Open Burning Prohibited

The Nebraska Fire Marshal has banned open fires due to the dry conditions in the state. Wayne City Council has authorized Fire Chief Ivan Books to call for enforcement of the ban in the Wayne area.

With temperatures unusually high and grassland, groves and stubble fields unusually dry combined with a low relative humidity, fires have been reported in many areas the past week. Because of the danger of further blazes, the fire marshal has used a law which allows him to prohibit open burning.

Trash should not be burned in open containers. Leaves raked up should not be disposed of with fire. Nothing should be set afire outside due to the danger of sparks carrying over into dry grass, leaves or wood nearby.

Nebraska has gone through a dryer-than-usual winter. Weathermen have predicted no extensive moisture in the near future so the ban on open fires will be in effect until further notice.

The fire chief calls on rural residents to be careful as danger is extensive in the fields and farmyards at present. Wayne firemen man the trucks of the rural fire district and they do not relish battling wind and flames at any time.

All other fire districts in the area probably would ask that the same precaution be taken by town and country dwellers in their areas. The danger exists all over Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa so the warning is a timely one.

WSC Championship Teams Honored

Three Wayne State College winter sport championship teams will be honored at a dinner Monday, Mar. 18, at Lee's Steak House, Wayne. All men of the area are invited.

To be honored at the informal affair are the conference and district championship swim team, the conference and district championship basketball team and the conference championship wrestling team. Coaches for the squads will also be guests.

Tickets can be secured by calling any of these business places or individuals: Sav-Mor Drug; Wayne Herald; Rowan Wilfse; Don Echtenkamp; and Roger Nelson.

The Spook Speaks

Two Wayne businessmen were trying to get a picture of another Wayne businessman for immediate use but he was gone and his house was locked. One thought he knew where a key to the house was, found one, tried it until it unlocked a door, noticed it opened hard so gave a mighty shove, upsetting a potted plant that had been sitting inside the locked and seldom-used door. The men had the plant reported before the owner returned in hopes nothing amiss would be noted.

A Concord gentleman was in Wayne recently. A pretty teenager waved as he drove down the street and he felt flattered because the girls didn't always notice him. He felt somewhat less flattered when a niece he had just seen in a long time visited him and asked how come he hadn't waved at her when she waved at him in Wayne.

One of the workers on The Herald circulation campaign called a friend to see if she would like to subscribe to the paper and help her win a prize. "I'm in the contest too," replied the woman who had been called. "Then how come you're not out selling now?" came back the response.

Winside Starts Promotion

A Saturday night promotion plan has been worked out by the Winside Community Club. It is scheduled to get underway in the first Saturday in April under sponsorship of the WCC and many of the business places of the community.

According to Butch Holdorf, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, the idea is to give away $25 every Saturday night. The money will be in the form of special coupons good as gold at participating business places.

Everyone 18 years old or older will be eligible to take part except the participating merchants and their families. Registration will be needed just once as the name will be dropped back in the "hopper" after each drawing.

Holdorf said a name will be drawn from the back of the fire truck at 9 p.m. Saturday. If the person called is not there, another will be called. This will be continued until someone is present to claim the prize.

Signs have been obtained for identifying business places that are participating in this program. Registration is scheduled to get underway this month so as soon as the signs go up the registration slips will be available.

Alphabetical lists of those registered will be kept to see that each name is put into the drawing just once so registering at more than one business place is not

CHARMI MILLIGAN, a demure little five-year-old, knew happier days when this picture was taken. Now she lies motionless in a Shrine Burns Center in Cincinnati, facing many months of grafting and special care before she can enter an active life again

Many Come to Aid of 'Charmi Fund'

Many more names have been added to the list of those contributing to the Charmi Milligan Fund. It is a locally-sponsored fund to help cover the costs of an extended hospital stay under intensive care for a little girl who was severely burned when her nightgown caught fire.

Donations are being taken in Carroll, Winside and Wayne. In the meantime, plans are going ahead for a card party and dance Mar. 19 with all proceeds going to the fund. Carroll and Winside organizations sponsoring that and a lot of individuals taking personal care to see that it is successful by going out and promoting the benefit.

Charmi can finally be shown in a picture. Her mother, Mrs. Ed Milligan, came home for a week so Charmi could get used to her being away. Charmi is still in critical condition in the Shrine Burns Center, Cincinnati. She faces such a long recuperation period, specialists decided her mother could not possibly stay all of the time so Mrs. Milligan will come home for a while, be with Charmi to rebuild her morale for a while and then return to Carroll again for a longer period until Charmi will know that she will be back. Charmi seems to understand that her mother has to be with the other children in the Milligan family at times.

Donations the past week included: Farmers State Bank, Carroll; Henry Spreen, Elmer Peterson, Bill Swanson, Harry L. Evans, Eugene Gubels, Melvin Magnuson Family and Winside Veterinary Clinic; Hansen's Grocery, Carroll; Mrs. Jim Fredrickson, Dorothy Denon, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heath, Thelma and Gladys Woods, Cora Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hansen and family and Joan Hansen; V&L Bar, Carroll; Adolf Rohlf, David Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thun, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lambrecht, Vernie Hurlbert, Roy Grandfield, Mary May, Marvin Haselhorst, Bill Young, See CHARMI FUND, page 3

WH Has Carnival Saturday

Wayne High School is sponsoring a carnival Saturday, Mar. 16, from 10 to 10:30 p.m. in the new gym. Purpose is to raise money to bring an American Field Service student to Wayne this coming year.

The student council has organized the various clubs, classes and activities into nearly 20 booths. Offered is variety such as an old Laurel and Hardy movie, basketball throw, games of chance, tricycle race, fish pond and others.

Margot McKay, Australia, Wayne's second AFS student, will be at the carnival and wants to meet as many as possible who helped last year to make it possible for her to be here this year. Pradet Gawsomlat, Thailand youth who was the first AFS student here, is a big booster for the US, Wayne and WIS back in his native land.

Tom Havener of the student council points out that AFS was founded in 1914 as a volunteer ambulance service in the first world war. In 1947 it was sponsored soring visits by exchange students, 52 coming that year. Twenty years later over 4,300 students are in the country under this exchange program and American young people are in 28 countries under the affiliate American Abroad program.

Havener points out that a major part of the work of the AFS has been the evaluation of prospective foreign students and careful choice of American host families. Evidence of the success is the fact the exchange plan is now the largest of its type in the world.

Through both AFS and Americans Abroad, young people improve relationships with fellow men across national boundaries. Wayne High pupils like the program and want another exchange student next year, thus the big carnival to raise as much as possible of the $750 needed.

The carnival is open to young and old. Even just watching can be fun so WIS pupils hope even those without youngsters in school will show up.

WSC Plays Tuesday In National Tourney

Wayne State's basketball team will play its first-round game in the National NAIA Tournament Tuesday night at 10:30 in Kansas City, Mo. The opponent: Eastern Montana State.

Athletic Director Dale Pennybaker said Radio WJAG of Norfolk plans to carry a live report of the game by closed-circuit, amplified in Rice Gym. The game will not be broadcast on the air, as far as officials here know.

Pennybaker, who received notice of the Wayne schedule late Friday, said it appears the Wildcats drew No. 16 seeding, or close to it, among the 32 teams. Seeding was accomplished by feeding a computer quantities of data about each team's season schedule and performance.

Then pairings were made thus: No. 1 against No. 17, No. 2 against No. 18, and so forth to No. 16 against No. 32. Wayne coaches

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

A Word from Schuyler

Perhaps it is time to pause for a message from Schuyler, a booming city 55 miles south of Wayne that is growing (and not just in size of basketball players either, but in number of people moving to town that refuses to give up).

Everyone knows Schuyler has a new packing plant going up. The Schuyler Shop now comes forth with the information that a shopping center is more than a remote possibility there.

Let's put Wayne in Schuyler's place and see what you as a businessman might decide to do if you were faced with a shopping center coming in. Would you fight it, join it or ignore it?

Ignoring it is no solution — ignorance never is. That leaves two choices, you fight it or you join it. If you join it and keep the business you have, you are fighting yourself. If you move to the shopping center, you are cutting the throats of those who remain in the central core area.

Now maybe Wayne will never have to face this situation, but maybe by good fortune and hard work this city will someday become as booming as Schuyler is. Do we decide now how to face the idea of a shopping center or do we wait until we get to that bridge?

The Sun points out that Fremont affords a good example of what happens when a shopping center is started. There are now 22 vacant buildings in downtown Fremont and some bankruptcy cases have been filed.

Some Schuyler businessmen report they have been approached as to their interest in relocating in a shopping center. From the tone of the article it appears that Schuyler is "running scared," pleased with prospects for more building, business and growth but fearful of what the long-term results will be downtown.

A Fremont leader said if Fremont had prepared five years ago to meet the competition of a shopping center it would not be in the precarious situation it is in now. He said some signs of a downtown comeback appear possible with more off-street parking being provided.

Fremont leaders visited towns that have made malls of main streets, have converted property in front and in back of stores into parking areas and have made other moves to keep business coming to the downtown area. Business places accessible from both front and rear are a popular conception to meet shopping center competition.

So much for Fremont. The Schuyler men who heard about Fremont's plight were Chamber of Commerce men. They had always encouraged new business to come to Schuyler and they admitted a shopping center would be new business but they expressed the opinion that they would prefer to see new businesses located in the downtown area.

Well, Wayne, there is Schuyler's problem. That's what they get for attracting industry. Is that a good reason for being opposed to industry for this city? Perhaps it's a good reason for preparing for the eventual threat of a shopping center being started here.

Do we start talking about modernizing our downtown area, improving our shopping facilities and providing more parking now or do we wait until we're at the bridge and have to act or else?

We have all seen examples of what happens when towns deteriorate. It is easier to keep them from going downhill than it is to try to build them back up. David City is an example of where people did something and it seems to be working. Maybe Wayne should find some cities of comparable size and see what they have done or what they propose to do.

Even Laurel, a growing town that has big ideas, has a proposal under consideration for improving the downtown area and making the entrance from the highway to the business district more attractive. If nothing else, Wayne should look to Laurel for inspiration.

Schuyler is only 20 miles from Columbus, 28 from Fremont and 61 from Omaha. Has that stopped Schuyler? Nope, and apparently the businessmen there are not about to let proximity to bigger cities mean anything. They are just as capable of having good business as they are of having good basketball teams and they aim to be winners on main street or on the cage court.

It is easy to overlook the threat of a shopping center here because as far as is known no one has suggested one. However, no one suggested one at Schuyler one day and the next day it was an idea that was making its rounds.

Did Schuyler wait until too late? Is all lost? Will downtown Schuyler become an area of vacant stores, a detriment rather than an asset? Knowing Schuyler, it is easy to say "No!" to each of these questions. Now answer the same questions about Wayne. Be truthful: What would your reaction be if you heard a shopping center was to be established just outside Wayne?

Kids Are People

Some people have mighty short memories. Older, wiser and gracier now, they sometimes forget that kids are people and are deserving of consideration.

Examples of bad manners, rude, crude and uncouth conduct of a child attempting to do something constructive and some uncalled-for vile language was given last week while Cub Scouts (in a town we won't embarrass by identifying) were putting out Goodwill bags for items to help the people at Goodwill Industries support themselves.

"Get that d— thing out of here!" one irate man said to the well-meaning Cub who brought a Goodwill bag to the door. At another house a lady (?) treated the Cub just as nasty without any vulgarity.

These same people will be the ones who condemn younger people for their behavior. They will "tsk, tsk" at some of the activities of the young and yet they cannot find enough kindness in their hearts to encourage these youngsters who are only trying to do a good turn as they work on a program that is aimed at turning them into better adults.

Why is it some people cannot remember that they were young once? Why can't they be civil to the young? Why are they bitter about all activities of the teenagers, condemning them as a group for the misguided efforts of a few?

If all of the adult world were to be judged by the actions of just two people last week, there would be some mighty walls of protest. As it is, only a few will know who did what they did. Someone should have a guilty conscience.

Kids are little people. It is to be hoped they will grow up to be nice people—a heck of a lot nicer than some of the grown-ups some encountered recently. Thank goodness the two mentioned are the exceptions and not the rule—remember that the next time you condemn an entire age group because of the actions of a few. After all, somewhere someone may be engaged in some activity that is not exactly a credit to the age group to which they belong—and it could be your age group!—CEG.

Not at Norfolk; Part II

Last week The Herald indicated displeasure over the handling of the district basketball tournament at Norfolk. The people were nice enough but the facilities simply are not there.

For the coaches of the area, here is more food for thought. South Sioux City, Norfolk, Columbus and Fremont played the Class A tournament on the Columbus court; North Platte, Scottsbluff, Alliance and Gering played a Class A tournament on the Scottsbluff court; Randolph and Randolph St. Frances played a district tournament on the RIS court both teams use; Wakefield was host to the Class C tournament in which it participated.

Want to know something? Of those tournaments, only Columbus won among the home teams involved. Wakefield had a better team than his season indicates and still lost at home. Scottsbluff is always good on its home court and had played North Platte even-steven during the season but lost at home during the tourney. Randolph had a better-than-average team but couldn't win at home.

Next year let's have the tournament where the facilities are—at Wayne State College. Ask the fans who had to stand outside and hope for a seat or else drove to Norfolk only to be turned away. This happened two nights in a row and it was not necessary.

The NSAA needs the money. If nothing else, let the NSAA decide where the tournaments will be. Then this pettiness that has entered the picture can be dispensed with and teams can get down to the business of playing basketball.—CEG.

Nebraska Bridges

Bridge-making in Nebraska has apparently come a long way, from the pioneers' rough constructions to the modern steel and concrete spans of Interstate 80 which now cross the Missouri River. But although many early bridges may not have been as durable, some were definitely more unique than their modern counterparts.

The Nebraska State Historical Society has pictures and a description of one such bridge, built across the Missouri River at Nebraska City.

The bridge was composed of sections floating on the surface of the water. This floating bridge, or pontoon bridge, could be opened to allow river boats to pass by. Its builders claimed it was the "only draw bridge opened and closed by the river itself, dispensing with steam engines, fuel and engineer."

The bridge could be opened to a width of 540 feet, which the builders claimed to be the "largest draw in the world." Harper's Weekly featured a picture of the bridge in its issue of Sept. 22, 1888, and noted that the bridge "is said to be the longest of its kind in the world."

Construction began in November, 1887, and was completed on June 8, 1888. The bridge was used in the summer and fall of that year. During the winter, the floating sections were taken out of the river, and crossings were made on the ice. The pontoon sections were replaced in the spring of 1889, but melting ice caused the river to rise and fall constantly, and they were soon washed out.

The pontoons were never replaced. Just seven days after the completion of the floating bridge, the Burlington Railroad had completed a steel span over

65 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Wayne Herald, Mar. 12, 1903

About a million or less number of teachers left Wayne Saturday morning to attend the teachers meeting at Emerson.

Logan Creek, south of town overflowed its banks Friday night, owing to the immense amount of water running into it Friday during the thaw. Most of the snow has disappeared and a great deal of the frost is out of the ground.

Miss Leona Hunter, one of the leading teachers at Manila, in the Philippine Islands, has received notice from this government, that her salary has been increased to $1,200 per year, U.S. money. Wayne county can well appreciate this mark of talent in one of her daughters.

It would be a good thing if Cuba was a part of your Uncle Sam's domain. A lot of time and legislation would then be saved. (Editorial comment.)

J. R. Mundy has put a new light plant in his store which makes his store show up in good shape. Our "I John" is always ready to put in new improvements. (Winside News.)

Sherman Gilmore of Columbus, an expert horse shoer, has leased the premises vacated by Horace Gregory and will engage in the horse shoeing business. Gandy of Wisner will occupy the Lewis building near Rundell with a confectionary store and Ed. A. Johnson will establish a large furniture business in the building north of Terwilliger Bros., recently vacated by Taylor Store.

A record breaker in Nebraska was the sale of Short Horn Cattle—age considered, held at Strahan & Wernock's barn in this city last Saturday afternoon, at which time Carey M. Jones of Dubuque, Iowa, sold for Wm. Lessman, one of the prosperous farmers living a few miles northeast of Wayne, thirty head of Short Horn Cattle for $3,425. The sale was a most remarkable one and clearly demonstrates that it pays to raise thoroughly bred (sic) cattle, when it is known that five of the animals were under one year of age and twelve under two years of age. The day was a beautiful one over head and for a long time so many people have not been seen on the streets of Wayne, in one day. The ten bulls and twenty heifers, were sold in less than two hours and the people seemed reluctant to leave the seats, those who had seats, provided for the occasion. (Following this and a little more description, the names of the animals, the buyers and the prices were given. Some of the sales were: Fifth Rose of Pleasant Ridge, John Britton, Stanbury, Ia., $229-top price paid; Princess, B. P. Peterson, Carroll, $120; Royal Scotchman, Gus. Weststrand, Wakefield, $100; Roan Duke, P. M. Corbett, Wayne, $100; Duke of Princess, F. E. Strahan, Wayne, $100.)

Notwithstanding the fact that the roads were the worst of the season, fifty-three Wayne county teachers got to the trains to attend the joint association of the teachers of Dixon, Dakota, Thurston and Wayne counties, held at Emerson last Saturday.

One bridge east of Wayne, on the Logan and two west on Deer Creek and Logan Creek were washed out by the high water Saturday night.

Nineteen car loads of cattle were shipped from Wayne to Omaha late Sunday night, the train having been delayed owing to the washout between Wayne and Wakefield. Among the shippers were W. S. Brown, Ell Reselander, J. C. Forbes, W. H. Dueston, Jas. J. Aiger of Wayne, The Price Bros. and Len Neddham of Winside, besides several loads from Carroll and Randolph.

Randolph had on deposit March 4th, the biggest check ever drawn in northeastern Nebraska. The piece of paper is signed by Sherman Saunders, the Bloomfield banker, and calls for the payment of $103,000 in closing the deal for the big Platte land sale of last August. The deal calls for the transfer of 4,600 acres of improved land in Cedar, Wayne and Pierce counties, the purchase price being $167,900 and the buyers a syndicate of Omaha men. The interest on the purchase price amounts to about $225 per acre.

Ralph Benedict, teacher in a rural district near Blair, was arrested two weeks ago on a charge of cruelly whipping a 13-year-old girl. The teacher's main defense was that the girl had been disobedient and saucy in her language during the whole term of school. The crowd was so large the judge had to adjourn to the county court room, much interest being taken in the outcome of the case. The jury disagreed and Benedict will have to be tried again.

Two men arrived from Chicago last week to put in the new pipe organ at the Methodist Church. A fine program will be arranged for the opening which will occur when the instrument is ready for service.

A. G. Bergt of Altona, was a Wayne visitor Saturday.

Kitchen Utensils Aid Novices in Millinery

Although members of Acme Club make no pretense of being experts in the millinery field, they did prove that "exciting" creations could be fashioned from articles found in the home. All members modeled homemade creations at Monday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Hazel Bressler.

Mrs. Allan Wittig was named the winner with her spring bonnet fashioned of fresh vegetables. Mrs. Martha Biermann won second prize with a hat made of foil decorated with plastic forks and spoons, etc.

Mar. 18 meeting will be held at Miller's Tea Room with Mrs. Biermann as hostess.

New Winside Superintendent, Principal

A new superintendent and a principal have been hired for the 1968-69 term at Winside Public Schools. Contracts were signed the past week with M. J. "Joe" Masten, Orchard, to be superintendent, and Ron Kramer, Pierce, to be principal.

Masten will succeed James Christensen, who is leaving the system. Kramer will be the first fulltime principal Winside has had in a number of years.

Adult Health Film Topic

An adult health program open to the public will be held Tuesday, Mar. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Winside Auditorium under sponsorship of the Winside Federated Woman's Club.

Films will be shown from the American Cancer Society with Mrs. Chris Thelgen in charge assisted by Mrs. Alfred Stevers. Dr. George Johnson will answer questions concerning points brought up in the films.

Breast cancer and uterine cancer are the main subjects covered in the ACS films. They point out that the death rate from some types of cancer could be cut 100 per cent if women would see doctors early and would have pap tests once a year.

Lung cancer is the topic of another film that will be shown if it arrives in time. It concerns the effects of smoking in deteriorating the lungs.

There is no charge for the program and all adults are welcome. Following the program and discussion period, Winside FWC members will serve refreshments.

Language Disability Groups Making Study

Committees working on a possible Title III program on specific language disability are making a study of future action. A brochure is one of the prime projects of interest with five committees named to prepare information.

At a meeting last week, it was learned the public must be made aware of the need for such a program and information on the program must be disseminated as it evolves, using newspaper, radio, speakers' bureau and other means of contact with the general public.

Topics assigned include: What is specific language disability? Mrs. Milton Owens; What are its characteristics? Mrs. Leland Foote and Mrs. Cletus Sharer; What is being done about it in Northeast Nebraska? Mrs. Etta Fisher; What can be done about it? Mrs. Henry Ley; and What would be the plan for Northeast Nebraska, Loren Park and Harry Mills.

Another group that met is a unit working on diagnosis and identification of specific language disabilities. This group is working on getting standardized tests to help teachers recognize the disability and is preparing questionnaires to be used in getting background information from parents.

Dixon Firemen Go to Two Fires in One Day

Dixon Volunteer Fire Department made two runs Tuesday. They responded when Concord VFD was called to the Evert Johnson farm early Tuesday morning and then were called to a minor fire that afternoon.

The minor fire started behind the post office. Trash had been burned that morning and fire was noticed in the dry grass a little after noon.

The fire burned across a vacant lot but firemen had no trouble getting the flames out. There was a light breeze so the flames did not travel fast and firemen soaked the surrounding area to remove chances of the fire blazing up later.

Over 200 Expected for Conference

Over 200 teachers, and possibly as many as 350, are expected for the regional conference of the Nebraska Council of Teachers of English Saturday, Mar. 23, at Wayne State College. It is one of three such conferences planned in the state.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Sundell, Wakefield, and Mrs. Elizabeth Finn, Laurel, are co-chairmen. Advance reservations are necessary and are being made by contacting Mrs. Sundell.

The session is open to all NSEA District III elementary, secondary and college English teachers and librarians. Schools near District III have also been invited to send representatives and parochial and rural teachers have been extended invitations.

In all, around 1,000 teachers are eligible for the conference. They represent around 75 schools.

This year's theme focuses on the concept of the hero and its development from kindergarten through senior grades. Thirteen outstanding teachers have been selected to explain their methods of teaching, devices used, illustrate relevant visual and audio aids and conduct a question and answer period.

Among these 13 are these teachers from the immediate area: Mrs. Ann Meyer, Wayne; Mrs. Florene Jewell, Allen; Mrs. Mildred Brownell and Mrs. Shirley Hammer, Wakefield; and Mrs. Judy Newton and Mrs. Maxine Halseh, Laurel.

Morning sectionals will examine first, third, fifth, seventh, ninth and eleventh grades. Afternoon sectionals will examine the remaining grades with the 13 teachers participating in a panel discussion showing the spiraling hero concept.

A noon meal will be served at the student center with the main address, "Portrait of Marl Sandoz As a Teacher," by Mrs. Ruby Pederson of the WSC English department. The entire day replaces the state spring meeting of NTE held in past years.

Allen School Losing Six Teachers

At least six members of the Allen Consolidated School faculty have turned in resignations for the coming year. Another nine have signed contracts to return and five still have their contracts out.

Supt. E. C. Heckens is starting to interview replacements for the following who have resigned: Leroy Wilch, head coach, physical education and social studies; Mrs. Leroy Wilch, seventh grade and biology;

Larry Ahrendt, physical education, assistant basketball coach and social studies; Roger Sandman, vocational agriculture and FFA; Mrs. Violet Dlamon, librarian and guidance; and Mrs. Ed Kelly, eighth grade and speech.

Signing contracts to return are: Supt. Heckens; Prin. Noeyln Isom, science and math; Mrs. Jenene Kunzman, home economics and English; Mrs. Janelle Erickson, English and shorthand; Jon Olson, commercial and assistant football coach; Mrs. Florene Jewell, first grade; Mrs. Viola Bartling, second grade; Mrs. Margaret Lund, fourth grade; and Mrs. Marvin Reuter, fifth grade.

Polls Prove Popular With Allen Students

Allen High School's student newspaper came out the past week with the results of some polls. Whether some of the opinion reflects the views of parents or is strictly the pupils' is not known.

In a poll of adults the question was asked: "Do you think Allen, Ponca, Wakefield and Newcastle (schools) should consolidate?" All of the answers indicated the adults questioned thought it was a good idea.

The paper also polled 100 pupils in the school system. They came up with these presidential preferences: Democrats, Bobby Kennedy 38, Martin Luther King 8, Lyndon Johnson 2, George Wallace 1, Eugene McCarthy 1; Republicans, Richard Nixon 25, Ronald Reagan 19, Nelson Rockefeller 3, Ray Brown 3, George Romney 1. Of the vice presidential choices, Wallace led with 7 and Kennedy had 6 votes among the Democrats while Romney had 20 and Nixon and Reagan 19 each among the Republicans.

Allen does not have a driver's education program but 78 indicated they would like to have it and 22 said they would not want it. Of those who had driver's licenses, 40 took the examination just once, 30 took it twice and 7 took it more than twice.

Skirt lengths were the subject of four questions. The young people favor mini-skirts 60-40 but 54 per cent said they would not wear one, 67 per cent said they would wear them just to attract attention and 68 per cent predicted skirts will start getting longer.

The pupils favor staying in Vietnam 60-40. Of 14 teachers queried, the vote was 10 for staying in Vietnam and 4 for getting out.

Regarding the draft, 28 pupils said boys should not be drafted until they are 21, 23 said 20 was the right age and 22 said 19 was the best age. Teachers favored 18 years with seven votes, 19 with three and 20 and 21 with two votes each.

Finally, there is the matter of hair. For girls, 45 per cent prefer long hair, 40 per cent medium length and 15 per cent short hair. Three-fourths said hair should have some curl to it.

For boys, the vote was 62 per cent for medium length, 21 per cent for short hair and 17 per cent for long hair. The vote was more even on how it should be combed, 58 per cent favoring over the forehead and 42 per cent favoring combed hair back.

Surprise, surprise, the favorite color of hair is not blonde for either girls or boys. To the question "What color of hair do you like best on a girl? On a boy?" the answers came back favoring light brown for girls and black for boys.

Dixon County Food Stamp Plan Set

Residents of Dixon County who qualify for the food stamp program are being urged to apply at the courthouse in Ponca. The new program gets underway in the county Mar. 13.

Applications are being taken Monday through Friday from 9 to 4. Nebraska State Agency and the USDA consumers and marketing service are joint sponsors in this state.

Families do not have to be receiving welfare assistance to be eligible for the food stamp plan. Dixon County officials point out. Food coupons will be issued to families in need of food assistance, including some in the "senior citizen" group.

Some people who live on reduced incomes after retirement are eligible. Other low-income families may receive food coupons provided family income does not exceed amounts permitted by the sponsoring agencies.

Merchants are authorized to accept coupons in place of cash and allow users to buy more with each dollar than they could without the food stamp plan. Health is safeguarded and the flow of food from the nation's farms through normal trade channels is built up under this plan.

NFO Will Meet in Carroll Monday

Wayne National Farmers Organization will meet Monday, Mar. 11, at Carroll Auditorium. Meetings are also scheduled Thursday, Mar. 14, at 1 p.m. in the Fire Hall at Hoskins and at 8 p.m. in the Winside Auditorium, when William Sellhorst, state president, will speak.

At the Carroll meeting, a tape recording featuring Homer Jackson, PCA manager from Rifle, Colo., will be featured. He is the man who spoke at Stanton County Cattle Feeders Association in Stanton.

Monday night's NFO meeting drew a capacity crowd. The above-mentioned tape was played and so impressed those present they voted to use the same tape at other meetings so more farmers could hear it. A taped progress report heard at Cole-ridge by Wayne County officers will also be played.

Officials report excellent progress in negotiations the past week. Ten have signed contracts at this writing, cattle at $48 to $50 per hundred dressed weight and hogs $23 per hundred live weight.

Only one major processor refuses to negotiate, the officers reported. This firm has expressed the thought that if farmers cannot produce for less than what they require now, they should be forced out of agriculture and the firm would not be interested in signing a contract for 10 cents a pound.

The same processor said the NFO asking prices was ridiculous. However, this company previously said meat-packing was a losing proposition anyway but the company is diversifying into insurance, dairy, soybean and corn processing, broiler and turkey business, farm chemicals, feeds, fertilizers and other products which the farmers are expected to buy at company prices but the firm does not expect to pay prices the farmers set—cost of production plus a fair profit.

NFO officials said Monday the packer is not needed to activate contracts with other more cooperative packers. They said the holding action is starting to pay off and the farmers have never

Wayne Wins Hartington Tournament

Wayne Eighth Grade won the Hartington Holy Trinity grade school Invitational Class A tournament held the past week. The locals defeated Hartington 17-41-59 the first game and Randolph St. Frances 38-28 in the finals. Coleridge beat Hartington for the Class B championship.

Cocher Hank Overlin's team finished the season with a record of 10 wins and 2 losses. Both losses were sustained early in the season and were later avenged.

Last Monday Wayne beat Holy Trinity in a nip and tuck battle. The locals hit 15 free throws to take the game, being outscored 34-26 from the floor. Holy Trinity's inability to hit free throws hurt as they missed 15, some of them of the one-and-one variety.

Lionny Biltoff led Wayne scoring with 14. Don Hanson had 10, Kelly Dill 8, Kyle Wills 6 and Todd Bornhoff 3. Holy Trinity was led by Keith Elchhoff with 25, Mike Lelse hit 6, Randy Holmes 5, Tim Dwyer 2 and Dave Gordon 1.

Against St. Frances, it was easier, Wayne outscoring the losers 32-20 from the court. Each team made 6 free throws

All-School Tourney For Winside Matmen

An all-school wrestling tournament is underway at Winside High School. Finals will be Tuesday, Mar. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the WIS gym.

The public is invited to attend the finals. Admission is one bar of soap, to be made available to the boys in the physical education program and in high school athletics.

Eliminations started with almost every boy in school eligible. The tourney has been set up with all boys in the seventh through the twelfth grade able to compete.

Bill Schmitt will have about a dozen final matches and Pete Kropp will have about half that many Tuesday night. Schmitt has been handling the high school group, Kropp the grade school. They report a lot of enthusiasm and excitement so the finals Tuesday should be pretty wild.

Hoskins Firemen at Grass Fire Monday

Hoskins Rural Fire Department was called to a grass fire Monday. The fire was one of three the Hoskins firemen were called to the past week.

Monday's fire was on the east side of Highway 35 and north of the State Hospital Road, making it on the south edge of the Hoskins district. South and west from that particular point the land is in the Norfolk rural district.

A trash barrel is blamed for sparks that caused the grass to catch fire. Firemen were gone about one-half hour putting out the flames in the grass and in a grove of trees to which it had spread.

Rev. Harold Fitch, a Wayne native now pastor of Hilltop Heights Methodist Church, Sioux Falls, will be speaker at the 8 p.m. Lenten Chapel Hour Wednesday, Mar. 13, in the First Methodist Church, Wayne. Pastor Cecil Blas invites the public to attend.

Pastor Fitch was born in Wayne in 1921 and lived here until he joined the navy in 1943. He attended school in Wayne and graduated from Wayne State College after two years in the service. Following graduation, he worked as a salesman in Washington and then in Nebraska. In 1957 he decided to enter the ministry and served as associate to pastors in Denver and Mason City, Ia., four years while attending theological school.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fitch, Seattle, are the pastor's parents. They were in the grocery business here 35 years and have been in Seattle since 1932. When Rev. Fitch was ordained as an elder in the Methodist Church at Lead, S. D., in 1964, his parents were present. Members of Friendship Circle will serve at an informal coffee hour following the Chapel Hour service.

TWO PUPILS at Winside High show some typical "Rag-In" outfits worn at Winside High Thursday. Sandra Muehlmeier and Lee Trautwein were two of the sloppiest dressed pupils in school that day.

Winside School Has 'Rag-In' Thursday

Winside High School had a "rag-in" Thursday. Years ago it might have been called "rag day," but in this psychedelic age the pupils decided on a rag-in. Pupils wore ragged or odd clothing to school. Boys entered into the spirit of the situation better than the girls did and there were several outfits that were downright ingenious.

The student council sponsored the day. With pupils in not-so-good clothing, it seemed to be a good time to clean the lockers and clean the school so those events were added to the day's activities.

Change Handling Plan For Medical Expenses Wayne County residents are asked to note the changes in the handling of medical expenses in filing requirements for 1967 federal income tax returns. There are two major changes. Taxpayers are permitted to deduct one-half the cost of premiums paid for medical insurance (not to exceed $150) without regard to the 3 per cent limitation. The remainder of the cost of medical insurance is included with other medical expenses for 1967 subject to the 3 per cent reduction. Medical expenses of those 65 and over are subject to the same limitations as those under 65. Medicine and drug expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of the adjusted gross income, any excess being added to other dental and medical expenses paid during the year and this total is then reduced by 3 per cent of income. Life insurance and accident and health insurance covering loss of earnings are not medical expenses and premiums are not deductible. Those over 65 paying $9 for supplementary medical coverage under Medicare can deduct this as medical expense. CALL IN YOUR WANT AD THE WAYNE HERALD Phone 375-2600

Goodwill Campaign Helps!

By CIBRIS McENANY
Campaign Manager

A home-town newspaper is far to every American old to read. Yet how well we readers understand its aims and purposes—its importance in their lives, and the of the community, state and nation?

Some-owned newspaper, such as the Wayne Herald, is so many to us. It is similar to, and yet different from, many other businesses, associations and institutions in our community. Its services are varied and it is part of all of our lives.

It might be called a mirror of the community, a library of information, a market place, a partnership in which owners, advertisers, readers and the whole community have a common interest.

It is not a food store, for it feeds the people of the community, but its advertising does not nurture the food of the community.

Though it cannot render bank service, it is a well known fact that the newspaper is the protector against the damage which misinformation or misadvice might cause. It does not practice medicine, but it does play a vital part in preventing disease and the spread of epidemics.

It lays not claim to being a lawyer or court of law, but it stands ready to prevent or correct injustice.

Neither, the publisher, editor nor members of the newspaper's staff claim a superior status in the community. They admit only that the newspaper tries to do its job. And when information regarding the community is desired the place most often visited is the office of the local newspaper.

The Wayne Herald can better serve and better mirror the community if it has the support of an ever-growing family of subscribers. Your newspaper is important—stand behind it as a friend.

Workers in The Wayne Herald "Good Will" subscription campaign are making every endeavor to convert promises into points during this period, and many folks are extending their subscription in order to help a favorite candidate.

Candidates and the PUBLIC should bear in mind that subscriptions turned in by 9 p.m. Wednesday, March 20, count the MOST. For each $65 club turned

In during this second period of the Campaign, the Candidates receive 400,000 points. Get as many NEW AND RENEWAL subscriptions in by March 20 as you can... for each subscription does double point duty in this period. Points will take a sharp drop Thursday, March 21.

Help your Favorite Candidate today while it does the most good. Candidates, remember every one of your friends and acquaintances will help you. Believe in yourself and this self confidence will enthrone your friends. Get all the fun possible out of the campaign while you are piling up points toward the coveted prizes. Remember "OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS BUT ONCE."

Pupils See 'Macbeth'

Mrs. Leota Moller and student teachers took 31 pupils from Wayne High School to Omaha Community Playhouse Friday evening to see "Macbeth." The pupils paid their own way and the school furnished transportation for the group.

Winside Heart Fund Drive Report Given

Mrs. Paul Zoffka, chairman of the Heart Fund Drive in Winside, reports the town was canvassed and a total of $113.20 was collected. There could be some donations yet to come in.

According to Mrs. Zoffka, some mail-in-collections could still come in. She would appreciate having these as soon as possible so the final total can be reported.

Assisting her with the canvassing in Winside were Mrs. K. L. Brockmoller, Mrs. Glen Frevert, Mrs. Ted Hoeman, Mrs. Donald Vrba, Mrs. Donald Wacker and Mrs. David Warnemunde.

Boy Dies in Vietnam

The son of a former Winside area resident has been killed in Vietnam, according to word received by relatives. Pfc. William Selders, Jr., son of William Selders of Cody, Wyo., was killed in February while serving with the marines. His father formerly lived in Brenna Precinct and his grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. James Selders of Brenna. The youth had quit school in order to "get into action" with the marines and help clean up the mess in Vietnam. He has several distant relatives in the area now, the closest being a cousin, Mrs. Allan Koch, Winside.
