

Floyd Miller Challenges Wayne State Scholars At Honors Convocation

Seven Wayne State students received scholarships, and students listed on the Dean's Honor Roll were recognized Sunday at the college's spring honors convocation.

The speaker, Dr. Floyd Miller, state commissioner of education, challenged his select audience to continue their high achievement and so to demonstrate to the public the worth of their education.

The valuable things of life—freedom, self-government, internationalism—remain goals more than achievements, Dr. Miller said, and their attainment requires constant struggle.

The necessities for their attainment are competence and commitment and—most important, he said—courage.

"I like this definition of courage," Dr. Miller said: "The capacity to confront that which can be imagined, or in other words, the guts to do the right, to take a position, to stand up and be counted."

Students who received scholarships: Michael L. Anderson of Oakland, a junior majoring in history and physical education, the Fred Dale Athlete-Scholar Award of $100, presented by the Wayne State Foundation to a varsity athlete majoring in a subject other than physical education and ranking high in that major.

Kathleen Voorhies and Karen Wills, both juniors from Wayne, the Charlotte Waggoner Memorial Award of $50, presented by the foundation to one or more high-ranking majors in a...

'Execution Letter' Covered This Week

"Seldom in Nebraska's political history has a single document ignited an explosion with the megalomane of a letter by John K. Landoy of Omaha."

That's the way Melvin Paul, statehouse correspondent for the Nebraska Press Association, describes the results of the accidental release of Landoy's letter to four other members of the State School Board.

The state is still bobbing from the political waves the letter created.

For a complete story about "the week of the letter" read the "Capitol News" column on the editorial page of this issue of the paper.

CIP Board Urges Group Cooperation

In a second effort to get local organizations involved in Wayne's entry into the Community Improvement Program, a meeting was held Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Wanda Owens, chairman of the CIP project, reports representatives from Kiwanis, Lions, Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, Wayne Planning Commission, Girl Scouts, Flying Circle W Saddle Club, Acme and the Wayne Ministerial Association were present.

All organizations in Wayne are being urged to declare an interest in the project of making Wayne a "better place" in which to work, raise a family, shop, educate children, play, worship and conduct the daily pursuit of living.

A series of evaluating questionnaires at the Monday meeting, to ascertain a "pride factor" for the community. Results showed 14 positive, three were questioned.

Winside Firemen Douse Auto Fire

Winside's volunteer fire department was called on Monday evening around 9 p.m. when a 1964 Chevrolet registered to Clinton Post of Neligh caught fire three miles south of Winside on Highway 35.

A WSC student friend of Post's was driving the car enroute home. Personal belongings and clothes inside the vehicle were removed before being damaged. The fire was believed to have started when a belt on the power steering unit loosened, started slipping and overheated. The vehicle was a total loss.

Firemen at the time of the call were holding their monthly meeting at the fire hall when the siren sounded.

tionable, but it was generally agreed there were at least eleven areas in which we, as a city, could be considered "deficient". The Community Improvement Program is designed to help Wayne and every community in Nebraska to overcome existing deficiencies.

Wayne's CIP executive board, along with Chairman Owens, wish to emphasize that the CIP does not require instigating entirely new projects or altering projections of present programs, but it does require a united effort made by all organizations and groups in a community toward working for the common goal of See CIP, page 6.

Wayne Man Escapes Injuries in Accident

A Wayne man escaped injuries about 10:30 Monday morning when the car he was driving collided with another about three miles west of the junction of Highways 9 and 35 north of Emerson.

H. D. Addison of Wayne was east bound in his car when he collided almost head on with a west-bound car driven by R. Anderson of South Sioux City, according to Trooper Tom Nichols, who investigated the accident.

The accident occurred when a car in front of Addison attempted to pass a tractor and then returned to the right lane before passing it. Addison slammed on his brakes to avoid running into the rear of the car, throwing his car almost directly in front of the vehicle driven by Anderson, Nichols said.

Anderson's car was a total wreck and Addison's suffered extensive damage, according to Nichols.

Anderson was taken to the hospital in Wakefield for observation.

Winside Scouts Show

First Aid to Firemen

It was a case of the older generation learning from the young Monday night at Winside as Boy Scout Troop 179 demonstrated various life saving and first aid techniques to the Winside Volunteer Fire Department.

She was loaned to the scouts by the Norfolk Fire Department for the demonstration.

The firemen showed their appreciation to the troop by treating them to a lunch and pop following the program.

Spring Turkey Hunt Opens This Saturday

Turkey hunters are chomping at the bit, with nervous eyes on the calendar and clock in anticipation of the opening of the spring turkey season at sunrise this Saturday.

The Wildlife unit filled during the past week, and only 24 permits remained as of Thursday, April 10, all in the Red Willow unit.

Serious hunters are scouting areas they plan to hunt for likely turkey fangouts and are getting permission from landowners before the toms-only hunt begins.

Hunters are required to use a turkey call during the spring season and are restricted to shotguns from 20 gauge to 10 gauge or to longbows. Shooting hours for the 10-day hunt are from sunrise to sunset.

All hunters are reminded that they must report to a Game Commission check station if they bag one of the potters. The deadline for reporting is noon of the day following the close of the season. The check stations will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day of the season, but if it is inconvenient for the hunter to report during those hours, arrangements for an appointment can be made by phone. Lists of the check stations in each turkey unit were provided to hunters along with their turkey permits.

WSC Baseball Squad Splits Twin Bill at Peru State Saturday

Hitters accounted for most of the scoring as Wayne State and Peru State divided a doubleheader Saturday at Peru. Wayne won the first, 4-3; Peru the second, 2-1.

Jim Hasciot hurled the win for Wayne, his second of the season. In the fifth inning, back to back doubles by Hasciot and Duane Mendlik, played shortstop in this game, a single by Marty Golze, then a double by Lynn Tompek put over two runs, giving Wayne a 3-1 lead.

In the seventh, consecutive sacrifices by Hasciot and Mendlik produced the fourth tally. Also in the seventh, Peru pitcher Jim Hains homered with one runner on.

Peru scored both runs in the second game's third inning, but the usually potent Wildcat bats produced only one run, in the fourth. Mendlik, on the mound for this game, took the loss. Bill Fveerhart was the winning pitcher.

Wayne, now 7-2 on the season and 1-1 in conference, goes to Hastings for another NCC doubleheader Saturday afternoon.

Westmar Falls, 7-0, In WSC Tennis Dual

300 Attend AFS Carnival of Fun Even the weatherman cooperated to help with the success of the American Field Service carnival held in the Wayne High gymnasium from 5 to 10 p.m. Saturday.

Fourteen high school organizations put forth every effort to assure the gala affair's success. The carnival is the major fund raising activity of the Wayne AFS chapter to help pay expenses involved in bringing a student from another country to Wayne for a year of study at Wayne High.

Ronald Carlsson, guidance counselor at WHS, has noted that it takes over $750 annually to support such a foreign exchange program. Three hundred attended the carnival with receipts totaling $718.25.

After expenses are paid then the AFS will receive 70 per cent of the profits while the sponsoring organizations will receive 30 per cent. All carnival entry fee receipts will go to the AFS, according to Carlsson.

Wayne's current AFS student is Egon Guzman Bustante from Santiago, Chile.

Winner of the portable television at the 9:30 p.m. drawing was a fourth grade student, Robin Dornhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Budd Dornhoff.

Eilers; Mrs. Thery Fisher; Steve Brasch; Harry Lesberg; Bill Vahlkamp; Al Ahlman and Helen Hofeldt.

A special program has been planned with Dr. James Diniap of Norfolk as the featured speaker. His subject of venereal disease is one that is timely and of national concern.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Naturally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem, and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Don't Destroy Habitat

Although many people in Wayne and the surrounding towns are getting the urge to clean up their lawns, we hope the urge doesn't spread to the farmers in northeast Nebraska.

The Game Commission recommends that farmers let the roadside ditches, waterways, fence lines and windbreaks grow as many weeds and as much cover as they can. The cover is needed by pheasants and quail.

Too often farmers will burn grasses in these areas, thinking that will cut down their weed problems. The Game Commission says that burning these grasses both destroys wildlife habitat and is poor management practice because weeds will have clear sailing once the grasses are burned away.

Nesting cover is the key to a good pheasant population. Studies have revealed that up to 25 per cent of Nebraska's pheasant production is the result of habitats in undisturbed roadside ditches where suitable cover is available to nesting birds.

There are already three more wildlife species found in Nebraska which are in danger of extinction—the black-footed ferret, the peregrine falcon or duck hawk and the whooping crane.

Let's keep all the available cover intact so we are never faced with the possibility of losing our pheasants or quail. N.H.

Special Week of "Idea Houses"

The week of April 20-26 this year is set aside as National Library Week. During this time, the peculiarly human characteristic that accounts for all of man's accomplishment is to be commemorated—the ability to store the sum total of his knowledge and build new knowledge upon it.

In great libraries the record of civilization is being kept—in movies, in the sound of stereotapes, on microfilm. The purpose of National Library Week is to create broader awareness of the need for a better-read, better-informed America and to encourage the habit of reading and library use.

Librarians are breaking new frontiers in their efforts to get books to readers. For instance, the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Public Library is placing books in such unlikely places as beauty parlors and bars, even taverns. The Chicago Public Library is bussing school children to a branch library where they are told about libraries and about books.

Wayne has a fine public library, "Idea House," for that actually is what it is. A modern library not only has books, but also magazines, pamphlets, records and some larger libraries have paintings and motion pictures.

Just think for a moment of all the ideas stored in the hundreds of books in the Wayne State Library, the high school library, and the city library! Libraries are no longer simply warehouses for books but are a vital communication center.

How fortunate area residents are that Wayne has several "Idea Houses" available to maturing minds. Ideas that have changed the world in yes-tearyears may be held in your own hands within minutes—just for the asking!

Difficulties are created whenever there is a "communications gap" in any field. Perhaps one of the greatest such gaps occurs when an intelligent mind can work, play and sleep within a few city blocks of an "Idea house" but never bothers about using the library to communicate with the past, present and ideas for the future.

A sick person may have the best doctor who may place the best of medicine on the bedside tray, but until that individual takes the medicine inside of his body where it can fight the disease, it will serve little purpose. Just looking at the prescription doesn't get the job done.

Even so, just looking at the library doesn't fill one with vital knowledge. You say you don't have time to read? That is likely not quite true! (He has the time to read but so often it is spent in letting an electronic tube "tell us a story" instead.

Surprise yourself and visit the library, maybe checking out a good book. These "Idea houses" have a good thing going because when you relax in your easy chair with a book there are no knobs to turn, no commercials and if there is an interruption, you can pick up again right where you left off.

Just be careful, however, and don't drop your peanut butter and jelly sandwich on the book as the next borrower may not have your same tastes!—MMW.

The Price of Repeal

A basic law of nature has always been work or starve. The expanding U. S. welfare state has, in effect, promised its repeal. But already, signs are appearing that removal of this stem dike may have its drawbacks, particularly for the remaining workers who must pay the price of repeal.

Late figures on the soaring cost of the welfare state give an inkling of what that price is currently and what it may be in the future.

In 1950, social-welfare spending took $52.3 billion, or 38 per cent of total government expenditures. In 1958, it took $112.4 billion, or 43.7 per cent of all government expenditures. Sky-rocketing social-aid costs now take more than 40 per cent of every 10 tax dollars. And counting private funds, welfare in all its forms, takes about 20 per cent of the total national output of goods and services.

Estimates also indicate that by the mid-1970's, the welfare bill will total some $292 billion each year. Welfare has reached the point where government expenditures for needed public works, improved police protection and other necessary public services and projects are deferred. Expansion of the welfare state moves ahead undeterred by explosive cost increases. Eventually the burden may become too great for the remaining workers.

Perhaps in some future conversation between a husband just home from a half day of work and his wife, it will run something like:

Husband: "My, how it depresses me to recall those terrible old days when people had to work to take care of themselves."

Wife: "I suppose, and yet, I like to remember the campaign slogan they used in the last election, 'You don't ask to be born so make the government pay'."

Husband: "And they should pay! We can't exist half free! Surely you remember ours is a home of the brave and land of the free! Has the mail gone yet dear? That subsidy check should be here today and junior needs a new black leather jacket so he'll look nice at that demonstration this afternoon."

Exaggerated? Perhaps, yet the principal of thought is there.

It is the duty of each generation of Americans not only to contribute its share to the fulfillment of this nation's destiny, but to prepare the succeeding generation adequately for its role of carrying the promise of freedom beyond the point to which contemporary leaders have brought it. Many of the younger generation have never known the more lasting pleasures of fulfilling their desires and wants through their own initiative.

This necessary ingredient of good citizenship has been denied them by selfish parents and government officials who want children to have "everything" except the industry necessary to propel them through life.—MMW.

Londay Letter Sends State Into Political Convulsions

LINCOLN—It was the week of The Letter.

Seldom in Nebraska's political history has a single document ignited an explosion with the megatonnage of a letter by John K. Londay of Omaha.

Londay, a member of the State School Board, addressed a personal note to a colleague on the board, John A. Wagoner of Grand Island, last month. It was chatty and covered a variety of topics—including his delight that everything seemed to be set for the "execution" of Dr. Floyd A. Miller as state education commissioner at the board's April meeting.

"I can hardly wait," Londay said.

Copies of the letter which also dealt with Londay's activities in Omaha political affairs, his dissatisfaction with Omaha school Supt. Owen Kuntz, plans for the state board to endorse a bill designed to permit state aid to private schools and other subjects, were sent to three other board members.

The copies went to Dr. Allen P. Burkhardt of Norfolk, board president, Mrs. Deborah Shepherd of Lexington and Lloyd Wright of Reynolds. Londay and the four persons who received the letter make up a majority of the eight-member board.

Through an accident, a copy of the letter wound up in the possession of the man whose "execution" it predicted.

Burkhardt brought his copy along in his briefcase last week when the board held a meeting at Lincoln to discuss pending legislation dealing with schools.

At the close of the meeting, as was turning some papers over to Miller's secretary for inclusion in the minutes, he inadvertently handed her a copy of Londay's letter.

When the commissioner read the letter, it was like a coach being given his opponent's game plans. Miller decided to call in the press and distribute the letter without comment. It was given wide publicity.

That set the stage for what apparently would be a showdown at the board's second scheduled meeting of the week. But first, the legislature reacted to the contents of the letter.

Sen. Don Elrod of Grand Island introduced a resolution which praised Miller and his staff for their courageous stand for positive education under the most difficult and adverse circumstances created purposely by the negative majority of the present State Board of Education.

It also censured the board. Although Elrod and the 13 co-sponsors of the resolution tried to have it passed before the board met Friday, the couldn't get the required 33 votes to suspend the rules. The resolution eventually was referred to a committee for hearing.

There was another legislative reaction to the Londay letter. Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff introduced a bill calling for a constitutional amendment which would give the unicameral the authority to have the board either elected or appointed. The eight members now are elect-

It is hard to realize that they can be dangerous to people—especially small children who swallow anything they can lay their hands on.

So when you're handling any potentially harmful chemical cleaning aids—keep them out of reach of children. When you're finished, store them properly.

Some paint and varnish removers used in the "spruce-up" process often give off toxic fumes so the homeowner needs to work in a well-ventilated room. Using rubber gloves can protect the hands from irritations or allergic reactions when working with the removers and with the paints, too. These supplies need to be stored carefully to avoid spontaneous combustion in some cases and to be out of the reach of children.

Higher Mowing of Lawns

New information regarding the effect of light on the germination of weeds in turf has added more weight to the recommendations by lawn specialists that high mowing height is important in maintaining a good, healthy turf.

The importance of high mowing to stave off weed invasion has been pointed out many times in the past. Turf clipped regularly at one and one-half inches had about seven times more crabgrass and broadleaf weeds than turf clipped at two and one-half inches in one study.

In one experiment, researchers removed the thatch from plots which compared the performance of grass mowed at the two different heights. Live turf and the thatch combined to produce an extremely dense cover at both mowing heights, but there was considerably more live turf at the two and one-half inch height.

It has been known for several years that germination of seeds in response to light is controlled by a light-sensitive pigment in plants known as phytochrome. Red light changes the pigment to a form that allows germination. Far-red light (near infrared) changes the pigment to a form that prevents germination.

This weed control mechanism can easily be translated to turf. Since most weeds require light to germinate, a tall dense stand of grass is much more capable of absorbing the red light needed by the seeds for germination.

The far-red light which passes through, along with the absence of red light, are quite effective in reducing weed invasion for several years that germination of seeds in response to light is controlled by a light-sensitive pigment in plants known as phytochrome.

The other major benefit of high mowing, as pointed out by many authorities, is that more green leaf area enables the grass plant to manufacture and store more food reserves. These food reserves are extremely important to survival of the plant during adverse periods such as after occur in late summer. During such stress periods the plant has to rely almost entirely upon its food reserves for survival and recovery.

It is recommended that at least three per cent calcium, three per cent phosphorus and one-half per cent salt be fed. Also trace minerals may be fed. Normally, the amount supplied in the protein supplement will be adequate.

A new dimension in cooking satisfaction:

Announcing the first car of the '70s at 1960 prices.

FORD MAVERICK $1995*

(You don't have to read it all—but it's nice to know it's all there.)

Most new cars look like other cars. But when the word gets out that something really different is on the way, rumors run wild. Few cars have caused as much talk as Maverick. Ford's new entry in the small car field rivals the economy imports in price... but tops them in power, performance, passenger room and luggage capacity. We've been bombarded with questions about Maverick. Now, for the first time, here are the answers.

Q Why did you build the Maverick?

A We've always had a reputation for building cars that are fun to drive. Now we've added a new dimension to our reputation. We've built a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Why did you call it Maverick?

A You know what a maverick is. A car that's fun to drive. A car that's fun to live with. A car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Why did you make it this size?

A Maverick's size is just what you need. We built Maverick to be a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q What do I get for the price?

A You get a lot more than you expect. A complete front-end suspension, a power window, a power door lock, a power mirror, a power antenna, a power heater, a power radio, a power stereo, a power seat, a power window, a power door lock, a power mirror, a power antenna, a power heater, a power radio, a power stereo, a power seat.

Q What about options?

A You can get a lot more than you expect. A complete front-end suspension, a power window, a power door lock, a power mirror, a power antenna, a power heater, a power radio, a power stereo, a power seat.

Q What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A If you drive a 1970 Ford Maverick, you can get 25 mpg in the city and 35 mpg on the highway. That's 25% more city mileage and 25% more highway mileage than any other car in its class. And that's just the beginning. There's more to Maverick than meets the eye.

Q What kind of power does Maverick have?

A That's the best kind of power. The kind that's fun to drive. The kind that's fun to live with. The kind that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A Maverick can handle a lot more than you expect. It's a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A Yes, it can. And it has. Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q How about parts and service?

A Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A Yes, it is. Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Can I do my own maintenance work?

A Yes, you can. Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A Yes, it can. And it has. Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

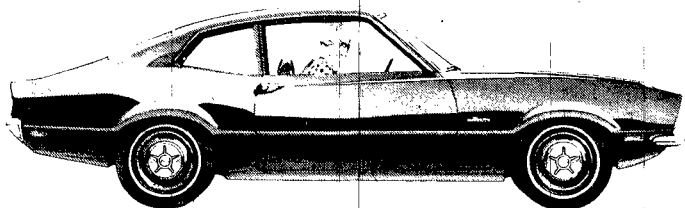

Q How does Maverick ride?

A Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A Yes, there is. Maverick is a car that's fun to drive and fun to live with. It's a car that's fun to live with because it's a car that's fun to drive.

Q For an authentic 1/25 scale model of the new Ford Maverick, send $1.00 to Maverick, P.O. Box 5387, Department N-56, Detroit, Michigan 48211. (Offer ends July 31, 1969.)

FACIAL EXPRESSIONS of Bob Wacker, left, and Bill Burris, tell part of the fun in getting to hit an old car with a sledge hammer! It was all a part of the "fun fair" Saturday afternoon and evening at the Winside High School. Seniors sponsored the event to raise funds for snack day. Wacker was in charge of this outside attraction and grimaces as Burris bangs away. Several who tried it thought it was a great way to vent one's feelings.

Winside Seniors to Present Comedy

Seniors at Winside High School are busy rehearsing a three-act mystery-comedy called "Creeping Shadows" which will be presented at 8 p.m. Apr. 18 in the city auditorium.

Germaine Haney is author of the intriguing play which will be directed by a cast of 24, and presented by Mrs. Richard Powers and Jim Connick.

The plot involves a young girl who has inherited a dilapidated mansion badly in need of repair. She and her family attempt to turn the place into a tourist's resort. What the new owners do not know is that their newly inherited real estate has a far greater value than at first assumed. Mr. King, a plotting neighbor urges the family to sell the place after objects disappear, mysterious noises are heard and strange voices faint the occupants. Add a dash of romance, laughter and some suspense to complete the plot for a class play that is sure to please.

Lead characters will be played by Glenda Morris as Kit Laugh-ton, Robert Farran as Jack Hunter, Lynne Troutman as Cherry, Beverly Gallop as Mrs. Frazier, Linda Longe as Anna, Robert Wacker as Bill, Tom Witt as Ted, Dan Bruggeman as Wade and Jim Jackson as Mr. King. Tickets will be on sale at the window.

Fourteen WWS clubs sponsored various booths to raise funds so Wayne might have another foreign exchange student next fall.

Thurston County Gets USDA Food

Nearly 43,000 pounds of donated foods were distributed to about 1,500 persons in Thurston County during March by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest district director of consumer food programs.

This included 587 certified public and general assistance recipients plus 706 other low-income persons. In addition, supplemental foods were distributed to 208 recipients.

Available were approximately 20 foods—canned meat, cheese, canned peas, dry beans, cornmeal, tomato juice, butter, flour, corn syrup, potato flakes, evaporated milk plus lard.

New applicants in need of food assistance will be certified this month. They are asked to bring proof of reported income and other assets of the household group. Certification is scheduled daily at the Village Hall, Wall-hill.

Foods will be distributed Apr. 14-16 at that office. Also, eligible members of the Omaha Tribe will receive commodities at the Community Action Building, Macy, Apr. 21-22, while eligible members of the Winnebago Tribe can pick up their foods in Winnebago, Apr. 28-29.

He was confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church southeast of Wayne by pastor F. H. Schulze.

GI Bill Students Can Take Vacation, Get Summer Work

Nebraska veterans attending school under the GI Bill can take a summer vacation without losing any of their remaining VA education and training entitlement when they return to school in the fall. C. W. Nixon, manager Lincoln Regional Office, said this week.

Also, if they plan to return to the same school and pursue the same course next fall, they need not apply for a new certificate of eligibility.

Nixon emphasized to veterans hoping to find summer jobs that GI Bill education and training allowances are not affected by the amount of money a veteran earns on his own. Allowances are determined only by the amount of training (full-time, three-quarters, half-time) a veteran is taking and by the number of his dependents.

Veterans who may decide to continue working after summer vacation is over and delay returning to school until next year or later were reminded that they must complete their GI Bill education and training within eight years after their discharge from service or by May 31, 1974, whichever is later.

Colfax County and its county seat, Schuyler, both were named in honor of Schuyler Colfax, vice president of the United States during President Grant's first term.

Peace Corps Tests Planned for April 19

Wayne area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 19 at either Omaha or Lincoln.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill

"We think every Woman is Something Special"

Senior Plays Provide Fun

by Marlin Wright

Senior class plays are not what they used to be. We're glad of that too! Not only are the plays of a higher quality, better lines, with more realistic sets, but the directing and acting lean toward a greater degree of professionalism.

Friday evening, seniors at both Wakefield and Allen presented class plays. "Rest Assured" was presented by Wakefield while Allen's choice of drama was "Wedding Spells".

Wakefield's "Rest Assured" was presented both Friday and Saturday evening to large crowds. The three-act comedy was written by Donald Dayton concerning a youthful love affair and two difficult fathers who both died and then returned to haunt the families. Dennis Crippen and Mrs. Mary Ann Weeks co-directed the production. Cast members were Jerry Jensen, Faye Nelson, Mary Peterson, Marilyn Felt, Kathryn Carlson, Bob Gustafson, Dallas Pearson, Sandra Barger, Terry Baker, Rae Johnson, Gary Preston, Connie Roberts, Roger Boeckenhauer, Rodney Haglund, Curt Llenemann and Donna Fischer.

It was obvious that a lot of effort went into the crowd-pleasing performance. Unfortunately this writer was only privileged to catch the first act of "Rest Assured" and then continued on to Allen for the last two acts of "Wedding Spells".

Mrs. Betty Dahlquist and Mrs. Dorothy Mohr co-directed the Allen three-act farce with the assistance of student director, Nancy Swanson.

Without reservation, this play can be said to have the funniest laugh-lines of any produced for a long time. By actual count the 12 seniors in the cast were getting on the average of four loud guffaws a minute with the play which revolves around the difficulties of a young man who loses his memory following a head injury.

A crowd of 400 saw the cast completely break up on two occasions which only added to the hilarity. Once, following a noise produced by the sound effects department, a male character on stage asked his on-stage girlfriend, "Did you hear that noise?" Momentarily hesitating the girl said "no" when her line actually was "yes".

The cast was apparently having as much, or more, fun as the audience and with excellent memorization the comedy was carried off in a complete state of natural humor. The second time both cast and audience broke up occurred when Jill Fahrenholz (as Mrs. Pettinelli) said, "You could knock me over with a silk handkerchief". Doug Witte (as Charlie Cooney) doesn't care for the flighty old female and steps forward to ask of the audience, "Does anyone have a silk handkerchief?" Surprising Witte and everyone else was a buddy on the front row who jumped up and said, "Yeah, here's one" and threw it to him. It took a few minutes before the audience was ready to quit laughing and go on and it was a few minutes before the cast could go on.

The butler Reeves had the line which perhaps best described the amusing presentation when he said, "We have missed several things tonight".

Seniors in the cast of characters were Linda Rasmussen, Wayne Chapman, Bruce Linsefelter, Doug Witte, Jill Fahrenholz, Kathy Jackson, Kathy Goddes, Jeanine Emry, Cindy Ellis, Jerry Roberts, Tom Maggart and Jean Serven.

Both "Rest Assured" and "Wedding Spells" exhibited talent, showmanship, sound effects, character projection and line-pacing which are far superior to the training and production quality acceptable on the high school level 25 years ago.

It is hard work to "entertain" an audience, especially now that everyone is used to being entertained by television professionals.

So our congratulations are given on to these two senior classes for having lightened the world's load for a few moments by providing delightful entertainment in a very difficult field...high school theatre.

Social Security Q & A

Q: My husband signed up for medicare but never retired. Last week he broke his leg and can't work any more. Can he get a social security disability benefit?

A: He can start his social security benefits right away. The payment he receives will not, however, be a "disability" benefit. Disability benefits are paid to workers under age 65 who must stop working because of disability. Since your husband is past 65 he will receive a retirement insurance benefit. The amount is the same, the name is different.

Long Winter Requires Substitute for Hay

Hay has been used in a much greater quantity than planned this winter in Nebraska due to the prolonged adverse weather.

When grasses are uncovered, there may be enough to furnish needed forage to carry until spring.

If there is forage in the grasses, protein content will be low. Cows that are nursing calves probably will need the equivalent of about one and one-half to two pounds of 40 percent supplement. This will be above what they can eat and digest of this low quality forage to meet their energy needs until new grass is available.

Where there is an insufficient supply of forage or hay, grain may be substituted for roughage. A pound of corn should be equal to about 1.6 pounds of alfalfa hay or about 1 3/4 pounds of prairie hay. The grain would need to be ground and fed in banks or madd into a grain cube to avoid excessive waste.

Corn at $1.12 per bushel delivered would compare favorably with alfalfa hay at 25 dollars per ton and prairie hay at 23 dollars per ton delivered.

If grain is substituted for roughage the feed should be limited to at least three to five pounds of hay. Only enough grain should be supplied to meet the needs for maintenance or production; otherwise the cattle will get fat and costs will be excessive.

Koreans mastered the art of movable metal type as early as 1403 - half a century before Johann Gutenberg used the same technique to print his famous Bible in Mainz, Germany, National Geographic says.

Game Commission technicians will begin taking northern pike eggs from adult fish netted at Pelican and Watts lakes on the Valentine Refuge shortly after the ice disappears. The eggs will be stripped from the females, fertilized, then transferred to hatcheries. After taking their eggs, the adults will be returned to the lakes. The resulting fry will be used to stock many other Nebraska waters.
