

Zoning Commission Acts On Proposed Changes

Wayne zoning commission held two open hearings Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce office. About 10 people attended each hearing.

The first open hearing was held on the request of Wayne's zoning official, City Clerk Dan Sherry, and concerned changing from R-1 (prime residential) to R-2 (multiple residential) an area in Taylor's and Wachob's Addition in the southwest portion of town. The area roughly covered the 500 and 600 blocks north of Grandland Road between First and Second.

No one voiced opposition to the proposed change and two people said they favored the change.

Five commission members voted in favor of the proposal. No member was in opposition to it. Four members were absent. The commission will now forward their recommendation to the City Council, which can either accept it or reject it.

The second open hearing was to hear interested persons concerning the proposed change from R-1 and A-1 (agriculture) to R-1 (highway business) an area east of Wayne. The area roughly covered an area east of the Armory to the Railroad right-of-way and 500 feet north and south.

Again, no one appeared in opposition to the proposed change and one person, Harlan Farrans, commented that he might consider building a steak house in the area if the zoning change were approved.

The area under consideration is about 23 acres or about the size of the present entire cen-

Allen Woman Badly Injured in Auto Wreck

Two cars were extensively damaged Monday night at about 9:50 p.m. when they collided about one tenth of a mile west of the Highway 9 and Highway 20 intersection north of Allen, according to Trooper Jerry Turgen, safety patrol.

Carol J. Stapleton of Allen, driver of one of the cars involved, suffered a fractured right leg, a bad cut on her neck and extensive cuts and bruises. William L. Norvell of Laurel, driver of the other car involved, received a cut on the chin.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Stapleton, driving west, attempted to turn south off Highway 20, Turgen said. Norvell, also going west, collided with her car.

Turgen said it appeared that Norvell was attempting to pass the Stapleton car.

No charges will be filed as a result of the wreck, according to Turgen.

Two Are Injured In Tractor Mishap

Cyril Hansen and Raymond Loberg were injured Tuesday afternoon when the tractor on which they were riding went off a bridge and dropped 11 feet into a ditch on a rural road four miles west and four and one-half miles north of Wayne.

Loberg received back injuries and Hansen leg injuries.

Hansen said they were crossing the bridge when the field cutter they were pulling came loose from the tractor. When he applied the brakes, Hansen said, the tractor went over the side of the bridge.

Both men were taken by ambulance to the Wayne Hospital.

C of C Directors Endorse Fund Drive for Museum

Chamber of Commerce directors Monday voted their endorsement of the fund drive for a county museum building. Appearing at the meeting to speak in behalf of the museum was Henry Ley, a director of the county historical society.

"Besides providing a place of interest and beauty on one of the approaches to Wayne, the museum should be of universal interest to residents and former residents of Northeast Nebraska. It is a project that deserves the backing of every citizen in the area and it receives the wholehearted endorsement of the Chamber Board," Chamber of Commerce President Ted Armbruster said following the meeting.

Members of the county historical society have launched a drive to raise $10,000 to erect a museum building on a site east of Wayne just south of the airport entrance.

Land for the project has been given to the society on the condition money is raised for the building within a limited time.

Memberships are being sold for $2 for two years for individuals; $5 for two years for families; $10 for sustaining memberships and $50 for lifetime memberships.

Classroom Shortage Faces Elementary School in '69

Classroom space will plague the Wayne City School board next year if current school census figures are borne out. Affected will be the Wayne elementary school when the current fourth grade moves out and the new kindergarten class moves in next year.

Supt. Francis Haun told the school board Monday night the problem would be here when it became necessary to run three sections for each grade, and that will come next school year.

Presently the fourth grade has only two sections with a total of 47 students. This year's third grade has 72 students who will be in fourth grade in the fall of 1969.

School census figures indicate kindergarten enrollments for 1969 will be about the same as this year, 67 children.

First grade this year has 62 students as does the second grade.

Other current enrollment figures show these figures for Wayne classes:

Fifth 79; sixth 58; seventh 69; eighth 83; ninth 109; tenth 96; eleventh 136; twelfth 77.

In Carroll, where the district has a K-6 school the kindergarten has 13; first 9; second 12; third 8; fourth 12; fifth 11; sixth 16.

At Carroll a total of 81 are enrolled. In Wayne elementary are 310; middle school 289 and high school 418 for a grand total of 1,098.

Haun reported sales of school houses and contents of two recently annexed rural districts returned $500.75. Property at District 84 brought $220.50 while District 70 property sold for $340.25. Land at District 70 still remains to be sold.

Two students from Winside school district were accepted in special education classes. The Winside district will pay per pupil costs on each of the children.

The board opened bids for fuel oil as a stand-by heating fuel and awarded the Coryell Oil company the contract at 11.4 cents per gallon.

Construction problems in the new high school continue to beset the board, but apparently the electrical contract has been ironed out with the completion of the fire alarm system. The board will pay the contractor after approval of the system by the state Fire Marshal's office.

Doors, too, are a problem, with some of them leaking rain under the door and above the threshold. The board has held back about $7,000 on the contract payment and refuses to pay until the doors are installed in a satisfactory manner.

Allen High Graduate Assigned to Pentagon

Captain Charles W. Zavadt, a former resident of Allen, has been graduated from the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. He received a master's degree in logistics management.

In other action the board approved bills totaling $22,089.35 and approved the attendance of Supt. Haun at an education seminar in Chicago Oct. 13.

Haun has been invited by Dr. Floyd Miller to attend the seminar with group transportation, lodging and some other expenses paid by the state.

Additional money was given for borrowing money for school expenses for short terms. Such action is authorized by state law allowing Class III and IV districts to borrow money "to the amount of 70 per cent of the unexpended balance of total anticipated receipts, including receipts from the current existing levy" for terms of not more than one year.

J. Lambert Wins Scouting Contest

Jon Lambert Saturday was named district winner in Boy Scout competition for "Report to the Nation," a contest in which winners are taken to Washington, D. C. to confer with the President of the U. S.

Lambert now will go into council competition and, winning that, will go to state level competition. Should he win there he will compete for regional honors.

Regional winners make the trip to Washington.

Scouts were required to give a three-minute presentation on "Scouting Rounds a Guy Out," then were questioned on Scouting by a selection committee.

He has been invited to attend the council executive board meeting in Omaha Sept. 19 to give his speech there.

On Oct. 19 he will give his speech as part of a program of the Lewis and Clark annual recognition dinner at Wayne State College.

mother, Mrs. Rose Zavadt, now lives at 3440 North 88th Street in Lincoln.

Captain Zavadt is now being reassigned to the Pentagon as a member of Headquarters Command. His training provided selected Air Force members selected training in scientific, engineering and other fields at civilian institutions and industrial organizations. He was commissioned in 1961 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

His wife is the former Sally Burke of Blair.

Wrecks, Pets, Boys Keep Police Busy

Two accidents, several unlocked doors, mischievous pets and a case of some young boys frightening young girls kept the Wayne Police Department busy the past several days.

The first accident which occurred at 11:55 a.m. Sept. 9, involved a car driven by Walter C. Ingram of 926 Logan and the parked car of F. Irving Moses, 602 Logan. Ingram was backing his 1963 model car from the alley west of the auditorium when he struck Moses' 1962 auto, which was parked on the north side of the street. Only minor damage resulted.

Bright sunlight spelled trouble for Paul M. Hansen, Onslow, Ia., Sept. 10. Hansen, driving the 1965 auto belonging to Roger K. Ginnapp, Irwin, Ia., was making a left turn on the intersection of the 600 block of East 6th when he was blinded by the sun and struck the parked 1946 truck belonging to Midwest Bridge of Norfolk. The Ginnapp auto was extensively damaged about the right front. The Midwest Bridge truck received minor damage at the left rear corner.

The two accidents raise the total for the year to 86, seven lower than the 93 of a year ago.

In other business the police picked up a black hunting dog and notified the owner of a pet raccoon that the animal was digging up his neighbor's flowers. The owner of the coon agreed to keep it on a shorter leash.

Several young boys and their parents were admonished by the police after they had reportedly frightened two young girls with a knife under the bleachers at the ball park. Further police action was limited to notifying owners that their doors were unlocked and other routine business.

Two Vista Workers Working in County

Two VISTA workers are currently making their homes in Wayne. The young men are Charles Smith and Frank Rinaldo, both college graduates whose homes are in California.

Their work is directed through the Community Action Council which is headquartered in Walthill.

They told The Wayne Herald Monday they were not here necessarily to look for so-called "poverty pockets," rather they were here to help in any community action programs which could use their services.

Both men have served with VISTA in Denver and in Colorado rural areas.

Council to Change Zoning; Gets Annexation Request

Councilmen Tuesday night approved the request of Fred Ellis to change the zoning of his property at Second and Blaine from R-1 to R-2 to permit him to build an apartment house on the property.

It also appeared the council would approve a greater area in the neighborhood for a change from R-1 to R-2.

A legal requirement was the cause of two apparently separate and overlapping actions.

Tuesday night's hearing was only on the property affected by

Ellis' original request which was to change the zoning of his property. The zoning commission earlier held a hearing at which no decision was reached but at which the commission recommended that a larger area be changed from R-1 to R-2, joining two R-2 sections.

A hearing on the larger area will be held at the next meeting of the council.

Vakoc Construction appeared to request the council to annex a portion of land at the west edge of Wayne and to extend sewer service to six lots on the north end of Oak Drive.

Council indicated it would approve the annexation once the required steps in platting and other legal procedures are completed by Vakoc. The land is at the south end on Oak Drive on the west side of the street.

The sewer line in question will cross school property to serve six lots at the north end of Oak Drive, and an easement must be obtained from the school district before work can begin.

Cost of the project will be explored and payment determined before action further than the easement is initiated.

When the Housing Working Agreement for low-cost housing was presented to the council for their approval, City Attorney

John Addison reminded them they had made no provisions for inspection and enforcement of the building and zoning codes recently passed, and that such procedures must be accomplished before the housing agreement can become effective.

City Engineer Sid Magdanz told the council that his company has been considering furnishing this type service to small towns, pointing out that specialized knowledge is necessary in many instances. He pointed out that the expense of such inspections See ZONING, page 8

THE SETTING SUN and a parked truck were the wrong combination for Paul Hansen Tuesday night. Hansen was making a left turn on the intersection in the background when he was blinded by the sun. The results are pictured above. Hansen received minor cuts and bruises.

Wayne County to Get Food Stamps

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors unanimously voted to request the Food Stamp Program for that county today, Tuesday, Sept. 10, 1968.

A resolution was signed and sent to the State Department of Public Welfare in Lincoln where it will then be forwarded to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service in Washington for approval.

More information on the program, which is for low income families, will be published as soon as details are made available.

R. Andersen Hurt In Car Accident

Robert Andersen, Winside, was injured Tuesday night at about 11:30 when he ran off the road on Highway 35 about 6 miles south of Winside.

Sheriff Don Weible said Andersen, east bound, went off the road on the right hand side at a big curve, then came back across the road to the west side, went down a 35-foot embankment and rolled the car. He said the car traveled 178 feet after leaving the west side of the road.

Andersen was taken to the Wayne Hospital for treatment.

JUST A FRIENDLY GAME. One of Wayne High's first string men runs into a bit of a problem from a couple of second-string players. The Blue Devils

'Madison's Tough, Fast, Blue Devils' Coach Says

Coach Allen Hansen will pit his Wayne High Blue Devils against what he considers "the best team in the west half of the Husker (conference)" when Madison comes to Wayne Friday night at 7:30.

Hansen said he thinks Madison is the strongest team they will have to face in that part of the conference. They have most of their team back this year and they showed good improvement toward the end of last year's season, Hansen noted.

Madison has one halfback who can run the hundred yard dash in just over 10 seconds plus two returning ends who will possibly be dangerous. "They're going to be fast." They will also be bigger and will out weigh Wayne, according to Hansen.

Although Hansen said he doesn't have a disadvantage because they don't have Madison's speed, they should make up for it on defense. "Defense will be our strong point this year," Hansen said. Two good reasons for this are Bernie Binger, linebacker at 185 pounds, and Harry Lindner, line man at 185. Hansen characterized them as being as strong and tough as any around this area.

Hansen said his starting offense will probably be made up of the following boys: Doug Mauer, left end; Vaughn Kortz, left tackle; Tom Denesia, left guard; Roger Boyce, center; Bernie Binger, right guard; Harry Lindner, right tackle; Jerry Tize, right end; Dave Tietgen, quarterback; Randy Helgren, left halfback; Dwayne DeTurk, right halfback; and Dan Sutherland, fullback.

The Blue Devils have their spirits high this season and hope to improve on last year's record of nine wins and one loss. They were defeated by West Point in the Husker Conference play-off.

WH Letterman On Dana Squad

Dave Shiry, a 1965 graduate of Wayne High where he lettered three years in football under Coach Jerry Ball, was one of 61 men reporting for the first football practice Aug. 26 at Dana College in Blair.

Blair's coaches expect Shiry to see early action for the Vikings. The squad sees their first action Saturday when they tangle with Doane College at Crete. Twenty-one lettermen are returning to the squad.

The son of Mrs. Lucile Shiry of Wayne, Shiry is a transfer student from Wayne State College where he attended for three semesters. He is a senior at Dana.

State Iko Meet Here in October

The quarterly meeting of state directors of the Izaak Walton League will be in Wayne Oct. 20, Wayne Chapter President Norris Weible announced Monday night.

Weible read a letter from the state Izaak Walton president in making the announcement to members of the local chapter.

A new lock will be placed on the entrance to the lake site, Weible said, and new keys issued to members as they pay dues for the coming year.

Fishing at the lake is picking up as fish move into their fall feeding spree. Members reported catches of sizable bass, northern pike and crappie along with good strings of keeper bluegills, all caught prior to Monday night's meeting at the lakeside clubhouse.

Blue rock shoots will be held at the airport trap each Sunday afternoon all open to the public. Members will receive work schedules for days they are to help with the trapshoot, Weible said.

Hoskins Drivers Rank High on Yankton's Oval

Gene Brudigan and Gerald Bruggeman from Hoskins are the only two area drivers who have been making regular trips to Yankton's Westside Raceway and they have made two good marks for themselves. At the end of the season Brudigan ranked second and Bruggeman ranked third in overall point standings.

Boone County has also completed their season of competition on the oval. Norfolk was ranked the last time action was scheduled there.

Wednesday, Sept. 4, Bruggeman and Brudigan journeyed to Yankton and Bruggeman came home with a first place win in the first heat and a second place win in the A Feature. Brudigan settled for second in the third heat and fourth in the A Feature.

Sunday the two drivers made the trip again, scoring better

Putt-Putt Boo-Boo

The Northeast Nebraska tractor pulling championship at Wakefield will be Saturday and not Sunday as reported in the last issue of The Wayne Herald.

Limited to the first 60 tractors registering, the contest is sponsored by the Wakefield Lions Club. A purse of $750 has been guaranteed for the event. Weigh-in will be from 9 a.m. to noon.

Rules of the pull are available in Wakefield from Myron Olson or Marvin Borg and are posted in business places throughout the area. Winners in 1968 tractor pulling contests are especially sought for the contest, but entries are not limited to such winners.

Did you know: The loss from a two inch rain will be twice as much from "straight row" farming as versus contouring with terraces?

'Doc's Bandits' Are Spirited, Proud; May Prove Key to Wildcats' Success

"They have pride, and they work together as a unit."

So says Coach Ralph Barclay of his Wayne State defensive team, which probably will again this year be the key to Wildcat football success.

Every year since Barclay came to Wayne his defensive unit has rated in the national NAIA statistics, and he says, "They don't want to lose that distinction. They're proud of themselves individually and as a unit, and they discipline themselves."

Anybody who has watched Wildcat practices knows all this is true. The defenders have spirit, and now they call themselves Doc's Bandits. The Bandits part of it refers to themselves, and Doc's refers to the fact that Barclay received a doctoral degree this summer.

Saturday night will provide the first test of Head Coach John Jermler's theory: "We think the defense can hold our opponents and give the offense good field position."

Midland is the foe Saturday night at 7:30 in Memorial Stadium. The Warriors from Fremont often have a way of getting up for Wayne, and Jermler notes ruefully that Wayne has sometimes been down for Midland. Last year the Wildcats finished a 6-4 season by routing the Warriors, 28-0.

Jermler and staff are not so certain of their offense as Barclay is of his defense. He's a rare specimen among coaches. As head swimming coach he generally announces a before the season: "We'll probably win most of our meets." That's well-placed.

Now he says of the 1968 football defense: "Better potential than last year." Part of the reason is the corps of veterans—eight starters back, plus others who played considerable defense.

The returning starters are linebacker Doug Barry, described by Barclay as the defensive leader; Rosco Goodpasture and Tom Klutarch, a converted linebacker, at ends; Chuck Lellos and Sid Erickson at tackle; Dwight Stewart at middle guard; Doug Radtke and Mike Fox in the backfield. Also in the backfield are Don Grubough, who started a few late-season games, and Dennis Sealey and Dan Ruesch.

The veterans are getting static from some determined newcomers, most of them freshmen. Pat Holston, a teammate of Sam Singleton at Jefferson High in Elizabeth, N. J., may land a starting berth in the defensive backfield. Yearlings Mike Wynn of Grand Island and Jerry Bostwick of Omaha are close contenders for tackle and middle guard duty. John Richard of Rolfe, Ia., and letterman Bruce Cramer are scrapping for a linebacker spot.

If Barclay runs short he has an eye on several offensive players capable of defense. But to get them, he might have to rattle the offensive coaches, who have their own manpower problems.

CHILEAN STYLE? Eghon Guzman, Wayne's AFS student this year, tries his hand at football, American style. He plays soccer regularly when at home but has never played football before. Coach Allen Hansen doesn't know yet whether he will be able to use Eghon on his squad, although he may come into the game as an extra-point kicker or punter.

TAILBACK KEITH WACKER was caught in the midst of his wildcat teammates during an intra-squad scrimmage when this picture was taken Tuesday afternoon. Winside will open its grid season Friday night at Emerson-Hubbard.

Young Winside Team to Take Field At Emerson - Hubbard Friday Night

A relatively young team will open Winside's 1968-69 football season Friday night when the Wildcats journey to Emerson-Hubbard for a Lewis and Clark Conference tilt. Coach Dale "Pete" Kropp's starting grid will include three seniors, five juniors and three sophomores. Senior tailback Andy Mann and fullback Keith Wacker are expected to lead the Wildcats at the line of scrimmage in their roles as team heavyweights. Mann is a stocky 230 pounder while Wacker tips the scales at 180.

Other linemen include junior center Phil Witt, guards Kevin Thompson (junior) and Dave Langenberg (sophomore), and junior ends Greg Troutman and Fritz Weible.

The backfield will be led by

AHS Eagles Are Bigger, Tougher This Year; Open 1968 Season Saturday

It's doubtful if the Allen High Eagles will duplicate last year's 27-0 rout of Wynot when the two teams clash Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. in Hartington.

Coach Don Kruse thinks that Wynot will be much stronger this year than they were last year. This will be the second time the teams have met on the football field and the second year Wynot has played 11-man ball. Last year the Eagles celebrated their opening win by throwing their coach and some unlucky onlookers in the shower. Kruse says that the Eagles are big and quick this year and that the spirit seems higher this year than it has in a long time. His backfield will be made up of mostly seniors and the line will be mostly juniors.

To prove his team's bigness, Kruse points to Rick Gensler, 185-pound guard; John Warner, 220-pound tackle; Mike Isom, 216-pound tackle; and Curt Wheeler, 214-pound middle guard. Kevin Hill's quickness will certainly help the team, according to Kruse.

Only one man has suffered an injury so far. Bob Meyer has a bad knee and will be out of action for about the first two games, Kruse said.

Tentative starting lineup for Saturday's tilt includes Bob Mitchell, end; Jerry Warner, tackle; Joe Ankeny, guard; Randy Cromble, center; Rick Gensler,

Vandals Destroy, Steal Telephone Property in Area

Malicious destruction and theft of property belonging to Northwestern Bell Telephone Company occurred in Wayne and Laurel some time during the week just before Labor Day, according to E. A. Jaksha, district manager in Fremont.

Someone cut seven underground wires in the Wayne area. Intruder's service to about 30 rural customers, Jaksha said. Workmen had to spend Labor Day repairing the damage, according to M. D. Smith, manager in Wayne for the telephone company.

In Laurel someone cut more wires and cables and stole about 100 feet of cable, apparently for the copper the cable contains. Northwestern Bell is engaged in a large buried cable project in Laurel. Loops of cable which had not yet been buried or connected were cut off and stolen. There was no disruption of service in the Laurel area. Smith said the thieves would have had to haul a pickup truck to haul away the stolen cable because of its great weight. Smith thought that the two incidents were unrelated and that a different person or persons did the damage.

"The theft and vandalism are under investigation by the sheriff's offices in both Cedar and Wayne counties and by the security department of Northwestern Bell Telephone Company," Smith said. "Anyone having knowledge concerning either case is urged to contact the sheriff's office or myself," he added.

Wayne County Judge David Hamer said the punishment for malicious destruction of property is quite severe. Those destroying this property could be fined anywhere from $100 to $500 and could also be sentenced up to six months in jail, Hamer noted. The punishment for property theft is even more severe, Hamer added.

Former Wayne Youth To Lead NU Band

Jeff Klintberg of Laurel, formerly of Wayne, will lead the 1968 University of Nebraska Cornhusker Marching Band on the field as its drum major, while little Susie Kunc of Wilber will add color for the fourth consecutive year as the solo twirler.

The 175-members of the men-only marching band were announced today by Prof. Jack Snider, director. The bandmen were selected after competitive auditions and will make their first public appearance before and at halftime of the Nebraska-Wyoming football game in Memorial Stadium, Saturday, Sept. 14.

Klintberg, a senior music major, takes over the drum major post from Lynn Moeller of Grant, now a teacher at Lincoln Plus Y High School, after spending a year as his understudy. Assistant drum majors will be Bob Sile of Scottsbluff and Terry Lyon of Lincoln.

In addition to appearing at home football games and taking part in a number of parades, the Cornhusker band will be seen on national television on Nov. 23, when Nebraska plays Oklahoma in Norman.

could be borne by building fees. In other action the council: -Hear and recommend that the city look into general liability insurance to cover acts of city employees, because recent Supreme Court decisions had practically eliminated governmental immunity from damage suits.

-Discussed the paving and drainage problem on the north end of Meadow Lane, and ways to protect the sanitary sewer line from freezing this winter in an area exposed by erosion.

-Washed over ways to finance storm sewer district 68-I which would serve areas in the north part of town and the possibility of assessing Wayne State College for part of the costs. The city attorney and clerk were instructed to proceed with the legal work to complete the district.

-Made arrangements to inspect swimming pool inlet pipes to determine action in making repairs.

-Discussed ways to finance a storage building for city property and equipment. Vern Schulz said such a building was badly needed for equipment storage, especially snow removal equipment in winter, saying it should be brought inside for service and removal of snow and ice so it could be used next day. All storage is now full, he said.

No action was taken on requests by M. N. Foeter who asked that the city pay for paving in his alley which he said he bought and the city is using, and the request of Don Milliken to close an unused alley behind his home so he could build a garage and meet city building code requirements. Milliken said his lot is too small to hold the garage and meet set-back regulations.

It costs United States taxpayers $500 million a year to pick up the litter dumped on streets, beaches, parks and other public property.

Did you know: Northeast Nebraska's average moisture received is approximately 24 inches per year? This amounts to nearly 650,000 gallons per acre.

Now It's Clean-up Time

After returning from a two-week field training trip to Camp Ripley, Minn., the big clean-up job started for men of the Wayne unit of the National Guard.

Sunday, the first drill day since returning from Minnesota, the men spent cleaning, servicing, repairing, storing and counting unit equipment used in summer training.

Wayne's unit Co. A (-), 1st Bn (Mech), 134th Infantry, is commanded by CPT Donald L.

Snodgrass of Clearwater. The rest of Company A is in O'Neill where CPT Harmon Grunke is commander.

Following Sunday's clean-up and inspection by non-commissioned officers and company and battalion officers, their work was again inspected Monday by CPT Ross V. Winters, 1st Battalion staff training officer.

COUNTING WEAPONS is an important chore for Armorer Larry Hrus who is accountable for all personal and crew-served weapons in the company. After weapons are cleaned they are stored in a vault at the armory.

CLEANING and inventorying accessory pouches and equipment for the M-60 machine guns are, left to right, Reinold Pinkelman, Larry Promes and Wes Gunderson.

SSG FRED HERRMANN, right, watches closely as a maintenance section crew of Charles Thomas, Alan Anderson, Gary Toelle and Ron Peterson check a motor vehicle and ready it for inspection.

SP5 LARRY NELSON found business as usual as he was required to prepare Sunday dinner for the 70 men of the Wayne unit. It was dinner for all, KP for some and back to cleaning equipment for others.

2LT JOHN HILKER checks off the list of equipment charged to his First Platoon with the assistance of Daryl Daum.

Last month in New Orleans, Bill Norvell accepted the President's Trophy from M. Roy Dodson for the third consecutive year. This is our highest honor, awarded for outstanding service to current policyholders and for adding new ones during a special month set aside annually to honor our President.

The President's Trophy is awarded for a team effort. Any team achievement, naturally, is the result of many individual efforts. Bill Norvell personally placed third among all company representatives in total sales volume. In addition, he and five of his career agents qualified for individual honors—the "Wall of Fame"—for outstanding performance during the President's Month: Bob Dit-man, Dick Rmel, Paul Steffen, Clair Thompson, and Jimmie Thompson.

What makes The Norvell Agency such a consistent winner? It defies analysis, but whatever it is, this enthusiastic young team has plenty of it. And that could make a big difference in your financial future.

Each member of the Norvell team has a high degree of professional competence. You can trust your life and health insurance needs—both personal and business—to the men of The Norvell Agency.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Meet VISTA

Two young men dropped into The Wayne Herald office Monday and introduced themselves as VISTA volunteers looking for work to do in the area.

Both personsable young men with degrees, their opening remarks were that everyone tells them there is no poverty in Wayne county.

What Might Have Happened

Take a hypothetical case: You live on a farm a few miles from Wayne. Late one night you're watching television when all of a sudden a small smoke. You run into the kitchen and find it nearly destroyed by flames. The fire is too large for you to put out so what do you do?

The first reaction anybody would have would be to run to the telephone and call the fire department. But what do you do when you find the telephone out of order? You can't get help in any way except by driving to another farm or all the way into town. And that takes time. In a matter of minutes your home could be destroyed and everything in it ruined just because you couldn't phone for help.

This may never happen, but the chances of this or a similar tragedy occurring were greatly increased only recently in this area. Somebody, apparently just for a few laughs and the excitement of it, cut several underground wires in the rural area around Wayne, halting service to several families. What would these families have done had an accident occurred or a fire broke out and they had to have immediate help. We hate to think of what could take place.

People have come to rely heavily on the telephone to aid them in case of an emergency. Overall, the telephone companies have been excellent in supplying their customers with their service.

Men bragged through the week about the talents of Ol' Babe and Jude, the cutting abilities of King, or the fleet speed of their youngest offspring.

Perhaps it was the riding ability of a neighbor boy who could break almost any horse to ride or the beautiful new buggy that was going to be used only on Sundays which was conversation meat.

Now the horse has returned after slipping almost into oblivion and saddle clubs flourish again. In another direction are the tractor pulls and sports car rallies.

This year the farm kids have toiled every night through the week to get the family tractor in better shape so it can take honors in its weight class at Sunday's pulling contest.

Perhaps the town kids at the same time were tuning up their sports cars so they may perform more smoothly at the next rally.

Both seem to be beneficial, well-directed activities. Both force the youngster to learn more about his machine if he is to be successful. Speed is not important — but efficiency certainly is.

No, people don't change, they just change their hobbies with the times.

Fort Robinson Park Head 'Promoted' to Lincoln Job

LINCOLN—John Kurtz, Nebraska's most publicized state park superintendent, has been given a job in the front office.

Throughout the spring and summer, Kurtz was the target of northwest Nebraska ranchers and farmers who demanded that he be transferred from his post as superintendent of Fort Robinson State Park.

The Game Commission decided early in August it would be better for everyone concerned—Kurtz, the ranchers and the park patrons—if he were re-assigned. The commissioners set a Sept. 10 deadline.

Although it was originally planned that he would switch places with Dallas Johnson, superintendent of Ponca State Park, Commission Director M. O. Steen decided instead on an assignment at the headquarters in Lincoln.

Kurtz will serve as a liaison officer between Jack Strain, chief of the commission's Parks Division, and certain areas of park operations.

Steen defended Kurtz throughout the months of controversy. He maintained the superintendent had special talents in park development. The transfer to the Lincoln office was seen as an effort to put these talents to use throughout the state's park system.

pollution prepared by two Russians. The meeting was the Fourth Annual International Conference on Water Pollution Research. Efforts were underway to re-schedule it, but Filipi was not sure whether he could make the trip later.

He and his wife, who is also of Czech descent, had planned a month-long tour of Europe in connection with the Prague conference.

As part of his presentation, Filipi had planned to show his international colleagues the progress Nebraska is making in preventing stream pollution from livestock feedlots.

"Manure," he said, "used to be a valuable by-product of the feedlots. Now the big lots have so much of this waste it is no longer profitable to try to collect it for fertilizer."

Many of the major feedlots have located their lots on hillsides so the rain will wash the waste away—into the streams. Nebraska has done a good deal of research on how to avoid this pollution, he said, and he had been eager to share the findings with his colleagues from around the globe.

His remarks were to be illustrated by a series of aerial photographs.

The State Game Commission has been accused of fudging a little with history.

The so-called Little Hoover Commission—the Nebraska Management Analysis Study Committee—says buildings at some state parks "are not truly authentic."

The Hoover consultants recommended a law requiring the Game Commission "to obtain technical facts and approval from the Nebraska State Historical Society prior to embarking on historical restorations to insure that historical integrity is maintained."

site for the purpose of commercial tourism," the Hoover report said, "should not be allowed."

The Hoover Commission was established by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, who asked its businessmen members to take a hard look at all phases of state government to see where methods of private industry could help streamline operations.

The commission's recommendations have been released in clusters for more than a month. Among the other more recent proposals:

—Cut the workload for the State Liquor Commission by issuing licenses on a staggered basis and investigating the feasibility of turning licensing chores over to the Department of Administrative Services Computer.

—Consolidating the Departments of Health, Welfare and Public Institutions into an agency known as the Department of Social Services.

—Coordinating all state government printing at the print shop at the Penal Complex and establishing a centrally-operated laundry to serve all state-owned institutions.

—Establish by statute a small claims court within the Department of Insurance to handle complaints of less than $500.

How to Finance Roads A report is expected shortly from the Legislative Council's Roads Study Committee which will recommend how the 1969 Uncameral should find the money to improve and expand the state's highway system.

The committee criss-crossed the state earlier this year to test citizen sentiment on proposals to use revenue bonds to provide the cash for highway development. The committee also took the pulse of officials from subdivisions of government on how the funds should be split between cities and counties.

The State Highway Commission, the advisory arm of the Roads Department, has been reluctant to endorse the bond financing methods—which will be placed before the voters this November in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment.

missioners Dan Ramsey of Scottsbluff and Ralph H. Hanks of Lincoln and by State Engineer John Hossack. But officials of the petroleum industry—Executive Directors Charles E. Chase of the Nebraska Petroleum Council and George L. Watters of the Nebraska Petroleum Marketers—said Davis' plan "almost surely would mean a cut in the present tax rate" and would amount to "a losing proposition for the state's highway system."

More Pheasants For years the State of South Dakota rightfully boasted being the pheasant capital of the world. Within the last ten years their pheasant population nose dived. Naturally this curtailed much of the new money brought into the state by pheasant hunters as many chose not to hunt elsewhere.

Nothing stirs people more than reducing their income and the people of South Dakota were very upset over the loss of income from the pheasant hunters. The result was that pressure was brought to bear on the Governor to launch an investigation that would identify the causes of the decline of pheasants. The eventual goal was to restore previous population levels.

The two State Universities undertook the study. It lasted five years. Their findings debunked many of the popular theories advanced such as excessive fox predation. Instead they reported that the fluctuation in a pheasant population "is a problem that defies simple explanation because of the multiple factors involved."

The report emphasized that of the many factors studied habitat was the most significant. Suggestions for improvement included providing uncultivated plots adjacent to cultivated fields, preservation of wetlands and maintenance of roadside vegetation. Bounties should not be placed on predators and the public should be informed about

Solid-State—What is it? Did you know that solid-state devices are making possible more efficient and functional electrical household appliances with every little increase in cost? The solid-state device is a semiconductor developed by the electronics industry for use in controls and circuits. It acts like the point of a needle—a slight action will produce a large reaction.

When a solid-state control is built into a food blender it assures a constant speed level regardless of the density of foods being blended.

Sewing machines with an electronic speed control have full power, controlled speed at all settings and makes for easier operation by beginners.

Solid-state circuits make possible the infinite number of position and spin cycles in laundry equipment today.

One of the newest items to acquire the solid-state circuitry is the electric blanket. It does away with the bedside control box and thermostats of conven-

Eligible people of legal age may file their own applications for this program with the Veterans Administration Regional Office, he said. For minor children, the parent or guardian must file.

Nixon said special restorative training may be provided to young men or women unable to pursue an education because of some physical or mental disability. It consists of training such as speech and voice correction, lip-reading, Braille reading and similar restorative programs.

In some instances, handicapped children may begin a special vocational or restorative course as early as age 14. The VA manager said that more than 125,000 students have been helped in the program since 1956 when it was established.

VA Schooling Aid For Veterans' Heirs

Veterans Administration will pay up to $130 a month to help educate each son and daughter of a deceased veteran who died in service or of a service-connected disability—or one who has been totally and permanently disabled as a result of honorable service.

These payments are usually provided for sons and daughters between the ages of 18 and 26. C. W. Nixon, manager, VA Regional Office, Lincoln, said today. The program is intended for education beyond the secondary school level, but there are some exceptions. Marriage does not bar this benefit, he said. An eligible person may receive up to 36 months of schooling—or the equivalent of 36 months if enrolled part time. Monthly

One of the many reasons so many homemakers reach for Safeway Meats —
Every cut is closely trimmed
 Our method of preparing meat gives you more good eating meat because excess fat and bone are trimmed off before the cut is weighed. We also make sure that each cut will be just right for proper cooking. The meat on every steak for example, is all steak meat. The less tender portion of loin steaks is cut off. Another reason so many people are reaching for Safeway Meats!

Earthquake Jolts Dixon Co. Pioneers

There are very few substantiated reports of earthquakes in this part of the United States but on November 15, 1877, early settlers in Dixon County were badly shaken by one. The quake began as the pioneers were preparing to eat dinner and continued for a brief time.
 In some areas of the county the tremors were very intense. Houses tilted and trembled, furniture shifted about, dishes rattled in the cupboards and on the tables. In some cases china was shaken from shelves and broken. In a few homes, the chimneys were destroyed and window glass was broken. Luckily, there was no loss of life reported and property damage was not heavy.
 The most severe shocks were reported at the John H. Armstrong residence on South Creek in northern Dixon County and at the Rev. Hutchinson place in the Silver Creek community west of Ponca.

Two or three stars are born in the Milky Way each year. They seem to condense out of globules of dust, astronomers report.
