

Stacy Jacobmeier, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jacobmeier, seriously concentrates on the lots of knots in learning to knit shown to her by Denise Hansen, WSC freshman. Stacy is one of 15 members of Brownie Troop 192 being taught to knit by four Wayne State College girls from Theta Xi Omega sorority. Helping Brownies learn the art Wednesday afternoon in the elementary school building were Paula Telgren, Mary Sherman, Cindy Sylvus and Denise Hansen. Kay Schoffler of Wayne also helped Mrs. Doris Jacobmeier and Mrs. Jan Teeter are troop leaders.

5 Allen Youths Plan to Enter FFA Contest

Five members of the Future Farmers of America chapter at Allen High School plan on entering the approaching district contest slated for Saturday at Wisner.

Planning on entering the contest are Dan Kavanaugh, wildlife speaker; Kent Sachau, extemporaneous speaker, and John Malmborg, creed speaker. Bill Sachau and Jerry Warner will take the State Farmer test during the day. Last year senior Bob Anderson scored high enough in that test and met the other qualifications to earn the title of a State Farmer, an honor which is given only about two per cent of the approximate 5,000 FFA members across the state.

The Allen FFA organization voted not to take part in the contests over the FFA manual, public speaking and parliamentary procedure.

A total of 17 schools with 150 FFA members are expected to take part in the six contests during the day.

Schools besides Allen who will be sending contestants include Blair, Clarkson, Emerson-Hubbard, Hooper-Dehling, Howells, Leigh, Lyons, North Bend, Oakland-Craig, Pender, Schuyler, Scribner, Stanton, Tekamah-Herman, West Point and Wisner-Pilger.

WSC Grads Honored by Memorials

Two graduates of Wayne State who gave their lives in Viet Nam - A. D. Benson and Steve Backhaus - were notable names in Wayne track and baseball.

Now the Marine Corps lieutenants are honored by memorials related to the sports in which they excelled: the A. D. Benson Memorial Mile and the Steven E. Backhaus Memorial Scholarship.

The widow of Lieutenant Backhaus, the former Connie McElmurray of Mandamin, Iowa, established a scholarship of $100 annually to a freshman baseball player at Wayne State.

He lived for baseball. A 1965 graduate of Omaha Westside, he lettered three years as a Wayne outfielder.

In Southwest Iowa, officials of the Corner Conference, which includes Benson's hometown Sidney, made his name permanent in track annals by designating the conference mile run in his name. His conference record of 4:39.3, which still stands, capped a fine Sidney career before 1964 graduation.

The idea of the Benson Mile was presented to the conference by Chuck Offenburger, Shenandoah Sentinel sports editor, and Steve Strong, Sidney, a Wayne graduate, both close friends of Benson. They will furnish a trophy which will travel each year to the school of the athlete who wins the mile.

Benson went on to a standout career in Wayne track and cross country, winning several conference championships and numerous firsts. His Wayne cross-country course record stands, and he ran on the two-mile relay team which set the existing Wayne mark.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Benson of rural Sidney. Benson and Backhaus, close friends in college, volunteered for Marine officer training. Benson received his commission after August, 1968 graduation, and Backhaus was commissioned in a commencement ceremony the following April.

Benson went to Viet Nam March 7, 1969, and while leading his platoon on a combat mission July 6, was killed by a flying shell fragment.

Backhaus reached Viet Nam in December. Ten days later he was riding a truck to join his platoon when a mine explosion killed him. Mrs. Backhaus, a Wayne student two years, plans to resume her education. With son Matthew Steven, born September 14, 1969, she is living in Omaha with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Backhaus, Steve's parents. Mr. Backhaus is a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve.

M. Olson: 'Time Has Come'

The time has come that schools must individualize their teaching and treat each child as an individual, a State Department of Education official said Wednesday at a conference of Northeast Nebraska school administrators on the Wayne State campus.

Mel Olson, chief of internal services, said, "Too long we have educated a few and neglected the rest. We can't teach masses and groups anymore. We must take each child where he is and push him to his full potential."

Olson said that every pupil needs to know that somebody is interested in him personally and that he counts for something. "Failure should not be a part of any child's education," Olson said. "But there must be success—and for some students success will take longer."

He cited a model elementary school in Denver where, it appeared to him, every child was eager to learn, and each was working on his own project at his own pace. Many of them were advancing rapidly, he said.

Some schools in Nebraska, Olson said, are moving this way, individualizing instruction and making rural improvements.

Another speaker at the conference, attended by about 70, was Dr. H. Vaughn Phelps, Omaha Westside superintendent who spoke in his role as president of the Nebraska State Assessor's Association.

Olson said that every pupil needs to know that somebody is interested in him personally and that he counts for something. "Failure should not be a part of any child's education," Olson said. "But there must be success—and for some students success will take longer."

Can It Continue?

Something has to happen to break that string of non-winners in the Thursday Cash Night drawing.

That probably pretty well sums up the feeling of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the weekly promotion, following last week's fruitless attempt to give away the $400 gift.

Not present to take home that prize when his name was called was a Dixon man, Earl Mason. This week's prize will remain at $400 and the reserve pot will climb to $400. If there is no winner this week, a second reserve pot will be started.

Last winner in the weekly drawing was Jerry Baier of rural Wayne. He took home a check for $350 late in November just for being present in one of the cooperating stores when his name was called at eight o'clock.

Candidate List Is Growing

Only 10 days remain in which candidates may file for any of the county, city and school board posts to be filled in the coming election. There have been 16 candidates file for county offices, but as of Saturday morning the city clerk's office and the school board secretary reported no filings have been made for those two levels of administration.

In that nobody has filed to be put on the ballot for the elections for the schoolboard or the mayor and city councilmen positions, several Chamber of Commerce members serving on that body's Legislative Committee are making an attempt to create interest in getting candidates to file.

Filing deadline is March 13. Anyone desiring to hold any of the county, city or school board positions must go through a formal filing procedure. Those filing for salaried offices must pay a fee equal to one per cent of the annual salary of that office.

Those filing for the office of sheriff, treasurer, clerk or assessor must pay a fee of $72 in that the new county pay scale beginning in 1971 calls for a salary of $7,200 for those offices.

County offices which must be filled in the coming election, stated the same date as the state primary, include county clerk, treasurer, two commissioner posts, sheriff, superintendent of schools, clerk of the district court, assessor and attorney.

Latest filings are those of Fred H. Rickers for the county superintendent of schools, and John Owens for a post on the Noxious Weed Control Authority. Fred Rickers, principal of Wayne High School, filed Friday as a candidate for the office of county school superintendent. At present, he is the only candidate to file for the single county office with set educational requirements.

Rickers was born in Otoe County and attended rural school for eight years. He is a graduate of Peru State College where he received the BA degree. He attended Colorado State University at Greeley, Colo., where he earned the master's degree program. The candidate also studied at the University of Colorado at Boulder.

The Wayne High School administrator spent five years teaching in the classroom and has been principal for 21 years. He and his wife Violet have one son.

Wanted: Soap Box Racers

There's still room for other Wayne youngsters who want the thrill of racing in a big-time soap box derby.

So say the local Jaycees who are sponsoring a drive to get about a dozen cars entered in the derby slated for Norfolk late in June. Winner of that derby will receive a $500 U. S. Savings Bond and a free trip to Akron, Ohio, to take part in the All-American Soap Box Derby.

About 25 youngsters and parents turned out Wednesday evening at the Wayne Middle School to view a film of the highlights of the 1969 Derby. In that night alone, the Jaycees signed up eight youngsters who want to build their own soap boxes so they can enter the Norfolk competition. The good response was pleased the Norfolk Optimist Club, the group the Jaycees are working with to get local interest in the coming event.

The two Jaycee leaders who are heading up this latest project, Bill Taylor and Darrell Moore, stress that it still is not too late for youngsters to sign up for the coming race. Although the race is not until the middle of summer, they do emphasize that the youngsters begin as soon as possible in building their cars because it takes a lot of time and work to build a good one.

The two members also point out that any businesses in the city which would like to serve as sponsors for the Wayne Derby are welcome. Those sponsors pay a fee of either $20 for sponsoring a half a car or $40 for sponsoring a full car. That money goes to pay for the special wheels, steering kits, steering cables and axles which must be used on all the derby entries.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

One Group Shows Concern

Somebody in Wayne is finally becoming concerned about the lack of people stepping forward to file for the posts which are soon to be vacant on the city council and the school board. The legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce, expressing worry over this apparent lack of concern by residents in the city over who is going to fill those positions, voted last week to spend some money on advertising in an attempt to get people interested in filing for the jobs.

We wish the group complete success. We hope other groups and organizations will follow that lead and begin talking about the coming elections, urging qualified people to file for the posts and telling people to make sure they get out and cast their vote when that election does come. We, too, are worried about the lack of interest people are showing over the coming election. There is some talk about who will be running, little action about getting somebody to run. And we can understand why that attitude is so apparent. Both positions, school board member and city councilman, are thankless ones. All too often, the only time the people on those boards hear from the public is when the public is aroused or disturbed about some decision the group made. We are fairly certain that the people serving in those positions would have to search their memories to come up with an instance of a person thanking them for their services or congratulating them for making some wise move.

Let's quit talking about the lack of candidates for those offices. Let's start doing something about it. —NLH.

Clear to Most People

From the comments we have heard from some of the people who were at Tuesday's council meeting, it seems that very few missed noticing that The Wayne Herald was singled out by a few as the culprit for getting the town in a dither over such a far-fetched thing as the possible loss of the city hall park and the Girl Scout cabin.

The whole thing was a misunderstanding. The newspaper was largely responsible. Tut-tut. Example of poor reporting. Should have asked those involved rather than believe things heard... or read. Lot of work which could have been avoided. Tut-tut.

One thing is crystal clear to us. We consider the reporting of the earlier council meeting which brought about that dither an example of one of the most important responsibilities of a newspaper: keeping the people informed about the going-on of the various public bodies in existence. If a newspaper which does that for its readers can be called a poor newspaper, we will certainly strive to deserve that adjective.

Actually, that recent meeting was rather humorous. The backpeddling done by a couple people—not all, to be sure—was apparently evident to more than just us.

We are happy that the council listened to the people and then voted to not offer the hall park and cabin land for sale at the present time. It was a good example of people becoming concerned and involved with government at the level which they can do the most about, the local level. We like to think that The Wayne Herald fulfilled two roles in this instance, first by informing the people and second by taking a stand on an important issue. —NLH.

One Man, One Vote

The United States Supreme Court extended the one-man, one-vote rule Wednesday to all governmental bodies, including local school boards that perform normal governmental functions.

It means that when officials are elected by districts, the districts must be as nearly equal in population as practicable.

In virtually all of Nebraska's larger cities, councilmen are elected from districts or wards. Wayne councilmen are elected from three wards. There are three districts in the county from which three commissioners are elected. There is little probability that the wards or districts of either Wayne or Wayne County are so divided as to be equal in population.

What does the ruling mean locally? It means several things, one of which is the next election may get very complicated.

Our Wayne County commissioners have authorized the county clerk to draw up three districts in Wayne County which will, inasmuch as possible, have about the same number of people in each. Facing the county clerk, however, is the problem of drawing up new district boundary lines prior to the 1970 census. Census figures are not likely to be available until after the election. So how do you draw up three new districts according to population without knowing the population figures?

Most counties in Nebraska, at least prior to Wednesday, were going to go ahead with the election using the old district boundary lines and draw up new districts upon the availability of 1970 census figures.

This procedure will probably raise a lawsuit. Here is why. Suppose you and your neighbor have both filed as candidates for one of the county offices. You are a Democrat and he is a Republican. You both get through the primaries and campaign for the November election. Announcement is made following the election that your neighbor won. It wasn't a landslide, in fact a very close vote, but he won fair and square... or did he?

You talk to your lawyer and point out the fact that the election was carried out illegally in that it was not according to districts divided equally according to the population. The election was carried out according to the old district lines.

Whether or not a defeated candidate in Wayne County would file such a suit is questionable, but you can bet your boots it is going to likely happen some place in the state.

A big squabble over college trustees in Kansas City and a lawsuit which was taken to the Supreme Court is the reason the court handed down the extension Wednesday of the one-man, one-vote ruling.

Life doesn't seem to be a bowl of cherries. —MMW.

End of the Game

Sportsmanship has been classified by many as good or poor. There are without doubt more athletes who are good sportsmen than poor. Then there are those few who end a game having a good case of the "mads". Regardless of what sport it may be or how large the crowd, there is always going to be someone either on the team or in the crowd, maybe both, who go away with a rapid pulse and emotional fever.

Within the last several weeks there have been several occasions when one might have justifiable reason to wonder if poor sportsmanship at the end of a competitive game may be indeed, the end of the game.

Ridiculous tempers cannot be blamed on youth alone. Many a parent has been stirred to "fighting mad" in a heated moment of rivalry between schools. If dad is loudmouthed on the sidelines, how can the son be expected to act differently? Like father, like son?

In late January two high school teams were competing in basketball at Rice Auditorium when the game ended in a fracas. Who started it? Few know and few likely care, but everyone that was there probably realizes now that poor sportsmanship can be exceedingly ugly.

More recently in Norfolk, a youth was arrested for assault and unlawful possession of a firearm following a fracas at a basketball game in which a Columbus youth was struck in the face with a charge from a tear gas gun.

Eight other youths from both Norfolk and Columbus were booked on disorderly conduct or intoxication charges. Those involved in the fighting were a small minority but they left a deep scar on the name of sports.

There was another altercation at Norfolk Catholic High School, where Norfolk Catholic defeated Hartington Cedar Catholic 99-37. Norfolk police escorted the Hartington cagers out of Norfolk "for their safety," as explained by Norfolk Police Chief James Brennehan.

Whether the fighting is during the game, at the end of the game, or after the game when students are preparing to return home such physical outbursts will more than likely, if continued, end the game completely.

Coaches can lecture on the subject of being a good sport and ministers may preach on the way human beings are to treat each other; sports writers may write their well-phrased arrangement of words concerning having the right attitude in winning or losing a game, but all such admonition always fails to reach that small minority of people who are more interested in trying to settle a game by beating the tar out of the opponent than accepting the fact they competed with better players.

Sporting events will likely always have to put up with those few individuals who would rather fight than switch—to good sportsmanship. —MMW.

Freedom of Speech

Many campus participants in riots have cried out for the freedom of speech. They should be allowed to say anything they want to say, according to them, particularly if it is anti-American. As long as there was no physical violence, anti-capitalists have been given free rein to speak as they please.

This, however, isn't enough. The anti-Americans have invaded campuses and insist they be heard, but do not want to allow anyone with an opposing viewpoint to be heard.

Former Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey was jeered off a stage at the University of Massachusetts Tuesday night before he could give his scheduled speech on foreign policy.

Concerning the incident, Humphrey noted that the country is in trouble when small groups can force their will upon the majority.

One group of students in long black robes chanted "guilty, guilty, guilty," apparently to express their displeasure with the conviction of five persons in the Chicago riot trial. Other demonstrators wore, stamped and tossed paper on the stage.

Though there were only about 250 demonstrators in the crowd of 5,000, they made it im-

Dear Editor:

Thank you for your prompt, courteous reply to my letter. Also for the correction in the paper.

Would it be asking too much for another correction? Somehow or other the officials got names mixed up at the state wrestling tournament. Terry Jaeger won Friday night over Jeff McLaughlin of Hebron, 8-2. On Saturday morning Terry lost to Bob Finke of Gibbon and in the wrestling back Terry lost to Lyle Erickson of Stromsburg, 2-0. You can check this with Mr. Simpson.

Enjoyed your story of the state meet and your athlete of the week. Mrs. Frvin Jaeger

(Editor's Note: The Wayne Herald made a mistake concerning Terry Jaeger in the story about the district wrestling tournament at Winside. A correction was printed in the following issue when it was brought to our attention. We apparently made an error in reporting that Terry lost to Jeff McLaughlin in Friday's quarter-finals in the state meet at Lincoln. Both mistakes were, of course, unintentional and we apologize to the young Winside student.)

Dear Editor:

We would like to thank you for the tour of The Wayne Herald. We all enjoyed it very much.

Dear Editor:

Thanks ever so much for taking us on the tour of The Wayne Herald. I had never been there before and I learned an awful lot. Also, while there I entered my name for a cherry pie and I won!

possible for Humphrey to exercise the freedom of speech.

Perhaps Hubert Humphrey should take a course in dialectical materialism, Marxism, or communism and hereafter be acquainted with the tactics of those who adhere to such philosophies. When a Russian Communist said a few years ago concerning the United States, "We'll bury you," he was speaking out of intentions based on planned strategy.

A brilliant strategist of propaganda knows full well that a minority can control a majority, particularly a majority of apathetic people whose so naive as to doubt there are any more wolves dressed as lambs. A brilliant strategist in the maneuvering of political ideologies will use a projection tool and then make his opponent look like an idiot for doing the same thing. Insist on free speech but deny it to others. Communists have openly declared their intent to destroy the United States. One way of getting the ground work completed is to disrupt and destroy all fundamental patriotism, basic morality, and belief in the capitalistic system of government. What better place to start than with the young minds on campus? Castro started on the campus of the University

Demonstrators at the Iowa Beef Processors plant in Dakota City had four shots fired over their heads during a demonstration Monday morning. The demonstration followed a relatively peaceful march on the plant earlier that morning.

About 1,000 people took part in the early morning demonstration which began about five o'clock. Strikers and union officials had traveled to the IBP plant from Sioux City in a caravan of 371 cars.

The federal food stamp program has been liberalized and will have its benefits extended to Dixon County beginning this week. Both the amount of money that a family pays for food stamps and the bonus coupons received have been changed, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service in Norfolk.

"The amount that a family pays for its stamp allotment has been reduced as far as possible under present law," according to Mrs. Doris Anderson, Dixon County welfare director. That law requires that the payment be not less than a family's normal food expenditure.

The school board at Randolph is asking for approval to a $695,000 bond issue, the amount the board feels is necessary to provide education facilities for the approximate 300 St. Frances students who will move into the public school system with the closing of the Catholic school this spring.

Figured in the $695,000 amount are such items as the purchase of the St. Frances school property, building additions, transportation facilities, equipment, texts and some remodeling.

About six to six and a half mills in taxation will be required to pay for the proposed bond issue. The school board plans to use the St. Frances grade school as East Elementary School, the St. Frances high school (grades seven through twelve) for the junior high for grades seventh through ninth, the present public school for West Elementary School, and the old high school building (grades seven through twelve) for sophomores, juniors and seniors.

The date for the bond election is set for March 24.

Teachers in the Madison school system next school year will be hired under a salary schedule which includes a $6,300 base with four per cent increments for each year of experience and three per cent increments for each step in preparation. The teachers had asked for a base of $6,500 with five per cent increments for both experience and education.

The Wisner-Piager IFA chapter won fourth place in team competition during the sixth annual Norfolk Swine Show last week. Hooper won the contest, entered by 15 teams, with a total of 914 points. Scribner took second with 865, followed by West Point with 861 and Wisner-Piager's 860.

Warren Podany and Terry Luedke placed in the top 20 individual competition out of a field of 260. The two received red ribbons.

You may be in the legal rights to do so; but I feel very strongly that you were morally and ethically out of bounds on this one. (You know that I have personally supported many of your editorial views in the paper from time to time in the past.)

You may run this letter in the paper or your next issues of it and you have permission to use my name, as I stand in back of what I have here written with all the strength of my personal convictions.

JUST WRIGHT

Wayne County marks its 100th birthday this year. Mrs. Anna Bryant celebrated her 102nd birthday Feb. 23 at the Dahl Retirement Center. It is difficult to imagine how many things can happen during a century and how many changes are made in the land and people.

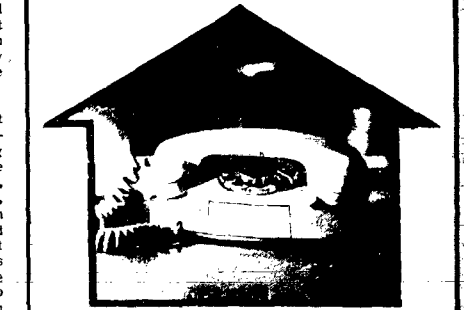

While as a citizen in the community I am free to disagree with this or any other decision of the school board, I will grant that the board has made its decisions on the basis of information that it has in its possession that is not nor should it be available for general public consumption; and thereby I will stand behind the decisions they make. I personally feel that it was quite indiscreet to release the information on these three teachers to them and to the press before the other teachers had even been offered their contracts amaze me is a photo of the Old Mother Earth taken by astronauts as they started their return trip home from the moon. There she is orbiting in colorful grandeur as a great celestial ark loaded with myriads of creatures including man himself. Seeing Earth from space causes me to think "Around and around she goes and where she stops, no one will all aboard." Following 100 years ago probably were so busy they didn't even think about what the Earth looked like from such a distance into space. Even we have only scratched the surface of discovering our true place in space. A lot happens in the brevity of 100 years.

Now with communication satellites, radio and television, computerized telephone dialing, we've learned the mechanics of contacting each other only to discover we don't really know what to say. So the largest portion of communicative devices man has made, including recordings, are used for entertainment or in the attempt to entertain.

Not knowing exactly what to say to fellow beings, we figure if we can make him laugh we will have contributed to his life. Movies are a communication device and today teenagers and others sit by the hour in movie theaters laughing about a variety of arrangements with sex. Don't blame the kids for making the films. Adults produce the films and the youth laugh. The youth laugh sometimes at the immature adults and sometimes

Wayne State Cagers Open NAIA Series

Wayne State and Hastings College will clash tonight (Monday) in the Nebraska NAIA District basketball playoff but the location is to be decided at Hastings or Wayne to be played at Hastings or Wayne was not as yet made prior to press time. Hastings has protested Ross Armstrong's decision as to which team should be named number one, consequently bringing about a scheduling snafu.

Original plans called for Wayne State cagers to play at Hastings tonight with the Tuesday night action moving to Wayne State's Rice Gym for the second game in the best-two-out-of-three series. Game time: 7:30 p.m.

A third game, if necessary, will be played Wednesday night in case the Wildcats and Broncos split the first two. Due to Hastings' protest and the consequent snafu as to where the games are to be played, definite game locations were unsure at press time Saturday.

To the series winners goes a trip to the NAIA national tournament at Kansas City, Mo., the following week. Wayne has gone the past two years as Nebraska champion.

District playoff rules require admission from all spectators. Prices: $1 for all students with ID cards; $2 for adults.

Wayne gained its third straight playoff bid Wednesday by whipping Peru State, 88-68, before a capacity crowd in Rice. The Wildcats thus represent the five NAIA independents in Nebraska—the four state colleges and UN-O.

Hastings needed a victory in its Friday home tilt with Nebraska Wesleyan to qualify for the playoff. And the Broncos accomplished it with a 108-81 win, making their season record 19-5, compared with Wayne's 21-5. Hastings was 7-2 against NAIA foes, so represents the new conference of church-related colleges.

Game was the NAIA runnerup at 6-2.

Wayne lost to Hastings, 86-82, in their one meeting of the season Jan. 27 at Hastings. That loss came during a four-straight road series in which Wayne dropped three.

The Wildcats recovered to win six of their last seven games, and only the University of Nebraska at Omaha attempted to argue with Wayne's choice for the playoff.

Peru put up an argument on the Rice court Wednesday night, giving the Wildcats a challenge in the early minutes and briefly in the second half. The visitors led for the first 10 minutes until Wayne's Bill Goodwin canned a spectacular layup for a 16-15 lead, and the Wildcats never trailed again. They led at the half, 40-32.

A crowd that started out happy stepped up enthusiasm by the minute as their Wildcats gradually wrapped up their fine season package. In the end Goodwin tallied his season-high 29 points, second best of his Wayne career. And then, to cap it off, he received a new WSU honor, Athlete of the Year, an award initiated by Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

It was the usual team effort, however, and Dave Schneider contributed 18, Jim Merchell 14, Dean Elford 11 to keep the Peru defense scattered.

Dillon to Tell About Antarctic Here Thursday

Dr. Raymond Dillon, a former Wayne State biology professor who spent three summers in the Antarctic will speak twice at Wayne Thursday, March 5.

Dr. Raymond Dillon, now on the biology faculty at the University of South Dakota, is scheduled for talks at 3 and 7:30 p.m. in the WSC Administration Building auditorium.

Both talks are open to the public, according to Dr. Robert Sutherland, chairman of the WSC biology department. The first will be quite technical, on the topic, "Ecology of Antarctic Protozoans," but the evening talk will be more general, on "Biology of the Antarctic" and Dr. Dillon's experiences in the frigid continent.

He spent three consecutive Christmas seasons doing research on protozoans—minute single celled animals—which exist even in the sub-zero Antarctic.

While the illustrated lectures are intended primarily for science students, Dr. Sutherland said the public is welcome. He especially invited townspeople who knew Dr. Dillon as a Wayne resident.

WSC Wrestling Victory Tunes Up for National

Five pins carried Wayne State wrestlers to their most decisive victory of the year Wednesday, 34-8 over Midland.

Coach Don Pate, pleased with his young team all season, added more praise Thursday in talking to the Second Guessers Club. He especially mentioned 142-pounder Harvey Rosenbaum of Abilene, coming on stronger with each match, now 5-4, with pins in four of his wins.

Freshman Ken Monroe of Arlington Heights, Ill., also got praise for his 2-29 pin in the 167-pound match. Pate noted that Monroe has been wrestling at 177 and sometimes 190 most of the season, though he should be a 157-pounder. Reason: The coach wanted to put the two-time Illinois high school champion against the stoutest opponents available.

That is typical of Pate strategy, aimed at preparing for the national meet each year by scheduling strong opponents all season. The dual record may not look so good as a result—it's 7-7 now—but tough competition improves prospects in the national, Pate reasons.

Such strategy took Wayne to fourth-place national finishes the past two years.

Plans to take at least five or six wrestlers to the national at Superior, Wis., and he thinks they'll be better prepared than he expected several months ago.

One more home meet remains, with strong Midway State (N.D.) at 7:30 Saturday night, March 7. Results with Midland:

- 118—Steve Riley, Midland, decided Tom Mann, 11-2.
- 125—Tod DeBord, Midland, won by forfeit.
- 134—Max Branum, Wayne, pinned Teri Daley in 1:06—the quickest Wayne pin this year.
- 142—Harvey Rosenbaum, Wayne, pinned Ken Gaska, 3:17.
- 150—Vince Emery, Wayne, decided Marty Knight, 5-0.
- 158—John Veder, Wayne, decided Mike Romberg, 7-1.
- 167—Ken Monroe, Wayne, pinned Guy Metty, 2:29.

BILL GOODWIN, Wayne State Athlete of the Year, accepts his plaque from Phi Sig Sweetheart Pam Chastain.

He lived for baseball . . . Goodwin Named WS Athlete of Year

Wayne State's versatile two-sport star, Bill Goodwin, has a new honor—as Athlete of the Year.

The senior from Lawton, Iowa, gained the title Wednesday night from Phi Sigma Epsilon, which originated the award this year. The fraternity chose Goodwin from nominations by coaches of all nine intercollegiate sports—Goodwin named in both basketball and baseball, the latter for 1969.

Phi Sig Sweetheart Pam Chastain of Essex, Iowa, presented the award.

Goodwin made the honor all the more lustrous with his 29-point effort in leading Wayne's 88-68 win over Peru. The total was his second highest in three Wayne seasons during which he played in all but one game, started in all but four and gained all-conference recognition. In baseball he is a pitcher and centerfielder, also a potent batter.

Roundtable, Swim On Scout Calendar

Scout leaders of troops and packs in the Lewis and Clark District will have their monthly get-together called Roundtable Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Wayne Elementary School. This is a meeting to share ideas and plan future scout activities, according to District Executive Marvin Wood.

An advancement swimming session for scouts of the district is scheduled Monday, March 1, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Wayne State pool. Any scout needing tests on first class or merit badge swimming or lifesaving can attend.

A campaign to self-sustaining memberships in scouting will begin this week in the Lewis and Clark five-county area—and throughout the Mid-America Council, BSA. Sustaining memberships help support the scouting organization—its professional staff, its camping program, and its leadership training.

Leading the district campaign for memberships is Willis Johnson, Wayne.

Wayne Sweeps Grade School Cage Meet

Wayne's young recreation basketball players surprised many fans when they swept both ends of the fifth annual invitational grade school tournament in Wayne Friday.

The local hardwood enthusiasts took both top trophies by knocking off teams from Dixon, Hoskins and Hubbard.

The sixth grade team rolled past Dixon in the first night of action, 36-4, then came back in Friday's final round to pull off a 39-22 decision over Hubbard in the championship game.

The seventh grade team won the upper division in the tourney by storming past Dixon's entry, 45-15, Thursday night and past Hoskins' entry, 43-26, Friday.

Dixon won the consolation trophy in the lower division by whipping Hoskins, 14-10, Hoskins lost to Hubbard, 30-15, Thursday evening. Taking the consolation honors in the upper division was Wayne's entry with a 43-40 double overtime warhead over a persistent Hubbard quintet. Dixon had to drop out of the consolation game after some players turned up sick.

Highlights of the tourney:

Lower Division
Wayne 36, Dixon 4: Wayne took a 20-0 lead into intermission after Brian Hedrick and Ken Daniels teamed for four points each. Paul Mallette hit six points in the third period to spur the locals to a 28-4 lead going into the final period. B. Bloom and C. Hartman hit a bucket each to tally Dixon's points.

Hubbard 30, Hoskins 15: Brummels hit nine points for Hoskins but the Hoskins crew was unable to halt the strong scoring of Peterson, high for Hubbard with 24 pointers.

Dixon 14, Hoskins 10: The winners' B. Bloom pumped in half of Dixon's points to lead his team to the consolation trophy.

Wayne 39, Hubbard 22: Mallette hit six of his 13 points as Wayne edged to a 15-9 lead at halftime. Close behind him in scoring were Creighton with nine and Hlx with six.

Upper Division
Wayne 45, Dixon 15: Marty Hansen hit 10 counters for Wayne's scoring honors; Dixon's Abts hit six for high for his team.

Hoskins 26, Hubbard 24: Hoskins overcame a 13-10 intermission deficit to earn a shot at the top trophy. Leading the late surge was Bruggeman with six points in the second half, 10 in the game.

Wayne 43, Hubbard 40: The thriller of the tourney. Game tied at 33-all at end of regulation, 37-all at end of first overtime. Wayne's Lamp put in the deciding bucket and Kudrna added an extra free throw late in the second overtime to give Wayne the win and the consolation trophy. Kudrna had 14 for top scoring honors.

Wayne 43, Hoskins 26: Young Marty Hansen had 15 points to lead the local squad to trophy in the bracket for the older cagers. Hoskins' Larry Bruggeman equaled that effort by hitting all but nine of his team's points.

Greenlee Drug Leads In St. Mary's Men's

Greenlee Drug was leading all teams with a total of 2,807 pins after two Sundays of competition in the St. Mary's Men's Club bowling tournament at Melodee Lanes in Wayne.

The team had less than a 100-pin lead over Barner's TV, in second place with 2,724. Third was Wayne Auto Parts with 2,631.

Leading in the doubles competition were Beckman-Schiermer with 1,295, followed by Burt-Johnson with 1,145.

A total of 676 for Galen Anderson was good enough to hold down first place in the singles competition after the first two Sundays. Bob Kint was in second with a 631 and Guy Anderson was third with 628.

Class B Cagers Open Tournament At NHS Tonight

The almost-undefeated Laurel Bears open the Class B cage tournament slated for Norfolk High this evening (Monday). The Bears, now sporting a 20-1 mark, meet West Point Central Catholic tonight.

Also seeing action tonight are Hartington Cedar Catholic and Oakland-Craig. Tuesday night's games include Wayne vs. Pierce in the opener and Wisner-Pilger vs. Creighton in the second clash. Laurel gained first seed from the coaches earlier this season. Following them were Creighton in second seed, Pierce in number three and Oakland-Craig in number four.

Basketball fans will have little trouble taking their memories back to one year ago. Laurel, similar in many respects to this year, including in its record, fought its way to the semifinals in the contest. In that game the Bears fell to Scribner, a team Laurel had soundly defeated only a short time before. This year, the Bears also take one loss into district play, a 67-64 whipping at the hands of a West Point High team the Bears had downed in the Christmas tournament at Wayne State by a 64-51 score. The Blue Devils from Wayne High take a 5-13 regular season mark into the district tournament. The Devils broke a five-game losing streak with a fine 81-58 whipping of Hartington Cedar Catholic to close out the season.

All games start at 6:30 p.m. The semifinals are slated for Thursday evening, the finals for Friday at 8 p.m.

Wildlife Week Motto Asks People to Rate Environment Quality

Wildlife is not only a source of beauty to Nebraskans, but is an index of the quality of our environment, according to a proclamation issued by Governor Norbert Tiemann which designates March 15 through 21 as Wildlife Week in Nebraska.

In the document, the governor cited an increasing amount of pollution, plus industrial expansion and land development as threats both to wildlife populations and to the quality of man's environment. The proclamation asks Nebraskans and all Americans to evaluate their world with the question that has been selected as the 1970 motto for Wildlife Week, "Seen Any Wildlife Lately?"

Most Nebraskans probably would be able to tell of seeing

Allen Eagles of 1969-70

These hardcourt artists at Allen High School finished out the season recently with a mark of four wins and 15 defeats. The squad, coached by Claire Jordan, right, and his assistant, Don Kruse, left, knocked off teams from Homer, Newcasttle, Randolph and Wynet during the year. Front

NAIA Individual Statistics Leaders Listed

With most emphasis focused on the upcoming play-off game to see which team will represent Nebraska in the NAIA tournament in Kansas City, March 9-14, individual statistics have been relegated to the role of "also-ran."

Play-off games must be completed by Wednesday with the team representing District II selected in a best-of-three series.

Selection of teams for the play-off had to await the outcome of games through Friday. NAIA regulations state that if a conference has five or more teams, the winner of the conference shall meet a team selected from those not in the conference—unless there are 16 teams in the district and then four teams shall be included in the play-off.

In individual competition, Arthur Allen of the University of Nebraska at Omaha is leading scorer—averaging 25.2 points in 23 contests; Dave Schneider of Wayne has hit 55.2 per cent of his field goal attempts; Mark Jensen of Hastings has scored on 84.6 per cent of his free throw attempts and Larry Green of Peru has grabbed 13.7 rebounds to be leaders in those categories.

Schneider also ranks high in the scoring column, holding down third place with an 18.7 average. Peru's Larry Green is second behind Allen with a 20.5 mark per game. Shooting with 80.2 per cent accuracy at the charity line is Wayne's Hill Goodwin, just behind Jensen's 84.6 and Paul Siczkowski of UNO with 80.6. Dean Eloffson, local prep star before enrolling at Wayne State, has been ending the games this season with a 9.9 rebound average, just short of four behind Larry Green of Peru.

In team totals, competition remains close, with only a few games not included:

—Field goals: Wayne, 47.1; Kearney, 46.5; Hastings, 46.0; Doane, 44.1; UNO, 42.4; J. F. Kennedy, 42.0; Chadron, 41.8; Peru, 40.7; and Concordia, 38.2.

—Free throws: Kearney, 69.4; Chadron, 69.3; Wayne, 69.1; Concordia, 67.6; JFK, 67.0; UNO, 65.6; Doane, 65.4; Peru, 63.7; and Hastings, 62.3.

—Total point average: Kearney, 91.3; Hastings, 89.9; JFK, 81.6; UNO, 81.5; Wayne, 80.8; Doane, 79.9; Concordia, 77.2; Peru, 76.2; and Chadron, 68.0.

Former Hoskins Man Buys Plant

A former Hoskins resident and Wayne State College student is now co-owner of Frit-Hitt Foods Inc. in Alma, Kan.

Robert C. Fletcher, formerly of Hoskins and now of Keats, Kan., and Dr. Harold Tuma, associate professor of animal science and industry at Kansas State University, purchased the meat processing plant in December. After completely remodeling the plant, the owners held open house Friday through Sunday.

Fletcher attended Wayne State College in 1957 and after completing his degree work at Kansas State served as an instructor there.

The new owners say they plan to expand the plant and enter the hotel-restaurant meat supply business.

Fletcher is the son of Mrs. Irene Fletcher of Hoskins.

life Week, an annual observance sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation to focus national attention on vital conservation issues and to promote wise use of our national resources. It was launched by presidential proclamation in 1938 and is scheduled each year to include the first day of spring.

Nebraskans wanting to do something for the state's wild animals and birds can take action through Wildlife Week. Information packets that give details on just what can be done are available by writing the state chairman, Elizabeth Huff, at the Game and Parks Commission, State Capitol, Lincoln, Nebr. 68509.

Jerry Edwards of Bridgeport holds the state record for rainbow trout taken with a bow and arrow. Edwards' 6 pound, 10 ounce lunger was nabbed in the North Platte River near Bridgeport in May of 1965.

'Teach-Out' Meeting Set at Wayne State

An organizational meeting to plan a spring "teach-out" program to explore the environmental crisis of the world today will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Student Senate Room at the Student Union, Wayne State College.

Wayne citizens and WSC students and faculty members are invited to attend.

The meeting will discuss speakers, dates and other details for the proposed project. The teach-out would be similar to the national movement of programs planned for April 22—however, WSC will be in semester break at that time so a local program would have to be planned earlier.

Initial plans call for a program of speakers and discussion in the Willow Bowl, with speakers to include WSC faculty members, interested townspeople and area persons involved in environmental quality work.

WSC Announces 2-Day Conference On Scandinavia

Plans for a two-day conference titled "Spotlight: Scandinavia" were announced Wednesday by Wayne State College. Invitations are being sent to many professors of Nebraska colleges to attend the April 5-6 event, sponsored by the college and the U.S. Office of Education through its Humanities and Social Sciences Development Program.

The conference is an aftermath of the Nebraska-Scandinavian Institute sponsored last summer by Wayne State and a prelude to next summer's second institute.

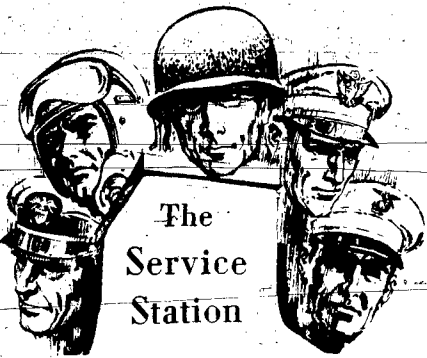

The Sunday evening program, April 5, will feature music and drama by two Danes visiting the Wayne campus this term. The music: by pianist Mogens Dalsgaard, one of Europe's finest young musicians, who will spend a month as pianist in residence at Wayne. The dramas: by John Carlsen, visiting professor this term from Helsing Folk High School.

Professor Carlsen will direct a contemporary Swedish play which he has translated into English. He and his wife, a professional actress, are in Wayne through the April term on an exchange basis while Dr. Robert G. Johnson of the WSC faculty is teaching in Denmark.

The conference on April 6 will include a lecture on Denmark's contribution to American civilization by Carlo Christensen, cultural counselor from the Danish Embassy, Washington, and a lecture on Kierkegaard and existentialism by Dr. Howard Hong, chairman of the St. Olaf's College philosophy department.

Mrs. Anna Bright

Former WSC Instructor Marks 102nd Birthday

In spite of recent illness, Mrs. Anna Bright managed to smile pleasantly on her birthday Monday when she was 102 years old. A resident at Dahl's Retirement Center since 1962, she gets up everyday and says she sleeps very well.

Mrs. Bright appeared to enjoy her visitors Monday and flashed a smile for the photographer telling him, "You'll break your machine."

Included among her friends is John Nelhardt, Nebraska post laureate, who has been to visit her on occasion.

She was born Anna Hyme, Feb. 23, 1868, at Fulton, N. Y., oldest of five children in the family.

She and her husband Charles were married in August 1898. They remained here until 1905 when they went to the Philippines to teach for two years. Later they took a trip around the world. Returning to the states, the couple spent two years in California, returned to Nebraska and joined the faculty at Chadron State Normal College.

In 1910, when Wayne Normal became a state school, Anna was on the faculty. She taught English and was librarian at the college. Her husband Charles taught mathematics. J. M. Pike was college president.

The Brights moved to Norfolk when they retired, but after being there several years, moved back to Wayne around 1945. After his death in 1948 she spent a few years in the Florence home in Omaha and then returned to Wayne where she has since resided at Dahl Retirement Cenof the Peace United Church of Christ participating. Pastor John E. Saxton, Mrs. Erwin Ulrich, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Hoskins United Methodist Church, and Mrs. Fred Brumels, president of the Dorcas Society of Peace United Church of Christ, are in charge.

In Wakefield the prayer-day service is scheduled for two o'clock at the Presbyterian Church with the Salem Lutheran, Evangelical Covenant, and First Christian churches participating. Church women from each congregation will have part on the program. Mrs. A. L. Pospisil is chairman of the afternoon program. The Rev. James Marlett will speak briefly concerning the theme "Take Courage."

The theme, "Take Courage" was chosen and made relevant by an International Committee headed by Miss Gudrun Diestel of Germany.

World Day of Prayer provides an occasion for participation in a nationwide offering committed to helping others "take courage." This year's emphases are: new religious educational materials for Latin Americans and Spanish-speaking families in this country; support of a secretary for women's work of the Near East Christian Council, and the dispossessed Spanish migrant and Indian American communities.

Public is invited to all of the aforementioned observances of the World Day of Prayer.

the new Nebraska Council of School Administrators.

There is need for a strong organization to represent administrators, Dr. Phelps said, and the NCSA hopes to fill that need. It will appoint soon an executive secretary "to work for the good of education in Nebraska," he said.

Major goals of the NCSA Dr. Phelps cited:

-To strengthen relationships of administrators with the Nebraska State School Boards Association and with the Legislature.

-To work for the welfare and benefits of administrators, especially on such matters as liability responsibility of principals and superintendents, contractual relations with school boards, and a proposal that superintendents be hired on three-year contracts, with a range of salaries appropriate to their responsibilities.

-To define the role of superintendents and principals as chief administrators of schools and of buildings.

problems they may run into if they decide to quit.

Viewers of that 30-minute program may want to keep their television sets tuned into the same channel for the program at 7:30 which is designed to assist families in accepting the responsibility for sex education in the home.

Entitled "Sons and Daughters," that half-hour program also lasts for five series tonight through Friday night.

Representatives of the sponsoring agencies have noted that the beneficial effects of programs such as this are most easily attained when discussion groups are formed to view and discuss the content of each program.

The series, which assumes that candid words and an imaginative television approach will reach today's teenagers, will be repeated beginning Sunday, March 8, with each program being broadcast three times during the same week at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, 7 p.m. Tuesday and 9:30 Thursday.

Winside Pupils Will Hear Bells At Convocation

Winside school students will have the opportunity March 9 to hear a special convocation featuring musical bells as played by Peter Chel. The program will start at three o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

Peter received his schooling under the British in Hong Kong before coming to the United States to attend Evangel College, Springfield, Mo., where his major was music.

Mr. Chel's program features one of the finest sets of tuned Swiss Sleigh Bells in America. They were brought to the United States more than a century ago for use in the music halls of the late 1800's. Following the vaudeville days of the early 1900's, these bells found their way to the attic of San Francisco's Orpheum Theatre. Wrapped in papers dating 1924, they were sold to the present owners in 1949.

In addition to the sleigh bells, the program includes a variety of novelty instruments. Students will enjoy the musical cow bells, the tuned bottles, bells of Europe and the Orient.

Peter Chel will appear under the management of the Division of Supervised Study, State University, Fargo, N. D.

Winside will soon have a new police-protection program underway due to a cooperative financial program with the Regional Crime Commission, according to Vern Hill, mayor.

Hill noted Thursday that Warren Jacobsen of Winside was scheduled to commence his duties as a local police officer March 1. He said Winside will also soon purchase a patrol car equipped with two-way radio equipment featuring 100-watts of power. The communication equipment will provide contact with the county sheriff's office and other law enforcement officers as well as being useful in securing an ambulance or fire department help.

"It's something we have needed for a long time," Hill commented. He said the Regional Crime Commission will pay 60 per cent of the cost while Winside will pick up the 40 per cent balance.

age machine. What are we saying to each other with it?

The direct outcome of Benjamin Franklin's experiments with lightning was the lightning rod which, since its invention two centuries ago, has saved innumerable lives and many millions of dollars in loss by fire.

In Franklin's Poor Richard's Almanac for 1753 it was reverently stated, "It has pleased God in his Goodness to mankind, at length to discover to them the Means of Securing their Habitations and other Buildings from Mischief by Thunder and Lightning." This was followed by directions for constructing a lightning rod and the assurance that a house so protected would not be damaged by lightning.

From 1752 onward many "Franklin rods" were placed on buildings in various parts of the American colonies. The new invention, however, was by no means universally accepted, for many citizens considered lightning rods downright dangerous and termed their inventor impious in daring to tamper with natural forces.

For centuries in Europe the belief had been prevalent that ringing church bells during thunder storms would avert damage. When, according to the ancient custom, church bells were consecrated, the ritual declared that "whenever this bell shall sound, it shall drive away malign influences... the stroke of lightning, the harm of thunder, the disasters of storm and the spirits of the tempest." Even though many churches were struck by lightning and many bell-ringers killed, the time-sanctioned belief in the power of the bells prevailed and the idea of lightning rods received widespread opposition.

It appears too, many are still convinced that the mere ringing of beautiful church bells and chimes will ward off "malign influences." Bells are the message-machine resting in lofty towers of idealism rather than realism. The message of love is sent out to the black man in Africa but when he moves in next door we must toll the bell even more rapidly to "keep the faith" and illusion of sincerity.

One hundred years has come and gone in cartons of seconds, minutes and hours. Earth people congregate in various groups hoping to be able to say something to the world collectively that couldn't be said individually. We have even congregated our loneliness into metropolitan jungles of lonely people. Each person - a message machine - is hoping to hear the only message that makes life on the space-ship of Earth worthwhile - a message of love.

While we have our youth laughing at the physical portrayed on the screen and we keep ourselves busy making enough money providing us the power to purchase, is not our message one of bell ringing, hoping the worst will pass away? Have we really learned much in the last 1,000 years?

Air pollution is one thing. Polluting our lives to the extent that we no longer really care about the needs of our fellow man regardless of race is a violation of everything life is about. Modern mechanisms have changed the mode of delivering a message, but are we inhabitants of the Earth's surface arriving in a time and place wherein we have now forgotten the message of concern for all fellow creatures?

Are all men created equal? Is there racial prejudice in Wayne? Run for the bell rope!

Business Notes

Two area feeders, Dale Franzen of Wayne and Werner Mann of Winside, accompanied Jason Preston, manager of Feeder's Elevator in Wayne, and Jim Wall, assistant manager for Ralston Purina Company in Wayne, flew to St. Louis, Mo., on Sunday, February 22, last week where they attended the Purina National Cattle Conference. The group returned Tuesday evening.

Over 300 feeders from 20 states were registered at the conference and heard sessions on growing, finishing, marketing and agribusines.

They also toured the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit, Mo., and were entertained by the nationally known Farm Show.
