The annual style show will be held in the WIS gymnasium. Theme this year is "From the Gondola". Fashion highlights from the clothing construction unit in the home economics department will be featured.

New 1970 bicycle license plates went on sale at the Wayne Police Department Friday, according to Chief Vern Fairchild.

Fairchild noted that all those owning bicycles in Wayne will need to have them licensed between now and the June 1 deadline.

Licenses are available at the police station between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. for a 50 cent fee.

Storm Warning Set

The Village of Winside will continue the same system of warning residents of approaching storms this year.

Fred Brader told members of the Winside Community Club Monday night that the signal for a storm warning will be three blasts of the whistle with a half-minute of silence between each blast. The all clear signal, he said, will be one long blast.

Members of the Wayne Postal Employees Union met for a monthly business meeting Wednesday evening at the Vet's Club.

Prices Listed For Taxi Ride

Users of the taxicab service being proposed for Wayne will pay 60 cents for the first mile they travel in the cab and 15 cents for each additional mile.

Those rates, along with complete rates for the other services the Wayne Yellow Cab Taxi Company will offer, were filed recently with the Nebraska State Railway Commission. Filing of the rates, which permits protests to be filed by or before May 15, is one of the legal steps the owner of the taxi company, Vern Schulz, must go through before he can begin operation.

Also listed with the Commission are rates of 40 cents for each one-way mile on out-of-town trips, 20 cents for each round-trip mile on out-of-town trips, 75 cents for delivery of telephone messages and parcels, and 75 cents a trip to the Wayne County Club, municipal airport and county fairsgrounds.

School District Reorganization Hearing Friday

A hearing has been set for 10 a.m. Friday in the county superintendent's office at the court house regarding the validity of signatures on petitions which would merge a portion of District 67 in Cumming County with District 25 in Wayne County. If signatures are validated then the merger will occur and the petition is filed in the superintendent's office.

A public hearing, held by the Wayne County School Reorganization Committee Thursday regarding District 65 being dissolved and going to District 17 Wayne, District 95R Winside, and District 51 rural; and District 7 being dissolved and merged with Districts 1 and 25, brought no protests, according to Mrs. Gladys Porter, Wayne County superintendent of schools. The hearing was held in the county courtroom at 8:15 p.m.

Supt. Porter said Friday that she would now hold the petitions for about 10 days until a hearing can be held to validate signatures on the petitions. After validation, petitions then become legal and filed in the superintendent's office.

The Reorganization Board voted unanimously Supt. Porter said, to send a petition to the state reorganization committee which would dissolve District 66 and merge it with District 15.

Second in a Series - Mayor, Council Candidates Tackle Top Campaign Issues

Hall, Marra Seeking Votes for Mayor's Job

Q - "Why doesn't Wayne have more industry?" That question is often asked. What is your response to it? Should Wayne have more industry and, if so, what should the city council do in order to reach that goal?

Hall - Yes, Wayne needs a broader economic base. We do have more local outstanding job along with the help of the Division of Nebraska Resources, in attempting to attract industry. Their unswerving efforts have nearly succeeded in several instances. Their failures can be attributed to Wayne's unfavorable geographic location, transportation limitations and funds, not to a lack of effort.

As for the city government's part, I believe it should help Wayne industries by whatever means available.

Marra - We are at a disadvantage due to location, poor railroads and poor roads; other towns have better facilities to offer in this respect. Nevertheless, Wayne is going to strike paydirt some time and have more industry come to Wayne. Members of Wayne Industries are doing all they can. They are working with Mr. Wheeler at the state level who in turn is working nationally to bring industry in.

The council has only turned down one manufacturer due to reports about it. It later located at Neligh and took them for a ride. We don't need just anyone when financing is involved.

Q - In what specific areas should the city council spend extra time and energy on in the next few years?

Hall - Space does not permit a complete answer to this question, but one of the prime projects for the future is additional parks. Recreation is becoming one of Wayne's shortages. Surprising? We do not have a community park. We have many special use parks, such as golf course, swimming pool and ball parks - please, let's keep it. Most of our parks are play lots, which we need and must keep. Wayne needs a park on the edge of town with drives, paths and perhaps a lake or lagoon. Having spent four years on the city council - 1962-1966 - and two years on the planning commission, I have always noted this need.

Marra - Most of the urgent improvements have been taken care of in the past five years. This might be a good time to use for evaluation and long-range planning. A city such as Wayne needs planning for future growth. Many things can be accomplished by planning and taking advantage of matching funds and surplus funds, thus saving the taxpayer.

Q - There continues to be a fairly large clamor by taxpayers for tax relief. Do you have any ideas on some way the citizens in Wayne could be offered some tax relief?

Hall - I recently paid my real estate taxes of nearly $1,000 to the county treasurer's office, as many of you have. Have you looked at the fine print on the back of the tax receipt? You should!

The third and final series exploring the views of the local candidates in next week's election will be run in Thursday's issue of the newspaper. It will cover the candidates for the Wayne-Carroll school board.

I think we should clamor for tax relief; but when we do, let's be aware of who is spending our tax dollars. The mill levy, as outlined on the back of your tax receipts - if you live within the city limits shows that if your taxes were $1,000, your dollars would be spent by the governmental units in the following way:

Liberace to Perform At '70 State Fair
The famed pianist, Liberace, will be one of the headline acts appearing at the 1970 Nebraska State Fair.
The ever-smiling Liberace signed a contract with the Fair to appear the nights of Sept. 5 and 6, according to Monte Kiffin of Lexington, president of the Fair Board. The 1970 State Fair opens in Lincoln on Sept. 3 and concludes Sept. 9.
Kiffin said that two, and possibly three, additional "big name acts" will be booked for the remainder of the Grandstand schedule. "As soon as we get signed contracts we will announce the rest of the 1970 program," he said.
Liberace is in his 25th year as a headliner. He first gained international fame via his own syndicated television program, which was seen in 190 cities and several foreign countries. He combines showmanship along with his skill at the keyboard. The Nebraska performances will include the famed candleabra, lavish wardrobe and even some soft shoe dancing. Liberace advised Fair officials.
Liberace may return to network television this fall. He signed for a limited number of fair dates this season, Kiffin said.
All night Grandstand shows will start at 7:45 and tickets for the Liberace programs will cost $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00.

School Dist. 17 658
NE Vo-Tec Council 10
Ed. Service Unit No. 1 10

I am very much in favor of economy in city government, and believe the city levy can be held very close to its 20 mills. Perhaps the candidates for school board can better answer this question than those for city offices.

Marra - This is something we hear constantly and the city seems to get the fault. Why? Because the average citizen does not know where his tax dollar goes. The mill levy for the city has decreased 8.0 mills from 1966 (1966 mill levy of 27.35 to the 1969 mill levy of 19.35). The hospital bond retirement accounted for 4.0 mills. Also, our residential electric rates have decreased.

I personally feel the council of the last four years has accomplished more on a lower mill levy and I intend to keep that mill levy down in the future. If additional money is needed due to growth, the added valuation due to the growth will furnish it. I cannot speak for the other recipients of our tax money, namely the county, school and educational unit.

Q - There has been some criticism of the engineering setup in the city of Wayne. What are your feelings on this subject and do you have any ideas on how the setup could be changed and, if necessary, bettered?

Hall - I believe this should be question No. 1 and I welcome the opportunity to face the one most important question on everyone's mind.

Whatever engineering firm we hire will at times make mistakes, but it should correct these mistakes at no cost to the city.

Consolidated Engineers, or its predecessors, have been under contract to Wayne for about nine years. They have been in error enough times to cause a loss of confidence by many of you. They are under a yearly contract which comes up for renewal August 12. I believe the new council should take a long, hard look, at their record when the time comes to hire our city engineer for another year.

Marra - There has been considerable criticism in regard to our engineering setup. It has not only been a topic of conversation by the public but also by the council members. Most of the criticism stems back from previous councils and our previous engineering firm, who also employed our present engineer.

There have been errors in engineering, there have been bad jobs by contractors due to insufficient inspections. The present engineer also has many points in his favor which perhaps only the council appreciates. For example, he keeps abreast of the expansion of the city, suggests things that will need attention in the next few years, reminds the council of matching funds available and keeps in mind deadlines for applications. He also assists the finance committee on operation costs and various evaluations. Most of these extra services are at no charge. He has full knowledge of the city layout, sewers, storm sewers, water lines, etc. If we replace him, we lose as well as gain. It needs further study. The new council and I, if elected, will endeavor to improve on this department.

Q - Do you have anything to say on some subject which may not have been covered by these four questions.

Hall - Zoning has been a hot topic the last few years. Believe me, having served on the planning-zoning commission, I am all too aware of the hours of study and soul searching when considering an applicant's building project. We need zoning laws. It's a shame we didn't have them 30 years ago. If we had, many of our problems wouldn't be with us today. But somewhere along the line we have allowed some big city ideas to invade our thinking. Wayne is unlike any other city. It is Wayne, Nebraska.

I fear we have been too restrictive on new developers, business expansion and even industry. This I believe: Wayne is at a point of emergence into a city of the first class. This will cause growing pains.

The new council will have to face some very great decisions. I hope to be there as I may help them make these decisions.

Sydow, Thomas, Brasch Vying in First Ward

Q - "Why doesn't Wayne have more industry?" That question is often asked. What is your response to it. Should Wayne have more industry and, if so, what should the city council do in order to reach that goal?

Sydow - Most all citizens of Wayne would like to see Wayne have more industry. Since it would be helpful to employment in the area and also would help with the tax burden. I feel that projects to secure industry should be the primary work of Wayne Industries and the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, but the city council should be ready to cooperate and assist any prospective industry.

Thomas - Wayne does not have more industry because thousands of towns are actively seeking industry. Wayne has worked on this, but we have not been as aggressive as have other towns who have been more successful.

Wayne definitely should have more

Harvey Brasch
Industry. The city council can assist by working more actively with Wayne Industries and appropriate committees of the Chamber of Commerce to strengthen and coordinate Wayne's contacts with potential industries.

Brasch - I will answer this and the other three questions with this one answer: If I am elected I will represent the ideas of the First Ward. It won't always be my ideas, but the ideas of the majority of the First Ward citizens.

Q - In what specific areas should the city council spend extra time and energy on in the next few years?

Sydow - I feel that the city council should spend its energy in improvement of our streets, parks, recreation facilities, parking and traffic control. I believe that adopting a budget and adhering to the budget as adopted is the most important area that a council should work on in the future.

Thomas - The city council should devote extra attention to our sewage disposal plant, industrial development and over-all city planning during the next few years.

Q - There continues to be a fairly large clamor by taxpayers for tax relief. Do you have any ideas on some way the citizens in Wayne could be offered some tax relief?

Sydow - In answer to the tax problem, I feel that the council must see that tax money is spent wisely; it should examine all expenditures carefully to see if such expenditures are necessary and will result in an improvement to the city.

Thomas - Some tax relief may be possible through continual attention to the management of the business affairs of the city. I believe the city council should carefully study the present allocation of city-levied taxes.

Q - There has been some criticism of the engineering setup in the city of Wayne. What are your feelings on this subject and do you have any ideas on how the setup could be changed and, if necessary, bettered?

Sydow - I believe that the city engineer should have knowledgeable information on all city projects and that the engineering firm should be employed on a retainer basis rather than a retainer plus a percentage of the projects.

Thomas - The engineering setup in Wayne should be investigated. I believe some of the criticism is justified. The city council should assess the engineering needs of the city, then consider alternative approaches for meeting these needs.
