

Unofficial Tally in Tuesday Primary Shows 3 County Officials Defeated

by Merlin Wright

Wayne County voters pulled a number of surprises out of the political hat Tuesday. In the primary election, unofficial voting figures show several changes will be made in county government staff.

Wakefield Voters Say 'No' to Liquor Issue

Voters in Wakefield reportedly turned down a proposal for liquor by the drink in Tuesday's election, 234-222.

Official returns on the election were unavailable from the Dixon County clerk Wednesday morning because of trouble with the telephone lines between Wayne and Ponca.

According to reports obtained by The Herald, Mayor Ed Schnasse, running unopposed for another term, gained 423 votes in the municipal election. The two councilmen running for another term, Phil House in the First Ward and Eugene Erb in the Second Ward, gained 218 votes and 154 votes respectively.

Incumbent Bryan Johnson reportedly received 21 write-in votes for police magistrate. No candidate was listed on the ballot for that post.

In the election for the Wakefield school board, Elmer E. Carlson and Sidney D. Preston were leading the third candidate, Lefty C. Stevens, in the race for two seats.

who was seeking a fifth term. Incumbent candidate John T. Bressler Jr., clerk of the district court, was seeking a fourth term in that office, but lost the four-cornered race with Darold Kraemer, Richard Miller and Joann Ostrander. Mrs. Ostrander polled 674 votes while her nearest rival, Richard Miller, received 514. Clerk Bressler ran third with 380 and Darold Kraemer had a total of 295.

In the race for two county commissioner offices, Republican Joe Wilson of Wakefield tallied 658 votes to overcome John H. Luscher, who polled 471. Democratic incumbent candidate, John Surber drew 332. All three men had a total of 295.

4 Area Villages Elect Trustees

Unofficial results of the primary election Tuesday in Carroll, Hoskins, Sholes and Winside, shows the following board of trustee candidates with polling results in parentheses:

—Carroll: Perry Johnson (62) and Walter Rehwisch (58) elected. Phil Osborn received 35 votes.
—Hoskins: Richard Doffin (73), Lloyd Ave (69) and George Langenberg Jr. (67). All were elected.
—Sholes: Glenn Nelson and William Hellmer each received eight votes and were both elected.
—Winside: Vernon Hill (126), George Gahl (124), and Marilyn Morse (84). All three were elected. There were 42 write-in votes for Charles Farran.

were running for the First District commissioner's office. Candidates for the Third District commissioner's office had lopsided margins as Republican Floyd Burt of Winside received 294 to defeat Roy Davis of Winside, who polled 150. Lefty Wachtler of Hoskins, campaigning on the Democratic ballot, got 71 votes.

Leon Meyer

Don Reed, incumbent candidate for the county attorney's office, won by more than a two-to-one margin over his opponent, John V. Addison. Reed's votes numbered 1,252, with Addison getting 596.

Officers re-elected, who were running unopposed, were Norris Weible, clerk; Don Weible, Sheriff; and Henry Arr, assessor. Fred Riekers tallied the highest number of votes for anyone candidate in seeking the office of county superintendent of schools. He ran unopposed and won the support of 2,210 voters.

There was a close contest for two seats on the Noxious Weed Control Authority. John Owens and Mike Kessel tallied 1,616 and 1,554 votes respectively to win over Carl Lentz with 1,056.

In other non-political balloting, Richard E. Adkins of Osmond took the top rung position for Regent of University of Nebraska third district, drawing 895 votes in a four-way race. Kermit Wagner came in second with 512, Sigme Kim Lauridsen third with 333 and Francis H. Hanson fourth with 278.

Ronald F. Aschoff was unopposed in seeking a place on district two of the governing board of Northeast Nebraska Technical College.

Candidates for members at large in the Educational Service Unit One and their total votes: Kenneth M. Olds, 2,066; Darrel Merry, 1,567; Robert Schwartz, 1,627; and C. J. Vlach, 1,505.

Earl C. Anderson had a total of 242 votes in his unopposed campaign for director of Wayne County Public Power District Subdivision One. Leland Thompson received 514 for director of Power District Subdivision Two. He also was unopposed.

On the national Republican ticket, Roman L. Hruska received an overwhelming majority of votes for U. S. Senator with 1,624 to Glebe's 175. Wallace C. Peterson went ahead of opponents Frank Morrison (283) and David Thomas (17) with 366 votes on the Democratic ticket.

Weather

Severe thunder and lightning provided plenty of fireworks in the Wayne area around 7:45 p.m. Tuesday night as a storm cell moved across Wayne County dumping more than an inch of rain. The electrical storm downed two utility lines in Wayne. Firemen were called out in the heaviest part of the storm, as were repair crews, to 10th and Windom Streets, and Grainland Road to make repairs.

Area Schools Schedule Baccalaureate Sunday

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday for high school seniors in Wakefield, Allen and Winside.

Baccalaureate for Wakefield High School seniors has been set for three o'clock Sunday in the elementary school gymnasium. A school spokesman said the Rev. James Marlett of the First Presbyterian Church will speak on the topic "Some Advice for the Young Critic."

Invocation and benediction are to be given by the Rev. Fred Jansson of the Evangelical Covenant Church.

Victor Carlson will play both the processional and recessional on the piano. The Triple Trio, accompanied by Mrs. Diane Trullinger, will sing "I'll Walk With God." A solo, "The Shall Feed His Flocks," will be sung by Marlene Mills.

Members of the junior class are decorating the auditorium for the program using the seniors' colors, midnight blue and silver; the class flower, a red rose, and motto, "What we are, are becoming."

Baccalaureate at Allen High School is slated for 8 p.m. Sunday in the school auditorium. Professional and recessional will be the "Priest's March" by Mendelssohn, played by Darcy Swenson. Invocation and benediction See BACCALAUREATE, page 7

A Mite Too Early

A former Wayne lady, Helen Hecac, may be a little out out with herself for moving to Norfolk as soon as she did.

Had she stayed in Wayne a short time longer and had she been in the business district Thursday night she could have gone home with a nice $200 check in her purse, for her name was the one called in last Thursday's Cash Night drawing. This week the prize will be worth $250 to the person called who's in one of the participating stores at 8 o'clock.

'Confidence Artists Starting to Multiply In Summer's Heat'

Elderly citizens in the Wayne area are being advised to be on the alert for confidence men and fly-by-night sales rackets.

The warning comes from the executive director of the State Advisory Committee on Aging, Ron Jensen, who cites an elderly Seward resident who was bilked out of $700. Jensen said that the summer months will see an army of fast-talking con men with high-pressure gimmicks hit the road to prey on the elderly.

"Older persons are especially vulnerable to these parasites," Jensen pointed out, "as the elderly are usually somewhat isolated and just lonely enough to talk to anyone who comes to the door." Jensen asked the cooperation of all Nebraskans in reporting confidence schemes which prey upon older persons. He offered See Confidence Artists, page 7

Police Set Dates For Bike School

Youngsters between the ages of six through twelve will want to note that the annual bicycle school sponsored by the Wayne Police Department has been scheduled for a three-day period, June 11, 12 and 13.

Pat Halley, assistant police chief, said Tuesday that the school will be held only three days this year, instead of the usual four, and has been scheduled so as not to conflict with various church's Vacation Bible School programs.

Bike classes will start at 8:30 a.m. and dismiss around 10 a.m. Youths will study traffic rules, the proper way to ride and learn bicycle safety through audiovisual aids.

Halley said there is no fee for attending the school which is to be held at the police station.

Sandahl, Giese Elected to Terms On School Board

Residents of the Wayne-Carroll school district named incumbent Morris Sandahl and Wilbur Giese to four-year seats on the school board in Tuesday's election.

Sandahl, a salesman at Logan Valley Implement in Wayne, gained 777 votes to lead all candidates in the election. Giese, assistant postmaster at Wayne, came up with 744 votes.

Closest contender in the race was Mrs. Robert Merchant with 706 votes. Trailing were Jim

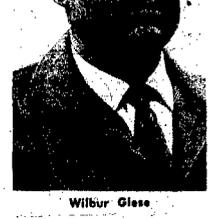

Morris Sandahl

Sturm with 495 and Dick Brauner with 162.

All candidates in the race are Wayne residents.

Total votes cast in the election amounted to 2,884.

Ending his term on the board this spring along with Sandahl is Dean Schram, who declined to run again.

New Post Office Planned for Wayne

Construction on a new post office building for Wayne will probably begin sometime next year.

That's the information received at the Wayne Herald by telephone Tuesday from Congressman Robert V. Denney's office in Washington, D.C. A caseworker at Denney's office said the Post Office Department announced early Tuesday that it had given departmental approval for construction of the new building.

Total square feet for the building and adjacent land will be 25,500, a considerable increase over the present 15,038 square feet. The interior of the proposed building would have 5,060 square feet, just over 100 more than the present building has. Biggest increase would come in the area of parking, with 11,100 square feet planned for the new building. The present building has only 4,800 square feet for parking.

Don Wightman, postmaster in Wayne for the past 16 years, said he has been attempting to get a new building in Wayne for about five years. It has been within the past five years that the postal business here has grown so large that it's getting almost impossible to handle out of the present building, he pointed out.

Wightman said that a new building was close to being authorized for Wayne about a year ago, but the cutback in federal spending for new construction halted those plans.

When built, the postal building will be owned privately and leased to the federal government. The present structure, built over 30 years ago, is owned by the government.

Next probable step, according to the postmaster, will be the running of a survey on the possible building sites.

Indians' Spree Ends Near Allen Saturday

Two Indians are in custody—one in the Thurston County Jail in Pender and one in a hospital in Omaha—following a spree at stealing and wrecking four pickups in northeast Nebraska late last week.

The two men were taken into custody after they wrecked the last pickup at the intersection of Highways 9 and 20 north of Allen late Friday night. The two walked to the Myron Osbar trailer home near the intersection and were later taken to the Wakefield Community Hospital for treatment.

Wrecked in the last accident was a pickup belonging to R. E. "Buss" Good Jr. of Allen. His pickup was taken from his home in Allen after another pickup the Indians had reportedly stolen from Wakefield ran out of gas about two miles northwest of Allen. The Indians apparently walked to Allen, jumped the wires on the vehicle and headed north. They had earlier stolen—and wrecked—pickups in Thurston and Dakota Counties, according to the Dixon County sheriff's office.

Student Certificates Aid in Landing Job

Students in the vocational office practice class at Wayne High School will this year begin receiving a new certificate of performance upon successful completion of the two-hour course.

The certificates, being started for the first time by teacher Jean Swanson, will indicate the business courses successfully completed, typing and shorthand speeds and attendance record. The certificate should give prospective employers an accurate picture of the applicant without testing, explains the teacher.

Latest to Earn Title

Carla Janssen, a senior at Wayne High School, has been named the secretary of the month for May in the vocational office practice class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Janssen of Carroll.

NU Scholarships Awarded Youths At Awards Fete

Three area students were awarded scholarships to the University of Nebraska School of Journalism during the 10th annual Journalism Awards Banquet Saturday night at the Nebraska Center in Lincoln.

Receiving some of the more than $16,500 worth of scholarships from Nebraska publishers, broadcasters and members of the state's journalism profession, were Jim and Ann Pedersen of Laurel and Phil Witt of Winside.

Jim Pedersen is a 1967 Laurel High School graduate and will be a senior at the University next fall. He received a $400 Minneapolis Star Scholarship.

His sister, Ann, was honored with a $250 Nebraska Broadcasters Association Scholarship. She is a senior at Laurel High School and plans to attend the University. Jim and Ann's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. I. See SCHOLARSHIPS, page 7

Hall Wins Mayor's Seat

Kent Hall, showing a surprising ability to attract votes, won the mayor's seat in Tuesday's city election in Wayne by gaining 511 votes, nearly half of the 1,268 total cast during the day.

Chris Tietgen, former mayor, came up with 401 votes, and William Marra, a latecomer trying to win the post by write-ins, came up with 356.

Hall, owner of Wayne Greenhouse, carried all three wards with 136 and Alfred Sydow with 84.

Fuelberth, associated with his father in the real estate business, will serve on the council for a short two-year term—filling out Jack Kingston's term—as the result of whipping Gene Fletcher by 212 to 153 in the Second Ward. Pat Gross, manager of Triangle Finance, polled 211 votes to Ivan Beeks' 171 in the race for the regular four-year term in that ward.

Manager of Peoples Natural Gas, Mosley ended the race with 180 votes, nearly as many as the total for the other three candidates. In the race, Virgil Kardell gained 96 votes in the race against Mosley. Melvin "Bud" Froehlich polled 77 and LeRoy Breitzsch polled 43.

Total votes cast in the race for mayor was 1,268. The breakdown of those votes by ward: See CITY ELECTION, page 7

Ring Is President Of Student Council

Wayne High School students have new officers in the Student Council as a result of an election held Friday.

Ron Ring was elected president of the council and his running mate, Joan Merchant, was named vice-president. Ring succeeds Dennis Ellermeier who is a senior this year.

The new president is a sophomore and also president of his class. He will assume his duties for the 1970-71 term at the conclusion of the final council meeting for the school year slated May 18.

Ron Ring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marle Ring. Joan Merchant is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Merchant.

'Athlete of the Year'

Randy Halgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Halgran of rural Wayne, was named Athlete of the Year at Monday night's annual Wayne High Athletic-Pop Club Banquet. Each year the coaches at the school pick the athlete to receive that highest recognition. Among his honors, Randy was named most valuable player in three sports: football, basketball and baseball. Story and pictures of the other athletes honored during the night appear on the sports page of this issue of the Herald.

AFS Student Speaks For School Program

Wayne High School students attended a Student Council convocation Thursday in the lecture hall with Tessie Urian of the Philippines as guest speaker.

Tessie is the current American Field Service student attending Wayne High School. She spoke to the student body about her country and experiences at home. Miss Urian arrived in the U. S. last summer and has made her home with Dr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson in Wayne for the school term. She will return to the Philippines this summer.

Candidates for offices in the Student Council did a little campaigning at the convocation. Each candidate, with his vice-presidential running mate, spoke about the platform his party was utilizing.

Candidates and respective running mates were Tom McDermott for president and Rick Wall; Dale Tomridge and Bill Fletcher; Ron Ring and Joan Merchant. Students chose Ron Ring for president and Joan Merchant as vice-president in an election held Friday.

Storm Troublesome Here Tuesday Night

Wayne firemen were called out Tuesday evening about 7:30 when lightning struck near Morey Hall and burned off a power line at 10th and Windom Sts. The lightning also burned out a transformer in the college dormitory.

Firemen also went to West Grainland Road about the same time when lightning hit a power pole and set it on fire. Lights were turned off in several parts of town by the city light crews so the line crew could clean up the debris caused during the incidents.

2 Area Juniors Named Delegates To Lawman Week

American Legion District III Commander Eugene Swanson of Wakefield recently announced the selection and acceptance of two area youths to attend the third annual Junior Lawman Week slated to be held in Lincoln June 1-5.

Tim Sharer, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Sharer of Wayne, and Larry Schantell of Wakefield, were named to represent this area during the annual event.

Sharer is a junior at Wayne High School and represents his class on the student council. He has lettered in football, played two years of basketball and has been student manager two years. He plays Junior Legion baseball and participates in the school band, choir, orchestra, stage band, and is an honor roll student.

Schantell is a junior in Wakefield High School and has played three years of football for the Trojans and three years of golf.

Boys attending the Junior Lawman Week are all high school juniors and are nominated by individual Legion Posts in the district.

This third annual Junior Law and Order School, sponsored by the Nebraska American Legion and held at the State Safety Patrol Training Center at the Lincoln Air Park, will host a total of 45 boys.

During the week they will receive instructions similar to that provided for Safety Patrol officers. Their instructors will include representatives of all branches of law enforcement including sheriffs, local police, State Safety Patrol, FBI, and county attorneys.

The program was originated two years ago by the Nebraska American Legion. Other states are now holding similar programs.

Phyllis Muller, Robert Rhodes Married May 2

Wedding vows were exchanged last Saturday at Wakefield's Salem Lutheran Church by Phyllis Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil G. Muller, Wakefield, and Robert H. Rhodes, son of Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Edward A. Rhodes, Fremont. The Rev. Robert V. Johnson, Wakefield, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Countie Baker sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Paulsen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a toe-length gown of nylon organza and acetate lace, styled with wedding band neckline, Camelot sleeves and crescent waistline. Pink and green flowers accented the lace bodice, and pink and green vertical bands accented the skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of white roses, centered with a removable orchid corsage.

Cindy Nelson, Genoa, was maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Pat Hickman, Omaha. Their gowns were of mint green rayon chiffon, imported from Japan, and were fashioned with long peeka-too sleeves and deep moss colored velvet trim. Their matching headpieces were of chiffon and they carried nosegays of pink and white carnations with white daisies. The bride's personal attendant was her sister, Mrs. Ronald Vendi, Baton Rouge, La.

Best man was Robert Davis, Pueblo, Colo., and groomsman was Michael Rhodes, Fremont, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers were John Horvack, Fremont, and Tom Trevisani, Ulea, N.Y. The men wore semi-formal tuxedos.

Candlelighters were Debra and David Rhodes, Fremont, brother and sister of the bridegroom, and flowergirl was Michelle Vendi, Baton Rouge, La. Michael Muller, Wakefield, was ringbearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hanson were host to the reception held following the ceremony. Mrs. Louie Hansen was dining room hostess. Carol Duerfeldt, Falls City, registered guests and Kim Baker and Michael Hansen carried gifts.

Mrs. Burnell Baker, Sioux City, Iowa, and Mrs. Roger Hanson, Wakefield, cut the cake, which was served by Sheila Deescher, Wakefield, and Pat Rhodes, Fremont. Mrs. Emil Horacek, Fremont, and Marcee Muller, Tecumseh, poured and Twila Baker, Omaha, and Mrs. Bill Baker, Norfolk, served punch. Waitresses were Carolyn Muller, Barbara Lahr, Cindy Johnson, Jana Dahlgren, Donna Grose, Ann Muller, Melva Kraemer and Maria Dalgren.

Working in the kitchen were Mrs. Hubert Eaton, Mrs. Melvin Kraemer, Mrs. Harvey Henningson, Mrs. Clarence Lahr and Mrs. Lee Stauffer.

For her going-away ensemble the bride chose a lavender linen coat and dress ensemble accented with silk organza scarf. The couple are making their home at 1039 E. Linden, Fremont, where the bride is a sophomore at Midland Lutheran College. The bridegroom is a senior at Midland.

FNO Club Ends Season

FNO Club closed the season with a meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Alan Cramer. Guests were Mrs. Anna Berry and Mrs. Lyle Seymour. Prize winners were Mrs. John Addison, Mrs. Ted Armbruster, Mrs. Bob Bergt and Mrs. Mike Eynon.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Recent Bride

A miscellaneous shower was held Saturday at the Woman's Club room honoring Mrs. Curtis Brudigan, a recent bride. Thirty-five guests were present. Decorations were in blue and white. Mrs. Allen Hammer and Jo Harder won prizes at games and presented them to the honoree. Jo Harder assisted with gifts and Mrs. Linda Brudigan poured.

Hostesses were Mrs. Arden Olson, Mrs. Dean Brudigan, Mrs. Howard Wacker and Jane and Jean Wacker.

School Picnic Planned

School District 15 closing picnic will be held Sunday, May 17, at 12:30 in Bressler Park. Mrs. Janet O'Sullivan is teacher.

Shannon C. Reeds Married Sunday In Evening Rites

Lou Angela Agler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agler, Wayne, and Shannon Charles Reeds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Reed, Cherokee, Iowa, were married in 4 p.m. rites last Sunday afternoon at the Wakefield Christian Church. Pastors John Epperson, Wakefield, and Gary Giese, Denison, Iowa, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was appointed with peach gladiolus and white candles. Lynette Olson sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Banquet," accompanied by Merle Ring on the organ and Bruce Ring on the trumpet.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a toe length A-line gown of Chantilly lace and angel skin, fashioned with leg of mutton sleeves, high banded neckline, high rise skirt and detachable train. Her veil of elbow length silk illusion was caught to a forward arrangement of pearl edged petals.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Donna Agler, and bridesmaid was Sherrill Glandt, Norfolk, the bridegroom's sister. Their peach colored floor length gowns were empire styled and were fashioned with puffed sleeves.

The bride's brother, John Agler, Wayne, served as best man, and groomsman was Larry Glandt, Norfolk. Ushers were Ben Reed and Randy Reed, Cherokee, Iowa; Larry Glandt, Norfolk, and Brock Giese, Wayne. The men wore white dinner jackets with black trousers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Agler chose a navy blue knit. Mrs. Reed wore an aqua knit dress and both had peach rose corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Giese served as hosts to the reception for 200 held at the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. Allen Agler, Joplin, Mo., and Gema Giese, Wayne, registered guests, and Gema Giese and Deena Humphrey arranged gifts. Mrs. Robert Agler, Ilay Springs, and Mrs. Wayne Murrell, Cherokee, Iowa, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Claire Buskirk, Lincoln, poured and Mrs. Milton Rosencotter, Pierce, served punch. Waitresses were Joyce Grose and Merry Lou Slegler, Wayne, and Karen Porter, Norfolk. Working in the kitchen were Mrs. Maurice Olson, Mrs. Sage Porter, Mrs. Shiver-Carlson, Mrs. Kenneth Packer, Mrs. Roy Wiggins and Mrs. Harold Olson.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a peach knit dress. The bride attended Nebraska Christian College, Norfolk, where she is now employed at Jeanne's Fashion Center, Norfolk. The bridegroom, who also attended Nebraska Christian College, is a staff announcer at Radio Station WJAG, Norfolk. The couple took a wedding trip to Colorado and are making their home at Chateau Normandy Apartments, 1003 N. 6th St., Norfolk.

Nearly three-quarters of the nation's agricultural graduates now come from cities.

Arlene M. Olson, Theodore Longe, Exchange Vows in Rites at Uehling

Arlene Marie Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olson, Uehling, and Theodore W. Longe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Longe, Winslow, were married May 3 in double ring rites at the Congregational United Church of Christ, Uehling.

Rev. Donald J. Bosworth, Scribner, officiated. Charles Landholm sang "At Dawning," "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love." Mrs. Russell Uehling was organist. The church was decorated with altar bouquets of white gladiolus, pink snapdragons and daisies and candelabra entwined with ivy.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of sheer organza styled in princess lines. Rows of lattice lace and pink ribbon accented the princess lines. The bouffant bishop sleeves were trimmed with lace. Her shoulder length, bonnet type veil was trimmed with lattice lace and pink ribbon. She carried an arrangement of pink roses, daisies and stephanotis.

Sharon Seelmeier, Uehling, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sheila Stecher, Hooper, and Linda Longe, Winslow, the bridegroom's sister. They wore identically styled gowns of light pink silk nylon dotted swiss fashioned with back bow and set-in-pleat. Each carried a bouquet of pink roses and daisies.

Thomas Iverson, Wayne, was best man. Rodney Nicholson, Wakefield, and Raymond Olson, the bride's brother, were groomsmen. Ushers were Eugene and Donald Longe, the bridegroom's brothers, and Dale Jaeger and William Wylie. The men wore dark tuxedos.

Carol Olson, Uehling, and Lila Longe, Winslow, sisters of the bride, lit the candles. David Longe, Winslow, the bridegroom's brother, was ringbearer. Lorraine Longe, Winslow, the bridegroom's sister, was flowergirl. The bride's mother wore a light blue brocade coat dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue two-piece suit. Each had a corsage of pink roses and mums.

A reception for 200 guests was held in Uehling Memorial Auditorium following the ceremony. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landholm, Uehling, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Echtenkamp, Winslow.

Mrs. Leon Beard, Nancy Engdahl, Ruth Bennett and Marilyn Block arranged the gifts. Mrs. Alyce Forth and Mrs. Herbert Echtenkamp cut the cake which was served by Mrs. Duane Larson and Mrs. Rodney Nicholson. Mrs. Harry Olson, Mrs. Roland Larson and Mrs. Dean Peterson poured. Judy Suhr and Mrs. Gale Peterson served punch.

Recent Bride Honored With Bridal Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Saturday evening at the United Methodist Church to honor Mrs. Rodney Brogren, nee Claire Bleich, Winslow. Thirty-five guests were present.

Hosting the event were Mrs. Norris Nielsen, Mrs. Elmer Nielsen, Mrs. Dennis Swanson, Mrs. Edwin Heithold, Mrs. Dennis Evans and Mrs. Richard McCormick. Decorations were in the bride's chosen colors, white and apricot. Mrs. Richard McCormick, Sioux City, assisted her sister with gifts.

Game prizes won by Mrs. Walter Bleich, Mrs. Paul Zoffka, Mrs. Raymond Nielsen, Mrs. Charles Jackson and Mrs. Dale Langenberg, were forwarded to Mrs. Brogren. Mrs. Walter Bleich poured.

Mrs. Brogren left Monday for Norfolk, Va., to join her husband who is serving in the U.S. Army. The couple were married April 24 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winslow.

Mark 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Olsen, Carroll, were honored Sunday evening at the Carroll city auditorium with an open house reception honoring their golden wedding anniversary. About 50 friends and relatives were present. The event was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dankula and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wittler.

Decorations were in gold and green. The anniversary cake, in the shape of a 50, topped with two bells, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Lloyd Dankula, Mrs. Joim Hamm and Mrs. Ernie Sands assisted in the kitchen. Susan Hamm served punch and Mrs. Ervin Wittler poured.

Card prizes were won by Mrs. Lora Johnson, Mrs. Carl Jensen, Ernie Sands and Joe Hinkel.

Olsens also were honored at a family dinner in the Gurney Lorenz home May 3 and several friends called in their home for cake and coffee. Mrs. A. Because of Mrs. Olsen's health, no open house was held.

Olsens have spent most of their married life in the Carroll area. Their children are Bob and Arthur Olsen and Mrs. Mary Ann Lorenz, of Iandolph, Mrs. Betty Hartunt, Oregon, and June at home. They also have 14 grand-children.

Northeast Extension Notes by Myrtle Anderson

Exhaust Fans It's been estimated that as much as 1,600 pounds of moisture is produced every year in the average kitchen from the cooking process alone. Add grease and smoke to that moisture and household furnishings may be in trouble. The installation of an exhaust fan can prevent this problem. Ducted fans are more efficient in removing grease-laden moisture from the air. The non-ducted fans are designed to clean, recirculate and remove odors, but they do not eliminate heat and moisture.

There are several different types of fans available to choose from. Exhaust equipment can be mounted in the ceiling, the wall, cabinets and range hoods. A hood fan is usually more efficient. A ducted fan should have the exhaust vented to the outside. Keep the duct run to the outside as straight as possible and less than 10 feet long. Don't vent to the attic, as the collected grease particles are a fire hazard and a food source for insects.

There are several factors to consider in installing ceiling or hood fans. The ceiling fan should be installed as close to the ceiling as possible. The hood fan should be directly over the cook top. The problem here arises with the height of the placement of the fan. Install the hood fan so the lower edge is in line with the top of the head, and the work area is visible.

Awesome hitting, scoring in first round - - - Four Teams Advance in Tournament

A total of 36 hits and 34 runs catapulted four area high school teams into the semi-final round of the Class B district three baseball tournament Monday at Wayne.

Two of the top-seeded teams accounted for most of the action: Dodge (seeded first) beat Ponca 13-3 on 13 hits and Wayne (seeded third) connected nine times for a 12-2 lopsided win over Allen. Walthill dropped out of the tournament as Bancroft won 6-4 on ten hits; Wakefield needed four hits to eke out a 3-1 victory over Snyder.

Second round of the pre-state competition is scheduled for Friday when Dodge will meet Wakefield at 1 p.m. in the upper bracket and Bancroft plays Wayne at 3 p.m. in the lower bracket.

Allen	200	000	2 3 3

Wayne High had little trouble handling Allen in its 12-2 loss after a shaky first inning. The Blue Devils came up with three tallies to start the contest - only to see Allen come back with two runs in the bottom of the first inning. After that, pitcher Randy Helgren (with relief from Rod Cook in the sixth) held the Eagles helpless while the Wayne batsmen connected seven times for nine more runs.

Mike Bittorf started the Blue Devils on the way to their sixth win of the season by reaching first base on an error in the top of the first inning. With one out, Dennis Redel drew a walk and both runners moved into scoring position via stolen bases. Then Helgren netted two RBIs by cracking out a double - his fourth of the year. He completed the circuit on a one-bagger by Rick Kline.

Allen came right back in its half of the first and scored two runs on singles by Brian Lin-felder, John Warner and Dennis Geiger, Warner and Geiger were credited with the RBIs.

Although the Blue Devils did manage to put a man on third in the top of the third frame, neither team managed to forge a sustained rally for three innings. Then, in the top of the fifth, Wayne ended the scoring drought by coming up with three tallies.

With the score standing at 6-2 in the top of the sixth inning, the Blue Devils exploded for six runs to put the game out of Allen's reach. Twelve Wayne batters went to the plate and connected for six hits in the roundhouse rally. The only extra base hit was a double by Mike Ginn with Les Echtenkamp on first. RBIs were chalked up to Mike Bittorf, Dennis Redel, Randy Helgren, Rick Ginn, Rod Cook and Jim Kenny.

Helgren gave up two runs on three hits, walked one and fanned seven Allen hitters.

'Athlete of the Year' Tag Caps Helgren's WH Career

Senior Randy Helgren received one of the biggest honors of his high school career earlier this week when he was named Athlete of the Year at Wayne High.

Announced during the Pep Club part of the program was that 124 girls will later receive their pins for participating in Pep Club this year.

Speaker during the evening was Mike O'organ, backfield coach at the University of Nebraska.

A trophy for being named the top athlete during 1969-70 was given to Helgren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Helgren of rural Wayne, by Harold Maciejewski, athletic director, with instructions to give it to their son at the completion of the baseball season. There's little doubt the baseball season will reflect unfavorably on Helgren's career - he's currently hitting at a .729 clip going into Friday's second round of the district baseball tournament.

Helgren just about swept the most valuable player awards during the night, an honor voted an athlete by his fellow teammates. He earned the MVP tag in football, basketball and baseball.

Voted tops in wrestling was senior Alan Wischhof - he swept that division, taking honors for most pins, fastest pins, most takedowns, most team points and best season record - and named tops in track was senior Rick Robins.

A complete list of the laurels handed out:

Football - honorary co-captains, Kenny Jorgensen and Randy Helgren; most improved player, Steve Kamish; most valuable player, Randy Helgren; top defensive player, Dan Sutherland.

Basketball - captain, Ted Armbruster, leading rebounder, Ted Armbruster; most improved, Don Mau; leading scorer, Randy Helgren; leading free throw shooter, Randy Helgren; most valuable, Randy Helgren.

Wrestling - co-captains, Doug Maurer and Alan Wischhof; all other honors to Wischhof.

Baseball - captain, Randy Helgren; highest batting average, Randy Helgren; most valuable, Randy Helgren.

HONORS IN TRACK went to Jim Meyer, left, for most improved man in the squad, and to Rick Robins for most valuable team member and for honorary team captain.

Win Golf Trophy In Husker Meet

Stanton, O-C Win Jr. Husker Meet

Stanton's strong seventh and eighth grade track team bared mighty teeth in the 440-yard dash and sixth in the long jump, and Holdorf, sixth in the 100-yard dash.

Also placing in the freshmen end of the meet were Scheel, third in the 440-yard dash and sixth in the long jump, and Holdorf, sixth in the 100-yard dash.

The record books in the freshman meet were virtually rewritten as new marks were posted in the pole vault, high jump, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 60-yard high hurdles, 100-yard low hurdles and mile run. Four new records were posted in the other end of the meet - 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash and 440-yard relay.

Following are the first-place finishers in all events in the two meets:

Orduna to Speak At Winside High Athletic Dinner

A well-known Nebraska University football star, Joe Orduna, is scheduled to be the featured speaker at a 6:30 p.m. Winside High School athletic banquet Friday. Ron Kramer, principal, said about 250 people are expected to attend the awards dinner in the Winside auditorium to hear the NU senior.

Phil Kline, president of the Winside "W" Club, will be master of ceremonies for the program which will include school coaches and assistants handing out honors to all WHS athletes. Besides giving recognition to those in football, basketball, track, volleyball, wrestling, girls' track and Pep Club, lettermen will be announced, as will the names of cheerleaders for next year.

Principal Kramer said Tuesday that tickets for the athletic banquet are $1.75 each. A limited number will be sold at the door Friday night.

Long after these Chicago Cubs hang up their gloves...

their Cub 154 Lo-Boy tractors will still be going strong

Cub stars Jim Hickman and Phil Regan both own small acreage farms, and International Cub 154 Lo-Boy tractors - the only tractor built today that gives you a 4-cylinder, 15-hp. water-cooled engine for extra-long life.

The Cub Lo-Boy also has full-length, channel-steel main frame that distributes weight evenly, and supports heavy attachments. A few of the attachments that make the Cub a year-round tractor, for farm, commercial, or industrial use, are rotary mowers, rotary cutters, snow thrower, front blade, rotary tiller, loader and disk harrow.

WS to Host District Baseball Play-Off

Wayne State will be host and its baseball team the No. 1 seeded entry among four Nebraska teams tabbed for the NIAA District 11 play-off in Wayne today (Thursday), Friday and maybe Saturday.

The district baseball committee also designated the University of Nebraska at Omaha, Dana College and Concordia College for the play-off.

Omaha and Concordia are paired in the first game at 11:30 a.m. today at the city ball park, followed by Wayne and Dana in game two at 2 p.m. First-round losers will play at 6 o'clock tonight, then first-round winners at 8:30.

The Friday schedule matches the loser of game four against the winner of game 5, at 6 p.m. The winner of that contest goes against the winner of game 4 at 8:30 p.m. If this game does not eliminate one team with a second defeat, a 1 p.m. finale Saturday will settle the championship.

To the champion goes a trip to the five-state Area 3 play-off, that winner going on to the national NIAA tournament. Admission for the play-off, each session, will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for college students with ID cards and for children under 12.

The 1970 play-off has three repeaters from last year's tourney—Wayne, Omaha and Dana. Concordia replaces Chadron.

Wayne holds a 21-7 record to the play-off following a double win over Doane Saturday at Crete. Another doubleheader scheduled Monday with UN-O had to be canceled because of wet grounds on the Halston field.

UN-O, last year's play-off winner over Wayne, has a 16-10 record.

To compare records of the four teams poses a neat problem. For example, Wayne split a pair with Kearney; Kearney beat UN-O twice; UN-O downed Creighton twice, and Creighton beat Wayne a pair. Wayne whipped Dana twice and split with Concordia. The Concordia record is 19-7.

Two Wayne freshmen claimed the pitching wins over Doane. Charlie Solano, Sidney, started the first game, went five innings, got relief from Jerry Nicolarsen, Hastings Junior, in the sixth, then

Hoskins Racer Wins 4 Firsts, 1 Third

Hoskins' Gerald Bruggeman barreled his way to a first in the third heat and a third in the A Feature in Saturday night's stock car racing at Platte Valley Speedway at Columbus. Another Hoskins' racer, Gene Brudigan, had his car blow up on him in the first heat.

Sunday afternoon Bruggeman rolled to three big firsts at the oval outside Clearwater. He took first in the trophy dash, first in the A Feature and first in the second heat.

another freshman, Tom Sullivan of Des Moines, took over in the seventh to preserve the 5-3 win for Solano. Sullivan got credit for his third save.

Freshman Ron Nelson of Wausa, second-game starter, went all the way in his second performance and took his second win, 6-1.

Bill Goodwin continued his home run series with one in each game—total of six for the season—and upped his batting to team-high .444. Steve Helling also homered in the first game.

All State Parks To Open Friday

Nebraska state parks will open on Friday, offering special off-season cabin rates through May 31, announced Willard Barbee, director of the Game and Parks Commission.

From June 1 until September 10, the standard rate for cabins, based on a sliding scale, will be in effect. A stay in a double cabin will range from $14 for one night to $9 per night for six or more nights. Single cabins and some small doubles will cost from $9 for one night to $7 per night for three or more nights. Vacationers can make advance reservations by contacting the superintendent at the park of their choice.

The lowest rate will be in effect on a daily basis during the off-season from May 15 to May 31 and September 10 through September 15, the regular closing date for state parks. Cabins at Chadron and Fort Robinson state parks will remain open to accommodate hunters during the deer and turkey seasons, however. Despite flooding in past seasons, Niobrara State Park will open again this year along with the other three state parks.

Camping and horseback riding will be available at all state parks. Minimum camping fees are $1 per night per car for a semi-private site, and horseback riding fees are $1.50 per hour. All state parks except Fort Robinson offer swimming facilities that will open about the second week in June or as weather permits; rates will be 25 cents for children under 16, 50 cents for adults. In addition, Fort Robinson State Park offers put-and-take trout fishing with a five-fish limit for a $1.50 daily permit.

Earn Angler Awards

Northeast Nebraska produced hunks large enough to earn three fishermen Master Angler awards from the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

The successful anglers: Jerold Daniels of Lincoln, a 4 pound, 1 ounce sauger from the Missouri River in Dixon County; Adela Tonn of Elk Point, S. D., a 4 pound sauger from the Gavins Point Dam tailwaters, and Leland Timmerman of Norfolk, a 14 pound, 6 ounce channel catfish from a sandpit in Stanton County.

Gets USD Fellowship

Wayne State graduate Mark Monson was one of three students in speech pathology at the University of South Dakota at Vermillion to receive U.S. Office of Education awards for the 1970-71 academic year.

Monson, a graduate student, received one of the two fellowships for advanced study.

NE Nebraska League Dies Quietly

One of the area's pioneer baseball leagues, the Northeast Nebraska League, quietly passed from the scene last week. Oddly, seven of the league's teams still plan to remain active.

In recent years, the league had operated with eight teams: five in Nebraska—Decatur, Homer, Ponca, Wakefield and Wayne—and three in Iowa—Lawton, Hemen and Whiting. This year only Decatur did not plan to field a team.

The breakup of the NNL began when Wayne announced its acceptance by the Tri-County League, which included the northeast Nebraska towns of Bloomfield, Creighton, Laurel, O'charge, Randolph, Verdigris and Wausa. Nearby Wakefield soon followed suit.

Down to five teams but negotiating with a Sioux City team headed by Billy Pratt, the NNL met with the Lewis and Clark League to consider a merger. As these plans collapsed, Ponca decided to also cast its lot with the Tri-County.

The death blow for the NNL was sounded last week when Homer, the lone Nebraska team remaining, filled in an open spot in the Dodge County League, whose members include Dodge, Ashland, West Point, Snyder, Lyons, Valley and Scribner.

Apparently, the three deserted Iowa teams will operate independently this year with some hope of re-entry into a league in 1971. These managers are seeking games and anyone interested should contact Jim Wood of Sergeant Bluff (Lawton), Jim Klein of Bismarck, and Keith Pithan of Sioux City (Whiting).

Homer begins its Dodge County League schedule Sunday against Ashland. Ponca, Wakefield and Wayne open Tri-County play May 31 against unnamed opponents.

FOOTBALL HONORS were voted to, from left, Steve Kamish for most improved player, and to Keny Jorgensen and Randy Helgren for honorary co-captains. Helgren earned most valuable player tag on the grid team. Top defensive man (not pictured) was Dan Sutherland.

TED ARMBRUSTER, right, earned recognition for honorary captain and leading rebounder in basketball. Don Mau, left, was the team's most improved player, and Randy Helgren, who was named the team's most valuable player, led in scoring and best free throw shooting.

Allen Farm Home Cleaned by Thieves

The Larry Good farm home about two miles northwest of Allen was nearly cleaned out by thieves some time Sunday afternoon while the family was away.

Taken in the robbery were several electrical appliances, a polaroid camera, record player, 25 records, portable television set, lawn chair and meat.

The Dixon County sheriff's office, who is investigating the incident, said Wednesday morning that no leads had yet been uncovered. The office, unable to put a dollar value on the items stolen, noted that many of the things made away with were fairly new.

Although some of the questions to be asked are similar to those asked in the 10-year census taken as of April 1, Census officials say the monthly survey is essential to provide a continuing picture of current trends.

Facts about individuals collected in the survey are held confidentially by law; the results can be published only as statistical totals.

Interviewers who will visit households in this area are Catherine Moeller of Wausa and Alfred Wilkerson of Coleridge.

400 Petition Signers Say Parking Regulations Unfair

Wayne city councilmen Tuesday night came under another barrage of protests against the new parking regulations which have gone into effect in several parts of the city.

Presented to the council during its regular meeting were petitions signed by about 430 people who live in the north and east parts of the city affected by the regulations.

Those who offered the petitions as evidence of the discontent over the new laws said the lists did not contain all the names of people opposed to them. Not only are more signers available in these areas, they said, but a host of people will sign similar petitions once the regulations are extended to other sections of the town.

Result of the protests: the mid-night to 5 a.m. portion of the parking regulations will be enforced only in the area north of Seventh Street and east of Main Street. The lifting of the restriction from all other parts of the city will last for 30 days, giving the councilmen time to review and possibly come up with some solution to the problem.

The regulations — no parking on one side of the street and no parking on the other from midnight to 5 a.m. — have caused considerable discussion and protest since the signs were installed a few weeks ago. The regulations were approved by council early this year but could not go into effect until the signs were put up.

Voiced Tuesday night were objections to being forced to tear up terraces to provide off-street parking, doubt about the need for having the restrictions just so streets could be cleaned and snow removed and dislike of having a "blanket policy" instituted with no recourse for those who oppose it.

The protests came only minutes after Herb Bergt told the council that the new regulations are "the best thing the city ever did."

Before the long discussion about parking on city streets, the council authorized the city zoning official, Dan Sherry, to write a letter to Corvally Auto stating that the parking lot it maintains on the west edge of the city is in violation of city zoning ordinance. The letter will ask that reason be given why the lot should not be removed.

Council took the action following questions about its legality raised by Bob Vakoc. Vakoc said he was asking why it was allowed to exist because several people along Oak Ridge have questioned him about why it is there. If the regulation is not going to be enforced, he told the council, it should be removed from the ordinance books.

Council later authorized the city attorney to notify several property owners along Sherman Street and Seventh Street that they will have to put sidewalks in or the city will put them in for them. The property owners affected are those without sidewalks on the west side of Sherman north of Seventh to Fairacres Road and on the south side of Seventh from Sherman east to the city limits.

That action was taken as another step in the council's attempts to get sidewalks installed where they are greatly needed but where the property owners ignore the council's requests for them.

The council chose these two streets to begin with after seeing recommendations from the Wayne-Carroll school that these are main arteries for children attending school and should be first in priority.

Unveiled for the first time at a public meeting was the plan for the huge park development in the west part of the city. The park, which would cost approximately $1,300,000, would be built on ground now owned by the Wayne-Carroll school system and the county agricultural association. Federal and state funds would provide 75 per cent of the cost of the development; the local share which would have to be raised from a bond issue would be about $65,000. The rest of the local share would be provided by the cost of the two bond issues.

That plan was to be submitted to the Game and Parks Commission in Lincoln by the city engineer Wednesday. The commission would clear it and send it on to Washington for federal scrutiny. Once federal approval is gained, a bond election would be held to see if the people wanted to go ahead with the development. Rough estimate of a city mill levy to finance the development on a 10-year bond issue was 1.25.

In other action, the council approved the bid for Ball Construction of Norfolk for the water main extension for the Knoll's Addition. Ball's bid was $15,634, just under the $16,201 bid of Lee Swinney of Wayne. Olayed the purchase of two soft water units for the city light plant. The units, which will cost a total of about $2,700, will reportedly make the running of the engines at the plant easier and more efficient and will save several hundred dollars each year.

are to be given by the Rev. John Erlandson, pastor of the First Lutheran Church in Allen.

The Rev. Phyllis Hickman, minister at the Allen Springbank Friends Church, plans to address the senior class concerning the question, "What Do Ye More Than Others?"

Members of the AHS senior choir will present "The Eyes of All Wait Upon Thee" and "Old Abraham Brown." Lorraine Hall, accompanied on the piano by Debra Mentions, will sing a solo, "Passing By."

Winside High School has also scheduled baccalaureate Sunday evening at eight o'clock in the school auditorium. Shelly Glass will play the professional and recessional. The Rev. Paul Heilmers, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Winside, is to offer both the invocation and benediction. He will also give the baccalaureate address.

The WHS mixed chorus will present several musical selections.

Wakefield, Allen and Winside have also announced commencement programs for next week. Winside has scheduled graduation exercises for 8 p.m. Monday in the high school auditorium. Allen seniors will graduate Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, and commencement at Wakefield is set for Wednesday night in the elementary school gymnasium.

the older residents of the area these points of advice:

—Don't give money to anyone posing as a bank examiner trying to "trap" a suspected teller; real bank examiners don't work in this manner.

—Don't participate financially in any "windfall" scheme by putting up some of your own money as a sign of "good faith."

—Routinely ask for 24 hours to make up your mind; the honest salesman will wait that long and it will give time to check him out with the Chamber of Commerce or police department.

—Always ask for credentials, especially from anyone claiming to be an "official" representative of some government agency.

—If you think you have been victimized, call your local law enforcement agency or county attorney immediately.

City Election —

First — Hall, 159; Tietgen, 130; Marra, 147; Second — Hall, 174; Tietgen, 109; Marra, 104; Third — Hall, 178; Tietgen, 162; Marra, 195.

Total votes cast in the council election can only be guessed at because of the double race in the Second Ward, but a fair estimate of that total is 1,200.

The few absentee ballots and other ballots which were not counted by Wednesday morning will probably not affect any of the races in the city election.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give your thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is glad to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

What Is Your Opinion?

If statistics showed there were 3,944 people killed in Nebraska during the last 10 years as a result of firearms, what would be your opinion as to permitting people the use of guns?

Suppose another 152,401 persons were seriously injured by guns during that same period of time. Would you think twice before allowing guns around the house?

Let's suppose there were 3,944 Nebraskans killed in airplane accidents in the state during the last decade and another 152,401 injured. What would be your opinion as to the safety of flying? Would you lean toward the opinion that perhaps pilots should get better training?

Actually the above statistics have nothing to do with guns or flying but are the numerical picture of what we did to each other on Nebraska's roads in the last decade. The machines that are guilty of killing nearly 4,000 and injuring over 150,000 in our state in a 10 year period are parked in the driveway. It is a machine which costs about $3,500 to buy, plus constant upkeep, and costs the owner hundreds of dollars a year for insurance, gas and oil. What other machine has caused so many family arguments? What other machine in the state averaged killing 24 residents each month in 1960, but jumped to killing more than one a day, or 35 a month, in 1969? We point our finger at the automobile.

Are most fatal crashes caused by the autos involved or by the people behind the wheel? Is the answer to the slaughter on the highways better vehicles or better trained drivers?

During the period of Jan. 1 through Dec. 31, 1969, there were 46,731 motor vehicle accidents in Nebraska with damages amounting to more than $100 in each case. The Nebraska Accident Records Bureau noted there were 422 persons killed. Is it just a statistic? Hardly, if any one of that number meant flesh and blood to you in the way of husband, wife, son, daughter, mother, father, sister or brother.

What are we willing to do about stopping this killing on the home front? — MMW.

Time for Tornadoes

Nebraska is right in the middle of an area in the United States which might be called a playground for tornadoes. Imagine it is late in the afternoon on one of June's hot, humid, sticky days. Bulging thunder clouds swirl rapidly overhead with an occasional ladder of lightning stabbing through the sky. Greenish-black clouds move in, rolling in torment. Suddenly, everything is quiet. A torrent of rain commences and hail pelt the earth.

The bottom seems to fall out of the clouds with huge penulans arms sagging constantly downward, only to pull up and reform. You watch the brewing storm knowing that with such conditions, everything is "go" for a possible tornado.

The funnel-shaped cloud, something like a lash in the hand of an uncontrollable monster, dips earthward. Sounding like a thousand chugging freight trains, the funnel cloud usually moves in a northeasterly direction about 30 m.p.h. The velocity of the whirling winds inside the cloud will reach an incredible speed of 350 m.p.h. The cloud stabs the land, buildings explode, cars and animals may be carried hundreds of feet high.

After the storm has moved on there is little left in its path but debris and junk which used to be houses and buildings.

Do you and your family have any set plan you will use should a tornado threaten your safety? Advance planning may mean saving a life.

Wayne residents will hear the fire siren sound for 30 seconds, then a 15-second pause, then a 30-second blast again, as a warning that a tornado has been spotted and may endanger the city.

When the storm is no longer a threat, the siren will give one long blast as an all-clear signal.

It pays to plan ahead. — MMW.

'Lincoln 13,' ROTC Sit-Ins Create Bustle on NU Campus

LINCOLN—Along with collegians nationally, University of Nebraska students last week escalated their protests against American policies in Southeast Asia.

They marched on the Lincoln draft board. They "occupied" a campus building overnight. They called a student strike. They planned a major weekend rally.

Further protests were scheduled for the remaining weeks of the semester.

The students involved said their demonstrations were aimed, not at the University or its policies, but at expansion of the war into Cambodia. Their feelings, they said, were intensified by the deaths of four Kent State students during a protest in Ohio.

A rally was called on Monday of last week to discuss the war. Some of those present broke away and began a march downtown to the offices of the draft board on the ninth floor of the Terminal Building.

A crowd estimated at between 50 and 100 managed to reach the ninth floor. Police, backed by dogs, managed to break up the crowd, but at least two glass doors were broken in. Thirteen arrests were made and the students taken into custody. Immediately were labeled the "Lincoln 13."

Later that evening, students again gathered to discuss the war. This time someone suggested the Military and Naval Sciences Building, the ROTC headquarters on the campus, be taken over.

So, the group marched to the building, which normally is open until 11:00 p.m. They went in. More students arrived. University officials also gathered on the scene and began negotiations with the sit-in demonstrators.

Throughout most of the night the crowd was about as orderly as could be expected. A combo set up on the drill floor and played rock music for the lounging students. "If anyone asks, this is the ROTC band," someone said into the microphone.

The demonstrators weren't organized and early in the negotiations, University administrators said later, it was difficult to talk with representatives who could speak for the group.

A list of six demands, ranging from disarmament of campus policemen to open meetings for the Board of Regents, were put forth. The administrators, led by Lincoln President Joseph Sosnink, huddled in private and then responded by saying the demands would be considered by the appropriate University bodies. Sosnink said he couldn't promise any of the demands actually would be met.

The students were allowed to remain unmolested throughout the night, but in the morning, when it was time for ROTC classes to begin, there was a showdown.

Military science instructors said they didn't believe they could conduct their classes while the demonstrators still were in the building. In addition, according to Vice-Chancellor for Student Programs G. Robert Ross, there were some threats of violence and some minor damage to the building.

These conditions, the administrators decided, required a change in attitude. A district court injunction against the demonstrators was sought and Sosnink informed the sit-ins they had 15 minutes to clear out or be put on academic probation.

They didn't leave. Sosnink put them on probation, but no names were taken. The president gave the students five more minutes in which to leave or face suspension.

Again, they didn't leave, but just as the time limit was expiring, another tactic was tried. The students had indicated among themselves they wanted to attend a faculty meeting scheduled for noon. The University officials moved the time for that meeting up to 10 a.m. When the students heard of this, at about 10 o'clock, they immediately filed out of the building and headed for the Nebraska Union where the faculty was to gather.

This ended the crisis at the Military and Naval Sciences Building. The request for a court injunction was tabled. It wasn't needed any more.

The whole affair had been peaceful. There were no injuries. Not even any close calls.

Chancellor Durward B. Varner, who left the decisions up to the Lincoln campus officials, said they showed "extraordinary judgment." He said he kept Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann and the regents informed of what was going on, but relayed no orders to the local administrators.

The students weren't as satisfied as Varner. They thought they should have been permitted to stay as long as they wanted. Other Nebraskans, judging from published responses, weren't satisfied either. They indicated they thought the students should have been forcibly removed as soon as the takeover of the

Sparrows Brought to Nebraska to Eat Grasshoppers

The English sparrow is one of the most common birds in Nebraska and in the United States. Originally found in England and Northern Europe, the sparrow was brought to this country in 1851. Today sparrows are generally considered pests; but in the mid-1870's they were sought as a remedy for the hordes of grasshoppers which frequently visited Nebraska and other states during those years. Several letters among the papers of Governor Silas Garber in the collections of the State Archives, Nebraska State Historical Society, provide information regarding the introduction of the English sparrow in this state.

One who advocated the sparrow as a solution to the grasshopper problem was William Stolley, prominent Hall County farmer and early settler of Grand Island. Stolley wrote Governor Garber on Nov. 18, 1876, to suggest a "remedy which I am confident will do much towards checking the pest (grasshoppers), if properly carried out. It is a well established fact that the so-called English sparrow is one of the greatest destroyers of insects known. . . . Would it not be well therefore to introduce the English sparrow in sufficient numbers in the several states subject to the grasshopper plague, to insure soon the increase of these birds in great numbers, and thus to provide for a standing army of little soldiers who will do their work most effectually. . . . Stolley was speaking from experience, as he had brought 10 sparrows to Hall County the previous year.

Apparently the Governor was receptive to the proposals of Stolley and others, for he requested information regarding sparrows from the New York Department of Public Parks. Officials of the department replied that the sparrows in New York had not yet become so numerous as to exceed their usefulness, but doubted that the bird would prove of value as a grasshopper remedy in Nebraska. Nevertheless, the department offered to supply 50 or 100 sparrows for experimental purposes, noting that the birds were then selling for 75¢ a pair in New York. Governor Garber responded favorably to the offer and 100 sparrows were duly shipped from New York on June 4, 1877.

Whether this particular group of birds survived is not known, but the species as a whole has obviously thrived in Nebraska. However, the sparrow proved unnecessary as a solution to the grasshopper problem, since the worst of the invasions were over by 1877.

No doubt many will agree with William Young of Palmyra, (Oce County), Nebraska, a native of England, who advised Governor Garber in 1877, "I hope you will think twice before you do that thing, (bring sparrows to Nebraska), as they (that are best acquainted with the sparrow) have the least to say in his favor. Where I lived, there was a permanent premium on his head. This I do know, he is a most pugnacious little scamp. . . ."

And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God. — Romans 12:2 KJV.

QUESTION: Is it true that some funeral homes cater only to Protestant denominations, while others cater only to the Catholic faith?

ANSWER: While we cannot answer for all mortuaries, as far as Wiltse Mortuary is concerned, it makes no difference to us what religion those we serve belong to. The important fact is that a funeral is a religious experience and that the clergyman chosen by the family is always consulted before funeral arrangements are completed.

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk on Fire Safety

Tony Netherda of Wayne State College spoke to the Kiwanis Club, following a noon luncheon Monday in the Woman's Club room, concerning fire safety in the home.

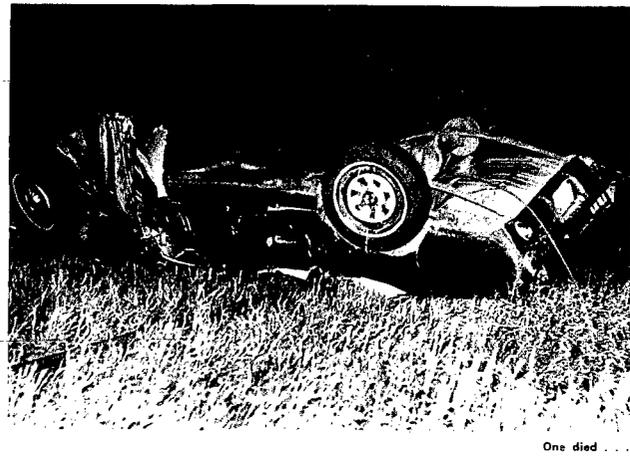

Netherda noted that 11,700 persons in the U. S. lost their lives in fires last year. He said carelessness in smoking and the misuse of matches were the two major causes of home fires. Using a chart, the speaker told club members that fires spread 1,100 per cent in a home in the first four minutes. Pointing out the likeliest place to die from fire in the U. S. is in the home, Netherda said such deaths most often are the result of inhalation of lethal gases and superheated air rather than being actually burned. Just a few breaths of superheated air can be fatal, he said.

The speaker recommended all homes be equipped with some type of fire-detection device.
The U. S. Department of Labor says many youngsters will be out of school in the fall unless they succeed in obtaining summer jobs. The Department is urging employers to hire as many young people as possible.

One died . . . two injured.

The lives of nearly 500 Nebraskans are hanging on the delicate threads of spinning wheels. It is a small army of drivers, each headed toward a fatal accident in 1970. Whether they live or die may well depend upon how you and I drive our automobiles this year.

How easy it is to open a door and climb in behind the wheel of a colorful car. What fun it is to "go some place." But 422 Nebraskans were killed in 1969 while going some place and didn't get to return home alive.
Should we northeast Nebraskans rename Highway 35 "Road of Sorrows"? What fatal auto accidents thereon cost our area in wasted talent, economic loss, ended dreams and empty chairs around the family table? Such would be impossible to determine since we don't measure affection with a cash register.

The Nebraska Accident Records Bureau in Lincoln recently reported that 65 persons were injured in a total of 227 traffic accidents in Wayne County last year. According to Wayne Herald records, at least five persons were killed in Wayne County traffic accidents in 1969. It was a year people died on Nebraska's roads at an average rate of 35 a month.

Just at a moment when it appeared that the new year of 1970 was going to be a better one for motorists in our area, a succession of three fatal accidents occurred within nine weeks.
Wayne County's death toll is sure to continue climbing during the remaining seven and a half months of 1970, perhaps setting a ghastly new record, unless every person who drives uses his best ability and judgment behind the wheel.

In spite of there being three or four State Safety Patrolmen stationed in South Sioux City, two patrolmen and a criminal investigator at Wakefield, and another half-dozen troopers working out of Norfolk, Highway 35 between South Sioux City and

Norfolk continues being a trail of tragedy. In past years a father died just outside South Sioux City. Last year a father and son died at the intersection north of Emerson. Three men died two miles south and a mile west of Wakefield not many years ago. Two persons have died, one recently, at the east edge of Wayne. One can follow Highway 35 west out of Wayne and south to the corner north of Wakefield where a Wakefield youth died in late 1968. An accident just a short distance west of Winside recently took the life of a Taurget RPT. Going south of Winside a few miles, a Hoskins man was killed on Highway 35 in early March.

These are but a few of the accidents on that highway in past years. Other accidents on other roads in the area snuffed out the lives of many, including three rural Wakefield residents in an accident south of that city last year.
While we continue to take its awful toll, crashes on streets and highways have killed and injured millions more Americans than all the wars we have ever fought. In fact, 56,500 lives were lost on America's highways in 1969 alone. In addition, more than 4,700,000 men, women and children were injured. That is a lot of pain and suffering, but it doesn't stop the killing.

Weekend and after-midnight accidents broke all records last year. Records show that Saturday and Sunday are the two most dangerous days for a motorist on the road in Nebraska or in the nation. Wayne County Sheriff Don Weible said Monday that many tragic accidents are due to too much speed and taking too many chances. The only way we're going to keep from setting an all-time high record for fatal accidents in Wayne County this year is for every resident to "slow down and live," Weible noted.

The sheriff pointed out that as summer approaches, weeds, bushes and crops get higher, making it nearly impossible to see oncoming traffic at some rural intersections. He advised, "Tape your mind on the control of your vehicle and at the end of the year maybe we can still have everyone in the county alive."

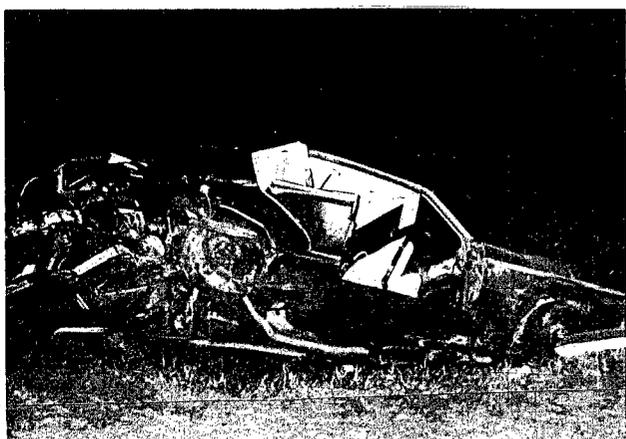

Another item of advice from Sheriff Weible is for motorists to wear seat belts. "Statistics prove there are fewer injuries and fatalities in accidents where passengers were wearing seat belts," he said.

Memorial Day is May 30 and, ironically as it is, hundreds of Americans die each year on that weekend, a time dedicated to remember the dead.

Are we in northeast Nebraska going to allow Highway 35 to become an asphalt ribbon of horror, along with rural roads, due to our carelessness at the wheel? Is there any chance that by being conscious of everyone's safety, we can head off an all-time high fatality record in Wayne County this year? Don't let your auto write your obituary.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

The big field machinery is on the move. Day and night, from coast to coast, from the Canadian border to the parallel of mid-Kansas. It's planting time — what every soil-loving dirt farmer in America has been waiting for — planting time.

In the West on the High Plains, the giant tractors roar from dawn to dawn, with the only breaks coming for fuel — both for machine "diesel" and for human "spuds and steak." Most western planting crews eventually end up at two-three joined tables in some chrome and tiled coffee-counter lunch room adjoining a gasoline station. Machine operators are as important as were patrol plane commanders in World War II — the pick-up truck drivers, like supply sergeants.

Conversation is noisy but friendly. A noticeable increase in volume comes up with good-natured humor and kidding when a neighbor's boring crew enters. Some bow their head in prayerful thanks, others cuss the campus demonstrators.

Most workmen wash, but a few care not. Behind every ear, on every neck is a caked mixture of dust and sweat. Workers wear aged sweat-ringed stesons, lewis and narrow tool boots.

The big talk is rain, drought, government, cattle and the Saturday night dance. The crop is spring wheat or milo.

Not the big ten and twelve man crews. Not the giant machines, but medium-sized, and not the spacious glass front living rooms, but either an outhouse sized cab or an open cockpit. Seldom a hired crew. Just Dad, the kids after school, Mom after dishes and before meals. Even the dog is in the field.

It's planting time. Tractors turn the right around. The roar which fills the night air is not as noticeable in daytime.

Dad rides the biggest tractor, like Papa Bear. Some Moms leave the babies with Grandma and ride the second tractor — in straight lines, too — on bottom land or in serpentine order around the terraces. After school, boys, 11 and 12, take over and help. Those 15 and 16 often hire out to neighbors till past midnight — spending money for car and girl.

The satisfying work of planting . . . of growing. Usually big hopes, but sometimes with doubts and despair. To replant with freezing cuts, to reharrow after a planting rain, to be mortified with self-anger at breakdowns (some blame the manufacturer and implement dealer even on 10-year old equipment bought at a farm sale). Some go to town with each rain — but others might as well be in Siberia.

Unfortunately, too many sort hogs and cattle with each storm or Sunday, causing livestock kills and market breaks at the terminals. Too many are suckered into grade-yield giveaways or cheap local sales; yet, an equal number pass a good bit. Planting comes first.

Cursed openly or in the mind, is the interfering but well-intending salesman — be he seed, feed, herbicide, pesticide, Bible, implement, car, insurance or, worse, any USDA crop or cattle reporter. Include a dozen strange packer buyers with emblaizon new cars.

Personalities change. Tempers are short. Both men and women grow tired.

At least three times each day Moms drive to the field. With morning coffee, with a truckner-sized hot lunch, with afternoon coffee or lemonade. To town, a dozen trips a week. Errands, fuel, lubricants, parts, to the bank. Little rest on rainy days. Mom also holds the hog sorting board, and fights back the fat steers.

I guess the Cornbelt farm wife is the nation's most dependable hired hand . . . and cheap, too. For a three dollar license, a farmer receives a bevy of kids,

"I used hybrid corn guaranteed to increase my yield 20, fertilizer guaranteed to increase yields 32, herbicides to increase yields 18, pesticide to increase yields 40. Now if it rains I should average 228 bu. to the acre! If I do I break even."

a kerehiefed tractor driver, a chore girl, a cook, a house maid, a wrench holder, an errand runner, a working partner. She cooks big meals when neighbors share work. I guess every day of planting time is Mother's Day.

Certification Date For Early Crops Getting Closer

Farmers who wish to produce certified seed of early seeded crops should be making plans to submit applications soon, according to Roy Stohler, Dixon County Extension agent.

"Applications for wheat, oats, barley, rye, bromegrass, wheatgrass, crownvetch, sweet clover and first-crop alfalfa are due in our office on May 20," Stohler commented.

The application forms are available from the county Extension office; completed forms should be cleared through the county office before they are sent to the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association office.

"We like to keep records on the certified seed production in the county," Stohler said. "Then, too, we can often be of assistance to growers during the year."

Growers who apply for certification of their fields may later cancel if drought, hail, flood or some other unforeseen circumstance prevents completion of certification. In this case, fees are refunded with the exception of a $1 token fee.

The May 20 deadline applies only to early seeded crops. Other deadlines are as follows:

June 20 — Hybrid corn, turf-grass sod;

July 10 — All sorghums, red clover, second crop alfalfa seed, field beans, warm season grasses;

August 1 — Soybeans, sudan grass, third crop alfalfa seed, millet.

SMILE! Then everybody will wonder what you're up to.

Area Teachers Get Ak-Sar-Ben Awards

Mrs. Alice M. Johnson of Wakefield was among 40 Nebraska school teachers who received Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships for post-graduate, summer school study, according to Clarence L. Landen, chairman of the Ak-Sar-Ben scholarship committee.

Each scholarship is for $150 and may be used by the winner at the college or university of his choice.

Also winning the awards were Barbara J. Feller of Pilger and Mrs. Norma M. Emmons of Emerson.

The scholarship program, now in its 12th year, is designed to help teachers improve themselves in their profession and render greater service to the youth of Nebraska.

The recipients were selected by a statewide committee headed by Stanley L. Hawley of Lincoln, deputy commissioner of education. On that committee was Freeman Decker of Wayne State College.

Delay Grazing Bromegrass

Grass root reserves below the ground determine how much top growth can be harvested from a bromegrass pasture.

Bromegrass growth has been delayed this year because of cool weather. Now, with a good moisture situation, fertilized bromegrass pastures should make a rapid growth. Grass roots grow first, then the tops. Because of this fact, it may be well to delay pasturing bromegrass this year until the middle of May. This is especially important if the bromegrass had been pastured last fall. Fall-grazed pastures do not build up root reserves. The lack of root reserves will delay spring growth, requiring that spring pasturing be delayed.

Proper bromegrass management requires that a continuously grazed pasture be stocked so that no more than 40 to 60 percent of each year's growth is used. Therefore, it is recommended that a "take half, leave half" grazing program be followed. Continuous overgrazing of pasture will result in an unprofitable, self-defeating program. If a rotation pasture program is followed, each lot should be stocked and grazed to remove most of the bromegrass.

Good pasture management practices will result in a minimum of weed growth. But if weeds are present, it should pay to use chemical weed control.

Improving Pastures
Why not put top priority on improving those pastures? More often than not, unless you're primarily an animal producer, grazing land is a poor cousin to the rest of the farm operation and receives little or no attention. Weeds in pastures do the same thing to good grass production that weeds in corn, sorghum or soybeans do to these crops.

As in row crops, good weed control in pastures is more than a matter of using herbicides. In fact, some other things should be done before herbicides can do the job they are supposed to. You can't substitute herbicides for other good management practices such as fertilization, deferred and rotational grazing, reseeding rundown pastures with good high-productive grass, etc.

Herbicides can effectively control annual broadleaf weeds such as common, giant and perennial ragweed, sunflowers, broom snatched, snow-on-the-mountain and wild hemp in pastures.

Spraying, to be effective, must be done when the weeds are small. Most of these species get a good start in the latter part of April or early May so be on the watch.

2, 4-D at one to two lbs. per acre is still hard to beat either in price or effectiveness. A mixture of 2, 4-D amine at 1 lb. per acre plus Banvel at 1/2 lb. per acre has been excellent for broad spectrum control of broadleaf weeds in grasslands.

At these rates of 2, 4-D and Banvel, there are some restrictions so far as milk cows are concerned.

For grazing, do not graze dairy animals on treated areas within seven days. For hay, Banvel only, do not harvest dry hay from treated areas as feed for dairy animals within 37 days when 1 lb. Banvel has been used.

You might just as well make the pastures a profitable part of the total farm enterprise.

BUX "Side Dress" application takes over where other rootworm insecticides leave off.

If the chemical you applied at planting isn't giving effective control. If it washed or leached out of the soil. Or if you just tried to slide by without using any rootworm insecticide. BUX can now be applied as a side-dress treatment.

FOR BEST RESULTS, put it on 20 to 30 days after planting (before plants are 12 to 16 inches high) and no later than June 15. Apply the BUX granules in a 3 to 4-inch band on each side of the emerged corn plants. Then cover the granules with one inch of soil — using covering disks or a cultivator.

So if what you used . . . or didn't use . . . didn't work, see your Ortho dealer. He'll tell you more about BUX as a side-dress remedy.

A demonstration is to be given by Marilyn Kraemer and Cheryl Kahl on "Adventures With Dinners." Individual projects were discussed. Mrs. Verle Holm asked that all girls in the clothing unit have their material by the May 25 meeting.

City employees, from left, Leonard Schwanke, Sam Fuoss and Gerald Ofte Monday afternoon installed the new slippery slide at the city pool. The slide, constructed of fiberglass, was purchased last winter by the city council. Allen Hansen, pool manager for another season, plans on opening the pool on Memorial Day, May 30, weather permitting. The pool will again be heated. Admission prices to the pool this year will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 15. Season tickets will sell for $20 for families, $6 for individuals. They can be purchased at the pool.

Yard 'n Garden Tips

Q. Is there any method of keeping rhubarb from going to seed now?

A. The only way is to cut off the seed stalks when they begin to form.

Q. Is there still time to plant strawberries and if so, which varieties are best?

A. If you can obtain the plants there is still plenty of time to plant them. One of the best June-bearing varieties is probably "Evelyn" and a good every-bearing variety is "Ozark Beauty."

garden which was fertilized with pullet manure that had oats in it and in which the oats have now started sprouting?

A. You will probably have to sacrifice part of your garden since the only thing you can really do is get a pair of grass shears and tip off the oats among the vegetables as much as you can.

Q. What precautions are necessary when using mercury compounds?

A. Mercury compounds are very toxic. Care should be taken to wash up immediately after using them and care should be taken not to leave any of the compound sitting in left-over puddles where birds or pets can drink it.

Q. How should canna lilies be stored?

A. They should be lifted from the ground, leaving a clump of dirt around them to prevent drying out and should be separated into single rhizomes. They should be potted in order to get them started and get a better bloom, rather than planting them directly outdoors.

Oxygen Giver

A blade of grass.

Using the rays of the sun as its source of energy, grass synthesizes carbon dioxide, water and minerals to promote green growth. In the process, it takes pollutants from the air, filters out dust particles, and gives off oxygen in return.

In fact, actively growing grass on a 50 by 50 ft. plot releases enough oxygen to meet the needs of a family of four, day by day.

The world needs more such greenery.

Sponsored by CARHART LUMBER CO. to promote community beautification and in emphasis of anti-pollution of the environment.
