Centennial-Flavored Fair Has Variety

You name it—the 1970 Wayne County Fair's got it. Races, free barbecue, kiddie parade, judging contests, hog shows, horse shoe pitching. That's just a sampling of what's in store for the person who wants to take in the centennial-flavored county fair in Wayne this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The fair begins Thursday morning at 11 with a parade from the campus of Wayne State College through downtown Wayne. Numerous entries and several bands are expected for that opening event.

A near climax to add interest to the parade will be Miss Wayne County Centennial—the lucky lass who will be crowned during the beauty pageant tonight (Monday) at the city auditorium in Wayne. Joining her in the parade will be the other candidates in that contest.

Thursday's activities include horse judging at the fairgrounds at 1 p.m., junior rodeo at 2 and judging of dairy cattle at 3. Thursday night events include a 300-piece band concert and presentation of Miss Centennial at the grandstand at 7, another

Some of the contestants in the Miss Wayne County Centennial contest might be eligible to enter another upcoming beauty pageant.

The contest is being sponsored by the Wakefield Porkettes, an organization of wives of pork producers in northeast Nebraska. Judging of the candidates will take place during the annual pork producers' banquet scheduled for Wayne later this fall.

Contestants must be single, between the ages of 17 and 21 before Nov. 1, 1970, and be a native Nebraskan. They must also reside on a farm where swine are produced. Deadline for entry: Sept. 15.

Winner of the local beauty pageant will be eligible to enter the state queen contest to be held at the state pork producers' convention at Hastings on Nov. 17.

Any young girl in the area interested in entering the contest should contact Mrs. Paul Everingham at Wakefield, phone 287-2767.

Farmers Can Use Petition To Name ASC Candidates

Wayne County farmers now have the opportunity to nominate by petition candidates for ASC community committee posts. The nominating period began July 28 and closes Aug. 17.

"This year we hope farmers in Wayne County will nominate by petition full slates for all 13 communities. A full slate means a minimum of six candidates for each community to choose from in electing a community committee of three members and two alternates," Harry Heinemann, chairman of the Wayne ASC committee, said.

All ASC community committees are elected annually. The newly-elected community committeemen will convene shortly after their September election to elect one new ASC county committee member and two alternates. County committee members serve three-year terms, with one new member elected each year. Alternates are elected annually.

Livestock Field Day Planned

A livestock field day is scheduled at the University of Nebraska Northeast Station on Friday, Aug. 14, according to Cal Ward, superintendent.

The program will begin at 6 p.m. with a tour of the beef and swine research centers and will end with a talk on the animal industry in Nebraska by Frank Baker, chairman of the University's animal science department.

Robert Fritsch, swine specialist at the station, will review the results of research on types of swine housing. Walter Tolman, beef specialist, will discuss work on high moisture corn and roughage-ratio for growing and finishing beef cattle.

The event is sponsored by the Northeast Feeders Association and the Northeast Pork Producers. All interested people are invited to attend.

Another field day is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 16, when special tours will be arranged to view the results of research related to crop production.

Thone, Hruska Here For Free Barbecue

Charles Thone, the new Republican candidate for the First Congressional District in Nebraska, and Senator Roman Hruska will be special attractions at the free barbecue scheduled for Friday evening at the Wayne County Fair.

Thone, 46, was chosen as the Republican nominee during a convention at Lincoln last week. Attending that convention as a representative from the Wayne area was Leland Herman.

A Lincoln attorney, Thone will seek the post being vacated by Robert V. Denney, who has announced he will accept the new federal judgeship in Nebraska.

Effort Backfires

Obtaining money under false pretenses cost Alfred Van Thuyne of Carroll $10 in fine and $23.50 in costs in the Wayne County court last week.

Larry Dahlkoetter, 31, also of Carroll, paid a fine of $15 and costs of $5 for driving left of center line.

Others fined during the past few days: Robert Jeffrey, Wayne, unlicensed vehicle, $10 and $5, and Daniel C. Burleigh, 22, Norfolk, speeding, $15 and $5.

Open House Is Slated; Winside Staff Named

Plans have been made to hold open house at the new $500,000 elementary school building in Winside and Joe Masten, superintendent of the Winside Public Schools, noted Thursday that a full staff of teachers has been contracted for the 1970-71 term.

Masten said final inspection of the newly-erected elementary building is slated for Aug. 18. Construction of the school started about one year ago.

Plans have been made by the administrators and school board to hold open house Sept. 15 so the public may look over the new structure.

The superintendent said Ross Rasmussen, a state senator from Hooper and executive secretary of the Nebraska State School Board Association, will be guest speaker for the open house program.

Winside Public Schools will open Aug. 24 with a teacher's workshop. Registration is scheduled for the following day and classes will be held for the first time Aug. 26.

Grade 'n Yield—USDA Style

These northeast Nebraska cattle feeders, about 60 in all, listed to Eddie Kimbrell of the USDA meat grading division tell them how their cattle will yield at the Iowa Beef Processors plant at Dakota City during a project at which the feeders are being given a chance to see the end result of the cattle they raised. Kimbrell pointed out such things as the muscling, dressing per cent and amount of fat on each animal during grading last Friday. Today (Monday) the feeders will be able to see those same cattle after slaughtering and cooling at the IBP facilities, enabling them to see the kind of meat they are producing. Among those with cattle being graded were Marvin Dunklau of Wayne and James Troutman of Winside.

State to Locate Patrolmen Here

Wayne will soon be the home of two Nebraska Safety Patrol troopers, according to Capt. Whitney of the State Safety Patrol in Norfolk.

Whitney said Trooper Doug Rother, now at Valentine, hopes to be moved to Wayne by mid-August, but the moving date depends upon availability of housing.

Rother has a wife and three children.

Trooper William Watson will work under the supervision of Rother. Watson is single and has rented an apartment.

Capt. Whitney said there were several reasons for locating the two patrolmen in Wayne. He said the state shops were here, two major highways intersected here, and Wayne, being a county seat town, provided certain advantages.

Whitney pointed out that Wayne provides more central facilities and that the patrolmen, by being located in Wayne, would be able to provide more service to the public.

Troopers T. R. Nichols and C. Fransson were residents of Wakefield until recently. Nichols moved to Alaska and Fransson is transferring to the drug division of the State Safety Patrol. Robert Mavis, criminal investigator, will continue living in Wakefield, Whitney said.

Courthouse to Close

Anybody wishing to take care of county business next week should make sure they don't peek Thursday to do it. The Wayne County courthouse will close that day at 10:30 in the morning in order to let county officials and workers take part in the parade and the activities scheduled for the opening day of the county fair.

Youths from Mexico To Arrive Wednesday

A dozen youths from Mexico ranging in age from 18 to 22 years old will arrive in Sioux City around 7:15 a.m. Wednesday. They will be met by Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Moore of Wayne, chairman of the project, and several Wayne families. The young people are coming here as part of a program called Experiment in International Living.

Lionel Moore said the group will stop at Crystal Lake south-west of South Sioux City on the way to Wayne for a picnic and orientation.

Wayne families will host the 12 Mexican guests for about 18 days. During that time the youths will have opportunity to learn about life in the States and also share their own way of life with American hosts.

WS Students Pen Summer 'Review'

The summer edition of the Wayne State College Social Science Review, just published, features entirely articles written by students.

Among the articles are two by Hans Peter Pedersen, a graduate student during the third term, on leave from his teaching duties at the Herning Folk High School in Denmark. His articles are titled "Two Writers' Conceptions of American Political Thought" and "Primary Elections."

The former analyzes opposite views on whether "early American leaders played an active and creative role introducing a new democratic experiment" or whether they were "just ordinary men of their time only able to maintain a modus vivendi between diverging groups and interests in society."

Pedersen concluded from the two views that the founding fa-

Surprise! Surprise!

Have those recent developments concerning Wayne's proposed elderly housing project surprised you?
Were you surprised when you learned that the project would include 38 units?
Were you surprised when you learned there was to be a final hearing in Chicago on the application for nearly $600,000 for the local project?
Were you surprised when you learned that the project would probably be built between Fourth and Fifth Streets on the east side of Dearborn and then later learned that it would actually be built on both sides of Dearborn?
Or, to back up a bit, were you surprised a few months back when you learned that the local baseball park was being considered as a possible site for the project?
We hope those developments surprised you, for they certainly did just that to us.
They surprised us because the local housing authority has conducted its business without giving the public much chance to take part or have a hand in that business. Their meetings, which we contend should be open to the public, have not been publicized as we think they should be under the state's open meetings law.

That law, which says simply that groups which represent the public must make their meetings open to the public by proper public notice, applies to all state, county and political subdivisions in the state.
In other words, an elderly housing project which will cost the taxpayers of this nation nearly $600,000 is going to be built in this city and the people in this city have really not had much of a say in whether it should be built, where it should be built, how it should be built or how much it should cost.
That is what is surprising to us. We should think it should be surprising to you. —NLH.

Among the New Residents

In the next six weeks there will be many new families moving into Wayne as well as several thousand college students. Among the new residents planning to change their address to Wayne are two Nebraska Safety Patrol troopers. Capt. Whitney of the Safety Patrol office in Norfolk said the two patrolmen are being located in Wayne for several reasons. He pointed out that the State maintenance shop is here, two major highways intersect here, Wayne is a county seat town, and the location will provide a convenient central point for efficient patrol operation.
Life isn't a bowl of cherries for anyone, particularly for those men whose job is to enforce laws set up by the Nebraska Legislature for the purpose of highway safety. Motorists see nice or nasty and are often the latter when stopped by a patrolman. Most of us who drive don't mind stretching our luck on occasion with a heavy foot on the accelerator but we find it difficult to accept the obvious penalties.
With two additional law enforcement personnel living here, we feel Wayne has everything to gain.

Our State Safety Patrol men are known for their dedication to duty and are, therefore, an excellent example to youths particularly.
As a community, let's make sure all new families moving into Wayne are made to feel welcome, especially those who will be contributing directly to the personal safety and welfare of residents.
When the two patrolmen move here in mid-August, let's get acquainted and let them know that our neighborliness and friendship will not be based on whether or not they might find it necessary to issue us a ticket on the road.
As American's we must always be grateful for individuals who are willing to work as law enforcement officers, as the very nature of the work doesn't lend itself to popularity with all too many citizens.
Wayne is fortunate in having a fine police force, an excellent crew in the county sheriff's office and in being selected as a base for two patrolmen. Having all these fellows on the local scene helps make Wayne a better place to live. —MMW.

New Sewage Lagoon Being Developed in Wayne

A new sewage lagoon is being developed in the north end of Wayne. It's not too large at present, but it's still in the development stages.
Want to take a quick inspection of the facility? Drive north on Walnut Street as far as possible where the street runs along the college's practice football field. Turn right and stop. Walk over to the ditch on the south side of the road. Take a deep breath.
Nobody's certain how long the lagoon's been in the development stages, but it's been for several weeks for sure. The muggy summer weather is helping the lagoon gain even more prominence than it has in the past from area residents. It's even becoming known to people outside the immediate area.

Dumping sewage into the new lagoon are several drainage pipes from underground septic tanks in the area. The septic tanks are apparently in need of a good cleaning but are being allowed to flow over onto the land, creating the new lagoon.
The city council has become aware of the lagoon on the north edge of the city. Just over two weeks ago it was decided at the council meeting that something should be done by the city's board of health—mayor, chief of police and city physician—to alleviate the problem. Late last week the board had not talked with owners of the property apparently causing the problem. —NLH.

Council Errs Twice

The city council of Wayne handled some interesting and timely subjects during last week's meeting. If you weren't one of several who turned out for all or part of that meeting, we hope you had a chance to read the newspaper account of the things the council took up.
We feel that two of the steps taken by the council were wrong.
—Sunday liquor sales: The council voted against a request by a bottle club owner which would have changed the local laws to permit him to stay open and serve beer and liquor by the drink on Sundays. We're still trying to figure out the reasoning behind this decision, for only three people appeared at the council meeting and voiced objections to changing the laws regarding Sunday liquor sales. That Sunday liquor sales are now permitted within the city at the Vet's Club and at the Bay Limits at the Wayne Country Club did not even come up during discussion of the issue. We feel it should have been discussed.

—Police project application: The council voted to have the chief of police turn in an application for federal matching funds to help purchase riot control equipment worth $1,000. This paraphernalia includes tear gas equipment, gas masks, riot shotguns and a mobile public address unit. Somebody is certainly going to have to do some talking to make us believe that Wayne, Nebraska, has advanced (or fallen) to this point. Just because federal funds are available to cities does not necessarily mean that cities should search wildly in order to find ways to spend those funds. That attitude is all too prevalent across this nation at the present time.
Those are our feelings on two issues which affect or will affect the people living in and around Wayne. We may be wrong in those feelings and we would be happy to give somebody of opposing viewpoints an opportunity to voice their opinions. —NLH.

Tips from a Pro

Plan your stops and starts early!
Beautiful scenery? Admire it properly...
OFF the road!

JUST WRIGHT

While driving around the county one afternoon about two weeks ago, J.W. drove four miles south of Winside and turned east. There are two signs posted on the south side of the road which are easily seen after one turns the corner. The first sign says "Winding Road" and the second warns "Travel at own risk." Immediately one's mind is filled with curiosity. What might be the reason or reasons the road is possibly dangerous?
We shifted gears and followed the rustic road which twists and turns in much the same pattern as that of a roping. At one point it appears as if the car would run right into Humbug Creek, but the road handily turns to the right and then back to the east across an ancient bridge. A large tree stands upright with huge branches of leaves shading the west end of the bridge. It may possibly be one of the more scenic spots in Wayne County. The signs give fair warning however that the road isn't for normal driving speeds.

If you had to be judge and had the job of deciding where the most scenic spot is located in our 100-year-old county, what spot do you think you might choose? Do you especially like rolling hills? There are some in nearly every precinct of the county. Several creeks cut through the area providing unusual beauty in specific places, particularly in the autumn. You may not be acquainted with the creeks in Wayne County, but most of the old-timers can tell you where Dog Creek, Logan-Creek, Plum-Creek, Deer-Creek, Coon-Creek, Kane-Creek, and Humbug-Creek are all located. Do you suppose we might be the "creekiest" county in northeast Nebraska.

It is not unusual for newspaper people to be asked numerous questions. About 10 years ago a newsman by the name of Bob Wright sat down to his typewriter and dashed off a series of questions and answers which we thought worth sharing with you for a possible chuckle. His questions and answers are as follows:
Q. Why doesn't your paper have an advice to the love-lorn column like Mary Lane or Dear Abby?
A. Name of our readers have such problems.
Q. Why do you always say "we" when referring to yourself in the paper?
A. We want our readers to think they are numbered.
Q. Why didn't you publish that poem I sent you?
A. It was a lousy poem.
Q. Why don't you print recipes?
A. We did once and left out a line; 20 people got sick and cancelled subscriptions.
Q. Why don't you run more items of years gone by?
A. We used to... but once we published an item "40 Years Ago" about a baby girl being born to Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Trouble is the baby girl had been telling everyone she was 34. Her lecture curled the wallpaper in the newspaper office.
Q. Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the city council what they can do to improve the town?
A. Why don't you go down to the next meeting and tell them yourself?
Q. Why don't you print more letters to the editor?
A. Why don't you write one... sign it with your name please... don't be a chicken.

That question "Why don't you?" seems to be rather popular. It really is amazing how many things other people can dream up and then ask another person to do them. Or has your sweetie pie ever said, "Honey, why don't you...?" Was your vacation filled with that question?
J.W. decided to take a quick survey of people on Main Street Wednesday afternoon. We asked, "What do you enjoy most about the Wayne County Fair?" Eight of the 24 people questioned said they enjoyed the barbecue. Four said they liked the midway rides. Others replied they preferred looking over exhibits, going to the dance, seeing old friends, watching the tractor pull contests, and taking the children. Two people confessed they didn't like to go at all. It is our conclusion that the county fair has something for everyone to enjoy, regardless of age, which shows the event is well planned. Are you planning to go this weekend?
Wayne has certainly had a lot of out-of-town guests this summer. We wonder if there has ever been a year previous when the city has had the opportunity of hosting so many? There were 105 people on the college campus from Denmark. Then early in July, 38 American-Field Service students from over 20 countries were hosted in private homes in Wayne for several days. A fine group of Indian students were on campus at Wayne State College several weeks.
A number of Wayne's homes will soon be hosts to 12 youths from Mexico due to arrive Wednesday. The youths are part of a program called Experiment in International Living.
We question whether there is another inland city the size of Wayne in the United States which has had the privilege of hosting so many people of various races and nationalities all within a few weeks. Getting to visit with some of the guests has been very educational.

News of Note around Northeast Nebraska

Jim Novak, Pender speedster, will take part in the National Junior Olympic Track Meet in Knoxville, Tenn., later this month. The Pender High grad won the 100-yard dash at the regional affair recently with a 10.2 effort despite an injured leg muscle.

The Bloomfield area had received only just over 10 inches of rain up to last week, reports the Bloomfield Monitor. Last year the area had a total of slightly more than 16 inches of rain by the same time. Only .85 inch of rain fell in July this year, about four inches less than the same month in 1969.

Here's a few bits of thought about cattle raising gleaned from an area newspaper:
"Livestock are animals that are bred and raised in the country to keep the farmer broke and the buyer crazy. They are born in the spring, mangled in the summer, pastured in the fall and given away in the winter.
"They vary in size, color and weight, and the man who can guess the nearest to their weight and market grade is called a livestock buyer by the public, a robber by the farmer, a poor risk by the banker and a bologna peddler by Mrs. Murphy."
Seven pioneer farmers will receive awards during the coming Cedar County Fair at Hartington.
Scheduled to receive engraved plaques and framed certificates are Donald and Mavis Koch, Wynot; Henry and Frieda Kollars, Crofton; Morris and Clara Kvoils, Laurel; Marvin Sudbeck, Hartington; Orville and Charlotte Sudbeck, Hartington; Sudbeck Farms, Hartington, and Alton and Dolores Thoenie, Hartington.

Seven area fire departments were unable to halt the fire at the Farmers Elevator and Farmers Lumber in Peemer from causing an estimated damage of $325,000.
Workmen began salvaging more than 26,000 bushels of corn and feed stored in the facilities the day after the blaze.

Firemen from Beemer, Wisner, Snyder, Pender, Bancroft, Scribner and West Point battled the blaze. Used in the fight were cement trucks from Ehung Concrete at Wisner and Sellentin's at West Point. The trucks helped haul water to the trucks at the fire.
Construction of new facilities will reportedly begin as soon as settlements can be made with the insurance companies.

Five young men from Dixon County have been inducted into the Army recently. Those men: Donnie Hassler of Allen, Calvin Lamprecht of Newcastle, Kent Bressler of Wakefield, Richard Pinkelman of Newcastle and Allan Brennan of Newcastle.

Mavis Woslager, Pierce resident who suffers from serious kidney problems, is in improved condition at Rochester, Minn. She has suffered a series of complications following an unsuccessful kidney transplant operation. She still must be placed on a kidney machine periodically.

The Madison city council is considering passing a resolution calling for an election on a bond issue to be used in building a nursing home.
The home would accommodate 80 people, 35 more than in the present nursing home at Madison.

Dick Lindberg of the West Point Republican tells the story about the proud new father who took his six-year-old son to see his brand new sister at the St. Francis Memorial Hospital.

The baby was howling wildly, her face was beet red, she was bald and wrinkled. In other words, she was a typical newborn baby. Her big brother took a long and absorbing look before turning to his dad with this comment:
"No wonder Mom hid her under her coat so long!"

Quotable Notables:

Beggars must be no choosers. — Beaumont and Fletcher.
The bee that hath honey in her mouth hath a sting in her tail. — Lily.
That road we were talking about in the beginning. There are likely to be a lot of unexpected turns along with all that which is pleasant. Remember the road was posted with "Travel at own risk." You say there should be a sign or two like that in wedding chapels? Could be!

11-Inning Midget Contest Opens Tournament

By Norvin Hansen
An 11-inning marathon, a couple of two-hitters and a smashing win by one of the tournament favorites opened the first round of action in the district Midget and Legion tournament at Wayne last week.

The tournament continued Saturday with Wayne Legion squaring off against Wakefield and Wayne Midgets, only team to draw a bye in the affair, taking on Coleridge.

Finals were set for 6 and 8 Sunday, with the winners advancing to the area tournament at Wakefield. That tournament will get underway Wednesday, with winners moving to the final level—the state tournament at Rushville later in August.

Randolph and Wakefield Midgets treated takeover goes to one of the longest games on record—safely from two innings after regulations play when runners advanced to second.

Wakefield managed eight hits off Randolph's two hurlers, including Bob Twite's pair of singles.

In the other Midget contest, Coleridge walked over Winside in an abbreviated contest, 16-3, Friday night.

Winside hitters were able to scratch out only two hits against Jordan, doubles by Roger Hoff-

Walsh might have blanked the Coleridge crew had not Hoffart homered with two down and one on in the top of the first inning.

Wakefield quickly made up for that two-run spurt, getting four across in the first inning, two in the fourth and six in the fifth. Going two for three at the plate for the victors were Denny Paul, Lyle Brown and Walsh. Rob Eaton whacked out two hits in four trips.

Friday night Wayne Legion blanked Randolph, 10-0, behind the two-hit pitching effort of Don Mau. Mau fanned six and walked three in chalking up his win. No Randolph player got on base until the bottom of the fourth when an infield error put one on. Both Randolph hits were singles.

While Mau was doing his part on the mound, Wayne hitters connected for 12 big hits, including a triple and a double by second baseman Mike Biltoff. Also popping out two-baggers were Randy Helgren and Mau. Helgren had three hits in five at bats, Denny Redel had two in five, Rick Glenn had two in four and Biltoff had two in three.

Coleridge pasted eight hits off Jon Behmer. Behmer struck out five, walked 12 as he fought control problems throughout the game. The Winside defense committed six errors.

One of the tournament favorites Wakefield Legion, swamped Coleridge, 12-2, Thursday night.

Jerry Walsh pitched the Wakefield squad to that victory, giving up a home run and two two singles each by Kerstine and Meyer.

On July 23, Wayne's 13-and-under squad handed Laurel a sound 18-5 loss behind the pitching effort of Overin. Overin gave up one hit in his win. Releever Ilt allowed four hits.

In the other little league contest at Laurel, Wayne came away with a 6-3 win on 10 hits. Wayne's Carroll held Laurel to just two hits.

Winside Coach Attends Clinic

Doug Barry, coach at Winside High, was one of 21 coaches from four states and Canada who recently attended the second annual Athletic Training Clinic at South Dakota State University at Brookings.

The one-day clinic offered a view of present day concepts in the prevention and care of athletic injuries. The lectures and demonstrations included information on ankle injuries, knee injuries, shoulder injuries, hand injuries, muscle injuries, immediate first aid on the field and problems in women's athletics.

Tim Hooser, athletic trainer and physical therapist at SDSU, was the clinic director for the workshop. Three Brookings physicians also helped with the clinic.

Longer Game, Declared Defense All-Star Changes

A lengthened game and a declared defense are the only major changes that will noticeably affect the Nebraska Coaches Association's second annual all-star basketball game, according to NCA basketball committee chairman Wally McNaught of Lincoln.

The North Squad will arrive in Wayne Thursday, Aug. 13, and will be practicing on the Wayne State court until the following Thursday when they will go to Lincoln to compete in the second annual all-star contest at Pershing Auditorium on Friday night, Aug. 21. The South Squad will practice at Kearney State again this year.

"We've gone to 10 minute quarters to lengthen the game a little bit," McNaught said, "and this is largely done to benefit the boys."

He explained that the two additional minutes over last year's quarters gives each boy more of an opportunity to play and more exposure before the crowd.

"As far as the basic or primary defense is concerned," McNaught said, "both teams will be asked by the basketball committee to use the man-to-man."

Other special features of the first all-star game in 1969 will be carried over to 1970.

McNaught said each team will be divided into two six-man units for the first half, each unit playing one quarter. Free substitution is allowed in the second half, McNaught said.

Also, the Association has obtained the services of three officials who will all be on the court at the same time. McNaught indicated that both the coaches and the fans seemed pleased with the results of last year's experiment with three officials.

Allenites Scalp Martinsburg '9'

Allen's Babe Ruth baseball squad went into the second round of the league tournament Sunday with the impetus gained from a sound 13-3 whipping of Martinsburg.

In that contest, Allen's young Scott Van Minden gave up eight hits to the visiting Martinsburg squad, but his teammates came through to pound out 17 hits off the opposing hurler. At the same time, Allen's defense committed only one error in the contest, a third of the number committed by Martinsburg.

Highlighting the opening inning, Dave Retzlaff homered after Gary Truth singled to tie the score at 2-2. From then on it was all Allen.

Going three for four at the plate were Troth, Tim Hill and Brian Langfelter. Retzlaff ended the contest with two for four and John Warner kept above the .500 mark by poking two hits in three trips to the plate.

Tomjack Pitches, Hits Local '9'

Lynn Tomjack pitched Wayne town team to an 11-3 conquest of Coleridge at Wayne Wednesday night, moving the home squad to near the top of the Tri-County League.

The local squad was scheduled to play Wausa, league leaders, Sunday night and will close out the season Tuesday night when they make up a postponed game at Orchard.

Tomjack did double duties for the team, cracking out five hits in six at bats. That hitting effort included a homer, three doubles and a single.

Dean Elfson relieved Tomjack in the last two innings, striking out five of six Coleridge hitters to face him.

The Tri-County League playoffs begin Thursday night with the top two teams in the league drawing bees. The third team plays the fifth team, fourth plays ninth, fifth plays eighth and sixth plays seventh at the field of the team with the better record. The tourney is single elimination.

The two teams remaining after the second round of the playoffs on Sunday, Aug. 9, will play the two teams which drew byes for the first round in a best two out of three affair. Finals, best three of five, will pit the winners of the third round.

Wayne has been invited to take part in the Northeast Nebraska Invitational Tournament at Dakota City beginning Friday, Aug. 14. In the tourney are Westfield, Ia., Ponca, Hubbard, South Sioux and Wakefield. Wayne will take on Westfield at 6 p.m. the opening day, with the Ponca Hubbard game to follow.

Hoskins Girls Whip Carroll Friday, 15-6

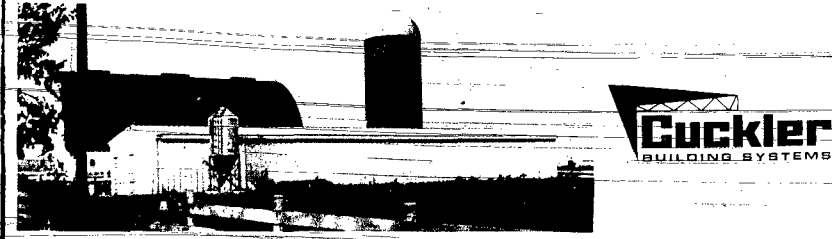

On August 24, the Hoskins girls softball squad rolled over Carroll, 15-6, in an away game. Batteries for Hoskins were Diane Buggeman and Sharron Strate; batteries for Carroll were Kenny and Jones.

Earlier that week, Randolph knocked off the Hoskins first team, 18-7, with Debbie Graves and Debbie Kruger pitching for the losers. Strate again handled duties behind the plate. In the second team, Hoskins smashed the hosts, 24-5, behind the battery of Debbie Kruger and Theri Graves.

Niobrara 'Safari' Pays Off

Honest-to-goodness bear hunting for these Wayne people — Lisa Rehms and Pamela Frevert, Jackie Gramberg and Robert Waterhouse, Jr. — was a success. The boys originated in the Fiji Islands and found their way to the Niobrara farm after a couple of universities gave up experimenting on them. The hunt took place on the farm of Alex Liske (second from right), who now lives in Wayne. Alex decided to give some hunters a chance at bear hunting rather than leaving the critters up for butchering. Hruska: Return to Traditional Goals

Sen. Roman Hruska said today that the solution to campus unrest will be found in the "reduction of the educational system's permissiveness and reassertion of its traditional goals."

Addressing the Wayne State College summer graduating class the Nebraska lawmaker cited testimony before the President's Commission on Campus Unrest that "campus violence is generated by hardcore radicals, using so-called 'street people' to help disrupt and destroy."

Winside Firemen Host Mutual Aid Meeting

Winside firemen Tuesday night hosted the Elkhorn Valley Mutual Aid meeting.

Thirty firemen from Hadar, Battle Creek, Meadow Grove, Norfolk, Hoskins and Wayne turned out for the meeting.

Officers of the Winside fire department include George Voss, fire chief; Edward Oswald, assistant chief; and Russell Prince, president of the department.

shouting down legitimate students."

Hruska said he concurred with the view of another witness who charges that the "root cause of the trouble was not Viet Nam or racial equality or other government priorities, but the wrong priorities of some campus administrators whose confusion and reluctance to act in the face of disorderly demands by campus youths, fuels the disorders."

In the haste of some to "restructure our society," he added, "some elements of our population have apparently forgotten the function of schools is to educate and not to assume the leadership in fashioning sweeping social changes, which may or may not be salutary, and which may or may not be approved by the people as a whole."

He said the attempt to " thrust upon this system an activist leadership role in restructuring society is unfair both to the system and to the students who depend upon it."

The educational system will survive threats from both outside and inside, he said, "if we have a student body which asserts its rights to the education it seeks, and administrators who likewise insist on protecting the rights of the vast body of students."

Hruska said the nation has allowed itself to become "bogged down in our domestic problems to the extent that all of us—and the young people primarily—have forgotten there are many things which are right about this nation."

"It takes no student of world history to see that we enjoy a standard of living, a level of individual freedom and a compassion for our fellow man which is unmatched anywhere in the world," he said.

The major mistake of his generation, the Senator said is not Viet Nam, but "failure to communicate effectively with our youth—to explain to them that while our performance has lacked perfection, our concern for humanity and freedom have been equal to theirs and our actions have created a solid foundation for them to work with constructively and to improve upon."

He said it is "difficult to reconcile the impatience of youth for a larger investment in human resources" with the fact that President Nixon's current budget calls for more spending for human resources than for national defense. This is the first time in 20 years in which spending for health, education, housing and human resources has exceeded military expenditures.

ASC Candidates

Between 1968 and the current

ASC committee administrators agricultural programs such as acreage allotments, price-support loans and purchases conservation cost-sharing and other farm action programs at the county level, dealing directly with producers.

Community committees not only elect county committee members and alternates, but also help the county committee administer these programs, he said.

"There's no red tape tied up in nominating a community committee candidate by petition," Heinemann said. "All that's really needed is a sheet of paper naming a candidate and six or more signatures by eligible voters on that paper. Petitions are limited to one nominee each, but voters may sign as many petitions as they want. A farmer who is an owner or tenant is an eligible voter in the community where his farm interest lies. He can only nominate and vote in one community, however, even if he has far in interests in more than one."

The ASC committee chairman said that if at least six eligible candidates are nominated by petitions submitted by farmers in their communities, no other nominations need be made. However, if less than six are nominated by petition, the incumbent community committee will complete the slate, selecting candidates actively engaged in farming or ranching.

fiscal year, military spending has decreased $17.2 billion while spending on domestic programs has increased $18 billion, he said.

Hruska also said American troop casualties in July were the lowest in four years and the level of troops still in Viet Nam is lower than at any time since 1966.

at 8 a.m. Afternoon events include the 4-H horse show and horse shoe pitching contest at 1 and the big tractor pull at 7.

A quick glance at the barbecue menu—choice beef on buns, potato chips, beans, drink and ice cream—should bring even the biggest homebods out to the fairground.

The display in the new all-steel building on the fairgrounds throughout the three-day affair will be various displays of interest to farmers, homeowners and housewives.

Friday and Saturday have been declared children's days when all youngsters up to 15 years of age will be admitted without charge until evening.

All rides on the midway—featuring Thomas shows—will be only 45 cents for children on Friday and Saturday.

Those wishing to take part in the fair this year should make note to enter at the west gate. The east and south gates are not to be used this year.

To help reduce the risk of heart attack, the Nebraska Heart Association recommends a diet that uses less animal fats and fewer cholesterol-rich foods, such as eggs and organ meats.

Area Guardsmen Continue Training

Live firing practice was the order of the day for members of the 67th Infantry Brigade, Nebraska Army National Guard, as they continued with intensive tactical training during their annual field training here.

The First Battalion, 134th Infantry (Mechanized) moved to the semi-arid highlands of the firing ranges and impact zones of Fort Carson's training areas to provide their men practical training in the use of the 4.2 inch mortar. Using high explosive projectiles, the men are testing their accuracy and ability with the weapon.

The First Battalion, 134th Infantry, is based in Omaha and is commanded by Lieutenant Colonel George Talmadge. Unit members are from Wayne, Omaha, O'Neill, Wahoo, Norfolk and Columbus.

Your Place in the Stars

by Tom McDermott

In the last installment, we discussed Rosicrucianism and its relationship to astrology. I assumed that my readers knew what "theosophy" was, but have since found that many do not. Theosophy is NOT theology, misspelled for even pronounced with a lisp.

You might have heard of Madame Blavatsky, the hard old Russian who rolled her own cigarettes. Many high-class magazines have just recently featured popular articles on this character and her brainchild philosophy—theosophy.

Much more known and studied than Heindel's Rosicrucianism, theosophy is the philosophy or religion that bases its claims on mysticism as the answer behind the Creator and universe. Peculiar to theosophy is its own rebirth theory, although basically allied to other mystic religions. Theosophy holds that man's soul, with each new incarnation, is spiritually advanced. The ultimate goal is reached through several earthly lives. Hindu and Buddhist belief permeates theosophy.

Heindel's Rosicrucianism is violently opposed to many eastern customs such as contained in theosophy. Breathing exercises, yoga, and hypnotism are strictly forbidden. It is interesting to note that before Max Heindel "founded the faith" he was an executive in a San Francisco theosophy study group.

Astrology is followed by theosophists much in the same as Rosicrucian aspirants follow it. Although neither theosophy or Rosicrucianism are cosmic religions, one can easily see some similar overtones.

Madame Blavatsky, "mother of theosophy," was an eccentric hag who died in 1891, leaving 100,000 followers. Her sitting room (luncheon room) was full of stuffed snakes and monkeys used for psychic reasons. Her spiritual teacher was "Thee-Hoom!" According to one source, repeated attempts were made to reveal charlatanism to her, but Annie Besant, Blavatsky's successor was less eccentric than her predecessor and watered down many of theosophy's far out ideas.

In 1879, Madame Blavatsky established her theosophy headquarters at Adyar, India where a monument dedicated to her philosophy was later erected with the following inscription: "There is no religion higher than truth."

County Budget Okayed

A public hearing was held Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. in the courthouse by the Wayne County commissioners for the purpose of hearing any objections, suggestions or corrections to the proposed 1970-71 budget for the county.

No one other than the commissioners and county clerk appeared at the hearing, so the budget will be adopted as proposed.

The estimated budget totaled $796,170. That amount combined with the necessary cash reserve fund of $366,697 plus contingency fund of $325,111 amounts to a grand total of $1,487,968.

A mill levy of 9.15—the same as last year—will be necessary to raise through taxation about $357,099 based on a valuation of $39,021,315.

Nearly one third of the mill levy is earmarked for roads and bridges.

A breakdown on the budget for the coming year shows 3.65 mills being levied for general operation, 2.90 for road and bridges, .52 for county relief, .60 for county fair, .22 for weed control, 1.01 for state institutions and .25 for county improvement.

Wayne Represented In River-Cade Fete

Wayne was one of over 50 communities represented by its mayor in the River-Cade's grand parade in Sioux City Wednesday. Mayor Kent Hall and his wife were luncheon guests of River-Cade at noon along with mayors and wives from 52 communities in Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa.

The group took a sightseeing trip on the Missouri River aboard the Sgt. Floyd and were dinner guests at the Joe Gantz Steak House prior to riding in the parade.

Following the 5:30 p.m. parade, the mayors and their wives were guests of River-Cade at the Sioux City Auditorium for the first showing of the "Up With People" show.

Three governors led the parade as honorary marshals. They were Robert Ray of Iowa, Norbert Tiemann of Nebraska and Frank Farrar of South Dakota.

Other area mayors participating in the event included Fred Holcomb of Beldoin, John Young of Dixon, James Slattery of Emerson, Larry Croesley of Neweastie and E. C. Iverson of Ponca. Military units served as color guards preceding the 175 parade entries.

Ancient Gun Permits Needed for '70 Fair

Know anyone who has some antique hunting and fishing permits stashed away? Say prior to 1917. Those are the dates—1901 to 1917—that the Game and Parks Commission still needs to complete its display of old permits for the State Fair from Sept. 3 through 9. Generous collectors have offered their accumulations of the rare old permits and by combining them the Commission can come up with a complete set through 1917. Complete sets of the federal waterfowl stamps and Upland Game Bird stamps have also been offered.

One collector even sent some old trapping permits, so the Commission is now seeking to complete that display as well. The first trapping licenses were issued in 1920.

As complete a display of the ancient permits and stamps as possible will be placed on exhibit at the Commission's Fort NEBRASKAland at the State Fair in Lincoln. Anyone who has or knows of someone who might be willing to lend their collections for the display should contact Liz Huff, Game Commission, State Capitol, Lincoln, Nebr. 68509.

Wins $150

Merlin Reinhardt, left, who farms eight and a half miles south of Wayne on Highway 15, was in the Griess Rexall Store Thursday night at 8 p.m. when his name was announced as winner of the $150 Cash Night drawing. Reinhardt said he happened to be in the store visiting with some friends and thought Wilmer Griess, center, was kidding when he first told him he was the lucky winner. When asked if he had any idea as to how he might spend the money, Reinhardt said, "I suppose it will be around town." Floyd Bracken, right, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, presented the check. The drawing will be worth $100 this Thursday night.

Work was progressing well Thursday on lowering of the underpass on Highway 9 on the edge of Allen. The highway had a clearance of 12 feet and five inches, but lowering of the highway will add just over another foot to that clearance, making it unnecessary for many trucks to take the detour through Allen in order to get past the underpass. This view is north of the underpass looking south.

Scout Troop Itasca - Bound

Wayne Boy Scout Troop 175, accompanied by their leaders, left Wayne Saturday morning for Itasca State Park, Park Rapids, Minn., for an annual outing. The scouts have earned their own money for most of the expenses through the sale of candy and gathering up old newspapers.

After traveling most all day Saturday, the group camped overnight in a Minnesota State Park. After attending church services Sunday morning the scouts continued their trip, arriving at Itasca Sunday afternoon.

Today, fifteen boys and four leaders will leave the main camp and start on a four-day canoe trip down the Mississippi River from Itasca to Bemidji, Minn. The boys taking the trip are Jimmie Brasch, Mark Crarner, Gordon Emry, Duane Grosse, Marty Hanson, Brad Harder, Scott Hall, Kerry Jech, Kevin Jech, Jeff Lamb, David Nuss, Mike Nuss, John Rockwell, Greg Swinney and Tim Wittig. The adult leaders will be Al Hanson, Don Koenig, Jean Nuss and Claude Harder. Scouts will take all of their foods and supplies with them. They will also be working on the camping and pioneering merit badges.

The remainder of the boys will stay at Elk Lake in the park and work on advancements and merit badges. These boys include Ralph Arett, Marty Dolan, Michael Gadeken, Brad Hedrick, Brian Hedrick, Carl Jenness, Vincent Jenness, Michael Kemp, Randy Kloen, Erick Letstad, Bryan Magnuson, Kevin Marks, Mark Powers, St Prather, Damon Rockwell, Mark Sherry, Rick Straight and John Willers. The adults include Scoutmaster Rowan Witte, Ast. S. M. Miron Jenness, Duane Willers, Dick Arett, Harvey Brasch, Dana Letstad, Dick Powers, Arnold Emry, Kirk Troutman, Al Morris and Alford Koplin.

Morris and Koplin will be working with the boys on their fishing. This will include proper fishing techniques, clearing and preparing the fish. The boys will have an opportunity to work on 10 merit badges, including Indian lore, conservation, cooking, camping, rowing, canoeing, swimming, life saving, motorboating and fishing.

Side trips will be planned so the boys will be able to visit all of the park as well as the headwaters of the Mississippi. Plans call for the group to leave Itasca Aug. 8 and return to Wayne.

Former Pupil Reunited With Teacher in Wayne

A former pupil in a school in East Africa was recently reunited with her former American teacher who now lives in Wayne.

Ruth Besha, 25, arrived in Omaha July 11 where she was met by the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Reimers of Wayne. Ruth was a student in the Ashira Girls Secondary School in Tanzania at the time Mrs. Reimers taught in the school for two years prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Reimers said Tuesday that when she said goodbye following Ruth's graduation in 1964 that neither she nor her student ever dreamed they would meet again.

Since that day in 1964 Miss Besha has attended two years of school in Tanzania, worked as a librarian and as a secretary in her home church office, spent several months in Germany, and now has a scholarship to the University of England. She is currently taking a course in language and education and hopes to complete it in 1971. Then after an additional year of study in Tanzania she will receive her diploma and hopes to teach English and Swahili in a high school there.

Ruth comes from a large family living in the village of Lushoto, Tanzania, East Africa. Her father has three wives and there are 20 children. She is the ninth child in her mother's family. Mrs. Reimers said although Ruth grew up in a non-Christian home, she attended church schools for 12 years.

The student began reading the New Testament in Shambala, her tribal language, when she was in second grade. In later years she read a library copy of the Bible and she could not afford to buy one for herself. Ruth was baptized in a Lutheran Church and was active in Tanzania's Student Christian Fellowship.

After her teacher returned to America, and she left the Ashira School, Ruth corresponded with Mrs. Reimers. Early this year she expressed a desire to visit America during her summer vacation so plans were made for the trip.

Miss Besha arrived in Omaha in time to share a vacation in the Rocky Mountains with her hosts. She plans leaving Wayne next week for a trip to Mankato, Minn., to visit a friend in the Concordia Lutheran College who is originally from her home village. After visiting in Minnesota Ruth will return to Wayne again for a few days before going to Chicago and returning to England.

LOOKING OVER an ebony replica of a mother and baby grapple hand-carved in Tanzania, East Africa, are Mrs. Paul Reimers of Wayne and her guest, Ruth Besha of Lushoto, Tanzania. Mrs. Reimers was one of Ruth's teachers in an African school in 1964. Miss Besha is wearing a national dress of her native land.

Today's Oldsmobile:
The year-end buy that pays off three ways.

1. You save big money when you buy it. The 4th Annual Year-End Sale is on now at your Oldsmobile dealer's—and the savings are substantial on every new Olds in his stock!
2. You save even more money as you drive it. Olds is famous for features that help keep costs down. Like Positive Valve Rotators in every V-8 for peak performance thousands of miles longer... rustproof inner fenders... aluminum exhaust system... bias-belted tires... many more!
3. You get a nice bonus at trade-in time. An Olds is a good investment—traditionally you get more of your dollars back when you're ready to trade the next time around.

If you think you can't afford an Oldsmobile... it's time to think again.
