

AFS Carnival Saturday for Kiddies As Well As Adults

Parents, bring the kids! That's the word from the Wayne High School student council for their fund-raising carnival to be held Saturday from 5 to 10:30 in the new WIS gym.

With the huge gym as the setting, the school can offer the biggest carnival of its type ever held here. Booths for kids, ice cream stands, hot dogs, pop and all types of win-a-prize-almost-everytime stands are planned by various school units.

A new prize feature is a portable television set. The lucky person need not be present in order to win.

Those attending are asked to come in the west door of the school. Sponsoring student council members led by an untiring Jo Morrigan, council president, have spared no horses in making

More Filings for Office Reported

Two more filings for offices in Wayne County have been reported by County Clerk Norris Weible. As the May primary draws nearer there seems to be more interest being generated.

Kelth Owens, Carroll, filed the past week for director of Wayne County Public Power District. Claes Vogel, Wayne, filed the first of the week for the Weed District board.

In reporting filings for WCPD the past week, Stanley Morris was listed as candidate. The first name was right but the last name was wrong, Stanley Hansen is the candidate for the post.

'Warning' Goes Out to Campaign Contestants

By CHRIS McENANY
Circulation Campaign Manager

The management of the campaign checked the standings of all candidates at the close of the first period and found them running so even that it's a cinch the work done by each candidate during the next 3 1/2 weeks will determine the winners of the 6 neck-and-neck prizes.

Neck-and-neck is the only term that will describe the race thus far. If ever a field was running neck-and-neck the field of The Wayne Herald Campaign is doing just that. A few two and three year subscriptions now, before it is forever too late, can easily change the FIRST PRIZE WINNER as of today, to a non-prize winner by the last day.

Your effort as an individual during the remaining 3 1/2 weeks of the campaign will without doubt determine whether you win or lose first prize.

If you stage a spurt and bring in a big list of subscriptions, the biggest and best reports you have thus far turned in during the campaign, success probably awaits you.

In view of the fact that we have determined to see that every single candidate shall have a fair and square chance to win, we are issuing this public warning which we have already given to each candidate as they have visited campaign headquarters.

Whether you win or lose depends entirely and solely upon your individual effort during the remaining few days.

If you let your drive for success lag, you can depend on losing. Right at your elbow in the list of candidates, are several workers ready to go ahead of you at the least sign of weakening on your part.

Don't stop calling on your friends and neighbors now. If you fail to get that one subscription which you could get by sticking a little closer to your campaign, you may lose a FIRST PRIZE, yes, you may lose all 6 of the prizes, just as your fingers seem about to grasp one of them.

You and your supporters must decide within the next 3 1/2 weeks whether or not you will be among the winners. We have repeatedly told each of you how to win this campaign, contact every home in the territory, do not pass up a single place.

It is this warning that we would sound and impress upon you again. You will, of course, take it for what it is worth. BUT, if you fall to heed it, the results rest upon your shoulders and the loss will be your own.

If you want to further your own interests and clinch a heart-winning prize for yourself you must strike while the iron is hot. Strike continuously and manfully and success will be yours.

The second of four periods of the "Good Will" subscription campaign will close Wednesday, Mar. 20. Points will then take another drastic drop.

The days are slipping fast and the campaign will be over too soon for many of the candidates. There are many people who are waiting for a certain candidate to call. Save them time by informing them through the campaign office. Phone 375-1598 and leave the message.

Court of Honor For Three Boys

An Eagle Scout Court of Honor will be held Sunday, Mar. 17, at 2:30 in the First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, Wayne. Two Explorers and a Boy Scout will be advanced to the rank of Eagle Scout.

To be boosted to the top rank are the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rees, David and Daniel, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lambert, John. The twins are in Explorer Post 175 and Lambert is in Scout Troop 174.

Sam Berrick, Mid-America Council advancement director, will be present for the ceremony. Also taking part will be Rev. Gale Axen, Stanton, and Scouters and pastors of the area.

All Eagle Scouts of the area are invited to be present. An invitation has also been extended to the public to attend.

Seek Public Understanding Regarding Building Permits

There is some misunderstanding regarding the law that requires obtaining a building permit before starting construction of a building in Wayne or within one mile of the city limits. The Wayne City Council and the Planning Commission seek to acquaint the public of the requirements and the need for them.

Meeting Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce building, the commission acted at request of the city council to seek to inform the public of the rules. It was generally agreed that people have a misconception of what the zoning law requirements are intended to do.

The city has the zoning ordinance as protection for the people, creative rather than restrictive. A zoning law is aimed to help the city develop along orderly lines for the general welfare, not to restrict a few.

In addition, it was brought out that state law requires cities the size of Wayne to have such planning commissions and such laws. Without such laws, the city could not qualify for some programs, one for instance being the low-rent housing project voters approved recently.

Members of the planning commission agreed that people who See PERMITS, page 6

Keith Schwartz Dies in Omaha

Keith Schwartz, 33, died Monday at an Omaha hospital. He had been in failing health since mid-September.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Mar. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Wayne, with Father William Kieffman officiating. Rosary will be recited Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Hiscox Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife and seven children. A fund has been building for the family the last few weeks to help them through the financial crisis. Friends have been caring for the Schwartz children.

The basketball benefit for the Keith Schwartz Fund is still planned for Wednesday, Mar. 19, at Rice Auditorium. It is more needed than ever now.

Mrs. Lundahl Services Planned at Wakefield

Funeral services for Mrs. Herbert Lundahl are planned Friday, Mar. 15 at Salem Lutheran Church, Wakefield. Mrs. Lundahl died unexpectedly Tuesday morning at her home in Wakefield.

Fraternity Offering Free Safety Checkup

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, a civic-minded social fraternity at the Wayne State College campus, is offering a free car safety checkup two times this week. All area residents are invited to bring their cards in for the free checkup.

The checkups are scheduled Thursday evening, Mar. 28, and all afternoon Saturday, Mar. 30, at Herb's Buick. There is absolutely no charge and it is hoped a large number will take advantage of the free offer.

TKE hopes to find out where there are defective brakes, lights, tires, steering apparatus and other features that could be corrected now instead of too late.

Wayne Jaycees Hustle With Varied Activities

A hustling group of Wayne Jaycees talked over many activities at their Tuesday night meeting. They have some instant and long-range projects coming up.

Saturday will be observed Mar. 23 when Jaycees will go out and sell Cablevision installations. It is a fund-raising effort and they have special incentives for selling connections. Monday, Mar. 25, will be bosses night at the Black Knight. Information on plans for that will be given later.

Four couples will go to Cozard for the Outstanding Young Farmer and Rancher meeting. Dick Sorensen is the local entry. He and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kasselner, Mr. and Mrs.

Airport Hangar Bids Show Wide Variance at Meeting

Prize Still $400

The Silver Dollar Night drawing remains at $400 after Wilma Roberts, Wayne, failed to claim that amount at the drawing Thursday night. Someone could win the prize this Thursday at 8 if they are present when their name is called. Chamber Manager Butch Schulte reports the reserve pot at $400 and the reserve-reserve pot at $200.

Charmi Cries As She Sees Father

Charmi Milligan saw her father for the first time in three weeks the past weekend. She cried with joy, and even though she could not be held, she showed in her eyes and smile the pleasure she felt at seeing him again.

Milligan and his wife went to Cincinnati to see Charmi before she starts undergoing grafting operations with her own skin, the first scheduled this week. They will not return to Cincinnati again for three weeks or more.

Doctors told the Carroll couple their five-year-old girl is still in critical condition and will be until all infection is gone. The infection cannot be removed until she is completely covered with new skin, especially on the

Ted Bahe and Mr. and Mrs. Wes Wingett will attend from here. Blood is to be donated for Charmi Milligan to replace what she is receiving in transfusions. Rollie Granquist will check to find out how the Jaycees can go See JAYCEES, page 6

There was quite a variance in some of the bids on hangars for the Wayne Municipal Airport. The bids were opened at the Tuesday night meeting of the city council.

Lowest bid on six units was $24,618.60. Highest bid on the same number of units was $37,000, a difference of over $13,000.

Loberg Construction Co., Carroll, submitted the low bids on four, six and eight units. The bids were: $14,950.85, $20,740.45 and $27,492. In all cases the figures are basic bids.

Other bids were: Carhart Lumber Co., Wayne, four $17,317.95, six $24,618.66 and eight $31,817.50; Otte Construction Co., Wayne, four $19,680, six $29,125; Va Koch Construction Co., Lincoln, four $17,962, six $25,162 and eight $33,835; and H. C. Kuhlmann Construction, Sioux City, four $25,564, six $37,360.

Bids were referred to the airport committee for consideration. A meeting will be held to study the bids and then recommendations will be given the council.

More liquor licenses are to be allowed. After considering an ordinance to repeal Ordinance 4-103 limiting the number of retail licenses to sell alcoholic liquors, the council voted 3-2 against repeal with one councilman abstaining.

Later another ordinance was proposed amending Ordinance 4-103 to change the number of licenses to sell alcoholic liquors (except beer) from three to five. This was titled Ordinance 660 and carried 5-0 with one councilman abstaining. (Councilman Jack Kingston abstained on the See COUNCIL, page 6

WHS Offers Diplomas to Adults in This Region

Ever wished you had your high school diploma? Wayne High School through the Office of Guidance Services and the American Council on Education will be able to issue them, Supt. Francis Haun reveals.

There are two ways adults can get them. One is to accumulate enough hours through correspondence or extension courses. The other is to pass a high school equivalency test.

Although the diplomas can be issued through the state or national offices, it is thought many people would rather have them through a regular high school. For that reason, WHS has decided to go along with the program.

Anyone who does not have a diploma and wishes to get one under this new program should contact Supt. Haun. All information will be kept in confidence and no one will know who is taking the courses or the tests to qualify for diplomas.

Film on Checks

The retail committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Wayne Police Department is sponsoring a film on bad checks Tuesday, Mar. 19. It will be shown four times at Wayne City Auditorium and anyone is welcome to attend. Coffee will be served by the committee. Showings by Chief of Police Vern Fairchild are set at 8:30, 10 a.m., 1:30 and 3 p.m. Merchants and others from area towns are welcome.

One Inducted, 14 Take Physicals From County

Wayne County sent another youth to the armed forces Wednesday morning. Going for physical examinations were 14, two joining the group at Omaha from other points and the other 12 going from here by chartered bus.

Selective Service Clerk Mrs. Jewell Canner said there had been no call for April. She anticipates receiving one this week calling for both inductees and physical examinations.

With the induction Wednesday, this county has now gone three months in a row with one in-

Safety Convocation

Trooper James O'Dell, Nebraska State Patrol, presented a safety convocation for Wayne High School pupils Tuesday afternoon. Arrangements for the program were made through the joint efforts of Mike Mallette, driver's education instructor, and Mrs. Mary Jane Cottrell, school nurse. Accent was on safety in traffic for the all-school program.

District Speech Contest Is Slated in Wayne Saturday

Wayne State College will be the site of the District III speech contest all day Saturday, Mar. 16. Dr. Robert Johnson, head of the speech department at WSC, is in charge and said events will be scheduled at 8 a.m. and will continue until 6 p.m.

As of this writing, 20 schools have entered. Some have entered all events, some have entered several pupils in each event and all will be competing in one class with the winners to be entered in state competition later this term.

Judges will be six speech teachers from the University of Nebraska. They will make known their decisions before the day is over.

Dr. Johnson said the public is invited to attend any or all parts of the competition with no admission charge. All events are slated in the Fine Arts Building.

Events for competition will be: Oral interpretation of prose literature; oral interpretation of drama; interpretive public address; original public address; extemporaneous speaking; poetry reading; television news commentary; discussion; informative public speaking; and one-act plays.

Schools entered include Wisner, Ponca, Dodge, Wakefield, Allen, Howells, Hartington, Cole-ridge, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Rosalie, West Point, Laurel, Wayne, Wynot, Bancort, Schilling, Decatur, Homer, Winnebago and South Sioux City.

Insurance Workshop Set at WHS

An adult education workshop on insurance is to be offered three nights in April, Supt. Francis Haun of Wayne High School reports. It is a course intended to help laymen understand what types of insurance there are, what insurance can do for them and how to use insurance dollars most effectively.

Conducting the course at 7:30 p.m. Apr. 2, 9 and 16 at WHS will be Dr. G. E. Radja, assistant professor of economics at the University of Nebraska and See INSURANCE, page 6

NEW SUPERINTENDENT at Winside, J. M. J. "Joe" Masten, is shown with his wife and children. The youngsters are: Ronnie and Donnie, 7, Jean Marie, 8, and Joey, 10. The Masten family is presently at Orchard but will move to Winside when the present term is over.

Time to Get Martin
Units Up for Scouts
Longtime martin fanciers and the newer fans of the mosquito-eating birds report it is about time to get the martin houses up. Scouts will soon be flying down to find accommodations for the birds.

Weather plays a role in determining when the scouts come in. However, it is usually around the first of April, but with better weather this year they could come in a week or so earlier.

Many new martin homes have been put up in this region the past year. Many more are planned. For those planning, they can get advice on the requirements for the martins "demand" by contacting Don Kerl at the SCS office or Troy Vaught at Swans' Ladies' Store.

The main contingent of martins will follow the scouts by two or three weeks. They go where the clean birdhouses are and they come by the thousands. Among the greatest insect-eaters on earth, they are capable of eating 2,000 mosquitoes each per day, and they put on quite a show with their insect-chasing antics and their seemingly endless flight.

Only one candidate can be elected Thursday. Those chosen will serve County Government Day at the courthouse Wednesday, Mar. 20. Winside will also send a slate of officers to the Legion-sponsored activity.

A Common Courtesy ...

Often nowadays, this is an inappropriate phrase. Courtesy, an apparent victim of modern living, is far from "common" today. However, we believe that such an inexpensive, yet valuable, commodity as courtesy is always important. That's why you'll find it in abundance at Rexall... along with Cars, Promptness, Pride... all the things that make your visit a little more enjoyable.

Wayne High Musicians Dance, Sing, Act for Production 'Guys and Dolls'

A choreographer has been brought in to help Wayne High School pupils learn dance steps for "Guys and Dolls," a musical to be presented three nights the latter part of the month under the direction of Joseph Unsicker. Don Schumacher will direct the band and James Forster, Norfolk, is choreographer.

The musical will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Mar. 28, 29 and 30. One of Broadway's funniest musicals, it ran for 1,200 performances and was revived later, made into a musical and is still popular all over the world.

Two wacky love stories are involved in Damon Runyon's story. One involves a hotshot operator, Tom Havener, proprietor of a floating crap game, devoted to Miss Adelaide, Detol Armbruster, a night club singer to whom he has been engaged 14 years.

The other romance concerns a big-time spender, Bob Barr, and Sarah Brown, a Salvation Army lass. He is a night hawk, she works at the Save-A-Soul Mission.

Other characters include Jon Merriman, Dennis Ellermeier, Doug Stanley, Bob Penn, Ron Seymour, Larry Magnuson, Mike Peter, Rociel Marr, Cindy Meyer, Jana Reeg and Steve Carman.

As for Runyon, he provided some names for his characters. Remember Harry the Horace, Detroit, Sky Masterson, Nicely-Nicely Johnson, Benny Southstreet, Angie the Ox and Big Jule? They're all part of the funny musician scene.

Tickets go on sale Monday, Mar. 18. Tickets may be reserved by calling the high school. Further information will be given in Monday's paper.

Former Carroll Man Able to Be at Home

Jim Church, Madison, a former Carroll resident, is able to be at home. He was injured in a fall before Thanksgiving while working on a construction project.

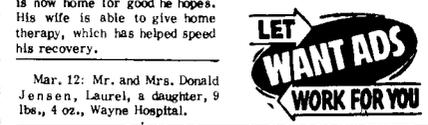

According to word from his wife, he is home from long hospitalization and is able to walk with a walker and with leg braces twice a day. He sits in a wheel chair the rest of the day.

Mrs. Church says as he gets stronger, he will be able to get around with crutches. He has heard from many people in Wayne County, especially in the Carroll area, and he enjoys getting notes, cards and visits even now that he is home.

Church was paralyzed from the waist down following the mishap. He was hospitalized with a broken back, was able to be home a short time and then had to go back to the hospital but is now home for good he hopes. His wife is able to give home therapy, which has helped speed his recovery.

WSC Wrestlers Finish Fourth in Nation

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, March 14, 1968

Wayne State College finished fourth in the nation in the NAIA finals at Alamosa, Colo., last week, the highest national rating a WSC wrestling squad has ever earned. A national championship was also garnered by a Wildcat grappler for the first time, Larry Michelsen, a junior, winning the 152-pound class.

Coch Bill Pate, who is in his first season as wrestling coach at the college, expressed extreme pride in the spirit and condition of the team. He said the 7,000-foot altitude affected some competitors but the superb conditioning of the WSC team paid off along with an intense desire to do well.

There were 63 teams competing and hundreds more that did not qualify for the nationals. Adams State of Colorado finished first, Omaha University second, Central Washington third and WSC fourth, points being 107, 77, 56 and 48 respectively.

Two of the Wayne State wrestlers have been invited to tryouts for the Olympics. They are Michelsen and Tom Firestack, who finished second in the heavyweight division. Firestack, from Canon City, Colo., is a sophomore here. The Olympic tryouts will be at Iowa State University.

Coch Pate considers the effort at Alamosa the top achievement of the season. However, he is also proud of the team's 17-11 win over Omaha University and the record of 11 wins in 13 dual meets. With many of the team returning next year, he anticipates another great winter sports season for the wrestlers.

Michelsen, 123-pound junior, Kingman, Lockhaven, Pa., 7-5 the first day, Kingman winning second in the nationals last year. Later in the day Michelsen defeated Willie Reissler, Dickinson State, N. D., 14-5. The second day he defeated Charles Eckert, Bemidji State, Minn., 10-0 and Reggie Williams, Omaha U., 5-2. In the championship match he defeated the defending champion, Joe Gerst, Bloomsburg, Pa., 9-7.

Firestack had a bye the first day and pinned Bruce Payer, Edinborough State, Ohio, in 6:58. The second day he decided Joe Rihgetti, Waynesburg, Pa., 3rd in the nation last year, 4-2, and pinned Dick Halbert, St. Cloud, Minn., 6:28. In the finals, he lost to Wade Combers, Westmar, 15-0, so took second in the weight group.

Bill Schwartz, 123-pound junior, drew a bye the first day and then defeated Mike Turner, Central Washington, 7-5. The second day he decided Paul Budd, Concordia, Minn., 7-5, and lost to Cullen Carey, Plattsville, Wis., 8-5. This put him in the wrestleback in which he decided Ralph Adamson, Waynesburg, Pa., last year's runner-up. Schwartz lost to Rick Engh, Bemidji State, Minn., 6-2, so wound up fourth in his division.

Jeff Meineke, 130-pound senior, decided Bill Germann, Moorhead State, Minn., 7-6 (German was third last year). Meineke also pinned Bill Moran, Lockhaven State, Pa., in 4:50 the first day. The second day he decided Carlos Fontanez, Adams State, Colo., 9-7, and lost to Doug Neubarth, Northern State, S. D., 5-1. In wrestlebacks the third day he lost to Curt Grabfelter, Bloomsburg, Pa., 4-2, and then decided Richard Pollack, Waynesburg, Pa., 7-4, to win fifth place.

Steve Hanson, 145-pound junior, lost to Bill Stinson, Western Ill., 9-1 in the first round. Thus with 12 points, James Maly hit 6, Mike Foote 4 and Dave Nuss 2. For Hoskins, Larry Bruggemann had 8, Lange 6, Behmer 3 and Brummels 2.

For the older boys, Roland led Wayne with 10. Morris and Nelson each had 8. Scheel and Johnson 4 and Mordhorst and Zimmerman 2. For Hoskins, Behmer had 9, Lange 7, Behmer 4, Bruggeman 3 and Deck 1.

In those ten years he has been pinned once, that being in the finals of the state meet. He has pinned over 40 of his opponents, including 10 pins in 25 matches this season.

Michelsen has to plan ahead as he has been chosen to try out for the U.S. Olympic wrestling team. He will compete against NCAA University and small college winners at Iowa State University in mid-April when two or three men will be chosen from each weight class.

The WSC national champion will not be wrestling for a while in order to keep from growing stale in the long season. He will work this summer after the tryouts and probably will get back to 170 pounds and then through diet and workouts will get back to 152 pounds next season.

His record at WSC is impressive. In three years he has won the NCC title three times, at 152 in 1966 and 1968 and at 160 in 1967. He was also runner-up in the district in 1966 and 1967 and district and national NAIA champion in 1968. He has wrestled at WSC under three coaches, Burt Merriman, Bill McNeil and Don Pate.

If he makes the Olympic team, he will go to Alamosa, Colo., to train. That site was chosen since it is almost exactly the same altitude as Mexico City, where the summer Olympics will be held. He isn't making any definite plans, but his coach says he has tremendous ability and desire and he may surprise some NCAA wrestlers as he did some top men in NCAA and NAIA

Local Teams Win in Consolation Games

St. Mary's and Wayne won consolation in the delayed final of the Wayne Recreation tournament last week. St. Mary's beat Hoskins sixth grade 24-19 and Wayne beat Hoskins seventh and eighth grade 34-24.

In the smaller boys' game, Bill Schwartz led the St. Mary's team

Larry Michelsen First National Champion

The national championship in the NAIA wrestling tournament at Alamosa, Colo., last week is comparable to being an all-American. Coach Don Pate reports, Larry Michelsen of Wayne State College won the 152-pound national title.

It was no easy path for the Jackson, Minn., resident. He had to defeat the defending champion from last year, the runnerup from last year and the third place winner from last year. He also defeated two men who were on the NCAA honorable mention team last year.

The WSC junior has been wrestling for ten years. He was the varsity at Jackson four years and before that on the H team as a seventh and eighth grade pupil two years. He was runnerup in the state one year and won the regional at 154 pounds, weighing more than he does now.

In those ten years he has been pinned once, that being in the finals of the state meet. He has pinned over 40 of his opponents, including 10 pins in 25 matches this season.

Michelsen has to plan ahead as he has been chosen to try out for the U.S. Olympic wrestling team. He will compete against NCAA University and small college winners at Iowa State University in mid-April when two or three men will be chosen from each weight class.

The WSC national champion will not be wrestling for a while in order to keep from growing stale in the long season. He will work this summer after the tryouts and probably will get back to 170 pounds and then through diet and workouts will get back to 152 pounds next season.

from last year at the nationals last week.

Michelsen is married to the former Mary Ballard, Jackson, and they have one son, Brian Gene, 9 months. A brother of Michelsen wrestled one year at Minnesota U., but is now in the army.

According to Michelsen, he works to keep his weight down and can lose as much as five pounds in 1 1/2 hours of working out. However, he has to be in shape to take this kind of weight-loss, and he is in shape for he runs up and down gym steps a lot, wrestles a great deal, runs laps in the room below Rice Gym and works out five or six days a week.

He has to watch his diet, which is the hardest thing about wrestling. According to Michelsen, he can gain eight pounds after a meal and that is when he has to start working to lose five pounds or so at a session to make sure he is not overweight when the next match comes along.

It all sounds like a lot of work, but he likes it. He will graduate in April, 1969, and he wants to be a wrestling coach along with teaching industrial arts and physical education. It all adds up to a lot of effort in the classroom, at home and in the gym but it's worth it. After all, it's not every day you can be a national champion as he is!

Wrestle Winners Named at Winside

The intramural wrestling tournament at Winside High School is over, champions being decided in the finals Tuesday night. Most of the boys in the junior high and high school had been in contention at one time with each division working down until only two boys were undefeated in each.

There were five pins in the high school group and only one in the junior high group. Coaches Bill Schmitt and Pete Kropp had been working with the boys in the program.

Following are the final results: Junior high, up to 100 pounds, Rod Deck decided Dave Jaeger 11-9 in overtime; 101-117, Doug Jenkins won 14-5 over Phil Janke; 118-139, Bob Krueger won 12-3 over Dean Krueger; 140-18, Larry Cleveland pinned Jerry Wacker.

Senior high, up to 112 pounds, Terry Jaeger won 2-0 over Steph Carlson; 113-126, Mike Jaeger won 7-3 over Bob Jackson; 127-136, Richard Duerling pinned Dennis Swanson; 137-146, Loren Slevers pinned Bob Jenkins; in the 147-151 weight group, Charles Langenberg pinned Leon Husaman; 152-157, Neil Brogren won 8-2 over Dave Witt; 158-164, Dan Jaeger pinned Larry Pfeiffer; 165-177, Bob Wacker pinned Mark Witt; and 177-up, Roy Wagner won 8-2 over Roger Deck.

Staters Lose in NAIA Tournament

Wayne State lost in the opening round of the NAIA national basketball tournament at Kansas City late Tuesday night. Details await the return of the coaches, team and public relations man.

Eastern Montana State beat the Wildcats 83-70. It was a close game most of the way with the Wildcats going cold late in the game and the winners staying hot.

Had WSC won, they would have been matched against Onkosh State, Wis., a team that defeated the No. 1 seeded team in the tournament earlier in the day. The loss ended the season for Wayne State but left the record unmarred as the greatest ever for a Gold and Black squad.

Sorry, No Pictures

After sitting through the Winside wrestling tournament Tuesday night, pictures of the winners were taken. However, the film came out entirely blank, due to an oversight on an accidental change of a setting on the camera.

This was not the only picture lost. Another was taken at 5:30 a.m. of William DJJ prior to his leaving for induction. This shot also came out blank. Someone should have stayed in bed, night and morning - the cameraman.

4-H Club News

Hot Shots
Hot Shots 4-H club met Mar. 4 in the Harold Ekberg home. Allen Ekberg gave a demonstration on parts of the beef animal. Dennis Ekberg showed slides of his trip to Lincoln for the National Agricultural Youth Institute. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ingalls were guests. Apr. 1 meeting will be at the Lester Hansen home.

Horsemanship Club

Hoskins 4-H Horsemanship Club met Monday evening. Members voted to call the club the Hoskins Tumbleweeds. Don Langenberg will be leader with Lee Anderson as assistant. Dues will be 10c with the money to be used for entertainment at the end of the year. A camping trip was also discussed. Members were reminded to register by June 1 for county, district and state shows. Tom Lange, reporter.

Keith Schwartz Funeral Services Planned at Wayne

Funeral services for Keith L. Schwartz, 33, are planned today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Wayne, with Father William Kieffman officiating. Mr. Schwartz died Mar. 11 at an Omaha hospital. Pallbearers will be Dale Poshman, Joe Lowe, Ray Starman, Richard Wurdinger, Dennis Lut and Harold Murray. Burial will be in St. Joseph Cemetery, Pierce.

Keith Leo Schwartz, son of Edward and Ann Schwartz, was born May 30, 1934 at Norfolk. He grew up and attended school at Pierce, graduating in 1951. He attended the University of Nebraska and in 1952 he enlisted in the Navy.

He was married Mar. 9, 1953 to Deillah Klein at Fairfax, S.D. After four years he was discharged from the Navy and was employed by the State of Nebraska, Department of Roads. The family made their home in Wayne.

Survivors include his widow; three sons, Bill, David and Todd; four daughters, Barbara, Carla, Susan and Mary, all at home, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schwartz, Pierce.

Funeral Services For C. Bergerson Held at Wakefield

Funeral services for Carl Bergerson, 64, Wakefield, were held Mar. 13 at Bressler Funeral Home Chapel, Wakefield. Mr. Bergerson died Sunday at his home near Wakefield.

Rev. Robert V. Johnson officiated at the rites. Pallbearers were Robert Henegar, Otto Test, Jr., Ted Fuoss, Marvin Fuoss, Marvin Borg and Walter Hale. Burial was in Wakefield Cemetery.

Carl Bergerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bergerson, was born Jan. 27, 1904 in Dixon county where he spent his lifetime. He was preceded in death by his parents; a brother, Hilding, and an infant brother.

Survivors include three brothers, John of Norfolk, Ted of Fremont, and Wilbur, Eagle Pass, Minn.; three sisters, Mrs. Esther Fuoss, Wayne, Mrs. Sophie Rodell, Denver, and Mrs. Bertha Nugent, Paradise, Calif.

Fifty at Family Life Gathering in Jackson

Anna Marie Krefels, area extension agent at Northeast Station, Concord, reports 50 people from 10 communities attended a Family Life gathering in Jackson Mar. 7. "Youth in a Changing World" was the topic of guest speakers from NU.

Mrs. Patricia Knab reviewed modern situations affecting today's teenagers. She said family members engage in individual activities, each going his own way, using the home as a "refueling station." She said the young are "concerned over getting along with their parents, future security, acceptance by their peers, present divorce rates and vocational choices.

Speaking of physical and emotional characteristics of teenagers, Mrs. Shirley Soevers said one of their chief tasks is to achieve a satisfying and socially accepted masculine or feminine role, so parents have the responsibility to set appropriate examples.

A panel discussion heard questions from the people. On the panel were Mrs. Ernest Swift, Allen; Mrs. Elmer Wallwey, Emerson; Father John Rizzo, Dixon; and Sheriff Allen Hlich, Dakota City.

Rights and responsibilities of teenagers, pressures exerted by society on today's youth and use of drugs and narcotics were subjects brought up. Lively discussions continued after the meeting dismissed.

The meeting was the second in a series of four Family Life meetings being sponsored this year by Northeast Nebraska Area Extension Service with Miss Krefels in charge. Third meeting will be Sept. 25 at Laurel with parent-child relationships as the topic.

Navy Officer Team Will Visit Campus

Any junior or senior in college who is interested in becoming a commissioned officer in the navy will be able to get information Tuesday, Mar. 19, when a navy officer information team will visit Wayne State College.

Team members will be at the Student Center to discuss with prospective graduates, male or female, such opportunities as officer candidate school, aviation training and many other naval programs.

The navy is offering a wide variety of ways for the college graduate to fulfill his military obligation as a commissioned officer. Applicants from all under-graduate majors are being sought and qualification tests can be given on the campus.

Plan 4-H Decorama

A District III 4-H Decorama will be held Saturday, Mar. 16, in Norfolk at Holiday Inn. Mrs. Lorraine Kramer will tell 4-Hers about lighting principles and how to incorporate them into their rooms. The 4-H members taking the middle and advanced home furnishing projects, their mothers and leaders will be recognized at the Decorama sponsored by Sears Foundation and Cooperation Extension Service of NU. Demonstration of "Plotting a Hanging" will be given. Following lunch a tour of furniture and mobile home outlets will be made.

Wayne, Stanton, Dixon, Thurston, Cumings, Pierce and Madison counties are among those in the district.

General Crop Meeting Set in Winside Monday

Winside will be the scene of a general crop meeting Monday, Mar. 18, at 8 p.m. at Winside Co-op. Farmers of the area are invited to attend.

Featured will be three functions: Fertilizer use, weed control and insect control. On fertilizer use, corn, grain sorghum, small grain, soybean and grass will be covered; on weed control; latest recommendations and results; and on insect control, rootworm and corn borer control.

Gene Schwartz, area extension agronomist from Northeast State, Concord, will be in charge. The session is planned jointly by the Nebraska Extension Service and Winside Co-op.

County Agent Harold Ingalls invites anyone interested to attend. There is no admission charge.

Girl Scouts -

Cadettes sang for their part in the program. They were in charge of the punch and cookies for the tea and acted as hostesses.

Some of the girls wore uniforms to church and to school. The cadette group had a swimming party at the college. Juniors appeared at Kiwanis Club. A neighborhood meeting for Wayne, Pender and Thurston was held.

Troop 257 learned the sign of the arrow, the sign of the star, worked on collector and health aid and put on a play, "The Girl Scout Elves," written by Chris Suber and Karen Biltoft.

Many other activities were carried out through the week. A window at Sears Store was fixed for display by Mrs. Arline Ulrich to be left through this week.

Jaycees -

(Continued from page 1) about giving and making sure Charmi is credited with the blood. Tom Oller was named chairman of the Teenage Road-E-O. Details on that will be announced later.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce, Bernard Schulte appeared and explained the Community Betterment Program. Wes Wingett was named chairman with Stan Baler and Tom Oller on the committee to work with the projects the Jaycees choose in this statewide contest.

Four guests were present from the Oakland Jaycees. They have 52 members in a town of 1,400 and have a budget of $10,000 a year. Their main project this year is building a medical clinic. Two guests, Joe Corbit and Cletus Sharer, appeared to talk over future projects of the Jaycees. Information on that will also be forthcoming.

The Community Attitude Survey is now complete and the report ready. It is expected to be made available for publication Monday.

Constitution and the by-laws of the club have been revised; Keith Kasselner lost out by one point in a bid for honor as State Spoke; and Wes Wingett is to be supported by the local chapter as national director at the state convention in Omaha next month.

Insurance -

(Continued from page 1) a nationally recognized authority. He will not be selling insurance or plugging any particular type but will be giving straight answers to questions that arise.

Supt. Haun points out that it is not often area residents have a chance to get insurance information from an authority who himself is not involved in selling. Dr. Redja is going to stress life insurance, property insurance of various types, liability insurance and other types of insurance.

A coupon for enrolling appears on an inside page of this issue of The Herald. Enrollment deadline is Friday, Mar. 29. A minimum of 12 is needed in order to offer the workshop.

Wayne High school is sponsoring the workshop as a part of the school's adult education program. Anyone interested should contact Supt. Haun for further information.

Dr. Redja attended Wharton School of Insurance and Creighton University. He has taught at Loyola of Los Angeles, University of South California, Creighton University and NU. He has also served on the American College of Underwriters and is a member of the American Economic Association, Midwest Economic Association and American Risk and Insurance Association.

The station has been on the air testing much of the time lately. However, the studios on Highway 35 two miles west of Seventh Street are still in various stages of construction and are not ready for visitors. An open house is planned soon for the public.

The format is planned to feature agriculture, news, sports, music and public service. UPI news service has been installed, delayed broadcast of some sports events with live broadcasts of Cornhusker football games over the Cornhusker Football Network are set and music will be middle-of-the-road featuring the best popular, country and western and teenage numbers.

A bulletin board for non-profit organizations, church calendar, bargain counter, services from local churches and other programs are in the planning stage. A hook-up with the federal weather bureau at Norfolk would offer weather three or four times a day.

Officers of the station said they anticipate coverage within 50 miles of Wayne with the signal getting weaker from there out. They expect to start regular programs Monday and then add new features as time goes by.

Carnival -

Margot McKay, Australia, will be on hand to meet as many as possible and to help raise funds to bring another exchange student here next year. Almost every pupil in school has some role in the events.

There will be a marriage booth, jail, fish bowl, tricycle races, cake walk, dart throws, casino, ping pong, hot throw, basketball throw, flower power, stand and numerous other concessions. Unless you have been in the new gym with the dividing partition removed, you have no idea how big this room is. The student council will have it filled with fun-and they hope with people-Saturday night so they will appreciate patronage of the general public.

Wayne High School needs $750 in order to bring an AFS student here for the 1968-69 term. This is the biggest money-making event planned. If it goes over, things will be "coming up roses."

Charmi -

Five or more operations face the little child, all grafting with her own skin. Charmi seems to realize she is sick, has accepted the fact that she has been burned and remembered the fire, remarking to her mother, "Mommy, you cried when I got hurt." She seemed worried about making her mother cry and also asked her mother not to let Marci (her sister) help burn trash anymore.

Although she was happy to see her parents, Charmi realizes they have to be in Carroll some of the time with the other children. She seldom cries and with the staff at the Shriners Burns Center reading books to her, reading the cards she gets and setting up an overhead television for her to watch, she finds time to enjoy a few things while lying motionless hour after hour.

Mrs. Milligan said Tuesday the cards have been big morale boosters. Charmi especially likes cards from other children, a real delight being some homemade cards from fifth and sixth grade pupils at Carroll. She thought it was especially nice to have the whole class remember her but she loves all the cards the nurses show her. A scrapbook of cards is being made for her.

Charmi is getting acquainted with the nurses and doctors and seems content. She did ask about her sisters so an aunt is sending an enlargement of a photo of all the Milligan children so she can remember them.

The five-year-old knows she needs help and realizes the hospital staff is trying to help her. Her morale remains high and even though seven blood transfusions she has been a model patient, seemingly understanding that someone understands.

A big benefit is planned Tuesday, Mar. 19, at the Carroll Auditorium for the Charmi Milligan fund. Details will be announced in Monday's paper. Another list of donations made through Wayne and Carroll business places will also be published.

Permits -

have started construction within a mile of town without obtaining a permit first have done so because they are unaware of the city's jurisdiction and the law's requirements. This is understandable since the law is less than a year old.

Building permits are obtainable without charge. They recognize the individual's desire to build or move a building but they also limit types of buildings in areas according to the zones in which built, there being eleven different zones in the city and in the one-mile limit.

To make the story short, one MUST apply for a permit before starting construction of a building in Wayne or within a mile of the city limits. The law provides a penalty of $100 a day for each day of violation, which should be all that is needed to inspire builders to get permits before a single spadeful of dirt is turned.

Builders should know the plot plan, setbacks, type of building, use and other information when seeking permits. Standard and special-use permits are available.

Zoning laws are flexible since it is realized not every situation can be anticipated in advance. The planning commission can make recommendations as to changes but only the council has the power to authorize a change in ruling or interpretation of the ordinance.

Those who feel they have been treated unjustly on handling of an application for a permit can appeal. The appeal board can over-rule the planning commission and can grant variations where ordinances create hardships.

A zoning map is available for those who want to know where their property falls and what type of construction is allowed. The council and planning commission hope there will be no need for action against those violating the law regarding the building permits and the zoning ordinances but they must abide by state and local law and they feel by making information known they can avoid trouble in the future for builders and city alike.

PE Program at Middle School

Wayne Middle School will present a physical education program Monday, Mar. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne City Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free program.

Coach Don Koenig, who handles physical education and coaching duties at the school, will present fifth and sixth grade boys and girls in a 1 1/2-hour program to show what is being tried. Youngsters will give demonstrations of some of the activities.

Trampoline, tumbling, square dancing, stick dancing, carts, basketball, rope jumping and games are included in the program. So well-rounded is the program, around 125 phys ed students from WSC will be required to attend this presentation.

Coach Koenig said the program is being presented to give parents and others a better understanding of the program and to erase some misconceptions. Parents, friends and anyone else interested will be welcome at the demonstration.

NFO Gatherings Set for County

National Farmers Organization meetings are scheduled Thursday, Mar. 14 in Wayne County. The first will be at 1 p.m. at the Fire Hall in Hoskins. The second is at 8 p.m. in the Winside Auditorium.

Speaking at both sessions will be William Sellhorst, Dodge, national director. All farmers and wives, businessmen and wives and others interested are invited to these informative meetings.

Officials report a record crowd for the meeting at Carroll Monday night. NFO members brought neighbors to hear a tape recording of a talk by Homer Jackson, Rifle, Colo., PCA manager and rancher.

Two NFO progress report tapes were played. They revealed five new states have been added to the program and new membership agreements have been arriving in national headquarters at the rate of 2,000 a day since the beginning of the all-commodity holding action. Mar. 6 was a record day for new members.

Booster Dinner for WSC Champions Set

A Businessmen's Booster Dinner for the three championship winter sports teams from Wayne State College will be held Monday, Mar. 18, at Les' Steak House, Wayne, at 7 p.m.

Any men in the area interested in WSC athletes are invited to attend. There will be no program, just a steak dinner, introduction of the teams and coaches and informal get-acquainted period.

Tickets may be secured by calling these: Roger Nelson, Don Echtenkamp, Rowan Whitte, Sam-Mor Drug or Wayne Herald.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Pierce County Roads

Go west, young men of Wayne County and you will find Pierce County. You will also find surfaced county roads built by non-local firms and you will also find a start on a program of surfacing by Pierce County employees.

The Pierce County Leader revealed last week that the county has purchased equipment for laying oil mat surfacing on county roads. The first 2 1/2 miles are already scheduled on heavily-traveled county roads.

This in itself seems worthy of mention, but Pierce County has been doing something about dustless surfacing in previous years. It has let contracts to bidders before but will be able to build more mileage with its own men and equipment in the future because of lower construction costs.

Certainly this type of program should be considered by Wayne County. Federal aid is available — as it is for almost anything anyone does anywhere anymore. However, even if the federal aid were not included, a start on a road-surfacing project is long overdue in this county.

No one expects a big jump into the surfacing business but everyone would appreciate a start. A few miles this year, a few more added each year after that and someday Wayne County might have a network of surfaced roads connecting towns and highways.

This idea is not new, not even with Pierce County. In fact, years ago many other counties started on such projects. Some of the roads in such counties are as good or better than some surfaced state highways in the state — and about all of them are better than Nebraska Highway 15 from Laurel to Pilger.

But, the idea is not new with Nebraska counties either. Go to Minnesota and you will find county roads that have been surfaced, improved, straightened and made safer long before Nebraska counties started road-surfacing work.

Go farther from home, California, for instance, and you will find the state highways were being made super-type decades ago. At the same time the county roads were being brought up to higher standards. It all adds up to one of the finest state-county set-ups in the nation. There could be better systems, but California's will do for comparison.

The point is, surfacing has to be cheaper in the long run or the other counties would not be in various stages of such work. If graveling were the ultimate answer, no one would be swinging away from gravel.

Perhaps Wayne County's commissioners already have a plan for county road improvements for the next few years. If they do, it is to be hoped a start on surfacing some stretches is included. If they don't, definitely a surfacing program should be studied, even if it means traveling over to Pierce to see how that county got started and how it is working out.

Convenience and savings are only two factors of road surfacing — the main point is safety. Surely there can't be anyone who is opposed to safer roads. If you can see what we're driving at, we hope you'll put in your word for the type of road you want to be driving on. — CEG.

The Tarnished Trophy

It's not the fault of the Northeast High School basketball players, but their state Class A championship trophy should be a little tarnished. Omaha Central battled terrific odds in going as far as it did.

The moving of the tournament from Omaha to Lincoln was wise but it cut the Central support. It also left the Eagles from Central playing before around 7,500 white people and possibly 500 Negroes.

Dwaine Dillard was one of the outstanding players of the tournament. You can't take that away from him. He was on the spot, however, with all the publicity given his troubles with the police, troubles that have not proved a thing yet, because he has not been found guilty in court, even though some people, even in far away Wayne County have "found him guilty" to their own satisfaction.

Adding to the Omaha Central woes was the coverage given what every news media called "nothing serious" or a minor incident. It was minor, but Saturday morning the Omaha World-Herald came out with a three-column picture and a three-column wide headline over a story about that incident. In all, the Omaha paper devoted over 40 inches of space on the front page of the sports section to what it said was a minor incident. The point is, the player involved in that minor incident was a Negro from Omaha Tech. That picture Saturday morning did not help the situation (then as Omaha Central and Lincoln Northeast (about 95-99 per cent white) met for the state title.

Central behaved magnificently with a jeering crowd booing when the Negro starting five from Central was introduced, special jeers being saved for Dillard. During the game, Central would shoot a free shot to a loud chorus of boos and taunts, while comparative quiet prevailed for the all-white starting lineup for Lincoln Northeast as they shot free throws.

If you could put yourself in the place of those Central athletes, beset by championship litters anyway, crying the added load of being Negro against white in a gym where everyone in charge was white and with a definite hostile attitude, you might realize that Central's 54-50 loss was actually a splendid showing. It is highly doubtful if Northeast could have played in a gym with 7,500 Negroes, Negro officials and Negro coaches and done one-third as well.

No credit must be taken from the Northeast Rockets. They earned the championship, beating good teams to get to the finals and then remaining cool when the chips were down. But the circumstances of 1968's tournament will go down in history as the most unusual yet and everyone should be ashamed that the situation was so hectic and appalling.

Omaha Central deserves a lot of credit for what it achieved. In defeat, the Eagles appeared to be a championship team with championship individuals. They have nothing to be ashamed of for their performance under the most trying of circumstances. It's too bad that history must record things the way they happened and Omaha Central will always be listed as No. 2. Under almost any other situation they undoubtedly would have wound up No. 1. — CEG.

The Jaycee Survey

No results have been turned in yet on the Community Attitude Survey by the Wayne Jaycees. It had been expected that the results would be published several weeks ago.

Via the grapevine comes information on the results. People were asked to make comments on what they think Wayne needs to do to become a better city. Some of the responses were most frank and Jaycees may be a little reluctant to publish the comments word for word — in fact, they would not dare print some.

However, let's look at it this way. These survey forms were sent out seeking opinions in good faith. Possibly 90 to 95 per cent of the replies were made in equally good faith. Therefore it seems they should be considered as helpful suggestions.

If some person has stepped on someone's toes, then he did it in the hope of waking them up before it is too late. If someone criticized some aspect of doing business in Wayne, they did it because they would like to do business here. They were not trying to hurt anyone.

The results should be made known, and let the chips fall where they may. It is time we start looking at our town, studying its shortcomings and making necessary adjustments to meet the competition offered by big and little towns.

Wayne is a good town and it has some competitive merchants. Let's face it though — Wayne could be better. You know it, we know it and the farmer down the road, the residents of the nearby smaller towns and the competition in the bigger cities know it.

Denying that we need changes, hiding our head in the sand to ignore the shortcomings, failing to recognize the need to compete with our friends in other towns and cities and repudiating the ideas brought out in the survey will not be of any value to the city.

As of this writing, the results of the survey have not been made known to us. However, it is understood some of those replying were frank to the point of being blunt. They named names; they cited instances; and they made suggestions.

Can you take it? Do you want to know what they had to say? Are you one whit interested? Are you glad the survey was ever taken? Will you give consideration to the suggestions made by these well-meaning people? If the answer to any of these questions is "No," then we are worried — about you and about the future of Wayne. — CEG.

Local Tax Collections Absorb State Tax Loss

LINCOLN — Local property tax collections rose 15 percent last year to an unprecedented $301.8 million and nearly absorbed the $50 million relief expected from repeal of the state property tax, a study shows.

The State Tax Commissioner's Office said the bulk of the increase resulted from higher school district taxes. City and county government assessments also were up.

"There's nothing the governor or the legislature can do about bigger property tax bills if local government keeps pushing these taxes up," said Tax Commissioner Murrell B. McNeill.

Last year was the first time in 100 years that Nebraska did not impose a state property tax. A 2 1/2-cent sales tax went into effect in June and a flat-rate income tax started this year.

McNeill said his study showed

Beatrice's levy decreased 1.55 mills but total tax collections there increased 6.52 percent because assessed valuation on property rose 8.88 percent.

The tax commissioner said this points out that a decrease in a local property tax mill levy does not necessarily mean a lower property tax bill.

The study showed Lincoln had the highest consolidated property tax levy — 123.025 mills — in Nebraska.

Kearney was next at 107.67 mills, followed by Plattsmouth with 103.36 mills, Alliance with 103.21 mills and Grand Island with 100.80 mills.

North Platte topped the cities with an increase in total tax collections of 21.97 percent, followed by Norfolk with 20.90 percent, Falls City with 20.36 percent and Bellevue with 20.19 percent.

Similarly, Fairbury showed a 3.12 percent decline in total tax collections. McNeill gave this statewide breakdown on where local property tax dollars came from last year: Intangible property (stocks, bonds, etc.) $9.6 million; head taxes $3 million; household goods $5 million; miscellaneous personal property $1.5 million; special taxes (water, cemetery, library, etc.) $4 million; grain taxes $2.2 million; power district in lieu of tax payments $1.3 million; farm machinery $8.5 million; livestock $15.5 million; business inventory $20 million; public utilities $8.1 million; railroads $6.3 million; motor vehicles $19.1 million; agricultural lands $9.3 million; city or residential real estate $70.6 million, and commercial-industrial real estate $27.8 million.

The aggregate of $301.8 million was distributed 65.42 percent to public school districts, 17.31 percent to the counties, 15.78 percent to the cities and 1.40 percent to miscellaneous taxing districts.

Junior College Aid Oblayed Public junior colleges and the University of Omaha are eligible for initial state aid payments on the basis of 1967 summer session and fall semester credit hours, the Attorney General has held.

The ruling cleared the way for distribution of $625,155 this spring under the new junior college aid act.

The assistance is based on $7.50 per credit hour for Nebraska students at Norfolk, Scottsbluff, North Platte, Fairbury, and McCook Junior Colleges, and freshmen and sophomores at Omaha University.

Omaha University, which will drop from the program this June when it merges with the University of Nebraska, will get the largest initial outlay, $370,410. This results from 49,388 eligible hours.

Norfolk Junior College is next in line at $61,200, followed by McCook with $56,595, Scottsbluff with $55,830, Fairbury with $42,645 and North Platte with $38,475.

The 1967 Legislature provided the sales tax should drop to 2 percent on Jan. 1, 1969. It also enacted a flexible-rate state income tax.

Tiemann said studies by his fiscal advisers indicate that lowering the sales tax next year would be inviting trouble because of the need for money to finance state aid to schools, local government rebate and other new programs.

Burbach said: "It is too early to get jittery over the sales tax rate. More than sufficient revenue is flowing into the treasury under present conditions and if this continues, there would be reason to permit it to fall off to 2 percent in 1969."

Burbach said he has not forsaken his hope for an income tax cut this year despite a recent statement by the governor that a reduction is not possible.

"I need more information before making a definite statement, but the possibility of a cut still exists," he said.

Dear Editor: It looks as if Wayne could well afford to take a little advice from their neighboring town of Winside on the way they are going to conduct their Saturday night drawing.

It is a pretty well known fact there has been a lot of "hanky-panky" going on at Wayne's Thursday night drawing.

More power to you, Winside. Helen Beckman, Wayne, Nebr.

Dear Editor: The pattern of life here for me in Paraguay is somewhat similar to town life in the States. I work in an office on Monday and Saturday mornings doing some sort of paper work or preparing work for the week.

The other days both in the morning and afternoon I am out in the country in a jeep with the extension agents I work with. We return for lunch at noon and then take a siesta (nap) till two or 2:30. Returning from the country supper is served usually between seven and eight o'clock but earlier in the winter.

Usually there are movies once or twice a week in an outdoor setting. One sits on chairs or benches. It's like going to the drive-in without a car. The movies are one like the American with Spanish or Mexican subtitles. It is generally a date prepared for any number of chapones, usually the mother, sister or maybe more and you buy a ticket for them too. A breadlike bun, Chips, candy and cigarettes are sold too.

Dances are put on by the town for times like the anniversary of the town patron saint Ignace, social clubs sponsor the dances and of course private parties are held for birthdays.

Sometimes I have been invited to attend Lions Club meetings or functions. There are often court soccer games at night and this year San Ignacio sponsored a national championship for young groups.

The majority of time is spent visiting people. There is church everyday as the bells ring early

Burning Ban on Windy Days

A combination of care less people, high winds and dry vegetation — especially after an open winter — have created a serious fire hazard around most of Nebraska this month.

March winds make this month the most hazardous period for grass, woodland and stubble fires.

"Almost 50 per cent of all wildland fires and 2/3 of the land area which burned last year in Nebraska occurred in March. And the dry conditions which caused the bad fire situation in 1967 existed again this year."

The regulation regarding outside burning which applies in Nebraska occurred in March. And the dry conditions which caused the bad fire situation in 1967 existed again this year.

The regulation regarding outside burning which applies in Nebraska by authority of the State Fire Marshal's Act?

"Open fires shall not be permitted during periods when the wind velocity exceeds 20 m.p.h. except the local fire chief or his representative may grant permission for open burning if, in his opinion, the fire will be contained and supervised and does not constitute a hazard. Open fires shall be supervised at all times and shall not be left unattended until completely extinguished."

Don't burn trash on windy days and resist the temptation to burn out fence rows and roadside ditches.

Plant That Windbreak This Year
A brief study of a wind chill index chart will explain why farmers and ranchers plant over 2 million trees annually in Nebraska.

Zero is zero, whether it is a calm morning or the wind is blowing 50 miles an hour. However with the wind it just feels 50 degrees colder to man and beast.

When properly designed and located in relation to your farmstead a windbreak will control snow drifting. There are few things which will cause more trouble and waste more time than large snow drifts in the area where you must work.

A windy day when the snow is moving is an excellent time to

Did you hear about the man who was moonlighting at his church jobs? He was both janitor and organist. Believe us, he really spent a lot of time minding his pews and keys.

A tip of the hat to the judge at Pierce who gave some minors in possession a little extra attention when they were picked up. They had to help pick up beer cans and other refuse around Pierce for six hours in addition to paying fine and costs. Which reminds us that when one gets to Sioux City it is not always to the Iowa town — there is a North Sioux City, S. D., and it is notorious for a good place across the line from Nebraska and Iowa where 19-year-olds are of age to get beer. Wonder how many have said they had gone to Sioux City when they meant North Sioux City!

A deserter was about to be executed. Blindfolded, he was asked: "Would you like a cigarette?"

"No thank you," replied the prisoner, "I'm trying to give up smoking."

With the Boys Town Choir, "Guys and Dolls" and "Alice in Wonderland" all on the agenda for presentation in Wayne soon, music should really fill the air. We are most fortunate in having such productions in addition to the high school and college music programs of various types, vocal and instrumental. Wayne is a musical city and we have something to sing about. How fortunate can a town get in this age of words set to racket and passed off as music?

Flo: "You remind me of the ocean."
Shmoe: "Because I'm wild, reckless and romantic?"
Flo: "No, because you make me sick."

Speaking of "Alice in Wonderland," we've noticed hundreds of pupils from other towns at the children's productions every year. How about all area schools breaking loose with a few pointers and bringing their youngsters here for this year's children's production! It's pure delight for the kids and we never know whether to take pictures of the action on the stage or the captured looks of the kids as they "live" every scene. Tell you what — bring your own kids personally. Chances are you'll enjoy the show as much or more than they do.

Credit has to be given to Dick Manley, public relations man (among many other assignments) at Wayne State College, for the special section Monday paying tribute to the three winter sports championship teams at the school. He, (along with Doug Lyman of Lyman Studio) furnished the pictures and the write-up, cramping in that work while trying to get his regular duties done plus making preparations for attending the NAIA basketball tourney in Kansas City.

Northeast Extension Notes

by Anna Marie Kreitels

March brings spring, spring means showers, and showers create a need for rainwear. Rainwear fashions come in three forms — all vinyl, vinyl-coated and fabrics treated with water repellent finishes.

All vinyls are highly water-proof, soft, flexible and give good protection. They're available in floral or geometric prints and in plain colors. Vinyls are plastics which can have the shiny look of patent leather or a dull kid-skin appearance. They may also be fabric-backed.

Vinyl-coating can be applied to cotton or cotton blend broadcloths. The cloth backing serves as a self-lining in rainwear.

Vinyls and vinyl-coated fabrics should be kept clean by hand washing in mild suds. Cleaning solvents stiffen and shrink vinyls, or even remove the plastic finish.

Vinyl and vinyl coated rainwear can cause some discomfort in warm and humid weather because these fabrics don't "breathe". This means that the fabrics have no means of allowing body heat and perspiration to escape.

water only to a degree, but this type of rainwear does allow for body ventilation. Therefore it is more comfortable to wear. Durable repellent finishes can be expected to last through several washings, but their effectiveness does decrease.

Practical shoppers read labels to identify fabric characteristics and recommended care instructions.

Rural Church to Mark Anniversary

Logan Center EUB Church, located northwest of Dixon and northeast of Laurel, will hold services Sunday, Mar. 17, marking the 75th anniversary of the church. Rev. Jesse Withee, pastor, invites the public to attend any or all portions of the observance.

The church was organized Feb. 6, 1893 with eight charter members. First meeting place was the Logan Center School, located at that time one-half mile north of the present church.

The first board of trustees of the church was organized Jan. 30, 1900. In June of that year it was decided to build a church as the membership had grown considerably.

In September of 1900 a new church was dedicated. The $1,312 structure served until 1917 when the present brick structure costing $11,575 was built. It was dedicated by Bishop J.C. Kephart Nov. 1, 1917, and had over 150 members.

Remodelling has been added since then. A new parsonage was built in 1949.

Services Sunday include: Sunday school, 10 a.m.; worship service, 10:45; Bishop Paul Milhouse, Kansas City, guest speaker; noon fellowship meal; and program with open house, 1:30 p.m.

THE WAYNE HERALD

92nd Year - No. 95 Wayne, Nebraska 68787, Thursday, March 14, 1968 Section 2 - Pages 1 to 8

FOUR STREAMS OF WATER are pouring onto the fire at Wisner in this picture. One stream comes from atop Snyder's aerial ladder and three more are going into windows. The new Wayne rural truck is on the right. In the building, the attorney's office was at the rear, the hardware to the right of that, the dentist's office above the law office and the Masonic Temple on the rest of the upper floor.

Wayne Firemen at Blaze in Wisner

Wayne Volunteer Fire Department members joined volunteers from seven other towns in fighting a fire in the Wisner business district Saturday night and Sunday morning. Wisner, West Point, Pender, Beemer, Pilger, Snyder and Stanton firemen were also on hand.

It was the Snyder fire department that proved to have the equipment needed most. An aerial ladder, manufactured in Snyder, gave firemen the chance to get above the burning two-story building. Without it, Wisner's loss might have been greater.

However, all the firemen worked hard and were worn out from fighting a fire that started around 9:40 p.m. and was still burning at 1:30 a.m. Most fire departments left by 5 a.m. Sunday but Wisner's stayed to pour water on the debris until almost noon.

A two-story structure housing a hardware, a dentist's office and a law office on the first floor and a Masonic Temple on the second floor, was destroyed. It is not known how much the loss will be but little was saved outside some of the dentist's equipment.

Wisner's Little Gem Cafe was a focal point as women came with food for the firemen and cafe personnel stayed on duty to serve the fire fighters. Volunteers, men and women, came from other towns to help throughout the night as the stubborn blaze

SMOKE BILLOWS from a two-story building at Wisner as firemen from eight towns kept the flames from spreading to other business district buildings. The aerial ladder made in Snyder is being used by a fireman high over the building.

guted the structure and threatened the main business area. If a northwest wind had come up, the area and tank trucks carried water to the scene to be pumped onto the blaze.

Wayne took three vehicles to the fire. Other departments brought what they could. Hoses were like giant spaghetti in the streets, every hydrant had a hose attached in the surrounding

Two Drivers Fined in Three Court Charges

Two drivers were fined on three charges in county court Friday and Monday. One of the drivers was found guilty of two charges.

Friday, Alvin Christensen, Omaha, paid $10 fine on a stop sign violation and $10 fine for speeding. He also paid $5 court costs. Sgt. Keith Reed was the complaining officer. Rosemary Curb, Wayne, appeared Mar. 11. She paid $15 total fine and costs for not having 1968 license plates on her car. Officer Melvin Lamb signed the complaint.

Cars Sideswiped Near Wakefield

Two Wakefield cars sideswiped just over the crest of a hill six-tenths of a mile west of Wakefield on the Wayne-Dixon county line Saturday night. Six occupants of the vehicles escaped injury although both cars were heavily damaged.

Trooper C. L. Howell, who investigated, reported Bruce Landahl, 19, Wakefield, was westbound and Robert Harding, 27, Wakefield, was eastbound. The left sides of the cars came together toward the fronts of the vehicles.

The Harding car went down the road a ways and then overturned, rolling into the ditch on the north side in Dixon County. The Landahl car went into the ditch on the Dixon County side also. All occupants of that car had seat belts fastened.

According to the trooper, he could find no signs of injuries, not even cuts and bruises. All six of the individuals involved said they were all right, but the trooper did express the opinion those who had been in the car that rolled might be stiff and sore the next day.

No estimate of damage was given other than the fact both vehicles were extensively damaged.

SOUTHWEST Wakefield

by Mrs. Lawrence Ring Phone 287-2620

Mrs. Wm. Houfek returned to Wahoo Friday after spending the week in the Phil Ring home. There for supper Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ring and Mary Elinor.

In the Elvis Olson home for dinner Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carlson, Dawson, Minn. Mrs. Carlson is a daughter of the Elmer Olsons former residents here. In the afternoon both couples attended the Clarence Olson silver wedding observance at Salem Lutheran Church parlors. Paul Olson, who has been a patient at the Wayne Hospital since early December following a hip fracture was among the guests also. He has returned to Shady Rest Lodge and is in a wheel chair.

Twenty-five relatives had cooperative lunch with the Ed Sandahl's at their home in Wakefield Sunday afternoon to celebrate their fifty-third wedding anniversary. Centering the serving table was an arrangement of red roses. Their children are Al and Marian of Wisner, Morris of Wayne and Mrs. Horace Purtzer, Phoenix. They have 12 grandchildren.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lubberstedt, Omaha, and Walter Borg of Washington, D.C., were dinner guests in the Art Borg home. Saturday the Borg's son-in-law, Clair Kamrath, Lakewood, Calif., visited them after a business trip to the East Coast. He spent the night with his mother, Mrs. Clara Kamrath at Ponca.

In the Laurence Carlson home for dinner Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hinds, Ponca, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carlson and Mrs. Pearl Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Al Jepsen, South Sioux City, joined them in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chambers entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Dave Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Killian and Mrs. Zedle Chambers, Allen. Later Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Christensen, Laurel, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McQuistan, Pender, were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pierson, Wayne, took Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierson to the Cornhusker Cafe for dinner Thursday in observance of the birthday of Mr. Pierson. That evening Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chambers visited in the Charles Pierson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierson and Mr. and Mrs. Mauritz Carlson were at Minden Friday for dinner with Pastor and Mrs. John Brun.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chinn visited in the Edmund Chinn home, Sioux City. Friday, Mr. Chinn accompanied Chris Bartholz and Bill Winch, Wayne, to visit friends at the Veterans Hospital, Omaha.

Joann Pavlovitch, Sioux City, accompanied Rhonda Olson home for the weekend.

Seek Household Data

The bureau of the census will send Ruth Koehler, Norfolk, and Alfred Wilkerson, Coleridge, into Wayne County during March on the monthly labor survey. Workers will also inquire on family composition, migration, employment, sources of income, social security payments, dividends, pensions and other information. Purpose is to bring up-to-date the information on the number and characterizations of the nation's households and families.

Senior Recital For Two Sunday

Marian Loseke and Georgia Wachholtz will present a senior recital Sunday, Mar. 17, at 3 p.m. in the Ramsey Theatre, WSC. The public is invited to attend the recital and a reception immediately following in the library lounge.

Miss Loseke, 1964 graduate of Omaha North, will play compositions by Teleman, Schubert, Veracini, Vaughn Williams and d'Herveylois on viola. Mrs. Doris Bernstein, Wayne, will play accompaniment.

Miss Wachholtz, 1965 graduate of Plainview High School, will sing songs by Purcell, Handel, Schumann, Britten and Williams. A soprano, she will be accompanied by Sharon Brundeen, Akron, Ia.

Both young women are music majors at WSC and will graduate in August. Miss Loseke is a viola student of Dr. Benjamin Herstein and Miss Wachholtz is a study of voice of Connie Matthews.

Top Rating Goes to One Winside Speaker

Richard Duering received the only "superior" rating for Winside in the Lewis & Clark speech contest at Hartington last week. However, two other entries from WHS earned ratings of "excellent," including the one-act play.

Hartington Cedar Catholic won the contest with Coleridge and Wymot coming in second and third and Winside and Allen tying for fourth. Finishing further back were Hartington, Ponca, Randolph and Norfolk buses, although not necessarily in that order.

Duering received his superior rating in discussion. Ratings of excellent went to Dennis Swanson for discussion and to "The Happy Medium" for dramatic interpretation, the cast including Neil Brogren, Carol Bleich, Diane Wacker, Beverly Gries and Kirt Schellenberg.

Ratings of good went to: Teresa Stenwall, interpretive public address; Bob Farran, original public address; Steve Carlson, radio and television commentary; Kirt Schellenberg, informative public speaking; and Beverly Gries, interpretation of prose.

Next action for Winside is in the district speech festival at Wayne State College this week. David Robinson is speech coach for WHS.

Junior Leaders Set Allen Dance

Dixon County Junior 4-H Leaders are sponsoring a square dance and box social Saturday, Mar. 16, at 8 p.m. in the Allen High School Gym. The public, old and young, is invited to attend.

Purpose of the benefit is to raise money to help send the 23 leaders to Washington, D. C. This is a bi-annual event, the youngsters spending two years to raise the money needed to send leaders to the national capital every other year.

Girls, women and tiny tots are asked to bring box lunches. Jerry Junck and Jim Warner will auction them off. Junck will also call for the square dance.

The young people have been operating a concession stand at various celebrations the last two years. The dance is their last-big-effort toward raising the needed fund for this summer's trip east.

Stanton Girl Named

Catherine Jan Adams, Stanton, is the only area winner in the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow contest for Nebraska. She was one of eight winning honorable mention. JoAnne Alice Pool, Madison, also won honorable mention. An Omaha girl won the state title and will represent Nebraska in national competition.

THE GREAT WIDE-TRACK DRIVE IS ON!

There's very little difference between Wide-Tracking in a Pontiac and ordinary driving...in dollars. A big, powerful Wide-Track Pontiac costs no more than some of the so-called low-priced cars. So if you're settling for less than a 400 cubic inch V-8 and a big-car 121-inch wheelbase, stop settling. Start Wide-Tracking. The drive is on. See your Pontiac dealer. He's out to smash sales records for the 7th straight year!

DINE AND DANCE to the Music of ARTIE SCHMIDT and His Combo

March 16 at LES' STEAK HOUSE

Girl Scout Week

A VALENTINE PARTY was held by Troop 304. Leader Mrs. Dean Hendricks is in the background. Here the girls were gathered preparing for it.

GIRL SCOUTS from two troops joined for an opening ceremony at the tea Sunday at WSC Student Center. Mrs. Arline Ulrich is shown with two assistants and members of the two Brownie units.

CADETTE TROOP members work on their dancer badge. Here the Highland Fling is being danced as Cadettes were assigned learning a dance of a foreign country where Girl Guides are active. The girls made their authentic costumes. Mrs. Max Lundstrom can just about be seen in the center background.

MRS. REMBERT GLASS, third from right, works for the pediatric ward of St. Joseph's Hospital, with Junior Scouts in Troop 190 making toys, one of the projects for the year.

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE has some assistants in Girl Scouting. Paulette Hornung (with glasses) is one. She is shown working with Scouts who are working on their hospitality badge.

BEING DISCOVERERS is one of the projects of Brownies. Here Mrs. Arline Ulrich is shown with girls visiting The Lil' Duffer. In the project they learn about the functions of Wayne business places, a visit to the telephone office and another to the Herald office having been pictured earlier.

SONGSTER BADGE was being worked on by this group of Girl Scouts. Marilyn Stelk from WSC is shown working with the group.

TROOP 190 had Troop 304 as guests at a Valentine party at Wayne Elementary School. Leaders and assistants in the back include Jannie Zubiak, Mrs. Andy Manes, Mrs. Dean Hendricks, Mrs. Arline Ulrich and Mrs. L. D. From. Cinda Harder, extreme right, is also an assistant.

HEARTS IN HANDS, Girl Scouts of Troop 304 attended their Valentine Party they had worked on at a previous session. In back are Mrs. Dean Hendricks, leader, and her assistants, Cinda Harder and Janet Hasebrock.

Allen to Enter State Contest

Allen will compete in the Nebraska Community Betterment program. Plans were outlined at a meeting Saturday evening, Mar. 9, at the Allen Fire Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Linafelter were elected chairmen of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilson vice chairmen and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snyder secretaries.

Each organization in the community will be contacted and asked to appoint one representative to serve on the committee. Next meeting will be Saturday, Apr. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fire Hall.

A list of six projects has been submitted to the Nebraska Community Betterment Council. Another list of six continuing projects has also been submitted.

Attend Rifle Course

County Agent Howard Gillaspie of Allen reports four Dixon County 4-H Junior Leaders attended a National Rifle Association safety school in Lincoln Saturday.

Curt Lienemann, Wakefield, and Marlin Kraemer, Allen, wildlife leaders in Pop's Partners 4-H Club, and Richard Kraemer, Concord, and Jerry Warner,

Allen, took the course for Wranglers 4-H Club. The state Parks and Game Commission sponsored the school, the idea being to train older boys so they can teach gun safety to others in their clubs and communities.

Local Dairymen Get State Recognition

Several area dairymen were honored at the Nebraska State Dairymen's Association in Lincoln Tuesday. Two area herds were among the top milk and butterfat-producing herds in the state.

In the Guernsey division, the herd of Wayne Gilliland, Wayne, one of three herds cited.

N. Dicks and V. Wickert, Laurel, received a silver plaque. Their Holstein herd was among those with production averaging 425 pounds of butterfat for five consecutive years and with production of not less than 375 pounds for any of the five years.

Certificates went as follows: Maurice Partridge and Herb Wankoch, Stanton, Wayne Gilliland, Wayne, and Gerald Stevens, Randolph, gold; Fred Wankoch, Stanton, N. Dicks and V. Wickert, Laurel, and Stanley Weybright, Pierce, silver; and Marozt Highland Farm, Hoskins, Dale Ktug, Hoskins, and Glen Decker, Pierce, bronze.

STRENGTH AND BEAUTY TO DO BATTLE WITH WEATHER AND YEARS OF HARD USE

The way a Cuckler is built tells you something about its record for long life and hard service. A Cuckler is built for generations - not just a few standby years. Structural bolt and nut assembly holds each beam and column section secure. Roofing and siding is heavy gauge, painted or plain galvanized steel. Hardware, doors, windows and all accessory building materials must meet quality standards far above those of ordinary steel buildings.

When you are ready to expand, so is your Cuckler Building. The wonderful savings of a Cuckler - when you first build - is still there when you get ready to expand. Build your Cuckler the way you want it right now - change it to exactly the way it best serves you when you need more building and want to add on. A Cuckler fits the shape of the space you have available.

REV. HAROLD FITCH, former Wayne resident, returned here to speak in the Methodist Church Lenten Chapel Series Wednesday evening. He is pastor of a church in Sioux Falls at present.

'Poison Week' in Spotlight Next

National Poison Prevention Week is Mar. 17-24. Dixon County Agent Howard Gillaspie calls attention to the observance proclaimed by President Lyndon Johnson.

"It seems," says Gillaspie, "that there is not enough room on the label to give or specify all of the precautions." He pointed out that each year accidental poisonings increase over the year before, over half a million being poisoned accidentally yearly.

"We are obligated to use our own code of ethics in handling and storing poisons," Gillaspie continued. "Keep them out of reach, behind padlock, all poisons together in one place, destroy empty containers a safe way and never leave any in beverage bottles or other such containers children accept as sources of something good."

Area residents are being asked to get rid of medicines no longer used, put the medicines needed out of reach of children, keep pressurized cans and other containers holding noxious contents where children cannot get at them and keep all household needs such as ammonia, lye, drain cleaners and other helpful but poisonous substances in places where they are inaccessible to the young.

Baptist Church Has Easter Plan

First Baptist Church, Wayne, has an Easter plan of services, according to Rev. Frank Pedersen, pastor. Included is a special speaker Sunday, Mar. 17, at the 11 a.m. worship.

Speaker Sunday will be Rev. Paul Ferguson, Sioux Falls, representative of Bible Literature International, an organization that is distributing tons of literature each year to over 210 mission boards in over 100 countries. Everybody without a "church home" or with Baptist preference is welcome to this and all other services.

Pastor Pedersen will deliver Easter season messages during the 11 a.m. services Sundays as follows: Mar. 24, "The Rejection of Christ"; Mar. 31, "The Reception of Christ"; Apr. 7, Palm Sunday, "The Recognition of Christ," including the observance of the Lord's Supper; Apr. 14, Easter Sunday, "The Resurrection of Christ"; Apr. 21, 7:30 p.m., an 80-minute color film, "Vietnam Profile," will be shown.

Open Winter Setting For Fire, Agent Says

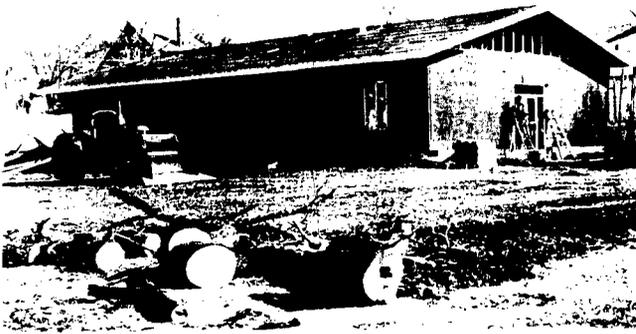

Dixon County Agent Howard Gillaspie says the open winter area has gone through what he set the stage for fire. Country or field fires are apt to break out and Gillaspie says the area doesn't need them.

Some of the fires lately have been attributed to cigarettes or cigars thrown from car windows. Others have gotten away from fence row burning and some have been caused by sparks from trash fires.

Open burning is not allowed if the wind exceeds 20 miles per hour unless special permission is received from the fire chief or his representatives. Open fires cannot be unattended until completely extinguished.

Gillaspie points out that fires destroy woodland, wildlife, haystacks, fences, buildings, animals and even human beings. Firemen also have to leave what they are doing and spend valuable time in fighting the blazes.

He asks that people be extra careful in all uses of cigarettes, matches, trash fires or any other burning. If possible, all outside burning should be delayed until a rain has given the area a good soaking. Conditions now are just too dry to take a chance, Gillaspie says.

MASONIC TEMPLE Wayne's new Masonic Temple is taking shape on the lot at the corner of Lincoln and Tenth Street. The 38 x 70 foot building is being constructed with labor supplied by volunteer workers from among the lodge's membership. The view here, looking to the southeast, shows the west end and north side of the building. In the foreground are remnants of trees being removed from the grounds

Urge Use of 1040A Making Tax Report

Omaha Internal Revenue Service officials urge Wayne County residents to use Form 1040A, the small card form if entitled to use it and it serves their needs. A regular Form 1040 should be used otherwise.

Form 1040A is the easiest to fill out and can be processed more quickly and cheaply because it is completely compatible with the new automatic data processing system of IRS. You can use this form if your income is less than $10,000 and consists of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 income from dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding.

The other form, 1040, must be filed to: (1) claim status as head of household or surviving spouse; (2) claim credit for retirement income; (3) claim exclusion for sick pay; (4) claim credit for estimated tax payments; (5) claim travel, transportation, moving or other expenses; (6) claim exemptions for dependents based on multiple support agreements; (7) itemize deductions; (8) pay self-employment tax; (9) claim credit for taxes paid on gasoline and lubricating oil not used on highways.

Police Investigate Pair of Accidents

Two traffic accidents, one on private property, were investigated the past week by Wayne Police Department personnel. No one was injured and property damage was light.

Mar. 7 in a private driveway, Marlene Nissen, Wayne, was backing up. The side of her car struck the right side of the parked car of Eugene Helgren, Wayne. Damage came to $19 to the Nissen car and $36.45 to the Helgren vehicle. Sgt. Keith Reed investigated.

Officer Ron Penelick investigated an accident at Second and Douglas Mar. 10. M. W. Barner, Wayne, northbound on Douglas, failed to see the car of Fremont Lubberstedt, Wayne, in the intersection, striking the right rear fender of the eastbound Lubberstedt car.

Social Security Man Will Be Here Tuesday

Robert Swan, field representative of the Norfolk Social Security office, will be in the main floor lobby of the Wayne County Courthouse Tuesday, Mar. 19, from 1 to 3 p.m. to answer questions, give information and be of any other services possible in the Medicare and Social Security programs.

Those who wish an appointment may write the office in Norfolk, Box 884. However, no appointment is necessary. Swan points out that you can still work after you start getting social security benefits. Full benefits will be paid even if you earn as much as $1,680 a year. More information is available from the office or from Swan on his visit here.

Items Taken from Car

A Wayne State College student reported his car was broken into the past week while parked locked on the campus. Around $250 worth of items was taken.

A store reported a bicycle had been taken but police said the bike had been seen parked nearby for two days prior to being reported taken. Two dogs were reported running loose but by the time the police arrived there were no dogs of any type around. A door was found unlocked at night and the owner called to come lock it.
