

Rowland Critically Hurt In Car-Pedestrian Mishap

Elvis L. Rowland, 34, was critically injured about 11:30 p.m. Saturday when he was struck by a car as he was walking along the side of the new paving about a mile south of Wayne.

He was struck by a car driven by Bernard W. Johnson, 48, of Schuyler. A passenger in the Johnson car, Dale J. Jindra, 33, West Point, received cuts on his wrist.

State Trooper Cecil Hoeman's report on the accident said Rowland was walking south on the west edge of the road on closed Highway 15 when the accident occurred.

Johnson and Jindra had been off-loading the Wayne-Bloomfield football game in Wayne that evening.

State troopers, county sheriff and city police assisted at the scene.

Rowland lives south of Wayne on Highway 15. He is employed by McNatt Hardware as a television repairman, and moved only six weeks ago. He is the father of seven children.

He was transferred to the Veterans Hospital in Omaha Tuesday evening.

Minor Damage In Tractor Fire

Wayne Fire Department was called to the farm of Dale Johnson about noon Saturday to help put out a fire which had started while Johnson was working on a tractor. The fire caused about $100 damage and was extinguished by a fireman before the water truck arrived on the scene. The Johnson farm is one mile west and one half mile north of Wayne.

County Agent H. Gillaspie Steps Down After 28 Years

Howard Gillaspie, who has seen a whole generation of youngsters grow up on the farm and either follow in the footsteps of their parents or seek other areas of employment, has been forced to retire from his job as Dixon County agricultural agent.

Three heart seizures over the past few years have led to the decision by his doctors that he give up his job.

The decision has been hard for Gillaspie to accept. It would be surprising if it weren't—he has held the job of county agent for 28 years.

He said he is going to have a lot of spare time on his hands as soon as he gets all of his things moved out of his office at the Northeast Station near Concord. But one thing he plans on doing a little more of is fishing.

"I guess I'm a poor fisherman," he commented as he looked over two days of mail on his desk. "I'm one of those fishermen who doesn't really care if a fish bites all day or night, just as long as I can relax and think over things. If a fish does bite, fine, but I don't like to work at fishing—it takes the fun out of it."

He shuffled the pile of mail about, as if impatient to open it and do some more work.

"Until spring I guess I'll just play it by ear and decide what I'm going to do with my spare

Cash Night Prize Now Worth $150

Up for grabs tonight in the weekly Cash Night drawing is $150. There was no winner last Thursday night and the prize jumped $50.

The drawing is held at 8 p.m. and you have to be in one of the participating stores in order to claim the prize if your name is drawn. If you haven't done so yet, register in one of the stores taking part in the drawing so you will be eligible for the prize each week. Besides registering, there are no other requirements for being eligible to win. However, you do have to be 18 years or older in order to register.

Winside High Slave Auction Nets $587

The auctioneer at the Winside High School slave auction Saturday night was not content with just selling the boys to the highest bidders—he didn't stop until he had sold both coaches also.

Counting Pete Kropp and Jim Cramick, the auctioneer sold 48 slaves to the townspeople for a total of $587. The students sold for prices ranging from $8 to $25 and over 10 students brought over $20 each.

The money is to be used to help buy new glass backboards for the basketball court and a new whirlpool bath for the athletic department.

Pete Kropp and the students expressed their thanks to the buyers for their fine support of the auction.

Chest Drive Set for Nov. 1; Goal Is Pegged at $8,400

Wayne's Community Chest is nearing the kickoff of its campaign for 1969 funds.

Directors of the Chest announced today the campaign will begin a week from Friday, Nov. 1, and they hope to reach the goal within a week.

The goal is $8,400 to help participating agencies. But Chest President Larry DeForge said this figure is a minimum.

"We would be happy to get $10,000 and be able to give the agencies more. It is easily possible in Wayne."

There will be no residential campaign this year. Rather, the effort will be directed to visiting every employee in Wayne. In addition, a special effort is planned to reach residents who are not employed but would like to give to the Chest, especially those who have given regularly in the past.

About 70 per cent of the $8,400 goal is allocated to agencies that serve Wayne youth—the city youth program being the largest benefactor, plus the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Another agency, the USO, indirectly serves Wayne young people, the military men and women. The Salvation Army and Red Cross serve broader functions world-wide, but also serve in Wayne when needed.

The same is true of the Florence Crittenton Home.

Campaign Chairman Darrel Fuelberth has enlisted numerous workers to man the business-professional-industrial campaign. These workers will meet at a kickoff breakfast next Wednesday.

Honor Court Held

Wakefield Boy Scout Troop 172 held a Court of Honor Monday evening in the music room of the new school building.

Charlie Olsen, assistant Scoutmaster, made the presentation of awards. Steve Bressler received the rank of Star Scout. Merit badges for Citizenship in the Community and Swimming and Canoeing were awarded to Richard Magnuson. Les Swanson received a merit badge in Athletics.

WAKEFIELD PTA speakers Tuesday night were (from left) Robert Murphy, Harry Mills and Senator Elmer Wallway.

Wakefield PTA Hears Wallway, Murphy, Mills

Members of the Wakefield PTA listened to three guest speakers in their 8 p.m. meeting Tuesday night. Dr. Paul Byers introduced Robert Murphy of South Sioux City, State Senator Elmer Wallway, Emerson, and Harry Mills, Administrator of Educational Service Unit I.

Murphy is campaigning for incumbent Wallway's seat in the State Legislature. Both gentlemen endorsed continued emphasis on educational needs for all youth. Candidate Murphy pointed out that education amounts to one-third of the State's business and therefore is very important. Wallway explained the Legislature's interest in education over the State and had funded $25 million into educational aid.

Harry Mills spoke to the parents and teachers concerning trends in education. Speaking of re-organization he explained that in 1949 there were seven thousand school districts in Nebraska whereas this has decreased to twenty-one hundred in 1968. "The trend," Mills said, "is to move to towns over 2,500 unless a small town has some kind of industry." With this public mobility those in the field of educational planning need to consider where population centers will be in the next decade, and the one after that.

Mills continued "Nebraska has more school districts than all the other states west of the Mississippi." By naming six counties in western Nebraska, three of which have one school district and three having more than ten districts each, Mills illustrated that the cost per pupil can be less by re-organizing into fewer districts, yet providing more curricular opportunities for students.

The Educational Service Unit I Administrator spoke also of teacher's strikes, mentioning that both a teacher and a school board have certain rights. Among other things he mentioned particularly of interest to teachers are work loads, facilities, ample supplies, good equipment, extra curricular activities and salaries. County Clerk Gives Voters Last Warning

County Clerk Norris Wetble has issued this last warning to voters—you must register at his office by Friday if you want to vote in the general election Nov. 5.

Those people who have already registered to vote need not do so again. Only those people who have changed their name or moved from one ward or precinct to another since registering last time need do so again.

Wetble also reminded voters that they should begin preparing for the general election by studying the proposed amendments to the Nebraska Constitution and by becoming familiar with the ballot they will be given when they enter the voting booth.

The proposed amendments to the constitution will be printed two more times in The Wayne Herald, in this issue and next Thursday's issue. The sample ballot will be run once, in one of next week's issues of The Wayne Herald.

Norfolk Is Site Of N.S.E.A. Meet

Nebraska State Education Association, District III, will be convening in the Norfolk Senior High School today and Friday for the forty-eighth annual session. Roger E. Maxwell, president, will preside.

Area schools were dismissed Wednesday afternoon for the remainder of the week enabling faculty members to attend the NSEA convention.

Mrs. Leola Moller, Wayne, is one of three candidates running for the presidential office in District III. She teaches English and heads the English department at Wayne High. She has held this position since 1965 having previously taught English at Wakefield.

Wakefield School Superintendent, Muri Beller, is one of three candidates running for the office of District III Treasurer. He is presently serving his second year as superintendent in the Wakefield school system.

Superintendent Francis Haun of Wayne High is Director in District III and will appear on the convention program.

Wayne State choir, Dr. Jacques Norman, director, will sing during the Friday morning session.

Generator Engine Repair Moving On

Work is proceeding on the repair of the Worthington engine in Wayne's municipal power plant. The crankshaft has been installed and traced, the block assembly moved back over the base and crankshaft and workmen now are busy installing cylinder heads over each of the 12 pistons.

The slow, tedious job of locating the heads and tightening bolts is complicated by the great weight of the pieces and the necessity for working high above floor level.

Three men are required on the job to operate the hoist, position the piece and operate wrenches.

Police Round-Up

Wayne police continue to find great variety in the line of duty. They were contacted to help locate a missing man from the nursing home; two people reported their dogs lost; another individual reported his dog stolen; also investigated was a truck blocking the view at an intersection. Three business houses were left unlocked and checked by police.

Monday there was a collision involving three vehicles in the alley between 2nd and 3rd streets between Main and Pearl. The accident occurred when an MG drove north through the alley and collided with a 1955 Plymouth headed west, forcing the Plymouth into a parked pickup truck. The pickup escaped with minor damage but according to police reports the Plymouth suffered damages of approximately $214, and the MG damage was extensive.

Lila Jean Broders, John L. Huff Wed In Randolph Rites

Lila Jean Broder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Broder, Belden, and John L. Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huff, Randolph, were married at 7 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church, Randolph.

Rev. Rossbach officiated at the double ring rites. Darlyn Hansen sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." Ann Sellon was organist.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a gown of white acetate nylon and lace with empire styling. The bride featured tiny bows with full-length lace sleeves. Her train of acetate nylon was held at the shoulder line. Her veil of chantilly lace was held by a forward headpiece of pearls. She carried an arrangement of yellow roses with a white orchid in the center.

Patty Hinkley, Blunt, S. D., was maid of honor. She wore a gown of gold embossed taffeta in A-line with a deep back pleat and a matching headpiece formed with a gold crown and veiling. She carried a single yellow mum.

Terry Huff, Randolph, served his brother as best man. Duane Meier, Kearney, and Junior Norton Dowling, Randolph, were ushers. Rodney Berner, Randolph, and Richard Broders, Belden, lighted the candles.

The bride's mother chose a brown suit dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a green suit dress with brown accessories. Each wore a bronze mum corsage.

A reception for 130 guests was held in the church basement following the ceremony. Jenice King, Blunt, S. D., registered the guests. Gifts were arranged by Kathy Bierschenk and Jean Huwaldt, Randolph. Mrs. Laura Norman cut the five tier cake, which had been baked and decorated by Mrs. Frank Swanson.

Mrs. John Berner poured. Waitresses were Sharon Poppe, Regina Eddle, Randolph, and Barbara Koleska, Crofton. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Delbert Krueger, Belden, Mrs. Alfred Bierschenk and Mrs. Mary Beltz, Randolph.

The bride graduated from Randolph High School in 1968. The bridegroom was graduated in 1967 from Randolph High School. The couple will farm southeast of Randolph.

Attending the wedding were the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frensmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huff, Sr., and the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Nettie Broders, Bloomfield, and Mrs. Gertrude Poppe, West Point. Other guests were from Crofton, West Point, Wausa, Plainview, Norfolk, Belden, Minnesota and South Dakota.

'Make It With Wool' Contest Coming Soon

Women and girls in the Wayne area who like to sew will have a chance to show their talents at the District 7 Make It Yourself With Wool sewing contest set for Norfolk Saturday, Nov. 30.

The contest is open to anyone over 10 years of age in the junior, senior and adult divisions. Winners in the judging will advance to the state contest set for Lexington Dec. 13 and 14.

Girls age 10 to 13 can make a skirt or jumper. The junior division, 14-16, and the senior division, 17-21, can make a dress, suit or coat. The adult division can make a dress or coat.

Contestants wishing to enter the contest must have their entry blanks mailed by Nov. 16. The blanks may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Ottwin Schlueter, district director, Pender 68047.

District 7 includes 13 counties in northeast Nebraska: Antelope, Boone, Burt, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston and Wayne.

Rites Set Thursday For Mary E. Pflanz

Funeral services for Mary E. Pflanz, 78, are planned at 10:30 a.m. today (Thursday) at St. Francis Catholic Church, Randolph. Mrs. Pflanz died Monday at Osmond Hospital. Burial will be in Randolph Cemetery.

Survivors include her husband, Otto J.; three sons, Richard of Emerson, R. D. and Gaylord of Belden; two daughters, Mrs. Delores Frink, Wilcox, Nebr., and Mrs. Violet Lange, Hoskins; a brother, Nick Wiles, Escondido, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Lena Middleton, Osmond; 27 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

NE Family Series Will End Nov. 5

"Between Parents and Children," a discussion about communications, is the topic for the last in a series of four Family Life meetings sponsored by the Northeast Area Extension Service in 1968. The meeting will be held on Monday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lecture Hall of Wayne High School, Wayne, Nebr.

Mrs. Ruby Gingles and Dr. Beth Smith from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics will be guest speakers.

Parents often ask how they can get their teenagers to talk, and teenagers wonder why their parents don't talk to them. Communicating in an effective way is one of the keys to good family relations.

The public is invited to attend. This meeting is being arranged by Area Extension Home Economists at the Northeast Station, Concord, as a part of the Northeast Area Family Living Program.

Missionary Festival Planned by Church

The annual Missionary Festival of the Theophilus Church west of Wayne will be held Sunday, beginning with Sunday School at 10 a.m. for all ages. Morning service at 11 a.m. will include songs by a children's choir and a missionary message by Pastor Fred Warrington.

At noon a fellowship dinner will be held in the church basement. Following a duet by Pastor and Mrs. Warrington at 2 p.m., a film entitled A Cry in the Night will be shown. The film portrays the needs of the people of the Orient.

A number of churches in this area will be cooperating in producing the festival, and the public is invited to attend.

ROGER BENGTSON, Wayne State senior from Mapleton, Iowa, prepares to spin a record on one of two turntables.

Rites Set Thursday For Mary E. Pflanz

License Sought For WSC Radio

Wayne State College continues to progress toward the day when WSC will be on the air with their own broadcasting facility, according to Neal Robison, director of Radio and Television in the Communication Arts department.

Wayne State Foundation has donated the funds, paving the way for the installation of the project. Though the control room is installed and being used for student instruction, the transmitter and tower have not as yet been purchased.

A date on which actual broadcasting can commence remains undetermined in that Federal Communication Commission requirements must all be met and a license obtained. Mr. Robison is hopeful that completion of the FCC requirements and installation of station equipment will be in the not too distant future.

Once the station is licensed and on the air, programming will include college activities such as football, basketball, guest speakers, educational lecture series and a wide selection of music in the classical, jazz, Broadway shows and folk music fields.

The number of hours the station will be on the air each day has as yet to be determined. Personnel operating the facility will consist primarily of WSC students.

'B' Day Ahead for Hospital Auxiliary

Saturday, Nov. 23, is "B" day for members of Wayne Hospital Auxiliary as that day marks the culmination of almost a full year's preparation for the big annual fall bazaar. Auxiliary members and other volunteer workers have been busy preparing items for the event held annually in November. Proceeds are used to purchase items for Wayne Hospital. Last year the Hospital received a defibrillator and eight new hi-low beds as a result of the work of the Auxiliary and other volunteers in the Wayne community.

Again this year the Auxiliary chairman are calling on the community of Wayne to help make the bazaar even bigger and better. Items are needed for all the booths and all committee chairmen may be contacted for more information.

Anyone having items suitable for grab bags may contact Mrs. Norbert Bruggier, candy, Mrs. Don Wightman or Mrs. J. M.

Strahan; food fair, Mrs. Nettie McNutt or Mrs. Melvin Wert; gift shop, Mrs. Willard Wilcox or Mrs. Edna Casper; aprons, Mrs. Faye Fleetwood; luncheon, Mathilde Harms, Goldie Leonard or Mrs. Norbert Bruggier.

Committee chairmen are to be at the City Auditorium at 8 a.m. Friday, Nov. 22, to arrange booths. All except food items will be brought Friday no later than 1 p.m. Items for the food fair and for the luncheon are to be delivered at the Auditorium, Saturday, Nov. 23, no later than 10 a.m. Lunch will be served from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

An Auxiliary meeting was held Oct. 18 with Mrs. Julia Haas presiding. All committees for the bazaar gave reports. Charles Thomas, Hospital administrator, conducted the Auxiliary members on a tour through the hospital and demonstrated the new defibrillator which the Auxiliary helped purchase. Hostesses Friday were Mrs. Carl Lentz, Mrs. Robert Carhart and Mrs. Richard Banister.

Bonita Vandegrift Weds James Day In Double Ring Ceremony in Omaha

L. Bonita Vandegrift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Vandegrift, Omaha, and James A. Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Day, Osawatimie, Kan., were married Sept. 1 at 5 p.m. at Florence Presbyterian Church, Omaha.

Rev. William L. Mulford, Omaha, officiated at the double ring rite. Music was furnished by Mrs. Fred Webber, soloist, and Antony Garlick, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of silk linen fashioned in A-line styling with bateau neckline. The front and back panels and the cap sleeves were trimmed with crocheted lace. Her floor-length veil of silk illusion and her shirred headpiece were trimmed with the same wide crocheted lace. She carried a cascade of white daisies and bridal roses.

Mrs. David Vandegrift, Detroit, the bride's sister-in-law, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Dean Metz, Wayne, was bridesmaid. They wore floor-length gowns in A-line styling of maize mousseline de soie, highlighted with satin collars and back panels and featuring cap sleeves with tiny satin buttons down the center front. Their short veiled headpieces of maize illusion were held by tiny seed pearls. Each carried a cascade of white daisies.

Dr. Marion Boss, Pueblo, Colo., was best man. Dr. Lyle Skov, Wayne, was groomsmen. Ushers were Keith Vandegrift, Omaha, and David Vandegrift, Detroit, brothers of the bride, and John Tollakson, Dubuque, Ia.

The bride's mother wore a pink dress of brocade double knit with a silk net turban of shaded pink with black patent accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of mint green silk and worsted with a hat in matching mint shade and black accessories. Each had a corsage of two phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. William Todd, Lincoln, registered guests. The cakes were cut by Mrs. Terry Nielsen, Montevideo, Minn., and Mrs. John Tollakson, Dubuque, Ia. Mrs. Benjamin Bernstein, Wayne, poured, and Mrs. Lyle Skov, Wayne, served punch.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a two-piece knit of forest green and white with black patent accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Wayne State College, taught music in Livonia, Mich., before coming to the Wayne Public Schools. The bridegroom holds a bachelor of music degree from the Conservatory of Music of the University of Missouri, Kansas City. He studied one year at Julliard School of Music, New York City, and then attended the University of Kansas, Lawrence, where he holds a master of music degree. Mr. Day, an associate professor of music at Wayne State College, is now on sabbatical leave of absence to attend the University of Southern California where he has been admitted to the doctor of musical arts program.

The couple will reside in Los Angeles.

Doug Sturm Takes First in PPK Action Sunday Afternoon

Doug Sturm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sturm of Wayne, was the only area youngster winning first place in Sunday's Punt, Pass and Kick zone competition.

Sturm took first place in the 13-year-old bracket in the contest held on the Wayne State football field. Last year Sturm also won in the local and zone competition, but lost in the district competition at Lincoln.

Sturm and the other first-place winners will go to Omaha Saturday for the district level of the contest scheduled for Rosenblatt Stadium at 10:30 a.m. Should Sturm take first place there, he will advance to the area level. Next step after the area level is the division competition at St. Louis on December 15. Final level in the nation-wide contest is the national competition. This will be held in January at Miami during the National Football League Playoff game in the Orange Bowl.

Other first-place winners Sunday, with their age bracket, were Tom Hoelsing of Fremont, eight; Tab Eastberg of Fremont, nine; David Carlson of Fremont, 10; Richard Thomas of Platte Center, 11; and John Dufek of Schuyler.

This year's Punt, Pass and Kick contest was jointly sponsored by the Wayne Lions Club and Wortman Auto Company of Wayne. They worked together in conducting both the local and the zone contests at Wayne.

Forty-two youngsters took part in Sunday's action. Towns represented at Wayne were Randolph, Schuyler, Columbus, Fremont, Ponca and Scribner. Each town sent six youngsters, winners from the earlier local contests.

White Squad Clips Orange Eleven 7-0

The Orange team in Recreation League football suffered their first loss of the season Tuesday night when they got frozen out by the White eleven 7-0. They now have a record of three wins, one loss and one tie.

The White team scored early in the game, crossing the goal in the first quarter on a quarterback sneak by Roger Saul from one yard out. Dale Paulson added the extra point to finish the game's scoring.

The rest of the game was played almost completely in the center of the field, except for one threat of the orange eleven which was finally stopped by a determined White team.

Outstanding players on the winning squad were Roger Saul, Bryon Roberts, Dale Paulson and Steve Meyers. The losers were led by Terry Melfler and Danny McRight.

In the other game Tuesday night the Red team upped their record to two wins, two losses and one tie by clipping the Gray team 13-7. The Reds are now tied with the White eleven for second place.

scoring with a touchdown by Scott Ehlers in the second quarter from one yard out on a quarterback sneak. Clark Clatanoff added the point later to move his squad out from 7-0 going into halftime.

The winners increased their edge on the opening play of the third quarter. Clark Clatanoff took the Gray kick on his own 25 yard line and scampered all the way to the Gray endzone to increase the lead to 13-0.

Bill Schwartz finally ended the Gray scoring drought when he passed to Bruce Kocera from ten yards out for a touchdown in the fourth quarter. The point after came on another pass, this one from Schwartz to Mike Foote, to narrow the score to 13-7. But time ran out before the Gray could get on the scoreboard again.

Playing good ball for the winners were Scott Ehlers, Gregg Billoft and Clark Clatanoff. Leading the futile attempts of the losers were Zach Harms and Bill Schwartz.

The four teams in Recreation League football have one more chance to increase their winning record. Their last regularly scheduled games will be played Tuesday night at 6:15 and 7:15 p.m. at the baseball diamond.

College Harriers Win at Yankton

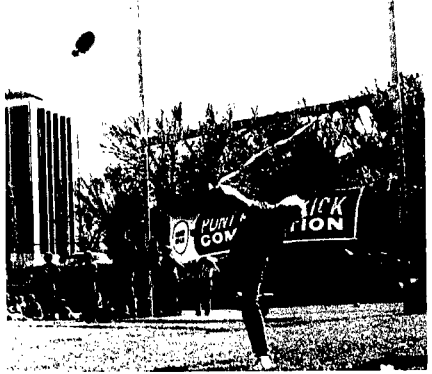

Wayne State's cross country team marked up another victory Saturday as it won the Yankton College Invitational meet by a decisive margin.

The Wildcat harriers, bunched close together near the front, scored 37 points, followed by South Dakota State with 53; Southern State, 54; Yankton, 92; Dorch, 122; South Dakota Tech, 148; and Southwest Minnesota State, 162.

Larry Kuehl, sophomore from Loup City, led the Wayne quintet with a third place, timed in 21:52 for 4.1 miles. Other Wayne placings: Steve Dosh, Flint, Mich., seventh, 22:18; Larry Bockelman, Harwarden, Ia., eighth, 22:19; Gary Day, Flint, Mich., ninth, 22:21, and Duane Wilken, Crofton, fourteenth, 22:52.

The individual winner was Dennis Lih, Southern State, in 21:21, followed by Robert Busby, South Dakota State, 21:36.

Wayne's next action comes Saturday in the Nebraska College Conference meet at Kearney.

TIM KASTROP of Laurel puts everything he's got into this pass during Sunday's zone competition in the Punt, Pass and Kick contest. Tim's efforts weren't quite good enough and he failed to place in the competition.

Jr High Eleven Trounces Undefeated Pierce 19-7

Blank Overin's Junior High football boys treated the undefeated Pierce eleven to a 19-7 loss Monday night in their second game of the season. Earlier in the year the Junior High squad knocked off the Wayne High Freshmen Reserves.

Neither team could mount a successful drive in the first quarter, although Wayne did succeed in moving the ball all the way to Pierce's four yard line before being stalled and forced to hand over the ball on downs.

After some changes in their strategy at halftime, the Wayne team exploded on the second play after intermission when Doug Sturm broke through the middle of the line and raced 65 yards for a touchdown to move his team in front. Sturm added the extra point and Wayne led 7-0.

In the fourth quarter Stan Glese scored the second time for the winners from 25 yards out and Mark Johnson added the final touchdown with two minutes left on a run of two yards.

With only :03 left in the game the Pierce offense finally crossed the goal on a 50-yard run to end the game at 19-7.

Overin's bunch played a tough game defensively, giving up only about three first downs to their opponents.

The winners were sparked by the sharp playing of Glenn Billoft, Tom Kerstine, Todd Titze, Doug Sturm, Randy Toldorf and Shane Glese.

Next game for this group of boys is Sunday afternoon when they take on the Norfolk Catholic Junior High boys at 2 p.m. at Norfolk, Nov. 4 they journey to Walthill for a game at 7 p.m.

Blue Devil Coach Sees 'Tough Game' With West Point CC

"I expect our toughest ballgame of the season Thursday night," Allen Hansen, coach of the Wayne High Blue Devils, said Wednesday. Wayne travels to West Point Thursday night to do battle with once-beaten West Point Central Catholic.

The only team to knock off the West Point squad has been Columbus Scotts—the seventh-ranked Class B team in the state by the Omaha World-Herald. And that loss was in the first game of the season. Since then West Point CC has clipped Norfolk Catholic High, David City Aquinas, Clarkson and Hartington Cedar Catholic. Friday night they ended up tied at 12-12 with Omaha Holy Name.

"The West Point bunch was a good running game and a good defensive game. Their line is tough and our scouts have said there are very few weak positions on their squad," Hansen noted.

Wayne has edged back into the World-Herald's chart of top ten Class B schools across the state. They hold down tenth slot. A strong win Thursday night should assure them of a place there again next week.

One thing for sure, Wayne High's next three games (West Point CC, Laurel and Pierce) will probably not be repeats of their past few games. Friday they humiliated visiting Bloomfield 63-0 and the week before they trounced Plainview 68-7.

Thursday's game will be the first non-conference tilt of the season for the Blue Devils.

GOT IT! Wayne State and Bruce Parker leaps high for a pass from quarterback Chuck Tricker, one of the big plays in an 80-yard touchdown drive that put the Wildcats ahead of Kearney State in the second quarter. The play was good for 20 yards.

Kearney Antelopes Squeak By Wayne 23-15 Saturday

Wayne State gridgers are aiming now for their next conference foe, Peru State, after a loss Saturday at Kearney State closer than the 23-15 score indicates. The Wildcats, now 1-2 in the Nebraska College Conference and 3-3 for the season, will have as their Saturday night foe a Peru team hunting its first conference win. Game time is 7:30 in Wayne's stadium, tapping Parents Day activities. The Peruvians lost to Kearney, 58-21, and Chadron State, 33-28. Chadron beat Wayne, 26-0.

The Wayne-Kearney clash was a see-saw affair with the lead changing six times. Wayne gained a two-point lead on the first play when a Kearney fumble skittered into the end zone for a safety. The Antelopes went ahead midway in the first quarter when quarterback Scott Davis hit end Gary Thompson on an 18-yard pass ending an 84-yard drive. LaVerne Trout kicked the point.

The Wildcats swept to a touchdown with an 80-yard effort in the second quarter. Tallback Sam Singleton stamped his name on this drive with six runs for 30 yards plus a surprise pass—his first this year—to split end Greg Walker 13 yards away in the end zone. Don Grubaugh's point lifted Wayne to 9-7.

Another Kearney sortie reached the Wayne 11, but three more plays put the Antelopes back on the 18 with one more down. Trout used it for a 35-yard field goal, and Kearney went to intermission with a 10-9 lead.

The third quarter produced rugged defensive play both ways until, late in the period, Wayne started a 79-yard march which ended with quarterback Chuck Tricker plunging one yard to a fourth-quarter touchdown. The conversion missed. Kearney's next possession went nowhere, and Wayne charged goalward again but stalled on the Kearney 25.

With 2:37 left the Antelopes took over on their own 20. Rich Ostentowski, Kearney's passing ace, went into the shotgun aerial offense and shortly had the Lopers on the Wayne six. From there Bob Buller used three runs to reach the end zone, and Kearney led again, 16-15.

Still in the game with 1:43 to play, Wayne went to the air, but missed on a fourth-down gamble instead of kicking from the 32, with 1:05 left. Five plays later Kearney scored again on a Davis to Don Wells pass for 22 yards, and Trout finished the scoring with a placekick, 31 seconds left.

Agah Wayne took off and reached the Kearney 35 on five plays before the clock struck. Of the results Wayne Coach John Jermier said, "We were disappointed, true. I thought the team played well enough to win, and I was happy with the performance."

Wayne held Kearney to 57 yards rushing, less than one-third its average, but passing made the difference as the Antelopes traveled 289 yards, Wayne only 113.

Sophs Slap South Sioux 20-0 Mon.

Wayne High Sophomores knocked off their South Sioux High counterparts 20-0 in a away game Monday afternoon.

Wayne lost little time in getting on the scoreboard—Hal Backer Tony Plueger scored on an end sweep which went 55 yards the first time Wayne got their lands on the ball. Dick Tietgen took the ball over for the extra point, moving Wayne out front 7-0.

Tietgen came into prominence in the second quarter when he scored from two yards out.

Later in the second quarter Wayne forced South Sioux into a punting situation deep in their own territory. Wayne rushed the line and Steve Kamish broke through to block the punt. Don Mau fell on the ball in the end zone to give Wayne their last touchdown. Tietgen scored the extra point to put Wayne on top 20-0.

The second half was completely scoreless as neither team could succeed in breaking through the other's line. Twice in the second half Wayne's defensive line took the steam out of determined efforts by the host. After seeing one of their punts blocked by the hosts on Wayne's seven, the visitors stood their ground and denied South Sioux the score. Another time the visitors finally stopped a steady drive by South Sioux on their own one-yard line.

Coach Ron Carnes said

College Crown Usurped During Conference Talk

Wayne State lost the 1968 conference baseball championship Sunday at a conference talk—after considering that it won the title on the playing field last spring.

Athletic Director LeRoy Simpson reported the action taken by Nebraska College Conference representatives at a meeting in Grand Island.

The situation is this: Wayne won four games, lost two, but never was able to reschedule a rained-out doubleheader with Hastings. Kearney State and Chadron State finished their schedules with 5-3 records, and Peru State had 4-4, Hastings 0-6. Wayne representatives contended that Hastings' forfeit of the two games to Wayne should count in the standings. However, Kearney and Chadron argued that conference rules require a team to finish its schedule to be eligible for the championship.

When the matter came to a vote, Peru State joined Kearney and Chadron in awarding a co-championship to Kearney and Chadron.

Simpson pointed out to the conference representatives that Wayne tried repeatedly to reschedule the games with Hastings, but that schedule conflicts always intervened.

Gillaspie —

(Continued from page 1) Gillaspie said he thought farmers are better equipped with knowledge today than they were several years ago. "The farmer has been forced not only into using highly sophisticated equipment, but also into learning more about farming. The farmer has had to buckle down and become better and more productive or be forced out of farming for not being able to live with the low crop and cattle prices."

Gillaspie's job, and the job of other county agents, has been to aid the farmer in meeting and adjusting to the changes over the years.

Looking over a shelf filled with textbooks and pamphlets on all phases of farming, Gillaspie noted that his job is "almost impossible for one man. There is just too much for one man to learn and pass on to another."

"But, even though it is so difficult, the job has been very gratifying for me. There have been disappointments, of course, but the satisfactions have certainly outweighed them."

A 1940 graduate of the University of Nebraska, Gillaspie said he is especially proud of how the 4-H program has come along in Dixon County. "It is very inspiring to have seen these youngsters work through their 4-H program and then go on to make a success of themselves. Some of them have gone on to get Master's and Doctorate degrees and now hold positions in large businesses."

The Dixon County 4-H program consisted of four clubs with about 60 members when Gillaspie began his job. There are now 22 clubs with 345 members, Gillaspie said.

Wayne's game was even more impressive when considering that they had only 14 sophomores compared to over 30 sophomores on South Sioux's team.

Outstanding players on offense were Tony Plueger, Mike Creighton, Dick Tietgen, Tim Sharer and Don Mau. Outstanding on defense were Rod Cook, Steve Kamish, Lynn Gunderson, Dave Johnson, John Roberts, Charles Weible, Lonnie Biltoff and Rick Milligan.

In other Wayne High football action, the Reserves attempt to keep this year's record unscathed when they take on Norfolk Catholic High School Monday afternoon. They have yet to lose a game this season, knocking off Laury, Pierce, Pender, Wisner and West Point Central Catholic. Only two teams have succeeded in scoring on the Reserves, Pierce (20-6) and West Point (26-7).

The Wayne High Freshmen have only one more game left in their schedule. They take on West Point High Thursday, Oct. 31. Tuesday they tangled with Stanton.

(Dable) Armstrong, Newcastle; a son, Edward DeLano, Columbus; a sister, Mrs. Dora Anderson, Modesto, Calif.; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Wakefield PTA —

Speaking of revolt among students on college campuses, Mills expressed his willingness to listen to those complaints which might have some justification, however, he added, when taxpayers are being asked to spend $183 million dollars for budgeting at Nebraska University, he believes with that kind of educational costs, the decisions should be left up to the University's administrative staff rather than to annoyed students. This drew a round of applause from an agreeing audience.

Mills quickly gave a brief analysis of those services rendered by Educational Service Unit I in the past year and told the parent-teacher group it was his hope to have ten educational programs for the co-operating schools next year.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Behrend Held at Carroll

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Behrend, 90, were to be held Oct. 23 at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Carroll. Mrs. Behrend died Oct. 20 at Pierce Manor Home.

Rev. H. M. Hillper officiated at the rites. Lonnie Fork, accompanied by Mrs. Edward Fork, sang "Heaven Is My Home" and "In The Hour of Trial." Pallbearers were Allen Stoltenberg, Martin Paulsen, Harry Holfield, Gilmore Sabs, Robert Peterson and Russell Hill. Burial was in Laurel Cemetery.

Anna Wilhelmine Giersemann, daughter of Louise Schacht and Wilhelmine Giersemann, was born May 10, 1878 in Germany. When she was a young girl she came with her parents to the United States settling in Washington County, Neb.

She was married to August Behrend at Randolph. The couple farmed in the Randolph and Carroll area except for a brief period spent in Colorado. Mr. Behrend died in 1945.

She was also preceded in death by her parents, two sisters, three brothers and two sons. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Leonard

Cards of Thanks

I WISH TO THANK all my friends, relatives and neighbors for the cards and flowers during my stay in the hospital. A sincere thank you to those who have brought in food to the family. I also extend a thank you to Dr. Coe, Dr. Callaghan, Pastor Johnson, Pastor Erlanson and the hospital staff. Thank you so much for everything. Mrs. Forrest Smith. o24

WORDS CANNOT EXPRESS my gratitude for all those who remembered me while I was in St. Joseph Hospital, Denver. The mail helped pass some long hours the 3 1/2 weeks I was away from home. I read The Herald from front to back (as I always do) and the copies of the paper really meant a great deal to me. May you never find out how long the hours seem in a hospital away from home, but if you do go elsewhere for hospitalization may the people "back home" be as considerate of you as they were of me. God bless you all. Chas Greenlee. o24

WE WISH TO EXPRESS our grateful appreciation to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department for their quick response and assistance in putting out the tractor fire at our place. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson. o24

WE WISH TO THANK everyone for their cards, gifts, flowers and visits while in the hospital and since our return home. Also thanks to Drs. Robert and Walter Bentback and the nurses. Mrs. Arden Olson and Douglas Scott. o24

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I am writing this letter with a two-fold purpose. I first want to thank the people of Wayne who purchased trick or treat Halloween candy.
My second reason for writing is to clarify an issue about which there is some misunderstanding. I am awaiting a kidney transplant and will have surgery whenever a suitable donor is available. Since this donor will probably be an accident victim, the time of the transplant is very uncertain. In the meantime, I continue to "run" on an artificial kidney machine three times a week.
The misunderstanding which I mentioned previously pertains to the proceeds from the candy sold. Trick or treat candy will hopefully be the major fund raising activity of the National Kidney Foundation. It is the hope of all chapters throughout the nation that the trick or treat candy will become a symbol representing the foundation nationally each Halloween.
None of the money collected in Wayne will benefit me directly. The money is earmarked for research in kidney diseases and for the education of the general public.
My wife and I are keenly aware of the problems to be faced by persons with kidney disease. As a result, we have become active in kidney foundation work with the hope that some day the cures will be found.
The motto of the Kidney Foundation is "Control kidney disease today. Knock out kidney disease tomorrow." The annual candy sale is one attempt to realize this goal.
We wish to express our sincere gratitude to all those who helped with the sale of the candy and hope this letter clarifies its purpose.
Sincerely yours, Vernon R. Broberg.

Dear Editor:
Enclosed is a card of thanks and payment for the same. I really can't say all I want in the card of thanks so am taking advantage of your letter department.

First of all, the people there were really responsive after my name and hospital address appeared. I received around 300 cards and letters, mostly from that area and the Oshkosh area. It pays to advertise in The Herald (and Garden County News).
Many wrote notes with their cards. These made the mail a lot more interesting and I tried to write to everyone from that area who wrote to me. I missed anyone, I extend apologies.
Several people sent "Spook Speaks" items. If you have room, I'll share them with you and The Herald readers.
A practice teacher in the Wayne schools lived on a farm. She practiced in the kindergarten and after telling the youngsters "Sit down and be quiet" all day, she went home one evening, did the chores while her husband was in the field and when the cattle she was feeding crowded around the bunk she found herself saying aloud, "If you'll sit down and be quiet, I'll give you your feed!"
In the Dixon area, a farmer received a cancellation letter from the Saturday Evening Post offering the Ladies Home Journal in its place. The form letter described with colorful adjectives the features he'd enjoy on meals, makeup, hairdos and homemaking tips. He wrote back asking them to send a refund—now he doesn't get the Post or the Journal and hasn't received cash either.

At the Laurel 4-H fat calf sale, a newspaperman, new to the business, was being introduced and shown around. He looked at the list of calves to be sold and remarked: "Heifers and steers. Are there only two classes?"
In Wakefield, a five-year-old boy and his three-year-old sister had been having their differences, almost arguing at times. As they intelligently took their places at the supper table, the boy pointed a finger at his sister and threatened: "If you don't cut that out I'm going to ask God to un-build you!"
Finally, a Dixon man didn't get shoes he had ordered from a big city firm so he wrote a complaint in the form of a poem:

You got shoes—lots of shoes.
My wife's got shoes—a few shoes.
All God's children got shoes, shoes.
When they get to heaven they'll put on their shoes and walk all over God's heaven.
But...
Unless the shoes I ordered and paid for June 25 come soon, I'll be walking all over God's earth—barefoot.

The shoes came by return mail. In addition, the shoe store manager wrote:

Roses are red, violets are blue,
We have shoes, now so do you.
Your shoes are malled, sorry for the delay.
We should mind our work and not our play.
The shoes came in and were put in stock.
Now you put them on and tend your flock.
We are glad you sent a note our way.
We sent you shoes—oh, happy day!

Well, this is running too long. Thanks for the space you've given me and to the fine people who made my stay in Northeast Nebraska and in St. Joseph Hospital so pleasant.
Best wishes to all. I really enjoy The Herald.

Mullein Control

The weed control chemical Dicamba (Banvel D), cannot be used on Common Mullein, the escaped ornamental plant which is causing problems in range and pasture land in northeastern Nebraska. University of Nebraska agronomists said this week.
While Dicamba is effective against Mullein, it cannot be recommended because it is not cleared by Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA), for use on pastures at this time, according to Dr. Laren Robison, Extension weed specialist at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.
Chemicals which can be used are Silvex (Kuron) at the rate of one to two pounds per acre; or 2,4,5-T at one to two pounds per acre. Dr. Robison stated, Mullein blooms from late June to September and seeds from August to October. It is well distributed throughout Nebraska, with heavy infestations in some northeast areas.

FOR SALE

We have for sale two reasonably priced homes. One two-bedroom home is well located in the northeast part of town close to Bressler's Park. It has gas heat, with kitchen and large living room.

The other home is located within one block of the center of the business district. It is a two story home with four bedrooms, kitchen, living room and full basement. This dwelling is located for easy living and is close enough to the business district to have potential commercial value.

FHA and GI loans are available on both places and one place may be contracted on a lease-purchase agreement.

We also can offer a 240 acre farm at under $45,000. This place has a good modern home, a double crib and a utility barn. All are in good shape, having been repaired or remodeled within the last three years. The place may be purchased either with or without the owner's share of this year's crop. The farm presently carries a 5% loan, which may be assumed.

VIKING AND ONLY VIKING PROVES TO YOU THAT VIKING KITCHEN CARPET WORKS. Here's where we spill and smear and scorch... before your very eyes. Come to our Viking Demonstration Center. Seeing is believing, isn't it?

Viking works... and we can prove it!

Come watch us smear oil over it. Spill grapejuice on it. Scrub it with a stiff wire brush. Scorch it with a lighted cigarette and make an instant repair. Prove to you that Viking Kitchen Carpet can take all the actions and accidents in the kitchen (and playroom, basement, nursery, bathroom, dining room!) and come up looking like new.

It has a super dense, super tight nylon pile over a B. F. Goodrich sponge rubber under-construction (not foam!) with a built-in waterproof barrier in between. So easy to clean. And so easy on you. No more waxing and buffing and de-waxing! This is the one that takes all the upkeeping out of housekeeping. Hard to believe? See for yourself!

And Viking is the genuine kitchen carpet—the Real Thing. Not felt, not pressed fiber, not grass—but carpet, engineered to go where carpet never could before.

"EXPLORER"—Viking's exclusive woven-in, not printed-on pattern. In black/white; aqua/avocado; brown/russet; cardinal/flame; amber/gold.

Arthur Godfrey has Viking Kitchen Carpet in his kitchen. Listen to him tell about it every Monday and Thursday on The Arthur Godfrey Time CBS radio network.

Former Winside Woman Elected

A former Wayne County resident, now a medical technologist in Lincoln, was elected president-elect of the Nebraska Society of Medical Technologists at the group's annual meeting in Lincoln Oct. 12.

Ruth Ann Bartels, formerly Ruth Ann Troutman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Troutman, Winside, works as a medical technologist in the Lincoln Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Bartels was an honor graduate of Winside high school and also graduated from both Nebraska Wesleyan and the University of Nebraska. She is presently at home with her two daughters and works as a medical technologist on a part-time basis. Her husband, Larry Bartels, is a physical therapist at Bryan Memorial.

At an earlier convention session, Dr. Kenneth Hoffman, an Omaha pathologist, told the 75 delegates, that the technologist profession faces the possibility of being licensed in the future. He noted that laboratories and medical technologists have been coming under fire recently at the federal level. He said if licensing were established it should be done at the state level.

Justice Postoffice Lasts from 1868-78

Justice was the eighth community in Dixon County to be selected as the location of a post office. Justice was located north of Martinsburg on the boundary line between Galena and Silver Creek townships.

The first postmaster was N.S. Porter, who received his appointment Sept. 28, 1868. Following Porter at the Justice postoffice were Michael Murphy, Apr. 16, 1871; Dennis Hurley, May 16, 1872; Lyman Wright, May 1, 1876; and Mary Martin, Sept. 9, 1878. Following the latter's tenure as postmaster, the office was discontinued and mail was transferred to Martinsburg.

N. S. Porter, the first postmaster, led an interesting pioneer life. In 1862 he enlisted in Company I of the First Nebraska Cavalry and helped recruit and organize the unit. Following the Civil War he was elected to the territorial legislature and then to the State legislature in 1866.

In 1877 he was appointed inspector of state prisons and in 1879 became agent of the Fort Peck Indian Agency in Montana. In 1886 President Cleveland appointed him to allot lands to Indians on reservations and he served in this position until he retired and returned to Ponca in 1893.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers. It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

What Will Your Children Remember?

Years ago Rudyard Kipling penned "Teach us delight in simple things". One may well ask today, "Is there anything in our home anymore that is simple?"

For instance, you arrive home from work at 5:30 p.m., tensed and feeling rushed. Dinner is not ready. There is an evening engagement scheduled for you and the wife. Is there someone you can babysit with the smallest? Johnny isn't home yet from football practice and tonight he will have to warm up the leftovers for his supper. Sue is snubbing on the phone with a schoolmate for what seems like hours simultaneously having the stereo turned up full volume. The lawn needs raking but that too, is going to have to wait!

Then it happened! Power failure! The power is off all over town! Great! That really fixes things. Now what are we going to do? Our family had an entire evening, as it turned out, to answer that question. Needless to say, the evening will not soon be forgotten.

With the power off, we knew there would be no meeting to attend. This meant the family would for once all be at home together. The helterskelter "merry go round" of activity was running down for one precious evening! Hurrah!

First, we got out the candles and an old kerosene lamp. The blackout had silenced the television tube and quieted the stereo's voice. How strange it was to get acquainted again with one's family! We began to realize that we could talk to each other without shouting!

Johnny had found his way home and through visiting with dad, discovered some manly conversation about football and growing up. Sue helped mom prepare some wieners on sticks over the glowing embers in the fireplace. What a perfectly wonderful evening! We even got out the old family picture album. Looking at it occasionally can be convincing that truth has the potential of being a terrible thing! Our younger teen, upon observing several pages of pictures taken twenty years ago commented, "pictures in the family album are all right, but they forgot to print the jokes under them!"

Having experienced "togetherness" once again, without all the nerve-racking hub-bub, our family circle decided to square it and thereafter slow the "merry-go-round" more often. After holding a round-table conference we decided to attend only those meetings which really were worthwhile.

You can imagine how inspiring we found the late autumn countryside to be! So numerous were the things we re-discovered together, such as the joy of reading, and the fun of eating a simple unhurried meal. We even had the time to just sit and stare out the window observing a busy squirrel gathering and burying food for the oncoming winter.

How long we had allowed a hectic pace to rob us of family life and the freedom to enjoy the simple uncomplicated things! With countless pursuits that should be fun, we Americans often overcomplicate fun and happiness. A simple blackout, a power failure, had helped us realize what we were missing.

When your life is all over, what will remain prominent in the memories of your children? Will they remember strained and hurried conversation at every meal? Will they remember that as parents we never had time for them?

Perhaps because there was something taking our time every night outside the home, the children may remember being in school all day and being "homeless" at night.

How is it at your house? What are your children going to remember about "home" when they reach your age? What kind of memories are you building today for your children to remember tomorrow? — MMW.

Capital News — Regents Stamp Approval On $175 Million Budget

LINCOLN—They said it was "painful" to do so, but the Board of Regents has put its stamp of approval on a University of Nebraska budget request totaling almost $175 million.

Robert L. Baum of Norman, referring to comments by Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin that cuts made before the budget request was presented to the regents were painful, said the board had the same feeling about a request that large.

The Chancellor said from $25 to $30 million had been trimmed already. The request was turned over to Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann who was sure to make additional reductions before recommending an NU budget to the legislature.

The proposed budget must undergo the scrutiny of the unicameral's budget committee and then face debate on the legislative floor.

The biggest bite in the budget as it passed the recent test was in the request for money from the state's tax-supported general fund. The University seeks an increase in this category of $46.1 million.

The request is for a total of $101,014,092 from the general fund, compared with the appropriation for the current biennium of $54,010,117. That is a proposed increase of 83.9 per cent.

According to University officials, the biggest reason for the budget climb is the addition of the former University of Omaha as a full-time state responsibility. The municipal school became the University of Nebraska at Omaha last July and the 1969-71 period will be the first full biennium it has operated under that status.

Of a total operational budget of $150.6 million, the regent-approved proposal schedules $21.2 million for UN-O. The request for general fund, or tax-money for the entire University complex is $101 million and 12.8 per cent, or $12.9 million, is ticketed for the Omaha institution.

The share scheduled for the two Lincoln campuses and the outstate activities of the tax money is $67.9 million, or 67.2 per cent. The medical center at Omaha is to receive 20 per cent, or $20.1 million.

In addition to the $150.6 million operational budget, the University is asking the state for $24.3 million for capital improvements. This includes $17.7 million for the Lincoln campuses, $3.8 million for UN-O and $2.6 million for the medical center. The main capital projects the University hopes funds will be appropriated to finance are the library expansion and a life science building on the city campus, a home economics facility on the east campus, completion of a basic science facility at the medical center and a music-speech facility and a classroom-faculty office building at UN-O.

In addition to the new responsibilities for UN-O, Hardin said the University during the coming biennium would have to finance the operation of a new major addition to the University Hospital and the new clinics at the medical center.

The proposed budget, he said, also "envisions an enrollment of well over 33,000 full and part-time students on all campuses by 1970 and the additions of the faculty and staff to serve them." According to the proposal, faculty salaries will be raised 9 per cent each of the two years of the biennium, on the average. Annual salary hikes of 5 per cent are planned for the non-academic staff.

A 3 per cent factor has been applied to the continuation budget for operating expenses and equipment. This percentage was suggested by the Department of Administrative Services to cover inflation.

Hardin said the suggested budget "provides for some strengthening of present programs, particularly in the teaching areas, library and computing center operations on the Lincoln campus, agricultural research and extension activities both in Lincoln and outstate, the teaching and hospital programs at the medical center, and in the teaching program and urban studies at UN-O."

College to be Studied At Chancellor Hardin's request, a University committee of faculty members and students studied the possibilities of creating a so-called experimental college. A preliminary report was delivered to the Board of Regents who declined to endorse it, but did authorize continued investigation of the plan.

Put your faith to work today

The committee's report said the "state of contemporary universities is pretty clear: restive students who think themselves lost in a mass, studying subjects they feel to be irrelevant in an institution so large it inspires neither affection nor intellectual curiosity."

The solution, the committee said, is an experimental college in which selected students would all live in the same dormitory and have all their classes there. It would not follow any of the normal teaching methods and the emphasis would be on individual development and group study. Realignment Approved The Board of Regents approved a plan for realigning the administrative structure of the University to give overall authority for all campuses to certain officials and establish a full set of subordinates for each campus. The basic effect of this change will be on the Lincoln campuses which will have their own president. Chancellor Hardin is now serving as the overall head of the University and as administrator of the Lincoln operations.

No new personnel have been selected to fill the newly-created posts and the present officers will continue to fill both jobs until replacements are chosen.

ly true in the case of "flavor compounds" which smell like licorice, spices or molasses.

"There is no way to test the value of a product unless you have a control group of cows fed a silage without the additive at the same time for comparison," says Dr. Hillman. Testimonials offered cite excellent results when the additives are used, but we normally expect excellent results with corn silage.

There have been few controlled studies with the flavor compounds, but what evidence there is shows that cattle do not increase feed consumption from such additives. And there is no reason to believe that molasses or spices reduce silage losses.

Dr. Hillman also says that results are not consistent enough to recommend the use of antibiotics, such as zinc bacitracin, enzymes or limestone for controlling silage fermentation.

Enzymes are intended to increase the fermentation of sugars in silage, thus producing more lactic acid, which is a natural preservative. Tests at MSU show that lactic acid production depends primarily on the moisture content of silage. If conditions of ensiling are controlled, plenty of lactic acid will be fermented and added enzymes will not be necessary.

Limestone has been added to corn silage to prolong the fermentation and increase production of lactic acid, notes Dr. Hillman. It does this effectively when added to silage at filling at rates of 10 to 20 pounds per ton of silage. Beef cattle feeding trials have shown an improvement in feed efficiency (less feed required per pound gain) by about 6 to 8 per cent in some trials and none in others.

Trials on dairy cows show no improvement in milk production or feed efficiency when limestone-treated silage is compared with untreated silage. In fact, when immature corn silage contained limestone it was less satisfactory for growth of dairy heifers and production of milking cows than untreated silage.

Silage preservatives are no replacement for good management practices. If corn is harvested for silage when the kernels reach a medium to hard dough stage of maturity, the plant will contain 30 to 38 per cent dry matter and there will be practically no seepage loss. Likewise, the silage will contain enough moisture to pack firmly. There will be little loss from air entering the silo, particularly if it is chopped to a length of 1/2 to 3/8 inch.

Then if the silage is covered with plastic after filling, top spoilage is practically eliminated so that natural fermentation

Northeast Extension Notes

by Myrtle Anderson

Whether you choose cheese for snacks or for main meal dishes it is a good buy nutrition-wise. The protein in cheese is comparable to that found in meat, fish and eggs. Cheese also contains the added nutrients of calcium and riboflavin.

Two classes of cheese on the market today are the Natural Cheese and Process cheese. Types of Natural cheese vary from the very hard (Parmesan) to the soft, unripened such as Cottage cheese and Neufchatel. Process cheese is made from one or more natural cheeses. The most popular variety is pasteurized process American cheese, made from natural cheddar and other varieties.

Variations of the process cheese are the pasteurized process cheese foods and process cheese spreads.

The cost of cheese depends on a number of factors — whether it is imported, how long it has aged; whether it is pre-packaged in slices, cubes or grated. Addition of other ingredients such as chives, pimientos or bacon bits adds to the cost. Natural cheeses often cost more than pasteurized process cheese.

Versatile is one of the most desirable and economical of dairy products as there is no waste if properly stored and used within reasonable time limits.

Blue Devils Blank Visiting Bloomfield 63-0 Saturday

Coach Allen Hansen's Wayne High Blue Devils maintained sole possession of the Husker Conference (western division) lead Saturday night by sending Bloomfield home with a convincing 63-0 loss. The grid contest was held Saturday instead of Friday night because of adverse playing conditions on the WSC field.

Wayne needed little more than four minutes following Bloomfield's opening kickoff to begin its overwhelming triumph. A 21-yard touchdown pass from Dave Tietgen to Doug Maurer capped a 66-yard drive by the Blue Devils and put Wayne on the scoreboard with 7:58 remaining in the first quarter. The margin was not increased on the extra point attempt as Jerry Tietze's kick sailed to the right of the uprights.

The Bees seemed to have risen to the occasion following Wayne's touchdown as they contained the Blue Devils offense for the rest of the first period.

Less than three minutes had elapsed in the second stanza, however, before Wayne was on the scoring rampage again. Dave Tietgen ended the Blue Devils' drive with a 10-yard keeper that gave Wayne a 12-0 lead. Again Tietze's PAT attempt failed but Wayne held a two-touchdown lead with 9:20 left in the half.

The margin was increased again following an unsuccessful series of downs by Bloomfield when Tietgen again hit Maurer with a scoring pass, this time netting 27 yards. Wayne's drive began on the local gridirers' 43 where a Bloomfield punt rolled out of bounds. The PAT attempt again failed but Wayne held a comfortable 18-0 lead with 5:14 remaining in the half.

Another TD was added to Wayne's score before the half ended when Randy Helgren set up the scoring drive by intercepting a pass on his own 45 yard line and returning it to the Bees' 21. On the next play Tietgen hit Jerry Tietze with a touchdown pass. The extra point kick by Wayne's foreign exchange student, Egon Guzman, was good and the Blue Devils led 25-0 with 3:57 left in the first half. Neither team posed a serious scoring threat for the rest of the period. Wayne quickly struck again to open the second half when it assumed control of the ball on its own 42 following an unsuccessful series of downs by Bloomfield. On the Blue Devils' first offensive play of the second half Tietgen hit Dwayne DeTurk with a pass and the senior halfback scampered 58 yards to paydirt. A bad pass from center on the extra point attempt forced Helgren to carry the ball across the goal line and Wayne led 32-0 with 10:44 left in the third quarter.

Bloomfield was again stymied in the next series of downs following Rick Ginn's kickoff and Wayne was awarded the football on the Bees' 23 via a bad pass from center on a fourth and eight punting situation. Two plays later Randy Helgren, getting some added experience at quarterback, picked up a Blue Devil fumble in the backfield and ran six yards for Wayne's sixth TD. The extra point attempt failed but the Blue Devils were out in front 38-0 with 8:44 left in the period.

Wayne again had control of the ball on its own 43 after the Bees fell inches short on a fourth and three situation. Nine plays later Les Echtenkamp ended Wayne's drive with a scoring plunge for the one yard line. Ted Armbruster carried the ball on the PAT attempt as a result of a bad hike from center and made the score 45-0 with 2:54 remaining in the third stanza.

Neither team could move the ball successfully for the rest of the third quarter but Wayne was on the scoreboard again in the opening minutes of the final quarter when Joey Hoogmer intercepted a pass on his own 19 and displayed fine openfield running by returning the ball 81 yards for a touchdown. The PAT attempt failed and Wayne led 51-0 with 9:27 remaining in the game.

Sveve Ilix set up Wayne's next TD by recovering a Bloomfield fumble on the Bees' 38. Seven plays later third-team quarterback Mike Creighton hit Jim Kinney with a 20-yard scoring pass. Again the extra point attempt failed but Wayne held an insurmountable 57-0 lead with 4:54 left in the game.

Another fumble on the first play from scrimmage following Wayne's kickoff gave the local gridirers control of the ball. Four plays and 32 yards later Dick Tietgen scored Wayne's last touchdown on a two-yard drive. The PAT attempt failed but the Blue Devils walked off the field with a 63-0 victory three minutes and 12 seconds later.

Dan Sutherland was Wayne's leading rusher with nine carries for 42 yards. He was followed by Randy Helgren with six carries for 41 yards, Jim Kinney with four carries for 37 yards and Dick Tietgen with seven carries for 30 yards.

Wayne's leading pass receiver was Doug Maurer with three receptions for 58 yards and two touchdowns. He was followed by Dwayne DeTurk with one reception for 58 yards and a TD; Jerry Tietze with one reception for 21 yards and a TD; and Jim Kinney with one reception for 19 yards and a TD.

Leading defensemen for the Blue Devils were Wayne Magdanz with nine tackles and five assists; Joey Hoogmer with eight tackles and one assist; Vaughn Korth with seven tackles and three assists; Ken Jorgensen with five tackles and three assists; and Butch Meyer with five tackles and one assist.

Wayne's three remaining grid contests will include a trip to West Point (C tonight (Thursday), a home game with Laurel Nov. 1 and a trip to Pierce on Nov. 8.

pests," he pointed out. The red tail and March hawks are two of the most common species, and therefore the most frequently shot of all hawks, Wieggers reported. "Each of these species is a 'winged mouse trap' as 90 per cent of their winter food is mice and they will eat almost 5 pounds of mice per day if available."

A regular practice of automatically condemning all predators—flesh eating birds and animals—is a carryover from the concern of early man over competition from other animals that consumed the same species he wanted, Wieggers said.

"Today this group we know principally as flesh eaters includes such common examples as coyotes, foxes, skunks, hawks and owls," Wieggers noted. "Unfortunately, most of these predators have been condemned without trial and convicted without conscience," he continued. He urged hunters and others to carefully study the eating habits of modern predators to learn about the important and prominent role played by them in the balance of nature.

"Predator-prey relationships, such as those of hawks and rodents, should be examined in light of their influence of our lives," he said.

"The best reasons we have today for protecting predators is that they eat many more animals that we do not want than those we wish to keep for ourselves," he stated.

There are exceptions, Wieggers conceded, and added that "since wild animals are all opportunists they eat what is most readily available, whether it is wild or domestic."

"As in our human society, offenders need to be removed from the temptation of repeating," But, he stressed, this is the exception and not the rule.

Wieggers pointed to the experience of ranchers on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains in Colorado, who carried out a coyote eradication program on thousands of acres.

"After one year of coyote-free range, grass-eating range rodents multiplied and prospered beyond imagination. This drastically reduced the ranchers' income potential, as the rodents virtually destroyed the range with their eating and burrowing habits."

signs protecting the coyote, which soon repopulated the area, and "paying special attention to the copious rodent crop, soon restored the balance."

"There are few examples as dramatic as this one," Wieggers commented, "but even so, each time a non-offending predator is eliminated, mice, ground squirrels and rabbits are encouraged," he concluded.

'Pheasant Harvest' Starts November 2

LINCOLN—It soon will be pheasant harvest time again—the season when the mere mention of the word "pheasant" is a pulse-quickener for many people in Nebraska.

The thought of pheasant harvesting may sound strange to some individuals, but this is in fact what will occur when hunters take to the field on Nov. 2 in most of Nebraska and in southeast Nebraska Nov. 9, the beginning of the open hunting season for the most hunted of all game birds in the state.

The removal of some of the pheasant population is no different than that which takes place when a farmer or rancher markets his surplus livestock; the big difference is the way in which it is done.

Complete control is maintained over domestic livestock populations, but not so with wildlife. Annual surveys by Game Commission biologists determine the size of wildlife populations compared to other years. Based on these findings, bag limits and lengths of season are set—the limits to a systematic harvest of deer, turkeys, fish or pheasants.

The harvestable surplus of wildlife should be used each year. If hunters do not reduce the annual crop sufficiently, natural forces will. Successful hunting within the guidelines established for a season in no way reduces the succeeding year's crop. Wildlife populations cannot be stockpiled by limiting the harvest except in times of emergency.

Pheasant populations fluctuate each year, which means that certain areas boast greater hunting possibilities than others.

This fall, it appears that these areas of Nebraska will afford good pheasant hunting: Northwest Nebraska—areas around Hay Springs, Rushville, Alliance and Hemingford.

Southwest Nebraska—areas around Curtis, McCook, Imperial and Grant.

Pheasants appear to be more abundant in southeastern Nebraska than in recent years. Since this part of the state cannot boast a high population even in a peak year, hunting success will not be comparable to that of either the northwest or southwest areas.

Within a likely area, pheasants will be found in early morning on grassed ridges where they have roosted. As a rule, they roost singly and on the ground, where they remain through the night and as long as an hour after sunrise. They then fly to feeding grounds, such as corn or milo fields.

Pheasants feed quite vigorously for about two hours. During this time, they will have acquired an adequate quantity of food to last until late afternoon. Pheasants usually are very quiet and sedentary during midday and remain in fields or heavy cover.

About three hours before dark, they begin to feed again, in preparation for the long night ahead. They feed actively until dusk when they fly singly or occasionally in small groups back to the roosting grounds. In late afternoon, they will be found in or near the edges of fields where there is grain, the major food source for pheasants in the fall.

Knowing when and where to find these big, exciting birds will assist in the conclusion of a successful hunt, even in a year when the overall pheasant population in the state appears down.

Wildlife Pro Tells Hunters 'Spare Natural Predators'

Think twice before you kill natural predators—such as owls and hawks—that help control pests, such as rodents, a University of Nebraska wildlife specialist warned hunters this week.

Looking ahead to the start of the upland game bird hunting season in November, Prof.

Howard Wieggers noted that "hawks and owls represent some of the best rodent eradicators known and yet are shot indiscriminately by some hunters."

"We have to decide whether we want natural biological controls over animals we consider

WINDSIDE WILDCATS are old pros in proving there is more than one way to skin a cat. During the heavy rains the team downed tennis shoes Thursday afternoon and held football practice in the school gym. "Hut-1, hut-2" sounded a bit strange in basketball territory but not one of the Cats seemed tempted to pass the pigskin through the hoop. Coach Kropp's team were hustling in preparation to meet Randolph Friday night.

Should I Worm New Feeders?

Here's why they need worming—

- All incoming cattle need worming because the chances are 9 to 1 they come from worm-infected herds.
- Worms cause enormous "hidden" damage.
- PURINA WORM-KILL with THIBENZOLE in feed controls worms for faster gains, earlier marketing, better use of feed.

Scouter Leaving

Daniel R. Malwitz, Council Bluffs, has been appointed as the new district executive of the Mid-America Council, Boy Scouts of America, to serve the Lewis & Clark District in northeast Nebraska effective Nov. 1. The announcement was made by Joseph L. Anglim, Scout executive, of Omaha.

Malwitz has been serving as assistant district executive at Council Bluffs. He, his wife, Candy, and their child will reside in Wayne. He replaces Glenn C. Ploemer who has resigned to enter private business.

The Lewis and Clark District serves 1,800 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in over 70 Scout units throughout Cedar, Cuming, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne counties. Malwitz will be responsible for the administration of the Scouting program in this area.

The Mid-America Council serves 33,000 boys in over 1,100 units throughout thirty-seven counties of northeast Nebraska and southwest Iowa.

Pattern Workshop

Ten homemakers braved the rainy weather on Thursday to attend a Pattern Alteration Workshop at the ASCS meeting room in Wayne. The workshop was conducted by Anna Marie Krefels, Area Extension Agent, Concord.

The women worked in pairs to take each other's body measurements. These measurements were compared with measurements taken on the paper patterns so that necessary alterations could be calculated.

Miss Krefels discussed and showed how to make various alterations on the paper patterns. Homemakers were reminded of the purpose for darts, their placement and their proper length to fit body curves.

Those attending the workshop included: Mrs. Glenn Walker, Mrs. Leo Hansen, Mrs. Frank Lansing, Mrs. Erwin Fleer, Mrs. Delvin Mikkelsen and Mrs. Pete Haberer, all of Wayne; Mrs. Lyle Krueger and Mrs. Werner Mann of Winslow; Mrs. Ronnie Krusemark, Wakefield, and Mrs. John Rees, Carroll.
