

Chamber Gift Worth $400

The long drought has apparently ended in the Cash Night drawing, Thursday evening, Lynn Gamble, a farmer near Wayne, won a $400 check from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce after his name was drawn and announced in all participating stores at eight o'clock. He happened to be in Little Bill's, one of the business firms taking part in the promotion, and accepted his check from owner Mrs. Donna Carlson. His winning the prize money makes the second time in two weeks that $400 has been given away by the Chamber following several weeks when no winners could be found. Gamble said he didn't know for sure what to do with the money, but said he would find a good use for it. Thursday's prize will now be worth $100 to the person who is in one of those stores when his name is pulled from the hopper and announced at 8 p.m.

Sewer Project Hearing Set Monday at Carroll

Carroll's village board of trustees has scheduled a public hearing March 23 at eight o'clock in the Carroll auditorium to determine if 80 per cent of the potential users of a proposed sewer system would be in favor of having such a system installed. Carroll has been concerned for some time about there not being a sewer system available to the community. Last July the board adopted a two-mill levy for a sewer system sinking fund and other sources of financing have been investigated. Early in 1968 members of Carroll's Community Club unanimously voted to have a feasibility study taken concerning a sewer system for the town. They noted that Carroll had surfaced streets and a water system but lacked sewer lines. Interest in the project continued and Carroll applied for a loan from the Farmer's Home Administration. Robert E. Johnson, village clerk, said last week that a total of $46,000 has been made available by the FHA in the form of $21,000 in general obligation bonds and $25,000 in revenue bonds. The clerk said the village has $16,000 on hand to use in the project and would expect to collect another $4,000 in connection fees. Also available to Carroll would be state FHA development grant amounting to $15,500 and a Federal Water Pollution Control Agency grant of $11,700. These various funds total $46,000. WCS Institute Promises Broad View

A broad-spectrum view of Latin America, in the lecture room and in Mexico, is on the schedule this summer by way of Wayne State College's Institute on Latin American Studies. Dr. Rafael Sosa, Institute director and head of the Wayne foreign language department, has arranged a six-week program, starting with a four-week course on campus June 15-July 10, followed by a two-week tour of Mexico July 10-25. The two sessions, offering four and two credit hours respectively, are open to any college student, with no language requirement or other prerequisites. Students can enroll for either or both sessions. Dr. Sosa and Norman Nordstrand, assistant dean of faculties at WCS, plan to visit most colleges in Nebraska and some in Iowa and South Dakota to explain the institute within the next two weeks. The on-campus institute will cover such subjects as Latin American culture, history, economics, political development, and U. S. foreign policy, plus basic conversational Spanish for travelers. Three Wayne State professors will share the teaching. Dr. Sosa, a self-exiled Cuban, has been on

License Confusion

LB 305 passed by the 1969 session of the Nebraska Legislature requires any Nebraska resident changing his name or address to get a replacement driver's license.

Carrying the emergency clause, LB 305 reads: "If any person changes his or her name because of marriage or divorce or other court order, or changes his or her address, he shall apply to the county treasurer for a replacement vehicle operator's license..."

Section 60-409 provides for payment of a full $6 fee for a four-year original or renewal operator's license. In other words if you live on the north side of the street which used to be old Highway 35 in the south part of Wakefield...

If you change address at all, even within a town or county, you must get a replacement license, according to the new law, however there is no fee. But if you move from one county to another, then there will be a charge.

Six dollars is the fee for original or renewal licenses. If your license is still good for another year or less, then the charge is $1.50; if valid for more than a year but less than two years, the fee is $3; and if your license is valid for more than two years but less than three years, the charge is $4.50, according to Section 60-415, part two.

Attorney General Clarence Meyer recently confirmed that the section of the law in question means what it says.

Sen. Don Elrod is listed as the introducer of LB 305 and explains that the bill only had one purpose and that was to provide wives of military men to be able to renew their Nebraska driver's license without examination when returning to the state after an absence.

It seems the Unicameral's Public Works Committee decided to use the bill as an instrument to make additional changes and added several sections one of which makes necessary a replacement license when changing name or address.

Undoubtedly, there will be people who will not get a new license when they move in order to avoid additional fees. It is their feeling that a driver's license issued by the state should be good anywhere in the state.

The penalty section of LB 305 authorizes fines of up to $100 and jail terms of up to three months.

Unless someone challenges the constitutionality of LB 305 in court, Nebraskans will have to wait until new legislation is passed in the next legislature for the law's revision. - MMW.

What's one life to a guy who thinks he's a cat.

You think it's easy for us to talk to a person who treats his life as though he's got eight more to go?

Or to reason with someone who tells you it can't happen to him, he's different?

Or to make any headway with a fellow whose mind is closed tight?

Or to try to convince one of those dare devil types that his life is precious?

Or to talk a Scrooge into paying someone just to find out how healthy he thinks he is?

Or to tell a guy who thinks he's some kind of superman that his life isn't really charmed?

Believe us, it's no picnic.

We know how deadly cancer can be if it's not caught in time. And we know that thousands more could be helped every year merely by going for a checkup when they thought they were healthy.

There are 1,500,000 people, leading active lives today, who are living proof that many cancers are curable.

We know how important checkups are. But for the life of us, we can't seem to convince enough people.

200,000 were saved last year. Annual checkups can help us save thousands more. What are you waiting for?

Help yourself with a checkup. And others with a check.

Dear Editor: The members of the Wakefield Faculty Association of Wakefield, Nebraska, would like to go on record as opposing the editorial judgment used in reporting the dismissal of three Allen, Nebraska, teachers.

About two weeks ago the Nebraska State Patrol reported up to five unidentified flying objects were sighted approximately eight miles northwest of McCook. Dale Nowka of Culbertson, who farms west of McCook, saw the objects first.

Residents in Colorado have had a lot of experience in saucer sightings and it was their Dr. Condon, of course, at the University of Colorado, who carried out the $300,000 research program for the U.S. Air Force concerning "flying saucers."

Physicist Blade is the chairman of the physics department in the Colorado Springs Center of the University of Colorado and a learned man. The professor said during his visit here in Wayne that though some UFO sightings have been hoaxes, the majority of those claiming they observed "saucers" saw something real.

Do UFO's exist? Was Dale Nowka at Culbertson seeing things? How about the two highway patrolmen trained to make observations on a momentary notice? Did they have exaggerated imaginations?

Then, of course, there was the air traffic control center at Longmont which would go so far as to confirm that there were objects in the area, but let their public relations department goof by saying the center could not confirm whether or not the objects were airborne or stationary on the ground. Sound reasonable? Let's think for a moment.

The ATCC at Longmont is a government installation located in the north portion of Longmont and has tons of highly sophisticated radio and other electronic surveillance equipment. It is the staff's job to know what traffic is in the air, where it is in the air, and how fast it is moving.

The area of McCook is about 200 miles from Longmont, but the ATCC people in Longmont could, with their radar equipment, still "sight" those five objects. This shows us the power and distance of the radar equipment in use.

Though the average reader might not know it, Longmont ATCC knows that if the five sighted objects west of McCook had been on the ground, the Longmont radar would not have picked them up on the screen.

Americia Should Seek Better Relations With East Europeans - WSC Student concerned with Viet Nam and Southeast Asia. How should the United States act toward the countries of East Germany, Poland, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Rumania? Should we think of them as mere satellites of the Soviet Union? Or should we look upon them as possible sources of support and aid if we can begin drawing them away from the Soviet Union?

Meyer thinks that with the correct foreign policy - basically the one currently being followed by the State Department - we just might be able to develop closer, friendlier ties with those nations. This policy is the one President Lyndon Johnson adopted when he called for "building bridges" with them.

A student at Emerson Sacred Heart, Mary Daley, has been named a winner of the annual Current Affairs Contest conducted by Time Magazine. She was a high scorer among the two and a half million participants. Other high scorers from the Emerson school were Gerald Schulte and Robert Miller.

Work on the long-awaited 28-unit low rent housing project in Oakland began last week. The project is for housing the elderly. Total cost of the multi-building project is set at $403,909 - $364,086 for construction and site costs and $39,823 for administration, interest, planning, equipment, contingency and initial operating costs.

The nursing home in Madison will be closed within one year by the state unless something concrete can be shown in the way of obtaining a new facility, according to a story in last week's issue of The Madison Star-Mail.

High interest rates had made the owners of the home reluctant to build a new facility but now the state has forced the issue, according to the news story. Alternate to a new building would be extensive remodeling of the present structure, a route reportedly too costly for the owners to take.

Proposed by one of the owners is a new 80-bed nursing home to replace the present 45-bed facility. Cost of that would amount to somewhere between $350,000 and $500,000. The new facility would employ about 30 people full time.

Teachers and school board members at West Point finally agreed on terms for a salary schedule for the 1970-71 school term. The schedule includes a $6,300 base salary with salary increases over the base of five per cent for each step up the preparation ladder and for five per cent for each year of experience.

A quick rap-up of the political filings that had taken place by the middle of last week in Dixon County:

Let's consider one more thought. If we taxpayers are shelling out millions of dollars for the Longmont ATCC operation, but the controllers cannot identify blips on their screens or cannot tell whether the objects are on the ground or at altitude, then isn't the investment rather a big waste?

The objects were in the McCook area all right as they were seen by a farmer, two highway patrolmen and Longmont radar. The question remains as to the objects' identity. They were definitely airborne or else controllers in Longmont radar shack couldn't have seen them.

Obviously no one knows exactly what the objects are, unless it would be Uncle Sam, and if he knows he isn't telling. JW doesn't personally think Uncle Sam knows either. It appears that a government with enough curiosity about the moon to spend billions of dollars traveling there, would also be extremely desirous of finding out what the objects are that can penetrate our finest radar systems and baffle everyone concerned. They should be interested enough to go beyond Dr. Condon.

Virgil Putman for county assessor, Paul Peterson for county superintendent and Irma Foulks for clerk of county court. All three were filed on the Republican ticket and none was opposed. Eugene Church of Wakefield has filed for county sheriff on the Republican ticket. His opponent will be Dean Chase of Allen and Reinhold Miller of Wakefield. Filed for county supervisor of district five was Donald Baker of Allen, the lone independent to file for a county office as of last week. Gordon Nelson of Ponca filed for first district supervisor on the Republican ticket and incumbent Wilbur Ihnz for seventh district supervisor on the same ticket.

Congressman Robert Denney told a group in South Sioux City, "It's an accident to be born free. It's a responsibility to live free. And it's an obligation to die free." The occasion for the speech was the convention of the Young Republicans.

Denney expressed doubts about a volunteer army during a question and answer period after the meeting. He said that a draft is non-republic but that he was not convinced a volunteer army would work even though many people are fed up with the draft system.

That's the Way It Works

A few months ago a large number of personnel working in the nation's news media nearly choked on their aspirin bottles when Vice-President Agnew had the intestinal fortitude to say publicly what most everyone in the news business knew privately. Agnew charged newsmen with what amounted to their controlling the news. One of the well-known TV news analysts has now stepped forward to agree with Agnew and support him in his charges.

It is sometimes interesting to take a "for instance." Let's take one. Several weeks ago you will recall all the excited furor that was flashed across the nation when President Nixon was reportedly going to veto the education money bill. News men grabbed their microphones and rushed before their cameras in the television studios as newspapermen headed for their typewriters and worked hurriedly to beat the deadline for the next edition.

A majority of the reporters hurried to the side of liberal spenders and nearly had them weeping their way into testifying of the disasters which would strike schools all over America if Nixon vetoed that education money bill.

It is very doubtful that you even were able to notice the small news release in the daily newspapers the other day which came out of Washington concerning a bill that President Nixon had signed.

The release noted that President Nixon signed into law a $19.4 billion money bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. He signed the bill at Key Biscayne, Fla., a week ago Friday. Did you hear anything about it? Is there much difference between $19.7 billion and $19.4 billion?

Why did liberal newsmen cause such a fanfare of national publicity when a conservative President vetoed the educational bill involving $19.7 billion dollars, but failed to make the same fanfare when Nixon signed the bill a few weeks later involving $19.4 billion of dollars?

The press has great power. If you rushed to carry out a small experiment then question your friends as to whether or not they knew President Nixon vetoed the education money bill several weeks ago. Most will recall reading about it from several sources. Then ask your friends if they remember reading anything last week about Nixon signing the $19.4 billion education money bill.

Could it possibly be that a liberal communication system would like to have the nation remember Nixon as the man who "voted against education" by vetoing the money bill? If this isn't the motive, then why didn't those same newsmen blow up the story that the President came through with the money after all?

Vice President Agnew, may we have an instant replay of your charges once more? Perhaps you are more right than we thought. - MMW.

The hospital staff has been so wonderful to my mother and they were so kind and helpful to all of us. They are giving my mother wonderful care. Thank you, Mrs. Edwin Davis

Dear Editor: I had planned on renewing the subscription to your paper. But after you put an article on the front page of your paper on February 15 concerning the three Allen teachers the way you did, I no longer want your paper. Who ever wrote up such an article doesn't have very good taste. This was a very rude manner to publish such news. I have heard many more people express their feelings this same way. You certainly did degrade the reputation of your paper with such an article. Mrs. Ervin Kraemer

Glenellen McDaniel, William Taylor Married Saturday Evening in Wayne

Candleabra with pink glads and white tams appointed the altar of the Wayne United Presbyterian Church for the wedding last Saturday of Glenellen McDaniel, Wayne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDaniel, Ewing, to William Taylor, Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Taylor, Neligh. The Rev. Paul Russell officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Don Larson, Ewing, sang "I Promise You," accompanied by Mrs. Wilbur Spangler, Ewing.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in an empire styled floor length gown of white lace with long puffed sleeves. Her illusion veil cascaded from a pill box and she carried pink roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor Kathy McDaniel, Norfolk, and bridesmaids, Virginia Taylor, Fort Collins, Colo., and Sandy Tellander, Wayne, were gowned in floor length pink crepe and carried pink and white pompons.

Best man was Pat Thomas, Sutherland, and groomsmen were Gayland Holm, Plainview, and Ken Dahl, Wayne. Keith White Jr., and Handy Baker, both of Neligh, ushers.

Candles were lighted by Linda Petersen and Diane Heggenmeyer, Tilden, and Peggy McDaniel, Ewing, was flowergirl. Bradley Anderson, Tilden, was ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McDaniel chose a bone colored knit. Mrs. Taylor wore a green knit dress and both had white cymbidium orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Marsh, Wayne, served as hosts at the 7:30 p.m. reception for 150 guests. Nancy Taylor, Norfolk, registered guests and Jofy Perastrom, Storm Lake, Iowa, arranged gifts.

Mrs. Richard Napier, Ewing, cut the bride's cake, and Mrs. Ken Dahl, Wayne, cut the groom's cake. Mrs. Tom Anderson, Tilden, poured. Mrs. Bob Redding, Fender, served punch. Waitresses were Janet and Cindy Switzer and Rita and Susan Napier. Presbyterian Women served.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a green knit complemented with a pink rose corsage. The couple are making their home at 715 B Valley Drive, Wayne.

The bride attended Wayne State College where she is now employed. The bridegroom attended Chadron State College and is employed as a design engineer by Carhart Lumber Company, Wayne.

Allen Couple Observe Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Allen, Allen, marked their 10th wedding anniversary last Sunday with a family dinner followed by a reception at the couple's home. new residents, welcoming them to the city and answering questions regarding schools, churches and businesses.

Mrs. Fleetwood, the former Donna Whitney of Coleridge, is the mother of four children, and resided in Wakefield, until about 10 years ago. Mr. Fleetwood's mother, Mrs. Lillie Fleetwood makes her home at Shady Rest Lodge, Wakefield.

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott

The following release was carried over AP wires on Nov. 9, 1969:

"Cape Kennedy). The Space Agency, whose fortune has been favorable in recent months, has invited 10 astrologers to witness next Friday's blastoff of Charles Conrad, a Gemini, Richard Gordon, a Libra, and Alan Bean, a Pisces. While officials claim the invitation is not an attempt to influence the stars to Apollo 12's advantage, the fact is some stargazers say the horoscopes for all three astronauts are extremely appropriate during their scheduled 10-day lunar landing flight. NASA said it invited 10 representatives from the American Federation of Astrologers because the group had requested that some of its members see the launch. NASA said other, less mystic, stargazers will include representatives of the American Astronomical Society and Amateur Astronomers Association."

AP is guilty of calling astrologers "stargazers." When this column was being published in The Shaft months ago, I emphatically made it clear time and time again that astrologers never gaze at the stars in order to cast astrological charts. They refer, instead, to astronomical ephemerides and almanacs, publications which have the recorded position of the planets, luminaries, etc. To call an astrologer a "stargazer" is like calling a watchmaker a "stargazer" also. Both rely on the positions of the stars, but neither do any actual gazing - unless for some different purpose. It was, of course, true that the ancients had to stargaze because of the lack of any ephemerides in those days. But such is not the case any longer.

In America, there are roughly 1,750 newspapers. How many of these do you think carry regular astrology columns? A phenomenal 1,200! It is indeed odd that The Wayne Herald is about the only paper in Nebraska carrying any sort of astrology column.

This can perhaps be best explained by the fact that Nebraska is not astrology prone yet. It would take an exceptional sociologist to explain why this is. Consider the facts: Iowa can claim many astrologers, among them the outstanding osteopath Dr. Bertrand Adams of Ames, past first vice-president of the American Federation of Astrologers for some years. Colorado and Kansas have many active astrology clubs formed. The same goes for Minnesota. In its own estimation, three states in the union unaffected by the astrological upheaval are North and South Dakota and Nebraska. Fortunately, Nebraska does have five astrologers. One of these five is Mrs. Hazel Whitaker-Fales, the librarian at the Jewish Community Center in Omaha. A good friend of mine, she was one of the numerous co-founders of the American Federation of Astrologers.

Of course, to many people the lack of a sufficient number of astrologers in our state is a clear blessing heaven-sent.

As I have said before, it is unfortunate that the interest in astrology is almost totally a sociological interest, not a scientific interest. Who knows, it might be years before science takes an objective look at the subject of astrology.

Because of our response to my suggestion of printing horoscopes in this column, I've discontinued the idea. Readers might be interested to know that although I receive annually hundreds of letters from all corners of the nation - and long distance phone calls, too - I have as yet only received letters from two aspirants in Nebraska!

On March 30 this column will play host to an easy astrological crossword puzzle. Answers will be given the following Thursday.

Wayne Family Host to Talented Youths

A Wayne family increased by two members last September when two 15-year-old guests arrived to live with them during the 1969-70 school term. The two girls, originally from Omaha, attended school last year at Winnebago and are presently freshmen at Wayne High.

Arriving in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rieken last fall were Veronica Clinch and Jackie Harlan. The girls say they have been friends since childhood and attended school together through last year at Winnebago.

Both girls are talented. Veronica was recently named first place winner in her division in the W-O-BI Women's Club at Winnebago March 5 and 6. She entered an oil painting and also a water coloring in the competition. It was the water coloring portraying a girl sitting in the sand playing a guitar which won first place.

Veronica says that the water coloring will now be entered in the district fine arts contest at Oakland Saturday. She won second place in the competition last year with her entry of an Indian dancing costume she created. Both she and Jackie were students in the Indian Mission School at the time. Veronica is taking art as one of her courses at Wayne High School and noted that she hopes to eventually enroll in an art school at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Jackie is busy taking drum lessons and says that both she and Veronica have appeared as dancers on various occasions at Winnebago. She said she has performed in pos-owns at Macy, Winnebago and Greenwood, So. Dak., where, "We had to dance as the Sioux do."

Veronica said she performed dances at a wedding in Winnebago and at the dedication of a new gymnasium at St. Augustine Mission in Omaha.

Although the girls are both busy with their school subjects they are looking ahead to the summer months. They are uncertain about their plans but may stay in Wayne this summer depending upon employment.

Wayne Officers Attend Meeting Of Crime Board

Members of the Region 11 and 25 Joint Planning Commission for Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice met in Norfolk, Va. March 5. Henry Belmer of Center, Knox County Attorney, was in charge of the business meeting.

Attending the meeting from Wayne were Police Chief Vern Fairchild, County Clerk Norris Weible and Sheriff Don Weible. Norris Weible, secretary of the crime commission, reports that Chief Fairchild explained plans for holding a crime commission seminar on the Wayne State College campus sometime in August. A definite date has not as yet been determined.

The secretary said the commission established priorities on six additional applications for action grants. Applications considered were as follows:
-Northeastern College applied for financial help in setting up a recruiting and training program for law enforcement personnel.
-City of Creighton applied for police radio equipment.
-Village of Winside entered two requests. One was for funding of communication equipment and another for a police patrol car.
-Dixon County also had entered two applications for consideration. They asked for assistance in securing new communication equipment and also aid to replace other communication equipment.

Secretary Weible said the commission rejected Creighton's request and Winside's request for a patrol unit.

Commission members discussed planning procedures to be used in outlining a three-year crime prevention program.

C of C Group Meets

The sub-committees of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce transportation committee gave their first reports during a luncheon meeting Wednesday.

The groups, which had several suggestions to offer concerning roads and services, went on record to ask for specific roads and improvements and to make these needs known.

Members on those subcommittees are Mike Smith and Jim Hein on freight and mail; Larry Johnson, Gene Fletcher and Willis Johnson on county roads; Lee Tietgen and Al Schmode on state highways and city streets; and O. K. Brandstetter and Claude Bunker on passenger service.

The county roads committee was combined during the meeting with the state highway and city streets committee.

A meeting of the agriculture committee is scheduled for Wednesday morning at 6:30 at Ron's Cafe. That committee is made up of Leland Foote, J. J. Liska, Kenneth Liska, Carl Ward, Harold Ingalls, Dick Sorensen,

Bears Surprise Many with Showings at State Tourney

By Norvin Hansen
The Laurel Bears made most sports predictors look silly when they pranced to the 69-61 victory over a competent Fairbury quintet in Friday night's semifinals in the Class B state tournament at Lincoln.

The Bears, playing before a packed crowd of an estimated 10,000 basketball fans, had only occasional trouble with Fairbury after finally taking the lead late in the first period. The victory earned the squad the right to compete in Saturday night's championship game against No. 1 seed Cozad. Laurel had been seeded No. 2, apparently because of the Bears' good record, but still were picked as underdogs in the first two contests in the state tourney.

Thursday afternoon in the opening round of the fracas, Laurel rolled to a 74-63 win over Lincoln Plus X.

Friday night the Bears at times sparkled like they haven't all season, scoring quickly and efficiently against the tall Fairbury team, a team which exhibited fine rebounding and jumping ability to go along with its height. But repeatedly the Bears would harass the Fairbury team with their tight press and gained several points by stealing the ball before Fairbury was able to get across the 10-second stripe.

Steve Erwin with 22 points and George Schroeder with 21 led the Bears in the scoring attack against Fairbury. But, much like the game against Lincoln Plus, it was 5-8 Steve Smith who seemed to pick up the Bears when their attack began to fade in Friday's tilt. At one point, Smith drove in among the towering players, spun around and hit a lay-up by tossing the ball back over his head. Like several other things, that helped browbeat the Fairbury team.

Time and time again, the Laurel team was able to get inside and take the close shots against Fairbury, something the Bears were able to keep Fairbury from doing much of the game. The Bears also made their share of points on fast breaks led by 6-6 Steve Erwin. With him moving down the center of the court, the Bears ripped through Fairbury several times for easy lay-ups. Laurel moved to a 23-16 lead at the first buzzer after getting off to a shaky start. Fairbury cut that lead by one point going into intermission, 39-33, but then fell back to 55-47 going into the final period.

Laurel's 6-3 George Schroeder, only a sophomore, led the game away for Laurel with just 28 seconds showing on the clock by hitting two free throws to give Laurel a 68-61 lead and to break Fairbury's late-game surge. Schroeder also made the final points of the game when he hit from the free throw line with six seconds showing.

Against Lincoln Plus, Laurel scared many of their fans for the first half of the game when their shooting percentage was one of the poorest of the year. But the Bears took advantage of numerous fouls by their opponents and trailed by only 35-33 going into the locker rooms. The Lincoln team, noted for rebounding ability despite a lack of much height, led by 19-16 after the first quarter break.

Laurel put together a blistering third quarter and more than douled the scoring of Lincoln Plus. Result: Laurel led by 58-47 going into the last period. The two teams managed to pump in 16 each in the final period, giving Laurel the 74-63 victory in its first appearance in the state tourney since 1929.

Laurel Cagers Named All-Conference Players

Sophomore George Schroeder, 6-3, and Junior Steve Erwin, 6-6, head the list of players named to the all-conference team from the schools belonging to the Northeast Nebraska Athletic Conference.

Schroeder and Erwin, two of the top cagers produced in north-east Nebraska for several years, guided the Bears to a 23-1 season and their first trip to the Class B state tournament in Lincoln in 29 years.

Laurel also placed a player on the second team, 6-0 Rod Erwin, a cousin to Steve.

Also on that first team are Pat Kollars of Crofton, Larry Larson of Bloomfield and Brian Platt of Pierce. The rest of the second team is made up of Doug Matuschul of O'Neill, Mike Jackson of O'Neill, John Scott of Bloomfield and Randy Stein of Bloomfield. Those Bloomfield stars led the Bears to a trip to the state meet in the Class C bracket.

Mat Coach's Brother In Serious Condition

The brother of Winside wrestling coach Harold Simpson was seriously injured in a freight elevator accident at Pershing Municipal Auditorium in Lincoln, site of the state Class C high school basketball tournament.

The youth, 17-year-old James Simpson, was apparently looking over the elevator railing as it was going up. The top of his head struck a concrete abutment, forcing the elevator railing against his throat. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with serious scalp cuts and possible damages to his throat and larynx. He is the son of State Senator Harold S. Simpson of Lincoln.

Steen: We Are Killing Our Wildlife

Something to eat, a little to drink, a bit of living space and protection from weather and danger are about all that wild birds and animals ask. Take away any one of these things, however, and survival for them is impossible.

Yet that is what we are doing to much of Nebraska's wildlife. We are taking away one of the things absolutely necessary for their existence, according to M. O. Steen, director of the Game and Parks Commission.

"Cover and its rapid disappearance from the Nebraska countryside is the single most critical factor in the life cycle of our small-game species. Every year, more of their valuable habitat is lost to fire, ax, bulldozer and plow, and our pheasants, quail, rabbits and ground-nesting songbirds decline accordingly."

In Nebraska, food is seldom a limiting factor. There is little evidence of real starvation at any time of the year, including the severest winters. Water is readily available in nearly all sections of the state and space is no problem, according to Steen. "Nebraska easily meets these requirements, but most birds

Students Enter Class Earlier Next Year

Students attending the Wayne Carroll school system next fall will begin classes on Aug. 31, a week before Labor Day.

That will mark the first time in several years that school has started before Labor Day, Superintendent Francis Haun pointed out, but is necessary if school is not to carry into June.

Vacations plotted out on the calendar include one school day for Labor Day on Sept. 7, two days for teachers convention on Oct. 29 and 30, two days for Thanksgiving on Nov. 26 and 27, seven days for Christmas from Dec. 24 through Jan. 3, and two days for Easter from April 9 to 12.

Westmar Counselor

Will Visit at WHS

Mike Caldaran, admissions counselor with Westmar College at LeMars, Iowa, will be at Wayne High School tonight (Monday) to talk with students and their parents about the program at Westmar.

A four-year, coeducational, privately-supported institution, Westmar is an accredited liberal arts college related to the United Methodist Church.

Westmar College students are involved in the new 4-1-4 calendar and curriculum, a plan of education utilizing four courses during each of two semesters and a one-month interim consisting of study of a single subject. During the interim, grading is on a "pass" or "fail" basis. Students may elect to undertake study experiences off campus, even in foreign countries.

The curriculum at Westmar is arranged under three divisions, each of which has seven departments. Those are the Division of the Humanities, Natural Sciences and Social Sciences.

Nebraska has three national monuments: Homestead, Scotts Bluff and Agate Fossil Beds.

Special Guest

School Stamp Day Being Discontinued

The long popular Stamp Day in the nation's schools will pass into oblivion at the end of this school year. This U. S. Treasury sponsored program for school children which has been classified by many as second in popularity only to recess will be discontinued by the Treasury Department effective the end of June.

In announcing the cessation of the Savings Stamps sales, Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy extended appreciation and commendation to the "thousands of dedicated Americans who over the years" have served loyally and steadfastly as volunteers in the Savings Stamp program. The secretary also encouraged young people to continue to save through the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds. "There is no better way for young people to save," he said, "than by buying and holding U. S. Savings Bonds."

The decision to discontinue the program was reached as a result of rising administrative costs and a general leveling off of participation in recent years. The program, born during World War II as a vehicle for youngsters saving, has provided the financing of many a college education.

Secretary Kennedy urged parents and teachers to encourage school youngsters to complete their unfilled stamp albums and exchange them for U. S. Savings Bonds, which now pay five per cent interest when held to their maturity of five years and ten months.

While Savings Stamps will no longer be on sale after June 30, fully or partially completed albums may still be used to purchase Savings Bonds at banks or redeemed for cash at post offices after that date.

Washington—Misshapen beads—known to the West as "worry beads"—are carried in hand by both Lebanese Christians and Moslems, National Geographic says. They help count the number of prayers, and by the rhythm of their clicking tell the mood of the holder: boredom, nervousness, impatience, or hostility.

Funeral Services For George Dahl Held in Wayne

Funeral services for George L. Dahl, 44, Wayne, were held Friday at the Wilke Mortuary, Wayne. Mr. Dahl died March 10, 1970 at Wayne.

Father Paul Begley officiated at the rites. Pallbearers were LeRoy Spahr, Myron Schmitt, Dale Poehlman, Francis Mitchell, Robert Goshorn and Ron Dendinger. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

George L. Dahl, son of George J. and Grace Watts Dahl, was born June 20, 1925 in Sacramento, Calif. He spent about 28 years in California and married Patricia Penhollow Aug. 7, 1953 at Norfolk.

Except for a short time spent in California, they had made their home in the Norfolk, Madison and Wayne areas.

A rosary was recited for Mr. Dahl Thursday evening at Wilke Chapel with Father Paul Begley in charge.

Survivors include his widow; three children, David, Debra and Denise, all at home; a brother, Floyd Dahl, California, and five sisters, Mrs. Lavanna Tuttle and Mrs. Dorothy Gravilla, Auburn, Calif., Mrs. Marjory Carpenter, Placerville, Calif., and Mrs. Ruth Foltz and Mrs. Florence Grovia, California.

Preceding him in death were his parents and one sister.

Voters Offered Choice

Harvey Brasch

Virgil Kardell

A resident of Wayne County for the past 29 years, he has farmed on his land east of Wayne all that time. He lived on the farm until he moved to Wayne eight years ago.

He is a member of the Evangelical Free Church of Concord and has held several offices in the church. He is currently a church elder. He has also held jobs on a rural school board for about six years.

Keith Mosley is the other man filing for that Third Ward post on the council. Thirty-three years old, Mosley is a native of Omaha who has lived in Wayne since August of 1967. He is now the Wayne group manager of Peoples Natural Gas.

Married and the father of five children—Robin, 10, Sidney, 10, Greg, 8, Joel, 6, and Jill, 4—he is now serving as chairman on the Wayne planning commission, a position he would have to resign if elected to the council. He is a member of Kiwanis and has been a volunteer fireman for about eight years.

A graduate of South High in Omaha, Mosley attended college at Omaha University for two years before going to work in Auburn with Peoples Natural Gas.

Those two men who filed last week for school board—Jim Strum and Wilbur Glese—will go up against incumbent Morris Sandahl, Mrs. Robert Merchant and Dick Braunger for the two positions open on the school board.

Sturm, 44, is currently a salesman for Northrup King out of Wayne. He and his wife have three children: Jim, 17, Doug, 14, and Lori, 10. He has lived in Wayne for the past eight years, moving here from Sioux City where he was in farm management and farm sales.

A native of Nehawka, Nebr., Sturm graduated from the University of Nebraska school of agriculture in 1950. He served in the Army and farmed for about five years near Nehawka before moving to Sioux City in 1956.

Sturm is a member of the Masonic Lodge and is a Lions Club member. He is also on the board of trustees of the Methodist Church in Wayne.

Glese, 46, is the assistant postmaster at the Wayne post office, a job he has held since 1957.

He and his wife have three children: Breck, 16, Shane, 14, and Gema Beth, 9.

A veteran of the Navy, Glese graduated from Wayne Prep and attended Wayne State College for one year before entering the service. He and his family live on a farm east and south of Wayne.

Former Carroll Resident Dies; Services Feb. 26

Funeral services for Mrs. W. H. Rees were held Feb. 26 at Littleton, Colo. Mrs. Rees died Feb. 23, 1970 at Denver.

Mrs. W. H. Rees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wheeler, was born Jan. 27, 1894 at Clearfield, Iowa. She attended school in Lincoln and married W. H. Rees Feb. 23, 1915. They lived in and near Carroll until 1943 when they moved to Denver, Colo.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, Helen. Survivors include two daughters, Lucille of Corvallis, Ore., and Mrs. Leo Bartlett of Englewood, Colo.; her widow; five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money. It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars. So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents. Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price: Regular-gas Rocket V-8 Power Steering Power Brakes, front discs Nylon-loop carpeting Bias-Belted Tires Door Side-Guard Beams Hidden Radio Antenna Flo-Thru Ventilation Bigger, better riding 12" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!

BIG SYSTEM

A Valley Self-Propelled can irrigate up to 300 acres with no more work than the push of a button. No hookups, no pipe to move, no constant attention. Valley works while you sleep. You can manage several systems, irrigating 500 to 1,000 acres without help of any kind.

BIG DEAL

Valley systems are hot-dip galvanized after fabrication for twice the life of painted systems. That's why only Valley offers a 10-year corrosion warranty. The toughest in the business.

BIG DEALER

Our personnel are factory-trained in the sales and service of self-propelled irrigation systems. Call us. We'll consult with you regarding your irrigation needs.
