Barns, Sows, Pigs Lost at Concord

A hog barn, four sows and over 30 pigs were lost in a fire two miles south of Concord Thursday morning. Firemen from Dixon, Wakefield and Concord fought the blaze on the Ivan Johnson farm.

Bob Sherry, assistant fire chief at Concord, was going by the Johnson farm when he noticed the smoke coming from the hog barn. He turned in the alarm.

Johnson was at the farm of the late Kenneth Erickson, neighboring farm who was killed recently. He was helping plan for the sale there and his wife was also gone from the farm.

According to Johnson, a heated lamp is thought to have started the fire.

He brought out one little pig that was floating on straw atop water. The four sows with litters averaging eight apiece had all been killed in the flames.

Johnson had been in the hog barn at 8. The alarm was turned in at 9:45 and firemen were still at the scene at noon making sure the last of the smoking interior was no longer in danger of bursting into flames again.

The interior of the barn was gutted by the blaze, there being little to save except the concrete foundation. Some feed and some bales also went up in flames. It was considered a total loss, all the interior wood being charred or badly scorched in the fire.

Exterior Improvements at School

Improvements have been made on the elementary school, middle school and high school grounds in Wayne recently, the school board learned at its Monday night meeting. Interior changes were considered at schools in Carroll and Wayne.

Nieman cut off the top of trees on the south side of the school block. He did this at a reduced rate for the district.

Milo Meyer also cut his prices for the school district in crowning the practice football field south of the elementary field. It will now drain and is to be

A NEW FIRE SIREN was put on the old water tower the past week. It will be used to indicate emergencies, such as fire, tornado, air raid or other disaster. It will not be used for the regular 7 a.m., noon and 6 p.m. whistles. Workmen include Clarence Wagner in the skyworker, Wes Boeckenhauer on the "leg" and John Berry to the left.

program. Normal deadline for applying for 1968 all-risk soybean and corn crop insurance in Wayne County is Apr. 30. However, if conditions in the county become unfavorable for the production of a crop, the law directs FCIC to stop writing insurance protection immediately as a safeguard for policyholders and to keep down a general increase in premium rates that might follow insuring farmers who only want protection when it appears they are likely to have a loss.

An agency of the USDA, the FCIC offers all-risk insurance to protect money invested in growing farm crops. "It operates for farmers much like FDIC protects customer deposits in banks," said Olson, president of Farmers State Bank of Carroll. Olson had agreed to represent the federal crop insurance program in Wayne County in order to provide a substantial program of needed investment protection for farmers and to provide a full range of services to customers.

Sheriff's Office Checks Mishaps

Wayne County sheriff's department checked three traffic accidents the past week. There was one each at Winside, Carroll and Wayne.

The first occurred sometime Tuesday, Apr. 9, on the Otte Construction Co. parking lot east of town. Hazen Nelson, Wayne, had left his car parked there while the crew was working on construction elsewhere.

When he went to get into the car in the evening he noticed the left rear door had been backed into. There was no trace of who might have been driving the other vehicle involved.

Apr. 10 one-half mile west of the Winside city limit junction of Highway 35 on a county road, Mrs. June Carstens, Winside, was westbound. She reached over to grab one of the children, lost control of the car and went off the road on the south side, overturning in the ditch.

The car, a total loss, ended up with wheels in the air. Mrs. Carstens and two children, Dawn, 6, and Joel, 1, escaped through the rear window which had broken out. Mrs. Carstens had bruises and abrasions and complained of back pain but did not go to a doctor at the time. Dawn and Joel had bruises and abrasions and did not have medical attention at the time.

Apr. 11 on the Main Street in Carroll, Bernice Smith, Allen, was backing away from the curb and Isaac Backs, Norfolk, was backing a trailer truck into the curb. The two came together with minor damages to both.

BOYS TOWN CHOIR has some small groups. Here a soprano, alto, tenor and bass practice a concert number with Frank Szymski, assistant choir director. The choir will sing in Wayne April 21.

Tillie Harms Heads

Choir Ticket Sales

Mrs. Tillie Harms is chairman of the ticket sales for the concert here Sunday, Apr. 21, by the Boys Town Choir. Wayne County Historical Society is sponsoring the concert, the only one scheduled in the area.

The choir is made up of "rough and ready boys—but they sing like angels." That's the way they have been described by the famous and near-famous who have heard them in big city concerts across the nation and even in Japan and other countries.

Mgr. Francis Schmitt chose the choir from over 200 Boys Town citizens in vocal music classes. They are chosen for excellence of voice and for good citizenship.

"Second to none and superior to most" is a description a critic has given the choir. They're just boys but they have fun and they like to sing so their concerts have been acclaimed wherever they have appeared.

Trooper J. S. Duprey, assisted by Trooper R. L. Thompson, investigated a two-vehicle accident on the west edge of Winside Wednesday afternoon. No one was injured and both vehicles could be driven away following the mishap.

Trooper Investigates

Mishap Near Winside

Trooper J. S. Duprey, assisted by Trooper R. L. Thompson, investigated a two-vehicle accident on the west edge of Winside Wednesday afternoon. No one was injured and both vehicles could be driven away following the mishap.

According to the accident report, Corinne Helms, Aurora, was southbound on Highway 35. James Rabe, Winside, driving a car owned by Arthur Rabe, was westbound. Rabe told the trooper he had stopped at the stop sign, looked both ways and then proceeded across the highway, failing to see the Helms car coming from the north. The Helms car struck the right side of the Rabe car.

The Rabe vehicle was spun around, coming to a stop in the south lane of a county road on the west side of the highway. Driver of the Helms car applied brakes and left skid marks but was unable to avoid hitting the right rear of the Rabe vehicle.

Area Postmasters to

See Sectional Center

Norman Anderson, Concord, district director for "687" sectional, reports the district meeting will be held Friday, Apr. 19 at Norfolk with a tour through the sectional center during the peak period being a highlight of the meeting.

Postmasters from 79 post offices have been invited and many will also bring their wives or husbands. They will meet at 7:30 at Holiday Inn for a business meeting and dinner and then tour the Norfolk center.

A postal service officer and a postal inspector will be present to answer questions. Postmaster Howard Teas, Norfolk, and the state president of the Nebraska chapter of National Association of Postmasters of the United States, Henry Davis, Louisville, will also be present.

At every meeting the postmasters try to educate themselves in order to improve postal service. At the Norfolk session they expect to see what is required for mail going through the sectional center and thus get a better understanding of why certain handling procedures are essential in speeding up delivery.

Among area postmasters expected are Anderson, Lowell Saunders of Dixon, Jean Boyd of Winside, John Redwisch of

Life of Policemen

Offers Big Variety

The life of Wayne policemen had variety the past week. In addition to routine work such as marking cars for parking time, patrolling streets, checking doors, investigating accidents, appearing at court cases and walking beats, police had an unusual variation in other calls.

Dogs continue to cause trouble. One man complained because a barking dog disturbed him but apparently did not disturb the owner; two area residents reported dogs missing; and a nature lover reported four dogs visited his yard regularly every morning and had upset and broken a bird bath, the dogs being a black Labrador, spotted setter, police dog and air dale.

Vandalism was reported at St. Mary's Catholic School. A window and screen were broken out, a car parked north of the school had glass broken out and the bicycle rack was upset.

A boy under five was reported wandering around in a yard. By the time the police arrived the parents had too. They were visiting from Iowa and had been looking for the boy who had wandered off.

In other cases a car was towed in from a private parking lot; a bicycle was taken from a home while a family was away; and a business area rear door was left open.

New Term Opens

Wayne State's third term opens this week with registration Wednesday and classes beginning Thursday. The term will be divided into two sessions, as it was last year. The first session continues through June 8, and the second (or summer) session follows June 12. Summer commencement will be August 7.

WSC Sweeps Two

Tilts With Dana

Lively batting with 25 hits in two games gave Wayne State a twif win over Dana College Friday at Blair, 7-3 and 6-5. Jim Rasicot pitched all of the opener, giving up seven hits while the Wildcats got 14 hits, including Lynn Tompack's home run in the fourth and a triple in the sixth. A four-run second inning proved to be Wayne's winning margin. The win was Rasicot's second this season.

Wayne went into the seventh inning of the second game trailing 4-5. The Symonds brothers evened the count when Bob singled, scoring Rich, and Jerry Kinnan doubled to put Bob across the plate with the winning run. Tim Irish started for Wayne and was relieved in the seventh by Duane Mendlik. Irish was credited with the victory, Mendlik a save.

The Wildcats will take a 5-1 record to Concordia at Seward Wednesday afternoon. They will entertain Minot State of North Dakota Friday and Hastings Saturday, with doubleheaders starting at 1 p.m. both days on the Wayne campus diamond. First game: Wayne 040 1002—7 14 3; Dana 000 2010—3 7 1. Rasicot and Jurka; St. Clair and Miller. Second game: Wayne 002 0202—6 11 1; Dana 020 0030—5 9 2. Irish, Mendlik (7) and B. Symonds; Benson and Pacendola.

FACULTY AWARDS PRESENTED: Two members of the Wayne State faculty received awards from the Wayne State Foundation at commencement Thursday. Wayne Golfers in Third Win of Year

Wayne High School golfers maintained their winning ways Thursday. They played at Harrington Country Club, defeating Harrington Cedar Catholic 164-175, low winning. The 164 was three strokes better than Wayne had a week ago.

Jim Sturm had a 38 for the second week in a row. He tied with Dan Kathol of HCC as medalist in the meet.

Other WHS scores were: Charles Fisher, 39; Jack Sahr, 42; Mike Olson, 45 (11 strokes better than last week); and Jim Wacker, 47 (his first time in competition).

Cedar Catholic scores in addition to Kathol's were: Richie Miller, 45; Ken Spenner, 46; and Bill Barney, 46.

Coch Earl Maciejewski's Hinkson will play Plainville here Thursday, Apr. 13. If possible, a third team will be added to make it a triangular.

WHS Team Wins Third Tilt

The Wayne High School Blue Devils mastered Dodge 5-1 Thursday afternoon in a baseball game on the Dodge diamond. It was the third win in a row for Coach Mike Mallette's nine.

The local team plays at Wakefield Tuesday, Dodge here Friday, at Martinsburg against Allen Apr. 22 and against Wakefield here Apr. 25. The rest of the schedule is to be played in May.

Wayne Massacres Walthill's Team

The Wayne High School Blue Devils scored 8 runs in the first inning and went on to a 24-0 win over Walthill Wednesday afternoon in an abbreviated baseball game on the Wayne diamond. Wayne Magdanz and Rod Cook did the hurting for the locals.

Magdanz pitched four innings, striking out seven and giving up two hits, both singles. Cook pitched the final frame, striking out the side.

Larry Hix had a pair of doubles, Gordon Jorgensen, a double and a single, Ted Armbruster and Magdanz two singles each, Lynn Lessmann and Doug Farrens a double each and Randy Helgren, Mike Bittorf and Joedy Hoegner a single apiece for Wayne. Link and Bartling each got a hit for the visitors.

Manager Mike Mallette used 20 players. Following is the box score:

Basketball Playoff Tilt Close All Way

The Fifth and Sixth Grade League in the city recreation program had a playoff between two teams that tied for the lead with Overins winning over Ehlers 31-29.

Scott Ehlers led all scorers with 15 for the losers. Mike Meyer and Earle Overin each made 10 for the winners.

Final standings had Overins and Ehlers tied with 6 wins and 3 losses each. Hansens would have been tied for first but lost to Schwartzes in the final game so had a 5-4 record with Schwartzes winding up with a 1-8 mark.

In scoring, Marty Hansen had the season lead with an average

EXPLORER POST 175 presented a check for $100 to the American Field Service fund the past week. Al Kern, treasurer, is shown accepting the check at First National Bank where donations are being accepted to bring a foreign exchange student here next term. On the left is Rocci Marr and on the right Doug Ritze who presented the check to the fund.

Explorer Scouts in Big Boost for AFS

Explorer Post 175 has given the American Field Service a big boost, the biggest single boost any group or individual has given. Doug Ritze and Rocci Marr turned over a check for $100 to AFS. Al Kern, treasurer for the AFS, accepted the check at First National Bank. On behalf of the organization and himself he expressed pleasure at having the boys' organization given such impetus to the foreign student program and the good that it achieves.

The fund is going to stay open because it is quite possible the pupils at Wayne High School will want to keep up the program. Donations will be accepted even though enough appears to be available to insure another AFS student here for the 1968-69 term. Phadet Gawsombat came from Thailand as the first exchange student and Margot McKay is here from Australia this year. In both cases the pupils at the schools have raised the biggest share of the money that makes the exchange possible.

Two New Faculty Members at WHS

Supt. Francis Haun reports two new faculty members have been signed for Wayne High School. One replaces an outgoing member of the faculty and the other will be in a new post.

Kendall Carlson is to be the new guidance counselor, taking the place of Ken Deissler. He will get his master's degree in guidance this fall at WSC and is currently at the college on an assistantship.

He graduated from Norfolk High School in 1961, attended the University of Nebraska 1962-1963, and went to WSC 1961-62, 1963-65 and 1967-68. He received a BA degree with a biology major and a history minor. In 1967 he studied guidance at the University of Omaha and graduated with distinction at WSC.

He has taught at Neligh, Red Oak, Ia., and WSC. Carlson is married and has one child.

Ronald Dalton, Wausa, will be the fourth music instructor in the local schools and will assist in all departments. Supt. Haun said he was added because the board noted an increase of 120 pupils in the music department over the number taking music three years ago. The board felt in order to give pupils individual attention and lessons needed it was necessary to sign another music teacher.

Dalton will have charge of high school strings and middle school instrumental. Don Schumacher, Joseph Unzicker and Bonita Vandegrift are the other music instructors. Miss Vandegrift in middle school strings, Schumacher instrumental and Unzicker vocal.

The new instructor graduated from Wausa High School in 1964 and received a BFAE degree in music at WSC this past week. He is a member of Kappa Kappa Psi national honorary band fraternity and received an NMEA scholarship at WSC for the 1967-68 term. His sister, Mrs. Jean Dalton Luft, teaches in the commercial department at WHS.

Supt. Haun said there are five vacancies in the system. The board is looking for teachers for tenth grade English, middle school principal, middle school mathematics and middle school science.

 cum laude, with grades averaging at least 3.5: Merlin Olson, Wakefield, 3.73, with high honors in business; and Kerry Werner, Tilden, 3.50, with honors in physical education.

Four others who participated in the honors programs were David Dooley, Hartington, cum laude and with honors in chemistry; Joanne Janacek, Fremont, cum laude and with honors in English; Brent Wearme, Bloomfield, cum laude; and Glenda Gray, Woodbine, with honors in physical education.

Graduating cum laude: Cathleen Baker, Wakefield; Sharon Bauman, Linwood; Jack Bellew, Jr., Red Oak, Ia.; Patricia Belohrad, Clarkson; Dwayne Bloyer, Schaller, Ia.; Dennis Crippen, Atkinson; Rhonda Crocker, Cherokee, Ia.; Marcia Drake, Fremont; Warren French, Pender; Linda Medquist, South Sioux City; James Nissen, Wakefield; Jean Mozena Swanson, Scranton, Ia.; and Barbara Hlauswirth Werner, Tilden.

Val Peterson, president of the Wayne State Foundation, made three special awards at the spring commencement in the Willow Bowl. One was the J.G.W. Lewis Scholarship, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, to the highest ranking student in social sciences, Shirley Janhke of Oakland. She completed her major field studies with highest honors, that is, with straight A grades.

Another award went to Dr. Robert Johnson, chairman of the department of communication arts, as the college's outstanding teacher. This is an annual honor designated by the Student Senate and Faculty Senate and awarded by the foundation.

The third honor was the foundation's research award to a faculty member, Dr. T. H. Stevenson. Speaker for the graduation ceremony was Esper Boel of Copenhagen, Denmark, whom President W. A. Brandenburg introduced as Wayne State's public relations representative—without pay—in Denmark and officially as a trustee of the Wayne State Foundation. Boel devotes his talk to international relations, especially trade among nations.

The college bestowed bachelor's degrees on 153 seniors, seven master's degrees on seven graduate students.

Area graduates included: Master of arts in education, JoAnn Rouse, Wakefield; master of science in education, Robert Porter, Wayne, and Lyla Richards, Norfolk, formerly of Wayne;

Bachelor of arts in education, Cathleen Baker of Wakefield, Judy Bilson, of Wayne, Jerry Botzger of Emerson, Leola Dahlgren of Wakefield, Warren French of Pender, Jeanne Jackson of Dixon, Jerold Lund of Laurel, Dallas Puls of Winside, Marsha Hoogner Sorensen of Wayne and John Sporleder of Pierce;

Bachelor of science in education, Carol Blecke and Duane Blomkamp of Wayne; bachelor of arts, Lon Jochens of Hoskins, Robert Lamp of Emerson, James Mau of Wayne, James Nissen of Wakefield, Merlin Olson of Wakefield and Vernon Oswald of Wayne; and bachelor of science, Robert Haisch of Laurel.

Reseal Requests Written

Wayne County growers interested in the reseal price-support loan program as it applies to eligible 1967 crops, stored in commercial warehouses have an important deadline approaching, according to J. H. Mohr, chairman of the Wayne County ASCS. The 1967 crops include wheat, corn, barley, oats, sorghum and soybeans.

Reseal on crops in commercial warehouses is available for the first time this year. It is particularly important that farmers understand that there is a deadline for giving notice of reseal intentions.

"We don't want producers disappointed at not being able to reseal crops in warehouse storage because they waited until too late to file the necessary request," Mohr said. Producers are therefore being notified now to file written requests for extension of loans on warehouse-stored 1967 crops before the original maturity date, July 31 on corn, sorghum and soybeans.

Borrowers will receive cards about 30 days before the original maturity date, cards to be used to notify ASCS in writing of intentions to extend a loan. If a request for extension is not received, the loan will mature on the original maturity date and the government will take title to the crop under loan.

Producers who need to file a written request for extended loans on eligible 1967 crops in commercial storage not later than the loan maturity date are: Those who have eligible 1967 crops already under loan in commercial storage; and those with eligible 1967-crop commodities not yet under loan.

With NU Ag Team on Four-Day Farm Tour

Maurice Boeckenhauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boeckenhauer, Wayne, is one of 20 University of Nebraska students leaving Wednesday, Apr. 17, on a four-day tour of South Dakota, Iowa and Minnesota.

The students are members of Block & Bridle Club at NU. They and faculty members leave at 3:30 a.m. Monday by charter bus to visit feedlots, research farms, ranches, agri-business manufacturing plants, feed setups, swine farrowing facilities and the South Dakota State campus at Brookings.

Cory White, Lexington, and Marvin Molzer, Hallam, are in charge. Faculty advisers are Dr. Terry Klogfenstein and Dr. Ted Doane of the NU animal animal science department.

Public Invited to Hear Lions' Guest

The public is invited to the basement meeting room in the Hotel Morrison at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Apr. 16, to hear Hugh Tinley of Farmers National Co. talk about "Operation Hello," the free telephone service from Vietnam to America. He will be a guest of Wayne Lions Club. Anyone with a son in Vietnam or with anyone going there may be interested in this unique service offered by ham radio operators in Omaha through funds made available by members of Farmers National Co. Servicemen in Vietnam are contacted by shortwave to Omaha and then calls go out free of charge to their parents all over the United States.

For some, it is the only voice contact with loved ones in Vietnam. Tinley will tell how the plan got started, how it has grown and what some of the experiences have been on this widely-acclaimed program of service.

Winside Firemen on

Two Calls Past Week

Winside Volunteer Fire Department was called out Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning the past week. One was a minor blaze; and others destroyed a shed.

Tuesday the firemen were called to a road near the Larry Bowers farm where a track-type tractor had caught fire. The tractor belongs to Owen Hartman.

Battery cables shorted and rubbed against the frame, causing sparks. This resulted in the fuel catching fire as it leaked out of a tank. Damage was minor.

Wednesday the call was to the Kenneth Wagner home one-fourth mile south of town. Wagner was moving a shed which had contained sodium chloride at one time.

It is believed some of the sodium chloride had been spilled on the floor. It exploded into flame and by the time firemen could get the fire out the structure was considered a complete loss.

Congolese Speaks at Concord Next Week

Luke Saba, director of youth work for the Church of the Unborn in the Republic of Congo, will speak Tuesday, Apr. 23, at 8 p.m. in Evangelical Free Church, Concord. Rev. Melvin Loge, pastor, invites the public to attend.

Saba, 25, is a second generation product of missionary effort of the Evangelical Free Church in the northwest corner of the Congo. His father and brother are also ministers.

He is spending six months in the USA and Canada speaking to youth groups and congregations of EFC. Young people have raised the money to finance this trip.

Saba will speak in the Lingala language with interpretation by Ron Meyers, Congo missionary now on furlough.

Allen FHA Girls Have Full Activities Week

Allen Future Homemakers of America observed FHA week during school last week. Each day they had some special activity.

They attended church on Sunday. The following day was dress-up day with good clothing; Tuesday they crowned "Mister Irresistible"; Wednesday they wore kitchen utensils as part of their outfits; and Thursday they had a slumber party.

Most novel stunt was crowning Mister Irresistible. FHA girls were not to speak to boys but if a boy tricked them into speaking to them the boy had a ribbon pinned to his shirt. At the end of the day the boy with the most ribbons was crowned.

Bruce Linafelter was the winner. He wore a bedspread robe and was presented a flower and a kiss by Nancy Swanson after being crowned. His crown included kitchen items again, including a pan for the crown itself.

MISTER IRRESISTIBLE, Bruce Linafelter, was crowned by the Allen FHA the past week. Nancy Swanson is shown crowning him with a pan embellished with kitchen items.

Allen Firemen Go to Two More Brush Fires

Two more fires were reported in the Allen area during the past ten days. In both cases brush was afire but one had a spectacular "extra."

Thursday, Apr. 4, the firemen were called to a brush fire behind the public library. Some burning of trash and litter had been carried out earlier in the day, the flames were thought to be out and they flared up again later.

More spectacular was the fire six miles northwest Wednesday, Apr. 10. Tree limbs were being burned when a standing tree caught fire. The fire burned up the trunk and sparks shot out from the top like a roman candle.

The effect was something to watch but the sparks set brush and pasture afire and the VFD had to be called. Firemen spent around an hour at the scene making sure there would be no more flare-ups.

Dozen Hearings Recorded Here

Judge David Hamer heard a dozen court cases in the period Apr. 8-12. Nine different violations were cited.

There were three hearings Apr. 8. David Massaman, Cedar Rapids, paid $10 for speeding and $10 for passing on a hill in addition to $5 court costs. Trooper R. E. Stokes, Nebraska State Patrol, brought charges.

Robert Williams, Waukegan, Ill., paid $10 fine and $5 costs on a trespassing charge. The sheriff's department filed the complaint.

Roy Firestack, Boulder, Colo., was fined a total of $15 fine and costs for an improper turn. Assistant Chief of Police E. L. Hailley filed charges.

Duane Koenig, Postville, Ia., paid $10 fine, $7.50 costs and made restitution of $5 on a charge of writing an insufficient fund check. Merton Marshall filed the complaint.

Three hearings were held Apr. 10. Harry Dittberner, Norfolk, paid $15 fine and $5 costs on a speeding charge. Trooper C. Franssen, NSP, was complaining officer.

Daniel Griepentrog, Council

Bluffs, paid $15 fine and $8 court costs in addition to making restitution on a $12 insufficient fund check. Don Echtenkamp signed the complaint.

Larry Larson, Decatur, paid $15 total fine and costs for illegal parking. Officer John Nedel brought charges.

Another three hearings were held Apr. 11. Emmett Tyler, Ellsworth, Ia., paid $10 fine and $5 costs on a charge of overcrowding a vehicle (four adults in the front seat). Sgt. E. D. Easley, Nebraska State Patrol, signed the complaint.

Alan Oldenhoff, Walnut, Ia., paid $25 fine and $5 costs for dumping rubbish. M. Shaffer, game commission officer, brought charges.

Douglas Bruner, Quincy, Ia., paid $25 fine and $5 court costs for intoxication. Carl Scheel, WSC campus police, filed the complaint.

Apr. 12 there was one hearing. Linda Helkes, Wakefield, paid $15 total fine and costs for speeding. Trooper Ernest Volkmer, NSP, was complaining officer.

Funeral Services Held Friday for Ella Mae Jones

Funeral services for Ella Mae Jones, 77, were held Apr. 12 at 2 p.m. at United Presbyterian Church, Wayne. Mrs. Jones died Apr. 9.

Rev. C. Paul Russell officiated at the rites. Music was furnished by Antony Garlick. Pallbearers were William Fredrickson, Adon Jeffrey, Donald Sherbain, George Noakes, Harold West and Donald Miller. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

Police Investigate Hit and Run Mishap

Wayne police are checking a hit and run accident that occurred Tuesday, Apr. 9, at Second and Main. Officer Melvin Lamb investigated the mishap.

Marilyn Geher, Wayne, was turning left off Second onto Main, traveling with the green light. A Madison County car coming from the north ran the red light, hit the Geher vehicle in the left rear and spun it around, then went south.

A driver in a vehicle behind the hit-run car made note of the license number. However, as of this writing the driver of the hit-run car has not been determined.

Dixon, Concord, Belden in District?

Dixon, Concord and Beldel are among the eight towns involved in the formation of a Mutual Aid Fire District. A meeting was held Tuesday, Apr. 9, at Coleridge to initiate formation and another meeting is scheduled Tuesday, Apr. 16, at Coleridge to formally organize.

Represented at the meeting last week were Coleridge, Dixon, Belden, Wynot, Laurel and Hartington. Concord and Newcastle had also been invited and were expected to take part in this week's meeting.

Attending from the state fire marshal's office were two representatives who explained the advantages of a mutual aid organization. They pointed out that money could be saved, more protection could be given and more equipment would be available in each community if a district were formed.

Money could be saved because if more than one fire department wanted a certain type of equipment they could buy for less by buying in quantity. More protection could be given and more equipment would be available because departments would help each other on big fires.

An example of a standby service offered would be like this: If Concord had a fire and Dixon sent all its equipment to help, Laurel might be notified that Dixon equipment was put of town so Laurel would send a truck to Dixon to stand by in case a call came in for the Dixon department.

Schwartz will conduct the meeting and will propose formation of an area crops club for all who are interested.

Veterans to Occupy Homes with GI Loan

Chris Bargholz, Wayne County veterans service officer, has answered more questions about veterans. One concerns whether a veteran has to occupy a home on which he has a GI loan, the answer being that he does whether it's a new home or one for which a loan has been obtained for alterations, repairs or improvements.

A World War II veteran asks if the new GI bill extends eligibility for a GI home loan to July 25, 1970. Not necessarily. The new law extended the final cut-off date for certain veterans depending on date of discharge.

Formula for computing the deadline is 10 years from date of discharge plus one year for each three months of wartime active duty. Those discharged for a service-connected disability have until July 25, 1970, to use the GI loan benefit. Widows of World War II veterans or servicemen whose deaths were due to military service have the same deadline.

You name it. Mercury's got it.

Mercury's got the greatest looking station wagon on the road today—the Colony Park. Notice the fine car touches, the look of richly grained veneer on the full length side panels. But don't be impressed by looks alone. Come in, give it a test drive. Colony Park gives you the kind of ride that is really limousine-like in its smooth comfort. And for convenience, there's the two-way tailgate that pulls down like a regular tailgate or opens like a door. Which all goes to prove that by day, the Colony Park works hard as a wagon, but looks good enough to go places by night. So if you'd like a great deal in a wagon, come in soon. (We can also offer you good deals on 32 other great Mercurys for '68.)

Prison Inmates Speak in Two Towns

Four prison inmates from the Nebraska Penal Complex, Lincoln, spoke in Laurel and Allen schools Wednesday. Winside joined the Allen session, sending a busload of boys to the convocation at AHS.

The programs were identical except for the questions that followed. Ron Jones of the penal complex was in charge with the prisoners, Ken, Dan and Art, conducting their own panel discussion.

Ken is in on an eight-year sentence for forgery, Art seven years for stealing and Dan life sentence for killing a man. All have hopes to get out on parole.

The full stories of each cannot be related here, but the fact that the pupils, parents and faculty sat spellbound for almost 1 1/2 hours indicates the interest. They heard stories not intended to "glamorize" prison life, as it might be done in movies, on television or in books but to tell how unglamorous and dull it really is.

Ken was moderator. He told the pupils the state has sent men to speak to 281 groups since 1965, speaking before 83,000 people and covering over 16,000 miles. Most groups are in junior or senior high schools or in colleges although they do speak before civic groups and other organizations.

What they want to do is to get to the kids to impress on them how insignificant the little wrong his parents, although his mother seemed to understand him better and his father did the disciplining. Art said he always felt as if he was the only kid in his family who was ever disciplined.

Never with the "in" crowd in grade school, he found high school different, running streets and alleys with a gang, going on weekend beer parties, lying to his parents about his activities, cheating, and stealing. He was finally kicked out of school and sent to the boys training school at Kearney.

His father was a policeman and he used his position to get Art out of trouble but Art finally got in too deep. At Kearney he escaped the day he arrived but was caught. He fell in with a group who liked what he liked. Where the average boy gets out in six months to a year - Art stayed two years.

After Kearney, no school would accept him because he had failed to apply himself to studies there. With little education he could not hold a job. He started stealing, assaulted a man with attempt to rob and was sentenced to seven years. He did not care, he was compelled to attend classes but did not try and when he was released after four years he went to work for $65 a week.

His folks, still having faith in him, wanted him home but he was a "know-it-all" and he wanted to make his own decisions so he lived alone. His needs were greater than $65 a week would supply so he started stealing cars and other items. He was caught, sentenced to seven more years and finally realized what he was doing with his life. His father has died but his mother hopes he will return a better man and he aims to do so.

Dan was addicted to marijuana and while under the influence he pointed out a person can do things he would not otherwise do. He took the life of another person while under the influence of marijuana, pills and booze, a combination that almost resulted in the electric chair for him.

The second year of high school he dropped out as he wanted a car, money, clothes and other things. Married at 18, he had to work for marijuana and broke into a home. He was cruel to his wife and she left him.

He tried nasal inhalers. The combination of all he was taking into his body hurt his eyes, caused him to lose weight and resulted in sleepless nights. He went back to the hospital where doctors found he broke into places only while under the influence of drugs and emphasized what the drugs were doing to him. Dan left the hospital, his wife returned to him but he went back to the old gang and his wife left him again.

He lost his job. A "friend" got him to try morphine, which he hated the first time but the second time it gave him a sense of not having a care in the world. Dan started using pills as he had to have sleep. Pills, marijuana, booze, he had them all, and 13 years ago was sentenced to life imprisonment for taking another person's life.

Realizing he was a vegetable, he had contributed nothing to society but his parents still had faith. Now he hopes he will earn a parole someday and wants to get out and earn society's respect.

The three men then stood to answer questions and they came thick and fast. The men told of "the hole," pay of $6 a month, life of a trusty, prison "extras" such as medical and dental care plus Jaycees and other organizations. Jones wound up the program with a few comments on what he knew about prison life as an employee.

"You never realize what your personal freedom means until you lose it," the four some emphasized. Then the kids were allowed to applaud for the first time in the program, applause that was thunderous, not for some glamorized men from a state penal institution but for stories well told, stories that the prisoners and the man who accompanied them hope would reach at least one person on the wrong track and set him straight before he too became a prisoner without dignity, with no personal freedom and with the unwanted-privilege being the right to walk the path of freedom and look everyone in the eye as a respected member of society.

Seek Migration Data

Alfred Wilkerson, Coleridge, and Ruth Koehler, Norfolk, will be in this area this week seeking information for the monthly employment surveys and in addition seeking information to help determine national migration patterns. Every month the census bureau comes up with new questions to ask selected households in addition to those on employment and unemployment. Questions on migration will be used to forecast future migration. Special inquiries will be made on work the past year, family size and place of birth of household heads.
