

'Miss Congeniality'

That's the title won by Diana Meacham, a Wayne State representative of the college in the annual Miss Nebraska competition last week at North Platte. The congeniality honor is highly prized because it represents a vote of contestants and their sponsors, who best know which co-ed merits it most for her graciousness during all phases of the contest. Miss Meacham will graduate in August with a major in history.

People Needed to 'Honor America'

Wayne's Chamber of Commerce is being asked to encourage businessmen and residents in and around Wayne to show a massive expression of appreciation of the United States on the Fourth of July.

The request comes from the national Chamber organization, which is helping promote "Honor America Day" along with honorary chairman Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and former presidents Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Some of the things suggested to the local organization in order to promote the non-partisan and non-political expression include adoption of an "Honor America Day" for any July 4th celebrations in Wayne.

Also suggested are such things as encouraging local businessmen to display the American flag from June 28 through July 4, holding some locally sponsored program on the national holiday, encouraging businessmen to devote a show window to advertising the "Honor American Day". See "HONOR AMERICA," page 6

Here, Mr. Farmer, Increase Your Profits

What's one of the best avenues farmers in the Wayne area could take to improve their profits?

Wayne County Agent Harold Ingalls says one of the best ways would be to improve the summer care of livestock, the source of the greatest percentage of gross farm income in this part of the state.

Ingalls suggests farmers provide such inexpensive things as adequate shade, cool and clean drinking water and proper insect control. Read about some of his other suggestions in his column on the Farm Page of this issue of The Wayne Herald.

Were You Counted? Seniors of 1935 Set Dinner Fete

"Were you counted?" That's the question the Census Bureau is asking people in the Wayne area. If not, there are steps you can take to make sure you were included in the recently completed nationwide census.

Forms are available at the city clerk's office in Wayne for anybody who thinks they were missed in the recent census. These forms should be filled out and mail to the address indicated as soon as possible so they will be included in the official count now being tabulated.

"The 'Were You Counted?' campaign is being conducted across the nation by the Census Bureau to ensure that the 1970 census is the most comprehensive in history.

Wayne High School graduates of 1935 are planning a reunion at Les' Steak House Friday evening at six o'clock.

There were 44 members of the class and 39 of them were present for the reunion held in 1960, according to a class spokesman.

Like all high school classes, the students scattered in every direction after graduation. A part of the program Friday evening following the banquet will consist of class members relating what happened to them after getting a diploma.

Mrs. Milton Auker of Salinas, Calif. is in charge of arrangements.

All Systems Are 'Go' For 5 Wayne Racers

Five youths from Wayne will be shooting Sunday afternoon for one of the biggest thrills in a young boy's life—a chance to compete in the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio.

The young boys—Rodney Turner, Mark Johnson, Gary Glass, Verlyn Stoltenberg and Virgil Kardell—will join youths from across northeast Nebraska Sunday shortly after noon to compete in the soap box race at Norfolk. Winner of that race will receive an expense-paid trip to Akron for himself and his partners.

On top of that, he will receive a $500 U.S. Savings Bond from the sponsor of the annual contest, the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corporation.

Other prizes available competitors in Sunday's race will be for owners of soap boxes named best designed, best upholstered and so on. Best winners Sunday will receive trophies.

The Wayne Jaycees is the local group which has been sponsoring the entry of the local youngsters in the coming competition. Chair-See SYSTEMS 'GO,' page 6

Don Johnson New WH Cage Coach

Don Johnson, assistant basketball coach at Wayne High for the past five years, has been advanced to head basketball duties for the 1970-71 school year, replacing Dick Nelson. Nelson has resigned to accept assistant basketball and head golf coaching duties at Augustana College at Sioux Falls, S.D.

The decision to move Johnson into the head coaching position came during a board of education meeting Monday night.

Married and the father of three children, Johnson received his undergraduate degree from Chadron State College in 1961 with a major in business. He received his master's degree from Wayne State in 1968. While at Chadron the native of Hay Springs played two years of varsity ball in basketball, football, and baseball.

For the past several years Johnson has also handled freshmen football duties at Wayne High.

During the meeting, the school board accepted the resignations of social studies teacher at the middle school for the past five years, Nelson will reportedly enter Air Controller school at Sioux City. He received both his undergraduate and graduate degrees from Wayne State.

The only vacancy yet to be filled in the school system is the one left by Larson's resignation. However, Superintendent Francis Haun noted that he is still trying to find a teacher to take care of a surplus of middle school science and mathematics students.

Signing a contract Tuesday for ninth grade science duties—the position left vacant by Nelson's resignation—was Judith Zobel, a native of West Point.

Add $50 to Reserve

A rural-Wayne man, Arland Thies, could have walked away $400 richer had he been present when his name was called in last Thursday night's Cash Night drawing in Wayne.

This week the prize will remain at $400, and the reserve pot will grow to $150. The weekly drawings are held each Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The winners are announced in all the stores taking part in the affair.

Miss Zobel, a graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1963, has been teaching introductory physical science at Fairfax, Va., since 1967. Prior to that teaching job, she was general science teacher at Cozad from 1963 to 1967. She has attended three summer institutes sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Monday evening's meeting was called primarily so the board could review the proposed school budget for the 1970-71 school year prior to holding a public hearing on it.

Sisters to Perform

At Clarkson Festival

Windside will have some of its local talent appearing at the Clarkson Czech Festival Saturday. Phyllis and Carla Miller, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller of rural Winside, will present a baton twirling duet act featuring one and two batons.

Their show will include ribbon and flag twirling accompanied by polka music; a hoop baton; a fire rope and a double fire baton.

The sisters are slated to perform at 7:15 p.m. It is the second year they have participated in the festivities at Clarkson. Both girls are students of Mrs. LeRoy Damme of Winside.

Up'n Coming

-- Friday, first day of annual two-day summer celebration at Carroll.

-- Saturday, Wakefield alumni banquet, 7:30 p.m. at elementary school.

-- Sunday, Allen alumni meeting, 1 p.m. at high school.

-- Monday, arrival of 38 AFS students in Wayne.

-- Tuesday, "Moonlight Madness" in Wayne stores, 7-10 p.m.

-- Wednesday, YFW Auxiliary annual pillow cleaning day.

Celebration Back in Works

The Wayne County Jaycees are back in the fireworks business at least for the night of July 4th.

Thanks to several businessmen in Wayne the service group will be able to put on the hour-long Fourth of July fireworks celebration as they had originally planned. The businessmen, when they heard the group lacked enough money to buy fireworks for the celebration, donated about $140 to the group to match funds set aside by the city of Wayne. Leading the drive to get the funds over the weekend and early this week was Wayne businessman Larry "Toke" Shupe, who read about the group's lack of funds in Monday's Wayne Herald.

Shupe said about 14 people have promised to contribute funds toward purchasing displays for the celebration. He said he was interested in seeing the group sponsor the celebration because it would be a good event for the community and area.

The Wayne Jaycees had obtained a promise of about $140 from the city earlier this month. The group then asked the county commissioners for a matching sum. The commissioners declined not to donate toward the project because they felt it would benefit the city of Wayne more than the county as a whole.

The celebration will be held at the Wayne ball park the evening of July 4th. Standing by in case any fires break out from the displays will be members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department.

Wakefield Graduate Enrolls at Kearney

Cindy Peterson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. E. Peterson of Wakefield, is one of approximately 200 freshmen who completed summer orientation and pre-registration at Kearney State College this week.

The program, which is in its fourth year at Kearney State, allows the fall freshman and his parents to spend approximately two days on campus where they meet with college officials, review the various college programs, sleep in a residence hall, eat in the college dining hall, and register for classes next fall.

College students who were enrolled at Kearney State last year assist the student personnel staff members in the operation of the program which has been widely acclaimed by students who have attended the sessions in previous summers.

Boundaries for Natural Resource Districts Protested

A group representing Wayne County attended a hearing Tuesday night in Norfolk regarding the determining of boundaries for the 33 natural resource districts established by the 1969 Nebraska legislature.

Appearing in opposition to currently proposed boundaries set up by the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission in Lincoln were County Attorney Don Reed, Werner Mann, Glen Olson, Fredrick Temme, Stanley Morris, Arnold Marr, County Clerk Norris Weible, Leon Meyer and Senator Elmer Wall-way of Emerson.

The group presented petitions at the hearing carrying more than 100 signatures opposing the currently proposed boundaries which would bisect Wayne County and further bisect four precincts within the county.

As now proposed, all of Wayne County would be in the Logan Creek drainage basin except Hoskins precinct and all but the northern mile of Hancock, Brenna and Plum Creek precincts and a portion of Leslie precinct. These areas would be in the Elkhorn drainage basin identified as District 26.

Representatives from Wayne County attending the hearing not only presented the opposing petitions but also submitted a resolution adopted by the Wayne County commissioners which urges that all of Wayne County be included in one natural resource district.

The resolution notes that the inclusion of Wayne County in two or more districts and the inclusion of individual precincts in two or more districts will create an undue burden upon the various taxing and election officials within the county.

By passing the law, LB 1357, the 49th legislature abandoned the old districts, creating new natural resource districts. The old districts had no authority to levy a tax. However, the new districts can tax up to a two-mill levy.

Arnold Marr of the Wayne Soil

Conservation Service said the idea behind the creation of the new districts was to provide more effective control of natural resources in the state to aid in controlling pollution.

Marr noted that each resource district is a sub-division of the state government and that permanent boundaries are to be determined by September.

If those in Wayne County can persuade the state commission to include all of Wayne County in the Logan Creek District 25, then Wayne, Burt, Dixon, Thurston and Dakota Counties would all be in one district.

County Attorney Reed said the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission has set Aug. 20 as the date for establishing final district boundaries. Prior to setting them the commission has been holding public hearings around the state concerning the proposed boundaries. The hearing in Norfolk Tuesday night was the only one scheduled for this area.

Sholes Picnic Slated

The Sholes school picnic scheduled for Sunday is going to be an "old-fashioned" far day," according to the committee heading up the affair.

The picnic is being held so all the students, teachers and their families from the Sholes school can get together on the school grounds and renew acquaintances. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunches, dishes, card tables and so on.

Heading up the committee are Grace Beaton Huald, Geraldine Whalen Caster and Melvin Miller, all of Randolph.

1904-20 AHS Grads In Spotlight Sunday Proposed Budget Being Considered By School Board

Allan High graduates of 1904 through 1920 will be recognized during the alumni association's get-together Sunday afternoon at the high school. The affair will begin with registration at 1 p.m.; the program will begin at 2.

The executive committee which has been working for some time on the coming meeting includes Mrs. Keith Hill, president; Mrs. Ronald Allen, vice-president; Mrs. Gaylen Kjer, secretary, and Wendell Emry, treasurer.

Scheduled for the afternoon is election of association officers. Ballots will be handed out. See AHS GRADS, page 6

The Wayne-Carroll school board is considering a proposed budget for the 1970-71 school year. Exact total under consideration: $902,109, an increase of $100,000 over the $802,337 budget the school is operating under presently.

Total amount which would be raised by local taxes, according to figures released by Superintendent Francis Haun, is $644,372. That sum, an increase of $77,047 over that being raised for this school year, would require an increase of about 6.77 mills figured on the basis of the present property evaluation in the school district.

If the budget the group is now considering is adopted following a public hearing, the school district levy would climb from the present 61.47 mills to 68.24 mills.

Accounting for the biggest lump of that $100,000 increase in the proposed budget is salaries for administrators and teachers. Total being set aside for that group for the coming school year is approximately $550,000—an increase of about $50,000 over that set aside for salaries under the current school year.

A breakdown of the proposed See PROPOSED BUDGET, pg. 6

Weather

Poets have written of rare days in June and this month has been no exception. Thermometers have gone over the 90 degree mark only four times this month. It got up to 90 or over four times during May with the highest reading being 98 degrees on the 19th. Most will agree that such spring and summer temperatures are rather pleasant.

The Wayne area has had slightly less than four inches of precipitation in the first 24 days of June.

Temperatures during the past week:

Date	HI	LO	Precip.
June 17	90	64
June 18	87	62	.17
June 19	78	52
June 20	76	56	.49

The parent's signature should accompany the information.

Wanted: Prettiest Girl in County

The Mrs. Jaycees in Wayne are still seeking contestants for the coming Miss Wayne County Centennial Pageant, scheduled for Monday evening, Aug. 3, in the Wayne city auditorium.

Winner of that beauty contest will reign as Miss Wayne County during that first week in August and she will be the honored royalty during the 1970 Wayne County Fair. She will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond as first-place prize in the contest. Other winners in the contest will also receive prizes.

Any girl in the county between 16 and 21 years of age is eligible to enter the pageant. Judges will rank the girls on such things as poise, personality, talent and ap-

Man Dies as Truck Tumbles into Creek

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield for 62-year-old Harry Louis Bartels, an employee of the Farmer's Union Co-op in Wakefield, who died around 9:40 a.m. Monday four miles south of Wakefield when the truck he was driving left the highway and crashed into the Logan Creek.

State Trooper Donald Matejka arrived at the scene shortly after the accident. He said the Wakefield trucker apparently died instantly when the north bound truck, owned by the Farmer's Union Co-op, plunged off the east side of Highway 35 immediately south of a bridge crossing Logan Creek, struck a concrete culvert and rolled into the 20-foot deep creek.

Officer Matejka said highway repair crewmen working at the north end of the bridge witnessed the accident. He reported See MAN DIES, page 6

Newlyweds to Make Home in Illinois Following South Dakota Wedding Trip

Mary Gordon, daughter of Mrs. Caroline Gordon, Wakefield, and Norman Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cooper, Wakefield, exchanged marriage vows in a 2 p.m. High Mass Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Emerson. The Rev. Alfred Hoelsing, Emerson, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Dianne Salmon sang "O Perfect Love" and "Holy, Holy, Holy," accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Alexander. Altar boys were Donald and David Rouse.

Given in marriage by her brother, Gene Gordon, the bride appeared in a princess style gown of "beau de sole argent" organza, fashioned with a bodice of lace daistes which also accented the high, stand-up collar, and long sheer sleeves, and bordered the length skirt and cathedral length train. Her finger-tip illusion veil was caught to a daisy headpiece and she carried pink and white Stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Rita Gordon, Omaha, and bridesmaids were Donna Gelger, Fremont, and Nancy Woodward and Doris Gross, Omaha. Their pink satin gowns were styled with empire waistlines and short puff sleeves.

Best man was Alan Hammer, Wakefield, and groomsmen were Dallas Miller, Big Rapids, Mich., Robert Harding and Terry Baker. Ushers were Dennis Gordon and George Cooper, Wakefield. The men wore white dinner jackets and black trousers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gordon chose a sleeveless pink, fitted dress. Mrs. Cooper wore a sleeveless yellow dress and both had orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. William Garvin, Dixon, served as hosts to the reception for 150 guests held that afternoon at Sacred Heart auditorium. Vicki Gross registered guests and Iner Johnson and Ruth Carlson arranged gifts.

Mrs. Larry Baker and Mrs. Joseph Manto cut and served the cake, which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Milton Houppnik. Mrs. Ruth Killian poured and Mrs. Michael Preston served punch. Waitresses were Lorri and Cynthia Garvin, Dixon, Suzanne Manto, Omaha, and June Pearson and Leann Salmon, Wakefield.

Serving were Mrs. Ed Welsh, Mrs. Kenneth Fowler, Florence Mc Taggart, Mrs. Leroy Krusemark and Mrs. Floyd Martin.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a sleeveless organza in mint green with white accessories with a corsage of pink and white Stephanotis.

The couple took a wedding trip to Fort Randall, S.D., and will make their home at Great Lakes Naval Base, Ill., where the bridegroom is serving with the U.S. Navy as an X-Ray technician. The bride, a 1969 Wakefield High School graduate, has been employed by Northwestern Bell Telephone, Omaha. The bridegroom is a 1966 graduate of Wakefield High School.

Milk At Its Best Thanks to sanitary practices in production and processing employed by the dairy industry plus the home refrigerator, the home-maker can provide sweet whole milk at any time of the day. However, she must share in the responsibility in keeping this milk at its best flavor and nutritive value after it is delivered to her home.

Here are a few tips: -Rinse off bottle or carton and dry with a clean cloth before placing in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

-Keep tightly covered to prevent absorption of odors and flavors from other food in refrigerator.

-Don't let milk stand in the light or its riboflavin will be lost and off-flavor may also result.

-Refrigerate as soon as delivered and only taken from refrigerator long enough to measure amount needed for immediate use.

-Don't add new milk with the old unless it is to be used immediately.

-Don't put unused milk back into the original container - store this milk in a separate container.

-Use the fluid milk within three to five days from delivery for best flavor.

Trinity Church Holds Vacation Bible School

D. Elofson Makes Rockets' First Cut

"The greatest bunch of guys in the world." That's the way Dean Elofson described the other basketball players who turned out last week for the San Diego Rockets' rookie camp.

Elofson, one of 17 players to attend the week-long camp, made the first cut will know within the next two weeks whether he will be invited back in September to try to make the next cut. There are only four spots on the National Basketball League team and the select few of those who will attend the September camp will pull down those positions. A starter on more Wayne State College basketball games than any other player in the school's history, Elofson competed in last week's rookie camp against such well known college stars as Rudy Tomjanovich and Calvin Murphy, the squad's first and second draft choices. Tomjanovich, at 6-8 and 218 pounds, was top rebounder and second highest scorer in Michigan history while playing at the University of Michigan. Murphy, only 5-9½ was the nation's leading scorer — a whopping 38.2 average per game — during his sophomore year (1967-68) and is the holder of every Niagara University scoring record.

How did the rookies compare to the players he met while playing under Dave Gunther at Wayne State? "In college ball you usually run into one or two guys who are real scoring threats and gain your respect and attention. But here everybody can score."

Dean Elofson, Wayne High and Wayne State grad, made the first cut of those rookies trying out for the San Diego Rockets last week.

Elofson, who stands 6-5 and weighs about 210 pounds, was the smallest forward to attend the rookie camp. But he stood several inches above Calvin Murphy, a player Elofson quickly learned to respect because of his ability to stuff the ball with two hands despite his small height.

One of the toughest parts of getting ready for the rookie camp, Elofson said, was the daily workout. He was forced to practice and train by himself much of the time — shooting baskets, running, jumping rope, lifting weights and working on rebounding — but he knows who will take over the reins of the Wayne State basketball club this fall, helped part of the time with his training.

Quick to give credit to his coaches for their work with him while in college, Dean went through high school and college under just three coaches: Harold Maciejowski in high school, Al Svenningsson as a freshman in college and Dave Gunther in his last three years of collegiate ball.

He played two years of varsity ball in high school, graduating from Wayne High in 1966. Under Svenningsson he started most of the games the last half of his freshman year. He was a regular under Gunther, averaging right at 14 points a game those three years. His senior year, he averaged 10 rebounds a game, scored 420 points a game for second high total on the club.

Elofson was selected to the NAIA All-American team his senior year.

But Elofson isn't the only one off last year's Wildcat squad which is shooting for a berth on a pro team. Dave Schneider, a native of Blair who kept improving each year at WSC, is currently in a rookie camp for one of the NBA expansion teams in Cleveland. Only one other Wayne State cager has been given a chance to try out for a professional team — Bob Rachow, who played a decade ago.

Schneider recently returned from a tour of South America with the athletes in Action basketball team.

Top Clinic Trophy To Sioux City Cager

Bill Cameron of Sioux City earned the Outstanding Amateur trophy for his performance in the Wayne State Basketball School which kept 42 high school athletes hustling all last week.

Dave Gunther, director of the school, and his assistants tabbed Cameron for the top prize. The 5-8 junior at Sioux City East High School also gained another award — for the most free throws among 11th and 12th graders during the week. He hit 157 of 180 shots — a fancy 87 per cent.

Other award winners in the 11th-12th grade group for most improvement, Larry Elmendorf, a junior from Dodge; for hustle, Dick Johnson, junior at Norfolk High School; and for defense, Scott Evans, a senior at Norfolk.

In the 9th-10th grade group coaches presented these awards: for most improvement, Gary Armstrong, sophomore at Millard; for free throws, Jerry Beach, sophomore at Svrcaus, who connected on 30 per cent of his shots; for hustle, Mark McCue, sophomore at Tekamah; for defense, Joe McGill, sophomore at West Point.

Coach Gunther and his chief assistant Ron Jones, who succeeds Gunther as basketball coach at Wayne State, summed up the performance of the high schoolers in one word: "great."

Goodwin Named NAIA All-American

Bill Goodwin of Wayne State College rated a first-team berth on the 1970 NAIA All-American baseball team, announced Saturday. He is the only Nebraska college athlete on first or second teams.

Goodwin, a senior from Lawton, Kan., who graduated cum laude this spring, was among four outfielders listed on the 14-player first team. He played regularly in center or right field, but also pitched in five games and posted a 2-2 record. Batting over .400 part of the season, he finished at .353, with a Wayne record 35 runs batted in and six

2 Quick Losses Drop Local '9' To Tie for 4th

Wayne dropped to the middle of the pack — into a three-way tie for fourth place — in Tri-County League standings after suffering setbacks at Randolph last Thursday and at Wakefield Sunday.

Wausa leads the 14-team league with a five 5-0 record. Tied for second are Laurel and Ponca with 4-2 marks. Bloomfield still trails with an 1-5 strafe.

Last Thursday night, Randolph handed Wayne's first loss, 7-3, and Wakefield finally posted a win, dropping Coleridge by a 7-2 score. Other results: Laurel 12, Bloomfield 5; Ponca 11, Verdigris 6; Wausa 11, Orchard 5.

Wausa	W	L
Ponca	4	2
Wayne	3	2
Wakefield	3	2
Orchard	2	3
Verdigris	2	3
Randolph	2	3
Coleridge	1	5
Bloomfield	0	5

Sunday night Wakefield soundly defeated Wayne, 1-0, to move into a three-way tie for fourth place in the league with Wayne and Orchard.

Also chalking up victories Sunday were Ponca at Laurel, 5-6; Wausa at Randolph, 7-4 and Orchard at Coleridge, 3-1. The Verdigris-Bloomfield game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Wakefield Gains Tri-County Win

Wakefield scored once in the first inning and then checked off three scoring threats in Wayne to scratch out a 1-0 win in Tri-County League play Sunday night. The host team scored that decisive run early in the game without a hit off Wayne's Randy Jacobsen, making the loss doubly bitter to Wayne, a team which had defeated three straight Tri-County League teams before falling to Randolph last week. First baseman Ron McNeil drove in that run on his sacrifice fly with one out and the bases loaded.

Jacobsen shut off Wakefield's scoring in that first inning with a strike out, then went on to set down 14 more Wakefield batters while giving up only two hits and walking four. Catcher Bob Babe collected both hits for Wakefield — a single in the third and another in the fifth. Wakefield failed to mount a scoring threat the rest of the game, getting a runner past first base only once.

Meanwhile, the local squad threw away three chances to tie the game or move into the lead — once in the second when first baseman Denny Bowers advanced to third, once in the sixth when outfielder Doug Radtke made it three for one — in the ninth when Ralph Phorbes, running for Bowers, went to third. Fachtme Wakefield's Mike Roebor, who held Wayne to only two hits while walking just one, got out of the trouble with infield grounders and a fly ball to the outfield.

Bowers and catcher Gordie Jorgensen figured in Wayne's two legitimate scoring threats in the game — Bowers when he singled with two down in the sixth to advance Radtke to third, Jorgensen when he singled in the same situation in the last frame to advance Phorbes to third.

Holding a 3-2 mark this season, Wayne travels to Coleridge tonight (Thursday), Wakefield, also 3-2, poses at Ponca. Also seeing action this evening are Wausa at Laurel, Randolph at Verdigris and Orchard at Bloomfield. Sunday evening games: Wausa at Wayne, Wakefield at Bloomfield, Laurel at Orchard, Ponca at Randolph, Coleridge at Verdigris.

Wayne Tankers Fall to Norfolk Over Weekend

Although Wayne's young swimmers capped eight first places against Norfolk Saturday, they ended up losing the swimming meet, 340-95. The local swimmers, aged 16 and under, finished the day's action at Norfolk with 10 second places and 17 third places. Swimming to top honors in the competition:

—Bud Meyer, 25-meter freestyle for boys 10 and under, 1:5.8.

—Steve Johnson, 50-meter freestyle for boys 11 and 12, 1:32.

—Monte Lowe, Tom Maler, Bill Marr, Steve Johnson, 100-meter freestyle relay for boys 11 and 12, 1:10.3.

—Greg Noyes, 100-meter freestyle for boys 13-14, 1:01.2.

—Kerry Jech, 100-meter breaststroke for boys 13-14, 1:35.5.

—Greg Noyes, Kerry Jech, Brian Johnson, Dan Marr, 100-meter medley relay for boys 13-14, 5:56.8.

In 1880, when Lincoln had a population of 13,000, a circus playing there drew a crowd of nearly 20,000. Starting before daybreak, people streamed into the city from miles around to see the show.

Overin Fans 13 In 9-4 Victory Over Wakefield

Little Leaguers Earle Overin struck out 13 batters and gave up only two hits — a single and a double in the first inning — on the way to a 9-4 win over Wakefield's 12 and 13-year-olds last week. He walked five and hit two in the contest.

Wayne chalked up two wins during that day's action on the Wayne diamond — earlier the 11 and under group posted a 3-1 win over the visitors.

Gaining Wayne's eight hits to help Overin to his victory were Elliott with two and Hansson, Ehlers, Overin, Cistano, Meyer, and Mitchell. Chalking up the double off Overin was Sibrandt. Rouse had the single.

The two wins helped the Wayne Little Leaguers rack up three victories in five contests over the past two weeks. Against Pender the week before last, Wayne's 10 and under group suffered a 6-5 loss before the 12 and under group posted a 6-1 win.

The first-team honor is the third bestowed on a Wayne State. Bob Gaeta of Omaha achieved it in 1964, Tom Fichter of Omaha, La., in 1966. Several other Wayne players have rated second-team and honorable mention NAIA baseball honors.

The 1970 honorable mention roster listed two from Wayne — first baseman Marty Going, sophomore from Tekamah, and pitcher Tom Sullivan, freshman from Des Moines.

Other Nebraska college honorable mentions went to Larry Green, third baseman at Doane; Scott Koch, second baseman at Hastings; Steve Sergeant, pitcher at the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Goodwin's All-American honor caps a list of citations for the two-sport star. The Lincoln Journal and Star recently named him Nebraska College Athlete of the Year. He also was Wayne State's own athlete of the year, and he rated All-NAIA District 11 in both basketball and baseball.

Cook Fires No-Hitter Against Pender

By Norvin Hansen
Young Rod Cook—he'll be a senior at Wayne High this fall—fired the season's first no-hitter in the Midgets' 9-0 shellacking of Pender Tuesday night.

Cook's feat was nearly duplicated by Don Mau in the Legion game. Mau went five innings before allowing a hit, but saw his efforts ruined by lead-off hitter Tonjes in the bottom of the sixth.

Striking out six on his way to the no-hitter, Cook allowed only two men to reach first base—one on a walk and one on a pitch which hit the batter. Both lapses by Cook came in the fourth frame with one out. Neither runner advanced to second.

Providing Cook with plenty of power at the plate was left fielder Mike Ginn, a pitcher in his own right. Ginn, a year behind Cook in school, slapped out two doubles in two at bats and drove in two of Wayne's nine runs. Gaining Wayne's other six hits, all singles, were Mike Creighton, Randy Nelson, Don Hansen, Roger Saul, Doug Sturm and Cook.

Pender's pitcher fanned six Wayne batters but gave free passes to seven to allow Wayne ample opportunities to score.

Mau went on to give up only two more hits after Tonjes destroyed his no-hitter: a single to Zwigard to drive in Tonjes in the sixth and a double by Hoefs in the seventh to drive in Moehlers. Mau struck out six, walked only two in the 5-2 win.

Randy Helgren tallied two singles and drove in one run to spark the locals' scoring. Mike Blittorf, second baseman, drove in two of Wayne's three runs in the fifth on his single with two down. Also chalking up singles against Hoefs were outfielder Rick Ginn and first baseman Dick Tinn. Wayne split contests with the Wayne hurler. Getting three hits—including a triple which drove in three runs—in three at bats was Wayne's Don Hansen. Twice scored in the fifth on Devon Fisher's sacrifice fly with one out to give Wakefield its lone score.

Wakefield rallied for three hits in the sixth inning to lead off triple by Rich Kline, a double by Rob Paton and a single by Lyle Brown) to take a 2-1 lead over Wayne Legion. Hurler Wayne Magdanz had held Wakefield to one hit, a single by Paton in the first frame, before getting into

County Attorney Gets $494 Grant

Wayne will receive one of 15 grants of federal aid approved Friday by the Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. A grant of $494 was approved for use by the Wayne County attorney for training purposes.

County Attorney Don Reed said Tuesday that he plans to attend a seminar in Portland, Ore., Aug. 17-22, sponsored by the National District Attorneys Association. The seminar is designed to maintain and upgrade prosecuting attorneys on new developments in law.

Reed said the State Crime Commission allotted 60 per cent of the estimated expenses for the extended training. Norris Weible, regional crime commission secretary, said it is likely the county will supply the remaining 40 per cent of the needed funds for the attorney's training program.

to alumni as they register. Extra school annuals of four different years will be on sale for $1 each and a suggestion box will be set up for convenience of those attending.

All alumni with addresses available have been sent letters. Those who will not be able to attend are being asked to write letters which will be read during the day. Local alumni are asked to bring cookies for lunch.

This is the 75th year of graduates from Allen High.

events in Wayne and attempting to get as many individuals to fly the national flag on July 4th as possible.

Being stressed around the nation is the effort to get everybody to sound automobile horns, sirens, church bells and factory whistles from 11 to 11:30 a.m. on the Fourth of July.

According to Arch N. Doth, vice-president of the national Chamber and one of the vice-chairmen of the affair, the events that day "will unite Americans at a time when our patriotism and respect for the nation's purposes cry out for such renewal and recognition."

Man Dies —

witnesses saying there were two autos ahead of the truck driven by Bartels, all northbound, as the cars had slowed down as they approached the bridge due to oncoming traffic from the north.

The witnesses reportedly told Trooper Matejka that the truck loaded with 100-pound bags of feed, apparently had brake failure and it appeared the county tried to turn right onto a county road going east to avoid plowing into the vehicles ahead.

After the truck left the highway coming to rest in the creek bed, it caught fire and burned out the cab area.

The Winside Fire Department extinguished the fire. Members of the Hoskins Rescue Unit were on the scene shortly after the accident but were told there was nothing they could do. It took officials from the Winside Fire Department, state patrol, Wayne County sheriff's office, a Norfolk wrecker and the Brossler Funeral Home of Wakefield, more than an hour to remove the victim pinned inside the wreckage.

On the scene assisting Trooper Don Matejka with the investigation were Troopers Roger Boardman, O'Dell and Green; Wayne County Sheriff Weible and Deputy Sheriff Scotty Thompson; Winside's Officer Warren Jacobsen; Robert Navls of Wakefield, criminal investigator for the Nebraska Safety Patrol; and Wayne County Attorney Don Reed.

The Rev. K.F. Wentzel of Wakefield officiated at the 10:30 a.m. service Wednesday in Wakefield.

Alben and Kermit Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Eryn Berntal, sang "Asleep in Jesus." The congregation sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

Systems 'Go' —

men of this particular project have been Darrell Moore and Bill Taylor.

They note that the boys have put in almost countless hours in building the soap boxes from scratch. A conservative guess of the number of hours of youth has spent on his racer, they said, would have to be close to 200.

Sponsors for three or four of the five Wayne cars are still needed, the chairman pointed out. Any person or business can sponsor a car for a fee of $40 or half a car for $25. Sponsors will have their names painted on the sides of the racers prior to Sunday's race. Money goes to the Norfolk Optimist Club, yearly sponsor of the race, and to pay for the prizes awarded the racers.

The winner Sunday will get a chance to compete for $7,500 in college scholarships during the racing action. In all, over $250,000 in prizes and scholarships are handed out during the local and national races.

Taylor, a winner of the 1960 local competition, said that five cars for a city the size of Wayne is quite a few and show considerable interest on the part of the young boys in the coming race.

The five Wayne boys will take their soap boxes to Norfolk Saturday morning to have them weighed in and inspected.

Proposed Budget —

budget showing such things as the actual estimated expense for the current year, the total to be raised by taxation and the tentative mill levy will be published in legal form in a coming issue of the Wayne Herald. A public hearing will be held shortly after the legal publication, offering the public a chance to express their views on the proposed budget.

The board set up the proposed budget at a meeting Monday night. During the meeting the group decided to increase the free high tuition level from the present $951 to $1,138. The new rate is the figure arrived at as to actual per pupil cost as estimated by school officials.

Democrat Delegates To State Convention

Two members of the Wayne County Democrat Party were in Omaha Saturday and Sunday attending the party's state convention at the Fortonelle Hotel.

Dorothy Ley, delegate, and Sylvia Eynon, alternate delegate, were among the approximate 600 in attendance.

Mrs. Ley was elected to the platform committee made up of 12 persons and was also re-elected to the Democratic State Central Committee from district 17.

Delegate Ley reported the assembly's "strong position of standing for prompt withdrawal of all U.S. military forces from Vietnam," called upon Congress to support the McGovern-Ratfield proposal to eventually cut off financial support for continuation of the war; and recommended repeal or amendment of Nebraska's unlimited self-defense act.

Other recommendations in the platform were: inclusion of public employees and the unemployment insurance program; increased funding for state aid to education; support for the farm coalition bill; and improved police and National Guard training to help minimize the loss of life and property at civil disturbances.

Tuesday Rites Held in Wayne For E. Peterson

Funeral services for Earl Peterson, 69, Wayne, were held Tuesday at the First Baptist Church, Wayne. Mr. Peterson died Saturday at the Stanton Nursing Home.

The Rev. Theodore Hopkins officiated. Amy Peterson and Frank Galatz sang "I Am Coming Home" and "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Lynn Roggenbach. Pallbearers were Darrel Peterson, Bob Peterson, Leslie Peterson, Denny Peterson, Donald Peterson and Lee Peterson. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne.

Earl Peterson, son of George and Naomi Peterson, was born October 10, 1880, at Hartington. He married Amy Judith Porter May 27, 1903 at O'Neill. They lived in Hartington about 15 years and in Knox and Cedar Counties before moving to Wayne in 1963.

He was preceded in death by his wife; his parents; two sons; three brothers and a sister.

Purl Fisher Dies

Funeral services are pending for Purl Fisher, 87, formerly of Winside, Mr. Fisher died Monday at a Lincoln hospital of a heart attack.

'Hmmm, What Have We Here?'

Anything to please a customer — or get a laugh out of him. That's the theme for next Tuesday night's "Moonlight Madness" promotion in Wayne. Evidence of it are these two merchants in their "Sunday best": Larry Turner of Swanson Television, left, and Richard Chinn. The annual Chamber of Commerce event — complete each year with nighttime attire — will be held from 7 to 10 next Tuesday evening, offering shoppers in the Wayne area a chance to take advantage of specials and sales in the Wayne stores.

Former Wakefield Resident Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. S. T. Allsen, 86, McAllen, Texas, were held Saturday. Mrs. Allsen died June 17, 1970.

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost. — Thomas Jefferson, Letter, 1786

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

Installing Sidewalks - The City's Option

The city council of Wayne has been criticized by some for its attempts to get sidewalks built north along Sherman Street. The property owners on the west side of the street listed several reasons why they thought the sidewalks should not be put in.

of decision making under its belt, we think the problem should be solved as quickly and fairly as possible. We are aware that we are taking an unpopular stand when we say that the council should begin a program which would ensure installation of at least several blocks of sidewalks each year, with a goal of having sidewalks installed throughout the city within, say, a five-year period.

Although there has been little comment made, it seems unlikely that the council will be able to go through next Tuesday night's meeting without hearing from the owners on the east side of Sherman.

We would like to point out to the people that do not have sidewalks on their property that the city owns a wider strip of land in front of their homes than that paved as a city street. The land may extend as far as 20 or 25 feet on either side of the paved street and can be used as the city pleases.

Bright Lights Distracting

We would like to offer a friendly suggestion to the owners of the new recreational center on the east edge of Wayne.

The correction to the problem might be as simple as aiming the lights a slight bit more to the north. Or it might be necessary to move the light poles to another place so the bright lights don't shine parallel to the highway.

It Hurts to Live

Sometimes it hurts to be alive. That is what 4,760,000 humans who survived traffic accidents found out during the year 1969 in the United States. Not only were their injuries physically painful, but hundreds of thousands of man-hours of work were lost as was unknown millions of dollars in income.

Out of Old

Nebraska

The making of pottery was one of the many local industries of territorial Nebraska. The first known pottery in the territory was established at Dakota City around 1859 by John B. Ziegler and Charles F. Eckhart who were also partners in a general store.

Grubb and Trule Stevens had kilns at Nemaha City. In 1867 the Nebraska City Pottery was going "full blast" and turning out specimens of earthenware that would put to shame some of the Eastern Potteries.

Capital News - Legislature Uses Overtime To Solve the 'Great Crisis'

LINCOLN - The Great Driver's License Crisis is over.

No longer do Nebraskans whose names or addresses change have to pay to get driver's licenses updated. In fact, no longer is required that a new license be obtained when a Nebraska motorist changes his address.

That was one of the results of the seven-day special session of the State Legislature which ended last week.

A bill passed by the 1969 Legislature required new licenses to reflect changes in names or addresses, but it said a motorist could get the replacement for nothing if he got it in the same county where the original was issued.

thing which would aid law enforcement officers.

Syas said it would help officers to know that up-to-date addresses were required on driver's licenses.

The special session bill which drew the most "no" votes was one which was designed to correct the Attorney General's objections to the state investment council legislation adopted last session.

At Gen. Clarence Meyer's request an opinion that the 1969 act was unconstitutional because it infringed upon the duties and responsibilities of the state treasurer. The act, Meyer said, made the treasurer liable for losses incurred through investments he made at the direction of the state investment officer.

The bill passed by the special session relieved the treasurer of that liability and Meyer said that action "solves the big worry we had." The measure was given a 41-7 vote on final reading. The opponents were Sens. Herbert Duls of Gering, Mahoney of Omaha, Leslie Robinson of Kearney, Loren Schmitt of David City, Leslie Stull of Alliance, Syas of Omaha, and Elmer Wallway of Emerson.

State Treasurer Wayne R. Swanson has said he still thinks the 1969 law is unconstitutional and plans to challenge it in court. Meyer said, however, he would write Swanson a letter saying it is the attorney general's opinion there no longer are any grounds for a challenge.

Swanson said the investment council is a "deliberate" attempt on the part of the Legislature to detract from the importance of the treasurer's office and a step toward abolishing the office.

Two bills dealing with interest rate ceilings on bond issues also swept to easy passage. One eliminating the six per cent limit on housing authority bonds received 45-3 approval, with Sens. Bateholder of Omaha, Irving Wilse of Falls City and William F. Wylie of Elgin voting against it.

A bill eliminating the seven per cent interest limit for airport authority bonds was passed 43-5. The opponents: Sens. Bloom of Omaha, Mahoney of Omaha, Don H. Hanna Jr. of Brownlee, Wilse of Falls City and Waldron of Callaway.

Sen. Orval Keyes of Papillion tried without success to get the Legislature to accept a resolution which would have said the state is responsible for helping the Bellevue School District if federal funds aren't made available to help educate dependents of Offut Air-Force personnel.

The resolution was killed after some senators said it would be unfair to the residents of the Bellevue area to let them think a resolution passed during the special session could bind a future legislative session to appropriating any funds.

Keyes said if the 4,700 students from families living on the base have to be accepted in the Bellevue schools without federal financial assistance the burden on the Bellevue school patrons would be unbearable.

Highway Costs Biggest Bargain For Motorists

The smallest cost in owning a car is the price of the highway that serves it, a Nebraska Department of Roads spokesman said this week.

The per-mile cost for a car add up to 11.9 cents, the DOR reported, but state and federal highway taxes are only 1.4 cents of that total, according to the U.S. Department of Transportation.

There are six types of cost in owning a car. Most expensive is the car itself, figured as a depreciation of 9.2 cents a mile. This is based on a 10-year, 100,000-mile life, which is true whether a car has one or several owners.

The second cost a car owner faces is 1.9 cents per mile for maintenance, including accessories, parts, tires, spark plugs and all the rest.

Gas and oil are another 1.9 cents a mile, not including taxes.

Costs of a garage, parking and tolls add up to an additional 1.8 cents for every mile of the car's life.

Insurance ranks fifth. For a prudent driver using his car a normal amount, insurance costs him 1.7 cents a mile.

Lowest is the cost of the highway. Figuring that an average driver gets around 14 miles per gallon of gas, state and federal highway taxes cost him 1.4 cents a mile, half a cent less than gas or maintenance and a third of a cent less than insurance.

"Remembering that good roads in logical routes cut maintenance, fuel and accident costs," the DOR spokesman said, "the highway expense is the biggest bargain of them all."

Letters to the editor may be published with or without the author's name printed if so desired; however, the writer's signature must be a part of the original letter. Unsigned letters will not be printed. Letters should be timely, brief and must contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letter.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are excerpts from a letter written to Superintendent Francis Han of the Wayne-Carroll school system by Mel Olson of the State Department of Education, informing him that the school has received AA accreditation for the 1970-71 school year.

Dear Mr. Han: We are very pleased to be able to inform you that the State Board of Education in official meeting on June 12, 1970, voted unanimously to reclassify the Wayne-Carroll School System to AA Accreditation for the 1970-71 school year.

The reclassification of the Wayne-Carroll School System to AA is recognition of the excellent quality of education being carried on in your school district. The reclassification comes as a result of several years of close association with your school district by the State Department of Education as you completed your self-study and as you provided the opportunity for a committee visit to your school system. It is in recognition of a quality of effort in your school which exceeds the requirements for accreditation and which exceed the basic requirements found in other accredited school systems.

This classification is a commendation of your administrative staff, your teaching staff, your board of education, and your entire school community. At the same time, AA classification carries with it the challenge which leadership always involves. Other school systems throughout the state will now have the right to look to your school system for leadership in educational innovation and for direction in upgrading their own school programs. The State Accreditation Committee, in reclassifying your school to AA, indicated confidence that you will accept this challenge. Again, congratulations to the entire Wayne-Carroll School Community in achieving this much sought after goal. Mel Olson

The bride is a senior at Wayne State College. The bridegroom was graduated from WSC. Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple plan to make their home in Fremont.

Social Security Q & A

Q.—Three weeks after breaking my hip, I was transferred from the hospital to a nursing home qualified as extended care facility. Medicare would not pay for my care in the extended care facility. Can you tell me why?

A.—To be covered by Medicare, the care you receive in an extended care facility must be the kind that can only be provided by or under the supervision of trained and skilled professional health personnel, and you must need this skilled care on a continuing basis.

Trinity Lutheran Church Is Scene Of Ave-Holmberg Wedding Saturday

Trinity Lutheran Church, Hoskins, was the scene of the 7:30 p.m. wedding Saturday of Patricia Ave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ave, Hoskins, and Darly Holmberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holmberg, Madison. The Rev. L. E. Lindquist, Hoskins, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Orville Brockmeier, Hoskins, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Donald Schmidt, Hoskins.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor length gown of daisy accented organza and Venice lace, styled with high neckline, lace cuffed full sleeves and attached chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a cluster of fabric rose petals and she carried yellow roses and stephanotis, centered by a removable orchid.

Mrs. Darlene Waddell, Norfolk, served her sister as matron of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Lynn Fassik and Judy Jones and Nancy Robbe, all of Norfolk, were bridesmaids. ## Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Moms, pity the poor unfortunate banker — with those long, nerve racking hours.

How can any fun-loving, nature-loving college boy decide to go into those long, long hours? Why battle that drudgery of highly polished waxed floors, chilling air conditioning in summer, excessive heat in winter?

Why battle the mad, competitive drive for time deposits where bank interest guarantees get higher and higher and the federal regulations get stricter and more complicated? Why compete for those important deposits which are, in turn, returned to finance all local activities — be it commercial or agricultural — while the same government that regulates banks, in turn, is spending millions advertising for the same money through the sale of government bonds with interest rates far above the maximum allowable for banks?

I guess the type that seeks that germ-free atmosphere wants a desk job. That, or maybe the conservative but mad Playboy clothes — and that, too, costs a fortune.

Mom, I know a business in which the competition is diminishing, pressure is less. So, let's look into it.

How would you like your son working on a job that is, usually, over by ten o'clock or noon on a bad day? . . . where his summer working clothes cost less than a banker's wife, hand-dyed tie? Where correct grammar is criticized? Where even an old-fashioned, narrow tie is considered a push to join an outside fraternal group like the C of C, the BPOF, the Lions or even — horrors — a country club? "What is the job?"

Mom, it's to start a commission company on a Terminal Stockyard. Hours will vary, but one of the most difficult tasks is to look busy after ten. On Tuesday and Thursday, Chicago quits at 8:40, Thursday and Friday on the Liver Markets, 9:00.

Once upon an Aesop tale, commission men went to the country to solicit. The right shirt pockets were filled with 50 cigars for small shippers, the left for long-time feeders, and a chew of snuff for Senoras and Norwegians. The left pocket was filled with candy, suckers, a stick of gum, or an advertising notebook for the kids . . . plus an autographed lead pencil for Moms.

Nowadays, commission men are rarer than thin-hipped, middle-aged Senoras in Guadalajara or a wooden Indian at a barber shop or football playing ecologists. They seek bait points, not give them away. Health conditions are excellent. Never a cold in winter. Nor in winter, seldom does one take a deep, solid, lung-filling breath. Lung, nose and throat germs die at fresh air contact.

While the summer sun will occasionally drop a fat exposed steer, few commission men have ever dropped with heat prostration. But, if one does, the Stockyard Foundation Director always gives a rewarding verbal send-off — on at least two stations. No bankers get that courtesy.

In the winter, no one worries about a frozen ear tip or chilblains. Salesmen are more bundled up than Eskimo bachelors and have the protection of 3' x 3' x 6' wooden sheds rather than igloos.

However, Mom, I do admit there is a social stigma. Eyebrows do raise and the faint-hearted small town socialite does flinch when the Sunday shoes of the buyer or commission salesman warm up. Yes, after church, cattlemen occasionally do take a short country look. It is almost impossible to look at cattle and step adroitly.

Stiff regulations are administered by the P & S. Their main function is to notify creditors of bankruptcy. Or issue a "freeze and desert" on some minor act that happened two years before.

No advertising expense is needed. No push. Just another firm's mailing list, a set of books, a $5,000 bond — total cost about $200. An education is a handicap. Besides, feed or fertilizer companies want the correct grammar-spelling graduates.

And after spending 10, 20 or 30 years building a business, think how they can sell their hand-

Rural Intersection
Site of Collision
Northwest of Wayne

Sisters-in-law Mrs. Lester Hansen of rural Wayne and Mrs. Leo Hansen collided while driving through this intersection four miles north and three west of Wayne Friday about noon. Considerable damage was done to front and rear of both cars. Mrs. Lester Hansen was going south at the time of the accident and her car stayed on the road while the car Mrs. Leo Hansen was driving west ended up in the ditch. Sons Dale and Marvin were with Mrs. Lester Hansen. Marvin, eight, received a cut on the head while Dale, two, was unharmed. The other car had no passengers.

cranked computers whenever the yards company sells out for real estate development.

Unemployment checks then would be till eternity because where can the government find a like job?

While banks rise and fall by the hundreds, stockyards just fall. Only the nostalgia and accumulated odors remain.

ment where we have lots of room for improvement.

Among all the modern developments, something called "environmental control" has become extremely important for people and animals.

This term denotes greater comfort for men, but tied into it out of necessity in the case of livestock is economical production. Fortunately, many of the things we can do to make livestock more comfortable will more than pay for the extra time and investments.

Among the items included in environmental control are regulation of air movement, humidity, temperature, light, dust, odors, sound, insects, bacteria, fungi, space, flooring, handling techniques and disposition. Livestock production facilities of the most sophisticated degree — including air conditioning to match that of modern homes — are in existence today with successful operation history. No doubt we will continue to move in this direction.

However, in view of the investment required, the great bulk of livestock production will continue to come from modest and practical family farms.

From the standpoint of competition no one can afford to ignore practices which will increase economic production rates.

Many of these things are relatively simple and inexpensive. Among the first to be considered for animal comfort in summer are shade, adequate cool and clean drinking water and insect control.

Areas where shade is provided by structures should be so located and oriented to allow maximum air movement. Prevailing summer winds in this area are most often from the south.

Among the mechanical devices most easily provided for livestock comfort are electric fans and water sprinklers. Concrete flooring has added utility where sprinkler systems are employed. Concrete aprons for feeding and watering areas will pay for themselves in feed saving, animal comfort and greater choring convenience for caretakers.

Q — At what temperature and for how long should home-grown peanuts be roasted?

A — Put the peanuts in a shallow pan, stir frequently with the oven at 350 degrees, and taste often until the desired taste is attained.

Q — Some tulip bulbs planted last fall shot up only one leaf. Will they bloom next year?

A — It is doubtful.

Livestock Comfort Pays
At this time of year when farmers are busy with crops we quite often neglect items which contribute to profitable livestock production.

By far the greatest percentage of gross farm income in this area comes from the sale of livestock. This is not to say that feed production is any less important. However, I would venture a guess that many farmers have more opportunity to improve their livestock summer care than in the care of crops. If there would be an exception here it would apply to pasture manage-

Hereford Group Picnic Scheduled for Sunday

The annual picnic for the Northeast Nebraska Hereford Association will be held Sunday at Herevale Farms northeast of Wayne. The farm is located three miles east and one and a half north of Wayne.

The picnic will be an all-day affair, beginning with inspection of the Herevale cow herd being prepared for sale from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The picnic lunch is a Dutch treat affair with ice cream being furnished by Herevale Farms.

The judging contest will be from 2 to 2:30 in the afternoon. Prizes are being offered to both men and women in the contest, to be judged by Harold Ingalls, Wayne County agricultural agent, and Gaylin Trentin of Fullerton. The type demonstration is set for 2:30. The program beginning at 2:40 will feature several representatives of the Nebraska Polled Hereford Association and the American Polled Hereford

Dairy Free Stalls — Good or Bad?

Free stalls have been one of the biggest interests of dairymen in northeast Nebraska for the last couple of years, according to Don Kubik, University of Nebraska Extension dairy specialist at the Northeast Station.

The advantages of free stalls in bedding savings, cleaner cows and fewer injuries have been proven true time and time again, he says. "A big question has been whether production is as good where cows are handled and fed in groups in free stall systems," states Kubik.

Along with free stalls comes handling of cows, complete feeds (grain and roughage mixed as a complete ration), no grain feeding in milking parlors and herring houses.

A recent study in New York has compared the free stall system of housing to stanchion barns where handling of individual cows is most intense, Kubik states. "It's remarkable that cows in groups expressed their genetic ability as good or better than those in stanchion barns." What is bred into cows must be fed out of them, he reasons.

There was as much variation between cows in the group feeding system as in stanchion barns. The cows may compete to the extent that individual variation between cows is greater.

Many people think free stalls and group feeding and handling will reduce variations within the group and tend to force all cows to produce the same, Kubik notes. "This is not the case. Neither will handling cows in this manner reduce production," Kubik concludes.

Anyone interested in Hereford cattle and some of the trends in cattle finishing is invited to attend. Four-H and FFA members are cordially invited to turn out for the affair.

Schools at Winside Remain Accredited

Winside Public Schools have received accreditation for the year beginning July 1 through June 30, 1971.

Joe Masten, superintendent of schools at Winside, said a letter was received from Mel Olson, chief of internal school services in the State Department of Education in Lincoln, noting that Winside will continue to be on the list of accredited schools.

Olson wrote Masten that the action was taken at the meeting of the State Board of Education on June 12.

Girl Scout Camp Attended by 103

More than 100 girls from Wayne, Winside and Winnebago attended the annual Girl Scout Day Camp Monday through Friday last week at Johnson's Grove located a half mile west of the drive-in theatre north of Wayne. Sessions were held daily from 1 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Dana Lefstad was camp director and reports there were 49 Wayne Brownies, 18 Winside Juniors, 3 Juniors from Winnebago and 33 Juniors from Wayne. A staff consisting of approximately 40 area women worked with the girls.

Included in camp activities were singing, games, handicraft, folk dancing, and learning basic skills of camping.

Four senior scouts from West Point visited camp Wednesday and taught the campers a number of songs.

Besides studying various nationalities, the girls had sessions on nature, dramatics, music and blueprinting.

The day camp was divided into six units. Units and their overseers were Brownie Unit I, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson; Unit II, Mrs. Carol Edmunds; Unit III, Mrs. Iona Lindsay; and the three junior unit sponsors were Mrs.

Alice Olson, Mrs. Arlene Zoffka and Mary Shery.

Serving as camp nurses were Mrs. Ivan Creighton and Mrs. Robert Lund. Special consultants assisting with camp activities were Mrs. Leroy Simpson, Mrs. Orval Owens, Mrs. Max Lundstrom, Mrs. Frank Frather, Mrs. Doniver Peterson, Mrs. Robert Carhart, Mrs. Jane Kern and Mrs. Ralph Barclay.

Heart Fund Chairman Attends State Meet

Mrs. Carl Lentz, Wayne County chairman of the Heart Fund, accompanied by her husband, was a recent delegate to the statewide general assembly of the Heart Fund organization at Scottsbluff.

Chairman Lentz was one of nine persons at the assembly recognized for being in charge of campaigns which exceeded last year's donations. She said others throughout the state were recognized for exceeding their set goals.

The assembly was held June 12 and 13 and included panel discussions about heart disease and the heart fund campaign.

A total of approximately 60 attended the meeting.

Area Girl Scouts Chosen for Trip

Kathryn Hepburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepburn of Wayne, and Janet Erlanson of Ponca, will be going to the mountains this summer. They are two of the 170 Girl Scouts chosen to take part in "Mountain Magic," a national two-week scouting event sponsored by the Appalachian Girl Scout Council. The event will take place July 7-23 in the mountains of East Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia.

Participants represent 126 councils. They will live in dormitories on the campus of Virginia Intermount College in Bristol, Va. They will attend workshops, take field trips and have entertainment indigenous to the area. Purpose of the event is to give Girl Scouts from other sections of the country an opportunity to learn about the history and culture of the Appalachian Mountains and their people.

The visitors' itinerary will include workshops in candle-making, weaving, spinning and basketmaking using dried honeysuckle vines. They will be taught to make dolls from cornhusks just like those with which they settlers played long ago.

Field trips will be taken to the Craftsman's Fair in Asheville, N. C., and to Cade's Cove, last authentic settlement of the mountain people. The visiting Girl Scouts will also visit the Starline Theatre in Abingdon, Va., where farm produce and other goods were once bartered for entry to the theatre.

Ladybugs move their wings from 75 to 91 times a second.

Highway Resurfacing Scheduled for 73-77

Asphaltic concrete resurfacing of 6.6 miles of Highway 73-77 from Homer to Dakota City is scheduled to start June 22, the Nebraska Department of Roads has announced.

Traffic will be maintained during construction. The project is expected to be completed in September.

J. L. Lowe of Wayne is the DOT project engineer. The project will cost about $299,000.

Former Local Youth Earns Eagle Award

Nell Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, has sent congratulations to Dennis Jay Hamer, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Hamer of Wayne, on attainment of the Eagle Award of the Boy Scouts of America. The award is the highest one attainable by a Scout.

Dennis Hamer

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hamer Jr. of Omaha and a senior at Benson High School. The Hamers were long-time residents of Wayne before moving to Omaha.

In his letter Astronaut Armstrong said in part: "I send you my sincere best wishes as a fellow Eagle. You have reached a significant milestone in scouting, but I am sure, you will find, as I have, it is just the beginning."

Dennis has long been an avid space fan and took special note when Astronaut Armstrong named his lunar landing module "The Eagle" prior to his historic trip to the moon.

The 16-year-old scout began his scout career in a Cub Scout Den under the direction of Mrs. Carl Johnson, formerly of Wayne in 1962. His special interests are music, photography, chemistry and scientific exploration. He was born in Wayne in 1953 and has taken part in the summer Music Camp at Wayne State College.

His instrument is the French Horn.

He was presented his Eagle Award at a court of honor in Omaha's Troop No. 75.

Along with the letter from Astronaut Armstrong, Dennis received personal congratulations from Governor Norbert Tiebout, and Chief Scout Executive Alden Barber of Brunswick, N.J. Judge and Mrs. Hamer attended the Omaha ceremony as did Ann Andrews of London who is a houseguest at their Wayne residence.

Quota Half Reached In Wayne County for U.S. Savings Bonds

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds and Savings Notes in Wayne County during May amounted to $12,947.00 and brought five-month sales to $83,165.00 according to Henry E. Ley, county chairman.

The total represents 47.3 per cent of the county's quota for 1970. Throughout the state sales were $3,483,060 in May and $19,429,885 for the year for 45.6 per cent of quota. Series F Bonds and Savings Notes were up to $900,000 for a gain of more than five per cent over sales through May last year.

Sales in Dixon County during May totaled $15,784 and brought the five-month total to $93,685 or 43.1 per cent of the county's yearly quota. In Cedar County the sales in May amounted to $22,488 to bring the total to $114,641 or 25.7 per cent quota.

Summertime means fun in the sun and of course the water. But if you're not safety conscious, it can be a time of tragedy. Drowning is the fourth leading cause of accidental death. Don't be a statistic.

Congratulations

Steve Brasch, left, presented a Wayne Chamber of Commerce progress award to Larry King of King's Carpets during a brief ceremony Thursday morning. The award is given by the Chamber to businessmen who have shown aggressiveness in improving their place of business. King's Carpets, recently moved into newly remodeled quarters on Main Street in downtown Wayne. Other business firms receiving the award during the past few weeks are Swanson's TV, Gay Theatre, Cine Theater and the Wayne Herald.

VA Q & A

Q -- May I use my GI insurance policy as security for a loan by naming the lending institution as beneficiary?
A -- No. The law and policy state that the policy is not assignable by the insured. When the selection of a beneficiary appears to be an assignment, it is not acceptable.

Q -- Does my service-connected disability rating of 60 per cent entitle my children to VA educational assistance?
A -- No. A child is eligible for an educational assistance allowance only if his parent died (or is rated totally and permanently disabled) as a result of a service-connected cause, or if he died from any cause while such a disability was in existence.

Q -- Does my status as a veteran of wartime service entitle me to hospitalization in any VA hospital for a service-connected disability?
A -- Yes, provided hospitalization is deemed necessary. You state under oath you are financially unable to defray the costs of the necessary hospital charges elsewhere, and if beds are available.

People Ask Us--

QUESTION: What are your duties as a funeral director?

ANSWER: Since the beginning of time close friends have been called upon at the time of death to carry out the necessary religious and legal requirements of burial. Our funeral establishment actually evolved from this need on the part of people in turn to someone thoroughly qualified. Although our facilities have been continually updated throughout the years, our responsibility to function as a friend has remained constant.

We are charged with arranging the details of a funeral service. Death certificates, Social Security and Veterans forms, newspaper notices, burial or transit permits, cemetery authorization forms -- all are routinely processed by us.

A funeral is essentially a religious ceremony because of this fact we must maintain a constant awareness of the funeral policies of all religious denominations. In our present day pattern of living we furnish the place, the technical knowledge and the mobility required to assist the family and the clergyman in the proper conduct of a funeral service.

Carroll Scouts At Camp Cedars

Two members of Boy Scout Troop 265 at Carroll returned home Saturday after spending a week at Camp Cedars seven miles southwest of Fremont.

Terry Nelson and Rodney Kuhnhen shared a campsite with scouts from Elgin, Stanton, and Norfolk. Dave Lahr, scoutmaster, said Nelson worked at a camp on second class requirements and Kuhnhen worked on first class requirements.

Scoutmaster Lahr drove to Camp Cedars to camp with the two scouts Friday afternoon through Saturday morning.

Cub Scouts in Carroll distributed Goodwill bags around town June 13. Boy Scouts then picked them up Saturday morning. The Rev. Robert Swanson of the United Methodist Church in Carroll assisted the boys in gathering the bags.
