Fascinated by various art exhibits on display at Ben's Paint Store are Dave Phelps, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Phelps, and Michelle King, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry King. The Women's Club Traveling Art Show was put on display Friday and will be exhibited at the local firm for two weeks.

Laurel Native Graduates From NU With Honors

A native of Laurel, Jeffrey M. Klintberg, received his undergraduate degree with distinction during the mid-year commencement exercises at the University of Nebraska Saturday morning. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klintberg of Laurel, he was one of 32 out of about 850 students to graduate with honors.

Klintberg and David P. Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Ewing of Wayne, joined 32 other graduating seniors to receive their Air Force, Army or Navy commissions during an 8 a.m. ceremony at the Nebraska Union Ballroom. Both were awarded their Army commissions as Second Lieutenants.

Guest speaker at that 8 a.m. program was Marine Corps Brig. Gen. Carl W. Hoffman, Commanding General, Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, and Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif.

Knotty Lottery Bothering You? Help Is Offered

An organization in Wayne is offering help to confused young men who are having difficulty understanding the complexities of the draft lottery.

Offering that assistance is the Wayne Ministerial Association, which met Wednesday at St. Mary's Catholic School in a regular meeting. The ministers and the priests in the Wayne area will meet with young men to go over statements and materials from the selective service boards in an attempt to explain the draft laws.

Guest speaker at that 8 a.m. program was Marine Corps Brig. Gen. Carl W. Hoffman, Commanding General, Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, and Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif.

The group, hosted by Father Paul Begley, decided at the Wednesday meeting to hold a high school baccalaureate service again this spring. The service will be held in much the same manner as last year, with several ministers taking part.

Vacation church school in Wayne, the group notes, will be held the week of June 1-6. The group asks that youth activities by the city recreation department and the local schools be scheduled so they do not conflict unnecessarily with the church schools.

Planning is being made on a communications seminar which will be directed by the Rev. Keith LeMay of Omaha, director of the department of radio and television of the Nebraska Council of Churches. Representatives of local news media are encouraged to take part in the seminar.

Planned in the total expenditure figure for Nebraska was $16.2 million in construction and regional office and hospital operating costs.

Nixon said that the VA is the third largest agency in the federal government, operates 166 hospitals across the nation and administers one of the largest insurance programs in the country.

Paper Drive Set Valentine's Day By Wayne Scouts

Boy Scout troops in Wayne have scheduled another paper drive for Feb. 14, Valentine's Day, according to town Wiltse, scoutmaster of Troop 175.

As in previous drives, the old newspapers should be bundled or boxed and placed on the front porch or steps in a place easy to see from the street. Scouts remind you that they cannot use any slick-paper magazines or newspaper inserts. All they want are old newspapers and lots of them.

Wiltse noted that Troop 175 will go to Winside during the morning hours of Valentine's Day and pick up newspapers there. Winside residents should have their papers out on the porch no later than 8:30 a.m.

The old newspapers are sold and proceeds go for scout projects.

Winside Pancake Day Planned for Feb. 14

Winside Community Club met Monday night and made plans to hold the annual pancake feed Feb. 14 in the city auditorium from four to eight o'clock, according to Richard Miller, president.

Don Wacker is chairman of the event with Werner Mann as co-chairman.

Club members met at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Monday for a 7 p.m. dinner served by ladies of the congregation. Two guests, Floyd Burt and Vernon Miller, became new members of the organization.

Wayne Native Has Title Role in Opera

John Brandstetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Brandstetter of Wayne, is one of several University of Nebraska students who will be singing the various title roles during performances of the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" this week at Kimball Recital Hall on the NU campus in Lincoln.

He and three other young men will sing a trio (baritone) during the five performances of the opera by three separate casts.

The School of Music production will be staged at 8 p.m. each night Wednesday through Saturday and at 2 p.m. on Saturday as part of the 1970 Weekend with Music, sponsored by the University Extension Division and the School of Music. The featured singers will be backed by a chorus and orchestra conducted by Dr. Richard Grace, musical director.

Is That A Threat?

"Aliens in the institution are again reminded that under the Immigration and Nationality Act that they are required to register their address during the month of January, 1970, even though their address may not have changed since his last report.

"Aliens in this institution must send a letter to the records office stating that they are aliens, and they will be called to fill out the necessary papers and forms.

"Failure to report can result in fine and imprisonment before deportation."

Jaycee-Faculty Game Raises $113 for AFS

Several hundred spectators filled the city auditorium to near capacity Thursday night getting their money's worth in two ways as they watched a double overtime basketball game between Wayne Jaycees and members of the Wayne High School faculty.

Spectators not only got to watch a great game for whatever amount they wished to contribute, but they knew the contribution was going for a worthwhile cause—bringing another American Field Service student to Wayne next fall.

Although the WHS faculty won the American Field Service benefit game in a double overtime, 70-64, the real winner was the AFS Chapter which benefited $113 from the game's proceeds.

Leading the cheering section for Wayne Jaycees were Glenda Hammer, Karen Koehlmoos and Ruth Bose. Faculty cheerleaders were Mrs. Don Johnson, Mrs. Jean Swanson, Mrs. Pat Nelson, Mrs. Darrah Palan and Mrs. Mavis Sip. A pep band consisted of several WHS faculty members.

Hank Overin and Harold Maciejewski donated their talents as referees. Miron Jenness announced the game, assisted by Rowan Wiltse. Keeping score and running the clock were Ted Armbruster, Bruce Mueger and Jerry Bose.

Speaking in behalf of the local chapter of the American Field Service, Ken Carlson emphasized the chapter's appreciation for the BENEFIT GAME, page 6.

Proceeds from the event are used for Kiwanis welfare projects and activities. It was estimated 800 people attended last year at the city auditorium and ate all the pancakes, sausage, butter, syrup, milk and coffee they wanted.

Keith Mosley is general chairman of the feed which starts at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 10, in the city auditorium. Every Kiwanian has an assignment on one of ten committees.

In charge of tickets and advertising are Keith Mosley, Charles Thomas and Sid Hillier. Other committee chairmen are: Ray Schreiner, ticket taking and door sales; Richard Keidel, set up and getting ready; Wayne Wessell, food preparation and serving; Al Wittig, food purchase; Max Lundstrom, waiters; Loren Park, clean up, and Cal Ward, dishwashing.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Kiwanis Club or at the door Feb. 10. Adult tickets are one dollar and 75 cents for children.

2 Wayne Men Get Doctorates At NU Ceremony

Two Wayne men, Russell Rasmussen and Cal Ward, were among 60 doctor of philosophy students who were scheduled to receive their degrees from the University of Nebraska during mid-year commencement ceremonies at Pershing Auditorium Saturday.

This is the largest number of doctor of philosophy degrees ever granted by the University at one commencement. The previous high came when 41 Ph.D.'s were conferred in June of 1967.

Rasmussen, presently an assistant professor at the University of Nebraska, was named secretary of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders in an election recently. Both men are from Wakefield. Named president of the group was John Servino of Waterbury. Vice-president is William McQuistan of Pender.

The men were selected from the board of directors, following a new provision of the organization's bylaws.

The date of the annual banquet of the group is set for Saturday, April 4, at a site in Dakota County. In a stepped-up schedule of activities of the group, a dinner-educational meeting is planned for late February.

The membership campaign for 1970 is underway with a friendly contest between the directors of the four counties covered by the association: Wayne, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston. The directors are vying for the largest per cent increase over last year's membership. Directors of the two losing counties will buy dinner for directors and wives of the winning two counties. The goal is to again be the largest local livestock feeders association in America, a position lost to Cumming, County last year.

Name Added to List

Donald Brudigan of rural Wayne was the latest person to lose out on a $400 gift.

Had he been in a participating store Thursday night at eight o'clock, he could have taken home a check for that amount for that was what the Cash for Prizes was worth last week.

This week the prize will remain at $400 and the reserve pot will jump to $200. The name drawn is announced at eight o'clock in all the stores which take part in the Chamber of Commerce promotion.

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper Slated Feb. 10

When you eat pancakes Feb. 10 at the Kiwanis Club's ninth annual Shrove Tuesday pancake feed, you'll be helping the civic group finance projects and donations to worthy causes during 1970.

Proceeds from the event are used for Kiwanis welfare projects and activities. It was estimated 800 people attended last year at the city auditorium and ate all the pancakes, sausage, butter, syrup, milk and coffee they wanted.

Wayne County Voters Told To Check Voting Eligibility

A number of residents in Wayne County may discover they are not legally qualified to vote in the upcoming elections this year, according to Norris Weible, county clerk.

The primary elections are slated for May 12, Weible noted, and a number of voters in Wayne County will need to register in his office by May 1 or be ineligible to cast a ballot.

He explained Friday that if a person has lived in a precinct for 10 days, in the county for 40 days and in the state for six months, he is eligible to register and vote.

If the voter registered in 1967 or later and has not changed his address or name, then the person need not re-register.

Nebraska legislators passed a law in the last session of the legislature to the effect that if a person has failed to vote in two consecutive general elections, then it is necessary to re-register. Weible stressed the point that some voters in Wayne County will have to re-register in that they have not voted in at least one of the last two general elections. "Every citizen has a right to vote and should exercise it," the county official emphasized.

He said he wished other people might have the same experience as he has had in seeing naturalized citizens making special effort to get to the courthouse to register. "They all registered because it was an important right and privilege," Weible observed and continued, "In order to be qualified to vote May 12.

Anyone who has changed his name must re-register, the clerk explained.

Clerk Weible said there will be no more caucuses due to changes in the voting laws by the last state legislature. Candidates for offices on the town board must file with the city clerk by Mar. 13; candidates for the school board must file with the secretary of the school board by the same time.

Another noticeable change in the 1970 elections, as pointed out by the clerk, is that a voter may go to the polls and vote for favorite candidates running for office on the city, county and state levels and for the school board, all in one election. Prior to 1970, the county and state each held their own election as did the city and school board.

The combined election will allow the county, city and school board to share election expenses, thereby cutting down the total cost, the clerk noted. Another convenience of the combined election, the clerk explained, is that a voter need take off time to vote only once now, rather than three times as was necessary to do previously.

In observing as to how a combined election will be held at the same time and place on Feb. 10.

Area Musicians Taking Part in One-Day Clinic

Twenty-eight youngsters from Allen and two from Winside will be taking part in the Lewis & Clark Conference instrumental music clinic all day today (Monday) at Emerson.

The clinic will begin with registration at 8:30 in the morning. The concert, scheduled for 7:30 in the evening, will feature two bands, a junior band for seventh through ninth graders and a senior band for tenth through twelfth graders.

Taking part in the junior band from Allen will be Denise Lina-felter, Deane Fahrenholz, Suzi Kjer, DeAnn Troth, LeAnn Nobbe, Kim Jackson, Barb Graemer, Scott Von Minden, Scott McAfee, Dick Burgess, Jim Koester, Rox-ander Blom and Debbie Ellis. Senior band members from Al-

Giant 'Backfire' Idles Light Plant Engine

An explosion heard over most of the city Wednesday night caused an estimated $2,000 to $3,000 damage to the city light plant.

The explosion—most easily understood when likened to the backfire of an automobile—resulted in a large elbow joint on the second largest engine at the plant being hurled through the air several yards before coming to rest in a pit near the generator of the engine.

That elbow joint weighs about 500 pounds. It was thrown some 200 feet in the air before striking the roof of the tall engine room, then dropped to the floor near one end of the engine.

On duty at the time of the explosion, which occurred about 10:10 p.m., was Gerald Co-michael. He was starting the engine so he could switch it on the line and shut down the largest engine at the plant. The change was being made because of the smaller demand on the power plant at that time of the night.

Plant operators give this explanation for the "backfire": The natural gas which the engines run on once they are started did not ignite immediately after the engine was running on diesel fuel, resulting in the engine's filling up with natural gas. Finally, a spark ignited the natural gas which had accumulated in the engine, setting off the explosion and resulting in the large elbow joint being blown off.

Norbert Brigger, power plant superintendent, and Bud Wacker, plant engineer, said it was hard to tell exactly how much damage was done by the explosion, but they put the "apparent" damage loss at somewhere between that $2,000 and $3,000 figure. Since the engine was still running after the explosion, they thought there was little damage done to the engine itself.

The engine will probably be out of production for at least a week as the plant workers wait for new parts with which to repair that elbow joint.

Rich Kline

Wakefield Senior Is Alternate to Academy

A senior at Wakefield High School, Rich Kline, has been named by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (Rep-Nebr.) as one of the alternates to fill the vacancy in the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. Kline is 18 years old.

Named as an alternate to the Merchant Marine Academy was Dean Van Cleave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Van Cleave of Newcastle.

This year the Senator had two vacancies to fill at the Military, Air Force and Naval Academies. For each vacancy he named one principal and nine alternate candidates.

Each year the state of Nebraska can send three cadets to the Merchant Marine Academy, and each member of the Nebraska Congressional Delegation may nominate up to 10 young men to compete for the three openings.

The young men named by Sen. Curtis for all nominations were selected on the basis of competitive examinations given last year by the Civil Service Commission. See WAKEFIELD SENIOR, page 6

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he sits down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

One Small Lesson

We're glad to see that the city has decided to provide a city policeman to act as a crossing guard at the intersection of Seventh and Sherman to help the young school children cross the streets safely. We're sure it will make a lot of parents feel better when they send their children off to school each day.

Although we still feel that it is the city's duty to provide protection for all the pedestrians in the city, we are glad to see that the city's lawmakers are looking for ways to cut down on expenses by doing away with unnecessary services. This was just not one of the areas where the city could afford to cut out its service to the public. We are also glad to see that the city council will try working with the local school board in an attempt to come up with some alternative plan, such as using the older school students as crossing guards.

What the problem really emphasized was some of the difficulties which can evolve when two groups have little if any communication between themselves. The school board was not given any formal notice of the city's move to do away with the crossing guards and was not told that the council hoped it would consider using students in place of the guards. It might be well for all public bodies to remember that little lesson when wanting to work with any other group. — NLH.

One Way to Write Draft Laws

After listening to many opinions on draft laws, Rep. John Slack, a West Virginia congressman, is experimenting with letting young men in his state write their own amendments to the Selective Service law.

Slack, too old to worry about the draft himself, says he will introduce any bill the young men come up with and see they have a chance to testify at draft hearings before the House Armed Services Committee this spring.

The 54-year-old Democrat and WWII vet commented, "I think this will really give the young an opportunity to have some say in their responsibility as far as the draft is concerned."

How is the congressman implementing the idea? He has asked presidents of four colleges in his district to place the matter before an appropriate campus group and request a bill be written to meet their convictions and requirements.

The West Virginia Democrat said any suitable campus group desiring to take the initiative could do the job so long as it is generally representative of college-age interests. He stressed that any views presented should be those of draft-age men both on and off the campus.

Can such an idea work? If it works in West Virginia, can it also work in Nebraska and other states?

Doesn't it make rather good sense to get the opinions and ideas of those millions who are affected by draft laws? Can you think of a better way to get young voters actively interested in national government?

Anyone in West Virginia or in Wayne, Nebraska, who tends to lean toward the concept of a college student being a rebel just isn't very well acquainted with the young people on campus. Too many of the older generation have limited their knowledge of college activities to that which they read in the headlines of a newspaper. Such stories usually spotlight the extreme minority. The majority of college people go right on seeking their majors in engineering, math, science, etc. while the news media continue with their major — a major in the actions of minority groups.

It seems to me that Rep. Slack has an excellent idea. Why shouldn't the young men on the campus at Wayne State and every other college have the opportunity of expressing their opinions concerning the draft laws in such a way that collectively they could come up with some suggested legislation? After all, isn't that the way this country harboring a free people has always operated?

The men who will be president of the United States in 1980, 1990 and 2000 are alive right now. Tomorrow's leaders are on the campus today and might very well have some excellent suggestions concerning the Selective Service law.

Hurrah for Rep. John Slack! — MMW.

An Independent Postal System?

As a people we govern ourselves through elected representatives. In its youthful years, our nation's leaders were faced with many problems, one of which was delivering the written word from one place to another — or a mail system. Our government decided to take on the job.

Most of us have never known any other system of mail other than that which we operate ourselves, via government. It is common knowledge that though our postal system has actually accomplished an impossible job considering the equipment it works with, there are many problems. Problems have, particularly in the past, slowed down the mail. Anything slow in today's world gets left behind.

This is not to be taken as any kind of reflection upon the thousands of employees in the postal system. It is not their fault they are forced to often work with antiquated facilities and lack of adequate space. They, more than any others, would rejoice in seeing much of the red tape removed, and efficiency in the system improved.

Well, what about having an independent postal system? There is such a bird, in fact, it is now moving into Nebraska. The Independent Postal System of America has scheduled operations to begin today in Lincoln. It already has branches in operation in Sioux City, Sioux Falls and Waterloo, Iowa.

Founded in February, 1968, the IPSA claims to be located now in 150 metropolitan areas. A man by the name of Joseph Anderson is division president at Lincoln. He has said that postal service will be offered at a rate below that charged by Uncle Sam.

A spokesman for the company stated that the lower rate would result from eliminating bureaucracy. He also pointed out that a guaranteed delivery date would be assured clients in areas served.

Are we Nebraskans ready for something like this? It is obvious the system is here whether we're ready or not.

There are some in the business world who believe an independent postal system would be a fine thing. They point out that we govern ourselves, but question the advisability of our running a collective business — such as carrying mail. They believe private enterprise should do the job and could do the job at a profit with a lower cost to the sender.

It would be interesting to find out a majority opinion. What are your ideas regarding an independent postal system? Is it the thing of the future or a passing experiment? — MMW.

its own shadow! Another kind of tale to chase, indeed!

Ground hog is not even the right name for the animal. A "ground hog" brings to mind either a human who hogs a lot of ground or a hog that fell into a grinder. How the woodchuck happened to be saddled with the name "ground hog" is a special story. That is the way it is in the world when you are simple little creatures. Some big oaf comes along and calls you a ground hog and the name sticks!

— x-x-x-x-x-

Humans have anxious tongues and have started many stories about many people, but when they start picking on animals! Not only did they start saying the woodchuck was a ground hog, but they said he is such a nut that he is even afraid of his own shadow. They didn't say anything about whether this shadow complex affects him during the entire year, such as in August or October, but he is supposedly frightened with his shadow only today — Feb. 2. What is more, he is a repeater. He is jumpy every year on Feb. 2, they say, and runs back home into his hole if the sun is shining. This little creature of God obviously needs a psychologist — if what they say about him is true.

So while some say the woodchuck is a ground hog (who knows how much ground he occupies?) and that he has shadowmania, they would have you believe that riding on the planet with the rest of us who share secret fears, there is a little animal afraid of the sun, or the shadows it casts. It is thought the woodchuck went to his burrow-hole and after leafing through the calendar decided he was just going to have to be brave at least once a year. He flipped a coin and decided on Feb. 2. On that day, he supposedly thought to himself, "I'll jump out of the burrow onto the front porch and see what I can see. If the 'shadow' chases me, I'll run right back here into my front room, grass or no grass!"

Now the woodchuck's reason for leaving his burrow is that his tiny refrigerator hasn't the capacity for enough food to last him all year. He has to restock it with grass occasionally. Educated people would say the woodchuck is chiefly herbivorous (the things they say about these little animals!), however, most of us would simply note that the ground hog (now they've got me saying it) likes grass for most of his diet. Don't any of you mope get the idea that this means the woodchucks have gone to "pot" or marijuana. Nope, he is too smart for that. The ground hog gets his kick from watching people also afraid of their shadows and smoke the stuff for illusion.

It is said a human smoking "grass" observed Charlie Woodchuck run out of a ground burrow once. Charlie saw the "pot" smoke polluting the air and ran back in. Outside, the pot-smoker mustered his micro-wisdom and thought, "Ah! That little ground hog is afraid of his shadow and logically that means there is going to be six more weeks of winter!" Such is marjuman reasoning. There are always a lot of things assumed by both man and animal when they meet. Charlie had simply left the burrow to get some grass when he noticed the man smoking it. He knew immediately there would eventually be a battle over grass as it became scarce. Charlie Woodchuck hadn't actually returned to his tunnel because he was frightened of his shadow, but instead he was going to get a gun and return to protect his food supply before the pot-smoker took it all!

urge to lay colored eggs and then run all over the United States hiding them in the most peculiar places! How odd that a rabbit can suddenly bring forth hen's eggs, and color them in psychedelic patterns. As if that wasn't enough, he then hides them so children may have fun! How important that is!

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

A total of just over $11,000 was the balance in the Woslager hospital fund in Pierce last week, according to the Pierce County Leader.

Mrs. Lee Woslager must have a kidney transplant before many more months pass or she will die.

Largest single donation came during a "Nebraskaland Opry" held at Norfolk recently. About 1,200 tickets were sold to that event and a total of just over $1,140 was collected for the fund.

A definite date for the kidney transplant has not been set by the doctors; however, they indicate it will be some time during February.

Persons wishing to make donations to the fund should send their money to the Woslager Hospital Fund in Pierce. Goal of the fund drive is between $15,000 and $20,000.

Ponca has earned an honorable mention in the 1969 National Clean-Up Contest in which the town competed with others of under 25,000 population from across the country.

The contest, sponsored annually by the National Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Bureau, is the oldest and largest competition of its kind in the nation.

Ponca entered a scrapbook with accounts of the activities undertaken during the 1969 beautification campaign. Shingled out for praise by the judges was the effective marshalling of available resources and the effective organization of the many projects. That scrapbook will be on display during the Feb. 22-24 Clean-Up Congress at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Washington, D. C.

Curt Novak, Albert Johnson and Mark Lander were among the 167 graduates to receive their degrees from the Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Milford recently. Novak's degree was in data processing, Johnson's in electronics and Lander's in construction.

A total of 171 people donated blood when the American Red Cross unit visited Osmond recently. The donors broke the record set in 1966 of 125 donors. Randolph residents accounted for 52 of the donors.

Thursday is the day set for a hearing on a temporary restraining order against the issuance of $1,645,000 worth of general obligation bonds for a new West Point Junior High. Presiding will be District Court Judge Merritt C. Warren. He issued the order against the school district on Dec. 16 last year, following receipt of a petition asking for a permanent injunction against the board's issuance of the bonds.

West Point voters turned down a $1,645,000 school bond issue last Oct. 28 when 18 votes were lacking to produce the necessary 55 per cent majority. That bond issue would have financed a junior-senior high school for 550 to 600 students in grades 7 through 12.

The school board decided to test the Nebraska law requiring 55 per cent majority, using the bond election as a test case. At the same time, the school board tried to issue the bonds even though the voters had not given the 55 per cent approval.

A total of eight county officials in Cuming County will get wage hikes in 1971 as a result of action taken by the board of supervisors.

The county treasurer will receive a pay increase of $2,800, bringing his pay to $8,800 a year. Other officials affected: assessor, up to $8,700 from $5,500; county clerk, up to $8,500 from $5,300; surveyor, up to $5,500 from $4,500; attorney, up to $6,500 from $4,400; county superintendent, up to $6,500 from $4,800; sheriff, up to $6,500 from $4,500, and clerk of district court, up to $6,500 from $4,400.

Dakota County Sheriff Allan Bilgh is wondering if there will be any more outbreaks of violence in connection with the strike at Iowa Beef Packers near Dakota City, according to a story in last week's issue of The South Sioux City Star.

The newspaper quoted Bilgh as saying, "I wonder if anyone has found a legal way to throw a chunk of dynamite?" After hearing Dave Hart, vice-president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters Union of North America, say that the union was more determined than ever to intensify the strike activity but in a legal way.

The two were interviewed during a press conference.

Dakota County has had six bombings since the strike began late last August, the worst being the destruction of a Consumers Public Power District line west of Dakota City. There have also been about 30 to 40 cases of fire slashings in that time, the sheriff reported, and a few other incidents such as the fire-bombing of a garage and some arrests for destruction of property and violation of picket laws.

JUST WRIGHT by Merlin Wright

Hold on there just a minute and let's talk about the ground hog since it is Ground Hog Day. Superstition holds that the ground hog leaves his burrow today returning to it for six weeks if he sees his shadow. Now this is a story that matches that of Santa Clause any day.

Many people are afraid of shadows, even their own, and not wanting this shadow-fear to be strictly a human ailment, someone started the story that a ground hog is also afraid of his shadow. Folk insisted that it must be the truth.

A lot of us have watched dogs and cats chase their own tails, but have you ever seen a woady creature that would run back into the burrow upon seeing

by Tom McDermott

The London Astrological Association, in collaboration with the International Society for Astrological Research, both of which I belong to, has been continuing scientific tests on astrology. Presently, computer programming is coming into view as a possible boon to possible breakthroughs.

According to Post of March 26, 1966, "Scientific tests of astrology are enticing. They indicate there may be something to it, but the weight of the evidence is not strong enough to convince any reputable statistician. Carl Jung, who cast horoscopes on his patients, did a statistical analysis of 483 marriages and said that an astrological tradition dating back to Ptolemy—that a favorable aspect between the sun and the moon of the two partners tends toward a happy marriage—seemed to be valid." The article goes on to say that Jung found the results "interesting but inconclusive," which was as much as could be expected at the time.

The Post article on astrology also tells of a French psychologist, Michel Gauquelin, who in the 1950's cast and interpreted 24,000 horoscopes. Horoscopes are not the easiest or fastest things to cast and interpret. Furthermore, Gauquelin is not an astrologer—or "believer"—but does possess a basic knowledge of the subject. According to the article, "(he) concluded, to his surprise since he was a non-believer, that on certain points his survey coincided with traditional belief. Clergymen, by more than a statistical average, had in their charts a prominent Jupiter (the optimistic planet), and sportsmen had a strong Mars, the planet of daring and war." Such amazing findings as these seem to indicate that there just possibly might be something to astrology.

"Just after World War II," according to Post, "The Radio Corporation of America told one of its meteorologists, John Henry Nelson, to look for a way of predicting ionospheric disturbances that were interfering with RCA radio-telegraph communications around the world. Nelson came up with a chart that had 85 per cent accuracy, and published the results in a scientific journal in 1951—and suddenly found himself the hero of astrologers around the world. His predictions of disturbances in the ionosphere coincided almost exactly with what the astrologers were saying about the daily lives of Virgos, Capricorns and 'cancers'."

Dr. Jung felt that it was "just possible" that the planets might affect humans.

The late John L. O'Neill, science editor for the New York Herald Tribune, and the only science editor ever to receive a Pulitzer Prize, wrote, "For years I condemned it (astrology) as unscientific and totally irrational. This was the usual formula for the astronomers. Just as they have done for a long time, I condemned without making an adequate investigation of what I was condemning. Astrology is one of the most important fields for scientific research today, and one of the most neglected. Scientists today cannot look down on astrology, instead they must raise their eyes to take in the higher horizons that astrologers have preserved for them."

The New International Encyclopedia says of astrology: "... the predictions of the better class of astrologers are not merely haphazard guesses, as is frequently supposed, but are based upon rigidly scientific determination from observed phenomena, according to definite rules of interpretation."

Admittedly, astrology isn't perfect. For that matter, neither is meteorology, for example. One must take into consideration that astrology has been stigmatized, for the most part, ever since it was bootlegged out of the universities. However, the day is coming when research into the field may reveal some astounding accuracies.

Winning Wildcats Dump Allen, 69-53, Friday

The Winside Wildcats handed Coach Jim Winch one of his biggest wins of the season when they knocked off Allen High Friday night in a Lewis and Clark Conference dual at Allen.

That win, 69-53, gives the Wildcats a winning streak of five straight, one of the longest at Winside for some time. Winch, in his first year at the helm of the Winside crew, will pit his successful quintet—and his record—against the other teams invited to the Stanton Invitational tourney all this week.

Allen, still trying to overcome a bad luck streak, hosted Wakefield Saturday night. A week from then, this coming Saturday night,

Allen	13	23	5	12	—	53
Winside	20	11	—	14	—	69

the Eagles will meet Emerson Sacred Heart on their own court. That will give them a chance to avenge a 74-62 defeat at the hands of the same team in the recent Newcastle Invitational tourney held at Allen.

Allen had a record of three wins and nine losses after the defeat to Winside Friday night. Winside was riding seven wins and five losses going into the Stanton tourney opening tonight (Monday).

Expert shooting at the free throw line by the Winside Wildcats—they hit a total of 23 out of 36—played an important part in Friday's game with Allen. The Wildcats scored only one more field goal than the Eagles (23 to 22), but they were able to turn those gift shots into points when they needed them. In the fourth quarter alone, the Wildcats scored 16 points on free throws as they went about hitting a superb 16 of 18 attempts. Not missing at the line in four attempts each in that final period were Scott Duerling and Doug Deck.

But those two Wildcats were overshadowed by teammate Dave Witt, a 6-1 senior. He pumped in 13 field goals and hit six of 10 charity tosses to end the evening with 30 points. Those 30 points, an individual high for the young cager, led all players on the court. Only person close to him was Allen's Loren Reuter, a 5-8 junior who ended the night with 18 counters.

Helping out Witt with the scoring chores were Fritz Weible with 14, Gary Soden with 10 and Scott Duerling with nine. Doug Deck contributed four points to the Winside scoring column.

Coming in behind Reuter with points for the Allen quintet were Mike Ellis with 11 and Bob Mitchell with 10. Also scoring: Dave Geiger with six, Dennis Geiger with three, John Abts and Gary Troth with two each and John Warner with one.

Allen, trailing by 20-13 after the first period, came back strong in the second quarter and pulled into a 36-31 lead going into the locker rooms. Sparking that drive was Reuter, who scored 11 of Allen's 23 points in that period.

But Winside, using a full-court press effectively much of the time, came back in the third period to pump in 14 points while holding Allen to only five to pull into a 45-41 lead. They built on that lead, still by using that full-court press for all it was worth, until they outscored the hosts double (24 to 12) in the final period.

Allen was down 20-8 at one time early in the contest.

In the reserve game, Winside handed the hosts a 38-20 defeat. Leading scorers for the winners were Tom Behmer with 12 and Jerry Walker with 10. Allen's leading scorer was Duane Mitchell with nine counters. Winside led at the quarter breaks, 17-3, 26-7 and 34-14.

Jr. High Cage Meet

Allen and Wakefield junior high basketball teams were scheduled to meet in the consolation game Saturday evening in the Emerson Invitational basketball tournament.

Allen had advanced past Jackson in the opening round before falling to Emerson in the second round. Wakefield whipped Emerson Sacred Heart, then fell to Ponca. Ponca and Emerson met for the top two honors in the tourney.

Winside was scheduled to meet Thurston for seventh place in the tourney. The young Wildcats fell to Emerson-Hubbard in the opening round and to Jackson in the second round.

The tourney was scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. with the Winside-Thurston game.

Fishing and hunting permits are sold by more than 1,200 permit vendors throughout Nebraska, as well as conservation officers, Game Commission offices and most county clerks.

BATTLE BENEATH: Winside's Dave Witt (13) and Scott Duerling (25) fight with an Allen player underneath the boards during Friday's contest.

WAY UP: Winside's Dave Witt tries to outstretch an Allen player as they battle for this rebound. Allen's Brian Linafelter awaits the outcome.

Teams II, V Advance in City League

Teams II and V advanced to the second round of the men's recreation league playoff by handily knocking off their opponents Wednesday night.

The second round of the tourney is scheduled for Wednesday night with the following games on tap: Teams IV vs. VI at 7 p.m., Teams V vs. III at 8 and Teams I vs. II at 9.

Teams IV and VI, losers of Wednesday's action, will see their final play of the season in the coming round of action. The other four teams will advance to the semi-finals and the finals, both scheduled for next Monday evening, Feb. 9. The two losers of the coming round will meet then at 7:30 p.m., the two winners at 9 p.m.

Team II, led by the scoring efforts of Dennis Spangler, 16 points, and Wayne Wessel, 13 points, knocked off Team VI, 53-42, in the opening game Wednesday night. Never challenged in the contest, the winning squad led at the quarter breaks 17-9, 25-17 and 37-23. Hitting in double figures for the losers were Sid Hillier with 22 and Don Johnson with 10.

Also scoring in the contest: John Matson and Darrell Doescher with eight each, Ben Dahl with four and Jim Marsh and Stan Peterson with two each for the winners and Larry Test and Grant Halseme with five each for the losers.

Don Kramer pumped in 21 points and Dick Nelson and John Rebensoford chimed in with 16 each as Team V rolled past Team IV, 64-37.

That contest was the first one this season where a team failed to score in one quarter—Team V led after the opening stanza by 16-0.

Wayne Mandanz was the only player on the losing squad to hit in two figures. He came up with 14 points.

Bears Walk Past Visiting O'Neill Friday, 84-52

Apparently sharpened by the Class C schools they have been doing away with regularly, the Laurel Bears rolled past Class B O'Neill High Friday night, 84-52.

The Bears, with three men in double figures by the time the action ended, nearly shut out the visiting cage team in the opening stanza as they put together a strong defensive stanza. The visiting O'Neill team was able to put

Laurel	23	21	23	17	—	84
O'Neill	5	17	7	23	—	52

only five points on their side of the clock in the first eight minutes of play. Laurel came up with 23.

Only in the second quarter—when the reserves for Laurel saw action—and in the fourth quarter—when the Laurel defense faltered—did the visitors succeed in scoring in any consistent fashion. They came up with 17 points in the second period, added 23 in the final one after another unsuccessful attempt in the third period.

The victory, 14th in a row this season, should keep the Bears near the peak of the heap among the top 10 Class B schools in the state. They fell from third to fourth position on the Omaha World-Herald's list last week after barely edging past Class C Madison, 69-68.

But it was a different story for the Bears, who lost to Creighton University's freshmen at Omaha, 76-72. A couple of breaks could have turned the result around.

It was the second loss for Wayne in nine games—the other loss also was to Creighton frosh, by six points, in their Dec. 13 game.

Heisl, a Creighton varsity cager before graduation last year, especially cited Dana Troholz, sophomore from Schuyler, for good defense besides leading the team with 17 points. His season total of 402 (averaging 11.3) ranks second to the 152 by Dennis Sierkes, Somers, Iowa, freshman, who hit 14 against Creighton.

Friday night as they blitzed the O'Neill crew, coming up with over 20 points in each of the first three quarters.

Leading that offensive attack were George Schroeder and Steve Erwin, both with over 20 points as usual. Schroeder, a sophomore standout on the Laurel team, came up with 27 points; Erwin, only a year ahead of Schroeder, added 22 points. Rod Erwin, a senior, compiled 13 counters by the time the action ceased.

Also scoring for the Bears were Jim Schroeder with eight, Allen Hansen with six and Steve Smith, Rick Smith, Regg Swanson and Jerry Saria with two each.

Steve Erwin pulled down 21 rebounds to lead the action under the boards for the hosts. George Schroeder had 12 rebounds and his brother, Jim, had seven. Erwin and Steve Smith led in steals for the evening.

Friday night the Bears will travel to Bloomfield—a team they whipped, 50-39, in the NENAC tourney recently—and Saturday night they will play host to Elk Horn Valley. That Saturday opponent could give Laurel a fair challenge, for they started out the season with about eight straight victories before falling into a losing streak recently.

Wakefield Clinic Set

Darrell Strong, one of the most colorful umpires in the old Western League which included Omaha and Sioux City, has agreed to conduct a clinic for the soon-to-be organized Wakefield community baseball umpires association.

The Wakefield group, which will be patterned after a similar association at Broken Bow, will provide and school umpires at all levels—from Northeast Nebraska League town team to pee-wee leagues.

Anyone interested in the association, which will hold its organizational meeting in a few weeks, should contact Paul Eaton or Lefty Wilson in Wakefield.

A love story that begins with an incredible experiment!

Jr. Wildcat Cagers Lose to CU, 76-72

The Wayne State junior varsity basketball team lost a game Thursday night, but won strong praise from coach John Heisl.

"They played well," Heisl said of his junior Wildcats, who lost to Creighton University's freshmen at Omaha, 76-72. A couple of breaks could have turned the result around.

It was the second loss for Wayne in nine games—the other loss also was to Creighton frosh, by six points, in their Dec. 13 game.

Blue Devils Win 3rd Straight Friday

Although the results of the donnybrook which erupted shortly before the end of the game are not known for sure, the Wayne High Blue Devils added a 65-55 victory over Pierce to their record Friday night.

The win, which ups Wayne's record to four wins and eight defeats, came largely as a result of Randy Helgren's strong showing. That 5-8 senior, selected only last week as The Herald's "Athlete of the Week," accounted for 23 points in the game.

Wayne Pierce 11 17 19 18 -- 45
14 11 14 16 -- 55

—All of them coming in the final three quarters of play. Helgren hit six field goals and displayed his free throw accuracy as he sank 11 of 15 gift shots.

His effort was an important factor in Wayne's come-from-behind win. The Blue Devils trailed the Pierce squad, 14-11, going into the second period. But eight points by Helgren and another five by Dick Tietgen pulled the hosts into a 28-25 lead at intermission.

After intermission the Blue Devils lengthened that lead gradually until they pulled off the 10-point win, third in a row for the local cagers.

Helping Helgren out with the scoring duties for the evening was Ted Armbruster, only other local player to hit in double figures, he pumped in 16 points for the night. Also getting into the scoring act were Tietgen with nine, Don Mau with six, Mike Creighton with five, Les Echtenkamp with four and Dan Sutherland with two.

Two-point getters for the visiting Blue Jays were Mark Luebe with 15 and Brian Pint and Kirk Heyer with 11 each. Also

In double figures for Pierce was Kim Thomas with 10.

Rebounding power for Wayne was supplied by Armbruster, 11 retrievals, Helgren, nine, Tietgen, seven, and Mau, six.

After that disappointing first quarter when they managed to hit only 25 per cent of their shots, the Blue Devils succeeded in averaging better than 50 per cent in field goal shooting, hitting 18 of 32 in those last three quarters. The visitors best shooting effort came in the final stanza when they hit 37 per cent.

In the reserve game, Wayne pulled off a slim 50-49 victory. The reserves trailed Pierce at the end of the first two periods, 13-11 and 23-22, before pulling into a 41-38 lead going into the final period.

Leading the scoring for Wayne was Lonnie Bilfolt with 17 points. Adding to Wayne's total were Breck Giese and Rod Cook with eight each, Kyle Willis with seven, Doug Sturm with six and Craig Johnson and Steve Peterson with two each.

Rebounding consistently for the reserves were Willis and Giese with eight retrievals each.

The local cagers will see two straight nights of action next weekend, traveling to Norfolk Catholic Friday night and to Schuyler Saturday night. Both teams are highly respected by the opponents they have faced so far this year. Schuyler is rated among the top five Class B schools in the state by the Omaha World-Herald.

Wakefield Quintet Still Looking for A Winter Thaw

The winter thaw apparently hasn't hit Wakefield yet—the Trojans suffered their fifth loss of season Friday night, an 81-39 battering at the hands of East Huster foe West Point High.

All five of Wakefield's defeats came in January, chilling a good team effort which had produced seven wins.

Friday night there was little doubt in anybody's mind about who was going to pull off the win. West Point took command of the game almost from the opening moments of the game, dominating the medley and freestyle relays.

Several swimmers turned their best times so far, Bentley noted. And Rich Draper, junior from Elgin who has concentrated mainly on distance freestyle events, swam the 200 free and won with a respectable 2:07.8 time. He also won the 500 free.

Bob Meredith, junior from Chicago, claimed a pair of firsts in the 50 and 100 freestyle. Paul Martin and Mike Statler, both freshmen from Lincoln, won one event each and swam on the freestyle relay. Martin copped the 1,000 freestyle, Statler the 200 butterfly. The other Wayne first—among nine—was in diving by Bob Seymour, Grand Island sophomore.

Another home meet is on Wayne's schedule, a double dual with South Dakota University and Chadron State at 1 p.m. next Saturday.

Winside Grapplers Win Own Tourney

The Winside grapplers, leading by only five points going into the final round of action, pulled off a convincing victory in their own invitational tourney Wednesday night.

Winside had garnered 56 points, five more than second-place Stanton, during Tuesday night's opening round of play when five Wildcats advanced to the finals. Winside also had four men who made it to the consolation round Wednesday night.

Three of those five Winside wrestlers pulled off victories in the last round of action to earn top laurels in their weights: Terry Jaeger in the 115-pound class, Mike Jaeger in the 130-pound class and Dennis Wade in the 175-pound class.

Points from those and the other victories by the Wildcats in that final round gave the host team 74 points, nine more than second-place Howells. Stanton faltered in that last round of action and took third in the meet with 63 points. Niobrara had 55 points, Clearwater 40 and Leigh 31.

Two Winside wrestlers earned second places in the tourney: Steff Carlson in the 123-pound class and Larry Cleveland in the 185-pound class.

The Wildcats, who have a dual record of four wins and two defeats, travel to Clearwater Tuesday evening.

Federal, State Funds Going to Randolph For Swimming Pool

Approval for a federal grant-in-aid to assist the town of Randolph in building a swimming pool, wading pool and bathhouse has been given the state, according to M. O. Steen, director of the Game and Parks Commission.

Federal funds equaling 50 per cent of the $90,000 cost of the project will come from the Land and Water Conservation Fund administered in Nebraska by the Game and Parks Commission. Another 25 per cent will be paid by the state, and Randolph will pay the remaining 25 per cent.

Steen is Nebraska's liaison officer to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, administrator of the Land and Water Conservation Fund on the federal level. Matching grants to the states are made by the fund for acquisition and development of outdoor recreation facilities. The states, in turn, are permitted to transfer funds to political subdivisions for approved projects.

Dear Editor:
One man's news is sometimes another man's boredom. Although the above paraphrase is probably not original with me, I do think it illustrates the problems of an editor as he deals with the flow of reports, handouts, blurbs, personals, etc., that cross his desk.

Your generous use of the material I have sent you over the past year is greatly appreciated by the Social Security Administration, and I believe has proved of value to many of your readers as they were informed of various rights and responsibilities under the Social Security Act.

We wish to thank you for the assistance and cooperation that you give to us on a continuing basis. This assistance is invaluable to us as we strive to make sure that all are cognizant of the protection afforded to themselves and their dependents by the Social Security Law.

Again, we thank you and your staff for the cooperation, courtesy and time you so generously provide.

Robert L. Pelkey,
District Manager
Wayne

Dear Editor:
The Legislature passed the bill so high schools could charge the free high school students the same as it costs to educate the students in the high school district.

I think it was Sen. Terry Carpenter who stated that if the old method of figuring would have been tested in the Nebraska Supreme Court it would have been declared unconstitutional. But, no one bothered to test it.

Now the county districts are claiming that the bill so high schools can charge the same cost of free high school education as the cost of the students in the district is unconstitutional. (Confusing isn't it?)

Also, the claim that to tax one group for the benefit of another is wrong, depends on which side of the fence you are on.

In the past the high school districts were taxed extra for the benefits of the free high school group. The Legislature, in arguments before the bill was passed, stated that this type of taxing wasn't fair. These are just facts and can be taken for what they are worth.

Claire Vogel
P.S. I think the constitutionality of the bill should be tested in the Nebraska Supreme Court because it has reversed some district court decisions.

Near Lincoln Farm

GIANT ON THE ILLINOIS PRAIRIE

by Grover Brinkman

Writers eulogizing Abraham Lincoln never seem to amplify the fact that the Lincolns were farmers. But so they were. Near Charleston, Illinois, on the road leading to Lincoln Log Cabin State Park, is a memorial plaque on the site of the Thomas Lincoln farm. Abe's father built a cabin here in 1837 and farmed the land until his death in 1851. Abe himself often visited his father's homestead, and after 1841 held title to 40 acres of farm land here. The State of Illinois now owns most of the Lincoln farm.

And nearby, at a newly-established Lincoln Memorial Park, the largest statue of Lincoln in the world has been erected and dedicated. It stands in the open prairie, much higher than the native oaks surrounding it, a 62-foot-high giant so lifelike that at a distance one might suppose it could walk off its concrete pedestal.

The new glass and steel edifice weighs 16,000 pounds. Lincoln's shoes are six feet in length. Standing against the giant an ordinary person is a pygmy.

The "tallest Lincoln in the world" has shoes 6 feet long. Mrs. Leona Brinkman seems amazed at the size of the statue.

These may look like ordinary chocolate snaps and fudge, but there's a touch of genius in both of these new recipes.

CHOCO-MINT SNAPPERS—Preheat oven to 350°F. Melt 1 pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's® Semi-Sweet, Mint-Flavored Chocolate Morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat. Combine ½ cup shortening, ¼ cup sugar, 1 egg in bowl and beat till creamy. Blend in melted chocolate, ¼ cup corn syrup. Sift together 1½ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt and stir in gradually. Shape dough into balls using 1 level tablespoon for each. Roll balls of dough in sugar (about ¼ cup). Place 3" apart on ungreased cookie sheets. BAKE at: 350°F. TIME: 15 mins. Let stand a few mins. before removing from pan. Makes 3 dozen 3" cookies.

DOUBLE DELIGHT FUDGE—Combine 2½ cups sugar, 1 cup evaporated milk, ¼ cup butter, ¼ tsp. salt in saucepan. Bring to full rolling boil, over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Boil 6 mins. over moderate heat, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Stir in 1½ cups miniature marshmallows, ¼ cup chopped nuts, 1 tsp. vanilla and stir till marshmallows melt and mixture is well blended. To 2 cups hot mixture, add 1 pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's® Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels; stir till Morsels are melted and mixture is blended. Pour evenly into greased or aluminum foil-lined 8" square pan. To remaining hot mixture, add 1 pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's® Milk Chocolate Morsels; stir till Morsels are melted and mixture is blended. Spread evenly over Semi-Sweet mixture in pan. Chill till firm (about 4 hours). Cut into squares. Makes about 2½ lbs.

NESTLÉ'S MAKES THE VERY BEST CHOCOLATE

Once Thomas Lincoln owned this farm, now part of an Illinois state park. Abe Lincoln also held title to 40 acres of land here.

The statue was manufactured by a display firm in St. Paul, Minn., and transported by special trailers to Charleston. Designer-sculptor Bob Edgett worked from a small model of Lincoln, to create the giant likeness. Even the posture, the upheld hand, the stance of the giant, are all true to form of the Lincoln who debated his cause throughout Illinois.

Nearby, inside Lincoln Log Cabin State Park, an aged lilac bush still blossoms, although it was planted by the Lincoln family when they lived here more than a century ago. Nearby is old Shiloh cemetery, a beautiful country burial ground, where lie Thomas Lincoln, Abe's father, and Sarah Lincoln, his step-mother. Thomas died in 1851; Sarah lived until 1869, four years after Lincoln's assassination. Once this farm area was called Gooseneck Prairie.

The image of Lincoln grows ever taller in Illinois, especially along the Lincoln Heritage Trail, which meanders across the south-central part of the state, starting in Kentucky, and terminating in the New Salem area. Tourism, the desire of many people today all eager to walk the same trails as did Lincoln and his family, helps the image grow. Charleston, site of one of the historic Lincoln-Douglas debates, now has the world's tallest statue of Abe to memorialize the event.

Lincoln, remembered in various forms of life-sized sculpture in all parts of the nation and even abroad, has never before been amplified into a giant—sixty-two feet tall!

This ancient lilac bush, near the site of the Thomas Lincoln cabin, is still hardy and well, although it was planted by the Lincolns well over a century ago.

HONOR TWO GREAT PRESIDENTS

By Betty Stern
Farm & Home Food Consultant

Celebrate the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln with traditional American favorites — as popular today as in the days of our forefathers, but now so easy to make.

Because of the cabin in which he spent his youth, Lincoln, our 16th president, is always associated with logs. It has become traditional to bake a cake or yeast raised bread in the shape of a log, then frost it, to serve on February 12.

Or how about a history lesson on our first president via Cherry Cupcakes and Soda or Graham Cracker Log Cabin? Children would be most receptive to learning about Washington and Lincoln with such a treat in store. Let your foods be the start of an around-the-table historical discussion.

Lincoln Log Cabin

1 cup dessert topping

Chopped dates

4 (Complete 4 sections)
sugar honey graham crackers

2 tablespoons grated orange peel

2 complete sugar honey
graham crackers

Gum drops

Whip dessert topping and fold in grated orange peel. Using four graham crackers for base of each log cabin, spread whipped topping mixture between crackers; sprinkle finely chopped dates over each layer and stack. Frost sides with remaining whipped topping and place stacks in refrigerator for an hour or two. When ready to serve, use one cracker for each side of the slanting roof of the cabin. Trim plates with small flags held by large gum drops and a few small colorful gum drops.

...ice spread?

No; made with Blue Bonnet Margarine.

Make any recipe with Blue Bonnet, and you make it great. Because Blue Bonnet has the same great taste as the high-price spread. But Blue Bonnet fries better. Browns faster. And when you spread it on bread, Blue Bonnet's closer to the high-price spread than any margarine. It releases its flavor almost instantly—just like the high-price spread.

Everything's better with Blue Bonnet on it (or in it).

Cherry-Go-Round
(Makes 2 coffeecakes)

3½ cups to 4½ unsifted flour
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 package active dry yeast
1 cup milk
¼ cup water
½ cup (1 stick) margarine
1 egg (at room temperature)
1 cup unsifted flour
½ cup chopped California walnuts
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 can (1-pound) pitted red sour cherries, well drained
Confectioners' sugar frosting

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1¼ cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved active dry yeast. Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt.) Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add egg and ¼ cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff batter. Cover bowl tightly with aluminum foil. Refrigerate dough at least 2 hours. (Dough may be kept in refrigerator 3 days.) When ready to shape dough, combine ½ cup flour, chopped walnuts and brown sugar. Turn dough out on to lightly floured board and divide in half. Roll ½ of the dough to a 14x7-inch rectangle. Spread with ¾ cup cherries. Sprinkle with ½ the brown sugar mixture. Roll up from long side as for jelly roll. Seal edges. Place sealed edge down in circle on greased baking sheet. Seal ends together firmly. Cut slits ¾ through ring at 1-inch intervals; turn each section on its side. Repeat with remaining dough, cherries and brown sugar mixture. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 375° about 20-25 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. Frost while warm with confectioners' sugar frosting.
