Chamber of Commerce Committee Votes 'Yes' on Most Amendments

The Legislative Committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce voted Monday in favor of 11 of the 15 proposed amendments to the Nebraska Constitution.

The committee did not take a stand on proposed amendments number seven, nine, 10 and 13 because of lack of information.

Those amendments would permit the Legislature to increase the number of regents of the University of Nebraska and require the Legislature to redistrict the state for their election; permit the Legislature to establish a Board of Parole and let the power of pardon rest with a board made up of the Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State; permit the Legislature to create by special law public corporations which are or have been organized for the purposes of the generation, transmission or sale of electricity; and would permit the state to guarantee or make long-term or low-interest loans to Nebraska residents seeking adult or post high school education.

The committee studies legislative problems in the state and lets the Chamber of Commerce make a public stand on legislative matters.

High IQ's Found In Wayne School

Kiwanians Monday heard a report on the work of Educational Service Unit No. 1 from the unit's director, Harry Mills, Wakefield, and learned, among other things, that a high number of students in Wayne's Middle School have IQ's of more than 130.

During the testing of children to screen students for an accelerated class in the Middle School, 15 of 50 tested were found to have IQ's of 130 to 146. Another 50 students remain to be tested under the program. Testing was done by a member of the unit staff. A psychiatrist from Norfolk state hospital staff will then re-test these children to confirm the findings.

This testing is only one of the services rendered to schools asking for service from the unit, Mills said.

Nursing service, physical examinations, speech and reading therapy and programs for the retarded also have been conducted by unit staff members.

In 1967, Mills said, 10,000 students were tested for speech problems and 1,500 were found to be in need of assistance.

Programs for the educable are now being conducted at Center, Bloomfield and Belden with a program for the trainable at Hartington and Emerson. Programs for the educable also are underwritten at Wayne, Emerson, Rosalie and South Sioux City.

Dixon County Schools Hold Government Day

Allen and Wakefield were two of six high schools in Dixon County planning on sending students to Ponca Wednesday to participate in the 1968 County Government Day.

The annual event, sponsored by the American Legion Posts and Auxiliary Units of the six towns, attempts to give the students a better idea of how the county government functions and what the county officials' duties are.

Registration for the all-day event began Wednesday morning at 8:45 in the Dixon County courthouse in Ponca. At 9:45 in the morning a general assembly was held with Merle Kingsbury, county attorney, as chairman. The students heard a member of the Nebraska State Patrol at 10 a.m. and shortly before lunch the students had the oath of office administered by County Judge Walter L. Malcom. After spending some time in the county office for which they were elected, the students assembled in the District Court Room to hear closing remarks by Kingsbury and Paul C. Peterson, Dixon County superintendent of schools.

The other high schools represented at the all-day affair were

Young Democrats Actual Callan Host

In order to keep a semblance of peace between the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats at Wayne State College, we must apologize for an error in the last issue of The Wayne Herald concerning Clair Callan's speech on the campus.

Clair Callan was not, and we emphasize this, he was not invited to speak on the campus by the Young Republicans. He was invited by the Young Democrats. He, of course, is a Democrat. The story incorrectly stated he was invited by the Young Republicans.

The mistake was not intentional. A Democrat wrote the story.

Dixon Area Without Herald Correspondent

Would you like a job writing news about the Dixon area for The Wayne Herald?

Mrs. Sterling Borg, our Dixon correspondent for the past nine years, has accepted a job at the Northeast Station at Concord and will no longer be able to write news for us. We need someone from the Dixon area to take over her job.

The writing job would entail sending The Wayne Herald news about church and social activities, club meetings and people from the area visiting in other towns or having out-of-town visitors.

If you have an interest in writing and enjoy seeing Dixon and Dixon people mentioned in the newspaper, write, phone or stop in The Wayne Herald for more information. Phone number 375-2600.

You cannot vote November 5 unless you have registered at the County Clerk's office in the Wayne County courthouse. Last day for registration is October 25.

young with which they work that, "It isn't easy to be neat, clean and to speak properly. I hope you will teach them the social graces."

Decker continued, "It is so important today for young people to stand on their feet and speak properly. I hope you'll teach these young people what communism, fascism and nationalism so they will know that our system of government is of the highest form."

Dr. Decker expressed his hope that those present would assist the schools in teaching youth the essential graces of good living. "The schools can't do it all," he said.

Closing the ceremony was G.R. "Dick" Manley, District Scout Training chairman.

The 1968 Recognition dinner planning committee was Adon Jeffrey, chairman; Wesley Winstett, G. H. Manley, J. H. Niles and Glenn C. Downer.

Displays, Olympics, Football Combine To Make WSC Homecoming Successful

Homecoming is a pleasant memory for Wayne Staters, who now dig in for mid-semester tests in the next few days.

Except for drizzling rain during the Saturday football game, homecoming proved in the opinion of many observers—highly successful. President W. A. Brandenburger commented in a Wayne Stater article: "Homecoming 1968 was among the very finest I have seen of this or any other campus."

dormitories and organizations were unusually imaginative this year. Judges arrived at these awards: In the dormitory class, Berry Hall first, Pile Hall second, Moray Hall third, Anderson and Nelhardt Halls, honorable mention; in the organization class, Delta Sigma Pi first, Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma jointly, second, WSEAN third, Alpha Psi Omega and the Drama Club jointly, honorable mention.

All displays followed the theme of "A Tribute to Walt Disney."

Friday night the social fraternities and sororities staged their second annual Greek Olympics with competition such as egg-tossing, tug of war, pyramid building, torch race, chariot race and the hilarious sleeping bag relay, in which the co-eds changed shorts inside a sleeping bag.

Each sorority had a candidate for the title of Helen of Troy; each fraternity a candidate for Alexander. The sorority whose team scored highest in the games claimed the Helen title. It went to Phi Alpha Lambda's Pat Laughlin of Herman. The winning fraternity was Beta Sigma Psi and its Alexander nominee, Lee Carlson of Sioux City.

In freshman skit competition the winners were Nelhardt Hall first, Anderson Hall second, Moray Hall third.

Less conspicuous among homecoming activities, the Wayne State Foundation in its annual trustees' meeting Friday adopted a budget of $11,100 to support various student, faculty and campus projects. Major items: $3,000 for undergraduate scholarships, $1,500 for faculty research, $2,000 for the permanent endowment fund, $1,500 for completion of the college FM radio station and $500 for the purchase of art objects.

Foundation President Val Peterson expressed appreciation to hundreds of alumni and friends of the college for their support of the foundation, now in its seventh year. He especially praised the Wayne community for its sizable contributions—which he described this way, "Considering the size and nature of the town, Wayne's support of the Foundation is as good as I have seen anywhere."

The Foundation reelected Peterson president; Henry Ley, vice-president; Adon Jeffrey, secretary-treasurer; Kenneth Oles, resident agent. Dr. Freeman Decker was named executive secretary, succeeding Paul McCluskey, now of New York, who was voted in as a trustee.

HELEN AND ALEXANDER. Pat Laughlin as Helen; Lee Carlson as Alexander.

Four Wayne Men to Attend Oakland Planning Meeting

Four persons from Wayne plan to attend the District III meeting of the Nebraska Planning and Zoning association in Oakland, Oct. 24.

They are Harold Kemble, secretary of the Wayne Planning Commission and co-host of the Oakland meeting; Wilmer Marra, city councilman; Robert Carhart, member of the original planning commission; Tony Netherda, president of the present planning commission.

Oakland, in cooperation with the state organization is sponsoring the meeting.

The meeting is designed to provide an informal atmosphere whereby city and county officials, members of planning commissions and interested citizens can discuss local planning activities and problems and foster the exchange of planning information and techniques among cities and counties.

Program topics include "County Planning and Implementation" and "Cooperation between Planning Commissions and Elected Officials."

The meeting will be at the Oakland city hall beginning at 7:30 p.m.

According to Robert Bogue, District III representative and chairman of the Oakland and Northeastern Nebraska Planning Commissions, "An invitation to attend this meeting is extended to all city officials, planning commissioners and interested citizens in Northeastern Nebraska."

The association's reason for providing information and ideas to local groups through regional meetings is to encourage a better understanding of planning and the implementation of planning programs.

Persons wishing to attend the Oakland meeting should contact Kemble.

P. O. Ups Rates

Postmaster Don Wightman reminds postal customers in the Wayne area that higher parcel post and catalogue rates will go into effect Saturday.

The rate increase will average 10.5 per cent in most cases and will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel.

These higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July. Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 cents to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under the present rates will go up 10 cents. This accounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post, Wightman pointed out.

There will be a 15 cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4.00, and a 20 cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.00.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed. Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogues are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs, as required by law, Postmaster Wightman explained. The higher rates are designed to put parcels and catalogues—which are fourth-class mail—on a break even basis.

After opening on Broadway on December 26, 1940, the play ran for 685 performances before being closed on January 16, 1942. It has been adapted to the screen, made into a day-time serial and has been made into a musical. The play has a cast of 27.

Prior to the 11:35 a.m. joint legion and auxiliary religious service there will be schools held for commanders and adjutants, service and employment officers and child welfare.

A luncheon will be served in Providence Hall at 11:50 a.m. followed by the 1:15 p.m. parade. Further afternoon activities include an address by department Vice-Commander Ray Steffmeier, reports, new business, election and installation of new officers.

Past National, Commander William E. Galbraith, is the featured speaker for the evening, following the 6:30 p.m. banquet at Providence Hall.

October is a memorable month for the WSCS of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne. Local WSCS women are among more than 1,600,000 members of women's groups in the former Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren Churches to officially mark the unification in the new United Methodist Church. Present to celebrate the unification Wednesday were 87 members and two guests, Mrs. Dora Davis, Manhattan, Kan., and Mrs. Carroll Peterson, Westfield, N.J. Mrs. Stanley Smith and Mrs. Dan Titze were in charge of the program. Histories of the former EUB and Methodist women's groups were reviewed. The new charter was signed and membership cards were presented by Mrs. Mildred West, president. Others unable to attend the meeting will be given an opportunity to sign up at a later time. The program closed by all partaking of the Agape Feast. Mrs. Clarence Preston was hostess chairman. A 1 p.m. luncheon is planned Nov. 13 with Mrs. Elary Rinehart as hostess chairman.

PASS COMPLETION from Quarterback Chuck Trickler (14) to Gene Wacholtz (88) deep in Wildcat territory moved the Wildcats out to about their own 25 yard line. The Wayne State Wildcats went on to down Hastings 16-7 Saturday afternoon.

Fans Aglow after Homecoming Win; Wildcats Get in Shape for Kearney

Wayne State football spectators may still be aglow over the 16-7 Wildcat verdict in Saturday's homecoming tilt with Hastings, but the players could not afford to reminisce long—not with Kearney State as the next foe.

The 2 p.m. encounter Saturday is part of Kearney's band day show, and the Wildcats cherish ideas of shellshocking the Antelope fans as they did two years ago, spilling a Kearney Homecoming. Only twice since 1955 have the Wildcats whipped Kearney. Both times at Kearney. Wayne fans are planning a million to see another upset.

There is a fair view, Wayne coaches and players recognize the defending champion Antelope, though beater twice this year, always are formidable. In both their last two games they came from behind to whip Hastings, 31-20, and Peru, 56-21.

Two weeks ago Chadron humiliated Wayne, 26-0, and Coach Tom Lemmer, before the Hastings game, told a Homecoming rally he did not expect a repeat embarrassment. Turned out he was a good prophet.

The Wildcats handled Hastings. It wasn't easy, but Wayne defense returned to form and stopped all but one Bronco attack. In fact, a defensive play was the game. Cornerback Pat Holston, a freshman from Scotch Plains, N. J., outmaneuvered a Hastings pass receiver and raced with the punted ball 75 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Only one Bronco had a chance to catch the defensive interception, but Holston shook him off.

IN DANGER ZONE. This Hastings ball carrier was stopped just short of the goal in Saturday's tilt at Wayne. This drive went all the way to within six feet of pay dirt before Wayne stifled the drive. Rushing in on this play are Joe Dashiell (82) and Gene Wacholtz (88).

Don Grubaugh barely missed the extra point on that third-quarter score, but in the fourth period he kicked a 36-yard field goal to give Wayne a 16-7 margin with 1:05 left.

Lost fumbles set up first-half touchdowns for each team. Wayne nabbed a Hastings bobble on the Bronco 37 and moved authoritatively to a score. Quarterback Marty Goring executed one of the neatest Wildcat fakes in years, and while Hastings pounced on tailback Sam Singleton, Goring bootlegged clear for a five-yard pass to split end Greg Walker in the end zone. Grubaugh kicked the point.

Late in the second quarter Hastings converted a Wayne fumble on the Wildcat 27 into a scoring series which ended with wingback Benny Congrove plunging two yards and kicking the point. Fourteen seconds remained, and in that time Wayne moved 62 yards.

Defense dominated the second half. Wayne stopped a Hastings assault inches from a first down on the six and twice more smothered Bronco efforts. The last time out Wayne in field goal position, and Grubaugh came through for the insurance three-pointers.

A cheering fact was the return of Singleton to his 1967 running form. He traveled 81 yards on 29 carries, his first sizable production since a first-game injury. Fullback John Perkins contributed 62 yards to Wayne rushing for a team-leading season 264. Singleton rates second with 160. Curiously, neither Perkins nor Singleton has scored a point this year.

Grubaugh has 21 of 59 Wayne points, Goring 12. The team's game average of just under 12 points a game is well below Wildcat averages of recent years.

Schellenberg was knocked out of Friday night's game against Ponca with a dislocated hip. Coach Pete Kropp said Schellenberg will be out for the rest of the season. He is now in a Norfolk hospital and will probably be released in a week, according to Kropp. But Kropp said he will have to be on crutches for about a month or two and will not be able to play any more football.

Schellenberg, a senior, will probably be replaced by Tackle Bob Wacker, also a senior, or by Dale Miller, a sophomore.

Kropp expects Randolph, conference leader, to be tough and fast Friday night.

Although not racking up extremely high scores in any of its games, Randolph has emerged victor in all five of its starts this season. After sneaking by Coleridge 13-12 in the season opener, Randolph trounced Ponca 20-7 and shut out Osmond 6-0. Two weeks ago Wynot fell victim to Randolph 18-6, and Friday night Randolph polished off Hartington 31-22.

Winside is in fifth place in the Lewis and Clark Conference with a record of two wins, one loss and one tie. The Wildcats' only loss was in the season opener when they went down in defeat against Emerson, Hubbard 25-0. They knocked off Allen 18-7 and Hartington 12-0 before being tied by Ponca 7-7 Friday night.

Omaha, Plainview Harriers Take Honors In WSC High School Cross Country Meet

Two Omaha high schools, Bryan and Rummel, shared Class A honors while Plainview won Class B competition in the Wayne State Invitational High School cross country meet Tuesday.

Bryan and Rummel each scored 13 points, but Bryan took home the team trophy because its fourth finisher placed twelfth, ahead of Rummel's fourth placer, who was sixteenth.

Greg Jones of Rummel won in 9:43, considered a record for the two-mile course. Last year when the race covered 1.9 miles Doug Smith of Sioux City Central won in 9:09. Don Montgomery of Bryan trailed Jones at 9:48; Doug Bishop, Bryan, was third at 9:53; KJ Thanel, Norfolk, fourth, 9:55; Bob Leavitt, Rummel, fifth at 10:00.

The next five in Class A were Kent Herrings, Sioux City Central, 10:01; Dave Micheels, Rummel, 10:16; Bill Dible, Sioux City Central, 10:15, and Scott Chaussee, Sioux City Central, 10:16.

In Class A team scoring Central ranked third with 25, followed by Norfolk, 43; Fremont, 60, and Sioux City Heelan, 67.

The Class B individual champion was Keth Naber of Hooper in 10:03—faster than the previous B record of 10:05 to 10:10 mile distance. Don Pahl, Coleridge, was second at 10:09, trailed by Steve Wearne, Bloomfield, 10:14; Chuck Roach, Plainview, 10:17; Jim Krause, Plainview, 10:19; Lyle Lingenfelter, Plainview, 10:20.

Crofton placed second with 26 points—only the third time in 11 years of the meet Crofton has not won its class. Creighton finished third with 35; Hooper had 37, Pierce 54, Bloomfield 64, Tekamah 74, Stanton 82.

Wayne State Cross Country Coach Bill Silverberg said the times were exceptional, many of them faster than times over the shorter distance of previous years. Wind conditions made the performances even more commendable, he added.

Lacking Stinger, Bees Invade Wayne Friday

Wayne Blue Devils will have what looks like another easy Friday night when they take on the invading Bloomfield Bees in their sixth game of the season and their fifth Western Division Husker Conference tilt.

The Bees, still looking for that first victory of the season, are currently battling Plainview to see which one is stuck in the conference cellar. Both have season records of no wins and five losses and conference records of no wins and four losses.

Having trouble both on offense and defense, the Bees have given up 113 points to their opponents while racking up only 27 on their own side of the clock. They have been shut out by both Madison, 19-0, and Pierce, 28-0. Laurel Bears slapped the Bees with a 32-7 loss in the season opener, and Stanton squeaked out a win over them 20-14. Friday night Crofton dropped them 12-6 in their first non-conference contest this season.

Wayne is presently sole occupier of first place in the conference. Laurel holds down second with a record of four wins and one loss, and Pierce and Madison are tied for third with records of three wins and one loss.

Late in the first quarter Wayne forced West Point into a punting situation deep in their own territory and came up with the ball on the 10 yard line after a bad pass from center. Quarterback Ted Armbruster moved up the gut for nine yards in the opening seconds of the second quarter and Les Echtenkamp dove over from the one to put Wayne on the scoreboard. The extra point was good and Wayne took a 7-0 lead.

West Point needed only one sustained drive following Wayne's kick to reach pay dirt and tied the score on the second point after try.

Mike Biltott took West Point's kick on his own 20 and raced to the 49 before being hauled down. Three straight passes from Quarterback Armbruster and a short gain on the ground put Wayne over the goal. The score came on an Armbruster-Rick Robbins pass from 20 yards out.

West Point threatened to score their next series of downs, taking the ball from their own 20 all the way to Wayne's 13 before finally being stopped short of the score. West Point probably would have scored if it hadn't been for Biltott's tackle on the 13 and two blocked passes by Armbruster and Tietgen. Wayne held a slim 13-7 lead going into halftime.

Wayne's third score again came on an Echtenkamp run from about one yard out. The score was set up after an Armbruster-Gary Hethold pass moved the hosts to the nine yard line. Rick Robbins rolled in for the point after to increase Wayne's lead to 20-7.

In the final quarter Dick Tietgen raced all the way from his own 25 to West Point's 25 on an end sweep and it looked like Wayne would score again. But Armbruster was thrown back to the 43 as he attempted to pass. After handing over the ball to the visitors, Wayne recovered a West Point fumble only 33 yards from the goal. They gambled on a fourth down and four situation and made the first down. Biltott rolled around his right end to score Wayne's final touchdown. The extra point try failed and Wayne moved comfortably in front 26-7 with only a few minutes to go in the game.

Morningside freshmen downed Wayne State's yearling football team, 14-9, here Wednesday afternoon, overcoming a 7-0 half-time deficit.

Wayne took a second-quarter lead on a four-yard run by Jim Ploeger and his extra-point run. Morningside Quarterback Mike Junck passed to Dan McClannahan two yards for the Little Chief's catch-up touchdown, and McClannahan added the extra point kick. Junck connected with Roger Sell on the second TD for three yards. Again McClannahan converted.

Wayne threatened twice in the closing minutes, pushing Morningside inside its own five the second time, but fell short of the goal line. On the next series Morningside made little headway getting out of the hole, and Wayne caught Junck in the end zone for a safety.

Wayne State suffered its first cross country loss of the season Friday when Kearney won a 20 to 35 decision on the Kearney course.

Bill Young of the hosts won in 20:55 on the four-mile course; teammate Rich Molyck was second at 21:59; Larry Boekelman, Wayne, third at 22:00.

After them were Ralph Zavala, Kearney, 22:05; Wayne Phipps, 22:21; Duane Wilken and Steve Dosh, Wayne, 22:29 and 22:32; Mike Moreno, Kearney, 22:34; Gary Day and Larry Kuehl, Wayne, 22:37 and 23:00.

Coach Bill Silverberg said that for Wayne's three freshmen the four-miler was their first competition at that long distance. They have been running three miles, which is longer than high school competition.

Games Friday night: Coleridge at Allen (Homecoming); Bloomfield at Wayne; Winside at Randolph; Laurel at Crofton; Oakland at Wakefield; Emerson-Hubbard at Ponca.

Games Saturday: Wayne State at Kearney.

Grouse Released At New Park Site

LINCOLN, Nebr.—A dozen ruffed grouse were released in Nemaha County on land owned by the Game Commission which is destined to become Indian Cave State Park.

Once native to Nebraska, the ruffed grouse was eliminated many years ago by land clearing and unrestricted hunting. The heavily timbered areas along the Missouri River comprised their habitat, and it is hoped a few of the grouse will "adopt" Indian Cave for the benefit of visitors.

M. O. Steen, Game Commission director, said, "We do not anticipate that the ruffed grouse will become established or increase to the point where they are an important game bird in Nebraska. We do hope that a small population can be maintained to add to the variety of fauna in this part of the state."

The birds were obtained from the Minnesota Game Department in exchange for wild turkeys furnished to them by the Nebraska Commission a few years ago. Exchanges of birds and animals between states have enabled game managers to make experimental transplants of various birds and mammals. In fact, Nebraska's turkey population grew out of 28 birds which were supplied by South Dakota and Wyoming.

A 'Look and Live' Museum

by Merlin Wright

Articles that have historical significance to Wayne County, collected by the Wayne County Historical Society, are at this moment jammed, piled, wedged and shelved into a room too small to accommodate them. The room is upstairs in the Wayne County Courthouse. Walk into the small area where there isn't room to display the symbols carrying the shadows of yesterday and one immediately realizes the great need for the erection of a building offering ample display space.

As you read these lines, dust is gathering on the 1870 wood ironing pin used by pioneering women to get a few wrinkles out of the laundry. So what? In order to preserve antiques from yesterday, so that generations yet to come may see how their ancestors lived, the articles must be protected against dust, humidity and curious hands. Certainly the need for a museum in Wayne County has been justified and consequently the Society presently is involved in a membership drive to secure funds. At least $10,000 is needed to put up a building adequate for a museum. A two acre plot of ground has been given to Wayne County Historical Society as a site for the museum, providing money for the building is raised.

A "look and live" museum will provide opportunity for area residents and tourists to look into past decades, and for a few moments live with them in one's imagination. Observing the 100 year old wooden water pump, the 1870 single row corn planter, spinning wheels, clocks, lamps, guns, pictures, clothes, cradles, pump organ, rockers, an 1874 dog treadmill and the 1850 hand washing machine will assist the onlooker to estimate the determination and courage, the stamina and effort necessarily exhibited by those frontiersmen who broke the virgin soil in our area of Wayne County.

Miss Goldie Leonard and Mrs. Mathilda Harms are displaying the sleighbells that need appropriate exhibition. Remember how the tinkle of the bells cut through crisp winter air, along with the steady sound of a one horse cutter gliding along, on a cold winter's night, beneath a full moon? Or maybe the sleigh bells were attached to a bobsled filled with laughing children, but whatever the history of the bells might be, they should be preserved along with their ever-pleasant jingle.

Why? Because all of the items collected, including the bells, are a peek into Wayne County's history.

The present generation will do well to preserve the relics for the new Wayne Countians arriving on the horizon of tomorrow.

Lime Creek P. O. Established in 1868 In Dixon County

Lime Creek was the seventh post office established in Dixon County. Herman Tarsony, the first postmaster, received his appointment Sept. 18, 1868. Other postmasters were James McCreey, 1873, Christopher Nelson, 1879, and Irwin Catlin, 1882. The name of the post office was changed to Lime Grove in 1883 with Christopher Nelson again being appointed postmaster. He continued in this position until 1902 when the post office was discontinued and the mail service was transferred to New-castle.
In addition to the post office, there was a general store and a blacksmith shop operated by Nels Johnson, a brother of Postmaster Christopher Nelson. Johnson was an outstanding blacksmith and wheelwright. Many of the tools were handmade in his shop as they were needed. The power to operate the shop machinery came from a hand-made water wheel powered by water from Lime Creek.

Take the guesswork out of beef feeding with
KENT PRECISION NET ENERGY

New KENT Beef Feeding Program Allows You to Predict Exact Rate of Gain and Production Cost

Agricultural university announcements of Net Energy present a highly complex picture of this new concept. Reducing it to its simplest terms, however, Net Energy is the amount of nutrients remaining for maintenance and weight gain after losses from urine, feces, heat and gases are subtracted. Kent nutrition scientists have combined the Net Energy Concept with Kent Precision Programs and produced workable feeding tables which you can use to maximize your feeding operation.
Now you can calculate the exact amount of supplement, corn and roughage needed to give you a specific rate of gain, and figure your cost almost to the penny. This gives you greater control than ever before possible.
If you want to finish your cattle on a corn and legume hay ration, just find the weight of your steers on the proper table, such as the example shown. It will tell you exactly how much supplement, corn and hay to feed for your desired rate of gain.
No longer do you routinely feed two lbs. of supplement per head per day from start to finish. Why carry potential profits out in your spreader? Use Kent's new Precision Net Energy programs to feed beef just what it takes to make your market weight on the market date! See us soon for a free copy of the new Kent Precision Net Energy Program.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial... but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Inverted Golden Rule

Somewhere, sometime, someplace, a mind incensed with a burning hatred, gave birth to an ignitable philosophy. It could be called the inverted golden rule. Here it is. Prevent others from doing to you what you plan to do and want to do to them.

Imagine! Seeds of this ideology can be planted in a mind of any age. Perhaps you've seen an angry youngster whose temper was momentarily magnified, attempt the master coup against his mother.

Mom has caught Johnny taking cookies out of the cookie jar. She is about to give him a spanking and he knows it. Throwing her off guard he looks at her and says, "Mommy, I love you!" He knows this will stay the whipping hand. In reality, he wouldn't mind seeing her spanked instead, for coming into the room just as he was having the time of his life, taking what he wanted. After all, a mother shouldn't be so bothersome as to interfere with his craftiness. His words have prevented her from doing to him what he would like to do to her.

Regardless of age, a thief does not like to be stolen from, and though he may have spent a lifetime stealing, he doesn't want others stealing from him. Likewise, a murderer doesn't want to be murdered.

A convicted murderer, awaiting the execution date, doesn't want his life to be snuffed out in an electric chair. He wants to prevent the court from doing to him what he would like to do to that blasted court. The inverted golden rule is many a man's philosophical bible.

Thomas Paine wrote in a 1776 crisis, "these are the times that try men's souls." How apropos in this hour of history! Certainly men's souls were tried with the rioting in Chicago during the Democratic National Convention. Evidently plotted with precision, the collusion of rioters with the police, brought forth the charge of "police brutality." The charge was a lie screamed by liars. This is what the evidence indicates after it was all over. But remember, liars do not like to be lied to. Those strategists of mayhem and violence purposefully antagonized liars in order to do to the police what they did not want the law officers doing to them. It wasn't the police, but rather the hecklers, who threw balls of twine with nails in them, verbal invectives of hate, and plastic bags containing human refuse. After such action the hecklers then accused the police of brutality. Do to others what you wouldn't stand for their doing to you!

You may have noted, on more than one occasion, the obvious action of those who crusade for "free speech". Too often such individuals only want free speech for themselves but will refuse to permit anyone else having the same right. Civil rights become uncivil rites.

Abraham Lincoln once said, in a speech before a group of young men in Springfield, Ill., in 1837, "There is no grievance that is a fit object of redress by mob rule." What was true then is true now.

Are rioters merely chips off the block of war? Warriors necessarily use the inverted golden rule. A fighting man has to prevent the enemy from doing to him what he plans on doing to the enemy. It would appear then, that those who clamor so vociferously against the outrage of war in Vietnam by rioting, yet trying to appear as peace-loving doves, are actually using the identical philosophy necessary to the military strategist! This is not so strange upon analyzing the Chicago rioting, for the hecklers and demonstrators appear to believe they are in a war. Do they not openly advocate destroying the hallmarks of capitalism, a system they apparently despise? They rebel, torment, and riot with lawmen using the war philosophy of preventing the police from doing to them, exactly what they are planning on doing to the police, before television cameras.

In a day and age when our nation needs leadership bristling with moral armament, strength of character, stamina of will, we are suffering from the effects of golden rule inversion.

Note that the U.S. has had more than 130,000 men wounded or killed in Vietnam. Tens of thousands of South Vietnamese have been killed by Russian made arms supplied to the Viet Cong. Russia is directly responsible for every casualty, yet remember, that Russia has not lost a single man in the war. State Department heads contend that for the U.S. to get angry and offend Russia would bring about an atomic war. Why would Russia care to do this when she is already successfully bleeding America without injury to her own men? Why should the U.S. have anything to do with Russia until she stops slaughtering and murdering our soldiers and international friends?

How very odd that our government continues to treat Russia as a trading friend when the USSR is a professional, not an amateur, in practicing the ideology of preventing the U.S. from doing to her what she has long planned to do to America. Krushchev declared what the Reds have in mind for our nation. You may recall his words, "we will bury you!"

You may disagree heartily, that is freedom of opinion, but from this side of the desk it appears that chorus of voices from underground America singing "we shall overcome," may believe they are singing the introduction of a funeral dirge for capitalism. It need not happen. — MMW.

When a Ghost Haunts a Town

In their publication, the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce gives five rules to follow to make any town, city, hamlet, or village a ghost town. We're nearing Halloween and the ghost of a chance that Wayne residents might possibly view such a specter of thought with interest motivates the article's reproduction.

Number One: Tell everyone you meet that you never buy anything at home; the merchants are a bunch of crooks, robbers and cheats.

Number Two: Belittle all efforts for community betterment, for the people trying to do these things are secretly making a lot of money, and want to 'run things' and their way of doing things is all wrong anyway.

Number Three: Never waste money advertising or waste time trying to attract trade to the town. Nobody reads the ads, there is never anything in the paper, it's always late, and why should anyone want to come to town, because it's a dead place.

Number Four: Turn down all appeals for contributions; and do it in a nasty way so you won't be bothered again, because the money collected is eventually stolen by some 'higher ups' anyway.

Number Five: Refuse to serve on all committees, having nothing to do with civic organizations. The commercial club never does anything and is run by a bunch of dimwits who want only to get names before the public. All the city officials are in the office to get a share of the graft.

There you have it! Five simple directions for producing your own ghostly spectacle from one Halloween to the next!

Communities anticipating the future with their planning programs are not likely to be overrun with problems stemming from grim goblins of growth.

Businessmen who assist in downtown beautification by maintaining their own building, in which they carry on their trade, are to be congratulated. Such wisdom need not be haunted by the witches of potential failure resultant of careless public appearance.

A person in business cannot be overly concerned with those who would accuse him or her of having "bats in the belfry" when they see sizeable sums of money being reinvested back into the downtown home-front. The business front you present to your potential buyer, as a businessman, should be the best possible, for remember it's what you put front that counts!

Spooks spawn in multiples, it seems, particularly when the future arrives one day at a time and one hasn't planned ahead. Ghouls can bedevil the discouraged into letting everything run down. Customers cease to touch the door-handle. Cobwebs would appear to reproduce while embracing the merchandise. It's all over. Doors are closed and locked on another business investment.

Wayne's Comprehensive Plan can be, may be, and should be, the futuristic vehicle that can propel the entire community into tomorrow. True, some would rather make the trip by broom. Broomhandle mobility, however, is a fairy tale which must remain in the land of illusion.

A new set of Waynites and Wayneighbors awaken in bassinets each dawn. Do they have adequate housing available? Are there enough classrooms to hold them? What kind of town are they living in? Is it a community where every one takes pride in their property? Have folk truly perked up, polished up, picked up and promoted the town in preparation for "planned" progress?

As the coach of the old home town football team used to say, "Men, let's talk it up!" As Waynites let's talk up the town. Talking our town down, instead of up, is like getting on board a broom, hoping the witch doesn't show up.

Regardless of where you are, hitch your future to a star. Comprehensive planning will help find us fit for the space age. Let be who would be happy living in a casket full of yesterday allow we dreamers of a better future our right to dunk for apples in a tub of tomorrow. — MMW.

Capital News Tiemann Pledges to Trim Fat From Budget Requests

LINCOLN—Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann says he has the intention of recommending to the Legislature, and I am fairly certain, the Legislature has no intention of appropriating, a budget that will require any substantial tax increase.

Tiemann, who is in the midst of preparing his executive budget from requests submitted to him from the state's agencies, warned those requests were scheduled for "drastic reductions."

The governor pledged to "eliminate every nickel in those requests that is not necessary for the state's progress."

He described budget procedure as "a process of painstaking consideration of state needs and of equally painstaking consideration of these needs against the revenues that present tax rates can produce."

He said it is "not a casual, wild-eyed spending process." Tiemann said department heads, "in their dedication to their agency and their desire to create an ideal agency which would provide complete service to all citizens of the state which it serves, frequently produce requests much beyond what can be afforded by the state."

"I will not criticize them for this. It is my responsibility and that of the Legislature, not the agency heads, to cut back these requests to what the state can afford. "At the same time," Tiemann said, "I am sure that all agency heads recognize that they will not have their requests for funds approved without substantial reductions. If there are any agency heads who do feel that their request will be fully accepted by me, or, in turn, by the Legislature, they are being unrealistic."

The governor said he would never recommend a budget to the Legislature which I do not sincerely believe we taxpayers can afford."

The Missing Heir Caper Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer has warned Nebraskaans that confidence men are pulling the "missing heir" scheme again.

the "missing heir."

The confidence operators say that by mailing in $10 in cash the "heir" will be given the name of the attorney. If the money is sent, it is the last time the promoter is heard from.

"Such promoters do not stay in one place very long," Meyer said.

He advised anyone receiving such a letter to save the original and the envelope in which it was mailed for the use of the Postal Inspectors. If possible Better Business Bureaus should be notified. If not, Meyer said, Nebraskaans should contact his office to report such schemes.

Vote Return Delay Cited

The attorney general's office has issued an opinion which says election returns may not be made public in Nebraska until all the polls in the state have closed.

Until this ruling was issued, returns from polls in the Eastern Time Zone were released at 8 p.m. Now, this information will be held until 9 p.m. in the Eastern areas—until the polling booths in the Mountain Zone have closed.

The state has hired two firms for a total of $26,000 to recommend how a state planning office should be organized.

Douglas Rerueiter, who is designing the state planning operation for Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, identified the firms as Harold Wise & Associates of Washington, D. C., and Oblinger & Smith of Wichita, Kan.

Tiemann has indicated he plans to ask the 1969 Legislature to create a planning office. The recommendations from the consulting firms will be submitted in time to prepare a proposal for the senators.

Statehood Memorial Dedicated

The Thomas P. Kennard Home has been dedicated as a Statehood Memorial at Lincoln.

The house, one of the first frame buildings in Lincoln, was the home of Nebraska's first secretary of state.

The home has been restored and is open to visitors. It is located a block southeast of the capitol.

ETV Gap Problem Studied

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission has told there are at least four major areas in the state which receive weak signals from the ETV stations.

An engineering consulting firm has recommended installation of miniature transmitters to give the signal a boost.

The problem areas were identified as the southeast, southwest and northwest corners and the Albion vicinity.

Commission Secretary Jack McBride said there are funds in the current budget to deal with coverage problems.

Nine Million Dollar Pie

State Treasurer Wayne R. Swanson has established the total of the "pie" the state will divide among cities and counties under a new aid program at $9,740,612.99.

That figure, Swanson said, represents the revenue lost to the cities and counties through the repeal by the 1967 Legislature of the head, intangible property and household goods and personal effects taxes.

County assessors reported to Swanson the totals they received a year ago from these revenue sources. This amount now becomes the total to be divided each year by the state to the lower governmental units.

The "pie" will be sliced by counties according to a formula based half on the county's population in relation to the state's population and half on the valuation of real estate in the county in relation to the state total.

Then, the county slice will be divided again—with 80 percent going to the cities on a population basis and the remaining 20 percent going to county government.

In addition to the nearly $10 million in city and county aid, the unicameral last year established a $25 million kitty for distribution to public school districts.

Corn Harvesting Safety

"Train all operators in the efficient, safe operation of corn harvesters, elevators, tractors, silage cutters and combines. This can be the key to a safe corn harvest."

Although harvesting methods have changed a lot over the past five years, a few basic principles of safety still apply. They are:

1. Never oil, adjust, or unclog the machine while it is in motion.
2. Keep your machine in good mechanical condition.
3. Wear only clothes that fit snugly and do not have loose pockets or sleeves.
4. Keep all safety shields in place.
5. Keep trash and leaves away from exhaust manifolds.
6. Use a pyrex or metal sediment bulb on tractor or combine.
7. Carry a fire extinguisher and shovel in case of fire.

Perhaps the most important rule of all is not to get down from the operator's platform while the power is engaged. It may also help to take a break from the routine at mid-morning and mid-afternoon to avoid fatigue.

Care of Evergreens

Weather injury is the No. 1 enemy of the evergreen tree in Nebraska. Nebraskaans experience problems from such diseases as needle cast, tip blight and cedar apple rust; and insect pests such as tip moth, sawfly and needle miners—but none of these are as serious and widespread as weather injury.

Evergreens in Nebraska are particularly susceptible to winter drying. This usually occurs in late winter or early spring before new growth starts, when the tree has lost its protective snow cover and the ground is still frozen.

It is important to water evergreens thoroughly in late fall and early winter. This helps to keep the soil around the roots from freezing.

It is also important to mulch evergreens with a layer of straw or other organic material. This helps to insulate the roots and keep the soil from freezing.

1968 Dixon Terraces Double 1967

By Bill Yost
Dixon County SCS
Dixon county farmers more than doubled the amount of parallel terraces built in 1968 over 1967. Many farmers who were once reluctant to build terraces because of "point rows" are now requesting Soil Conservation Service employees to try and make the terraces parallel.

While this may not be practical on all fields, alignment of terraces is now uppermost in the minds of both the farmer and SCS technician. Generally, to make terraces parallel, additional soil must be moved to accomplish the job, but farmers are finding it well worth the extra expense involved.

Terrace widths are also flexible to fit the farmer's machinery. They may be built four, six or eight row equipment. Steep back-slopes are sometimes advised on steeper slopes. These areas are needed to grass to maintain the backslope and also provide forage for livestock during fall and winter grazing.

Dixon county farmers building parallel terraces during the past year include: Elton Miller, James Pearson, Paul Hanson, Roy Hanson, Evert Johnson, Richard Chapman and Ernest Whit.

Construction of terraces is generally best accomplished during fall and early winter months. Land owners and operators are urged to contact SCS employees or the ASCS office where cost-sharing for conservation work is available.

"3rd Ear" Needed

WHS Guidance Counselor, Kendall M. Carlson, believes parents today would be greatly rewarded if they would determine to become practiced listeners with what he chooses to call a "3rd ear". Listening to what another individual has to say is a dedicated art. Listening to what one's offspring is actually and really saying is a necessity. Understanding is a fruitful reward of good communication between parent and child.

Wayne High's counselor says that "factually, homes are now experiencing more stress, particularly those imposed upon a 'mobile' society, with the consequence that nearly two out of four marriages are ending in the divorce court. Our concepts of home life have been greatly altered by both the mass media and the idea of a 'disposable society'. This means that we are confronted with the idea, more or less, that whatever we don't like, throw it away. Such a concept means broken homes, increased emotional pressures on students, resultant in a 1968 student necessarily accepting increased responsibilities at an earlier age. Today's student has more opportunity to taste all varieties of experience contrasted to his or her counterpart, say 20 years ago.

Mr. Carlson said that the opportunity to compete for success is also greater. When society continues to make it increasingly difficult to reveal one's real self, sometimes teens will mask true emotions. To gain a better understanding of them, then, a parent must assist in helping peel off layers of defensiveness. A youth should have the opportunity of being their real self. In order for such development to take place, parents should listen with the "3rd ear" to what their teen is actually saying to them. It is exceptionally important to avoid a communication gap with any member of the family.

"Perhaps there has always been a generation gap," continued Carlson, "and there probably always will be to some extent. The so-called 'gap' can be exaggerated with the power of words, a verbal interchange that alienates child from parent."

WHS GUIDANCE COUNSELOR, Kendall Carlson, advises parents to become "practiced listeners."

There should be less of either/or, black or white, and allow some flexibility into decisions. Inflexible rules really never gain a whole lot, in that few people can follow a rule completely.

When the Counselor was questioned as to their being any particular cause for high school drop-outs, though Wayne High has a low rate of such occurrences, he replied, "School becomes boring for youth who do not have any interest in it and therefore they do not do well. In desperation they try to find something interesting wherever they can. Right at that moment the environment outside school looks more attractive." Working with young people at this stage is another area where a guidance counselor can bring education to an individual level of personal interest. The guidance counselor is interested in all aspects of the development of a student's personality which includes the field of education, vocation, psychology and social development.

"If I had one message to sound clearly to parents, it would be to listen ever so carefully with the '3rd ear'."
