

NEN Livestock Producers To Hear About 'Cattle Pak'

The new method of merchandising meat being introduced by Iowa Beef Packers will be explained to area livestock producers during the annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska National Livestock Feeders Association.

The meeting will begin at eight o'clock next Monday evening at the Wagon Wheel Steak House in Laurel. A social hour will be held prior to the eight o'clock dinner.

Representatives of the Iowa Beef Packers plant at Dakota City will be present to explain the "Cattle-Pak" method of merchandising beef introduced by their company. The merchandising method makes use of the packing house employees and facilities to break down the cattle carcasses rather than shipping the carcasses whole. The company says the method offers the retailer numerous benefits: less shrinkage because vacuum packing is used, limited contamination, smaller shipping costs and elimination of breaking cattle at the store level.

The meeting is open to anyone in the area interested in livestock feeding or in any phase of agriculture. Any livestock people in the four-county area of the association—Wayne, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston—are invited to join the group if not already members.

'Tickets for CC Dinner Selling at Good Pace'

Members of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce who are in charge of selling tickets for the coming banquet were doing quite well as of mid-week, according to Roger Elder, manager of the local Chamber.

Elder noted also that parents of the youngsters who will be receiving their physical fitness awards at the banquet have been making sure they have their tickets for the dinner by calling and reserving them.

The dinner, an annual affair, will be held Monday evening beginning at seven o'clock in the city auditorium. Tickets, which can be purchased at the Chamber office or from any of several block captains, are selling for $3.75 for Chamber members and $3 for their employees or the public.

Expert Says Drugs a Problem in State

"Nebraska has as serious a drug problem per unit of population as any other state in the nation," a speaker told a group of people Monday at the North-east Station near Concord.

Speaking to the group of about 85 people was Dr. Howard D. Herriek, clinical director at the Northeast Mental Health Clinic in Norfolk. Occasion was the annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Family and Community Affairs Council.

Dr. Herriek noted that one-third to one-half of the children in Nebraska will experiment with drugs before they are out of school. Besides other undesirable effects, the two serious results of this experimentation with drugs, he pointed out, could be intellectual deterioration and loss of values.

Named as officers of the group during a business meeting were the Rev. John Erlandson of Concord, president; Kenneth Green of Allen, vice-president; Mrs. C. Paul Russell of Wayne, secretary, and Mrs. Kendall Martin of Laurel, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors for the coming year were Mrs. Russell of Wayne County, Mrs. Francis Smith of Cedar County, Mrs. Velus Anderson of Knox County, the Rev. Wesley Frank of Dakota County, Judge Betty Brundom of Thurston County and Anthony Milone of Dixon County.

Board Allots Chest Funds

Community Chest board members allocated Chest monies during the annual meeting held in the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus Thursday, according to Norris Welbe, president.

Jerry Malcom, treasurer, reports the 1969 Chest drive in Wayne netted $7,932.07, far short of the adopted goal of $10,000.

President Welbe said he didn't know why the mid-October drive fell more than $2,000 short of the adopted budget, but since funds to most of the participating agencies, particularly the youth programs, had to be cut, it is possible that additional drives will be necessary. "The original purpose of the Community Chest drive was to eliminate having so many different fund drives," Welbe noted, "but since the funds have had to be cut it is possible that additional drives may be necessary to make up the difference."

The adopted budget and revised allocation of funds provides:

Sonata Planned

A violin-piano sonata recital by Dr. Benjamin Bernstein and Arne Sorenson is scheduled at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in Wayne State's Ramsey Theater.

Dr. Bernstein, professor of music at WSC, and Sorenson, a prominent piano instructor in Norfolk, have chosen three sonatas for their performance—an Eighteenth Century work by Le-Clare, written at a time when Stradivarius and other great violin makers were at work; the "Spring Sonata" by Beethoven, one of his most popular in a series of ten, and a sonata by Fauré of the French Impressionistic period.

The coffee, which will be held from 9 to 11 a.m., is open to anyone. The hosting business furnishes the refreshments.

Two Schools File Petitions To Force Release of Funds

High schools in both Wayne and Winside—threatened with having thousands of dollars in free high tuition withheld from them—have filed petitions in the district court in an attempt to get those funds released.

The funds, which will be held from the schools if the original suit is not dropped or if swift action isn't taken by the district court, amount to just over $100,000 for the Wayne public school system and over $30,000 for the Winside system.

Forcing those funds to be tied up are a group of people in

Tank Blast Burns Firm At Pender

Four employees escaped injuries around 1:25 p.m. Tuesday in Pender when the branch plant of Rink Enterprises was destroyed by an explosion and fire, according to Henry Von Seggern, chief of police.

Fire departments from Emerson, Thurston, and Pender were called to assist Pender firemen fight the blaze one block north of Pender's main business district.

The building, leased six months ago from Automatic Manufacturing Co. at Pender, was being used for painting and welding purposes. Chief Von Seggern said Wednesday morning that it is thought a spark in the paint tank caused the explosion and fire.

Four autos inside the building, two model "A" Fords, a model "T" and a new Lincoln, were destroyed. Two tractors parked in front of the building were saved from damage.

Rink Enterprises has a main plant a half mile south of Pender.

Warden Says Prison Filled with Youth

"The single highest threat against the damage of your property is a 15-year-old boy," Maurice Sigler, director of corrections at the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, told Wayne Kiwanians Monday following a noon luncheon at the Women's Club room.

"The second highest threat is a 16-year-old boy," Sigler pointed out as he told club members of the youthful age of offenders. "Our prisons are filled with young people with an average age of less than 22 years old," he noted.

Warden Sigler and Ron Jones, associate warden, were guests of the Kiwanis Monday through arrangements made by Dr. Freeman Decker, club program chairman for January and director of publications at Wayne State College.

Sigler mentioned the $3 million dollar price tag on operating the state penal complex each year and then went on to review the institution's program designed for redevelopment of the prisoner as a whole man.

"Up until 30 years ago, or 35 years ago, there was an attempt to be professional in administration work only for prisoners," the warden explained. He then said this has changed and that people in charge of prisoner institutions today no longer believe their work is completed when a man is merely locked up and fed. "That day is over," Sigler emphasized.

The director of corrections gave two reasons for the existence of a penal complex such as the one at Lincoln. "First,

Former Resident Reported Missing

A former resident of Wayne, Mrs. Don Means, has been missing in Sioux City since early Monday morning. Although police have been unable to come up with any leads in the case, her automobile was found in South Sioux City late Monday evening.

Mrs. Means, 42, the former Jeanne Sharer and sister to Cletus Sharer of Wayne, grew up in Wayne and graduated from Iahn High School from Wayne State. She and her husband lived and worked in Wayne for a short time after they were married. The couple and their four children have been living in Sioux City for the past six or seven years. The children are Mary, 16; Linda, 15; Beth, 14, and Johanna, 8.

Gordon Nuernberger, chairman of the Nebraska State ASC's Committee, said early this week that he was not sure whether he would accept the position. He is allowed to appoint a designee to take his position on the seven-member committee.

'I Do! I Do!' To Open Jan. 26

The American Theatre League box office at the Sioux City Municipal Auditorium will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday until Jan. 26 when Mimi Hines and Phil Ford, stars of stage, television and supper club, will appear in David Merrick's heralded musical comedy, "I Do! I Do!"

This musical, which takes place from 1890 to 1940, will feature songs by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt and rare fashions created by Freddy Witton, one of the most talented designers-in-show-business.

"I Do! I Do!" is the third offering of the 1969-1970 Broadway Playhouse series of the American Theatre League of Sioux City. Mimi Hines and Phil Ford, who are also happily married in real life, portray a couple married 50 years in this hit show and proclaim that marriage is a good thing and that life is good.

Dahl's Surprise Boss

Employees of Dahl Retirement Center surprised Ken Dahl with a party to honor his birthday Tuesday during coffee. They presented their employer a gift and a total of six cakes. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Dahl and Mrs. Ken Dahl and sons. About 30 people were present.

Erwin, Schroeder Sparkle As Laurel Swamps Wausa

By Kieth Tietjen

Behind the outstanding performances of 6-6 junior center Steve Erwin and 6-3 sophomore forward George Schroeder, the Laurel Bears lived up to their highly praised number three position in the Class B state ratings as they breezed past the Wausa Vikings Tuesday night, 91-63.

The win brings the Bears' record to a lofty 11-0. Prior to Tuesday's road game, the Omaha World-Herald had listed the Laurel quintet third among the top 10 Class B teams in the state, a jump from last week's fifth-place rating.

Erwin, who is averaging 20.3 points a game thus far this season, hit a season high 31 against the Vikings. And, to say the least, he dominated the game break. Two and a half minutes later Laurel had a 10-point lead on easy counters by Steve Erwin and George Schroeder. With the clock showing only 1:07 before intermission, the Bears had put a 15-point lead on the scoreboard and maintained that at 49-34 at the break.

In the third canto the Vikings could manage only 11 points while the Bears collected 26. The cold Wausa team was no match for the perky Bears and saw themselves trailing, 55-41, after three quarters of action.

Laurel played out and mouse with the host Vikings through the fourth quarter, never letting their lead get less than 26 points. Coach Moore cleared his bench with one minute remaining as he coasted to his 11th victory of the season.

Also handling the scoring chores for Laurel were Rod Erwin with 14 points, Jim Schroeder with 15, Steve Smith with five and Brent Johnson, Paul McCoy and Steve Burns with one each.

The Laurel reserves, coached by Joel Parks, won their game

In other areas, grabbing off 19 rebounds and blocking at least four shots.

Although younger, shorter and less experienced than Erwin, Schroeder is making his marks for the Laurel squad. He averaged for 23 points in Tuesday's game, came away with 13 rebounds.

Two other Bears who also deserve their full share of praise are senior starters Rod Erwin (cousin to Steve) and Jim Schroeder (brother to George). They are averaging 10.9 and 10 points respectively and doing a com-

Leg Injury to 6-0 Berns Hampers Wakefield '5'

It was still uncertain early in the week whether Mike Berns, one of the important pieces in Wakefield's strong press, would be able to play this weekend in Trojan basketball games.

Berns, a 6-0 starter for Coach Dennis Crawford, injured his knee in the first quarter in Friday's home game against Oakland-Craig, a game which resulted in Wakefield suffering its defeat in seven outings this season.

Did Berns' injury have anything to do with that 71-67 defeat? According to Coach Crawford, "He's our point man on our press and when he went out they started getting a lot of fast breaks and long passes against us."

The injury, which should have been diagnosed Wednesday, could have been minor, in which case Berns will probably play in Saturday's home game against Pender if not in Friday's home game against Tekamah. But if it was a major injury, such as a torn ligament, Berns would be out for the rest of the season and Coach Crawford would have to find a replacement for him—something Crawford says would probably not be too difficult because of his reliable bench.

Wakefield	17	22	12	15	67

Another thing which hurt the Trojans Friday night was having 5-11 senior Rich Kline foul out with only 20 seconds left in the third quarter. Kline, who usually scores in double figures with little trouble, ended the evening with eight counters. Berns came up with four points before suffering his knee injury, about 10 below his average. He also contributes about nine rebounds each

Athlete of the Week

Larry Cleveland
Winside High School

By Norvin Hansen

Wrestling, the sport where the individual succeeds or fails on his own merits, dominates the "Athlete of the Week" column for the second time since it began early in December.

Receiving recognition from the sports writers at The Wayne Herald for having turned in the best athletic performance last week is a sophomore from Winside High School, Larry Cleveland. Earning him that recognition, and the small "Athlete" card from the newspaper, were his efforts in the Clearwater Invitational wrestling tournament last Saturday. In that tourney, Cleveland pinned both of his opponents on his way to a championship finish in the 185-pound division. His points, plus those earned by the other Winside grapplers, won Winside top trophy in that eight-team tourney.

And those two pins in that tournament weren't just flukes—in six matches this year Cleveland has pinned five of his opponents. The only wrestler he has lost to was one from Class A Norfolk High School. And that loss, a pin in 5:50, came after he had edged into an 8-7 lead. He has pinned all his other opponents, including one when he moved up to wrestle in the heavyweight division. He usually competes in the 185-pound class.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cleveland of Winside, has one strong asset—a fine sense of balance. "When you put his fine balance along with his exceptional strength, you have a very good wrestler," says his coach, Harold Simpson. Simpson notes that when Larry maneuvers his opponent onto his back, he seldom loses that advantage over them.

Another asset that Winside wrestler has going for him is his "coachability." Anything you ask him to do he will do, his coach says.

Slightly above average scholastically, Cleveland lettered in football last season. Last year he threw the shotput for the Winside track team, an assignment he will probably take on again this spring.

Cleveland is the sixth young athlete to receive recognition as the "Athlete of the Week." Selection of an athlete from Winside marks the appearance in this column of an athlete from each of the five high schools in the Herald's coverage area.

Young Cagers Split 2 Games at Norfolk

Wayne's seventh grade recreation basketball squad, paced by the 13-point effort of Earle Overin, walked by Norfolk Catholic, 32-19, last week. In the second game, Wayne's eighth graders lost, 31-28.

Overin hit six of Wayne's 10 points in the first quarter, then added another seven counters in the third period. Hitting four points for locals was Bruce Kucera. Coming up with three each were Marty Hansen, Greg Bilroft and Mike Meyers. Bob Keating and Brian Lessmann had two each. Steve Schnieder and Jack Froehlich had one each.

High scorers in the second game were Scott Ehlers and Kerry Jech. Ehlers pumped in 10 points, six of them on charity tosses and Jech matched that effort with four field goals and two at the line.

Others getting into the scoring column were Todd Bigelow with four and Bill Schwartz and Gordon Cook with two each.

Next action for the youngsters is at Norfolk today (Thursday).

Vaughn Korth Gains 1st Ring Victory

Wakefield, after scrapping to a 17-16 lead after eight minutes, rolled to a 40-30 halftime lead before the tempo of the game switched to the visitors. Oakland-Craig tied the score at 52-52 at the third quarter mark, pulled out the slim four-point win in the final eight minutes.

Just with all the pressure to produce points after Berns and Kline went out of the game was Lyle Brown. That 6-0 senior came up with 28 points, his high for the season. (Only other Trojan in double figures was Bob Johnson, replacement for Berns. A 6-3 senior, he added 12 points to Wakefield's total.)

All five starters for Oakland-Craig produced in the double figures in the contest, led by 5-10 sophomore Kirby Larson's 19 and 6-0 junior Layne Baker's 16.

Wakefield outshot the visiting squad from the field, 66 per cent to 44 per cent, but were bettered at the free throw line, 70 per cent to 65 per cent.

Following those two home games this weekend, both East Husker Conference contests, Wakefield rests a week before traveling to Emerson-Hubbard Friday, Jan. 23. Wakefield had little trouble handling that quintet in the recent holiday tourney at Wakefield.

Bears Handed-Third Spot on W-H Chart

The Laurel Bears, methodically going about chalking off victory on top of victory, earned third place in the Omaha World-Herald's second rating of the top 10 Class B basketball teams in the state.

The Bears, with an 11-0 record after knocking off Wausa Tuesday night, were rated behind No. 1 Cozad and No. 2 Lexington. The other teams listed by columnist Conde Sargent, in order: Schuyler, Omaha Cathedral, Seward, Omaha Paul VI, Valentine, Fairbury and Holdrege.

Sargent devoted most of this week's column to information about Laurel's two scoring leaders, Steve Erwin and George Schroeder, and the other three starters, Jim Schroeder, Rod Erwin and Steve Smith.

The Bears are third highest in number of points scored per game this season (70.9) and are first in the least number of points yielded (44.6). Cozad, scoring at an 80.8 clip, leads in scoring.

Slowdown or Runaway, College Cagers Adjust

Score high, score low; play fast, play slow. Any way the game goes, Wayne State's basketball team adjusts, and wins. The Wildcats did it again Monday night with a 62-45 decision over Southern State at Springfield, S. D.

It was the lowest Wayne score in three seasons, but that didn't bother Coach Dave Gunther because his team won by 17 points—right on its average margin. It didn't bother the team either as the Cats adjusted to Southern's slowdown ball control strategy. By contrast, Wayne and Southern played a racehorse 107-59 game in the season opener.

Another thing that never bothers Gunther is who does the scoring. This time it was Paul Emanuel's turn, and the 6-6 North Bend senior scored 24, his college career record—fourth time this season he has led the team. He's averaging 13 and shooting a healthy 55 per cent from the field. Emanuel and Dean Elson of Wayne each grabbed 17 rebounds, a new record on the team this season.

Dave Schneider, 6-9 senior from Blair, had a modest (for him) game with 12, but still tops the squad with a 19.2 average and a 58 per cent field accuracy. He was put in a rare role against Southern—as a starter for the first time this season. Reason: regular starting forward Bill Goodwin did not play because of an ailing knee. He probably will be ready to go against Chadron

State, Wayne's next foe, Friday night in Rice Gym. The Wildcats now have a 13-1 record—with 10 straight victories—but face a string of stern tests, starting with Chadron, then four straight games away, against Doane, Peru, Hastings and Nebraska Wesleyan.

Wayne's junior varsity beat the Southern JV, 90-62, for a 6-1 season mark.

Girls Win, Lose

The local girls' basketball team won one and lost one over the weekend.

Paced by the high scoring and consistent rebounding of Sue Gatewood, the local squad edged past Westmar College, 50-46, Saturday. Gatewood came up with 17 points in the contest, one more than Westmar's high scorer, and seven more than Wayne's second high scorer, Karen Iadenfeldt. The girls had their record dip Sunday, losing to Midwestern College by 14 points, 57-43. High scorer and rebounder again was Gatewood. She came up with 15 points, two more than Iadenfeldt.

Next scheduled action for the girls is today when the squad travels to LeMars for a repeat game with Westmar College.

Brown trout have been clocked swimming at speeds up to 23 miles per hour.

WSC Student Earns Mixed Bagger Award

Rob Andrew, a December graduate of Wayne State College, was one of 30 sportsmen to qualify recently for the Game and Parks Commission's Mixed Bagger Award for the 1969 hunting season.

The latest group of award winners included eight Experts, 14 Sharpshooters and eight Marksmen. Andrew, a native of Her-three; prairie chicken, one sharp-tailed grouse, one duck, two; goose, one; cottontail, four and squirrel, two.

Hunters must fill all eight quotas for an Expert citation, six for a Sharpshooter award and four for recognition as a Marksman. Quotas for any one species must be filled and certified the same day.

Andrew, who student taught at Tekamah last semester, said he had good luck pheasant hunting around the Carroll area last year. Many of his birds he got in the Tekamah area.

He is currently taking graduate work at Wayne State.

Plainview Wrestlers Whip WHS, 32-16

Steve Kraemer, Steve Oswald, Bill Gustafson and Kirk Gardner were the only wrestlers able to win their matches during Wakefield's wrestling meet with Plainview Tuesday night.

The Trojans lost that meet, an away affair, 32-16, bringing their dual record to one win and four defeats this season. Kraemer, wrestling in the 115-pound class, and Gustafson, wrestling in the 155-pound class, came up with pins in the night's action, both of them in the second period. Oswald, 130, won a 6-4 decision and Gardner, 175, won a 15-0 decision.

How the other Wakefield wrestlers fared: Devon Fisher, 98, lost a 4-0 decision; Dave Carlson, 107, lost a 5-3 decision; Bob Twite, 123, was pinned in the third period; Dave Lehman, 137, lost a 5-3 man, earned his award for achieving Sharpshooter status.

The award is issued by the Commission to hunters who bag a variety of small-game animals and birds in a calendar year. Quotas for each of the eight species: pheasant, two; quail, Jerold Schroeder, 145, was pinned in the second period; Tom Nicholson, 165, lost a 10-8 decision. Wakefield was forced to forfeit the two heaviest classes.

Next action for the Trojans is Monday when they play host to visiting West Point High.

Loafing's Done For WS Crew

It's back to action Saturday for Wayne State wrestlers after more than a month's lay-off, and action will come aplenty at the St. Cloud (Minn.) State quadangular.

Vying with Wayne will be host St. Cloud, Dickinson State of North Dakota and Wisconsin State of River Falls.

Coach Don Pate has a squad depleted by injuries, but seven regulars are healthy. Five others are lost for the season—two promising 118-pounders who decided to leave college because of injuries, two who gave up

WHS Grapplers Defeat Battle Creek; Win Clearwater Invitational Tourney

Larry Cleveland, the latest area youth to earn The Herald's "Athlete of the Week" honor, pinned his Battle Creek opponent in only 30 seconds to assure Winside another dual victory Monday night.

Cleveland came up with the pin, his fifth this season, in the next-to-last match with Winside ahead, 24-20. Winside needed either a pin or a decision in that 185-pound class in order to win since the Wildcats had to forfeit the heavyweight class.

Three other Wildcats fought their way to pins in the meet: Terry Jaeger in 5:00 in the 115-pound class, Steph Carlson in 3:23 in the 123-pound class and Mike Jaeger in 5:50 in the 130-pound class.

Winning by decision in the contest, to help give Winside a dual record of two wins and two defeats, were Dean Krueger at 145, 11-10, and Dennis Wade at 175, 6-4. Dave Jaeger, wrestling in the 98-pound division, earned a 3-3 tie with his opponent.

Cleveland was one of four Winside grapplers who struggled to first-place finishes in Saturday's Invitational tournament at Clearwater. He drew a bye in his first match at that tourney, then pinned his next two men, both in the first periods.

His efforts and those of the other Winside grapplers who came up with points at the tourney earned Winside the top trophy in the contest. Winside came up with 88 points, 21 more than wrestling and one who is ineligible.

Losses of the 118-pounders, Don McCune of DeWitt, Iowa, and Terry Bowls of Evanston, Ill., leaves the squad with no contenders at that weight.

Chief prospects to make the St. Cloud trip, Pate said, are Lon Reams, Sioux City East product, at 126; Harvey Rosenbaum, Alblon, 134; Max Branum, Park Forest, Ill., 142; Vye Emery, Omaha South, 150; John Yoder, Woolstock, Iowa, 158; John Kletnick, Park Forest, Ill., 167; Ken Monroe, Rosemont, Ill., 177; Lee Hall, Fremont, or Tom Shay, Farmington, N. M., 190, and Darryl Starfield, Columbus, Ind., heavyweight. Clay is back for duty after recovering from a foot fracture.

A week later the Wildcats will make their home-debut in a double dual with Bemidji State of Minnesota and Northeast Missouri State. Three matches are scheduled at 1, 4 and 7 p.m. in Rice Gym.

The nearest competitor, Atkinson West Holt, Spaulding Academy took third place in the seven-team tourney with 50 points. Also earning top honors in that tourney were Terry Jaeger in the 115-pound division (a bye and a 6-0 decision), Steph Carlson (a pin in 5:38, a pin in 2:47 and a 4-2 decision) and Mike Jaeger in the 130-pound division (a 10-1 decision, a 4-38 pin and a 3-1 win in overtime).

Stanton handed Winside its second loss of the season, a 30-27 defeat Wednesday of last week. Winside gave away 10 points through forfeits in that meet. Winning or tying their matches in the meet with Stanton Dave Jaeger, 98-pound class, pin in 3:32; Steph Carlson, 123, pin in 2:48; Mike Jaeger, 130, pin in 2:30; Dean Krueger, 145, 19-19 draw; Dennis Wade, 185, pin in 4:46; and Terry Cleveland, heavyweight, pin in 1:35.

Winside plays host to Oakland-Craig tonight (Thursday) and then gets a rest before the Winside Invitational tourney scheduled for Jan. 27-28.

WSC Tankers Take 9 Firsts in Recent Meets

A short-handed Wayne State swimming team lost dual meets over the weekend, but Coach Roger Bentley thought his six swimmers did pretty well against strong Mankato and St. Cloud teams.

"With a couple more good swimmers, we could have given them a close battle," he said. Loss of three key men crippled the team—two academically ineligible and a veteran letterman dropped out.

In a 63-30 loss to Mankato State Friday at Mankato, Minn., three Wayne swimmers won firsts: Mike Stabler of Lincoln in the 200 butterfly, Rich Draper of Elgin in the 500 freestyle and Bob Megedeth of Chicago in the 100 freestyle.

Six firsts lifted the Wayne score in a 68-42 loss Saturday at St. Cloud State. The Wayne firsts: Draper in the 1,000 and 500 freestyle races, Bob Seymour of Grand Island in the one-meter and three-meter diving, Meredith in the 100 freestyle, Stabler in the 200 butterfly.

Wayne's next meet will be the Grinnell Relays Saturday at Grinnell, Iowa.

Wildcats' Record Dips with Loss To Wisner-Pilger

The Winside Wildcats, still having trouble putting together a full game of consistent basketball, suffered their fifth defeat of the season Tuesday night, a 69-61 loss of Wisner-Pilger.

But the loss didn't come without a determined try by the Wildcats late in the game. Behind 23 points early in the third quarter, the Wildcats cut that lead to 10 points by the end of that period, 48-38. Then sparked by the fine scoring effort turned in by Fritz Weible in the final period, the visiting Winside squad pulled to within five points of the hosts with two minutes left in the contest before falling behind once again.

Weible came up with seven of his 13 points in that fourth period as he speared a 23-point quarter on the part of the Wildcats.

Coach Jim Winch, in his first year at the reins of the Wildcats, noted that his team has been unable to get off to a quick start in most of the games this season. "Numerous fouls hurt us against Wisner-Pilger, but we were able to cut our number of turnovers down to nine," he said. He noted that the squad hit a miserable 25 per cent from the field in the first half, scoring only six points in the first period.

Winsner-Pilger, led by the consistent scoring of J. D. Alexander, J. Rabe and W. Stork, edged to a 15-6 lead after eight minutes of play and 36-23 lead at intermission. Those three players hit in double figures for the winners: Alexander with 22, Rabe with 19 and Stork with 11.

Only players for Winside to get into two figures were Weible with 13, Kirt Schellenberg with 11 and Doug Deck with 10. Hitting for nine points was Dave Witt. Other scorers: Gary Soden and Mick Jeffery with six each, Phil Witt with four and Bob Jackson with two.

Leading Winside under the boards were Fritz Weible with 11 rebounds and Dave Witt with 10. Wisner-Pilger just edged the Winside squad in that department, coming up with 42 rebounds to Winside's 36.

John Behmer and Bob Krueger each tallied six points as the Winside reserves suffered a 29-21 defeat.

The Winside girls' volleyball squad had little trouble handling the hosts, coming home with victories in two straight sets, 15-9 and 15-5. Leading spikers were Dianne Bruggemann, Donna Krueger and Joann Westfall.

Got Job Troubles? Help Being Offered

People living in the Wayne area who are having difficulties in obtaining a job can receive help from a representative of the Norfolk office of the Department of Labor.

A representative of that office will be in the Wayne Chamber of Commerce office on Wednesday, Jan. 28, starting at 9:30 a.m.

The Norfolk office registered 384 job seekers for work at the close of December, a slight increase over the previous month, but down 12 per cent from December of 1968. The majority of the available labor supply is made up of applicants in the construction and building trades, sales, service and clerical occupations.

Wayne Resident In Auto Mishap

A Wayne resident was taken to the local hospital Saturday afternoon after being injured in a one-car mishap approximately five miles south of Wayne.

Clarence Stradley was southbound on Highway 15 around 1:10 p.m., according to Trooper Nielsen of Norfolk who investigated, when the two right wheels on his vehicle went off on the right shoulder. Patrolman Nielsen said Stradley attempted to pull back onto the highway, overcorrected and his vehicle then skidded 462 feet out of control.

The 1967 Chevrolet crossed the highway, struck a farm driveway and ended up in the east ditch, the trooper reported.

Stradley reportedly received abrasions and bruises and after being checked at the Bentback Clinic was moved to the hospital.

Trooper Nielsen said the auto received excessive damage.

Cars Hit at Winside

A minor accident occurred in the parking lot at the Winside High School Friday around 10:20 p.m. when a 1969 Ford, driven by David L. Dooley of Hartington collided with a parked 1967 Pontiac, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's office which investigated.

The Pontiac belonged to David Kramer of Norfolk and received minor damage to the left front fender.

Three Wrecks Friday Checked by Officers

Wayne police investigated three accidents Friday as ice-coated streets in Wayne continue to increase driving hazards.

Miron Jenness was backing a 1960 Ford onto Fairground Ave. around 4:20 p.m., according to police, when in collision with a 1966 Chevrolet driven by Gregg Jager eastbound on Fairground Ave.

Then around 5 p.m. officers were called to investigate a collision at Sixth and Walnut Streets. Carl Haas was eastbound on Sixth Street in a 1967 Ford pickup and Earl Hagmann of Elk-horn was northbound on Walnut Street in a 1962 Pontiac. The two vehicles collided, police said, when neither could stop due to street ice.

Later Friday, around 11:30 p.m., the police file states that Larry Dahlkoetter of Carroll was going west on First Street in the 100 block driving a 1967 Dodge which struck the left rear corner of a parked 1961 Chevrolet owned by Donald Grubhaug of David City.

Police officers were busy with other routine duties including quieting down a loud party about 2:13 a.m. Sunday at the Woehler Trailer Court.

Students' Work Used

Two sophomore design students at Wayne State College—Jim Buschkamp of Crofton and Donna Drake of Fremont—did sketches used in a special section of Sunday's Omaha World-Herald.

The two sketches were their ideas of what men and women would be wearing in the near future. The sketches were used in a special section outlining the prospects open in various phases of life during the present decade.

Banding Group Asks Help in Spotting Birds

Cooperation of Wayne area residents in reporting blackbird and starling roosts could prove of considerable economic benefit to this part of the state, according to Mrs. John Lueshen of Winsor, president of the Inland Bird Banding Association.

She notes that the reports will enable officials in controlling the population of the birds, which, sometimes damage crops in the field and feed in the feedlots.

Any area people who see the roosts are asked to write or phone Mrs. Lueshen at 529-8679. Those people in the Norfolk area can telephone the information to the district office of the Game and Parks Commission at 371-4950.

All roosts, regardless of their size, should be reported, Mrs. Lueshen says. These roosts may range from a few starlings in a building to several thousand in a marsh.

At this time of the year when snow blankets the earth, the birds may come to feedlots to eat from the feed bunks. During cold weather they also roost on or beside chimneys for warmth.

To find a roost, you should drive during the last two hours of daylight in an area where large numbers of blackbirds or starlings are found and follow the birds to their roosting place for the night. The birds often fly daily up to 35 miles from these sites, but by mid-afternoon they begin to move toward the roost. Barns, outbuildings and rooftops of city buildings should also be watched for small flocks of starlings, advises Mrs. Lueshen.

Conscientious population estimates are troublesome but important, she notes. Body reporting sightings of birds should give the approximate number, the exact location of the roost, the date the birds were observed.

The nationwide winter inventories of blackbird and starling roosts and populations are made under the direction of the Division of Wildlife Research, U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. The survey, which began Dec. 20, will end Jan. 31.

Home Extension To Award Senior $50 Scholarship

Plans were completed Jan. 6 at the quarterly meeting of the Wayne County Home Extension Council for a scholarship in home economics. The $50.00 scholarship will be awarded in the spring to a high school senior girl who plans to enter the field of home economics. To be eligible an applicant must be a resident of Wayne County or be the daughter of a Wayne County Home Extension club member.

Applications will be judged on the following basis: Need (35%), scholastic ability (35%), evidence of plans to complete the degree (10%), activities other than school (10%).

Applications must be completed and returned to the Wayne County Extension office by April 1.

Blanks may be obtained from the Wayne County Extension office, the high school principal or guidance counselor of Wayne, Winfield, Laurel or Wakefield high school.

Dinner

There are a total of 17 students from Wayne Middle School and Wayne High School who will receive their Presidential Physical Fitness awards during the dinner. One of those 17 students, Marty Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hansen of Wayne, will receive two awards, for he was the only local youngster who earned the award last year.

Also planned for the evening: Honoring of the outgoing president, Robert Merchant. Awarding of special awards to five Chamber members. Names of those receiving the awards will not be released prior to the dinner.

Nuernberger

A multi-state regional conference of these newly formed committees was scheduled for Chicago Wednesday. The Nebraska members were to attend that meeting.

Names with Nuernberger to the committee were the following prominent Nebraskans: Dr. John L. Adams, elected chairman by the committee members; Kenneth Bowen, state director of the Farmers Home Administration; Keith F. Myers, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service; Ralph W. Winsted, Rural Electrification Administration representative from Grand Island; J. Merle Prince, forest supervisor from the Forest Service in Chadron; and James W. Monroe, director of economic development in Nebraska.

Prison

prisoner has no conception as to what he should do in relationship to other people," the administrator explained. He described the second step of the program as a classification process by which prisoners are placed in a reception center, observed, and then placed in that part of the prison which will likely be the most beneficial to his correction.

Work is the third step of the re-education program of a prisoner and in explaining his conviction that meaningful work is basic to a man, Sigler said, "There is no happy person that I know of who isn't genuinely employed. Some of these men come to us not even knowing how to work."

In making analysis of the prisoner's vocational training, the warden noted, "This is where we are the weakest. We have more people than jobs inside the wall. It is true in prisons everywhere."

Avocational interests are encouraged throughout the penal complex to occupy leisure time. So many of the prisoners are young men and, according to the director, "Need to work off steam."

Sigler told the Kiwanians that a majority of prisoners come to the complex having only an eighth grade education so the men are encouraged to study in the prison's school. Mentioning medical services offered in the state's penal institution, he pointed out that many offenders arrive needing orthopedic work, dental work and possibly surgery. "A man must be fixed up physically if he is going back out into society," Sigler commented.

He praised the work of prison chaplains saying, "There is no way to measure the importance and value of a good chaplain in prison."

The director offered his opinion as to the cause of crime rates rising in the teenage bracket by observing, "Mom and dad aren't in the home anymore. It doesn't mean they are not good people. Youths get into trouble and may come from good homes, except the parents weren't there. The family situation today is just not what it was years ago."

Following the conclusion of his address, Sigler fielded a question concerning his opinion of capital punishment. He replied, "I am one of the few prison wardens who will say unequivocally that we should keep capital punishment. Capital punishment is good and should never be taken off the books."

He noted that about 35 percent of those released from the Lincoln prison return again as offenders, a lower rate than elsewhere in the nation's penal systems. There are presently 920 inmates in the state penal complex.

Dr. Freeman Decker, program chairman, informed Kiwanians that Clarence Meyer, attorney general, is scheduled to address the club Monday.

Extension Names New Officials

Five new members were elected to the Wayne County agricultural extension service board recently, according to Harold Ingalls, agriculture agent. The board met Monday at the county courthouse.

Ballots were mailed Dec. 1 to approximately 1,000 eligible voters in 13 Wayne County precincts. Named as new members on the board as a result of the balloting are Glen Loberg of Carroll, Deer Creek Precinct; Mrs. Norman Wickman of Pender, Leslie Precinct; James Gustafson of Wakefield, Logan Precinct; Jay Jochens of Hoskins, Hoskins Precinct, and Warren Austin of Wayne, Strahan Precinct.

Leslie Youngmeyer of Wayne was elected chairman of the board Monday and Paul Sievers was named vice-chairman. Mrs. Wallace Anderson of Laurel was re-elected secretary.

Members of the extension board continuing in office are Mrs. Gurney Hansen, Mrs. Roy Jenkins, Merlin Topp, George Jaeger and Mrs. Melvin Dowling.

Other members of the board due to their office are Mrs. Paul Dangberg, chairman of the 4-H Council, and Mrs. Val Damme, chairman of the Home Extension Council.

The Wayne County agricultural extension service is supervised by an elected board consisting of one representative from each of the 13 precincts. One third of these are elected each year for three-year terms and cannot succeed themselves.

Board members whose terms expired at the end of 1969 were Raymond Reeg, Strahan Precinct; Mrs. Lem Jones, Deer Creek Precinct; Donald Johnson, Hoskins Precinct; LeRoy Sievers, Logan Precinct, and Mrs. Howard Greve, Leslie Precinct.

Drugs

(Continued from page 1) gave a progress report on the Dakota City Satellite Clinic established in May last year. He stated that although the Dakota City clinic is functioning effectively, there are still many problems to be worked out. The interest and support of local citizens are necessary to keep the clinic in operation, he emphasized.

The Council, one of the first to be formed in the state, meets regularly on the second Monday of each month. The meetings are held at 8 p.m. at the Northeast Station one mile east of Concord. Anybody interested in the problems of alcoholism and drug addiction is welcome to attend the meetings.

Other speakers scheduled today: Curtis Papenhausen of Coleridge; E. A. Olson, extension agricultural engineer; Dr. Otis E. Cross, associate professor of agricultural engineering; Weston Webb, electrification advisor from Southern Nebraska Rural Public Power District at Grand Island; Dr. Crosby Howe, extension veterinarian; Gayle Lewis, field engineer from the Portland Cement Association in Lincoln and other swine housing representatives.

Friday's morning session is slated to begin with coffee and rolls at 9:15 a.m. and another session led by E. A. Olson at 9:30 a.m. During the morning, experts will speak on topics such as farrowing and controls, selection and application of plywood and regulations on livestock.

Liquid manure systems, progress in swine housing research in Nebraska and features of prefabricated swine housing are discussion topics for afternoon speakers.

Agent Ingalls said Tuesday that 75 had already registered for the conference at that time.

There is a registration fee of $7 that covers the noon meal both days as well as the hand-out materials. Bob Fritsch, area swine specialist at the Northeast Station, emphasizes, "The registration fee is only a token investment in an enterprise that has made you money. Don't miss the conference because of the fee - I'm sure you'll find it well worth the time and money."

The Northeast Swine Producers will furnish the coffee and rolls during the Wayne meeting.

Farmers Offered Ideas On Farmstead Planning

Farmers interested in learning more about laying out their farmsteads may be able to pick up some valuable tips during a meeting scheduled for the Northeast Station east of Concord Monday afternoon.

The meeting, which will begin at 1:15 p.m., will be conducted by Wayne Fisher, area Extension engineer at the Station. Primary emphasis will be placed on the location of windbreaks, drainage, feed handling facilities and livestock facilities.

Any area farmers or agribusinessmen are invited to attend the meeting. It is being sponsored by the Dixon, County Extension service.

Chili Feed Set By Local Scouts

Wayne Boy Scout Troop, 175 will sponsor a chili supper between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the Woman's Club room Jan. 22, according to Rowan Witase, scoutmaster.

Tickets are one dollar for adults and 75 cents for those 10 years old and under. There will be no charge for pre-school children.

The chili supper is an annual affair. Proceeds will be used for scout projects.

Legislation Seminar Set for Wayne Council Gives Okay To Buy Equipment For Snow Removal

Wayne will be the site of one of 10 educational seminars being sponsored by the League of Nebraska Municipalities and the Department of Economic Development during the months of February and March.

The seminars, being held across the state, will include instruction concerning new requirements placed on city officials, particularly city clerks, by the 1969 legislation.

Although discussion will be held on any topic requested, primary emphasis will be placed on city officials' duties in the area of code enforcement, minimum housing ordinances, election law changes, finance and budgeting requirements, and road study legislation.

The seminar in Wayne will be held at the city auditorium on March 16-17.

The 10 seminars are partially funded by a grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the Department of Economic Development's division of community affairs. The grants are possible under Title VIII of the Housing Act of 1964 for community development training.

The two sponsoring organizations are jointly developing a handbook for city officials in the areas to be touched upon during the seminars. The handbooks, which will be included in the cost of registration for the seminars, will be handy for daily reference by city officials.

The other nine seminars will be held in Sidney, North Platte, Holdrege, Grand Island, Beatrice, O'Neill, Schuyler, Omaha and Gordon. The Sidney seminar, scheduled for Feb. 25-26, opens the series, and the Gordon seminar, set for March 31, ends the series.

Sleigh Riding Halted Because of Thievery

The theft of several warning flares from the two hills used for sleigh riding in Wayne has caused the streets department to halt the activity on one of those hills until the flares are returned or found.

Vern Schultz, streets commissioner, said this week that four of the flares were stolen during the weekend from the hill on Douglas St. between First and Third. Another one was stolen from the hill on Walnut between Ninth and Tenth. As a result, the barricades have been removed from the hill on Douglas St. and children can no longer sleigh ride there with assurance drivers will be cautious. Schultz said the barricades at the other site will stay up as long as no more flares are stolen.

He emphasized that anybody knowing anything about the missing flares should contact either him or the police department. "If they want the barricades back up, they had better return the flares," he said.

According to the March of Dimes, many medical reports have shown an association between heavy smoking and the birth of underweight babies.

adjoining counties who normally receive free high tuition money from Wayne County to join Wayne in the attempt to get those funds released.

That original suit, ironically, doesn't tie up the funds itself. The funds are being tied up because of a law which says funds under litigation have to be withheld until some decision is reached by the courts.

County Board Meets To Name Appointees

Wayne County commissioners met Tuesday and re-elected George Stolz of Carroll as chairman. Norris Wetble as clerk and named The Wayne Herald as the county's official newspaper for publication of legal notices.

The board reappointed Dr. Roy Matson, Sheriff Don Wetble and Mrs. Gladys Porter to the board of health. Wetble will serve again as chairman. Jean Nuss was reappointed for a five-year term to the Soldier's Relief Commission. An earlier report stating the term of Arnold Zach of Wayne expired this year was in error.

It was decided by the commissioners to set aside $500 in the 1970-71 budget, as is customary, for matching money for the fair board.

A resolution was passed by the board to combine county, city and school elections. The salary of the county service officer was raised from $2,400 to $3,000 a year.

Council Gives Okay To Buy Equipment For Snow Removal

The city council of Wayne Tuesday night voted to authorize the streets commissioner, Vern Schultz, to attempt to buy a used blower for use on the city this winter in removing snow. The snow blower would cost the city about $750.

It would be able to keep most of the trucks the city now has available busy once it was started, according to Schultz. Lack of enough trucks for use - the city now has about eight ready - has stopped the city from purchasing a blower in the past. There is no use having one unless you are able to keep it going at full peak once you start it until you get the snow gone, Schultz noted.

The council, meeting for the first time in 1970, also decided to spend money in several other ways.

By giving Police Chief Vern Fairchild authority to hand out specifications to the local car dealers for a new police car. The new car would replace the 1968 model now being used by the department.

By deciding to go ahead with a test on the new 20-cylinder engine recently installed in the city light plant. The test would cost just over $1,000 and is necessary to make the engine run on a 110 percent overload in order to see if it will perform correctly. The council, noting that the engine cost over half a million dollars, thought the test was almost mandatory.

By voting to raise the salary of the director of the Senior Citizens Center, Mrs. Eldon Bull, from $150 to $200 a month. Three quarters of her salary will be paid by the state for several more months under the matching grant contract. The commission noted that the job entails much more work than first thought, especially since it is being accepted so fully by the elderly people in the area.

In other action, the council gave an okay to the Wayne County Public Power District to bury a gasoline tank near its offices in Wayne. The gas will be used to fill the company's trucks.

Passed during the evening was a resolution of necessity for a sanitary sewer district which would cover the recently annexed addition to the west of Wayne, The Knolls. A hearing on that district will be held on Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. to give property owners a chance to protest the assessments. The district would cost about $40,000, all of which will be paid by the property owners.

The council voted to accept a lengthy change in the parking restrictions in several areas of the city. The parking restrictions bring those areas more in line with the restrictions presently existing elsewhere in the city.

Although no formal action was taken, two councilmen noted that the council's recent decision to stop paying the salaries of the crossing guards at the two intersections on Seventh St. was not taken without some thought and planning. They noted that they had hoped the school board would look into the possibility of having older students serve as guards for the younger children at the Seventh and Sherman intersection. The police department would be able to furnish these students with all the equipment they would need. The experience would save the city money and would serve as good experience for the students, according to those councilmen.

Wakefield PTA Plans Supper and Program

Wakefield PTA will sponsor a chili and oyster supper Jan. 20 in the multi-purpose room of the elementary school. Public is invited. There will be a 50-cent charge for adults and 25 cents for students.

Following the 6:30 p.m. supper hour a Walt Disney feature-length film will be shown entitled, "Rusty and the Falcon."

Reservations for the supper and movie should be made no later than this afternoon (Thursday). Those planning to attend should contact the school.

Receives Appointment

Marlin Lessmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlewood Lessmann of Wayne, was named the corporate secretary of Metz Baking Company in Sioux City late in December.

Lessmann, who graduated from high school in Wayne, has been employed by the Sioux City company as corporate legal counsel since graduation from the University of South Dakota School of Law in June of last year.

More than 20,000 training opportunities have been made available to disadvantaged jobless persons under the JOBS (Job Opportunities in the Business Sector) program since August 1, 1969. This involves a total Federal investment of more than $48 million.

Don Peterson Given Assistantship at ISU

Don Peterson

The son of former residents of Wayne has received a graduate assistantship for study at Indiana State University in Terre Haute. Receiving the assistantship was Donald W. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Peterson. The Petersons at one time lived in Wayne before moving to Terre Haute.

Don, who began work on his master's degree the second semester, graduated from Wayne State College in December. He plans to obtain his graduate degree in educational television broadcasting.

I See By The Herald
Mr. and Mrs. George Thorbeck arrived home Monday after a three-week trip to Honolulu, Hawaii, where they visited their son, Dr. I. G. Thorbeck and his wife and daughter. Thorbecks made the return trip via California where they visited other relatives.

WCTU Ladies Are Holding Drive for Men in Viet Nam

Members of Women's Christian Temperance Union chapters in northeast Nebraska are still conducting their fund raising campaign for members of the armed forces who are serving in Viet Nam.

Collection canisters have been set up in business places in Laurel, Dixon and Concord. The money collected in the drive, which is being conducted on a national scale, will go to buy soft drinks for the servicemen because the water in that country is so unsanitary.

Last year over $6,000 was raised in the campaign. This year the WCTU members are anticipating collection of a much larger amount. Over 5,000 WCTU chapters are taking part in the drive this year, the third year for the drive.

According to Mrs. Allen Prescott of Dixon, "Regardless of what we may think of the war in Viet Nam, our men are doing their duty under great hardship. This is only a small thing we are doing, but it will at least let these men know they are not forgotten."

Funeral Services For M. Messenger Are Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Mabelle Messenger, former Wayne resident, were held Tuesday afternoon at White Chapel, Wayne. Mrs. Messenger died Jan. 9, 1970 at Los Angeles, Calif.

The Rev. Cecil Bliss officiated at the rites. Mrs. Fritz Ellis sang "Take My Hand, O Precious Lord," accompanied by Paulette Merchant. Pallbearers were Henry Ley, Neil Sandahl, Wayne Sandahl and Rick Sandahl. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

Mabelle Messenger, was born June 23, 1889 at Wayne. She lived on a farm east of Wayne until moving to North Dakota. In 1909 she moved to Canada where she lived until her death. Mrs. Messenger was a member of the Central United Church of Canada and past member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

She was preceded in death by her husband, brother and parents. Survivors include a sister, Rachael Acheson of Sedro Woolley, Wash.; a brother, LeRoy Koefoed, Gleechen, Alberta, Canada, and a niece, Mrs. Katherine Lugo, Los Angeles, Calif.

Eyes before a baby is born, doctors can now diagnose disorders due to extra or missing chromosomes, reports the March of Dimes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

A Great Illusion

Harry Houdini, though a mastercraftsman of magic, likely never was able to create an illusion which could begin to match that of federal aid. Houdini's magic lasted but minutes. Federal aid has gone on for years.

"We can get federal aid" or "We can get matching money from the government," are phrases heard daily. Though many do understand how Uncle Sam got the money in the first place, others are under the illusion it is "free" money.

First of all, Sam doesn't have any money of his own. Even as the government is made up of "we, the people," likewise the only money Sam has comes directly out of our pockets. Federal aid is not unlike taking money out of our right pocket, losing part of it in the transfer, and putting the balance in the left pocket. We then reach into our left pocket and think, "Gee it was nice of me to give myself a handout!"

We, the people who make up the government like governmental services on the federal, state and county levels, but often don't like to pay our share. We even enjoy services provided by city government, but we may gripe about every penny it costs.

As long as there have been governments, there have been taxes. As long as there have been taxes, folks have grumbled, sometimes rebelled, but most usually paid. Is there such a thing as a perfect tax? Not in the sense of one that produces all the revenue required and satisfies everyone at the same time.

Taxes in this country are the price we pay for governmental services. We should consider them as we do any other business transaction in which we receive something we need, or want, and later pay the bill.

Taxes buy military security, roads, schools, fire and police protection, law enforcement, state, federal, county and city governments, and, oh, yes, foreign aid and federal aid. Of all people on earth, who could begin to match that of federal aid. Houdini's magic lasted but minutes. Federal aid has gone on for years.

Too often, a part of the illusion of federal government, is that we are but slaves of a small group in Washington. Not true! We, the people are the masters and those in government offices are the servants. Let's not forget it.

Our taxes not only pay the salaries of those people in office but a portion of our taxes, after being cut for administrative and other costs, are held before us as "federal aid."

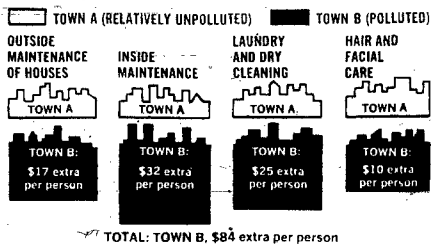

Federal aid is fine as long as everyone understands that no one in Washington is giving us a thing since the hard earned money belonged to the taxpayers to begin with. To further illustrate, many people think of social security payments as more or less a "hand out" from Uncle Sam. Not so! Sam's money is our money. As social security money is taken out of wages while you are working, Sam invests it and earns a profit on it. Then when you reach the proper age to "draw social security," all you are doing is getting your own money back, check by check. Uncle Sam isn't giving you anything. Those checks represent Sam's repayment of money you loaned to him through the years. If a husband dies and the wife receives social security payments for herself and the family, it is interest money Sam has made and is making on taxpayer's money.

Let's rid ourselves of the illusion that some great "white father" in Washington does our "free" money as federal aid. The people are the government, not a few holding offices, and any money distributed comes right out of our own pockets.

If we like all the services we are providing for ourselves, why complain about taxes? — MMW.

HOW MUCH DOES AIR POLLUTION COST?

One estimate is $65 for every man, woman and child in the U.S. But here is what a careful study found in comparing two towns on costs of just four items:

State's Law Enforcement Center Homeless, Headless

LINCOLN — The new state law enforcement training center was still looking for a home at the end of last week.

The 1969 Legislature established the training program and gave the administrative authority to the State Patrol. A commission composed of state, county and city law enforcement officials was created to offer advice.

The commission — under the direction of Beatrice Police Chief Merl Hesser — has been trying to decide which of four proposed sites to recommend for the new facility. A decision is expected this week.

The commission's recommendation will go to Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann who will consult with Patrol Col. J. E. Kruger before a final determination is made.

Meanwhile, Kruger and the commission are searching for a director to head the training program.

Hesser said he hasn't been disturbed by the delay in finding a site for the center since a director hasn't been chosen yet. The deadline for applications by director candidates is Jan. 30.

Kruger had told state senators last summer he hoped to have the training center in operation by early in 1970.

The four sites being considered are the patrol's training academy at the former Lincoln Air Force Base, a former radar station in North Omaha recently transferred to the state, a former air force facility at Grand Island and Pershing College at Beatrice.

Hesser said there were advocates for each site among the commission members. Each site, he said, would require some remodeling eventually to provide proper facilities for the training program.

Under the new law, all law enforcement officers hired after Jan. 1, 1972, must have been certified by the training center as qualified. That means they must have been graduated from the center or had training elsewhere judged to be equivalent.

In addition, all officers scheduled for promotion must have had advanced training — either at the center or elsewhere.

Omaha, Lincoln and some other cities in the state have their own training programs. It is expected that these will receive certification. The major assistance is to be for smaller towns and counties.

Potentially, the training center will offer workshops on special law enforcement problems.

The end result, according to the sponsors of the legislation, is hoped to be a more professional law enforcement staff at all levels in Nebraska.

DDT 'No Threat'

A Legislative Council committee studying pollution has been told by spokesmen for the chemical industry that DDT as presently used poses "no threat to our environment."

The witnesses at the committee's first hearing claimed that there was no evidence of harmful effects for humans if the chemical were used with reasonable caution.

The benefits, on the other hand, are tremendous, the agricultural chemists maintained. They said "billions" of lives had been saved through the use of DDT on disease-bearing insects. In addition, they said, the world's food supply has been doubled since the pesticide has been in use.

There is another side of the story — and witnesses who will give their testimony about how DDT can affect the environment will appear at later committee hearings.

Student Files Lawsuit

A student has taken the University of Nebraska Board of Regents to court.

Raymond S. Thompson III, a senior in the College of Law, has filed a suit in Lancaster County District Court challenging the constitutionality of a state law requiring him to pay non-resident tuition rates.

Under the questioned law, a student must have lived in the state four months before enrolling in the university before he qualifies for the resident tuition rates.

Thompson said since he didn't qualify for the lower tuition initially, he is forced to pay the higher rate throughout his school career at NU.

He said he has been living in Nebraska and considers it his permanent home now. He said he pays real estate taxes on his residence and pays sales and income taxes. His car is registered and taxed here. He said he is eligible to vote in Nebraska.

In Thompson's opinion, that makes him a resident. He is asking the court to have $1,624.50 returned to him by the university. That is the difference in the tuition he has paid over the years as a so-called non-resident.

Thompson is chairman of the NU Law College's national mock court team.

Welfare Increase Coming

An increase amounting to $7.50 in the checks received by some welfare recipients is to go into effect next month.

State Welfare Director Harold Strode says the first checks including the larger amounts will be mailed late in February.

The increase was the result of a law passed by the 1969 Legislature. The new law, which became effective Christmas Day, permits the welfare officials to ignore $7.50 more in income in calculating the size of welfare payments.

IRS Q. & A.

Q — Other than the fact that color makes the form look nicer is there any advantage in having red, white and blue tax forms?

A — It is expected that color will draw the taxpayer's attention to those areas on the tax form where errors are made which lead to delays in processing returns and issuing refunds. The instructions for using the pre-addressed name label and signing the return, for example, are highlighted in red.

Common reasons for delays in processing returns and issuing refunds are a missing or inaccurate Social Security number or an illegible name or address. When a return is filed using the label showing the taxpayer's correct name, address and Social Security number, this cause for delay is removed.

Q — What taxes can I deduct? A — If you itemize deductions, state and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property and real estate taxes may be deducted. These should be listed on Schedule A Itemized Deductions, and attached to your Form 1040.

Those who itemize will find that using the new Schedule A provides more room to list things such as medical expenses and charitable contributions that was available on the back of the old Form 1040.

When you buy your next car, new or used, it will pay you to stop and see Dick... Rates are competitive, repayment is convenient, sized to your income. Finance your next car here.

Are TV Programs Polluting the Airwaves?

Much is being said and written currently about air pollution. Another current topic sparking comment is related to the possible pollution of the airwaves by questionable television programming involving excessive violence and crime.

We interviewed seven men and seven women Monday morning in downtown Wayne concerning personal opinions regarding television.

Our first question, "Is the general content of television programming more harmful or more helpful to children morally?" received a wide variety of answers. Some of them were as follows:

Woman: "If a child doesn't already have the idea of different methods of crime or violence, he will learn it on TV. Then too, maybe it could lead them to not do the things it really goes back to a child's homelife."

Woman: "I believe television offers more that is helpful than harmful."

Man: "TV does give them ideas."

Man: Programs like "Discovery 70" and Walt Disney shows are helpful, however, I believe the shows are generally more harmful."

Woman: "My own opinion is that they are more harmful."

Man: "I would say TV shows are basically helpful."

Woman: "Some of the crime on television goes over the children's head I think. I would say the programming is more helpful."

Man: "More harmful. They should clean it up."

Final tally showed eight of the persons interviewed think the general content of television programming is more harmful than helpful to children morally, and six believe it to be more helpful.

A second question asked was, "How can television programming be improved?" Suggestions included a better selection of movies, ban the violence in cartoons, remove foul language, telecast more of the crime-type programs after prime time, get rid of the soap operas, ban wild commercials and improve the intellectual level of the run-of-the-mill programs.

Each of the 14 people were asked as to the approximate number of hours he or she watched TV each week. It varied from as low as seven hours to as high as 30 hours, but most thought they watched around 12 to 15 hours a week or about two hours a day.

Wives seemingly would prefer fewer sport features and the men would just as soon get rid of the soap operas, so it seems to be a continuation of the old battle of the sexes.

One housewife admits watching "As The World Turns" for the past 13 years and of course the men would watch the super bowl with the same loyalty if the game would last that long. So television continues to cause no small stir in most households.

If television is polluting the airwaves, it appears a majority of the people don't seem to mind overly much as they open up the pipeline and let it flow into the front room.

There is always that Off-On button that can control the flow. — MMW.

The Mormons Settle Genoa

Research by the Nebraska State Historical Society for a historical marker to be erected at Genoa has resulted in new information on the settlement. In the fall of 1856 and the spring of 1857, the Mormon Church, or Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, planned to establish a year-round freight line and mail service between Salt Lake City and the Missouri River at Florence. One of the first way stations to be established was located on Beaver Creek near the Loup Fork at present day Genoa in Nance County. The site was near the eastern end of the road and Brigham Young gave Erastus Snow, one of the leaders of the Church then serving a mission in St. Louis, the task of selecting a group of Saints to establish this colony and way station. Brother Snow selected a number of the St. Louis Saints to go to the new settlement. They were joined in this enterprise by others from Florence, Nebraska and Alton, Illinois. The majority of the Saints traveled up the Missouri River on the steamboat, Hannibal. They were divided into four groups called companies, two American or English, one Welsh, and one Danish. Their leaders were Jacob Hayball, Thomas Gibbons, David Jones, and Christian Peter Nelson, respectively. Of the 200 Mormons on board only part of them were going to Genoa. The Saints had with them all of their worldly goods including farming tools and wagons. Brother William Martindale, a missionary returning from the south, with the help of others drove a herd of oxen along the banks of the Missouri from St. Louis to Florence so those on the boat would have cattle to pull their wagons and plows. Along the Missouri that year oxen were selling at $150.00 per team and yoke. The settlers arrived in Florence on May 2. It took seven hours of steady work to get their baggage and freight off the boat. The next day they moved to a camp site behind the storehouse and began collecting the needed seeds, farm tools, wagons and oxen for the trip over land to Genoa. This trip took five days. They arrived at the site of their new home on May 16, 1857. Great haste was made to plow, plant, and fence their fields so there would be a harvest in the fall to sustain them through the following winter. By June 4, 200 acres were plowed and planted and a total of 850 acres were fenced. On July 1, Elder Hudson made his report to John Taylor and Erastus Snow, visiting church authorities, that they had crops of corn, potatoes, buckwheat, and garden stuffs planted and that all was going well. Their saw mill was running and the brick yard was going full blast. Thus the colony established itself and expected to have adequate houses for its population of about 100 families. The population on July 1, 1857, was "49 men, 25 women, 42 yoke of oxen, 20 cows, 6 horses, and some two dozen chickens, 20 hogs, and 2 cats, and dogs plenty."

Impala.

It's got more re-sale value because it's got more to re-sell.

One of the nicest things about buying an Impala is selling it. That's because selling it traditionally brings back more of what you put into it in the first place. Money. Where does Impala get getting its higher resale value? From features like those you see below. Features which explain why America's most popular car for the last nine years will undoubtedly make it ten in a row.

Impala. More to drive. More to re-sell.

- Body by Fisher
- Hidden radio antenna
- Magic-Mirror finish
- Longer life exhaust system
- Protective inner fenders
- Widest front tread in its field
- More resale value, more popularity, too.
- Side-guard beam structure
- Computer-selected springs
- Power disc brakes

A SPOT REMOVER. Rick and Judy Richtermeyer of Carroll, a husband and wife team, brought laughter to a large crowd attending the Band Boosters' annual home talent show in the Carroll auditorium Monday night. Between acts of the show the Richtermeyers entertained with a commercial. Judy couldn't find a spot remover that would clean a shirt. Rick guaranteed her a product that would, without question, remove the spot. He whipped out sissors and removed it quickly. The show is sponsored annually by the Band Boosters.

MR. AND MRS. EMIL DANGBERG, Wayne, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Jan. 25 with open house from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Winside St. Paul's Lutheran Church. No formal invitations are being issued. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. Dangbergs were married Jan. 23, 1920 in Winside, and have lived since in Wayne County.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burson served as hosts at the reception held later at the church fellowship hall for 115 guests. Mrs. Delmar Nielsen registered guests and Mrs. Michael Casavant, Mrs. John Terry, Mrs. Tony Johnson and Mrs. James Gray arranged gifts.

Mrs. Norman Melby cut and served the cake and Mrs. Loren Coberly and Mrs. Gordon Clemon poured. Susan Coberly and Kathy Swan served punch. Waitresses were Mrs. Jim Armstrong, Laura Melby, Elaine Bergstrom and Jodie Butler. Circle II had charge of the kitchen.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a red knit dress, complemented by her white rose corsage.

The couple took a brief wedding trip and are making their home at 216 Fairground Avenue, Wayne. The bride is a Junior at Wayne State College. The bridegroom, who received his discharge from the U. S. Army in March, is also a student at WSC.

The March of Dimes reports that significant birth defects occur at least twice as often among premature babies as they do among full-term babies.

J. Schlothauer, Byron Fegley Wed In Gering Church

The First United Methodist Church of Gering was the setting for the Dec. 27 wedding of Janice Lee Schlothauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schlothauer, Mitchell, to Byron Gene Fegley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Fegley, Concord. The Rev. Alden B. Sears officiated at the 7 p.m. rites and Bob Reichert sang, "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Henry Schneider.

The bride's gown, a shimmer of white peau de soie, was fashioned with a detachable chapel length Watteau train and featured lace and velvet ribbon at the high rise collar and on the cuffs on the bishop sleeves. Her elbow length veil cascaded from a forward cut-purse-lace headpiece and she carried a nosegay of pink sweet-heart roses on a white Bible.

Maid of honor, Ruth Ann Brock of Scottsdale, Ariz., and bridesmaids, Ann Wiley and Barbara Doerr, Lincoln, wore floor length gowns of purple velvet and carried pink polinetas and roses. Best man was Dennis Fegley, brother of the bridegroom, and groomsmen were Dr. G. H. Schlothauer, San Clemente, Calif., a brother of the bride, and David Johnson, Albuquerque, N. M. Ushers were John Howlett and Gerald Dettzell, Lincoln.

Candlelighters were LeeAnn Brown, Fort Collins, and Kirk

Woods Conn, Grand Junction, Colo.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the reception and a post-reception party, hosted by Dr. Schlothauer, followed at the 19th Hole. The bridegroom's parents were host to a pre-nuptial dinner at the Hide-Away Lounge.

Following a Denver wedding trip the couple settled at their new home at 3113 Maplewood Boulevard, Omaha.

The bride was graduated from Gering High School and the University of Nebraska where she was affiliated with Chi Omega. She is presently employed as a teacher at Bennington High School. The bridegroom, a Wakefield High School graduate, was graduated in 1969 from the University of Nebraska and is employed by the Omaha National Bank.

In 1519 the Artec capital of Tenochtitlan on the site of present-day Mexico City had an estimated population of 300,000—larger than the contemporary London of Henry VIII, reports the National Geographic Society's new book, "Discovering Man's Past in the Americas."

Dec. 28 Wedding For Nancy Owens, Dean Skokan Jr.

Nancy Jane Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Owens, Soldier, Iowa, and Dean F. Skokan Jr., son of Mrs. Marie Skokan, Wayne, exchanged wedding vows Dec. 28 at the Soldier Lutheran Church. Pastor I. J. Lovseth of Moorhead, Iowa, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. rites and organist was Vicky Lee, Soldier. John Brandstetter, Wayne, sang "One Hand, One Heart," and Mrs. James Clemon, Omaha, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor length gown of empire fashioned Chantilly lace with attached chapel train. Her bouffant illusion veil was caught to a forward petal headpiece and she carried a colonial arrangement of white roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dennis Robinson, Wayne, and bridesmaids were Susan Owens, Soldier, Cheryl Haase, Denison, and Ruth Holecck, Omaha. Their empire styled floor length gowns were of deep blue velvet and they carried white carnations centered by single blue candles. Their headpieces were of white tany mums.

Don Skokan, Wayne, was best man and groomsmen were Merle Rise, Fremont, and Ted Starostka, Columbus. Ushers were Delmar Nielsen, Soldier, and Bob Skokan, Wayne. Amy Clemon, Omaha, was flowergirl and Bill Butler, Charter Oak, Iowa, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Owens chose a blue and green satin brocade dress with black accessories. Mrs. Skokan wore a light blue suit with white accessories. Both had blue carnation corsages.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Innumerable people have written or stopped me at a coffee shop or even at a stockyard's alley in sub-zero weather, asking me about the Nebraska calves which were shipped to Levittown, N. Y., and Melbourne Beach, Fla., in September.

Al Nelson and I went to New York City. We saw those helpless Sophisticates, the longshoremen's wives on the East Side and the duty-bound Long Island suburbanites. All unable to feed themselves but picketing the chain stores to complain of the beef price rise... a full 60 days after live cattle had dropped $70 a head. The black calves are named after their towns of origin. Lexington now resides in a zoo at Eisenhower Park on Long Island. Unloaded before three TV network camera crews, dozens of reporters and thousands of the curious urbanites, Lexington is now more symbol than beef. Parents will point to Lexington for years to come and say, "I think Charles Russell or General Custer, or was it Gene Autry or Huckberry Hound, once roped that wild bull in Indian Country." A donation depository is nearby.

I doubt if Lexington ever fattens. Zoo hay and popcorn seldom make choice beef. "The cost of gain?" you ask... well, Mom, since white uniformed zoo personnel, the rate of depreciation on equipment and the upkeep of a metropolitan park site, the feed, the medicine, insurance and taxes are all now city park expenses, I guess Mrs. Mickey DeLorenzo will still say, "Feed costs were zero. Anyone can feed their own cheaper."

Not so Gordon.
Gordon ended up in sunny Florida... delivered to Mrs. Jan Stoplett, now Consumer Advisor to the Governor's Council. After the press fanfare, Jan donated Gordon to a county home, which sold him to a trader, and he, to a girl for a gift project. Melbourne is not exactly a feeding community. Fact is a newly assigned building inspector turned his double "whammy" on the one-head commercial feedlot. The lot, situated in a newly annex area at the terminal of a dead-end street, might pollute the Okeechobee and Everglades Swamps and the entire Miami water supply. This was deemed unsanitary. Mr. Eagerbeaver swore out a warrant. His first. The children of the part-time chief of police disrupted the seventh grade class by announcing that a raid would be made that night. It was. Arrested—also a first—in the dark, to the chagrin of the city council, because the press also poured out of the pine woods. New headlines. New publicity. The court session promises to be hot, lengthy and expensive. Lawyer fees cost more than $1.10 corn.

Both lady pickets sent Christmas cards. Still complaining but evidently more footsore than successful. East Coast chain stores are still cutting all time percentage of beef profits.
Successful? Only if the farmer follows up. At least we know they can't feed themselves.
Beef prices will go even higher. Housewives will periodically pick... as they did in '69 and also during the depression in April '33 in Los Angeles with T-bones only 17¢ a pound.

They would find better exercise jogging.
But... they do have a scrap book.

FORECAST: Expect a heavy cattle run any day... hauled by a truck just one hilltop ahead of the county livestock assessor. From that day on, the market prospects will be 30 days roller coasting with violent daily reactions.
Stock cattle: Demand changes with every snowstorm. Hay higher than corn.

"The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away — but what would he want with that ol' sidehill farm of mine?"

Northeast Extension Notes

by Mary A. Schluckebier
Guess What's for Dinner?
During the time Abraham Lincoln was a clerk, there were around 900 food items for customers to choose. Even in 1940 the shopper made selections from about a thousand food items. Today supermarkets sport 8,000 or more items. So many new forms of food products are being produced that supermarkets have to limit the number carried.
It is fun to wander through the stores spotting items that weren't there yesterday. But on

State Nearly Free From Hog Cholera Says Laurel Speaker

"Our native Nebraska swine herds are apparently free of hog cholera. Our problem now is to prevent the re-introduction of the disease."
This is the analysis of Dr. Stan Flora, state veterinarian, in reviewing the progress of hog cholera eradication in the state during the past two years, and looking ahead to problems block-our markets' "convenience" foods lists of ingredients there are items strange to us. Some of these confusing ingredients are "synthesized" to represent "natural" foods, emulsifiers, stabilizers and preservatives to provide the desired textures, flavors and freshness. They are safe when their use is approved by the Food and Drug Administration. Food for Us All, the 1969 Yearbook of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, abounds in interesting descriptions of food from farm to the table. How to buy, store and cook foods, recipes, USDA food programs, food processing and packaging are some topic examples. This is an excellent book to refer to often.

Members of Congress have a limited number of copies for free public distribution. Other copies may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

ing complete elimination of the disease.

He backed his statement by pointing out that all outbreaks in Nebraska during 1969 were traceable—with one exception—to feeder pigs imported from other states.

Dr. Flora will speak during the University of Nebraska-sponsored Area Swine Day at Laurel on Jan. 29. His talk will be entitled "A Review of Hog Cholera Outbreaks."

Noting that hog cholera eradication in Nebraska has been proceeding "very well," the state regulatory official said 25 cases of hog cholera were confirmed in 1968, compared to only 14 cases this past year. However, indemnity payments from state and federal funds amounted to $68,150.46 in 1968 and $132,238.00 in 1969.

Some states experienced a substantial number of cases of hog cholera starting in the spring of 1969, Dr. Flora said. "The severity of the problem has lessened to a great degree this past fall, particularly in those states that tightened movement requirements—as did Nebraska—and then vigorously enforced the requirements."

"The federal government has implemented a plan imposing an area quarantine where a case is confirmed. It is too early to assess the effect but it is anticipated this action will do much to preclude movement of exposed swine and reduce outbreaks resulting from swine movement.
"With extraordinary luck, Nebraska could be cholera free by late 1970, but sometime in 1971 is a much more likely date," Dr. Flora predicted.

IRS Q. & A.

Q—I kept a record of my earnings and withholdings for the year and am all set to file my return. Do I have to wait until I get my W-2?

A—Yes, one copy of all W-2's must be attached to your tax return when you send it in. Processing of the returns and refunds are delayed if this is not done. You should receive your W-2 no later than February 2.

Note that this year, the W-2 should be stapled on the back of Form 1040 rather than the front.

Q—Is there any change in how to file a return for 1969?

A—Filing requirements for 1969 Federal income tax returns are unchanged from last year.

To summarize them, a return must be filed by every person under 65 who had gross income of $600 or more for the year. For those 65 or older on the last day of tax year, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200.

Also, anyone who has net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment, is required to file a return and pay self-employment tax.
Filing requirements also apply to minors. A parent or guardian should file a return on behalf of a child who has gross income of $600 or more during the tax year. In every case, you must file a return to get any refund due.

County Agent's Column

by Harold Ingalls

The future of agriculture in today's technological age is of major concern not only to American farmers, but to the merchant on main street and to John Q. Citizen in general. But after more than 40 years' effort through government farm programs to deal with the problems of rural people, they are still facing serious difficulties.
This is the backdrop for "The Eleventh Round," a series of five documentary color films which will run five consecutive weeks, beginning Feb. 12, over the Nebraska Educational Television Network.
Focus of the films is the discussion underway which will eventually lead to the next major national farm policy legislation. Since 1929, Congress has enacted 10 major farm bills. The current national farm program is based on the 1965 Agricultural Act which will expire at the end of 1970.

"The Eleventh Round" is being initiated in Nebraska by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service, in cooperation with the Nebraska Council of Churches. Various farm organizations and USDA agencies also have shown interest and promised support in securing citizen participation in the series.

The project gained its initial start from a Task Force of the Great Plains Agricultural Council which sought to provide a regional Extension effort dealing with problems of the American farmer, according to Dr. Everett E. Peterson, NE Extension Agricultural Economist.

The Task Force, originally made up of representatives of six Plains states—North and South Dakota, Montana, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska—now also includes Minnesota, Colorado, Texas and Wyoming have also provided financial support. Filming is taking place throughout the vast central area of the nation, with some additional funds granted by the Federal Extension Service, USDA.

The Task Force has prepared preliminary material dealing with the subject of each film. Each participating state is developing its own format of presenting the films and publications to the public, Peterson explained.

Because of the availability of a statewide ETV Network, this basic method will be used to beam the material to interested citizens' groups.

The schedule of half-hour programs, all at 8 p.m., CST: Feb. 12—After Fifty Years: a situationer on social and economic problems in rural Mid-America, which is defined to include all but metropolitan cities. Feb. 19—Which Way Now? Main choices in federal programs; effects on farm incomes, food prices, foreign markets, taxpayers' costs and rural communities.

Feb. 26—Imports and Exports: A discussion of the prevailing Protectionist Mood in world trade, major choices in trade policy, the effects of trade policy on American agriculture, business, industry and the consumer.

Mar. 5—Bargaining Power: Collective bargaining, marketing orders and agreements as methods of improving farm income.

Mar. 12—Shape of the 70's: Capital and management needs for commercial farms; role of small towns in rural areas; improving the quality of life in Mid-America; the responsibility of the private citizen in public policy formation.

The Nebraska plan will encourage the formation of local, self-administered viewing-discussion groups that will meet to view the films and discuss the issues and policy alternatives. The groups will be organized by pastors, church lay leaders, county Extension agents, farm organization leaders and other interested persons and will be conducted by discussion leaders.

Five leader training meetings are scheduled in January in Nebraska to provide organizers and leaders with detailed information on reference materials, discussion guides and suggestions for successful discussions.

The session to be conducted for this area will be held at Prengers in Norfolk beginning at 9:30 A.M. on January 23.

Brownie Troop Decorates Tree With Bird Food

Knowing that food may be scarce for birds in the winter time, members of Brownie Troop 304 prepared orange shells filled with raisins, popcorn strings, peanut shells with peanut butter and cups filled with bread crumbs, and placed the food items on a tree in the Greenwood Cemetery Friday afternoon. Mrs. John Vakoc is troop leader. She is assisted by Mrs. Bob Carhart and Cinda Harder.

Brownies in Troop 304 have decided to make this an annual winter project, according to Mrs. Vakoc.

Members of Wayne Brownie Troops 190, 192 and 304 held a roller skating party Saturday afternoon at the Wakefield rink with about 45 girls and leaders in attendance. Debra Brummond and Lori Sherlock won prizes in the drawing.

Mrs. Phil James is leader of Troop 190. Co-leaders of Troop 192 are Mrs. Jan Teeter and Mrs. Doris Jacobmeier.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR-Gertraud Havranek of Klagenfurt, Austria, recently volunteered and has become popular with the pupils at Winnebago under the Wayne State tutorial project. Miss Havranek, who taught for eight years in elementary and junior schools before coming to Wayne State last fall, keeps the youngsters spellbound with Austrian fairy tales. "I entered the tutorial program partly for the experience of seeing another side of America," she said, "and to see American Indians. We get a lot of myths about Indians from American western films, but nothing about modern westerns."

You'd Smile, Too If You Had A Wonderful Kitchen

What a change from my drab, dingy old kitchen!

When a gal spends a large part of her day in the kitchen, she deserves a convenient, pleasant place in which to work!

I told the experienced remodeling advisors at Carhart's about my old kitchen. We discussed my ideas for features I'd like in my new kitchen. We picked out some new cabinets and built-in appliances.

They came out and measured my kitchen space, then drew up special plans. When we agreed that everything was as we wanted it, they put a contractor to work.

Now, I have a bright, convenient, easy to use and easy to keep clean kitchen.

Why don't you see Carhart's soon? Take advantage of our available skilled craftsmen while they are confined to indoor working.
