Roberts, Bull Win Rate of Gain Contest

The Wayne County Fair is history again. One of the interesting sidelights in the 4-II beef show was the rate of gain placings. Without a doubt rate of gain is the most important measurable trait in market livestock. An important landmark was established this year when 80 per cent of the 4-II beef cattle shown at the Wayne County Fair were pre-welghed on April II and 12. These cattle were shown in classes based on starting weights and equal credit was given for rate of gain.

The scoring formula used awards a purple ribbon to steers gaining more than 2.5 pounds per day and to helfers gaining more than 2.5 pounds per day and to helfers gaining from 2 to 2.5 and helfers gaining 1.7 to 2.00 pounds.

Red ribbons went to steers gaining 1.5 to 2 pounds and helfers gaining 1.5 to 2 pounds and helfers gaining 1.5 to 2 pounds and helfers gaining less than 1.5 pounds and helfers gaining 1.4 to 1.6. White ribbons were awarded to steers gaining less than 1.3 pounds per day.

The best gaining steer was shown by Connie Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Roberts of Wakefield. This was a Hereford steer whose weight on Apr. 12 was 790 pounds and weighed 1,130 at the fair. The total gain was 340 or 2 9 pounds per day for their-day feeding period.

Reports on Cropland Weed Control Among Items on Field Day Agenda

One of several interesting things to see during the annual Northeast Nebraska Experiment Station Field Day on Aug. 26 will be the results of chemical control of weeds in corn, soy-beans and sorghum. One chemical controlled the weeds in corn very well—but it also resulted in about 75 per cent corn kill.

Clean Up

Clean Up

Today is "clean up" day at the Wayne County Fargrounds beginning at 5 p.m., according to Al Bahe.

Bahe said Friday that each division superintendent can use all the volunteer help available to clean out the barns this evening. He suggested all those who can, bring equipment such as forks, shovels and a tractor. He indicated a lot of help is needed and all help will be appreciated.

After the work is finished, Bahe said, there will be a lunch and refreshments.

"It looks like there will be something over a million dollars available during fiscal 1970 to be spent throughout Nebraska for crime control," noted Nopris Weble, Wayne County clerk and secretary of the Region 11 and 25 Joint Planning Commission for Law Fnforcement and Criminal Justice.

Vandals Damage Buildings

The Wayne County Sheriff's office reported Friday that vandals have been successful in destroying a considerable amount of property during the past week. Sunday, Aug. 10, the Sheriff's office was notified that a saddle had been stolen from a horse barn at the Wayne County Fairground sometime during the previous night.

Tuesday afternoon it was discovered that vandals had broken nine basement windows out of District 88's rural school building. "From all appearances, it looks like the windows were kicked out," said Deputy Sheriff S. C. Thompson.

Sometime Wednesday night, aced out," said Deputy Sheriff S. C. Thompson.

Sometime Wednesday night, according to the sheriff's office, vandals broke into and entered a rural school located one and one-half miles east of Altona.

The ridge row was torn off a small storage building next to, the school and the outhouse was turned over, according to the deputy sheriff. He said the vandals got on the school's roof and broke the lightning rods, also destroyed the chimney down to roof level.

Thompson said that in pushing the chimney over, the shing the chimney over, the shing the work and the balance of his time to Extension work.

Primary purpose of Extension work is to get results of research and other useful information to the people who can use it. Fisher will work with county Extension agents, other area specialists, farmers and contractors to provide information about engineering solutions to important problems of agricultural producers in northeast Nebraska.

Fisher has recently completed work for his master's degree at the thiversity of Nebraska. He is a native of Malcolm where the owned and operated a farm for several years before completing his formal education. He, Mrs. Fisher and one son will reside on a farm near Laurel. The Fishers also have two older children, one son and a daughter.

Railway Commission Okays CNW Request

Vesper services Sunday night opened the 55th annual Dixon County Fair. The fair will run through Wednesday.

Open class horse judging starts today (Monday) at 1 p.m., along with judging of the 4-H cooking and home living exhibits. A free barbecue will be served beginning at 5:30 tonight. On tap tonight are the 4-H project horse show at 6:30 and a square dance at 9.

Okays CNW Request

The State Railway Commission has decided to allow the Chicago and North Western Railway Company to make the Wayne depot an associate station served by Wakefield. Wayne is currently a central agency station.

As the central agency, Wakefield will also serve Hoskins, Winside, Emerson, Laurel, Coleridge, Hartington and Crofton. Chicago and North Western earlier this year asked for permission from the Commission to make several central agency stations. The railroad cited as its reasons for the request the decline in service being performed by the depots and the ability to serve its customers as well under the new system. The Commission grainted all the request except those concerning the depots at Stanton and Pilger.

City Attorney John Addison and several businessmen in Wayne objected to the request at a public hearing on Feb. 25 in the Wayne County courthouse. All central and associate stations will be open to both interstate and intrastate, less carload service, subject to the following limitations: Mini mu m weights of 6,000 pounds both inbound and outbound, and all shipments must be from one shipper to one | consignee with no loading, unloading or warehousing provided by the railroad.

Also granted was the requests to make West Point the central Agency for Booper, Scribner, Wisner and Beemer.

WINS $400. Mrs. Lena Manske, Wayne, was in the Super Valu store in downtown Wayne Thursday evening when her name was called as being the winner of the $400 drawing. Al Wittig presented her with the check.

Wayne Lady Wins $400

"It just shocked me so, I couldn't believe tt!", Mrs. Jena Manske, 708 Windom, Wayne, sald when asked how she felt when she heard her name called during the Thursday night drawing in downtown Wayne. She was in Wittig's Super Valu at the time and won $400.

Mrs. Manske 18 the second Wayne lady to win a $400 jack-pot this summer and the first winner of the jackpot since June 26, when Mrs. Alvih Temme of rural Wayne also won $400. The jackpot went unclaimed for seven weeks as those whose names were drawn were not present.

Thursday night's winner said she had never won anything like it before and that her whole family was happy for her. Did she ever think her name would be drawn? "I never did! It really will come in handy!" she remarked. Mrs. Manske said she had never missed a Thursday night drawing except on a posysible rare occasion.

What does she plan to do with the money? "Well, I'm going to give 10 per cent of it to the church and the rest of it will go for other things, it will probably all be spent right here fa town," Mrs. Manske said.

The drawing in downtown Wayne next Thursday night will be worth $200. The person whose name is drawn must be present in a participating store.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

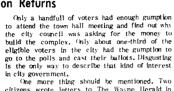

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Apathy More Disappointing Than Election Returns

We think the voters in Wayne made a mistake when they voted down the city complex idea in Tuesday's special election. The city is in dire need for more room for the fire department and city government and we think it is time the tax-payers realized that it is their responsibility to house the very people hired to serve them. The bad thing about an election such as this is that the results do not tell you why the voters voted as they did. Is the city council to assume the voters convincingly rejected the city complex plan or is the city council to assume the voters convincingly rejected the amount of the bond issue. If answers to those questions were available then the council could map out its plans to provide housing either by building separate facilities or by reducing the amount of the bond issue.

Issue. We, of course, have expressed our support both for the combined facilities idea and for the amount of the Issue. We hope the council decides to scale down the amount of the Issue while keeping the city complex idea intact and then again asks the voters for the money to build it in another bond election.

One thing that is even more disappointing than the returns of the election was the turnout at the town hall meeting the night before the election and the turnout at the polls.

Is the only way to describe that kind of interest in city government.

One more thing should be mentioned. Two citizens wrote letters to The Wayne Herald in opposition to the bond issue, they did not want their names to appear in the newspaper. We allowed this because this is our policy and we think it is the best policy a newspaper can have. However, it is too bad that those people who were so vocal against the city complex could not find the time to attend the town half meeting and confront those people who were responsible for the bond issue and those people who were attempting oget it pasked at the polis. That was the place to be if you had questions you wanted answered or if you had rumors you wanted proved or disproved.

or if you had runners you make to proved.

The more we see of the apathy at our local level of government the more we tend to believe the man who said that democracy will never fall because of attack from the outside but it will fall because of apathy in those very people who so highly regard it.—NLII.

CENT$ $EN$E

When it comes to money, most of us are interested. The subject of increasing living costs pops up almost daily. To be able to rightly see where one fits into the economic picture, however, is something else. There are times when we all fit into the framework of the old adage "penny wise and pound foolish."

"penny wise and pound foolish."

The subject of rising food costs may possibly be discussed after each trip to the grocery store, or whenever the grocery bill is paid. The following item from our local Wayne ASC offee may shed further light on the subject. The scene is a conversation between a consumer and a farmer: "CONSUMEN: Boy! The price of food is high! You farmers must be sitting on top of the world increase.

FARMER: No. Sorry, friend, you just struck out again. My share of that food dollar you just spent averages only 40 cents today ... 20 years ago, it was 47 cents.
CONSUMER: But look ... I know Pm paying more for food today

FARMER: In total dollars--yes. But remember, your paycheck has grown, too. Wages have gone up by about 130 per cent over the past 20 years. With every hour's pay today, you but over two and a half pounds of round steak. Back in 1948, you could've bought only one and a half pounds. In those days, you were spending about one-fourth of your income for food. Now, just a little over 17 per cent of your spendable income goes for food. So, get the picture right when you talk about high costs. Don't blame food or the farmer. Actually, over the past 10 years, food has gone up only two-thirds as much as the price of other things you buy."

When the consumer spends a dollar on food at the grocery store, he buys 40 cents worth of

of other things you buy."

When the consumer spends a dollar on food at the grocery store, he buys 40 cents worth of products and 60 cents worth of marketing service, according to John II. Mohr, chairman of the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. That is just an average, he said. Another thing one must remember when paying the grocery bill is the number of tems purchased that are not food products. The housewife today may buy a myrlad of items in the "grocery" store which were purchased elsewhere in years gone by and never confused with the food bill. If you still feel like complaining about the food bill, just walk through a hospital and observe all the folk who would be willing to pay most anything just to be able to eat! It has always cost something to eat. Let's be thankful, not only that we are able to eat, but also that food is abundant in American.—MMW.

When Taxes Reach 100 Per Cent

In a humorous vein, columnist Mike Royleo asks, "What'll Uncle Sum do when taxes reach 100 per cent?" His rhetorical question, though facetions, has a hard grain of scriousness considering the spending philosophy that the nation has Hved with for several decades. The idea has been that government helps people by raising their taxes. So why shouldn't taxes eventually reach the 100 per cent level? Theoretically, the government could then give away more than ever before, and people would receive the ultimate in help.

before, and people would receive the ununsite and help.

The point Royko makes is that after taxes reach 100 per cent, how does the government then continue to help people after they are flat broke. He quotes hypothetical economists of the future who suggest ways out of the dilemma. These mythical economists believe we could sell off or pawn the Air Force or the Navy at a good price. Another of Royko's imaginery economists believes our government could help run some other countries possibly—doing a little moonlighting on the side.

To the question, "Do you think anybody would hire us?", this economist answered, "Are you kidding? With our experience?" Nothing is too fanciful in a nation that sets no limit on taxation to help people.

Now, where does the present federal tax dollar come from and where does it go? A look at federal revenue sources reveals that individual at federal revenue sources reveals that individual income tax payments make up 46 cents of the U.S. Government's tax dollar (or $90 billion a year); corporation taxes, 19 cents; excise taxes, eight cents; social insurance taxes and contributions, 23 cents; licenses and other taxes, four cents.

Where does the money go? The first 53 cents goes into defense, including 13 cents for the Vict Nam war. Veterans programs take a nickel, interest on our national debt taxes 11 cents of every tax dollar. One penny goes for natural resources, two cents for housing and community development, four cents for education, nine cents for bealth programs and a penny for other social services. Foreign aid coats two cents, space three cents, agriculture three cents, commerce and transportation programs get six cents.

Have you ever heard anyone say, "Well, let the government pay for it?" Believe me, the government is paying for "it" and we are the government.—MMW.

J. W. Is convinced there Is absolutely no substitute for "winning." Undoubted by, you have heard it said, "It isn't whether you win or lose, but how you play the game." This appears to have the overtones of apathy.

This happens to be a choice bit of ideology, that has big round holes in it. How you play a game certainly does make a difference and there is only one way to play, that is to win. Who wants to lose? It would appear that many times we are brainwashed into the idea that victory isn't the best of words. Such a philosophy, whether it be in the political arena, economic boxing ring or in the field of sports, has its subtle dangers.

For "Box you play the grape". sports, has its subtle dangers. For "how you play the game" will basically determine your winning or losting. It is true, whether you win or lose, you must be a gentleman, but what true gentleman finds any pleasure in being defeated? Can you realistically envision a man leaving the football field defeated, but stillhappy, saying, "It isn't whether I helped win or lose; it's how I played the game!".

team. Care to see n: wny.-x-x-x-x-xCan you imagine a game played where a team didn't want to win, because to defeat the opponent would upset hundreds of fans who were rooting for them!

Why deliberately upset a neighboring town and its residents by setting up goal posts and defeating their high school football team! Especially since the important thing, according to some, isn't whether you win or lose, but how you play the game. Logically, if it doesn't make any real difference whether one wins or loses, then take down the goal nosts.

-x-x-x-x-x-

Realistically, everyone know Realistically, everyone knows that it does make a whale of a lot of difference as to whether one wins or loses. Everyone, we'd hope, likes a winning team. There is only one way a team can win and that is by defeating other teams. Sure it is going to upset their fans! It is going to also unset their coaches.

Or, if one is involved in a war in Viet Nam the goal post of victory should be set up and reached in a hurry. If there are no goals, then it should all be called off. If there are goals and a battle to be won, then let's get with it and start talking about "winning" the war and getting our men back home. Instead, for too long, games of bombing halts with the "If you don't bomb me here, I won't bomb you there" type of thing has gone on. Let's either win the war and bring our men home, or confess we're defeated and come home in shame.

Only in the mind of the ideal-ist can capitalism and commun-ism co-exist. The realist knows that communism has vowed to "win" and trying to co-exist with that kind of determination is like trying to fry snowballs for sup-per.

J. W. hopes that every football J. W. hopes that every football team that goes out on the gridiron this fall will have but one desire—to walk off the field with the victor's cup. There is nothing like winning and nothing more sickening than pathy. Let's show them where the action is!

Oklahoma City: It has been learned that V. I. Elek is the name of the headless man whose body was found in the river several days ago. The murder occurred about 200 yards from where the body was thrown in, Blood spots have been found near a small piece of carpet matching that on the body. Traces of blood were discovered on the grass along the fence to the river, where the man was thrown in. A small piece of eard with Elek's name on it was discovered in the ashes of the camp fire. Elek is believed to be one of the three gamblers who were traveling in a covered wagon from town to town.

NEW WATER LINE. Winside Mayor Vern Hill inspects a tranch and installation of new water line in the north part of Winside Thursday. New pipe is being installed in one and a half city blocks. Hill also reported that the community had been sprayed for mosquitoes through aerial spraying for the second time this summer and that the spray has been most effective. Regarding other projects, the mayor said Winside's dump on the Logan Creek south of town has been condemned by the state and a new landfill dumpsite will have to be located.

University Scientist Warns Farmers About Contaminating Water Sources

Most untreated water has per-iods of contamination and noniods of contamination and non-contamination according to Jack Steele, Extension agricultural en-gineer at the University of Ne-braska.

For this reason, there is no safeguard against disease organ-isms that enter the water sys-tem unless water is continuously treated, he said.

For those who don't treat their water, testing for pathogens—disease organisms—is a long and expensive laboratory process, he said. Even then, some disease organisms, such as those of hepatitis, can't be isolated.

The test takes from 24 to 48 hours and is based on the fact that all warm blooded animals—including humans—have afmily of bacteria called "colform" bacteria living in their intestines.

These organisms, usually tain human sewage and is unsafe to drink, he explained.

Water tests should be made regularly, Steele pointed out. Too often, no samples are taken or only one sample is tested and if it comes lack safe, no further tests are run. Often the tests are made on a new well (chlorinated just before by the well driller) which has not yet become infected.
"Unfortunately, water testing indicates the safety of the sample at that time only and gives no guarantee of the safety of the water five minutes, five days or five months later," he said.
Continuous protection from the entry of water-borne disease into the system is best assured by following Steele's "Three Musketeers"-proper continuous auto-eastle chloritation.

Johnson, one of the state's most successful high school basketball mentors, made the remark Friday aftermon as he watched his squid working out on the Wayne State College court in preparation for the coming game—the first of its kind in the state. The 12 athletes—and the 12 on the South Squad headquartered at Kearney State College—began their first workouts late last week, after being feted by both cities.

The North Squad, several of their parents, newsmen and other guests, were welcomed to Wayne Friday morning at a breakfast at Les' Steak Iouse. Sponsored by a committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, the welcome included remarks by Johnson and his assistant, Tom Brosniban. Also giving short talks were Larry Fauss, publicity director for the Nebraska Coaches Association, which is sponsoring the all-star game, and Roger Elder, Chamber manager.

Wayne, Area Men on Tech's Teaching Staff

A Wayne man and several area people will be on the teaching staff of the Northeast Nebraska Technical College when classes open Sept. 3 in Norfolk.

Administrator F. Don Maclay announced at a meeting of the Northeast Tech board Tuesday night in Norfolk that Gary Land of Wayne will teach auto mechanics at the school. Also teaching at the school will be Beinhard B, Mitchels of Laurel and Merle Behmer of Hoskins.

Just under 50 students have enrolled from the seven classes this fall, a c c or d ing to Alan Cramer of Wayne, board president. Cramer and that there is plenty of room for more students at the school and that they should enroll as soon as possible. Maclay noted he had planned on a total enrollment of 70 to 75 students this coming term.

Any area residents interested in enrolling for the fall term should contact Maclay at 0120 Norfolk Ave. Information and application blanks are available on request. Students must be at least 16 years old and either be a high school graduate or satisfactorily complete examinations to determine whether they would profit from their chosen program.

art the school as possible. Machay noted he had planned on a total enrollment of 70 to 75 students this coming term.

Any area residents interested in enrolling for the fall term should contact Machay at 0120 Norfolk Ave. Information and application blanks are available on request. Students must be at least 16 years old and either be a high school graduate or satisfactorily complete examinations to determine whether they would profit from their chosen program.

Tuition for residents of the 14-county Northeast Tech District $28 a month or $88 for a 12-week quarter. Tuition for students living outside the district is $300 a quarter. Out-of-state students must pay $450 tuition per quarter.

The faculty for the coming term consists of eight instructors for courses in air-condition-ing and major appliance repair, welding, auto mechanics, data processing, building construction, electronics and drafting.

The school will hold classes in two temporary buildings this year—one of which has already been remodeled. Classes will be held at 720 Madison Ave. and at 120 Norfolk Ave.

Maclay reported to the board that the school has started receiving approval from the veterans program for assistance to students taking the seven courses to be offered this fall.

Hiway Use Tax Due

Owners of large trucks, truck-trailers or buses may be re-quired to file a federal highway use tax return, Form 2290, this month, *according to the district director of internal Revenue for Nebraska. A newly revised schedule of taxable gross weights, effective July 1, contains 21 weight cate-gories for single unit or straight trucks, tractor-trailers and gon test of single unit of straight trucks, tractor-trailer sand truck-trailer combinations.

The regular period for the highway use tax runs from July 1 through June 30 of the following year. Owners of trucks in use on public highways during July have to file a return by Sept. 2 this year. Subsequent returns may be required concerning vehicles used for the first time on public highways after July.

IRS Publication 349 furnishes detailed information on this subject and may be obtained by writered.

WHO SAYS

You Don't Make Enough Money to Have A Checking Account?

Ever heard someone say, "I don't make enough money to have a checking account."?

As a matter of fact, students (as well as adults) with a limited budget have more need of a checking account than anyone

First consider the extra safety. With a check book there is no need to keep large amounts of cash on hand. And your cancelled checks are proof of payment for all your bills.

Equally important is the convenient record it affords You. No question about where your money
