

Middle School's Concert Thursday

Wayne Middle School will be joined by the Wayne Elementary School fourth grade in putting on a Christmas concert Thursday, Dec. 14, at 8:15 p.m. in the Wayne High School auditorium. Bonita Vandergrift and Joe Lickicker are in charge.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grade string class will be featured first. Members will play seven traditional Christmas numbers under Miss Vandergrift's direction.

Lisa Lesh will narrate the remainder of the program. It will include: Fourth grade, two songs; sixth grade, two songs; fifth grade, two songs; seventh and eighth grade choir, two songs; and fifth and sixth grade choir, five numbers.

Also assisting in preparing the pupils for the annual program are Prin. Loren Park, Eleanor Edwards, Mrs. Marie Skokan, Mrs. Evelyn Hamley, Mrs. LuRay Pederson, Mrs. Marian Hennick, Mrs. Beulah Atkins, Mrs. Orvella Blomkamp and Mrs. Violet Bickers.

The concert is free of charge. The public is invited to attend.

No Winners Here in Drawings Last Week

There were no winners either Thursday or Friday nights in the Silver Dollar Night drawings in Wayne. As a result, both prize totals jump another $50.

Thursday night, the name of Henry Rohde, Randolph, was drawn. He would have won $200 if he had been in Wayne. Since he was not, the prize this coming Thursday night at 8 is $250.

Mrs. Paul Lenzen, Laurel, was the name drawn for the Friday night prize of $100. She was not in Wayne to claim it so the drawing goes up to $150 this coming Friday night at 8.

More Home Displays Wanted in City

Wayne Kiwanis Club members are hoping more residents of Wayne will decorate their homes by Dec. 18. That is the night judges will go around to decide who will get the Christmas lighting contest prizes.

Recognition will also go to Wayne business places. The top three business firms in originality will be selected for commendation.

In homes, the judging will be on originality, detailed construction and varied uses of colored effects, still and animated. Wayne Power Plant will join the Kiwanis Club in giving electrical prizes.

Honorable mention will go to the top ten homes in addition to the ones chosen as best. Winners of the top prizes will be guests of the Kiwanis Club at a dinner meeting Dec. 26.

College Voters to Register

Wayne County college students who are old enough to vote or who will be old enough to vote next May are asked to register when they are home for Christmas vacation. Clerk Norris Weible asks that parents make a note of this so they can remind the students.

Weible said it is important for the college students to register during the Christmas vacation since many of them will not be home again until school is out next spring. Those who do come home at other times will be here on weekends when his office is closed.

Those who are not yet 21 but will be by May 14, when the primary election is held, are eligible to register now. However, May 3 is the last date anyone can register and be eligible for that election.

Clerk Weible reports many adults are coming in and registering at his office. He welcomes this interest and points out that his office and staff are ready to help five days a week during the regular office hours.

Nebraska requires voters to register in all counties instead of just in the bigger cities. Special voter registration days have been held but still only about one-half of those eligible have registered.

Those coming to the clerk's office to register should know in advance whether they will register as Republican, Democrat or Independent and should know how long they have resided in the county. Naturalized citizens should bring their final papers with them.

'To Know People Care, Wonderful Thing'

It's the most wonderful thing in the world to know people care, were the words of Allen Schrant, Winside, Tuesday when he was dismissed from a Norfolk hospital and was able to pay much of the bill.

Schrant has received the funds gathered so far on his behalf in this area. Donations have been coming in through Farmers State Bank, Carroll.

According to Mrs. Schrant, her husband was happy to be home and she, her son and daughter were happy to have him back. It has been weeks since he lost both hands in a corn husking accident and only his desire to get out of the hospital and get back to the farm enabled him to recover fast enough to get dismissed so soon.

He underwent surgery Tuesday, skin being grafted on his hands from his thigh. He will have to return to have the grafting checked to see that it takes.

Mrs. Schrant said the family agrees that having the breadwinner out of the hospital will be a great Christmas present. She said the kindness shown by people, many of them unknown to the Schranths, was unbelievable.

Schrant is scheduled to go to Omaha Dec. 16 to learn about

Music in Carroll

There will be music in Carroll Monday, Dec. 11. The Carroll Band Parents will be meeting at the Carroll Auditorium. Furnishing Christmas music for the gathering will be the pupils of Carroll Elementary School. All teachers are assisting in preparing pupils for the program.

Public Library Adds Eighteen New Books

Mrs. Rodella Wacker, librarian at the Wayne Public Library, reports the addition of 18 new books to the shelves recently. Of these, six are adult non-fiction, five children's non-fiction and one children's fiction.

The public is invited to come in and look over these and many other new books added in recent months. Library hours are Monday through Friday, 2 p.m. until 9 p.m.

New adult non-fiction works include: "America and Americans," John Steinbeck, featured recently on TV; "Animal Gardens," Emily Habu; "The Cole Porter Story," David Ewen; "New Math for Adults Only," Lola May and Ruth Moss; "Outdoors USA," USDA; "Great Ages of Man—Age of Kings," Charles Blitzer.

Adult fiction books include: "Gabriel Hounds," Mary Stewart; "Diary of an Old Man," Chaim Bermant; "The War of the Worlds," H. G. Wells; "The Seeds of Hiroshima," Edita Morris; "The Instrument," John O'Hara; "Silverhill," Phyllis Whitney.

Children's non-fiction includes: "Rocks and Hills: A Look at Geology," A. Harris Stone; "Milkyweed," Millicent Selsam; "Honeybees," Franklin Russell; "What Makes a Plane Fly?" Scott Corbett; and "I Like Vegetables," Sharon Lerner. A new children's fiction book is "The White Mountains," John Christopher.

Plan Cub Scout Pack

Reactivation of Cub Scout Pack 174 is being planned by Wayne Jaycees. District Executive Pat Jolley is working with the Jaycees on plans for getting the Cubs interested again. Further information will be given in forthcoming issues of The Herald.

The Spook Speaks

A Wayne woman reports she is not registered as a voter yet. She says the registration forms have space for putting in "weight" and she plans to lose pounds so she is waiting until the last minute so she can put her weight in at less than it is now.

Mothers will recognize how helpful four-year-olds can be. A Concord boy that age had been "helping" his older brothers and sisters rake leaves. His coat was terrible dirty and when his mother remarked about it, he replied: "Well, of course! I've been working awful hard!"

The Herald had a Spook item recently about a rural school board meeting where a new stove was being considered. One patron remarked that heating the school was about like heating a hay rack. The Omaha World-Herald reprinted the item only it came out: "Heating this school is about like heating a hay stack."

City Radio Setup Complete

Installation of new radio equipment at the Wayne Police Department the past week completed an extensive radio network connecting system for the police. Chief Vern Fairchild reports the department is now connected with police departments, sheriff's offices and the State Patrol throughout the area.

Previous contact has been limited. A monitoring radio picked up the Fremont Sewer Department and that is about all, a "service" that was of little use here.

One radio unit now monitors the Wayne light, street and fire departments. This is for listening purposes only, no transmission being possible.

Another unit monitors the State Patrol. Again it is for listening.

The third unit is a 23-channel citizens band unit with transmitter and receiver. During the tornado season the police will be able to contact those with citizen band units through a central control point for better protection for rural residents and townspeople.

Largest unit is one that is connected to the police and sheriff network. This has both transmitter and receiver. Wayne Police Department now has direct contact with the police cars, the sheriff's department and cars, the State Patrol and the ambulance. For the ambulance, contact is possible with the hospital, the sheriff's department and the police.

Finally, there is a new portable police radio in use. This is of the walkie-talkie type and can reach out several miles. Wayne police have already talked to Wakefield police through this unit. Before, a pocket receiver was all the foot patrol had and this was used to take calls—and then rush to a telephone to complete the contact and find out what was needed.

Wayne State College will soon change over to have connections with the police radio system. When that is complete, full area coverage will be provided, all operating off an antenna at the sheriff's department.

place for answering telephone calls in case the police do not answer and relaying telephone messages to police cars. When the police phone rings, a telephone at the hospital will also ring. If it keeps ringing at the hospital, personnel there will answer and relay messages to the police.

New Explorer Post Planned

Wayne will soon have a new Explorer Scout post. Bob Merchant has been secured as adviser with Chas Greenlee assistant.

A committee at work on the plan calls for a vocational exploring post. Making the study are Norris Weible, Judge David Hamer, Ralph Etter, Scout Executive Pat Jolley and WHS Counselor Ken Deissler.

Meetings would be held once a month with speakers chosen by the members themselves on the basis of what vocations they are most interested in. Those speaking will be able to conduct the meetings in their own way to show the young people what they face if they enter certain fields.

Wayne High School officials are helping in the promotion of the new plan and will give publicity to the eligible boys so they will know of the idea behind the post and the advantages to be gained from membership.

Further announcements concerning the new post will be made in the near future. Arrangements for the organizational set-up are being made now.

WSC Radio-TV Man Completes Course

Neal Robison, Wayne, has completed a five-day closed circuit television workshop. This is part of the preparation for the installation of television at WSC.

Robison is director of radio and television from Wayne State College. He was one chosen from all over the nation to attend the workshop in basic television including videotape production, camera, microphone and studio lighting techniques.

Ampex Video Institute conducted the workshop. It operates a consumer and educational products division at Elk Grove Village, Ill., the only school of its kind in the nation.

Stores Open Three Nights This Week

Wayne stores will be open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights until 9 this week. They will be open Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights the following week.

Silver Dollar drawings will be held Thursday and Friday nights this week and next. Details on the amounts are contained in a separate article.

Santa Claus will be in his little house on Main Street until 8 p.m. each night the stores are open. He will have treats for all kiddies who visit him there.

Canyon Kid will be in Wayne Saturday, Dec. 16, from 10 a.m. until noon. He will have entertainment and prizes at the Wayne City Auditorium for all area youngsters.

Snow Falling

A wet snow started falling in the area Friday night and continued into Saturday at the time this was written. Great for the fields, the wet snow in some areas caused considerable inconvenience on both paved and gravel roads, a slick coating of ice freezing and then snow falling on top. On better-traveled roads, conditions were not so bad. Clearing weather had been promised to follow the freezing-mark snowfall.

Allen Women Pack Boxes for Shutins

With one successful project for Christmas already behind them, women of the Allen Methodist WSCS are proceeding with another. This is the annual packing of boxes for shutins of the community.

The successful project involves servicemen. Women's Society of Christian Service members have already mailed packages for men from the area in the armed forces.

Thursday, Dec. 14, the Christmas program of the WSCS will be held at the Methodist Church at 2 p.m. At that time the boxes for shutins will be packed.

All those attending are asked to bring cookies or candy for the boxes. Before Christmas the boxes will be distributed to those unable to get out much in the Allen community and to those from Allen in nursing homes.

This last project is a big one. Around 30 or 40 boxes are distributed each year by the women.

ALL SIZES of youngsters like to visit Santa Claus. Here is a portion of the line in front of Santa's house to talk to Santa Thursday night. Santa is in his house with treats for kiddies each night the Wayne stores are open.

Legion Sponsors Oratorical Contest

Irwin Sears Post of The American Legion, Wayne, has voted to present an award to the winner of an oratorical contest at Wayne High School. The local winner will go to a district contest.

Winners from several districts will compete in the state contest in Fremont next February. A national contest is also possible, all under sponsorship of the Legion posts of the nation.

Details of the contest can be secured from the Legion post.

All Wayne High School pupils are invited to consider entering. At the meeting Wednesday night, it was announced that Jean Nuss has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Paul Mines on the five-man Veterans Service Committee in Wayne County. Mines has moved to Arizona. Wayne County commissioners have approved the appointment.

Legionnaires are working on a membership program. Reports at the Wednesday session indicate the drive is going well.

Hoskins Manufacturing Co. Triples Size

Hoskins Manufacturing Co., a new industry 1 1/2 years ago, is constructing an addition that will triple its size. It has outgrown the building erected in May, 1966, Ton production.

Richard Doffin, Vernon Delp and Kyle Delp are the owners of the plant and are erecting the new building. They were the only employees at first but now have a salesman on the road, Jim Kominek, Madison, and two other employees, Gary Delp and Marion Delp.

Principal products of the firm are livestock waterers of all sizes and hog feeders. They have dealers in eight states and have sold products in all, Colorado, Iowa, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota.

The original concrete block building had 1200-square-foot of space. A new metal building started going up Dec. 3 and it will offer an additional 2400-square-foot of space. The new addition is on the rear of the first building, which fronts on Main Street.

The trio reports the value of products from the plant has tripled since they first went into operation. They work "six days a week and half the night," as they express it.

In addition to manufacturing, they do farm repair work. They anticipate getting into machine work after the first of the year.

They plan to do their own wiring and other building for the new structure. Only a bad sledge of weather can hold them up now as they put in every spare moment on construction and hope to get the exterior finished before winter sets in so they can do interior work.

Richard Doffin, Vernon Delp and Kyle Delp are the owners of the plant and are erecting the new building. They were the only employees at first but now have a salesman on the road, Jim Kominek, Madison, and two other employees, Gary Delp and Marion Delp.

Blue Devils Lose 59-43 at David City

Coach Dick Nelson's Wayne High cagers ran into a buzz saw in the form of Jim Kearney Friday night at David City. Aquinas, Kearney, a 6'1" senior forward, scored 26 points while leading the Monarchs to a 59-43 victory over the invading Blue Devils.

Wayne managed to keep up with Aquinas at the beginning of the game as the first quarter ended with the score tied at 13-13. Lynn Lessmann led Wayne's first quarter scoring attack with six points. Kearney scored nine of his 26 points in the first period.

A second quarter scoring lull by the Blue Devils gave David City the opportunity to build a commanding lead as the half-time score found Wayne trailing 30-16. The Blue Devils' three points were scored on a field goal by Gordie Jorgensen and a free throw by Dave Brown.

Again in the third quarter Wayne was outscored and the final period began with the Monarchs leading 44-27. Jorgensen scored seven of Wayne's 11 points in the third stanza.

Despite a Blue Devil press which began with seven minutes remaining in the game, Aquinas still managed to maintain its lead and the game ended with Wayne trailing by 16 points.

Gordie Jorgensen was Wayne's leading scorer with 15 points. Lynn Lessmann followed with 11 tallies.

Dave Tietgen and Gordie Jorgensen led the Blue Devils under the boards with eight rebounds apiece. They were followed by George Eynon with 5, Dave Brown with 4 and Lynn Lessmann and Harry Lindner with 3 apiece.

Wayne's B Squad also lost to the Aquinas cagers by the score of 46-28. Leading scorers for Wayne were Joedy Hoogner with 10, Ted Armbruster with 6, Randy Helgren with 4, Jim Sturm, Les Echtenkamp and Bruce Pflueger with 2 apiece and Jerry Titze and Mike Biltoff with 1 apiece.

Under the boards Randy Helgren had 9 rebounds, Bruce Pflueger had 5, Joedy Hoogner had 4, Les Echtenkamp and Jerry Titze each had 3, Mike Biltoff had 2 and Tom Denesla, Terry Ellis, Jim Sturm and Scott Kraemer each had 1.

Both Wayne High teams will host Laurel Tuesday night and Pleasant Friday night.

WSC Posts Victory No. 5

Victory No. 5 went into Wayne State's basketball record book Friday night with a 79-69 decision over Northern State of Aberdeen, S. D.

Balanced scoring and alert defense combined again with stamina to make the difference. The visiting Wolves went more than five minutes before they made a field goal, and the Wildcats had a 23-6 margin midway through the first half before Northern began gaining. Even then, it was free throws—12 out of 15 tries—that kept the Wolves alive before the 38-24 intermission. The Wildcats stretched their lead up to 21 points soon after the half, until Northern's Jim Schlekeway found the range for a flurry of 20 to 30-foot shots totaling 22 points. He finished with 26, high for the game, but Northern had only one other big pointmaker, Gordon Groos, with 18.

Wayne had four scoring upwards of 13 points, topped by Ron Hintz's 21, his first big game of the season. Dean Eloffson added 19 (9 on free throws), Bob Strathman 14, Bill Goodwin 13. In every game so far at least four Wildcats have scored 10 or more—a key to their success.

After the game Northern Coach Bob Wachs complimented Coach Dave Gunther for Wayne's "fine defense." That's a worthy tribute since Northern is noted for tough defense.

Wayne plays Monday at Northwestern College in Orange City, the last action before the Christmas Holiday Tournament Dec. 29-30.

Anybody Want to Go Running for Health?

Note to adults who would like to stay—or get—in good physical condition:

Track Coach Bill Silverberg of Wayne State is planning a special program of running with a double purpose. One is to give adults a chance to improve their general physical condition with a supervised schedule of jogging. The other purpose is to make a study for a graduate course in physical education.

There will be a short meeting January 8 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 102 of Rice Gym. All adults interested in the program are included. At this meeting Silverberg will explain the plan and set up a schedule.

Part of his study includes careful checking of pulse rates and blood pressure of each runner at each jogging session in order to record improvement over a span of weeks.

PRACTICALLY MEMBERS of "The Wayne Herald Family" are Doug Lyman, operator of Lyman Studio, shown also in the mirror, and Barbara Ollenburg, part time employee. Lyman prints about 90 per cent of the pictures used in this paper and also takes some of the pictures in addition to printing them.

'Jumping Jack' Aid to Hunter

When Jimmy Henderson, Lindsay, Okla., went hunting near Carroll recently, he had assistance from an unusual source. A "jumping jack" provided transportation and a steady "platform" from which to shoot at pheasants. The jumping jack is a three-year old mule, a cross between a shetland pony and a jackass. It was brought here by Henderson and his son-in-law, Joe Thompson, Tulsa.

Henderson is a former Lindsay postmaster and a longtime friend of Postmaster John Rethwisch, Carroll. He has been at Carroll to hunt before but this was the first time he brought a trained mule.

The mule is a common hunting companion in Oklahoma where hunters go out at night to hunt coons. Mules can see good at night and never run into fences so they are trained for this use.

Hunting Nebraska pheasants, the mule brought here jumped fences. A piece of canvas was taken along so the animal could jump fences without scratching himself. He also was trained to stand still when birds flew up, providing a steady support for the hunter aboard.

The mule has a special foam rubber saddle that is extremely light. Rethwisch, who tried riding, said it was like "sitting in a rocking chair."

Henderson and Thompson were guests several days at the Rethwisch farm and had pretty fair luck. They transported the mule by pickup especially for the purpose of finding out how the animal would handle hunting pheasants by daylight. The mule came through with flying colors, over the fence and into the pickup.

Dennis Harmier Home

Dennis Harmier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harmier, Carroll, returned home Thursday from Sioux City. He had undergone grafting surgery at a hospital and doctors said he could come home but the grafting would have to be checked later to see that it had taken. The youth had damaged his foot in a blast at his home and grafting was required on the top part of the foot where healing had not been complete.

Draft Board Can Get 'Delinquents' Earlier

Wayne County Selective Service board has supplied more questions and answers concerning selection of draftees. One of the questions concerns a "delinquent" and if one so designated can be called early.

State headquarters defines a delinquent as "a person required to be registered under the selective service law who fails or neglects to perform any duty required of him under the provisions of the selective service law." Anyone declared delinquent by his local board can be called ahead of other registrants.

One youth lives a long way from his draft board office and wants expenses paid for going to the office to register. Selective service laws do not provide for reimbursing anyone in any form for expenses incurred in performing this obligation.

One question came in concerning Classes I-A and I-A-O and the order in which such classifications are called. Physicians, dentists and allied specialists are in these classifications and are called in this order: Delinquents 19 or over with oldest ones first; volunteers in sequence in which they volunteered; non-volunteers, 19-25, oldest called first; non-volunteers over 26, youngest selected first; and non-volunteers under 19, oldest selected first.

Other officers elected are: Arnold Marr, senior warden; LeRoy Clark, junior warden; Charles Millie, treasurer; and Gene Fletcher, secretary. Other officers are to be appointed. Installation is scheduled Tuesday, Jan. 2 at the regular communication of the lodge.

No Five-Class Meets Planned in State

Only six representatives at the Nebraska School Activities Association representative assembly in Lincoln Thursday night voted in favor of a five-class basketball set-up. Several times this many voted against the set-up.

As a result, Omaha will still host the Class A meet and Lincoln the Class B, C and D meet. The plan had called for Omaha to host Class AA and Lincoln Class A, B, C, and D.

Representatives adopted a proposal for the 1968-69 school year providing for an additional assessment for music contests if they fail to meet operating costs. In some districts, especially in the western part of the state, contests have not been paying their way.

Girls will not be participating in interscholastic athletics next year any more than they are now. However, the assembly tabled the decision on further competition until a study is made. The increase would be on the district and state level, and would not add girls' basketball to the activities in the state's high schools.

An article was adopted prohibiting special awards of money or merchandise to schools for participating in scholastic events. Illegal awards include blankets, athletic equipment, sweaters, awards after school is out, trophies or plaques to individuals and concessions on tuition because of non-academic ability.

Supt. Francis Haun and Don Schumacher were two of the district representatives attending from this area.

Dixon Bridge Unsafe Now for Big Trucks

A bridge on a county road six miles north and two miles east of Dixon is not safe at present for heavy truck traffic. The old wooden bridge has some rotted timber and was further damaged Dec. 4 by fire.

According to the operator of a county maintenance vehicle, the bridge should not be used by heavy vehicles. It will have to be repaired before it can support traffic as usual.

Dixon Fire Department was called to the scene near the Dudley Blatchford farm Dec. 4. Trash and weeds were being cleared out and burned so water would run through and the bridge caught fire. Damage from flames was light but combined with the rotting effect of time, the bridge has become unsafe for heavy loads.

Doesn't Make Sense

Dixon Postmaster Lowell Saunders pointed out this past week what all area postmasters have been trying to get across to patrons—it does not make sense to send Christmas cards with four-cent stamps on the envelopes. Saunders said as early as the middle of last week he had received cards from other towns addressed to people no longer at Dixon. Since they had four-cent stamps, he could not forward them. One was a 25-cent card and the other more expensive. All someone would have had to do to make sure those cards reached their destination or would be returned would be to have paid one cent more. He and other area postmasters are urging everyone to use five-cent stamps plus return addresses so those cards that have to be delivered or returned will not pile up, never to let the remembered ones know they were remembered.

I See By The Herald

Mishap Occurs on

Private Property

A two-car accident was investigated Dec. 6 by Assistant Chief of Police E. L. Halley. The mishap occurred at the M & S Service Station.

Judge David Hamer, Wayne, had parked his car on the station platform for servicing. Lois Mencl, Wayne, drove into the station for gasoline.

According to the police report, the sun temporarily blinded Mrs. Mencl. Her car struck the left rear of the parked Hamer car.

Wayne Man Files as Democratic Delegate

Charles Curb, Wayne, filed Tuesday, Dec. 5, as a candidate for alternate delegate at large to the Democratic national convention. He committed himself to support Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas for President of the United States.

In announcing his candidacy, Curb described Sen. Fulbright as "a bright, scholarly and eminently respectable man who has continually raised a conscientious voice of protest against what he has considered irresponsible, unwise, or immoral actions of the Johnson Administration in Vietnam."

Curb said his decision to run was based upon his belief that Nebraska Democrats should be given an "opportunity to express in a meaningful way their disapproval of President Johnson's handling of the Vietnam War."

Curb, a WSC faculty member, said his commitment to Fulbright would be withdrawn should the senator so request. He added that his Fulbright commitment might be affected by the establishment of a campaign effort on behalf of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota, who has announced his intention to oppose President Johnson in the May 14 Nebraska primary.

While opposing President Johnson, Curb noted that as a loyal Democrat he would support whoever gained the Democratic nomination for president, despite his disagreement with the President's leadership on the Vietnamese question.

Business Notes

Kenneth Anderson of Farmers Supply, Concord, joined Kent Feed dealers from seven states at a dealer training school Dec. 4-6 in Muscatine, Ia. Latest management and nutrition developments in the livestock industry were offered with nutritionists and research personnel instructing on livestock nutrition, feed additives, federal regulations, livestock feeding and management and discussions of Kent Feeds feeding programs.

Veterans Get Advice Concerning Benefits

According to Chris Bargholz, veterans getting VA payments now should return the VA income questionnaires even though their incomes may be high enough to result in canceling further benefits. He also cites other points about benefits through the VA.

The Wayne County veterans service officer points out that if the questionnaire is not returned by a veteran, the VA will discontinue payments retroactively for one year, meaning an overpayment and a request from the VA to repay the money "overpaid."

Veterans cannot put special provisions in their National Service Life Insurance policies—such as terminating a wife's payments after he dies if she remarries. No change of beneficiaries will be made once payments are started to the beneficiary named in the insurance policy.

Finally, Bargholz points out that if loans are desired under the GI bill and all papers needed cannot be located, application for replacement can be made through the Veterans Administration.

Plan More Debates

Wayne High School debaters are having a "lull" in activities. However, Mrs. Leota Moller and Supt. Francis Haun, who have charge of the activity, report several more competitions have been scheduled. The one at Vermillion has not been set definitely yet. Others are in February at Norfolk, Morningside and the Husker Conference declamatory contest at Laurel.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to wish all available facts before he sits down to write. From that basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial - but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

A Little Understanding

We think a little understanding is in order on the part of readers when it comes to our reviewing high school productions. This feeling comes about because of direct and indirect comments heard the past week.

Complaints seemed to regard our review of Wayne High School's play, "George Washington Slept Here." Some said it downgraded the actors; others said it was a slam, some said Winside received more space, others pointed out Winside's play pictures were better and Winside's review was better.

Taking those points in order, we'll first say that we never say anything bad about high school actors, recognizing the fact that they are not professionals. We say something good about most, whether we like the play or not.

The play was not slammed. However, lines had to be cut out because they were "dirty" and whether this detracted from the play or not, is something we cannot judge. However, we do know from past experience that there are better plays for high schools and as a "vehicle," this play did not offer any outstanding characterizations, which is not to say the pupils didn't do all right, but merely that there were no "strong" character parts for them to play.

In contrast, "Arsenic and Old Lace" at Winside had a goofball who dressed and looked like Teddy Roosevelt and thought he was Teddy Roosevelt. It had two sweet little old ladies who thought they were doing oldtimers a favor by poisoning them so they could join their departed loved ones. It had a nutty nephew. It had a scarface criminal. It had other "strong" characters. It was a much better "vehicle" than "GWSH".

If Wayne had given "Arsenic and Old Lace" and Winside "George Washington Slept Here," we would have had criticism from Winside and expressions of thanks from Wayne - mainly because one play is better than the other, and there's not much anyone can do to change that.

Winside's play pictures were better - but the school had a professional photographer, Doug Lyman, take them and he does superb work so we used his pictures. In the same way, WSC has Charlotte Blake, another professional photographer, take pictures for college play publicity and they come out much better than we can do them. We had to do our own picture-taking at Wayne's play.

On the other hand, we never used a Winside play picture on the front page - we used one of Wayne's on the front page; we devoted 121 inches of space to publicizing Wayne's play - in contrast to 109 inches devoted to Winside's; we used seven Wayne pictures - only four Winside pictures; we praised both plays for the unusually good jobs on stage settings, something that has been difficult at Winside because they have set up a stage in the middle of the gym previously.

Doubtless there are some who went the second night of the Wayne play who thought it was better that night than it was Thursday. We attended Thursday in order to be able to cover another event Saturday. Had we gone Saturday, we would have missed one event entirely. By going Thursday, we covered both.

Finally, there is this old gripe of our giving as much coverage to Winside and Allen schools as we do to Wayne. We stand accused and we wish we could plead guilty but we give Wayne schools more space than Allen and Winside schools combined. If you care to come down and go through back issues of the paper with us, we'll measure for you.

We enjoy covering school activities at Wayne, Winside and Allen. We get excellent cooperation. We usually get praise, but we get a little tired of those who resent any coverage at all for any school besides Wayne - and believe us, there are some who have indicated they are that narrow-minded.

How soon some forget all the space devoted to "Sound of Music," the much bigger headlines, more pictures and longer stories for Wayne football than for other teams, the eight-column picture on the front page of the Wayne High School choir and all of the other Wayne High School activities we have covered.

We know there are only a few who are complaining, but they are a vocal minority and we wish they would try to gain a little understanding before they complain. We're trying to understand them; it may be more difficult to understand us. -CEG.

No Sympathy for Millard

Are you as sick of hearing Millard complain about being annexed by Omaha as we are? The reasons for remaining outside Omaha are a little on the regurgitating side.

Millard residents claim they want to stay in a small town yet Millard has been annexing right and left. Millard would still be a small town if it were not for the huge Western Electric plant located near there and at Omaha - Millard wouldn't have had a prayer for such a plant without Omaha nearby.

The Millard people can still live in small towns as there are plenty all over the state. What they really want is to make their living in the many Omaha places where they work but to not pay their part for upkeep of the streets they use and the facilities they enjoy in Omaha.

A few years ago Millard was a town of about 800. Elgin was about the same size. Today, Millard has over 6,000 people. Elgin is still about 800. Now tell us, was it Millard alone that gained that population because it was Millard and had something Elgin lacked or was it the proximity to booming Omaha that made the difference?

We came here from Colorado and we're familiar with the situation in Denver. That city is surrounded by "Millards" that did not want to be annexed and under Colorado law could not be. As a result, they have strangled the Colorado metropolis while living like leeches off the major city in the area.

Recently municipal elections were held. In the Denver area there were 14 municipal elections, towns that surround Denver, each with their own police, own fire department, own laws, own government and own sewer systems. What a mess.

Millard residents want to be known as being from Millard, yet the people in the suburbs around Denver get away from their homes and someone asks where they are from. "Denver," they will say, when actually they live in Commerce City, Arvada, Aurora or Broomfield. It is the same with Millard people - away from home they will identify with Omaha rather than with Millard.

Omaha is the one really growing city in this Midlands area. It should not be strangled by small outcroppings or small towns that suddenly grow due to their location near Omaha. The state metropolis should not be stopped from annexing across county lines, which are purely imaginary anyway.

We're a little sick of Millard people complaining and their complaints being aired on television and radio and in newspapers. We hope they will settle down and help the Omaha area prosper. Heaven help Millard if Omaha cannot progress and grow! There are a lot of towns in Nebraska that would like to have Millard's growing "pains" even if it meant becoming a part of a bigger city just as Dundee, Florence, South Omaha and other towns once did before becoming a part of Omaha and just as University Place, Havelock and Bethany did before becoming a part of Lincoln.

Omaha is on the grow and Millard and other small towns should not get in the way. -CEG.

Give the Boys A Chance

Some people are ready to give up on basketball in Wayne, Winside and Allen already. Why? Because teams lost the first games of the season.

You won't see any of the boys giving up. They won't fail to show up for games. They'll practice as hard or harder than ever. They will win some and lose some.

It appears there are a few mighty poor losers in the area when they have to judge a team in the early stages of the season. They will be the strongest boosters come tournament time if the home team happens to win a game.

Perhaps the best example of this in recent years is North Platte. That team went one season without winning a game. Attendance fell off but the pep club kept yelling, the pupils kept turning out to see the games and most important of all the coaches and players knew that they could do better so they tried harder.

You may remember the district tournament that year. North Platte won it. There the Bulldogs were, a team in the state tournament that had only won two games and both of those were in the district tournament against teams that had beaten them soundly during the regular season.

There is an example to go by if we ever heard one. There is a sample of what can happen if no one gives up.

We haven't given up. The players haven't given up. The coaches haven't given up. The pep clubs haven't given up. Have you given up? Who are you to give up as long as your school has five men on the floor?

Wayne and Winside both have new coaches and are handicapped by lack of height. Allen lacks experience. All play tough schedules.

All they ask is that you back them. If they do something wrong, forgive them. They are just boys and not professionals. Back that team of yours as if it had an undefeated string going. Chances are the team will come through with a most gratifying win or maybe several, especially when they count most.

If you like good sports, be one. That includes backing the team, win, lose or draw. -CEG.

"How can there be a God?"

Dear Editor: I would like to thank all the people responsible for the $10 gift check sent to me by SWAY, Inc.

We are presently assigned to a remote site, next to the fishing village of Wakkanai, which is located at the northern-most tip of Japan. The day your letter and check arrived, I was on leave caring for our three children. My wife was at the nearest hospital, approximately 400 miles south of here, having a baby. She had a healthy boy and they are now back home - mother and baby doing well.

In closing, I would again like to thank everyone connected with SWAY for their kindness and concern for the servicemen.

Very truly yours, Merlin J. Finn (M/Sgt. Merlin J. Finn, 6986 Security Group, Box 249, APO, San Francisco, Calif. 96270.)

60 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Wayne Herald, Dec. 12, 1907 There has been all kinds of stories told of the small-pox situation at Wakefield but it seems there are but four mild cases.

A new time card went into effect Monday. The morning passenger east arrives at 7:05 instead of 7:30 and the evening train west is five minutes later. The Bloomfield train which runs to Emerson and back does not now wait to make connections with the train from Omaha at Emerson but passengers coming by that route will arrive on the 6:55 p.m. train.

F. J. Raymond has installed his own gas lighting plant for his drug store, it is similar to the one in Jones Book Store.

Dan Martin has bought a farm near Carroll of Wm. Stageman of Randolph. The place is the one occupied by S. M. Williamson. The consideration was $70 per acre and Mr. Martin will move to the place next spring.

W. H. Nangle sent a scale of wages and hours for cooks and waiters in the Goldfield, Nev., hotels and restaurants, from which Mr. Nangle declares anyone who can sling-hash could make more money at that work in Goldfield than in mining. Head cooks get $8 a shift, eight hours, waiters $3.50 and dishwashers $3.

We serve Hot Soda, Hot - Felber's Pharmacy. (Adv.)

Winside is getting some hot shot on account of its light "lid." One paper says that the next move will be to stop the running of the trains through the town on Sunday and another says that all a man has to do now when he dies and arrives at the golden gate, is to tell St. Peter that he is from Winside and he will be allowed to pass right in without any questions being asked. -Nebraska Echoes in Sioux City Tribune.

There has been considerable space used in some of the daily papers telling of the wonderful work of the new corn husking machines put on the market this fall. This paper copied some of the articles as general information. But now we hear different reports. Charles Grunke and one of his brothers bought one of the machines and after giving it a thorough test, Charles reports to us that the machine is no good. They have laid it aside and are husking their corn in the old fashioned way. We doubt not but that the time will come when these machines will work successfully but until that time comes it is very foolish for the farmers to buy them outright, unless a good guarantee is given that in case the machine does not do what is claimed for it, it may be returned.

Some young men occasionally think that they are better able than is the head of the institution to dictate the policy of the school. Such persons must realize that in order to be students here they will have to comply with the few regulations of the school. -Normal College Notes. (Wonder if that policy might not apply in 1967 too! -Editor).

Furchner, Duering & Co. (The German Store) advertised that it would accept butter, eggs and poultry as well as cash. A country school teacher in the southern part of the state has started an innovation that many teachers will no doubt feel like following. She felt the necessity of continually reminding the pupils of the motto "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" but there was a young fellow who resented the admonition and insisted on wearing his face to school in any style he chose. One morning when Johnny showed up with his dirty face he was grabbed by the nap of the neck and dragged up to a pall of water and with scrub brush and soap the teacher proceeded to make such a radical change in his face that the other pupils hardly knew him when the job was completed. This is a little out of the line of the teachers' duties but conditions sometimes make such heroic measures necessary and one or two such treatments ought to have a salutary effect on a whole school.

There will be a meeting at the court house Saturday, Dec. 21, at 2 p.m. The object of this will be to strengthen our present organization in regard to stamping out horse stealing as well as all other livestock stealing. W. H. Gilderleevo, secretary.

Reports of the Citizens, First and State Banks of Wayne were published. Wm. Piepenstock has a complete line of blankets and robes for horses. They wear like Iron. (Adv.)

Neely & Craven advertised German Heater stoves with fuelless base-burners for any kind of fuel. They were described as "floor warmers and fire keepers." One illustrated was the typical black type with loads and loads of chrome trim, including a fancy top, door, "ruffle" and base.

Trooper J. S. Duprey investigated the mishap. According to the Nebraska State Patrol report, Lindstrom was headed south on a gravel road. He lost control in loose gravel, the truck, owned by Webster Tree Service, Hoskins, going into the ditch. The truck traveled 150 feet in the ditch before Lindstrom overturned in it while trying to bring it back onto the road. He was taken to Lutheran Hospital, Norfolk, where he was kept under observation three days for possible internal injuries.

Hoskins Man Hurt in Accident at Norfolk

Richard Lindstrom, 45, Hoskins, was hospitalized three days last week following a one-vehicle accident two miles east and two miles north of Norfolk Dec. 2.

Trooper J. S. Duprey investigated the mishap.

According to the Nebraska State Patrol report, Lindstrom was headed south on a gravel road. He lost control in loose gravel, the truck, owned by Webster Tree Service, Hoskins, going into the ditch. The truck traveled 150 feet in the ditch before Lindstrom overturned in it while trying to bring it back onto the road. Out of Old

Christmas in Nebraska, 1867

The newspaper files of the Nebraska State Historical Society include several references to the Christmas festivities of 1867, the first year of Nebraska statehood. The Lincoln Commonwealth reported that a Christmas Dinner at the Methodist Episcopal Church resulted in proceeds of $85, which were to go to the local school district. The gathering was entertained by local musicians and speakers. In Omaha, the Republican reported that Omaha Negroes held a festival with the proceeds used to help dispose of the church debt. The Plattsmouth Presbyterian Church, according to the Plattsmouth Herald, held a festival and fair on Christmas Eve.

The Nebraska City News gives us some idea of the type of gifts pioneers exchanged in 1867. Among the paper's advertisements was the following: "Christmas and New Year greeting cards - an English holiday present - entirely new in this region - just received. . ." Presents advertised included 1868 diaries, engraved pictures, water-color landscapes, picture frames, religious and popular books (especially a new edition of Robinson Crusoe), plaster statues and busts of famous people, jewelry and games. Among the games listed were chess, checkers, backgammon and cards.

For most Nebraska pioneers of 1867, Christmas was not an elaborate holiday. The weather had been warm, and in many of the settled parts of the state farmers had been plowing shortly before Christmas Day. The demands of frontier life precluded long shopping trips and elaborate decorations.

However, simple things took on a greater significance in this context. One early settler received a very welcome gift that year; he recorded in his diary that he went into town and "Rec'd a letter from home."

The library of the Historical Society has a set of diaries kept by an early Cass County store-keeper. He recorded his Christmas activities on various years as follows:

Dec. 25, 1861: "Tom and I fixed up the cow stable & after dinner went to the store. Not much going on...at night we went to the grand Supper at the Church.

There was a large turn out. I also was at the Dance a while."

Dec. 25, 1862: "Cloudy and warm. Rained pretty hard all after noon. We were over to a neighbor's house to eat Turkey. Very dry Christmas. Nothing going on."

Dec. 25, 1864: "...We went to a funeral..."

Dec. 25, 1866: "It was a rather dull Christmas. We had a turkey. A neighbor was over to help eat it. There was a Dance...at night."

Dec. 25, 1868: "...We had turkey for dinner...At night we played cards till about 3 o'clock in the morning."

Dec. 25, 1869: "...I spent my Christmas in the store all day..."

Dec. 25, 1871: "We took 10 hogs to Plattsmouth...We came home and played pitch until 3 o'clock in the morning."

Christmas may have been simpler in those early days, but it undoubtedly represented a welcome break in the hard work of pioneer living.

My contribution however large or small will assure my family and loved ones of a Democratic way of life. This is my opinion of the situation in Vietnam. Bill Gries, Norfolk, visited last week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ankeny, Dixon. He will leave soon for Vietnam, where he will work in communications with the army. His brother, Dick, is already serving as an army gunner on a ship patrolling the coastal waters of Vietnam. Both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gries, Norfolk.

Charles Sandahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sandahl, Wayne, is home now, having been discharged from the service the first part of November at a California base. He will work until fall when he plans to go to school. Sp-5 Sandahl spent three years in the service, a year in Vietnam, a year in Germany and a year in the United States (Maryland and Missouri). Before being discharged, he received a citation from the secretary of the army. The army commendation medal was awarded him for the period Nov., 1966, to Oct., 1967, for "the performance of exceptionally meritorious service in support of the United States objectives in the counterinsurgency effort in the Republic of Vietnam. Through his outstanding professional competence and devotion to duty, he consistently obtained superior results. Working long and arduous hours, he set an example that inspired his associates to strive for maximum achievement. The loyalty, initiative, and will to succeed that he demonstrated at all times materially contributed to the successful accomplishment of the mission of this command. His performance was in the best traditions of the United States Army, and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division and the military service."

In Vietnam, Pvt. Douglas Burbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Burbach, Randolph, has been assigned as a combat engineer with the 168th Engineer Battalion.

Gene Kay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay, Wayne, is in Okinawa. He was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is to be discharged some time in February after serving four years in the air force. His address now is: Sgt. Gene D. Kay, AF 17676326, Box 199, 400th Munitions Sq., APO San Francisco, Calif. 96239.

Dixon Grade School Working on Operetta

All eight grades at Dixon Grade School are working on a modern operetta, "Santa and the Spacemen," to be presented Thursday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The presentation is free of charge and the public is invited to attend. Pupils and teachers are anxious to have a large crowd because considerable work has gone into preparing elaborate costumes and learning parts.

The story concerns the abduction of Santa by some "little red men" from Mars. It seems inhabitants of all the other planets want Earth to share Santa with them at Christmastime and the play concerns working out an arrangement. Teachers, led by Mrs. Marvin Hartman, are Mrs. Dale Stanley, Mrs. Esther Peterson and Mrs. Wayne Lund. Mrs. Lowell Saunders will play accompaniment. Lunch will be served following the program.

Wayne High Boys Make Furniture

Wayne High School boys in vocational industrial education courses are making furniture. Gun racks, desks, cedar chests, lamps, record cabinets, speaker podiums for school, storage cabinets for athletic equipment and other items have been made.

Mike Mallette is teacher in the woodworking course. He reports the boys, 27 seniors, have gone on field trips to see how houses are built and have done taping, sheetrocking and other related work.

In the same course, Allen Hansen is teaching drafting and planning, Bill Wilson teaches metals and electricity including sheet and bench metal work, forge work and welding, and Mallette teaches carpentry and wood.

When classes were dismissed Friday, it meant the end of one phase. Now the classes will rotate, those from one type of work moving on to another, the one in the second group moving to a third and the ones in the third group moving to the first.

Two samples of some of the better work done by boys are shown with this article. Mike Gust, son of the Harry Gusts,

WSWS Meets

WSWS of EUB Church met in the Mrs. Albert Meierhenry home Wednesday for a dessert Christmas luncheon. Guests were Mrs. Etta Stalnaker, Mrs. Rose Walker, Ann Scheurich, Mrs. E. J. Scheurich and Mrs. Emma Bryant. Mrs. Awalt Walker was program leader and gave the lesson, "God's Gift to the World," assisted by Mrs. H. C. Falk, Mrs. Fred Jochens, Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, Mrs. Edwin Meierhenry and Mrs. Ray Jochens. Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Paul Scheurich as accompanist.

has made a solid cherry seven-holder gun cabinet and Barry Biltoft, son of the Glen Biltofts, has made a large mahogany office desk. In both cases, only handles were required to finish the work when pictures were taken.

Some of the pupils finished their work earlier than others. In these cases, they help out on work fellow students are doing and thus learn about projects other than the ones they have produced.

"Christmas in the United States," was given by Mrs. Ray Jochens. Mrs. Rose Walker played Christmas songs on her zither. Mrs. A. Walker gave the closing prayer. Roll call was to give a Bible verse pertaining to Christmas. Christmas gifts for the Red Bird Mission field were brought and sent. Mrs. H. C. Falk gave a report on Indonesia. It was decided to have the study class the last of January.

Christmas Meeting Held

Hoskins EUB Church had a fellowship Christmas dinner at the Brotherhood Building Tuesday. Dr. John Wichelt, Lincoln, was honored guest. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Clint Reber, Mrs. Edwin Meierhenry and Mrs. Dennis Waller. Mrs. Ezra Jochens reported on the Youth Camp at Riverside Park near Milford. Mrs. Melvin Meierhenry told of the mental health camp held at Riverside Park in September. Clarence Schroeder told of the new developments at Riverside Park. Erwin Ulrich, Sunday school superintendent, presented a cash donation Christmas gift to Pastor Saxton from the church. Dr. Wichelt led in the closing prayer.

Hoskins Firemen Get Called to Farm Blaze

Hoskins Fire Department was called to the Merlin Klug farm five miles east, one south and one-half east of Hoskins Tuesday, Dec. 5. Bales around an open silo pit had caught fire.

Klug was burning weeds around the pit when the bales caught fire. The Hoskins department members were back from the fire within an hour but called on the Winside Fire Department to bring out more water before they were satisfied that there was no danger of further burning.

The Hoskins Rescue Unit also had a run Dec. 2. An area resident became ill and needed assistance in getting to the hospital. Personnel of the fire department man the unit. They took the sick man to Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital, Norfolk.

Expect Expansion of Area Job Offerings

An expansion of over 1,450 in non-agricultural jobs is expected in Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Antelope, Boone, Boyd, Brown, Cherry, Holt, Keya Paha, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Rock and Stanton counties during the next three years, according to a survey.

Expansion is expected in all industry divisions with the major increases in wholesale and retail trade. Over one-half of the additional available jobs will occur in professional, technical and managerial, in clerical and sales and in service occupations.

Withdrawals from the labor force, as well as expansion, will create a demand for new workers throughout the area. Nearly 1,200 replacement jobs should become available during the three-year period, the majority in trade, government industries and public education. One-half of the workers for which replacement is anticipated are now employed in clerical, sales and service occupations.

High school graduates will provide 1,400 new entrants into the labor force annually. In addition, there are approximately 350 workers registered with the area division of employment who are unemployed or seeking more suitable jobs.

Outmigration will take around 650 workers from the area each year but replacements will be adequate.

Figures are taken from those supplied by 70 per cent of the total non-agricultural firms in the 15-county area.

Allen Sets 'Safari'

A "Swingin' Safari" party has been set by the Allen eighth grade for the junior high school pupils and the teachers. It will be held Saturday, Dec. 16, at the school. The pupils worked out an intricate puzzle-like invitation that took some real effort before recipients of the invitations could figure out how to open them to find out what was inside.

MIKE GUST stands beside the gun rack he made in an industrial arts class at Wayne High School. He has to add handles and it will be finished.
