

Wayne - Carroll School Board Hires English, Science Teachers

Wayne High students in speech, sophomore English, chemistry and geometry will receive instruction next year from new teachers.

Hired Monday night by the Wayne-Carroll school board for the English-speech duties was Cheryl Lynn Thames, a May graduate of Southern State College at Springfield, S. D. Teaching the chemistry and geometry will be Marvin A. Steffen, who will receive his undergraduate degree from Wayne State College in August.

Miss Thames, a native of Centerville, S. D., attended the University of South Dakota for two years before transferring to SSC to work on her bachelor of science in education degree. At Southern she was named Miss SSC, received awards in drama and acting and was a candidate for Miss Best Dressed. A 1966 graduate of Centerville High, she worked for a time with VISTA in the Houston area.

Steffen, a native of Yankton, is a 1966 graduate of Hartington-Cedar Catholic. He will receive his bachelor of education degree with majors in math and chemistry later this summer. During his years at WS, he has been a dorm counselor and has belonged to Kappa Mu Epsilon, mathematics honorary. He is married.

Superintendent Francis Haun said that the only vacancies left to fill in the school system are those for middle school music, school science and mathematics.

The school board accepted the resignations of two teachers—Phyllis Daniels, second grade teacher at West Elementary, and Richard Faberius, high school German teacher.

Haun told the board that no replacement for the elementary teacher will have to be hired because of changes made in teacher assignments at West Elementary for next fall.

Those changes will result in the following assignments: Inez Boeckenhauer and Viola Hartman in kindergarten; Judy Koenig, Donna Malotte and Carol Edmunds in first grade; Shirley Straight, Etta Fisher and Donna Hirt in second grade; Anna Behmer, Orvella Blomenkamp and Clarice Schroeder in third grade, and Beulah Atkins and Violet Rickers in fourth grade. Viola Hartman will teach one section of kindergarten and one section

Scouts Plan for 'Good Turn Day'

Cub and Boy Scouts in Wayne, Carroll and several other northeast Nebraska communities are making plans to conduct their annual "Good Turn Day" for the handicapped at Goodwill Industries.

Part of a nationwide effort, this program by the Scouts provides year-round employment for 150 handicapped employees at the Goodwill Industries in Sioux City. The drive last year supplied the handicapped workers with materials to keep them employed full time during the early spring months when other collections of materials were at a low mark. The need this year is particularly great for such articles as discarded clothing, bedding, shoes, appliances and small household articles.

On Saturday, June 13, Cub Scouts under the direction of Cubmasters Marilyn Kool and Steve Hirsch in Wayne and Howard McLaughlin in Carroll will distribute a Scout "Good Turn Day Bag" to all homes. One week See SCOUTS, page 2

Carroll Voters Leave No Doubt On Sewer Issue

Carroll voters went to the polls Friday and voted 94-29 in favor of issuing general obligation bonds to install a sewer system in that community.

The question submitted to Carroll voters asked whether or not the voter approved the idea of the village borrowing money on its negotiable bond in the amount of $21,000 for the purpose of providing a part of the cost of owning, constructing and equipping a sewerage system. Ken Olds of Wayne, attorney for the Carroll village board of trustees, noted that the issue drew a bigger vote in Carroll than did the gubern-

NU Tractor Booklet Selling Like the Proverbial Hotcakes

More than 5,000 requests representing almost every state have been received by the University of Nebraska Department of Information for a recently published "Nebraska Tractor Test Data - 1970" booklet.

Including performance data on every tractor tested at the University of Nebraska Tractor Testing Laboratory and on the market as of Jan. 1, 1970, the booklet was listed and described in early May by a national farm magazine. Since then the response has been monumental, according to Wendell Carpenter, supervisor of duplicating and distributing for the U-Department.

Over 100 requests per day have been processed since orders first began coming in, Carpenter noted, and the demand still appears

There are people around right now — the draft card burners and the flag desecrators — who are trying to chip away at the stone foundation of America, the guest speaker told the crowd during the Memorial Day program in Wayne Saturday. The speaker, Merton Olson of Hartington, past VFW district commander, said that to counteract the influence of those people we must make a special effort to pay tribute to the men who have died in defense of freedom. He said that the men who have died while fighting for their country have found true democracy in their death and that there should be equal tribute paid to all these men regardless of the color of their skin. In this scene at Greenwood Cemetery, the flower girls stand before the graves of veterans while listening to the speaker.

Seven or eight bombs were thrown at two buildings on Wayne State campus about 1 a.m. Wednesday morning, resulting in smoke and fire damage to both the administration building and the student union.

Several Wayne business firms have posted a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the fire-bombing at Wayne State College Tuesday evening, June 2 or Wednesday morning, June 3.

Parties with information relative to the bombing may contact Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild, those offering the reward said.

Thieves Remove 2 Flying Flags At Courthouse

The 50-foot flag pole on the south lawn of the Wayne County Courthouse was barren of its colorful Memorial Day weekend. Thieves took the American and Nebraska State flags from the pole some time Friday night.

Mrs. Ruby Jensen, who assists her husband with custodial duties at the courthouse, has raised and lowered the flags daily for the past three years. She said it was about a month ago when, in accordance with provisions made by the Nebraska Legislature, the flags were left flying day and night, except during threatening storms.

"I usually bring the flags in on Friday night," Mrs. Jensen explained, "but with Memorial Day and all I had several things to do and didn't get them in Friday. It was probably around nine o'clock Saturday morning

WS Summer Offerings Nearly Full

Seven workshops and institutes will be new in the Wayne State College summer session curriculum, along with eight others that are summer regulars, and nearly all have reached maximum enrollment, Registrar Stanley Willis said Tuesday.

Enrollment for summer session is scheduled June 15 for students who have not registered in advance. Classes begin the next day. The term ends with commencement Aug. 1.

New features in the curriculum:

The Institute on Indian education, June 15-July 24; backgrounds in literature, a six-week tour of the British Isles starting June 17; coordinating techniques in vocational education, Aug. 3-14; early childhood education, June 16-July 3; interaction analysis workshop, for experienced teachers, July 6-24; physical science for elementary teachers, June 16-July 3; literature and folklore of forgotten Americans, June 16-July 3.

Workshops repeating on the summer schedule: the summer theatre, June 16-Aug. 2, in Sioux City; modern mathematics in the elementary school, June 16-July 3; behavior in the classroom, July 6-24; aerospace education, July 13-31; supervising teachers workshop, July 6-24; music directors workshop, July 27-Aug. 1, in conjunction with Summer Music Camp.

Also repeating: the Nebraska-Scandinavian Summer Institute, June 23-July 23, with study in Denmark and Norway, and the Latin American Institute, June 23-July 23.

Finally, Fertilizers Not Condemned

Farmers would have to cultivate at least 50 per cent more land to meet today's needs if fertilizers were not used, Wayne County Agent Harold Ingalls notes in his column this week.

Although fertilizers have come under considerable criticism lately, Ingalls takes an uncommon stance in his column, noting that fertilizers often actually improve the environment rather than harm it. Fertilizers are the key to the vast improvements across the agricultural face of America, says Ingalls. Read what else the county agent has to say on this subject in his column on this issue's Farm Page. Other news of interest to farmers and feeders can also be found there.

Farmers - 'Be Watchful'

The agronomist suggests that plant samples from the problem areas be taken to the local Extension office. The county agent may be able to identify the problem and suggest a solution within a very short time. In unusual situations, the samples can be sent to Lincoln where state specialists can determine what the problem is and suggest some possible remedies.

"The most important thing," says Rehm, "is to identify the problem early. This requires the watchful eye of the farmer."

7 Wayne County 4-H'ers at Club Meet

Seven youths from Wayne County left Tuesday morning to attend the 34th annual State 4-H Club Week in Lincoln. The affair ends Friday.

State 4-H Club Week, held each spring on the University of Nebraska - East Campus, is a high point of the 4-H year for many members. Over 300 4-H members and leaders attending this year's sessions will have an opportunity to attend educational workshops, observe state government and examine career possibilities. Activities will include tours, banquets, a career exploration trip to Omaha and an opportunity to become acquainted with other 4-H'ers from across the state.

More than 150 club members and over 30 adult leaders have all or part of their expenses paid by "Friends of 4-H." These state-wide agencies, organizations or groups assist in the state 4-H program in various ways. In addition to the state 4-H scholarship winners, many members will

Harry Mills to Speak At Association Meet

Harry Mills, director of Educational Service Unit One, will be guest speaker during the next meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Association for Retarded Children. The meeting will be held Monday, June 15 at 8 p.m. at the Allen fire hall.

The group held its May meeting at Emerson. Elected during that meeting were Wilbur Harbuck of Emerson as president, Reah Sitzman of Wayne as vice-president, Ruth Miller of Emerson as secretary, and Pauline Russell of Allen as treasurer. Named to the board of directors were Anna McQuiston, Emerson; Rev. Paul Schmitt, Wayne, and Rev. William Stanton, Emerson.

All area people interested in learning more about the organization or interested in the field of retarded children are invited to attend the Allen meeting. Coffee will be served.

Now Being Put to Good Use

Using the artificial kidney machine regularly at the home of Paul Ote is Pete Haberer of Wayne, the person for whom the drive to purchase such a machine was begun earlier this year. The drive quickly resulted in several thousand dollars — enough to purchase the machine and necessary supplies to last for several months. The machine, brought to Wayne from Sioux City last week, will save Haberer the costly trips to Sioux City each month. Organizers of the drive, who note that the machine is available for use by anybody in the area pointed out this week that the drive for money is not being halted. More funds are needed, they said. Operating the machine while Pete is on it is Mrs. Mirron Jensen. Mrs. Haberer is taking training so she will be able to operate the machine for her husband.

Weather

June weather started out on the cool side of the thermometer but a warming trend is forecast for the next few days. June was the wettest month of 1969 for our area with a total of 6.95 inches of rain.

Precipitation in the immediate vicinity this spring was about average for a 10 year period, but more than was received a year ago. Average rainfall for March is 1.43, but only .84 inches fell a year ago and we received 1.77 inches this March. Average rainfall for April here is 2.12, but only .33 inches fell a year ago in April and we had 2.13 inches this year.

Precipitation in May averages 3.29 inches. Only 2.80 inches were measured a year ago and 3.02 inches were received this year. The heaviest rain measured in May fell on the 13th totaling 1.02 inches.

Temperatures for the last part of May were as follows:

May 27	86	62
May 28	90	60
May 29	78	62
May 30	68	52
May 31	84	53
June 1	69	52

In addition to workshops and institutes, the summer schedule includes the regular graduate and undergraduate courses lasting the full session.

The institute on Indian education is designed to give teachers better understanding of special problems of Indian children in the classrooms.

For the workshop on co-ordinating techniques in vocational education will study cooperative programs in vocational education, with emphasis on the areas of business, home economics and trade-and-industrial training.

For the workshop on interaction analysis, Dr. Arnold Emery, assistant professor of education at WSU, plans to present methods for experienced teachers to analyze their classroom teaching behavior.

Literature and folklore of forgotten Americans, to be taught by Mrs. Corinne Cagle, of the WSC English faculty, will study literature, legends and myths of various ethnic and regional groups among them.

Later, June 20, the Boy Scouts under the leadership of Scoutmasters Rowan Witke, Burns McCulloch and Robert Carlhart in Wayne and David Lahr in Carroll will return to the homes and collect the filled bags and boxes of clothing for delivery to Goodwill.

John P. Harlan Jr., superintendent of Goodwill Industries of Sioux City, stated, "The Boy Scouts play a vital role nationally in providing materials for 150 Goodwill Industries plants in the nation, and last year over 40,000 handicapped workers received training and employment and were provided over 250,000 hours of employment."

Flags, stolen by the thieves were old ones. "We have new flags and I was going to put them up Saturday morning," Mrs. Jensen said, "since Memorial Day seemed a good time to change them, I went out to change them and that was when I noticed the old ones were gone."

Vandals cut the rope on the pole used to hoist the flags, making it impossible to fly the new flags over Memorial Day weekend. Norris Weible, county clerk, noted that it will be necessary to get a new rope and clips. Both the city police and the Wayne County sheriff's office were notified of the theft.

Other board action resulted in: Purchasing a Lindsay water softener from distributor Russ Tiedtke in Wayne for $710.80. The water softener will be used for the school lunch room at West Elementary.

Buying Jerry Valcom of Wayne as certified public accountant for the school for another school year. Adopting a school health policy requiring all new students entering kindergarten or ninth grade to have a physical and dental examination before the school year begins.

Reviewing summer maintenance work scheduled for the schools at Carroll and Wayne. Receiving a preliminary draft of the 1970-71 school budget from Superintendent Harlan. The board will meet later this month to go over the draft before holding a special public hearing prior to its adoption.

Allowing all 12-month employees in the school system to participate in the school health program. The decision affects 20 secretaries and six janitors. Discussing ways to better explain the workings of the school to the public. Mentioned in the discussion were possibilities of newspaper columns by the superintendent or school board members and mailing short news letters to the residents in the district.

John P. Harlan Jr., superintendent of Goodwill Industries of Sioux City, stated, "The Boy Scouts play a vital role nationally in providing materials for 150 Goodwill Industries plants in the nation, and last year over 40,000 handicapped workers received training and employment and were provided over 250,000 hours of employment."

The village board met Monday night to canvass the ballots and determine results of the voting. Available to the trustees for the project is an FHA loan of $46,000 and a state FHA development grant amounting to $16,300. The vote Friday came as a result of more than a year of preliminary planning and investigation to determine the feasibility of installing a sewage system in Carroll.

School District Reorganization Meetings Held

Public hearings continue being held concerning school reorganizations and the dissolving of districts in Wayne County. In a meeting in Hartington May 21, District 75 was dissolved with a portion of it going to District 68 in Wayne County and the remainder to District 54 at Laurel.

Mrs. Gladys Porter, county superintendent of schools, reports that as a result of a hearing in Stanton May 26, District 26 of Stanton County was dissolved and will merge with District 9 in Wayne County. She also noted that the Top's land in Stanton County was taken into District 95R or Winside.

At a May 28 public hearing in the local courthouse, Supr. Porter reports District 66 was dissolved and will merge with District 15 in Wayne County. The petition will remain in the superintendent's office for ten days after which she will hold a hearing June 15 on the validity and sufficiency of signatures on the petition.

A public hearing was held Tuesday night in the courtroom by the Wayne County Reorganization Committee and the Cedar County committee to vote on whether or not to send the District 56 petition to the State Reorganization Committee, District 56, except for the Lester Bethune land, will go to District 51, Mrs. Porter said. The Bethune land will reportedly stay in the Randolph district.

Tables Request

Members of the Wayne Planning Commission met Monday evening at the fire hall and considered several items of business, one of which was a request from the city council. Keith Mosley, chairman, read a letter from Ian Sherry, city clerk, written in behalf of the city council, asking the commission to survey the restricted parking problem for the area south of Seventh Street and east of Main Street, and to submit recommendations to the council. Commissioners decided to table the matter until new members of the planning commission are installed July 5.

Supr. Francis Iann notified the commission by letter that the school board has reviewed the Westside Park Addition plat and tabled the matter until more information was received.

Local Jaycees are carrying out a land-use survey for the commission. Mosley noted the survey is nearly completed. Results will be used in updating the Capital Improvement Program.

Before adjourning, the chairman turned the meeting over to Vice-chairman Ieland Froote, and expressed his appreciation to commission members for their cooperation during his term of service. Mosley is automatically off the planning commission as he begins his work as a city councillor. He was elected to that office May 12 and assumed his duties at the council's meeting Tuesday night.

Earns Blue Ribbon

Mary Pat Finn of Carroll, Wayne County's entry in the 4-H State Timely Topics Public Speaking Contest at Lincoln, earned a blue ribbon in the contest held at Lincoln Tuesday.

The other entry, from northern Nebraska, John Rogers of Hartington, earned a red ribbon. The state contest marked the end of eliminations beginning at the county level in which about 1,500 Nebraska 4-H members participated.

Fire Bombs -

The fire alarm was turned in by Mrs. Merle Becker, resident director at Perry Hall, who said she was awakened "by a disturbance." She said Wednesday morning that she wasn't sure if the laughing and running she heard was connected to the fires. The flames were quickly controlled by the Wayne fire department and college personnel on duty at the time.

Deputy Fire Marshals Louis Petersen and Bob Voglance arrived at about 4 a.m. and the investigation is being conducted by the State Fire Marshal's office assisted by local and county law enforcement officers. There have been no student protests nor demonstrations at Wayne State.

In recent weeks Wayne students have reacted often in by students from other campuses, to join in protesting events at Kent State and the war in Viet Nam.

City Council Appoints New Board Members

Appointments were made to several public boards in Wayne during a short meeting of the city council Tuesday night. Named to serve another term on those boards were Dale Johnson on the housing authority, Dick Arett and Roward Witke on the board of adjustment, and O. C. Brandstetter of the hospital board.

Other appointments included Don Merritt to the library board, Mary E. Fisher to the hospital board and Cleve Sharer, Andrew Means, Mern Mordhorst, Wanda Owens and Larry King to the planning commission.

All the following officers received appointment for another term of office: Roy Matson as physician, Dan Sherry as clerk-administrator and water commissioner, Leslie Ellis as treasurer, Henry Victor as sanitation commissioner, Don Johnson as airport manager, Norbert Brugger as utility supervisor, John Addison as attorney and Vern Schulz as streets commissioner.

Served on the advisory committee on aging were Ed Smith, Dick Banister, Anton Netherland and Alfred Hoplin.

Council reorganization resulted in Dick Banister being named to serve as president. Council committees are now composed of: Pat Gross, Darrel Fuehlberg and Keith Mosley on finance; Ed Smith, Harvey Brasch and Gross on light and power; Banister, Mosley and Brasch on water and sewer; Mosley, Smith and Banister on street and alley; Brasch, Gross and Fuehlberg on park and airport, and Fuehlberg, Banister and Smith on building and dump.

County Conventions Get Underway Today

About 51 Republican and 40 Democrat delegates will meet in the county courtroom today (Thursday) in two separate sessions for county party conventions.

Republican delegates will gather for a meeting at two o'clock during which they will hear the report of the nominating committee and elect officers. J. Alan Cramer, county chairman of the Republican Party, said delegates will caucus by precept to elect a committee man and committeewoman for the county center committee.

Democrat delegates are slated to meet at 8:15 p.m. for a similar organizational meeting. Ken Olds is county chairman. Delegates to the state convention will be elected, and an election of officers on the county level will be held.

CC Dinner Planned

The public is invited to hear an explanation of the functioning of an organization which is attempting to attract industry to the state of Nebraska during a meeting Monday night at Lee's Steak House in Wayne.

Speaking to the group will be Norman Otto, a representative of the Business Development Corporation of Nebraska. The corporation is similar to Wayne Industries, except that it operates on a statewide scale.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Cocktails will be served at 7:30. Dinners will be paid by those attending.

Otto served as Gov. Frank Morrison's administrative assistant and later as director of the Small Business Administration office in Omaha.

The Rev. K. F. Wentzel, Wayne, officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Ray Prochaska, Wakefield, sang "Jesus, Shepherd, Be Thou Near Me" and "O, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost," accompanied by Linda Puck, Tripoli, Iowa. The when the garden produce is in prime condition.

There are three general methods for canning - boiling water bath, pressure canning and the open kettle process.

The boiling water bath process is recommended only for fruits and tomatoes. All other vegetables and meats should be processed under pressure. Since they are low acid foods the pressure method insures greater safety. The open kettle method is a safe method only for preserves, pickles and jams.

Instructions for the general canning methods are available upon request from the local county Extension office. Instruction books from glass jar companies are also reliable.

Canning A Lost Art

The homemaker wanting to stretch her food budget might well consider canning fruits and vegetables this canning season as well as freezing. Where freezer storage is limited and preferred for the family meat supply, home canned foods on the shelf can be one solution. Now is the time to check your supply of jars, lids or caps and rings, and the pressure cooker gauges and gaskets so you can be ready

Wayne Senior Citizens Spanish class, under the direction of Mrs. George John, Spanish instructor, will present the Spanish version of "Little Red Riding Hood" at the center this evening (Thursday). The play, to begin at 8:15 p.m., is open to the public. No admission will be charged. If the crowd is too great, there will be an extra performance.

Thirty were at the center Friday for the sing-a-long and farewell for the Rev. Cecil Bliss of the First United Methodist Church, who will be moving soon to Lexington. Pastor Bliss gave the history of some hymn writers and presented two vocal solos, "What Wondrous Love Is This," and "How Great Thou Art," accompanied by Mrs. John Owens.

Mrs. Monte Bomer poured and Mrs. Ken Parke served punch.

Thursday afternoon bridge winners, instructed by Mrs. George Thorbeck, were Mrs. Ed Kluge and Mrs. Esther Larson. Mrs. Wes Plueger, assistant librarian at Wayne Public Library, held library hour for 12 Thursday afternoons. Several book reviews were given by Center members.

Boys to Cage School

Douglas Fischer of Wakefield and Jon Behmer of Winside have enrolled and been accepted in the Doane College Basketball School. They will participate in a week-long session which will stress the fundamentals of good basketball.

Bob Erickson, Doane's basketball coach, will be in charge of the school and will be assisted by top high school coaches from the state.

The school consists of three sessions, one in June and two in August. All sessions are held on the Doane campus with the boys being housed and fed in college facilities. The two August sessions coincide with the Shrine Football Camp also held on the Doane campus.

Rain Halts Racing

Gerald Bruggeman and Gene Brudigan, both from Haskins, were running third and fifth in the A Feature Sunday night at Platte Valley Speedway in Columbus only to have the race stopped because of rain. The race will be finished this weekend.

In the first heat at Columbus, Bruggeman came in second, Brudigan fourth. Last week, on Friday night, Bruggeman took first heat and came in runner-up in the A feature at Albion. And on Wednesday of last week, Bruggeman pulled down top trophies in both the A Feature and the second heat at Clearwater. Brudigan came in fifth in the first heat.

Tri-County Results

Randolph bested Ponca, 11-9, and Bloomfield squeaked by Coleridge, 2-1, in the opening night of Tri-County League baseball Sunday night.

The opening shot Wayne had at Orchard, always a top contender in the league, had to be postponed because of wet grounds.

Midgets, Legion win Saturday contests

Rod Cook Fires No-Hitter Against Wakefield

By Norvin Hansen

Riding high from a victory in the finals of the Class B state tournament last week, Wayne's Rod Cook fired a nearly perfect no-hitter against the Wakefield Midgets Saturday night as the locals topped the visitors, 9-0, in a pre-season contest.

Cook, pitching under threatening skies, struck out nine batters and never gave up a walk as he completely stymied the Wakefield team. Runners reached plate on him twice—in the third and fifth frames—but only on infield errors. The young hurler got out of the difficulty in the third by fanning three straight batters. Some sharp throwing in the fifth by himself and catcher Mike Creighton—plus another strike out—cleared the threat.

The Wayne squad gave Cook plenty of backing as he went after that no-hitter, coming up with three runs in the first inning and another six in the second. Five walks in the first frame off Wakefield's Bruce Paul started the Wayne scoring. Wayne came back with five singles in the second to push across those other six runners.

Bob Twite, relieving Paul on the mound after the second frame, held Wayne scoreless the rest of the game as he allowed only one hit, walked three and struck out one. In Paul's two stints on the mound, he walked seven, fanned four and hit one Wayne batter.

Leading Wayne's hitting during the evening was catcher Creighton with back-to-back singles in three at bats. Also getting hits were John Meyer, Don Hansen, Doug Sturm and Terry Pfeiffer.

In the Legion game, catcher Butch Meyer slapped out a double with one out in the bottom of the fourth inning to drive in two runs and give Wayne a 3-2 lead over Wakefield. Wayne added one more run in the inning—off center fielder Terry Hurlbert's third straight single—and then held Wakefield scoreless their next two times at bat to open the season with a 4-2 victory.

Wayne took a 1-0 lead in the contest when Hurlbert cracked out a single off Rich Kline with bases loaded in the bottom of the third. Wakefield moved to a 2-1 edge in the top of the fourth when two errors and two straight singles off Wayne Magdanz by Kip Bressler and Dale Lueders pushed two runs across home.

Providing Wayne with most of its power at the plate during the Legion game were Hurlbert with three singles and Meyer with a single and double. Mike Mrsny poked out a single in the bottom of the fourth to get on base after Dick Tietgen drew a walk and set the stage for Meyer's two-bagger.

Wakefield's five hits came from two singles by Kip Bressler, a double by Bob Eaton and singles by Denny Paul and Kim Kline.

Wayne Magdanz fanned five and walked two before being relieved by Don Mau after four frames. Mau struck out three, walked one. Wakefield's Kline struck out four, walked three and hit three in his mound duties.

Regular Ralph Bishop League action begins this coming Sunday with Wakefield at Winside and Pender at Wisner. Wayne and Laurel drew byes for the opening day. Next Wednesday's schedule (June 10) sees Wayne at Pender, Winside at Wisner and Laurel at Wakefield. A complete schedule for the season appears elsewhere in this issue's sports section.

The two Wayne teams left Tuesday afternoon for a four-day tour into central Nebraska. The squads were to play St. Paul Tuesday and Broken Bow Wednesday. Today (Thursday) was a day off. Friday the teams finish up at Norfolk.

57 Cops Prize At Country Club

The golf team of Bob Dittman, Jim Fletcher, Doug Barclay, and Don Brechtall turned in a score of 57 to win top prize in the four-man best ball tournament at Wayne Country Club Sunday morning.

Coming in second with a score of 61 were Loren Kamish, Ron Jones, Del Stoltenberg and Ralph Barclay. The team of Ken Dahl, Jim Marsh, Mike Eymon and Lyle Garvin tied with Kamish, Marsh, Smith, Wayne Marsh and Les Lutt at 62 for third-place honors. The first team listed won the play-off.

Cash prizes in the action were $20, $16 and $12. Twelve teams entered the tournament.

Saturday afternoon Ken Dahl and Barb Dittman teamed up to shoot a 42 to capture first place in this mixed two-ball tournament at the club. Second-place finishers were Loren Kamish and Ann Barclay with a 46, followed by Doug Radtke and Naomi Selmsglus with a 48. Jim Hein and Sally Dahl with a 50 and Fred Gildersleeve and Dee Stoltenberg, also with a 50. Fifteen teams entered the Saturday tournament, one of the first of the golfing season.

Next event scheduled at the club is the Wayne Open Tournament on July 11.

Calvin Thornton of Valentine holds the state record of Sacramento perch. Thornton took the one-pound, 13-ounce fish from Clark Lake on the Valentine National Wildlife Refuge in February of 1968.

After a young robin hatches, he consumes an average of 14 feet of earthworms per day.

Emerson Gets $1,300 Grant For Housing
The Housing Authority of Emerson has become the 11th authority in Nebraska to be awarded a grant by the Nebraska Association of Housing & Renewal Authorities, Inc.
Robert Hamilton, president of NAHRA and executive director of leased housing in Lincoln, announced this week that the three-year grant for $1,346.82 became effective June 1 and would help Emerson's housing authority develop social and recreational programs for the senior citizens of Emerson as well as those living at Tri-Vue Apartments. A NAHRA's $1,000 augmented by $346.82 from the Emerson Housing Authority, is a part of a larger block of Older American's Act Title III funds.
A committee of senior citizens from the community and from Tri-Vue Apartments along with Executive Director Christine Rhode will organize, schedule and manage the program. Members of the program committee are Gertrude Gribble, Mrs. Lisette Langmack and Mrs. Lena Bell, tenant members, and Mrs. Alva Bramsen and Mrs. George Kuhn, non-tenant members. Items of equipment to be purchased for Emerson's senior citizens by the grant will be a bumper pool table, AM/FM radio and stereo player, shuffleboard court, overhead projection screen and miscellaneous games and supplies.
The Housing Authority of Emerson provides program space in the Tri-Vue apartment community room. The program will offer walk-in use of the equipment and activities for no less than three days per week as well as scheduled programs several times a month.
Funds for this and other proposed sub-grants were awarded to NAHRA a year ago by the Nebraska Advisory Committee on Aging, a governor-appointed committee of 12 members established in 1965 to administer Nebraska's share of funds authorized by the 1965 Older American's Act. Title III funds of the act are used for the development of direct services for the elderly.
The program objectives are to provide recreational activities for the elderly of the public housing project and the community, thereby helping them cope with isolation and loneliness; to provide opportunities for Emerson's senior citizens to socialize in a group through periodic meetings and parties held in housing project's community room, and to encourage senior citizen participation in planning their own social and recreational activities and programs.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
(H. K. Niermann, pastor)
Sunday, June 7: Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.; Communion service, 10:45.
Monday, June 8: Walther League, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Stan Swanson, Oceanside, Calif., spent Friday to Monday in the Jerry Martindale and Ivan Clark homes visiting relatives and friends. Picnic guests in the Martindale home Memorial Day were the Charles Clark family, Cherokee, Iowa, Mrs. Swanson, William Walls, Sioux City, Herman Uteich, Wakefield, Jim Martindale, Wayne, Mrs. Ivan Clark and the Clem Vandell family, Clarion, Iowa.

The Housing Authority of Emerson has become the 11th authority in Nebraska to be awarded a grant by the Nebraska Association of Housing & Renewal Authorities, Inc.
Robert Hamilton, president of NAHRA and executive director of leased housing in Lincoln, announced this week that the three-year grant for $1,346.82 became effective June 1 and would help Emerson's housing authority develop social and recreational programs for the senior citizens of Emerson as well as those living at Tri-Vue Apartments. A NAHRA's $1,000 augmented by $346.82 from the Emerson Housing Authority, is a part of a larger block of Older American's Act Title III funds.
A committee of senior citizens from the community and from Tri-Vue Apartments along with Executive Director Christine Rhode will organize, schedule and manage the program. Members of the program committee are Gertrude Gribble, Mrs. Lisette Langmack and Mrs. Lena Bell, tenant members, and Mrs. Alva Bramsen and Mrs. George Kuhn, non-tenant members. Items of equipment to be purchased for Emerson's senior citizens by the grant will be a bumper pool table, AM/FM radio and stereo player, shuffleboard court, overhead projection screen and miscellaneous games and supplies.
The Housing Authority of Emerson provides program space in the Tri-Vue apartment community room. The program will offer walk-in use of the equipment and activities for no less than three days per week as well as scheduled programs several times a month.
Funds for this and other proposed sub-grants were awarded to NAHRA a year ago by the Nebraska Advisory Committee on Aging, a governor-appointed committee of 12 members established in 1965 to administer Nebraska's share of funds authorized by the 1965 Older American's Act. Title III funds of the act are used for the development of direct services for the elderly.
The program objectives are to provide recreational activities for the elderly of the public housing project and the community, thereby helping them cope with isolation and loneliness; to provide opportunities for Emerson's senior citizens to socialize in a group through periodic meetings and parties held in housing project's community room, and to encourage senior citizen participation in planning their own social and recreational activities and programs.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem, and the writer is pleased to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

Those Volunteer People

Have you ever paused to think about how many activities, beneficial to young and old alike, are carried out by people who are willing to do the work as volunteers?

A lot of things are wrong with our society, but there are many things that are right with it too. Whether it is in our personal lives, business, or on the national level, the wrong things usually get the spotlight, so let's momentarily consider one of society's bright spots.

Over-two dozen churches in Wayne County are holding vacation Bible School classes this week or will soon. The major portion of staff members making this educational task possible are volunteer helpers. Some will teach while others help in other ways, but their salaries are the same. Hundreds of miles will be driven and many hours spent in working with the youths merely for the satisfaction of getting an important job accomplished.

fireman? Is there any possible way to count all those unglorified individuals who volunteer to work, assist, aid and help the Boy and Girl Scout programs?

Stop for a moment to think of the many financial drives carried out in Wayne County staffed with volunteers.

It is likely that the majority of residents in Wayne County have volunteered at one time or another to get a job done that needed doing, is it because of any glory received? No. Most volunteers probably go to work because of a seemingly deep-rooted desire to make life worthwhile not only for oneself but also for others.

This speaks well of our society. In these days when our attention is constantly being drawn to defects in the social order, it is well that we recall how many good things we also have.

Let's hope all the volunteers will keep right on plugging away whether or not they get deserved recognition. — ADMW.

Closing Streets Not Outlandish?

Maybe people are more receptive to new and different ideas than we first thought. At least we were being led to think that after hearing little comment on the recent suggestion that city close off several residential streets. We thought for a moment that a number of eyebrows would be raised at such an outlandish idea.

The idea offers Wayne a number of advantages if it is ever worked out and put into effect. For example, closed streets could be converted into small and attractive parking lots for the people living close to the city, relieving much of the problems involved with providing off-street parking or parking on city streets. The closed streets could also be turned over to the owners of the property adjoining the streets, increasing the lawns of the families and getting the land back on the tax rolls.

There's still another way the closed streets could be used to benefit a large number of people. The land could be turned into walkways for midday parks with benches and tables. Here is where a city could show its imaginative bent, creating new and different ways to use the land from the closed streets.

There are some cities across Nebraska who are putting this idea into effect. They have apparently come to realize that cities need not be crisscrossed every few hundred feet with concrete or asphalt streets to carry traffic. The developers of larger sections of land around Omaha and Lincoln long ago realized this and have broken from this outdated idea.

It would cost some money for the city to tear up several streets, do some grading and seed the land. Also, reimbursements might have to be made to some property owners. Yet, would not the end result of a more beautiful and pleasant city be worth those costs? We think it would.

If you think the city of Wayne should at least consider this idea, we suggest you begin talking to the people on the city planning commission and the city council. They are the ones who would have to initiate a study on the idea. —NLH.

It Can Bite

Not everything that bites has four legs and teeth. You may have a power lawnmower in your garage which has four wheels and teeth, and it can bite too. Like fire, the powered lawnmower is handy for modern living, but to be respected, far from being a toy for young children to operate, the mower should have the same respect as one would give to a loaded gun.

Does familiarity breed contempt? Yes, especially when you have fired up that little jewel so often, mowing the lawn, back and forth, over and around, without ever having had even one small accident. It purrs like a contented cat yawning on a green carpet.

Then the day comes when it isn't running just right or something gets caught underneath and, without shutting it off, you attempt to fix it, but rather it bites you and bites off part of your hand. That little put-put was barking and you momentarily forgot it could bite.

Those little monsters also like toes and shoe leather. If you have sandals, canvas shoes or perhaps no shoes on at all, then you may wind up crippled for life.

The whirling blade on the mower can and has hit objects which immediately become flying projectiles and whatever they hit is going to be damaged. After someone's eye is out, it is too late to think about safety.

Just as sure as the world, you are going to pick up a newspaper and read where a child or adult was injured by a power lawnmower this summer. Be smart and don't let it happen to you. Safety first! —MMW.

A Boost for Wildlife

We are glad to see that the Nebraska Department of Roads is changing its right-of-way mowing regulations in order to benefit the state's wildlife. The mowing on most rural highways will be limited to 15 feet from each shoulder, permitting about 100,000 acres to revert to undisturbed natural cover.

The new regulations, which will not make the roads any more hazardous to drive than they present are, will give a huge boost to the state's well-known Acres for Wildlife Program. That program has the primary aim of developing plots of land into suitable year-round cover for wildlife. How can that be done? In many cases it can, be accomplished by simply letting the land grow up in natural vegetation. In other cases it can be accomplished by planting shrubs, trees or grasses. But regardless of what is done, it is not very difficult.

Out of Old

Nebraska

Ferishing Goes to Cuba
In the 1890's the careers of two Nebraskans crossed in Washington: one an adopted son, John J. Ferishing; the other, the Hon. George D. Melickjohn of Fullerton, once a member of the Nebraska Legislature, a West Point instructor, chafed at his duties while watching war clouds gather over Cuba. In personal contact with Melickjohn and through correspondence with him, Ferishing went over the head of the Adjutant General but with a probably assist from General-in-Chief Nelson Miles. In so doing Ferishing managed to get on the staff of Col. Frank Baldwin as quartermaster and was soon fighting at San Juan Hill. For gallantry, Ferishing received the Silver Star, then the Army's second highest award.

In the archives of the Nebraska State Historical Society can be found the correspondence between Melickjohn and Ferishing. On April 17, 1898, eight days before the Spanish-American War was declared, Ferishing wrote the following letter to Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska, who referred it to Melickjohn:

"Dear Sir: Being a military man the approaching war is a matter of much interest to me, not alone as it concerns the success of American arms in a just cause, but as it concerns my individual welfare and advancement. I see outlined a plan which will no doubt be adopted by Congress, appointing to each regiment of volunteers an officer of the regular army.

"I have no doubt but that you will be consulted in those appointments so far as they relate to Nebraska or that you can control the appointments in any state. I have some prospect, perhaps slight, of receiving a recommendation from the Governor, if the plan of raising a regiment of ex-students of the university (Nebraska) should succeed. If I should not succeed then perhaps my chances are not so good. . . . But if not able to obtain a position at the head of a regiment then I would like to serve as a field officer of lower grade. I shall be under renewed obligations if you will seek an early opportunity to recommend me both to the Governor and President — no doubt a personal request of the President would secure the appointment. . . Yours. Sincerely

(Signed) John J. Ferishing"

On May 12 Ferishing was at Chickamauga Park, Georgia, where troops were being drilled for Cuban service. While moving through Florida toward a port of embarkation he sent the following wire to Melickjohn:

"I have you volunteer commission in view for me. If nothing better how about Colored or White special Immune (to yellow fever) regiment? Get colonely in one if possible or next best. Do you need the Senator's assistance? If so will ask him wire prospect. Ferishing Ferishing came out of Cuba with the rank of captain but was brevetted major, a temporary rank. In 1906 after serving as military attaché colonel in the Russo-Japanese War in Manchuria, he was jumped over 862 officers to rank of brigadier general. He commanded the AEF in Europe in World War I. Melickjohn left the political arena and in relative obscurity became a miner and prospector in the West.

Capital News —

Gov. Tiemann Finally Decides To Put Senators Back to Work

LINCOLN — The 1969 legislative session is going to go into a delayed session.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann says he is going to call the senators into special session to settle a problem concerning appropriations for construction of a new headquarters building for the State Game Commission.

Tiemann says the timing of the special session will depend upon a decision by the State Supreme Court. The court has issued an opinion stating that the appropriation mix-up, but has left the status of the funds for the game commission building cloudy.

Tiemann has asked that the case be reopened and a supplemental opinion be delivered by the seven high court justices. He says he will await that opinion — or a judicial decision against supplementing the original decision — before he calls the special session.

The problem boils down to this: Tiemann recommended $511,000 be spent for the game commission building. The Legislature appropriated $691,000, upping the governor's recommendation by $180,000.

According to the constitution, it takes a two-thirds vote of the Legislature to increase a gubernatorial recommendation. The bill containing the game commission appropriation failed to get two-thirds of the senatorial vote. It got enough to pass, but not enough to qualify those appropriations which raised the governor's recommendations.

On the basis of an attorney general's opinion that the two-thirds vote could come anywhere in the legislative process — on an amendment or on first reading, for instance — the Legislature claimed the appropriations were valid.

The governor said they weren't and the case was taken to the supreme court. The court agreed, on that issue, with the governor. The two-thirds — or 33 — vote had to come on final reading, or passage. But the justices didn't say whether the entire appropriation was invalid, or only that amount which exceeded the governor's recommendation.

In the case of the game commission building, the issue is whether the $511,000 Tiemann originally suggested still is valid — or whether the entire $691,000 was wiped out.

The difference is this: When Tiemann calls the special session he wants to know whether the lawmakers should be asked to pass an appropriation for $180,000 — the difference between the two figures — or for the full $691,000.

When he finds that out, he says, he will convene the senators. Actually, there were a number of capital construction appropriations affected by the dispute over the 33-vote issue. But the game commission building was the only one actually under construction at the time the high court issued its ruling.

The M. W. Anderson Construction Co. of Lincoln, holder of the general contract, found himself working on a job for which he couldn't be paid. He and the other contractors who were on the game commission project said they would halt work until they could be assured they would be paid.

They took their case to Tiemann and he agreed the state has a moral obligation to fulfill a contract — even if the validity of the appropriation is invalid on a legal technicality.

The State Fair Board also has a project underway — paving of some parking lots — but it has bonding authority and can, in effect, borrow money to pay the bills, pending appropriation of more funds by the Legislature.

Short Agenda Seen

The governor says he won't include many — if any — other subjects on the special session agenda. For one thing, he won't include obviously controversial or expensive issues. The session, he says, should be convened to take care of the "moral obligation" and then adjourn — leaving other matters to be tackled during the regular session which is only about six months off.

The twins are Leo and Leon Astmus, Lorraine and LeRoy Heier, and Dean and Gene Klueder. . . . Three Wayne flower "growers" took home a tri-color ribbon for particularly distinguished exhibits in the Wayne Woman's Club flower show Tuesday at the city auditorium. The tri-color award was won by H. H. Hahn, who swept the Iris section of the show. Mrs. W. C. Corryell won the tri-color for a mantle or buffet arrangement of a bridge table.

June 2, 1955: Two Wayne volunteers left Thursday after enlisting in the Navy. They are Kenneth Kluge, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kluge, and Don Schulz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schultz. They will be sent to Great Lakes Naval Training Station for boot training. . . . A quarter section five miles west of Carroll, part of the late H. C. McCluskey estate, was sold to Rudy Wasak at public auction last Wednesday for $159 per acre. . . . The season's first tornado damaged several farms south and east of Wayne last Thursday, but injured no one. Heavy rains followed in the wake of the wind, ranging up to two inches in spots. Striking about 5:30 p.m. the twister first hit the Elmer Harrison farm 3 1/2 miles southeast of Wayne, then went to the Herman Luschen place, then continued its northeast path through the Mark Stringer, Harris Sorenson and Leland Herman farms northeast of Wayne.

10 Years Ago

June 2, 1960: The U. S. Senate this week confirmed the nomination by President Eisenhower of Carl J. Mann to be postmaster at Hoskins. . . . Warren M. Rodgers, son of Mrs. Erma Rodgers, Wayne, was graduated from high school at Oklahoma Military Academy May 20. He will return to the school in the fall for his first year of college, majoring in business administration. . . . Rev. Richard Cutler, Norfolk, was guest speaker at eighth grade commencement exercises last Tuesday at St. Mary's Catholic School. Rev. William Kieffman presented diplomas to Judy Blison, Cecilia Heiser, Margaret Heiser, Sandra Whorlow and Carol Chance. . . . Pay raises totaling about $3,250 annually were granted to Wayne city employees at a council meeting Tuesday night. The council approved across-the-board increases of $15 per month for each of the 18 municipal employees. The hike was the first for city workers since a seven per cent raise in November, 1958.

One item which Tiemann says could get on the special session program is a proposed change in the state's driver's license law. The law was changed last year to permit issuance of new licenses reflecting different information — such as addresses or married names. The new license is free if you get it from your home county. But if you move to another county, you will have to pay up to $6 to get the same type of updated license.

The sponsors of that 1969 legislation claim they didn't intend for anyone to have to pay for the license revisions, but that's how the law came out.

Tiemann says he might consider adding to the agenda an item to permit an amendment to the law to remove the payment feature. The issue was debated hotly earlier this year. One seemed to favor keeping the charge — and law enforcement officials have quietly agreed not to prosecute persons whose licenses didn't have the latest address, pending a change by the Legislature.

Tiemann can limit the scope of the special session as he wishes, under the law. But the senators may expand it themselves once called into session.

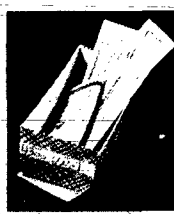

Among the issues which might get attention — either from the governor or from the lawmakers — is the interest limit on bond issues by housing authorities. The state limit of six per cent now is too low, according to the federal government. This has stopped some cities from issuing bonds on projects which are ready either to get underway.

If Tiemann doesn't include this issue on the agenda, the senators might do it themselves. It requires 33 votes to expand the agenda.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Mom, it's time to talk livestock prospects.

The original purpose of the Eddie Collins Farm Report was to predict the cattle market. As the program grew to 78 radio stations and over 20 TV stations, the influence changes. Now, our purpose is to attempt to alter to cement, to strengthen not merely the market prices, but more important the psychological attitude of the producers, the buyers, the packing executives.

Important is the role—regardless of who performs the task, personally, know of dozens of farmers, market people, cattle-related businessmen, buyers, even scapemen and especially scalpers, housewives, too, who know the markets better than I. But they all stand the same as I in late 1966.

Oh, I could accurately predict the market—so could dozens of friends—no enemies, too.

We could call the prices, the tempo, the weighing conditions each morning at a service station cafe, two to three hours before the first reports. But, all our opinions merely polluted the atmosphere. They changed nothing. Radio, TV and newspapers have changed that.

Currently, I have a monster. Six, seven or eight years ago a decentralized packer bought his majority needs, if graphed, on a panic "valley"—sold on a rising "hilltop." Terminal stockyards were proving inconsistent and, worse, acted seemingly disinterested. Country buying came easy.

Decentralized packers, working 3-4000 head in advance, could wait out periods of farmer over optimism. But, memories of collapses, like 1952 of $40 plus dropping under 19, would crop up. Let the terminal report a 50-75 lower on a Monday, following 25-50 off a Tuesday and the farmer's dealer would wilt. Then along would come Mr. Nitz, Minnesota-Fats, the Road Runner... like a fox in a chicken coop... big profits—The Golden Decentralized Era.

But, nowadays, when the terminal market drops, some harelip radio voice says, "Mom, look that doggone gate. We'll get it back by Thursday." Some do hold. It only takes a few.

The packer's problem now is that he can meet his majority needs only on the hilltops—and, too-often, catch the carlot sales on the valleys. On supply, the farmers are sharper. On outlets, unfortunately, the Eastern chain store buyer knows every new packing plant without long-standing, steady customers will have coolers load up and frantically must sell for cash flow. The chains wait and down tumbles the yellow sheet. In 1970 one will seldom see a soft, country buy. Seldom is there a high, carlot carcass sale. Packers nationwide are in a tight profit squeeze. Please think of that. Livestock predictions into September: fat cattle action will be like a wild ride on a giant roller coaster. Heavy prime steers will prove to be in short supply. After running 20-25 percent in Chicago in February and March, expect less than 12 by August. Yet, with the climbing ultra-restaurant trade, demand will be jumpy and spasmodic. Meanwhile, the choice steer trade will continue acceptable on a 28.50 to 31.00 range—which is a rise.

Choice heifers will slip in relative value to steers in late July by $10-$20 a head. Reason: seasoned bunching, the results of multiple calf feeding of duplicate weights.

Feeders: not as high as their Passion Act of early 1970. Cattlemen have been arm waving at auctions as if they thought their bank loans would be cut off. Continue that mad pace, along with rising corn costs, a depressed Wall Street and unemployment, and next year replacement Producers might be all alone. I want and push for higher total cattle prices, but first the carload beef must go up.

Hogs: check that bawling slaughter and the only conclusion one can deduce is chaos and calamity. Evidently, every brown-eyed sow in the country has been bred and the brood is rooting the hillsides. Gilts cannot read and have never heard of the pill. Warning: keep current, keep your weights below 250 and pray.

Since pork is the packer's speculative product (storable either in frozen, smoked, canned or cooked state), if the executives suspect even a minor surplus, they prey. Not 50c to 75c off, but $3, $4, or $5.

Mom, you cannot, you must not ship a terminal—even a one-day glut a surplus. Keep current. And pray.

Control Weeds Now

Herbicides, if they are applied right away, will effectively control musk thistle and wild hemp growing in pastures. Both of those weeds are in a stage of growth where they are susceptible to herbicides. Musk thistle is in the late rosette stage and wild hemp is getting a good start toward this year's growth.

Effective control can be obtained with one to two pounds per acre of 2, 4-D amine or ester or, for broad spectrum pasture weed control, one-fourth pound per acre 2, 4-D amine. Remember the seven-day restriction for withholding dairy animals after spraying. Use plenty of water and be careful to avoid spray drift onto susceptible plants.

Fertilizer Versus Pollution

Much is being said and written about man polluting his environment—and man's action does determine the quality of his environment. Land, air and water can be degraded in many ways. Approximately half of our nation's land area is farmland and therefore agriculture's effect on the environment is of interest to everyone. Modern agricultural people, both research and on-the-farm personnel, are concerned that new agricultural technology improve our environment and follow practices that do not degrade it.

Fertilizers are the muscle of our modern food production system. Fertilizer use accounts for much of our efficiency in American agriculture, helping one farm worker now produce food for 43 others. Without fertilizers, it would be impossible to grow high quality foods on much of our cropland. Farmers would need to cultivate at least 50 per cent more land to meet today's needs if commercial fertilizers were not used. Production costs would soar and higher food prices with possible food shortages could result.

Some people think that fertilizer nutrients pollute streams, lakes and ground water. Nitrogen and phosphate are the principle nutrients under attack. At the present time, there is no scientific evidence that fertilizers pollute our natural waters.

NEW OFFICERS of the Northeast Nebraska Porkettes are Mrs. Don Marfice, Mrs. Paul Everingham and Mrs. Ronnie Wenstrand. All are from rural Wakefield.

Area Women Organize NEN Porkettes

A group of pork producers wives met recently at the Northeast Station at Concord and organized into the Northeast Nebraska Porkettes, a group dedicated to promoting and improving pork.

The Porkettes are wives of pork producers who are members of the Northeast Pork Producers Association. An auxiliary of the Association, they are become affiliated with the Nebraska and National Porkettes.

The Northeast Porkettes are led by Mrs. Paul Everingham, president; Mrs. Ronnie Wenstrand, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Don Marfice, vice-president, all of rural Wakefield. Membership includes Porkettes from Cedar, Dabola, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties.

A 4-H awards program for county fairs in the five-county area was also announced recently. One trophy will be presented to the 4-H girl giving the top home economics demonstration using pork or pork products. A second trophy will be presented to the top 4-H girl swine showman. The only stipulation is that the winner must have received a blue or purple award.

Social Security Q & A
 Q. Is it possible for the family of a disabled person who is receiving disability benefits from social security to also receive benefits?
 A. If a person who is receiving disability payments has children under 18 years of age or over 18 who became totally disabled before 18 or children between 18 and 22 who are full-time students, then these children may receive benefits. If his wife is past 62 in her care, she may also be eligible for benefits.

WCS Students Plan 6-Week Study Tour of the British Isles This Summer

For students of English literature, a Wayne State sponsored tour of the British Isles this summer will bring the literature to life. At least nine students are scheduled to make the six-week trip under the guidance of Dr. Laura Franklin, head of the WCS English Department.

The group will leave Chicago June 17 for six weeks in Britain and Ireland studying the backgrounds of English literature. They will earn six hours of credit.

Making the trip will be Larry Smith, Plattsmouth; Donna Forbes, Atkinson; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Finn, Carroll; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Judson, Cherokee, Iowa; Nolan Cole, Sioux City; Mary Finn, a teacher in Plattsmouth; Elizabeth Schmidt, teaching in Sioux Falls.

Plans are to see edict to 10 Shakespeare plays, some Ibsen and Shaw, and whatever temporary plays the students choose. They'll also acquaint themselves with the Yorkshire moors of "Wuthering Heights," the route of Chaucer's pilgrims, the London of Dickens and Samuel Johnson as well as of T.S. Eliot or John Osborne, Hardy's Easterbridge, the Ireland of

Farm Center Manager Talks to Local Club

Wayne Kiwanis Club members met for a noon luncheon Monday in the Woman's Club Room and heard Gerry Schafer, manager of the local Standard Oil company's Farm Center, explain plant organization and operation.

Schafer pointed out that the Farm Center in Wayne employs seven persons, handles ammonia, urea, and both liquid and dry fertilizers. He said the local operation is the third largest built by the company and is the largest. It is one of four Standard Farm Centers in Nebraska and represents an approximate investment of $350,000.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Gormley returned Sunday evening from North Platte where they spent the weekend with Mrs. Ida Gormley and Mrs. Ruth Gormley.

Forty-five guests from Madison, Columbus, Norfolk, Lauret and Wayne attended a reception honoring Dan Carroll's commencement Monday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carroll.

A deal to believe in. From a dealer to believe in.

If it takes Value to make you believe in a car, believe in the new Buick Skylark. Every Buick is crafted with integrity. And filled with value.

You get things like a cooling system that should never overheat, even with air conditioning.

You get an automobile so well built that its drive train and chassis are literally tuned to the bias-belted tires that are standard equipment. So that they'll last even longer, and provide even greater traction.

One other point. Value also has to do with the man who sells and services the car you buy. Good service can help you maintain the value of your new car.

Check the good deals your Buick dealer is offering right now on the Buick of your choice. If you're looking for something to believe in, you'll find it there.

After all, wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Tiemann Names June 'Savings Bond Month'

Governor Norbert Tiemann, who serves the national government as honorary state chairman for U. S. Savings Bonds, this week proclaimed the month of June as "Savings Bonds Month" throughout Nebraska.

The proclamation came after Tiemann was honored by the Department of the Treasury in special ceremonies at the State Capitol for his "distinguished service to the United States of America, to the Department of the Treasury and its Savings Bonds Division, and to the patriotic Payroll Savers of his state and its administration."

Marvin F. Oberg, chairman of the state Savings Bonds committee, said, "During the days of June, our people can help build a firm and lasting foundation for our human and vital resources by adding to their storehouses of savings - through the Payroll Plan, where they work; through the Bond-A-Month Plan, where they bank."

WHS Gals Discover Adventure in Homemaking

By Merlin Wright

Just before classes at Wayne High School heard the final bell for the summer months, this writer ventured into the school's gourmet center with its all-girl cast, and got an on-the-spot briefing as to what the girls in home economics classes are learning nowadays.

"Many people have the concept of high school home economics as being nothing more than having a class where a girl learns cooking and sewing skills," observed Mrs. John Mohr, one of two WHS home economics instructors. Mrs. Charles Peters is the other half of the two-teacher team in the department. Explaining her comment about modern home economics, Mrs. Mohr said, "It really covers a much broader area. Consumer education at every level is stressed. How to go out and be a wise shopper in every area is one of the more important phases of our classroom work."

Instructors Mohr and Peters were teaching a total of 108 high school girls last semester sharing teaching duties in such courses as Advanced Foods, Advanced Sewing I and II, Home Ec. I, Freshmen Home Ec., Housing and Home Furnishings. Mrs. Peters also teaches Home Ec. I in the Wayne Middle School.

Classes vary from a one-year course for freshmen who have never had any previous home economics training, taught by Mrs. Peters, to classes such as Advanced Foods and Home Ec. II which are limited to senior girls genbach and Susan Heithold, as they prepare a beverage called Milky Way Punch. Work-in-the-lab consists basically of learning by doing and taught by Mrs. Mohr. Except for the one-year freshman course, home economics courses are one semester in length. The half-year courses were started when the student body first occupied the new building. "Now the girls can elect to take one semester if desired, rather than a full year," explained Mrs. Mohr. All such classes in the high school are elective. Why is it so important for a girl to learn efficient homemaking? "Tomorrow's homemaker will likely be working outside the home," where it is thought that nine out of ten women will be working outside the home in the future. These girls then must learn to program their time, taking full advantage of time-saving devices." She said students in the Advanced Foods class are taught to use the electronic oven and kept current with such equipment as the "Sage" mixer which hermetically seals foods in plastic bags for refrigeration or freezing.

Pupils also make use of audio visual aids such as the overhead projector, opaque projector and 16 mm films to learn by seeing styles of homes, roof and window lines, decorating schemes, floor plans and landscaping.

which means, as Mrs. Mohr explained, that the girls may discuss problems in a casual atmosphere. "Since it is a class of all girls," she noted, "it is easier for the girls to converse about mutual problems and interests."

Meal preparation, cooking and serving are all part of requirements in lab assignments. The girls get to eat the results of their experimental cooking, in fact, Mrs. Mohr said. "A requirement is that the girls must taste all foods they prepare. 'We've had very few flops,' she added.

This winter invaded a beverage lab in the Advanced Foods Class where various groups of students were mixing a variety of cool beverages. Besides Rainbow Punch and Raspberry Shrub there was Milky Way Punch made from ice cream and grape juice. 'M' Delicious!

In the senior Advanced Foods class the girls are divided into groups of four. Each group is then given a budget from which they must prepare a menu, buy the groceries and prepare a formal meal for eight. Each of the four members invite a guest, making eight at the table, and the meal is prepared and served. Mrs. Mohr is an observer and grades students on the project.

Another unit that is limited to senior girls, Home Ec. II, provides the students the opportunity of studying the individual societies. This includes units on careers, dating, courtship, marriage and child development. Related to working with children, the students have a play school each December for pre-school children. It is here the girls have an opportunity to observe child behavior. Another unit in Home Ec. II lasts for two weeks and teaches how to choose dinnerware including china, crystal, silverware and table accessories.

Mrs. Charles Peters instructs a class in House and Home Furnishings. Girls taking the course are in grades 10 through 12. She pointed out the goals of the course as being to give the student insight into buying a house vs. renting; learning how to read and draw floor plans; learning to furnish a house using appropriate color schemes, choosing carpet and drapery materials, and requirements of good lighting and adequate wiring. She said her class toured three new homes studying layout, livability and furnishings as part of a field trip. They also toured several mobile homes.

Freshmen girls taking the one-year course in home economics, taught by Mrs. Peters, learn, among other things, flower arrangement, good manners, child care, baby-sitting, home nursing, sewing, and this year the girls constructed miniature bedrooms out of boxes in a study of furniture arrangement.

What are some of the problems of teaching home economics? "It is difficult to teach since there is such rapid change," noted Mrs. Mohr. "The conventional home today may be outdated by the time these girls are ready to build a new home. Then again, many of the girls will live in apartments rather than in a home," she said.

The WHS home economics teaching team believes their students must keep abreast with recent changes and urges them to continue reading and studying in order to remain current with constant developments.

All of Wayne High School's classes are over now for the summer, but in little more than 10 weeks there will be a new term starting and many of the WHS girls from freshmen to seniors will decide to take one of the more practical elective classes—home economics.

It was time to go but there was one more question: Do you suppose I could have just one more taste of that Milky Way Punch?

Latest Directory of State's Manufacturers Now Ready at Lincoln

The new 1970-71 Directory of Nebraska Manufacturers and Their Products has just been published by the Nebraska Department of Economic Development and is available from that office.

The 164-page directory consists of four sections. The first section lists the state's manufacturers in alphabetical order. The second section lists them by community and includes the firm name, address, home office, head of the firm and products, as well as approximate number of employees. Those firms which are involved in exporting are identified and this section also includes a profile of each community listed.

Section three lists the firms by major standard industrial classifications and section four lists some 800 products, identifying them by the applicable SIC number.

The directory, published every two years, can be obtained at a cost of $5.00 plus tax per copy by contacting the Economic Development Department in Lincoln.
