

Windstorm Tears Path Across NE Nebraska

A severe storm including tornado winds moved across Northeast Nebraska from the southwest to the northeast between 11 p.m. and midnight Monday, damaging farm homes and buildings, scattering hay, tearing up trees and downing utility wires, but there was no reported loss of life or livestock.

After doing considerable damage in and near Norfolk, the storm moved northeast across Wayne County. Farms southwest of Carroll including those of Dewey Jones, Wayne Kerstine, Ed Fork, Erwin Morris and Robert Peterson all received varying amounts of damage.

Dewey Jones, who farms three miles south, two west and a half mile south of Carroll said the winds were apparently torpid since it swept through a narrow path and acted differently than a straight wind. He said trees were twisted and broken on his place as well as two large windows in the house were blown in. Jones said about 600 bales of hay in a stack were hit and a portion of the stack was scattered. He reported the tallpine tree in the windmill was ripped off, a small chimney was knocked out of a brooder house, and their house was slightly damaged.

Roofs on a barn and machine shed were torn off on the Wayne Kerstine farm one and a half miles south and one mile west of Carroll. Two hayracks and a hay loader were overturned.

A hay stack was scattered on the Ed Fork farm a half mile south and a half mile west of Carroll.

Wind took the roof off a cement granary on the Erwin Morris farm southwest of Carroll and carried it across a road taking some highline wires with it. One tree reportedly fell narrowly missing the house.

Dewey Jones said his neighbor, Robert Peterson, who farms a half mile east of him, had new hay scattered, wagons and several small buildings damaged.

Moving eastward the storm demolished a large barn three

Free High Rates Okay, District Judge Decides

The people who have been protesting the free high tuition rates set by the Wayne-Carroll school district will have to take their case to the Nebraska Supreme Court if they want to protest further.

District Judge Merritt C. Warren earlier this week ruled against a neutral which had been requested by those saying the free high tuition rates are too high.

In his ruling, Judge Warren noted that the statute which permits the school districts to set their free high rates is constitutional. The last legislature gave the districts authority to set the rates at a level no less than the per pupil cost. The Wayne-Carroll district set the rate at $951.

The lawyer arguing the case for those against permitting the districts to set their own rates said that the law is unconstitutional.

Goal of $3,000 Is Reached Here In Cancer Drive

Total contributions from residents in Wayne and Wayne County to the 1970 fund drive for the American Cancer Society amounted to exactly $3,000, which was the goal. Mrs. Cliff Johnson and Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve were co-chairmen for the fund campaign in Wayne. Mrs. Lester Hansen was chairman for the rural drive and Mrs. Rudolph Longe was county chairman.

"Final analysis of contributions show $1,501.72 raised in Wayne, including $375 from the business district, and slightly less than $1,500 coming from throughout Wayne County.

A spokesman for the fund drive said a citation will be presented to the county by the American Cancer Society for reaching its set goal.

Troy Vaughn was chairman of the Wayne business district drive with Jack McLean as co-chairman. "Shorty" Ellis served as county treasurer.

Twenty-two Wayne businessmen assisted with the in-town campaign. They were Grant Hansen, Bob Allen, Wilmer Marra, Dick Hammer, Ray Butts, George Gahl, Paul Koplin, Armond Hixcox, Mike Smith, C. L. Costello, Bob Nelson, Cliff Johnson, Jack March, Larry DeForge, Fred Gildersleeve, Phil Griesel, Al Voorhes, Rowan Wiltsie, Lawrence Shupe, Bill Heeg, Kurt Otto and Al Bate.

Hamilton to Stand Trial for Murder

Bert Smith, Hamilton's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hamilton.

The shooting took place about midnight May 1. Smith was dead upon arrival at the Wakefield Community Hospital, taken there by Hamilton after the shooting.

Death was caused by a .22 calibre bullet which entered the left chest and pierced Smith's heart and one of his lungs.

Twenty witnesses were called by the State during the seven-hour hearing, including nine youths who were students at Allen High School at the time of the shooting. Those youths: Bart Jorgensen, Mike Isom, LeAnn Von Minden, Mike Ellis, Rick Gensler, Bob Smith (no relation), Richard Kraemer, John Axts and Terry Trube.

Other witnesses called by the State included Erwin Hubertstedt, night marshal at Wakefield who Hamilton apparently first contacted after the shooting, and Alvera Borg, nurse on duty at the Wakefield Hospital when the night marshal and Hamilton brought Smith there for treatment.

Also called to the stand were several investigators who have been working on the case.

The state introduced several pieces of evidence during the hearing, including a .22 calibre magnum pistol which was recovered from Hamilton's car and which was identified by one of the investigators as the weapon used in the shooting.

Also introduced was a statement reportedly written and signed by Hamilton which stated in what happened shortly before and at the time of the shooting.

Defense lawyers for Hamilton attempted to get the statement dismissed because they contended it was taken after Hamilton's constitutional rights had been violated.

According to the testimony given at the hearing, here's a brief of what happened the night of the shooting:

John Axts and Terry Trube were driving around Allen during the evening and later picked up Bob Ruelle and young Smith. They later stopped at the Allen High School where a seventh and eighth grade dance was going on. After some more driving around, John Axts drove into the country to take Ruelle home when Hamilton began following him. Hamilton

New Show Scheduled At WSC Planetarium

The Wayne State College planetarium will not be closed for the entire summer after all, as previously announced, due to a change in scheduling.

A show approximately one hour in length titled "Twelve Constellations of the Zodiac" has been set Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and June 28, July 5 and again July 12. Dean Metz, assistant professor of science and mathematics at WSC, will be in charge of the presentations.

There is no charge to see the celestial show, however the public is urged to arrive and be in the planetarium shortly after 2:15 p.m. as no one will be admitted after the presentation has started due to the need for keeping the planetarium in darkness.

"Zodiac" is the third different program to be presented since the planetarium opened on a regular basis. Carl Rump, planetarium director, and Larry Cottrell, WSC instructor, were in charge of shows in April and May.

'Joe' Heads for Home

Yoneo "Joe" Yanagita, the third Japanese youth to spend nearly two years with the Dick Sorenson farm family north of Wayne, left earlier this week on the first leg of a trip which would take him back to his home.

He was to group at Chicago with other Japanese students who have been working on farms across the nation. The group was to tour several cities in the east and then gather at Seattle on June 28 for ceremonies which would close their two-year stay in the United States.

"Joe" spent his time at the Sorenson farm and studied for a short time at the University of Nebraska under the Japanese Agricultural Training Program. The program works in America through the National 4-H Foundation.

The Sorenson family said they miss the Japanese youth. But that feeling is partially offset by the family's four Japanese farm workers - Norio Watanabe, who arrived earlier this year.

Dozer Operator Killed On Highway 15 Project

A 24-year-old bulldozer operator working on the reconstruction of Highway 15 died instantly around 5:30 p.m. Monday just a little more than 14 miles south of Wayne when a tree fell on him.

Emil Christensen, Stanton County sheriff, investigating officer, said Richard L. Weber, 24, of Culbertson was employed by the Stewart Construction Company of Lincoln and was attempting to pull a tree, approximately 18 inches in diameter, out of the ground on the west side of Highway 15 about three-fourths of a mile north of the junction of Highways 15 and 275.

Christensen said Weber had the bulldozer in reverse and the tree which he was pulling was hooked onto another tree which fell on him causing his death.

The bulldozer continued in reverse, backing across the highway in a southeasterly direction carrying the body and tree. It traveled an approximate 100 yards before striking a concrete block building belonging to Elmung Concrete Products Company. The big machine knocked out a large section of a wall before stopping half-way into the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Cheney live on the west side of the highway and the tree Weber was attempting to take out was only a few feet from their front porch.

Mrs. Cheney said Tuesday morning that her husband had been observing Weber work in front of the house and saw the accident.

Sheriff Christensen said the body was taken to Culbertson where funeral arrangements were pending. Weber is survived by his wife, Diane, a two-year-old son; his brother and five sisters; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Weber.

Farewell Fete Friday To Honor AFS Student

A farewell picnic is slated at 6:30 p.m. Friday in Bressler Park for (Gladys) A. Urian, AFS student from the Philippines, who has made her home with Dr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson for the past school year.

Robert Porter, president of the AFS Chapter in Wayne, said the affair is open to the public and is potluck. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a main dish and either a salad or dessert. A drink will be furnished by the local AFS Chapter. Each person is to bring their own table service.

The picnic is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by a band concert at eight o'clock in the park. It will be the first concert of the season performed by the Wayne High School band.

The band concert will feature traditional summer concert music - marches and popular music. It will last about 45 minutes and will give the public its first chance to hear the approval of a new piece.

Final Phase of 'Good Turn Day' Set for Saturday

The final phase of the annual Mid-America Area Council Boy Scout "Good Turn Day" will take place this Saturday in Carroll and Wayne.

Boy Scouts under the direction of Scoutmaster David Lahr in Carroll and Rowan Wiltsie, Burns McCulloch and Robert Carhart in Wayne will gather the Good Turn Day bags from the homes in the two communities and store them until the Goodwill Truck picks them up and takes them to the Goodwill plant.

The Scouts request that the contributors have their bags and any extra boxes of material out on the front steps by 8 a.m. Saturday, for the Scouts will not ring doorbells.

The materials are needed at this time of the year and the Scouts urge all of the residents in Carroll and Wayne to give generously all unneeded, but usable, clothing, shoes, bedding and small household appliances.

Area Boy Scouts Set Paper Drive

Wayne Boy Scouts will be picking up old newspapers again in a drive slated July 27. Rowan Wiltsie, scoutmaster of Troop 175, says it will be the final paper drive for the scouts since the contract with the Midwest Paper Salvage Company in Omaha has been terminated.

As in previous drives, Wiltsie said, the papers should be boxed or banded and set out on the front porch where they may be easily seen. The drive is scheduled to begin around 9 a.m. so residents are asked to have their papers on the porch prior to that time.

Residents are asked to not include slick-paper magazines as they are not usable. Only old newspaper is wanted.

Scouts have carried out paper See PAPER DRIVE, page 6

2 Hospitalized After Vehicles Hit at Winside

A Carroll couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Jorgensen, were two of five persons escaping serious injuries in a two-car accident around 7:45 p.m. Saturday a mile north of Winside on Highway 35.

According to the report of Trooper C. E. Hoemann of Norfolk, who investigated the mishap, Mrs. Jorgensen, accompanied by her husband as a passenger, was southbound on Highway 35 in a 1962 Ford. She attempted to make a left turn onto a county road and was in collision with a 1965 Buick which was northbound and driven by Harold G. Murtha of Sioux City. Murtha was accompanied by his wife and eight-year-old son, Scott.

Both Mrs. Jorgensen and Mrs. Murtha were taken by the Wayne ambulance to the Wayne Hospital where they were treated for cuts and bruises. Mrs. Murtha was released the next day and Mrs. Jorgensen was dismissed Monday.

Trooper Hoemann reported both autos were extensively damaged.

Lions Challenge Lions to Raise Funds

Members of the Wayne Lions Club have chosen up slides and thrown down challenges to see which team will sell the most light bulbs in the club's latest project.

The project was kicked off Wednesday with the first of three nights of house-to-house canvassing of Wayne, offering the eight-bulb packages to residents of the city for $2. The packages contain four 60-watt, two 75-watt and two 100-watt bulbs.

Proceeds from the light bulb sales will be funneled to help fund the overnight trailer and camping park on the east edge of the city. That project, taken on by the group last year, has advanced to the stage that electrical utilities have been supplied by the city and trees have been planted by Lions members.

The Lions Club hopes to be able to gravel the park and further complete it with the proceeds from the sale.

Heading up the latest fund raising drive - it replaces the annual broom sale - are Larry DeForge and Charles Denesla.

Members on one of the teams competing to see who are the best salesmen are co-captains Bob Valoc and Bob McLean, Al

Jordanian Farm Youth To Attend School Here

Members of the local American Field Service Chapter have been informed by the AFS office in New York that the Wayne-Carroll School system will have a 17-year-old Jordanian AFS student attending high school this fall.

Robert Porter, AFS Chapter president, said Monday that Abdallah K. Khawaldeh from Mursi-Jordan, will arrive in New York Aug. 18 and be here several days later where he will make his home during the 1970-71 school year with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Niemann of rural Carroll. The Niemanns farm six miles west and one and a-half miles north of Wayne.

Abdallah comes from a modest farm family in Jordan. He has one brother and a sister. His American family has four children, three of which are living at home. Claudia is the oldest of the Niemann children and is now Mrs. Don Koerber. Monte, who will be a freshman at Wayne State College this fall; Scott, a junior at Wayne High and five-year-old Shawn are all at home.

Abdallah Khawaldeh is the fifth AFS student to study here and is the first to have a farm family as host. He has been attending school in Jarash, Jordan, and will be a senior at Wayne High.
Previous AFS students coming to Wayne and their host families are Phadet Gawsomlat of Thailand who lived with the J. M. Browns in 1966-67; Margot Meier of Australia who made her home with the Ed Volkies in 1967-68; Fichon Guzman Bustamante of Chile lived with the Kent hall family during 1968-69, and Tessie Urian from the Philippines has been a member of the Walter Peterson household during the past school term.

Under the AFS student program the host family budgets for the pupil's food and lodging, family trips, and modest birthday, holiday and farewell presents in accordance with its own way of living. The local AFS Chapter contributes $850 to AFS International. The student's own family contributes what it can afford plus clothing, luggage, transportation in his own country, and medical expenses for pre-existing conditions.

The school generally furnishes transportation to and from school, school lunches, school books and supplies, yearbook and class photographs, school activities fees, graduation expenses, school trips, gym suit and equipment.
American Field Service International pays for the overseas plane fares, students' personal allowances ($16 per month per student), medical expenses (except dental and eye care) unless due to pre-existing conditions, and preventive inoculations. AFS International also pays for the pupil's arrival and departure expenses and orientation, transportation fares within the U.S., baggage charges and the end-of-the-year bus trip costs.

AFS brings over 3,000 students from more than 60 countries to the U.S. each year and is also sending approximately 1,500 American students abroad each year.

Yard 'n' Garden Tips

Q - What might be destroying the first two leaves of bean plants, and will this affect production of the plants?
A - Probably bean leaf beetles are the culprits. Sevin, methoxychlor, malathion or diazinon will keep the beetles off. Spray again a week or two after the initial application, and follow directions carefully. (Beetles can cause trouble here, also).

Q - Is it alright to use a sprinkler in a strawberry bed while the plants are blooming? Won't this wash off the blossoms and therefore mean less production?
A - Sprinkling will not be harmful to the process of pollination involved here. Rain works through the same principle and does no harm.

Q - What causes dark spots on apples, especially at the stem end?
A - The problem is, no doubt, scab, which can be controlled well by captan. Treatment should be applied once each two weeks throughout the growing season.

Q - How does one kill a large cottonwood which shows "bottom" over the property?
A - It is best to cut the tree while green and to treat the stump. Treat stump with 2,4-D formulation cut to four per cent strength. Use volatile ester, dilute with kerosene, yielding a 40 per cent product. Mix 10 parts fuel oil or kerosene to one part of 2,4-D and apply liberally to the stump surface, and especially on the outside edges. (Place a tub over the stump to check dangerous fumes).

FAMILY PROJECT. Winona Peterson and her father, Dr. Walter Peterson, watch Tessie start the power mower in preparation for a family project. Tessie has been a member of the Peterson household while attending Wayne High School on the American Field Service program. She will return to the Philippines next month.

AFS Pupil Will Soon Rejoin Family

By Merlin Wright

A mother and father in the Philippines, their four sons and a daughter, are all anxiously awaiting the day for the arrival of a jet plane at Manila International Airport. Aboard that plane from America will be their daughter and sister, Tressie (Tessie) A. Urian, 17, who has been attending Wayne High School as an American Field Service student while living with Dr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson and family. The airport reunion is scheduled for July 15.

Before that reunion can take place, however, there will be some farewells to Tressie in Wayne. The official public farewell picnic is slated Friday night at 6:30 p.m. in Bressler Park. All persons wanting to join the picnic and bid Tressie adieu are welcome. It is a potluck supper with a beverage to be furnished by the local AFS Chapter.

The pretty AFS student arrived in Wayne Aug. 8 last year after arriving in San Francisco four days earlier. She immediately became a member of the Peterson family with two new sisters, Winona and Chris. Tressie already had a good idea as to what it means to be an exchange student—as her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Urian and their six children, were hosts in 1968 to Elize Tribble from Asheville, North Carolina. Miss Tribble was in the Philippines through the Americans Abroad Program.

Tessie, who celebrated her 17th birthday here last Sept. 29, graduated from the Maycaayan Institute in her hometown of Maycaayan last year and graduated again from Wayne High School several weeks ago. She said, while visiting last week, she plans after returning to the Philippines to enroll in either the University of the Philippines at Quezon City or in the University of Santo Thomas in Manila. Though her plans remain uncertain as to her major subject in the university, she hopes to be a doctor.

In response to questions as to whether the year of study in America had been worthwhile, and, if possible, would she do it all over again, her answers were enthusiastically affirmative.

She confesses her first concept of Americans, prior to her coming here, was that they were all rich. This idea was soon changed and she quickly observed, "It is a wonderful place to live."

Miss Urian participated in a variety of Wayne High School activities, including being a Thespian. "It was the first and most exciting winter for me," she commented, explaining, "I really liked the snow but the coldness and I didn't get along too well."

Some of the "firsts" for her in America was the first time to eat pizza, about which she observed, "I really liked it"; first ride on a snowmobile and she got to go horseback riding for the first time with "Ami" (Coryell).

"I had the most wonderful year," Tessie said, "and it was real exciting and unforgettable. I have a very nice family here!" She went with her American family on two different trips. Recalling her experiences while visiting the Rocky Mountains in Colorado last April, Tessie said it was "hard to breath but it was fun." On another trip about a week ago the family went to the Black Hills where Tessie got to see the huge carved heads of several presidents on the side of a small mountain. "I never thought I would get to see all of these things," she said appreciatively.

Was there anything particularly different about going to school here compared to going at home? A smile quickly formed on her cheeks and she admitted that with classes starting around 7:30 a.m. or earlier in the Philippines she had to get up a bit earlier at home. About getting up earlier she quipped, "I don't miss it!"

Like other families, the Urians have missed their daughter and will soon welcome her home. Tessie is slated to be in Lincoln at 8 a.m. June 29 to join an AFS bus tour of the States which will last two and one-half weeks. She will then leave San Francisco by jet, along with other AFS pupils, and arrive home in mid-July. Her father, Felix, who works in the Central Bank of the Philippines in Manila; her mother and four brothers, Michael, Nestor, Eduardo and Junior; and a sister, Marlou, are busy making plans for her arrival home.

Tessie says "Thank you to everybody for everything." Mail will reach her at home addressed Teresta A. Urian, Calvario, Meccaayan, Bulacan D-212, Philippines.

Goodbye Tessie! Bon voyage!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. It is the duty of an editorial writer to write in an objective manner and to give a clear picture of important topics.

You may not agree with an editorial — but if you read the editorial and give serious thought to the subject discussed, you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

CONGRATS

Our congratulations go out to everybody — and we mean everybody quite literally — who has had a hand in lifting the Wayne-Carroll school system to the double A rating. It received just last week.

Although many do not realize it, the AA rating means that the school system is one of the best in the state, regardless of size, regardless of financial backing, in fact, the Wayne system is one of fewer than 30 systems in the state to receive the coveted AA rating. And there are over 330 systems in the state competing for the rank.

In the simplest terms, the AA rating means that the Wayne-Carroll school system is offering top quality education to the great majority of its pupils. It does not mean that just the students who will go on to college are receiving excellent instruction and preparation. It means that those who will be going into the work force upon graduation are also receiving sound instruction and preparation. It does not mean that the facilities in just one building are outstanding. It means that the facilities in all buildings are commendable.

A school system is a machine with a lot of moving parts which have to work together smoothly in order to get its job done. When a school gets the AA rating, it means that those moving parts are finely honed and working together in about the best manner possible.

The list of schools which already had the AA rating before last week's action by the State Board of Education is interesting, for they are located in towns which a person often thinks of as progressive — Fremont, Bellevue, Kearney, Kimball, Lexington, York, Lincoln and Scottsbluff. Those towns are fairly large towns, many of them located in what some call "rich" areas, and for Wayne to join them is worth commendation.

The people living in the district who make it possible for the school to offer quality education, to its students should feel proud of themselves. The rating will be something to take into consideration as we watch the school board go about making up a budget for the coming school year. — NLH.

Flying Flags

There is never an end to the beauty of Old Glory catching a breeze on her side and flying majestically overhead. Sunday was Flag Day, of course, and many residents in Wayne and surrounding communities proudly displayed the red, white and blue.

Countless numbers of words have been written in story form, in poems and in songs concerning the flag and its meaning.

Flags fly daily over federal, state and county government buildings as well as at schools and some homes. Old Glory is out front in most parades, in most churches and graces the caissons of those who have died while serving in their country's military services.

The flag has been put to yet another use. Nebraska's legislators passed LB 1371 last year which provides for flying the Nation's flag at night as well as day, however, the flag is to be illuminated from dusk to dawn. LB 1371 notes that the reason for the flag being flown around the clock on all public buildings until the termination of the Viet Nam war is to visibly demonstrate Nebraska's loyalty to those men in the armed forces involved in that conflict.

In the accompanying photo of the American flag and State flag flying at the city auditorium, one can see what wet weather may do to the colors.

Prior to their being stolen, two similar flags were flown at the Wayne County Courthouse last month around the clock and the pole is not illuminated.

We're not pointing our finger at anyone, but because we adults must set an example before the young, can we be too careful in regards to complying with rules concerning flying the flags?

We feel Old Glory should be taken indoors during a rain and, if flown at night as provided by LB 1371, the pole should be illuminated.

There would surely be no criticism of our county's commissioners if they used funds to illuminate the flag at the courthouse so it could be on display both day and night. For who is more proud of our men in the military service than who live in Wayne County? — MMW.

Movies and Ratings

Wayne is a growing city and among other forms of entertainment available here are movies at two downtown theatres and a drive-in north of town.

The movie industry now rates most of its films as a guide to inform the public, especially parents, about the suitability of movie content for viewing by children. The film rating system does not rate films for adults. A film is not rated for artistic quality, or lack of it. The rating system does not recommend, ban or censor films, but is an information service for the public.

As of last spring, movies are rated as follows:

A "G" rated movie includes those with a broad range of theme and appeal for all ages and contains no material which parents would find objectionable for viewing by youngsters.

A "GP" rated film contains scenes which may be objected to by some parents in some geographical areas, however both "G" and "GP" films are open to all ages with parental guidance suggested for the latter.

"R" films have adult themes or treatment, but are pictures persons under 17 may see if accompanied by a parent or adult guardian.

"X" pictures contain themes and scenes of such a nature that no one under 17 is to be admitted.

We live in a choosing world and here in America we treasure the freedom of selection. "Morality" cannot be legislated so all forms of entertainment, including reading and movies, are limited by free laws. There are, consequently, books and films running from A to Z, or from "Adam" to "Zabriskie Point," containing little bits of something and lots of nothing.

There are also books and films running from "Altport" to "Zhvago" containing themes which may or may not entertain. With its ability to make all types and qualities of pictures, the movie industry saw need to grade its productions. The rating code is of a particular benefit to parents wanting to be selective in choosing movies for family viewing.

So when the kids want to go out for a movie, it might be wise to check the sign for a rating before signing the check for tickets. — MMW.

Legislators Taking New Route For State's Office Building

LINCOLN — The city of Lincoln isn't going to be the state's landlord after all. At least not for the proposed state office building.

Lincoln and another for the Educational Television Network. But, during their special session, the state's legislators decided it probably would be better to finance the state office building by direct appropriations than to have the city build it and then lease it for state use.

The decision came after the senators learned that rising interest rates would mean the building would cost about twice as much if the financing were done with borrowed money.

But Lincoln officials had no warning. Ralph Nelson, the city's corporation counsel, said he was surprised. Lincoln already had invested about $2 million in land acquisition, architectural fees and other costs as it prepared for the construction project.

The senators, in a resolution, said the city should be paid for its investment and recommended that the 1971 Legislature take care of that obligation.

The building, as it is now designed, will cost about $15 million. The 1971 Legislature, if it wants to start the direct financing process, will have to appropriate about $8 million toward the construction of the building, which is to be built a block north of the statehouse.

The 1971 Legislature will appropriate the remaining costs. Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairman of a special legislative committee studying the office building project, said about $2 million remains in a fund started in 1963 for construction. At that time, a mill levy was established to build up a fund.

Revenue into that fund ceased when the state left the property tax field. Warner's committee recommended, and the special session agreed, that the obligations to Lincoln should be paid out of that fund.

Nelson said the costs incurred so far by the city were $1.9 million. That total includes $75,000 the city has paid in interest on warrants it issued to get money to pay for land and architects. That figure, of course, will continue to increase until the state reimburses the city and the warrants are retired.

Nelson said that means it is to the state's interest to get the debt to the city paid off as quickly as possible when the 1971 Legislature convenes next January. It also is to the city's advantage, he said, because the municipal credit rating is affected by the manner in which it pays off its debts.

The Warner committee agreed it should assume title to the city property purchased as a site for the building and to the architectural and engineering work already done.

When the issue came up on the floor, the debate wasn't on whether the building should be built, but on how it should be financed. There were five votes against abandoning the city of Lincoln route; but 28 senators gave what amounted to an endorsement of direct financing through appropriation.

Warner, as a Lancaster County senator, generally is grouped with the Lincoln delegation. He voted for the proposal, or against using Lincoln as the landlord for the building. Sen. William F. Swanson of Lincoln also voted for the recommendation.

Lincoln senators voting against it were Fern Hubbard Orme, Roland A. Luedtke and Harold D. Simpson.

Nelson said Lincoln entered into the agreement with the state in good faith. The city's financing was to have been used because the constitution prohibits the state from going into debt for that sort of construction. Even the Capitol was paid for as it was built.

The idea for the office building was for the city to issue bonds and build the structure and then lease the space to the state. Each session of the Legislature would have to make appropriations for the lease payment.

"We realized this was an unusual arrangement," Nelson said. "There really wasn't a binding legal document which would assure Lincoln citizens they would be able to pay off the bonds we would issue. It was, totally a good faith agreement based, in effect, on a handshake."

But he said the city was willing to go along because it always has been anxious to cooperate with the state. "We responded in good faith to every request the state made," he said.

He was asked if the city would be as willing if it were asked sometime in the future to lend its credit to the state. "We would listen to any proposals with an open mind," he said.

There were other resolutions considered during the special session.

One was killed. It would have resolved that the special session Legislature "pledges not to increase the sales and income tax except in the case of emergency and will not start any new programs and the Legislature in the future will concentrate its time on finding ways to reduce expenditures."

That resolution was sponsored by Sens. J. James Waldron of Callaway, C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Leslie Robinson of Kearney.

It fell, however, on a motion by Sen. George Syas of Omaha that it be killed. Syas' motion won 23 to 16 approval.

The Omaha senator said there is no way the special session body could commit a future Legislature and that it was "dishonest manipulation" to pass a "heads-line grabbing" resolution that pretends to the people that such a thing could be done. The agenda of the special session, he said, would prevent the senators assembled this month from raising the tax rates.

In presenting his arguments for the proposal, Waldron said he wanted a statement which would tell the people of Nebraska the lawmakers hear the message they are trying to get across — Don't raise taxes.

Waldron, however, said he didn't mean to imply that the Legislature has or would be spending the people's tax money "recklessly or foolishly."

Syas contended the facts would speak for themselves and the people would decide whether the Legislature passed a resolution pledging fiscal integrity or not. "Any senator who votes for this resolution," Syas said, "shouldn't introduce any bill or vote for any bill next session which raises the state's costs."

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the editor may be published with a pseudonym or with the author's name omitted if so desired; however, the writer's signature must be a part of the original letter. Unsigned letters will not be printed. Letters should be timely, brief and must contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letter.

Printed comment has been made in The Herald by a local minister and one of your writers concerning the advertising and film "Zabriskie Point" shown at the Cine recently. As managers of the theatre we appreciate the expression of such viewpoints.

Statements made by Just Wright in the last issue of The Herald concerning his opinion of the movie in question gave an accurate analysis of the film. As managers of the Cine Theatre, the choice of movie titles and ratings is not ours.

One of the happiest nights of our theatre work was a Saturday evening when we ran two family shows entitled, "Support Your Local Sheriff" and "Yours, Mine, and Ours." The seats were filled from seven o'clock to midnight with families watching these two "G" rated shows. This is rare, however, as most family shows are not well attended. Consequently, it takes "R" and "X" rated films to keep the bills paid.

We are closing the theatre Thursday, June 18 and will re-open early in the month of August. We hope to be able to bring our customers a full schedule of fine entertainment.

Out of Old

Washing Down Your Walls

In this day of modern conveniences, one seldom stops to think of how difficult the everyday life of the pioneer wife must have been. Without scouring powders, cleaning agents, insect sprays, refrigeration, or beautifying cosmetics, she struggled against nature's forces to make her home comfortable and livable. The following is a compilation of "Household Hints and Helps" for the modern woman of yesterday, published in Early Days in Polk County by Mildred Fildman, a copy of which is found in the Library of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

To Preserve Eggs — One quart of salt, one pint of slacked lime and three gallons water. This liquid will keep eggs for years.

To Clean Mud From Clothing — Use a corn cob to rub the mud from clothing, then brush well.

To Remove Stain — Wash with a solution of lemon juice and carbonate of soda; follow with the juice of unripe grapes if they may be had; if not, with "Fuller's Earth Water."

To Remove Wrinkles — Melt and stir together one ounce of white wax, two ounces of strained honey and two ounces of the juice of lily bulbs; apply to the face every night, and it is said your wrinkles will disappear.

To Exterminate Bed Bugs — Use kerosene oil freely wherever the bugs are found.

Dry Boots — Fill wet boots with dry oats and set aside for a few hours. The oats will draw the moisture from the boots and swelling out, will keep the leather from shrinking and hardening as it would do if placed near the fire to dry.

To Wash Painted Surfaces — Wash with milk.

To Drive Away Fleas — Sprinkle a few drops of lavender about the beds and other places where they infest.

To Remove Bad Smells From Clothing — Articles of clothing or any other articles which have bad smelling substances on them may be freed from the smell by wrapping them up lightly and burying in the ground for a day or two.

To Clean Wall Paper — Blow the dust off the wall with a bellows and then, beginning at the top of the room, go all over the paper, rubbing it with downward strokes with pieces of stale bread.

To Purify Cistern Water — Cistern water may be purified by hanging a bag of charcoal in the water.

To Kill Insects, Such As Bed Bugs, Moths, Etc. — Hot alum water is the best thing known to destroy insects. Boil alum in water until it is dissolved; then apply the hot solution with a brush to closets, bedstead, cracks, or wherever insects are found. All creeping insects may be destroyed by its use. There is no danger of poisoning and its persistent use will rid you of the pest.

Moths — Moths will not lay their eggs where fine-cut tobacco has been scattered.

To Keep Flies Off Gilt Frames — Boll three or four onions in a pint of water and apply the water to the frames with a soft cloth or brush.

To Remove Mildew — Dip the article in sour buttermilk, lay it in the sun to whiten and wash in clean water.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Hallelujah! From June 23 to 26 the American Meat Science Association of the National Live-stock and Meat Board will hold its annual Reciprocal Meat Conference in the land of perpetual chicken, the home of Gatorade and Gator burgers, the Cattle-land Capital—Gainesville, Fla.

From the west and the midwest have little similarity with those of the deep south and south-eastern states. Oh, they all have hair and four legs and one head. But from there on the similarity gap widens. The quality cattle of the west have 100 years of select, best characteristic breeding. The advantages of the southern "imitations" are, having on two different occasions, the lowering of USDA choice grade requirements to help them. And politics.

Purpose—exchange ideas, in-formation and techniques in re-gard to meat research and edu-cation.

Over 200 meat scientists will attend. Unfortunately, not one proven gourmet. Listed officers are either college profs or salaried association "career" men. No great promotional sub-jects will be covered—things that might persuade the New York City, Boston, Cleveland, etc., housewives to select beef for the weekend meals. Surely a budget-minded suburbanite can get along without this additional "scare" information on such subjects as microbiology, physi-ology, food protein and nutrition. Nothing on delectability.

On June 25, a panel discus-sion entitled "200 Years of Meat Teaching: Research and Exten-sion" will be moderated by that great authority of quality corn-fed beef—D. E. Brady of... where? ...oh, yes, San City, Fla. Adding him are other qual-ity food advocates, three of Pro-fessor Emeritus status—J. B. Francion Jr., Louis Stastous, Uni-versity; D. L. Mackentosh, Kan-sas State, and Roy Snyder, Texas A & M. Not agate marbling cor-rupty—potatoes.

Study this list carefully. I can imagine chances of a more fa-vorable corned high choice and prime report coming from a bar-room of shrimp boat sea captains in Galveston, Texas.

My purpose of covering this subject is to remind cattlemen that the major accomplishments of the National Meat Board have been: first, to perpetuate jobs for hundreds of titled gentry; sec-ond, to collect and spend mil-lions from not for stockmen; third, to push four-legged meat per se, import as well as domestic; fourth, fail to fight the USDA pooling of all beef into the now wide range of U. S. choice.

Currently, many individual corn feeding states are making an effort to promote their own beef—proudly and with sincerity. Associations are being formed, referendum elections being held. Some states to have mandatory check off, some voluntary.

All this is good—until the fact arises that usually 90 per cent goes to the National Meat Board, the same dudes that killed the past advantageous reputation of the combelt beef.

The NMB cannot ever say, "Eat Nebraska Beef," "Eat Iowa Beef," "Eat Colorado or Minne-sota, or South Dakota, or Kansas Beef." Why? Simple, Mom, what would Alabama and Delaware cattlemen then say?

Finished livestock products even a bigger check off, but pro-mote, promote, promote. Not merely beef—but your beef. Not import—your beef, your cornfed beef. Custom built of specific breed and technique.

You owe the NMB nothing... but they owe you both an apology and an explanation. For years, for generations, they have taken your money. Yet, show me one place in any metropolitan city that specifically promotes YOUR beef, or has NMB material to advertise the products of your state.

You say, "But, they have ex-perience." Mom, not in the pro-motion of corn, high choice to prime cattle of YOUR state.

Just beef, imports, too. And plenty of fancy titles. And dues paying affiliates.

"Quit your bellyaching, didn't I buy you that umbrella for Mother's Day!"

County Agent's Column

By Harold Ingalls

4-H Youth "Achieve"
Even though 4-H clubs have been operating for more than 50 years and claim nearly 30 million alumni, the question still is asked: "Do 4-H'ers do anything besides raise livestock and chickens, grow crops or can tomatoes?"

The answer is an emphatic "yes."

Another common query is: "Don't all 4-H'ers live on farms?" The answer to that is definitely "no."

Only about a third of the 3.5 million live on farms. Another third reside in cities and small towns, and the remaining third live in rural and farm commu-nities, according to the Federal Extension Service. Altogether, there are some 50 categories of 4-H programs. Each attempts to educate, teach skills, develop character and leader-ship, and motivate the youngster to "achieve" by doing the job as well as he can.

Even the traditional farm-re-lated programs have been re-structured to keep pace with modern agricultural and home economics demands. The science approach to 4-H projects was begun almost two decades ago. Surveys, research, tests, experi-ments and evaluation now are routine for 4-H boys and girls.

Among projects added during the past ten years are conserva-tion, photography, food-nutrition, bicycle, horse, veterinary science, home management, consumer education and commodity marketing.

Tractor Safety Guides
Since 1956, 2,087 accidents involving farm equipment on highways have been reported to the Nebraska Accident Records Bureau, with most of these acci-dents involving farm tractors col-liding with motor-vehicles, run-ning off roadways or overturning.

Extension Circular 70-2103 offers these grim reminders to all Nebraska tractor operators. The publication warns that many tractor accidents which happen on the open road and result in death are single vehicle mishaps caused by excessive speed, im-proper turning, dropping wheels

Nitrogen Is 'Essential' for High Corn Yields

Use of adequate amounts of nitrogen is essential for top corn production. George Rehm, agronomist at the Northeast Station at Concord, reports that 1969 research showed that the use of nitrogen increased corn yields, regardless of the plant population or row spacing used.

Rehm also states that the amount of nitrogen to use should be based on the soil test and the yield goal of an individual farmer.

Those farmers who have not had their soil tested can still use their yield goal as a guide. University of Nebraska recom-mendations are to apply 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre if your yield goal is 75 bushel of corn per acre. Those farmers who would like to have 100 bushel of corn should apply 120 pounds of nitrogen per acre. The farmer who is irrigating and would like to see 150 to 175 bushel of corn to the acre should apply from 160 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to the acre.

The agronomist advises farmers who have not applied sufficient nitrogen to match their yield goal to give serious considera-tion to applying additional amounts—as a sidedress treatment. This additional nitro-gen can best be applied as a liquid or as anhydrous ammonia.

off the roadway and other acts of carelessness.

The circular reveals that two-thirds of the tractor overturns studied by Nebraska researchers involved tractors with narrow front ends. Studies also showed that fatal tractor accidents are more apt to occur in fields or pastures, while injury accidents are more likely to occur on public roads.

Denny: ACP Best Conservation Method

The Agriculture Conservation Program, the method Congressman Robert Denny calls the best possible means of meeting local conservation needs, has been re-stored to the federal budget.

The $185 million program, he noted in his latest letter to weekly newspapers, is the best method of conservation because no practices are adopted and put into effect in any state or county unless approved by local con-servation groups.

The ACP program has con-tributed over two million smaller on-farm structures where the farmer provides about two-thirds of the cost, including the labor. The program makes use of technical advice from the Soil Conservation Service for intro-duction terracing, strip cropping and permanent soil waterways. The funds which had been re-moved from the ACP budget were earmarked for "higher priority programs," notes Cong. Denny. He said he cannot understand why they are removed, especially considering the administration's insistence upon cleaning up our environment.

Manure, Hay Roads Are Now Bituminous

Think life is more unde-pendable these days? Only 50 years ago, a person couldn't even depend on a road that was here today being there tomorrow.

From the Report of the Ne-braska State Highway Advisory Board, January 2, 1969: "Con-siderable advance has been made in the past few years in improving sandhill roads... Most diffi-culty is experienced with the loose sand which drifts where it is exposed to the action of the wind... The roads crossing the loose sands are surfaced with manure, hay, alkali, mad, cinders, or magnesite rock. Very good results have been secured by the use of cinders and mag-nesite, but the other materials, though more accessible, are only temporary..."

The manure and hay roads are gone now, long-ago replaced with bituminous surfacing by the Nebraska Department of Roads. Modern bituminous materials are expected to last 10 to 15 years in the Sand Hills, with only routine maintenance, and then another 10 or 15 with minor resurfacing.

Yard 'n Garden Tips

Q - Large white-winged black ants are appearing in the garden. How can they be removed?

A - They probably are carpenter ants. These ants are of a migratory nature, leaving their colony to start others. To rid the garden of them use a treatment of Chlorodane in a strength of 45 per cent. Use 1/2 cup of Chlorodane to one gallon of water. Saturate the infested plants with this mixture. (This mixture when on the plants will not be dangerous to pets if it is left to dry before pets are allowed near it).

Q - A farmer has a milo field planted next to a wheat field. Armyworms are moving from the wheat field to the milo. Can Malathion be used in treatment?

A - Although Malathion is not the best treatment, it is acceptable. Use it in a strength of about one pint per acre. There is no restriction on the use of the crop with the use of Malathion. An even better treatment for this situation would be the use of Sevin or Toxaphene.

Q - Why are some lawns shallow rooted - turf even breaks off?

A - The reason for the turf breaking off is probably the accumulation of mulch. Mulch is the dead material of the plant. Moats tend to develop in these particular areas. These areas tend to dry out quickly and don't hold fertilizer well.

Q - How can the sod webworm in lawns be controlled or eliminated?

A - The first thing to determine is if the sod webworm is the problem. Many times this condition is mistaken for others, such as dry weather or a hard pan under the lawn. After it has been determined that the sod webworm is present, the best treatment is Diox, Diazinon or Sevin.

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Thursday, June 18, 1970

Q - Toadstools are growing where a tree has been cut down. How can they be removed?

A - The toadstools are actually part of the decaying process of the tree stump and will aid in the decaying of the remainder of the tree. To remove the toadstools, use Panogen turf spray.

Q - The leaves of a flowering crab tree are turning yellow and dropping off. What is the cause?

A - There is a possibility that the problem could be scab - fungus disease. Also it could be a natural physiological condition caused by the dry weather. One should follow through with the regular spraying schedule to insure against other harmful conditions.

Q - Tomato leaves are turning black. What is the cause?

A - It is probably not caused by a disease. The blackness could be caused by a herbicide or possibly the quick change in weather. A sudden change from cold to hot, or vice-versa will cause the leaves to turn black.

Q - How can green moss be removed on the ground?

A - The best treatment is copper sulfate - 1 cup to one gallon of water.

Q - Azaleas are being destroyed by cutworms. What is the best treatment?

A - The best treatment is Chlorodane or Methoxychlor. Apply the solution directly to the plant and also on the soil around the plant. Bake the solution into the soil. This must be done because the cutworms hide in the soil during the day and come out to feed at night.

11 Fined at Ponca

Marsha M. Sorenson of Wayne was one of 11 people fined recently in Dixon County court at Ponca. She paid a fine of $10 and costs for improper passing.

Fined the same amount was John W. Schrieber of Allen for using fictitious number plates. Emerson drivers fined included Lorane J. Habrock, $15 and costs for speeding; Kenneth H. Lamp, $25 and costs for reckless driving; and Steven Moseman, $20 and costs for having no Nebraska license plates. Thomas L. McCoy of Waterbury received a fine of $10 and costs for having no registration certificate.

Also fined: David Jensen, Ponca, $275 for procuring alcoholic liquor for a minor; David Armstrong, Ponca, $25 and costs for reckless driving; C. H. Frantzen, South Sioux City, $11 and costs for speeding; Michael P. Fowler, South Sioux City, $10 and costs for speeding; Orvis R. Moyd, South Sioux City, $11 and costs for speeding.

There are estimated to be some 600 insect species which cause farmers of North America problems in food production. Over three billion dollars is spent annually to control these pests.

Social Security Q & A

Q. - The social security people took my birth certificate when I filed it. How can I get it back?

A. - Generally, the social security people will rely on you to furnish the necessary proofs when you file. If the records you furnished are copies of public records, they are often kept. If they are non-public records (family Bible, for example) the documents are copied and returned. Your birth certificate was doubtless a public record, and you can easily get another copy by writing to the State Division of Vital Statistics.

Club Hears Outline Of Hospital Project

Preliminary plans for a hospital district were outlined by Attorney Ken Olds as he spoke to the Kiwanis Club Monday following a noon luncheon in the Woman's Club room.

Olds recalled the organizing of the Wayne Hospital Foundation nine years ago. He noted that $25,000 has been raised by that group for the provision of better medical facilities in Wayne.

The attorney questioned as to how long the present hospital may qualify for the Medicare program and noted a new hospital is needed to keep present doctors and attract others in the future.

Olds pointed out the Wayne Hospital Foundation board members are working on a proposed hospital district which would likely have an assessment value of around $45 million, noting there would have to be a vote of the people before any such district could be brought into existence.

Congratulations were extended by the Kiwanians to Dr. and Mrs. Rafael Sosa of Wayne State College for completion of requirements and receiving their American citizenship in Lincoln May 25. The Sosa are originally from Cuba.

VA Q & A -
Q - My National Service Life Insurance is still on the term plan, and I am thinking of converting it to a permanent plan. If I do, will dividends still be paid on my policy?
A - If dividends are being paid on the term plan, the converted policy will continue to draw dividends. However, on the Modified Life policy, dividends generally will be less than those on other plans.

Business Notes
Logan Valley Implement of Wayne has been named the franchised dealer for Gehl farm machinery in this area. The announcement was made jointly by Gehl Company officials at West Bend, Wis., and their representative in this area, Lyle E. Snow of rural Telemah. The century old Gehl firm specializes in forage harvesting, handling and feed-making equipment, which it distributes both nationally and internationally.
According to Snow, Logan Valley Implement was chosen as Gehl dealer for this area because "R is best qualified with personnel and facilities to handle the sales and service opportunities of an established and expanding farm machinery line."
