

'Drouth' Cancels Agronomy Field Day

The 1968 University of Nebraska Northeast Station Agronomy Field Day has been cancelled. The event was previously scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Cancellation became necessary as a result of the extreme drought conditions that have existed in the Concord area throughout most of the season, said Ulvered Alexander, area agronomist, located at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Drought has masked the effects of many of the experimental treatments, thus reducing the value of a full-scale field day. However, there are some experiments that may be of particular interest to many farmers as a result of the drought, Alexander noted.

The corn and sorghum variety work may give some good indications of drought tolerance of some hybrids. Weed control work on corn, sorghum and soybeans may give good indications of which chemicals will come near doing the job under dry conditions. For this reason, all field experiments are available at the Northeast Station office, allowing interested people to observe the experiments at their own convenience.

"Even though the normal field day will not be held, everyone is invited to visit the station at any time to observe the work that is underway," Alexander concludes.

'Chicken Thieves' Strike in Concord

A bunch of thieves were busy in Concord recently.

Although no law official reported anything about it, at least 40 chickens were "stolen" from Mrs. Marlin Johnson recently. And to top it off, Mrs. Johnson's daughter Pam was one of the conspirators.

Mrs. Johnson filed no complaint against the thieves, a reliable source said. In fact, she was quite happy about the whole thing.

Concord's Merry Homemakers Club decided to give Mrs. Johnson a helping hand last week. Mrs. Johnson's husband was still in a Sloan City hospital last week recovering from an operation performed about one month ago. Mrs. Johnson's daily trips to see him did not leave her much time to do all the work on their farm just south of Concord.

The Merry Homemakers decided to hold a "chicken bee" for her. With the help of Kenneth Anderson they "stole" about 40 chickens from her Tuesday and took them to the Verdell Erwin farm west of Concord.

They also had the help of Pam, who reluctantly kept the secret from her mother.

Wednesday afternoon about 14 women gathered at the Erwin farm for a bit of work and fun. Mrs. Johnson showed up and finally understood what was going on.

It took the women only about two hours to clean the chickens, working in a production-line manner.

Mrs. Avis Pearson served the workers lunch after the task was finished. And Mrs. Johnson could just worry about all those chickens that sooner or later had to be cleaned.

Typesetter Balks

Mechanical troubles plagued The Wayne Herald shop Saturday morning when the typesetter used for the newspapers had an early morning break-down.

While some of the type was already set for the newspaper, some of the front page copy required setting on the linotype machine, hence the difference in type faces in the body type.

Technicians from Omaha immediately came to Wayne and began work on the unit, but in the interest of expediency linotype was used to complete the newspaper, allowing the staff to continue their work and get the newspaper out on time.

But... with the setting of this story the machine is repaired and back in operation.

MRS. GERON ALLVIN was $200 richer and happier Thursday night when her name was called as a cash night winner while she was in a participating business—M. & S. Oil Company. Here co-owner Mern Mordhorst presents Mrs. Allvin with the check for $200. Drawing next week will be for $100.

Proposed Zoning Change in R-1 District

A portion of the area recommended for changing from R-1 to R-2 at Monday night's meeting of the city planning commission was omitted from the sketch presented in the Thursday issue of the Herald.

Omitted were those portions indicated on the accompanying map as lying north of Second Street and west of Blaine, according to Commission Secretary Harold Kemble.

Both the north and west boundaries follow the alley line of the block.

A hearing on the proposed change will be held, probably

SWAY Winners Serve Far and Wide

Information has been received about four more servicemen who recently had their names drawn during SWAY drawings at the Wayne Vets Club.

Ernest F. Wentzel's name was drawn Monday night August 5. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ulrich of Winside.

Ulrich graduated from Winside High School in 1962 and is now serving with the Seabees. He has been attending school in Port Hueme, California learning to run heavy equipment.

He returned home August 9 on leave and will leave Tuesday, August 27, for Mississippi where he will undergo combat training.

Sgt. Alan K. Johnson was one of the names drawn Monday, June 5.

He graduated from Wakefield High School in 1962 and joined the Iowa Air National Guard in April of 1963. He took his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

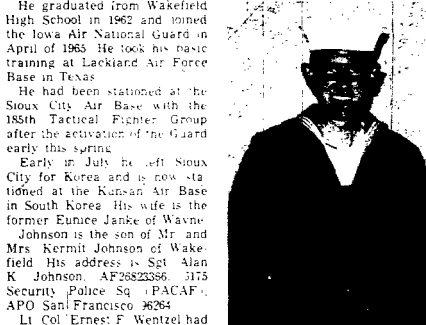

He had been stationed at the Sioux City Air Base with the 155th Tactical Fighter Group after the activation of the Guard early this spring.

Early in July he left Sioux City for Korea and is now stationed at the Kunsan Air Base in South Korea. His wife is the former Eunice Janke of Wayne. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Johnson of Wakefield. His address is Sgt. Alan K. Johnson, AF282336, 3175 Security Police Sq. (PACAF), APO San Francisco 96264.

Lt. Col. Ernest F. Wentzel had his name drawn three weeks ago.

A 15-year veteran of the armed services, Wentzel has served two years in England, one year in Korea, Vietnam and Germany, and three months in the Dominican Republic. He has also served at Fort Benning, Ga., Fort Ord, Calif., and Fort Bragg, N. C. He is a chaplain.

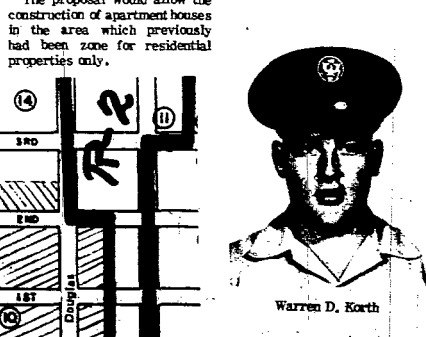

Wentzel is married and the father of three children. His father is Karl F. Wentzel of Wayne, former pastor of the First Trinity Lutheran Church at Attona from 1948 to 1958.

Minor Damage in Egg Plant Fire High Nitrates Can Be Fed

A flash fire Wednesday morning in an egg drying machine at the Milton G. Waldman Company in Wakefield resulted in minor damage to the dryer, according to a source at the egg processing plant. The fire occurred about 9:30 a.m.

The Wakefield fire department was called to the plant and quickly extinguished the fire. Cause of the fire was undetermined. The fire was confined to the inside of the dryer and no personal injuries occurred.

Production at the plant has been slowed up slightly by the fire and it will probably be about two weeks before the dryer, one of two at the plant, will be operable.

Concord School To Open Doors

Teachers at the Concord school will be Mrs. Helen Pearson and Mrs. Phyllis Dirks. Mrs. Mabel Erwin will be the school cook and custodian.

First faculty meeting will be Thursday at 1 p.m. at Laurel High School with an orientation on instructional television via television. Friday all the elementary and high school faculty will meet at 1 p.m. at the Laurel High School. Mrs. Withee and Ruth Ebmeier will hold their annual coffee for the faculty, board members and spouses.

Grades one through four will be taught at the Concord Grade School. It will be determined this week whether there will be a kindergarten class.

VFW Plans Meeting

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold their regular meeting Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the Vets Club in Wayne. Membership cards for 1968 will be available at the meeting.

Auto Accidents Climb Four Higher

Traffic accidents on Wednesday and Thursday resulted in major damage to at least three of the cars involved and minor injuries to two occupants of two of the cars involved.

Wednesday Officer Reed investigated an accident at the intersection of Second and Douglas Street which occurred shortly before midnight.

A 1962 automobile driven by Michael B. Atkins of Wayne was in collision with a 1961 station wagon driven by Judith M. Lamb, also of Wayne. About $600 damage was done to the left side of the Atkins' automobile and about $450 damage was done to the right front end of the Lamb car.

The mishap occurred when Atkins, driving west on Second, collided with Lamb, going north on Douglas and attempting to turn right.

Sheryl Starfken, a passenger in the Atkins car, suffered a cut lip in the accident and was taken to the Wayne Hospital for treatment.

Thursday an accident occurred about 2 p.m. at the intersection of Lincoln and West Sixth involving cars driven by Dorothy D. Thun and Carl A. Damme, both of Wayne.

The Thun automobile was northbound on Lincoln when it struck the right side of the Damme automobile, which was eastbound on West Sixth. The Damme car was pushed sideways and backwards, ending up coming to rest backed over the curb.

About $350 damage was done to the Damme auto. Damage estimates on the Thun auto were not available. Teresa Joyce Thun, a passenger in the Thun auto, received a cut by the left eye and was treated at the Bentback Clinic. Police Chief Vern Fairchild investigated the accident.

Two minor accidents also occurred on Thursday. About 8:20 in the morning automobiles driven by Marlin G. Waechter of Stanton and Daniel J. Gustafson of Wayne collided in the alley behind the fire hall. Gustafson was attempting to back out of a parking space when he backed into the Waechter auto.

Later the same day an automobile driven by Pamela S. Olson of Carroll damaged the right side of a parked automobile belonging to International Harvester Co. Olson was attempting to parallel park in the 200 block on Main Street.

Feeds that are high in nitrate can be fed profitably without harm if proper precautions are taken. That is the conclusion based on reports presented at a nitrate seminar at the North east Station this past week by station personnel.

Nitrates are being found in higher than normal amounts in drought-damaged roughage throughout NE Nebraska and care needs to be taken when feeding them.

Ruminant animals can convert nitrates and nitrate to ammonia. With a good source of energy from grains the ruminant can form protein with the help of bacteria.

However, nitrate poisoning may occur when the nitrate content of roughages, other feeds or water is unusually high or when a build up of nitrate occurs. (Nitrate is one of the intermediate substances in the breakdown of nitrate to ammonia in the digestive system.) The nitrate flex up oxygen carrying capacity of the blood and if high enough causes death through suffocation.

Here are suggested practices that will help in using high nitrate feeds:

- 1 Harvest High Nitrate Forage as Silage. Forty to 60% of the nitrate may be removed in the fermentation process.
- 2 Cut High. The bulk of the nitrates are contained in the lower one-third of the stalk. In fact as much as 45% of the total nitrate in a corn plant may be in the lower eight inches of the stalk. Nitrate content of the feed can be greatly reduced by operating the cutter bar high or by not allowing animals to graze (too closely).
- 3 Problem May Not Disappear With Rain. Following a rain drought-damaged forage may actually increase in nitrate for a few days following the break in the drought.
- 4 Provide For Frequent Intake of Feed. Less harmful effects will occur from nitrate if small amounts are consumed at any one time. Do not allow hungry animals to "fill" on high nitrate feed. It is suggested cattle be fed multiple feedings every day or the material be self fed, keeping some feed in front of them at all times.
- 5 Change Feeds in the Ration Slowly. This will permit the animal and the bacteria in the rumen to adjust to high nitrate feeds when they are added to the ration. This will help prevent digestive disturbances when other ingredients are involved.
- 6 Feed Some Low Nitrate Feeds. In other words dilute the nitrate content of the ration by mixing low nitrate roughages or grains in with roughages that are high in nitrate.
- 7 Do Not Use Urea. When Feeding Feeds High in Nitrate Provide Adequate Protein. Minerals and Vitamin A. A balanced ration should be adequate.
- 8 The above suggestions are sound for any feeding program. They are especially important where you have high nitrate feeds which must be fed to live stock if they are to be profitable.

Dixon School Bells To Ring September 3

Dixon School District #2 opens Sept. 3 for students in grades one through eight. Kindergarten classes will begin in January and students will attend school all day for half of the school year.

Teaching this year at Dixon will be Mrs. Dale Stanley, principal and grades six through eight, Mrs. Wayne Lund, grades three through five, and Mrs. Robert Taylor, grades kindergarten through two.

Mrs. Leo Garvin will be the cook and F. C. Thomas will be custodian.

No hot lunch will be served the first day of school. Students will get their books and be dismissed early that day.

Two New Teachers In Winside School

Two more teachers have been hired for the coming year at Winside High School, according to Joe Masten, superintendent.

Hired early last week were Mrs. Sharon Hopkins as first and second grade combination teacher and Ronald Novak as high school mathematics and science teacher.

Mrs. Hopkins is from the Taylor area and has been teaching in rural schools near Taylor. She has attended Kearney State College. She has two children. Novak, a 1965 graduate of Wayne State College with a BA degree, has taught at both Wakefield and Page.

Masten said this almost-fills their teaching staff at the school. An instrumental teacher is needed, but if no one is hired for the position the offering in that area will be cut down, Masten said.

Winside High School classes start Tuesday, August 27. Buses will make their regular run that day and hot lunches will be served. Monday, August 26, has been set aside for students to register and make registration changes. Buses will not run and hot lunches will not be served Monday.

Speeders Beware! Portable Radar!

Speeders in Wayne will find another hazard facing them soon. It is a modification of the radar-operated speed indicator previously used by Wayne police. Streets department employees fashioned a battery power pack for operation of the unit so it may be placed in use on parking, drives, lawns or hidden behind hedges, trees or shrubs.

Chief of Police Vern Fairchild said no car will be necessary near the unit and the chase car can be stationed a block down the street.

Operator of the unit need only use his portable radio to give a description of a speeding car to the chase unit.

From there on it is had news for the speeder. Fairchild said the modified unit is ready to use and will be placed in operation. The head mounts on an adjustable tripod and only the scanning head will be visible from an approaching car.

NEW INTERSECTION PAVING at the corner of Seventh and Sherman soon will be open to traffic in all lanes, workmen said Friday. With the north approach and north lane in operation new and the south lane paved, the south approach is scheduled for paving today (Monday). It is expected to be open for use about the middle of the week. Repaving of the intersection has eliminated the two dips in the old paving and allows for easier, faster crossing of the corner by trucks and cars.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give your own thoughts to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Move Carefully—But Move!

The current confusion in the State Game and Parks commission concerning the transfer of Fort Robinson Superintendent John Kurtz and the determination of when and how a replacement for State Game Commission Director Mel Steen can be named again seems to point up the need for revision of the authority and terms of commission members.

When commissioners are put in a position where they are not answerable to anyone—and this seems to be the feeling in some members of the game commission—they are likely to conduct business matters in a sometimes arbitrary manner.

By now the list of items mishandled by the game commission has grown to staggering proportions. State Senator George Svas Thursday took two hours to list the "box-boos" committed by the commission.

And we don't plan to list all of them here. From arriving at decisions without full investigation of facts to hiring a new director for a post that wasn't even open, the commission has left a trail of mistakes well calculated to leave Nebraskans shaking their heads in wonder.

There seems to be little chance the situation will improve for a while. Each man is appointed for a five-year term and, barring a violation of a law concerning operation of the commission, will serve out his term of office without fear of removal.

The governor, once he appoints a man to the post, cannot remove him, nor does he have any influence over his decisions. If any commission member was removed from political influence, this is it.

Commissions in which there is the opposite condition have their problems, too. Where the governor can hire and fire, the commission members are at the mercy of the governor and are likely to do his bidding rather than what they feel should be done.

No doubt the game commission's actions of recent months will spark a drive to change our system of commissions, but the legislature must be exceedingly careful not to swing the pendulum completely in the other direction.

Too many times political commissions have become nothing more than the mouthpiece for one man.

Nebraska must have some control over the actions of commissions, however. Fiascos running in serial form such as the commission has been conducting can only hurt the state at a time when Nebraska is just beginning to make strides in attracting tourists and developing pride in the historical and scenic attractions of the state.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: Mark Dorcey's name was one of three drawn during the SWAY drawing Monday, July 29.

Dear Sir:
It was a pleasure to receive the gift and letter from Wayne County Veteran's groups and merchants and friends citing me as a SWAY winner.

I want to personally thank those benefactors who make SWAY possible.

It is a good feeling to be remembered when you are 10,000 miles from home.

I am a member of the 185th Tactical Fighter Group, which was called to active duty by President Johnson's directive of January 25, 1968. The planes, pilots, and maintenance section are now serving at Phu Cat, Vietnam. I work in the records section of the jet engine branch.

Having been out of base, one cannot help but notice the backwardness of the native Vietnamese. They are a people torn by war and make only a subsistence living. They need help to develop their land, but it often makes you wonder why we must shoot our way in.

Vietnamese are employed on base as maids (Mamasans) to clean barracks and help in chow halls. The men (Papasans) help on construction projects and also as custodians.

Phu Cat has been rapidly built since early 1967, and is one of the permanent U.S. bases in South Vietnam.

Quarters for base personnel are comfortable and one must remember this is a war zone.

We can only hope that the Paris peace talks are successful so that American boys who are in the field and dying may come home soon.

Again, I want to thank SWAY, incorporated for remembering me while in Vietnam.

Editors Received Bruises
Many early newspapers in Nebraska Territory were strongly partisan, and being an editor could become a dangerous occupation. In several instances, subscribers or rival editors apparently attacked an editor with a horse whip.

In Nebraska City in 1865 William Henry H. Waters, an editor, continually abused his rival editor, August F. Harvey, in his newspaper. Harvey finally became so angry that when the two men met on the street, he attacked Waters with his fists. Harvey was fined $25 for his act, but he paid willingly. To strike Waters was worth $25, he said.

Written attacks on rival editors could be presented in quite strong language, as in the following: "When skunks become biters, when little poodle dogs get dangerous and bed bugs eat up elephants, it will be time enough to defend white men from the attacks of Chapman and other pliers like him."

Sometimes such rivalry led to serious consequences. In Loup City in the 1880's one editor shot the other editor dead in a local barber shop.

Nebraska's first newspaper was the Nebraska Palladium of Bellevue, which began publica-

AHS Football Practice Starts Soon

The Allen Eagles may be a team to contend with this year. Nineteen lettermen will be returning this fall to don their football uniforms again. Their first practice session is next Monday. Coach Don Kruse reports that the spirit is running high among the team members. He also said the team will be a heavy one this year, but he didn't want to "limp" out on a limb and offer any predictions. Last year under Coach Leroy Wilch the Eagles won three games and lost five.

They open action this year when they journey to Wynot Sept. 14. They also have away games with Winslow (Sept. 20) and Ponca (Sept. 27) before they finally move onto their new football field for a tilt with Wakefield on Oct. 8. They play host to two other teams this year, Cole-ridge on Oct. 18 and Randolph on Oct. 27. Nov. 1 they journey to Hartington. Their final game of the year is an away game with Emerson Nov. 8.

The Eagles lost four seniors last year, two of which were chosen All-Conference in the Lewis and Clark Conference. They will have to do without Jim Ellis, halfback, and Mike Roeder, end, the All-Conference selections. Roger Lanzer and Wayne Rasmussen, both guards, are the other boys not returning.

Kruse reports that this year's squad will include seven seniors, 14 juniors and eight sophomores. Thirteen freshmen will enter Allen High School this year.

Kruse, a Dana College graduate, will be assisted by Irvy Vikander, a Northern State (S.D.) graduate.

Student managers for this year will be Bruce Linafelter, Jerry Roberts and Bob Anderson.

What might be an interesting contest for area sport fans has been scheduled for the Winslow ball park Tuesday night at 8 p.m.: The Winslow girls softball team

Children will be admitted free. All proceeds from the game will go to the girls softball fund. Tonight the mothers are scheduled to try to get the kids out at 8 p.m. in preparation for the tilt.

WH Grid Coach Expects Large Turnout

Wayne High School football coach Allen Hansen expects about 60 boys from grades 10 through 12 to turn out for the first practice next Monday. As many as 25 freshmen may try out for the squad.

Allen says the boys show a lot of interest this year and many of them are working out on their own during the evenings.

Returning lettermen this year include eight seniors and 12 juniors. Hansen expects the team to be about as heavy as last year's. This year's juniors were able to rack up a record of seven wins and no losses when they were freshmen. Last year they went undefeated with the "B" squad.

Last year the team won nine and lost none their journey to first place in the West Husker Conference. West Point defeated them in a play-off game to give them a nine-one record.

Hansen said he lost 11 starters from last year's squad because of graduation, eight on offense and three on defense. Not returning this year are Gordie Jorgenson and Dave Brown, ends; LaVern Brown and Keith Warrelmann, tackles; Lynn Lessman and Steve Kerl, halfbacks; Don Skokan and Doug Ritzke, defensive line-backers; Larry Magnuson, guard; Rocco Marr, center; and Dave Roberts, defensive end.

Hansen has five starters returning this year: Bernie Binger, guard; Dave Thetgen, quarterback; Dan Sutherland, full-back; Harry Linder, defensive guard; and Doug Maurer, defensive end.

Hansen cited several boys as having good potential for the coming year. They are Wayne Magdanz, tackle, a senior, and juniors Mike Raler, tackle; Dave Barker, guard; Gary Helthold, end; Scott Kerl, center; Dave Stever, tackle; and Alan Wischhof, tackle.

Following is the schedule for the Wayne High squad: September 13, Madison, home; September 20, Wisner, home; September 27, Neligh, away; October 4, Stanton, home; October 11, Plainview, away; October 18, Bloomfield, home; October 24, West Point CC, away; November 1, Laurel, home; November 8, Pierce, away.

Overin's pinch-hit homer stuns Emerson— Wayne Captures Play-Off Tournament

Manager Hank Overin came in as a pinch hitter in the top of the ninth inning with two out and Wayne behind Emerson 1 to 0. He collected for a home run off Emerson's Anderson to lift Wayne to a victory in the Northeast Nebraska League play-off championship.

The defeat was hard to take for Anderson since he had pitched Wayne scoreless while giving up only five hits in eight innings of play.

Wayne threatened to score in the third inning when Burns got on with a double with two out. He advanced to third when Burns was struck out. He died there when Helgren flied out. Another Wayne man reached third in the seventh when Wayne's pitcher, Goeden, hit off the mound with a double.

Johnson followed Goeden and popped up to the shortstop. Goeden tried to score on a single by Morris but he was thrown out at home plate to end Wayne's threat.

Emerson's lone score came in the bottom of the eighth inning when Osborn argued with one out Nathan's single drove him across the plate. Kelly got another single to move Nathan up to third base and put Emerson in even better position. It Goeden got out of trouble with two fly balls.

Goeden handled the dismaying opponents easily in the bottom of the ninth inning. He struck out all three batters to end the game and put the winning run on the cake for the Wayne team. Goeden pitched for nine and gave up only two runs, passes in capturing his seventh win of the season. Emerson gathered eight hits on ten at-bats. Emerson struck out seven Wayne batters, gave up only two runs, passes and allowed only seven hits.

Leading in the hitting department for Wayne were Johnson with two singles in four at-bats up and Overin with a home run in one attempt. Burns and Goeden tagged off a 100% each.

Emerson's Hubbard had two singles in four times at the plate to lead Emerson batters.

In the "after game activities" Wayne was awarded a trophy for winning the play-off championship. They had knocked off Emerson 3 to 2 Sunday night in Wayne. In the first game in the best three-out-of-five series.

TROPHY WINNERS. Don Goeden (right) holds the trophy he received for being the best pitcher in the Northeast Nebraska League. He ended the season with a record of 11 wins and two losses. He was presented the trophy after the final game of regular season play at Homer. Hank Overin, manager of the Wayne town team, displays the trophy Wayne won Thursday night when they won the play-off championship by defeating Emerson 2 to 1 at Emerson.

Bob Reeg 3-Putts Last Hole for 32

Bob Reeg of Wayne would have tied the course record at the Wayne Country Club if he hadn't three-putted the last green for a bogey. His six on number nine hole gave him a 32, one stroke off the course record set by Bill Schultz of Beemer.

Reeg started out hot on his round. He birdied the first hole, eagled the second one and took another birdie on the third hole to go four under. He took a par on the next hole and then another birdie to go five under after five holes. He parred the next three holes and took a bogey six on the last one after reaching the green in three.

Ladies' Golf Action

Play started Sunday morning at 10 a.m. at the Wayne Country Club to determine the flight winners and the champion of the Women's Club Tournament.

First-flight winner had already been determined last week. Lela Maynard defeated Blanche Collins 3-1.

Sunday saw Lee Moller and Ardis Zicht competing in the second flight and Marilyn Carhart and Anna Mae Wessel competing in the third flight. Going 18 holes rather than the nine holes of the flight golfers were Ann Barclay and Evelyn McDermott. The winner of that contest would be the champion.

Winside Eleven Has Ten Lettermen

Coach Pete Kropp of Winside High School will have 10 returning lettermen to help him attempt to improve on last year's record of no wins and eight losses. The team's first practice will be next Monday.

Then the squad plays three home games, going up against Allen Sept. 20, Hartington Sept. 27 and Ponca Oct. 11. The team has Oct. 4 open. Winside's eleven travels to Randolph Oct. 18 and to Coleridge Oct. 23. Their last home game is with Dodge Nov. 1. They wind up their season with a game in Norfolk against Norfolk Catholic Nov. 7.
