had to leave the Jeep in a hurry due to enemy action. He slipped, fell on a rock and a doctor checked him, finding surgery necessary. He was flown to Denver and an operation was performed Nov. 2 to reset a bone in the back of his hand. Bone was removed from below his wrist and transplanted on the back. He now has a cast from palm to elbow and will have it several more weeks. Sgt. Ritze expects to be home again for the Christmas holidays.

We are not running the same picture twice. The young men shown are twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson, Dixon. The boys recently enlisted in the air force. Elden is the one mail addressed to them but it will give readers an idea of where they are serving overseas. These should be turned in by Dec. 2 in order to be included in this special listing. No addresses will be taken from past Service Station columns since there could have been a change or mistake, so you are asked to send in the addresses again on postal cards or separate sheets of paper so they can be alphabetized.

Pfc. Garold Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell, Allen, arrived home on leave Nov. 16. He will report to Ft. Lewis, Wash., Dec. 14, and will go from there to Korea, where he is to serve for 13 months. He has been taking training in aircraft engine repair.

A/IC Dennis Mitchell, a brother to Garold Mitchell, Allen, is stationed on Okinawa but has been on temporary duty in Saigon since Nov. 3. He and Sgt. Harold Isom, son of the Wendell Isoms, Allen, met in Saigon and spent time together. Isom's wife and family are in Allen while he is gone. Garold Mitchell, Dennis Mitchell and Harold Isom were all members of the Class of 1966 at Allen High School.

Airman Thomas Beckenhauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beckenhauer, Wayne, has completed basic training at Amarillo AFB, Tex., and has been assigned to the air force technical training center at Sheppard AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as a statistical data specialist. Airman Beckenhauer graduated from Wayne High School in 1964 and attended Lincoln School of Commerce.

A/IC James Serven, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Serven, Concord, has graduated from an air force technical school at Chanute AFB, Ill. He was training in aircraft instrument repair and has been assigned to a unit of the Air Defense Command at Ent AFB, Colorado Springs. Airman Serven is a graduate of Allen High School.

Invite Parents to Allen's Book Fair

A student book fair is scheduled Monday through Thursday, Nov. 27-30, at Allen High School. Pupils, parents and visitors are invited to attend the event.

The book fair will be open from 8:30 to 3:30 each day in the school library. Paperback books of many types will be offered and one-fifth of all proceeds go to the school library for purchase of supplies and books. Sponsoring the event is the Allen Library Club with Margaret Ankeny serving as book fair chairman. On the committee are Rayne Adams, Marcia Ruback, Connie Sachau, Jean Serven and Bernice Demke.

Included in the book fair will be new books from many publishers in popular paperback prices. Classics, fiction, westerns, adventure stories, biographies, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books will be included to offer a wide range of selection to meet every interest.

Sixty at Winslow for Spanish Club Meeting

Sixty attended a meeting of the Winslow High School Spanish Club Monday, Nov. 13. Mrs. Bill Schmitt sponsored the WIS group and Gwen Putnam and a student teacher, Pam Baker, sponsored 16 from Randolph who attended.

Speakers were two natives of Chile, Mrs. Cecilia Grewson, who married a man from Madison, and Olivia Oles, a student at Wayne State College. Mrs. Grewson played the guitar and sang Chilean songs and Miss Oles explained the monetary system and answered questions. Dances of Chile were demonstrated.

Following a regular Spanish club meeting, lunch was served. The WIS club furnished the refreshments.

County's Court Keeps Busy Pace

Judge David Hamer's county court continues to keep busy. Eleven cases were heard in the period Nov. 20-22. A report on the holiday and weekend "business" will be given in Thursday's edition of The Herald.

Nov. 20 there were two hearings. Dale Wheeler, Hartington, paid $25 fine, $5 costs and $7 for medical attention on a charge of intoxication. Carl Schoel of the WSC campus police signed the complaint.

Also that day, Gene Sandahl, Wayne, paid $10 fine and $5 costs on an intoxication charge. Officer Ron Penlerick brought charges.

Five hearings were held Nov. 21. David Ewert, Columbus, appeared on a speeding charge brought by Officer John Redel. He paid $15 fine and costs.

Val Dean Dittman, Coleridge, paid $15 fine and $5 costs on a speeding charge. Radar was used but the name of the complaining state trooper on the waiver was not learned.

John McRae, Elk Grove Village, Ill., paid $15 fine and costs for a stop sign violation. Officer Penlerick brought charges.

Calvin Hingst, Beemer, paid $15 fine and $5 costs for speeding. Trooper R. Tolly, NSP, was the complaining officer.

Roger Jorgensen, Sioux City, was also charged with speeding. Officer Melvin Lamb signed the complaint. Fine and costs came to $15.

Four cases were heard Nov. 22. In the first, John Orner, Mapleton, Ia., paid $15 total fine and costs for speeding. Trooper D. Ruppert, NSP, was the complaining officer.

Dennis Fleming, Wayne, paid $10 fine and $5 costs on a speeding charge. Complaint was signed by Officer Penlerick.

William Essman, Wayne, paid $16 fine and $5 costs on a speeding count. Trooper Ruppert signed the complaint.

Paying $15 fine and costs for speeding was Thomas Lenhoff, Crofton. Charges against him were filed by Officer Penlerick.

Program of Resealing 'Kim' Iga Goes to NU for Studies

The Wayne County ASCS office has announced that farmers with 1964, 1965 and 1966 crops of feed grains now under reseal loans will be able to extend loans and reseal crops for another year following maturity dates in the spring and summer of 1968.

J. H. Mohr, county chairman, said this provides farmers more time than in past years to arrange storage for continued resale. It also gives users additional assurance of future market stability.

Feed grains of the 1967 crop, along with wheat and soybeans, have already been made eligible for resale in farm storage and commercial storage. It is the first time resale has been provided for feed grain crops in commercial storage.

Storage cost for carrying these reserves under either farm or commercial resale will be covered by the government. Farmers who hold 1967 grain on the farm under first-year loan will be authorized, upon request, to shift it to commercial storage for continuation under loan in the resale program.

Mohr points out that "reseal" means renewal or extension of a price-support loan beyond the original maturity date. Commodities stored on farms as collateral are put under "seal" and when the loan is extended the collateral is "resealed." The term "reseal" now will also be used in referring to extended loans on commodities stored in commercial warehouses, although such price-supported commodities are not sealed as they are on the farm.

The price-support loan gives farmers immediate cash, enabling them to hold grain off the market until sale is more advantageous. With fall harvest in full swing, price strength during coming weeks will depend heavily on the extent to which farmers utilize the loan program to carry feed grain supplies forward for more orderly marketing later on, Mohr said.

Chusie "Kim" Iga, the young Japanese farmer who has been staying at the Dick Sorensen farm near Wayne, is among 35 Japanese men studying agricultural management methods in the US who will spend the next three months in training at the University of Nebraska.

Iga and 34 others arrived in Lincoln Nov. 26 to live at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education. They will study animal science as part of a program arranged by the National 4-H Foundation and financed by the Japanese Agriculture Council.

The 35 are part of a group of 150 who came in July, 1966, to take part in a two-year work-study program in farm management. Others are located nearby at Pilger, Waterbury, Battle Creek and other towns, 13 in this area alone studying hog raising and the other 22 in Colorado where they have been studying cattle raising.

All of the young Japanese have been working since last January. They will use earnings to pay part of the cost of attending the NU course. The rest will be paid by the Japanese Agricultural Council.

Iga will come back to Wayne, Feb. 25 the course will be over and the young farmers will return to the homes where they have been living and working.

While they have a lot of studies at NU, they will also have social and recreational activities and some field trips. They will attend classes on the agriculture college campus.

Izaak Walton Unit

Sponsoring Films

Wayne Izaak Walton League is sponsoring "Adventures of the Great Outdoors" films taken by Gordon Eastman, at a special showing Monday, Dec. 4, at 8 p.m. in the Wayne City Auditorium. Members are selling tickets in advance at a lower rate than they will be sold at the boxoffice.

The rotor film covers a mule deer hunt few men would have dared, crossing a choked Snake River gorge in a rubber raft, Great Bear Lodge in Canada's far north, fishing for 40-pound trout, wildlife of the continent and adventures of all types.

"A program planned for everyone, 4 to 104" is the way Ikes are proclaiming the presentation. They feel it is the finest show they have ever brought to Wayne.

Hoskins Trinity Has

Music Program Ready

Hoskins Trinity Church and School will present the annual concert of Christmas music Sunday, Dec. 10, at 8 p.m. in the church. The church choir and the school choir, both directed by Holland Menk, will take part.

Featured number will be "And the Glory of the Lord" from "The Messiah." The rest of the program ranges from 15th century colonial times to modern music.

Mrs. Oscar Zander and Diane Waechter will play accompaniment. The public is invited to attend.

DRAWING FOR SWAY Friday night were (left to right): Don Lund, Sav-Mor Drug; Irv Morris, Wayne County Selective Service board; and Dale Gutshall, Dale's Jewelry

produced by the author, Sean O'Casey, at the Abbey Theatre, Dublin, Ireland. This fast-moving comedy revolves around a young man (Steve Millnitz) who is "wronged" by a young woman (Linda Garvin). Others in the cast are Roger Bengtson, Sandra Spellman, Arne Nelson, Rita Mines, and Fred Wiginton. "Tonight at Eight" will be presented Dec. 3, 4, 5 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre. Since the plays will be produced "arena style," reserved seats available are limited. Patrons may secure them at Ramsey Theatre or by calling 375-9985.

WSC Team Has Four Back From Last Year's Starters

New Coach Dave Gunther has a problem with his Wayne State basketball team—but a welcome kind of problem. Who will be the starters with nine lettermen returning, among them four of last year's starters?

Going into the final weekend before Wayne's home opener against Dana Tuesday night at 7:30, Gunther said at least three positions were undecided, and even the senior guard duo of Bob Strathman and Ron Hlitz, regular starters for two seasons, were being pushed.

Gunther, a three-time most valuable player at the University of Iowa and a four-year professional, has installed a system to take advantage of his team's lack of height.

"We'll be playing pressure basketball all the way," he said. "And we have to be in good condition to make up for lack of size and strength."

His squad is young, with only two seniors and three juniors among 13.

The 13 returning starters averaged a total of 51.2 points last year, paced by Strathman, a 6-1 guard from St. Louis, Mo., with 19.1. Junior forward Joel Parks, 6-1, of Pawnee City, Nebr., hit 12.2; Ron Hlitz, 6-0, Rudyard, Mich., 12.1, and Dean Eloffson, 6-5 sophomore forward from Wayne, who climbed to 7.8 in his rookie year.

The only missing regular is Bob Hope, who ranked second in scoring at 12.3, now graduated.

Though Strathman and Hlitz are well established in the back court, they are getting competition from 5-11 Bill Kruse, junior from Calumet, Ia., and 5-11 Rich McGillem, sophomore from West Point, Nebr., both much improved.

Up front there's a real scrap. Bucking for the forward spots are Parks and Eloffson, the returning starters, plus 6-3 Bill Goodwin, sophomore transfer from Iowa State, from Lawton, Ia.; Dave Johnston, 6-2 junior from Bennett, Ia., and Mike Anderson, 6-2 sophomore from Oakland, Nebr., who led the Wayne freshman team scoring last year. Johnston currently is handicapped with a broken finger, but should be playing in a week or two.

The battle at center concerns two sophomores who saw only limited action last year, 6-5 Paul Emanuel of North Bend, Nebr., and 6-9 Dave Schneider of Blair, Nebr. Both have gained considerable skill.

The only freshmen are Richard Bean of Fremont and Dale Kassarweid of Snyder, both 6-4 forwards.

Assisting Gunther, an all-stater at LeMars, Ia., High School, is Ron Jones, a 1963 Wayne State graduate who rated most valuable player honors in both basketball and baseball. The freshman coach is Darryl Lehman, graduate of Anderson College in Indiana.

The Wayne schedule: November—28, Dana; December—1, at Wisconsin State, La-Crosse; 2, at Winona State, Minn.; 5, Dakota Wesleyan, 8, Northern State, S.D.; 9, Nebraska Wesleyan, 11, at Northwestern, Ia.; 29-30, Wayne Christmas Holiday Tournament with Pittsburg State, Kan., Kearney State, Westmar and Wayne State.

January—5, 6, Chadron State; 9, Hastings; 13, at Kearney State; 15, at Southern State, S.D.; 18, at Morningside; 23, Doane; 27, at Peru State.

February—3, at Nebraska Wesleyan; 6, at Midland; 10, Kearney State; 13, at Hastings; 16, at Doane; 19, Southern State; 21, Peru State.

Squad Height 'Uniform' at Wayne

The "long and short of it" at Wayne High School will not offer much contrast in basketball this year. The tallest player on the varsity squad at present is 6'2" and the shortest is 5'9".

Coach Dick Nelson is new at the helm of the cage sport this year, taking over from Harold Maciejewski, who coached 14 years. Maciejewski is now athletic director at WIS.

According to Coach Nelson, he has no great height. Outside of the two mentioned in the first paragraph everyone else ranges in the 5'11" to 6'11" category.

There are seven lettermen back, six of them seniors. By height, they are Gordon Jorgensen, 6'11", juniors; Dave Tietgen, 6'11", senior; Lynn Lessmann, 6'0", senior; Steve Kerl, 6'0", senior; George Eynon, 6'0", senior; and Steve Johnson, 5'11", senior.

Fifty Girls Out for Volleyball at Winside

Winside High School will have a volleyball team again this year. In most cases, the girls will play their tilts prior to the reserve basketball games which in turn precede the boys' varsity basketball contests.

First game is scheduled Dec. 2 against Ponca. Coach James Connick's team will play in the Lewis & Clark Conference.

Girls out for the sport at Winside include Beverly Gallop, Beverly Korn, Nancy Diedrichsen, Lois Diedrichsen, Peggy Eckert, Patty Hoeman, Susan Hamm, Renee Langenberg, Lynne Troutman, Connie Deck, Glenda Morris, Elaine Meyer, Donna

Allen High Will Have Volleyball First Year

Allen High School is to have girls' volleyball this year with Mrs. Leroy Wilch coaching. It is the first year for the sport and a schedule has been worked out where games will be played prior to most basketball tilts.

First volleyball tilt is a Lewis & Clark Conference game at Ponca Dec. 1. First home game date has not been announced, Pilgor being the first home basketball foe at Allen, and that being no volleyball scheduled that night.

Starters for the first game will probably come from this group: Sue Thomas, Marcia Rubcek, Barbara Rastede, Donna Peters, Susan Noe, Marilyn Maggard, D'Vee Koester, Kathy Jackson, Cindy Ellis and Cathy Dowling.

Other girls who are out and may see action are Linda Book, Nancy Chapman, Jeanine Emry, Janean Fahrholz, Diane Gelger, Ginger Heckene, Lucinda Hlrichert, Glenda Jeffrey, Sandy Jeffrey, Kathy Maggard, Debra Menkens, Sharon Nobbe, Paulette Noe, Iva Osbahr, Linda Rasmussen, Rhonda Schulz, Jean Serven, Marci Shortt, Susan Smith, LeAnn Von Minden, Margaret Ankeny, Jill Fahrholz and Val Koester.

Student managers for the team are Della Lindahl and Agnes Brentlinger.

Winside Working For Two Openers

Winside High School basketball teams are working for the opening of the basketball season this weekend. The Wildcats lose no time jumping into action, playing at Wakefield Friday, Dec. 1, and at home against Ponca Saturday, Dec. 2.

There will be volleyball for the first home game with the girls playing their game at 5:30. Reserve volleyball will start around 6:30 and varsity ball at 8.

Coach Jim Connick is working with the volleyball team and varsity basketball team. Pete Kropp is in charge of the reserves.

A tentative starting lineup for the varsity cage tilt is expected to be ready for publication in Thursday's paper, there still being quite a contest at WIS for some starting posts.

Officiating Clinic Scheduled in Wayne

The Nebraska School Activities Association is sponsoring a basketball officiating clinic series at Wayne High School. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, Jan. 18 and Feb. 8. Jerry Neely will conduct them and there will be no charge.

Two other sites have been named for North Central and Northeastern Nebraska clinics. They will be at O'Neill High Dec. 6, Jan. 17 and Feb. 7 and at Norfolk Junior College Dec. 4, Jan. 15 and Feb. 5.

Basketball officials and persons interested in learning the techniques of basketball officiating are invited to attend. Coaches and players will also be welcomed at the clinics.

Allen Teams Get Set for Openers

Allen High School has three teams getting ready for opening tilts this weekend. The volleyball girls, reserve basketball team, and varsity basketball team all play at Ponca Friday, Dec. 1.

Coach LeRoy Wilch is in charge of the varsity team in the cage sport with Larry Ahrendt assisting and handling the reserve squad. Mrs. Wilch is in charge of the volleyball girls.

First games Friday are volleyball at 6 (best of three), reserves to follow and varsity winding up. Coach Wilch will have a tentative starting lineup ready for the Thursday paper.
