No Council Quorum At Monday Meeting

Four members of the Wayne city council were absent from the council meeting Tuesday night and therefore the council was unable to conduct any official business because of lack of a quorum. Council met Monday because Tuesday was Veterans' Day.

The meeting was recessed until Wednesday evening. At that time the council planned on passing resolutions relating to the city's civil defense program. The public hearings which had been scheduled for Monday night, on a sanitary sewer district and street improvement district, will have to be advertised again for a different date.

Although unable to take any action, the council did learn from the subdivider who plans on developing an area on the west edge of the city limits that he has decided to withdraw his request for an R-2 (multiple family dwelling) zone in that subdivision.

The council members present unofficially approved the plat he had which provided for Z-1 (single family dwelling) zoning in the whole subdivision, to be known as The Knolls. The plat had been approved except for the zoning issue at an earlier council meeting. It will now be processed and presented for final approval to the city.

NO QUORUM

'Mousetrap' Is Baited To Lure Crowd Friday

A "recipe for intrigue" describes the mystery, murder and moving plot of "The Mousetrap," a two-act stage production scheduled for presentation Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Wayne High lecture hall.

Eight Wayne High Thespians, each with a lead part, are ready to help the audience take one old house where more than the furniture squeaks; stir in a haunting melody for murder; whip it up into a storm; mix into a bowl of questions; and let the whole thing jell for approximately 90 minutes.

"The Mousetrap" was written by Agatha Christie. Directing the Thespian production is Sheridan Frey, WHS art instructor. Cast members are Chris Peterson, Ron Seymour, Jon Merriman, Janna Beeb, Mike Daier, Elaine

A STRUGGLE TO LIVE. Who is the mysterious figure casting stark terror into the hearts of boarding house residents in "The Mousetrap"? Wayne High Thespians will present the two act play at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the WHS lecture hall. There is never a dull moment as the plot unravels and identity of the killer becomes obvious.

Numerous Area Students Receive WS Scholarships

Nine high school graduates from Wayne, three from Wakefield and one from Winside were among 61 graduates of 32 Nebraska schools, who have been awarded Cooperating School Scholarships for study at Wayne State College. The scholarships provide full tuition at WSC for the 1969-70 school year.

To each high school that cooperates in the Wayne State student-teaching program, the college offers one scholarship in exchange for every five college students who perform directed teaching. Selection of seniors to receive the scholarship is the privilege of each high school.

Wayne High graduates receiving the scholarships are Kathleen Dunklau, Daniel Roberts, Jean Meyer, Katherine Junck, Pamela Benner, Diana Janke, Douglas Nelson, Karen Ann and Nancy Nilsson. Rae Ann Johnson, Constance Roberts and Terry Baker, Wakefield High graduates, and Phyllis Prince, Winside High graduate, also received the scholarships.

Other area students who will have their tuition paid by the college if they attend Wayne State this year include Gary Etkin and Roger Habrock, Emerson; Robert Morse, Pender; Diana Halge, Wisner; and Betty Wood, Stanton.

WHS Plans Programs

Winside Public Schools have scheduled a convocation Tuesday at 12:30 p.m., featuring Victor Ostad, an artist under the management of the Division of Supervised Study, State University, Fargo, N. D., according to Ronald Kramer, principal.

With the aid of pastel chalks, humor and a huge easel, the artist will coordinate background music, fluorescent chalk and black lighting to transform his drawing board into scenes such as in Hawaii or a small farm in the west.

In other Winside school news, parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for today (Thursday) and tomorrow from 8:40 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. There will be no classes in either the elementary or secondary schools during the two days.

'Forgiveness Week' Planned at Library

Procrastinating readers with overdue library books stacked on their bookshelves will have a chance to return them to the Wayne library without being fined during all of next week.

The Wayne library will hold a "Forgiveness week" all next week in observance of National Children's Book Week. There will be no fines for overdue books all week regardless of how long they have been kept.

Rodella Wacker, librarian, noted that all parents are invited to visit the library and look over the display of nearly 100 new children's books. At the same time they may view a motion picture, "And Something More," which depicts the many ways children may be served in the library.

Challenge Accepted; Game Set for Tonight

About a dozen Wayne businessmen will don sweatshirts, shorts and tennis shoes tonight (Thursday) to take up the challenge laid down by a business fraternity at the Wayne State College.

The businessmen will meet the college students in a benefit basketball game tonight at 8:30 in the city auditorium. Proceeds of the donations which will be collected during the contest will go to this year's Community Chest fund-drive. The drive has been lagging behind expectations and needs several good boosts to reach the goal of $10,000.

Collins on IBP

Eddie Collins, the inimitable and popular commentator on today's farm problems, has plenty to say about the strike at Dakota City's Iowa Beef Packers in his column this week. The column appears on the Farm Page in this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Among other things, Collins predicts that the "World War II trench" which surrounds that plant will become the grave for the striking Amalgamated Workers and the farmer-feeders of Siouxland.

Northeast Pork Producers Host to 200 at Banquet

Members and guests of the Northeast Pork Producers Association numbered near 200 Sunday night as they met in the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus for their fourth annual banquet. Lyle DeMoss, radio personality of KBON in Omaha, was guest speaker. Three area men were named recipients of annual swine awards and three were named for the hog show awards.

DeMoss told his audience that he was going to "visit" rather than "speak" to the association which includes swine producers and interested non-producers in Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne counties.

The Omaha radio personality described some of his early experiences in advertising and selling products via the radio and noted that he would like to see more research done in selling

SELECTIVE SERVICE PERSONNEL. Mrs. Bob Bergt of Wayne has assumed her new duties as secretary in the Selective Service office in Wayne. The position was recently vacated by Mrs. Wm. Cawner. Harry Young of Lincoln, field supervisor for the Selective Service, spent last week auditing in the local office. The four Wayne County men leaving for induction early Thursday morning were Larry Redel, Wayne; Keith McClary of Winside; Delmar Wacker of Carroll; and Roger Schwanke of Wayne. The men were sent to Fort Ord, Calif. for training.

WS Players Will Present 3 One-Acts

The audience will join the cast on stage for "Tonight At Eight," Wayne State Players' collection of three one-act plays to be presented arena-style at Bamber Theatre next week.

Certain time is eight o'clock Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings. Three senior drama students are directing.

"The Web," one of Eugene O'Neill's "Ten Lost Plays," Carol Schaffer plays a street walker, Rose Thomas, Roni azio portrays her brutal boyfriend, Steve, and Bill Everitt is a fugitive bank robber, Tim Moran. Richard Kuebler of Cote is director of this drama of desperation.

"The Lottery," directed by Tom Marschall of Omaha, begins with a festive air, and builds swiftly to a shattering and moving climax. The cast is composed of Jeri Sill, Sharon Williams, Gordon Hofmaier, Myron Deander, Kevin Hall, Lannie Hoffman, Charlene Hespe, Sue Smith, Terry Wondt, Pat Brown, Ann Schroeder, Gary Ehler, Nancy Timperly and Donna Turner.

Brad Ford of Wayne brings about a change of mood with his direction of a heartwarming comedy, "The Private Ear," allowing the audience a refreshing release in tension. Admission will be $1.50 with group rates available. Early reservations are encouraged, as will be arena staging, seats will be limited. Box office hours are 1 to 5 p.m., or phone 375-2200, extension 35, or 375-9985.

Wayne-Pender Tie, 8-8

Disappointment filled the air in the Wayne High locker room late Tuesday afternoon after the Blue Devils had to settle for an 8-8 tie with a scrappy Pender squad in the play-off for the Husker Conference crown.

The game started out with long runs and quick scoring and it looked like both teams would tally several touchdowns before the afternoon drew to a close. But stout defense in both squads later halted every sustained drive.

The tie gives Coach Allen Hansen a 9-0-1 mark for the season and ups his three-year record while at Wayne High to 26-2-1. His 1967 team also won the West Husker Conference crown but lost to West Point in the play-off, 19-0. Had this year's crop of gridlers defeated Pender it would have brought the Husker Conference title to Wayne for the first time since 1958.

For a complete story on that oftentimes frustrating Tuesday duel, please turn to the sports section of this issue of The Wayne Herald. Accompanying the story is a full page of pictures taken by a Wayne Herald photographer.

Weather

A few days of dry sky have aided farmers in getting into fields to harvest crops. Periods of sunny skies with several days of overcast tell the week's weather story.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Norfolk forecast temperatures to average five to ten degrees below normal this week. Normal high is 48, normal low is 25 degrees. The bureau anticipates a warming trend today and Friday with lower temperatures again Saturday. Precipitation is expected to average one tenth to one quarter inch occurring as rain or snow between now and Saturday.

'Open House' at Wayne Schools

Wayne Middle School has scheduled "open house" from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, according to Principal Loren Park. He said student council members will serve as hosts and hostesses to parents who would like to tour the school's facilities, observe equipment and look at textbooks.

Teachers will be in their rooms, according to Park, to visit with parents and all other interested citizens.

Refreshments will be served in the school gymnasium.

Wayne High School will have "open house" Nov. 24 from 7 to 9 p.m.

County Christmas Seal Campaign Is Underway

Members and volunteers of the Wayne County tuberculosis and respiratory disease committee have been busily engaged in the process of getting appeal letters and Christmas Seals ready for families in the county, according to Mrs. Gerald Jackson of Wayne, 1969 Christmas Seal county chairman.

Over 1,800 letters with Christmas Seals and return envelopes in them were delivered recently to the Wayne post office for delivery. Helping staff these letters were Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Robert Bentback, Mrs. Don Kerl, Mrs. Cal Ward and Mrs. Richard Arett.

"Many hands make light work," said Mrs. Jackson, "and we are happy to do this annual task in the interest of good health and happiness for all. It exemplifies the real spirit of Christmas and we hope that all those who receive letters will be as willing in their response."

Mrs. Bentback, county committee chairman, noted that over $1,200 was contributed by people in the county during the 1968 Seal campaign. Of that amount 51 per cent went to the state organization for state and national projects and 49 per cent remained in Wayne County. Some of the local money amount is sent to the two Nebraska medical schools for research and some of it is used for educational purposes, Mrs. Bentback pointed out.

Sufficient funds are left in the local treasury to take care of local emergencies, such as rays for families who are unable to meet this expense, she said, handling the local funds this year is Ted Bane of Wayne.

The short 1969 Christmas Seal motion picture featuring Henry Fonda will be shown almost nightly at the Gay Theater in Wayne until the end of December.

The sale of Christmas Seals across the nation officially began Wednesday. It will end at the close of the holiday season.

Hailed Dance Group Booked by WS

One of the world's most celebrated folk spectacles, Frula, will visit Wayne on its current cross-country tour when it comes to the Rice Auditorium stage at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20, sponsored by the Wayne State College special program series.

This will mark the second North American tour within 18 months for the Yugoslav ensemble of 35 dancers, drummers, acrobats, singers and instrumentalists. So successful was its original American visit in January last year that the eight-week tour originally scheduled stretched to eight months. It was the longest consecutive booked tour within a single concert season of any dance show in America's history.

American audiences and critics promptly ranked Frula with Mexico's Ballet Folklorico which performed at Wayne State last year—and Russia's Moliseev Dancers.

The Frula program reflects Yugoslavia's vastly varied cultures, with its long history of influence by neighboring nations and countless invasions from all directions. The result is a rich montage of customs from which the Frula troupe draws for its exuberant dances.

Founder and director of the company is Dragoslav Dzadzovic—the latter name pronounced Ja-juh-vech. He ranks a mong Yugoslavians' foremost athletes—formerly playing on the nation's world champion volleyball team. He has acted in some 30 movies. He also earned a degree in engineering from the University of Belgrade in 1958, but had a hankering to dance, since dancing enjoys the same prestige in Eastern Europe that baseball and football are accorded in America.

Dzadzovic soared to the peaks in dance as he had in athletics, and after becoming the 1919, dancer in two established Yugoslav troupes, he formed his own company. In 1964, those a score of highly talented young dancers and about making Frula into his own particular creation.

The Wayne State performance is open to the public, and tickets will be sold at the door. Admission is free to college students and faculty.

Humorous Speakers Will Vie at Laurel

Speakers from across the state will vie for the funny side of life as they compete for honors during a humorous speech contest scheduled for Laurel Saturday evening, according to Bill Norvell of Laurel, officer in the group sponsoring the contest.

The contest, which is being sponsored by the Toastmasters International District 25, will be held at the Wagon Wheel Steak House in Laurel Saturday at 6:30 p.m. There will be one speaker from each of the eight districts in the state. The public is invited to attend the affair.

Wayne-Pender Lock 8-8 in Husker Play-Off

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, November 13, 1969

Perfect Season Proves Elusive To Allen Hansen

By Norvin Hansen

Wayne and Pender fought to an 8-8 tie in the West Husker Conference play-off Tuesday afternoon.

The tie marks the first time the Husker Conference crown has been shared by two teams since the conference was started in 1947. It also marked the first time since 1961 that a West Husker Conference champion has failed to knock off the West Husker winner in the play-off. Neligh won that 1961 crown by defeating West Point, 14-12.

And that knotted score killed all hopes Coach Allen Hansen had of ending the season with a perfect record, the first time such a feat would have been accomplished since 1941. The tie gives Hansen's Blue Devils a 9-0-1 record for the season, increasing Hansen's three-year mark while at Wayne High to an enviable 26-2-1. Pender finishes the season with an 8-1-1 mark.

Pender	8	0	0	0	8
Wayne	8	0	0	0	8

The tie was probably the most disappointing game of the season for the Penderons. It was certainly the most disappointing and frustrating game for the Blue Devils.

Frustrating is the only way to describe Tuesday's contest, played before an estimated 3,000 fans in Wayne State's Memorial Stadium.

Five times in the game Wayne had drives stymied by costly fumbles and penalties after penetrating inside Pender territory. And that Pender touchdown and conversion which tied the game came when the Blue Devils fumbled away the ball at their own six-yard line after driving for an easy touchdown and a two-pointer the first time they had possession of the ball.

Wayne rolled over the Pender defense for its lone touchdown in only five plays after an alert Randy Helgren pounced on a Pender fumble on Pender's 37. Quarterback Randy Robins—taking over full reins of the Blue Devils for the first time this season—called on Dan Sutherland to spearhead that touchdown drive. Sutherland gained 29 yards in only two carries—one a 22-yard gainer around his left end to Pender's two—before the husky senior tumbled through the middle of the Pender line for the score. Junior Jim Kenny scored the final two points for Wayne when he went into the endzone on the conversion. Time left on the clock: 8:45.

But seven minutes later Pender had knotted the score on a short touchdown plunge by quarterback Tom Weddingfeld and a conversion by workhorse Kevin Tonjes. The touchdown was doubly disappointing to Wayne because of the fine defensive stand of the Blue Devils on their own two-yard line, giving Wayne possession with 4:25 left in the quarter and halting a Pender drive which had started on Wayne's 39. der's Tonjes gave birth to that drive by returning Wayne's kick from his 14 to his 46. A 15-yard penalty for piling mounded the ball into Wayne territory.

But Wayne's offensive unit committed the first of those five costly errors shortly after gaining possession two yards from their goal. Pender's Roger Hoefs recovered the Wayne fumble on Wayne's six-yard line and three plays later Pender was on the scoreboard.

And that was only the start of Wayne's disappointments. About midway in the second quarter the Blue Devil offensive unit had one of its longest drives cut short at the Pender 40 on an illegal procedure penalty. The penalty—and a fine defensive effort by Tonjes to throw quarterback Robins for a 40-yard loss—put the Blue Devils back on their own 40. A pass to end Doug Maurer put Wayne on the 50 and forced them to punt on fourth down and long yardage.

Wayne's Les Echtenkamp, one of the defensive standouts during the contest, gave the Blue Devils another chance to shatter the tie when he recovered a loose ball on Pender's 12 after the Pender center sent the ball over the head of the punter on a punting situation late in the second period. Senior Mike Biltorf was unable to snare either of two passes from Robins in the endzone, forcing Wayne to give up the ball on the 11 with less than 10 seconds before intermission.

Other low points in the Blue Devil offensive attack: A fumble with 1:50 left in the third quarter gave Pender possession on Pender's 46 after tempting the second of two unsuccessful field goals. Twice in that drive Wayne's defensive men literally saved the day when they pulled down Pender runners. Randy Robins cut down senior Pete Faubel on Wayne's 26 after the halfback poked up about 25 yards. And Les Echtenkamp etched his name in the memory of Blue Devil fans once again when he pulled down the always dangerous Tonjes on Wayne's 24 after Tonjes skirted other would-be tacklers.

Although the two teams came out equal on the scoreboard, Wayne had the slight edge in the statistics. Wayne gained 11 first downs, Pender nine. And the local gridgers compiled a total of 207 offensive yards—161 by rushing and 46 by passing—compared to Pender's 154 yards—131 rushing and 23 passing.

Senior Dan Sutherland led Wayne's often erratic offense, gaining 93 yards in 15 carries. Quarterback Robins had 23 yards in seven carries. Mike Biltorf, also a senior, lugged the ball seven times for 15 yards and junior Tony Fluesser came up with 13 yards in five carries. Leading gainer for Pender was speedy Tonjes. He had 66 yards in 20 carries. Compiling 52 yards in only eight attempts was halfback Pete Faubel.

Outstanding defensive efforts were turned in by Ken Jorgensen, Randy Robins and Les Echtenkamp, all seniors. Each gained eight tackles and at least three assists. Steve Kamish had six tackles, four assists, and Rich Robins had six tackles, three assists. Dan Sutherland helped out in 10 tackles and did the job by himself four times.

The Blue Devils fought their way to a tie with Pender for the Husker Conference crown Tuesday afternoon on the Wayne State field. That tie, an 8-8 affair, gives them a 9-0-1 mark for the season. A victory in that game would have Wayne High its first undefeated season since 1941. This year's record ups Coach Allen Hansen's three-year mark while at Wayne High to 26-2-1.

Hunters Take Note

Avid hunters in the Wayne area can get information on farms which permit hunting by stopping in at the Wayne County ASCS office in Wayne.

There are 17 farms in the county Cropland Adjustment Program which have public access agreements to permit hunting. The ASCS office has maps with the directions to these farms and these are available upon request.

GOOD HUNTING: Terry Pflueger, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Pflueger of Wayne, shot his first deer north of Ponca Saturday around 8:30 a.m. The six-point white-tail buck had a field-dressed weight of 200 lbs. Terry's deer neared the 200 lb. weight of the top deer weighed at the Ponca weighing station in 1968. The youthful hunter is a student at Wayne State College.

Simple solution to rising car prices.

The Simple Machine.

Ford Maverick. Still $1995*

Our small car has scored a big success. And the reason is simple—solid value. Now, with other car prices going up all around it, Maverick is going its own Maverick way. It still costs $1995* and that's still a small price to pay for a car that's simple to drive... simple to park... simple to service... simple to repair... and simple to own.

Simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage.

Simple to park. Maverick can turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. It can nip around corners and slide into tight parking spaces with amazing agility.

Simple to service. Maverick is easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications, too. You save time and money.

Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself like change spark plugs, adjust ignition timing, and more. Fenders and grille can be replaced in a matter of minutes.

Simple to own. The simple machine can start solving money problems for you right now. Check it out at your Ford Dealer's. The price that made it famous now makes it a better buy than ever.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the car. White sidewall tires are not included; they are $32.00 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges, and state and local taxes vary, they are not included. Nor is extra equipment that is specifically required by state laws.

Blue Devils Dinner Set For Nov. 21

Wayne High's football squad, one of the most successful ones for over two decades, will receive recognition during the annual appreciation banquet slated for Friday evening, Nov. 21.

The banquet, which will begin at 6:30 in the Birch Room in Wayne State's Student Union, will be smorgasbord style. Tickets are available for $2.50 each.

An added attraction this year: the parents of the gridgers and the general public are invited to the banquet. Previous banquets have been limited to football players and their sponsors.

Although no speaker has been picked yet, the committee working on the banquet hopes to have one chosen within the next few days.

Parents and the public may pick up tickets in Wayne from either Lee Foote at First National Bank or Ted Armbruster at State National Bank. Tickets for businessmen, who will be asked to pay for one player's meal, will be sold during store hours.

Stars Not Unattainable For WSC Footballers

Five weeks ago the Wayne State football looked up from the bottom of a hole and saw stars. The hole was the team's record of four losses, no victories. The stars were visible because in the 34-29 fourth game loss to Chadron, the Wildcats put together their first offensive show, and since then they have climbed to a 3-4-1 mark, averaging 30 points in the last five games. Saturday night they will climb toward a season-ending win over Lea College at Albert Lea, Minn. A victory will sprinkle sugar on Head Coach Del Stoltenberg's debut as a college coach after a bitter beginning. The year is reminiscent of the first year John Jermier came to Wayne State as head coach in 1962. His team lost the first three, then won the final five. And the first game was a discouraging 62-6 loss to Northeast Missouri State. This year Wayne's opener was a 56-0 trouncing by Emporia State. But Wayne has administered two trouncings of 55-6 and 49-0 since then, and the Wildcats beat favored Kearney State in everything but the score, a 10-0 tie. Now the Cats have in mind beating Lea as a present for eight seniors: Dennis Sealey and

48 in City BB League

Forty-eight men were signed up as of Tuesday to take part in this year's city basketball league, according to Hank Overin, city recreation director. The men will be divided into six teams of eight players each and will begin competition next Wednesday evening. There will be no practice for the members of the league this coming Monday night. Overin said games will be played on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7, 8 and 9 p.m. There will not be games every Monday night. Overin said he will have the full schedule for this year's games worked out within the next few days. It will be published in The Wayne Herald as soon as he finishes it.

Internal Revenue Firearms Official Cites Results of Federal Gun Law

Already nine indictments have been returned in Omaha in Nebraska cases of violations of the Gun Control Act of 1968, James Harmon, IRS Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Chief Special Investigator for the States of Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, reported recently.

Harmon pointed out that nearly four times as many gun violation cases were initiated nationally in the first six months of 1969 under the Gun Control Act as in the last six months of 1968 under both the National and Federal Firearms Acts.

Under the new law, he said, 1,237 cases were recommended for prosecution compared to a total of only 359 cases under the National and Federal Firearms Acts.

Harmon noted that the Gun Control Act was passed by Congress to assist the States in control of firearms within their borders. The IRS administers and enforces the 1968 Act as it did with the previous gun laws.

The Gun Control Act, Harmon said, expanded controls on commercial and private transactions involving firearms and ammunition, and on their transportation, shipment and receipt in interstate or foreign commerce.

He said, among other things, that the act:

- Channels interstate and foreign commerce in firearms through federally licensed importers, manufacturers, and dealers;

- Provides for a licensing system with meaningful standards to assure that licenses will be issued only to responsible persons actually engaged in business as importers, manufacturers, and dealers, and provides for licensing collectors of curios and relics.

- Prohibits sales of firearms by Federal licensees to persons under 21 years of age, except that sales of rifles and shotguns can be made to persons at least 18 years of age;

- Permits a Federal licensee to sell a firearm only to persons who are residents of the State where the licensee is doing business, except in special circumstances;

- Prohibits sales of firearms by licensees when they know or have reasonable cause to believe that the purchaser is a convicted felon or under indictment for a felony, a fugitive from justice, a narcotics addict or user, or a person who has been found mentally defective or who has been committed to a mental institution;

- Provides for more emphasis on the record-keeping responsibilities of licensees and for authority to furnish record information to state and local law enforcement authorities; and

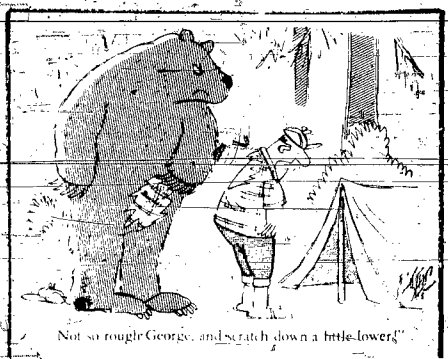

- Bans the importation into the U.S. of surplus military firearms.

Harmon said the law covers "gangster-type" weapons and destructive devices. Machine guns, sawed-off and short-barreled shotguns and rifles, mufflers and silencers, he said, were covered in the old National Firearms Act, while the newer law further covers machine gun frames and receivers, so-called "conversion kits" for turning other weapons into machine guns, and any combinational of parts from which a machine gun can be assembled. Destructive devices included in the law are explosive, incendiary or poisonous gas bombs, grenades, rockets, missiles, mines or similar devices, plus weapons with a bore more than one-half inch in diameter, such as mortars, anti-tank guns and bazookas.

The act also eliminated an unconstitutional element involving self-incrimination by providing that registration data may not be used in a prosecution.

In addition to the gun law, the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 makes it unlawful for convicted felons, mental incompetents, dishonorably discharged servicemen, unlawful aliens or persons who have renounced their U.S. citizenship to receive, possess, or transport any firearm in commerce or affecting commerce. The penalty for a violation is a fine of as much as $10,000 or imprisonment of up to two years or both.

HEAD TABLE: Over 200 American Legion members and guests turned out for the 34th annual Dixon County American Legion and Auxiliary convention in Allen Tuesday night. Speaker for the evening was C. O. Emrich, manager of the Norfolk Livestock Market.

Police Report Includes Accidents and Assault

Early November has filled Wayne Police Department records with numerous complaints and accidents, including larceny and assault.

A light on the Masonic Lodge property at Ninth and Lincoln streets was smashed; two black ornamental poodle dogs were stolen from the lawn at 929 Logan; signs at the new Knolls addition were torn down and destroyed; a shoplifter in downtown Wayne was apprehended; a report of an assault with a deadly weapon in the 700 block on Main was turned in to police and two men had a fight in a downtown bar with the result that one of the men was taken to the hospital for treatment of a cut eye and possible rib fracture; all of these were recorded in the police files on the first day of November.

A party or parties attempted to break into a pop machine at the M & S service station at Seventh and Main on Nov. 2. Officers were also called upon to make an ambulance trip to Sioux City that day.

Police investigated when a 1961 Pontiac driven by Leona Bahde was backing up in the driveway of the State National Bank Nov. 3 and bumped into a 1965 Chevrolet driven by Candee K. Beckner. Damage to the Beckner auto was estimated at $38.

Officers checked out several business buildings that were left unlocked, made an ambulance run, and checked a car blocking an alley in the 900 block on Windsor, Nov. 3.

Janet Lamp was northbound in a 1959 Ford Nov. 6 on Nebraska Street and was in collision with a 1966 Chevrolet driven by Donald Lusmann of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who was westbound on Fourth Street. Drivers said they didn't see the other, according to the police report.

A second accident Nov. 6 was reported when a 1966 Chevrolet owned by Harry Woehler was struck by an unknown vehicle while it was parked at 516 East Sixth Street.

Authorities were called to check on a family disturbance Saturday and another Wayne resident told police Sunday that she had received 21 phone calls. When she answered the telephone the caller would not answer.

A complaint was filed with the police Monday saying that three and wheels were stolen from an auto on the Wolke Auto Co. parking lot. A battery was stolen from a truck at the Coryell Derby Station the same day.

Tuesday morning around 8:15 a.m. David Johnson was westbound on Seventh Street riding a Yamaha motorbike. He was turning left onto Dearborn Street, the police reported, when in collision with a Rambler driven by George Scheldt of Pender who had started to pass Johnson at the intersection. Officers said the Scheldt vehicle left over 49 feet of skid marks.

WHS Pupils to Laurel Confab

Wayne High School upper classmen and their parents are being urged to attend "College Night" at Laurel High School Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m., according to Ken Carlson, guidance counselor.

Carlson noted that Wayne High will furnish buses for students attending the event. He said students who plan on going are to indicate that intention in his office this week.

Dixon

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Troth, Bozeman, Mont., were coffee guests Wednesday morning in the Harold George home and supper guests of Leroy Creamers.

WVFD Answer Alarms

Winside firemen answered two fire calls last weekend. They went to the Leroy Herscheld farm south of Winside about 5 p.m. Friday when a tractor caught fire. The tractor was destroyed and an attached compactor was damaged. Firemen from Stanton were also summoned to the blaze.

The department was called to the William L'ibengood home Monday morning around 11:30 a.m. Firemen report the damage was minor with considerable smoke damage and the blaze was believed to have started from a trash fire near the house.

It's Not Too Early

C. O. Emrich emphasized the role small agricultural communities must play if the world is to have peace when he spoke at the annual banquet of Dixon County American Legion members and Auxiliary Tuesday night.

About 200 people heard Emrich speak during the banquet held in the Allen High School auditorium. It capped the 34th annual convention.

Emrich told the group that the strong and wealthy nations of the world are going to have to spread their affluence to the weaker and poorer nations if we hope to break the chain of wars and conflicts which have marked the past 50 years.

One way to spread this affluence, he said, is to find better methods of distributing America's great quantities of food. "Our problem is not one of over production as some have said; it is one of underdistribution," noted Emrich.

Emrich also pointed out that the larger nations of the world must cease holding a "club" over the head of the smaller nations. "This must stop if we want peace and not war."

The banquet, which tied into this year's Veterans' Day, included an explanation of the American Legion emblem. Toastmaster for the affair was Jule C. Swanson of Allen.

Keith Hill of Allen gave up his duties as county commander of the American Legion during the day. Assuming those duties for the coming year is Joe Heckens of Emerson. Dave Wachorn of Ponca is the new county vice-commander.

Thirty-five members attended the business meeting.

Expect Big Turnout For Denney Dinner

Reports from the nine north-east Nebraska counties which will be attending Congressman Robert V. Denney's Congressional Reception dinner at Norfolk on Friday indicate that attendance will be large.

Dinner chairman Robert D. Harrison said that many people have purchased their tickets early. He urged those who wish to attend to contact their Republican county chairman while tickets are still available. Congressman Denney's "congressional report" to those attending the dinner will be followed by a question and answer session.

Entertainment will feature the Norfolk High School stage band. The 7 p.m. dinner will be held at the Norfolk City Auditorium. The dinner is one of a series of four "congressional reports" being held by Congressman Denney in the first congressional district.

Adult Farmer Class Has Five Students

Five farmers from the Wayne area turned out Monday evening for the first meeting of the dairy production portion of the adult farmer classes being offered at Wayne High School.

The dairy production part of the offering will include classes on the next two coming Monday nights. Teaching the specialists is Don Kibicki, swine specialist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

Next part of the adult classes will be beef production. Classes in that area will be held on Dec. 22, Dec. 29 and Jan. 5. Final offering will be corn production, scheduled for Jan. 12, 19 and 26.

The classes, which meet at 8 p.m. at the high school, are still open and anybody in the area who wishes to attend them should contact either Lee Footes or Francis Haun, both of Wayne. Cost of each portion of the offering is $3.

Charles Heydon Services Held In Ponca Church

Funeral services for Charles Heydon, 75, were held Monday at the Presbyterian Church, Ponca. Mr. Heydon died Nov. 7, 1969 at a Sioux City hospital.

The Rev. Charles Klaut officiated at the rites. Burial was in the Ponca Cemetery.

Charles F. Heydon was born Mar. 4, 1894 at Ponca. He was an implement dealer and farmed near Ponca before moving to Long Beach, Calif. He lived there until 1943 when he moved to Sioux City. Mr. Heydon was a former manager of the Ponca baseball team and a member of the Ponca Odd Fellows Lodge. He also was a World War I veteran and former commander of the Ponca American Legion Post. He was married July 3, 1923 to Rachel Curry.

Survivors include his widow; three sons, Johnnie and Ralph of Long Beach, Calif., and Donovan of Ponca; three brothers, Ed of Newcastle, Byron of Wakefield and Carroll of Laurel; three sisters, Mrs. Abbie Rhoads, Mrs. Alice Elliott and Mrs. Inez Dubes, all of Sioux City; 12 grandchildren; three step grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Challenge — The public is invited to attend the game.

The fraternity which challenged the businessmen to the game, Delta Sigma Pi, came up with the idea of the benefit game as their contribution to the fund drive. Members of the fraternity plan on advertising the game by dribbling basketballs in the business district all day today.

Men planning on suiting up for tonight's game include Gary Vytiska, Sid Jillicher, Wayne Wessell, Norvin Hansen, Ken Dahl, Roger Lantz, John Rebersdorf, Larry Teist, Tom Dalton, Hank Overin, Don Kramer and Ted Rahe.

No Quorum — The subdivision, Robert Vakoc, told these councilmen present that he could not understand how the city expects to ever attract any industry if the industry would have to go through all the trouble he has had to in order to obtain approval of his subdivision.

"We wasted considerable time and money in just getting approval of the plat," Vakoc said, "he said he doubted any industry would bother to do the same thing.

A person who owns land north of the city also spoke to the members present about the reasons the council has for investigating the possibility of annexing several portions of land in and around the city limits. Wilmer Marra, council president, told the person that the council is only looking into the possibility at the present time and has not yet decided what land areas it may annex. Marra said the main reason for the possible annexation is to raise the population of the city before the 1970 census. This would enable the city to get a larger share of state and federal funds because these are often based on the city's population, he noted.

Tomorrow's food and Fiber—Everybody's Business. Is the theme of the 14th annual National Farm-City Week, to be observed November 21-27, according to Neal Baxter of North Platte, state Farm-City Week chairman.

Baxter, a University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension district supervisor, said Farm-City Week is traditionally dedicated to improving urban-rural understanding. "It is particularly appropriate at this time of year that those who live on farms and ranches and residents of towns and cities demonstrate appreciation for each other and their respective contributions to our society," Baxter noted.

To be effective, efforts during Farm-City Week must deal with significant mutual problems that can be solved only through the joint thinking and planning of all sectors of Nebraska economy and society, the state chairman emphasized.

Scores to Students
Wayne High School freshmen have received the results of achievement and scholastic ability tests taken in September, according to Ken Carlson, guidance counselor.

Carlson said the scores were each accompanied with explanatory material and that students are urged to contact him concerning the results. He noted that parents are welcome to contact his office concerning the scores.

WHS juniors have received the results of the Hudson Occupational Interest Inventory, an interest test taken earlier this semester. The counselor reported. Carlson said an interpretive leaflet accompanied each student's score card and he is urging all juniors to see him to discuss the results.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Why Me?

Human anguish takes many forms and is present in every community on a daily schedule. As long as it happens to someone else we may casually observe "That's too bad," or "Isn't that terrible!"

As you hold this paper in your hands and read these words there are cries of anguish elsewhere in the world. Many of those cries are due to horrible fires and cause the individuals affected to ask, "Why me?"

Right at this moment there are fires raging out of control consuming life and property. Sometimes even those who attempt to fight the hungry flames are devoured. A fire is rather like an unleashed monster, uncaged and ferocious, destroying all that gets in its way.

Would you guess that today, inadequate organized fire protection, or none at all, exists on 420 million acres of combustible cropland, pasture, nonmountainous rangeland and farmsteads? Are you aware that the estimated annual death toll from rural fires alone is around the 1,000 mark? A recent report states that over 4 million acres burn annually on state and privately owned rural lands and that structures and equipment worth $208 million were lost in 1967.

What started out as "burning a little trash" has ended in disaster many times over. Even repeated reminders can't keep some people from smoking carelessly and throwing away a still-smouldering cigarette butt. Firebugs who wouldn't think of burning a $10,000 house will set fire to $25,000 worth of timber.

How long has it been since you checked your home or farm for possible conditions conducive to fire? Combustibles which are improperly stored, such as fuel, grease, and paint, may be the fuel ready for a wayward spark. Poor electrical wiring, a child with matches, smoking, or a wind while burning trash, may destroy most of a person's life savings.

As we near the season of Christmas trees and related decorations the possibility of fire increases in the majority of homes.

Just as sure as you are reading this editorial there will be a number of homes gutted by fire within the next 24 hours in the United States. More likely than not the occupants will wonder, "Why me?"

It is a lot better to prevent a fire than to fight one. If everyone takes every precaution against fire on his or her property perhaps tragedy can be averted. — MMW.

Now You Can Take Action

American families are shocked on occasion by advertisements which find offensive in believe to be morally harmful to their children. While in most cases the ads are not legally obscene and are therefore mailable, they are clearly unwelcome in many homes.

A family receiving a pandering advertisement which it finds offensive has authority under a new Federal law to ask that its members receive no more mail of any kind from the sender. An advertisement is considered pandering if it offers to sell material which is, in the opinion of the recipient, "erotic, arousing or sexually provocative."

The individual mail patron is the sole judge of whether an advertisement is offensive to him. This law gives families the right to decide they want no more mail from such a firm, but it does not deny others the right to an unrestricted flow of material which is mailable.

Families receiving advertising from U. S. mails which they believe is pandering can ask a postmaster to direct that the promoter send no more mail, of any kind, to them. The sender is also ordered to remove the family's name from any mailing lists he owns, controls or rents.

When the patron's request is properly submitted the Post Office Department sends a "prohibitory order" directing the sender to refrain from any further mailing of any kind to the complaining patron.

The patron must bring any violation of the order to the attention of the postmaster who issued the order, enclosing all matter, such as the second mailing and its envelope.

If the mailer still fails to respect the order, and the Department finds that it is being violated, the Postmaster General will ask the Attorney General to apply for a Federal Court order directing compliance. Failure to observe the court's order may be punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

To initiate an order, send the offensive advertisement, its envelope and signed form to postmaster with the words: "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of your envelope.

Capitol News — Auto Inspection Director Quits Because of Low Pay

LINCOLN — The man who headed the state motor vehicle inspection program during its infancy has resigned.

Rayfield Johnson, who was hired in July of 1968 to head the program, said he was quitting to enter private industry. He said the primary reason was the low pay in the state job. He was receiving $605 per month.

State Motor Vehicles Director Larry C. Johns praised Johnson for "an exceptional job." He said he was "astonished" when he learned Johnson was quitting.

Johns said John Cerveny, assistant department director, would serve as acting supervisor of the inspection program until a successor to Johnson is chosen. Television Career Unlikely

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann said he wasn't likely to turn to a career as a dramatic actor, despite his "flawless" performance on a nationally televised show last week.

Tiemann had been flown to Hollywood earlier for the filming of a brief episode on the CBS network show, "The Governor and J.J." The show stars Julie Sommers of Fremont and veteran actor Dan Dailey.

Although many Nebraskans watched the governor's short performance, Tiemann wasn't one of them. He was at a Republican fundraising dinner at Central City that night and missed the show. He said he hadn't even seen a film-clip.

Tiemann said the scene had to be filmed twice, but he said it wasn't his fault. He said there was camera trouble on the first "take."

In the Governor's Mansion, the Tiemann family watched the performance. Mrs. Tiemann, the governor said, reported: "You looked all right and you sounded all right."

Many of his statehouse friends and other associates, Tiemann said, have been kidding him about the acting debut.

The best crack, he said, was made by Lancaster County Atty. Paul Douglas. "I sneezed and missed it," Douglas told the governor.

In his short dialogue with Dailey, Tiemann invites the television "governor" to lunch and kids him about his turtle-neck shirt (on the plot, Dailey's shirts are lost by a laundry). "If you have any trouble getting in (to the restaurant), tell them you're with me," Tiemann said.

Announcement Party Scheduled

"PERHAPS THE REASON MY GRADES ARE SO POOR IS THAT YOU ARE NOT REACHING OUT TO ME AS AN INDIVIDUAL — FAR ENOUGH OUT, THAT IS."

State Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha is already an announced candidate for the GOP lieutenant governor nod.

On the congressional front, meanwhile, John V. McCollister of Omaha has announced he will try for the Republican nomination in the second district. That seat is now held by Rep. Glenn Cunningham, also a Republican.

Classifications Board Named

The governor last week named the 11 members of the Board of Public Road Classifications and Standards created by one of the bills in the highway package approved by the 1969 legislature.

The board is to establish the standards for all categories of public roads in the state. State, county and city governments are to improve existing roads until they meet the new standards. Tiemann made these appointments:

Representing city officials — Alfred E. Rasmussen, Grand Island public works director; Marvin Athey, Imperial utilities superintendent and city engineer; and Gene F. Jordan, Omaha public works director.

Representing county officials — R. Doyle Hanson, Newcastle, Dixon County board chairman; Melvin Ommen, Uadilla, Otoe County board member; and Robert L. Gaugel, Scotts Bluff County highway superintendent.

Representing the state — Donald Swine, location and pre-design engineer, and Bruce Gillan, deputy state engineer for planning.

Representing the public — Floyd Burkishaw, Jamison; A. V. Sorenson, Omaha, and C. D. Ackerman, Beatrice.

Wayne City Code:

Section 7-501: "In addition to the performance of their regular and ordinary duties, it shall be the duty of all firemen to go to the aid of all persons, animals, or property in immediate distress or danger with the city and render to them such help and assistance as may lie within their power. The firemen shall also render such assistance outside the city limits upon order of the chief of the fire department. In case any fireman should be injured while rendering such additional service as herein mentioned, he shall be deemed to have been injured within the course of his employment and entitled to workmen's compensation therefore as provided by law."

Out of Old

Nebraska

"Nebraska Ghost Towns"

One of the most thriving enterprises in early Nebraska was the founding of towns. Organized as centers of supply, they were often ventures of speculators. Investigations published in Nebraska History, the journal of the Nebraska State Historical Society, several years ago indicate that an important distinction is to be made between actual and paper towns, the latter frequently being openly publicized as such. The paper town gimmick had become so common that by 1858 the Territorial Legislature meeting in Omaha City enacted a statute restricting and regulating "The Entry and Disposal of Town Sites."

An imaginary map of Nebraska would be dotted by former areas of settlement, not mere villages but large centers of commerce and social intercourse. Potential steamboat landing sites were regularly exploited by

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Not all is quiet on the Western Front. The trenches are dug... disappointingly shallow. They scar the entire packing industry. Iowa Beef Packers dramatically started their operation at Denison, Iowa, within days of the Jack Kennedy inauguration. Almost closed the first week because of well water which turned the beef carcass red, IBP has been molded into the nation's strongest and largest independent packing plant ever. Independent. Is hardly the word.

Three men have abruptly changed the nation's cattle history. Jesse Chisholm, the Cherokee trader, in 1866 moved cattle through the Indian territory from San Antonio to Abilene. Gustafus Swift, who made fresh meat a year-around, giant corporate operation. Currier Holman, who envisioned and revolutionized decentralized procurement and growth.

Currier is also known for digging the longest trench grave in packer history at Dakota City. In it, I believe, will be buried three forms... Iowa Beef Packers, The Amalgamated Workers and the farmer-feeders of Siouxland. One an innocent, too innocent, bystander. Last week I interviewed thirty-seven involved personnel. Strikers, workers, picketers, union leaders, plant sub-chiefs. At the plant, at the gate, in the bars, on the telephone, in the union hall. Of 17 women interviewed, not one had ever been paid as well. Farmhand small town girls who two to five years ago were worrying about the Junior prom are now active dissenters. Some shy, and some with startling cold contempt.

Iowa Beef Packers pay well below competition... they always have. IBP offered a 30¢ an hour raise, but deleted were fringe benefits, with the profit-sharing of the past. But this is not the true disagreement... the future is.

When IBP employees, mostly female, accepted the Amalgamated Union, they accepted and sought the strike. Mostly, mere kids... Under 25. Opposing them is not IBP, a corporation, but Currier-Holman. Proud, capable, iron-willed, dogmatic, honest, wealthy, with wide vision but narrow understanding. Currier has never yielded to strike pressure. He never will.

The union heads are not battling merely IBP. They worry not of the dozen river market plants that have closed in the last twenty years. This is their job... their thing.

Personal opinion and forecast: both sides are greedy. Neither will arbitrarily settle this strike. Tempers will flare. Work in at least six of eight IBP plants will be halted or curtailed. Iowa Beef Stock will drop to $25. I predict a conglomerate merger upon which management will make additional fortunes on existing stock options. The striking kids will move on, some to school, some to marriage. To union heads it's just another Iowa autumn spent repeating the same patriotic and organizational phraseology used a thousand times. Individuals proud of closing Armour, Cudahy and Swift plants will boast of the shallow victories.

Who loses? The farmer, the cattleman, both innocent. Except, how could they ever have permitted IBP to solidly capture a six hundred square mile territory? To allow territorial monopoly?

The entire nation's cattle future sits, on both sides of that World War I trench. One advantage, if Tennessee Gas ever absorbs Iowa Beef, Mr. Holman will have experience to ramrod a transcontinental pipe line ala Big Inch.

CATTLE FORECASTS: We need that strike stopped. Immediately.

"It's about time somebody came to man the trenches!"

Youths Needed for 4-H European Tour

A group of Nebraska 4-H'ers will be touring Europe next summer in the People-to-People travel program, according to W. M. Antes, state 4-H club leader.

The three-week tour, July 6-27, will include Belgium, Holland, Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Club members 16 years and older are urged to write direct to Harold Stevens, Dawson county agent, Lexington, who will lead the delegation, Antes said.

The European experiences will contribute to better understanding and improved international relations while providing valuable educational experiences for the participants.

The 4-H'ers will visit agricultural operations in the countries and will have opportunities to talk with young farmers and students, Antes said. Visits also will be made with U. S. Embassy Agricultural Attaches, farm and other agricultural interests.

Farm Inventory

If a fire breaks out in your barn, granary, garage or house, would you be able to report the value of the items destroyed? Suppose thieves "ransack" a building on your farm. Could you recall the value of articles stolen?

Many people think that an inventory of articles in each building is a waste of time, but when something is destroyed or stolen most everyone has difficulty recalling the value. At this time a current and up-to-date inventory suddenly becomes extremely important.

An inventory can also serve as a guide when purchasing household or farm insurance.

Inventories also provide the basis for net worth or property statements required by many banks as a partial basis for credit. A comparison of your net worth from year to year is the only means of telling whether you're actually making financial progress.

If you decide that you need an inventory of your farm or home equipment, be sure to include the following: A description of each article, purchase date and cost, manufacturer and serial numbers and any special information that will be useful in estimating value or locating the items.

Once a complete inventory has been made, it is a simple matter to revise the list when an article is discarded, traded in or new items purchased, but don't forget to bring it up to date periodically. Another point to keep in mind is the safe storage of farm or home inventories. Store the inventory in a place where it will not be stolen or destroyed by fire. Also, make an extra copy to put in your bank's safety deposit box.

Plans Available

The house that Jack built didn't take the "jack" it does today. But the Forest Products Laboratory, operated by the U. S. Forest Service at Madison, Wis., has done something about the higher costs of building.

Designs for five low-cost homes are now available from the laboratory. House plans, abbreviated specifications, a bill of materials and floor plans for two to five bedroom low-cost houses may be obtained. Plans can be built with either two or four bedrooms.

Demonstrating the cost-cutting methods, a 1,404 square-foot house in the Arena, Wis. area will soon be built for $10,650, or less than $8 per square foot.

packaging to reach stored foods. An Old World cousin, the house mouse, is also found indoors. This grey rodent lives and breeds within the house, and its numbers increase rapidly. It eats the same types of household foods as its cousin.

Mouseproof your house to keep mice out. If a garage is attached to your house, make sure all doors are in good repair and tightly closed. A mouse can get in through a hole the size of a nickel.

Replace any broken windows or torn screens at ground level and shut all the cellar windows and doors. Usually, mice won't gnaw their way in - they get inside through existing openings. And they usually come in at ground level; they seldom climb up to look for an opening.

The best control for mice is still the trap. Peanut butter or bits of bacon are a most effective bait. Commercially prepared traps also control mice, but don't use them around the kitchen or in places where youngsters or pets can be tempted. Also, remove any dead mice immediately.

As an added precaution, put traps or bait near strategic areas where mice are most likely to get into your house. If you already have a large number of mice inside, contact a reputable pest control operator, preferably a member of a state or national pest control association.

This cost does not include land, well or septic system costs. The plans provides a means for low-cost construction of rural homes. Ranchers will find them practical for tenant homes or as replacements for older ranch homes. Floor space runs from 576 to 1,404 square feet of usable living space in one and one-half story homes.

The free plans may be obtained by writing the Forest Products Laboratory, P. O. Box 5130, Madison, Wis. 53785. A publication, "Low-Cost Wood Homes for Rural America - Construction Manual," is available for $1 from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. The manual will assist the do-it-yourself carpenter.

The time to begin planning for next year's tree plantings is during the winter months, advises Vost. Soil Conservation Service personnel will assist with these plans if requested by the land owner or operator.

Corn, Sorghum Harvest Risky Time for Farmers

A dangerous season for Nebraska farmers is well underway as corn and sorghum harvesting again poses many safety problems. This warning comes from Rollin D. Schneider, Extension safety specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Schneider said that every corn harvest is responsible for more accidents than either the milo or soybean harvests. However, he pointed out that the number of corn harvest accidents has decreased tremendously in the past few years.

Corn harvest, he said, has become much safer, with improved corn varieties and uniform ear length lessening harvest problems. Cultural practices, backed by chemicals for weed control, have resulted in fewer weed problems. Thus, there is less possibility of corn combines or pickers plugging up.

Most important, Schneider said, was the change from corn picker to corn combine. The combine has eliminated many of the dangerous parts found in the picker which were responsible for frequent operator injuries.

The safety specialist suggests several safety rules for farmers during harvest. He warns against oiling, adjusting or unclogging any machine while it is in motion or while the machine is running. If the machine is oiled from a platform, there is no problem. Any machine should also be kept in good mechanical condition and proper adjustment. If there are shields on the machine or if the machine was purchased with shields, they should be kept in place. Safety-minded persons can make their own shields if they desire, he noted.

Dust, shocks and other trash should be kept away from the exhaust manifold, to avoid danger of fire. This makes it important to carry a fire extinguisher or at least a shovel for putting out fires.

Over a period of time, Schneider said, drowsiness due to the numbing or hypnotic effect of machine noise can overcome the operator, causing an accident. A short break, as for light lunch or coffee, or rotating with another worker, is a good safety measure.

Conservation Expert: Plan Windbreaks Now

With the approaching winter season, many people are recalling the large amounts of snow received last year. But one person who is especially concerned is the livestock feeder who was hampered in his feeding operations last winter.

While not giving complete protection, large woodland windbreaks around farms last year resulted in only minimum amounts of snow in the feed yards, according to William Vost of the Soil Conservation Service office in Wakefield. A well planned and cared for windbreak not only provides pro-

All Wool Producers Can Get Payments Under National Act

All producers who marketed wool or mohair in 1969 are eligible for incentive payments made under the National Wool Act.

This reminder comes from Harry Heinemann, acting county ASC committee chairman, who said that occasionally a producer with only a few head of sheep does not realize incentive payments on shorn wool are available to him. Wool producers are reminded that applications should be filed at the county ASC office. Requests should be filed as soon as 1969 wool marketings are completed and no later than Jan. 31 in any case.

Northeast Extension Notes

by Mary A. Schluckebier

Here Come The Mice Cooler fall weather may invite visitors to your house - including such unwelcome ones as disease spreading mice.

When the mouse population increases after the fall breeding season, overcrowding in the woods forces mice to find a new home - in your house. Once inside, the mice usually nest behind baseboards and walls, often gnawing wood and cotton for nest-building materials.

In the woods, mice eat nuts, berries, seeds and insects and the tender bark of growing trees. But, inside your house, they turn to fruit, crackers, stored cereals and other food crumbs. They will gnaw through cardboard and other

- ② Anti-theft column lock: A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your ignition but your steering wheel as well.
- ③ Aluminized exhaust system: It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to. Fair enough?
- ④ Side guard beams: They look like highway guard rails, and they're built into both sides of the car for extra protection in case of impact. Not too many cars have them.
- ⑤ Inner fenders: Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.
- ⑥ Flush and dry: We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out. Air follows to the drying.
- ⑦ Full Coil suspension: Huge coil springs at all four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low priced car has any right to.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Weible spent the weekend in the Mrs. Lauric Centretto and Eugene Weible homes, Omaha.

PLAYBOY ran ten well-stacked pages on this film!

"A sort-of 'What's New Pussycat?' brought up to today's level! Filmed in the new style... slick cinema... bright wit... satiric barbs!"

"A zany erotobiography! The wackiest, sexiest film yet!"

There are some scenes so explicit, so realistic, so natural that "IT MAKES 'BLOW-UP' LOOK LIKE SHIRLEY TEMPLE IN 'LITTLE MISS MARKER'!"
