Reorganized Wayne State Will Be 'More Efficient'

Wayne State College announced Monday an academic reorganization that will regroup its present eight divisions into four schools. The change, approved Monday by the State College Board of Trustees, will take effect in the 1969-70 year.

President W. A. Brandenburg said all the faculty members who will head the schools and their divisions and departments are now on the staff. Most of them will retain their present duties; some will have new titles.

Reorganization is designed to make academic administration more efficient, Dr. Brandenburg said. Dean of Faculties Lyle F.

School Board Hires 2 More Teachers for 1969-70 School Year

The board of education of Wayne City Schools hired two more teachers for the 1969-70 school year at the group's regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Hired to teach kindergarten at the Carroll school was Elizabeth Hurlbut, a May graduate of Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. She has a bachelor of science degree in education with major in elementary education.

A native of Downes Grove, Ill., she was named to Who's Who in Colleges and Universities and was named one of her school's homecoming queen candidates.

Area Scouts to Camp in July

Boy Scouts in the area are taking to the outdoors this month for various campsite activities. Some will attend the National Jamboree in Idaho, some are headed for Itasca State Park and others will be camping at Ponca State Park.

Bill McNatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud McNatt, plans to attend the seventh annual National Jamboree in Idaho July 16-23. Bill is one of the 185 scouts in the Mid-American Council attending.

Headed for Itasca State Park July 26 will be members of the Wayne Scout Troop 175, accompanied by Rowan Wiltsie, scoutmaster. Several of the boys' fathers and Winslow's Troop 179 are also planning to make the camping trip.

Chamber Manager Attending Institute

Roger Elder, Wayne Chamber of Commerce manager, is attending one week of schooling at the University of Colorado in Boulder. The course, Institute for Organization Management, began Monday and will end Saturday.

The one week of schooling is an annual event for the Wayne Chamber manager. Elder received a $100 scholarship from the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce to help finance the week of schooling.

A. D. Benson, 1968 WS Grad Killed in War

News was received in Wayne Tuesday that Marine Lt. A. D. Benson, a 1968 graduate of Wayne State, was killed July 5 in Vietnam. No details were available.

Benson distinguished himself in track and cross country as one of the top distance runners in Nebraska competition. He had a long list of firsts, several Wayne State records and individual

AFS Student Is Fine Following Surgery, Sunday

Word has reached the Kent Hall family that Eghon Guzman Bustamante, American Field Service exchange student, is in a hospital at Grove City, Pennsylvania, after having an emergency appendectomy Sunday morning.

Eghon was touring several states with a group of AFS students via bus prior to his leaving for Santiago, Chile, from New York on July 24.

Ed Service Unit 1 Directors Approve Budget of $292,675

The board of directors of Educational Service Unit 1, which serves Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Dakota, Thurston and Knox counties, approved last week a budget of $292,675 for the coming fiscal year.

A report by the Service Unit indicates that an estimated $201,042 of this amount will be raised by local taxes. State aid will provide about $63,000, federal aid about $63,000 and county aid about $5,000. Another $25,000 will be raised by other income, according to Administrator Jerry Mills of Wakefield.

WSC Plans Safety Education Workshop

When disaster threatens or strikes, how do you react? A safety education workshop will supply some of the answers Friday, July 18, at Wayne State College.

Anton Netherland, safety education instructor at WSC, said he has arranged the program primarily for students, but he will welcome any others interested in attending any part of the program from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Conn Library Room 18.

Annual Horse Show Now Set for July 20

Area horsemen are probably hoping that the old "third time's the charm" saying holds true. The seventh annual Wayne Saddle Club Horse Show, rained out on the fourth of July and on the rain date last Sunday, has been rescheduled for Sunday, July 20.

The show will be held at the Wayne County fairgrounds in Wayne - weather permitting. The show will get underway at 10 a.m.

$798,837 Budget Okayed By School Board Monday

JAYCEE AWARDS were presented to Larry Shupe and Al Bahe during a Jaycee and Mrs. Jaycee banquet at Les' Steak House Tuesday night. A plaque in appreciation for the many services rendered to the Jaycees was presented to Shupe, manager of the Lili Duffer, at left. Al Bahe, right, was honored with the Jaycee's Humanitarian Award for his many contributions to the Jaycee's programs. Gerald Bose, center, outgoing president, made the presentations. Later in the program Bose was named as the outstanding Wayne Jaycee for the year.

An estimated budget totaling $798,837 was approved by the board of education of Wayne City Schools Monday night.

The budget would require an increased mill levy of about seven and one-half mills, according to Superintendent Francis Ham.

Ham noted that it's very difficult to estimate the mill levy which will be needed to finance the budget because the board doesn't know how much additional money will be brought in from the increased free high tuition or how much state aid the school will receive this year.

Any changes in the valuation in the school district will also influence the mill levy, Ham said. "But if the valuation stays about the same and if we get about the same amount in state aid again this year, the mill levy will probably have to be raised about seven and one-half mills," according to Ham.

Last year's mill levy of 52.40 would be increased to just under 60 if Ham's predictions hold true.

But that would be upped by two mills as a result of another decision by the school board. The group agreed to add two mills to the levy in order to establish a sinking fund for the purpose of building or remodeling. A levy of one mill would bring in about $11,000 a year based on last year's valuation.

This levy would let the district build a substantial fund within five years and would avoid forcing a huge bond issue on the public if a building or remodeling is required within the next few years, according to Ham.

The superintendent noted that if the city doesn't grow rapidly in the next few years no building or remodeling program will be needed for probably five years. Actual amount which will have to be raised by local taxes for the 1969-70 school budget is estimated at $559,000, an increase of about $82,000 over the $477,265 which local taxes provided for the past school year.

Ham told the board there was almost no way to cut the budget since over half the budget, $567,862, is earmarked for administrators and teachers salaries, textbooks and other instructional expenses.

Near $5 Million Increase In 1969 County Valuation

Although household goods and personal effects actual valuation in Wayne County decreased $3,460 and livestock and feed actual valuation dropped $930,180, the total actual Wayne county valuation increased $4,717,745, according to figures compiled by Henry Arrp, county assessor.

Livestock and feed actual valuations dropped from $11,068,600 Jan. 1, 1968, to $10,138,420 on Jan. 1, 1969, the date for assessment. The difference of $930,180 is likely due to weather. Last summer's drought affected feed production and as a result a lot of farmers cut back on livestock which resulted in fewer cattle and less feed at assessment time.

Over 200 Musicians Registered for WS Summer Music Camp

Wayne State's Summer Music Camp has 204 high school musicians registered so far, Director Raymond Kelton said Tuesday, and he expects more before the July 15 deadline. Among those registered are students from Laurel, Pender and Randolph.

Forty-eight of the students enrolled now have been awarded scholarships, most of them from hometown organizations. Some have scholarships because of winning superior ratings in the District 200 Musicians, page 2

Attorneys Will Picnic and Golf Here Saturday

Ninth Judicial District Bar Association members will have their annual picnic and golf day Saturday commencing with golf at 1 p.m. at the country club, according to Kenneth Olds, president of the association.

A business meeting at 5 p.m. will be followed by a 6:30 p.m. dinner. About 30 persons are expected to attend from the following eight counties: Wayne, Stanton, Cuming, Antelope, Madison, Burt, Pierce and Knox.

Attorneys in charge of arrangements are Charles McDermott, John Addison and Donald Reed.

Hog Cholera Is Found in Cuming Co.

Most experts agree that there is little chance of hog cholera occurring in the Wayne area. However, an article in last week's issue of the West Point Republican reports that hog cholera has been found in a herd in that county.

Cuming County Sheriff Harold Welding, according to the article, believed the feeder pigs were brought in from out of state. The sheriff, who has been helping state and federal veterinaries on the case, reportedly said that a whole herd would have to be destroyed. He would not disclose the name of the herd owner.

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture has confirmed at least eight cases of hog cholera in the state since June 1. All cases have occurred in swine imported from Missouri and no additional spread to native swine has been experienced, according to the Department.

Outbreaks have been diagnosed in northeastern, south central and southeastern Nebraska. Specific counties where hog cholera has been diagnosed were not named.

No swine have been permitted entry into Nebraska and no permits will be issued until the state of origin has the existing infection under control, the Department announced last week.

Farmers are urged to insist on an affidavit or notarized statement from the producer that any swine purchased are from Nebraska farms and not imported by dealers who might be moving pigs illegally into the state and See CHOLERA, page 2

Consultant Urges Updating City's Comprehensive Plan

Wayne's Planning Commission met at the Fire Hall Monday night with Richard Wozniak, consultant from Powers and Associates in Fremont, and reviewed Wayne's Comprehensive Plan; studied plans of a proposed subdivision on the west edge of the city to be known as the Knolls; and set Aug. 4 as a date for a public hearing regarding the proposed amendment for a change in the city's zoning ordinance concerning trailer courts.

After a thorough review, Wozniak urged the Commission to update the five-year-old Comprehensive Plan. He explained the purpose of planning as being that of saving the taxpayer's money now and also in the future. The consultant pointed out that the Commission now has the city's growth pattern and records for the past five years to use for future comparison and planning, whereas in the past no such records were available.

Mert Marshall, Commission secretary, read a letter in which the city council referred a preliminary plat of the proposed Knolls subdivision to the Commission for consideration. The tract of land consists of 17 acres north of Grandland Road and the county fairgrounds and the city limits being subdivided by Jim Thomas and Vaco Construction Co.

Following examination of the plat the Commission voted to recommend it to the council providing the following recommendations made by the Commission are met: (1) widen Grandland Road another seven feet on lots one and five; (2) maintain the original road, an extension of Third Street, and widen it to 70 feet in that it is a collector street, and (3) add block numbers, acreages and recommend streets be 60 feet wide throughout the development.

Council 'Okays' Beer License, Slates Election

Andy Manes, owner of Andy's Pizza House at 318 Main, may get a license for on and off sale beer for his business establishment, but he will probably have to go through the State Liquor Commission to get it.

A public hearing was held on the request for the license Tuesday night during the city council's regular meeting. No one appeared in protest to the application.

But City Attorney John Addison reported to the council that the Commission had informed him that it would protest the application in Lincoln regardless of the council's action because the business establishment fails to meet a state law requiring the building where beer is sold be at least 150 feet from any surrounding church. The commission said the building and First Baptist Church are only 146.5 feet apart.

Addison said the Commission would have to decide whether Manes would violate this rule if he sells beer only in the south half of his establishment, as noted in his application.

Council decided to go ahead and approve the application with the stipulation that it meet all state statutes.

Voters in Wayne will be given a chance to either approve or reject later this month the latest plan to provide additional space for the fire department, police and city clerk's offices.

A special election will be held on Tuesday, July 29, which, if approved by 50 per cent of the voters, would authorize the city to spend up to $138,000 to remodel the present fire hall at Second and Pearl to provide space for all three city departments.

The city already has $30,000 left from a successful bond election in April of last year which could be added to the $138,000.

Decision to set the day for the election was made after receiving a petition with about 145 valid signatures on it, about one-third more signatures than was needed, according to Addison.

Residents and businesses in Wayne will also be paying more for their garbage service in the future and will be paying it to somebody other than Ivan Beeks as a result of council decisions.

The council approved Beeks' request that he raise the charge for residential service from $1.50 and $2 to $2.50 and for commercial service up to 20 per cent. Beeks, who has a license from the city for the garbage service in the city, had asked for the raise last month after finding out that towns of similar size in the state were charging more than he was.

The council also agreed to transfer the license from Beeks to two men presently living in Lincoln if recommendations they obtain are satisfactory. Councilmen briefly talked with the two men, Vernon Russell and Bill Irizua, after learning from Beeks that he would like to get rid of the license when it comes up for renewal in August.

After hearing one member say that several people had complained to him that some of their garbage was not being picked up merely because it was leaves or tree limbs, the council pointed out that any garbage in the trash cans should be picked up as long as it is not crammed tightly into the cans.

Council action may also make stray dogs less of a problem to the police department than they have been in the past.

The group agreed to let the Wayne Vet Clinic house any stray dogs for the three days in which the owner can claim the dog. This will save the police from the bothersome job of running out to the land fill every time they pick up a stray dog or have an owner who wants to identify his dog. It will also help some youngsters' fun at letting the dogs free occasionally.

The city will be charged $1 a day for each small dog housed at the clinic, $1.25 for each large dog. If the dogs are not claimed after three days the veterinarians will kill them for a $3 charge. If claimed, the owner will pay whatever it has cost to keep them there.

In other action the council: **Awarded the contract for paving on East Fifth St. and Dearborne St. and for repair of Fairacres Road and continuation of Valley Drive between Sixth and Seventh to Elning Concrete Products of Wayne. Elning's bid on the East Fifth work was $62,054.35, about $1,400 under the next lowest bid. On the other work Elning's bid was $25,798.50, nearly $2,000 under the next lowest bid.

**Approved a request for a refund of about $210 from Roy Corvill of Corvill Auto in Wayne after Corvill explained that a group that an error had been made on his original bid on the pickup for the city. Even considering the error, the Corvill bid was still over $100 under next lowest bid.

**Decided to attempt to get the state to pay half the estimated $725 it would take to sod terraces at Seventh and Main. At least one businessman at the intersection complained that his terrace was torn up during work on the intersection and he should See NEW SOD, page 2

Every Cub Scout pack in the Mid-American Council will arrange its own summer program and will select special activities such as a pack cookout, pack picnic program, den meeting cookout, family cookouts, or den-and-scout cookouts, according to Stanley A. Michael, scout commissioner of the Council.

Brad Hickerson Director of New Shore Acres Play

Opening tonight (Thursday) and running through Sunday at Shore Acres Summer Theatre, Sioux City, is the Wayne State Players production, "Paper Is All," a comedy for all ages beginning at 8:15 p.m. each evening.

Directing this third in a series of six productions scheduled for Shore Acres this summer is Brad Hickerson, who has had summer stock experience in Twin Falls, Idaho, where he teaches during the school year. Hickerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Hickerson of Wayne, Assisting him will be Stage Manager Rita Mines of Harrington.

Approve Budget -

Actual mill levy which will be needed to finance the estimated budget will probably not be known until early in August when the county assessor's office figures the district's valuation and gives those figures to the county clerk so he can come up with the actual levy.

The board also decided to raise to $951 a year the free high tuition for students from outside the school district attending the Wayne system. A law passed recently by the Legislature requires that a district accepting free high school tuition students must set the fee for non-resident students. This fee cannot be less than the per pupil cost in the high school district.

Last year the fee, set by the state, was $3.50 per student per day, or about $620 for a 180-day school term. Each county then figured out the mill levy required to raise the money to send non-resident students to high school. That mill levy in Wayne County was 9.20.

In other action the school board approved a petition by several land owners in school district 80 north of Carroll to merge with school district 17.

The board also granted an easement to Jerry Hix to run a sewer line across school property to his home in Oak Ridge Addition.

Former Allen Man Killed in Crash

Howard Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dean, Nelson, was killed in an auto accident recently. Mr. Dean, a former Allen agriculture teacher, had been home on leave and was returning to Fort Hood, Texas, during a rain storm, when the auto in which he was riding hit another head-on. Dean was killed instantly.

Burial was in Ross, Okla. He was preceded in death by a brother, Ray, in 1967.

4-H Horse Show Set at Carroll Monday, July 14

For the first time the annual district 4-H horse show has been scheduled to be held in Wayne County at Carroll next Monday, according to Gordon Davis, Carroll 4-H leader. About 200 4-H members are expected to attend the show in the Carroll Saddle Club's arena. There will be no admission charge.

Hosting the event will be the Silver Spurs 4-H Club with the Carroll Saddle Club furnishing the arena and lunch stand. Davis said earlier this week that approximately 300 horses from the following counties in northeast Nebraska will be participating: Burt, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston and Wayne.

Harold Ingalls, Wayne County agricultural agent, will be assisting. He has pointed out that horse identification forms 2-97-69 must be brought to the district show by each county agent or his representative and all horses must be identified by these forms by 9:15 a.m. They must be certified by the county agents before horses can be shown.

Riders earning either a blue or a purple ribbon in any of the five different performance and timed events will earn the right to compete at the state fair or Ak-Sar-Pen.

Secured as judge for the series of ten district 4-H horse shows across the state in July is Bill Keyser, O'Neill.

Monday's 4-H show program will get underway at 9:30 a.m. with pleasure horse competition, horsemanship, reining, pole bending and barrel racing. Each category has both girls and boys divisions.

effects in 1968 as mounted to $97,890 in actual valuation, dropping to $94,230 in 1969. Machinery actual valuation increased $177,980 and other personal property increased by $3,875.

A sizeable increase, $333,315, is the result largely due to the completion by AT & T of an underground cable in Wayne County last year. Motor vehicle actual valuation also jumped another $155,880.

The largest actual valuation increase came, however, in rural real estate. In 1968 it was $54,321,480 and increased to $58,992,590 in 1969.

Urban real estate rose $348,585.

Total actual county valuation figures, according to the assessor's office, increased from $98,742,850 in 1968 to $103,469,595 in 1969, showing an increase of $4,726,745.

Assessor Arp said there were 2,218 individual schedules filed this year or 453 less than last year. There were 309 business schedules filed in 1969 compared to 283 last year, an increase of 26. Ten special schedules were filed.

Arp said Tuesday that real estate values may be changed by the State Board of Equalization.

The chart shows comparative actual valuations for 1968 and 1969.

AFS Student -

The surgeon said Eghon had been a very sick boy but was doing fine.

Kent Hall said Monday that the AFS office in New York had to be contacted by the hospital to secure permission for the surgery. Hall also understands that the AFS office in New York will take care of the expense involved.

"I appreciated the fact that the doctor called us," Hall commented. Eghon Guzman made his home with the Kent Halls during the past year while attending Wayne High School.

Letters and cards will reach Eghon by sending them in care of the Grove City Hospital, Room 101, Grove City, Pa. 16127.

Hall said he believes Eghon will still be able to return home to Chile July 24.

Anyone seeking more information about the show should contact either Marilyn Koch at 375-3198 or Jack Beeson at 375-3404, both of Wayne.

Weather

Wayne received a total of 6.95 inches of rain during the month of June. Average rainfall for the month since 1914 is 4.30 inches. Dame Nature has kept the area well watered this year but still not matching the 11.55 inches of rainfall in June of 1967. The 1.08 inches of rain that fell in June, 1933 makes that the driest on record.

Following are the temperature and precipitation records for the past week:

| DATE   | HI | LO | Precip. |
|--------|----|----|---------|
| July 2 | 82 | 64 | .04     |
| July 3 | 84 | 64 |         |
| July 4 | 92 | 62 | .47     |
| July 5 | 82 | 56 | .23     |
| July 6 | 82 | 56 | .54     |
| July 7 | 72 | 60 |         |
| July 8 | 82 | 66 | .12     |

Total rainfall for Wayne thus far in July amounts to 1.40 inches.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Norfolk has forecast temperatures to average between two to six degrees below normal (normal high is 89, normal low, 65) with a cooling trend Friday and Saturday. Showers and thundershowers are predicted through Thursday.

Wayne's Goeden, 5 Other NEN League Players Unanimous All-Star Selections

Don Goeden, pitcher for the Wayne town team, was one of six baseball players in the Northeast Nebraska League who were unanimous choices by league managers to take part in this year's game with the Dodge County League all-stars.

An annual affair, the all-star game was scheduled to be played last night at Scribner. Main date for the game is tonight (Thursday).

Also named to the all-star team from the Wayne squad were pitcher-handy man Bill Goodwin and outfielders Tom Jones and Gordie Jorgensen.

Besides Goeden, unanimous choices by the managers included Homer's Ev Bradshaw, Bob Jacobsen and Gerald Jacobsen, Ponca's John Ege and Whiting's Denny Turnure.

Selected to manage the all-star squad was Bud Vassar of Homer. Helping him with the duties will be his assistant, longtime player-coach Eddie Mahan, and Whiting's manager, Keith Pitman.

ing pitcher last year after racking up a record of 11 wins and two defeats.

Wayne Coach Hank Overin would have had the honor of coaching the all-stars because Wayne won the league championship last year, but commitments to his Midget-Legion coaching duties kept him from the job.

Bill Goodwin

Merlin (Lefty) Olson, league secretary, committed when announcing the selections earlier this week that this year's squad is one of the strongest hitting ones fielded in a long time. Seven players named to the squad — Whiting's Turnure and Handy Olson, Decatur's Dan Sears, Wakefield's Dick Brownell, Homer's Jacobsen brothers and Wayne's Goodwin — were hitting over .400 as of last week.

Whiting, currently leading the NEN League race with an 8-0 record, and Homer, in third place with a 6-4 record, dominate the all-star team with six players from each team chosen for the honor.

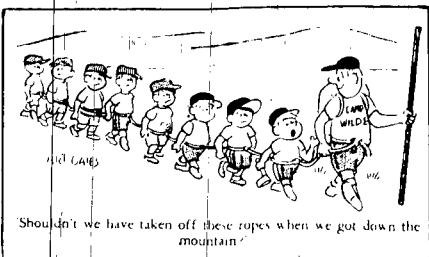

Wayne, right behind Homer with a 4-3 record, placed four

Ponca '9' 1st, Wayne 2nd in Legion Tourney

A strong Ponca Legion team rolled to championship honors in the Fourth of July Legion Tournament at Wakefield by knocking off Wayne and Wisner.

Wayne came back from the 5-5 defeat by Ponca in the afternoon and took a 2-0 decision over Wakefield in the consolation game that evening. Wisner had done Wakefield, 2-1, in eight innings in afternoon play, then took a 6-5 loss against Ponca in the evening's championship game.

Randy Helgren played the hero's roll in the consolation game against Wakefield. He came up with a circuit blast with one out and one man on base in the first inning to drive in all of Wayne's runs.

He tagged the homer off Wakefield's Rich Kline, who gave up only two hits in four innings on the mound. Both of them came in the first inning when Jerry Tiltze rapped out a single after Helgren cleaned the bases.

Wayne's Dave Tietzen held Wakefield to only one hit in chalking up his shutout — a double by Preston with one out in the second inning. He got the next two men out on fly balls, then allowed only three more men to get on base the rest of the game, two of them staying alive on infield errors and one drawing Tietzen's lone free pass to first.

In the afternoon game against Ponca, Wayne saw a 5-2 lead at the end of two innings quickly erased in the fourth inning when Ponca came up with four runs on three hits off starter Randy Helgren.

Ponca added two more insurance runs in the sixth inning and held Wayne scoreless their last five times at the plate to earn the right to compete for the championship.

Randy Helgren also played an important role in the afternoon game. He came up with three hits in four at bats and drove in two of Wayne's five runs. His hits, all singles, were tallied the first three times he faced Ponca's Voss.

Dakota City Hands Allen Legion 3rd Loss of Season

Allen Legion came from behind twice to tie the game against Dakota City last week, only to see Dakota City net two runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to pull off a 6-4 victory.

Allen, now with a record of three wins and three defeats, took a one run lead in the top of the second inning on an error by the Dakota City catcher. But then Dakota City's Roost connected for a three-run homer off Allen's Geiger in the bottom of the second to give the hosts a 3-1 lead.

Al Smith, Allen first baseman, tied the game at 3-1 in the top of the second when he posted a two-run circuit blast off Dakota City's Connelly. Another homer, this one by Dakota City's Sailors, gave the hosts a 4-3 lead going into the fourth inning.

A passed ball in the fourth stanza opened the door for Allen's last score, tying the game at 4-4. But a squeeze play in the bottom of the fifth inning scored two runs for Dakota City and gave them the victory.

Schultz, who replaced Geiger in the fifth inning, suffered the defeat. He struck out two and walked three in his two innings on the mound. Geiger struck out four, walked one.

Winning pitcher Connelly fanned three Allen batters and gave up seven free passes to first base.

Allen was scheduled to meet South Sioux City on Tuesday and Westfield on Wednesday.

A week ago Sunday Ponca exploded for four runs in the fourth inning as they went about knocking off the visiting Allen Legion squad, 6-1.

Errant Car, Faulty PA System Plagues Norfolk Oval Action

Being plagued by an uncooperative weather man isn't all the problems Riviera Raceway is having this season. Sunday night's action was bothered by several other things, including a balky public address system and an errant spark car which bowled over a light pole and put half the oval in darkness.

Despite the conditions, Harold Brudigan, Hoskins racer, still came off the track with his share of honors. He won the trophy dash, came in second in the first heat and captured eighth slot in the A feature.

Gene Brudigan and Gerald Bruggeman, both from Hoskins, captured third places in the second and third heats respectively.

Sunday night there will be a wreck 'em derby on the state and the races that did not get run last Sunday night because of the light trouble.

At Collins Field in LeMars last Saturday night Gene Brudigan posted a first-place finish in the B Feature and a second-place finish in the first heat. Gerald Bruggeman pulled down a third in the C Feature and a fourth in the first heat.

At Norfolk on the Fourth of July Gene Wagler came in first in the third heat and third in the A Feature. Harold Brudigan won the B Feature, Bob Anderson of Winside took third in the C Feature and Gerald Bruggeman took fourth in the fourth heat.

Wakefield '9' Wins Tuesday Marathon

Wayne's Bill Goodwin walked in a rain in the bottom of the 14th inning to give Wakefield a 4-3 victory over Wayne in a marathon contest Tuesday night.

Wakefield took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning, then fell behind when Wayne scored three runs in the sixth.

Wakefield tied the game at 3-3 in the eighth, then came up with the gift in the fourteenth inning from Goodwin, who had relieved starter Don Goeden.

ARE YOU AFRAID TO FACE THE FACTS OF YOUR OWN FUTURE? HOW ABOUT WHEN YOU'RE 65 AND THE YEARS AFTER?

If you qualify (as man and wife) for social security when you're 65, you'll get (by present plan) about $200 a month. (By the year 2002 this may rise to around $250.) If history teaches us anything, $200 then will not buy much more than $100 or $125 buys now.

You won't be able to live on Social Security. You'll need some accumulated savings — won't you? Don't duck the question, Look around you. What people do you want to live like? How much does it cost them now? It will cost you more — years from now.

OUR business is to help people own their own homes and to achieve some degree of financial comfort. But — we can't start them on the road to later life's comforts. They have to start themselves — by coming to talk it over with us. THEN we can help.

We know all about old-fashioned words like "thrifty." It doesn't mean living like paupers while you save. It means spending wisely. It often means avoiding the 18% to 30% more interest you pay buying on credit. It means making your money work for you, instead of your working to make other people's money make money for them. That's a BIG, very BIG difference. It's better to be old-fashioned with YOUR money in YOUR Savings & Loan Account, than being modern with your money going into someone else's bank account at kingly high interest rates, making them rich — and you poorer.

If you'd like a nice income to increase Social Security very substantially when you're older, come in and just say: "I want to face the facts about my future." We'll take it from there, and talk about YOU.

BE WELL INFORMED BEFORE YOU LIST YOUR LAND.

The Truth in Lending Law, effective July 11, has many strange and unusual requirements affecting the sale of real estate. If limits certain types of credit advertising. In many transactions, it requires certain printed disclosures to be made prior to making a sale. In certain transactions it requires the delivery of printed material to the Buyer prior to consummation of the sale. It provides for a $5,000 fine for the violation of the requirements.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

It's Only Money!

Income tax occupies our daily thoughts, as do the costs of government such taxes pay for. Of course, it is only money . . . yours and mine.

The current federal payroll hits or exceeds more than a billion dollars a month. Men in government get used to handling large sums mentally due to the requirements of their jobs, but have you recently stopped to contemplate just how big a billion dollars is?

Well, Christopher Columbus sailed from Palos, Spain, 476 years ago last August 3, 1968, if he had started a business here the day he discovered this continent and he and his successors had lost $1,000 every day since the time, they would have to operate until the year 4232 (2,263 years from now) to pile up their first billion in losses!

Remember the old television show "The Millionaire" and how each week the elderly philanthropist would give a million dollars to some person? A person having a billion dollars to give away in million-dollar amounts could give 1,000 million-dollar gifts!

Our 1969 government payroll for each month is an amount that would pay for the construction of five-hundred $1,000,000 high schools and a thousand $500,000 elementary schools. Of course, it's only money.

This federal payroll figure naturally doesn't include the tax money taken from your check to support the 8,400,000 Americans who are on the relief rolls of one kind or another.

The goose that lays the golden egg, the taxpayer, kicks out $800 a year to Aid to Dependent Children recipients, spends $2,300 annually to

Making An Impression

Business life is made up of small impressions. For instance you definitely have an idea about the restaurant where you found either a fly in your soup or left-over egg on your fork! Small things may make some mighty big impressions! A small match may start a huge fire, and small words may cause some extremely irritated customers.

When a young student of hotel management took over, for one day, the job of chef in a famous hotel, the story goes, the chef said to him: "Don't worry about what I tell the customers when their peas are cold. Just see to it that the peas are not cold."

What a lesson in that brief sentence for business men, big and little. Adjusting mistakes that rile the customer, is, of course, part of the routine of every business, but it seems to us that it should also be part of that routine not to make the mistakes.

Too much time, thought and effort can never be placed into pleasing the customer. It will can be so easily created by a discourteous or careless cog in the organizational machine. Good will is a thing of slow growth . . . it is predicated upon so many little niceties that add up! But it is a very powerful thing when once established. When we serve the buyer (who makes business possible) we must see to it that our interest is never cold.

A store clerk, whom we will call Joe Smith, was probably the most inefficient and discourteous

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you will gain. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

What if we told you to cough up $18.75 or else?

You wouldn't like it, of course. You're one of the nice things about living in U.S. Savings Bonds — that you don't have to. That's because you happen to live in a free country.

First of all, if you think there's a penny-pinch-please, forget it. Bonds aren't for you. They pay off in the long haul, but they pay off a little over $1 for every $3 you invest at maturity. Plus the privilege of having the new 5 1/2 Freedom Shares along with your Bonds.

And there's another very important reason why Americans already own $52 billion in Bonds. It's called pride.

If you happen to be one of these Americans who thinks there's something to this country of ours, why not buy into it. Sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or go to your bank. And cough up that $18.75, please.

Our government's proposed budget for fiscal 1970 is slightly less than $193 billion. Remember, each billion is 1,000 million dollars!

This figure denies comprehension so let's say that the proposed budget would mean Uncle Sam would be spending over $22 million per hour, or $367,000 per minute or $6,116 per second. It's only money.

Fireproof buildings, unstickable ships and depression-proof economies have one handicap in common — the folly of man, who has the singular ability to burn, sink and destroy practically anything he manages to create.

There are times when this writer is so impressed by governmental budgets that he thinks it might be wise to conduct his own finances in a similar matter. First, we'll figure out how much money we need for the year, then ask the boss for that amount. Now why didn't we think of that before! After all, it's only money! — MMW.

as part of the supplemental budget. Without the funds, the measurer wouldn't be operative.

There is a homestead exemption bill pending which carries a price tag of $4.5 million for the state, as replacement revenues for the local government which would lose some of their base for property taxes.

All told, the "fiscal impact" bills still hanging fire carry a combined load of nearly $100 million in additional state spending.

One of the biggest, monieswise, is a proposal to transfer from the counties to the state the financial responsibility for patients in the state mental hospitals. This could run as high as $25.1 million.

Among the other policy topics still on the back burner are highways, mental retardation, school aid, police and firemen salaries, motor vehicle tax procedures, a revised corrections code, a statewide system of community colleges, natural resource districts, health service regions, open housing, junior college aid and a tunnel to connect the proposed new state office building and the statehouse.

Any one of these could spark a few hours of debate on the floor, and very likely will.

To help speed the processes and hurry the day of adjournment, some senators are talking about night sessions and Saturday meetings. So far, the 1969 lawmakers haven't been inclined toward overtime. They have been hewing pretty closely to 4 p.m. daily adjournments.

Taking into consideration the work they have left to do and the pace they have been maintaining, something will have to be done if those August adjournment dreams are to come true.

Sen. Rudolph Kokes of Ord, with a twinkle in his eye, kiddingly gave his prediction of the adjournment date this way:

"The third weekend in August, unless Terry Carpenter loses his voice. Then the first weekend in August."

Carpenter indeed is one of the most frequently "recognized" senators on the floor. But he says it is a "bum rap" to blame him for delays in adjournment. He says it's his aim to get a conservative budget passed and go home.

Carpenter admits openly that he doesn't think a conservative budget would be good for the state. But he says most Nebraskans think it would be. It's Carpenter's view that the citizens ought to be given a chance to see if they really want to get along without some of the expensive services which wouldn't be financed unless additional money is appropriated.

As part of his campaign, Carpenter says he will attempt to block introduction of the supplemental budget bill. That's the measure which is proposed at the end of the session to provide appropriations for the programs approved during the session.

In other words, if the legislators decide to pass a bill granting some sort of a homestead exemption, the funds to make it effective would be appropriated

Reduce Heat Stress
Hot weather can be a problem to both man and beast unless we take steps to lessen its effects. Fortunately, Nebraska's hot weather generally is not real severe for cattle in the feedlot. But it will cause slow and expensive gains unless plans are made to reduce heat stress in the lot.

"Some points in lot design that contribute to better winter gain also are helpful in keeping cattle cool in summer. These include:
1. Use of cable or wire fences which permit full flow of summer breezes and reduce drifting of snow in the lot in winter.

2. Location of windbreaks and buildings far enough away from the lot that they do not interfere with prevailing breezes in summer or cause drifting in the lot in winter.
3. Use of medium to small capacity waterers to help prevent freezing of water in winter and to provide cool water for cattle in summer.
4. Ridges and mounds which reduce the mud problem in winter and contribute to effective use of cooling breezes in summer.

Other management practices that may help to overcome summer heat problems and increase rate of gain and profitaire:
1. Feed Brahman crossbreeds during the summer since they have higher heat tolerance than cattle of British breed origin.
2. Feed low roughage rations because they have a low heat production per unit of productive energy.
3. Fortify rations with about 30,000 I. U. Vitamin A since a deficiency of Vitamin A seems to decrease heat tolerance.
4. Provide for emergency sprinkling of heavy fat cattle during early season heat waves. Cattle near market weight and finish seem to suffer most in making the transition from spring to summer and death loss among finished cattle occurs frequently with the sudden onset of unseasonably hot weather.

The above management practices can be incorporated into lot management with little additional cost and offer opportunity for sizable dividends.
Two additional tools for reducing heat problems are shade and permanent sprinkler systems. With the rather short period of extreme temperatures characteristic of Nebraska, it is doubtful that the expense of either of these can be justified. Sprinkler systems will not only reduce heat stress, but also will reduce dust problems in the lot. In some western feedlots dust may be enough of a problem in combination with heat to justify installation of a sprinkler system.

What if we told you to cough up $18.75 or else?

Northeast Extension Notes

by Mary A. Schluckebier
Medicine Cabinet Check
Have you taken a long, careful look at your medicine cabinet lately? If you're a typical housewife, chances are it's time for action.

Age causes many medications to become stronger or weaker. Dump medicines that have been around a long time. If the label on a container is badly stained or missing, don't trust your memory to identify the drug or how it should be taken. Throw it away!

Remember that label information, directions and warnings all safeguard your health. Clean your medicine cabinet and dispose of old medicines in a safe way. Flush the contents down the drain and rinse the containers twice before discarding them.

When you store medicines, keep them away from excessive heat, cold and light. Too much humidity and moisture also can make them deteriorate.

And be doubly sure to keep your medicines out of the reach of small children.

Days of Reckoning Near For the State Legislators

LINCOLN - It is generally conceded that the 1969 Legislature has finished the backstretch and probably has entered the clubhouse turn. Only a few figure the senators are in the home-stretch.

Now that they have completed a week's recess to take the pulse of the folks at home and are back at their desks for the final push toward adjournment, they find a mountain of problems still facing them.

As a matter of deliberate policy, the lawmakers have pushed aside most of the tough problems throughout the first six months of the session. Now the days of reckoning are approaching. There isn't much left but the problem bills.

They are problems, most of them, at least, because they will cost money. A few are problems because they propose significant changes in policies.

As the legislators returned from their Fourth of July recess, there were well 266 bills requiring disposition. That means 19 per cent of the 1,427 which had been introduced had yet to be killed, passed or withdrawn.

Two years ago, the 1967 Legislature had only 123 bills, or 13 per cent of the measures introduced that session, still awaiting for disposition at this time.

That session two years ago ran a total of 134 legislative, or work days. When the independence Day recess was over, 118 legislative days were behind the 1969 lawmakers.

The record in length is 149 legislative days, set by the 1965 session. It ended Aug. 17.

Most of the members of this session say they think they can finish their work by the middle of next month. There are a few, and only a few, who predict adjournment late in July.

The chief bill drafter, John Wilson, takes a hardheaded look at the work remaining and predicts a finish late in September, probably around the 23rd. His deputy, James Danley, figures the 26th of September.

To make the mid-August target date, the senators would have to dispose of bills at a nine-per-day pace. Wilson thinks that is unlikely. He and Danley say it will take about an hour apiece for the remaining bills, on the average.

The floor debating on the crucial legislation which is left accounts for only one reason for the length of time before adjournment, Wilson says. The mechanics of printing bills, preparing amendments, reading each word aloud during final reading and other procedural requirements will take more time than the optimists who forecast an August adjournment are counting on, Wilson says.

The senators are all in a mood

German Lad Likes America

A RELATIVE FROM GERMANY. Mrs. Bill Fenske, Hoskins, at left, visits with her cousin's son, Gerd Hullmann, Oldenburg, Germany, right, who completed his junior year of schooling at Oxnard, California as a Youth For Understanding, Inc. exchange student. He is now doing some traveling prior to leaving for home from New York, July 30, and was a guest last week in the Fenske home.

Seventeen-year-old Gerd Hullmann of Oldenburg, Germany, was deadly serious Tuesday when he said, "May God forbid that socialism ever come on any other country!" The German youth arrived in the U. S. in August 1968 as a Youth For Understanding, Inc. exchange student. For the past 10 months he has lived with a family at Oxnard, Calif., during his junior year of high school. Hullmann has been a guest in the Bill Fenske home at Hoskins, He is Mrs. Fenske's cousin's son, from Oldenburg, a city of 140,000 population in West Germany. Prior to leaving New York for the return trip home on July 30, Gerd is seeing some of the United States. He plans to meet his family Aug. 8 in Rotterdam, Holland.

After living in the States for nearly a year, has Gerd's ideas about America changed? "Not changed so much," he replied, "as enhanced. I have gotten acquainted with your race problem and the Viet Nam problem," he continued, "and I have changed some views regarding them." When Hullmann arrived in the States to go to school last August, he was invited to make his home with a mulatto family in Oxnard, Calif. The family has three children, two of whom are still living at home. "We got along fine," Gerd noted.

The exchange student recalled how some of his relatives and friends in Germany had warned him about coming to the United States in that "those damn Yankees cannot teach you anything!" Hullmann confessed he believed this viewpoint to be very narrow-minded. He had found some anti-Americanism in Germany, had he found any anti-German feeling in the U. S.? "Oh yes," Gerd replied, "I was called in one place a 'lousy kraut'."

When asked as to whether or not he liked living in the States, he exclaimed with a big smile, "Very much so. I would like to come back." Gerd pointed out several observations he had made during the past 10 months, one of which is that the American girls use far more make-up than do their counterparts in Germany. He also noted, "We have alcoholics in Germany but not like in the United States. In Germany we do not have from 300 to 400 going to work for a united Europe." Although the Youth For Understanding Inc. flew him to the U. S. by jet, Hullmann will be returning by ship. After seeing what America is really like, a young German will soon be boarding an oceanliner headed for Holland, hoping he will be able to someday return.

Labor Notes

Assuming an unemployment rate of three per cent and armed forces of 2.7 million, the U. S. Department of Labor expects about 89 million persons to be at work in 1975—one-third more than the 67 million employed in 1960.

Pottery and pipe pipes have been replaced by electronics assembly and food processing on modern-day Indian reservations. The Labor Department reports that by the end of fiscal 1968, 137 manufacturing plants had been established on the reservations. Already employing 4,100, they will, when in full operation, employ 6,600 Indian workers.

Job openings during the 1965-75 decade are expected to total about 38 million. According to Department of Labor estimates, 42 per cent of those openings will result from growth in the economy; the remainder will be due to retirements and deaths.

Although computers have reduced the need for accounting clerks, typewriter and file clerks, and billing, bookkeeping, and calculating machine operators, they have generated hundreds of thousands of other jobs. The demand today is for keypunch operators, computer operators, computer programmers, and systems analysts.

The U. S. Department of Labor now recognizes job-seeking drug addicts and law offenders as "handicapped" and offers them special help in making themselves employable.

Entomologists: Stage Set For Corn Borer Outbreak

Entomologists in most of the leading corn growing states predict that 1969 could see the worst corn borer outbreak in history.

There was heavy corn borer damage last year, and it is expected to be worse in most states this year because of a potentially high overwintering population. However, scientists point out that both weather and crop management practices are the determining factors in the seriousness of an outbreak. Corn borer activities are usually governed by weather conditions in May and June. Strong winds or beating rains at this time of year, when the overwintering moths are emerging, could eliminate much of the pest.

W. H. Luckmann, head of Economic Entomology, Natural History Survey, University of Illinois, outlines a more detailed approach.

Luckmann's point is that the mortality rate of borers hatched out on small, young corn plants is very high. The closer the stalk is to coming into tassel, the higher the number of borers that live. The reason for this difference, he points out, is due to chemical changes within the corn plant.

To help decide what fields to treat and when, Luckmann suggests using the "tassel-ratio index." It compares the height of the tassel inside the plant to the extended height of the plant. Here is how it works...

Cut the stalk off at the base where the main roots join the stalk. Then, measure the stalk from the base to the tip of the longest leaf when it is extended upward. Next, slit the plant lengthwise to expose the developing tassel, and measure from the base of the stalk to the tip of the tassel. Then, divide the height of the tassel by 100. The answer is the tassel ratio.

For example, suppose the height of the plant is 50 inches and the height of the tassel is 15 inches. Fifteen divided by 50 is .3; which, when multiplied by 100 gives a tassel ratio of 30. For first generation corn borers, the University of Illinois recommends treating any field with a tassel ratio of 30 or more when 75 per cent of the plants show fresh leaf feeding in the whorl.

Second generation corn borers can be a problem later in the growing season—around late July and early August—depending on weather and the severity of the first generation.

This brood concentrates its feeding on the corn ears. A high percentage of losses comes from dropped ears due to shank damage.

Entomologists point out that if corn plants are still shedding pollen at this time or if ear silks are green at the tip the field will be susceptible to second brood corn borer and should be treated.

An alternate method is to watch cornfields carefully for second brood eggs. If you find an average of one egg mass per plant in early August, treat the field, others for a picnic supper at Oakland Park.

NEW STORM SEWER is being installed in the northeast part of the city. The storm sewer, which will cost about $72,000, will run from Seventh St. just east of Walnut Drive (where this picture was taken) north about three-quarters of a block to an existing one. It will also be installed and calls for completion in 120 days. Elnung Contract Products of Wayne was awarded the contract for both sewers.

11th Street and then west about one block. The sanitary sewer, costing just over $17,000, will be installed with the storm sewer from the college property southeast between Windom and Walnut and then south about one block to tie into an existing sewer. The contract was let March 18 and calls for completion in 120 days. Elnung Contract Products of Wayne was awarded the contract for both sewers.

Granules are the preferred type of insecticide for treating corn borers, and airplanes are particularly well adapted for applying granules. Aerial application has proved just as effective as ground application of granules and offers the advantage of enabling large acreages to be covered quickly.
