One of the top-ranking officers of the United States Marine Corps, Lt. General Richard G. Weede, will address the summer graduating class at Wayne State College Wednesday.

A veteran of three wars, General Weede has been commanding general of the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, based at Norfolk, Va., since July, 1967.

For one member of the graduating class, A. D. Henson of Sidney, Ia., General Weede's presence will have special significance. He has, in addition to completing college, also finished Marine officer training and will receive his second lieutenant bars from the general.

Following the 10 a.m. commencement in the Willow Bowl, Wayne State President W. A. Brandenburg, a Marine officer in World War II, will be host at lunch for the general and for Marine veteran members of the college staff, Walter Peterson, Robert Brady, James Evans and Earl Larson.

General Weede graduated from the Naval Academy in 1935. In World War II he led combat units in major Pacific campaigns—at Tarawa, Saipan, Okinawa, earning the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V." In Korea he received two awards of the Legion of Merit for combat duty as regimental commander, 11th Marines, and chief of staff, First Marine Division. He also earned two Air Medals in reconnaissance and liaison flights.

He was promoted to brigadier general in 1958, to major general in 1961. For more than two years General Weede served as chief of staff of the newly-created U.S. Military Assistance Command, Vietnam, and "for exceptionally meritorious service during a period of continuing crisis in Vietnam," he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

He became a lieutenant general in May, 1967. His son, Richard, is a Marine captain.

Twenty-six police officers from Omaha, Council Bluffs, Columbus, Norfolk and Wayne attended the session lasting from July 5 to 26. Officers attended classes in such areas as supervision, planning, report making and evaluation from 8 a.m. to shortly after 4 p.m.

The school was conducted by Northwestern University. Police Chief Vern Fairchild attended the school in Lincoln in March. Hailey said the course is equivalent to a three-month course given at Northwestern University and gives officers training worth about $1300. Hailey's expenses were paid for by the city.

Council Approves Cat Trapping Plan

A cat-trapping program will start in the northwest corner of Wayne following complaints by Cliff Pinkelman and Vernie Brockman that their neighborhood was overrun with unwanted house cats.

Pinkelman said the cats, for the most part, belonged to no one, and were reproducing at an alarming rate, creating a nuisance and a hazard to small children.

He appeared before the city council Tuesday night to voice his complaint and ask for action on the matter.

Following discussion on the possibility of licensing cats as well as dogs, Mayor Alfred Koplin suggested the city live trap the cats unharmed, hold them for two days, then destroy them if they are not claimed.

The action was approved, although several councilmen felt licensing might be considered.

Brockman said the cats congregate under a building in the neighborhood and Pinkelman pointed out that at least five females now will be having kittens soon.

'68 Dog Day Sale Set for Saturday

Dog Days are on us again...the kind that mean special bargains for bargain hunters. This year's Dog Day in Wayne is scheduled for Saturday.

Those who want to get up early will be able to get some extra special bargains...hardly classified as "dogs."

Many merchants, however, will keep adding bargains to their stock throughout the day so all their "goodies" won't be gone first thing and later buyers still will be able to take home some real bargains.

Sidewalk sales will be common as merchants move their wares outside on racks, tables or hangers. Shoppers shouldn't overlook stores without stands, however, for some may be offering special bargains inside.

Much of the merchandise will be comprised of items that were just slow movers, while other stuff will be seasonal wear that must be sold to make room for new fall merchandise.

The annual event is sponsored by the retail committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and each year attracts large crowds of buyers.

Police Get Report

Light was the word for police activity over the past few days. Besides reporting unlocked business doors, the police investigated a minor traffic accident and had a report from the Wakefield Police Department about checks.

Wakefield Police contacted Wayne Police Saturday and advised them to watch for a man they suspected of writing no account checks. They described the man as being about 18 or 19 years old, of medium build, and weighing about 170 pounds. He wrote two checks, both for $18.50, marked for labor. The handwriting was either left hand or back hand.

Monday Officer Lamb investigated a traffic accident involving cars belonging to Leo D. Dowling and Alfred Morris, both of Wayne. Mrs. Dowling backed her 1960 sedan into Morris' 1968 sedan as it was parked in a stall in the 100 block on Pearl.

About $50 damage was done to the Morris vehicle, Dowling's car suffered no damage.

City police also arrested a Wayne man for not paying his license for his dog and issued a summons to another Wayne man for letting his dog run loose.

Where Highway 35 comes into the city on the east, city boundaries include property on either side of the roadway, but do not include the road proper.

Councilman Dick Banister voted against the move while Councilman Marty Willers abstained, saying he did not understand the move and would prefer not to vote. The measure passed, however.

In case individuals want to annex their property to the city, they could do so more easily if the highway is already part of the city.

Hybrid Alfalfa Yield Is High

Heavy yields are not common during this drought-stricken summer, but at least one farmer is highly pleased with the alfalfa crop he is harvesting.

Glenn Wingett, who farms west of Wayne, told of baling 2,300 bales from 26 acres of a new hybrid alfalfa planted only last year. Baling his second cutting, Wingett said the bales averaged 52 pounds.

The photo below shows the panorama of the hay field as the bales were being gathered and stacked.

$51,000 Paid Monthly To Wayne Residents In Social Security

Monthly social security benefits in Wayne County now exceed $51,000, Robert L. Pelkey, district manager of the Social Security Administration, said recently. Social security checks are mailed every month to 1,256 residents of Wayne County.

Based upon the latest figures available, payments in Wayne County will exceed $1,118,170 in 1968.

Old age, survivor and disability insurance benefits are very important as a community resource according to Pelkey. While the benefits are intended primarily to assist in the establishment of the individual's economic security, they are a definite source of local business income. Most of this money is spent locally for food, clothing and other basic needs.

The checks received each month are paid not only to retired workers and their wives and children; but also to disabled workers and their dependents, and to surviving widows and children.

In conclusion, Pelkey said that in the thirteen northeast Nebraska counties served by the Norfolk office more than 15% of all the residents receive a check every month and that these checks total more than $1,865,000.

Wayne, Wakefield Midget Teams Win in First Round

First round play in the Midget division of the American Legion District 3 Class B Tournament Sunday resulted in two shut outs. Wayne embarrassed Coleridge 13 to 0 in the first game and Wakefield followed with a 10 to 0 trouncing of Hartington.

Wayne's Tize pitched no-hit ball in the five inning game while striking out seven batters. Wayne batters collected five hits off Coleridge's pitchers, Frerichs and Hahne.

Leading 3 to 0 after two innings, Wayne erupted for four runs in the third inning to step out in front 7 to 0. They added three more runs in both the fourth and fifth innings.

All six of Wayne's hits were singles. In the second game Wakefield's Mark Bressler and Rich Kline held Hartington to only one hit, a single by the second man to step to the plate in the game, while Wakefield batters rapped out eight hits in their 10 to 0 victory.

Wakefield brought two across home in the third inning and one in the fourth. They put the game out of reach for Hartington when they scored four in the fifth inning off two singles, two walks and two errors. They put the final touches to the game in the top of the sixth inning when Ellis and Peters drove in three more with their two singles.

Hartington succeeded in getting a man past first base only twice in the game. Dresden made it to second after getting on with the only hit in the game. He was put out on a fielder's choice.

Wayne Nine Nips Homer 7-6 Sunday; Co-Champs Clash Tonight in Homer

Wayne knocked off league-leading Homer 7 to 6 Sunday night to move into a tie for first place at the end of regular season play in the Northeast Nebraska League. Wayne goes to Homer tonight to settle for good the question of who is first in the league.

Playing at Homer, Wayne fell behind the Hawks twice in the crucial game. Homer opened up for three runs off five walks and one single in the first inning to step out in front 3 to 0. Wayne tied the score in the top of the second and took the lead in the top of the third when lead-off hitter Tomjack connected for a home run off Homer's Spell. Goeden drove in another to give Wayne a 5 to 3 advantage.

Homer erupted in the bottom of the sixth inning to regain the lead 6 to 5. Spell started the spree with a double off Goeden with one out. Brewer followed with a round trip to tie the game at 5 to 5. Another man scored after the third batter got on with an error and crossed home on a single by the second baseman.

Wayne opened up in the top of the seventh for three straight singles by Burns, Don Helgren and Tomjack and tied the game once again when Burns scored. Holding Homer scoreless in the bottom of the seventh, Wayne came back in the top of the eighth to score the tie-breaking and winning run. Neither Homer nor Wayne were able to score their next times at bat.

Wayne out hit Homer 13 to five. Leading in the hitting department for Wayne were Johnson with a triple and a single in four at bats and Olson with a double and single in four at bats. Tomjack connected for a homer and a single in five times at the plate. Brewer led the Hawks at the plate with a home run and a single in four times up.

After a near disastrous first inning when he gave up five free passes to first, Wayne's Goeden settled down and struck out 12 batters, one more than Homer's Spell and Jacobsen.

Dixon Driver Wins Three at Norfolk, Captures First Place in Total Points

Bob Taylor of Dixon took first place in three races at the Riviera Raceway Sunday night to move from third place to first place in the point standings. Driving car number 16, Taylor barreled across the finish line in front of all others in the heat race, the A Feature and the Trophy Dash.

Prior to Sunday's action Gerald Bruggeman was in front of the pack with 630 points. Gene Brudigan held second place with 606 points, Taylor was in third with 577 and Gene Wagner was in fourth spot with 556. Bob Anderson held 21st spot with 175 points and Harold Brudigan was in 27th spot with 133 points.

Gene Brudigan trailed Taylor in second spot in the A Feature action. Harold Brudigan captured third. Harold also captured first in the second heat and Gene took fifth in the third heat.

In the B Feature Gene Wagner came in third, Gerald Bruggeman took fifth and Bob Anderson captured sixth place. Gerald Bruggeman, Gene Wagner and Gene Brudigan were lined up one, two, three in the point standings prior to Friday's racing at the Boone County Raceway in Albion.

Coming off the track with big wins was Wagner. He took first place in both the second heat and the A Feature. Brudigan's efforts brought him a second place in the A Feature and a fourth in the first heat. Bruggeman was only able to capture second place in the third heat.

Gerald Bruggeman and Gene Brudigan pushed their cars to places in action at Westside Raceway in Yanston Wednesday, July 24. Bruggeman took third in the second heat and fourth in the A Feature. Brudigan came in sixth in the A Feature and second in the third heat.

Prior to that action Brudigan held first place in the point standings with a total of 98. Bruggeman was nipping at his heels in second place with 95 points.

Allen Legion Falls to Coleridge 9-5; Wayne Shuts Out Hartington Nine 5-0

Allen Junior went down in defeat to Coleridge 9 to 5 and Wayne Juniors shut out Hartington 5 to 0 in first round action of District 3 Class B American Legion Tournament play at Wayne Saturday night.

Holding a slim 3 to 2 lead over Coleridge at the end of five innings, Allen allowed six men to cross the plate in the sixth inning and found themselves trailing 5 to 8 at the end of six. Coleridge's pitcher started the inning off with a triple and crossed home on the next man's single. Three errors and two walks added to Allen's troubles in the inning which saw 10 men face Allen's Schultz and Ellis.

Allen was held hitless their last time at bat while Coleridge squeezed one more run across for a final score of 9 to 5. Allen was out hit by their opponents seven to five in the contest. Leading in the hitting department for Allen was the starting pitcher Schultz with two singles in four times at the plate. Coleridge's catcher, Hoffert, con-needed for a single and a double in three times at the plate to lead Coleridge's batters.

Schultz struck out nine men in his six and two thirds innings. Ellis fanned one batter after relieving Schultz. Brandt went the full distance for Coleridge, striking out 11 batters.

In the second game Wayne's George Fynon allowed Hartington batters only one hit, a single by the first batter to face him, while striking out 10 men to lead the way for Wayne's 5 to 0 victory.

Hartington threatened to score only twice in the game. In the first inning they got men on second and third base with two out, but Fynon squashed the threat with a strike out. After seeing all three batters strike out in the second inning, Hartington came back in the third to get a man to second base with two men out. Fynon again ended the threat with another strike out. In the next four times up Hartington could get base runners

Clowns Feature Unique 'Screwball'; Tackle Wayne Town Team Saturday

The Indianapolis Clowns, baseball's novel nonsense nine, will be in Wayne baseball park at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for a game against the Wayne town team.

Ed Hamman, owner and manager of the Indianapolis team, says that his boys are ready for anything and everything this season.

An added attraction this season, will be the fancy ball handling of Bobo Nickerson. "The Screwball of Baseball," Bobo can transform one baseball into a half a dozen, or vice-versa. He can, in fact, put so much "stuff" in the ball that even the umpires don't like to argue with him. Nickerson played a number of years with the famous bearded House of David, during which time he perfected his "you got to see it to believe it" bat juggling.

To be this funny and still maintain a semblance of athletic integrity, the Indianapolis Clowns have to be good. A major league scout who makes one successful "raid" on the Clowns' camp has earned his keep for the year.

Frank Aaron, John Wyatt, Paul Casanova and Hal King are just a few ex-Clowns who have made it big in the big leagues.

But you can't appreciate these fellows without seeing them in action, so make your plans to do just that when the Indianapolis Clowns hit town Saturday.

Winside Juniors Out of Tourney, Fall to Laurel 7-1

Winside Juniors were knocked out of the American Legion tournament play at Wayne when they fell to Laurel 7 to 1 Sunday night.

Winside's defense faltered in the second inning and Laurel succeeded in scoring four runs on three errors and a triple. Laurel added another run in the third to take a 5 to 0 lead.

Winside opened up strong in the fourth inning to end the scoring drought on a home run by the lead-off batter Jacobson. Witt made it to second with one out on a single and a stolen base, but he died there when the next two men were put out on a strike out and a fly ball.

Laurel added another score in the fifth and one in the sixth while holding Winside scoreless the rest of the game. Winside threatened in the fifth inning when they loaded the bases with only one out. Laurel's Jerry Schroeder ended the threat with two straight strike outs.

Laurel put hit Winside seven to five, but Winside's pitchers, Jacobsen and Cleveland, tallied 11 strike outs compared to Schroeder's five.

Leading in the hitting department for the losers was Jacobson with a homer in three times at bat. T. Behmer, D. Witt, R. Behmer and T. Cleveland all had one single apiece in their three times at the plate.

Tom Erwin led Laurel batters with a triple and a single in two times at the plate. Jim Erwin connected for two singles in three times up.

Playing in the first game of the evening, Ponca Juniors were clipped by Randolph 9 to 6.

Holding a 5 to 3 lead at the end of four innings, Ponca's defense fell apart and allowed Randolph five runs in the fifth inning to fall behind 8 to 5. Randolph scored the five men on two hits, three errors and two walks.

Ponca could only score one more man in the game. Randolph added another their last time at bat.

Council

(Continued from page 1) north of town is part of the city. Highway 15 along the west side of the course north of the drive-in theatre is not in the city. Property on the west side of Highway 15 and opposite the golf course cannot be annexed under present conditions, but if the highway were included in the boundary of the city, any property owner whose land abuts that portion of the highway within the city could annex it he so desired.

In a routine move the council passed a resolution asking the county treasurer to invest surplus monies from city funds so they would draw interest for the city and still be available when needed. City Clerk Dan Sherry said the monies could be invested and pay a greater rate of interest than that which the city pays for the money.

Additional stop lights and one-way streets will be studied in coming weeks, particularly lights for the corners of Second and Third streets where they intersect with Pearl street.

The request for stop lights came from Chief of Police Vern Faltrold, who cited greater traffic volume and an increase in accidents at those intersections. When the cost of traffic lights was brought into the discussion, the talk turned to the possibility of one-way streets, with Mayor Koplin saying he would like to see one-way streets on portions of Pearl and Logan.

Councilman Wittig pointed out that the planning commission already has a plan to make the streets one way and the plan should be studied before action is taken.

Magdanz said traffic lights, even the lowest cost units, would require an expenditure of about $1,000 per set to buy and install, and fully automatic sets cost up to $5,000.

Two bid lettings are scheduled for the Aug. 27 meeting of the council.

They include work on the electrical distribution system of the city power plant which will eventually allow the city to better service by supplying 4,160-volt line power instead of the 2,400 now supplied.

Engineers' estimate for the job is $65,000. The new system will provide better voltage regulation to homes and businesses and provide more efficient use of appliances and small machines.

The other letting will be for improvement of the intersection at Seventh and Main with a lump sum estimate of costs at $43,000 although the state will share in the cost of the project.

A BLOCK PARTY? That's what the people on the 900 block of Walnut called this summer picnic. The idea should be tried in Wayne. Over 50 people turned out for the picnic, lasting from about 7 to 9 p.m. He said it will probably be an annual event on Walnut.

Council to Meter Fair's Power Use

A charge will be made for electricity used by the Wayne County Fair this year, but the money will be turned back to the fair board as a donation, Wayne's city council decided Tuesday night.

The action will be taken only for the purpose of keeping records and accounting for the use of power generated in the city plant. Fair Secretary Al Bahr said he felt the city should account for the power use, but added that the contract with the carnival for this coming fair called for the fair board to furnish power, and lights for the concessions and rides, saying it is becoming increasingly difficult to schedule good carnivals without these commitments.

He also pointed out that where carnivals used to come to fairs and pay the board 15 per cent of the take, they now pay nothing and want the power furnished in addition.

Because the contracts are already signed for this year's fair, no payment will be asked by the board of the carnivals, but the use will be metered and a charge of one cent per kilowatt will be made, then returned to the fair board as a contribution.

This winter, Bahr said, he will conduct a survey of all other county fairs to determine what practices they follow in furnishing power to carnivals.

Estimates by power plant officials indicated power use for three day period by a carnival would amount to about $300 at the rate of one cent per kilowatt.

Bancroft to Feature Famous Collection During Neihardt Day

Bancroft's Neihardt Day is set for Sunday and will have as a major attraction the Maximilian-Bodmer collection, an authentic pictorial record of the western plains and its Indian inhabitants. The collection is being made available to Bancroft under the sponsorship of Northern Natural Gas Company of Omaha and Peoples Natural Gas.

Keith Moseley, manager of Peoples Natural Gas in Wayne, will take care of the arranging of the expensive travelling collection and will stay with it all day Sunday while it is displayed at the Catholic Center from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The collection takes its name from Prince Maximilian and Karl Bodmer. They recorded in writing and sketches their findings during their trip up the Missouri River from St. Louis to Great Falls, Mont. in 1833 and 1834. Art critics and historians say the collection is one of the most complete and accurate accounts of the middle west before the westward advance of the white settlers.

Northern Natural Gas acquired the entire collection in 1962. The Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha serves as curator.

Nebraska's Paradox - The Sandhills

Have you ever tried the thrills and sheer enjoyment of getting lost? Oh, not literally lost, but just to scorn the frantic hustle and rush to get some place on time? If so, get off the main highways, and try following the byways, the country lanes. Take the time to have a good look around the next corner; take the time to "just chat" with the country folk; yes, and even take the time to do a little hiking and a little exploring; maybe even a little nostalgic dreaming of Nebraska's illustrious past.

What better place could you find to do your exploring than in this week's magic circle of attractions centered in that "sea of grass" including parts of Cherry, Hooker, Thomas, Blaine and Brown Counties. It is here that you can find a vast treasure of the almost forgotten wonders of Nature.

It is here that you can feel the wonderful hospitality of some folks who live far from the side of the highway.

If you feel the lure of the restless, tumbling waters, venture out to Snake Falls south and west of Valentine. Less spectacular but more easily reached is Fort Falls on the Fort Niobrara Wildlife and Game Refuge, and if you really feel adventuresome a boatride down the picturesque Niobrara River below Valentine for some 15 miles will allow you to view Smith Falls. A bonus on this trip will be the magnificent scenery along the cliff-bordered Niobrara.

Farther south on the southern fringe of our magic circle you will find the Nebraska National forest just out of Halsey. Although parts were tragically burned out several years ago this man-made forest, is well on the way back and would be worth your exploring attention.

As a final gesture in your efforts to "get lost" linger in those great rolling Sandhills, Nebraska's number one paradox. Hills once thought to be worthless and windblown dunes of desert sand, have now developed instead into a land of plenty covered by lush green grasses.

Discover the Sandhills paving of native grass hay laid in winding trails to give the "cattle back" the traction once claimed only by the surefooted cow pony. Discover the seemingly endless lakes tucked and hidden in the maze of valleys, where the native duck, the ringneck and the bullhead and crapple reign supreme.

THEY'RE GOING TO CHALLENGE WAYNE TOWN TEAM? Here's a few more of the Indianapolis Clowns who will be playing against the Wayne town team Saturday night at 7:30 in the Wayne baseball park. In their 39th season, the Clowns can boast of having sent Hank Aaron, Paul Casanova, and Hal King to the major leagues. Dero Austin, the short fellow at the bottom of the picture, says "It's just too great getting paid for something that's this much fun. We always play to win — and to entertain; somehow, we manage to do both pretty well." Wayne players will try to prove him wrong about winning.

You may have to dig your car out of the soft sands of the trails; you may have aching muscles; and you should watch the weather, but the rewards are worth it. This year do the necessary detouring to find those many "overlooked spots." This year you, too, can join the ever growing list of advocates of the "get lost" philosophy.

SS Q & A
Q. The other day when I went to the doctor he asked me for my medicare card. I told him it was in my bank safe-deposit box so that it would be safe. He told me I should always carry it with me. Is that true?
A. It was correct. You should always carry your card with you when outside your home. Although we can usually locate your number promptly, in some circumstances, it can take as long as 24 hours. If you should lose your card, it can always be replaced.

VA Q & A
Q. I am thinking of selling my home which I bought with a GI loan. The loan has not been paid in full. If the prospective buyer defaults, will I be liable to the Veterans Administration for the unpaid amount of the loan? Is there any way I can be released from this liability?
A. The answer to both of your questions is yes. If you sell your home, which has not been paid for, and the buyer defaults on the GI loan, you will be liable to VA for any amount VA must pay the lender under the loan guaranty contract. However, the VA generally will release you from all further liability to the Government if the buyer of your home is an acceptable credit risk and will assume full liability for the repayment of the loan in a written agreement required by VA. You should write to the VA office that guaranteed your loan before you sign a sales contract and ask for the necessary forms and instructions on how you can be released from personal liability on your loan.

Shrine Circus Parade Ride Is Scheduled for Charmi

Little Charmi Milligan will ride in a parade Thursday—a parade sponsored by the organization which helped heal the extensive burns she received in February this year.

She returned home in June from a four-month stay in the Shriner's Burn Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio. Not completely healed, but well on the way to recovery.

The Shriners picked up the tab on Charmi's stay in the Burn Institute, a sum which is estimated will reach nearly half a million dollars when her treatment is concluded.

She will return to the hospital for more treatment. So far she has had seven skin grafts, two infections and about 10 pints of blood and plasma administered.

When the Shrine circus appears in Norfolk today, Friday and Saturday, Charmi and her sisters will be honored guests at the event.

At the end of this month she is scheduled to return to the Burn Institute for a check-up and still later trips must be made for additional operations planned to take place over the next eight years.

Charmi was severely burned over 50 per cent of her body in February when her nightgown caught fire at her home.

The little five-year-old now receives special treatment at home such as three-times-daily baths and a rub-down with cocoa butter to keep her new skin soft and flexible.

Dick Newlon, president of the Northeast Nebraska Shrine club, was instrumental in getting Charmi admitted to the Cincinnati institute after he was told of the need by Phil Olson, president of the Farmers State Bank at Carroll.

Newlon said the only requirements for such treatment are that the child be under 15 years and the parents unable to pay for the treatment.

Profits from Shrine circuses go to support the Burn Institute and hospitals for crippled children as well as some local hospitals.

Charmi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Milligan, Carroll. When Charmi returned from the hospital she was required to wear a special brace that kept her arms extended and lifted away from her sides.
