AFS Cards and Pennies To Aid Exchange Pupils

Wayne High School student council members and friends sold all of the 250 American Field Service Christmas note card packets they had on hand during their Tuesday night sales campaign last week in the residential district of Wayne, according to Ken Carlson, guidance counselor.

Carlson said the sale of the note cards was a "huge success" netting the AFS a total of $170 profit. The money will be used toward bringing another AFS student to Wayne next year.

Wayne High School freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors were competing last week in seeing which class could contribute the greatest number of pennies toward a "mile-of-pennies" fund raising project for the AFS.

The freshmen won the contest and were consequently awarded a "stop day" Wednesday when they were allowed to attend school in casual dress and the sophomores, juniors and seniors were all "slaves."

'Geneva Story' Will Be Told at Wakefield Meet

Roy R. Gray, consultant in health and physical education for the State Department of Education, will present a program concerning "The Geneva Story" in the multi-purpose room at the Wakefield Elementary School Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m., according to Wakefield Public School administrators.

WHS Open House Has Small Turnout

Just over 100 people turned out for the Wayne High School open house Monday night, according to Principal Fred Hickers. Hickers described the turnout as much lower than expected.

1969 All-Stars Announced

Wayne and Pierce, teams which finished No. 1 and 2 in the West Husker Conference this year, dominate the second annual All-Star Football Team selected by division coaches and The Wayne Herald.

Wayne placed eight men on the team and Pierce placed six. Both schools had one player — Dan Sutherland of Wayne and Kim Thomas of Pierce — who made the team at both offensive and defensive positions.

Four placed three men on this year's squad. Three other schools in the West Husker Conference — Walsby, Neligh and Bloomfield — placed one player each.

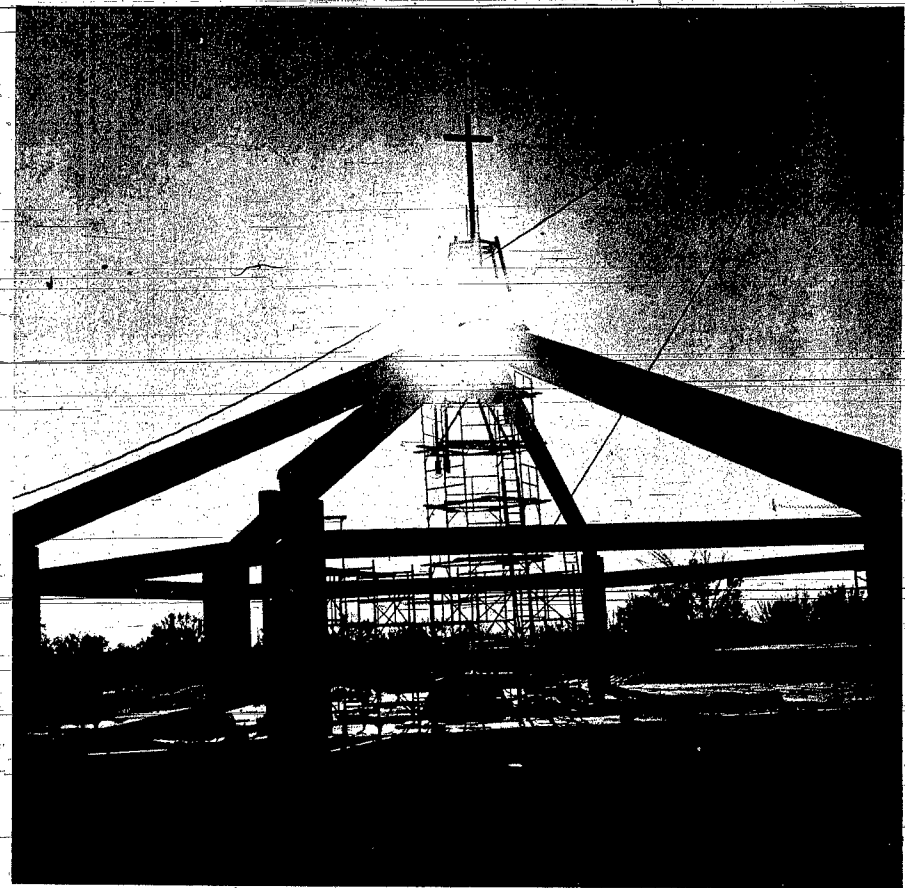

Named All-Star Coach — a new addition to the annual event — was Wayne coach Allen Hansen. He, like the players, were selected by ballots sent in by the coaches of the schools making up the West Husker Conference.

Focal point of the presentation is the Geneva Elementary School which was recently selected as Nebraska's first Demonstration Center for the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

A school selected as a physical fitness demonstration center is one which has an outstanding program of health and physical education, emphasizing physical fitness. These demonstration centers are selected with the hope of motivating school officials, teachers and other interested persons to develop a high-quality program aimed at improving the health and fitness of school-age children and youth.

The State Department of Education has recently filmed the Geneva elementary physical education program in operation. Consultant Gray will present the Geneva story.

School boards, school staffs, parents and other groups interested in the development of high-quality physical education programs are urged to attend.

A RELIGIOUS SKELETON: This is how the new St. Mary's Church being constructed in Wayne looked early last Sunday morning. Workers only recently finished lugging the huge steel roof beams into position, and then placed the simple cross at the peak of the roof.

Vandals Strike Near Allen

Vandals almost completely destroyed a cornpicker and did an undetermined amount of damage to the tractor it was hooked up to when they struck some time late Saturday night or early Sunday morning near Allen.

The vandalism took place on land just southwest of Allen. Owner of the land is Ben Jackson of Allen. The tractor and picker which were damaged belong to his son, Gaylen, who farms west of Allen.

The front end of the cornpicker was mangled extensively, apparently by another smaller tractor which was driven repeatedly into the front end of the larger tractor.

Ben Jackson said the tractor would not start when they tried it Sunday, leading him to think the vandals had possibly done other damage to it.

One of the wagons which was standing in the field, located about a mile southwest of Allen, was pushed over a small embankment and was upset in the road.

Other damage was done to the corn still standing in the field; for whoever took part in the affair drove the tractors in the corn field for some time. They also drove both tractors nearly a mile south, out of the Jackson field and into another farmer's field, until they were stopped by a small creek.

Owners of the damaged property said it looked like whoever drove the tractors tried to upset them in a stubble field just south of the Jackson cornfield.

Investigating the incident were Robert Mavis of Wakefield, special investigator for the State Patrol, and Gus Shutte, Dixon County sheriff.

Mavis said he discovered very little at the site of the vandalism which can be used as a clue.

BEN JACKSON OF ALLEN points to the damage to the corn picker on the tractor belonging to his son Gaylen by vandals, sometime late Saturday or early Sunday.

Faculty Wives Schedule Tree Lighting Dec. 4

Wayne State Faculty Wives are again planning to decorate a tree and sponsor the Christmas Tree Lighting Service this year which will be held Dec. 4 at 7 p.m. in the Willow Bowl, according to Mrs. Lelloy Simpson, chairman of the December Faculty Wives' program.

Included in the brief program will be the singing of carols by all present, and Dr. W. A. Brandenburg will officially throw the switch to light the tree.

Students in all of the college dormitories will be participating in the program and Santa Claus will also make a personal appearance.

Following the presentation there will be free hot chocolate and cookies served in the lounge at Terrace Hall.

Public is invited.

Thanksgiving... 1969

By Father Paul J. Begley

St. Mary's Church

Often it has been said that we never appreciate anything until we lose it. This was not the case with the early Pilgrims. They set aside a day for thanksgiving to God immediately after their first harvest in 1621. The practice spread to the various colonies.

Thursday, November 26, 1789, was set aside by President Washington as a day of Thanksgiving. President Lincoln appointed the fourth Thursday of November, 1863 as a day of Thanksgiving, and we have followed that custom since then.

Why did the Pilgrims want a day of thanksgiving? They knew what they had, and they wanted God to continue to bless them. Is this the case with us?

We Americans have a great deal to be thankful for. We have full freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom from fear and freedom from want.

We have a more representative government than any major nation on earth. Do we have to lose these freedoms before we can appreciate them? We do not if we will only be aware of God's presence among us and thank Him from the bottom of our hearts for all His blessings.

3 Winside Seniors Are 'Outstanding'

Three Winside seniors were recently named as "Outstanding Teenagers of America" for 1970 by the Outstanding Americans Foundation, according to Winside Public School administrators.

Phil Witt, David Witt and Gregg Troutman were nominated for the honor by their school and will compete for state and national awards in the Outstanding Teenagers of America program.

The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a non-profit foundation dedicated to honoring, inspiring and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America sponsors the award program annually.

Recipients of the honor were selected on the basis of ability and achievement. They will compete with other winners in Nebraska for the Governor's Trophy.

awarded annually to the most outstanding teenager. Each of the fifty state winners will be eligible for one of the Two National Outstanding Teenagers of America awards and college scholarships made available by the Outstanding Americans Foundation.

Phil Witt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Witt of Winside, is presently in his senior year at WHS and has participated in three years of track, four years of football and is presently playing his fourth year in basketball. He has been a four-year participant in the Legion's summer baseball program.

Witt was chosen outstanding WHS football player for 1969 and was named to the Lewis and Clark all-conference football team in 1968.

Other activities qualifying Phil are "OUTSTANDING" page 8

Turkey Shoot Is 'Best Yet'

This year's annual turkey shoot held Sunday at the Wayne Airport was described by Norris Weible, president of the Izaak Walton League, as the "best yet." He sponsored the event each year just prior to Thanksgiving.

Shooting began at 4:30 p.m. Sunday and the League president contributed the following list of prize winners, however he noted the list is probably not complete. Names are followed by prizes.

Warm Fall Temps Extra Pleasant

Daytime temperatures during the past week have hovered in the high forties with a pleasant 56 degrees on the thermometer Monday. Low for the past week was eight degrees on Wednesday night.

A check of the temperature chart for one year ago reveals that it was even warmer then. Last year's temperatures for the same week in November are compared with last week's temps in the following chart:

'Dear Santa' Time Rolls Around Again

It's that time of the year when imaginative youngsters set down with a pencil and a piece of paper and begin listing the things they want for Christmas from Santa Claus.

Again this year The Wayne Herald will print letters sent to that person at the North Pole. Already we have a letter from a young boy who wants a "race track with cars 4 please." Last year we had a young girl tell Santa Claus that she hoped she had been good so she could get a present in her stocking instead of a rock.

Next time your child sets down to write Santa, make sure they address the letter to The Wayne Herald. Who knows but what Santa might be on our subscription list?

Offering S.S. Help

Anybody in the Wayne area with problems concerning Social Security will have a chance to get help with them early in December.

A representative of the Norfolk Social Security office will be in the Wayne County courthouse on Tuesday, Dec. 2, to help people with questions concerning the program. He will be available from 1 to 3 p.m.

Livestock Feeders Shortchanged?

Do today's livestock producers get paid on the actual worth of their slaughter livestock?

County Agent Harold Ingalls thinks that those producers who improve their livestock are getting shortchanged when they go to market. He also thinks that one of the ways to prevent this is by adoption of a system called yield grade or cullability.

Read what else he has to say on this subject in his column this week. You'll find it on this issue's Farm Page.

Judy Fahnestock, William Kissinger Marry in Candlelight Rites Saturday

In 5 p.m. candlelight ceremonies at United Presbyterian Church, Laurel, Judy Lee Fahnestock became the bride of William F. Kissinger. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Fahnestock, laurel, and Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Kissinger Jr., Fairfield.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared wearing a gown of pearl and crystal accented Baronne lace with long sleeves gathered to satin cuffs and high neckline with soft satin collar. The A-line skirt extended in back to a circular, cotton length, detachable train, caught at the waist by a satin band. Her train length English illusion veil fell from a satin Juliet cap, and she carried a cascade of white butterfly roses, stephanotis and gardenias with ivy accents.

Attending the bride was her maid of honor, Candy Benson, Minneapolis, Minn., and bridesmaids, Mrs. Kent Gade of Wayne; Mrs. Gary Newton of Laurel, and Linda Hoffstein and JoAnn Terry of Lincoln. Their crepe gowns in willow green and Julie gold were styled with full pleated sleeves caught by wide wrist bands, and soft rolled collars dipping to back V's. Their headpieces were matching crepe bows with waist length veiling, and they carried cascades of gold and bronze pompons.

Candlelighters Nancy Burchess and Mrs. Jerry Corton, Lincoln, wore identical gowns in a lighter shade of green. Ivy adorned candelabra appointed the altar.
Serving his brother as best man was Douglas Kissinger, Fairfield, and groomsmen were Scott Smith, Chapel; Barry Butterfield, Charles City, Iowa; Brent Fahnestock, Laurel, and Rich Messenger, Emmetsburg, Iowa. Ushers were Kent Gade of Wayne, Tim Benson of Lawrence, Kan., and Terry Foote, Hastings. The men wore gold dinner jackets with black trousers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fahnestock wore a white trimmed brown silk dress. Mrs. Kissinger chose an ensemble of moss green silk, and both had gardenia corsages.
Hosting the reception held later at the Laurel Wagon Wheel were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michals, Lincoln. Lois Murphy, Norfolk, registered guests and C. J. Walters, Omaha, and Mrs. Bruce Bouds, Lincoln, arranged gifts. Sandie Bruggeman, and Linda Huette, Laurel, cut and served the cake and Mrs. Douglas Kissinger, Fairfield, poured.

After her going away ensemble the bride chose a brown tweed coat and dress ensemble with brown accessories complemented by the gardenia corsage. The bride had a bouquet. Upon their return from a Nassau wedding trip the couple will reside at 4440 Starr, Apartment 15, Lincoln. They will be at home after Nov. 28.

The bride attended Nebraska Wesleyan University and the bridegroom, a graduate of Iowa State University, is working on his masters at the University of Nebraska.

LHS Bears See Action Friday In Scrimmage

The Laurel Bears will hold their annual intersquad scrimmage Friday night. The scrimmage will begin at 7:30 and admission will be one bar of soap. The Bears will build their squad around four returning lettermen from last year's squad that finished 21-1, the best in the history of the school. They are Steve Erwin, a 6-6 junior who will play center for the Bears. Erwin is a two-year letterman and also a two-year regular. Rod Erwin is a 6-0 guard. He has lettered two years. Rod and Steve Erwin are the two returning regulars from last year's team. Jim Schroeder is a 6-0 forward. He is slowed by a shoulder separation that he received in the Wayne football game but is expected to be ready in the near future. The fourth letterman is George Schroeder. He is a 6-3 sophomore forward. The other boys on the squad are Steve Smith, 5-10 guard; Rick Smith, 5-8 guard; Paul McCoy, 5-10 forward; Brent Johnson, 5-8 guard; Allan Hansen, 6-0 forward; Jerry Sarha, 5-9 guard; Steve Burns, 5-10 forward, and Regg Swanson, 6-1 center. The Bears will be lacking in depth and height this year. Norfolk Catholic will travel to Laurel on Dec. 5 for the opening game. The Knights have nine of their first 12 back from last year's team. They will have good height with two boys listed at 6'5". Laurel will play Schuyler in the first round of the Wayne State Holiday Tournament. Schuyler was the state Class B champ two years ago and was in the state tournament last year. The NENAC will be held at O'Neill this year. Bloomfield will be Laurel's first round opponent in that tournament.

Team I Clips VI, 48-43, in League Action

Lynn Lessmann pumped in eight straight free throws to spark Team I to come from behind and nip Team VI, 48-43, in city league action Monday night. Those eight gift shots in the final quarter gave Lessmann 18 points for the night, high for both teams in the opening game. Team I had trailed throughout the action, 25-22 at intermission and 36-32 going into the final period. They trailed by one point, 11-10, after the initial stanza. Also hitting in double figures for the winning squad, which is now tied with Team III for first place in the league with two wins and no defeats, was Hank Overtri with 15. Team VI's Ed Hillier pumped in 13 points, nine of them in the first half. Also scoring in the action were Team I's Dick Hammer with eight and Team VI's Ken Dahl with 10 and Don Johnson with eight. The other squad which posted its second straight victory of the early season, Team III, called on Mark Robinson and Ron Dalton to lead them out of a 39-39 tie going into the final period. Robins scored 10 of his evening's total of 21 and Dalton scored eight of his 16 in the final period of play to pull off the victory. John Richards helped out in that final quarter when he came up with six of his 10 counters. Tom Bartsch had 16 points for the night.

Team III led by two at the end of the first quarter, 12-10, but then fell behind three points at intermission, 26-23.

Mark Robinson's brother, Tim, was high scorer for the losers, coming up with the same number of points as Mark. Also helping out for Team II were John Matson with 11, Wayne Wessel with 10 and Bill Carlson with eight.

In the evening's second game, Harlan Freese and Jack Manske teamed up to score 25 points in the second half as Team IV rolled past Team V, 56-35.

Freese pumped in 15 of his 20 points in that second half, Manske 10 of his 17. Manske, who fouled out in the final period, also hit on nine of 10 gift shots. Keith Tietgen scored 11 points for the winners.

High scorer for Team V, which led 9-7 at the end of the first quarter, was Don Cramer with 14 points. John Rebersdorf had 10 points, Bill Luppstedt had eight points.

The American eel is an uncommon visitor to Nebraska, but Game Commission records list a few verified catches in the Missouri, Platte, and Elkhorn Rivers.

Hunters Win Award

A northeast Nebraska hunter, Ted Williams of Crofton, was one of six hunters who were early qualifiers in the Game and Parks Commission's new Mixed-Bagger program.

The hunters were awarded parchment certificates after they scored on eight Nebraska small-game species. Filling the requirements for eight game birds and animals earns the hunter an Expert Award. Six of the eight species is good for a Sharpshooter Award, and four of the eight requirements earns a Marksman Award.

Requirements for each species: pheasant, two; quail, three; prairie chicken, one; sharp-tailed grouse, one; duck, two; goose, one; cottontail rabbit, four; and squirrel, two. While hunters need not take all the species the same day, they must fill requirements for individual species and have the bag certified the same day.

Former AHS Athlete Named 'Outstanding'

Rick Hank, a former student at Allen High School, was awarded the Wellington Sportsmanship Trophy in a ceremony recently at Chadron High School.

The trophy, started by an attorney at Chadron 19 years ago, goes to the high school senior at Chadron who has set an outstanding example in his athletic endeavors.

Hank will get to keep a small trophy and will have his name engraved on a large one that stays in the school.

Named co-captain of this year's Chadron football team, Rick went to that western Nebraska town last year after his father, Rollie, was transferred there from his area superintendent duties at Allen for Consumers Public Power.

Altered Conference At Tuesday Meeting Gets Schedule Work

Members of the recently reorganized Lewis and Clark Conference were scheduled to meet Tuesday night at Allen to start making up the athletic schedules for the 1970-71 school year.

The conference recently split into east and west divisions, making it very similar to the present Husker Conference set-up. The conference will now have a football play-off between division winners after the next year's season. Members are also trying to reorganize a play-off following basketball season, something the Husker Conference schools do not have. Site of those play-offs might be Wayne State College.

Making up the east division are Allen, Emerson-Hubbard, Homer, Newcastle, Ponca and Walthill. West division schools are Coleridge, Hartington, Osmond, Randolph, Winside and Wynot.

New officers heading up the reorganized conference are Clinton Carr of Emerson-Hubbard, president; Ernest Carlson of Homer, vice-president, and Donavan Leighton of Emerson-Hubbard, secretary-treasurer. Heading up the executive committee are Ed Heckens of Allen and Jim Ellis of Walthill in the east, and Ron Cramer of Winside and Neil Kluever of Randolph in the west. Norfolk Catholic and Hartington Cedar Catholic will not belong to the conference next year.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL LESSMANN will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 7 with an open house at Immanuel Lutheran Church, northwest of Wakefield, from 2 to 4 p.m. Hosts will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lessmann and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nelson. No written invitations will be issued. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. The couple request no gifts.

Free from sharp edges are best for ages 1-3 years. Giving a child hours of entertainment is one of the most important jobs a toy can do. As children mature, differences in tastes appear and toys must satisfy the special interests of the child's play world. Boys want toys that construct, farm, lift, and fly. Girls want miniature versions of what mommy uses; dolls, tea sets, and houses. Not only must toys be durable, but they must serve as continuing sources of entertainment, and give rise to a child's desire to create situations in which his toys work. Steel trucks should be able to last through many road-building sessions, and dolls should live many "lives."

Children, by the age of ten, have pretty well defined their specific interest area and toy buying should be less a problem. Toys should, however, continue to promote creativity and the child's desire to build, shape, and invent. Here is a list of recommended toys. Cut it out and take it along on your next toy buying trip.

VA Q & A

Q: As a widow of a retired officer, I am drawing a portion of my husband's retirement pay for my five children under the Servicemen's Family Protection Program. Does this preclude my children receiving a survivor's pension allowance from the VA and college educational assistance under the Orphan's Educational Assistance program?

A: Your children may receive pension payments from the VA and may continue to receive them while attending college. But the fact that they are receiving pension indicates your husband did not die from service-connected causes, so the children are not eligible for the Orphan's Educational Assistance program.

Former Wayne Lady Visits Val Peterson

A former resident of Wayne, Mrs. Martin Aegerter, and her husband recently returned to America from a trip to Europe and Tunisia, Africa. During their trip they stopped in Helsinki, Finland, and visited with Ambassador Val Peterson.

Mrs. Aegerter, daughter of Mrs. C. A. Berry of Wayne, graduated from college at Wayne in 1932 and was the first graduate and former resident to visit the Ambassador and his wife.

The get-together enabled Mr. Martin to renew acquaintances with Mrs. Peterson. A former resident of Randolph, he graduated with Mrs. Peterson from the University of Nebraska.

The trip to Tunisia was made because Mr. Martin, vice-president of Hail Reinsurance Management, Inc., of Ormond Beach, Fla., was to attend the International Hail Congress at Monastir, Tunisia. Principal speaker before the group, Martin spoke on the subject of simulated hail storms.

The Martins recently moved to Colorado after having lived in the Chicago area for 20 years.

Hunting accidents in Utah dropped 71 percent after the introduction of mandatory hunter-safety courses for licensees.

Hunters spend nearly $300 million a year on automobile travel for gas, oil, tires and the maintenance and replacement of cars.

Hold Scout Investiture, Court of Awards Thursday

Club Hosts Guests

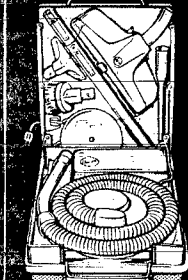

Invitations met for a noon luncheon Monday in the Women's Club room and were hosts to several guests.

Col. Rex Ganning spoke briefly concerning his recent activities in Viet Nam flying 209 combat missions with the 1st Special Operations Squadron.

Lynn Schreurs of Rock Rapids, Iowa, and Randa Cordes of Scribner, members of the Kiwanis Circle K Club on the Wayne State College campus and also members of the Tau Kappa Ipsilon fraternity, presented their plans for a Dec. 13 Christmas party for children at the city auditorium. They expressed a need for funds to finance several planned features of the party.

The Rev. Bob McCown, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, presented a Thanksgiving message entitled "The Therapy of Thanksgiving." He noted that expressed thanksgiving is always appreciated in business and should be practiced in the home and family life as well as thanking God for blessings.

A court of awards and investiture ceremonies for 14 new members were held Thursday evening at Trinity Lutheran Church, Winside, for members of Forget Me Not Girl Scout Troop 168 of Winside.

Troop leader Mrs. Don Meierhenry explained the duties of a Scout, the meaning of investiture, Scout requirements, activities and the history of the troop. As a part of the ceremony, Scout lighted one of ten candles, explaining the Girl Scout symbol it represented. Mrs. Meierhenry lighted the three candles representing the Scout promise, the color guard presented and retired the flag, lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Winside 14 graduated Women's Club sponsors the troop and Mrs. Walter Bleich is program consultant. Leaders are Mrs. Meierhenry and Mrs. Paul Zoffka.

as an outstanding teenager were his taking part in WIS dramas, being selected to attend Boys State in 1969, serving as president of the student council this year, working in his church's Waltham League for five years and serving as its president this year.

The teenager says he plans to attend the University of Nebraska and major in journalism.

David Witt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Witt of Winside, is another of the three seniors to be honored as an outstanding teenager. He has been a member of the WIS track team three years, played four years of football and is currently in his fourth year of basketball.

Dave was chosen for the 1969 Lewis and Clark all-conference basketball team and was named the most valuable basketball player at WIS last season. He has played four years of baseball in the Legion's summer program.

Witt is a member of the student council, having served one year as secretary. He has been active in his church's Waltham League for the past five years and held the office of secretary for a term.

Future plans of the outstanding teenager include attending Nebraska University to major in architecture.

Gregg Troutman completes the outstanding teenage trio of seniors at Winside High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Troutman of Winside.

Gregg has played football on the Wildcat team for four years and has been a three-year participant in track. He is playing basketball again for his fourth year.

Troutman took part in school dramas in his junior year. He also, like the other two members of the honored trio, has worked in the Waltham League for five years in his church.

Gregg says that he has not definitely decided as to his future plans.

Each of the three Winside High School seniors will receive a frameable certificate in recognition of their honor in February.

Among convention programs of special interest to the Wayne State was a concert by the Omaha Benson choir, directed by a 1961 Wayne graduate, James Elsberry. His choir and a smaller group, the studio singers, make more than 40 public appearances a year.

Awards Program For Allen Pack

Scout Pack 139 of Allen met Wednesday at the Allen school for a program which included a talk on citizenship given by Harold Peterson, principal of the school. He used film to visually demonstrate his topic.

Webelos and dens one and three presented skits. Participating were Billy Chase, Dale Kellogg, Darwin Kluyer, Gary Brownell, Tod Ellis, Gary Karberg, Brian Peterson, Jack Warner, Brent Chase and Doug Kluyer.

In the presentation of awards ceremony Gary Brownell was given a silver arrow under the Bear and a one-year service pin; Tod Ellis received a one-year service pin; Dale Kellogg was presented a Bear and recruiter badge. Gary Karberg, Billy and Brent Kellogg received Bobcat pins following each taking the test given by his respective mother.

Den three officers were announced by Mrs. Fred Kellogg to be Keith Brentlinger, denner; Dale Kellogg, assistant denner and Bob Burgess as den chief.

Adult service pins awarded were three years to Don Kluyer and six years to both Marvin and Eleanor Burgess.

Den three visited the Dixon County Museum last month as badge work and den one made a scrapbook for the Wakefield Hospital and another for Dr. Coe's office.

Brownell as den mothers for den one; Mrs. Fred Kellogg and Mrs. Harold Peterson as den mothers for den three.

Business Notes

Farmer's Co-op of Wayne has announced the appointment of Dennis Blecke as manager. He replaces Don Brockman who moved to Omaha. Blecke and his wife, Connie, have one child and live in Wayne.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Thanksgiving

Yes, we all have a great deal to be thankful for. The Pilgrim Fathers were wise, indeed, who set such a fine example in the fall of 1621. They chose a day to thank God for the many blessings conferred upon them. In the 348 years since then, countless blessings have continued to flow toward the people of this great nation.

A Lesson for Us All

Parents sometimes attempt to teach their offspring things of value are worth working for. A child may receive a small weekly allowance and be taught to save a portion of it until finally having enough to buy a particular object which he or she wants in a great way.

Amazin' NU Cornhuskers Are Going Bowling Again

LINCOLN—After two years of spending their holidays at home, the Nebraska-Cornhuskers are going bowling again. Coach Bob Devaney's football team will tackle Georgia Dec. 29 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas.

Ticket Manager Jim Pittenger said Nebraska was allotted 12,000 tickets at $6 each. A priority system for distributing the Nebraska tickets was established and Pittenger said those which hadn't been sold by this Friday would be handled on a first-come, first-served basis.

After those orders have been processed, members of the University of Nebraska Alumni Association will get preferred treatment. The ticket chief said fans who wanted to be certain they would be on time and mailed in orders for tickets to "any bowl" would be protected. Their orders, he said, would be treated just the same as if they had been requests specifically for the Sun Bowl.

of the county's 1969 sales goal. Dixon County sales in October amounted to $15,408, boosting its ten-month total to $145,276 or 53.9 per cent of the 1969 goal. Sales in Cedar County last month amounted to $23,201. That brings to $206,757 the amount sold since the first of the year and amounts to 36.2 per cent of that county's goal for this year.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Mom, today let's advance to the year 1990, Thanksgiving time. Scene: A normal family home... furnished not with the projected image of the electronic computerized wizardry forecast in the late '60's, but with furniture thirty to forty years old. Reason: Cost. In this story a white-haired grandfather is telling a boy about Thanksgiving.

"Sonny, once people ate turkey. When I was a boy farm wives set gigantic eggs'and out-pocked a wobbly-legged, sickly poul. But they grew to a noble, sometimes mean bird that got axed in November. Oh, the twizzers and pin feathers."

"Do women still raise turkeys, Grandpa?"
"No, sonny, not after the advent of chain stores. Then the conglomerate packers and feed companies took over. They promoted and we ate turkey, three and four times a year. But kids no longer saw those big toms plume out and strut and sometimes even chase them. Just factory, computerized birds without personality."

"Have I ever eaten a turkey, Grandpa?"
"No, sonny, back in 1969 turkey meat jumped 10¢ a pound. All labor contracts had a cost of living condition. When turkey rose women picketed and wages skyrocketed. Steel went up, tanks, ships, airplanes doubled in price. We had an undeclared war on. News reporters, economists and even the vice-president, I can't remember his name now, all demanded that legislation be passed to eliminate the luxury of Thanksgiving. The Secretary of Agriculture even missed a football game."

"How was the problem solved, Grandpa?"
"Imports, son, imports. The USDA kept several secret specialists barracaded below Fort Knox. These men controlled beef imports. History shows they doubted beef import allotments in the late '60's without one farmer protesting."

"What's a farmer, Grandpa?"
"Sonny, they run weekend tourist lodges now. Anyway, Mr. Ira Member became the director of turkey imports. Only problem was, no other country had turkeys. But Ira solved two problems. At Midway Island a big albatross for years had jammed the airstrips. Pilots called them gooney-birds. The gooneys downed more F-4's in the World War II than the Japanese. Mr. Member formed a gooney-bird company... movie stars, TV personalities, oil men, financiers. So they imported goonies by the millions... became a big feature on the Chicago Mercantile. And that was the end of the turkeys."

"Did wages and prices go down, Grandpa?"
"No, funny thing. Entire new businesses sprang up. Ship-building, tax specialists, government offices."

An elderly lady came into the living room.
"Wash up, boys. Dinner's ready! The gooney's on!"
As they moved to the table, the boy said, "Grandpa, what's beef?"

"Oh, I forgot, you've never eaten anything but soybean hamburgers, have you? I'll take you to a zoo someday to see a wild bull. Not many cattle left except in National Parks."

FORECAST: Latest USDA Cattle-On-Feed Report looked less accurate than the weekly Viet Nam casualty list. Finished cattle look short. This report written 10 days before being printed at a dull dead period, on $43 dressed market... but give any Monday a short run of 7800 in Chicago, 7400 fats in

Yield Grading Makes Sense

I'm sure all of us get feelings of frustration about things for which in our minds there are simple and obvious solutions.

The question today is whether livestock producers get paid on the actual comparative worth of their slaughter livestock.

I recently attended a meeting where this question was debated by representatives of the packing industry, who are lessors, retailers and college men.

There was certainly a wide difference in the stated opinions on the variation of worth between carcasses of the same quality grade. This variation comes from what is now commonly referred to as cutability.

The conventional practice in packing houses is a system where independent government graders place carcasses in quality grades such as good, choice, prime, etc.

Since 1965 there has been available on request and for an added fee a system called yield grade or cutability. This measures the yield of boneless, closely trimmed retail cuts from the high value parts of the carcass—the round, loin, rib and chuck. They also reflect differences in total yield of retail cuts. The grades are designated numerically with grade yield one denoting the highest and five the lowest yield.

Our college researchers report that they find as much as $80 difference in the retail values of 700 pound carcasses of the same quality grade. USDA, which provides the grading service, both quality and yield, reports that they find a variation of up to 15 per cent in yield grades within a quality grade. Calculating this based on 600 pound carcasses priced at $45 wholesale would give a maximum difference of about $70.

These, of course, are extremes and are not common. Packer representatives tend to refute any great variation and one in particular says that they find average variation of about $6 a carcass.

I think that we can fairly conclude that differences of $15 to $25 are fairly common. From a practical standpoint a difference of $10 a head would be extremely important to all segments of the industry.

Presently about 20 per cent of the beef processed by packers is being yield graded. I think we should note that in Texas more than half of the beef is yield graded. Could this be a reason why Texas is the fastest growing cattle feeding state in the nation and now ranks second only to Iowa?

The use of beef yield grades has led to some interesting innovations at auctions in Ohio. For the first time live cattle were sold at auction on a carcass weight basis that includes price differential based on both quality and yield grade.

The quality and cutability premiums or discounts are established before the sale. The point to be made here is that in our present marketing system, the price is established mainly on quality grade. The yield grade within a particular quality grade is far more important in determining actual retail values.

What does this mean to the livestock producer? Mainly that he is not paid proportionately for superior animals. Our present marketing system is pretty largely based on averaging so that losses on some poor grading animals are made up by underpricing the good ones.

The net result is that the rewards for improving livestock are not what they should be. The best incentives for improving livestock are the financial returns.

In addition to the color on the land, well managed grassland can mean green money in the pocket, according to William Yost of the Soil Conservation Service office in Wakefield.

'Good Grassland Is Like Money in Bank'

Because of feed grain surpluses and because considerable acreages of marginal cropland are not producing satisfactory yields, more and more farmers are thinking about seeding land to grass, Yost notes.

same grasses do best on bottomlands, notes Yost.

Also to be considered is method of planting. Native grass strands are best established by seeding directly into a non-tilled seed bed that was in one of the sorghums the previous year.

Northeast Extension Notes

Safe Toys Can Be Enjoyed: Selecting toys for the children or grandchildren which they can enjoy long after Christmas with interest and safety requires careful shopping.

A playing to delight a child should provide hours upon hours of fun. This fun may be creative, instructive, imaginative, energy-expending or relaxing, but it must also be fun.

What type of toys should you buy? A toy should be well-made, of durable materials, safe and colorful; if it is to be packed away, the container should be sturdy.

Children enjoy doing the things grown-ups do. Little girls, even boys, love to putter with pots and pans. Regular muffin tins, cookie cutters and small saucepans are relatively inexpensive and a child will derive a great deal of pleasure from serving food made in the real thing.

Boys like to hammer, saw and nail things together. A sturdy workbench with regular-sized tools will provide hours of contented and creative play.

Business Notes

Larry Hansen, representing the Farmers Cooperative of Wayne, was one of 75 cooperative employees who recently completed a feed marketing school sponsored by Felco in Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Highlighting the course were presentations by management personnel from Merck, Tuco, Flanco and American Cyanamid. They discussed in detail the various roles animal health products, drugs and feed additives play in agriculture.

State Registers Biggest Income Jump in Nation

Nebraska registered the largest percentage increase of any state in total personal income for the second quarter of 1968 as compared with the first quarter, according to figures released by the Office of Business Economics, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The 7.3 per cent increase in Nebraska is far ahead of the 2.2 per cent for the nation as a whole and the 2.1 per cent in the Plains states, according to Business in Nebraska, monthly publication of the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration's Bureau of Business Research.

Comparing the second quarter of 1968, Nebraska's percentage increase of 14.3 per cent in total personal income was also the largest of any state. The national percentage was 8.9.

Nebraska's income growth was attributed largely to gains in the agricultural sector. According to the report: "The second quarter advance of nearly 8.5 per cent in farm income was the largest relative rise among major industries."

In large part, the increase reflected much higher prices for farm products, especially meat, and slightly increased marketing of crops. These gains in receipts were only partially offset by the continuing rapid advance of farm costs.

'Girl Friday' Course Starting at Norfolk

Three University of Nebraska professors will conduct a short course for secretaries at Northeastern Nebraska College in Norfolk beginning tonight (Monday).

The course will be offered by the University of Nebraska Extension Division in cooperation with Northeastern. All sessions - the others are Dec. 1 and 8 - will be at Northeastern's main building starting at 7:30 each evening.

Included in the course will be three subject areas: -Better communications. The topic will be concerned with new practices and procedures in communication as well as some stress on English usage.

Participants will consider some of the principles of human relations and methods of dealing with different types of problems typically found in offices.

-Improving the secretary's image. The secretaries will also receive hints on how to improve their professional images.

Two Wayne State Students Marry

At 1:30 p.m. rites Saturday at Alnsworth United Methodist Church Judy Kastrop became the bride of Roger Strand. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arne J. Kastrop, Alnsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Parker Strand, Purdum.

The Rev. Robert Holbrook officiated at the double ring rites. Nancy Copes sang "I Promise Me," accompanied by Jeannette Copes.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a velvet street length gown she had designed, complemented by a heart pin, a gift of the bridegroom. Her veil was caught to a velvet bow and she had yellow roses.

Honor attendant for the bride was Cynthia Dierking, Amelia who wore a dress of gold velvet, also designed by the bride. Best man was Bill Strand, brother of the bridegroom, of Purdum, and usher was Lewis Strand of Purdum.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kastrop chose a two-piece ensemble in brown. Mrs. Strand wore turquoise and both had yellow mums.

Barbee Strand registered guests at the reception for over 60 held later at the church. Koren Halligan arranged gifts and the cake was cut and served by Arnette Kastrop. Mrs. Otto Strand poured. Julie Clay served punch. For her going away ensemble the bride chose an avocadogreen dress in velvet. The couple, who both attend Wayne State College, are residing at College Crest Apartment 6, Wayne.

The bride is a 1968 Alnsworth High School graduate, and the bridegroom is a 1967 graduate of Alnsworth High School.

Jolly Eight Club Meet Held in Baier Home

Jolly Eight Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Theresa Baier. Prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Heikes, Mrs. Minnie Ulrich and Mrs. Adolph Claussen. Mrs. Emma Otte won the door prize. Mrs. Meryl Goshorn will host the Dec. 18 meeting.

M. Engle-G. Lutt Wedding Is Held November 15

The marriage of Marcheta Engle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engle, Wayne, and Gene Lutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lutt, Wakefield, was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. rites Nov. 15 at the First United Methodist Church, Wayne.

The Rev. Cecil Bliss officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mary Lou Belling sang "Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Paul-ette Merchant. The altar was appointed with pink carnations and white mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white satin floor length gown with long tapered sleeves and fitted waist. Her bouquet was long strands of English ivy accented with open pink roses. Attending the bride were Stephanie Engle, Sioux City, Iowa, as maid of honor, and Jayne Bruns, Lincoln, bridesmaid.

Their green velvet floor length gowns were trimmed in white fur and they carried nosegays of white and pink pompons with long strands of ivy. Flowergirl was Debbie Lutt, Wakefield.

Best man was Roger Lutt and groomsmen were Robert Lutt, Wakefield, Delmar Lutt and Lowell Lutt, Wayne, ushered. Jim Dahlman, Pender, was ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Engle chose a light green wool knit with black accessories. Mrs. Lutt wore a gold and white embossed dress with off-white accessories and both had pink rose corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lutt were hosts to the reception later at the church. Guests were registered by Rose Headlee and gifts were arranged by Ann Preston, Edith Mellick, Joyce Grone and Virginia Johnson.

Mrs. Robert Lutt and Mrs. Vern Dahlman cut and served the cake and Mrs. Raymond Lloyd and Mrs. E. A. Pedderson poured. Mrs. Pat Young served punch.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a dress and cape ensemble in white wool and green velvet. The bride is a sophomore at Wayne State College. The bridegroom, who has served in the U. S. Army, is engaged in farming. The couple reside north of Wisner.

Ladies Aid Offices Chosen November 20

Immanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid met Thursday at the church for the election of new officers. Mrs. Lowell Johnson is new president; Mrs. Gilbert Rauss, vice-president; Mrs. Marvin Nelson, secretary; Mrs. Harvey Echtenkamp, treasurer; Mrs. Albert Echtenkamp and Mrs. Merle Roerber, altar committee; Mrs. Ernest Brammer and Mrs. Lloyd Roerber, visiting committee; Mrs. Hartan Ruwe, Mrs. Lloyd Roerber and Mrs. Harvey Echtenkamp, communion ware committee; and Mrs. Reuben Meyer and Mrs. Ron Penlerick, flower committee.

Co-hostesses for Thursday's meeting were Mrs. Lawrence Ruwe and Mrs. Ernest Brammer. The Rev. A. W. Gode had devotions. The Aid decided to make a $10 donation each to Bethesda Home for the Handicapped in Wisconsin; Lutheran Old People's Home in Omaha and the Dakota Boys' Ranch. The Christmas party will be at the church Dec. 11.

When you make the switch to those new fall clothes, you should be sure your hair completes the fashion picture. Sunbleached, summer-wear hair needs special conditioning.

AHS 'Hillbilly Courtship' Gets Hearty Guffaws

By Merlin Wright

"Hillbilly Courtship," a three-act farce about the matrimonial problems of a hillbilly area in the deep South, was presented by the Allen High School Junior class Saturday night before a crowd of approximately 200.

Trouble starts after two old enemies, Widow Peppin and Pappy Stilsby, plan their second marriages. They make use of the village idiot, Wash Jeddo, to write to a matrimonial agency, but Jeddo gets things messed up by including pictures of Pappy's son, Luke, and the widow's daughter, Emmy, along with their letters.

To top things off, the two young people are secretly in love with each other. That starts a series of events which lead up to a calamitous courtship on H. O. W.

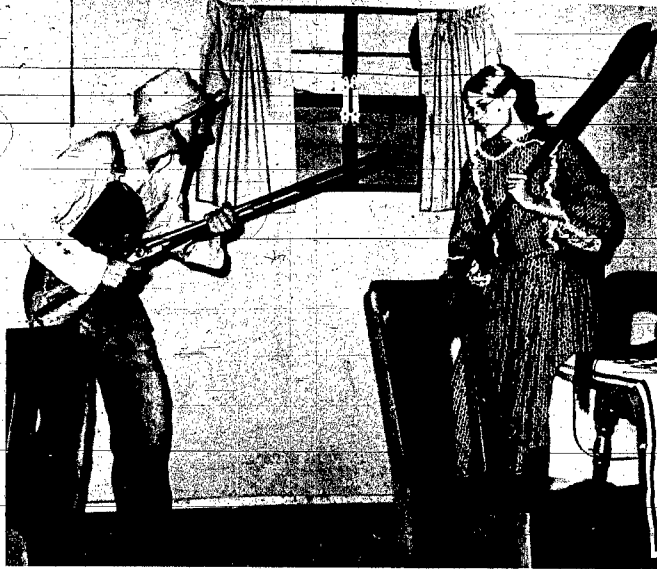

Mountain.

Adding zip to the comedy are three hillbilly singers, the Triffet girls, and two characters who respond to the matrimonial letters, a temperamental Italian lad and a wild Irish girl.

Cast members were Gary Troth as Luke Stilsby, Sandra Jeffrey as Emmy Peppin, Rhonda Schultz as Ma Peppin, Ginger Heckens as Lula Triffet, Sandy Jones as Seedie Triffet, Brian Linafelter as Wash Jeddo, Bill Hall as Sol Silverstein, Jerome Roberts as Louis Cattaro, Charles Asbra as Pappy Stilsby, Linda Book as Bridget O'Flanagan and Loren Puckett as the Rev. Boswell.

Mrs. Betty Dahlquist, AHS faculty member, directed the play assisted by a student, Janean

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, November 27, 1969

'HILLBILLY COURTSHIP.' — Pappy Stilsby (Charles Asbra) and Ma Peppin (Rhonda Schultz) approximately 200 in the AHS gym. were after each other in the Allen junior's class.

Fahrenholz.

With a too-lengthy script written by Austin Goetz, the "Courtship" cast began running into memorization problems in the latter part of the second act. The real grit of any actor, amateur or professional, is always challenged when script lines cannot be recalled. Under such circumstances a cast can abandon ship or do as the AHS players did — ad lib. What might have easily been disaster for another cast in another place on another stage was turned into a hilarious third act that no author would probably have dared written.

Emmy Peppin came on stage with a line something like, "Granny, drop that gun!" It was at this point that the audience began to really join into the hillbilly swing of things with gales of laughter because due to a mixup in script "Granny didn't have a gun, nor was she near one.

Making up the lines they couldn't remember, the AHS troopers had the audience crying with riotous laughter. It has been a long time since this writer has heard an audience laugh so heartily.

Brian Linafelter, playing the part of a mountain nitwit, charged on stage unexpectedly at one point with a copy of the play in hand and showed a fellow cast member exactly where they were in the play and what her next lines were supposed to be. It nearly brought down the rafters. You would have had to have seen the "on the spot" action to really appreciate it.

If other casts could handle the situation as well as did the Allen Juniors, it is just possible that some of the best advice directors could give their actors would be "forget the script."

Antique Clock Tells More Than Time

By Merlin Wright

Wayne County Commissioners meeting at the courthouse in La Porte on March 3, 1876 instructed the county clerk to purchase a calendar clock for use in his office. Cost for such a timepiece was not to exceed $15. According to the minutes of a later meeting, a clock was purchased June 10, 1876 and its cost was exactly $15. After 93 years the same clock remains in the office of the Wayne County Clerk.

Pasted inside the lower section of the antique is an article published in The Wayne Herald Aug. 8, 1934 concerning the clock. It noted: "There is one courthouse which is not harassed by the coming election, isn't handing out political cards in its sleep and dreading the passing of Aug. 14... yet anxious to have the suspense. Confident of remaining with the courthouse no matter what whimsical turns the vote may take, the old calendar clock sits serenely on the shelf in the county clerk's office and ticks the seconds away just as it has done for the past 58 years."

The article continues, "Nothing lazy about this clock - not only will it tell the exact time of day but the upper dial also gives day of the week and in the lower dial you can read the month and day of month."

"Dr. R. B. Crawford bought it for the county when he was serving as clerk in 1876. All those 58 years intervening the clock has been doing its work uncomplainingly registering neither agreement nor disapproval of the changes which the years have brought: First the old courthouse of La Porte, then the new big frame building on Main Street in Wayne which also housed the jail and community hall, then housed in temporary quarters when the first building burned, finally the big red stone building with its Norman tower.

"You'll find the old eight-day brass clock in the clerk's office, its walnut veneer finish somewhat dulled by age, but its loud changing gong as hearty as ever."

The Herald article was written 35 years ago and is itself yellowed by age, whereas the clock looks every bit as good as it did at that time. Now 93 years old, the timepiece is not kept running, but does provide a conversation piece.

It is nearly impossible for any one mind to comprehend even a major portion of the changes that have come about since the clock originally helped courthouse employees at La Porte know when to open and close the offices.

A special election was held Dec. 5, 1882 and the county seat was moved to Wayne. The first meeting of the county commissioners in Wayne was held March 10, 1883. The clock, then seven years old, was moved along with other courthouse records and furniture from La Porte to Wayne.

An handsome clock began ticking away in the courthouse at La Porte there were no railroads in the county. Even as it continued working in its new location, after being moved to Wayne, there were no electric lights to illuminate its two white faces. The timepiece had already worked several years before the sounds of an automobile could be heard in the street.

It is doubtful that those working in the county clerk's office in 1876 ever considered the possibility that the clock would still be in existence - in the county clerk's office - when man had learned to fly, higher and higher, finally rocketing to land on the moon. In 1876 man was still approximately a quarter of a century away from the Wright brother's initial airplane flight. Undoubtedly, had anyone in those days talked much about man being able to some day leave Wayne in a flying machine and being able to dine in a Paris restaurant a few hours later, such talk would have been considered nonsense.

Many people and things have worked for Wayne County, but perhaps the record for time-in-service is held by the 93-year-old calendar clock still to be seen in the county clerk's office.

Jaycees Sell Honey Sunday

"Honey Sunday" found Wayne Jaycees going from door-to-door in Wayne promoting a product with but one purpose in mind. Wayne's young businessmen were out selling honey to raise funds for the care and education of mentally retarded children in Nebraska.

Darrel Fuelberth, chairman of the 1969 fund drive, reported that a total of $428 worth of honey was sold Sunday. This does not include honey which was sold Monday evening in portions of the city which were not reached Sunday.

Those taking part in the Sunday campaign, which centered at the L.J. Duffer, were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Koehlmoos, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hammer, Darrell Fuelberth, Jerry Bose, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wylie, Linda Dorcey and Sally Hammer.

The Nebraska Jaycees and the Nebraska Association for Retarded Children co-sponsor "Honey Sunday" in the state each year. There were 365 communities in Nebraska participating in the program.

WINTER WEATHER WARNINGS

BLIZZARD indicates the following conditions:

1. Wind speeds of 35 mph or more
2. Considerable falling and/or blowing snow
3. Temperatures of 20 degrees or lower

SEVERE BLIZZARD indicates:

1. Wind speeds of 45 mph or more
2. Great density of falling and/or blowing snow
3. Temperatures of 10 degrees or lower

"Blizzard" warnings might be issued with temperatures of 25-30 if wind speeds were 50-60 mph or more.

COLD WAVE warnings indicate a rapid fall of 20 degrees or more within 24 hours to certain minimum temperatures depending upon the time of year. Expected minimum temperatures should always be included in cold wave warnings.

HAZARDOUS DRIVING warnings indicate that falling snow, freezing rain or drizzle, or strong winds will contribute to make driving difficult.

HEAVY SNOW warning means:

1. A fall of 4 inches or more is expected in 12 hours or
2. A fall of 6 inches or more is expected in 24 hours

ICE STORM or FREEZING RAIN is used to describe the freezing of rain or drizzle on objects as it strikes them resulting in a coating of ice on the ground, streets, trees, wires, etc. HEAVY may be used as qualifying term when a great deal of damage is expected from falling trees, wires, etc.

LIVESTOCK WARNING indicates combinations of cold, wet, and windy weather from which livestock require protection but no general public weather warnings are warranted.

WIND WARNING for expected winds of about 39 mph or more for an extended period when no other type of warning is warranted. "GALE WINDS" will indicate 39-73 mph.

This 'n That

By AL STINNECHOLS

Few people realize that the history of alcoholic beverages goes back to before the stone age, when fermented honey was the first drink of its kind or that bourbon, a truly American drink, has an interesting history of its own that leads itself to "straight" talk.

Unknown until 1789, when Kentucky clergyman - Elshah Craig produced it for the first time, bourbon took its name from the county where it was made.

At the time, almost every farm of any size had its own distillery and there were as many as 2,000 in Kentucky alone. In nearby Virginia, one gentleman who had his own bourbon distillery was none other than George Washington, the Father of our country. As the new whiskey gained popularity, it achieved national status, and precise standards for its composition were established.

In any great bourbon, time is the partner. Wild Turkey for example. This 101-proof bourbon is carefully matured for eight years in perfect, new, specially charred barrels made of the finest white oak. The barrels alone cost nearly $30 each and can be used only once.

The history of the wild turkey is so thoroughly American that Benjamin Franklin once urged its adoption as a national symbol. And the story of bourbon is as American as apple pie or Wild Turkey.

THOUGHTS FOR Thanksgiving

... a Time for Togetherness, with Prayer and Gratitude

Family, neighbors, friends... everyone joins together in a community spirit of Thanksgiving as glad voices show gratitude through prayer. We share in this joy of Thanksgiving, with special thanks for the opportunity and obligation of serving our friends and neighbors, and working with them for the betterment of our community, that we may fully deserve the many blessings for which we are always grateful. To all, a happy Thanksgiving.
