

City Council, Board of Education Caucuses Set for Tuesday Night

Terms Expire This Year for Three Men on City Council

All three city councilmen whose terms expire this year, Dick Banister, E. G. Smith and Jack Kingston, have said they will make themselves available for nomination for another term of office.

Banister and Smith said Thursday they would run for office once again, Kingston, who is attending a meeting in Pennsylvania on city business, has told some people that he also wishes to run again. The two local parties caucus Tuesday night at 7:45 p.m. to nominate candidates for city council.

Each party will nominate one person as a candidate for each of the three wards in the city. Councilman from the First Ward, E. G. Smith has lived in Wayne for about 30 years. For 24 years he owned Wayne Monument Works, but he is now retired. He is 69 years old. A member of the city council for the past eight years, four two-year terms, Smith said that one of the major problems which the city will have to face in the near future is the extension of sewer and water lines. He also pointed out that the city is going to have to build an addition to the present hospital or else build a new one before too long.

He noted that some of the major accomplishments of the city during the time he has been on the council were the building of the sewer disposal facilities, hard surfacing of the airport and acquisition of two landfills which did not cost the city any money.

Dick Banister, the other councilman whose term of office ends this year, is a native of Wayne. Sixty-three years old, Banister is a retired civil service employee. He worked for 40 years as a city mail carrier.

Just finishing up his first two-year term as a councilman, Banister pointed the need for a new fire department building and a new hospital, development of an improved business district and continued expansion of the water system as major hurdles facing the city. Industrial development on the east edge of the city and more paved streets are also things the people are going to have to be concerned with in the next few years, according to Banister.

Councilman from the Third Ward, he singled out the enlargement of the municipal power plant as a major achievement of the city since he has been a councilman. The city is now being provided good electrical service at an economical rate, he noted. Other improvements: establishing of the joint city-county ambulance service, improvement of Seventh and Main and improvements of the landing strip at the airport.

Jack Kingston, councilman from the Second Ward, has been on the council just over two terms. He finished out six months of Dan Sherry's term. See CITY, page 8

Don Echtenkamp Won't Run For School Board This Year

There will be one new member on the board of education of Wayne School District 17 when it begins this year's new term in May.

Don Echtenkamp, owner of Don's Better Shoes in Wayne, said Thursday that he has decided not to run for another term on the school board.

The other board member whose term expires this year, Dorothy Ley, said Thursday that after considerable thought she had decided she would be available for nomination as a candidate for the school board.

Nomination of candidates for the two positions on the board will take place at tomorrow night's caucuses. The Citizens Party caucuses at 7:30 p.m. in the fire hall; the Popular Party caucuses at the same time in the city auditorium.

Echtenkamp, 46, has served on the school board for two three-year terms. He is a native of Wayne.

He said that he has been very happy to have been able to serve on the school board and that he does not see how he could find the time to devote to the job for another term.

"It's been a pleasure to work with the other school board members over the past six years and with Superintendent Francis Haun. Haun has done an excellent job in staffing the Wayne schools," he noted.

Mrs. Ley, also a member of the school board for the past six years, has lived in Wayne for 12 years.

She is presently a trustee for Midcontinent Regional Educational Laboratories, an independent organization funded by the federal government and private sources which does research into the problems of education. She also serves on the Title III advisory staff at the state level. Holder of a master's degree, she has also taught at Wayne State College.

She, like Echtenkamp, said it has been a pleasure to serve on the board of education.

"The people of Wayne want quality education and I think they're getting it. Superintendent Haun is one of the best administrators in the state and Wayne is lucky to have him," she said.

"I also think," she went on, "that Wayne was tremendously fortunate when the bond election on the new high school passed. Building costs have gone up so much in recent years that we could

Monday, Elder spoke of assisting community organizations. He said his office is often called by persons wanting to know where and when a certain group was meeting or where and when a particular program was scheduled. He stated, "If organizations will send calendar of their events to the Chamber of Commerce office, we'll keep the information on hand and available."

In response to an inquiry concerning his program plans for Wayne, the manager explained, "We'll be following the program as outlined by the Board of Directors. This includes a program of becoming accredited with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States."

Accreditation means that the local chamber of commerce, in all of its planning and programming, in its definition of purpose and objectives, and in all of its operations, has met every test, and has what it takes to plan and conduct a well-balanced and productive program of work. Seek Highway 57 Paving

A delegation of approximately 40 concerned citizens from Carroll, Laurel, Belden and Cole-rolled planned to meet with Lincoln officials today (Monday) to seek hard-surfacing for Highway 57 and 84.

The group has an appointment in Lincoln to meet with Senators Burtchick of Crofton and Wallway of Emerson along with representatives of the State Highway Department.

Emphasizing the vital importance of these roads in the State's highway network, and particularly the important role they play in getting farm produce, livestock and other essentials to and from market, the delegation will point out to the Highway Department that hard-surfacing Highway 57 and 84 is of paramount importance. Stretching of these highways are now gravel.

John Retzlaff, Carroll's postmaster, said Friday morning in reference to Highway 57, "The road is really a lifeline."

Earlier, Phil Olson, president of Farmer's State Bank in Carroll had said concerning Highway 57, "It is of vital importance that the road be hard-topped due to its strategic location and use as a fire-road and also its use for getting produce to market."

Area residents decided to charter a bus and meet with officials of the State Highway Department at 11 a.m. today to express their views.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial... but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

An Airport Park

Approximately four years ago when talk first started about re-doing Wayne's municipal airport, an idea was conceived as to development of a small land tract consisting of about three acres just west of the airport buildings.

Members of Wayne's Lions Club approached the City Council with the proposed idea of creating a park on the airport site. If the City would level the area up with fill dirt, the Lions said they would take the project from there.

The Lions Club board is still working with the Council toward development and creation of such a park.

Let's analyze the proposal of making the tract into a park from several different angles.

If Wayne continues to build, grow and expand as expected during the next decade, there will be a significant increase in the number of vehicles using Highway 35. In fact, U. S. motor vehicle registrations hit the 100 million mark at the end of 1968, which is equivalent of one vehicle for every two persons in the nation.

the highway at the edge of Wayne would surely be appreciated by all the many resident and transient motorists.

Those having familiarized themselves with Wayne's Comprehensive Plan are aware that, for its size, our city does not have adequate park space. Even though the proposed airport park will be small, it will help towards solving the park-space problem.

Tourists, especially those with camping trailers, whose tribe increases yearly, could make use of the airport park. They could pull off the highway for picnics, rest/stops, overnight camping or perhaps just a check fires and get a drink.

Local residents will find the park comfortable for picnics too, especially if the children enjoy watching airplanes take off and land.

As all traffic continues to increase during the next decade there might even be some flying families who would be able to make use of the park facilities.

Fore-sight is so much better than hindsight. While there is yet land available, already owned by the city, it would seem now is the opportune time to develop a beautiful and useful little roadside park, if possible.

Let's hope the Lions and City Council are able to cooperatively establish such a park for the use and enjoyment of all. — MMW.

A Scout Builds Stepping Stones

Though the following incident did not happen in Wayne's Troops 221, 175 or 174, it certainly could have happened to Wayne Boy Scouts. They are that kind of young men.

A group of Scouts were walking through the woods when the boy in the lead tripped over a stone and fell. His shoes were heavy, so any injury to his toes healed with the ending of the momentary pain.

Later the group came to a small brook that barred the way. It wasn't deep. The boys could have waded through, but that would have meant tramping along in soaked shoes.

At this point the lad who tripped over the stone a short distance back thought of something. Lying near at hand was one loose stone. Tossed into the brook it made one stepping stone.

brought it back. This gave them a second stepping stone, and the troop crossed the brook with dry feet.

This incident might have taught all the boys a most important lesson in life. You can accomplish almost anything when you convert stumbling stones into stepping stones.

Stumbling stones are concealed everywhere. Few can escape them. Some of them are unfriendly persons, illness, the lack of a career opportunity, the inability to continue formal education, even such a thing as not being quite as quick mentally as someone else.

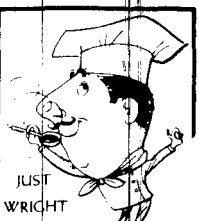

The individual who finds out why some people are unfriendly to him and corrects his own shortcomings first, who uses illness to guide him to healthier living; who builds the job he can get into the career he wants; who makes the most of practical and informal education; who makes up in sustained effort what he lacks in quickness of wit; is certain to find life a challenge, an opportunity and a great adventure.

There's a four-letter word to describe people who are always speaking out.

Free And when three people speak but they run America... You can speak to the whole country in your own quiet way... Just remember there's more than one way to voice your freedom in America. But there's only one way to stay free. Use your freedom.

Does anyone remember if there was ever a carved wooden Indian on the main street of Wayne? Most of these wooden figures found their heyday in the period of 1875-1890 and stood in front of tobacco shops.

When J. W. was yet a small lad (and it seems just like a little over a month ago!) he lived along the Missouri River bottom land in southern Iowa.

Through the eyes of a boy there were many amazing things one could pull out of that "river". Besides tin cans and inner tubes, I will recall the day when a big, aged snapping turtle hooked onto my line and before I got him pulled to the surface and shore, I thought for sure there was a whale that had been lured to my bait, which was one wigly worm.

Whatever was on the other end of the line sure pulled like a whale. Maybe I was going to catch the biggest of fish that had ever been landed so pulled, yanked, tugged and jerked, only to find a bewildered and tough old turtle resisting every inch of movement.

It is, amazing, isn't it, what merriment a sunny day, a can of worms, a fishing pole and the dreams of childhood can bring about. To this we'll add a dash of mud and water, a plucky, unlucky old turtle to mess with, a sandwich for lunch and a pinch of mischief.

Though there is some doubt, Benjamin Franklin is reputedly the inventor of the rocking chair. Still have an old one around the house? Appearing in the 18th century, the rocking chair became a fast selling item and appealed particularly to the masculine set.

Theodore Roosevelt and the late President Kennedy both enjoyed the rocker. Have you tried one lately? Millions of people prior to the 18th century never enjoyed precious moments rocking because they never thought about putting curved boards on the legs of a chair.

A rocking chair can be the magic carpet for putting baby to sleep, or to just rock and dream awhile. The younger set may rock and roll but it doesn't match rocking and dreaming — that is if you're over thirty!

Free Throws Cinch Blue Devil Victory

Coach Dick Nelson's Blue Devils team evened its season record at seven wins and seven defeats as they handed West Point Central Catholic a loss 48 to 41, Friday night.

The "B Bombers" of Coach Don Johnson almost met defeat as they pulled out a squeaker 49 to 47 over the West Point reserves.

They held a seven point lead at the first quarter's end, 15-8, but saw their lead dwindle to two at the half, 22-20.

Wayne won the game in the third quarter at 31-28. West Point outshot the young Devils 19 to 18 in the final stanza as they held on to win.

The reserves were led by Jerry Ritze with 12 points and Steve Echtenkamp with 11 points.

Wayne's lead was extended to 42-14 with just under two minutes left in the second period and then Doug Deck hit from 25 feet to put the Wildcats on top, 14-12.

Emerson regained the lead, 17-16, with 4:12 left to play, only to find themselves tied 22-22 at the end of the first half.

After trailing all of the third period, the Wildcats edged within two points of the Pirates on a jump shot by reserve center Dan Bruggeman and a steal and basket by Scott Duerling to make the score 43-41 with 5:45 left in the final stanza.

The Pirates threw a stall against Winside after building up a four-point lead. The strategy worked as they drew a foul and scored at the charity line with time almost gone in the fourth quarter, gaining the 54-50 victory.

Pirate Bill Oetken garnered 19 points in the contest to earn scoring honors for the night. Only other Pirate in double figures was Steve Carper with 11.

Bob Jackson and Dave Witt each scored 11 points to lead the Winside.

Walthill '5' Rips Allen High, 56-38 In Friday Tilt

If bad luck were worth money, the Allen High Eagles could have earned plenty Friday night. The Eagles could manage only one basket in the first quarter against visiting Walthill and ended up with a 56-38 defeat, closing out their 1935-36 basketball season with a record of five wins and 12 defeats.

Bob Mitchell kept the first quarter from being a complete whitewash—he hit a long one for Allen's only points in that long and frustrating first half. Walthill, keying off on Sappingfield's scoring and ball handling, moved out front of the Eagles by 11 points in the first quarter. Allen, still unable to find the range in the second quarter and went into the dressing room trailing 25 to 13.

The Eagles hit only four buckets in the second quarter, giving them five failures in 28 tries in the first half for about 25 per cent from the field.

They improved on that in the second half to end up with 14 baskets out of 52 attempts for 27 per cent in the whole game. But their improvement wasn't enough as Walthill moved out front 45 to 30 at the end of the third quarter.

Leading scorers and only Eagles in double figures were Dave Abts with 11 and Jerome Roberts with 10. Bob Mitchell contributed seven, Dennis Gelger five, John Abts and Bob Abts two.

Sappingfield's 15 points led Walthill scorers. Werner added 14.

Next action for Allen—Tuesday night—when the tangle with this same team in the class district tournament at Wakefield. The two teams clash at 8:30. Eagle coach Ilay Alexander said he thinks one of the things wrong

Friday night was that both he and his team were looking forward to the district tourney and not concentrating on winning this last season game. "All our practice seasons have been directed to Tuesday's game, not Friday's," he noted.

"But I still think we can give Walthill a good game," he continued, "and there's a chance we just might turn out to be the Cinderella team in the districts."

He noted that Walthill is a tall team and that Sappingfield is the key to their offense and defense. "He's a good ball handler and a good hustler and we're going to have to stop him Tuesday night," he concluded.

There will be no reserve game prior to the play-off. Game time is set for 8 p.m.

QUARTERLY MEETING of the Northeast Nebraska Volunteer Firemen's Association was held Tuesday evening in the fire hall at Wayne. Over 75 men from five departments in the association attended the meeting, a good turnout according to several Wayne firemen. Over 40 towns in northeast Nebraska belong to the association.

'The Game' - Peru vs. WS Wednesday

Wayne State vs. Peru State, that's the matching Wednesday night, and the winner gets significant rewards. For one: championship of the Nebraska College Conference. For another: a crack at the NAIA District playoff, the winner going to the national NAIA tournament.

The Wayne-Peru clash is billed for 7:30 p.m. in WSC's Rice Gym. But anybody expecting a seat will do well to arrive about an hour early—or better yet, at 5:30 to watch the freshman preliminary game.

Last year the Wayne-Peru season finale drew the largest crowd—about 3,000—over to see a collegiate game in Rice, and that game had no championship overtones.

This game pairs teams tied for

WSC Tankers Defend Title This Weekend

Wayne State swimmers will defend their conference championship Friday and Saturday in the Nebraska College Conference meet here. In fact, Wayne will defend four straight championships.

The Wildcats have a 4-3 dual record after a frustrating season of cancellations. A meet originally scheduled last Friday with Morningside and South Dakota went through several on and off notices, but finally fell through as both opponents dropped out. A dual here Saturday, Feb. 15, was cancelled because St. Cloud State could not travel through a snowstorm.

'Camp-In' Rescheduled

Friday, Saturday and Sunday are the days for the Lewis and Clark Boy Scout District Winter Camp-In. The affair had originally been scheduled for earlier in the month but had to be postponed because of bad weather. It was incorrectly reported in the last issue of the paper that the camp-in was set for last weekend.

Wildcat, Trojan Win at State in 1st Round Action

Two of the six area high school wrestlers who went to state competition this year won in Friday's first-round action at Lincoln.

Wrestling at 103 pounds, Terry Jaeger of Winside defeated Don Ems of Arapahoe, 2-1, and wrestling at 120 pounds, Walter Hank of Wakefield defeated Jim Mahr of Harrisburg, 2-2. Both boys were competing in class C action.

The other wrestler from Winside and the three from Wayne lost their Friday matches.

Winside's Mike Jaeger, brother of Terry, lost a 3-2 decision to Rushville's Doug Johnson in the 112-pound division. Wayne's three entries at state in class B action were 103-pound Mark Belermann, 154-pound Doug Maurer and 165-pound Bernie Binger. Belermann was pinned 5:08 by Central City's Jeff Gates. Maurer lost an 8-0 decision to Valentine's Gary Graham and Binger lost a 13-4 decision to Lexington's Mike Brimlow.

They added 14 more in the second quarter, gave only eight to move out front 25 to 12 at intermission. Todd Bornhoft's six points in the third quarter guided the way to a 38-20 advantage going into the final period.

But then West Point's defense started clicking and Bertolmi started hitting in the final eight minutes, almost resulting in a late-game defeat for the hosts. West Point held Wayne to only two baskets and Bertolmi pumped in 12 of his team's 18 points in the final period.

Leading the scoring for Wayne was Todd Bornhoft with 14 points, the only player in double figures for the winners. Lonnie Blitoff and Donnie Hansen added seven each, Joel Renner and Mike Ginn four each, and Bill Fletcher, John Meyer and Bob Nelson two each. West Point's Bertolmi was high for the day with 19.

HOW CAN I HELP MY SOWS FARROW BIG LITTERS? Feed Purina Sow Chow, of Course.

Yes, Purina Sow Chow has been built through many years of careful nutritional studies on over 5,000 litters of pigs at Purina's Research Farm.

Purina Sow Chow has everything your sow needs to help her develop, farrow and nurse big litters of husky pigs and maintain her own body weight at the same time.

Authorities estimate that 20% to 33% of all pig embryos conceived are resorbed by the sow early in the gestation period, if she is fed a poorly balanced ration.

So hogmen who neglect the ration they give their sows, lose lots of pigs they never even see!

That's why it pays to feed a proved ration like Purina Sow Chow.

Stop in and see us today about either Purina Sow Chow Complete or Purina Sow Chow Concentrate to mix with your grain.
