The other project is a $250,000 removation of the liahn Building, converting all but the top floor to administrative offices.

President W. A. Brandenburg said construction probably can start in the spring after contracts are let and as soon as, contractors can move in.

Previous plans to place the science building on the college's land east of Walmut Street were changed to save the cost of extending heating and water lines that distance. The new site means more money can be put into the building, which will be much closer to existing lines and the power plant.

Name Mallette, Felber, Schmode Homes as Best

The Stanley Mallette, Walden Felber and Alvin Schmode homes were named winners in the home decorating; contest in Wayne this year. Wayne Kiwanis Club sponsors the contest with the power plant furnishing appliances as prizes.

Mallette shome at 916 Walnut has Santa, the garage "wrapped" as a package and colorful lightim; Felbers' at 1002 Sherman uses the natural setting with direct and indirect color lighting for a soft appealing look; and Schmodes' at 629 Westwood Road has a variety of lights and cutout designs tastefully arranged.

There were many homes to be judged. Decorations ranged from a few lights to extensive work on home-made figures and scenes. In some cases the lighting was spectacularly bright, Judges made the decisions on the basis of originality, effort, eye-appeal and other points.

Seven more homes were given honorable mention. They are (in alphabetical order): Barold Field, 514 Westwood Road; Dr. George Goblirsch, 506 Hillcrest; Cliff Johnson, 803 West Third; Henry Ley, 518 Hillcrest Road; Anton Netherda, 415 East Tenth; Keith Reed, 701 Pearl; and Dr. Lyle Seymour, 1100 Sunset Drive.

Top three business places for Christmas decorations, outside, windows or interior, were also named. They were, in order, J. M. McDonald Store, Tiedthe's Plumbing & Hoatting and Carhart Lumber Co.

Mallettes, Felbers and Schmodes will be guests at Kiwanis at the noon luncheon

Freezing Drizzle Covers Region, Brings Troubles A storm that included rain, snow, sheet and freezing drizzle brought ,60 of an inch of moisture to the area Saturday night and Sunday morning. It also brought troubles to utility companies, travelers and others. Ralph Watson, withgovernment gauges north of Wayne, reported the official moisture total. He said the rain during the night had been heavier than some folks believed, accounting for more moisture than expected. The fact that the mercury did not get much below freezing saved the region from some major hazards. As it was, there was trouble enough for some who had to be jout during or after the storm. Dixon rural residents were without power for around an hour early Saturday evening. Other outages occurred after midnight with service not fully restored until Sunday afternoon, Patrons on other lines reported power going off at noon Sunday, Services were cancelled at Dixon Methodist Church. Christmas for Wayne Boy Arrives Early Christmas came a little early for Terry Hasebroock, 11. He is the lad who used the prize money he had won at a store to buy clothing for youngsters in a Vietnam orphanage.

Terry delivers a daily newspaper. His customers read about his kindness and decided this bread cast upon the water would return. They took up a collection for him.

When they finished, they had enough to buy a brand new bicycle for him, which was presented to him last week. An additional .57.14 was left over and this too was turned over to Terry.

Winside Musical

Botwoen 500 and 600 were present for the Winside Christmas operetta and musical program Tuesday night in the Winside City Auditorium. Enthusiastic applause greeted the numbers, costuming and "situations."

By "situations" one has to include the unplanned little extrasonly kids can supply such as: The doll in the nightle walking up stairs who kept stepping on the nightle each step and had to be helped by two elves; the soldier who turned the wrong way at the command "rightface"; the "volunteer director" who showed a friend she was doing something wrong; the little girl who spotted her parents in the audience so she waved at them; and the small pre-school girl who did each dance in the middle atsle the performers were doing on stage.

Mrs. Dale kropp directed the program. Assisting were other teachers, Roba Mann, Ruth Mrs. Dale kropp directed the program. Assisting were other teachers. Reba Mann, Ruth Grone, Shirley Trautwein, Ruth Puls, Gladys Reichert, Lola Bressler and Lena Miller. Credit also has to go to the mothers who helped, and especially to all those who made costumes, for they were many, varied and sometimes elaborate.

Group numbers included the junior high mixed chorus, boy's glee club with Phil Witt having a solo; kindergarten and first grade; girls glee club with Presa Stenwall soloist and Dlane Krueger accompanist; high school mixed chorus with Doma Krueger accompanist, Jerry Wacker ger accompanist, high school mixad chorus with Donna Krueger accompanist, Jerry Wacker on the drum and Bob Krueger on the cymbals; and many groups of costumed children.

Most impressive group was the high school mixed chorus with "Alleluia" and "Do Youllear What I Hear?" as numbers, the latter being a beautful song they did especially well.

Jeff Farran was Santa; Kent Titterington, Michael Wittler and Greg Lage, elves; Joann Krueger, Mrs. Santa; and Connie Cleveland, Titania. Others appeared as nurse dolls, jumping jacks, Dutch dolls, tin soldiers, tops, candy kids, French dolls, Topsy dolls, football players, cherleaders, cowboys, cowgirls, balloon girls, clowns and dancers.

girls, balloon girls, clowns and dancers.

It was one of the most elaborate productions attempted in Winside in years and drew a standing-room-only crowd. Costuming, songs, dances and other features gave evidence of long hours of work on the part of director, teachers, pupils, mothers and others to make this free program an outstanding presentation.

Crowd Approves Concert by WHS

A large crowd at Wayne City Auditorium Monday night gave resounding approval to the Christmas concert presented by the Instrumental and vocal music departments of Wayne High School under the direction of Donald Schumacher and Joseph Unzick-er.

under the direction of Donald Schumacher and Joseph Unzicker.

Taking part were the 86-piece concert band, the 93-voice concert choir and the 24-voice chamber choir. Vocal group musical accompaniment was played by Debl Armbruster and Beth Bergt.

Unzicker directed the two choral groups. It is obvious that he is establishing himself as a superior vocal music director, acclaim equaling at times that Clayton Southwick had earned as vocal music director here, this being a great compliment to Unzicker, who is in his first year at Wayne High.

As for Schumacher, the people expect more from him in instrumental music and they get it. The fact that the crowd liked his choice and presentations did not satisfy him as he felt it could have been better.

The concert choir established the mood with a beautiful but unfamiliar number, "Ein Kindelein Zu Bethlehem," sounding much-like a cathedral choir as clarity of tones was allowed to sound clearly, a cappella style. Five other songs were sung with equal skill, varying from the slow and somber to the rollicking and staccato.

equal skill, varying from the slow and somber to the rollicking and staccato.

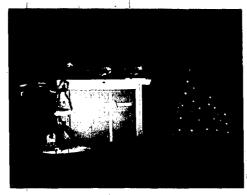

Schumacher's top Instrumental number was no Christmas song at all but it did fit nicely into the program, "Abduction from the Seraglio." An extremely beautiful and difficult number, it was well-received. A fugue, a symphonic arrangement of "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day" and familiar carols in unusual arrangements were other instrumental highlights.

The select chamber choir sang two numbers, "Jingle Bells," and "Do You Hear What I Hear?" surely one of the most beautiful Christmas songs and expertly done by the small group. The concert choir wound up the program with eight familiar carols, closing with "We Wish You a

In case you badn't noticed, it's a wonderful world you live in especially among the kind and considerate people of Northeast Nebraska.

V pair of stories brings this to mind this week, but all year long there are activities of a similar nature going on that should remind us of how really great it is to be a part of this area. The stories in this case concern two boys, Terry Hasebrook of Wayne and Billy West of Ponca.

Terry is the boy who won $15 in a store and instead of spending it on himself he spent it on clothing to send to orphans in Vletnam. This week the story has a sequel—his paper route customers took up a collection and gave him a new bicycle because he is so considerate and because they're

Up a Ponca, Billy West lagain has his own horse. His first horse, paid for with money he had earned, died last fall at the Dixon County Fair. I riends were joined by strangers in taking up a collection to help him get another one. Now he has the horse and this hard-working 15-year-old is atop the world again.

Buck-in Wayne, the Jaycees have been planning a New Near's Exe dance to rais-plfunds. Two members of the organization were in a recent autowreck, both of their wives being seriously injured and still hospitalized. The daycees decided make their New Year's Exe dance a benefit and will turn the proceeds over to Mrs. Dick Hammer and Mrs. keith fass-sider.

Then there is Mlen Schrant, an inspiring sort of tellow if you ever heard of one. He is arxivus to get back to work after losing both hands. Mmost $1,000 has been contributed through the bank at Carroll to help him. Jan, 6 the Belles and Beaus Square Dance Club will hold a square dance in winside with all proceeds to go to the Schrant family to help him. Jan, 6 the Belles and Beaus Square Dance Club will hold a square dance in winside with all proceeds to go to the Schrant family to help him. Va flow has in Hoskins, Winside and Stanton are receiving donations to help him. As all of this is going on, Wayne County poople are still finding time to contribute to the Omaha World-Herald Goodfellows Fund. They buy Christmas Seals. They send gifts and cards to servicemen. They remember the shut-ins. They give to their churches. They care.

Naturally it is too bad there are those who need help, but what a cruel world this would be it there were none who cared. What would the help of people who care? How come some who help out on these projects are strongers?

The answer is: Good, kind-hearted people always care. That's the American way, Christmastime or anytime, it's a wonderful world when you're fortunate enough to belong to an area such as this, You, you and you help make it that way. May your blessings be multiplied for the good that you do, asking no praise, seeking no acclaim, doing what you must do because that's the kind of people you are.—CEG.

Wrong to Admit Loyalty?

laws? Where are any rights being trampled upon? It is to be assumed that a loyalty oath could be required in Wayne schools or at Wayne State College. Would any refuse to Sign? On what grounds?

We can understand someone refusing to sign an oath to support the Soviet Infon or the Communist Party in this country, but it is doubtful if anyone will ask them to do so, Still, it is probably encouraging to the USBI and the Communists to know there are some who refuse to put in writing their loyalty to their government and its flag.

Wayne and WSC are mentioned because some of those refusing to sign in other states have been in towns and colleges as small as Wayne and Wayne State. It happens other places, Could it happen here?

Perhaps a loyalty oath should be required as a basis of employment in every state and federal function. Anyone who refuses certainly should be suspect.

Sure, there are those who say a Commie could sign and not mean it. At least under those circumstances if such a person were found out to be disloyal and was disobeying the laws, it should be obvious where his interests lie.

If they refuse to sign a loyalty oath, they may also refuse to salute the flag, repeat he Plodge of Allegiance, stand for "The Star Spangled Banner" or respect the laws of town, county, state or country. One thing leads to another.

America has gone about as far as it can go granting the "rights" of the few to the danger and detriment of the many. Until the people wish it otherwise, let the law prevail. If the people do decide they want it otherwise, may the good Lord protect us from ourselves.—CEG.

Mishap With State Plane

has developed into a major portical issue.
Involved is a Dec. 1-2 trip by three Republican members of the State Aeronautics Commission and Aeronautics Director C. Howard Vest.

The trip ended in the destruc-tion of the month-old $215,000 plane when it crash-landed in the South Platte River at North Platte.

Vest was the sole occupant at the time. He was injured. Commissioners R. D. Marcotte Seven years ago, in 1960, the shoe was on the other foot. The Republican Party complained that Democratic Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink misused a state plane by flying Robert F. Kennedy to Kansas City, Mo.

Dwight Burney, who was governor at the time, fired Obbink for the action. The political exchange that followed was fierre.

The State Democratic Central Committee has called for a legislative investigation and hearing on the recent plane episode.

You may not agree with an editorial but if you read the editorial and give servus thought to the subject discussed you have gaind. You, as a reader, have given carful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

"Women, Women, Women

Women, Women, Women

Women, What would we do without them? There are all types of women, but this editorial aims to deal with a special breed of womenthel women who work.

You may say: "All women work." True, but the women who work we have reference to are the women who work because they must. Women who work to support a family or help support a family or help support a family or to support themselves.

Right here in Wayne County you can see them. You can see them all over the nation. Some live on farms, do the usual work of a farm wife morning and night and drive into town to work during the day.

There are women who work because their husbands won't. Somehow it seems the men who won't work ultimately wind up with women who will and do.

Then there are those who work because their husbands cannot. Again it is a wonderful thing the way fate has entered the picture, providing a strong woman who can carry on as breadwinner. It's a sad situation, but some jobs simply do not pay enough, so both man and wife must work if the family is to have a comfortable living, maybe even the essentials of life. There always seems to be a woman in such families who is ready, willing and able to work.

Then there are those who lose their husbands and have; no choice but to go to work. And work they do. Some take one, two or even three jobs. When they got home, they do housework. Always on the go, they thrive on keeping busy.

Finally, there are the women who are not married and must support themselves. They are excellent workers in most cases, but again the pay may not be high and they may have to hold down two jobs or a job and a half. They also do their housework.

Mon will agree, "there is nothing like a dame." But it is baffling to figure out how the right woman always come to be a coment the ready was a dame." But it is baffling to figure out how the right woman always come to be a promether the result woman always come to be a promether the result woman always come to be a promether the result woman always come to be a prome

What is wrong with a loyalty oath? How come there is a protest when a loyalty oath is required? What's wrong with admitting you're loyal? Here's an oath teachers at the state colleges and universities in Colorado are asked to sign: T solemnly swear or affirm that I will support the Constitution of the State of Colorado and of the United States of America and the laws of the State of Colorado and of the United States. That's how simple a loyalty oath can be. But, there are protests against it. In fact, over 400 faculty members indicated they will refuse to sign it. Students at Colorado University, a hotbed of radical action anyway, don't want their teachers to have to sign it.

Why is it so terrible to ask a man to sign an oath to support his government and obey its an oath to support his government and obey its a support themselves. They are the pay may not be high and they may have to hold down two jobs or a job and a half. They also do their housework.

Men will agree, "there is nothing like a dame." But it is baffling to figure out how the the man who needs her most comes along. It is hard to visualize men with anyone other than the ones they chose, because the women they picked are so right for them.

So, here's a ribute to working women, not just of Wayne County, but the country over. They're the mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, aunts, friends and acquaintances. They are special in so many ways.

Women, you're really something else! Thank goodness!—CEG.

"Information received so far indicates no irregularities were involved," Adamson said. "Unless some new information or other developments are brought to the Legislature's attention, I see no need at all for an investigation of this matter."

Furthermore, the speaker said, there is "nothing wrong with the commissioners going hunting if this activity was incidental to the primary purpose of the trip—to inspect airports—and did not involve additional mileage or expense."

Adamson said John T. Harris of McCook, a Democratic member of the commission, has stated he recommended the inspection trip and that there was nothing improper about it.

Unless the Legislature reapportions the three congressional districts along equal-population lines, candidates for the U.S. flouse in Nebraska must run on a statewide ballot next year.

Considerable political battling is expected to develop at the special session over which counties are shuffled between districts.

It will be the 27th special session in the state's legislative history and the 12th since Nebraska adopted the one-house system in 1932.

Lady Senator to Try for Post State Sen. Calista Cooper lughes of Humboldt confirms she may enter the race for Republican national committee-woman from Nebraska.

Report Losses Nebraska's counties and cities have notified the state they expect to lose about $10 million in local revenue next year when the house-hold goods, intangible property and head taxes go out of existence.

This is the approximate sum estimated by the 1967 Legislature when it repealed the revenue laws and provided for replacement money from the new salesincome tax system.
The state will reimburse the counties and cities on a formula giving equal weight to population and land valuations. This will result in some local governments.

and land valuations. This will result in some local governments getting more than they receive under the old revenue laws, and some less.

School districts, which receive the bulk of the intangible property tax collections, will be compensated for lost funds through the new state aid to schools program.

Manufacturers' warranty cards should be dated and returned within the designated time limit. This is your way of proving to the company when the item was purchased. A warranty means that the manufacturer usually provides replacement of defective parts for the period of time stated on the card. This could be only a 30 day period or it could be as long as 5 or more years. Usually there is a charge for labor, prother costs involved in repair during the warranty period. A guayantee covers labor as well as replacement of defective parts.

labor as well as replacement of defective parts.
Operator's manuals, instruction sheets and assembling guides could become your most useful aids to preventing necessary repairs. Service calls could also be reduced if homemakers would make frequent use of operator's manuals which come with most household appliances. Even pots and pans these days, have special instructions for use and care.

Your gifts will give you greator pleasure and better service if you give them proper use and care. Merry Christmas to all our readers.

will increase between 100 and 160 will increase between 100 and 160 million from the present figure of nearly 200 million; that our food needs will at least double; that water needs for manufacturing will quadruple and for other uses will double; that land used for houses and other buildings will increase 200% while land used for transportation will increase 125% and for reservoirs 180%. With the population increase and shorter workweeks, the demand for outdoor recreation facilities may increase 300%. Much of the withdrawal of land for these purposes will come from the areas now used to produce food and fiber for our present population. In order to meet the added requirements of a 50 to 80% increase in population in just 33 years from now, we must act to conserve and improve these resources. The fertility of the soil must be increased, soil erosion by wind and water must be reduced, ways need to be found to retain the for these purposes will come from the areas now used to pro-

Last week was "He Kind to Dixon Week," in case you didn't notice it. We took oodles of pictures at the Dixon operetta with the idea some would be used. Then we suddenfy 'came face to face with the fact that we had ads requiring extra pages, not enough news to fill them all and we needed pictures. So, we used most of the Dixon operetta pictures. We were glad to do it for our good friends at Dixon as the operetta was excellent and we thoroughly enjoyed the show. So, it's a present from us to Dixon. Who knows, you may be next to get over-exposure on some event. (And "over-exposure" is not the term we wanted but it's the one that came out when our hands flicked along so fast on the typewriter keyboard # 20 wpm, more or less).

Total of $550 Cash Offered in Drawings

There will be two silver Dollar Night drawings again this week. A total of $550 could be given, $300 Thursday night at 8 and $250 Friday night at 8.

Although both names drawn last week were of Wayne residents, neither claimed the cash. Roger ilansen was drawn for $250 Thursday night and Larry Test for $200 Friday night.

The retail committee of the C. of (. has not decided what will happen if there is no winner Friday of this week. It could go into the reserve fund or some other plan for giving it could be worked out. An announcement will be made later. If there is no winner Thursday, the total in the fund for Dec. 28 will jump to $350.

Service Choice Can Come at Last Minute

Wayne County Selective Service Board reports anyone re-ceiving induction notices can still enlist in branches of the service of his own choice. He must pre-sent convincing evidence to the state director of solective service that the service he chooses is ready to enlist him on or be-fore his induction, his order to report for induction then being cancelled.

The board also reports that anyone as old as 35 can be inducted for military service, This happens when someone is declared a "delinquent." Those deferred on or after June 19, 1951, are liable for training and service until age 35. Any person who has failed or refused to report for induction remains liable for induction and can be inducted regardless of how old he is, once he is available. The board also reports that regardless of how old he is, once he is available.

Finally, the board points out that those who have been in Class I-S (C) for college cannot get that classification again once a baccalaureate degree has been received. The I-S (C) classification can be kept through the college year as long as grades are kept up, and deferment will be granted through that term by the board.
