

Wayne County Heart Contributions Up Nearly $600 Over Last Year

Wayne County's contributions to the heart fund for the last fiscal year were up nearly $600 over the previous year, according to statistics received this week from the Nebraska Heart Association.

The statistics showed Wayne County giving $1,447.96 in campaign contributions and $25 in memorial contributions for a total of $1,472.96. Contributions for the preceding year totaled $878.02 for an increase of $594.94.

Contributions in other area counties for the same year were down from the preceding year. Dixon County's contributions for this year were listed $715.87 plus $25 in memorial contributions for a total of $740.87. Contributions for the preceding year were $1,353.68.

Dakota County also lost ground in the heart fund campaign according to the heart association. Their statistics show campaign contributions for this year of $974.36 plus memorial contributions of $28 for a total of $1,002.36 for this year, compared to $2,317.53 for one year ago.

Thurston County contributed $715.12 to the heart fund last year, $685.12 through campaign contributions and $30 in memorial contributions. This compares to $1,153.84 given last year.

Cedar County was the only other area county showing an increase in contributions this year. Their campaign contributions were a record $2,912.25. Memorial contributions of $54 raised the county total to $2,966.25, compared to $2,711.00.

Heart fund donations are solicited on "Heart Sunday" each year throughout the state. This year workers will be calling on February 23.

Dixon Co. Convention Set for September 8, 9

The 89th annual Dixon County Sunday School Convention will be held at Wakefield Covenant Church Sunday and Monday, Sept. 8 and 9. The convention will open with a session Sunday at 8 p.m. There will also be sessions Monday at 10 a.m. and 1:30 and 8 p.m. Speaker will be Laverna Olson of Minneapolis using as a theme II Corinthians 9:8.

All churches in Dixon County are invited and encouraged to take part. Herbert Ellis of Allen is chairman of the event this year.

Total School Enrollment In Wayne Down Slightly

The Wayne Public School system shows a decrease in enrollment for the 1968-69 school year. There are 1,102 students enrolled in the west elementary, middle school, high school and Carroll schools this year, reflecting a drop of about 27 students.

Enrollment at Wayne High is about the same this year at 425 students, compared to 423 students for the 1968 school year. Enrollment by grades at Wayne High is as follows:

Seniors, 78; juniors, 141; sophomores, 98, and freshmen, 108.

Wayne Middle School enrollment stands at 287 for the 1968-69 school year, showing an in-

Zoning Changes to Be Aired Next Week

All interested Wayne people are reminded that three public hearings are scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday, September 9 and 10. All three hearings are concerned with the rezoning of the city.

The Planning Commission will hold two meetings at the chamber of commerce office Monday night, Sept. 9. The first meeting, to be opened at 7:30 is concerned with a change in zoning from R-1 to R-2 in an area in Taylor's and Wachob's Addition.

The second meeting, scheduled for 8:45 concerns rezoning the area east of the National Guard Armory to the railroad tracks to B-1.

Tuesday night, Sept. 10, the city council will hold an 8 p.m. meeting in the city auditorium to consider the Taylor's and Wachob's Addition proposal and the one mile radius zoning map.

Evening Students Enroll Tonight for Classes at WSC

Registration for evening courses at Wayne State College is scheduled for tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock in the Administration Building.

A late addition to the evening courses offered is Business Law. The course will meet Mondays and Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. for an hour and a half.

The evening courses are planned mainly for students not in regular attendance at Wayne State, and several hundred, many of them in-service teachers, usually enroll.

Most full-time students have already completed registration for classes during second or third terms of the past year. Incoming freshmen who have not signed up for classes will do so Friday, and upperclassmen not yet enrolled will register Saturday.

Classes will begin Monday for an estimated 3,000 students.

Two faculty meetings were scheduled for Wednesday, the first at 10 a.m. with Dr. Don Davis, regional representative for American College Tests, discussing the ACT as a counseling aid, and the second meeting at 1:30 with a panel discussion on "The American College Student, 1968."

THE NEW PASTOR at St. Mary's parish in Wayne is Father Paul J. Begley, a native of Omaha, attended Croighton Prep High School and St. Paul's Seminary in St. Paul, Minn. In addition to his ministerial duties, Fr. Begley teaches at Sacred Heart School in Emerson and is superintendent of St. Mary's Grade School in Wayne.

Rural Teachers First Institute Set for Tuesday

First Institute for Wayne County rural teachers will be Tuesday in the courtroom in the Wayne County courthouse. The all-day session will start at 8:30 a.m. Subjects to be covered during the session include music, reading, television programs and health examinations.

Harry D. Mills, administrator of Educational Service Unit One, will be in charge of the afternoon meeting. Reading and music consultants will be present during the morning session.

Because of the Labor Day weekend, some news normally run in the Thursday issue of The Herald will be held until the Sept. 9 issue.

Dutch Elm Disease Hits WSC Campus

Dutch elm disease has arrived on the Wayne State campus. The toll: five trees removed in recent days and burned.

Tests made at the Northeast Nebraska Experiment Station confirmed the fatal elm disease on this occasion, though previous tests indicated it was not present.

The college has done everything possible to ward off Dutch elm disease, including aerial spraying twice.

Back in 1965, when the disease began invading Nebraska, the college began extensive tree planting—of species other than elm—and has continued planting each year. Fortunately, the campus has several dozen species among its hundreds of trees so that the loss of elms will not leave the hilltop bare.

Back-to-School Winners Named

Two Wayne area youngsters went back to school with happier faces Tuesday when they discovered they were the winners in the "Back-to-School Give-Away" sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Pam Uecht, Wakefield, was the winner of the phonograph in the 13 through 18 age group, and Roger Meyer, Route 2, Wayne, was the winner of the bicycle in the 6 through 12 age group.

Dixon Co. Farmers Can Extend Haying, Grazing to Sept. 30

Dixon County's ASCS office was informed last week that Dixon County was re-approved through September 30 for emergency grazing and haying. Wayne County was granted the same privileges.

Participating Feed Grain Program farms may graze their diverted acres free of charge on September 1, but anyone wishing to harvest hay from these designated acres must have them appraised and pay the charge prior to harvesting.

CR farms and CAP farms without public access are eligible to be hayed or grazed through September 30, 1968. Again, prior approval is necessary whether or not the farmer has been grazing or haying since the original authority expires September 1, 1968.

Producers not receiving prior approval to hay or graze will be in violation of their agreement. CAP farms with public access are not eligible to be hayed or grazed after September 1.

Prior to September 1, farmers were charged for pasturing the Feed Grain diverted acres. These charges averaged 12¢ a head per day for a cow and calf unit and 9¢ a head per day for yearlings. Farmers cutting hay from diverted acres were charged an average of $5.00 per acre per cutting.

This is not a give-away program, the ASCS office notes. Its purpose is to provide feed for livestock so farmers won't have to sell their herd, causing lower non-profit market prices.

Loren Park Gets Masters Degree

Loren R. Park, principal of Wayne's Middle School, is among 79 graduate students who received masters degrees from the University of Nebraska at Omaha on August 31.

Park successfully completed requirements for a Master of Science degree.

Three hundred and ninety-three undergraduate degrees were also awarded in August. No formal ceremonies marked the commencement, the first since the former University of Omaha became the University of Nebraska at Omaha on July 1.

It's almost too good to be true, but Wayne and the surrounding area received another welcome relief early this week as more rain fell and temperatures remained cool to spell the damaged crops.

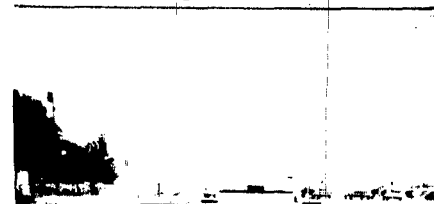

Although fall is still over two weeks away, the temperatures recorded the past week at Peoples Natural Gas in Wayne were quite low for this time of the year. The highest temperature recorded the last seven days was Tuesday when the thermometer reached 84 degrees. The lowest temperature recorded was Wednesday, Aug. 28, when the temperature dipped to 60 degrees, unseasonably low.

Rain started falling over much of Nebraska early this week and over the Wayne area early Tuesday morning. Wayne recorded 1.19 inch Tuesday.

Surrounding towns also had further relief from the dry conditions Tuesday. Pender reported 1.25 inch, Howells 1.89 and Besmer 1.20. To the east of Wayne, Emerson recorded 1.02 inch of rain and Wakefield reported .89 inch. To the west Winslow recorded .79 inch, Pierce .57 and Norfolk .44.

Nitrate Losses in Area Mostly Rumors; Expert Urges Farmers to Use Caution

SEVERAL LIVESTOCK WATERERS were recently sold to the Schalco Lang Cattle Co. of Minnetonka, growers of Black Angus and owners and operators of a show and auction barn. They included both the large waterers and custom built waterers for individual pens. A large waterer is on the bottom and a small one on top as they await installation at the Schalco Lang Cattle Co.

Rumors of drastic livestock losses due to high nitrate forages have been circulating in many areas of eastern Nebraska during the past few weeks, according to Dr. Paul Q. Guyer, Extension livestock specialist, University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

In checking these areas in the drought-stricken section of northeast Nebraska, NU research and Extension personnel were not able to locate losses linked to high nitrate feeds by practicing veterinarians, he said.

"So far most of these are merely rumors. However, death losses can and do occur with high nitrate forage," Guyer said.

"But with good management," he said, "forage containing very high levels of nitrate have been fed without death loss or reduced weight gains."

Nitrate levels that may possibly cause death loss are: 1.5 per cent potassium nitrate; .9 per cent nitrate; or 9,000 parts per million of nitrate.

These are different expressions of the same level of nitrate, as used by different laboratories in making nitrate analysis.

However, Guyer reports that if careful feeding and cattle management procedures are used, forage with several times this amount of nitrate can be fed safely. The type of feeding program is an important factor of management to be considered, Guyer stated.

Slilage is the safest method of feeding a high nitrate forage because approximately 50 per cent of the nitrate is lost during the ensiling process. Green-chopping can be the most dangerous because there is little opportunity for the nitrate to be reduced before feeding, he explained.

In pasturing high nitrate forages, danger is least while the cattle are eating the leaves and the upper stalk. The greatest danger occurs when they are forced to graze the stalk close to the ground. He explained that most of the nitrate is in the lower third of the stalk and in the shaded portions of the lower leaves.

Several things can be done to reduce the danger to livestock when feeding high nitrate forage, according to Guyer. The following good management practices should be followed by farmers to protect their livestock:

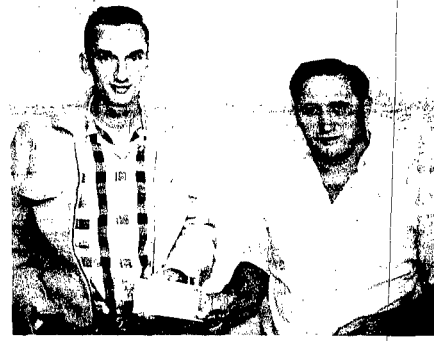

Start feeding the forage gradually and avoid rapid changes in the ration; dilute the high nitrate forage with grain or low nitrate roughage; feed so as to provide frequent intake of small quantities of the high nitrate forage several times each day; provide livestock with adequate protein, minerals and vitamin A; and locate water supply close to the feeding area so that cattle can consume water frequently and freely.

Richard Jensen, Wayne, was injured Monday when he caught his foot in the lawn mower he was using to cut the grass at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Otto Jensen of Wayne. Several stitches were required to close the cut.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jensen of Wayne.

SEVERAL FORMER PASTORS of Concord's Evangelical Free Church were able to attend the 50th anniversary over the weekend. On hand for Sunday's services were (left to right): Rev. Ray Johnson, pastor from 1922 to 1925; Rev. Marvin W. Westlund, Midwest District Supervisor; Rev. Oscar Anderson, pastor from 1922 to 1924; Rev. John Carlsson, pastor from 1948 to 1951; Rev. Harold Carlson, one of four brothers brought up in the church who are now preachers; and Rev. Marvin L. Loge, pastor at the church since this year.

ANOTHER WINSIDE LUCKY BUCKS WINNER. It took LaVerle Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller of Hoskins, five tries before he finally drew a winner in Winside's Saturday night drawing. Russell H. Prince, left, was the fifth name to be drawn by LaVerle and he received $25 in coupons for being present during the drawing. The other names drawn were Sarah Hall of Carroll, Florence F. Niemann of Winside, Mildred Danberg of Wayne and August Koch of Winside. Dr. Donald H. Vrba, in charge of the drawing, presented Prince with the coupons.

Auto Accident Error Corrected

An error was made in the reporting of an auto accident in the last issue of The Wayne Herald. The error occurred in the report about Myrtle Anderson's 1965 sedan and a 1958 station wagon belonging to Herb's Buick in Wayne.

It was the 1958 station wagon which rolled into Anderson's car, not the other way around. The accident occurred August 21 when both cars were parked in an alley in the middle of the 400 block on Main.

Wayne Drawing Prize Is $100 This Week

Thursday night's Cash Night drawing is back down to $100 as a result of Mrs. Robert Nissen being in one of the participating stores last Thursday night when her name was drawn from the bin. She won $150.

Plan on being in one of the participating stores in Wayne tonight shortly before 8 p.m., the time when the winning name is drawn. To be eligible to win in the drawing you must register in one of the stores taking part in the drawing and you must be in one of those stores at the time the name is drawn.

Donors Honored at Appreciation Dinner

About 70 people attended an appreciation dinner Wednesday evening at the Cornhusker Cafe in Wakefield in honor of those who donated their time and services to help put on the Dixon County Fair.

The group expressed approval of the Sunday evening religious program and plans were made to continue it. It was also agreed to present the Browning Family again next year.

Reports were given by those in charge of the various departments and those attending the dinner and meeting thought the 1968 fair had been very successful despite the extreme heat and dry weather.

Service Academy Exam Dates Set For October 5

Nebraska Senator Roman L. Iruska said this week he will be glad to hear from high school students who are interested in applying for admission to Service Academies in 1969.

It will be necessary for them to take a competitive Civil Service examination which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 5, 1968 at various cities throughout the state. Applicants who wish to take the examination should contact the Senator prior to Sept. 13, 1968.

The Senator announced that he will be able to fill one vacancy at the Air Force Academy, one at the Military Academy and three at the Naval Academy. In addition, he can nominate 10 young men to compete for three statewide vacancies to the Merchant Marine Academy.

To be eligible, an applicant must have passed his seventeenth birthday but not his twenty-second on July 1, 1969. He must also meet certain academic and physical requirements established by the academies.

The Senator requests that all interested applicants write to him at 313-Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20510.

Eight Get Fines In County Court

Tuesday three people were fined by County Judge David Hamer at the courthouse. Charles Walte of Norfolk paid a fine of $25 and costs of $5 on a charge of speeding. W. Green, state patrol, was complaining officer. Richard Renner of Wayne paid the same fine and court costs on a charge of dumping rubbish. Don Weible, county sheriff, signed the complaint. Eldwood Sampson of Wakefield paid a fine of $10 and $5 court costs on a charge of driving left of the center line. T. R. Nichols, state patrol, signed the complaint.

Friday two drivers were fined by Judge Hamer. Gail Lichtenberg, Omaha, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $5 on a speeding charge made by W. Green. Dennis Harmeler, Carroll, paid the same fine and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle on a limited permit. Don Weible was the complainant.

Thursday, August 29, William Kramer of Wakefield and Kevin Thompson of Winside each paid fines of $10 and costs of $5. Kramer was charged with an improper muffler by Melvin Lamb of the city police and Thompson was charged with failure to stop at a stop sign by State Patrolman C. L. Howell.

Stuart Miller of Stanton paid a fine of $10 and costs of $5 Wednesday, Aug. 28. He was charged by Melvin Lamb with possession of an altered driving license.

Martinsburg Site of First Dixon County Old Settlers Picnic

Dixon County's First Old Settlers Picnic was held at Martinsburg on Sept. 13, 1894. About 3,000 people attended the event which was held at Hurley's Grove on the north edge of town.

Included in the day's activities were speeches by state political leaders and instrumental and vocal musical selections by residents from all over Dixon County.

At noon families, friends and neighbors gathered around picnic tables for a picnic dinner and took advantage of the opportunity to visit and discuss the affairs of the day.

Sponsoring group for the event was the Old Settlers and Pioneers

Society of Dixon County. Officers instrumental in holding the first Old Settlers Picnic were C. F. Putnam, president; N. S. Porter, vice president; C. W. Schram, secretary; and George Herric, treasurer.

Three Accidents Keep Police Busy Saturday

Three auto accidents involving cars backing into other cars kept Wayne policemen busy much of Saturday.

One accident, which occurred in the parking lot at the Igo Drive-In, involved cars belonging to Walker Jager, Route 2, Wayne, and Mel Elofson, 402 Douglas, Wayne. The Jager auto, operated by Jon Jager, struck the left door of the Elofson auto, which was operated by Dean Elofson. There was minor damage to the left door of the Elofson auto. The Jager auto received no damage.

Damage in the amount of $42.97 resulted in an accident in the 1000 block of Pearl Street Saturday. The accident occurred when Marvin Paulson, 1017 Pearl St., backed out of his driveway and struck the parked car belonging to Bernice Sherer, 112 East 8th St. The Sherer auto received minor damage, while the Paulson auto received no damage.

The third accident Saturday occurred when H. W. Bergt, 1036 Douglas St., was backing out of a parking stall in the 100 block of Pearl St. Bergt failed to see the car belonging to Mavis Marlene Slip, 200 Blaine St., which was traveling north on Pearl. There was $112.28 damage to the rear fender and rear bumper of the Slip car. The Bergt auto received slight damage to the rear bumper.

Saturday's accidents raised the total to 83 for Wayne this year, compared to 88 one year ago.

Unlocked doors and other routine police business occupied Wayne Police the remainder of the Labor Day weekend.

Farmer Organization Has Regular Meeting

Wayne County NFO members held a meeting Tuesday evening in the ASCS office in Wayne. Serving as guest speaker was William Sellhorst of Dodge, state president of NFO. About 30 farmers and businessmen attended the meeting. Sellhorst told the group that agriculture, like management and labor in the past, is going to have to organize if they hope to make farming a profitable business. Organization, according to Sellhorst, will enable the farmer to demand a certain price for his product, something he is unable to do now. Sellhorst said the farmer's basic problem is not that they have to pay too much for what they purchase, but that they do not get enough for what they have to put on the market.

Repeatedly stressing that legislators will not do the job, Sellhorst said that only by grouping together are the farmers going to command the price they need for their products.

Yesterday marked the 10th anniversary of collective bargaining by NFO, Sellhorst said. He noted that NFO has come a long way in those ten years and the recent holding action by the meat producers proved that collective bargaining can succeed. The next meeting of the Wayne County NFO is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 12, at 8 p.m. in the Women's Club Room in the Wayne city auditorium.

Ruth Ann Baier Weds Terry Kardell In St. Paul's Lutheran Ceremonies

Ruth Ann Baier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baier, Wayne and Terry C. Kardell, son of

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kardell, Wayne, were married Aug. 24 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne.

Rev. Robert E. Shirck and Rev. Mark Carlson, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Gordon Nedergaard, sang "Song of Ruth" and "The Lord's Prayer." Ken Headlee was organist. The church was decorated with altar bouquets of yellow and white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of taffeta. The lace bodice featured an empire waistline with lace sleeves. The skirt was enhanced with sequins at the hemline and featured a chapel length lace train held at the waistline. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a cluster of white petals trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white mums.

Mitzi Hurd, Wayne, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Dianne Meyer, Wayne and Pat Johnson, Newman Grove. They wore sleeveless princess style floor length gowns of mint green nylon dotted swiss with long white dinner gloves. Their headpieces were fashioned in a single bow of dotted swiss and ribbon. Each carried a single yellow full mum.

Verlyn Carlson, Laurel, was best man. Groomsmen were John Mark Carlson, Kenosha, Wis. and Dale McKets, Laurel. Ushers were Randy Baier, Wisner, Jerry Baier, Wayne, Harris Dahlquist, Laurel and Paul Kardell, Lincoln. Valsar Brown and Tracy Baier were flowergirl and ringbearer. Candlelighters were Virgil Leon Kardell, brother of the bridegroom and Dudley Kardell. The bridegroom and his attendants wore tuxedos.

A reception was held in the church social room following the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kardell as hosts. Janet Kardell registered the 230 guests. Gifts were arranged by Karen Baier, Shirlene Kardell, Dianna Baier, Julie Woods and Doreen Diamond. Mrs. Joanne Baier and Lynette Carlson cut and served the cake. Mrs. Freda Austin and Mrs. Ruth Gunnarson poured. Mrs. June Baier and Mrs. Patty Wisneses served punch. Waitresses were Karen Nedergaard, Marlyce Geewe, Rose Ann Headlee and Gloria Carlson. Women of the church assisted in the kitchen.

Bob Reeg Shoots Sub-Par; Wins Labor Day Tourney

Wayne's Bob Reeg, going into the final 18 holes of play with a three-stroke advantage, shot a final 18-hole round of one-under-par 71 to sweep to a championship-victory in the Wayne Country Club Labor Day Tournament Monday afternoon.

He staved off a determined effort by John Fugelberth to win the tournament by two strokes over Fugelberth. Fugelberth trailed Reeg by four strokes going into the final 18 holes of play, but his final rounds of 35-34 were not good enough to catch the leader.

Bill Schultz, Beemer, laying 72 at the end of 18, shot final rounds of 36-37 to come in with a 36-hole total of 145, good enough to capture third place in the tournament.

Don Sund, Wayne, placed fourth in the championship flight. He shot two 18-hole rounds of 74 for a 36-hole total of 148. Mike Goller, Norfolk, had two 18-hole rounds of 75 for a 36-hole total of 150 and fifth place.

Arnie Reeg, Bob's father, made it something of a father-son tournament. Arnie won the fourth flight with a 36-hole total captured first place honors in the fifth flight with 169, four strokes better than S. Ellis and Ron Jones who tied for second place. Ellis won the toss of the coin.

Bill Denkinger, Iowa City, Ia., took first in the sixth flight with 175. Hubert Addison of Wayne took second with 179 and Doug Lyman and Walden Felber, both of Wayne, tied for third with totals of 180.

The seventh flight was closely contested. George Thorbeck, Wayne, won it with a total of 183, followed by Bill Norvel, Laurel, in second with 184 and Russ Zicht, Stanton, in third with 185.

The last flight, the eighth, was won by Neil Kliver, Randolph, with a 36-hole total of 185. B. Block took second place with 188 and Dr. Dvarika took third with 192.

Tennis Tourney Begins Friday

Tennis buffs in and around Wayne should loosen up their arms and sharpen their serves if they want to enter the First Annual Post-Labor Day Holiday Tennis Tournament coming up Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The tournament will be held on the Wayne State College tennis courts and is open to anyone wishing to participate.

The tournament is single elimination and entry fee is $50 for each single and doubles entry. Trophies will be awarded the single winner and the two doubles winners.

Drawings for matches will be held at 5 p.m. Friday and competition will get underway after that. Each participant in the tournament is to supply a can of balls.

Wes Fritz, WSC tennis coach, is in charge of the tournament. Anyone interested in entering the tournament should contact him at 375-3869 before 6 p.m. Thursday.

Wakefield Center Holds Open House

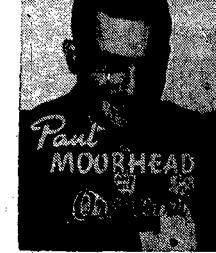

An open house was held for Wakefield's Recreation Center Saturday and Sunday. Prizes were handed out and free coffee and doughnuts were served.

The recreation center was started about 20 years ago when a group of farmers decided that Wakefield needed a center where recreation facilities could be housed. The center now consists of five buildings and houses the Wakefield Bowling Lanes and the roller skating rink.

Randolph Pitchers Win Winside Contest

Two sharp horseshoe pitchers from Randolph visited Winside Sunday and captured both first places in the two divisions in Winside's annual Round Robin Horseshoe Tournament, according to Walk Hamm.

Leslie Gubbels took first in Class A competition and Daniel Gubbels took first Class B competition.

Elmer Walcker of Wayne took second in Class A, followed by Paul Gaeden of Yankeon in third place and Albert Nelson of Wayne in fourth place.

In Class B competition John Gubbels of Randolph took second place, John Hamm of Carroll took third and Art Tollard of Wayne took fourth.

About 16 pitchers turned out for the action at Winside's ball park. Cash prizes went to the winners. Entry fee was $1 and qualifying fee was $50. All the money taken in from fees was returned to the winners.

WSC Grid Coach Expects Tough Year

"It looks like Kearney once again this year," John Jermier, head football coach at Wayne State College, said at a Kwanzaa noon luncheon Tuesday. Jermier was guest speaker for the group.

"Kearney was tough last year and it looks like they're going to be every bit as tough this year," Jermier noted. "Chadron will also be a bigger challenge than last year, according to what the Chadron coaches have told me." Jermier also looks for Peru to be a little better ball club than they were last year.

Football fans are going to see something different in the college's offense this year, Jermier added. The squad will be using some different formations offensively which will try to take advantage of their personnel, especially Sam Singleton, last year's freshman speedster. Jermier noted that this year's offensive unit will not be as explosive as last year's. Instead, it will play control ball, according to Jermier, and the defensive unit will try to force the opposing team to give up the ball in the danger zone.

Quarterback Chuck Trickett seems to have adjusted to the offensive changes quite well, Jermier said, but in case he runs into difficulty there are four freshmen to back him up. The number two quarterback, Ron Fink, has been injured in pre-season practice and will be out of action for about eight weeks, Jermier said. Mike Ellis or Marty Coling will probably take over the number two quarterback position, Jermier explained.

Stock Car Drivers Capture More Wins

Riviera Raceway in Norfolk held its Season on Championship Race Sunday night. Gerald Bruggeman, the man who dazzled fans with his fine showing last week in a hurriedly-completed car, came in second in the race, followed in fourth place by Gene Brudigan.

Bruggeman also tallied a first-place showing in the third heat. Brudigan drove well enough to capture first place in the B Feature and fifth in the third heat.

Harold Brudigan barreled his car across the finish line in front of all others in both the first heat and the trophy dash.

Gene Wagner's efforts produced a fourth-place showing in the third heat and a sixth-place showing in the B Feature. Bob Anderson came in fifth in the second heat and eighth in the B Feature.

Friday night Gerald Bruggeman drove hard enough to capture first place finishes in both the Championship Race and the second heat in action on Albion's Boone County Raceway. He also took second in the A Feature. Two other area drivers tallied first-place wins in the night's action. Gene Brudigan took first in the first heat and Gene Wagner took first in the third heat. Brudigan also took second in the C Feature and fourth in the Championship Race. Wagner tallied a fifth-place showing in the Championship Race and a sixth-place showing in the A Feature.

Monday, August 26, stock car racers journeyed to Albion for a night's racing. Before being rained out, Gene Brudigan did quite well for himself. He won the Trophy Dash and took first in the first heat. Gerald Bruggeman matched second place in the second heat and Gene Wagner came in fourth in the third heat.

Second Guessers Start Another Year

Monday morning quarterbacks can have their moment in the sun today at noon—Second Guessers meets for a noon lunch today in the Birch Room in the Student Center on the Wayne State College Campus.

The group meets every Thursday for a noon lunch, talks by college coaches and showing of game films if available. Costs for the meetings are $1 for the lunch and $1 for recruiting of athletes for the college. After football season the meetings will center around the other major sports at the college.

Anyone interested in attending the weekly meeting should leave their names with the secretary of John Jermier, head football coach at WSC.

Cards of Thanks

I WISH TO THANK all my friends, relatives and neighbors for the many beautiful flowers, cards, gifts and visits which I received during my stay in the hospital and since returning home. Special thanks to Pastor Pedersen and others for their comforting words, and special thanks to Dr. Robert Bentback and the nursing staff for their excellent care. Everything was deeply appreciated. Mrs. Oscar Swanson. a5

I WISH TO EXPRESS my sincere thanks to all the friends, neighbors and relatives for their cards and gifts during my stay in the hospital. A special thank you to Pastor Erlandson, Dr. Coe and the hospital staff for making my stay a pleasant one. Cathy Smith. a5

WORDS JUST CAN'T EXPRESS how thankful we are for our relatives, friends, those wonderful neighbors. We love all of you so much. We first thank Brother Evert and his boys for milking and doing chores besides all the other odd jobs which had to be done. "Thank you" to those who helped grind, fence, clean our beans and corn, brought so much food in to our home and even "stole" and cleaned our broilers. Also our gratitude to those who sent cards, flowers and took time to visit me while in Wakefield and Sioux City. Special "Thanks" to Pastors Erlandson and Johnson for their visits and prayers and also to the staff and doctors at both hospitals for their wonderful care. God bless all of you. Marlen Johnson and family. a5

THE FAMILY OF HOMER L. HARMER sincerely thank all the friends and relatives who sent cards, flowers, memorials and food and many other acts of kindness during our late bereavement. a5

WE WISH TO THANK all our relatives and friends for the cash gifts and many other acts of sympathy bestowed on us following the loss of my wife, our mother and grandmother. Ole Fogren and family. a5

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers. It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given useful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Balloons and Power

Now that both political conventions are over, comments on both seem to be in order. Here are our comments:

Ugh! Blech!
How anyone can argue in favor of the convention as opposed to the nominating primary is unbelievable. The primaries, at least, would have more dignity and be more likely to reflect the will of the people rather than the workings of powerful political machines.

In both conventions it was obvious which presidential candidate would be nominated. No one else stood a ghost of a chance. An aura of suspense did surround the vice presidential candidates.

The Republican's carefully contrived "spontaneous" demonstrations were as obvious as a cannon shot. All the other window dressing was just that, nothing more. Despite comment to the contrary, we feel peace and harmony prevailed. . . all through the conclave.

There are those who would argue that the baskets of balloons suspended from the ceilings add to the atmosphere of the convention. Perhaps that is true, but they certainly did not add to the dignity of a group of mature men endeavoring to choose the man most able to take on the tremendous task of being head man of the United States for the next four years.

The Miss America pageant seems to be the epitome of dignity and decorum by comparison.

Stronger feeling was quite obvious in the Democratic convention. But the way in which rights of the minority were overridden or ignored were sickening.

Television newsmen on the floor of the convention complained that though all the delegates were in their seats, the aisles were full of people who apparently roamed the hall at will. . . but who also carried walkie-talkie radios and listened in on all conversations, both public and private, in which the newsmen engaged.

Delegates were ousted along with messengers, both of whom carried credentials admitting them to the hall. No one seemed to bother to explain why. Newsman's questions brought no answer worthy of the name.

Mayor Daley's conduct on the floor and in interviews was terrible and reeked of the old-time heelers' conduct of years gone by.

We have no quarrel with his police and their method of handling unruly demonstrators on the streets and in the hotel. The police had every right not only to stop any disturbance already in progress, but also to prevent such action.

Capital News Study Shows Public Wants More for School Dollars

LINCOLN—A two-year study of school district organization in Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Missouri shows an increasing public concern over rising educational costs in the four states.

That was the report of the researcher who conducted the survey, Dr. Ralph Purdy, chairman of the Department of Educational Administration at Miami (Ohio) University.

Dr. Purdy, who carried out the study with a $40,000 federal grant, said legislators in the states are demanding a greater return from the educational dollar.

One way to attain this, he added, is to organize school systems into more efficient administrative units, both in rural and urban areas.

Nebraska has more public school districts than any other state. South Dakota has the second largest number. Iowa and Missouri are near the national average.

Dr. Purdy said there are dangers involved in reorganizing school systems into large units the same as there are problems connected with small districts.

"School districts must be reorganized on the basis of educational needs and not just for the sake of consolidation," he said.

"The aim should be to get the greatest possible return on the educational dollar. The answer lies not in the formation of small districts or large districts as both have equal danger of becoming over-burdened by government."

Dr. Purdy made no recommendation on the need for compulsory school district reorganization in Nebraska. He said this would be dealt with in a later report.

The State School District Reorganization Committee and State Education Commissioner Floyd A. Miller have proposed the 1969 Legislature require the formation of kindergarten-through-grade 12 school systems in Nebraska.

A recent State Education Department study showed there are still 1,033 one-room, one-teacher schools in Nebraska under the voluntary reorganization program.

Dr. Purdy did say that when state and local school district organization is limited or weak, it opens the door for increased control from higher levels.

He said the role and function of the State Education Department must be strengthened as district organization for education is improved.

Dr. Purdy said federal aid to education can be expected to increase rapidly in the years ahead. He said those states with a strong educational program will receive the greatest benefit.

"The flow of federal dollars began in sizable amounts with the Sputnik era and we can expect it to keep on increasing," he said.

Here are some of the broad guidelines for school district

Plums, Berries and Other Fruits

A nice guy by the name of Parkinson predicted it a long time ago. Parkinson's the one that came up with the law called Parkinson's Law. You've probably heard of it. In effect it says that the more people there are in an organization the more work they will find to occupy their time. Big businesses and governments are good examples of this perpetual breeding and expanding process, a process that can't cease because once it ceases death occurs.

And nobody likes to even think about death. We don't know what Parkinson's sense of humor was like, but we imagine he could find all sorts of humor in the present case of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

SACB, established in 1950 to expose "Communist-action" or "Communist-front" organizations and force them to register so everybody would be aware of their affiliations, no longer has a job to perform because the Supreme Court said it was unconstitutional to force Communists to register.

Without a job to do you would imagine the board would cease to exist. Well, Parkinson saw it all.

In fiscal 1967 SACB spent $280,000, most of it for salaries for 17 people, according to "Washington Report," official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Each of its five board members was paid $26,000. Now, with the new federal pay raise, their pay rate is $28,000. In 1968 six of the 12 staff people received Civil Service Grade 10 pay, from $8,900 to $11,500 a year.

Now get this: SACB has asked for an increase in its appropriations to $425,000 in 1969. Some of the increase would go for five more staff members.

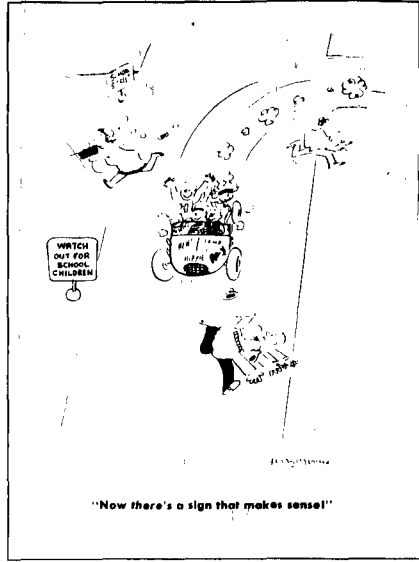

One cannot help but ask what those 22 people would do all day. They can't perform their functions as were outlined when the board was created. And coffee gets pretty tasteless shortly after noon.

Some legislators, apparently realizing that we and—not some benevolent being—are paying to staff this board, have attempted to have it disbanded. They failed, but an amendment passed which will compel it to disband after December 21, 1968, unless it can find something to do.

Luckily, the board was given something to do by Attorney General Ramsey Clark. He sent a list of seven names and asked the board to find out if they were or were not members of the Communist party. To reduce the work of the burdened board he sent along information as to the offices the Justice Department believes the seven hold in the party.

"Washington Reports" that "Congress still has time to squash this plum from the patronage tree."

What the heck. Everybody's got to be somewhere.—NLH

Almost one third of the drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1967 were under 25 years of age.

tion to exempt them from an eight percent spending increase limitation under the law on the ground that higher faculty salaries have caused a hardship.

Schools that increase per pupil spending costs by more than eight percent from one school year to the next are penalized in the amount of aid they receive, unless a hardship waiver is granted by the board.

The board is in the process of setting up guidelines as to what budgetary conditions constitute a hardship for the school districts.

Boundary Master Appointed
Atty Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer reports a new special master has been appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court to gather evidence in the Nebraska-Iowa boundary dispute.

He is Senior Judge Charles J. Vogel of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis, Missouri. He replaces Judge Walter L. Pope of San Francisco, California, who resigned from the case.

Northeast Extension Notes

by Anna Marie Krefets

Teenagers & the Clothing Market
The teenage generation has a profile—and that profile is a dollar sign.

Mrs. Jane Speece, University of Nebraska extension clothing specialist, says teens are spenders and they have about $7 billion of pocket money to spend annually. Fathers of teenagers are usually at their peak income years and money is easily available.

Teenage daughters, especially, want to look their best. They spend $4.6 billion annually on apparel and footwear. Teens make up 12 per cent of the nation's total female population and account for 22 per cent of expenditures for women's apparel.

Cosmetics and clothes are the most important products in a teenage girl's life. Teens are susceptible to new ideas in appearance and to new styles in dress. Sales promotion and advertising are directed toward teenagers. They have the money to spend and they spend it.

Value of Corn for Silage
A number of people have raised questions about the value of corn to be used for silage. The question is particularly pertinent in situations where the crop must be divided between landlord and tenant or where a farmer wants to sell his crop in the field.

We have some information on the problem, provided by Phil Henderson, economist at the University of Nebraska. A generally accepted figure values corn silage at about 1/3 that of alfalfa hay. If we may be arbitrary for the sake of simplicity, let's assume that $7.00 per ton would be a fair value for corn silage. If a person wants to get at the value of the standing corn, the cost of harvesting would have to be deducted. Again a fair, but arbitrary cost would be about $15.00 per acre. This cost includes cutting, transportation and storage.

We know from observation and experience that there will be wide variation in yields and values between fields and areas. The figures I am quoting here are purely estimates but for what they are worth, here goes: casual observation would lead me to estimate that about 60% of the corn acreage in Wayne County will be best utilized as cropped forage or ensilage. Some further generalities arrived at are that yields will average about 5 tons per acre. Average losses in the silo run about 15%. So we will end up with about 4 1/2 tons of feedable silage per acre worth about $30.00. When we deduct harvesting costs we have a net value for standing corn of $15.00 per acre. Again I want to emphasize that these are merely estimates and certainly not applicable to many

Way Back When

30 Years Ago

September 8, 1938: H. D. McEachen has resigned his position as head of the Neligh school to become president of Monett Jr. College, Monett, Mo. The Nelse Granquist and Arthur Odegaard families attended the Odegaard reunion in Hawarden, Ia. Aug. 28. . . . Patty Love was named grand champion of the croquet tournament at the summer park project. . . . An estimated 20,000 people attended the Dixon County fair. . . . Reed's all girl band played at the fall festivals in Homer and Wausau. . . . G. B. Childs has returned to Wayne High after a year's leave of absence.

25 Years Ago

September 2, 1943: A. F. Lueders has purchased the Economy market in Norfolk from L. G. Relsbig, who is entering the armed services, and the former will take over the store the first of the coming week. William Lueders will be in charge of the Larson Food Market here, succeeding his brother. . . . Patty Love, 10th grader last year in Wayne city school, took first honors in Class Three of the state poppy poster contest conducted by the Legion Auxiliary. Awards were announced at the state convention in Norfolk last week. . . . Mrs. B. M. McIntyre has received her commission as postmaster in Winslow, succeeding Mrs. R. H. Morrow who has held that position since 1929. Mrs. McIntyre expects to take office about Sept. 1. . . . Dixon County fair held at Concord last week attracted large crowds. Displays were good in all departments and they were the best ever in the horse department. One of the outstanding acts was presented by Ed Pillar of Scotland, S. D.

20 Years Ago

September 2, 1948: More than 200 members of the Dixon and Dakota County Farm Bureaus and their families attended the picnic in Emerson Aug. 23. Charles Marshall of Elmwood, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, was the principal speaker. . . . Lila Mae Neary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neary, has accepted a teaching position in the Rawlins, Wyo. public school for the coming year. Miss Neary will teach the first grade. She received her two-year certificate at Wayne State Teachers College this summer.

15 Years Ago

September 3, 1953: Wayne's new St. Mary's Catholic School will open for students Tuesday, Rev. William C. Kieffman announced this week. About 50 students are expected to enroll for the first year at the school. Classes will be limited to grades one through eight. The new school, built at a cost of over $50,000 is the first Catholic school ever built in Wayne. . . . Wayne public schools opened the 1953-54 school year with enrollment and regular classes Monday morning. A total of 444 students were enrolled. . . . Sup. E. W. Willert announced Tuesday. . . . Darwin C. Bichel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Bichel of Wakefield, received his master of science degree in agricultural engineering at exercises Friday morning on the Iowa State Campus.

10 Years Ago

September 4, 1958: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hiscor, Wayne residents 51 years, observed their sixty-second wedding anniversary Tuesday. . . . A community flower show will be sponsored by the Wimer Flower Arrangers at the Wimer city auditorium Sept. 13. . . . Paced by Gary Lueders' one-hit pitching, Wakefield's Junior Legion baseball team defeated Wayne 5-4 at the Dixon County fair Friday afternoon at Concord. . . . Bob Jordan, Bill Gries and Donald Liedman, members of Blue Ribbon Wimmers 4-H Club, are representing Wayne county in the judging contest at the state fair in Lincoln this week.

VA Q & A

Q—I am receiving military retirement pay for disability. I would be entitled to disability compensation from the Veterans Administration but don't want to waive my military retirement. However, I would like to pursue a program of education as a disabled veteran. Am I eligible for vocational rehabilitation training assistance from the VA?
A—You certainly may be eligible. It is not necessary that you waive your military retirement pay to qualify for VA vocational rehabilitation. Check with your nearest VA office for information and assistance.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: Budd Bornholt's name was drawn during the SWAY drawing Monday, July 29, at the Vet's Club in Wayne.

Dear Sir:

I have received your $10 gift and thank you very kindly. In keeping with the spirit of this gift, I have donated it to the Navy Relief Society.

I am presently doing legal work for the Commander, Amphibious Force, Pacific Fleet, at the Naval Amphibious Base in Coronado, Calif. Carolyn and I are residing in Coronado. (Lt. Budd B. Bornholt, Jr., 922A 10th Street, Coronado, Calif. 92118).

Editor's Note: Ernest F. Wentzel's name was drawn during the SWAY drawing Monday, Aug. 5, at the Vet's Club in Wayne.

Dear Sir:

My sincere appreciation to the members of the Seafarers We Appreciate You (SWAY) for your recent gift. As a military chaplain, I have had many opportunities to talk to young men away from home. I can assure you that any remembrance or encouragement from the people back home is sincerely appreciated. Your kind gift will be used for some worthwhile purpose.

I have been in the Military Chaplaincy for 15 years, over five of which have been spent in overseas areas. My most recent overseas tour was in Vietnam during 1966-67. I am presently assigned to the United States Army Combat Surveillance School/Training Center at Fort Huachuca, Ariz.

(Ch (LTC) Ernest F. Wentzel, 121 Mtnzer Ave., Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. 85613).
