

Easter Message

"Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God." (Hebrews 12:2)

The joy set before Jesus was to affect all of humanity and all of the heavens and was targeted to a simple tomb. The Son of God "read" it in heaven before coming to earth. His mission was to die for us. His Father loved Him. Yet, there was a longing forward to the joy foreordained by His Father, that there must be a blood offering for the sins of mankind.

This joy was, according to Isaiah, "by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities." The parable: "For that all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." The plan: "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." The provision: "That he by the grace of God should taste death for every man." The price: "Not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold... but with the precious blood of Christ." The purpose: "That he might purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works."

We are all very much aware of the experience of the cross and through it all he endured it despising the shame because there was joy set before him. It was the joy of redeeming man unto himself.

The admonition for each individual this Easter season is to "Look unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith." Pastor Bob McCown, Assemblies of God.

325 at Two-County Farm Bureau Fete

A Chicago based Farm Bureau executive addressed about 325 persons attending a Wayne and Stanton County Farm Bureau banquet Monday night at the WSC Student Center telling them that America is being invaded hourly by a group of persons — namely youth.

Kenneth L. Cheatham, assistant director of Program Development for the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago, spoke on the topic, "The Vision or the Invasion," and asked his hearers, "Have we created a vision for the invasion of youth?" He pointed out that 52.7 per cent of America's population in 1969 were 30 years old or younger.

Oats Loan Deadline Is Fast Approaching

The final date to make application for a 1969-crop oats loan is Tuesday, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Wayne reports.

New farmers in Wayne County wishing a prior support loan are requested to call or contact the ASCS office in Wayne and make their application before the March 31 deadline. Price support rate is 82 cents per bushel.

All producers are eligible for oats loans. They are not required to be participants in the annual feed grain program.

Order Is Sent For Wayne Area Kidney Machine

A group of local residents have incorporated as the Wayne Community Kidney Aid Non-Profit Corporation and have ordered an artificial kidney machine to be used by Peter Haberer and others in the area who might need such equipment, according to a corporation spokesman.

Goal of the financial drive for the machine is around $4,000, however, the corporation has arranged financing so the machine could be ordered.

Members of the newly formed corporation will be soliciting all area businesses, beginning with Wayne business firms (tomorrow Friday) to aid in raising the necessary funds. The group plans for the artificial kidney machine to be available to anyone in the area, so anticipate that many area residents will want to have a part in buying the equipment.

The corporation spokesman noted that such machines are few and far between and having one available in Wayne County will be advantageous to all residents.

Total donations presently amount to $85 as the drive starts. A list of all donors will be published in The Herald each week. Donors to the project wanting to remain anonymous should so indicate at the time they make their contribution.

Technical Problems Cause Headaches for 'Peter Pan' Crew

Technical problems are still causing headaches in the production of "Peter Pan," which will be presented next week by the Wayne State theatre department.

Loading articles such as a bird's nest, the construction of a twenty-two foot pirate ship for Captain Hook and the two major problems of five separate set changes and characters that fly are keeping everyone busy.

Lincoln Boy Jailed

Charges of forgery were filed March 16 in Wayne County Court against a seventeen year old youth from Lincoln. Local police filed the complaint.

The subject was arraigned in Wayne County Court Friday at 9:30 a.m. and Judge Luverna Hillton set bond at $500.

Failing to post bond the young man was placed in the Wayne County jail until a preliminary hearing date is set.

of everyone. "They are welcome to change the world, but I'll be damned if I'm going to let them destroy it," was the speaker's comment concerning a few present-day radicals.

Speaking of the light of hope, Cheatham observed that the man on the farm is a business man who must believe in the future of farming and have a lot of combined faith and hope. Mentioning the light of memory and reflecting on the courageous men of agriculture during the early years of the nation, Cheatham noted, "Our forefathers came to America not to seek soil for their plows, but to find liberty for their souls." He then talked of the light of freedom, explaining, "The freedom of dissent and to change and build, I buy, but the freedom to destroy, I don't buy." Injecting bits of humor throughout his address, the executive pointed out See FARM BUREAU, page 6.

Wayne-Carroll Schools Slate Round-Up Time

It is round-up time for kindergarteners who are planning on attending Carroll and Wayne Elementary schools next year.

Kindergarten round-up for Carroll Elementary is slated for today from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. Parents enrolling children in kindergarten for next year should bring the child and his or her birth certificate on the day of registration, according to a school spokesman.

Kindergarten round-up for West Elementary school is set for April 2 and 3. Parents with last names beginning with the letters A through H are asked to register their child April 2 at nine o'clock. Parents with last names beginning with the letters I through R are asked to register on April 3.

Annual Banquet Set For Wayne April 18

The annual banquet of the Northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association will be in Wayne on April 18, according to President John W. Servino of Waterbury.

A social hour at the Wayne fire hall is planned at 6:30 p.m. to precede the 7:30 banquet at the Student Union on the Wayne State College campus.

Col. William H. Powers, former counterintelligence officer in communist countries, has been secured as banquet speaker. Tickets for the banquet or for the banquet and social hour are available from association directors and officers. Both events are open to anyone interested in livestock production.

Contest Idea: Make A Pyramidal Garden

Use them to make a pyramidal garden this spring is one of the suggestions turned in by a person taking part in the Wayne County contest to find new uses for old offset plates.

The idea was turned in by Mrs. E. A. Kluge of Wayne, who said the thin aluminum plates would be ideal to build the garden with because they are easy to bend and could be pressed easily into the ground several inches.

Any area residents can enter the contest—we will even supply each contestant with the first two offset plates at no charge. Deadline for ideas is April 15.

The offset plates are made of an aluminum alloy and measure about 23 x 35 inches. They are easy to bend or cut, yet are durable and will not rust or corrode.

Some of the plates are being used to make suits of armor for children and "apartment houses" for birds. Two plates will be given to anybody wishing to enter the contest; additional plates will cost 25 cents each.

Speaker, Exhibit Added to WSC Conference

Another speaker and an exhibit of Danish art have been added to the program of the "Spotlight: Scandinavia" conference, scheduled April 5-6 at Wayne State College.

The speaker is Dr. Norman Bansen of the Dana College English faculty, who will give an illustrated lecture on "A Nebraska Novelist: Sophus Keith Withner." Withner was a Danish-born author who came to Nebraska with his parents and wrote a number of novels about Danish settlers in this state. Among

Dixon County 4-H Leaders, Members Honored at Allen

Dixon County 4-H leaders and members were honored at Allen last week during a recognition program at the Allen High School.

Speaker for the evening was Dr. John Orr, associate state 4-H leader from the University of Nebraska. He discussed the 4-H award program and explained how 4-H members could apply for the awards.

Handing out the awards was Ross Armstrong of Ponca, 4-H Council president. Helping him was Roy V. Stahler, Dixon County agricultural agent.

Elected during the evening were members of the 4-H council. Named to that group were Connie Sachau for District 3, Frank Plueger for District 4 and Allen Trube for member-at-large, all of Allen; Mrs. Everett Johnson of Wakefield, District 5; Darrell Conrad of Newcastle, District 1; Ross Armstrong of Ponca, District 2; and Mrs. Harold Grossenor of Ponca, member-at-large.

Receiving tier pin and certificate for 10 years of leader work with 4-H was Mrs. Marvin Dragun of Wakefield. Receiving five year pins and certificates were Mrs. Arvid Malmberg and Mrs. Bill Snyder of Allen, and Ross Armstrong, Mrs. John Book and Mrs. Darrell Harder, all of Ponca.

Given two-year pins and certificates were Orville Johnson of Allen, Mrs. Marlen Johnson of Concord, Mrs. Wallace Magnuson of Laurel, and Mrs. Derwood Wriedt of Wakefield. New-castle's Darrell Conrad, Norman Chambers and Mel Good and Ponca's Mrs. John Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharp, Mrs. Arnold Stark and Ed Wacker were also awarded pins and See 4-H AWARDS, page 6.

Racing Clinic Held Sunday No Serious Injuries As Car Leaves Road

About 10 youngsters turned out Sunday afternoon in Wayne for the first clinic for the youngsters interested in entering the coming Soap Box Derby scheduled for Norfolk.

The clinic was scheduled to help the young racers with any initial construction problems they may be having in building their cars. Another one is tentatively planned for the middle of April. A clinic is set for the evening of April 30 at Norfolk but youngsters building cars for the race are not required to attend.

Youngsters signed up for the race from Wayne, with parents' names in parentheses, include Verlin Stoltenberg (Dale), Virgil Kiehlard (Dale), Mark Powers (Harold), Dale Fernau (Orville), Jerry Lessmann (Dale), Mark Johnson (Stan), Brian Stitt (Glen), Randy Turner (Larry), Steve (Verlin) and Doug Fining (John E.). Also signed up are Joe Musten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Musten in Winside, and Joe Kenley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merline Kenney of Carroll.

The race in Norfolk, prelude to the big event in Akron, Ohio, is set for June 28. Winner of that event will win a free trip to Akron for himself and his parents.

Passed out to the youngsters at Sunday's clinic were the official wheels which have to be used on the soap boxes. Those wheels are now available at Carhart Lumber in Wayne for any of the boys who were able to attend the clinic. A parent must accompany the youngster when picking up the wheels. There is no charge for the wheels.

An accident around 6:15 p.m. Friday four miles north of Winside on Highway 35 involved a Wayne couple who were uninjured after their auto plunged into the ditch while reportedly trying to avoid a collision with a pickup, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's office which investigated.

Carl Scheel and his wife were westbound in a 1966 Mercury nearing the intersection eight miles west of Wayne where Highway 35 goes south to Winside, according to investigating authorities. Patricia Melehenrich of Hoskins had four small children with her in a 1967 Ford pickup and was eastbound slightly east of the rural intersection.

Officers said the Melehenrich vehicle made a left-hand turn in front of the westbound Scheel auto onto a county road. The Scheel auto went into the north ditch, striking some posts and hitting a state highway sign. The Sheriff's office reported estimated damage to the Scheel vehicle was $712. There were no reported injuries.

School Vacations Set
Buses will begin their afternoon run at 2:30 Thursday for students in the Wayne-Carroll school system as the young people are dismissed for Easter vacation. Those students will not have to attend school Friday or Monday, giving them a two-day Easter vacation this year.

Students in the area towns — Allen, Hoskins, Laurel, Wakefield and Winside — will also be dismissed from school for the Easter holiday.

Chest Board Meets To Elect Officers

Members of the Wayne Community Chest board met March 18 at the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus and, among other items of business on the agenda, held an election of officers.

Results of the election are as follows: Jim Marsh, president; Darrel Fieberth, vice president; Jerry Malcom, secretary and treasurer.

A committee was appointed to find division chairmen for the 1970-71 fund drive. Named to the committee are Darrel Fieberth, chairman; Robert L. Johnson and Fred Pierce.

Budget committee members Vera Hummel, chairman; Dale Gutshall and Larry DeToro; Jim Marsh; Jane March and Norris Weible will be in charge of publicity.

will present a current one-act play, "The Empty Room," by the young Swedish playwright, Sando Key-Abozz.

The play was translated into English by John Carlsen, visiting professor of drama from the Herning Folk High School in Denmark. He also is directing a Wayne State cast of 12.

Following the play, scheduled for 7 p.m. in Ramsey Theater, another Danish visitant, Mogens Dalsgaard, musician-in-residence, will make his third appearance. See CONFERENCE, page 6.

Two-Day Drug Conference Scheduled for Wayne High

Wayne area residents are being urged to turn out in Wayne the second week in April for a two-day workshop on drug use and abuse.

The workshop, scheduled for the Wayne High auditorium on April 10 and 11, is being sponsored by the Wayne-Carroll school system and the Wayne Kiwanis Club in cooperation with the University of Nebraska Extension Division. Registration fee for the affair is $4 and includes the evening meal the first day of the affair. The meal will be in the West Elementary cafeteria.

The recent Governor Lincoln pointed out that Nebraskans must get involved in the problem in order to combat it before it gets too large. That is one of the purposes of the coming conference, to motivate the area people to act. Other purposes of the April 10-11 meeting are to better inform the area people of the problem of drug abuse in Nebraska, to present factual information on the different types of drugs that are used and abused, to examine the "why" of drug abuse among the young and to provide citizens with suggestions that will help them combat the ever increasing drug problem.

Mary Ann Cottrell, school nurse for the Wayne school system who is helping plan for the coming conference, said the major purpose of the conference is to attempt to head off a problem before it becomes too large to handle.

The first day of the conference will include discussion groups and questions from the audience from 2 to 5 and 6 to 9 p.m. Dinner See DRUGS, page 2.

Theme Chosen for 4-H Conference

"Understanding the 4-H Awards Program," will be the theme of the District III 4-H Junior Leader Conference scheduled April 4 at the Wayne State College Student Union.

The conference is one of a series held in Nebraska, sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation in cooperation with the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service. Registration for the one-day session gets underway at 9:15 a.m.

Four workshops are planned for junior leaders during the conference. Objectives of the workshops are to provide opportunity for an exchange of ideas, to assist in developing new leadership skills and to make more See THEME, page 2.

3 Arrests Follow Accident

Three youths appeared before Judge Luverna Hillton in the Wayne County Court Monday to face charges filed against them March 19 following a two-car collision March 15 two miles west of Wayne and slightly more than a mile north. The Wayne County Sheriff's office signed the complaints.

A car driven by Gary Lee Willett of Woodbine, Iowa, was, according to authorities, stopped on the county road when struck in the rear by another auto driven by Terry Lee Glaze of Broken Bow. Both cars were northbound.

Leon Foust of Schuyler reportedly owned the vehicle being driven by Glaze and was a passenger in the auto.

As a result of the hearings, Judge Hillton fined Foust $25 and court costs of $3 for allowing an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle; fined Willett $15 and costs of $5 for improper parking; and Glaze entered a plea of guilty to the charges of willful reckless driving and failure to display a valid driver's license. Glaze was given a 15-day jail sentence in the Wayne County Court. See ARRESTS, page 2.

Scholarship Winner

Sue Russell of Wayne has received the Linder Memorial Scholarship for study this term at Wayne State College.

The scholarship was established recently by John F. Linder of Atascadero, Calif., in memory of his wife, the former Betty B. Jones, 1946 graduate of WSC.

Miss Russell, daughter of Ilev and Mrs. Paul Russell, is a junior majoring in education and communications arts, minoring in sociology. She was a 1967 graduate of Omaha Westside High School. Her career plan is to teach in secondary school.

Carroll Hearing Shows Interest For Sewer Plan

Carroll's village board of trustees held a public hearing in the Carroll auditorium Monday night to determine interest in a proposed sewer system for the community.

Between 75 and 100 residents turned out for the hearing, according to Ken Olds of Wayne, attorney for the Carroll board.

Attorney Olds reported that reaction to the proposed sewer project was generally favorable throughout the meeting. Phil Olson presided over the hearing.

Members of the board of trustees met before and after the public hearing. Olds noted, and authorized the filing of an application for a Farmer's Home Administration loan amounting to $46,000, and an FHA development grant amounting to $16,300.

Attorney Olds explained that the $46,000 in the FHA loan would be in the form of $21,000 in general obligation bonds and $25,000 in revenue bonds. He said Carroll would also need a See HEARING, page 2.

38 Cancer Volunteers Attend Friday Meet

Thirty-eight volunteers of the Wayne County Cancer Society held their first 1970 kickoff meeting Friday evening in the Women's Club Room of the Wayne city auditorium.

Mrs. Rudy Longe of Wakefield, county chairman, presided at the meeting and each unit member gave her report for the past year.

Mrs. Clifford Johnson, county chairman, reported to her city workers and explained her drive.

Dr. Gordon D. Adams of Norfolk gave a report on the state and national cancer statistics and the major modalities in surgery, radiation and chemotherapy.

Precinct chairmen present at the meeting were given literature for the April fund drive by Mrs. Lester Hansen, rural chairman.

Linda Cary, Roy Rogers Wed Saturday In Candlelight Rites at Wayne Church

Linda Elaine Cary, daughter of Mrs. Edna Cary, Wayne, and the late Wesley C. Cary, became the bride of Roy E. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Rogers, Grand Island, in 7 p.m. rites Saturday at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. The Rev. S. K. deFreese officiated at the double ring ceremony. Lana Jenkins sang, "Wither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. William Kuebler at the organ.

Given in marriage by her brother, Randall L. Cary, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of rose point lace styled with fitted bodice, long tapered bridal sleeves and full lace skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her silk illusion veil was caught to a cluster of pearl accented lace and satin petals, and she carried a cascade of white daisy pompons and yellow roses.

Bonnie Bruns, Lincoln, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Deloris Bull, Lincoln, and Joyce Grone, Wayne. Their floor-length gowns of Nile green chiffon over taffeta were styled with bodices of white Venice lace. They carried cascade arrangements of yellow and white pompons.

Serving his brother as best man was Frank L. Rogers, Newport News, Va. Groomsman were Donald Cary, Wayne, and Terry Raymer, Fremont. Ushers were Arlin Cary and Gerald Foote, both of Wayne.

Gene Cary and Michael Sprouts, Wayne, were candlelighters, and Debra Foote, Wakefield, was flower girl. David Foote, Wakefield, was ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cary chose a silver gray and gold brocade. Mrs. Rogers wore blue crepe and both had white pompon corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Glassmeyer served as hosts to the reception for 150 guests held later that evening. Edith Rogers, Grand Island, registered guests and Marion Geowe, Pearl Hansen and Mary Lou Slegler arranged gifts.

Mrs. Floyd Raymer and Mrs. Lawrence Sprouts cut and served the cake and Mrs. Dewayne Foote and Mrs. Robert Foote poured. Amy Peterson served punch. Waitresses were Marilyn Stokes, Virginia Echtenkamp, Joan Lueders, Julie Ann Hageman, Margaret Hansen and Shirley Peterson. Redeemer Aid members worked in the kitchen.

For her going-away ensemble the bride chose a yellow knit dress with black patent accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white daisies. The couple are making their home at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride, a graduate of Lincoln School of Commerce, has been employed by Security Mutual Life Insurance Company and Lincoln and Classified List company, both of Lincoln.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Grand Island High School, attended Norfolk Junior College, Norfolk, and is presently stationed at Fort Carson, Colo., where he works as a master helicopter mechanic.

Polyester Fibers
Clothes need more than fashion to satisfy today's consumer. Women expect their clothes to keep that "new look" through wearings and cleaning. They demand wrinkle resistance, color fastness, easy care.

No natural or man-made fiber automatically has all these properties. It takes careful selection of right fibers, correct dyes and finishes.

The polyester fibers are an example of the versatile fibers used in today's clothing. These fibers can be either soft and bulky for use in knits or smooth and silky for delicate fabrics. Polyester fibers can be treated with fluorescent dyes for whiter-than-white shirts. Polyester fibers play an important role in permanent press fabrics which perform well and remain strong.

Another recent development in wearing apparel are the polyester double knit fabrics which have desirable wash and wear qualities. Consumer demand for these fabrics is increasing.

Licensed trademarks are now being granted to fabric manufacturers, but only if the product—shirt, sheet or yard goods—passes quality tests.

4 Memorial Books On Library Shelves

Four new memorial books are ready for the public at the Wayne public library, according to Librarian Rodella Wacker.

The books: "The American Heritage of the Confident Years" in memory of Mrs. Anna Beckenhauer, "The Way Things Work, An Illustrated Encyclopedia of Technology" in memory of Frank J. Griffith Jr., "A Guide to Mathematics for the Intelligent Non-mathematician" in memory of L. G. Kyl and "536 Puzzles and Curious Problems" in memory of Johann (Mrs. J. G.) Kyle. Something new has been added to the library especially for the readers at the Senior Citizens Center—nine books in large print. The books were purchased so those with poor eyesight would have less trouble reading.

The large-type books include "A Life of Jesus" by Goodspeed, "My Lord, What a Morning," by Anderson, "The Night They Burned the Mountain," by Dooley, "O Pioneers!" by Cather, "Jane Eyre," by Bronte, "Life With Father," by Day, "The Good Earth," by Buck, "My Antonia," by Cather and "The Pearl," by Steinbeck.

Hoskins Farm Wife Has Story Printed

Mrs. Dorothy Koepke, farm wife near Hoskins, has had another of her amusing articles printed in the Omaha World-Herald's Magazine of the Midlands, Sunday supplement to the newspaper.

The article, "Goodbye Snow, Hello Mud," tells of Mrs. Koepke's trials and tribulations with that frequent visitor to northeast Nebraska, the thing which has caused more youth to migrate from the farm than anything else.

The supplement, carried in last Sunday's edition of the newspaper, also had a story about Mrs. Fred (Kathleen) Frank of Wausa, a former student at Wayne State College from June, 1963, to January, 1965. She lost her sight in a hunting accident in October, 1965, when a shotgun discharged and struck her in the face.

4-Day Road Trip Opens WSC Diamond Season

A dozen lettermen will lead Wayne State's baseball team into 1970 action this week with a four-day, eight-game trip to Missouri and Kansas. The longest season in Wayne history will include 32 games.

Fred Pierce, in his second year as head coach after an 18-11 record last year, has five lettered pitchers back, including Bill Goodwin of Lawton, Iowa, whose 3-1 record of 1969 is best among the five. Goodwin also is a regular centerfielder when not pitching.

Lost by graduation is last year's leading hurler, Jim Haskett, 6-2.

Other returning pitchers: Duane Mandlik, Dodge, also an infielder; Jerry Nicolarsen, Hastings; Ron Hofles, Hartington, and Barry Carlson, Central City.

Two catchers, Gordie Jorgensen of Wayne and Mike Metzger of Des Moines, Iowa, are back. Jorgensen was the regular starter, and Metzger played both catcher and outfield.

Rich McGill of West Point, last year's most valuable player, and Marty Going of Tekamah, both potent batters, are expected to start again in third and second.

Other lettered infielders returning is Bob Brand of Hooper. Besides Goodwin and Metzger in the outfield, the lettered returnees are George Jones, Omaha, and Ron Prokop, Fremont. With no conference affiliation, Wayne's target will be another crack at the NAIA District playoff, and the season's final doubleheader will match Wayne against arch-rival University of Nebraska at Omaha. They went to the finals of last year's four-team playoff, UN-O winning.

Coach Pierce has cut to 27 the largest crop of baseball contenders—80—since Wayne began baseball in 1959. Among the non-lettermen are some strong prospects, several likely to get starting duty, Pierce said.

The schedule:
March—26, at William Jewell, Liberty, Mo.; 27, Southwest Missouri State at Springfield; 28, University of Missouri at Rolla; 30, Washburn University at Topeka.

April—3, Southern State (S.D.) at Dana; 8, Yankton; 11, Peru State; 21, Creighton at Omaha; 24, Chadron State; 28, Northwestern (Owa).

May—2, at Kearney State; 5, Westmar; 7, at Concordia; 9, at Doane; 11, at University of Nebraska at Omaha.

All will be doubleheaders starting at 1 p.m. except the Concordia twin bill at 6 p.m.

9 Boaters Killed

Boating accidents in Nebraska took a considerably greater toll in 1969 than the previous year, and boaters will have to pay more attention to safety rules and the law if needless tragedies are to be avoided on the state's waters in 1970, according to the Game and Parks Commission.

Last year, 18 accidents involving three personal injuries and 9 deaths were reported, compared to nine accidents with three injuries and two fatalities in 1968.

The importance of strict boating safety laws is shown in statistics kept since such laws were enacted in Nebraska in 1960. Despite an increase in boating registrations from 14,000 in 1960 to more than 25,000 in 1969, the number of accidents and deaths has remained relatively stable and injuries have been reduced. Most impressive of these years was 1966, when only one death, seven injuries and 11 accidents were reported.

The Game and Parks Commission has a handy publication to help on safety rules and equipment, the 1970 Boating Guide that is distributed with this year's boat registration certificates. Included are boating laws, nautical rules of the road, a rundown of required equipment and a safety checklist.

All motorboats used on Nebraska waters, including the Missouri River and Lewis and Clark Lake are subject to Nebraska's boating laws and must be registered. The 1969 registration expired Dec. 31. Since the renewal period expired on March 1, no motorboats may now be used on Nebraska waters without a valid 1970 registration.

Laurel Volleyball Girls Defend Conference Title

The Laurel volleyball team ended the 1969-70 season on a high note Friday night. The girls successfully defended their Nebraska Conference crown by defeating Randolph, 12-9 and 15-1.

The win had these surprising points: first, it was revenge for an earlier loss; second, the second game score of 15-1 was an almost impossible score against a good Randolph team; third, all three Laurel varsity teams ended their season with two losses—football, 7-2, basketball, 25-2, and volleyball, 20-2.

Laurel had earned the right to play Randolph Friday night by defeating Crofton, Hartington, Cedar, Catholic, and Coleridge. In no game did Laurel have an easy time until the final.

Tuesday the girls defeated Crofton, 15-10 and 15-5. Jean Haskell had 10 points, Debbie Brandow has the top spiker with 10 and June Kvols had nine assists.

The Cedar Catholic match was won with scores of 15-2 and 15-7, much closer than the scores indicate. Debbie Brandow had 10 points for the winners and Jane Kvols and Sue Schaer had six each. Debbie also was the top spiker, with eight. Anita Ward had six. June Kvols had 11 assists and Sue Schaer nine.

Laurel squeezed by Coleridge Thursday night, 15-12 and 15-10. Anita Ward had 11 spikes, Debbie Brandow nine, and Jane Kvols eight. June Kvols had 15 assists and Sue Schaer nine. Anita Ward had eight points, Jane Kvols seven, Debbie Brandow six and Jean Haskell five.

The final match started out like the hour and half marathon the two teams had staged earlier this year. But after being down 1-7 the girls rallied before time ran out to win 12-9. Laurel's late rally seemed to have left Randolph shook—they never scored on the Laurel girls in the second game. Sue Schaer served the first 12 points straight and Jane Kvols the last three as the girls only rotated once on their way to the decisive victory.

Debbie Brandow had one of her best nights against Randolph with 14 spikes. It was a most happy victory for Debbie as she was a Randolph starter her freshman year. Anita Ward had six spikes and Jane Kvols five. June Kvols had 12 assists and Sue Schaer nine. Sue's 12 straight points was high for the night. Jane Kvols had seven.

Debbie Brandow and Sue Schaer were named to the all-tournament team. Also selected: Kathy Dowling, Allen; Cindy Gansbom, Osmond; Lois Ausdemore, Crofton; Ruth Hirschman and Sharon Hirschman, Coleridge; Virginia Cochran and Pauline Olsen, Newcastle; Carla Peitz, Hartington.

Cage Clinic Planned For Area Youngsters

If the weather is not right for playing baseball by the middle of April, a basketball clinic for youngsters in grades three, four and five will be held in the city auditorium.

Conducting the clinic will be Hank Overin, city recreation director. He said the clinic will cover the basic fundamentals and will be open to any youngsters living in the city or in the area. Youngsters living outside the city limits will have to pay a $10 fee—which will enable them to take part in a year's city recreation offerings—in order to attend the clinic. Overin will cover the basics in basketball each afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. from April 16 to 22.

If the weather will permit, Overin will begin the city recreation baseball program and will not hold the basketball clinic. Youngsters living outside the city limits can also take part in the baseball activities by paying the $10 fee.

Overin Sets Record In Recreation League

Earle Overin set a new scoring record for intramural recreation basketball competition when he pumped in 40 points in a seventh grade contest.

Overin's record breaks that set by Harry Hansen in 1964-65 of 39 points. Overin tallied his huge amount in six minute quarters, Hansen in seven minute quarters.

Team II used Overin's total to knock off Team III, 47-41, for the squad's third win in the recreation competition. Team III had a record of one win and two defeats for a tie with Team I and IV for second place in the competition.

Scores, with leader's and loser's high scorers, in seventh grade games played in the league: Team II 36, Team I 29, Overin 18, Hansen 21; Team III 30, Team IV 26 (Mitchell 15, Biloft 13); Team I 45, Team III 23 (Hansen 30, Mitchell 15); Team II 41, Team IV 23 (Overin 16, Biloft 10); Team IV 29, Team I 26 (Biloft 18, Wacker and Jech 7); Team II 47, Team III 41 (Overin 40, Glass 12).

Team I was leading the eighth grade league with a record of three straight victories. In second place was Team III with a 2-1 mark, followed by Team II and Team IV with 1-2 records. Scores of games played and high scorers: Team I 46, Team II 34 (Ehlers 23, Schwartz 15); Team IV 36, Team III 32 (Jech 17, Lamp 20); Team I 32, Team III 28 (Ehlers 20, Bigelow 13); Team II 37, Team IV 28 (Schwartz 19, Jech 24); Team I

Annual Pictures for Trojans Are Ruined According to National Studios, some of Wakefield High School's annual pictures were destroyed in developing. Either a negative reaction between the film and developing fluids or a bad film caused the pictures to be ruined, National Studios said. Retakes will be taken by David Gardner, staff photographer, and Lyman Photography of Wayne.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and you see your thoughts in the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Easter

Comment lately from several individuals regarding the seeming prevalence of ill-will and irritability may be just a sign that we are all tiring of snow, cold winds and winter in general. Weather does have a tremendous influence on the mood of most people.

Spring is here now and though we may find it necessary to endure another few final performances of snowfall, amazingly like those when the calendar said winter, we can take heart knowing that warmer weather and beautiful spring days lie just ahead.

Easter is a real landmark and guidepost on the calendar. First of all, of course, it is a holy day in which those of the Christian faith focus their spiritual meditation around the central figure of the Resurrected Christ. Unlike many other holidays, Easter has an impact all over the world. Here in the United States we closely relate Easter with springtime and new life.

Not only are new buds of spiritual faith born at this time of year but all of nature appears to re-awaken from a long winter nap, ready to blossom and bloom with renewed vigor. The miracle of life never ceases to fascinate the living and give hope to the dying. All cycles of life indicate that by just mere logic alone, resurrection is a fact.

It is difficult not to notice that when the sunshine warms the countryside it seems to put everyone into a better mood. Things in life seem a little brighter and burdens, if possible, a little easier to bear—when the sun is warm and acres of green start to do their thing and come alive.

Hoes are sharpened, spades removed from winter storage, rakes are made ready for the fun of digging once more into the old Mother Earth and plant in her the seeds of a new garden. Who can measure or capture in words the satisfaction of planting and seeing flowers rise from the ground and pop their pretty heads out into the afternoon sunshine after being confined in a seed for so long?

Since Easter is a holy day occurring in the spring, it often means a few new clothes in the closet, so we humans, like nature's flowers, may also capture an extra surge of enthusiasm with a new look.

In these hours of crises on national and international levels, how about each of us making a determined effort to realign ourselves with the problems of others and put on a fresh new look of concern and kindness for fellow beings.

The winter is over and gone, so also let us toss off our winter complaints and gripes, irritability, and sometimes just being hard to get along with, and step forth with a new "spring" in our step.

R'S EASTER. —MMW.

Notes on All-Stars

The second group of young men to be named West Husker Conference all-stars by their high school basketball coaches was announced in the last issue of The Wayne Herald. As has been done with the other all-star teams, considerable space was devoted to the picture and story about the young people selected for the honor.

First, the coaches of those young people seldom failed to mention how willing the boys were to put out that extra work necessary for anyone wanting to make a little deeper mark than some of their teammates. Coaches often said that the boy named was willing to stay after practice to work a few minutes on some aspect of the sport he could fail to learn as well as he thought he had.

Second, the coaches remarked quite often that the person chosen for the team had qualities such as leadership which made him stand out off the basketball court or football field. Those qualities were also helpful in making the youngsters the success he was in sports.

Finally, it was more often the rule than the exception for the boys making the all-star teams to be receiving high marks in their school studies. Some of the boys were maintaining averages of B or above at the same time as they were taking part in two or more sports.

Without a doubt, there are young people taking part in sports who do more harm to a school's name than good. But with few exceptions, they are not members of the all-star teams named by this newspaper. We go to the extra effort to select those all-star teams in order to give that extra recognition to some of the finest young men taking part in sports in northeast Nebraska. —NLH.

Spring Rackets

Some animals are not the only ones that come out of hibernation in the spring, notes the Better Business Bureau of Omaha. Racketeers likewise come out of winter quarters and start perpetrating their schemes on housewives and home owners. So, the bureau points out, residents should be on guard in dealing with unknown salesmen, who call and offer tempting bargains.

Warning is given regarding the itinerant nurseryman who calls at the door with bargain shrubs, rose bushes and trees. They will likely be culls discarded by legitimate nurserymen and which will not grow or be the variety claimed.

Then there is the man who offers to sell you grass seed at $5 a pound which will only grow two inches tall and not need mowing. It is ordinary grass seed, often including many weeds, the BBB explains. A kindred racketeer is the unscrupulous and inexperienced tree surgeon and landscape contractor. He will butcher up your yard or lawn and often set out dead trees or trees without roots.

An old gag is the man who knocks at your door and says he just finished laying some insulation or fixing a roof in your neighborhood and has some stock left over, which will enable him to do a job for you cheap. The result will be, if you fall for his lken, is that you will get an inferior job and it will cost you several times more than you had been led to expect.

Beware of unkown humus or dirt peddlers. Some have been known to sell dirt collected from around some chemical plant which will ruin your soil and kill all vegetation.

Again the bureau warns to watch out for the pest control man who tries to frighten you into believing that termites and other insects are about to undermine your house and rush you into signing a contract. He will likely only spray your foundation with some cresote, which will be ineffective and charge an exorbitant price. His guarantee will be no good because he is here today and gone tomorrow.

Spring is the natural time when many think of painting, repairing and beautifying their houses, so it is an opportune time for the schemer to operate. The BBB warns home owners to investigate thoroughly before signing any contract.

It has been said before and will undoubtedly be said many more times in the future, trade with reliable firms at home where the firms' reputation is always on the line by service after the sale. If the product you purchase isn't satisfactory, the hometown firm is going to be here tomorrow to set it right. —MMW.

Tiemann Puts Emphasis on Nebraska's Hungry Citizens

LINCOLN—Hungry Nebraskans made the headlines last week. Although many officials contended the problem in Nebraska is small compared with other states, others speaking at the governor's Conference on the Elimination of Hunger complained about the administration of food stamps and other welfare programs.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann said the object of the conference was to determine the extent of the state's hunger problem and to reassess existing programs.

A series of official and unofficial speakers said changes are needed before every Nebraskan can be assured of a balanced diet.

Arthur B. McCaw, a former Nebraskan who now serves as deputy administrator of the Food and Nutrition Service to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said the conference would serve to "make active and effective the tremendous power that is latent in the people of Nebraska."

McCaw said there aren't the variations in the prices of food that there are for other items. He said the very rich can ride in a private plane, the middle class can go by commercial airliner. The range gets down to walking.

"There is no such adjustment possible within the private food industry today in the United States," McCaw said. "The millinaire's wife at the supermarket buys the same kind of milk, the same kind of eggs, the same kind of vegetables and the same kind of fruits, in the main, as does the person who wants to have a balanced diet and has but $5 a week to spend."

"The adjustments come in the quality unrelated. The father of George B. Harris, however, was George S., the colorful land commissioner who moved his family to Lincoln in 1872.

Already well-known in the West as a land agent for the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad, first line to reach the Missouri River, George S. Harris lived in Lincoln only two years before he died. But his wife, Sarah, and her children decided to remain in the West. Their home, at first an ornate Italianate two-story structure, was located at 1419 K Street, the present-day site of the First Christian Church. Mrs. Harris died in Lincoln in 1912.

Pictures of the elder Harris and accounts of their activities are to be found in the library of the Nebraska State Historical Society. Other children of George S. and Sarah Harris were Charles, Frederick, Edward, Sarah, Cella, and John F. The latter became wealthy as an investment banker with homes in New York City and Palm Beach, Fla.

In 1928, when John F. Harris was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Kansas City, he met George J. Woods, a childhood friend from Lincoln. They discussed the need for recreation areas in Lincoln. Woods described in detail the site known then as Burnham Yards, at one time used by the Burlington as a watering and feeding stop for livestock in transit.

Woods suggested that Harris stop in Chicago enroute east and discuss buying the tract from the railroad. As a result, Harris took an option to buy the land. In October Harris returned to Lincoln and conferred with Mayor Verne Hedge about transfer of the 500-acre tract to the city.

While here Hedge recalled that Harris visited the graves of his parents in Wyuka Cemetery and there decided the tract southwest of Lincoln be named Pioneers Park in honor not only of his parents but of all early-day Nebraskans.

In January, 1929, the city received a deed to the land signed by John Harris and his wife.

Twenty-five years later on December 2, 1955, the Harris name was bestowed on the new overpass spanning the Burlington tracts south of the Lincoln depot. At a dedication ceremony Henry Harris, grandson of George S. Harris and son of John F. Harris, represented the family and expressed the gratitude of the family and brothers, and sisters for the honor accorded his father.

of the meat, the quality of the eggs, the quality of the milk. But, in a sense, they are buying from the same supermarket at the same prices.

He said families, faced by hunger seek out alternate foods, which may or may not have nutrient value. These, he said, usually are high in starches and carbohydrates, "so at least the stomach is filled—and the family is deluged into thinking it is eating well."

McCaw said the objectives of the USDA's Food and Nutrition Service for the current year are:

—Establish a food assistance program in every county by the end of June.

—Reach every needy child—estimated at 5.6 million—with a free or reduced-price meal by Thanksgiving Day.

—Improve programs, broaden coverage and increase participation in anti-hunger efforts.

—Establish an advisory committee of representatives from the poor.

Tiemann said the conference was called as a result of a similar meeting on the national level held recently by President Nixon.

"I appeal today to all public officials," Tiemann said, "to be sensitive and responsive to those people who do not have the means or the opportunity to be heard, as most of us can be heard."

"I urge you all to be especially thoughtful to those people, so that they are not made to feel that they have come before us on their knees to get some of the basic needs for which they qualify under the law."

Morrison Joins Senate Race

Former Gov. Frank B. Morrison made a dramatic entry onto the May 12 primary ballot.

The three-term Democratic governor filed at the last minute—literally—as a candidate for his party's nomination to the U. S. Senate.

At 4:59 p.m. with a 5 p.m. deadline, Morrison processed his filing papers in the Secretary of State's office at the capitol. He joined two college professors—Wallace Peterson of the University of Nebraska and David Thomas of Doane College—in the primary battle.

Morrison said he was persuaded by a group headed by former Democratic Rep. Clair Callan of Odell to enter the race for the seat Sen. Roman L. Bruskas, a Republican, is seeking to retain.

Bruskas was without primary opposition until the last day, when Otis Glebe of Lincoln filed against him. Glebe is a relative unknown and wasn't expected to offer much of a battle for the veteran senator.

Morrison's entry into the Democratic senatorial primary, however, promised a stiff fight for a nomination Peterson had previously been favored to win.

Last week, the political tempo began to pick up on all fronts with the filing deadline past. Gov. Tiemann said he would devote most of his efforts until the May 12 primary to his campaign for re-election.

His first stops were in Lincoln, Omaha and Norfolk.

His chief opponent, State Sen. Clifton B. Batchelder of Omaha, also was touring the state and attracted about 400 persons to a fund-raising dinner at O'Neill.

Harvey Grotzky of Kearney also was in the GOP primary.

On the Democratic side, J. J. Exon of Lincoln and State Sen. J. W. Burchach of Crofton—the two main contenders—were tuning up their campaign machinery. Also in the Democratic sweepstakes is Richard Larson of Omaha.

Construction Freeze Thaws

Director Robert McManus of the State Department of Administrative Services says the end of a federal freeze on construction won't have any dramatic effect on state building programs.

He said the programs which had been deferred until this spring and summer in response to the anti-inflation restrictions probably can't be hurried up any now that the limitations have been eased by Washington.

Tornado Time Approaching for Wayne Area

Tornadoes are the smallest and most violent of all storms. They occur most often in the central United States during April, May and June between 4 and 6 p.m., but they can happen in all 50 states at any time of the year and at any hour of the day or night.

Those warnings are issued by the Norfolk Weather Bureau as part of the SKYWARN 70 preparedness program.

Since the early 1950's, the tornado death toll has averaged 123 per year and the property damage many millions of dollars. Although the destruction caused by these swift-striding storms cannot be prevented, many lives could be saved if individuals, families, institutions and entire communities were prepared for quick action when tornadoes threaten, the Weather Bureau notes.

The Weather Bureau will issue a "tornado watch" when tornadoes are expected to develop and a "tornado warning" when an official community warning center or the Weather Bureau has sighted a tornado.

To save your life, the Weather Bureau—an agency of the Commerce Department's Environmental Science Services Administration—publishes a number of brochures, leaflets and posters explaining what tornadoes are and what to do to avoid or survive them.

The following publications can be ordered, by title and GPO number, from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

"TORNADO," (GPO No. 52-2:763/2). A two-color, 16-page brochure describing the phenomenon of tornadoes, their destructive effects, ESSA's work of warning and safety rules for the individual and the community. 20c.

"TORNADO SAFETY RULES," (GPO No. C52-6763/969). A 9 x 12-inch poster containing tornado safety rules. 5¢ each. $1.50 per hundred.

"TORNADO PREPAREDNESS PLANNING," (GPO No. C30-2:763/8). A 36-page booklet describing how communities can develop working preparedness plans against the threat of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms. 25¢.

"WEATHER BUREAU SPOTTER'S GUIDE FOR IDENTIFYING AND REPORTING SEVERE LOCAL STORMS," (GPO No. C52-8:577). A two-color, 16-page brochure showing how to identify and report severe local storms and tornadoes. 30c.

Dear Editor:

I have just finished reading your interesting editorial, "Mr. Policeman, I and Out Some Tickets." While I agree that this is a serious problem that demands harsh treatment, I feel that as has happened so often in the past, NLH has done only enough homework to criticize, and not enough to fully understand or offer a sound solution to the immediate problem. Let's take the fire of Thursday night, March 19, 1970. Our radio log shows that as the fire alarm was being sounded at 9:50 p.m., one of our officers was being assigned to cover a traffic accident on W. 13th St. The other officer on duty responded to Second and Main Sts. to help the fire trucks clear this intersection. As soon as all of the trucks had cleared the intersection, he proceeded, slipping and sliding on the ice, to the scene of the fire. By the time he arrived, the fire trucks were enroute back to the fire station.

This, however, does not excuse us from doing our duty in the past, as we have been accused by NLH. The problem seems to be like not being able to see the forest for the trees, except in this case it is not being able to distinguish the firefighters from the fire truck chasers. With some 38 men in the fire department and a minimum of three men to each of four trucks, it is possible to have as many as 26 privately owned cars and trucks carrying firemen to the scene of the fire. It is hard enough in the daylight, if an officer is lucky enough to reach the fire scene first to pick out all of the firemen in these privately owned vehicles and let them pass to the fire, while keeping out the sightseers, but it is virtually impossible at night, while looking into headlights to pick out the firefighters. We do not want to stop every vehicle to see if a fireman is in it or not and thus slow down these men from getting to the fire.

There is a partial solution to this problem. The 1969 Legislature passed LB 534, which authorizes firemen to use blue lights on their private vehicles when responding to a fire alarm. The Police Officers Association of Nebraska supported this bill in an attempt to make firemen's vehicles more easy to identify. The Wayne fire department has approached the city council requesting funds to purchase these blue lights for members of the fire department.

When this easy means of identification becomes a reality in Wayne, this department will be most happy to start handing out tickets to all fire truck chasers, including the most frequent chaser we have noticed, the members of the local press. Having been around one or two emergency scenes in my career as a police officer, I can truthfully say that the biggest bother at the scene of any type of a disaster is some reporter getting in the way, when he could just as well wait until the situation is under control and then get his story from the officers in command.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Welcome, spring. Welcome, longer daylight and the on-coming grass and budding trees. Mom, 'tis the time for outdoor sports, for teenage migration each evening to the drive-ins. Where basketball stars don short sleeve shirts, flex their muscles and enjoy the last two months of their kingly reign. From Ohio to Utah, from three different Panhandles comes the nightly squeal from horsepower, a heavy right foot and ethyl gas. Squealing rubber is man's answer to the drumming of the blue grouse, the trumpet of the bull elk. It is the love call. At home it is different. For all the farm Moms in the country, get ready. During the thirties, the cornbelt had the sun removing clouds of grasshoppers and dust; the forties had the root worm; the fifties had the cotton boll weevil; the sixties had the army worm...

The seventies will have people. Door-knocking people. Salesmen. Buyers. Poll takers. Modern-math census counters who will snoop reports for cattle on feed, cattle on grass, intentions. Crops in, crops out. Intentions. Proud sows, pigs dropped. Intentions. Kids, at home, at school. Intentions. The pill. Intentions.

No longer will only your hair dresser know your secrets. You will be computerized. Your entire life will be catalogued on a four-by-six cardboard card with dozens of punch holes. Also to your back door will come the boy cutters, hippie-hoboes, pollutionist ecologists... the sniffers, the tasters, the gaspers.

These latter domesticated (A will not show up on mass until the budget is allocated... and that will take two or three more scare attacks by Ralph Nader and his ecologized battalion of do-gooders.

Mom, for this eventual onslaught you'll need rigid training. I recommend jogging to insure speed and endurance. Also practice your Ozark hog call, or a Texas Hill Country cattle call. This latter might prevent waking a napper while you help sort the number 1's and 2's curlicues. Census men are great front door window peepers after the second knock, but did you ever see one walk to the barn? But, Mom, your best practice material will soon descend on you. Now that Dad is about to hit the back eighty, you'll see a dozen cattle buyers on ever up market, the duet of local hog buyers and on rare, rare occasions, a commission man from a terminal. No, they are not all dead... but do suffer from poor circulation.

In two weeks comes the avalanche. Mostly salesmen—seed, feed, protein, futures, insecticide, pesticide, herbicide, fertilizer, concentrate, Avon, veterinary supply, artificial inseminators, MFA, magazine, automobile, fund drives, gasoline, missionaries, barn painter, home siding, chicken coops, corn cribs, tractors, yard lights and order buyers.

Odd thing, Mom, all winter when Dad was available, salesmen were as rare as whooping cranes in Idaho. Now, Dad's ready to work and so are they. Dad will be interrupted a dozen times a day. And this does not help his joviality.

Better get out the mop, Mom. Wonder how many salesmen will muddy up the porch?

FORECAST: Hogs, you'll have a fight to hold this $27 figure. (Chicago is closing anyway, so why drag out the misery? Forget them. Now.

On cattle, no change will be permanent with dressed prices yo-yoing 48.50 and 50.50.

$2,432,000 in non-federal funds and services which were provided to assist Nebraska's conservation programs.

Estate Planning Advised
In this age of high taxes and high farm values, planning for your estate is essential. The Economic Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says if you want to keep your farm in the family, it's doubly important.

ERS points out that there are a number of goals you should keep in mind when planning for the transfer and settlement of your estate:

—Plan for a reasonable degree of security for you and your spouse, both now and during retirement.

—You might also provide an opportunity for your farm-operating son to become an established farmer—again with reasonable security.

—And remember you must maintain the home farm as an efficient, going concern. A will should be the basic part of your estate plan, ERS says. A common mistake is to put off the writing of a will, but it is necessary for a young farmer and his wife as it is for an older couple, particularly if there are minor children. Without a will, your property will be distributed according to the laws of descent of the state. Such laws rarely provide for exactly the same distribution that you and your family would have chosen.

Your lawyer and banker can advise you on a choice of plans that will best fit your situation.

NT Publication
Almost 1,000 bulletins, leaflets and circulars are offered to the public in the new 1970 "Publications for Farm and Home" covering 12 major areas of agriculture and home economics.

Publications listed within are available in the following areas: ag. economics, ag. engineering, agronomy, animal science, biochemistry and nutrition, food science and technology, entomology, home economics, horticulture and forestry, plant pathology, poultry and veterinary science.

To assist the reader, easy-to-use guides are included showing procedure in ordering materials, price, and even a bulletin request form and key to use of this general listing bulletin.

This is the most recent complete list of publications, with some new titles and a net total of more publications available than previously. The materials are compiled by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service and the Experiment Station.

Persons desiring this bulletin may check with their county Extension office.

Feeders Plan Study of Looks, Quality

Beef on foot and in the packer's cooler will be intensively studied by northeast Nebraska cattle feeders in a feeding and marketing event.

Plans are being completed for a study of the relationship between the live appearance of cattle and the quality of beef produced in a program sponsored by the northeast Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association. Cattle feeders will select cattle from their finishing lots some 90 days before market time and check their gains and change in appearance as they develop.

Late in July these cattle will be brought together and graded alive for quality and yield (per cent of red meat expected). Following slaughter the carcasses will be graded for quality and yield. The program is designed to help cattlemen in selection, feeding and marketing systems which will provide the most desirable beef at the least cost to consumers.

Feeders who wish to take part in this program should contact their director of the Northeast Livestock Feeders Association or their county agent, who will be cooperating.

per hundredweight, as compared with roughly $26 average for 1969.

All indicators, the "Review" explains, point toward a continuing rapid rate of growth in the beef industry, with current technological developments favoring a relatively larger growth in the Midwest and the Southwest than in the rest of the nation.

(Concentrated feeding or finishing operation continue to change rapidly both technologically and geographically. A major proportion of the expansion in this stage of production, according to the publication, is taking place in the Midwest and the remainder in the Southwest.

Spurring demand for beef in recent years has been the rise in incomes and employment.

Most important factors in determining real cattle prices—actual prices deflated by the wholesale price index—during the 1947-69 period were supplies of beef and veal as measured by per capita consumption, per capita consumption of pork and total employment. Taking these factors into consideration, the "Review" computed that prices received by farmers for beef cattle in 1970 would probably fall between $24.47 and $29.02

'69 SCS Highlights

Soil Conservation Service scientists made standard soil surveys on 1,768,111 acres in Nebraska in 1969, boosting the total to 25,325,068 acres surveyed.

That and other conservation highlights for 1969 were noted recently by the Nebraska office of the USDA Soil Conservation Service. Among those highlights was the furnishing of technical help to 35,701 landowners and operators last year. A total of 18,172 of those applied one or more conservation practices. Also, 40 Nebraska watersheds have projects completed or under construction to prevent floods and protect upstream land. This means, the state SCS office notes, that 2,439,342 acres in these projects have at least 75 per cent of the land protected and floor structures built.

Another highlight in conservation in Nebraska in 1969 was the the April 21 potluck supper at Carroll City Auditorium, to be followed by the regular meeting with a film. Supper will be served at 7 p.m.

DAIRYMEN

Below is an item we noticed in the Grade "A" Market Statistics Report for this area for February, 1970 published by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. We received this report March 20, 1970.

We believe that this is an item to consider when thinking of going Grade "A" or of staying in Grade "A" milk.

USDA CONSIDERS DROPPING A PROVISION IN NEBRASKA-WESTERN IOWA MILK ORDER

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is considering suspending during 1970 the "take out-pay back" producer payment plan in the Nebraska-Western Iowa Federal milk marketing order (which includes this area) and has invited comments.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service officials said the plan (as was previously used in this area) calls for deducting 8 percent of the value of producer milk from the pool during April, May and June. Then one-third of the total deduction is distributed to producers through the pool in September, October and November, according to their milk deliveries in the latter months. Purpose of the plan has been to even out milk production through the year. (This has always happened in the past to ensure a high fall market price.)

Central States Dairy Cooperative, representing dairy farmers supplying a large amount of the fluid milk used in the market, has asked that this payment plan be dropped for this year. Otherwise, it said, the uniform prices to producers paid by the cooperative in April, May and June for Grade A milk may not exceed by much and could be below the prices paid to nearby manufacturing milk producers. This could cause disorderly marketing conditions for producers supplying Grade A milk for fluid use.

Notice of the proposed suspension appeared in the Federal Register March 7, 1970, and comments were to be filed no later than March 12, 1970.

KEEP IN MIND THAT BY NOT DEDUCTING THE 8% THIS SPRING, THE GRADE "A" PRICE THIS FALL WILL NOT BE AS HIGH AS IT HAS BEEN IN THE PAST EITHER.

Beauty and brains combine in this quartet of Wayne State co-eds who won the annual College Bowl competition, a local version of the television College Bowl. Representing Pile Hall were (from left) Linda Carson, Craig, Neb.; Frances Sedacek, Springfield, Neb.; Rose Mary Binder, Omaha, and Carol Weltrsky, Lawton, Ia. Miss Binder, a junior majoring in English, is blind, but has regularly been on the Dean's Honor Roll. She substituted in the final two rounds for Karen Peterson of Silver Creek, Neb., who competed in earlier rounds of the three-day contest. Pile Hall defeated a Bowen Hall women's team, 205-175, in the finals Saturday.

Among the 525 men in the 91st Congress, 280 were Boy Scouts, 148 were leaders, and 93 were both Scouts and leaders. Ten per cent of the 280 former Scouts attained Eagle Scout rank.

Scout Troop 174 To Camp Eagle During Summer

The Mid-America Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced that troop 174 of Wayne sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church is currently registered and planning to attend Camp Eagle this coming summer.
Troop Scoutmaster Burns McCulloch advises that the troop will spend a week at camp with 14 boys in attendance.
Each summer thousands of Scouts from the 37-county area of the Mid-America Council spend a full week living in supervised camping facilities under the leadership of their hometown Scoutmasters.
In 1970 it is anticipated that over 4,000 boys will receive this summertime experience through attendance at one of the three operating Mid-America Council summer camps.
Camp Cedars and Camp Eagle are located on the Bluffs overlooking the Platte River just south of Fremont, Camp Wakonda, west of Griswold, Iowa, is also operated throughout the summer with each camp averaging over 200 boys a week in attendance. Through participation in one of these summer camp programs, a Scout receives instruction and experience in swimming, archery, rifle range operation, marksmanship, boating, conservation and a variety of Scoutcraft skills. During the seven-day experience at a Scout camp, a boy is able to put into practice the Scoutcraft skills learned during the winter months while, at the same time, building his character, citizenship traits and physical fitness.

Doctor Shows Films To Wayne Kiwanians

Speaking before the Wayne Kiwanians following a noon luncheon Monday at the Woman's Club rooms, Dr. George John of Wayne distributed information concerning the warning signs of cancer and two films related to securing adequate medical help in diagnosing and treating the disease.
"Journey Into Darkness" was a film exposing tactics of sneaky but quick doctors who prey upon cancer victims offering them false information and worthless treatments. The other film viewed by the club centered around the need for annual physical check-ups.

Kiwanians were informed that the University of Nebraska extension service in cooperation with the Wayne schools and the Kiwanis Club will hold a workshop on drug use and abuse April 10 and 11 at the high school auditorium. Guest speakers heading the program will be professionals in the fields of psychiatry, police work and mental health.

Funeral Services For Donald Strate Held in Hoskins

Funeral services for Donald Strate, 16-year-old rural Hoskins youth, who was electrocuted in an accident March 18, 1970, southwest of Norfolk, were held Sunday afternoon at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Hoskins.

The Rev. J. Edward Lindquist officiated at the rites. The sixth, seventh and eighth grade school choir sang, accompanied by Ronald Schmidt. Pallbearers were Randy Wagner, Glenn Schaffer, Mike Cislis, Duane Wolff, Roger Magnusson and John Scheer. Burial was in the Springbranch Cemetery, Hoskins.

Donald David Strate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Strate, was born Aug. 15, 1951 at Norfolk. He was baptized and confirmed in the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Hoskins. He lived all his life on the same farm northeast of Hoskins and was a graduate of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran School in 1965 and from Norfolk High School in 1969. He was a freshman at the Northeastern Nebraska College, Norfolk, at the time of his death.

Don was active in sports, as a pitcher for Norfolk's Legion team, in the FFA, Safety-Teens, on the Board of Awards and a member of the young Democratic party. For a time he was also active in the Young People's Society of which he was an officer.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Eldon, who died in infancy and his father, Harry, who died Nov. 11, 1968. Survivors include his mother; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Armaganian of Racine, Wis., and Mrs. Justin Peterson of Fort Dodge, Iowa, and one brother, Larry at home.

The President of the United States serves as honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America during his term of office.

Winter Scene in Concord

Somewhere back there is a building with just the walls standing. The building is just off the main street in Concord and it and the surrounding trees give a good picture of the scene which northeast Nebraskans found last Thursday morning following the heavy snow storm. The snow piled several inches high on tree limbs and bushes, making the area as picturesque as it has been all winter.

later. The spring mothers' tea and honor court will be held in May. The annual food sale will be Saturday, May 16. Area leaders also attended a training session in Norfolk Saturday, March 21.

Fourth Grade Meets

People Ask Us--

QUESTION We have never joined a church in Wayne. What will we do when we lose a member of our family?

ANSWER A funeral service is primarily a religious service with great spiritual significance. The purpose of the service is to conclude the physical existence of a loved one with the knowledge that God's will has been accomplished. At the time of death a logical counselor is a priest, minister or rabbi by virtue of his training and dedication.

Clergymen in Wayne are known for their compassion and understanding. People without regular church affiliations will find many friends in this area who are happy to help them select a clergyman. We are also affiliated with many religious groups and can be helpful with this choice.

Vets Administration

Urging Closer Look

At Insurance Policies

The Veterans Administration today urged Nebraska veterans to take a closer look at their term life insurance policies when they become due for renewal this year.

C. W. Nixon, manager of the VA regional office, said veterans with five-year level premium term policies should check their insurance needs to determine whether to convert to a permanent plan policy.

He said five-year term insurance serves well the purpose for which it was intended—to provide adequate, low-cost life insurance for a specific period of time. He emphasized, however, that since term insurance premiums are based on age, they go up every five years and become very costly in later years.

 "For example," the VA manager explained, "the premium for a $10,000 term life insurance policy for a 20-year-old serviceman or veteran would be $6.50 a month. At age 60, the same premium would rise to $26 a month, and at age 70, the cost would be $61.80 a month."

On the other hand, the veteran who converts his term insurance to a permanent plan policy enjoys the advantage of paying a fixed premium on a policy which has a cash and loan value, and paid up and extended insurance values.

Nixon said term insurance has no cash or loan value, and the longer a veteran delays in converting to a permanent plan, the higher the premiums will be. The manager stressed that each veteran must make his own decision as to which insurance plan best fits his needs during specific periods in his life. But he said that generally most veterans must adjust to reduced income during the later stages of life, while premiums for term insurance continue to rise.

Nixon urged all veterans in the Wayne area seeking information or desiring to convert their term insurance, to contact the VA office to which they send their premiums. An application form, premium rate schedules and other information will be forwarded to the veteran.

Should you say "SO LONG" to what's not so long?

Ever since so many midis appeared in the designer collections in Rome, Paris and New York our friends have been asking us if everything they own is going to be obsolete. To make a long story short, everything in your wardrobe is right.

Kuhn's Spring and Summer collections will tell that story — above-the-knee, at-the-knee, just-below-the-knee lengths, plus great pants looks, and no midis

No, you won't be caught short with what you have. And you won't be caught short choosing what you like this season. This and every season, Kuhn's goes to great lengths to know and have what's right for you.
