EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers. It is the duty of an editorial writer to search all available facts before he signs down to write. From this basis the writer should be able to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial—but if you read the editorial and give your thoughts to the subject, discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Improvement Long Needed

We're happy to see that the state plans to hard-surface the road from the Northeast Station near Concord east to Highway 9. With little doubt, we're not the only ones happy over the plans. The Northeast Station is meant to serve a large area of northeast Nebraska, including the area to the east all the way to the Missouri River. The road is sometimes almost impossible to travel because it is unimproved, forcing many people to the east of the Station to travel many extra miles in order to get there.

for meetings and to tap the specialists there. When the road is improved, some time in the 1969-71 biennium, this will no longer be the case and the Station will become even more of an area facility. Now, if they could just do something with the road from Concord east to the Station. The nearest thing we can compare that strip of road to is a washboard. We realize, of course, many young people will have no idea of what we are talking about when we make that comparison. —NLH.

Flags

Many have died fighting beneath the red, white, and blue of Old Glory and whenever most of us think of patriotism, we also think of the American flag. Now, when there are those living in the country who care little or nothing about the American flag, it is time for patriots to re-emphasize the flag's importance.

Sure, there are a lot of scoundrels who accuse a person of being a radical if he shows the least amount of patriotism. In fact, some of those who are so intent on destroying this nation with internal subversion, eroding basic fundamentals found in Holy Writ for families, church and school, that they are given cold chills upon seeing an American contribute to the national flag.

Many of us appreciate seeing the flag being flown over U. S. Post Offices and other government buildings, schools and in some cases, private businesses, every day.

As most everyone knows, the American flag is flown at half mast on important and particular occasions such as the death of a VIP.

If you have noticed lately, the flags on the Nebraska Capitol are at half-mast most all the time in honor of Nebraska's servicemen who have given their lives in Viet Nam. Perhaps a small tribute for such heroic action, but, never-the-less, an important one.

Since the flag is a symbol of America, and since flying it at half-mast is a tribute, it seems that an appropriate gesture would be for all flags everywhere in the nation to be flown at half-mast until the Viet Nam war is over and the men are back home.

With all flags everywhere at half-mast, it would be a daily reminder that a lot of our flesh and blood was still being warred around the world, but by no means forgotten.

Better yet, let each of us make every effort to see the Viet Nam war is ended, so that it should have been years ago. We as a nation have no right to expend lives of our youth on the battle front if we aren't interested in winning the war. —MMW.

Law Day

Law Day USA was inaugurated by the lawyers of the United States, acting through the American Bar Association, in 1958 and has been observed annually each May since its inception.

The day will be observed throughout the U. S. to spotlight the great heritage of American law which protects our rights and freedoms.

Chaos would reign were it not for laws which we the people, as our own self-governors, set up and enforce. Law is extremely important if there is to be any kind of peace on earth, particularly since there seems to be increasingly less good will among men.

Wayne residents will have good reason to observe Law Day since our city and county have gone to great lengths in following the principles laid down by the U. S. Supreme Court. Defendants arrested for felonies are informed of their right to remain silent and their right to an attorney. Prompt trials ensue, with the right of a jury guaranteed in practice as well as in theory. In view of the alarming rate at which crime continues to increase, it is time that every law-abiding person stand squarely behind and back up our law enforcement officers as they perform their duties. Maybe they are not perfect and maybe they do make an occasional error, but then who doesn't? Any person who tries to destroy the work of law enforcement via the road of criticism is only helping to tear down a system that will allow criminals more freedom than the non-criminal.

When you learn of some of the guff that police officers learn to take, it makes a person wonder as to why anyone would even be willing to serve as a law enforcement officer.

A little praise here and there is a big help to anyone on any job, so as we approach Law Day, let's see if we can't spread a few compliments around to any and all persons involved in any way with providing good efficient laws and their enforcement. After all, they are the folks who help make it possible for any of us to sleep at night without fear. —MMW.

Winsted
Dear Editor:
In recent weeks there has been a running commentary in the Omaha World-Herald and an accompanying editorial in The Wayne Herald on a resolution made by the American Legion. This resolution concerned radicals on Nebraska campuses. The main issues these so-called radicals fight for are peace, freedom and individuality, basic human rights guaranteed by conscience and the constitution. No one, however, has questioned the Legion goals.

If I may, let me take phrases out of context from the Legion's constitution. They proclaim to be together "to uphold and defend the Constitution," "to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism," "to preserve the members and students of our associations in the 'Great Wars,'" "to promote peace and good will" and "to transmit the principles of justice, freedom and democracy."

How can these people uphold the constitution and transmit the ideas of justice, freedom and democracy and at the same time deny those rights to radicals? Are these rights preserved for conservatives only?

To those of you who can remember World War II, the phrase "one hundred per cent Americanism" should be familiar. The only difference is that "Americanism" has replaced "Aryanism and Master Race" and "America Right or Wrong" has replaced "Hitler Hitler." Is there really any difference between Nazism and Legion "Americanism"?
How can these people promote peace and yet glorify the killing and destruction

How to Beat the Tax Bite Next Time

The age of Aquarius may have brought higher hemlines, but it also brought higher taxes. And comes next April 15, Americans will again be deep in tax forms seeking out legitimate deductions to ease the annual payment bite.

The best way to substantiate tax deductible expenses is to keep a daily record of them all year round. This can be done easily with a notebook—spiral or sewn—with pages and divisions for the various types of deductions.

Make a page for the standard taxes paid each year, such as school and land taxes and such items as mortgage interest.

Reserve a section for all purchases that involve deductible sales taxes—don't forget interest on time-payment made during the year.

Medical expenses deserve several pages. List cost of drugs, cost of transportation to and from your dentist, doctor, ophthalmologist, etc. and all medical fees. Include the price of new or replacement glasses and prescribed medical appliances such as braces, etc., for all members of the family.

Gasoline taxes can easily be forgotten and a page should be set aside for each car. Better still—put a small notebook in the glove compartment of each car and record the costs of all repairs, tires, gas and oil and the interest on the car payments, if any.

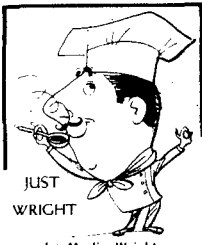

If you or any member of your family does charity work, expenses incurred in the form of automobile transportation, contributions in services as well as any money contributions, may be deducted and should be noted in your tax notebook.

Sound complicated? Not at all, once you've organized it. And that money you save—Uncle Sam wants you to save—will make it all worthwhile.

of the "Great" wars? How can these men promote peace by endorsing the rape of Viet Nam? What they need is a foreign army in Nebraska bombing their homes, razing their wives and killing their children.

Maybe you people should listen more to the radicals who preach peace and freedom rather than those who promote war and Americanism.

Humanity

by Merlin Wright

Springtime has its many questionable and amusing moments. J. W. has a friend who recently purchased a new $149.50 powered lawn mower, but got it for $100 by using some expert ay-wrighting. Even this was under protest by his wife who thought they needed other things.

This fellow had that shiny new putt-putt on the lawn and had been mowing to his heart's delight. He shut it off, went to the back door and hollered at his sweetie to come out in the backyard and see how simply great this new machine really was.

Sweetie, knowing she might as well take a look at the mechanized $100 bill, meandered out doors and listened devotedly as her husband demonstrated with pride how he could just turn the ignition key and the mower would start right off. He reached down, turned the key and listened to the rhythmic putt-putt. As he started across the lawn proudly gazing his new purchase — a wheel fell off.

Isn't that the way some days go though? Have you had one lately? A trim middle-aged telephone operator in a nearby city was telling J. W. last week that she ordered a "Yellow Page" dress (made from paper) from a company catalogue. It arrived in the mail on an extremely hot day so her logical mind-reasoned that a paper dress would be some cooler than an ordinary one made of fabric.

She slipped it on, checked it over in the mirror, and admired the many ads and numbers scattered all over its pretty yellow. She jumped in her convertible which had the top down and the hot sun had really warmed the seats.

After driving several miles to work she arrived only to discover to her horror that the derrière of her special dress was gone due to sweating and the hot car seat. She parked her perky convertible, opened the door, angled her nose in the puffed manner and smartly stepped off the premises to her department at the telephone office. A friend and some Scotch tape put this humpty-dumpty together again but not until fellow employees had originated some on-the-spot remarks.

We have some more information concerning honors to be given to families in the county and state who have owned a particular piece of land for 100 years or more. Dave Hamer and J. W. were visiting about it last week. Legend Herman dropped into The Herald office the other day and filled us in with the following information which is much appreciated.

The Nebraska Association of Fair Managers is cooperating with the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben to recognize Nebraska Pioneer Farm families whose land has been owned by the same family for 100 years or more. The only requirement is that the land of a family in the community, county or state, must have been owned by some member of that family for a century or more. A plaque and a farm marker is to be awarded such land owners. Such awards will be made at the county fair this summer. The land owner must live in Nebraska. Is there a family in Wayne County which has had the same piece of land in the family for a century? If so, eligible families are urged to contact Al Babe, secretary of the Wayne County Fair. He will submit the nominations from Wayne County to the state committee. Deadline for receiving nominations is June 1.

And while we are speaking of money, did you know that Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, both Nebraska representatives in the Congress, voted with the minority last week as the Senate passed a bill authorizing a five-year $5 million program of trips to the Soviet Union by elected U. S. officials? The vote carried 38-28. It really makes a person feel like paying his income tax when Uncle Sam hauls out $5 million for traveling expenses for officials to go to Russia. Of course, what is $5 million compared to $75 million for a moon trip? Wish Uncle Sam would let me keep a little more of the money I send him every month so I could take a little trip myself. For a starter, it would be fun to go to the bank and put some in instead of draw some out.

Probably not many take the time or have the chance to read too much of the Good Book, so in our constant effort to improve The Herald for our readers, we're starting to carry The Little Pulpit each issue here on the editorial page. We're hoping that maybe a Biblical verse will not only brighten your day but also cause you to remember that there really is a lot of good news.

The kids (anybody under 30) were talking all day Wednesday (Earth Day) about pollution. Now a person can't know what real pollution is until he has celebrated a 40th birthday and looked at 40 little flaming wax posts puncturing the party frosting. All 40 of them melting wax all over the cake, smoking up the air, and drying out the sweet goodies. That is pollution. Aha! But wait! Then everybody wants the birthday cake (and that's a good word. You have heard of employer and employee? Then why not birthday and birthdaye?) well anyway, everybody wants the birthdaye to "blow" out the flames; and do it while the candles are still on the cake. Wow! I've seen some birthdayers blowing out candles with a breath which not only fanned the flames, polluted the cake and spotted the tablecloth, but also gave military engineers their original idea for the first flame thrower. That is pollution. Then they gleefully ask if you would like to have a piece of cake!

Uncle Sam certainly isn't just sitting back resting on his laurels these days, or did you know that the maker of Geritol and Femron and its advertising agency were accused last week by the government of airing false and misleading television commercials? Maybe Uncle Sam knows such commercials can help make your blood throb!

A civil action filed in the U. S. District Court accused J. B. Williams Co., Inc. and Parkson Advertising Agency of violating a Federal Trade Commission order by continuing to broadcast television commercials that represented Geritol as an effective remedy for tiredness, loss of strength, rundown feeling, nervousness and irritability.

Commercials that misrepresent? Gee, what other kind are there? We're used to TV pollution by now. If sort of make your blood tingle, but without Geritol we'll all surely be all "defenseless." The government asked that civil penalties of $500,000 each be assessed against the Williams Co. and Parkson. Oh, well, it is only money.

Weekly Gleanings ---

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

Sgt. Alvin Meyer of Randolph received serious injuries to his left foot in fighting in Viet Nam earlier in April. This information on the injury was given when Mrs. Mary Anne Meyer of Lincoln, his mother, talked with him by overseas telephone. He was taken to the army field hospital at Long Blehn where he was transferred to the U. S. Army's 249th General Hospital in Tokyo. It is expected he will be flown back to the states soon.

Coleridge will host the 1971 American Lutheran Church Women conference when it is held next spring. The tenth annual one was held recently at Creighton where about 200 ALCW members and pastors were present for the business meeting.

Robert and Judy Pecha, brother and sister, won the Thurston County 4-H Time-ly Topic Speaking Contest. The two, from Winnebago, will represent the county in the district contest which will be held in Norfolk Saturday, May 2.

Other ribbon winners were Carmen Malnberg and Carla Fuchser in the senior division, and Linda Heyne, Joanne Pecha, Mary Burmeister, Jean Lamplot, Cindy Gilsman, Kimberly Anderson and Terry Knecht in the Junior division.

Seven girls from Ponca were honored during the First Class Honor Awards at the high school auditorium Sunday evening. The girls recognized are Debbie Erdanson, Susan Gibbs, Choni Brown, Nancy Sharp, Joni Schulke, Joni Harder and Marty Knerl.

Guest speaker during the event was the Rev. P. J. Schwaab. Title of his talk was "The Young Woman of Today Facing the Challenge of Life." Mrs. Arlene Erlanson presented the first class badges.

Dale Weinberger, head basketball coach, and Larry Koehn, his assistant, apparently will not teach in the Ponca school system next fall. The two were the only teachers in the system to return unsigned contracts or not return them by last week's deadline.

However, the Pierce system has five vacancies. The closing of the St. Joseph's Catholic School made it necessary to hire three additional teachers in grades three, five and six.

Vandals stole approximately $35 from the Wisner-Pilger school after breaking into the building last week. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in one of the offices after breaking a window on the northeast corner of the new building.

Investigating the incident were the Wisner chief of police, Robert Meyer; the Cumming County sheriff, Duke Weidling, and Robert Mays of Wakefield, criminal investigator for the state patrol. They guess the vandals were after the school lunch money which had been collected that day. They also think they have leads on the culprits.

Alan Jahnke of Pender has been named by the Pender American Legion as the representative to Boys State early in June in Lincoln.

A member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, young Jahnke is active in FFA and is currently the president of the local chapter. He was a member of the Junior class play and has taken part in football for three years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Jahnke.

Named alternate was Mike Meyer.

From the "Holsum" column in the Cedar County News:

"Comes now a note (and a check) which sez: 'I was in Hartington Saturday to take advantage of your subscription offer, but you were closed. What goes?' (Signed) Hans Anderson, Wynot."

"Well, Mr. Anderson, it was this-away . . . the state convention of newspaper guys was on and we heard they were serving free lunch, so figured we'd better get there. So we did!"

A press convention is where the fellow-travelers get together and cry on each other's shoulders "cause they aren't tax-exempt as non-profit organizations."

And from the Oakland Independent and Republican's "Thought of the Week" column: "A friend is a person who knocks before he enters, not after he has taken his departure."

Have you realized it is only a hoot and a holler until school is out for another year? Isn't there only about a month left of class work?

Just a final reminder that the deadline for voter registration is Friday. If you plan to vote in the primary election May 12, you must be registered as a voter.

Anyone who has changed addresses, changed names, or who may wish to change political parties, must re-register.

Any questions concerning your need for registration can be answered by the county clerk.

Don't wait until too late and then discover you aren't qualified to vote in the city, school and county elections!

Carroll Man Featured In Washington Program

Sp/4 Lynn P. Bailey, 21, son of Mrs. Margaret Cunningham, Carroll, was featured March 30-April 1 in the World War scene in "Prelude to Taps," the U. S. Army's salute to the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C.

This is the 10th annual production by his unit, the 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry (The Old Guard) from nearby Ft. Myer, Va.; the U. S. Army Band, Ft. Myer, and the Military District of Washington.

The two-hour show, performed at Ft. Myer, included a scene portraying the American Fighting Man followed by a stirring performance of the colonial-costumed Old Guard Fife and Drum Corps. A series of vignettes continued, depicting various events in Army history—Washington and his men crossing the Delaware River, the War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, Indian wars, Spanish-American War and World War I.

The second act opens with "A Showcase in Sound" presented by the U. S. Army Band and Chorus, commanded by Colonel Samuel Loboda. A series of tableaux paying tribute to the American serviceman in World War II, the Korean War and the Republic of Viet Nam is followed by the MacArthur Tableau, in which excerpts are read from General Douglas MacArthur's address to Congress. Shown next is a scene at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and The Flag Story, which is a tribute to each of the state flags.

Climax of the entire presentation features a Pass in Review, Silver Taps and finally a 50-star flag lit with multi-colored spotlights. General Daniel Butterfield's "Taps," composed in 1862, concluded the program. It is the traditional military bugle call signaling the end of the day and the final tribute to departing comrades-in-arms.

The 3rd Infantry, known as "The President's Own," predates the Constitution of 1784. The 42 battle streamers and a valorous unit award attached to the regimental colors trace a continuous history from the Battle of Fallen Timbers to the battles in Viet Nam. The unit now has a dual mission of protecting the Nation's capital and acting as the official ceremonial unit in the Washington area.

Sp/4 Bailey's wife, Barbara, lives in Winside.

Roger L. Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer, Randolph, arrived in Korea March 26 after a 21-day leave at home following completion of medical corpsman training at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. ### Applications Needed For 4-H Counselors

Applications are due May 1 from Nebraska 4-H members wishing to enroll in training sessions to become counselors at county and district 4-H camps, John Orr, associate state 4-H leader at the University of Nebraska, reminded this week.

The first camp counselor training session at the Nebraska State 4-H Camp near Halsey will be held May 27-30, Orr said. Each county can send one delegate to one of the training sessions through scholarship funds provided by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben.

Camp counselor training is available for interested 4-Hers over 16 years of age. Any number of qualified applicants can attend from a county, Orr explained, but the single scholarship recipient will be chosen by a county committee. Cost per person for the training is $11 without the scholarship.

The 4-Hers who will then later serve as counselors at the district and county camps will supervise younger 4-H youths, providing assistance in three main areas: crafts, recreation and recreation. The counselors will work closely with the camp administrators, Orr continued, and be an integral part of the coordinated camping experience for the scores of 4-H youths who attend camp.

Orr encouraged all interested youths to apply immediately, adding that "this experience furnishes first-hand leadership training and an excellent opportunity to develop responsibility."

Coed Scholarships Worth $800 Offered

Current or former 4-H members have an opportunity to apply for one of six national scholarships worth $800 each offered to coeds planning to major in home economics in their junior year this fall, according to the National 4-H Service Committee.

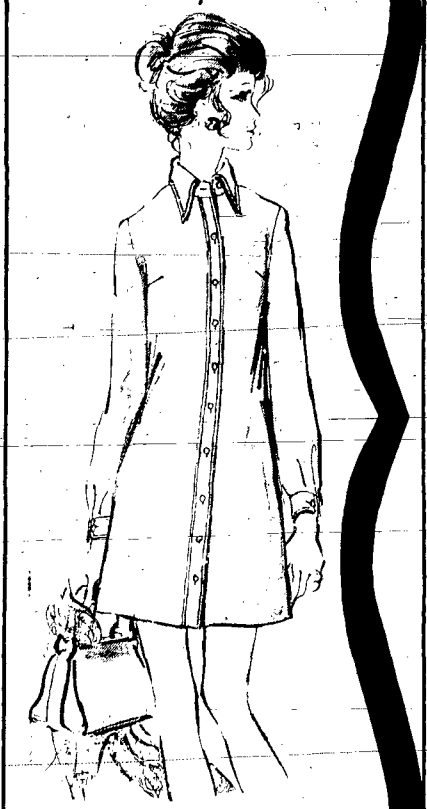

Applicants for the grants must have been 4-H members for at least three years. They must be enrolled in the fall of 1970 at an accredited college or university toward a major in home economics.

Girls interested in applying for the scholarship should contact their state 4-H office or the county extension 4-H office.

Each state may submit the application of one girl to be considered for the six grants. Her 4-H and scholastic record will be judged in early November by the Cooperative Extension Service, the scholarship program administrators. Winners will be announced during the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago, November 29 through December 3.

The six scholarships are part of the 4-H College Scholarships Fund arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

NU Coach to Speak Here

Mike Corgan, offensive backfield coach at the University of Nebraska, has been tapped to speak at the annual Wayne High Athletic and Pep Club Banquet scheduled for Monday evening, May 11th, in the Birch Room of Wayne State's Student Union. Public is invited.

Highlight of the night will be the naming of the outstanding athlete for 1969-70, an honor which last year went to Bernie Binger. The coaches at Wayne High decide on who will receive that title.

Recognition of the Pep Club and the athletes in each sport is also included on the program to start at 8 p.m. Handling those duties will be Mrs. Jacquelin Peters for the Pep Club, Allen Hansen for football and track, Dick Nelson for basketball, Don Koenig for wrestling, Harold Maciejewski for golf and cross-country, and Mike Mallette for baseball. Those athletes who will have their names engraved on the plaques at school will also be named during the evening. Following are the honors: boys can achieve most valuable player, most improved player, leading defender and honorary captain in football; most valuable, most improved, leading scorer, best free throw shooter, leading rebounder and honorary team captain in basketball; most valuable, most improved and honorary team captain in track; most valuable, batting leader and honorary captain in baseball.

The honors usually given out for the baseball and track boys may be hard to determine this year because of the abbreviated season the players have had so far. The outstanding athlete will be given a trophy to keep for himself.

Tickets for the event, which are selling for $2.50, are available from Mike Mallette or Don Koenig. Unlike last year, there are no plans being made for reservations. Tickets must be purchased in advance from the two teachers or at the high school.

Maciejewski, handling plans for the affair again this spring, said the school doesn't want anybody to purchase tickets if they are not planning on attending. As usual, the school is paying for the athletes' dinners and the Pep Club girls are paying for their own meals, he noted.

Helping the athletic director with the event are Dick Nelson and Mrs. Mavis Sip with seating arrangements, and Allen Hansen and Ron Carnes with trophies and plaques.

Superintendent Francis Han will give the invocation again this year.

Triple by Breck Giese Ices Wayne Win

Down 6-5 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, Wayne High's baseball squad exploded for five big runs to take a 10-6 victory over visiting Ponca Friday afternoon.

Wayne scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth when Ponca's hurler walked two men across the plate. Then young Breck Giese walloped a triple with two men out to clean the bases and give Wayne a comfortable 10-6 edge.

The local squad had held a 5-2 margin going into the sixth frame, but senior Randy Helgren, who got in and out of trouble in the first frame with little damage, allowed one run after loading the bases to start the sixth frame. Cook replaced him on the mound, but Ponca managed to put across four runs in the inning to take the 6-5 lead.

Highlights in the action for the local squad included a single by pitcher Randy Helgren in the opening inning to even the score at 1-1 and his double in the fifth with two out to score one run and spark Wayne to its three scores which broke a 2-2 tie. Wayne opened up the third inning with singles by Terry Hurlbert and Dick Tiengen to score one run and move into a 2-2 tie.

Ponca pushed one run across in the first and second innings and another in the extended sixth inning when they sent all nine men to face Wayne's Helgren and Cook.

Helgren fanned six men, walked four and gave up four hits in his five and one-third innings on the mound. Cook fanned three more, gave up only one walk and allowed two more hits.

Strong at the plate were Helgren with three hits in three at bats, center fielder Mike Biltoft and left fielder Dennis Redd. Both Biltoft and Redd poked out two singles in the action.

Wayne sees more action Tuesday afternoon when the local squad travels to Ponca, Thursday. Bancroft comes to Wayne and a week from Monday, May 4, Wayne goes to Dodge. Final game of the season is Allen at Wayne on Thursday, May 7.

Eagles Down Walthill For Season's 1st Win

Allen High poked out nine hits, including a homer over the left field fence by senior Curt Wheeler, to knock off Walthill, 6-3, Friday afternoon.

The win was Allen's first this season, giving the Eagles a 1-3 mark; it evened Walthill's record at 2-2.

Dennis Gelger struck out eight, walked three and gave up only six hits as he went all the way for Allen. Coach Don Kruse credited him and the rest of the team with the best game they have played this year. The Eagles cut down on their errors, a problem this year because of too little practice, and were playing aggressive ball, he said.

Allen, although playing on Walthill's field, scored one run in the first when Gary Troth doubled to bring in Paul Rubeck. Rubeck had opened the action for Allen with a double.

The visitors came up with more runs in the second inning when Rubeck, only a sophomore, singled to open the inning and scored on two errors. Two more men crossed the plate on Troth's single with bases loaded. Wheeler's homer with one out in the fifth and Trube's single in the seventh brought home Allen's two other scores.

Walthill came up with one run in the second when Bartell tripled and came home on a double by Grant, and two in the fourth when Grant and Anderson scored after two throwing errors by Allen.

Gaining two hits during the action were Rubeck, second baseman, and Troth, third baseman. The tale ended a bit differently when Allen played Ponca earlier in the week. The Indians posted a 10-8 win over the visiting Eagles even though they started out with a 7-1 deficit after one inning.

Kruse's squad came up with seven runs the first time at the plate when he sent 13 men to the plate. In that stretch, Allen only managed two hits, but four Ponca errors and five walks made the inning almost endless.

Allen added one more run in the fifth frame after giving Ponca three in the third to take an 8-4 edge. Then Ponca pushed four men across the plate in the bottom of the fifth inning to tie the score at 8-8 before scoring two in the sixth for the winning margin. Ponca hitters slammed out six hits in the action against Allen's Gary Troth, one more than the Allen hitters were able to manage. Troth walked four, struck out seven while Ponca's Starks fanned 10 and walked eight.

Allen is slated to host Reemer Wednesday and Ponca Friday. Final games of the season for the Eagles, as the schedule now stands, are with Walthill at Allen Monday, May 4, and at Wayne Thursday, May 7.

GOOD CATCHES

WE WANT A PICTURE!

An avalanche, hurtling down a mountainside at speeds that can exceed 250 miles an hour, pushes a wall of pressurized air before it. The air pressure has blown railroad cars off their tracks, while the vacuum in an avalanche's wake has pulled people out of their houses.

Pheasants Need Help Now

Persons interested in aiding the pheasants should spend some time and effort exerting man's influence over the pheasant's habitat, according to Howard L. Wieggers, Extension wildlife specialist at the University of Nebraska.

One of the chief problems pheasant hens encounter this time of year is finding adequate nesting cover, Wieggers said.

Since pheasants nest early, dead weeds and alfalfa present the only good early choices, he explained.

But problems are encountered because alfalfa is mowed prior to hatching and roadsides are often burned, especially when a lot of dead weeds have been blown into the ditches, he continued.

The obvious result is that early nesting of pheasants is systematically and regularly reduced to a fraction of the potential, Wieggers summarized.

In April especially, Wieggers said, everyone interested in aiding the pheasants can be active in preventing roadside burning.

"Burning will not reduce next year's insect or weed crop and the elimination of burning will enhance the pheasant crop in 1970," Wieggers said.

However, Wieggers pointed out, pheasant management is a year-round job, belonging to everyone who enjoys pheasants. This includes housewives, 4-H members, civic club leaders, farmers, ministers and anyone interested in the problems and opportunities of pheasant management.

Presently pheasants are occupied with the business of survival, Wieggers observed. Each day is a repeat of the previous one, involved with finding adequate quantities of food and anticipating dangers.

"In most parts of the pheasant range, the food is adequate," Wieggers said, "because mechanical harvesting of corn and milo is still inefficient enough to provide plenty of winter food."

But this may change as plants are bred to be more uniform in height and standability, Wieggers warned.

Dangers are always present, Wieggers said, for as the pheasant is an opportunist taking what is conveniently available, the pheasant predators do the same. It is good that well-meaning people do not fall into the trap of believing that the elimination of potential pheasant enemies will automatically result in more pheasants, Wieggers said, although this seems logical.

An instance has never occurred, he added, where the enemies of the pheasant such as the coyote, fox, horned owl or any combination of them together have affected pheasant numbers.

"Under reasonably normal environmental conditions the pheasant's inherited wariness will enable him to care of himself," Wieggers explained.

A campaign involving the killing of predators for the purpose of increasing pheasant numbers usually has the reverse effect, Wieggers said.

"The pheasant population controls come from within the population and not from predators," he explained.

When pheasant numbers reach a high level, next year's reproduction drops off, he continued. The reverse is also true, for when numbers are down, the hens lay up to six or more eggs per nest.

"Therefore, we see the need for emphasis on the habitat rather than the pheasant's wild enemies," Wieggers concluded.

Wakefield Banquet

Fetes Trojan Teams

Athletes at Wakefield High School were treated to a banquet April 13 held in the Elementary School gymnasium with about 200 persons in attendance.

Coach Dennis Crawford was master of ceremonies for the annual affair. Following the invocation by Pastor James Martlet, "The Patriots" sang a number of musical selections.

Superintendent Muri Beller introduced Bob Erickson as the guest speaker. Erickson is head basketball coach from Doane College and a former Wakefield High School student. He reminisced about some of his experiences in athletics and coaching.

Members of the W Club and Pep Club were recognized for their activities, along with the athletes.

Bill Gustafson, president of the W Club, expressed his appreciation to the Pep Club's support to the Trojan teams during the year.

The banquet program was concluded by singing the school song.

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott

One of the few outstanding contributions by the American Federation of Astrologers, the largest such body in the nation, is its paperback book, "The Basic Principles of Astrology."

The book, completed in 1962, presents "a modern view of an ancient science." It does just that. A few chapter headings; Astrology in Relation to Scientific and Academic Thought, The Kind of People Who Turn to Astrology, Technique of Astrology and Statistical Approach to Astrology.

The book also deals with the topics of fate and free will and twin births.

The book contains a number of interesting charts, footnotes, and graphs. If you're inquisitive, I urge you to look at this book. It's easy, fast and informative reading. Of particular interest to myself was the chapter dealing with statistics and astrology. Here we read of the Chicago psychologist Vernon Clark who performed an astrological experiment to test "the subject. He afterwards wrote:

"But they (the experiments) do infer, and quite strongly, that such a thing as an astrological technique does exist - and moreover that it is worth the attention and study of scientists in every field."

The book goes on to tell of the Florida eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, Dr. Edward Andrews, who found that the tendency to post-operative hemorrhage in tonsillectomies occurred in 80% of the cases between the moon's first and third quarters. This is one of many instances cited in the book.

I have placed two copies of "Basic Principles of Astrology" in the Wayne Public Library for readers of The Wayne Herald. I urge you to check out this book and read either all of it or the portions you find interesting.

State Ag -

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture's Economic Poisons Section, which registers all pesticides sold within Nebraska, announced this week that the products do not carry the questioned product 2,4,5-T. Ortho Brush, which was listed with the other herbicides in the article, does contain 2,4,5-T.

The Department of Agriculture brought out that 2,4,5-T as it is primarily used in Nebraska today still remains for the most part on the approved usage list that the USDA announced on April 15. According to that announcement, 2,4,5-T may still be registered for the control of weeds and brush on range, pasture and forest, or on rights of way. The Nebraska Department of Agriculture did stress that persons in Nebraska using 2,4,5-T for such usage should refrain from using it around homes, lakes, ponds and ditch banks.

Entry deadlines for the other two segments of the NCIP are Oct. 1. The special program awards competition is for those communities that have concentrated a considerable effort in one or more areas of improvement, or for communities that did not organize an improvement council and enter the community awards competition. The third segment of the NCIP is the All-Nebraska Community competition. In this program, a community must meet minimum criteria in each of the nine areas of community development.

Field Trip - (Continued from page 1) news, the Wayne County Educational Association met in Winside April 15 with 27 present. The group heard Dr. Earl von Lambert, representative from the Nebraska State Educational Association, speak on ways of evaluating the effectiveness of teaching methods.

Officers for the coming school year are Clinton G. Carr, superintendent of Emerson-Hubbard, as president; Ernie J. Carlson, superintendent of Homer, as vice president; and Donavan D. Leighton, high school principal at Emerson-Hubbard, as secretary-treasurer.

WE'RE MIGHTY PROUD...

You bet we are. We're proud because The Wayne Herald was the winner of three awards at the annual meeting of Nebraska newspapermen last week. Those awards included honorable mention for the best advertising idea, second place for the best offset photograph and first place for general excellence. That last one we're especially proud of - it's the toughest of all.

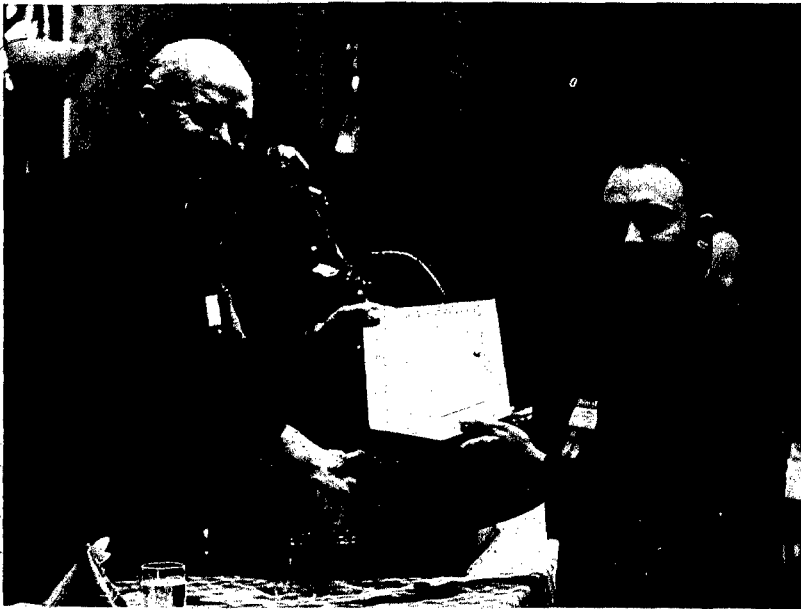

But we aren't narrow-minded enough to think that we could do it by ourselves. It took a lot more than just those of us on the newspaper. It took the help of the residents of the Wayne area who read our paper and help us make it readable. And, without a doubt, it took the help of the businessmen and advertisers who support our paper. To all these people we offer a big "thank you."

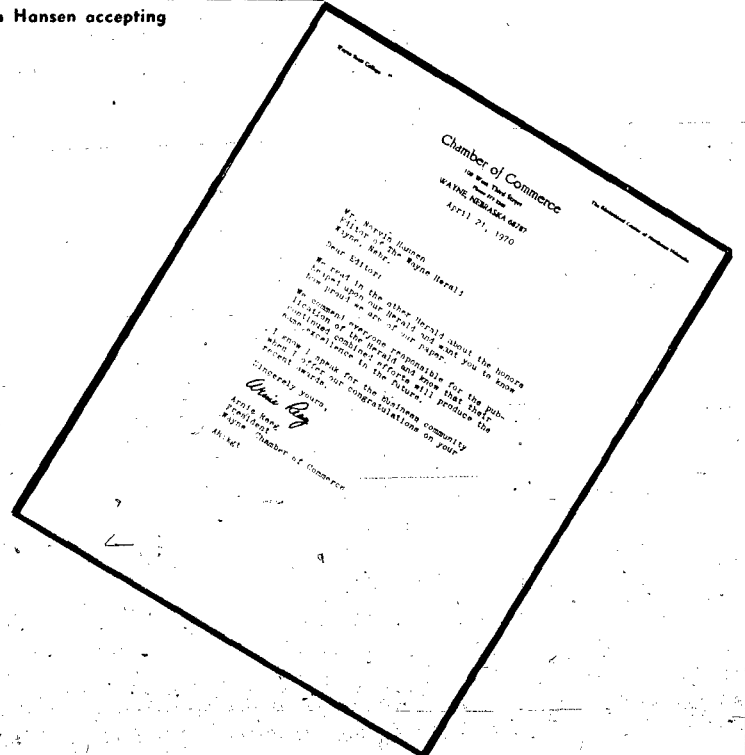

Honorable Mention, Best Advertising Idea — Jim Marsh accepting

2nd Place, Best Photo (Offset) — Norvin Hansen accepting

First Place, General Excellence — J. Alan Cramer accepting

We only pick WINNERS

Nothing but the best in quality produce

There's really nothing mysterious about the way we pick winners. You see, we established our own field inspection and buying staff in Salinas and Fresno, California, so we'd have professionals on the spot to do our picking for us . . . and for you.

Continuous inspection of growing facilities and products before shipment and right up to the point of shipment assures you of produce winners every time. Because we feel that top quality produce is one of the most important items we offer in our stores, we go beyond the standards established by the U.S.D.A.

But we don't stop there. We hurry those winners into trucks with just the right temperature inside and keep the "hurry" going right across country to your favorite Super Valu. Just part of the friendly folks service you expect at Super Valu. Come pick yourself some winners!

the friendly folks
