Allen, Winside Singers To Join Mass Concert

The voices of 250 high school students, including students from both Allen and Winside, will combine in a mass concert during the Lewis and Clark vocal clinic at Randolph tonight (Monday).

The concert, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., is open to the public. Tickets are available for $1 for adults, 25 cents for students.

Schools participating in this year's clinic are Allen, Colebrook, Emerson, Hartington, Cedar Catholic, Hartington High, Norfolk Catholic, Osmond, Ponca, Randolph, Winside and Wynot.

Up to 25 students from each school will combine to form the mass concert. Among the numbers on the program for that concert are "Lower Come Back to Me" by Hammerstein, "Praise Him" by Bach, "Glory to God" from Voltaire, "The Christmas Story" and "Scarborough Fair," an old English folk song.

Directing the students will be Eugene Brinkmeyer from Yankton College. Student groups from the schools taking part in the clinic will also perform separately during the affair.

Five WHS Students Attending Conference

Five students from Wayne High School are attending the annual High School Journalism Conference which will be held at the University of Nebraska Center in Lincoln today (Monday).

$22 Stolen at Dixon

Just over $22 was stolen from Young's Service in Dixon some time during the night of Oct. 26, according to John Young, owner of the service station.

Young said the thief or thieves kicked in the door leading to the service portion of his station and stole the money from the cash register. They stole no merchandise.

Young noted that the person who worked at the station just before it was closed for the evening forgot to lock the large door and the thieves could have easily entered that way had they checked to see if it was locked.

This makes the second time in the past several months that the service station has been broken into.

Parents, Teachers Conferences Set at Winside Nov. 13-14

Parent-Teacher conferences have been scheduled Nov. 13 and 14 at the Winside Public Schools from 8:40 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., according to Ronald Kramer, principal.

He said there will be no classes in either the elementary or secondary schools during these two days.

Conference schedules will be mailed to the parents of elementary pupils, Kramer noted, and the parents of secondary students will have an open schedule.

Allen Hires Watchman

Duane Chase of Allen has been hired by the Allen village board as the town's night watchman. He began his duties last week.

Recently employed by the Farmers Co-Op Elevator in Allen, Chase was hired in an attempt to halt the numerous break-ins taking place in Allen after the stores have closed. On duty during the day is P. W. Mitchell.

Farmers Ask for 'Dry Sky' As Rain Halts '69 Harvest

A lot of dry sky over Wayne County last April caused farmers to privately wonder if the 1969 growing season might be taking on the appearance of drought-years in the thirties. As October ended, however, they wondered if the corn was going to ever get a chance to dry out.

Precipitation totaled only .33 inches during April whereas 3.33 inches had been recorded for April of 1968. In spite of a bleak outlook in early spring, the rains came measuring 2.80 inches in May, 6.95 inches in June and 2.17 inches during July, contributing to a corn crop which many area farmers are describing as "better than we expected."

A number of farmers in the South Dakota, eastern Nebraska and western Iowa during the summer once again threatening what one man described as "one of the best looking corn crops I've seen." The inch-long worms swarmed through fields and lawns, destroying green foliage before them, much like an army destroys what is before it. There was some loss in the area fields but the loss was negligible according to Harold Ingalls, county agent.

Ingalls said Friday that he believes about 70 per cent of the corn crop is harvested. Although yields were expected to be above average and quite uniform throughout the county, Ingalls noted that more variation in the crops throughout the county is being noted than was at first expected. "Some say it is their best crop while others say it isn't, due to a lack of moisture

Carroll Plans 'Flea Market'

Area residents who enjoy competing with the neighbors in a dart game or who like to think about eating a prize cake in a cake walk contest will want to attend the Carroll Women's Club's "Flea Market" set for Nov. 8 in the Carroll auditorium.

The Women's Club sponsors the affair annually and will once again serve table lunches between the hours of 5 p.m. and 10 p.m., according to Mrs. Martin Hansen, club president.

There will be a variety of games and prizes. The Town and Country Club will have a game stand and senior high youth from the Congregational and Presbyterian churches will have a penny

Winside HS Hosts Show On Science

Winside High School will host a show of scientific demonstrations at a special 3 p.m. convocation today (Monday), according to Ronald Kramer, principal.

The science exhibition in the school gymnasium will feature H. E. Preusse who has worked 10 years in the industrial chemical field and appears under the management of the Division of Supervised Study, State University, Fargo, N. D.

Preusse will present a series of original demonstrations of fundamental principles upon which science is based.

In other Winside news, the school will be presenting a Veteran's Day program through the cooperation of the Winside American Legion. Principal Ronald Kramer noted that all community patrons are welcome to join the students in commemorating the day.

Wayne State Senior Featured in Magazine

A senior at Wayne State College, Carol Joy Schaffer, is the featured member of the Month in the November issue of NEBRASKA state magazine. Posing in a football suit in the background of the color photograph is Jack Ferrin, a center on the Wayne State football team.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schaffer of Norfolk, Miss Schaffer is majoring in speech and plans on entering the teaching field. She was named Miss Wayne State last spring. Her school activities include drama club, yearbook staff, student-senate representative and membership in Pi Alpha Lambda sorority. She was named Norfolk Junior College homecoming queen in 1958.

Allen's 'Slim' Lanser Ends a Long Journey

Man's recent trip to the moon was certainly no small journey, but a man in Allen has traveled that distance over three times during the nearly 41 years he has spent on earth in the people on Rural Route 2.

The person who has chalked up nearly a million miles on the road is A. M. "Slim" Lanser of Allen. He retired from his job as rural mail carrier Friday after delivering his final load of mail over muddy and slippery roads.

Lanser, 61, was affected by the recent amendments to the Civil Service Retirement Law. He only found out for sure just over a week ago that he would retire this week.

During his many years of carrying mail on his route he began delivering mail on Dec. 3, 1920, when he has traveled about 3,000,000 miles. The moon is about 238,000 miles away.

And in those 41 years of driving he has had only one minor accident. That happened at the "west of Allen" and wasn't his fault because he had the right-of-way while traveling west on Highway 20. He explained that for his spotless driving record, he received a certificate from the United States Post Office Department and the National Safety Council in 1966. That recognized his having driven 30 years without a single traffic mishap. Since the awards were not given prior to 1959, Lanser had the maximum record a person could obtain. He is now eligible and will receive his safe driving pin for 32 years of accident-free driving.

And in those 41 years of driving he has seen quite a change in the ways mail can be delivered. He began in 1928 by delivering a Model A Ford. Over the years he has driven several different types of mail carriers, including a four-wheel drive vehicle. During several of the winters in the 1930's he had to carry his "SLIM," page 7

150 Persons at WHS Vocational Planning Night

Wayne High School hosted its third annual Vocational Planning Night Thursday with about 150 attending, according to Kendall Carlson, guidance counselor. He said 24 different firms and military service representatives were present to confer with youths and their parents concerning possible training, educational opportunities and careers.

Sponsored by the WHS Guidance Department, the program is designed to acquaint students with area two-year vocational schools and other training institutions.

Fifteen area high schools were invited to the vocational training night. Attendance was not as high as had been anticipated due to inclement weather. It was thought earlier that perhaps as many as 400 area students might participate in the sessions.

The planning night schedule started at 7:30 p.m. with a general assembly in the lecture hall followed by three 30-minute sessions during which time parents and students visited school representatives in classrooms throughout the building.

Father Anthony Milone, pastor of St. Anne's, expressed deep appreciation to the Newman members, and some non-members, who shared in the planning.

Pancake Day at Wakefield

Wakefield businessmen are making last minute plans to put on white hats and aprons Tuesday and fry pancakes by the literal thousands as the community gets ready to hold its 20th Annual Pancake Day in the American Legion Hall.

Each year in early November the Wakefield businessmen serve free pancakes and sausage with lots of syrup and hot coffee to express their appreciation to patrons. The men will be serving the free meal from 3 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. tomorrow, chairman to Bernad Gustafson, of the event.

Some of the members of the Wakefield Trojan band, directed by Mrs. Tyle Trullinger, will present musical selections at 4:45 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. for entertainment.

Though no actual count is kept of the several thousand who attend the annual pancake day, Wakefield businessmen figure they usually cook approximately 3,000 pancakes. Serving is well organized and no one stands in the waiting line very long. The public is invited to attend.

There was no winner in Thursday night's cash drawing sponsored weekly by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Called at the eight o'clock drawing was the name of Mrs. Delbert Jensen of Wakefield. Had she been present to win the prize she would have been awarded a check of $150. This week's drawing will now be worth $200.

Winside School Names Students On Honor Roll

Winside High School administrators have released the names of students on the first nine-week honor roll. The roll consists of those students who have attained at least A and B grades in their academic classes.

Donald Kramer, principal, said that music and physical education are not involved in determining honor roll students. Following are those on the honor roll by grade:

Seventh grade: Linda Holtgreve, Paul Holtgreve, Judy Korn and Jennifer Willers. Honorable mention was received by Phyllis Reep.

Eighth grade: Debra Hargstadt and Sally Landanger. Receiving honorable mention were Vickie Holtgreve, Sharon Peterson and Peggy Thies.

Freshmen honor roll students: Pat Dangberg, Nancy Gallop, Terry Hoeman and Scott Jackson. Pledges to the school were received by Phyllis Reep, Robert Jackson, Elaine Meyer and Phil Witt. Receiving honorable mention were Sharlene Brockmoller, Plianne Bruggeman, Terry Cleveland, Stan Nathan, Marilyn Stevens, Fred Weible and Dave Witt.

City Attorney Sets Council Story Right

John Addison, city attorney for Wayne, explained Friday afternoon that he did not recommend to the city council Tuesday night what it should do in connection with the possibility of annexing several areas adjacent to the city limits.

Annexation in Thursday's issue of The Wayne Herald incorrectly reported that Addison had recommended that the council annex some of these areas at the present time rather than waiting for them to come into the city on their own in the next few years.

Addison said he had explained to the councilmen that federal grants are often based on the population of a city and that Wayne could probably increase the amounts it may get in the future by annexing more people into the city before the 1970 census is determined. "I did not recommend annexation; I merely explained something that was on the agenda," he noted.

Annexation came up at the meeting because the 1970 census will soon be taken and that census will set the city's official population for the next 10 years. If the city wants to increase its size before that census, the city council will have to begin the steps necessary in annexation.

A committee composed of Dick Banister, Ed Smith and Wilmer Marrs was set up to tour the city last week to see what areas might be annexed if the council decides this is the road it wishes to take. The committee will report to the council at the next council meeting.

Allen Sets Contract Signing

The village board at Allen will meet tonight (Monday) to take one more step toward getting a sanitary sewer system built in the village.

The board will sign the contract awarding work on the sewer system to Western Plains Construction Company of Lincoln. Total on that construction company's bid for the work is $113,078.20, just over the engineer's estimate of $110,000.

But before any actual work on the sewer system and the lagoon can begin, the contract will have to receive approval from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration in Kansas City, Mo., according to Bill Snyder, village clerk. That agency has already approved the bid proposal turned in by the construction company, but it must also approve the signing of it before work can begin, Snyder noted. When notice of that approval reaches the village, the contractor can then be given authorization to start work on the sewer system.

Allen will receive $400,000 from both Farmers Home Administration and Water Pollution Control Administration in constructing the sewer system and the lagoon, Snyder said. The FHA grant which the village will initially receive will be about $16,000. It could be larger, depending on possible work changes which may be written into the construction contract once work begins. The grant from the other agency amounts to about $380,000 which the village will have to finance. Plans call for the village to issue general obligation bonds to take care of that portion of the cost, according to the village clerk.

A total of just over 180 people in the village have signed up to use the sewer system once it is built, Snyder reported. The village had to sign up at least that many of the potential users

Poppy Day

WHEREAS, it has been the utmost concern of the VFW Auxiliary to relieve the distressed of America's war veterans, their families, their widows and orphans; and

WHEREAS, throughout the passage of time welcome comfort has been brought to the intold number of persons by the devoted and dedicated leaders of this organization; and

WHEREAS, once in each year the citizens of our country are given the opportunity to express their gratitude to these heroes by purchasing and wearing with just prodigious the luddy poppies created by the willing hands of the nation's disabled veterans.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ALFRED A. KOPLIN, mayor of city of Wayne, Nebraska, do hereby proclaim Thursday, Nov. 6, as VFW Auxiliary Poppy Day in the city and call upon all of our people to give generous and active support to this worthy effort.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of city of Wayne, Nebraska, to be affixed this first day of November, 1959. MAYOR Alfred A. Koplin.

Fund Will Aid Dixon Family

A special fund is being set up to raise money to aid a Dixon family which has come upon some more hard luck.

The fund is for Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dempster and their three small children.

Dempster broke his leg near his home on Oct. 24 when a horse was attempting to break through a fence on his farm. He is the same one he broke in 1948 when another horse fell on his leg. That time the lower leg bone was crushed so badly that he was forced to use crutches and a brace for over three years. He just had the braces removed from his leg about three or four months ago.

Although this time the break is cleaner than the other one, he will still be forced to wear a cast for a long period of time.

Friends who are helping set up the fund said that anybody who wishes to contribute to it may send their contributions to the State National Bank in Wayne.

CHECKING IN FOR THE LAST TIME. A. M. "Slim" Lanser of Allen checks in his mail after his last run on the mail route that has been his for nearly 41 years. "Slim" retired Friday.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Winter Driving Is Serious Business

Longer nights and winter weather increases driving hazards. According to the Environmental Science Services in Kansas City, there are twice the hours of darkness in January as in July, each of which is loaded with the potential of danger particularly when a winter storm sets in.

In the Great Plains the blizzard is the greatest potential killer of people, livestock and wildlife of any storm that man has to contend with. Individuals who have narrowly escaped with their lives during a terrible snowstorm do not usually have to be reminded again as to precautions to be taken as winter approaches.

Freezing drizzle or rain coupled with high winds can turn highways into skating ponds. Snow comes in many destructive forms anywhere from blowing and drifting snow to a blizzard. Despite repeated warnings there are usually motorists who "know" they can negotiate a storm and get to their destination. These people all too often die.

Judgment should not be persuaded by desire in determining whether to make a trip, to turn back, or to change routes in the face of bad weather. If and when you become aware of a storm condition that may test your limitations or those of your vehicle, seek available refuge immediately rather than risk being stalled beyond available help.

Perhaps the best advice is to avoid travel during such severe conditions. If travel is absolutely necessary, use the major highways and be sure your family or employer knows your approximate vicinity.

Advance preparation is good insurance against emergencies. Check weather forecasts; be sure your auto is properly equipped, always fill the gas tank before driving into open country and prepare a "winter storm car kit." The kit might contain blankets, sleeping bags, a supply of high-calorie, non-perishable food, shovel, flashlight or signal light and possibly extra clothing or over-shoe wear.

There are people who are warm and alive right this moment who will die this winter because they were "caught" in a severe winter storm. It can happen to anyone, anywhere, regardless of wealth, age or intellect. When Dame Nature vents her fury with howling winds, blowing and drifting snow, most anything can happen.

Someone reading these words will possibly over exert in trying to get an auto out of a snowbank and pay for it with his life. Prepare for winter and use every safety precaution possible. It may add years to your life! — MMW

Problems in Beautifying America

Only those interested in improving a home or other property know the many long hours that may be spent in making such improvements. Time is money in these accelerated days of living and it takes both time and money to beautify one's home, property or the nation.

How tragic it is, after citizens of a community have worked hour after hour of planning, building, constructing and landscaping, that there are those who appreciate none of it and oftentimes may make an attempt to destroy the work that has been done.

It is a sick mentality which has nothing better to do than tear up, break and destroy property belonging to others.

Several Carroll residents donated shrubbery which was placed near the new Carroll fire hall a week ago Saturday. Monday night a person or persons saw fit to assume the responsibility of attempting to destroy the evergreen, for what reason is anyone's guess.

Vandalism seems to be a weekly word on the reports filed by most police departments including those in Wayne. What kind of a bearded person finds it necessary to feed his or her twisted nature upon the debris left by personal property destroyed, damaged, broken or stolen?

Though expensive, the cost of the shrubbery around the Carroll fire hall isn't the major concern, but rather something that is far more important. What will the individual or individuals decide to do next, and will they ever contribute anything worthwhile to society to justify their existence?

Property owners throughout the nation have been urged during the past few years to "beautify America." Such a project begins by improving one's own private property and seeing to it that the community also collectively creates the most attractive environment possible. What a shame it is that only one or two vandals can in a few minutes wreck that which has taken hours to create. What is even worse is that there exist such minds which evidently find more pleasure in destruction than in building.

Whether it is in Wakefield, Hoskins, Laurel, Winside, Carroll, Wayne or any other community, the real blight may not be rubbish in the street, except occasionally when it takes human form and strikes out to destroy. That kind of blight is to be pitied and should be disciplined before destroying itself. — MMW

Quotable Notables

Englishmen never will be slaves; they are free to do whatever the Government and public opinion allow them to do. — George Bernard Shaw.

A man should first direct himself in the way he should go. Only then should he instruct others. — Buddha.

right? — x-x-x-x-x- Turkey is good eating any time during the year but there is something special about having the old bird on the table for Thanksgiving dinner. Perhaps it is more sentimental than anything else, but turkey, Thanksgiving and family just sort of all go together. In that Thanksgiving is only three and a half weeks away, many of the traditional birds have already felt the ax. Have you made any plans as yet about stuffing the turkey and stuffing your friends with a sumptuous dinner? — x-x-x-x-x- When you think truly was just a kid (seems like such a few weeks ago!) Christmas was next to occupy my thoughts immediately after the turkey and dressing leftovers had been leftover from several additional meals. Remember what it is like to be a child? It is to be something very different from the adult today. It is to believe in the possibility of all things, to believe in love, to believe in loveliness, to believe in belief; it is to be so tiny that elves can reach to whisper in your ear.

Being a child is to turn pumpkins into coaches and mice into horses and nothing into everything. It is imagining frightening witches which scare one just enough to make it fun at Halloween; it is hearing the story once more of the brave and valiant Pilgrims having a first Thanksgiving with the Indians; it is ignoring the cold and giggling after falling in a snowdrift while caroling on Christmas Eve. — x-x-x-x-x- Sad, isn't it, that as we grow older we all too often lose that greatest of all entertainments—a vivid imagination. To lose it doesn't mean up, but it may mean that we have died on the inside and are not aware of even such delightful things as stuffing a stocking at Christmas time. — x-x-x-x-x- Back on the old home place

In southern Iowa, after the tree was trimmed (no artificial tree for us), cards mailed out, church program rehearsed, gifts wrapped and hidden beneath a paper; after the dinner was planned and the myriad of other holiday plans were made, there was always one other task that our dear mother attended to with her perfect sense of timing — that of stuffing her children's stockings.

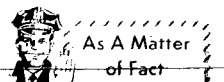

More often than not, the bulging stockings were the first gifts to be examined in our childish delight when the magic of Christmas morning arrived. Oh, there were the oranges, candy, nuts and other interesting goodies, but there were also the little surprises—unexpected mini-tops, whistles, or most any other imaginable item that would gladden the heart of a growing lad boy. These were ideal gifts and given in just the right way at the right time. This is true art!

And even as candy is good in a stuffed stocking, so is a compliment, a handclasp, words of appreciation, love or encouragement. Are you planning on giving any such gifts? — x-x-x-x-x- Why not begin planning right now to make this Christmas different and stuff a few stockings with surprises as paying your friends honest compliments; telephoning a distant friend; giving a special word of encouragement; having fun with a good joke or the giving of an absurd little gift to a close acquaintance just for laughs; giving a verbal handclasp to a college student who is a long way from home; or maybe just putting in "I Love You" note in the slippers or shoes your spouse will put on first Christmas morning.

These are but a few of the ways to stuff stockings. Why wait until Christmas? Start today! True, the big gifts cost more money, take more time to wrap, but you'll find the small, seemingly incidental gifts which are a real surprise, make all the difference in the world to someone who may need that special touch of yours. They'll remember you for it the rest of their life. — x-x-x-x-x- J. W. would like to also suggest that you break a few laws of refined etiquette and really make your greeting cards "count" in these days of six cent stamps. Go ahead and write a note to that friend whose address you are putting on the envelope. Some think handwritten notes on greeting cards "mess up" the card. Maybe so, but your friend is that at all, he or she will likely prefer the "mess up" card with a personal note from you than simply a commercial greeting card which anyone might have mailed. This you can give that friend your very own handwriting and word warmth. — x-x-x-x-x- While we're speaking of personalizing things, did you read about John MacDonald, whose home is near London, painting his cattle with reflecting paint so as to protect them from being struck by motorists at night?

MacDonald reportedly said several of his Aberdeen-Angus cattle, which are black and about as easy to see as a ghost in a fog at night, had been killed by cars until he began painting bulbuse patterns on their front and rear. — x-x-x-x-x- Astronaut Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon and Alan B. Bean are not likely thinking as much about the holidays as they are their trip to the moon. Blast-off is scheduled Nov. 14 at Cape Kennedy. The 363-foot high Apollo 12 rocket will have nearly 1 million gallons of propellants on board for the 10-day trip. While that fuel blasts the spacemen to the moon, thousands of gallons on another kind of alcohol will likely blast a few other travelers off into eternity over the holiday period due to traffic accidents. The astronauts will be coming back.

Couple Married In 2 p.m. Rites At College Chapel

In a 2 p.m. ceremony Saturday at Connell Hall Chapel on the Wayne State College campus, wedding vows were exchanged by Anita Joy Blomendahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Blomendahl, Hooper, and Michael Lynn Keithley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Keithley, Hooper.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of Venise lace trimmed against taffeta with bishop sleeves and high neckline. Her floor length lace trimmed veil was caught to a camelot headpiece and she carried gold roses.

Mrs. Gary Kruse, Kearney, served as matron of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Carol Keithley, Humboldt, Iowa, was bridesmaid. The empire styled gown was of white lace trimmed with gold crepe and they carried gold pompons with white carnations.

Perry Keithley, Hooper, was best man for his brother, and Randy Keithley, Hooper, also a brother, was groomsman. Ushers were Gary Kruse, Kearney, and Jeff Benson, Waterloo, Iowa. Kathy Blomendahl, Fremont, was flower girl, and Glenn Blomendahl II, Hooper, was ring bearer.

A reception for 100 was held at 3 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom with Jane Pedary, Lincoln, regaling guests. Gayle and Barbie Blomendahl and Jane Benson regaled guests.

Mrs. Lord Royer and Genevieve Nolte cut and served the cake and Mrs. Bill Tyler poured Mrs. Steve Hayden served punch.

For her going away ensemble

the bride chose a brown, gold and white plaid wool, complemented by her gold rose corsage.

The bride attended Midland College at Fremont one year and was graduated from Kearney State in August. She is presently teaching with the Educational Service Unit at Belden.

The bridegroom is a business major at Wayne State College. The couple reside at 1009 1/2 Sherman in Wayne.

Mark Stringers 'Ready for Winter'

By Sandra Breikreutz

Mark Stringer, who with his wife has spent four years in a country of constant summer, says, "We were ready for winter," as he talks fondly of the place they have learned to call home. Stringers are on a six-month furlough to the United States from Colombia, South America, where they were sent by the Christian Church of Montrose, Colo., as missionaries.

Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stringer Sr., of Wayne, is a 1958 graduate of Hahn High School, Wayne. He spent 10 weeks in the Bahama Islands in 1960 on what might be called "missionary interaship," and was graduated in 1963 from Ozark Bible College, Joplin, Mo., with a bachelor of theology degree. He had been a student minister at Chanute, Kan., the last two years of college and continued to serve there two more years prior to leaving the United States.

MR. AND MRS. MARK STRINGER JR. who serve as missionaries in Colombia, South America, are spending part of their six-month furlough in the parental Mark Stringer Sr. home in rural Wayne. With them are their two Colombian children, Barry and Sherri.

Mark and Barbara Hills Stringer, who is from Montrose, Colo., was married in 1962 in Montrose. Mrs. Stringer, a licensed practical nurse, attended nursing school in Joplin, and Ozark Bible College two and a half years.

Stringers have two adopted Colombian children, Barry and Sherri, both four who made the trip with their parents to the United States and are enjoying their first visit with grandparents as well as their first experience with snow.

Stringers live in Villaviecnico, a city of about 100,000 (approximately 80 miles from Bogota, the capitol, and also serve Parate Bueno, Cumaral and San Carlos, each with populations of one to two thousand. Mark, a Bible teacher, was on the board of directors of Parate, Infantil, Infant Paradise) a children's home, and also served an eight-month term as director of the home.

The people of Colombia speak Spanish, and though Mark had studied Spanish in the United States, he found it insufficient for communication. Both he and Barbara took four-month courses in Spanish at the University of Andes at Bogota. Mark also had an advanced six-week course there.

The average yearly income is $300. Most of the people Stringers work with are lower middle class and a few are wealthy. "The upper middle class are hard to reach," Mark noted. "They are too busy climbing."

Villaviecnico is cattle country and the general atmosphere is "old west," with an occasional knifing or shooting taking place. Law enforcement does not seem to be much of a problem there however.

The Colombian people love to dance, and use every holiday as an excuse for a fiesta, beginning generally at 9:30 p.m. on a Saturday, and continuing until 3 or 4 a.m. the following morning. "Colombians consume a lot of beer and also drink aguardente, which is comparable to rum," explained Mark.

Until they are about two years old, girls wear no shirts and boys wear no pants. Most homes have plumbing, but many have no refrigeration facilities.

Colombians sell lottery tickets to support their hospitals. Their homes are usually of cement with cement-asbestos roofs which ward off both bugs and heat, and which often house entire families of 20 to 25 members, with the oldest the father, taking his place as head of the household. In the event of his death, his wife takes over. "Women have quite a bit of voice," Mark commented.

"Maid service is cheap in Colombia, so even the very poor can afford it," Mark went on, "but the women, who will work for their room and board and perhaps $10 a month, are not always satisfactory, as they will probably do the work as they want it done."

Owning a car is out of the question as new compacts cost about $10,000. Travel is by bus or taxi, which is cheap. One can travel anywhere in Villaviecnico for 30¢ by taxi or 2¢ by bus. A few roads are hard surfaced, but most are gravel. Though the area is relatively flat, it is still isolated as far as roads are concerned, however there are airports everywhere.

In order to reach Parate Bueno, one of the towns he serves, Mark must travel 2 1/2 hours by bus, ride across a river in a cable car and catch a jeep on its route, which he will ride for another hour and a half before covering the total 40 miles. The trip takes 15 minutes by plane as compared to seven hours on the ground.

The temperature in Villaviecnico, where Stringers live, runs about 70 to 90 degrees year round, but 80 miles away in Bogota, it never gets above 70 degrees and requires winter clothing.

In addition to beef, which is purchased daily at the market place a few hours after being slaughtered, Colombians subsist mainly on fried bananas and a high starchy root, yuca, Meaf, which is good but tough, costs five pesos or about 30¢ a pound without bones. Twelve cents more per pound is paid for bones with a little meat, which is used for soup. Colombians eat with every meal.

There are no equivalents to our department stores. Each store specializes in one product. Except for canned goods, which has a rule have a set price, one bargains for the goods he buys.

"Coffee is made much stronger in Colombia than here," Mark explained as he added more sugar to his cup of stashed java, "and is served in small cups with lots of sugar." "In the cold country," he continued, "they add milk to it and serve it in larger cups."

"Perhaps they have taught us something," Mark said, in conclusion. "Since being over there we have learned to live at a much slower pace."

Stringers, who spoke at the Wayne Church of Christ last week, will be speaking in churches in Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Iowa before returning to their adopted home, Colombia, in May, 1970.

John Sals and Jeffery, Detroit, Mich., spent Friday to Tuesday with Mrs. Albert Sals. Joining them Sunday for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Saller, Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lutt and son, Crawford, spent Wednesday to Sunday in the Lyle Cunningham and Louie Lutt homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson went to Lincoln last week where they were guests at an SAE tea at the fraternity house of their son, Mark, who returned home with them for the weekend.

Bill Pinkelman, Anaheim, Calif., is visiting Joe Pinkelmann and helping them move.

Guests in the John Bowers home Wednesday evening for Sandra's ninth birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rowers, Don Harmer and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Willis. Overnight guests were Jeanne Harmer, Kay Lynn Hansen and Cinda Granfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Owens returned Monday after visiting Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Owens, Washington, D. C., and with Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Owens and family, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Wayne Captures 6-0 Win Via 65-Yard Pass

By Jack Manske

A 65-yard touchdown pass from Randy Helgren to Doug Maurer in the waning minutes of the first half proved to be the decisive factor in Wayne High's 6-0 win over Laurel on the WSC field Friday night. The game, which warranted its prediction of being one of the area's top gridiron clashes this year, was moved from Laurel to Wayne because of adverse playing conditions on the Bears' home turf.

Completely dominating the action throughout most of the hard-hitting battle, the Blue Devil offense accumulated 264 yards (nearly one half the total yardage racked up against Laurel by its opponents in the past seven games). At the same time, Wayne's defense stymied the Bears' scoring attack by limiting them to only 101 yards. Prior to this contest, Laurel was averaging over 395 yards a game.

Coach Allen Hanson's eighth straight victory of the season was a preview of Wayne's confrontation with Pierce next Friday night which will determine the West Husker champions. When asked about the upcoming conference title match, Hanson replied, "Well, Pierce beat Laurel 6-0. So there you are." Local fans can witness that all-important game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the WSC Memorial Stadium.

The game-winning aerial highlight came with 2:05 remaining in the second quarter. Faced with a first down and twenty following two consecutive minor penalties, Helgren hit Maurer on a cross pattern and the 170 pound senior end sprinted about 30 yards to paydirt. The try for extra points failed when Helgren fell short on a quarterback keeper.

Several times earlier in the game the Blue Devils saw scoring opportunities thwarted when they were forced to give up the football inside Laurel's 35-yard line. Wayne took the Bears' opening kickoff and promptly opened 56 yards in nine plays before falling short on a fourth down and five play at Laurel's 22.

Three plays later after Wayne was called for two offside infractions, tackle Steve Kamish gave the Blue Devils another chance to score when he fell on a Laurel fumble at the 28. But again the Bears' defense rose to the occasion and forced Wayne to punt, fourth and 16, from the 34-yard line.

Keeping Laurel deep in its own territory for the next three plays, the Blue Devils were given another opportunity to get on the scoreboard when Randy Robins returned Dennis Dickey's punt 13 yards to Laurel's 42. This time a fumble smothered Wayne's hopes as the Bears' Paul McCoy recovered a loose ball three plays later on the 40.

Following a series of turnovers, the Blue Devils again failed to capitalize on good field position when they received a punt early in the second stanza and moved the football 40 yards to Laurel's 33 before punting on a fourth and ten situation.

The Bears managed to get out of the hole and advance the ball to the 16-yard line before putting Wayne back on its own 45 via a punt. Illegal procedure and offside penalties pushed the Blue Devils back to the 35 where Helgren unleashed his touchdown pass to Maurer.

Wayne's slim lead was threatened twice in the second half but the Blue Devil defense men withstood the pressure in both cases and halted Laurel's drives. In the first instance, the Bears took Mike Rittoff's kickoff starting the third period and initiated a drive which took them 45 yards to Wayne's 15. Following an incomplete pass under the goal posts, Kamish led the Blue Devils' line in a pass rush which forced quarterback Steve Erwin to launch an aerial right into the hands of Wayne's Charles Weible. Weible returned the interception 22 yards to the 35 and the Blue Devils' lead remained intact.

In the final quarter Laurel had a chance to even the score when it pushed Wayne back to its own four-yard line on a punting down. Erwin's punt was returned ten yards by Steve Smith but a clipping penalty moved the ball back to the 40.

A nine-yard pass from Erwin to George Schroeder put Laurel in good field position but Helgren intercepted a pass on the next play and the Bears lost possession. Although the Blue Devils had to punt nine plays later from Laurel's 45, they got the football right back following two plays from scrimmage when Randy Robins pirated an Erwin pass on Wayne's 45-yard line. The Blue Devils ate up the clock by running a series of conservative plays for the final 3:59. The game ended with Wayne in control at Laurel's 31.

Randy Robins was the Blue Devils' leading rusher with twelve carries for 72 yards. He was followed by Mike Rittoff (10/59), Dan Sutherland (9/42) and Randy Helgren (8/27).

Wayne's leading pass receiver was Doug Maurer with five receptions for 94 yards and a touchdown.

Dick Robins, with seven tackles and two assists, was the leading Blue Devil defensive man. He was followed by Les Fichtenkamp (6-2), Steve Kamish (6-0), Ken Jorgensen and Gary Hethold

(4-1), Doug Maurer (3-3) and Charles Weible (2-3).

Heading Laurel's ground game was Steve Erwin with 14 carries for 34 yards. Jerry Sarja tallied the yards in four carries.

George Schroeder was the Bears' principal receiver with two receptions for 24 yards. Monte Jensen caught one pass for five yards and Merrill Kint handled in one for four yards.

Eager Hunters Stalking Deer

Nebraska's eagerly awaited deer season opened in the southeast Saturday as some 1,300 hunters in the Blue and Nemaha units took to the field after bucks roaming that area. Gunning opens in the rest of the state on the following weekend on this coming Saturday.

A new feature of the firearm season this year is the "any-deer" permit, a method of harvesting surplus does in certain management units. Under this system, certain hunters are authorized to take either a buck or a doe at any time during the season. In the past, surplus does had been harvested by allowing hunters with unfilled permits in certain units to take antlerless deer the last day or two of the season.

Any-deer permits are issued at random, with ratios varying from 1 in 2 in the Pine Ridge Unit to 1 in 10 in the Sand Hills

Unit. Other units are restricted to antlered deer only. Successful hunters must attach hide tags to their deer immediately after tagging them. Then, the animals must be brought to a check station in the unit where taken or to the nearest station in the next unit in line with the hunter's journey home. Deadline for checking deer is noon of the day following the close of the season.

Legal weapons for the firearm hunt are rifles delivering 900 foot-pounds of bullet energy or more at 100 yards, 12-gauge caliber .44 Magnum, 357 Magnum, 41 Magnum, and 44 special and muzzle-loading rifles of .40 caliber or larger are also allowed.

The season runs through Nov. 9 in the Blue and Nemaha units, and through Nov. 16 throughout the rest of the state. A special hunt at the DeSoto Bend National Wildlife Refuge will be held Dec. 27 and 28. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

Boxing Team Being Formed

Gary Wiebelhaus of Wayne, an avid boxing fan, is trying to form a traveling boxing team composed of young area men between the ages of 16 and 26 years.

Wiebelhaus said anybody interested in joining the team should call him at 375-1170 or Hank Overlin at 375-2584. The boys who turn out for the squad would have to begin a complete daily exercise program which would include a large amount of jogging, Wiebelhaus noted. Other training would be provided for at the Boys Club above the fire station. He pointed out that all the equipment needed to train with at the club will be provided without any charge.

In other boxing news, the second annual St. Mary's Mens Club Boxing Smoker is scheduled for the city auditorium at 8 p.m. on Dec. 12. Tickets for the event are available for $2.50.

SUCCESSFUL TURKEY HUNT: Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Holdorf of Concord (at left) and Stanley Stark of Allen limited out during their turkey hunting jaunt to Crawford Oct. 22 through 26. Delmar's turkey weighed 12 and three-quarters pounds. Mrs. Holdorf's weighed eight and one-quarter and Stark's weighed nine and one-half.

RIGHT IN THE POCKET: Scribner's Joel Wegner hauls in a pass during the game with Wakefield Friday night. Moving in to bring him down is Wakefield's Kevin Peters (12) and an unidentified defender. Scribner won, 28-20.

Late Surge Falls Short As Trojans Lose, 28-22

By Bruce Linafelter

A 16-point fourth quarter still left Wakefield on the short end of the final score as Scribner won a 28-22 tilt Friday night at Wakefield.

Wakefield's Kirk Gardner kicked off to open the night's action. Scribner carried the ball down to the Wakefield 12-yard line but the home team defense held tight and took over on downs. After an unsuccessful series of plays, Wakefield punted only to have it blocked by Scribner,

Scribner	6	0	8	14	28
Wakefield	0	6	0	16	22

giving the visitors the ball on the Wakefield 28-yard line. Each team was again forced to punt on fourth down.

Scribner's Mark Meyer set up the touchdown by recovering a fumble on the 14 late in the opening period. With 58 seconds left in the quarter, quarterback Bob Meyer passed to Joel Wegner for the night's first touchdown. Wakefield defense held tight to stop the PAT attempt.

Wakefield was forced into a punting situation at the beginning of the second quarter. Scribner moved the ball down to the Wakefield 20 only to lose it when Wakefield's Bob Johnson landed on a Scribner fumble. The next play the visitors got the ball back when Scribner's Bob Dail landed on a Wakefield fumble. They moved the ball up to the six but were thrown back to the Wakefield 47 on a penalty and two fine defensive plays by freshman Kirk Gardner.

Wakefield's first TD of the evening was set up when the hosting Trojans gained possession of the ball on the Scribner 46-yard line. Kline first passed to end Lyle Brown to the 25-yard line. On the next play Kline threw to Chuck Ellis with 1:19 left on the half for a 28-yard touchdown pass play. The extra points failed, leaving the two teams tied at six all. With 51 seconds left in the half Floyd Everitt of Scribner went 45 yards for a touchdown but it was nullified because of a clipping penalty.

Wakefield started play on their own 16-yard line after taking the opening kick. The first play from scrimmage junior Eric Thomas picked off a Trojan pass. Scribner moved the ball down to the eight-yard line, but Wakefield's defense held tight and Scribner lost the ball on downs. Wakefield moved the ball out to the 18 but lost the ball again. When Scribner's Jerry Hasenkamp picked up a loose ball, sophomore Floyd Everitt ran the touchdown pattern on the next play to put the visitors in the lead. Bob Meyer ran a quarterback sneak for the successful extra point and a lead of 14-6.

Wakefield ran the Scribner kick back to their own 34. They moved the ball up to the 50 but had to turn the ball over to Scribner on downs. Scribner moved the ball down the field in a series of three first downs, including a 24-yard jump by Senior Mark Steil. The third quarter ended with Scribner on the Wakefield one.

With 14 seconds gone in the final quarter Mark Steil crossed the magic line to put Scribner out in front 20-6. The PAT attempt failed.

After the Scribner kick Wakefield moved the ball well but lost it on an interception by junior Brent Moeller. Scribner lost the ball on downs giving Wakefield possession on their own 30, but the next play guard Jerry Hasenkamp intercepted an-

QB Troth Leads Eagles To 29-0 Victory Friday

Young Gary Troth scored three of Allen's four touchdowns as the Eagles swarmed past the visiting Hartington High squad, 29-0, Friday night.

The victory, the second in a row in which Allen has held their opponents scoreless, ups the Eagles' record to five wins and three defeats. Friday night they end the season in a home game as they play host to Emerson-Hubbard.

Dodge Trips Spirited Wildcats, 32-0

After racking up five straight victories against conference foes, Winside suffered a 32-0 whipping at the hands of non-conference Dodge in a road game Friday night.

The defeat, only the second this season for the spirited Wildcats, lowers their record to 6-2 but still leaves them in the running for at least a tie for Lewis and Clark conference championship honors.

But in order to gain that honor the Wildcats will have to come off the field this coming Friday night with a victory over Norfolk Catholic High School—a team that the Wildcat coach has plenty of respect for. And even then it depends on how Cateridge does.

Doug Barry, in his first year as mentor at Winside, said the Norfolk squad is a good passer. The Wildcat defense and their running offense will have to be ready for that game if they plan on winning, Barry said.

The lack of a good passing defense and the inability to get their ground game churning was what beat the Wildcats Friday night in the tilt with Dodge.

Winside gave up 216 yards in the air to the host team as the Dodge quarterback hit just over half of his passes, 16 out of 30. Winside came up with 149 yards in the air as quarterback Gary Soden connected on six of 22 aerial attempts. But the Winside squad was completely unable to move the ball on the ground, being held to a total of only 14 yards rushing by the stingy Dodge defense. At the same time, Winside allowed Dodge 151 yards on the ground.

Although led by the fine defensive action of Phil Witt, Bob Krueger and Doug Deck, Winside allowed the hosts across their legal twice in the first period and once more in the next two quarters. Dodge scored in the first period on a 23-yard pass play and then added two more points on their tally on an end sweep conversion attempt. The second TD in the opening period came on a short running play after another pass of about 25 yards moved Dodge deep into Winside territory.

Dodge racked up another score in the second period on a run from ten yards out to cap a 60-yard drive. The successful PAT went off tackle. The final scores of the evening came on a short one-yard plunge and another successful PAT run.

Coach Barry singled out Witt, Deck and young Bob Krueger for their fine defensive showing in the contest. Krueger came up with a total of ten assisted tackles in the game although he didn't get into the action until the second quarter when Dave Langenberg was knocked out of the game with an injury. Langenberg, who was still in the hospital Saturday morning, may have suffered a severe back or kidney bruise.

Phil Witt came up with 11 tackles and five assists during his defensive efforts. Deck got in on his share of tackles and also pirated a Dodge aerial which he returned for about 50 yards before being hauled down.

Leading the passing attack for the losing Wildcats were Dave Witt with one pass reception for 63 yards and Fritz Weible with three for 45 yards. Also turning in good offensive efforts, was Dave Witt. He returned two Dodge kickoffs for 50 yards and two punts for ten yards. Winside penetrated to the Dodge 20 at least two times in the contest, once in the first quarter and once in the third, but neither time were the Wildcats able to monopolize on the 17 chance to score.

The Winside-Norfolk Catholic clash is scheduled for the Winside field this coming Friday night. Game time is 7:30.

Torino. High Style. Nothing in its field can match it for luxury.

The elegant Torino Brougham is rich in looks, lavish in appointments. Compared to other intermediates, you won't find its equal anywhere—not in appearance and certainly not in price. It has a longer wheelbase for a smoother ride. A wider track for better road holding. Hideaway Headlamps, concealed windshield wipers. 302 CID V-8 are just a few of the standard features. Take your choice of 2- or 4-door hardtops. Either one is worth a visit just to see how beautiful it is.

Torino. High Performance. New SportsRoof styling... six great V-8's.

Torino GT gives you the ride, the handling, even its own aerodynamic SportsRoof styling that adds to your go. And you can go all the way up to the 429 Cobra Jet Ram-Air V-8 with a living, breathing, through-the-hood shaker. Then add our New Laser Stripes high-back buckets, 4-speed Hurst Shifter... you get the idea. Park the GT if you want to collect a crowd—and take them on a cruise if you want to dazzle them.

Torino. Low Price. Lowest priced hardtop in its class.

This is the beauty that caught the competition napping. You won't find a lower priced intermediate hardtop anywhere in the country. Yet it offers you many features you'll find only on the more expensive Torino models. Longer wheelbase. Wider track. Curved side glass. Concealed windshield wipers. Fiberglass belted tires, and more. score on the successful point after attempt. Not much later Troth took the ball over for the second time in the quarter when he scored from two yards out. John Warner kicked the extra point to give Allen a 15-0 lead going into the second period. That second touchdown was set up when sophomore Gary Lanser blocked a Hartington punt and fell on the ball on the Hartington 24.

Quarterback Troth continued his scoring spree in the second period when he took the ball over the line from one yard out with about eight minutes gone in the stanza. That drive began back on the Hartington 30 when the Hartington kicker was unable to get off a long punt.

Loren Reuter scored the final TD of the game when he rolled in from ten yards out shortly after the intermission, capping a 50-yard drive by the Allen offense.

Coach Don Kruse, in his second year at Allen and already sporting a record equal to last year's final record, cited the defensive guards for their exceptional ability to rip open holes for the Allen carriers. Singled out for their fine showing on that line were Joe Ankens, Rick Gensler and Mike Isom.

Also turning in fine defensive efforts were John Bastede, with six tackles and five assists, John Smith with four tackles and seven assists, and Gary Lanser with several tackles and that one blocked punt.

Leading rushers for the winning Eagles were John Warner with 48 yards in ten carries, Loren Reuter (46 in 9), Bob Smith (34 in 8) and Gary Troth (12 in 4).

Catching two passes each from Troth were John Bastede and Bob Mitchell. Bastede ran his for 23 yards, Mitchell for 18 yards.

Coach Kruse also noted that Mike Isom played one of his best games of the year as he ran back several kickoffs for a total of over 48 yards.

Fry's 'Not for Burning' Next Special at WSC

The Wayne State College special programs series will bring the National Players to campus Wednesday for a production of "The Lady's Not for Burning," written by English playwright, Christopher Fry.

Performance of the play, described as a "modern verse comedy of spirit and beauty," is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theater of the Fine Arts Center. Tickets for the public will be available at the door.

The National Players, now in its twenty-first year as a touring repertory theater, has performed in most major American cities, in Europe, Japan, Korea, on network television, off-Broadway, and by special invitation at the White House.

In its 20 years — longest of any national repertory company in the United States — the National Players has performed for over two million persons in addition to thousands of troops overseas. All members of the company are former students of the famous speech and drama department of the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., noted for many Broadway hits which have originated from the University Theatre. The department head, Father Gilbert V. Hartke, O.P., founded the Players in 1949 and has staged many of the company's plays.

"The Lady's Not for Burning" is set in a small town of 15th century England. Into the town comes a discharged soldier, Thomas Mendip, who is weary of the world and the says anxious to leave it. He announces that he has committed a murder and demands of the mayor that he be hanged.

But the town is in the midst of wild hunt, and no one takes him seriously. Most annoying to Thomas

A young girl, Jenet Jourde-mayne, is brought before the mayor and accused of witchcraft. Unlike Thomas, Jenet has no desire to be put to death. Thomas tries to prove how absurd it would be to refuse to hang a man who wishes to be hanged and burn a girl who does not wish to die. Many town characters become involved. Also, Thomas and Jenet fall in love, and it looks as if neither will be put to death.

tration must first approve the low bid before the contract could be awarded, according to Snyder.

The lagoon which will be built is similar to the one now in operation in Wayne. It will probably be built just across the railroad tracks to the west of the village.

When the sewer system is finally finished it will culminate several years of work by the people in Allen. The idea has been discussed for at least 10 years, but only in the past two or three years has it been moving toward realization.

The most recent attempts to build the system in Allen were begun about two years ago. Allen received notice in 1968 that it would receive an FHA loan and grant. Allen decided to withdraw the request for the loan of $80,000 since board members felt the village would be able to issue general obligation bonds to finance its share of construction.

The route he started on in 1928 covered 31 miles and had approximately 100 families. In March of 1934 two routes were combined after Tony Burgess retired, making Lanser's route 74 miles long with 255 families. Over the years the route has increased to 104 miles but the family count has dropped to 195.

Winside Faculty Participate in District Meet

Several faculty members of the Winside Public School participated on the program of the Oct. 23-24 Nebraska State Educational Association District III convention in Norfolk.

Ronald Kramer, principal at Winside, was chairman of the instructional meeting for secondary teachers. Dr. Dale K. Hayes, chairman of the Department of Educational Administration at the University of Nebraska was guest speaker. He covered the areas of social and cultural trends, sex education and professional negotiations likely to have great influence on education in the future.

Karman Brum, guidance counselor at Winside, will chair the secondary instructional meeting at the convention in 1970, according to Principal Kramer, and James Welch, WIS athletic director, will be chairman-elect.

Ronald Novak, math instructor at Winside, was chairman of the mathematics sectional Oct. 24 at the NSEA meeting. Dr. Donald Miller from the University of Nebraska spoke on the topic "Mathematics in Action."

M. J. Masten, superintendent of Winside schools, was named assistant chairman of the administrator's sectional for the 1970 NSEA District III convention.

Public School Heads Will Attend Meeting

Three administrators in the Wayne public school system plan on attending this week's annual meeting of the Nebraska Council of School Administrators.

The organization, which recently replaced the Nebraska Association of School Administrators, will be holding its two-day annual conference Thursday and Friday at the Center for Continuing Education at Lincoln.

Attending the meet from Wayne will be Francis Huan, superintendent; Loren Park, Middle School principal, and Richard Metteer, West Elementary principal.

Included in the sessions planned for those attending are ones on drugs and narcotics, teacher militancy and so on.

The meeting is a joint conference between the NCSA and the Department of Educational Administration.

Huan and Leota Moller, head of the English department, will be attending a district board of directors meeting of the Nebraska State Education Association Tuesday afternoon in Norfolk.

Election Set Tuesday

The special election, which will decide the fate of the proposed Pender Community Hospital District will be held Tuesday.

Voters in Wayne, Thurston, Burt and Cumming counties will vote on the issue.

The proposed district would include parts of Logan and Leslie precincts in the southeast corner of Wayne County.

Pollution Control Included in '70 ACP

Basic authorization for water and air pollution abatement practices have been included in the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) for 1970, according to state agricultural stabilization and conservation committee chairman, Gordon L. Nuernberger.

"The actual practices will be developed in each state in consultation with the state agency responsible for pollution control or general quality of environment. In Nebraska, our ASC officials will confer with the State Department of Health, Environmental Health Services, in working out anti-pollution practices applicable to farm lands in our state," Chairman Nuernberger said.

Two meetings have been held by the State Development Group, including a representative of the Environmental Health Division of the Department of Health for Nebraska to develop a feasibility runoff practice. A final draft has been sent to Washington for approval and county ASC offices will be notified when final approval is received. Representatives of the Department of Agricultural Engineering also helped in developing the practice for the state.

Although practices will be developed for reduction of water and air pollution, they also will be required to have soil and water conservation benefits, he reported.

"MCP practices have always included measures to help stop pollution," Nuernberger said, "but the first aim of these measures was stopping soil erosion on conserving water. For instance, putting in permanent vegetative cover is an ACP practice to prevent soil erosion. However, it also helps stop water pollution by keeping silt out of runoff water."

"Now a farmer will be able to have a practice aimed directly at fighting pollution, but including soil or water conservation benefits but which may also help fight pollution."

"Farmers and ranchers will have a wider choice in applying for conservation cost-sharing practices," he said. Announcement will be made when pollution abatement practices for Nebraska receive final approval, the ASC committee chairman said.

Next meeting will be the December Christmas party.

The Education Unit I Nurse and Dr. C. M. Coe have arranged with the Nebraska State Department of Health to conduct a special program to control red or seven day measles in the Wakefield community. Consent forms have been sent home with each student to be signed and the cost is $1. The shots will be given Nov. 5 at the school. Children eligible for kindergarten, 1970 are urged to have this immunization also. They should be accompanied by their parents and be at the elementary school by 8:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Faust and Jodi, Armstrong, Iowa, were weekend guests in the Mrs. Floyd Park home and joined other relatives from Dixon, Wakefield and Allen for dinner Sunday in the Raymond Durant home, Sioux City.

You can rely on it if you read it in The Wayne Herald.

Police Investigate One Auto Accident

Wayne police officers were requested Tuesday to take a drunk woman home from a local bar and during the past few days checked out a business firm which was left unlocked, chased a squirrel out of a fireplace in a home on Pine Heights Road, and ticketed two vehicles which were blocking sidewalks.

Officers also were called to investigate following an accident at the intersection of Eighth and Main Street Thursday afternoon. Jerry Bauermeister of Belden was northbound on Main in a 1965 Ford and stopped, according to the police report, to let the auto in front of him turn left onto West Eighth. Richard Milligan, also northbound in a 1959 Chevrolet, struck the Bauermeister auto in the rear, police said. Damage to the Ford was estimated to be $330.18.

"Dry Sky"

Wayne amounted to 24.85 inches contrasted with 23.24 inches in the same period this year. The Wayne area had a total of 26.69 inches of precipitation in 1968.

"This weather, for the farmer, is something else," Cliff Peters who farms north of Winside said Saturday morning. He pointed out that "moisture is going to be a genuine problem even after the sun comes out, as the corn and milo haven't had a chance to dry in the last three weeks."

A generally good growing season plus a late freeze have resulted in good small grain harvests in Wayne and Dixon counties but the problem now is getting it out of the field. Moisture content of corn in Dixon county has been generally higher than in Wayne county according to Dixon County Agent Roy Stohler, which will delay harvesting. Stohler said that corn moistures in Dixon counties have been running between 25 and 28 per cent.

Harold Ingalls said Friday that the bean harvest has been delayed because of all the rain and that farmers are about ten days behind in getting the corn out of the field. "We need ten days of real good drying weather," the Wayne County Agent noted. He said overcast skies even without rain didn't help much, but what was needed was a lot of sunshine accompanied with a drying wind.

"How are corn prices this year?" Ingalls said they haven't changed much from a year ago when Omaha's number two price was $1.15 a bushel.

As Wayne County farmers head into November they would like to see a return of some of April's dry sky, and along with the rising sun, a rising market.

LeRoy Grimm Dies

Funeral services for Lelloy Grimm, 61, who died early Saturday morning at the Wayne Hospital, will be held today (Monday) at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne. The Rev. Doniver Peterson will officiate and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. The body lay in state yesterday from 3 to 9 p.m. at Hilscox Funeral Home, Wayne.

The Nebraska Department of Roads presents this light for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "Tests show that reinforced tire chains provide four to seven times as much pulling ability on snow and ice as regular tires without chains." Always carry chains in the trunk of your car to assure your ability to get through regardless of the weather.

DIESEL OPERATORS from all over the state toured the Wayne light plant Thursday during the 18th annual Diesel Operators Institute last week. The institute lasted three days and included tours of the light plants at David City and Wahoo. The group was holding the annual meeting in Lincoln. Among those on the tour were (from left) Norbert Brugger, superintendent of the Wayne plant; Don Peterson of Wahoo; Jack Raybould of Omaha; Stu Atzoff of Minneapolis; and Sid Magdanz of Omaha. Raybould and Atzoff work for Cooper-Bessemer, manufacturers of the large electrical motor recently put into operation at the Wayne plant.
