Oops, Mill Levy Mite Bit Higher

The mill levy for citizens of Wayne will be three-quarters of a mill higher than last year, according to City Clerk Dan Sherry.

It was incorrectly reported in the last issue of The Wayne Herald that the mill levy would be .65 mill higher.

The city council voted Tuesday night to raise the mill levy from 19.20 to 19.95 for the fiscal year which began Aug. 1 and runs until July 31, 1970. The mill levy is based on a city valuation of about $7,439,000.

Following is a breakdown of the mill levy as voted on by the council Tuesday with last year's levy in parentheses:

General fund, 5.50 (5.30); street fund, 2.30 (2.10); auditorium fund, 1.30 (1.35); park fund, 1.40 (1.35); fire fund, .50 (.50); airport fund, 1.00 (1.00); sewer maintenance, .70 (.70); amusement fund, .20 (.20); recreation fund, 1.00 (.75); hospital fund, 1.35 (1.35); library fund, 1.40 (1.35); social security, 1.70 (1.65); various purpose bonds funds one, two and three, 1.70 (1.60).

'69 Wayne County Fair To Open Here Thursday

Wayne county's annual fair will open at the fairgrounds Thursday with what promises to be the largest annual exhibition yet. Al Babe, fair secretary, has indicated all will be in readiness for the big event as ideal weather and interested boosters are making the job easier.

Friday the cleanup crew was busy tidying and preparing the fairgrounds and buildings, getting everything in readiness.

Meanwhile rural 4-H members are commencing last minute preparations for getting livestock groomed, exhibits, contests and competition judging.

The pit has been dug and nothing less than walnut wood has been cut for the free open-pit barbecue set for Friday night commencing at 6 p.m. This event alone has attracted more than 5,000 persons in past years.

All exhibits and entries must be in place by 10 a.m. Thursday, Babe said.

Thursday's activities will open at 10 a.m. with open class horse judging followed by 4-H home economics judging, open class hog judging, 4-H dairy cattle judging, open class women's department judging and the big event of the day, a tractor pull, at 6 p.m. A purse of $1050 is offered in the tractor pull and with the increasing interest in the event, a large list of contestants is anticipated.

Other activities for Thursday include a concert at 7:30 p.m. by the Wayne High School band and the "Hungry Five" will be playing a concert on the midway.

Judging is to continue Friday for 4-H sheep, cattle and the Home Ec judging continued.

The free barbecue at 6 p.m. will feature choice beef on buns, potato chips, beans, ice cream, milk, orangeade and coffee.

Both the WIS band and the Hungry Five plan to present concerts again Friday evening. The Norfolk Drum and Bugle Corps is scheduled for an exhibition at 7:30 p.m. Friday followed by the Czech Dancers at 8 p.m. and the Hal Garvin stage show at 9 p.m.

More commercial exhibits than ever before shown at the Wayne County fair will be on display with the latest in farm machinery and household goods, according to Babe.

Everyone is reminded that the public must enter the fairgrounds through the west entrance this year.

Youngsters should note that all rides on the midway Friday and Saturday afternoons will be 15 cents until 5 p.m.

Residents are reminded that while the barbecue itself is free, admission to the grounds must be paid. A season ticket will cost $3.50. Admission Thursday afternoon is $1; Thursday evening $1.25; Friday afternoon, $1; Friday evening $1.25; Saturday

Mrs. Peterson was southbound on the gravel road in a 1964 Ford and met another vehicle, which she believes to have been either dark blue or green, which forced her off the road, causing her car to turn over coming to rest on its top.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office was called to investigate.

County Valuation Unchanged

Wayne County officials received word Friday from Murrell B. McNeil, secretary of the State Board of Equalization, that valuations in Wayne County will remain unchanged.

After reviewing the Abstracts of Assessment as submitted by all counties and reviewing the evidence at the eight regional hearings held by the state tax commissioner July 10-25, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment determined that certain changes were necessary in order to conform to law.

Commissioner McNeil had informed Wayne County Assessor Henry Arrp several weeks ago that the Board proposed a raise of 25 per cent in taxable rural real estate values and raises of 13 per cent in urban real estate values.

It would have meant that if the mill levies remained the same, real estate owners in the county would have been paying larger tax bills this year.

A public hearing on the proposed valuation increase for Wayne County and the other 17 counties in the Northeast District was held July 21 at West Point.

Wayne County officials protested the increase through their ad valorem tax consultant, Hollis W. Gustafson of Lyons. Gustafson at one time worked in the State tax department.

After presenting sections of Nebraska law, establishing a legal basis for his protest, consultant Gustafson pointed out at the West Point hearing "Market value concept protects all taxpayers and assures them of fair treatment by a method of evaluation which is clear, concise and equitable. Anything less than a market value appraisal leaves the taxpayer with a just complaint, no place to go and no practical remedy." He continued, "In this situation, the taxpayer would not only have to prove the value of his property, but he would have to prove the relative value of his neighbor's property. If the appraiser sticks with the market value concept, the taxpayer with the just complaint only has to show how his assessment stands with relation to market value."

Gustafson then noted, "My I emphasize here that to ascertain this market value he should employ all possible appraisal approaches—cost, income and sales date insofar as each is applicable. Some kinds of properties are not normally bought and sold but they do have a market value. The process of ascertaining it is more sophisticated; but that is no reason to abandon the goal. This puts all properties on the same level for ad valorem taxation."

Continuing, the Lyons resident explained, "No one can claim special privilege and no one suffers particular abuse. All are measured by the same yardstick. Political influence, special privilege and particular position on value are removed as factors when the assessors stay with market value."

Later in his protest of increased valuation, Gustafson said that it would appear that a tolerance should be given. He then asked, "Would you consider the tolerance in the assessment of cows when market value could be $100 to $500, yet assessed at one price. Would you consider all types of livestock—what about the price of day old pigs to those within one day of being two months old—all assessed at the same value. Check the statute for valuing livestock and look at all the "statutory built-in tolerances."

"Would you consider the assessed values of motor vehicles of any given year, make or model and consider the tolerance allowed by the State Board of Equalization. Two cars—the same year, make and model—one car has been driven 100,000 miles; the other has been driven 5,000 miles—yet they have the same assessed value.

Mrs. Anderson, then from Pender, was a camper in 1949-50-51; Anderson, of Laurel then, attended "about 1950," he recalls. Mrs. Robert Sellon (back row left) of Randolph was a 1948-49 camper; daughter Ann (standing next to her) is a fifty-year veteran of camp and just graduated from high school. Mrs. Freddie Puls of Wakefield (back row right) attended in 1946; daughter Janice, who will be a senior this fall, is a second-year camper.

Hoskins Woman Reports of Trip Through Europe

Mrs. Harold Falk, Hoskins, and Mrs. Russell Roberts, Allen, returned to the United States July 18 after spending three weeks in Europe touring and visiting their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Roberts in Kitzinger, Germany, where he is stationed with the U. S. Army. The following is Mrs. Falk's report of the trip:

"I left home Sunday, June 29, at 6 a.m. My husband drove me to Omaha, where I met Mrs. Roberts and we boarded a United Airline jet. The flight to New York was beautiful, the ride smooth and the food delicious. We were served a delicious dinner and drink by attractive stewardesses who were trying every minute to make the trip enjoyable. I like flying very much.

"Our pilot and his crew circled New York and pointed out things he thought might interest us. We landed at LaGuardia Airport, New York, at 3:59. After our baggage had been claimed, a cab rushed us to the John F. Kennedy Airport where a 10-hour wait was ahead of us. It was a warm night so we joined other passengers going to Frankfurt, Germany, sitting outdoors on the grass. There seemed to be people everywhere. We boarded our jet at 3 a.m. and were on our way.

"We landed at Shannon, Ireland, to refuel and were given one hour to shop for souvenirs.

"Our jet, which held 250 passengers, flew at 41,000 feet at a speed of 600 miles per hour. We landed at the beautiful Frankfurt terminal at 4:30 Monday. (Time changes can get you confused so you just set your watch as you go along). The German buses were waiting to take us to the breathtaking city of Wurzburg. We again rushed to the baggage claim where Nancy and Roger were waiting with smiles to take us to their home.

"Wurzburg was something to see. Beautiful flowers with large, bright, healthy blooms were everywhere. We spent Monday evening visiting, and toured the countryside Tuesday, visiting castles, cathedrals, German cemeteries and many other interesting places. We slept under feather ticks; they are so light and so comfortable. In the daytime the ticks are aired in the open windows. People are friendly and accommodating.

"Bicycles, with baskets on the back and front, are the main means of transportation, and barley, rye and alfalfa are the main crops. You also see grape vineyards everywhere you look. Hay is scythed and raked by hand, then put on tripods to dry.

"Families work hard and always together. The children go to school mornings year round and work in the fields in the afternoon with their parents, who take the noon meal to the fields with them. If a farmer is fortunate enough to own a tractor, there is a seat on the left fender for the wife. The wife wears dresses, never slacks, jeans, etc.

"One never sees dust; every inch of ground is utilized and every blade of grass saved. The prized Brown Swiss milk cows, which are kept in the barns at all times, are beautiful and in excellent condition.

"Babies are pushed in plush, gorgeous baby carriages. The little ones are dressed to perfection and are loved by all.

"There are many cars in Germany, especially Volkswagens and other small foreign makes. Traffic moves fast and every one must look out for himself.

"We left Wednesday morning for our 15-day tour with Nancy and Roger in their 1968 Volkswagen, riding very comfortably. Our trip included Sweden, Norway, Belgium, Austria, France, Liechtenstein, Denmark, Netherlands and Germany. These countries, especially the Scandinavian ones, are beautiful.

"Lodging was very reasonable. At times we could find a very nice room for $1.40. The highest we paid was $4.50 per person. We shared expenses, traveling very reasonably. The weather was great and it rained only a couple of days. We returned to the States July 18.

"Countries Nancy and Roger have visited while living in Germany, include Austria, Italy, Monaco, France, Spain, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway."

Local Midgets Win 1st Game In Area Tournament at Lyons

Backed by the dependable pitching of Bon Mau, Wayne Midgets rolled over a jittery Tekamah squad Friday night, 10-2, in the first round of the area tournament at Lyons.

Wayne was scheduled to meet Scribner Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the finals. Winner of that team would travel to the state tournament, scheduled for Broken Bow this week, where the four best teams in the state would battle it out for the coveted trophy.

After giving up two hits in the first inning, Mau allowed the Tekamah batters only one hit in five innings. But he weakened in the seventh inning and gave up two more hits before ending the game with a strike out and a fly to the short stop.

Mau fanned six batters, three fewer than Tekamah's Litel struck out. But Litel could not depend on his team's fielding as they committed nine errors.

He hit the lead off man in the top of the first inning and then gave up a double to Erickson to give Tekamah its only lead in the game. In the seventh Mau gave up a long triple to Randy Olson—the ball sailed 375 yards and hit the fence—and Wolfe slashed out a double for Tekamah's other score.

The score:
Tekamah 100 000 1-2 5 9
Wayne 110 530 x-10 7 1

In the finals of the district tournament at Wayne Thursday night Wayne's Rod Cook hurled a one-hitter as Wayne rolled by Randolph, 9-0, to garner first-place trophy.

The victory there upped Hank Overlin's record to 11 years straight that he has sent teams to the area tournament.

Aiding Cook in his one-hitter was near perfect defensive action. Wayne committed one error in the contest, compared to five by the Randolph squad, as Cook fanned four batters and walked one. Randolph's pitchers, Randy Lemoff and Craig VanSlyke, teamed to fan three, gave up four free passes to first base.

Getting three of Wayne's 14 hits—he went to the plate four times—was Mike Ginn. He tallied two singles and a double and drove in three runs. Cook came up with a double and a single in the three at bats.

The local squad took a 3-0 lead in the first inning, then tallied two more runs in the third and four in the fourth.

The score:

Randolph 000 000 0-0 1 5

Wakefield Downs Lyons, 3-2, in Area Tournament

Short stop Chuck Ellis grabbed a bobbled ball out of the air and fired it to first base for the third out to ice Wakefield Legion's victory against Lyons Friday night in the first round of the area tournament at Lyons.

The victory, 3-2, moved the tough Wakefield squad one step closer to going to the state tournament at Broken Bow this week.

They were scheduled to go up against Valley, state class B high school champions, Saturday night at eight o'clock in the area finals at Lyons.

Now with a season record of 25-6, Wakefield tallied two quick runs in the bottom of the first inning and one in the fourth as hurler Rob Eaton held Lyons scoreless.

But in the top of the seventh in the seven-inning contest Lyons threatened to come back for the victory. After a double play, pitcher to second to first, Eaton walked two men and hit another to load the bases. Then a drifting hit scored two runs and left men on third and second with the score 3-2. Another infield grounder bounced off third baseman Rich Kline's knee and Ellis grabbed the ball in the air and fired it to first for the final out, stifling Lyons' threat.

Rob Eaton, who went the distance for the Wakefield squad, held Lyons to four hits in the contest.

Wakefield came up with seven hits, including a triple and a single by Rich Kline. Kline got his triple in the first inning to score one of Wakefield's runs. Bringing in the other two Wakefield runners was hurler Eaton with sacrifice fly balls to the outfield—one in the first and another in the fourth.

Area baseball fans were convinced of Wakefield's prowess when they saw the Legion squad humiliate Ponca, 17-2, in the district finals at Wayne Thursday night.

Behind 1-0 after one inning of action, Wakefield came up with eight hits and 13 runs in the seemingly endless second inning. Wakefield added another four runs in the bottom of the fourth, then held Ponca scoreless in the top of the fifth to force the game to be called because of the 10-run rule.

Hitting safely in the long second inning were Gary Preston, Dan Lueders, Kip Bressler, Lyle Brown, Chuck Ellis, Rob Eaton, Denny Paul and Kim Kline. Eaton rapped out a triple in the frame, Lueders a double, Ponca pitchers walked five and their team committed two errors in the inning.

Winning pitcher Gary Preston, who relieved Dan Lueders early in the second frame, walked six men and struck out five. Lueders fanned one, walked three in his stint on the mound.

Catcher Denny Paul and Lueders connected for two hits in the contest, Paul with two singles and Lueders with a double and a single.

Preston and Lueders allowed Ponca three hits in the aborted game, singles by Randy Bottorff, Don White and Aubrey Voss.

Wayne Boys Lose, Girls Post Victory In Pender Tourney

Wayne's little league squads were knocked out of the Pender Little League Tournament last week. The 12-and-under squad lost its first game of the year in the tourney, a 6-3 defeat by Wisner. Wisner 10-and-under squad also posted a win over Wayne, 5-2, for the Wayne squad's second defeat of the year.

But the Wayne girls softball team tallied 13 runs in the fifth frame to pull off a come-from-behind victory over Pender in the semifinals of the Pender tournament.

The girls were slated to play Sunday evening at nine o'clock for the tournament trophy.

Wayne girls were trailing Pender 10 to 7 going into the fifth frame, then exploded for the 13 runs which iced the game.

Winning pitcher was Ginn.

Hoskins Raps Pierce

Hoskins little league squads knocked off Pierce twice straight Monday night.

The second team humiliated the visitors, 13-1, behind the pitching of Brumels. The first team barely eked out the victory, 9-8. L. Bruggeman hurled for the winning squad.

The previous week the squads split games with visiting Osmond. The second team rolled to a 12-5 victory, the first team suffered an 11-4 defeat.

Organized baseball is observing its 100th anniversary this year. It was in 1869 that the Cincinnati Red Stockings formed the first all-professional team.

Cost, Facilities Determined All-Star Sites

With the opening of the Nebraska Coaches Association's All-Star Basketball Game training camps in two weeks, the work of a pair of coaches will begin to be realized.

The two are Rod Felix, basketball mentor at Seward High School, and Don Kelley, basketball coach at Lincoln Plus X. They are members of the Association's basketball committee which is responsible for the production of the August 22 all-star affair at Lincoln's Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

That responsibility includes locating and obtaining training sites for the North and South squads—a job delegated to Felix for the South and Kelley for the North, the training camp coordinators.

Kelley said the job primarily concerned getting bids from the colleges for use of their facilities. Material that had to be gathered for each bid included the cost, description of facilities and recreational facilities.

Location was not a factor, Kelley said, other than a preference for colleges.

Once the bids were in, the job of selecting the sites fell to the basketball committee which named Wayne State College as the home for the North and Kear-

Wayne State College as the South training camp.

The major factor in the decision, Kelley said, was cost. The most expensive item is food, he said.

At both camps, the boys will live at the colleges from the evening of August 14, when they report, until they go to Lincoln for the game.

No transportation will need to be furnished by the basketball players once the camp opens, not even at Wayne where the boys will have to eat in a downtown restaurant. There, the Chamber of Commerce will see

Jermier Signs with CSU

John Jermier, coach at Wayne State College for seven years, is moving to Colorado State University as defensive coach in football.

The Fort Collins school plays in the Western Athletic Conference with Wyoming, Arizona, Arizona State, Utah, Brigham Young, New Mexico and the University of Texas at El Paso.

Jermier came to Wayne State in 1962 as head coach of football and baseball and as a physical education instructor. His football teams won 36, lost 24 in seven seasons, gained a championship and co-championship, second place three times and third place twice in the Nebraska College Conference.

His baseball teams had a 70-49 record in six seasons with two titles and a tie for first and three thirds.

NAIA District coaches named Jermier football coach of the year in 1964.

After the 1968 football season Jermier resigned effective at the end of the second term in April. His assistant, Fred Pierce, took over the 1969 baseball coaching. Del Stoltenberg, Grand Island High School coach the past three years, will succeed Jermier as football mentor.

The Jermier family left Wayne for Fort Collins Thursday.

Colorado State University has an enrollment of about 16,000, and its football stadium is considered among the finest in the nation, Jermier said.

Welcoming Breakfast For All-Star Cagers Slated for August 15

The welcoming breakfast for the high school all-stars will begin training at Wayne State College next week will be held Friday, August 15, at Les' Steak House. The breakfast will begin at 8 a.m.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce special events committee, who are working on plans to recognize the athletes during their week of training, will soon buy tickets to the breakfast. The tickets will cost $5 and will help pay for the cost of serving the 12 athletes and the other people planning to attend.

Being invited to the kick-off breakfast are the parents of all the athletes chosen for the North Squad, about 10 newsmen, the two coaches of the North Squad and three members of the Nebraska Coaches Association, sponsors of the coming all-star game between the North and the South Squads. The game will be held August 22 at Pershing Auditorium in Lincoln and will be the first of its kind in Nebraska.

The special events committee is also working on plans to hold a free steak fry for the athletes on Wednesday, August 20, including several cars to transport the athletes downtown for meals each day and is looking into the possibility of furnishing the athletes with free tickets they can use for a movie, swimming, pizza dinner and so on.

Northeast Nebraska athletes chosen to the North Squad include Brent Fahnestock of Laurel, Steve Becker of Hartington-Cedar Catholic, Dave Holmquist of Wausa, Tom Zimmerman of South Sioux City, and Larry Chapman of Norfolk.

GREEK MYTHOLOGY DULL? Anyone who thinks that would find it full of life if he looked in on Wayne State's workshop of mythology. Director Mildred Jones has her class of 35 demonstrating ways to dramatize the tales of Greek gods, goddesses and heroes — and the Norse myths too — as they might be done in classes from first grade through high school. Three sixth grade teachers teamed to tell about the Greek hero Perseus using a shadow show in a light box. The class saw a fast-moving drama of figures enacting the Perseus heroics as three students move figures attached to long rods held behind the light box. Enacting the drama are Mrs. Zila Jenkins, who teaches in Hoskins and lives in Carroll, Mrs. Alice Johnson of Wakefield (partially hidden), and Rodney Jones of Papillion.

Vern Wheeler, 'Good Neighbor,' To Be Honored

One of northeast Nebraska's "good neighbors" will be recognized at a dinner at Emerson Saturday evening, August 16.

Vern Wheeler of Allen, winner of one of Ak-Sar-Ben's Good Neighbor Awards given out earlier this year for his tireless work in opening snow-blocked roads last winter, will receive a plaque from Reynolds Machinery of Omaha, distributor of the snowplow he used. Thirty-five people across the state received the awards.

Winside Adds a New Fire Siren

Residents in the northeast section of Winside will now be able to hear the 7 a.m., 12 o'clock noon and 6 p.m. siren clearly, providing all works well with a new fire siren recently installed in that part of the community.

Previously, whenever the fire siren, tornado warning or the morning, noon and evening siren sounded, residents in northeast Winside were not always able to hear the signal.

Russell Prince, Village maintenance crewman, supervised the installation of the additional siren which sounds simultaneously with the original.

All of Winside's residents should now be able to clearly hear any and all siren blasts, according to Prince.

Police Plan Safety School

The Wayne Police Department will conduct its third annual streetcrossing school for kindergarten-age youngsters Aug. 21, according to Vern D. Fairchild, Chief of Police.

Fairchild has mailed a letter to parents who will have a youngster in kindergarten this fall in Wayne, inviting the children to the police school to be held in the firemen's meeting room in the rear of the fire station.

E. L. Halley, assistant police chief, is director of the special training school which will last approximately one and a half hours and will include proper methods of crossing through streets, streets with stop signs, traffic signals and crossing guards.

Chief Fairchild also said in his announcement of the program that the youngsters will be introduced to the school-crossing guards.

Kindergarteners with last names beginning with "A" through "I" will attend this special class from 8:30 to 10 a.m. on Aug. 21. Police Investigate

Two Wrecks July 31

Wayne police officers ended July by receiving numerous complaints and being called to investigate two accidents.

Shortly after midnight a 1966 Oldsmobile, driven by Gary R. Anderson, was westbound on Fifth Street, in the 400 block, according to the police file, and struck a 1964 Chevrolet belonging to Ted Gruffs.

Officers received a complaint of a vehicle blocking the alley south of the city auditorium around 2:15 p.m. Thursday. Police asked the owner to move it.

About an hour later, police went to the 600 block on Pearl and advised five youths gathered there regarding the ordinance prohibiting the shooting of BB guns inside the city limits.

Thursday evening officers were called to investigate a motorcycle-car collision. Steve Hall, with Diane Olds as a passenger, had stopped his 1968 BSA motorcycle to make a left turn at the intersection of East Tenth and Main Streets, according to the police.

Paul Reimers of Colone, S.D.,

should be sent to the Highway Commission, Room 105, Department of Roads Building, Lincoln, 68509 on or before September 1. If a hearing is requested, notice of the date, time and place will be published.

A legal notice announcing the offer of a public hearing and explaining why one is required appears elsewhere in this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Offer Public Hearing On Project Revamping Stretch of Hiway 15

Any people living along Highway 15 south from where the recent construction ends to Highway 275 have a chance to request a public hearing if they have any objections to the design of the project which would almost completely revamp that stretch of highway.

The Nebraska State Highway Commission is required by law to hold the hearing because additional right-of-way would be required if the project is undertaken. The hearing would allow the Commission to hear any objections by interested people before making recommendations to Governor Norbert Tiemann and the Department of Roads.

A written request for a public hearing must be made if anybody wants one held. The request will be presented starting at two o'clock.

The evening's activities start with the grand parade of livestock at six. Also on the night's agenda are a band concert by the Laurel Old Time Band at seven, area high school music revue at eight and a teen dance at nine.

Rides and concessions will be on the grounds Monday through Wednesday.

Valuation Unchanged

"What about the common practice of the County Assessor in the assessment of tractors—again; any year, make or model. One tractor tills a half section year after year; the other tractor tills 40 acres year after year—yet they have the same assessed value.

"And last, but not the least—what about $1,000 to $1,500 of extra equipment on various motor vehicles—all assessed the same, with or without the extra equipment.

"Now Gentlemen," Gustafson continued, "I do not wish to imply that the preceding example should not be allowed tolerance—I wish to point out in ad valorem taxation a tolerance is recognized and necessary because of the type of science it is—an observational one. In equalization of real estate a tolerance zone is necessary for the technique of real estate appraising. The three approaches to value, cost, income and market are thus allowed to move freely within this tolerance zone."

Concluding the consultant stated, "Proposed raises by the State Board of Equalization should be based on properly screened sales over a three year period. In counties having insufficient sales, benchmark appraisals should be made. By computing the refined aggregate ratio, commonly called quartile method, and allowing for a 10 per cent tolerance from the perfect 35 per cent, all counties in the state could be equalized."

Secretary McNeill has notified county officials in each county of the day and time when they may come to the State Board of Equalization and Assessment hearings at the Capitol in Lincoln to show cause, if there be any, why proposed changes should not be made.

McNeill stated, "In making the final decision, the State Board of Equalization will consider: Abstracts of Assessment; county perimeter values, if applicable; average value per acre in each county; other productivity data; sales-assessment ratios prepared by the Tax Commissioner for a three year period; county-wide reappraisals; appraisal studies, and such other evidence as may be brought to the attention of the Board. . . ."

Hearings by the Board at the Capitol are scheduled to commence Aug. 7.

Valuation will remain the same in the following surrounding counties: Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Dakota, Thurston and Cuming. Stanton, Madison and Pierce counties still face valuation increases.

Rodney Sievers has worked at Carhart's since school dismissed in May. He will return to Wayne High as a junior in the fall. At Carhart's Rodney works in the lumber yard unloading railroad cars, making deliveries and loading customers' orders.

The Sievers are originally from Winside and have just recently moved to Wayne.

Wrestling and track are Rodney's favorite sports. He also likes to hunt and fish. Rodney has 3 brothers, Larry, Loren and Mike, and a sister, Judy.

Carhart's hopes that Rodney will return to work for them next summer.

Wayne Youth to Institute

Michael F. Eilers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eiler, Wayne, will be in Omaha Wednesday for the Omaha portion of National Agricultural Youth Institute. He is one of nearly 50 young Nebraskans who will host young agriculturists attending the institute from nearly all states of the Union. His guests during the Institute, Aug. 4-15, are Allan Schmidt of Riverton, Utah, and Steven Schadler of Carson, N. D. The visit to Omaha is part of the NAYI program sponsored by the University of Nebraska.

One hundred seventeen delegates from 47 states and Puerto Rico will convene at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education for a week, spend three days with a Nebraska delegate at his home and then meet for three days at the Nebraska State 4-H Camp at Halsey. The Institute concludes Aug. 15.

Much of the first week will center on discussion programs and will feature recognized national leaders in agribusiness, research, education and farming and ranching. Delegates and authorities will exchange views on such topics as world agriculture, crop production, the role of agribusiness association plus in product promotion, livestock feeds and agricultural chemicals. Other topics that will receive the scrutiny of delegates are power, machinery and mechanized equipment; transportation and marketing; food trade and peace; food processing and distribution; fiber processing and distribution; sales and promotion of agricul-

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott

THE SOLAR MONTH OF LEO, THE LION, Part Two. (For births between July 22 and August 21). As I said last time, Leos that stray from The Path are prone to be ostentatious or showy. If you know a person like this then you might also know that in appearance they may have all the opulence of Tiffany's, when in fact they're regular bargain basement. But speaking fairly and truthfully, I can think of no finer sign to be born under. Not only have more leaders come from Leo but also more "lion-hearted" souls. Leos, on the whole, would prefer drama, decorating or designing as possible careers. Now here's the day-by-day horoscope for everyone:

August 4, neutral; 5, neutral; 6, neutral; 7, neutral; 8, chaotic; 9, chaotic; 10, favorable; 11, favorable; 12, neutral; 13, chaotic; 14, neutral; 15, chaotic; 16, neutral; 17, neutral.

It might appear as if I purposely labeled a lot of the days as neutral. Not so. They really are going to be wishy-washy. Watch out on the fourth, because the sardonic planet Saturn (Gallas "The Spoiler") has set out to ruin anything that Venus has in mind for us. The eleventh might prove to be an interesting day full of variety and change. You might be "changed" to such a startling degree that you would actually enjoy going to your ladies' aid meeting for once. Now that's gotta be a change.

Q. I'd greatly appreciate it if you could convince me that astrology really works, because the horoscopes that I read in the newspapers and quite often just the opposite. Would my time and date of birth have anything to do with this? Dennis Studer, age 19.

A. First off, don't believe everything you read in the newspapers — especially the ones that carry this column. Newspaper astrology is as false as a set of dentures. Common sense should tell everyone that much. "True" astrology is FOSS removed from newspaper astrology of any sort. One such astrologer said, "Let us get this straight from the start: if astrology is not prophecy. It is dealing not with certainties, but with tendencies. It has a fairly wide margin for error — but it works." Amen.

The next insertion of "Your Place in the Stars" will have an entirely new format, similar to the ones used by other columnists. The column will still be appearing at the regular times. Personally, I hope that everyone will keep in mind what I said in answer to the above question. Thank you.

tural products and farm credit. Norbert T. Tiemann, will be on hand to welcome the delegates. Wednesday, Aug. 6, will be Omaha Day. NAYI delegates will spend the day in the "Agribusiness Center of the World," where they will tour Union Stock Yards, Safeway Stores and the Strategic Air Command.

That evening the group will tour the Salt Valley Watershed in the Lincoln area.

For the first time the Institute is also scheduling Columbus Day, Aug. 11, when they will visit the Moorman Manufacturing Co. and Behlen Manufacturing Co.

This year the delegates will observe operations at the Reasonery-Rogers Ranch near Stapleton. In previous years they were guests at the Neal Keller ranch near Purdum.

NAYI was initiated by the Nebraska Centennial Commission in 1967. Last year its sponsorship was undertaken by Agricultural Careers, Inc., an organization founded to encourage young people in the United States "to obtain training that will prepare them for careers in agriculture."

One youth from each state, chosen by the Deans of Agriculture at the nation's Land-Grant Colleges, receives an expense-paid scholarship to attend the Institute. Several states will have more than one representative at the career-oriented conference. These boys felt the program worthy enough to pay their own expenses to be able to attend.

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben help defray expenses for the Nebraska delegates.

Selection of the delegates, all of whom will be high school seniors, is based on high academic achievement, evidence of leadership ability and a genuine interest in a career in agriculture.

At the close of the Institute, each delegate will prepare a ten-year plan for his education and early life work. They will be assisted by Dr. Franklin E. Eldridge, Associate Dean of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics and the NAYI counselors who are undergraduate college students.

There are nearly 3,000 shooting preserves in the United States. This is another way that private enterprise can help state and federal agencies supply more outdoor recreation.

G. Eddie Rites Held at Winner Winside Reading

Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church, Winner, for George Eddie who died July 23 at the Winner Baptist Hospital. The Rev. William Hollman officiated at the rites. Burial was in Winner Cemetery.

George W. Eddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Eddie, was born Mar. 27, 1893 at Carroll. He was married Jan. 5, 1916 to Gretchen Hethwach and they lived on a farm near Carroll for two years.

In 1920 they moved to a place southwest of Winner and 1947 they moved to Winner where Mr. Eddie resided until his death. He was preceded in death by his parents, a brother and two sisters. Survivors include his wife; two sons, Elmer, Mission, and Leo, Winner; two daughters, Mrs. O. F. (Blanche) Anderson, El Cajon, Calif., and Mrs. Milo (Dorlene) Hansen, Winner; three brothers, Kenneth, Carroll, Harve, Belden, and Alfred; Wayne; two sisters, Mrs. Earl (Mae) Schwartz, Norfolk, and Mrs. Floyd (Ruth) Andrews, Wayne; 17 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

FRAMED The circled tubing of a sousaphone on the ground frames part of the background audience attending the Wayne State Summer Music Camp band concert Tuesday night. Most of the crowd in the picture are members of the band not playing at the moment.
