SLOWED, NOT HALTED. Work on two building projects in Wayne has been hampered slightly by the recent cold weather, high winds and snow. Workmen braved the weather at the site of the future Standard Oil Farm Center (above) in order to erect the large panels on the dry fertilizer building. The panels form bins for the storage of the fertilizer and leave room for machines to move from one bin to another. Recent high winds have caused some slight damage at the site, according to Vakoc Construction Co. of Wayne.

general contractor. Progress of the new science building (below) has also been slowed by the weather. Workmen were spending most of their time this week in building support for plastic covering over the second story so the area can be heated for pouring of concrete. Wind already tore down the covering once, said employees of Christiansen Construction Co. of Pender, general contractor. View is looking northwest toward Hahn High.

Teacher's Husband Vietnam Casualty

Mrs. Ray Slip, girls physical education teacher at the Wayne City Schools, was notified Monday afternoon that her husband had been killed in Vietnam.

Both graduates of Southern State Teachers in Springfield, S.D., they were married in June. Ray went to Vietnam in November. He was 22 years old.

Mrs. Slip left for her home in Bonesteel, S. D., after being notified of her husband's death. Her husband was a native of Slickney, S. D.

Superintendent Francis Hahn said that the school will have a representative at the funeral but he has not been told by Mrs. Slip when the funeral will take place.

According to a release from the Department of the Army sent to the Wayne Police, Pfc. Raymond L. Slip died Sunday as the result of a wound received when hit by a fragment of an artillery round fired by United States forces. The round was directed at hostile forces but fell short.

Lois Diedrichsen, Winside High Grad, Makes Honor Roll

Lois Diedrichsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Diedrichsen of rural Wayne, made the honor roll for the fall quarter at the Medical Institute of Minnesota in Minneapolis. A 1968 graduate of Winside High School, she maintained a B average.

She is studying to be a medical technician at MIT, a coeducational school, and is undergoing an intensive course of study for four quarters, 12 consecutive months, followed by a six-month internship in a hospital laboratory or clinic.

Hoskins Men Tell County Board 'Roads Neglected'

Two dozen concerned Hoskins area residents drove to the Wayne County Courthouse Tuesday morning to confront the Wayne County Commissioners at a 10 a.m. meeting. The Commissioners meet regularly each first and third Tuesday of the month. The visitors charged that District Three County Commissioner Roy Davis Winside, is failing to get the job done in causing county roads to be kept sufficiently clear of snow and ice so as to be reasonably safe for travel, although most agree it has been an unusual winter.

General opinion of the Hoskins men was that the roads in their area were not receiving adequate maintenance or a "fair share" of the Commissioner's attention.

LBJ but after all he is the President and must treat everyone alike. (Commissioner Davis then declared his crew had been working night and day.)

Various questions were asked the commissioners such as "How come mail routes don't receive better maintenance?" Is our problem the lack of funds or equipment and, if so, let's get some more."

George Stolz, Carroll, District Two commissioner and chairman of the commissioners, advised the group that the public would scream if taxes were raised a half mill. A Hoskins man commented, "Yes, and scream when the job isn't getting done," referring to roads which have been blocked for two weeks.

Commissioner Stolz said, "We try to get to everybody just as fast as we can." Commissioners Stolz of Carroll and Davis of Winside both have 265 miles of roads for which they are responsible. Commissioner John Surber, Wayne, has 278 miles for which he assumes responsibility in District One.

Dan Roberts Wins 3rd Place at Norfolk In VFW Contest

Dan Roberts, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldin Roberts of rural Wayne and a senior at Wayne High, placed third in the District 3 "Voice of Democracy" speech contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The contest was held Thursday afternoon at Radio Station WJAG in Norfolk.

Roberts won a trophy for his efforts.

Taking first place in the competition was Richard Daniel, also 17, of Meadow Grove. His speech will now be entered in state competition later in January. The state winner will represent Nebraska in the national event. Daniel won a $50 bond and a trophy. Winning a $25 bond and trophy for placing second was Marilyn Thoenes of Fordyce.

Thirteen taped talks were entered in this year's district competition.

District Three has three road maintenance (cat) and two caterpillars available for snow removal, but the crews did not open all of the mail route within a week of the last storm and some roads have been closed much longer. One of the visitors complained.

Kollath observed, "From what I can see, it is a lack of organization, that's my opinion." He continued, "Let's pay more wages to the Commissioner if we have to and get someone who can do the job."

As the subject of maintainer crew capability was discussed, Clarence Hoemann reasoned, "The help is no better than the boss. When a worker slacks, you have to get on him."

Instances were presented by several where roads were unopened and there was sickness in the family. To get medicine from town was almost an impossibility. One instance was given when a man walked a mile to take medicine to a sick neighbor.

Wednesday sessions at Nebraska Wesleyan will be spent combining the two units into one, including the election of new officers.

TB Collections in County Over $1,000

Total contributions for the Wayne County TB Seal sale at the end of December was $1,260—some $200 more than at the same date in 1967—according to Chairman Jean Benckack. Contributions are still being accepted since the books do not close for several weeks.

Funds collected from the Christmas Seals help support many research projects that are being conducted in attempts to discover the real cause and possible cure or arrest of emphysema, a lung disease which statistics reveals doubles every five years throughout the United States.

School Board Increases Salaries of Principals

Raises of $1,000 for each of the three principals of Wayne City schools were voted by the school board members at their regular meeting Monday night in the high school. The three principals are Fred Rickers, high school, Lewis Park, middle school, and Richard Mattner, elementary.

The raises, which will take effect Sept. 1 if the principals sign their contracts for another year, were agreed upon after board members examined the results of a survey made of 30 schools in Nebraska to determine salaries paid principals and superintendents. Highest salary paid a principal among the schools was $12,500; lowest salary was $8,000.

The board also commended Superintendent Francis Hahn for the fine work he has been doing for the city schools and voted to raise his salary $1,500. His raise will take effect July 1.

Board members also agreed to consider bids for a new 48-passenger bus at their meeting in February. The bus will probably be used as a spare and for certain school activities. Superintendent Hahn will contact the local car dealers and several bus companies, notifying them that bids will be considered then.

In other action the school board decided to accept the new contract from Peoples Natural Gas in Wayne. The contract, which is affecting all commercial users, will increase the rates about five per cent, according to Superintendent Hahn.

Superintendent Hahn also announced that the school is planning to offer an adult art class starting Tuesday night. The class, which will start at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday, will offer beginning drawing and beginning painting and will run for nine weeks. Teaching the class will be Mrs. Carlos Frey, art instructor at the school. Enrollment fee for the class will be $10 and the class will be limited to 24 students. Hahn noted that he hoped the class would be filled.

The school is presently offering an adult class in farm management. The class, being taught by Leland Foot of Wayne, began Tuesday night.

Copies of the board policies were handed out to each member. The policies, which cover such things as duties of the superintendent, student dress and use of school facilities, will be studied by the members and revised at following meetings if needed.

County Schools Will Hear Soil Technicians

Wayne County Soil Conservation District will present a conservation program before 540 students in fourteen schools in Wayne County during the week of Jan. 13.

The program will feature two short films, "Adventures of Jr. Raindrops," and "Friendly Waters," some demonstrations, and a brief lecture on soil, water and wildlife conservation.

Objectives of this program are to inform the youth as to what is being done in the conservation field locally, and to help them realize that the future prosperity of all individuals, communities and nations depends upon wise use of soil, water and wildlife.

Arnold Marr and Verlin Francis, local technicians with the Wayne County Conservation district, will conduct the programs Jan. 13-16. They plan to visit two schools each morning and two each afternoon. Each presentation will last approximately one and one-half hours.

Wayne, Area Methodist Women Plan To Attend Lincoln Uniting Services

Several area women will be among the more than 1,000 Nebraska women expected to attend the uniting meeting of the Nebraska United Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service (WCS) to be held in Lincoln Jan. 14 and 15.

Wayne Man Arrested Following Shooting Incident Near Ober

A Wayne man, Charles L. Schultz, Jr., 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Schultz of Wayne, is in the Cedar County jail on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, wound or maim, according to Cedar County Sheriff John Rilbe.

Rilbe said the incident occurred the morning after Christmas when Schultz apparently attempted to buy some gas from an Ober man, Lawrence Mathers, who farms a few miles south of Ober. Schultz shot at Lowell Tanderup, a neighbor of Mathers. Sheriff Rilbe said Schultz had three guns in his car when he was arrested following the shooting incident.

Bond has been set at $10,000.

ASCS Office Reminds ACP Farmers They Must File 'Completion Report'

When a conservation practice is approved for Federal cost-sharing by the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the farmer is notified he must report completion of the practice by a given date.

Chairman John H. Mohr of the Wayne County ASCS Committee reminds farmers that it is important to report to the county ASCS office by that date.

"When the county committee approves a cost-sharing practice under the Agricultural Conservation Program, we allocate county ACP funds to help pay for the practice. If we don't get a completion report, the cost-share funds cannot be reallocated for other conservation practices," he said.

The county ASCS office reminds farmers of completion dates, he noted, but basically it is the responsibility of the farmer to notify the county office by the deadline or before, if possible.

The chairman added, "If the conservation practice can't be completed in time, the farmer should apply for an extension before the original completion date rolls around, not afterward."

"County committeemen are farmers, too. We know that equipment breakdowns, weather, illness, sometimes even press of other farm work can delay an ACP practice. But we can't guess that there are reasons for delay—we have to know. So, if you think you'll need more time, ask for an extension before the time runs out on your ACP practice."

He said notification of completion of a practice can be made by bringing or mailing the official form, with signature, to the Wayne County ASCS Office. Requests for extension of time to complete ACP practices may be made in person at the county office or by mail or telephone.

Dr. J. J. Liska Is New Veterinarian

New veterinarian in Wayne is Dr. J. J. Liska, who moved to Wayne a little over a week ago from Arlington. He has purchased the Wayne Veterinary Clinic from Dr. J. M. Brown and is in the process of taking over the business.

Dr. Brown, a resident of Wayne for about 10 years, said he has not decided for sure what he is going to do now.

Dr. Liska, a native of Niobrara and a graduate of Iowa State University at Ames, practiced veterinary medicine at Arlington for seven and one-half years. While there he was a member of the school board, community club and volunteer fire department.

He is married and the father of two small children. The Liskas live at 908 Walnut.

March of Dimes Drive Started in Wayne Co.

March of Dimes envelopes have been mailed out to most of the residents in Wayne County, according to Pat Gross, secretary of the county-wide drive.

Gross noted that several of the envelopes carry the wrong return address on them and should be thrown away by anybody receiving them. Those receiving envelopes with the return address of Mark Geddes of Alton should put their donation in another envelope and mail it to Pat Gross, c/o State National Bank, Wayne.

Although only just started, the drive is coming along quite well, Gross noted. He said he hopes this year's drive will surpass last year's when $1,429.75 was collected. In 1967 there was $1,146.05 collected in the county during the drive. He pointed out that this year the fraternalities and societies at Wayne State College are planning to help collect funds through various projects. He expressed his thanks to those people and to all the people contributing to the drive.

The drive for funds takes place

In the nation every January. Donations are used to find cures for and treat people stricken by birth defects. The only requirement for receiving help, Gross noted, is that the birth defect occur before birth. The funds were formerly used to find a cure for polio.

There will also be a Pass-the-envelope drive later in the month, Gross said. An envelope with 10 or 15 names will be given to numerous people in the county and should be passed on to those on the list. The last person should send the donations collected to Gross at the State National Bank.

Of the money collected during the county drive, 25 per cent goes to the Medical Scientific Research Fund and 37 1/2 per cent goes to the National Foundation. The other 37 1/2 per cent stays in the county to treat those suffering from birth defects. Gross, treasurer for the county drive the past three years, noted that there is no goal set for the drive.

Wayne's First Baptist Church Elects Officers

First Baptist Church of Wayne held election of officers at the annual meeting Sunday following the regular services and a fellowship dinner.

150 Hear Moore Address Chamber At Dinner Fete

Wayne Moore, Sioux Falls, S. D., representative of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, told approximately 150 Wayne Chamber of Commerce members and their wives Monday evening who gathered at the City Auditorium they need to "analyze the needs of the community."

Moore, who is the District Manager of the Northwestern Division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, spoke to the Chamber following the annual dinner which was scheduled for 6:30 p.m. In his address he questioned, "What is a community? One professor has answered by describing it as a critical mass."

Again Moore asked, "How does the moon shot compare to the Chamber of Commerce?" and then answered, "Both are man-made happenings. The Chamber of Commerce is man-made to help solve man-made problems, people problems."

"You can't solve people problems in Washington alone. The Chamber of Commerce must help solve problems on the local level. See CHAMBER, page 5."

Fire Awakens a Winside Family

What might have been a real disaster in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waterhouse, Winside, early Sunday morning, was avoided by "an act of God" as Mrs. Ed Waterhouse described it.

A chimney fire had developed in the home and Mrs. Waterhouse said, "I smelled I smelled smoke." She immediately aroused her husband and it was nearly 3 a.m. when they called the Winside Fire Department.

Prior to the arrival of the fire truck the Waterhouses filled buckets with water and working their way to the basement through the heavy smoke were able to extinguish the blaze.

The blaze caused considerable smoke damage throughout the house. The Winside Fire Department checked out the chimney, walls and hoists to make sure the fire was completely out.

"STORY HOUR." Wayne's Public Library is having a story hour each Saturday at 2 p.m. from now until Easter, for children four years and older. Rodella Wacker, librarian, expresses her hope that more youngsters will become interested in seeing the weekly story on film and one from a book. Listening to story-telling in the library last Saturday were, from left to right, Ross Peters, David Carlson, JaAnn Carlson, Corrie Carlson and Charlotte Peterson.

Gail Vosteen Weds Douglas Malchow In Dec. 28 Rites at Pender Church

Gail Vosteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Vosteen, and Douglas Malchow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Malchow, Pender, were married Dec. 28 at 5 p.m. at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Pender.

Rev. Victor Moeller officiated at the rites. Mrs. Lester Vogt, Pender, sang "O Perfect Love." "The Wedding Prayer" and "Wither Thou Goest." Mrs. Marvin Westerholm, Pender, was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Alfred Angelo gown of fallie satin fashioned in a princess silhouette. Scalloped silk venise lace was used to trim the neckline and was repeated on the cuffs of the long tapered sleeves and at the hemline. Her removable wateau train, held at the shoulder line, was accented with lace appliques.

Her waterfall veil of silk illusion was held by 4 pearl silk tows accented with jeweled aluminum lace. She carried an arrangement of tinted pink roses and white chrysanthemums featuring a removable corsage.

Mary Vosteen, Lincoln, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a vintage karate floor length gown in a cage silhouette. Eggshell venise lace trimmed the short sleeves and was repeated at the neckline tapering to the back forming a panel effect. She wore a matching headpiece of velvet holding a four-tier veil. She carried a nosegay of white chrysanthemums centered with pink roses. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dean Ullrich, Omaha, the bridegroom's sister, and Linda Tonjes, Omaha. Their dresses and flowers were identical to the maid of honor's.

Cheryl Meyer, Wakefield, and Theodore Lipant, Chicago, lighted the candles. Deap Ullrich, Omaha, was best man. Groomsmen were Loren Schroeder, Wisner, and Richard Morse, Uteca, Don Heineman, Lincoln, and John Luther, Wisner, were ushers.

The bride's mother chose a three-piece eggshell knit suit with satin trim and a veiled hat of vintage shades. The bridegroom's mother chose a coat dress of beauty imported saki with matching feather hat. Each had a corsage of pink roses.

A dinner reception for 250 guests was held in the church basement. Mr. and Mrs. Hans Stark, Wakefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benson, Pender, were hosts. Guests were registered by Suzanne Kruse, Wisner.

Lynette Fredrickson and Kathie Eaton, Wakefield, and Linda Dendinger, Laurel, cut and served the wedding cake which had been baked by Mrs. Elder Lubberstedt, Wayne. Arranging gifts were Joan Schutte, Dixon, Patti Pearson, Wayne, Mrs. Dale Olson, Omaha, and Mrs. John Hilker, Jr., Pender. LW Circle II and the Ladies Aid were in charge of the reception, assisted by Cynthia Cline, Pender, and Joan Stark, Wakefield.

The bride, a graduate of Wayne State College, will teach third grade in Pender beginning this month. The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, is farming.

Following a wedding trip to the West Coast, the couple will reside on a farm south of Pender.

J. Koepke-Bible Wedding Is Held Despite Weather

(Note: Usually a wedding story is rather formal but in this case we decided to use most of the bride's own words to describe her wedding, which was held despite adverse weather conditions.)

In spite of the weather, Janis Koepke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koepke, Hoskins, and Joe Bible, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bible, Cambridge, were married Dec. 28 at Zion Lutheran Church, Hoskins.

The night before the wedding the heavy snow stranded the bridegroom, the bride's father and seven members of the wedding party at Wee Town. Mrs. Everett Newman, proprietor, took the girls into her home for the night and the man slept on benches and the floor of the cafe.

It was about 10 a.m. the next morning when the snowplow cleared the road and the couple knew for sure the wedding would be held. The inclement weather the preceding week and the fact that the bride had been home only a short time, three preparations behind schedule. The ceremony was planned for 2 p.m. so the bridegroom's undaunted Delta Kappa Pi fraternity brothers and a score of friends and relatives pitched in to help.

Several went to the church to handle arrangements there; one of the bridesmaids turned hairdresser; one fraternity brother took needle in hand and hemmed the bride's coat, and another pressed the veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill, Norfolk, rushed to take care of a myriad of details, such as bringing the pastor, Rev. E. H. Boelling from Norfolk, and contacting a photographer. Several days earlier when the big event seemed positively out of the question, the family canceled the photographer and he had made new commitments, so a fraternity brother, Ibrahim Abou of Beirut, Lebanon, was drafted.

Only a brief rehearsal could be held in the basement of the church before the minister arrived at 3 p.m. and Herman Koepke gave his daughter in marriage. Everything was progressing smoothly, except the groomsmen did not appear until the bridegroom's brother, Ken Bible of Ogallala, who was taping the event, peeped over the pulpit and turned around to say, "You guys better get out there." After the ceremony, the bride forgot to reclaim her bouquet before she walked out of the church.

Maid of honor was Judy Koepke, Lincoln, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were JoAnn Koepke, Lincoln, the bride's sister, and Elaine Ciro, New Orleans, La.

Ken Ippensen, Augusta, Ill., was best man. Groomsmen were Ken James, Mullen, and Glen Koepke, Hoskins, the bride's brother. Lynne and Jeffrey Koepke were flowergirl and ringbearer. Candlelighters were Lonnie and Lana Koepke.

Ken James was soloist, accompanied by Joy Andrey, Crete. Ushers were Gary and Gene Koepke, Hoskins, and Tom Tomlins, Gresham.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church parlors. JoAnne Dreescher, Millwaukee, and Vera Jochen, Pierce, arranged the gifts. Mrs. Hugh Alexander, Lincoln, served punch. Mrs. Hilda Elhardt, Pierce, and Mrs. E. E. Roberts, Hoskins, poured. Mrs. Clarence Koepke and Mrs. Lester Koepke, Hoskins, cut and served the cake. Others assisting were Marion Elhardt, Pierce, Connie Jones, Nancy Jones and Eva Ryan, Hoskins, and members of Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid.

Following a short wedding trip somewhere south of the Norfolk area, the couple are at home at 2026 Lake St., Lincoln. The bride is in medical technology training at Lincoln General Hospital. The bridegroom is a senior at Doane College, Crete, and is employed by the Municipal Hospital.

IRS Searching For Area People

A Wayne man and two Laurel couples are included in the list of people which the Internal Revenue Service is trying to locate because they overpaid their 1967 federal income tax. The people have not received their refund checks because of changed addresses or incomplete return addresses.

On the list are the names of John Michael Russell of Wayne, Gerald L. and Judy K. Donnelly and George A. and Ethel Jullin, all of Laurel.

The IRS has released the names in an effort to locate these taxpayers so the refunds can be made.

Those on the list should contact the District Director of Internal Revenue, Federal Office Building, 15th & Dodge, Omaha, so they can establish their identity and receive their check.

Attend Rites in Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. Adon Jeffrey and Mr. and Mrs. Jack March attended funeral services Jan. 4 in Phillipsburg, Kan. for Mrs. John Melvin Stubbs, Mrs. Stubbs, the former Gladys Alderman, was Mrs. Jeffrey's sister. She had previously lived in Newport and Brunswick, Nebr.

Charlene Hass Weds Julius Mueller In Double Ring Ceremony at Pilger

Charlene A. Hass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hass, Pilger, and Julius H. Mueller, Wayne, son of Mrs. Paul Stewart, Omaha, were married Dec. 24 at 11 a.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church, Pilger.

Rev. H. M. Roth officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was furnished by Mrs. Jan Peterson, Pilger, soloist, and Lule Lea Goeller, Pilger, organist. The altar was flanked with bouquets of white gladiolas, blue carnations and large white mums. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length skimmer of white tulle with high roll lace collar and white alencon lace embroidered redingote. Her four-tier pouf veil was shoulder length and she carried a large white orchid surrounded with American Beauty roses.

Mrs. John Goeller, jr., pilger, served her sister as matron of honor. Marcia Goeller, the bride's niece, served as bridesmaid. They wore ice blue street length gowns fashioned with white lace peterskirt. Each carried a large white mum surrounded with blue carnations and trimmed with ice blue streamers.

John Goeller, jr., Pilger, was best man. Allen Ziegenbein, Omaha, was groomsmen, and David Goeller, Pilger, served as usher. Nila Goeller, Pilger, lighted the candles and Dennis John Goeller, Pilger, was ring-bearer.

The bridegroom and his attendants wore business suits. The bride's mother chose a two-piece blue knit. Each had a corsage of white mums.

A reception was held in the coal hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Cindy Chase registered the guests. Gifts were arranged by Carol Henke, West Point, and Ellen Lueschen, Wisner. Mrs. Kenneth Greckel, West Point, and Mrs. Elwin Handke, Pilger, cut and served the cake.

Mrs. John Goeller, sr., Pilger, poured and Mrs. Gus Lueschen, Jr., Wisner, served punch. Waitresses were Linda Handke, Pilger, and Ellen Henke, West Point. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Gene Heller, Mrs. Darryl Koopmann and Doris Ritzke.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a three-piece grey suit with black and white plaid coat, white fur hat and white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Pilger High School and prior to her marriage was employed at Lutheran Medical Center, Omaha, with the aged and at Norfolk. The bridegroom graduated from Syracuse High School and Peru State College. He is a member of the National Guard and is employed at Wayne State College.

The couple reside at 1037 Lincoln St., Wayne.

Eagles Lose to HHS in Overtime; Out of Lewis & Clark Tournament

Now the Allen Eagles know how it feels to lose a basketball game in an overtime period. The Eagles dropped a 53-50 overtime decision to the Hartington High Wildcats Monday night in the first round of the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament at Randolph. On Saturday night the Eagles managed a 56-49 overtime victory over Winside to take third place in the Lyons Holiday Tournament.

Down 36-31 at the end of the third quarter Monday night, the Allen quintet came rolling back to outscore the Hartington squad 17-5 in the final stanza, tying the game at 48-48 at the final buzzer.

But the Eagles could only garner two points in the overtime period while the Hartington squad pumped in five to take home a satisfying 53-50 victory.

Hartington's win moved them into a second-round clash with Coleridge, set for 8:30 Wednesday evening.

A cold third quarter was costly to the Eagle squad. The Eagles, led by Dave Abts' five-point effort, kept with Hartington all the way through the first eight minutes of action. They pulled away from Hartington by as much as four points in the second quarter but they couldn't hold the Wildcats off and had to settle for an uncomfortable one-point lead, 25-24, going into intermission.

But in the third quarter Hartington outscored the Eagles 12 to 6 to move out front 36-31 going into the final period. Leading the score was Hartington's Palmer, who potted eight of the 12 points. Allen's plucky effort in the final period was good enough to move them out front 47-45 with only 2:30 left to play. They held a one-point lead, 48-47, until only fifteen seconds remained on the clock and then a Hartington player drew a foul. He made one of two and sent the game into overtime.

Sophomore Bob Mitchell led the Eagle scoring with 17 points. Only other Eagles in double figures were Dave Abts with 11 and John Abts with 10. Al Smith added five, Bob Meyer four and Dave Gelger three.

High-point man for Hartington was M. Fleming with 21 points. D. Palmer and L. Elekhoff garnered 12 each.

Wildcats' Fast Break

Demolishes Midland, 91-69, Friday Night

Victory No. 9 in 10 games went into Wayne State's basketball records here Saturday with a 91-69 decision over Midland College.

The 22-point margin stretched Wayne's winning average to 18 points. The Wildcats have hit at an 86.1 clip, the opponents at 68.1.

It was a typical slow start for Wayne while Midland jumped ahead 8-3. Then it was a typical onslaught as the Wildcats put their fast break into gear for a 51-28 first-half romp. They added the lead up to 33 points (71-38) until Coach Dave Gunther sent in the reserves, and Midland outscored Wayne, 41-40 in the second half.

Junior forward Dean Elfson of Wayne added 15 points to make his season total a team-leading 152 while his 12 rebounds gave him 100 for the campaign. Bill See WILDCATS, page 5.

WINSIDE'S DOUG DECK has one of his shots blocked in Monday's tilt with Randolph in the first game of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament at Randolph. Winside won the contest, 64-54, to move into Wednesday Night's second-round action, a game against Wynot.

Winside Quintet Drops Randolph, 64-54 In 1st Round of Lewis & Clark Tourney

The Winside Wildcats zeroed in at the free throw line to end their losing streak at seven straight in the first-round action of the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament Monday night at Randolph.

The quintet potted 16 of 25 gift shots for 64 per cent as they went about knocking off the Randolph Cardinals, 64-54. The Wildcats' win advanced them to the second round of the tourney, a game against Wynot scheduled for Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.

It was a refreshing change for the Wildcats as they jumped to an early lead in the Monday tilt and never trailed the Randolph squad. Dave Witt and Scott Duering, both juniors, boosted the winners to a 4-0 lead on two quick field goals.

Winside kept that four-point lead at the end of the first stanza, 14-11, and then used a fast break to up the lead to eight points, 29-21, with only about one minute left before intermission. They took a slim 31-24 lead into the dressing room.

Duering tallied eight of his 18 points in the third quarter to boost the Wildcats to a 48-37 lead at the sound of the buzzer. Sharp rebounding and more fast breaking in the final stanza pushed the 'Cats to their largest lead over the Cardinals, 60-45, with 2:36 left to play. Randolph began closing the gap in the final two minutes but could only cut Winside's lead to 10 points by the sound of the final buzzer. Gift shots were the key to the Winside victory as both teams garnered 24 field goals. Randolph made six of 15 at the free throw line for 40 per cent, but the Wildcats' 16 of 25 proved the winning margin.

Leading in the scoring department for the winners was Dave Witt with 21 points and Scott Duering with 18, including four out of four at the free throw line. Coming up with 14 was Doug Deck while Bob Wacker added nine and Bob Jackson added two.

Randolph's D. Hansen led his team with 19 points, the only man in double figures for the Cardinals.

Eagles Gain 56-49 Overtime Victory Against Winside

Although it took the strain of an overtime period to do it, the Allen High Eagles pulled themselves out of the losing rut Saturday night by clipping Winside, 56-49, in the final round of the Lyons Holiday Tournament.

Their win, the first in six starts for the quintet, gained them third-place trophy in the tournament. They dropped their first-round game to Walthill Friday night's 67-44. The Winside squad, now with a record of no wins and seven losses, had to settle for fourth in the four-team tournament.

Taking first place in the meet were the hosts with a 54-48 victory over Walthill in Saturday's action. They ripped Winside, 62-36, Friday night.

Winside fans and players must have considered the Allen players "thieves in the night" after the disappointing loss—Winside led the Eagles at the end of the first three quarters of action only to a 49-49 tie at the end of regulation play.

And to add to their misery, the Winside squad was held scoreless in the overtime action while four Eagles garnered seven points to give Allen the victory.

Coming up with the clutch points in the "fifth quarter" were Dave Abts and Al Smith with a field goal each, Bob Mitchell with two free throws and Jerome Roberts with one free throw. The Wildcats jumped ahead of the Eagles early in the game, taking a 16-11 lead at the end of the first quarter and then moving out front seven points, 30-23, at intermission. They retained that seven-point lead at the end of the third quarter, 43-36, but the Eagles outscored the Wildcats 13-6 in the final stanza to force the game into an overtime period.

Allen's shooting from the field had a lot to do with their winning the contest—the Eagles potted 50 per cent for the evening, 21 out of 42. Winside could garner only 14 field goals in the game. The Eagles also out-shot the Wildcats at the free throw line, making 14 out of 23 for 60 per cent while the 'Cats made 21 out of 37 for 55 per cent.

Leading both teams in the scoring department was Allen's John Abts with 13 points, 14 of them coming on field goals. Bob Mitchell's 13-point effort was good enough for second-high honors in the game. He potted three field goals and seven out of eight at the free throw line. Coming up with 10 points apiece were Jerome Roberts and Dave Abts. Al Smith added six and Dennis Gelger added two to the winner's column.

Leading the scoring for the Winside team were Fritz Weible and Dave Witt with 10 points each. Adding eight each were Scott Duering and Bob Wacker. Bob Jackson tallied seven and Doug Deck tallied six.

Recreation League Basketball Results

Wayne Junior High and recreation league cagers got together and swept all three games Tuesday evening at the city auditorium. The Junior High team knocked off Laurel by a lopsided score of 38-13, the sixth graders beat the seventh graders, 43-31, and the eighth grade reserves clipped St. Mary's seventh and eighth grade in a close game, 33-27.

Doug Sturmin's 11 points and Randy Nelson's 10 led in the romp over Laurel in the first game of the evening. Wayne moved out to a 6-0 lead at the end of the first quarter. They widened that to 15 points, 17-2, at intermission and to 19 points, 25-6, at the end of three stanzas.

Leading scorers for the Laurel quintet were Gary Blanchford and Gene Sarha with three each.

Earl Overin, Marty Hansen and Gregg Biltoff each potted eight points as the sixth grade went about knocking off their elders. Also playing aggressively for the winners were Jack Froehlich and Kirk Wacker. Coming up with nine points to lead the scoring for the losers was Kerry Joeh.

Mark Schram added six, Jeff Lamb five and Clark Clatanoff and Scott Ehlers added four each. In the final game of the evening, St. Mary's put on a determined charge in the closing minutes of action. They trailed Wayne by only two points, 27-25, with 2:00 left on the clock but began fouling as they pressed the leaders and the Wayne pulled away to a 33-27 victory.

Leading the scoring for the eighth grade reserves was Bruce Zimmerman and Charlie Roland with eight each and Dale Paulson with six. Bill Schwartz came up with 12 points to lead the scoring for St. Mary's. James Maley added four and Steve Meyer contributed three.

Next action for the young cagers is Sunday afternoon when St. Mary's tangles with Osmond at the city auditorium. Game time is set for 2 p.m.

Wayne's fifth grade reserves and seventh graders tangle with Dixon Tuesday evening at Dixon. Games start at 7 p.m. The next game for the Junior High squad is Thursday, Jan. 15, when they journey to Norfolk to take on Norfolk Junior High. Game time, 5:30 p.m.

Thankful December Gone; Colder, Wetter Than Usual

Area residents had every reason to complain about the weather during the month of December—it was colder than normal and there was more precipitation than usual.

The average temperature during the month, according to readings taken at Peoples Natural Gas in Wayne, was a chilling 19.9 degrees, almost six degrees below the 25.4 degrees that is considered the long-term average in this part of the state for the last month of the year. The average temperature during December in 1967 was 24.9 degrees.

Highest temperature recorded during the month was on Dec. 5 when the thermometer reached 57 degrees. Coldest day was the last day of the month when the highest temperature recorded was -2 degrees. That same day the thermometer dipped -20 degrees for the coldest temperature recorded in December. That was quite a change from the warmest low, 32 degrees, recorded on the first day of the month.

Total precipitation during December amounted to 2.44 inches, according to readings taken by the State National Bank in Wayne. That compares to .91 inches which is considered the long-time average for the month. In December of 1967 there was 1.27 inches of moisture recorded in the area.

Total snowfall during the month amounted to 23 inches. Following are the precipitation readings during the month: 20 during Dec. 11-17; .91 (8 inches of snow) on Dec. 18; 1.23 (14 inches of snow) during Dec. 11-23; .10 (1 inch of snow) on Dec. 30.

Fever Is Body's Early Warning System

by Glenbrook Laboratories
Just what does a child's fever mean? When the mouth temperature is taken and the thermometer's red line climbs above the 98.6 degree mark, a mother may have cause for concern. That's understandable, for the child's fevered brow and flushed face are signs that something could be wrong. Actually, fever can be as friendly as well as foe. It's the body's early warning system. It is rarely dangerous. And, it is also a condition that can almost always be relieved. The body's temperature is not constant. During any 24-hour period, it has several up and down, from the 98.6 degree norm. It is generally at a low—usually 97 degrees or a bit lower—during the early morning hours. This is because the circulation of our blood slows down while we sleep. By late afternoon or early evening, with the day's activity, it may go up to about 99.5 degrees. The body's heating system is very similar to that in your own home. The body, like a furnace, burns fuel which, in this case, is food that is burned primarily in muscle tissue. This generated heat is then distributed through a vast network of blood vessels in the same way the furnace's heat is sent out through the house through a system of pipes. Like a house, too, the body is insulated. The insulation is a layer of fat under the skin. The body likewise has a "thermostat". It is located in the hypothalamus, a part of the brain. This thermostat goes into immediate action once there's an infection or outbreak of disease. When a hand, for instance, becomes infected and inflamed, you will notice it gets quite hot at that place. This is a little localized fever. If this localized fever does not overcome the infection, then toxins known as pyrogens accumulate and go to the brain's thermostat. This signals an action that fires up the entire body to battle the invading germs. Body fever signifies that the infection isn't minor or limited to one area but is now serious enough to summon all the body's natural defenses. Babies and young children tend to get very high temperatures from only slight infections. A child's temperature can shoot up to 104 degrees for a few hours with just a simple sore throat. This is mainly because the thermostat in the child is not fully developed. Conversely, there are a number of serious ailments, such as appendicitis, that often produce only low fevers. As a rule, when your child's temperature goes over 103 degrees, you should summon the doctor. A fever of 103 degrees or more usually leads to excessive loss of water, known as dehydration. It is important that the water lost at this time be replaced. High temperatures also burn up proteins, carbohydrates and fat at a rapid rate. This weakens the child at a time when reserves are so badly needed. That's why doctors suggest a balanced diet that is especially high in protein. There was a time when fever was allowed to run its course on the theory that once it broke, recovery was imminent. Today, doctors believe in bringing the fever down as quickly as possible. The most widely used method of bringing a child's temperature down is aspirin. How it does this is still a mystery being probed intensively today by medical scientists. Until recently, it was believed that aspirin acted directly on the body's thermostat in the brain. Now other studies point to the possibility that aspirin may work to inhibit formation of toxins in the body's white blood cells thus allowing the thermostat to start reducing the temperature by increasing sweating. Usually aspirin will start to bring a fever down within 30 minutes and will hold it at a lower level for as much as four hours. This should give you enough time to consult your physician, so he can determine the underlying cause of the fever.

Dixon County Seat

Chosen in 1858

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives of the Nebraska Territorial Legislature by D. T. Bramble on Dec. 1, 1858, which provided that an election be held on the second Monday of Dec., 1858, to select a county seat, choose county officers and pick a name for the county. Pulling places were designated at Ponca, Ionia, North Bend and Galena.
Ponca was chosen as the county seat and commissioners were John Kavanaugh, H. A. Fuller, J. F. Messinger, county clerk; Edward Arnold, county judge; Mr. Denton, treasurer; John Malone, surveyor, S. B. Soug and sheriff, Charles F. Putnam. Very few records were kept of the business transacted by these officials. Their meetings were extremely informal and they maintained no offices.
In 1883 the voters decided to adopt the township form of government with the change to be made in 1886. At the November, 1885 election the county was divided into 14 townships and 15 supervisors were elected. They were Dr. Ilasson, Ponca village; A. Renolds, Ponca township; G. W. Waltz, Wakefield, P. G. Wright, Galena, C. W. Sherman, Daily, J. W. Elyson, Ionia, Frank Kier, Logan, W. Jenkins, Concord, W. H. Pomeroy, Springbank, M. L. Rooster, Emerson, D. F. Curtis, Clark, H. C. Fields, Hooker, H. Sayre, Otter Creek and H. Richards, Newcastle. In later years the number of supervisors was reduced to the present number of seven.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.
It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

Purchase a Snowmobile?

The recent winter storms which struck northeast Nebraska have once again emphasized how small and impotent man is in the face of violent natural forces. This time several lives were lost during the storm, three of them only a few miles from Wayne. Unless something is done, unless each town plans ahead, more lives will be lost the next time a blizzard hits this part of the state.
We think the city council of Wayne could take one step in planning ahead in an attempt to avoid such a tragedy as occurred south of Colorado by buying a snowmobile. The vehicle could be stored in the city hall along with the fire trucks. It could be made available to anybody in the area in an emergency situation. The price of such a vehicle? About $1,000. A small price indeed if it would save a life during a future storm.

It seems rather silly to try and clear a path through huge snow drifts in order to reach a motorist stranded on a highway or a farmer living off a well-traveled highway. But that is what is done too often. Occasionally a plane is pressed into the search, but unless someone can get to the motorist or farmer, the problem is still not solved — he is still stranded. A snowmobile would solve this problem.

Ideally, every small town in the area should buy one or two of the snowmobiles. Then they could work together in rescue operations, increasing their effectiveness and reducing the risk to those operating them.

It is easy to second-guess and say that a snowmobile may have saved the lives of the three Ponca youth. But such a vehicle may have done just that.

We think the city council should consider purchasing a snowmobile at the next meeting. We think that the citizens of Wayne should voice an opinion concerning this recommendation. They can do so by contacting members of the city council or by writing a letter to The Wayne Herald. — N.H.L.

Taxes

As long as there have been governments, there have been taxes. Before taxation there is assessment, and that time of year is here again! Wayne County Assessor Henry Arp has announced that county residents are to be assessed sometime between now and March 1st.

As long as there have been taxes, folk have grumbled, sometimes rebelled but most usually paid.

Is there such a thing as a perfect tax? Not in the sense of one that produces all the revenue required and satisfies everyone at the same time. In America, most of us who grumble about taxes ought to take a fresh look of appraisal regarding taxation. Taxes are not a harsh tribute exacted from a cringing people. Such a thing might be true in some countries but it is not true here in the U. S., here in America, who pay the taxes help elect those who levy the taxes.

Taxes in this country are the price we pay for governmental services. We should consider them as we do any other business transaction in which we receive something we need, or want, and later pay the bill. (It is always a question whether the nation needs all of the government services some powerful groups appear to want.)

If we look at taxes as a purchasing transaction, there are only two questions to ask ourselves. Are we getting the quality of service we want? Is the price fair? That is the basis on which most of us buy everything. Quality comes first and then price.

Taxes buy many services: military security, paved roads, schools, fire and police protection, traffic controls, laws for living, courts of justice, and that catch-all thing called "public welfare".

Are all of those services as good as they ought to be? If not, why not? If they are, then have we expressed our appreciation to those who have done a fine job?

Actually, the first and most important consideration in appraising taxes is the quality of government services provided. These must be maintained at a high standard, regardless of the tax cost. Quality is always cheapest, especially in government.

Let's be of help to our public servants by not waiting until the last week or two, or even the last day, to get assessed! If you dislike waiting in a long line, why not get the assessment job taken care of early? It will avoid many tense and rushed moments later.

After visiting with Henry Arp, Wayne County Assessor, I know it is his desire to provide friendly and congenial service. His office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Yes, it is open during the noon hour too.

Those of you who do wait until the last minute to be assessed and have to wait your turn in line, get ready for the "I told you so!" chorus. The pitch will "B flat" this year. — MMW.

Three "D" Report Cards

What kind of grades would our community receive on an honest report card? Let's consider three "D" grades we need if using the alphabetical system of evaluation.

DESIRE! What a blessing if one could buy desire in pill form! Since it isn't yet available, let's consider the next best which is an illustration of desire. Remember the "mile of the century" race between John Landy of Australia and Roger Bannister of England? It took place in the British Empire and Commonwealth Games. Other good milers were on the track that day at Vancouver, B. C., but these two were the ones the world was watching. Both men had previously broken the four-minute barrier. Roger Bannister did it first, and then John Landy did it faster.

The barrier to the four-minute mile was a psychological barrier, of course. From the time that accurate track and field records have been kept, runners have cut down on the time required to run a mile. In every decade one or more great milers have come closer to that invisible barrier, the dream mile that some experts thought could never be achieved. It was, more or less, impossible!

Then Roger Bannister finally did it, followed by John Landy, to prove once again that the "impossible" can always be done when someone has the "desire," the dedication and the courage to deliver.

DEDICATION! Regardless of the field of interest, whether it be in music, sports, education, research, science, religion, medicine or law, dedication is one of the most brilliant facets of any such career.

DELIVERY! Our third "D" grade identifies the courage to deliver. A baseball pitcher, a wholesale firm, a creative employee, a talented athlete, and any individual or community desiring success, must, through dedication, have the courage to deliver.

Desire, dedication and delivery form a trio essential for the man, woman, boy, girl, or community, having the dream of scaling peaks to create victories.

Affinity is the only time in life when we do not need any help. It is the time when we do not need any help. It is the time when we do not need any help.

Battering rams are needed to overcome psychological barricades! Even as Bannister was able to break the "psyche-dile" and accomplish what seemed to be impossible, even so, communities can also plunge into breaking records. They can, that is, if they have a good "three D" report card!

Effortless wishing, un-imaginative dreaming, optimistic doubt, stunted enthusiasm and vigorous negativism are all catalogued as psyche-diles needing to be rammed and broken by any person or group desiring, through dedication, to deliver the goods.

Imaginative men burn midnight oil while "fortune-seeking." Webster says "fortune" means "the wealth possessed, considered to bring good or bad to people, good luck, success, prosperity."

Fortune-seeking is a word I've coined meaning to design and build one's fortune by engineering. You can do it! A town can do it! A nation can do it! Yes, a world can do it, however, all progress will be determined as to whether or not the report card carries that trinity of success-horses, Desire, Dedication and Delivery.

Excel in fortune-seeking, using DDD, and help build yourself a new world! — MMW.

39 Nebraska Towns Must Build Sewage Facilities

LINCOLN—Thirty-nine Nebraska communities will have to make significant changes in their sewage treatment facilities under water pollution control standards recently adopted.

The federal government has insisted that sewage discharged into Nebraska streams must receive at least secondary treatment. That means it is not enough just to run the sewage through preliminary treatment and then send it into the streams.

Under the definition of the water authorities, the sewage must have 85 per cent removal of biochemical oxygen demand and suspended solids.

The 39 communities which do not now have such facilities will have to build them by 1972, according to the standards adopted under federal pressure by the State Water Pollution Control Council. The standards were recently accepted by Interior Secretary Stewart T. Udall.

C. A. Filipp, director of the State Health Department's Environmental Health Division, estimated that the total cost to provide these 39 new plants would be about $3.5 million.

Under present programs, Filipp said, the cities would have to put up about two-thirds of the money and the federal government would supply the remainder.

If, however, the state were to assume part of the financial load, the federal share would go up to 55 per cent. The state would pay 25 per cent, leaving the local community with only 20 per cent—instead of about 67 per cent.

Kenneth Bowen, executive director of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, said his organization plans to urge the 1969 Legislature to provide state funds for this purpose. Without aid from the state, he said, some of the 39 towns could not afford the required plants.

The state already has legislation authorizing the unicameral to appropriate this type of aid, but the law has never been funded, Bowen said.

Nebraska was the 47th state or jurisdiction to get water control standards accepted by the federal government. The delay was partly due to Nebraska's reluctance to accept a deadline in its standards.

Filipp said he was "not happy" with the deadline aspect in the final standards because he had found cooperation with the communities and encouragement from the state had worked well.
The question, he said, was never one of whether the secondary sewage treatment would be required. The question was when it would have to be done. From Washington, Udall said he he was "particularly gratified" by Nebraska's adoption of a non-degradation clause which seeks to maintain the quality of waters whose present condition exceeds the limits established under the state's standards.

Udall said "successful implementation of the standards is the key to accomplishing our mutual goals of protecting and enhancing the quality and productivity of interstate waters."

The states and jurisdictions which still have not submitted standards acceptable to the federal authorities are California, Utah, Kansas, Iowa, Kentucky, Virginia, Florida and Puerto Rico.

Udall said the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration "is now discussing with these states the strengthening of their standards so they can also be approved."

The 39 Nebraska communities which must meet the 1972 deadline are nearly all in the eastern two-thirds of the state. Only Day Springs is in the Panhandle.

The others are Valentine, Answorth, Long Pine, Atkinson, Verdigris, Ewing, Pierce, Tilden, Stanton, West Point, Burwell, Meadow Grove, Uehling, Scribner, Hooper, Fremont, Spalding, Albion, Waterloo, Ashland, Staplehurst, Murray, Milford, Sterling, Humboldt, Elm Creek, Callaway, Odell, Fairbury, Hebron, Guide Rock, Campbell, Red Cloud, Arapahoe, Curtis, Indianola, Lindsay and Trenton. Governor Names Members

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann has replaced two members of the Nebraska Power Review Board.

The retiring chairman of the board, William H. Norton of Os-cola, was succeeded by Thomas J. Fitchett, a Lincoln attorney and the son-in-law of Sen. C. W. Holtzgraves of Oakland.

Tiemann named Joseph M. Dye, a North Platte automobile dealer, to replace Thomas K. Eason of North Bend.

Each will serve a four-year term on the board. Tax Reminder

State Tax Commissioner Murrell B. McNeill reminded Nebraska as they file their first state income tax returns to be sure and include all the information requested.

McNeill said early returns filed with his office indicate some taxpayers are not following the instructions on the forms. Most of the early trouble, he said, has involved the food credit which most Nebraskans will qualify for, but only if they file their returns properly.

McNeill offered this check list as a reminder:

—The Nebraska income tax liability is based on the federal income tax liability before the surtax is added.

—In order to obtain the food sales tax credit of 37 per cent, an individual must be a Nebraska resident more than six months this taxable year.

—The food credit may be claimed for each person—but not for additional exemptions granted for age or blindness.

—Individuals entitled to credit for income tax withheld must attach copies of their Nebraska Wage and Tax Statements to the returns properly.

—Before mailing the return, taxpayers should check the mathematical computations and be certain the return is signed.

Fay Pollock Resigns District Bench

District Judge Fay H. Pollock has tendered his resignation as a judge of the District Court of Nebraska, Ninth Judicial District, to be effective Feb. 1. He announced Dec. 28 that he has tendered his resignation to Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, after serving continuously for the past 26 years.

Judge Pollock, formerly of Stanton, has served as a judge presiding regularly in this judicial district composed of eight counties, one of which is Wayne. He has announced plans to return to the active practice of law and become associated with the Norfolk law firm of Jewell & Otte, under the firm name of Jewell, Otte & Pollock.

The District Judge was appointed to the bench in November 1942 by Gov. Dwight Griswold and has served in that capacity since.

Gov. Tiemann will fill the vacancy on the bench by making an appointment after being advised by a judicial nominating committee.

Business Corner in Your Home
Today's families face a paperwork explosion as they try to manage their finances and keep track of where their money goes. Functional desks and business corners are showing up in an increasing number of American homes.

Running a home, keeping track of bills and debts, preparing income tax reports and maintaining records become almost impossible tasks unless some sort of order is established.

What records should be kept? All things important to day-today and month-to-month family bookkeeping should be kept. These include current bills, cancelled checks, credit payment books, receipts, guarantees, health and insurance premium records, mortgage payments and the like.

In setting up a business corner or money management center in your home, an organized system will do as long as it works for you and your family. It should make your money management easier and eliminate a good many frustrations. Financial decisions become easier for the family if records can be reviewed.

Home account record books are available for a small fee from your local County Extension Office or from the Northeast Station. Get off to a good start in 1969 by keeping better records of family business matters.

Appliance Safety

We are hearing a great deal these days about product safety. There is a National Commission on Product Safety which was created after a bill was passed by Congress and signed by the President in 1967. Its job was designated to determine which household products were dangerous, to find out how well our present laws—federal, state and local—protect consumers, and to recommend action by the federal government to protect families from hazards in the home.

According to a report in a recent issue of "What's New in Home Economics" it is stated "appliance accidents are undoubtedly a significant cause of the 28,000 to 30,000 deaths, and

Census Bureau To Take Survey In Wayne Area
Selected families and households in the Wayne, Stanton and Madison county area will be included in a nationwide survey of home repair and buying plans in January, according to Guy A. Lutz, director of the Census Bureau's regional office in St. Paul, Minn.

Census Bureau interviewers will ask householders about any plans to buy a house, car or major household appliances during the next year. Questions about home repairs and alterations will concern those made during the past three months and those planned to be made in the near future.

The Census Bureau conducts a survey of buying expectations and home repairs every three months to serve as a guide to economic growth. A statistically selected group of households throughout the nation serves as a measure of what U.S. families own and what they expect to buy in the near future. Households included in the survey will not be identified. Their answers are confidential and the information obtained will be used only for statistical purposes.
Mrs. Ruth Koehler, Norfolk, will be working in the Wayne area.

SCOTTY DREESEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Dreesen of Hartington, has been named the 1969 Cedar County March of Dimes Poster Child. (Photo by The Art Center of Hartington)

Name Hartington Boy 'Poster Child'

Scotty Dreesen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Dreesen of Hartington, has been named the 1969 Cedar County March of Dimes Poster Child. Scotty's major birth defect was in the heart. Major heart surgery was performed on Scotty with the help of the Cedar County Chapter of the March of Dimes. After the surgery, he had a long scar and row of stitches up the center of his chest. He calls it his "zipper". He's a happy and healthy boy now.

J. Keith Cook, chairman of the Cedar County March of Dimes Chapter, has announced the 1969 community campaign directors. They are: Mrs. James Kavanaugh in Belden, Mrs. J. E. Truby in Laurel, Mrs. Jake Meier in Cole

This is an event for the serious car buyer. The man who has X number of dollars to spend and is determined to get his money's worth and maybe more.

Come to a Chevrolet Showroom during our Value Showdown.

Ask the man to show you, on paper, how you can order most any 1969 Chevrolet with a big V8 and automatic transmission for less than you could last year.

Come in and spend some time. Dig, probe, ask questions, take notes. You owe it to yourself to be thorough.

Go for a drive.

Get a free sample of Chevrolet's luxurious full-coil, cushioned ride. Shut the windows and see how fresh the interior stays, thanks to Astro Ventilation. Feel the kick of the biggest standard V8 in our field.

Then go down the street or across town and see how we stack up against Those Other Cars.

We think you'll wind up with a Chevy.

More people do, you know.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Millicent, mother of 5,
with all that pressure,
how do you make each meal an occasion?

Millicent's solution to pressure is pressure: a Presto Pressure Cooker. Heaven knows handling five children in these maid-less days calls for coping—and nothing copes as well at mealtime as a pressure cooker. With it, Millicent can serve adventurous, delicious meals such as Italian Potted Beef or Old Fashioned Chicken Fricassee or even Shrimp Jambalaya in less than 45 minutes—start to finish!—and still keep an eye on her brood. Good idea, eh? Conquer pressure with pressure cooking—Presto, of course.

Presto offers the only complete line of pressure cookers: aluminum or stainless steel; electric or non-electric; with or without Presto's Hard Surface Teflon®; in Avocado or Harvest. Choose the one that takes the pressure off you.

Millicent's
Italian Potted Beef:

2 tablespoons olive or salad oil	1 bay leaf
3½-4 lbs. rump or chuck roast	2 teaspoons salt
1 onion, chopped	½ cup dried mushrooms
½ cup diced celery	1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste
1 clove garlic, chopped	1 (10½ oz.) can beef broth
1 carrot, chopped	1 cup red wine

Heat pressure cooker and add oil. Brown roast on all sides. Add prepared vegetables and seasonings. Blend tomato paste with broth and wine. Pour over meat. Close cover securely. Cook 35 minutes. Let pressure drop of its own accord. Serve with gravy. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

The Liberty Bell of the West

ODE TO A SUNKEN TOWN

It's a bit ironic that with Illinois' Sesquicentennial near its close, one of the state's greatest historical attractions got very little attention. Kaskaskia Island, with its "second Liberty Bell," was largely forgotten in the year-long celebration by the powers that be. Be that as it may, the fact remains that Old Kaskaskia will long live in the thoughts of many.

Here it was that an Algonquin Indian, angered at the French, released his wrath on the people of the frontier village.

"May the filthy spot on which your altars stand be destroyed; may your crops be failures and your homes be dilapidated. May your dead be disturbed in their graves, and may your land become a feeding place for fishes!"

Prophecy, you say. Yes, but even more amazing is the fact that, over the years, it all came true!

Here are the statistical facts: the Mississippi River, on a rampage in April, 1881, did destroy the Illinois town of Kaskaskia. It swept the Church of the Immaculate Conception into the flood. It inundated the farms and crops of the Frenchmen, unearthed their community cemetery, exposed many of their dead, and finally buried them under the flood. The river cut a new channel, created a 14,000-acre island, and the original town of Kaskaskia is now under the waters of the Mississippi, a "feeding place for fishes." One other thing, something that the Algonquin didn't include in his prophecy: a famous bell was lost in the flood as well.

It is quite a famous bell. Today it is called "The Liberty Bell of the West." That suggests that America really has two Liberty Bells instead of one, and the supposition is entirely correct. The fact that the Kaskaskia Bell is enshrined by Illinois today in a tiny brick building on Kaskaskia Island, literally unmarked and reached only by a secondary road from the Missouri side, is one reason that the famous bell has been buried in antiquity.

The bell itself was cast at La Rochelle, France, in 1741. It is eleven years older than the Philadelphia Liberty Bell, for one thing. The Philadelphia Bell, the product of an English bellmaker, was cast in 1752. The Kaskaskia Bell, like the Philadelphia Bell, is cracked. In size and weight, the two bells could be twins.

Kaskaskia Islanders insist that a crucifix was dropped into the molten metal when their famous bell was cast in France, an act of consecration. Whether this is legend or truth is debatable. At least it is not substantiated by available historical fact. But be that as it may, the history of this bell is little short of amazing.

Back in 1881, the Mississippi River, well behaved for a long period of time, went on an epoch-making rampage, the result of heavy Spring rains in much of its upper basin. The steadily rising waters, setting a new flood mark, cut a new channel near the historic town of Kaskaskia on the night of April 18, where the Mississippi is joined by a smaller stream, Illinois' Kaskaskia, now much in the news because it is being canalized. Slowly the town that sat on the bank like some lazy, well-fed duck, started toppling into the river, a slow but deadly process of demolition.

Mrs. Catherine Sulser, last of the Kaskaskia Islanders who saw it take place, told this writer how it happened, just a short time before her death. The two rivers here, the Mississippi and the Kaskaskia, were little more than 400 feet apart at that time. The current in the Kaskaskia was eight feet lower than the Mississippi's waters. When a stiff northerly wind pushed the Mississippi flood into the smaller stream, the breakthrough came in short order.

"I was a small child at the time," Mrs. Sulser related. "But I still remember it all, how some of the houses slipped into the muddy water as the banks were eaten away."

All that remains of the old church today is an altar stone of white marble, dated 1681; two reliquaries, a carved altar, six wooden candlesticks, two small wooden statues, one of St. Joseph and the other the Virgin Mary, and a soiled oil painting of the Immaculate Conception.

The most heart-rending moment of the town's submission to the river was the slow disintegration of the community cemetery. One moment a grave was exposed; the next it had disappeared into the yellow flood. The Kaskaskians stood helplessly by, broken in grief, suddenly remembering the prophecy of the Algonquin.

After the flood subsided, the town that was the first Capitol of Illinois was gutted. The river had changed its course as well. What was once fertile farm land, stretching away to the distant bluffs, was now an island of some 14,000 acres.

History had violently turned a new page, just as the Algonquin had prophesied.

When Marquette visited the Kaskaskia Indians in 1673 and 1675, they were encamped on the upper Illinois River at the present town of Utica, opposite Starved Rock. From there the Kaskaskia Indians migrated (in 1691) to Lake Pimitoui, near the present city of Peoria, then (in 1700) to the mouth of the Des Peres River (the southern city limits of St. Louis), and then (in 1703) to the Mitchigamia River, now the Kaskaskia. Although many writers have credited Marquette with starting the first mission at Kaskaskia, this is in error. Kaskaskia came into existence on the banks of the Kaskaskia River in 1703, twenty-eight years after the death of Marquette.

Here, three miles from the bank of the "great river," the early French Colonists built a town, little realizing that the contour of the stream was even then inching toward their doors.

Early Kaskaskia village had a wide, open Common, as well as a fort. Oxen, with yokes attached to their horns by leather straps, pulled the first plows. Kaskaskia thrived, danced, and made merry, little realizing the tragedy at their back door. The bell in the Church of the Immaculate Conception was already claiming its fame along the new frontier. It had rung loud and clear when Lieut. Col. George Rogers Clark had snatched this same outpost from the British, liberating a territory so huge that today it comprises five states.

Two years earlier, on July 4, 1776, the Liberty Bell at Philadelphia had rung out the signing of the U. S. Declaration of Independence.

This triumph had in no way belittled the greatness of their own bell. King Louis XV of France had given it to them. Cast into the bronze, in French, was the following inscription: Pour Leglise Des Illinois. Par Les Soins Du Roi. (A gift of the King for the church of the Illinois).

Then in the hectic days of the 1881 flood, the bell was hushed. Historians disagree whether it toppled into the flood or had been previously removed from the church, taken further inland. There is some disagreement, too, as to the date when the historic bell reappeared. But reappear it did.

Today it is enshrined by the State of Illinois in a tiny 20x30 foot brick building on the grounds of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in the center of the 14,000 acre island. The town itself has slightly more than 100 people; another 400, all farmers, live on the island.

But only a handful of people visit the bell shrine, for Kaskaskia Island is so isolated that it is not easily found by the tourist. There is only one incoming or outgoing road, reached from the Missouri shore, over a narrow bridge at the town of St. Mary's.

The islanders, natives of Randolph County, Illinois, send their children to the nearest Illinois high school, located at Chester. To do that, they must route them via bus through St. Mary's, thence over eleven miles of secondary Missouri roads, to a toll bridge with a 60¢ crossing fee. All of these "snafu" conditions are a result of the 1881 flood.

Planover Ideas

Emerald Macedoine Salad

BY BETTY STERN

Planning is the key to economy and work-saving in the kitchen. Instead of worrying what to do with that little bit that is left after a meal—plan it to happen that way. Buy a larger cut of meat than usual; cook it all at once and your next meal is half-finished.

Put freshness, flavor and convenience in your planover meals by storing foods properly. Care for planover meat just as you would fresh meat. Store in refrigerator, covered closely to prevent drying. To save space, cut meat from bones and store in a covered container or wrap tightly in waxed paper or aluminum foil.

Keep milk and cream cold, covered and in the dark: cold to prevent bacterial growth and development of off-flavors; covered to prevent bacterial contamination and development of off-flavors from contact with air; and in the dark to prevent development of off-flavors and destruction of riboflavin by light. Use within 3 to 5 days.

Store planover egg whites in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator. They may be held a week to 10 days. Refrigerate planover egg yolks with water in a covered container. They may be held 2 to 3 days.

Hard and semi-hard cheese wrapped tightly to prevent drying, will keep for many weeks. If mold occurs, it is not harmful; remove it and use the rest of the cheese. Aromatic cheese should be stored in covered containers.

Emerald Macedoine Salad

- |                                 |                                     |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 package lime-flavored gelatin | ¼ cup sliced stuffed olives         |
| 1¾ cups hot water               | 1¼ cups finely chopped celery       |
| ¼ cup vinegar                   | ½ cup (Planover) diced green pepper |
| 1 teaspoon salt                 |                                     |

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in olives, celery, and green pepper. Turn into large mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and fill center with your favorite salad dressing. Makes 6-8 servings.

Graham Coconut Torte

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| ⅔ cup sifted flour   | ½ cup margarine                        |
| 2½ teaspoons baking powder   | 1 cup sugar                            |
| ¼ teaspoon salt  | ½ cup shredded coconut, finely chopped |
| 16 sugar honey graham crackers, finely rolled or prepared in blender (1½ cups) | 1 teaspoon vanilla                     |
|  | ⅔ cup milk                             |
|  | 3 (Planover) egg whites                |

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add graham cracker crumbs. Cream shortening; gradually add sugar. Add finely chopped coconut and vanilla. Add flour mixture, alternating with milk, mixing thoroughly. Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry; fold in carefully. Pour into two 8-inch waxed-paper-lined layer cake pans. Bake in 375° oven for 30 minutes. Cool slightly before removing from pans. When cool, cut each layer in half crosswise. Spread whipped cream or boiled frosting between and on top the 4 layers. Garnish with coconut.

Chuck Wagon Casserole

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 2 cups (Planover) cooked beef, cubed   | 1 tablespoon minced onion                              |
| 1 pound can whole kernel corn, drained | 1 teaspoon chili powder                                |
| 1 10½ ounce can condensed tomato soup  | 1 can refrigerator biscuits or your own biscuit recipe |
| 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese          | 2 tablespoons margarine, melted                        |
|  | ¼ cup cornmeal   |

Mix all ingredients together except biscuits, margarine and cornmeal. Place in a shallow 2½ quart casserole. Bake at 400° for 10 minutes. Dip biscuits in melted margarine, then in cornmeal. Arrange around the casserole. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer or until biscuits are golden brown.

Walnut Chocolate Loaf

- |                                       |  |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| 2 cups flour                          | formia walnuts                                   |
| ¾ cups brown sugar, packed            | 1 (6-ounce) package semi-sweet chocolate morsels |
| 3 teaspoons baking powder             | 1 egg  |
| 1 teaspoon salt                       | 1 cup (Planover) canned applesauce               |
| 1 tablespoon finely grated lemon rind | 2 tablespoons cooking oil                        |
| 1 cup chopped Cali-                   |  |

Combine dry ingredients; add lemon rind, chopped walnuts and chocolate morsels. Beat egg; add applesauce and oil. Add to dry ingredients stirring till blended. Bake in a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan at 350° for one hour. Cool, wrap and store for one day before slicing. Or use five or six cup ring mold, bake at 350° for 45 to 50 minutes. When baked, turn out and while still warm, drizzle slowly with coffee-brandy glaze made by blending till smooth: 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar, ½ teaspoon instant coffee and 3 tablespoons brandy. Or use 1 teaspoon brandy flavoring and 3 tablespoons thin cream or water.

Cheese Potato Balls

2 cups (Planover) cold stiff mashed potatoes
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon margarine
½ cup grated American cheese
2 tablespoons water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 beaten egg
1 cup premium saltine cracker crumbs

Saute onion in margarine. Combine with potatoes. Blend in cheese. Divide the mixture into 8 portions of ¼ cup each; shape into balls and roll them in fine cracker crumbs. Add water and salt to beaten egg. Dip coated balls into the egg mixture and then roll them in the remaining crumbs. Place the coated balls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake at 400° for 10 to 12 minutes, or until coating is crisp.

Ham, Potato and Cheese Casserole

2 cups (Planover) diced cooked ham
2 cups diced processed cheese
1 (4 oz.) jar pimentos, drained and diced
6 medium potatoes, cooked, peeled and diced
1 (11 oz.) can of either Cream of Celery or Cream of Mushroom Soup
½ cup milk

Place the ham, cheese and pimentos in the bottom of a greased two-quart casserole. Cover with the potatoes. Add the milk to the can of soup, stirring until smooth. Pour over the top of the casserole. Bake, uncovered in a pre-heated oven (350°) for 40 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Planover Triumph

3 cups finely chopped (Planover) mixed vegetables (avoid using leafy vegetables)
60 French onion crackers, finely rolled or prepared in blender (about 1½ cups crumbs)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon basil leaves
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 tablespoons margarine, melted
1 egg, beaten
1½ ounces (Planover) Swiss or Gouda cheese, cut into 12 small cubes
6 slices lean bacon, cut in half
1 cup pancake mix
Oil for frying
2 cups medium white sauce
2 tablespoons finely chopped chutney
1 (2-ounce) jar pimiento slices drained

To vegetables add next seven ingredients. Mix well. Spread on a 9-inch pie plate. Chill ½ hour. Using floured hands, shape about ¼ cup mixture around each cube of cheese. Heat bacon for 5 minutes in a preheated very hot oven (450°). Lay a strip over each vegetable-cheese round. Prepare pancake batter as label directs using 1 cup pancake mix. Dip each vegetable round into batter. Using a strainer, drain a few minutes. In deep-fat fryer or saucepan, slowly heat at least 3 inches oil to 350° on deep frying thermometer. Deep-fry, a few rounds at a time, until golden and puffy. Drain on paper towels. Keep warm. Add chutney and pimiento to white sauce. Serve over puffs. Makes 6 servings.

ISLANDS IN THE SUN

HAWAII 1969

For the past five years Farm and Home Magazine has sponsored its annual tours to Hawaii. We have tried different methods—some at very low cost, but you don't get much for it—others at medium cost, but with no tour guide, etc. In 1969 we are trying a new approach to Hawaii. Four completely escorted departures of 13 wonderful sunny days, each, covering four islands . . . Hawaii, Maui, Kauai, and Oahu.

This year our prices include round-trip jet air transportation from your home to Hawaii and back . . . ground transportation while on the islands . . . superior accommodations at excellent hotels . . . all meals in the Outer islands including special meals in Honolulu . . . all tips and taxes . . . and sightseeing.

Farm and Home has had such beautiful successes with Pan American World Airways that they once again will be our official carrier. Our official tour guide this year, however, will be Farmer-To-Farmer Tours of California.

You will see more and do more on your Hawaii vacation when you travel with a Farmer-To-Farmer tour. In Hawaii you will meet and talk with the leaders of the Country. You will travel relaxed and carefree with every detail considered to make your travel a delight.

Let's look at our itinerary:

FIRST DAY This morning board your Jetliner for a smooth-as-silk, luxurious flight to HILO on the Island of HAWAII, where our guide and your first Aloha to Hawaii awaits.

SECOND DAY Today we tour the upper half of the "Orchid Isle" . . . Mauna Kea, highest island mountain in the world . . . Kilauea, largest active volcano. Then to the picturesque Kona Coast, the village of Kailua and our hotel, the lovely Kona Inn.

THIRD DAY This morning we tour the Kona District . . . see coffee growing areas . . . sample fresh Kona Coffee and Macadamia nuts.

YOU'LL FIND QUALITY IN OUR CORNER

NABISCO

Eat crisp

Get the crackers with crunch—PREMIUM Saltines.
Baked crisp by Nabisco. And kept crisp in moisture-proof Stack Packs. Look for the "Easy-Lock" PREMIUM Saltines box. It really packs a crunch.

FOURTH DAY Today is yours . . . board a charter fishing boat for deep-sea fishing . . . or take a cruise along the coast to the Captain Cook Monument.

FIFTH DAY We stop at Black Sand Beach on our way to Kilauea. Arriving on Maui . . . a barbecue "Hawaiian Style".

SIXTH DAY This morning there are miles of beach to explore . . . then on to Iao Valley.

SEVENTH DAY After breakfast we take the short flight to KAUAI. The beauty and romance of Hawaii will capture your heart.

EIGHTH DAY This morning we visit Nawiliwili Harbor, Moir's Gardens and Waimea Bay.

NINTH DAY Today we leave Kauai and board our morning flight to Honolulu and thus begin our visit to OAHU . . . enjoy the blue Pacific from your own lanai . . . take a dip in the ocean at your doorstep.

TENTH DAY Today begins our Circle Island Tour . . . the evening's entertainment will be the now world-famous show of music and dances of all the Polynesian ethnic groups.

ELEVENTH DAY This morning visit the world's largest shopping center—Ala Moana Center . . . or relax on the beach. After lunch our bus takes us to Fisherman's Wharf where we board the ADVENTURE for a half-day cruise of Pearl Harbor.

TWELFTH DAY Enjoy a leisurely Sunday morning—just the way you like it. This afternoon we board our motor coach for a drive to famous Nuuanu Pali and a breathtaking view from its historic vantage point. Tonight we don Aloha shirts and Muu-muus for our last evening in beautiful Hawaii and go to a Lauau, an authentic Hawaiian feast.

THIRTEENTH DAY Our Jetliners await our arrival at Honolulu International Airport for return.
