

Two Mishaps Near Wayne

No personal injuries were reported in two separate automobile accidents close to Wayne Tuesday morning, according to investigating officers.

The first accident, investigated by the county sheriff's office, occurred about 9 a.m. and involved vehicles belonging to Rev. Robert L. Swanson, minister at Carroll and Winslow, and Carla Haas.

Haas had parked his pickup on the south side of the road facing west a mile west of Wayne on Highway 35 in order to start a stalled vehicle, Rev. Swanson was driving east and was unable to avoid colliding with the Haas vehicle, according to the sheriff's records.

Both vehicles suffered over $100 damage to their right sides.

The other accident took place just over two miles north of Wayne on Highway 15 about 10:30 a.m.

Bill Smith of Dixon, driving south, hit a snowbank and skidded sideways. A transport truck, driven by Dale Kellar of Sibley, Ia., and owned by Maing Transfer of Sibley, was going north when he saw the Smith car skid out of control. The truck driver pulled to the right and jackknifed his truck into the snow bank in order to avoid a collision. The truck was stopped when the Smith auto struck it, puncturing one of the saddle gas tanks.

Less than $100 damage was done to either vehicle involved, according to State Patrolman Ronald Stokes, investigating officer.

The roads were slippery at the time of both accidents and there was some blowing and drifting snow.

County, Towns Receive Share Of State Tax

A check for $73,164.40 was received last week by Wayne County Treasurer Leona Bahde from the State of Nebraska. Twenty per cent of the money will be credited to the county general fund, eight per cent to the general fund of the five incorporated municipalities in the county.

Miss Bahde said the money is the county's share of state sales tax receipts which were collected last year. The money helps replace income from the repealed intangible and head taxes and taxes on household goods and personal effects which would normally go into the county and municipalities' general funds.

The money will be distributed as follows:

County general fund	$15,632.88
Wayne	48,799.41
Winslow	4,813.98
Carroll	2,545.86
Hoskins	2,071.40
Sholes	300.87

Dixon County Treasurer Jack Conrad said the check he received last week was for $57,835.00.

He said the money will be distributed as follows:

County general fund	$11,567.00
Allen	4,476.28
Concord	1,919.20
Dixon	1,778.54
Emerson	6,487.24
Martinsburg	870.30
Maxwell	690.78
Newcastle	4,568.04
Ponca	11,822.86
Wakefield	12,616.36
Waterbury	1,036.40

Distribution of the money within the county to the incorporated municipalities is determined by law and is based on the 1960 census.

City Council Buys '69 Police Wagon

In an abbreviated session Tuesday evening, the city council voted to accept the bid by Corvett Auto Co. for the new station wagon for the police department.

Corvett's bid was $1,124.98 with the trade of the 1967 station wagon. Only other bid submitted for the bid letting was by Wortman Auto Co. Wortman's bid was for $1,483.08.

The 1969 white Chevrolet station wagon will be equipped for heavy-duty use. Some of its features - a rear door opening both out and down, a 250 horsepower engine, split rear seat for handling an injured person on a stretcher.

The council also decided to hold bid letting on Feb. 25 for the 10th Street sanitary sewer work. The sewers in this area are not large enough to handle the load, according to the council.

and will be enlarged. The expense of the construction will be borne by the whole city.

In other action the city council:

—Heard three members of the Wayne Lions Club ask about the possibility of developing a plot of city land on the east edge of town into a rest stop or park for motorists. The land, which is situated west of the airport on the north side of Highway 35, would need considerable fill before it could be used for a park, according to council members and Sid Magdanz, city engineer.

Magdanz told the group that he will get them copies of some of the plans he had drawn up for the area a few years ago. He told the group and the council that it would probably take about $10,000 to develop the area correctly since there should be electricity, roads and sewer available.

—Examined reports about the operation of the city swimming pool during 1968 and the city library for the last three months of 1968.

—Heard Roy Corvett of Corvett Auto Co. explain some of the advantageous features of snow-mobles when used by organizations for emergency use. He said the vehicles can be equipped with sleds which will carry almost anything which may have to be moved during an emergency, from a small transformer to an injured person.

—Took no action on the recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce Task Force concerning construction of an addition to the fire hall or construction of a combined city clerk-fire department-police department complex at the present site of the fire hall. The council noted that it would like to meet with the Wayne County Public Power District to see if that building could be bought for a reasonable sum.

One of the recommendations of the Task Force was that consideration be given to purchasing the REA building if the price were low enough that it might be cheaper than building onto the fire hall.

Wayne's city library reports 13,728 books circulated during the October-December quarter of 1968 and a total of 86 new books purchased during that time.

The report also states that the metal strips on the stairs have become loose and warped until they are a hazard, therefore it is planned to carpet them for safety and quietness.

A story hour was started approximately three weeks ago on Saturday afternoon and there has been an average of 34 children in attendance at the first three sessions.

Schools have been unable to maintain regular schedules in both town and country due to the inability of students and teachers to get to their classrooms.

Many scheduled meetings have been canceled, others postponed, while the weatherman seems to have little mercy.

As The Herald went to press Wednesday morning several more inches of the white stuff was falling upon unappreciative residents. School administrators were having to decide whether or not to dismiss classes earlier than usual.

An extended weather forecast from the Norfolk weather bureau says that temperatures from now on through Feb. 1 will average 3-6 degrees below normal with a gradual warming trend through Saturday. Normal high for this area is 29 and the normal low is 8 degrees.

Area Hunters Bag Over 100 Coyotes

Many hunters in the Wayne area have been doing quite well lately in bringing down their share of coyotes and fox.

A group of about 20 hunters from Wayne has brought down a total of 43 coyotes and two fox during its outings. Sunday the group bagged seven coyotes while hunting several miles south of Wayne.

Several men in the Dixon-Allen area have also been having good luck during their recent coyote hunts. The group, which sometimes numbers 25 men, has killed about 70 coyotes and one fox so far.

The recent heavy snows have made it difficult for the coyotes to conceal themselves, according to the hunters. Although averaging about 30 pounds, the coyote will kill newborn calves if they are in an isolated spot, according to Earl Eckert, one of the hunters in the Dixon-Allen area.

Among the men who hunt much of the time in the Wayne group are Ken Splitterger, Merlound Lessmann, Harold Gathje, Ron Penlerick, John Mohr, Jerry Daniels, Herb, Leo and Lester Hansen, Gene Perry, Robert Shulteis and Marvin Dranselka.

Fifteen minutes later, Saturday, on east 3rd street, a 1961 Willys truck driven by Ronald Von Seggern, Emerson, was backing from a parking stall and turned too short, hitting the left rear fender of a 1966 Chevrolet which was parked, belonging to Merle Roeder.

Monday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. in the 400 block on Main street, a 1960 Chevrolet driven by Diane Kuhlmann, Charter Oak, Ia., pulled out of the Standard Oil station. Her auto was struck on the right side by a 1962 Ford driven by Randy Lutt who was coming through the alley and was unable to see the Kuhlmann auto due to parked vehicles.

Also Saturday afternoon there was a collision in the Super Valu parking lot when a 1965 Ford driven by Jerry Bauermeister, Belden, was going south in the lot. In order to avoid getting hit by a pickup said to be backing up, according to the police record, Bauermeister attempted to get out of the way and slid into a parked 1969 Oldsmobile belonging to Clairens Vogel.

New Tax Packages Promise Easier Way to Pay Federal Tax Estimates

There is a new simplified method for filing and paying Federal income tax estimates for 1969.

Richard P. Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska, said that by Feb. 1, 1969, a new estimated tax package will be mailed to all taxpayers who filed a 1968 estimate or who under paid their 1967 Federal Income Tax by $40 or more.

The package will contain four pre-addressed estimated tax vouchers, a worksheet for the tax computation, instructions and mailing envelopes.

Using the computation sheet a taxpayer can compute his estimated tax and each quarterly payment. Mailing of the first estimated tax voucher by April 15 will constitute filing of the declaration required by law.

Completing and mailing the remaining quarterly vouchers as they become due enables the taxpayer to change the amount of his estimate as the year progresses, eliminating the need for amending previous estimates.

Vinal said that IRS will not send bills for the quarterly installments this year. IRS will send reminder notices for the second quarterly installment. He

More Ice, More Auto Accidents

Wayne's city police record of auto accidents continues to repeat the same story over and over again during January. Ice packed streets and high snowbanks are major factors contributing to the soaring number of collisions.

Saturday around 12:15 p.m. there was an accident where the alley east of Morey Hall connects with east 10th street. A 1965 Ford driven by Morris Anderson stopped at the stop sign before entering east 10th, according to the police record, and a 1965 Volkswagen driven by Donald Wintz golfed east on east 10th turned left and due to the ice-packed street conditions, slid into the Anderson auto.

Sunday morning, Saturday, on east 3rd street, a 1961 Willys truck driven by Ronald Von Seggern, Emerson, was backing from a parking stall and turned too short, hitting the left rear fender of a 1966 Chevrolet which was parked, belonging to Merle Roeder.

Weather

Weather continues to be the main subject of conversation throughout northeast Nebraska. Ice packed highways, streets and roads have been hazardous for drivers and made more so by blowing and drifting snow.

Schools have been unable to maintain regular schedules in both town and country due to the inability of students and teachers to get to their classrooms.

Many scheduled meetings have been canceled, others postponed, while the weatherman seems to have little mercy.

Over 300 Boxing Fans at 'Smoker'

Between three and five hundred boxing fans turned out for the boxing smoker held at the city auditorium Tuesday night.

Sponsored by Wayne's St. Mary's Men's Club, the boxing card drew fighters from northeast Nebraska, Omaha and Sioux Falls.

All three Wayne State College students seeing action during the night came off with victories. Randy Simonson and Bob Hixon won by technical knockouts, Tim Frankl by a decision.

Promoters of the event were happy with the results of the night's action and are thinking about making it an annual affair.

A complete story on the results of the nights boxing along with pictures appears in the sports section of this issue.

Swimming Pool, Library Report To City Council

Among items coming before the City Council members in their meeting Tuesday night was an examination of the yearly report regarding costs related to operating the municipal swimming pool and a quarterly report from the city library.

Income for pool operations through the sale of personal tickets, family season tickets and single admissions amounted to $5,138.30. The pool was in operation eight-one and a half days with a total of twelve staff members.

Operational expenses for the pool totaled $7,179.06 which includes $5,532.98 for salaries, $189 for insurance, $466.98 for chemicals, $60.51 for telephone, $172.30 for electric service, $87.52 for gas service, $456.43 for maintenance, and $243.34 for OASL. The balance between income and expenditures amounted to $2,040.76 which is the cost to the city for pool operation.

Wayne's city library reports 13,728 books circulated during the October-December quarter of 1968 and a total of 86 new books purchased during that time.

Wayne to Set a New Record for Kilowatts Used

Superintendent Norbert Brugger at the city light plant said Wednesday he believes by midnight Friday the records will show that during January more kilowatts of power were consumed than ever before used in a one month period in Wayne.

Although the January "peak" loads do not equate the peak load of 4,825 kilowatts set at 5:05 p.m. last August 5th, the total consumption of kilowatts during January will set a new record for the community, Brugger estimates there will be something like two million kilowatts of power (gross generation) used during this first month of 1969.

Wakefield 3

WHOSE ADVANTAGE? It's hard to tell whether the Wayne (striped pants) or the Wakefield grappler has the advantage in this match during Monday night's meet at Wayne. Wayne came off the floor with a convincing 47-3 victory.

Wayne High Grapplers Down Wakefield

Wayne High wrestlers had little trouble handling the visiting Wakefield Trojans Monday night. The locals came off the mats with a 47-3 victory in the varsity meet, a 5-3 victory in the abbreviated reserve meet.

Providing a change of pace for the fans were matches between some Wayne fifth and sixth graders. Brian Hendrick, 15, and Earl Overin, 15, and Kurt Wacker, 12-4.

In the reserve action, Wayne's Ron King pumped Greg Holm in 2-30 and Wakefield's Bruce Fahr decessed Kurt Russell 10-6.

Both matches were 112-pound classes.

Wayne varsity wrestlers won nine of the 19 matches during the night free of them by pins.

Gaining pins in the action were 103-pound Mark Bierman over Steve Kraemer in 3:45, 138-pound Gary Heithold over Kirk Leneman in 4:35, 145-pound Rick Ginn over Dick Johnson in 3:58, 154-pound Doug Maurer over Tom Nicholson in a quick 22 and 165-pound Bernie Binger over Mike Hammer in an even quicker 17.

Wakefield Trojan Rod Hank kept the meet from being a whitewash — he decimated 112-pound Steve Hall in a close match, 11-10.

Wayne won the 115 pound and the heavyweight division by forfeit.

Winside Raps Wynot For 1st Conference, 2nd Season Victory

The Winside Wildcats out-scored the visiting Wynot Blue Devils in every quarter Saturday night to gain their second victory of the season and their first Lewis and Clark Conference win. Winside ended on top, 61-39.

In the reserve game, Winside walked off the court with a 43-30 victory.

Junior Dave Witt pumped in seven field goals and seven of 10 gift shots to lead the 'Cats in their victory. Although tied early in the first quarter, Winside never trailed in the game, moving out front 13-5 at the first buzzer and 33-20 at intermission.

Winside's best scoring attack came in the second period when they tallied 20. After being held to only 11 in the third quarter, the victors came back with 17 in the final stanza.

Leading the Wildcats in their defensive effort was Dave Witt, who grabbed 11 rebounds. Bob Wacker came up with nine, Scott Duerling with seven.

Witt also led his team in scoring, garnering 21 points during the action. Wildcat Scott Duerling added 11, Bob Wacker 10. Also scoring were Tom Witt with five, Doug Deck and Bob Jackson with four each and Fritz Weible, Kevin Thompson and Dan Bruggeman with two each.

Only man in double figures for the losing Blue Devils was 6-2 junior Stan Ketter with 10.

Leading the Wildcats in the reserve game was Gary Soden with 13 points. Jerry Wacker and Kirt Schellenberg added seven each.

After playing a make-up game with Osmond Tuesday night at Osmond, the Wildcats prepare to host the Allen High Eagles Friday night.

WORTH TWO MORE POINTS. Winside's Fred Weible, 6-1 junior, pumps in two more points during Winside's game against Wynot Saturday night. Winside won the battle, the second of the season, 61-39.

Wakefield Ripped by Scribner '5'

Scribner keyed off on the exceptionally fine performance of 8-5 Kirk Mueller to knock off host Wakefield, 93-59, in an Eastern Division Husker Conference tilt Saturday night.

Mueller pumped in half of Scribner's total in the first quarter as his squad jumped to an early 20-12 first quarter advantage. Scribner increased that to 18 points by intermission break, 49-21, again behind the strong offense of Mueller who garnered 13 points in the second stanza.

Wakefield fell behind even further in the second half, able to score only nine points in the final stanza while Scribner netted 22.

Dennis Crawford, losing coach for the evening, was plentiful in his praise: "Scribner was rated about sixth in the state by the Omaha World-Herald a couple weeks ago and I'm sure they will be back up there before too long. They have a good ball club and it will take a fine team to knock them off."

He continued: "This Mueller boy is one of the finest athletes I've seen on the floor this year."

He moves the ball well and scores well."

Mueller, who was also a standout on the football field for Scribner last season, set a record for his school in the game against Wakefield. He scored 36 points, 15 field goals and six out of 10 at the free throw line, to put his name in the record books for high scorer in single game.

Scribner had three other players in double figures: Rod Cerny with 17, J. Robert with 12 and K. Carper with 11.

Only two Trojans hit two figures in the contest: Jerry Jensen with 14 and Gary Preston with 10. Other Trojans scoring during the tilt: Denny Paul with nine, Mike Barns with seven, Lyle Brown and Rob Eaton with six each, Rich Klino with five and Bill Gustafson with one.

After a make-up tilt with Winer Tuesday night at Winer, Wakefield started preparing for two invasions this weekend: West Point Friday night, Allen Saturday night.

Junior Bowling Results
The Johnson-Hix bowling duo added another win to its record Saturday afternoon by rolling a 494 to top the other seven teams. Coming in second in the action were Koerber and Kardell with a 480.

Steve Johnson's 155 took honors for high single game; Dave Kuderna took second place with a 144.

WSC Wrestlers in Double Dual Meet

Eager for battle after missing a meet last week because of weather, Wayne State wrestlers will go to Kirksville, Mo., Saturday for a double dual with host Northeast Missouri State and Lea College of Minnesota. Weather and road conditions permitting, that is.

Judging by Northeast's 9-1 dual record, Wildcat matmen will have a challenging day. Among the Northeast victims were Kansas State University, 20-16, Missouri University, 24-11, and Western Illinois, 26-3. Kansas State gave Wayne its only dual loss, 25-14, in the season opener. Northeast's only dual loss was a 31-3 slaughter by UN-Omaha, which will be a Wayne foe Feb. 18.

As to Lea College, no information is available at Wayne.

Wayne has won two of its three dual meets and finished second in two tournaments. The Wildcats had to miss a quadrangular at Bemidji State, Minnesota, last Friday because of travel conditions.

Large Crowd Sees St. Mary's Boxing Smoker Tuesday Night

The Wayne (Eber.) Herald, 5

Frank and Pelster Show Boxing Ability

by Kleth Tietgen

Tim Frank and Dick Pelster made it a sweep for South Sioux City in the main event in Wayne's boxing smoker Tuesday night. Frank, fighting at 130 pounds, won on a decision over Earl Fourcloud and Pelster, fighting at 145 pounds, won on a decision over Mick Walker. Both Fourcloud and Walker are from Winnebago.

A Wayne State student who has won nine of his last 11 bouts, Frank beat the defending Midwest Golden Gloves champion last year.

Pelster drew blood early in his bout, had Walker bleeding heavily by the end of the third round. No pushover, Pelster has won 38 of his 41 fights, 14 by knockouts.

Sponsored by Wayne's St. Mary's Men's Club, the smoker drew fighters from Sioux Falls, South Sioux City, Omaha, Winnebago, Macy, Norfolk and North Sioux City.

A crowd estimated at between four and five hundred turned out for the night's action in the city auditorium. The crowd would have been larger but about three hundred if the weather had not been bad and the roads been in better condition, according to some of the promoters. Nearly two hundred fans from both Norfolk and the South Sioux area had planned on coming, decided not to because of the weather.

Members of St. Mary's Men's Club were quite happy with the turnout for the event. Father Begley, priest at St. Mary's Catholic Church, said the group is hoping to make it an annual affair. There is also talk about trying to bring a wrestling card into Wayne.

Father Begley said much of the credit for the success of the card should go to Gary Wiebelhaus, promoter for the event.

Opening the action for the evening were two "heavyweights", Pat Fox and Dan Gill, who weighed night were not able to make it to Wayne. Two Wayne State students, Doug Radtke and Bill Cartwright, were scheduled to fight but could not be matched.

WSC Cagers Get Chances To Forget Peru Setback

Three non-conference games in four nights will give Wayne State cagers a chance to forget last Saturday night's setback, a 90-82 loss at Peru.

The Wildcats will be host to Morningside Friday night and Nebraska Wesleyan Saturday night, both games at 7:30 in Rice Gym following a 5:30 preliminary freshman contests. The Friday prelim matches Wayne State defeated in eight games, against the Morningside team. Monday night Wayne travels to Dana at Blair.

Among these three foes, only Wesleyan has a winning record, 10-8. The Plainsmen recently returned from a long eastern tour playing some top-rated quints. Morningside is 3-14 and Dana 1-8.

Wayne, despite the loss to Peru, retains Nebraska's best collegiate record at 13-2. Peru is the only Nebraska team that has beaten Wayne this year or last—once each season and both times at Peru where victories by visitors are rare.

Now the Wildcats await a return crack at the Bobcats when they come here Feb. 26. That game should be a dandy, quite likely settling the Nebraska College Conference title. Peru, with three talented newcomers from New York, now is 2-1 in conference, but has four remaining NCC games on the road. Wayne, 3-1 has only two conference games away, at Hastings and Chadron.

The quickest way to summarize the Wayne-Peru game is simply to say the Wildcats were beaten. Coaches considered the officiating good. Though Wayne beat the Bobcats in field goals, 33 to 31, Peru converted 28 of 38 free throws, Wayne 16 of 26.

The game's pace was fast all the way—from Wayne's three quick fielders at the first to the hectic finish when the Wildcats were playing catch-up ball, and nearly did catch up.

Several chances of lead preceded the halftime 40-38 lead favoring Wayne. But after intermission Peru racked up 10 points in two minutes while Wayne managed only one. Five minutes later the Wildcats regained the edge at 56-55. The next score put Peru ahead to stay, except for a 60-51 tie with 10 minutes to go.

The fired-up Bobcats moved up to a 14-point lead, the last one at 81-67. Then Wayne rallied to an 84-80 margin with one minute remaining in that minute, a couple of fouls and two traveling calls thwarted Wayne efforts, and the hosts made it 90-82.

Dave Schneider had his top production yet for Wayne with 25 points before fouling out about three minutes from the end. Marc Sommerfeld also was a Wayne foul casualty along with Bobcat starters Pete Stewart and Boo Glover.

Wayne did pretty well stopping Stewart, the top Peru scorer, but newcomers Freeman Beville and Glover did more than enough damage at 29 and 24 points respectively. Stewart hit eight, compared with a 21 average.

Bill Goodwin had a good night with 18 points. Bill Kruse also with 17, and Dean Elofson had 10.

Pilger Cardinals Pummel Eagles, 98-50, Tuesday

Maybe Allen should have gone ahead and played the game with Pilger on Friday the 13th last December rather than postponing it until Tuesday because of bad weather.

Worse luck than the Eagles had Tuesday night would have been hard to come by—they fell before the hosts, 98-50, for their eighth defeat of the season.

Oblivious of all else going on around them, the Allen reserves upped their winning streak to seven straight since the season began by knocking off Pilger in the preliminary game.

Allen had two disastrous quarters in the varsity action, the first and the third. The first came close to breaking the backs of the visitors—they succeeded in garnering only one point in the eight minutes of action while giving up 31 to the hosts.

Having trouble adapting to Pilger's small court, Allen went scoreless in the opening stanza until 5-8 senior Bob Anderson sank a free throw to get them on the scoreboard.

The Eagles equaled the Cardinals in the second stanza as both teams threw in 19 counters during the eight minutes, but another cold spell, this one in the third quarter, all but soaked away the victory for Pilger. Allen came up with six points, Pilger with 24 to move out front 78-26 going into the final stanza.

Although only 5-11, Cardinal senior Dave Goeller pumped in 37 points in the action to lead both teams in the scoring department. Another Cardinal, 5-10 senior Gary Carson, potted 28 for second high honors.

Only two Eagles succeeded in breaking into two figures in the scoring—5-9 senior Dave Abts with 12 and 6-1 sophomore Bob Mitchell with 11.

In the preliminary game, Gary

Troth scored 16 points as the Eagles went about their winning ways. Mike Ellis added 12, John Warner nine.

Next action for the Allen squads is Friday night when they tangle with Winside at Winside in a Lewis and Clark tilt.

Don't Attract Viewers?

Do many people watch sports on television?

According to Variety, the Harlem Globetrotters' Hollywood-filmed show was the top-rated television sports special during 1967-68.

Of the 95 prime-time network entertainment specials during the year, the Globetrotters' CBS show was 18th and attracted 44 per cent of the audience. Topping the list was Bob Hope's Christmas Show, which attracted 52 per cent.

In the sports category, the Green Bay-St. Louis NFL game was second, but 44th in the overall standings, followed by the Orange Bowl, which was 58 in the 95-show listing.

Late-Game Jinx Proves Costly to Wakefield '5'

Wakefield's head basketball coach, Dennis Crawford, still hasn't found the answer to the jinx that's been harassing his Trojans during their last few games.

The Trojans had another late-game letdown in their clash with Wisner Tuesday night and ended up on the losing side of the ledger, 67-56.

Wakefield got off to a cold start in the game, scoring only eight points to Wisner's 14 in the first quarter. But they had a sizzling second quarter—as they pumped in 26 counters to Wisner's 16 to take a slim three-point lead into the locker room, 34-31.

Jokingly, Crawford said after the game he is about ready to just let his squad work out during the intermission rather than letting them take a rest. That might be the answer—the Trojans came back in the third stanza to pump in only six points. Wisner tallied 21 to retake the advantage, 52-40, going into the final period.

Wakefield built up their lead to seven points early in the third quarter but then ran into a long scoring drought.

They couldn't overtake Wisner in the final period, garnering only one more point than the hosts, 16 to 15, for their 67-56 defeat.

Although 6-1 senior Gary Preston came off the board with nine rebounds in the action, Wisner out-manned Wakefield under the boards. The winners came up with 31 rebounds, Wakefield with 24.

Preston also led his team in the scoring department, he tallied 15 points in the action, followed closely by 5-10 Junior Lyle Brown with 14. Only other Trojan in double figures was Mike Berns with 12. Jerry Jensen added seven, Dennis Paul five and Bob Eaton two.

Leading scorers for Wisner were Mark Meyer with 21 and John Rabbe with 20.

Next action for the Trojans is Friday night when they tangle with West Point on their own court. Saturday night they play host to Allen.

Winside BB Game Postponed (Again)

The Winside-Osmond basketball game, originally scheduled for Jan. 17 at Osmond but postponed because of bad weather, had to be postponed once again Tuesday.

Tentative make-up date for the game is Friday, Feb. 7, according to Joe Masten, Winside superintendent. Masten said that if the game cannot be played then it may have to be canceled completely.

Soden also noted that the SWAY drawings will come back to Wayne in February. For the past few weeks the drawings have been taking place in Winside.

sanitary sewers, schools and parks, public buildings and the central business district.

Each year the planning commission adds its recommendations for one more year to the program, reviews those things which have been accomplished during the past year and decides how to accomplish the things which were passed over.

The group was unable to complete its work on the program, primarily because it lacked the advice of the city engineer and the city planning consultant. The group will meet again Monday evening above the fire hall at 7 p.m. It hopes these two men will be able to attend the meeting to give their recommendations concerning the program.

Attending the meeting for a short time was Francis Haun, superintendent of Wayne public schools. Chairman Anthony Netherland had invited Haun to attend so the group could get an idea about the possibility of the city and the public schools using the same park facilities.

The program calls for $12,500 being spent in 1971 for acquisition of 25 acres of land to be used as a park site.

It was suggested at the last planning commission meeting (January 13) that the city build a park so it would be close to any future elementary school that may be built.

Haun said he would present this idea to the school board at its next meeting, Monday evening.

FOX

NEW FOX CUSTOM-90

Everything you want for up to 90-horsepower chopping

The new Fox Custom-90 is a heavy-duty forage harvester. It wraps up a lot of improvements. Extra strength. Tougher power train. More capacity.

Plus two Fox special features: Square-hole roller cutter screens with 11" more recutting area and our patented in-head electric knife grinder.

The Custom-90 passes through heavy corn at a rate of up to 65 tons per hour. Stands up in continuous operation. All needed main frame is 30" stronger to take the toughest going in stride.

One thing hasn't changed: the Fox cutting principle. The spiral-knife cutting cylinder of the Custom-90 is designed to do its one job well. We don't sacrifice its cutting efficiency by making it throw forage, too -- like most others. There's a separate blower for that.

You can put the Custom-90 behind a wide range of tractors. Up to 90 horsepower, either 340 or 1000 rpm PTO.

There's a wide range of harvesting attachments, too: Standard and narrow-row two-row corn units, two-row corn snappers, 6-foot pickup, 7-foot mower bar.

See other side for more details. Then see your Fox dealer for a demonstration.

$16,000 Given By Ak-Sar-Ben For 4-H Work

More than $16,000 has been contributed by the leaders of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Ak-Sar-Ben Agricultural Youth Foundation during 1968 to supplement various state-wide educational programs and activities of the state 4-H and young adult programs administered by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service.

The amount is only that distributed through the State 4-H Office and does not include substantial contributions by Ak-Sar-Ben to county fairs, the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show and other direct local support of 4-H activities, according to W. M. Antes, State 4-H Leader.

"The financial support by Ak-Sar-Ben not only provides recognition and incentives for hundreds of 4-H leaders and members in the state, but also greatly strengthens programs in leadership development and camping," Antes commented.

He listed the following activities and projects as recipients of the $16,000 administered by the State 4-H Office during the past year: (figures rounded off for simplification and thus do not add up exactly to total).

—Approximately $6,550 in funds to provide resource personnel, purchase supplies and underwrite partial expenses of volunteer adult leaders attending leadership development meetings.

—About $500 for the purchase of visual aids to assist club leaders and county agents.

—Three thousand dollars for an urban youth program and $60 for an Indian youth program.

—Total of $1,875 allocated to seven 4-H judging teams representing Nebraska in regional and national contests.

—Registration for deserving members to attend State 4-H Club Week, Conservation Camp and Camp Counselor Training Camp, $1,485.

—Twenty-five young adults received approximately $305 in scholarships to participate in the annual Rural Youth Mid-Winter Institute.

—Two 4-H members received $270 for National 4-H Club Congress trips on the basis of their citizenship activities.

—Range judging and range-finding conference participation by 4-H'ers was supported by a $500 gift.

—Approximately $335 provided on a matching basis for development of the State 4-H Camp near Halsey brought Ak-Sar-Ben's total contributions to the facility to $50,536.23. This makes the Omaha-based civic organization the largest single contributor to the Camp. This total is exclusive of the $1,200 provided by Arthur Godfrey through a special show given during the 1957 Ak-Sar-Ben Rodeo, Antes pointed out.

—A total of 1,919 pins purchased with Ak-Sar-Ben funds were provided to volunteer leaders in recognition of their years of service.

"The Ak-Sar-Ben organization has enabled many Nebraska 4-H members and leaders to broaden their experiences, strengthen their leadership capabilities, and to obtain additional knowledge, skills and attitudes conducive to good citizenship," Antes concluded.

Ak-Sar-Ben Men Named Liaisons In NE Nebraska

Two northeast Nebraska business men have been named among 16 Ambassadors in the expansion program of Ak-Sar-Ben. Recently named to serve as liaison contacts for coordinating Ak-Sar-Ben's activities throughout the area are Henry Trysla, editor of the Dakota County Star, and Bob Thomas, manager and vice-president of WJAG in Norfolk.

In an effort to unify and strengthen the agricultural, charitable and educational undertakings of Ak-Sar-Ben in the Midlands, the organizational structure of Ak-Sar-Ben is being enlarged, V. J. Skutt, Chairman of the Community Relations Committee, announced.

The new program calls for the establishment of a new level of organization consisting of 16 District Ambassadors chosen from newly-formed districts—13 in Nebraska and three in Western Iowa. Each District Ambassador will work directly with a Governor and Councilor.

"For 28 years our Ambassador Program has been a strong arm in representing Ak-Sar-Ben in the Midlands," said Mr. Skutt.

"As we begin our 75th year of public service, we are establishing this District Ambassadors Program in a major step toward improving, and solidifying our close contacts throughout the state of Nebraska and Western Iowa. The new District Ambassadors will have an important voice in matters concerning the improvement of existing Ak-Sar-Ben activities and the implementing of new programming."

Swine Judging Contest in Norfolk

The Fifth Annual Norfolk Swine Show, sponsored by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee has been set for Tuesday, Feb. 25, and the Carcass Show on Thursday, Feb. 27. The live show will be held at the Norfolk Livestock Market, the carcass show at Roman Packing Company.

This show will again include an FFA Judging Contest. A certain number of hogs will be selected by county agents or FFA instructors and sorted into four classes, three market hogs and one breeding gilt.

An official team of four boys from each school will judge as a team and the remaining students will observe and judge individually. The first class of hogs that are judged will be slaughtered and the boys will evaluate that class on the rail.

In the regular show there will be a commercial (crossbred) and a purebred division in the "Pen of 3" class and also in the "Individual" class. Exhibitors may enter one group of three hogs in a "Pen of 3" and one of these hogs in the "Individual" contest.

The five best hogs in each weight class in the individual show will be slaughtered and entered in the carcass show. Hogs must weigh between 190 and 240 lbs.

All hogs not qualifying for the carcass show will be sold at auction Wednesday, Feb. 26.

Entry blanks for this show are available at your county agent's office, from your Vo-Ag instructor, the Norfolk Livestock Market or the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce.

Pollutant Studies May Help Yields

The concept being studied in some states that sediment is a stream pollutant, and a continuing search for ways to increase crop yields in dryland farming may combine to give landscaping a boost in Nebraska and other Great Plains states.

This idea was expressed recently by Dr. Howard Wittmuss, Associate Professor of Agricultural Engineering at the University of Nebraska, in an address delivered to the Nebraska Conservation Contractors Association (NCCA).

Dr. Wittmuss noted that a bill has been introduced in the Iowa Legislature to make it illegal for farmers or landowners to allow sediment to runoff land and pollute streams or inconvenience neighbors. "If these ideas continue, it will have a profound effect on conservation development," the NU Ag Engineer said. "The only system of conservation which will presently reduce sediment runoff appreciably is the steep backslope terrace system with tile outlets and waterways, he explained.

Research on combining conservation practices and management practices on a field scale was initiated in 1966, Wittmuss said. The till-plan system of row crop production was combined with the construction of parallel steep backslope terrace systems with tile outlets. Excellent yields of grain sorghum have been obtained, and the runoff and soil loss was substantially less—408 tons per acre compared to 4,774 tons per acre—than that measured at a small watershed near Hastings, during 1967, Wittmuss reported.

"Eighteen years ago, I hesitated to recommend that land could be shaped to parallel terraces because the idea was so unpopular," Dr. Wittmuss recalled. "Now, I predict that in two more years, all newly constructed terrace systems will be made parallel by landscaping," he concluded.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial, but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Wayne Is the Winner

It is true, Wayne did not receive any of the top awards in the 1968 Community Betterment Contest, nevertheless, Wayne is the winner for having entered the State contest and instigated a program of improvement involving over one hundred separate projects.

Obviously we cannot herein name each project but let's do name some. Chamber of Commerce members sponsored an Industrial show, co-sponsored Christmas lighting with the City, worked actively for location of the Vo-Tech school, worked toward getting new industry to locate here and co-sponsored Band Day with Wayne State College.

The City of Wayne had a mill levy drop of 5.4 mills, provided a summer recreation program, added a generating unit at the light plant, worked to control Dutch Elm disease and went into a sewer improvement program.

Wayne's police department worked with the Chamber on a bad-check warning system, registered and safety checked bicycles, made traffic safety recommendations to the city council and provided the showing of informative films.

A new ambulance and cardiac equipment were added to the hospital services. Our public schools had Class "B" State baseball champions, adult classes, a defensive driving course was made available with highway patrol leadership, and there was a drop in the school mill levy.

More improvements in Wayne were made on the Wayne State campus, such as closed circuit TV, art exhibits, aerospace education workshop, music camp and the beginning of a new science building and addition to the library.

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Brownies and Explorers all had programs that were profitable for both the participants and the community.

Wayne's airport had dedication ceremonies for the new all-weather hard surfaced runway, plus the completion of new hangars.

Wayne County's Historical Society made plans for a new museum, obtained a site for it and started a fund raising campaign for the project.

Clubs and organizations joined in the community betterment project with "helping hand" programs. Business firms carried out exterior and interior improvements on their properties.

The Wayne County Fair Board added more parking facilities at the fairgrounds and made a new entrance. They also set up the Fair's barbecue.

It would be next to impossible to make a list of every activity and project that contributed to the betterment of the Wayne community. We have had to leave so many worthy projects unmentioned, but by naming some, we hope to have brought your attention to the fact that in every sense of the word, Wayne was the winner for having entered the Community Improvement Contest.

And with the contagious enthusiasm of high school cheerleaders, let's all get involved again this year shouting "Let's do it again! Let's do it again!" - MMW.

Talking More and Understanding It Less?

Dictionary editors are being hard-pressed to keep up with what has been termed as a "language explosion". World Book Encyclopedia news service says that the 1969 edition of World Book Dictionary contains 14,000 words and phrases that were not in the 1968 edition!

To paraphrase a television commercial, are we talking more and understanding it less? There seems to be that possibility.

Is there a good percentage of truth in the charge of there being a "credibility gap" or an "understanding gap" between parent and child? flow often are you able to sit down and converse intelligently with your teenager concerning his or her problems.

Words, like trucks, should be carriers, able to haul something along with their impressive noise. Do they at your house?

Times have stacks of books which are all too often unread. Each member of your household has unique concerns and worries, but is there anyone who can really understand? Oh, there is a lot of talking but is there any genuine understanding?

The stereo, AM, FM and television blare with words! Words that are yelled, spelled, slurred, blurred, whispered, sighed, cried and held, but is there understanding in this great onslaught of vocabulary? Are we talking more and understanding it less?

Upon taking office it appears most politicians become immediate experts in their field of service. Such ability is exhibited by writing out a ten page communique that might well have been stated in two pages.

Psychiatry can supply you with a clinical diagnosis of your problems with a barrage of words; your doctor can use a medical language all his own to describe your "dizzy" spells; your repairman working on a household electronic device can amaze you with terminology, only an electrical engineer can interpret! Then, too, even your minister can ascend to the lofty heights of paragrammatical mountains!

Why can't the doctor say something simple like "Your stomach can no longer handle fried foods"? Maybe the psychiatrist could tell you in layman's language, "Your trouble is that you're jealous of your brother!". The television repairman might look you in the eye and say with professional skill, "The trouble with your television mister, is that this wire right here is broke!". The reverend could say, "Sir, yours is a damned life!"

In the world of words, that little Monday night television gal is so right! It is, indeed, "sock-it-to-me time!". The 1968 scientist gave us "endorasidone"; the economist came up with "macroeconomics" and "microeconomics"; the fashion designer talks of the "mindfries"; the teenager talks of a "rhinfest" and "fid, glup and glug!"

Excuse this too-long editorial but the bug has bitten me also! I'm talking more and understanding less. Let's make up a new word for the ailment, something like "verballyhoop". That about describes it! - MMW.

The AK-SAR-BEN Bargain

One of the few remaining "bargains" in life is being offered you again this year! Taking advantage of it means you'll learn to spell Nebraska backwards! Ak-Sar-Ben is being discovered by more and more people like yourself every year.

What is Ak-Sar-Ben? It is a non-profit, agricultural society, a civic organization devoted to agricultural, charitable and educational undertakings. But that isn't all! Members of Ak-Sar-Ben enjoy many forms of entertainment such as the Ice Follies of 1969 which will be presented April 8-13.

Then there will be the Thoroughbred Racing from May 2 through July 5, and the World Championship Rodeo and Livestock Show Sept. 19-27. Only Ak-Sar-Ben members are offered tickets at reduced prices. When it is race-time, only Ak-Sar-Ben members are offered a season pass or a ticket to the Coronation or Ball.

There's more! Ak-Sar-Ben is marking its 75th year or Diamond Jubilee this summer with special programs featuring Liberator July 14-18, and followed by Eddie Albert on Aug. 4-8. Albert is the star of the television series "Green Acres". These special shows, along with the Sept. 1-5 appearance of Robert Goulet, will all be presented in the beautiful Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum. Remember, these are all "family" type shows. All this, an entertainment value of more than $65, is offered for just $10 for two persons, the same dues as in 1895 when Ak-Sar-Ben was founded!

In addition, members know they are participating in Ak-Sar-Ben's ACE program of agricultural, civic and educational undertakings. In 1968 the organization provided over 500 scholarships for students, nurses, county extension agents, vocational agricultural instructors, school teachers, firemen and policemen at nearly every university and college in Nebraska and at Iowa State University.

The ACE program supports Nebraska and Iowa 4-H, provides Agricultural Achievement and Pioneer Farm Family awards, Good Neighbor awards and awards in community service and service to agriculture to outstanding newspapers, radio and television stations.

The first of two exciting Family Shows will be held July 21-25 featuring Johnny River's High-Diving Males. You haven't seen anything until you see one of his miles jump from a platform into a big tank of water! A brilliant fireworks display will complete the program.

Membership in Ak-Sar-Ben is open to everyone and the only thing backwards about the entire organization is the spelling of its name!

If you are interested in further details concerning membership in Ak-Sar-Ben, contact Alan Cramer in care of The Wayne Herald, or Roy Christensen at Carhart Lumber Company. - MMW.

Mahoney's School Board Bill May Raise Eyebrows

LINCOLN - The Nebraska Legislature, after concentrating on a record pace of bill introductions during the first two weeks of the new session, has begun the job of working through the stacks of proposals.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann has predicted more than 1,200 bills eventually will be placed in the senators' laps for action. The total is already about half-way there.

The sorting out process at the committee level began last week. The biggest early fireworks were produced by a proposal introduced by Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha who wanted the

That was Wednesday of last week. Friday, the committee gathered for a short session, but was unable to reach a decision. Another attempt was scheduled for this week.

During the brief meeting Friday, however, the committee did vote to amend the bill so that it affected all school districts in the state - instead of only the Omaha district. The only exception, under the amendment, would be Class I districts, those which have only elementary classes.

If it reaches the floor with the amendment, Mahoney's measure would attract much more interest across the state than it would if only Omaha were affected.

The PTA's objection to the district elections was that it would inject politics into the choice of school board members. The Omaha witnesses also told Harsh's committee they ap-

Unfair Housing Isn't Unfair. It's Illegal.

Fair housing is a fact. If you're under a year old and you've got your own car, you can't out what the law says. Wayne Fair Housing, Washington, D.C. 20010 precluded being able to vote for all 12 members of the Omaha board, rather than just choosing one from their area.

Full State Aid Funding Sought

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly has drafted legislation to more than double the present amount of state aid to schools.

Warner was the author of the 1967 law which provided Nebraska's first state school aid program. His legislation put full funding at about $67 million a year, but the 1967 Legislature only appropriated $25 million a year.

Warner said he would offer an appropriation bill which would call for the full $67 million each of the next two fiscal years. Education Committee chairman Harsh has also come out publicly in favor of a boost above the current level.

Each admitted it might require additional state taxes to raise the state aid, but they said there would be a corresponding relief for the local property tax payer. School districts now raise their revenues - except for the state aid - from taxes on property.

A Second Training School? Turning to a different type of school - the State Boys Training School - Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice has unveiled a new proposal.

Carstens, who earlier had suggested the institution be transferred from Kearney to a new site between Omaha and Lincoln, has now proposed that a second institution be established.

The Beatrice lawyer said the older boys and those with long records should be kept at the Kearney School, while younger offenders and those with only one conviction should be kept at the new school.

Carstens said the new institution should be built between Omaha and Lincoln, near the homes of most of the juveniles who get into trouble with the law. He estimated it would cost about $2.5 million to build the new institution.

He said he would introduce a bill to authorize the new school. Cities Consider Sales Tax Nebraska's cities may join the state in the sales tax field. And maybe the counties will, too.

Kenneth Bowen, executive director of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, said the league hopes to have a bill introduced to take the pressure off the property tax at the local level.

Under the proposal he is considering, Bowen said, the local sales tax would be limited to half a percentage point for each governmental subdivision.

It would be up to the individual cities to decide whether they wanted to levy the tax, he said. The same would be true of counties, if they are included in the bill.

The local sales tax would be collected by merchants along with the state tax and sent along to Lincoln, then returned in full to the cities.

Release Report Submitted

The dean of the University of Wyoming Law College has submitted a report of a study he was commissioned to make by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Frank J. Trelease was asked to survey Nebraska's administration of natural resources and make recommendations. He recommended a wholesale reorganization of state agencies and the creation of a new department of natural resources.

Trelease said he found "few clear lines of authority, too few clear divisions of responsibility. There are duplications and divisions of functions, as well as illogical groupings of duties. There are possibilities of inefficiency and waste."

The Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act protects consumers from mislabeled, unsanitary or otherwise harmful products. Consumers who report any violations of the law or grievances about products they've purchased are doing a public service. Grievances should be reported to the Food and Drug Administration, U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20204. The local district FDA Office is located at 1009 Cherry Street, Kansas City, Mo. 64106.

Complaints can be made either in writing or by phone. The complaint should be reported promptly and stated clearly. The label of the product and code marks on the container should be fully described. The name and address of the store where the product was purchased should be given. Remains of the suspected product or the empty container should be saved in case of an investigation. If illness or injury is involved it is recommended that a doctor be seen at once. The suspected product should also be reported to the manufacturer, packer or distributor shown on the label of the product and to the store from which it was purchased. Consumers should also report any suspected illegal sales of drugs. Such reports can, and often do, lead to the detection of a violation of the Federal Food and Cosmetic Act.

Dear Editor:

I read in The Wayne Herald that the Wayne State College Special Program Tuesday evening was also open (free) to the public. Being new in Wayne, I assumed we would have to arrive early to get a seat. When Itzhak Perlman came on stage I couldn't believe my eyes. Here was a world famous violinist and Ramsey Theater didn't come close to being half filled for the performance!

My questions are two in number. Though many students were present at the concert, if the college felt this was a special program why did they schedule a home basketball game for the same evening? And secondly, where were the people of Wayne?

The people of this community should be standing in line for the chance to fill a seat left vacant by a student. I personally know people who would drive 50 miles and pay $5 for the same concert elsewhere in the state. The opportunities to hear and experience something "really" good are few, and should not be ignored. Those who attended this concert were blessed by this young man's marvelous music. We thank him for sharing beauty with us.

At this concert I was also delighted to read that the St. Olaf Lutheran Choir is giving a concert at Ramsey Theater Jan. 31. Then I heard someone behind me say, "The St. Olaf Choir... I think that's a children's choir." And I realized the college and community might not know about the excellence of this choir and would miss another opportunity. The St. Olaf Choir is probably the finest college choir in the U.S., and I dare say it will be the best choir you will ever hear.

This kind of winter tends to depress everyone more than normal. For an experience that will lift your spirits, inspire your soul and give your life a glow, attend this concert. Since it is at 1:00 p.m., if necessary leave your dishes undone, close your store, leave college a few hours later than usual, but don't deny yourself the joy of hearing choral music at its very best.

Sincerely,

cert elsewhere in the state. The opportunities to hear and experience something "really" good are few, and should not be ignored. Those who attended this concert were blessed by this young man's marvelous music. We thank him for sharing beauty with us.

At this concert I was also delighted to read that the St. Olaf Lutheran Choir is giving a concert at Ramsey Theater Jan. 31. Then I heard someone behind me say, "The St. Olaf Choir... I think that's a children's choir." And I realized the college and community might not know about the excellence of this choir and would miss another opportunity. The St. Olaf Choir is probably the finest college choir in the U.S., and I dare say it will be the best choir you will ever hear.

This kind of winter tends to depress everyone more than normal. For an experience that will lift your spirits, inspire your soul and give your life a glow, attend this concert. Since it is at 1:00 p.m., if necessary leave your dishes undone, close your store, leave college a few hours later than usual, but don't deny yourself the joy of hearing choral music at its very best.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Glennice Reimers

Better Medical Care with Medicare

Editor's Note: The following article was written by Diane Loennig of Humboldt, University of Nebraska Journalism student. Because of the interest in Medicare, we feel it is worth printing.

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, January 30, 1969

there have been fewer than he expected.

Doctors have never felt that those who need care should not get it under some plan, Dr. Tanner explained. The objection is to providing care under Medicare to all regardless of ability to pay. And doctors think there are people who now are going to a doctor when there is no real need, thus placing a tremendous burden on physicians," Dr. Tanner said.

Dr. Tanner said that a good point of Medicare is that it will no longer prevent elderly people from seeking medical help because they cannot afford it.

Medicare pays hospital expenses for nearly all those over 65, including some who are not covered by Social Security. People are getting better care and getting it earlier, agreed the Rev. G. L. Collins of Lincoln.

"Speaking from my experience as a minister I know there were people who were really suffering. These older people just don't have much to live on. I definitely think Medicare was needed. It's a wonderful thing," the Rev. Dr. Collins said.

But Medicare isn't free. Not only is it being paid for by Social Security taxes, but also by an increase in the cost of medical care.

Prices indeed have gone up considerably. Doctors and hospital administrators agree and blame Medicare for much of the increase, but not, they say, because the doctors or hospitals are taking unfair advantage of the program.

Doctors explain that one reason the cost of Medicare has exceeded the federal government's estimates is that the government underestimated the services which doctors and hospitals provided without charge.

"The increase in cost is indicative of what was being done free. Doctors did a lot of charity work, but the federal government doesn't need our charity," one doctor said.

Dr. Robert J. Morgan of Alliance, immediate past president of the Nebraska State Medical Association, estimated that Nebraska doctors are making 20 per cent more now than before Medicare. There are many factors involved in the increase — and Medicare is definitely one of them.

Increased paper work, the doctors say, has also pushed prices up. Many doctors and hospitals have had to hire extra help to keep up with the paper work.

Another factor contributing to an increase in the costs has at the same time improved some hospitals.

Before Medicare, pathologists, radiologists, dietitians and registered nurses on duty at all times were non-existent in many of Nebraska's smaller hospitals.

But to qualify for Medicare the hospitals had to secure the specialists, at least on a consulting basis, and have a registered nurse on duty 24 hours a day.

"Having these things generally has caused an upgrading," said Stuart C. Mount of Lincoln, executive director of the Nebraska Hospital Association.

But "having these things" involved problems. Mount pointed out that in many towns there just weren't enough registered nurses, and Dr. Tanner said that in all of the state there were barely enough pathologists to go around. He added that he and his associates now visit about 40 small hospitals at least once a month.

Even with the problems, Social Security office records show that with the exception of a few small hospitals in western Nebraska all hospitals have now qualified for Medicare.

But there apparently is some problem with patients who want to over-stay their welcome in the hospital.

"What are you going to do with someone who has been one of your patients for years and thinks he is entitled to another week's care when he is medically ready to leave? Are you going to put him in a wheel chair and push him out into the parking lot?" asked one doctor.

Doctors and hospital administrators both say a bigger problem is with the families of Medicare patients. Families find it easier to have grandpa taken care of in the hospital and are sometimes upset if he doesn't get all the time they think he is "entitled to."

However, crowding of hospitals is not generally a problem in Nebraska.

The total occupancy level of Nebraska hospitals increased about two per cent in Medicare's first year, Mount said. But, he added, the average increase had been one to one and one half per cent annually anyway.

And what about those over 65? What do they think of Medicare? This is C. A. McGuire, 3714 S. 14th St. in Lincoln:

"I'm 81 years old. When I first started working I made 50 cents a day. People haven't always been paid as much as they are today and people my age haven't been able to save very much money."

And L. J. Holstein, 1228 C St. in Lincoln:

"Oh, it was wonderful. I don't know what we would have done without it."

His comment was typical of those who have used the program. As for the medical schools, they're not empty.

Richard Egan, dean of the medical school of Creighton University in Omaha, doesn't think Medicare has had — or will have — much effect upon enrollments in medical schools.

"People are interested in becoming doctors irrespective of the government under which they practice."

"I suspect that medical students don't fear this as we older doctors do. To an extent they still look at the idea of socialism with a certain amount of idealism."

Many of the older doctors do still "fear" the program. They believe it is only the first step to what they call socialized medicine and point to attempts in Congress to provide medical care for children. They say that all that is then left to do is close the gap. In this closing of the gap doctors forecast a dark future for American medicine.

Wayne High Valedictorian in 1929

School 'Mom' Still Giving Key of Knowledge

by Merling M. Wright
In The Wayne Herald issue dated May 30, 1929, beneath the headline "Many Graduated Here Friday," a smaller heading read "Dorothy Davis Leads in Scholarship." We're still writing about Dorothy Davis forty years later.

It isn't every Wayne High School girl that gains the honor of being valedictorian of her class and marrying a classmate. The 1929 Wayne Herald states, "Dorothy Davis, student in the Wayne high school four years, was valedictorian of the 1929 class having an average of 92." Her class of 41 students heard Rev. W. W. Whitman of the Methodist Church speak in an 8 p.m. commencement service at the Presbyterian Church, May 24, concerning the necessity of "creative thinking". The pastor told the class "creative thinking enables each generation to make the world better for the next." He went ahead to define education "as a refashioning of life."

The newspaper told of the senior activities stating, "Dorothy Davis gave the key of knowledge to the juniors during senior class day activities." Now in 1969 she continues giving the key of knowledge to a class of 21 students, but more about that later.

Rev. C. E. Snyder of Sloux City, was the speaker for the Wayne High graduation exercises in 1929. He advised seniors "to be rich in a two-fold sense; a responsibility for duty and a deeper appreciation of life and its possibilities as years pass."

Dorothy Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davis, had been a good student, listening and learning. It isn't surprising then that she listened also to the wisdom of those gentlemen who spoke to the class on graduation day. Certainly she has followed the advice given.

Howard Beckenhauer was also a Wayne high school senior in 1929 and upon Miss Davis giving him an answer of "yes" to his proposal of marriage, the two were married June 25, 1935.

Dorothy prior to her marriage, however, taught school four years in Wayne and Dixon Counties. In fact, she taught for two years in the District 13 school south of Wakefield which is now the McCorkindale school preserved on WSC campus.

The Beckenhauers made their home on the farm. During the next 25 years as they were rearing their family they farmed near Wayne, Winslow, Albion and Elgin. In 1960, after raising nine children, the family moved to Neligh.

MRS. HOWARD BECKENHAUER, Wayne, is an active mother, musician, and a school "mom" in District 15 of Thurston County. Some of her "spare" time is spent in the educational department of the Wakefield Christian Church.

Hard work, love and Christian discipline was the recipe used in bringing up eight boys and a girl. Dorothea is now a sophomore in Wayne High School and is the only one of the children at home.

The two oldest boys are copilots for United Air Lines. Donald lives in Orange, Calif., with his wife and five children, and flies out of International Airport in Los Angeles. Arnold lives in San Francisco with his wife and two daughters. He formerly flew fighter jets for the Navy and remains a member of the Naval Reserve.

Howard and Harold are twins. Howard and his wife live in Council Bluffs working for the Iowa Beef Co. Harold and family live in Norfolk where he is employed with a bread company.

Gerald and his wife live in Sargeant where he serves as pastor of the Christian Church. Darold is a senior in Platte Valley Bible College at Scottsbluff where he is training for the ministry.

Jon, who graduated from Norfolk Junior college in 1967, is now serving as a helicopter pilot in Vietnam.

Richard, the youngest son, graduated as salutatorian from the Neligh High School in 1958, and is now enrolled in the Nebraska Christian College and the Junior College at Norfolk.

"Mom" Beckenhauer recalls, "When we moved to Neligh, I renewed my teacher's certificate and taught in the rural schools of Antelope County four years and in the 5th grade at Clearwater for three years."

Continuing she said, "Aside from renewing my teacher's certificate, I still consider it one of the goals of my life to obtain my BA degree in elementary education. I have attended summer school at Wayne State every year for eight years and have only to get my practice teaching and two hours in art this year to be able to graduate. It seems strange to have to take practice teaching after 13 years in the schoolroom, but of course one must follow the rules."

It was during her teaching days at Neligh that in her "spare time" she averaged teaching 25 accordion, guitar and piano lessons after school and on Saturdays! And with a twinkle in her eye she remarked, "Also in my spare time I worked as a World Book representative."

The busy teacher and her husband returned to the homestead farm home northeast of Wayne upon the death of Howard's father, Amos Beckenhauer. "Except for a couple of accordion lessons," Dorothy said, "I have quit teaching music lessons, but have continued to teach school in District 15 in Thurston County. The school is eleven miles east of Wayne and is a two-room building with 40 students. I have 21 pupils in the 5th to 8th grades. Mrs. Glen Magnuson of Wayne teaches 19 students in kindergarten through fourth grade. We feel privileged to be one of the only two rural schools in this area to be using Educational television. We consider it one of the finest medias of communication available to schools."

Through the years "Mom" Beckenhauer has assembled a scrapbook containing newsclippings of her family's activities and some of the poetry she has written about family events. The Beckenhauers experienced a fire in their home while living at Albion during the terrible winter of 1948-49. She and her husband with seven children had to walk through deep drifts of snow. Since that time she has put the experience into verse. She also wrote a poem concerning her first airplane ride that same winter. The poem for which she has had 141 requests, however, is one that she wrote concerning an old rag doll which is still in her possession.

"Although I delight in all of these extra activities," the school teacher points out, "my love and greatest interest and concern has remained for my family and the church. Much of the credit must go to my patient husband and the cooperation of the family for me to be gone from the home so much. Our work in the church has always held a prominent place in our lives and it has been a great comfort to see all the children grow to love and fear God as they have established their homes in different sections of the country." The Beckenhauers attend the Christian Church at Wakefield where she teaches in the educational department and also serves as pianist on occasion.

"This versatility of activities," Dorothy explained, "is by no means allotted to me in our family. My husband not only farms 240 acres but also works as a carpenter in his spare time!"

The pastor's advice given in the 1929 commencement address "to be rich in a two fold sense" has been well taken and applied in the Beckenhauer home. It is very probable that Grandma and Grandpa Beckenhauer will now continue to pass the key of knowledge on to their present thirteen grandchildren.

'Studded Tires Don't Help Cornering'

While studded snow tires materially increase both stopping and pulling ability on glare ice, the greatest improvement is achieved by using reinforced tire chains, according to the Safe Winter Driving League, which conducted various winter tests using studded tires and chains.

These tests also disclosed for the first time that when these traction devices - studded tires and chains - are used on the rear wheels only, the cornering capacity of a vehicle is not materially improved.

With studded tires on the rear wheels the cornering speed of the test vehicle was increased six per cent; with reinforced tire chains on the rear wheels, 10 per cent, the League reports. When studded tires were used on all four wheels, however, the cornering speed was increased by 24 per cent.

Since studded tires are normally used on the rear wheels only, the tests revealed that this practice could subject drivers to a hazardous situation in turning maneuvers.

Because of the increased stop-and-go traction provided by studs when used on the rear wheels only, the driver may easily be misled into feeling that this added traction will help on a curve, only to discover that the front end of the vehicle skids out of control, a phenomenon with which he is probably not at all familiar. This type of situation may indeed cause him to slide through an intersection where he had attempted to make a turning maneuver, according to the League.

For this reason, it is recommended that those who use studded tires should have them installed on all four wheels instead of on the rear wheels only as is customary. But whether they use studs or chains they should slow down on icy road surfaces, the League concluded.

VA Q & A

Q: My husband, a World War II veteran, died in 1958. We did not have any children. My application for a widow's pension was denied at that time because I had only been married to my husband for three years. I am now unable to work because of a disability. Will this be a consideration if I should reapply for a pension?

A: In itself your disability would not be a consideration. However, a law passed in 1965 liberalized the five-year marriage requirement in effect at the time of your husband's death. Now a widow needs to have been married to the veteran only one year before his death to meet this pension eligibility requirement. For information and assistance in reapplying for a pension, contact your nearest VA regional office.

Q: I am receiving a pension for my non-service-connected disabilities. When is the deadline for returning my income questionnaire from the Veterans Administration?

A: The deadline is Jan. 15, 1969.

ASC Provided $56,000 During 1968 For Conservation in Wayne County

by Arnold R. Marr, Work Unit Conservationist

According to the Wayne County Soil Conservation District annual report, approximately three-fourths of the farmers in the county are cooperators with the district. Thirty-five of these cooperators are new this year.

A partial list of conservation practices applied on the land this year are 55 miles of terraces, 140 acres of waterways, 1,300 acres of contour farming, 20 acres of farmstead windbreaks and five dams. Some of the terraces were constructed parallel to eliminate point rows between terraces. Many of the trees in the windbreaks are of the evergreen type which are more effective against the winter winds. Some of the dams will be stocked with fish when there is ample water.

The ASC office shares the cost of the application of many of the conservation practices. Last year it provided $56,000 through the ACP program in the county. These funds helped solve conservation problems on 278 farms. The district supervisors have cooperated with other groups and organizations in promoting conservation of soil, water and wildlife. They have supplied soil stewardship material to all of the Wayne County churches, presented conservation programs and information to the schools, Wayne State College, Izaak Walton League and others.

The district sponsored a conservation air tour of the Humbug Watershed. This was to show the public the conservation treatment on the watershed and possible sites for larger dams to be constructed at a later date under the Federal Watershed Program. The district was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Hans Burmester, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Willers and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Havener at the Sioux City annual Better Farming contest this year. Each of these Wayne County farmers have an excellent conservation program on their farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Krusemark represented the Wayne district at the State Soil Conservation Convention which was held at North Platte. They received a colored aerial picture of their farm for their conservation efforts. This award was made possible by the Wayne County banks.

The report made note that many organizations, groups and individuals are assisting with the conservation message. The local paper and radio station have been most helpful in keeping the public informed on the importance of clean water, abundant wildlife, soil conservation and keeping

Congressman Denney On Two Committees

Congressman Robert V. Denney of Nebraska's First District has been reassigned to the Committee on Public Works and appointed to the Veterans Affairs Committee, according to his weekly newsletter.

"Because of my interest in Veterans legislation and facilities, such as the Lincoln Veterans Hospital, I am very happy to take on this additional work," he stated.

"I still have an interest in the Appropriations Committee, but geographical considerations made it necessary to fill the vacancy with another member. When a vacancy occurs on Appropriations, I have been assigned priority consideration," Denney noted.
