Wayne is growing. You can tell it by listening to the sound of the hammer and saw as 10 downtown business firms implement remodeling programs.

Several businesses have just finished complete renovation. Some merchants are in the middle of construction, others have just announced plans for a "new look."

What is the cost? A total of nearly $200,000 will soon be invested by 10 business firms in face-lifting jobs.

Why all of this sudden spurt of modernization? As you visit Main Street, it appears that there is a new attitude regarding the business future of Wayne. It's an attitude of optimism which seems to shout over the noise of hammers, something like: "Wayne is growing and we're growing with it."

Mel and Ruth Eklonson were recently presented a Wayne Chamber of Commerce Progress Award in recognition of work put forth in the renovation of their east-coast store. Likewise, Wayne Marsh also received the Chamber's Progress Award for his remodeling and expansion of the Wayne Book Store.

Becoming a rather typical attitude of Wayne merchants is the one expressed by the manager of the local Gamble Store, which held its grand opening Wednesday and Thursday. "We've enjoyed many years of good business here," Larry De Forge remarked, "and the remodeling program is an expression of Gamble's interest in the future of Wayne. We have completely redone the interior with all new fixtures," De Forge pointed out, "with a new freight elevator in the rear and new storage space upstairs."

Two hundred grand is a lot of money in anyone's language. It is a lot of money even at inflated prices, but a remodeling cost is the price paid by local merchants for believing in the future of Wayne.

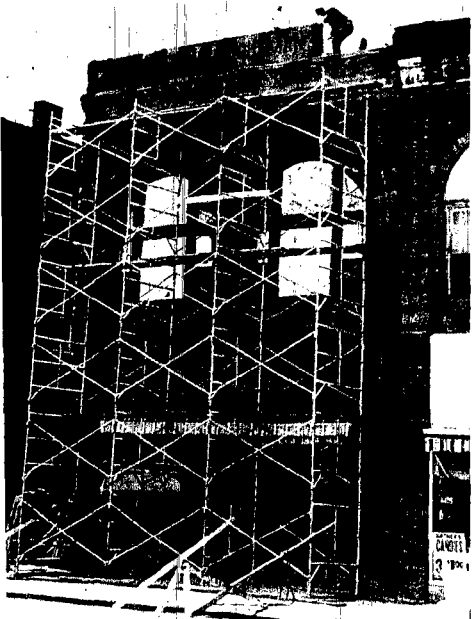

State National Bank continues working on a program of expanding facilities. A carpeted area and basement storage room were completed in May. Henry Ley, bank president, said Friday, "We needed increased space for storage and operations." Triangle Finance moved from 105 West Second to 109 West Second Street where the firm will have more room for business and customers. Ley said the bank plans to move the trust and insurance departments into the office space at 105 West Second. This change will increase work space about 30 per cent and the new location will provide private offices for trust and estate conferences," he pointed out.

Businessmen in Wayne are concerned about providing enough room for customers, shopping comfort, availability of merchandise and probably most important, quality stock. Remodeling is a way of upgrading a firm's efficiency and providing a more pleasant atmosphere in which customers may be served.

Wayne's Chamber of Commerce Manager Roger J. Ider remarked Friday evening, "Industry is looking for communities that are not satisfied with the status quo. Status quo doesn't exist. We are either on the go or on the decline. There is no middle ground." Continuing, Ider observed, "I think the remodeling of the downtown area is one of the examples that show Wayne is not 'status quo'. Wayne is moving forward and that can be seen by the renovation projects."

Then the Chamber manager commented, "Some may say 'Wayne doesn't want to progress'. Take a walk down Main Street and the present $200,000 being invested into remodeling amounts to about 200,000 reasons that Wayne is progressing."

Mr. William Koster plans to move his office from 111 West Second to 313 Main early in July. The building into which he will be moving is in the process of complete modernization. "We have run out of room in our present building," Dr. Koerber explained. "I have great confidence in the future of Wayne," he continued, "and in the new location we will be offering the same services at a greater convenience." One of those conveniences was pointed out by the doctor as being parking space in the rear of the building at 313 Main. Lava stone will be used to finish the front of the optometrist's remodeled building. Inside, architecture carries the Early American lines and offices will be air-conditioned and carpeted. Another of the conveniences, Dr. Koerber noted, will be a very comfortable reception room.

Wiltse's Mortuary at 401 Main has been entirely changed inside and out with the project having been started last fall. Completion date, according to Willard Wiltse, should be early next month. A mansard roof has changed the exterior appearance considerably. New entrances have been constructed with no steps necessary. "We're modernizing to keep up with today's trend," Willard said. With a note of optimism he continued, "We hope the new exterior with its new look will help improve Main Street."

The Wayne Veterinary Clinic is moving to 110 Main where the building has been remodeled with a front office and two private offices, according to Dr. L. J. Ulska. "We want to offer a good service in Wayne," the veterinarian said, "and we feel we can offer a better service in our new location. We plan to board pets and perform all types of surgery on pets." Dr. Ulska is remodeling the building which will provide, among other things, a hospital room for small animals. He said the project of renovating the building should be completed early in July.

Don Orte, who purchased the L. A. M. Cafe approximately three months ago and opened it as Ron's Cafe, has also opened Patsy's Pizza Parlor at 115 Main. Ron had a grand opening Wednesday for the Parlor, which is open from 4 until midnight weekdays and from 4 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

R. G. Fuelberth has been remodeling the business house at 212 Main which he hopes to have completely renovated by late summer. Darrel Fuelberth said Friday, "We have leased the building and are remodeling it in a continued interest of improving the downtown area."

Jack March, owner of the Gay Theatre in downtown Wayne and the Dude Ranch Drive-In Theatre announced plans earlier this month to transform the Gay Theatre into a twin theatre, the Cinema I and II. March said the new twin theatre will have a mansard colored shingle front with a red and blue hued back. "We hope to start on the front next week," the owner said Friday. Both theatres will be air-conditioned.

"We hope to offer a full variety of films for the entire family in the two downtown theatres and the Dude Drive-In," he said. Upon being asked about the remodeling project, March pointed out, "We are always interested in improving the appearance of our business district."

Alfred Koplin, mayor of Wayne, said concerning all of the construction presently underway, "The construction is a healthy economic sign for Wayne and will make a fine improvement of Main Street."

Residents of Wayne may note too, the construction, expansion and other building projects going on throughout the city. Several new homes are being built with a number just newly completed. City Clerk Dan Sherry remarked Friday evening, "There seem to be more residential building permits being used," as he spoke concerning those issued thus far this year as compared to the number a year ago.

Youth Begins Trip Behind Iron Curtain

David Rees left Wayne Thursday to spend a summer in Europe that few young people will match. He'll work in Czechoslovakia and Hungary as a volunteer sponsored by the American Friend Service Committee.

The 19-year-old (he will be 20 during the summer), son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rees has been assigned to help build a playground in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, for a three-week period, then pick grapes somewhere in Hungary for another three weeks. The rest of the summer—between and after work sessions—he can travel independently as he wishes.

How did Dave, a Methodist, become involved in this Quaker-sponsored enterprise?

"I saw an announcement of the AFSC summer service projects overseas. It looked interesting, so I applied," he explained.

Volunteers for such projects receive a little subsistence money, but pay most of their expenses. They are instructed to travel light—in fact, taking only what they can pack on their back and carry in a small bag. Part of their travel in Europe will be afoot. For Dave, who was an Eagle Scout in Troop 174, this will be familiar routine.

Dave just finished his sophomore year at the University of Northern Iowa after a freshman year at Wayne State. Twin brother Dan, who has been at the University of Nebraska both years, is working in Wayne this summer. Dave is driving to the East Coast with his older brother, Phil, a May graduate of NU who has a job in New Jersey with the Bell Telephone System.

At Philadelphia, Dave and other volunteers will spend several days in orientation for their summer experience, then will fly to Europe.

Thieves Strike in Dixon, Allen

Thieves broke into the Dixon Post Office some time in the early morning of June 8, making it the second post office in Dixon County to be robbed since the first of the year.

Stolen from the small building was a personal safe belonging to Postmaster Lowell Saunders containing some cash, several savings bonds and other personal items. The safe weighed about 700 pounds.

Also taken was a money order machine, according to Robert Mavis, special investigator for the State Patrol, who helped investigate the robbery.

Mavis said entrance to the post office was gained by prying open the southwest door to the small building which stands on the main street through Dixon. The thieves knocked off the dial on the small safe and on the large post office safe, but were unable to break into either.

Mavis also reported that an Allen farmer, Harry Malmberg, had four calves stolen from his farm just southeast of Allen early in June.

Those calves, one nine days old and three about four weeks old, were found in Iowa at several locations last week after a few lucky breaks involving a sales barn in Iowa, the Sioux City police and Gus Schutte, Dixon County sheriff.

Mavis said that no arrest has been made in the theft of the calves but he anticipates one soon.

Mavis noted that it was largely because of the cooperation between Iowa and Nebraska authorities that the calves were located.

Area Man Chosen 'Outstanding Grad'

Dennis A. Junck of Carroll, who graduated from the electronic data processing department of the Nebraska Vocational Technical School in Millard Wednesday, was selected as the outstanding graduate in his department. Outstanding graduates are selected on the basis of scholarship, attendance, citizenship and craftsmanship.

As a recipient of the award, the Wayne High graduate received a certificate from the school and a cash award from the Sears Roebuck Foundation.

Cash Night Reserve Pot Begins at $100

The first reserve pot in some time will begin building up Thursday night, starting at $100. The reserve pot will be started because the person whose name was called Thursday in the Cash Night drawing, Donald L. Baede of Wakefield, was not present to accept his prize from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

The prize will remain at $400.

Winside Man Is Presented Good Neighbor Award

"He's just a good guy, he shuns the limelight, but helps others find it. He's interested in civic affairs and does something about it. He is strikingly modest, quietly aggressive, exciting in his achievements," was a hostler for the Boy Scout Program, busy as a bee with Sunday School supervision. Ever dependable, a tireless worker when there is work to do. A friend in need, respecter of human rights, a model citizen, all-American, a fine Christian man. Where there's need, he's present. That's Richard Miller, a great guy."

So stated Richard Miller's nomination for the Ak-Sar-Ben's Good Neighbor Award written and submitted by friends and neighbors around Winside.

Ak-Sar-Ben officials, acting on the nomination, selected the Winside resident as a Good Neighbor. In a brief ceremony Wednesday afternoon held in The Herald conference room Alan Cramer, Wayne Ak-Sar-Ben ambassador, presented the Good Neighbor Citation to Miller. The Citation pin was placed on her husband's lapel by Mrs. Miller.

City Gets $4,744 Grant from State For Elderly Center

The State Advisory Committee on Aging last week approved a grant of $4,744 to Wayne for establishing a program of recreation and social services for the elderly.

The approval assures that Wayne will have an elderly center within the next few weeks. A tentative lease has been obtained on the Predohl building on Main Street as the site for the elderly center. Minor remodeling of the inside of the building will have to be completed before the elderly center can begin operation.

Wayne's contribution toward setting up the center will be $1,900-$125 rent a month and $400 for utilities.

The Advisory Committee makes grants available to cities which cannot afford setting up an elderly center on their own. The first year the grant is for 75 per cent of the cost of establishing the center, the second year it is for 50 per cent, the third year for 25 per cent.

The elderly center will fill a void many city councilmen and citizens feel should not exist in a city the size of Wayne. At present, there is no place where the older citizens can gather for cards, games, conversation and so on.

Plans call for the center, which will measure 25 feet by 50 feet on the inside, to have kitchen facilities, a record player, coffee urns, folding card tables and used piano. Those who have been working on the project since last fall hope that such activities as card playing, arts and crafts classes, field trips, organized bowling and so on can be included in the list of center activities. Owners of the bowling alley and the movie theater in town have indicated they would be willing to set up special group rates for the elderly.

A director for the elderly center will probably be named within the next month, according to Dick Banister, one of three councilmen who have been working as a committee with the interested citizens in getting the grant approved. Also on the committee are Ed Smith and Jack Kingston.

The idea for the center began becoming a realization last fall when VISTA workers Chuck Smith and Frank Ribaudo noticed the lack of any adequate gathering place for the older citizens.

A survey was conducted by the VISTA workers and several volunteers last November. It revealed that 202 of 251 households contacted approved of the idea of setting up a center. Also, 87 out of 37 Chamber of Commerce members contacted gave their approval to it.

More planning was done and Wayne's application for financial aid was submitted.

Police Report 2 Auto Wrecks, House Damaged

An Allen man, William Sachau, driving a 1966 Chevrolet was stopped in a traffic lane in the 300 block on Main June 7 around 8:30 a.m., when involved in a collision with a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Arnold Johnson of Laurel. Damage estimates were $193 on the Sachau auto and $211 on the Johnson vehicle, according to the police file.

Wayne police received a complaint June 9 and investigated the destruction of property at 810 Logan where college students used to live. They had broken out the windows, according to officers, broken the furniture, left empty beer cans and bottles strewn all over. About 20 sacks of garbage was laying around and the carpet in the living room had been torn, according to the police report.

Police were informed Monday that personal clothing had been stolen from off the clothes line at 803 Logan.

Friday morning around 10:10 a.m., officers were called to investigate an accident occurring in the 100 block on Pearl Street. A 1969 Pontiac driven by Harold Quinn was northbound on Pearl. Mrs. Floyd Sullivan was backing from an alley in a 1966 Chevrolet when the two vehicles collided, according to the police blotter.

Bike Plates on Sale

Youngsters in the city who own bicycles will be able to get them licensed all day today (Monday) at the police station from 8 to 4 p.m.

Licenses will cost $.50 for each bike. The bikes must be brought to the police station so the police can take down the necessary information.

The police noted that all youngsters will have to have their bikes registered if they ride them in the city limits.

Buy Permits Friday

Temporary tax permits for garage sales and so on in June or July may be purchased from a field representative of the State Tax Commissioner when he visits Wayne on Friday.

The field representative, who will be in the Chamber of Commerce office, will also be available to help anyone with difficulties they have with state tax forms or procedures.

WHS Cheerleaders Get Tips at Chadron

Three girls from Wayne and one from Carroll were among over 375 high school students from the six-state area of Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota and Colorado who attended the ninth annual cheerleader short course at Chadron State College last week.

Attending the five-day course were Linda Penn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Penn; Cindy Froehlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Froehlich; Sue Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James M. Brown, all of Wayne, and Marsha Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Johnson of Carroll.

Linda and Cindy will be seniors at Wayne High School next fall. Sue and Marsha will be juniors. They were among several Wayne High students, selected recently as cheerleaders for next school year.

The girls attending the school learned how and when to yell at athletic contests, how to hold pep rallies, crowd psychology and how to do simple tumbling stunts.

City Complex Idea Delayed

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Task Force met Wednesday afternoon with several city councilmen and Mayor Alfred Koplin to discuss the amount of the bond issue for the proposed city complex.

The group agreed to delay any more action on the bond election until the council building committee can work with the city engineer in an attempt to reduce the suggested $150,000 bond issue scheduled for a vote of the people later this year.

Task Force members felt that several things could be cut from the total cost of the building, bringing the bond issue down to about $130,000 or $135,000. Task Force members felt they would have a much better chance of convincing the public of the need for more space for the city clerk, police and fire departments if the bond issue were for less than $150,000.

The council members present said they would contact the city engineer and work with him in an attempt to reduce the bond issue.

Minister's Son Gets BS Degree June 8

Stuart Paul Bernthal, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Bernthal of Wayne, was graduated with a class of about 675 graduate and undergraduate students from Valparaiso (Ind.) University June 8.

A 1965 graduate of Wayne High School, he received a bachelor of science degree with a major in math and chemistry.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Watch That Man!

Surely you know the lucky fellow - the man that gets all the breaks; the fool into whose lap the gods of chance drop the choicest favors. He is the fellow who had the luck to buy the lot where the school or highway was to be built, to strike oil on his dry quarter section, and get his crop harvested a day before the hail swept all the standing grain to the ground.

It is the fellow who happened to be on land to do the little job the boss wanted done, and to reap the fat salary for it. Luck is his middle name. Without any family behind him, he has the best job in town, and without any looks, he has married the sweetest girl in the county. That is the man to watch!

If he had watched him some months previous to his striking oil, we would probably have found him working long hours day and night drilling for water, and that no matter how many drills he broke, he kept drilling. And then he "happened" to be the one to strike oil instead of the boys down in the poolroom.

Also his activities the week preceding the big hail storm might have been worth watching, for he worked far into every night against time to get in his crops.

It is easy to forget, of course, that the lucky fellow with the best job in town probably had to work through a dozen other jobs to get it, and that the homely man with the lovely wife was just naturally so kind and considerate and fair and square that the girl had the good sense to grab him before it was too late.

Someone has said that the "P" is silent in the word "luck," but it belongs there nevertheless. And certainly, experience seems to prove this to be true, for investigation generally turns up the fact that the lucky fellow is the plucky fellow who has been burning midnight oil and taking defeat after defeat with a smile.

It is very true - those "lucky" fellows will bear watching - and imitating. When a man keeps overlastingly at something, it is not luck when he puts it over; it is just the natural law of averages.

It is a truism that if you want a thing "bad" enough, and keep after it long enough, you will get it - and not because of a lucky break. Luck doesn't break - it has to be crashed. - MMW.

Prizes or Chains?

For hour after hour, semester after semester, school year after school year, teachers and administrators try to impress upon our youth the importance of individuality and creativity. These two personal assets, they are told, are what make one human different from another. Those who are blessed with an abundance of them should use them to their fullest.

But those same teachers and administrators do not at the same time teach that the creative person, the individual person will have one helluva time using those assets once he gets into the adult world.

Two news items carried recently in the daily newspapers show just what kind of trouble those people will have to face.

A high school student in Michigan was told by the high school principal, then by the school board and then by a circuit judge that he would have to shave his beard if he wanted to graduate with the rest of his class.

A high school English teacher was quickly fired from her job for having had the gall to ask a girl who had a brother killed in South Viet Nam whether that war was justified.

These two incidents, only gleanings from countless other similar incidents, prove that the person who dares to think for himself had better be willing to take the consequences.

Apparently, those people who demanded the high school student conform to what they thought right before he could graduate could not see that he was doing that very thing which each and every American secretly prizes - he was being an individual. And he was punished for it.

Apparently, those people who fired the teacher could not see that she was trying to instill in a youngster one of the highest qualities a person can possess - creativity of thought. And she was punished for it.

The cant that adults too often fall prey to probably accounts for much of the distance of that gap we too often hear about. - NLIH.

Sports Fans, Here's Your Chance

Wayne State College has been picked by the Nebraska Coaches Association as the training site for the North squad which will play in the first state all-star basketball game the night before the Shrine football game in August.

Twelve outstanding athletes were chosen for the squad. Five of them come from towns in northeast Nebraska - Laurel, Wausa, Hartington, South Sioux and Norfolk. We think quite a bit of interest will be shown in the two all-star teams by the time the game rolls around in August.

Here's a chance for some organization in the city to take on the project of making the 12 athletes, the coaches, parents, spectators and press people really feel at home during their time here.

We have been in contact with the publicity director for the North squad and he is very happy to hear that the city might be willing to do something spectacular during the time the athletes are here. He suggested that an organization hold a free coffee hour to go along with the press conference planned at the beginning of the week. He also suggested, after we asked what else we could do for the athletes, that there be an informal steak fry held outdoors. Each businessman interested in basketball could buy steaks for himself and one of the athletes or coaches, breaking up the pressure of the training sessions and showing that Wayne is proud to have been selected for the training site.

The gesture would be a good one. It would leave some good impressions of the city in the minds of many people. And it might be one of the best things the city could do to help relationships between it and the college.

What we now need is some organization willing to take the job. - NLIH.

A Wayne woman was with some friends in a jewelry store in Omaha. She was looking at a ring display while waiting for her companions to make a purchase. Looking over some "pretty" rings, she picked one up, tried it on and asked the clerk, "Is this costume jewelry?" "No," he replied. "The ring you're trying on is $2,000."

Winside's Federated Women's Club jumped into the community improvement program early this month and painted the park benches and picnic tables in the Winside city park. That is the type of enthusiasm that will help keep any community in great shape. There were no headlines or pictures announcing it; no rewards or honors handed out; just lots of good hard work. We believe those seven ladies deserve a verbal round of applause.

Carl Scheel, commander of the local American Legion Post 43, was initiated as a new member into the "40 and 8" in Omaha about a month ago. There were 42 eastern Nebraska Legionnaires taken into the honorary members of the Legion. The "40 and 8" members are thus recognized for their outstanding organizational work.

Roadtesting a new model car not long ago was fun. It was absolutely the most quiet machine I've ever driven. It was so quiet, in fact, that I could almost hear myself making the monthly payments. With an automatic speed control, an automatic transmission, an automatic brake release and an automatic dimmer switch, all on what appeared to be an aircraft control panel in front of me, I expected all of its beautiful lights to come up with a big "BILT" sign on every tanked corner.

The 400 horses under the hood ate a lot of hay but could they gallop! Compared with the first jalopy of mine which was a 1932 vintage, you can still get a lot of car for a lot of money.

And how irritating to run a $4,500 car over a penny nail or a two-cent beer bottle and bring every dollar's worth to a screeching halt!

A new sign measuring 18 by eight feet is going to go up at the junction of highways 275 and 15, fifteen miles south of Wayne. It will carry the announcement to motorists that Wayne is 15 miles to the north and home of Wayne State College. In the shape of an arrow, the sign's trim and the word WAYNE will be covered with a reflective paint. Roger Elder, manager of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, has a diagram of the sign hanging on the wall of the Chamber office.

Pointing out a progressive town like Wayne is great. Certainly we don't want to be like the Texan with the inferiority complex: he thought he was no better than anybody else!

occupants to enjoy a one-hour free swim in our heated municipal pool? It likely would not break us financially and might encourage them to stick around town awhile and make a few purchases. The free swimming for tourists could be carried out Monday through Friday only, so as not to overload the pool on Saturday and Sunday.

You know yourself when traveling, a "friend" community can be a highlight on a trip. "Go jump in our pool!" is much better than telling potential buyers to "go jump in the lake" when we don't have a lake!

With all the rain and sunshine, how is your garden looking? J.W. found out a long time ago that the best way to thin out a garden is at the time one is buying the seeds. There are days when it is difficult for some of us to work in the garden or mow the lawn, like Monday through Sunday.

When green corn first arrives on the market it is considered a great delicacy. The scene in the average dining room at this season of the year is one which we shall touch upon lightly! It is a phase of American life of which we do not brag to alien visitors. Green corn is an American institution exclusively. Perhaps because nobody but an American has the nerve to tackle it. The first thing to do is to butter the ear of corn thoroughly. Some fastidious people butter it only a little at a time, but they are not real corn fans.

After gaining the correct clutch on the slippery ear, and the melted butter gets to running down the right arm as far as the elbow, one can be said to belong to the order, although your hostess may toss a frown your way. Actually, the safest hold, as we've said, is the mouth-organ clutch. It is practically impossible for an ear of corn to wriggle out of this basic grasp.

There are other holds. Dainty eaters usually employ the flute hold, whereby you hold the corn slightly off to one side and eat from one end. It is a very refined way, but it does not bring results, and at the same time you are likely to drop some of the corn and butter on the shirt front or bosom of your right-hand neighbor. This can be a little embarrassing, but, should it happen, don't laugh or there will be more of a mess.

Now in certain flitzy restaurants they serve ears of corn with a silver handle at each end. By manipulating these handles the ear can be revolved like a rubber roll on a printing press, and the butter is spread quite evenly over the chin. It is scrumptious although, remember, it is a one-time hold, as your hostess may not ask you to come back and try again! Good luck!

The Year the Century Turned

The Wayne Herald, June 15, 1899

Fearful Disaster
Tuesday evening a cyclone wiped out of existence the town of Herman on the C. St. P. M. & O. railway, about forty-five miles north of Omaha. But two buildings were left standing while the destruction wrought was fearful. More than a dozen people were killed and over one hundred injured, many seriously. Relief trains were run from Blair where the injured were taken. The scenes at the disaster are said to have beggared description.

Tramps and Trousers Apprehended
Marshal George McGoff of Pierce arrested four crooks of the tramp type in that town. When told by the marshal to accompany him from the stock yards, where they were preparing dinner, they refused and it was necessary to club two of them into submission. Two of them entered the general store of D. W. Elliott and while one occupied the attention of Mr. Elliott the other stole two pair of trousers, which in company with more stolen property was subsequently recovered.

Loses Half a Leg
As August Drees, blacksmith at Elk Valley, Cedar County, was polishing a cultivator shovel, the emery wheel burst, a piece of which struck his leg, breaking and mangling it frightfully. It was necessary to amputate the limb above the knee.

Nebraska Short Notes
Many farmers are congratulating themselves that the hard winter was in a large measure killed off the potato bugs and other insects.
John Weyland of Chadron died as the result of a chicken pecking him on the back of the head. The wound was but a mere scratch, but blood poisoning set in and death ensued.

There is a large prairie dog town between Oxford and Orleans, the only one in Adams County. A few years ago there were hundreds of towns in this county, but they are fast disappearing. The prairie dog cannot withstand civilization. The farmers of Adams County have settled the alfalfa question upon the high divide. The numerous fields of that grass where the plants are nearly knee high and as thick as they can grow upon the ground are proof that alfalfa is good upland grass.

Man Dies of Glanders
Charles D. Blipow died near Niobrara from the effects of glanders, which he caught by coming in contact with a team thus affected. He was adjudged insane by the board, but he was too ill to be removed and died the day following.

Local and Personal
Don't miss the caké walk at the opera house tonight.

The news of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries prize fight was received here by rounds and judging from the crowds assembled to hear the news, a great many people were interested. In fact, we have heard a great many people hoot at such business but they seemed to be among the most interested spectators.

Pierce Call
The ball game Saturday between the Pierce High School nine and the Wayne college boys resulted in a victory to Pierce, the score standing at 7 to 9. Illinois and Stenkrus for Pierce and Leatherly and Mulligan for Wayne constituted the batteries. Prof. Illinois pitched a strong game striking out 13 men and was well supported by Stenkrus, but the nine as a whole needs coaching and earnest team work. Leatherly, the Wayne twirler, fanned 23 batsmen, but poor support behind the bat undid all advantage gained. In fact outside of Bohman at first the Wayne pitcher had no support and it was owing to this fact that Pierce won the game.

Laurel Advocate
The Advocate is in receipt of a letter from the Fourth of July committee of Wayne, in which an invitation is extended to the people of our city to celebrate at our sister town on the south. A sham battle, competitive parade of fraternal organizations, leap from a sixty-foot tower into the Logan Creek, street carnival and caké walk, races, merry-go-round and bowery dances will be some of the attractions. Wayne sent a good delegation to help Laurel celebrate a year ago, and no doubt many of our people will feel like going thieré this year.

Saturday evening would have been a good time for the newly appointed marshal in Carroll to have shown his colors. When a man comes to town, gets hilarious on bug juice and proceeds to destroy personal property, etc., he should be taken care of by the proper officials and the amount in the city treasury swelled a little from the contents in the man's pocketbook. A few such doses administered once in a while, would in our opinion, effect a permanent cure.

THIS IS DICK HAMMER

Every lumber yard should have a hammer and Carharts does! He's Dick Hammer — a vital part of the Carhart operation, for he's manager of their office. As office manager he orders materials and handles the billing of selected accounts. You may also find Dick on the sales floor occasionally, where he is adequately trained to assist you in remodeling or planning special building projects. In addition Dick handles their "agribusiness" — selling farm buildings. He has been factory trained by the Cuckler Steel Span Company to plan and estimate steel structures used in farm, business and industry.

Dick was in the service for two years, working in the Army's security agency.

Off the job, he enjoys water sports such as boating and skiing.

Dick is president of the Wayne Jaycees and his wife Glenda serves as president of Mrs. Jaycees. Glenda is a past school teacher at Pierce High and next year will move to Winside High.

Dick began working at Carharts five years ago as a carpenter's helper and moved into the office to work four years ago.

Nine Grid Games on Tap For Wildcats Next Fall

Wayne State College will play a nine-game football schedule this fall, four of the opponents new.

Athletic Director Lelloy Simpson announced the schedule Friday:

September - 13, at Emporia (Kan.) State; 20, at Hiram Scott; 27, at Missouri Southern.

October - 4, Chadron State (homecoming); 11, Hastings; 18, Kearney State; 25, at Peru State.

November - 1, at Southwest Minnesota State (at Marshall); 15, at Lea (Albert Lea, Minn.).

Newcomers to the Wayne state are Emporia, Scott, Southwest Minnesota and Lea.

The game with Scott will feature Band Day, the game with Kearney, Parents Day.

Although the Nebraska College Conference was dissolved June 1, Wayne will play all four of the former league members this fall. Wayne has no conference affiliation now, and no current prospects, Dr. Simpson said.

Wildcat football will be directed by a new head coach this fall, Del Stoltenberg, Grand Island grid mentor for the past three years. He arrived in Wayne this week and will join the faculty for summer session beginning Monday.

Common Sense Will Make Waters Safer: Game Commission

The lure of the water is strong in the spring, especially to thousands of boaters who strike out for a few turns around their favorite lake or reservoir.

There is more to boating than just putting the craft in the water, however. All skippers, whether paddling a canoe or piloting a big cabin cruiser, take on a responsibility for their own safety, the safety of their passengers and that of other boaters, notes the Game Commission.

SPORTS

Wayne Midgets Rap Wakefield, 6-1; Lights Fail in Legion's Tilt with Lyons

Wayne Midgets managed only one hit in the first four innings, then opened up for four runs off three hits in the bottom of the fifth inning as they went about knocking out the Wakefield squad of the local diamond, 6-1.

In the second game, Wayne Legion was leading Lyons, 5-1, going into the top of the fifth. Lyons sent one man to the plate in the sixth and he was thrown out at second trying to stretch his single into a double. But then several lights went out at the park, probably from a short caused by the wind and rain, forcing the game to be called.

The Midgets trailed Wakefield 1-0, going into the bottom of the fifth inning. Lonnie Riltott got on with a free pass and then the locals bunted in three of the inning's four runs. Bunting safely were Mike Ginn, Mike Creighton and Joel Renner. Lynn Gunderson tallied the final RBI with his single.

Wayne added two more runs in the bottom of the sixth inning, then held the visitors scoreless in the top of the seventh to rack up another victory.

Winning pitcher Don Mau, who was relieved after 4 1/3 innings, allowed one run on three hits. He struck out three, gave up three walks. Relief pitcher Rod Cook kept the visitors hitless and scoreless in his 2 2/3 innings.

Wakefield's Paul gave up four hits, three walks and struck out three Wayne batters.

Wayne Legion jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first inning of the aborted game after lead-off hitter Denny Hedel got to first on an error. Randy Helgren's single brought him across home.

Club Tourney Offers Over $1250 in Prizes

Over $1,250 worth of prizes will be up for grabs during Wayne country club's annual Amateur Golf Tournament scheduled for Friday and Saturday, July 12 and 13.

Trophies will be awarded the winners of the championship and all other flights. Prizes will be given out for the next three low scorers in all flights.

The tournament will include 27 holes medal play in the championship flight, 18 holes medal play in the other flights. Golfers must declare for the championship flight.

Wayne's new club house has been completed and will be used during the annual tourney.

Tee-off times can be arranged by contacting Jim Christensen, club professional, at 375-9946.

Navy Will Cachet Apollo 11 Covers

Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U. S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 11 manned space flight to the moon.

Philatelic coordinators designated for Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Forces 140 and 130) will receive all such covers and make the distribution to assigned ships.

To permit adequate time for required handling of covers, collectors should send pre-stamped, self-addressed envelopes to the appropriate coordinator prior to July 4, 1969. In accordance with U. S. Post Office Department Regulations, only U. S. postage may be used on covers submitted. Stamps (postage) of other countries or the United Nations cannot be used, and cash or checks in lieu of postage cannot be accepted. It is further requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches with a filler inserted to simplify handling.

Due to the popularity of the cancellation service and the limited postal facilities on recovery ships, the coordinators for Task Force 130 will accept a maximum of 6 covers from individual collectors (two covers per recovery ship) for the Apollo 11 mission.

Addresses for the Atlantic and Pacific Area Coordinators are:
Task Force 140, Public Affairs Office (Apollo 11), Manned Spacecraft Recovery Force, Atlantic, Building SP-71, Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Virginia 23511.
Task Force 130, Chief-in-Charge (Apollo 11), Navy Terminal Post Office, FPO San Francisco, Calif. 96610.

aid was sent into the state Advisory Committee within the last two months.

In making the announcement, Ron Jensen, executive director of the state Advisory Committee, noted that the over-65 segment of the state's population is growing four times faster than the population as a whole.

"With people living longer and retiring earlier," Jensen noted, "most communities have large numbers of older persons who would like to be more effectively involved in the life of the community. Things like recreation and social centers, visiting projects, and the like, Jensen contends, are [all] badly needed efforts. "The program which Wayne has initiated," the state official said, "can be the cornerstone for a network of such services. Wayne can be proud of its initiative in undertaking the program, but should view it as a beginning effort which can become the focal point of an aggressive community effort to improve the lives of older persons."

15 Families in County Receive Food Assistance

Fifteen Wayne County families have received food assistance from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Program last month, according to Shirley Darguz, secretary of the Wayne County Welfare Director Ethel Martelle. She said the 15 families represent approximately 53 people and four of the 15 are non-assistance families.

More than 19,000 persons in Nebraska received food assistance from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Program during April, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest district director of Consumer Food Programs.

The total included 11,723 persons on public assistance and 7,644 other low-income persons.

The following counties joined the program: Adams, Chase, Hayes, Hitchcock, Logan, McPherson and Wayne.

During April, participants in 65 Nebraska projects received coupons worth nearly $381,000 of which $130,000 were bonus coupons. This was a bonus average of $6.89 per person. In 536 Midwest projects, around 812,000 persons were in the program during April. Total value of coupons was nearly $15.6 million of which 32 per cent was in bonus coupons. The Midwest bonus average was $6.23 per person.

By participating in the Food Stamp Program, low-income families can buy more food for exchanging the amount of money they normally spend on food for coupons worth more than they paid.

Recipients spend coupons just like cash, at authorized retail food stores, for any domestic food. They cannot purchase items like household cleaners, tobacco or liquor with coupons.

Doyle urges families not getting enough food to look into the program.

Marlyn Stringer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stringer of Wayne, received a $100 Lardon-Emmanuel Missionary Scholarship toward her full semester at Graco Bible Institute in Omaha. Six students were awarded the scholarships presented by Mr. Riebon Dyck at the school's Honor's Chapel in May. The Lardon-Emmanuel fund helps students who do missionary field work for credit during the summer.

A senior at the institute, Miss Stringer was scheduled to begin serving in New Mexico from June 1 to Aug. 15.

$200,000 Being Invested

Ed Seymour has a new multi-dwelling unit under construction.

Twenty-six new building permits were issued by the city during the year of 1968, representing an estimated investment of at least $431,000. Eighteen of the permits were for new homes. There were three permits issued in 1968 for storage construction, one for an apartment building, one for the golf course club house, one for an addition to a warehouse, one for shop and office construction and one for the farm center.

With nearly $200,000 being invested by 10 firms in the downtown area alone by mid-June, it would appear at this point that the total amount of construction in Wayne for 1968 will far surpass that of the previous year.
