"Nebraska State Park must be moved," Willard Barbee told Kiwanians during an address following a noon luncheon in the Woman's Club room Monday. "The park is dead. Flooding is frequent and the trees are dying. The park will have to be moved," the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission representative noted. Barbee has been selected to take over Mel Steen's responsibilities as head of the state game and parks commission on Apr. 22. Steen is scheduled to retire Apr. 21. The state officer was introduced to Kiwanians by Dr. Freeman Decker, club program chairman for January, who made arrangements for the official to be a guest of the club.

In commenting on Apr. 22, when he will take over his new duties in state government, Barbee explained there will be a nationwide teach-in going on that day concerning the quality of environment in the United States. He said he was in favor of such a movement as environment was a subject which should receive the attention of everyone. In taking "first things first," he said he will focus his attention on environmental conditions prevailing in Nebraska, particularly those related to hunting, fishing and recreation.

Following his November appointment to succeed Steen in the commission, Barbee told Kiwanians he wrote Governor Tieemann recommending he create an environmental advisory council. He pointed out such a council would be of invaluable aid to the commission and state.

The speaker stressed need for more outdoor recreation programs in the state and noted See GAME PLANS, page 6

Hot Pork Processing To Be Discussed at Laurel Swine Day

Area swine producers who turn out for the Area Swine Day at the Laurel city auditorium all day today (Thursday) will get a chance to hear a University of Nebraska meats scientist discuss hot pork processing, a process currently being researched for use under commercial processing plant conditions.

Dr. Mandigo, who will speak at Laurel just before the noon break, noted at the Area Swine Day at Scottsbluff that many questions concerning the potential usefulness of many of the items and ideas in the hot pork processing system have been raised through research conducted to date.

The process—cutting, fabricating and final packing plant processing of pork products before any initial carcass chilling—was researched in a three-year project, instigated by a research agreement with the NU Agricultural Experiment Station.

Critical Glances Might Be Prize If Teachers Lose

The teachers will really be in the public eye Thursday night, and if they don't turn in a convincing performance they may have a hard time facing their students come Friday morning.

Those teachers from the Wayne public school system will go up against the Wayne Jaycees in a benefit basketball game Thursday night at the city auditorium. There will be no admission charge, but a free will donation will be collected to help support the American Field Service program at the high school, a program whereby a foreign youngster is able to attend Wayne High for a full school year while living with his American "parents."

The game is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Added attraction: four women teachers (who were not identified by press time) will serve as cheerleaders for the high school team.

Among those who will probably suit up for the school squad are Don Johnson, Ron Dalton, Bob Porter, Dick Nelson, Don Koenig, Bill Wilson, Dick Metteer, Al Hansen, Darrel Heiler and Larry McClure. The Jaycee team will include Wayne Vessel, Bill Taylor, Dick Hammer, Ken Dahl, Larry Koehlmoss, Bill Wylie, Darrell Moore, Jerry Dorsey, John Dorsey and Ted Bahe. Others may suit up for both teams.

Sponsoring the event are the Wayne High student council and the local AFS chapter. Money collected will go toward helping bring another AFS student to Wayne next fall. The amount needed by the chapter in order to bring that student to Wayne is $850. Another $100 is needed to support the newly formed Americans Abroad program, counterpart to the AFS program, so a Wayne youngster can travel to a foreign country for one year of high school study. Two Wayne High students, Kathryn Hepburn and Tom McDermott, have already indicated they would like to study for one year in another country.

Munson Doing Well Following Surgery In Omaha Hospital

Gary Munson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Munson of Wayne, entered Clarkson Memorial Hospital in Omaha for a final phase of skin grafting Monday. It was the second round of surgery for the young Wayneite who was originally injured by lightning in 1964 while camping with Scouts at Ike's Lake northwest of Wayne.

Doctors grafted skin on Munson's left hand and upper arm Monday, according to his father. Gary will have to be flat on his back for eight days, but may be released from the hospital in 10 days.

Dr. reported Tuesday that Gary is wearing a large weighted bandage on his arm which keeps the new skin under slight pressure.

Gary will receive mail addressed to him in room 983, Clarkson Memorial Hospital, Omaha.

Munson is enrolled at the Millard Trade School in Millard. His wife is the former Mavis Swanson. They have a daughter, Gina.

City Will Furnish Crossing Guards

'Feathertop' Stirring up a storm to make a social comment in one of three one-act plays to be presented in the Wayne High School lecture hall Monday night at eight o'clock are, from left to right, Joe Manley, Randy Miller and Nancy Stanley. Doug Stanley is director. "Rinse the Blood Off My Toga," directed by Ron Seymour, and "Farmer's Daughter" directed by Dennis Ellmeier round out the three-play program. Tickets for adults are one dollar; student tickets are 75 cents and 50 cents for children.

That question of who is going to furnish crossing guards at the intersection of Seventh and Sherman Sts. has been settled for the time being. Until another arrangement is made, a city policeman will be stationed at the corner to help the younger school students as they cross the intersection on their way to and from school. That decision was made known to a group of about 10 ladies who attended the council meeting Tuesday night. The policeman will act as a crossing guard until the city and the Wayne school board can work out some system which will cost the two groups as little tax money as possible.

Scandinavian Institute Plans Revealed at WS

Plans for Wayne State's second annual Nebraska-Scandinavian Summer Institute were announced this week by Assistant Dean of Faculties Norman Nordstrand. The four-week institute is scheduled to begin with the group leaving Omaha by chartered plane about June 16. The exact date is not certain.

This year the institute is open to juniors and seniors. Applicants will be screened both on their academic ability and their flexibility in adapting to life in another culture. Students in other colleges may enroll.

The cost of the institute is $450, which includes round-trip plane fare, local travel expenses, and room and board. Participants will receive four hours of credit. An examination on the lecture material and a term paper on some aspect of Scandinavian life are required.

The itinerary includes a week at the Stages Folk High School near Copenhagen, a week at Fleming Folk School on Jutland, a week at either the Worker's Party School or the University of Oslo in Norway, two days in Gothenburg, Sweden, and return to Copenhagen.

The last four or five days of the tour, in Copenhagen, will be spent in participation in the People to People Program. Each member of the group will live in a private home the last days.

That question of who is going to furnish crossing guards at the intersection of Seventh and Sherman Sts. has been settled for the time being.

Until another arrangement is made, a city policeman will be stationed at the corner to help the younger school students as they cross the intersection on their way to and from school.

That decision was made known to a group of about 10 ladies who attended the council meeting Tuesday night.

The policeman will act as a crossing guard until the city and the Wayne school board can work out some system which will cost the two groups as little tax money as possible.

The city council earlier in January decided to do away with the crossing guards at Seventh and Main and at Seventh and Sherman. They reasoned that the intersection on Main St. is safe enough now that the self-actuated traffic lights have been installed for some time. The school board, they thought, should take over the responsibility of furnishing some form of protection at the Seventh and Sherman intersection.

The school board members, who were never officially informed of the council's decision, reasoned at their meeting on Jan. 12 that protection of all pedestrians in the city, including school students, was the responsibility of the city.

At the time of their decision to discontinue furnishing the crossing guards, the city council considered the possibility of having the school furnish student crossing guards. This possibility was not mentioned to the school board by the council.

In a letter read before the council Tuesday night, Francis Haun, superintendent of the Wayne-Carroll school system, noted that the school board was reluctant to consider student crossing guards because of the question of liability. If an accident ever occurred, he also noted that it would be difficult to furnish students for this purpose because there are so many different times a day that they would be needed.

A survey conducted by the school resulted in an overwhelming show of support for having a crossing guard at Seventh and Sherman. Out of 165 questionnaires returned by parents of youngsters in grades kindergarten through fourth, 144 said they favored crossing guards and 19 said they were not in favor of them.

The city council and the school board will attempt to work out See GUARDS, page 6

Tax Money To County And Towns

Wayne County received a total of $68,045.20 in sales and income tax distribution from the state, according to Leona Bahde, county treasurer. This is $5,119.20 less than the previous year of 1969 when Wayne County received $73,164.40.

There was no immediate explanation available for the substantial cut of more than $5,000. One-fifth or 20 percent of the funds received remain in the county's general fund, Miss Bahde noted. It meant $13,609.04 for the general fund in 1970 and $14,532.88 in 1969.

The remaining 80 percent of the funds is divided among the incorporated cities in Wayne County according to population in the last federal census, the treasurer explained.

Towns received these amounts in two years:

Town	1969	1970
Wayne	$48,799.41	$45,384.99
Windsle	4,813.98	4,477.15
Carroll	2,545.86	2,367.73
Hoskins	2,071.40	1,926.47
Sholes	300.87	279.82

Keep Milk in Meals

Ten years ago farm families used almost a fifth more milk per person than urban families. Because of the dwindling number of milk cows on farms other than dairy farms, milk consumed by farm families is now almost the same as that of families in town.

In this same period the amount of soft drinks has doubled. There is a question, then, if "pop" might not be coming a substitute for the more nutritious milk as a beverage in many homes.

The nutritive value of artificially flavored soft drinks is mainly calories furnished by carbohydrates, while whole milk can more adequately help meet the family members' need for calcium, vitamin A and complete protein.

That is why a popular TV commentator can say milk provides the "big lift that lasts." So, homemakers, keep an ample supply of milk in the home—for snacks, self-made meals and half-meals eaten on the run.

'Athletes' Meet WS Grapplers Thursday

Wayne State's wrestling team, which continues to surprise and please Coach Don Pate, has two home attractions in the coming week, after winning both meets of a double dual last Saturday.

In the wind-up of the three-meet day, Wayne downed Northeast Missouri State, 20-16. Between these meets, Bemidji dumped Northeast 22-13.

Between the Mayville and AIA meets, Wayne will go to Le Mars, Iowa, for a dual with Westmar Tuesday. The Athletes in Action team has a date with the University of Nebraska at Omaha on the night after wrestling Wayne.

- Wayne — Bemidji
114 — Tom Madsen, NE, won by forfeit.
115 — Tom Madsen, NE, won by forfeit.
116 — Tom Madsen, NE, won by forfeit.

- Wayne — Northeast
117 — Tom Madsen, NE, won by forfeit.
118 — Tom Madsen, NE, won by forfeit.
119 — Tom Madsen, NE, won by forfeit.

Four Wildcats won twice in the double dual—Max Brannum, John Kleitnick, Ken Monroe and Lee Hall. Brannum had one pin and an 18-0 decision in the other.

Wayne now has a 4-2 record in duals.

Athlete of the Week

Randy Helgren
Wayne High School

By Norvin Hansen

Randy Helgren, a starting guard on this year's Wayne High basketball team, is the second young man to prove that you don't necessarily have to have a lot of height in order to turn in good performances on the hardwood.

Helgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Helgren of Rural Wayne, was one of two gadflies who spurred the Blue Devils to their third win of the season, a 94-45 mastering of Neligh last Friday night. That effort earns the senior the title of "Athlete of the Week" from the sports writers at The Wayne Herald.

Although he played less than three quarters in the game, Randy came up with 26 points—his high output this season. He got those points (19 of them before intermission) on 10 of 21 field goals (48 per cent) and six of nine free throws (67 per cent). He also turned in his best performance of the season in two other departments by coming up with eight rebounds and seven assists, a better-than-passing performance considering his size and the length of time he was in the game.

Besides the other area athletes who turned in good performances last week to compete with Helgren for the "Athlete" honors, teammate Rod Cook, a 5-9 junior guard, was also in contention with him for the latest tag. Cook hit a hot 69 per cent from the field (9 of 13) as he went along scoring 18 points in the final half of that Wayne-Neligh contest.

Coach Dick Nelson gives Helgren plenty of credit for having those qualities which have to be present regardless of a person's athletic ability if he hopes to make consistently good showings: a good attitude and a lot of muscle. Nelson also points to Helgren's competitiveness and leadership qualities as characteristics which have helped him in sports despite his 5-8, 160-pound frame.

Proof of his ability to perform consistently well: he has been averaging 14 1/2 points a game, leads the squad in free throw accuracy with 67 per cent (57-85) and is third in grabbing rebounds.

A member of last season's all-star West Husker Conference football team, Helgren quarterbacked the Blue Devils to nine straight victories last year before being knocked out of that role by an injury.

Winside Streak Stretches to 4 With Wynot Win

The Winside Wildcats, enjoying what might turn into one of their longest winning streaks in a long time, overcame an early sluggishness to chalk up a 64-49 victory over Lewis & Clark Conference foe Wynot.

The game, played at Hartington Saturday night, marked the fourth straight victory for Winside. Friday night Coach Jim Witt will try to stretch that streak to five straight when he pits his Wildcats against the Allen Eagles on the Allen court.

Witt, in his first year as cage mentor at Winside, said his squad did everything well in the third quarter, making up for a poor showing in the opening stanza. "We ran everything well and our full-court press enabled us to bother the Wynot squad quite a bit," Witt noted.

Leading 31-28 going into that third period, Winside limited the Wynot team to just nine points while adding a hefty 22 to their side of the clock, giving the Wildcats a comfortable 53-37 lead going into the final eight minutes of the game.

The Winside reserves, playing most of that fourth period, almost outscored the hosting team as they came up with 11 points to Wynot's 12.

Hitting in double figures for the Wildcats, now 6-5 for the season, were Dave Witt with 19 and Gary Soden with 13. Witt came up with eight of his points in the second period to keep Winside from falling behind in the contest. Also making the scoring column were Phil Witt with nine points, Scott Duering, Fritz Weible and Doug Deck with seven each and Bob Jackson with two.

Dave Witt also led his team in the rebounding department, coming up with 12 of Winside's 39 retrievals.

Leading scorer for Wynot was 6-0 senior Dennis Driver with 18 points.

Wynot managed to come off better in field goal accuracy, edging the Wildcat's 35 per cent mark for the night. At the line, Winside hit at a 45 per cent clip, just under the Wynot showing.

The Winside reserves racked up a 59-19 win over the hosting Wynot squad as Jon Behmer managed to pump in 13 points to lead the scoring for the winners. Also figuring importantly in the scoring for Winside were Gregg Titterton and LaRue Langenberg with seven each and Bob Kruger with six. Winside led the Wynot team by 30-3 at one point in the game.

Charity Tries Prove Costly To WSC '5'

Wayne State outshot, outrebounded Hastings Tuesday but the host Hastings Broncos outscored Wayne from the free throw line for an 86-82 win.

The Wildcats were charged with 25 fouls, the Broncos 13. Hastings jumped to a 4-0 lead in less than a minute before Wayne gained the upper hand and held on until the Broncos broke a 28-28 tie and went ahead with five minutes left in the half.

From then on the Wildcats played the unusual role of catch-up basketball. They found it tough going against a fired-up Hastings quint that mounted probably the strongest defense Wayne has met this year.

Even so, the Wildcats matched Hastings in point production through the second half after trailing 41-37 at intermission. The Cats scored 35 field goals in the game, six more than Hastings; they snared 10 more rebounds, and they hit higher percentages from the field (49) and the free throw line (80) than Hastings (48 and 71 per cent, respectively).

Both teams balanced scoring neatly, with Wayne getting 18 points each from Dean Elofson and Bill Goodwin, 17 each from Paul Emanuel and Dave Schneider. For Hastings, Dan Wassenberg was high with 17 and four others hit 11 or more.

Wayne, despite the loss, still leads all Nebraska colleges in the win column with its 15-3 mark. Hastings is 12-3.

The Wildcats play Nebraska Wesleyan Friday night at Lincoln, then Dana Monday at 7:30 in the Gym—first home game after four away.

Area Jr. High Teams Meeting in Tourney

Junior high basketball teams from Winside, Wakefield and Allen were scheduled to take part in the eight-team tournament at Emerson which opened Wednesday night.

Playing that first evening were Thurston and Ponca at 6 p.m., Emerson Sacred Heart and Wakefield at 7, Winside and Emerson-Hubbard at 8, and Jackson and Allen at 9.

The second round of the tourney will be held tonight (Thursday) with the losers of Wednesday's first two games meeting at 6 p.m., the losers of the final two games meeting at 7, the winners of Wednesday's first two games meeting at 8, and the winners of the final two games meeting at 9.

Competition for first through seventh places in the tourney will be held Saturday with play beginning at 6 p.m.

Wakefield Quint 54-31 Victims of East Husker Foe

The fall of the Wakefield Trojans continued unabated Saturday night—a 54-31 defeat to East Husker Conference foe Scribner.

That loss is the fourth in the last five outings. Only a 58-55 win over Pender has kept the month of January from being a completely black month for the Wakefield quintet.

The Trojans, with a 7-3 record going into the Saturday day game, had trouble from the opening seconds of the contest. Those troubles—primarily an ineffective shooting effort by all the players and an inability to run their regular patterns—resulted in the visitors falling behind by 12 points going into the second period, 18-6, and by 19 points at intermission, 31-12.

Table with 2 columns: Player, Points. Scribner: 18 13 8 15 5 31. Wakefield: 6 6 8 11 11 51.

Usually a strong defensive team, the Trojans couldn't get that part of their game to click effectively until the second half. Then they held the hosts to nine points in the third period and 15 in the final period, but they were still unable to mount any offensive attack, tallying eight points right after intermission, 11 in the final eight minutes of play.

Wakefield Coach Dennis Crawford is going to have to rack his brains in order to cure some of the problems the Trojans have

LH Bears Dip to 4th

The unbeaten Laurel Bears dropped from third to fourth position on the latest Omaha World-Herald rating of the top 10 Class B basketball teams in the state.

Now with a 13-0 record, the Bears had tacked down third spot on the ratings for two straight weeks earlier. But they relinquished that spot to Fairbury this week, apparently because of their 69-68 squeaker over Class C Madison Friday night. The Bears will meet their first Class B opponent, O'Neill, in four outings—Friday night, 8:11 in the top position is Corad, 11-0, followed closely by Lexington, 10-1. That may change soon; those two teams meet Friday night.

Following Laurel are, in order: Scouting (7-1), Omaha Cathedral (6-1), Omaha Paul VI (9-1), Valentine (8-2), Seward (8-3) and Geneva (8-3).

High Scorer with 157

Breck Glase turned in a score of 157 to take top honors for high individual game during the Wakefield Christian Church bowling party in Wayne recently.

Local Matmen Humble Trojans, 45-3

By Kloth Tietgen
 Two local wrestling teams locked horns Tuesday night. On the short end were the Trojans of Wakefield, humbled by the Blue Devils of Wayne, 45-3.
 The loss dropped the Trojans' record to one win and five setbacks, upped the Blue Devils' record to five wins and four losses in dual competition.
 Tallying the lone three points for Wakefield was Steve Oswald as he decimated Jim Meyer, 4-1.
 Wayne was awarded 10 points by forfeiture as the Trojans were unable to field wrestlers in the 185-pound and heavyweight divisions.

 Four Wayne grapplers were able to pin their Trojan opponents: Chuck Pierson over Dave Carlson in 5:48, Mark Beterman over Steve Kraemer in 5:29, Bruce Ring over Bob Twite in 2:35 and Rod Slevers in 1:03.
 Five of Wayne's matmen scored decisions: Robert Locking over Devon Fischer, 6-5; Tony Pflueger over Dave Lehman, 5-1; Rick Ginn over Bill Gustafson, 5-0; Glen Teeter over Tom Nicholson, 12-8, and Gary Hethold over Kirk Gardner, 4-2.
 The Wayne reserve grapplers tallied an 18-0 win over the Wakefield reserves. Mark Wilse pinned Miles Pearson in 3:47, Rick Field pinned Randy Jensen in 3:57, Arvo Sielken scored a pin in 2:53 on Dan Brown and Allen Keagle was decimated by Dave Ellis, 4-0.

 Both teams will see more action Saturday. Wayne will travel to Albia for an invitational tourney there, and Wakefield travels to take part in the competition in the Plainview tourney.

Hoskins Cagers Lose

The two young cage teams from Hoskins, despite the high scoring efforts of Larry Bruggeman and Mike Anderson, suffered four straight defeats last week, two to Wayne and two to Norfolk Christ Lutheran.

Friday night Bruggeman canned 19 points as the first team fell to Wayne, 66-51. Mike Anderson came up with 11 points in the second team's 49-23 defeat to the visitors.

Monday evening Bruggeman again came up with 19 counters, but the Hoskins squad saw Norfolk squeak out a 44-35 victory. In the second team game, Mike Anderson and Dan Marshall each had four points in the 21-12 loss to the hosting Norfolk team.

Roberts-Meyer Win

A 575 series rolled by Brian Roberts and Don Meyer was good enough to take first place in recent junior bowling action in Wayne. Coming in behind that duo were Randy Nelson and Butch Sherry with a 530, Phil Koeber and Virgil Kardell with a 526, and Ric Barner and Kim Baker with a 519.

High single game for the afternoon's action was turned in by Kardell, a 189. Meyer took second with a 159.

Roberts and Meyer also teamed up to roll high series in another afternoon of action when they had a 570 series, 30 pins ahead of the runners-up Bill Schwartz and Todd Bigelow. ### Wayne Frosh Win

In First Round of Schuyler Tournament

Wayne's freshmen basketball squad, buoyed by a 49-48 win over the Norfolk squad last week, edged past David City Aquinas, 51-41, Monday in the first round of the Schuyler invitational tournament.

Down 10-7 going into the second period, the locals forged into a 20-15 edge at intermission. They held a 30-29 lead going into the final quarter before pulling away in the final stanza. Leading scorer in that victory-ninth this season - was Doug Sturm with 16. Getting eight each were Roger Saul, leading rebounder for the game, Dave Scheel and Randy Nelson. Also scoring: Mark Johnson with five, Tom Kerstine with four and Steve Mordhorst with one.

Coach Ron Carnes singled out two of his players - Nelson and Mordhorst - for special credit. Although they aren't starters on the team, they came off the bench and turned in fine showings, Nelson in the scoring department and Mordhorst in defense, Carnes noted.

The local yearlings will meet Fremont Bergan tonight (Thursday) at 6:30. Whether they win or lose in that contest, the locals will play again Tuesday night. It's just possible, notes Carnes, that his team will get a chance to play Howells in that Tuesday round. Howells, the frosh will well remember, is the team which handed them their only loss this season.

Sturm turned in one of his finest efforts so far this year in last week's game with Norfolk. He came up with 20 points and joined Saul in leading the squad in rebounds. Also hitting in that game were Kerstine with 10, Saul with six, Mordhorst and Johnson with four each, Nelson with three, and Scheel with one.

'Six Pack' Out, 'Magnificent 7' In at College

The Wayne State swimming squad had to think up a new nickname this week - and the swimmers wouldn't mind changing it again. For awhile they referred to themselves as the Six Pack, after their numbers dwindled to six.

This week senior letterman Dave Noyes joined the team for the first time this season, and now Six Pack is out, Magnificent Seven is in.

The seven were scheduled for the first home meet Wednesday night at 7 against Concordia, and they have another meet Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, hosting Chadron State and South Dakota University. Only one more home meet is slated, Feb. 27 with Morningside and South Dakota State University.

Coach Roger Bentley was pleased with the addition of Noyes, a butterfly and breaststroke specialist who also can do the freestyle handily. Now the team can enter both relay events, instead of forfeiting one, Bentley said. Skipping a relay means losing seven points, a costly sacrifice when the team is short on manpower in all events.

Look Magazine Rips

Wayne Girls, 47-29

The record of the girls' basketball team from Wayne dipped to 4-6 Sunday with a 47-29 loss to Look Magazine out of Des Moines.

Tracy Peterson hit 19 points for the only double figure effort during the action at Rice Auditorium. Coming in with 14 rebounds was Karon Iadenfeldt.

The squad, which is being sponsored by Corvett Auto of Wayne again this year, earlier handed the Kansas State University girls' team a 47-45 defeat behind the scoring efforts of Tracy Peterson with 17 and Sue Gatewood with 12. The team from John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo tripped the locals, 52-39, although those two girls again hit in two figures, Peterson with 15 and Gatewood with 14.

More action is on tap for the Wayne team Friday night when the girls travel to Blair Cliff College in Sioux City. Sunday afternoon they will be performing on the Rice floor again when they take on Jerry's of Lincoln in a four o'clock contest.

Adding a few goose decoys to a string of duck decoys often produces excellent results for duck hunters. The presence of a few wary honkers seems to make the ducks feel more secure.

Young Cage Teams Have Full Schedule

Wayne's recreation basketball players had a full week of action last week, giving them plenty of chance to make amends for that junior high loss to Norfolk of the week before.

In that loss, 41-33, Wayne's Scott Ehlers led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Kerry Jech with nine and Bill Schwartz with seven.

The seventh graders made up partially for that defeat to the Norfolk team by stitching together a 31-21 win over their Norfolk Catholic counterparts. Top scorers in that game were Rick Mitchell and Earle Overlin, both with seven points.

Wayne's eighth grade kept the string going by handling the Norfolk Catholic crew in the second game, 54-40, behind the double figure scoring of Scott Ehlers and Bill Schwartz, both with 16, and the nine points of Kerry Jech.

Later last week, the locals swept three straight games against the hosting Dixon school. The fourth graders knocked off the hosts by a 26-14 mark after Mark Bliss hit for 12 and Craig Clanton hit for 10. Turning in counters for the Dixonites were Ryan Lamberstedt with 11, Brad Saunders with two and Randy Bloom with one. In the sixth grade contest, Wayne came off with a 30-6 win when they were able to hold every Dixon player except Bloom from scoring. Hitting for Wayne were Robin Mitchell and Larry Creighton, each with seven. Dixon was dumped by a 32-20 score in the last of the games against Wayne despite the 14-point effort of Peters, matching the effort turned in by Wayne's Marty Ijansen.

Wayne's eighth graders took a 60-37 loss at the hands of Norfolk's junior high squad late last week. High in the scoring column in that game were Scott Ehlers with 13, Todd Bigelow with 11 and Bill Schwartz with eight.

In the final two games last week, Wayne handed cage teams from Hoskins two defeats. The sixth graders knocked off the hosts, 49-23, behind the double figure scoring of Paul Mallette. He hit 11 points, followed by Dave Dunning with eight and Ken Daniels and Larry Creighton with seven each. Anderson's 11 was high for the hosts.

In the game against Hoskins' seventh and eighth graders, Wayne pulled out a 69-51 win. Six players, three from each team, managed to hit in two figures. In that contest: Rick Mitchell with 16, Earle Overlin with 12 and Mark Ijansen with 12 for Wayne, and Bruggeman with 19, Brummels with 16 and Hartman with 12 for Hoskins.

Area Women Attend Cancer Crusade Meet

Mrs. Rudy Longe of Wakefield, Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, both of Wayne, attended the area crusade meeting of the American Cancer Society at Norfolk last week.

Mrs. Longe is the Wayne County chairman for the crusade this year. The other two ladies are city chairmen for the drive in Wayne.

Discussed at the meeting were the plans and goals for the upcoming spring crusade drive. Previewed by the group was the new film, "Journey into Darkness."

Paul Quinlan of Lincoln, 1970 Nebraska crusade chairman, told the group that the goal for Nebraska this year is $350,000 and is centered around the theme "Giving Everyone An Opportunity To Live."

The goal set for Wayne County this year is $3,200. That fund drive will begin Apr. 1, following several local meetings to map out plans for that drive.

Named REA Officer

A Wakefield man was elected vice-president of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association during the group's annual meeting last week in Lincoln. Named to that post was Maurie Gustafson of rural Wakefield.

Elected president of the group during the meeting, the 34th annual get-together, was Melvin Fink of Ainsworth. He replaces Orrin Kohlmeier of Craig.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Mom, truthfully, livestock feeders have never had it so good. Grain, not but fed feathered, furred, haired or bristled. . . livestock have paid their way . . .

Try, some specific loads or unfortunate individuals flopped . . . being either ill-timed, unlucky, a bad buy or a poor sale. But on the whole in 1969 more bank notes were paid, more mortgages reduced than anytime since 1951.

For the past three years, daily by radio and now by newspaper, our hope has been to pump confidence and stability into the cattle market. Not to help the packer, nor the terminal, but to prevent the market collapses. To help the farmer.

Nothing to join, no dues, no conflicting allegiances . . . just a solid, well-intended market analysis. We call the future not a dead replay. We daily ramble across the states urging a stiff rein and forcing the buyer and beef man to stretch upward.

We do cut runs. Rather, Mom, you do. When we say "Lock the gate," "Let the air out of the tires," "Hide the truck keys," "Go get your hair fixed," . . . runs shift. Market gluts are now fewer and farther apart. Let beef man put out lower orders and within one, two or three days, we can usually re-establish stability.

Mom, I've experienced markets that fell $50 to $100 a head caused by one fact—the chain store and wholesale beef buyer felt the next day's market would be lower. So he bid lower and lower and lower. That was and is his job. But, Mom, he does need supply. If the market goes higher so does he. No argument. It's merely his job.

So our retaliation, our method, is to play Paul Revere. When the trade gets antsy and fidgety we prewarn you. Let him bid lower, so what? Curtail the runs and let the country sales come harder for one-two-three days and the buyer must snort positions.

Remember 1952? Cattle fell from $41 down to $19; or 1962, from $31 to $17. I firmly believe that if someone, anyone had been able to reach the minds of cattle feeders for merely two or four days, curtailed those receipts, each market collapse could have been averted. Not an extended holding action for parity, but stall for strength. Then climb.

We need a strong central market.

We need strong country activity. Competing. Every day. And so our 1970 pledge: we will keep the Moms posted, right or wrong, if we tell farm Moms from Garden City, Kan., to Fargo, from Greeley to DeKalb to lighten up, some do, and that is all we need. I believe that to be true. It has and will work. The market bulged in 1969—collapsed, but was stopped and strengthened. Time after time since 1967 the eastern trade faltered—bid sharply lower. You were warned—you reacted. So happy marketing.

Farm Problems Subject Of Coming NET Series

The beginning of 1970 signals the start of a long and what may be a painful process of forming new national farm policy. The American farmer, industrialist and businessman are facing new and complex problems in a transitional stage of agribusiness in mid-America.

This is the backdrop for the upcoming Eleventh Round, a series of five documentary color films which will run five consecutive weeks, beginning Feb. 12, over the Nebraska Educational Television Network.

The series focuses on issues under discussion which eventually will lead to enactment of the next major national farm policy legislation.

The Eleventh Round is being organized by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Council of Churches (NCC). Various farm organizations and civic groups also are supporting this statewide effort.

As the core of this educational effort, a group of citizens will meet during the five-week series to view the films and discuss the issues and policies involved.

Rev. Carroll Lemon of the NCC looks for a great deal of church participation. The NCC has urged church members to contact their pastors for information on viewing groups. Rev. Lemon says, "We have promoted individual viewing with the idea that the viewers might then discuss the topics in Sunday church groups."

As an aid in developing effective discussion groups, leader training sessions are in progress to prepare discussion leaders on group-leadership techniques.

According to Don Miller, Box Butte County Extension agent at Alliance, the first leader training session proved very successful. The group, numbering about 75, included representatives of several farm organizations and home extension groups.

Glenn Uemberger of the Nebraska office, ASCS, says the agency has distributed 3,500 enrollment blanks for viewing groups to ASCS community committee members across the state. Fieldmen have also attended the leader training sessions.

The Soil Conservation Service, NFO, State Game and Nebraska Farmer's Union have also been active in distributing material to their members as potential viewers and discussants.

Dr. Everett Peterson, University of Nebraska Extension Economist, says: "The time is ripe for a large scale educational effort aimed at analyzing the farm and small town problems."

A farm program, whether or not it is equally beneficial to the farmer, businessman and consumer, will be formed during this year, he pointed out. Sentiment on broad guidelines of the program can be determined in part by citizens in the grass roots for ming opinions and making their wishes known, according to Peterson. The need for those who will be most affected to educate themselves on the facts is urgent, he noted.

The schedule of the half-hour programs, all aired at 8 p.m.: —Feb. 12: "After Fifty Years"—On social and economic problems in rural mid-America. —Feb. 19: "Which Way Now?"—Main choices in federal programs; effects on farm incomes, food prices, foreign markets, tax-payers' costs and rural communities.

—Feb. 26: "Imports and Exports"—A discussion of the prevailing protectionist mood in world trade, major choices in trade policy, effects of trade policy on American agriculture, business, industry and the consumer. —March 5: "Bargaining Power"—Collective bargaining, marketing orders and agreements as methods of improving farm income. —March 12: "Shape of the '70's"—Capital and management needs for commercial farms; role of small towns in rural areas; improving the quality of life in mid-America; responsibility of the private citizen in public policy formation.

Annual Swine Show At Norfolk Scheduled For February 24, 26

The date of the sixth annual Norfolk Swine Show, sponsored by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, has been set for Tuesday, Feb. 24, and the Carcass Show for Thursday, Feb. 26.

The live show will be held at the Norfolk Livestock Market and will be judged by Roger Magstadt of Mitchell, S. D. The Carcass Show will be held at Roman Packing Company and will be judged by Bob Fritschen, area swine specialist at the Northeast Station near Concord.

The show will again include an FFA judging contest. A certain number of hogs will be selected by county agents or FFA instructors and sorted into four classes—three market hogs and one breeding gilt. An official team of four boys from each school will judge as a team and the remaining students will observe and judge individually. The first class of hogs judged will be slaughtered and the boys will evaluate that class on the rail.

In the regular show there will be a commercial (crossbred) and a purebred division in the "pen of three" class and also in the "individual" class. Exhibitors may enter one group of three hogs in a "pen of three" and one of these hogs in the "individual" contest. The five best hogs in each weight class in the individual show will be slaughtered and entered in the Carcass Show. Hogs must weigh between 190 and 240 lbs.

All hogs not qualifying for the carcass show will be sold at auction Wednesday, Feb. 25.

Entry blanks for the show are available at your county agent's office, from your vo-ag instructor, the Norfolk Livestock Market or the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce.

Simple Check May Save Grain Losses

By Roy Stohler

Dixon County Agent

How is the condition of your stored grain? Was it a little "tough" when it went into the bin? Did it have more moisture than is safe for storage? Grain storage people have learned that stored grain must be checked for condition at least once every week to prevent insect infestation and losses due to molds. Commercial storage installations rely on continuous temperature indicating systems to detect the temperature rises that signal the start of insect or mold damage.

How can farm bins be checked for condition of grain? The ordinary bin can be checked by using a thermometer probe. Insert the probe in several locations about equally spaced from each other and about halfway between the sides of the bin and its center.

Push the probe to at least three different depths and make certain that the area directly below the opening or spot for filling the bin is checked. This area is more apt to have broken kernels and extraneous matter that is an oasis for molds and insects.

The probe must stay in place for several minutes so that it attains the temperature of the surrounding grain. Then remove it quickly and read the temperature immediately, remembering that the thermometer will respond quickly to cold air on windy days—or use a direct-reading thermocouple probe. Write down

Selective health hazards

The present furor over the health hazards of numerous chemicals raises some interesting questions.

For example, automobiles kill 50,000 people annually in the United States and far more are seriously injured. Many cases of cancer are definitely linked to cigarette smoking.

We tolerate these because many people, given the choice, feel that the benefits outweigh the hazards.

Note recent bans on cyclamates and DDT from which authenticated cases of human injury are not available. These two chemicals have provided enormous benefits.

Now some omnipotent public protectors have decided that the right of decision shall be withheld in "some" areas.

De-icers harmful

With many days of winter remaining, a warning against the use of certain chemicals for removal of ice from concrete walks, driveways, patios and pavements has been issued.

Any products containing ammonium sulphate or ammonium nitrate salts are highly damaging to concrete, as well as to other materials, according to the Portland Cement Association. Many lawn fertilizers contain ammonium sulphate and/or ammonium nitrate salts. These chemicals are extremely corrosive to concrete, and will attack even air-entrained concrete.

Sodium chloride (common salt) and calcium chloride used in moderate amounts, are recommended for ice and snow removal. These chemicals will not damage air-entrained concrete, and do an effective job of ice removal. Protection from the action of these salts is recommended for concrete that is not air-entrained.

Before buying de-icers, homeowners are urged to determine if they contain ammonium sulphate. A few degrees of variation is not unusual.

If one probe location has a temperature reading that is 10 or more degrees higher than a reading from a similar probe a few feet away you may have a "hot spot" started. A sampling probe should be used on that spot so you can see whether or not insects or molds are at work.

plate or ammonium nitrate. The chemical composition of the product should be clearly stated by producers in advertising, literature or on the package.

Annual Meeting Set

The Northeast Nebraska Experimental Farm Association will hold its annual meeting Mar. 10 in South Sioux City. A time and site for the meet has not been set. Located around the area each year, the meeting will include election of officers of the board of directors. Also on the day's program will be a panel of farmers to discuss storage, handling and feeding of high moisture corn. Reports of the research work being carried on at the Northeast Station near Concord will also be reported on during the meeting.

The association is made up of members from 14 counties in northeast Nebraska.

Final Filing Date

For Wool Producers Is Fast Approaching

Wool producers in northeast Nebraska are reminded today by Harry Heinemann, chairman of the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, that the important deadline for filing applications is fast approaching.

For wool producers, Dec. 31 was the end of the 1969 marketing year. Applications for incentive payments may be completed at the ASCS office in Wayne through Friday, Jan. 31.

Heinemann stated that those who make applications should bring sales documents and be prepared to answer questions as to when the shearing was done, when the wool was sold, purchases of unshorn lambs and how many sheep were shorn.

Wool is recognized as an essential and strategic commodity not produced in sufficient quantity in the United States, Heinemann said. Congress declared a policy to establish an incentive price for wool to encourage an annual production of 300 million pounds of wool.

Hires Conservationist

The Soil Conservation Service office at Wakefield this week announced the addition of a new member to its staff, Gayle Siefken.

Siefken, a native of the Columbus area, will be working primarily in the Iowa Watershed area of Ponca and Newcastle. If that watershed is approved, as the Wakefield office anticipates, it will mean an increased work load in conservation for the SCS people at Wakefield. Siefken received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Nebraska in 1967, ma-working in agronomy. Following five months work with the SCS office in Hartington, he spent two years in the Army. One of those years was spent as an executive officer in an ammunition company which handled ammunition supply points. He was discharged last December with the rank of First Lieutenant.

Farmers Offered Help

The Soil Conservation Service technicians in the Wakefield office have started taking orders this week for planned farmed windbreaks.

The technicians note that they have a good selection of all varieties of windbreak trees, plus many ornamental trees and shrubs for beautification plantings. The district will provide a tree planting service for farmstead windbreaks. The service includes a tree planter, tractor and operator.

Windbreaks, note the technicians, are the conservation measure which affects our environment more than any other single practice presently being used. They protect the home from winter blasts, drifting snow and dust-laden air; reduce noise from highways and other sources; provide livable shelter for livestock, hay and grain and some household items. # School's Student Council Has 'Greatest Power'

By Merlin Wright

"We have the greatest power in the world — the power to inform," explained Dennis Ellermeier, president of the Wayne High School student council, during a recent council meeting. "And we have it now," he emphasized to fellow councilmen.

Ellermeier's remark followed a discussion on the role being played by the student council as it functions in Wayne High School. Visiting the council meeting was another WHS student who had charged, "The council has such possibilities, but has turned into nothing but a service organization." The visiting student appearing before the council suggested forming a committee to handle all student grievances and advocated more "student power." It was then President Ellermeier noted the council already possessed the greatest power in the world — the power to inform.

The WHS student council has been a part of the high school scene for 20 years. It consists of class and organizational representatives who meet twice monthly to discuss various student activities, attitudes, interests and to make suggestions to faculty with administrative approval.

Each of the four high school classes elect officers among whom are the president and student council representative. Both officers represent the class in the council. Council members for the 1969-70 term are: Freshmen — Tom Kerstine, class president, and Dan McRitch, council representative; Sophomores — President Ron Ring and Todd Bornhoff; Juniors — President Tom McDermott and Tim Sharer; Seniors — President Randy Helgren and Ted Armbruster.

School organizations and their elected council member are: Future Homemakers of America, Elaine Lundstrom; Pep Club, Peggy Turner; Thespians, Linda Leish; Future Nurses Club, Carol Haun; Band Club, Beth Bergt; Chor Club, Debby Saul; W Club, Doug Maurer, and Kathryn Heppburn — represents the German Club.

At the council's first meeting last fall Dennis Ellermeier was elected president; Winona Peterson, vice-president; Beth Bergt, secretary-treasurer; Ted Armbruster, council representative to the Wayne American Field Service Chapter; Elaine Lundstrom, council representative to the Wayne Americans Abroad Chapter, and Tessie Urian, AFS student from the Philippine Islands, serves as representative of AFS International.

The twice monthly meetings are held in the lecture hall and last 50 minutes, or the length of a class period. Business is considered and discussed at an efficient pace that might well make a number of adult organizations envious. A recent meeting was typical with the president calling the meeting to order. The treasurer's report was given; roll was taken and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Kathryn Heppburn reported on her committee's progress regarding the showing of a movie. Council voted to have the movie and charge a small admission; voted to have concessions of pop, popcorn and baked goods.

Peggy Turner reported on the faculty-layeces basketball game which the council is promoting to raise funds for bringing another AFS student to Wayne High School. The game is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 p.m. in the city auditorium.

Ted Armbruster reported on revising test schedules. His committee set up all of the classes into five groups: English, math, science, business, speech and German, shop, art and home economics. Council voted unanimously to submit this to the teachers providing administrative approval could be secured.

Council members discussed having a pop machine and juke box. They decided to run a survey on the feasibility of having the two items. It was decided to change the school's present dance schedule and work the basketball concession stand Jan. 9.

What are the limits of decisions made by council members? President Ellermeier points out that although the council may make many decisions regarding school activities and programs, all decisions are channeled through the school's administration and approval.

At a recent council meeting it was decided to take an opinion poll among WHS students to determine student interest in elective courses. It is felt by the president and others that by evaluating student interest in elective courses, the council may be of help to the administration in deciding which elective courses to make available. Courses such as journalism and agriculture are not being offered this term. The opinion poll would seek to determine the amount of student interest in such subjects.

Other matters discussed by council members are student-teacher relationships and their importance; possible methods of airing questions and opinions of the student body; and matters related to the American Field Service program in Wayne. Funding the AFS program is a major concern of the council which works with and through the AFS Chapter. Ken Carlson, guidance counselor and council sponsor, says the AFS is presently in great need of more money in order to have another AFS student in Wayne High School this

Ellermeier pointed out among other things that one of the changes council members have been influential in getting approved was modification of the system used in compiling the WHS honor roll. The system now employed is based on an overall average of a student's grades.

As is illustrated by the varied activities and interests of the student council, young people today are learning to think for themselves; serve as organizational representatives; conduct discussions and business affairs on a mature scale; seek improvement of those relationships between fellow students and between students and teachers; and striving to make every minute count while preparing for graduation and a meaningful future.

Probably no others are more keenly aware of the world's need for great leadership than the current high school students. They realize the world, as far as travel is concerned, is shrinking rapidly and the related problems of a small world will rest directly on their shoulders. In yesteryears the problems of contemporary significance were discussed over the back fence, so to speak, but the world today's students face can discuss anything immediately via a network of satellites. So it is important the students learn to communicate and make decisions now.

High school students 20 years ago talked of the excitement and opportunities provided by television. Today's student, via television, has watched man walk on the moon. And what of tomorrow? This is the unknown frontier for which students are training.

Coleridge Business Hit by Fire Monday

Hansen Implement in Coleridge suffered extensive damage when it was struck by fire late Monday afternoon.

The building caught fire about 5:45 in the afternoon, apparently from sparks coming from welding being done on a tractor in the repair shop in the rear of the building.

Firemen from Hartington, Randolph, Belden and Laurel joined those in Coleridge in putting out the blaze. The firemen had the fire under control after about three hours of work, but it smoldered late into the night.

Reportedly damaged in the fire were four tractors, one new one and three in the building for repairs.

The intense heat from the fire cracked windows in a building across the street. The roof of a tavern across the street caught fire from flying embers but was extinguished by the firemen.

Owner of the business, Claire Hansen, has the Allis-Chalmers and Oliver dealership in Coleridge. He is the brother to the Allis-Chalmers and Oliver dealers in Wayne, Dallas Hansen.

No estimate of the dollar damage done by the blaze was available.

POINTS TO PONDER. Subject of conversation related to conservation projects outlined on the map between them.

Business Expansion

This new building just east of Main St. in the downtown area of Wayne will be both a warehouse and an assembly building for Carhart Lumber Co., according to Bob Carhart. To be assembled in the building when it is completed will be the componentized parts of houses the lumber company builds and then transports to the building site. These parts are not the same thing as prefabricated houses, Carhart noted, because the lumber company is not limited to just a few basic plans. Now that the company has more room for building the parts of its house plans, it may increase the work crew from three to five later on. Plans call for this new structure to tie in with the structural located just north of it, presently the building where the componentized section are being assembled.
