Laurel Youth Gives Report on 4-H Trip

Randy Patefield, Laurel, has reported on the trip he went to the 46th National 4-H Congress in Chicago recently. The 17-year-old youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Patefield.

He received his expense-paid trip to the convention with John Deere Co. paying his way. Sponsorship was through the 4-H Conservation of Natural Resources program.

"Our natural resources are something that we cannot just forget and use when we need them," according to Randy. He knows what he is talking about for he was the state champion in conservation work the past year.

Patefield turned his 4-H club projects into money-making endeavors. Conservation was just one activity keeping him busy and he managed to save several thousand dollars for his college education.

At Laurel High he was a track and football athlete and member of the student council. He plans a future in agriculture.

His trip to Chicago offered many highlights including talks by Orville Freeman and Ann Landers, tours to museums and other points of interest and attendance at concerts and other programs.

WS Looks Good in CSC Win

Balanced scoring and aggressive defense again combined for Wayne State's ninth victory of the basketball season Friday night. The Wildcats whipped Chadron State, 77-63, in the conference opener for both.

Wayne point-making was divided this way: 20 each by Dean Eloffson and Bill Goodwin, 12 by Bob Strathman, 10 by Ron Hintz, 9 by Paul Emanuel. Chadron's major scoring came from Joe Johnson, 22; John Smith, 16, and Don Reel, 11.

The Wildcats looked like the same team that won straight before a lapse in the holiday tournament. Their defense was authoritative and their offense organized, although the fast break did not materialize often.

Both teams had trouble finding the basket in early minutes. After 6 1/2 minutes Wayne had only a 10-8 lead, but from that point on the Wildcats moved out to 10 points at halftime and bigger leads later. The Eagles pulled within six points twice in mid-second half.

Ball-hawking Wildcats put claws into this surge and caused several turnovers that frustrated Chadron's offense.

Wayne appeared to be back near full strength physically after illness slowed several players during the holidays. This was a cheering sign, what with another Wayne-Chadron game Saturday night and a crucial tussle with Hastings Tuesday night in Rice Gym.

Children treated at nearly 100 March of Dimes Centers are those with severe birth defects requiring highly specialized diagnosis and care.

Smooth Madison Downs Wayne 70-47

A smooth Madison High School basketball team had no trouble maintaining its undefeated season Friday night at Rice Gym. The Dragons allowed the Wayne High Blue Devils a 2-0 lead and then took over to keep moving further ahead in a 70-47 victory.

The WHS team hits the road for all but one of the remaining games in January. The Blue Devils play Stanton there Jan. 12, at Bloomfield Jan. 13, at Neligh Jan. 19, at Rafton Jan. 20 and Pierce here Jan. 26.

A 6'9" center, Merlin Renner, used his height to great advantage in scoring 18 field goals (the same number the Wayne team made) but he was also assisted by some Madison teammates who were good ball-handlers, alert on defense and knew when to pass off and when to drive in.

The first half it was a good ball game, MHS leading 16-12 after one quarter and 34-26 at halftime. Madison had pulled ahead 47-31 by the end of three periods and outscored the locals 23-16 the final stanza.

Dave Tietgen and George Eynon led Wayne rebounding with 9 and 8 respectively. Gordon Jorgensen had 3, Lynn Lessmann, Larry Hlx and Harry Lindner 2 and Charles Fisher and Joedy Hoogner 1. Jorgensen stole the ball 4 times, Lessmann 2 and Tietgen, Eynon and Tim Robinson 1. Lessmann had 4 assists, Eynon and Hlx 2 and Jorgensen, Fisher and Hoogner 1.

There was no reserve game, the varsity tilt being a preliminary to the Wayne State-Chadron State game. Following is the box score:

Bob Kruse on Championship Squad

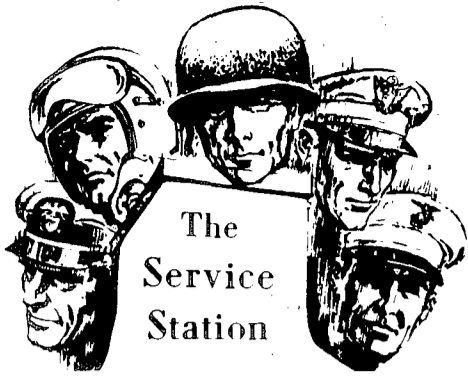

Bob Kruse, well-known here as a wrestler and football player at Wayne State College four years, is a member of the American Football League Oakland Raiders, champions of the AFL, scheduled to play the Green Bay Packers of the NFL in the Super Bowl game this month.

Kruse is a guard with the Oakland team. The pictures appearing with this article are official club photos and were sent by Kruse to his former coach, John Jermier, WSC.

Every time Oakland has appeared in a televised game this season, people have called to find out the number for Kruse. Explorers in Good Shape From Skiing

Wayne Explorer Scouts were back in good shape from their ski trip to Colorado. This is good news, for not all skiers return from such jaunts uninjured.

The local Explorers witnessed some mishaps and saw some people injured. However, their spills were all minor and they reported a great time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tollakson were sponsors for 13 Explorers at Breckenridge, Colo., for five days. They arrived back in Wayne Jan. 1 at 1:30 a.m. after getting off the train at Columbus in time to welcome the new year.

They skied on slopes as much as a mile long, used 25 different slopes and some even made some short jumps. They reported snow every day with ideal skiing conditions with temperatures around 10 degrees, ideal for snow and ski buffs in the two-mile high area.

We urge you — our customers — to use your personalized checks and deposit tickets — all now imprinted in magnetic ink, with your personalized account number... like the "code number" above. This will help us assure you swifter handling of your account.

Imprinting your account number on your checks and deposit slips in magnetic ink is a procedure now in effect for all banks that are members of the Federal Reserve System.

This is what makes computerized banking possible. And computerized banking, in turn, means faster clearance of all transactions, no matter the distance involved.

Thus does your bank take another step forward which — with your cooperation — will help us serve you more efficiently.

Vocational School Fair Is Planned

Wayne High School is sponsoring a vocational school fair Monday, Jan. 29, 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the school gym. It is based on an idea that has worked out successfully in several neighboring states but which has not been tried in Nebraska before.

Kenneth Deissler, guidance counselor, is in charge. He has contacted over 50 schools regarding representatives and many of them have already indicated they will have exhibits. Laurel, Wakefield, Emerson, Newcastle, Pender, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Wayne and Coleridge have already indicated they will send juniors and seniors. Invitations have been sent to around 30 schools in the area.

Purpose of the program is to make students and parents aware of the many different types of training available as well as the large selection of schools in the region. Deissler calls it "a supermarket in which they can shop around for vocational education."

Here are some examples of the vocational institutions invited: Nursing schools, practical nursing schools, barber schools,

Jogging Club Starting Wednesday

The day is near when Wayne adults can decide to do something about their physical condition. That means the initial meeting of the joggers club is scheduled for this Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Wayne State Rice Gym.

Track Coach Bill Silverberg reports a number of inquiries, and he hopes a large number of men turn out for the program of supervised jogging. He has a double purpose. One is for the benefit of those who run; the other is for his benefit in a graduate physical education course.

He is making a study of the improvement to be gained through regular jogging by men who have not made a big effort to keep in top condition.

Silverberg suggests two times for running, either at 12:30 daily or after 5 p.m. Runners are asked to keep a record of their running, how far and when. He will explain all details Wednesday night.

warm. Stations also had more sales of de-icers for fuel lines, antifreeze and other cold-weather items.

When the mercury moved up into the 20's in the early morning hours Friday, it seemed like a heat wave. Compared to the frozen-nose feeling of the morning air earlier in the week, it seemed quite comfortable, but weathermen were predicting another siege of sub-zero readings before any longtime warming takes place.

Pay $780 Fines Here in Two Days

Thursday and Friday were "good" days for court fines, depending on who is looking at the situation. Judge David Hamer levied $780 in fines and costs. The first cases described were on Thursday.

Carl Frevert, Wayne, paid $10 fine and $5 costs on a stop sign violation. Officer Don Penlerick filed the complaint.

An improper turn charge was brought against Philip Armstrong, Ponca. He paid $10 fine and $5 costs. Sgt. Keith Reed brought charges.

Four young men from Ponca each paid $100 fine and $5 costs on charges of being minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. Officer Melvin Lamb was the complaining officer. Youths paying fines were Larry Lukken, Douglas Bottorf, Dennis Carnell and Phillip Armstrong.

Friday three more young men were fined $100 each plus costs of $5 each on charges of being minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. They were William R. Richardson, Wayne, and John M. Sandahl and Gerry Hurlbert, both of Carroll. Officer Lamb again signed the complaint.

Frank Slevers, Ponca, paid $10 and costs of $5 for an improper turn. Keith Reed was complaining officer.

Police Investigate Two Traffic Mishaps

Wayne police officers investigated two traffic accidents the fore part of last week. Both were minor and there were no injuries.

Jan. 2 In the 100 block on East Second, Mrs. George Henrick, Pilger, was eastbound on Second. Mrs. Roy Matson, Wayne, was backing away from the curb, backing into the side of the Henrick vehicle. Sgt. Keith Reed investigated.

The following day in the 300 block on West Twelfth, Merlound Lessmann, Wayne, had his pickup parked. Ronald Wachholtz, Norfolk, driving a car owned by Gilbert Wachholtz, turned east onto Twelfth from Douglas, and hit the parked pickup. Officer John Redel investigated.

Mackenzie River on PTA's Film Program

The trip no one could make is on slides and Dr. T. H. McDonald has them. He will show the last portion of his trip down the Mackenzie River in Canada at the meeting of Wayne PTA Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 8 p.m. in the WBS lecture hall.

First portion of the trip was shown at an earlier meeting. Dr. McDonald made the trip and then found out it was one not permitted since Canadian officials believe it is too dangerous.

A business highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of a lifetime membership. Mrs. Arland Aurich will be presented with the membership by Supt. Francis Haun.

New District Head

Donald LaVelle, Eldora, Ia., was installed as governor of the Nebraska-Iowa District of Kiwanis International at a banquet in Eldora Friday evening with a reception following. Around 500 Kiwanians and wives from 144 clubs in the district attended. LaVelle succeeds Russell Pearson, Onawa, Ia., who was district governor until Dec. 31. Wayne Kiwanis Club was among those represented.

Farmer Suffers Cut Fixing Hog Waterer

Allen Splittgerber, farmer living 12 miles southeast of Wayne, suffered a bad cut Thursday while putting a heating element under a hog waterer. His right hand slipped and hit a sharp piece of metal, severing tendons.

The cut tendons resulted in the thumb straightening out and becoming useless. He was brought to Wayne, where he was hospitalized two days and then released.

Many stitches had to be put in the hand to close up the wound and mend the tendons. A wrist cast was installed from fingertips to above the wrist and this will have to be worn for about three weeks.

Wakefield Hog Gets Disneyland Setting

A six-legged hog sold by Kay Gustafson, Wakefield, is now on display near Disneyland. It was purchased by a meat market owner in Garden Grove, Calif., for display.

Max Fineman saw the carcass with four regular legs and two extra back legs. He bought it from a packing company in Los Angeles and put it on exhibition in a refrigerated window display a mile from Disneyland. He plans to display it as long as possible.

Miss Gustafson, now a freshman at NU, said the hog had been a pet at the James Gustafson farm near Wakefield after it was born in May. Other hogs bothered the "different" animal so it was kept in a pen of its own in the farmyard and by late December weighed 230 pounds so was sold.

According to Dr. Ernest Peo, associate professor of animal science at NU, the incidence of such occurrences in animals with multiple births is low. The cause may be genetic or in embryonic development of the fetus.

Miss Gustafson is a junior in the college of arts and sciences. She has been active in 4-H dairy, entomology, foods and sewing. At NU she is president of her floor in a residence hall, member of YWCA, belongs to People-to-People and is in two honoraries, Alpha Lambda Delta and Psi Chi.

FARM SHOW CLINICS START ANNUAL TOUR

They're about to start their midwestern tour again . . . the largest, most informative farmer meetings in North America. Farm Shows begins their run of 50 Corn-Soybean Clinics and 40 Livestock Clinics this month.

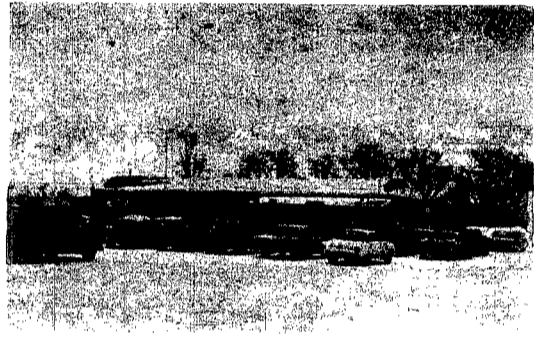

The all-new, 1968 version of the clinics will provide new and exciting information. For example, the Corn and Soybean Clinics with its team of experts will discuss uses of insecticides, fertilizers, herbicides, proper seeds, cultivating and planting practices, harvesting and storage. Emphasis will be placed on narrow rows, minimum tillage, etc. Case histories of successful practices utilized in 1967 will be covered.

At the Livestock Clinics, the Experts will cover: uses of antibiotics, wormers, feed and feeding practices, artificial insemination and breeding, proper hay and forage practices, plus storage procedures.

Each Clinic day will be full, but the emphasis is on more NET PROFIT for the farmer. Farm Shows' Clinics with their Meet the Experts panels maintain that practices and procedures farmers used two, three years ago may not be adequate today . . . agriculture is changing that rapidly.

To determine the Clinic nearest you (if you are a farmer, you should attend both a Corn-Soybean Clinic and a Livestock Clinic), check the respective lists and maps appearing on the opposite page. Attend a Farm Shows' Clinic this year . . . it could well be the most important day of your life!

Go early . . . get a good seat . . . meet the Experts . . . visit with company people, dealers and other top farmers.

Want more corn?

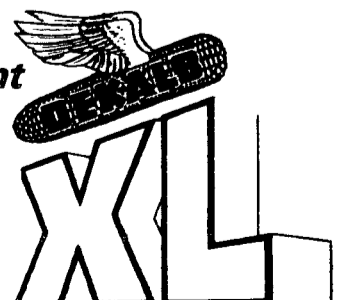

Plant XL the most talked-about corn in America!

Big yields are the reason for the DeKalb XL brand of excitement across the corn country. Farmers who enjoy extra DeKalb profits do talk, so the record breaking demand for DeKalb Corn continues to grow. DeKalb Brand XL Hybrids are bred modern for intensive farming. Bred tough to take crowding. Bred to convert high fertility into more harvestable bushels. Follow the 5-Point Profit Program (at right) to higher yields with DeKalb Brand XL Corn Varieties. "DEKALB" is a Registered Brand Name. "XL" Numbers are Variety Designations.

Big Name for BIG Yields

Today's menu planners tend to overlook casseroles for family eating enjoyment. But all-in-one-meal casseroles allow you to have an easy evening meal . . . one your family will like!

Try Crab Rice Quickie or Bacon Squash Casserole. During hectic, busy times they are a joy. There's another point — casseroles are easy on the budget, too. During this tax-filing time of the year, that's important.

To Hawaii. Have a ball.

And one Pan Am® ticket does it all. Including any connecting flight you might need.

Fly First Class President Special from California to Honolulu or to Hilo.

Or fly the next best thing to first class, Pan Am's Rainbow Economy service.

The menu is from Maxim's of Paris. The stewardess is from Paris or Papeete or Pocatello. The movies and music (we have them on most flights) are from our easy-to-watch Theatre in the Air®.

And the service is out of this world. The same kind of service you'll find on Pan Am flights to 110 cities in 150 lands round the world.

(Incidentally, we do have one other less expensive service. It's called Thrift. The only hitch is: no Maxim's Sigh.)

See a Pan Am Travel Agent and let him set up your whole Hawaii jaunt. He'll do the work. You'll have the ball.

Pan Am makes the going great.

Kernels that produce the top test weight have broad shoulders. Notice the contrast in the two kernels shown at the left. The base of the kernel is the last to fill. If the flow of nutrients from the stalk to the kernel is interrupted, the base of the kernel is more narrow and pale yellow or white in appearance—not broad and full-shouldered.

HEAVYWEIGHT CORN MEANS MORE BUSHEL

Finding money is always a pleasant experience. It's even more enjoyable when there's no worry about someone having lost it. So when a farmer in northern Illinois found $300 in corn profits he didn't know he had, it made the day considerably brighter.

It happened when he shelled out a 1,300-bushel bin of corn and found that it held 1,600 bushels at a test weight of 61 pounds. The elevator even gave him a voluntary premium of one cent a bushel because of the high quality.

Discovery by DeKalb seed researchers that some varieties of corn weigh more on the ear than others can boost farm profits.

Another farmer who had a profitable experience with heavyweight corn is Richard Pitstick of Virgil, Illinois. He happened to notice that one corn variety consistently tested at 57 pounds or more per bushel, compared with 50 to 53 pounds for other varieties. In a field test, he found that the weight advantage averaged out to 17 bushels per acre.

One central Illinois farmer found that his truck held 35 bushels more of an XL variety than of another. And in north-central Iowa where two farmers share a crib, they shelled out 105 and 200 bushels more from one 1,400-bushel side than the other in two consecutive years, thanks to a heavier variety.

Richard Pitstick of Virgil, Illinois found test weight to be one of the biggest factors affecting yield differences between hybrids in 1966. Although volume harvested varied little from hybrid to hybrid, the weight difference was substantial.

Scientists with DeKalb explain that the weight of a kernel of corn varies most in the shoulder (near the cob), the last section to fill in. The weight is lower when the flow of nutrients from the stalk to the kernel is interrupted by any of several causes. These obstacles to high corn weight include too little disease or insect resistance, inability to withstand the stresses of high plant population and narrow rows, and other factors in modern corn production.

In north central Iowa two brothers who shell corn throughout the neighborhood have seen 10, 15 and 20-bushel differences in the capacity of their truck strictly on the basis of test weight of the hybrid.

This is also the elevator operator who liked to top his car loads with XL corn. He would hold up a car for a truck load of XL corn that he knew was coming. This same man would put XL corn in a separate bin so that he could blend it in the proper proportions later when he filled cars for shipment to the terminal market.

In north central Illinois two farmers share a crib with the same capacity on each side. XL hybrids have shelled out 105 bushels more and 200 bushels more in two consecutive years. Each side of the crib holds 1400 bushels. When investigating the cause behind the variation, it became quite clear by checking the elevator tickets and noting the test weights. One of the best loads of grain to come into the elevator last fall was XL-346; it had a test weight of 59 lbs.

Because careful breeding of corn seed is the basic influence on corn weight per bushel, researchers are making careful selection based on genetic capability. Today's intensive cropping practices put corn varieties to a tough test of overall quality.

On the farm, though, net cash return over costs is the big test of variety performance. And a difference of 17 bushels per acre just on weight means an extra profit of $1,700 or more for every hundred acres of corn. Not a bad way to find money.
