Wayne Scouts Learn, Play at Itasca

The Wayne (Nebr.) Herald, Monday, August 17, 1970

Practicing the rules for safe canoeing are Jon Willers, rear, and Brian Hedrick. Wading to them is Mark Shiere.

A total of 30 young Boy Scouts, members of Troop 175 in Wayne, were lucky enough to get to spend a week of camping at Itasca State Park—in Minnesota. The park is at the headwaters of the Mississippi River.

Among their activities—an 82-mile trip in canoe down the Mississippi for some of the Scouts and working on various badges.

Making the trip to the park, the second year in a row it's been done by the Troop, were Mark Powers, Mike Nuss, Mark Shiere, David Nuss, Brad Hedrick, Kevin Jech, Si Prather, Brian Magnuson, Kerry Jech, Brad Harder, Jeff Lamp, Randy Kleen, Damon Rockwell, Jon Willers, Greg Swinney, Marty Dolan, Brian Hedrick, Mark Cramer, Tim Wittig, Vincent Jenness, Mike Kemp, Marty Hansen, Scott Hall, Mike Gadeken, Eric Lefstad, John Rockwell, Jimmy Brasch, Ralph Arett and Carl Jenness.

Adults making the trip, which began by bus Aug. 1 and ended Aug. 8, were Scoutmaster Rowan Wiltse, Assistant Scoutmaster Myron Jenness, Don Koenig, Al Hansen, Jean Nuss, Claude Harder, Dick Arett, Harvey Brasch, Dick Powers, Dana Lefstad, Al Morris and Al Koplin, all of Wayne, and Kirk Troutman of Winshle.

Weary arms and tanned backs were some of the results of the 82-mile canoe jaunt down the Mississippi River for these Scouts. Here they pack their belongings back to the bus for the trip back up the river.

A nickel's worth of Sno-Bol sanitizes, deodorizes and removes rust stains from your you-know-what.

General purpose cleaners are fine for most jobs. But not for cleaning toilet bowls. They don't deodorize, sanitize, and remove rust stains like Sno-Bol.

Liquid Sno-Bol cleans in seconds while it deodorizes and sanitizes. It's faster and more efficient than any dry bowl cleaner. You can pour Sno-Bol full strength to remove rust stains and calcium deposits. And it works better and costs less than other leading bowl cleaners.

(Try a nickel's worth and see...)

EASY PIE CRUSTS

BY BETTY STERN

MILE-HIGH APRICOT PIE

- 1 9-inch graham cracker crust
- $\frac{1}{3}$ cup apricot preserves
- 1 (1-pound, 1-ounce) can apricot halves
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- $\frac{2}{3}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- 4 eggs, separated

Spread apricot preserves over bottom of pie shell. Drain apricot halves. Reserve syrup and finely chop apricots. In top of a double boiler, combine $\frac{1}{2}$ cup apricot syrup and lemon juice. Sprinkle gelatin over liquids and let stand for 5 minutes. Add $\frac{1}{3}$ cup sugar, salt and egg yolks. Beat slightly to blend. Cook over hot water stirring constantly until mixture is thickened and coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat and add chopped apricots. Chill until thickened. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add remaining $\frac{1}{3}$ cup of sugar, beating until egg whites are stiff but not dry. Fold into gelatin-apricot mixture. Pour into pie shell. Chill 3 to 4 hours or until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

- 1 9-inch graham cracker crust
- 3 cups milk
- 1 cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ ounces unsweetened choc-o-bake
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 teaspoons rum extract
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup heavy cream, whipped

Scald milk; mix $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar and flour. Stir into milk. Beat yolks; gradually add milk mixture stirring constantly. Cook over low heat stirring until mixture thickens. Soften gelatin in cold water. Add to mixture and stir until dissolved. Divide in half. To one half add $1\frac{1}{2}$ ounces of chocolate. Stir until melted; add vanilla. Cool. Put into pie shell. Beat egg whites with remaining $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar until mixture holds peaks. Add rum extract. Fold whites into remaining custard. Let thicken slightly. Pile over chocolate filling. Chill 5 hours. Garnish with whipped cream and chocolate curls.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST

- | | |
|--|--|
| $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar | 1 in-cr-seal packet sugar honey |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ cup margarine,
softened | graham crackers
finely rolled or prepared in Blender
($1\frac{1}{2}$ cups) |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped California walnuts or $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flaked coconut (if desired) | |

Blend together graham cracker crumbs, sugar and margarine and walnuts or coconut if desired. Press firmly against bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. (The easy way is to use an 8-inch pie plate.) Bake in a preheated oven at 375° for 8 minutes. Cool.

RHUBARB-CAPPED CHEESE PIE

- | | |
|--|------------------------------------|
| 4 3-ounce packages
cream cheese,
softened | 1 9-inch graham
cracker crust |
| 2 12-ounce packages
frozen rhubarb (or use fresh rhubarb
sweetened) | $\frac{1}{4}$ cup orange juice |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground
ginger | 1 teaspoon un-
flavored gelatin |
| | $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar |
| | $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt |
| | 2 eggs, slightly beaten |

In top of double boiler, combine orange juice, gelatin, sugar, salt and eggs. Cook over hot water until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Beat cream cheese until fluffy. Gradually beat in orange mixture. Beat until well blended. Chill until mixture mounds. Pour into pie crust. Chill at least 3 hours. Meanwhile, place frozen rhubarb or $\frac{1}{2}$ inch pieces of fresh with sugar added and ginger. Simmer gently until tender. Chill. Serve on top of cheese pie or as a garnish. Makes 6-8 servings.

STRAWBERRY CREAM PIE

- | | |
|--|----------------------------------|
| 1 3-ounce package
strawberry gelatin | 2 cups miniature
marshmallows |
| 1 cup boiling water | 1 cup heavy cream, whipped |
| 1 10-ounce package
frozen strawberries | 1 9-inch graham
cracker crust |

Dissolve strawberry gelatin in water. Add frozen strawberries, stirring until fruit separates and mixture thickens. Fold miniature marshmallows and whipped cream into mixture. Pour into crumb crust; chill until firm.

FRUITY ICE CREAM PIE

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 9-inch graham
cracker crust | 3 bananas |
| 1 quart strawberry
ice cream | 1 teaspoon ascorbic
acid mixture |
| | 2 tablespoons water |

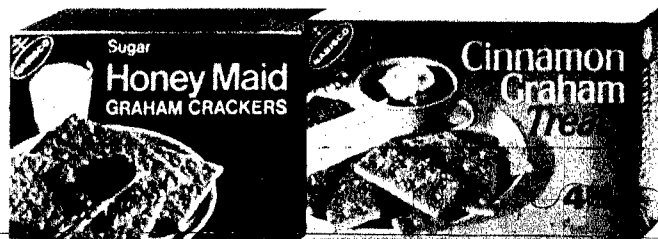

Spoon ice cream into crust leaving a hollow in the center for the banana slices. Place in freezer. Combine ascorbic acid mixture and water. Slice bananas into solution and toss well. Store in refrigerator. Just before serving, fill center with banana slices. Makes 6 servings.

THE OLD TIME CIRCUS LIVES AGAIN

BY BILL NELSEN

"Step right up folks and take a look. See the world's most valuable collection of circus wagons.

"Not one, not two, not 20, not 40, but 80 of the most famous beauties of the circus world. And all under one roof.

"See their gilded splendor, the hand-carved tableaus, the dainty showpieces that thrilled Grandma and Grandpa. A million dollar spectacle before your veeery eyes."

Barkers have plenty to crow about these days at the greatly expanded Circus World Museum at Baraboo — the original winter home of the Ringling Brothers Circus. Now in its second decade, the museum has transformed the little Wisconsin city into the Circus Capital of the World.

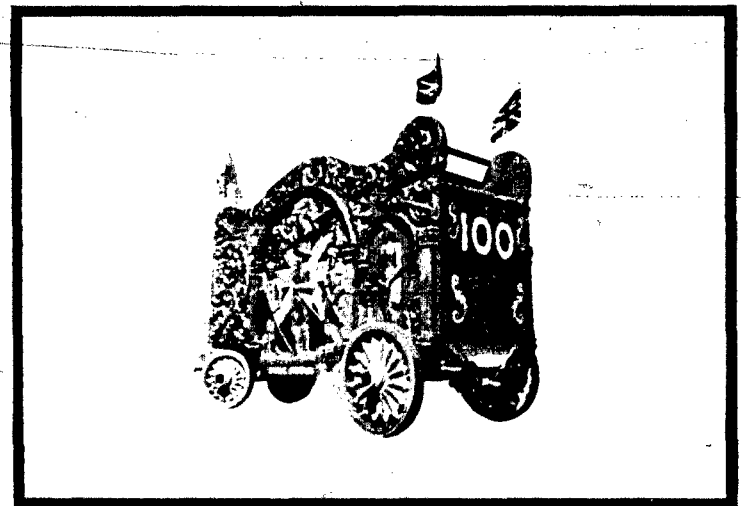

But back to the barkers . . .

They're talking about the museum's brand new attraction, a snappily painted Circus Wagon Pavilion stretching longer than a football field and filled with $1.5 million in fancy wagons.

Row upon row of the brightly colored wagons — all spit and polish — greet the pavilion visitor. Meticulously restored by museum craftsmen, many sport ornate carvings and designs that made them highlights of the street parades that captivated the nation in the circus' heyday — 1880 to 1920.

These shiny relics are the stars of Milwaukee's famous Fourth of July Circus Parade.

Even the sightseer with a jaded eye will find himself pausing over such museum memorabilia as:

The Great Britain bandwagon, flying the British flag, actually was built in 1903 in Cincinnati.

The Lion & Mirror bandwagon, an old-timer that dates back to 1879. The gilded beauty, the Swan bandwagon donated by Walt Disney Productions. The caged Hippo Wagon, featuring a 300 gallon pool in which the mammoth hippopotamus dubbed Miss Iowa once strutted her stuff. The Telescoping Tableau towering 21 feet, the star of a collection of eight, century-old English circus wagons museum officials found in a ramshackle barn in Great Britain.

The array goes on and on.

Three Nursery Rhyme floats — Cinderella, Mother Goose and the Old Woman in the Shoe. The Pawnee Bill Wild West bandwagon. St. George and the Dragon. The horse-drawn, steam operated fire department pumper from the late 1800s.

To compliment the wagons, 40 billboard-sized circus lithographs line the pavilion walls. Big, bold and brassy, the paintings heralded the coming of Buffalo Bill, the Ringlings and scores of other greats.

Unfettered by modesty, the lithographs were chock full of superlatives. Blossoming one night on barns, fences and posts, they shouted in big letters: "Magnificent, Superb, Supercolossal Acts Coming."

No wonder a boy's insides churned at the sight.

"When a circus advertised 20 elephants, everyone knew it had only two," explains C. P. (Chappie) Fox, the ebullient director of the museum. "It was just part of the fun."

Elsewhere on the 20 acre shrine to circusdom, sight-seers will find the sights, sounds of the old circus.

Trained animal shows are staged in the domed Hippodrome. Daily, the visitor can see the circus street parade and the hustle-bustle of the loading and unloading of an old circus train — huge draft horses straining to complete the job. Stirring circus music fills the air: the shrieking, puffing steam calliope, the spirited una-fon (an electrically operated xylophone), hand organ concerts.

A 19th century P. T. Barnum sideshow beckons. And tots have a chance to ride in goat carts.

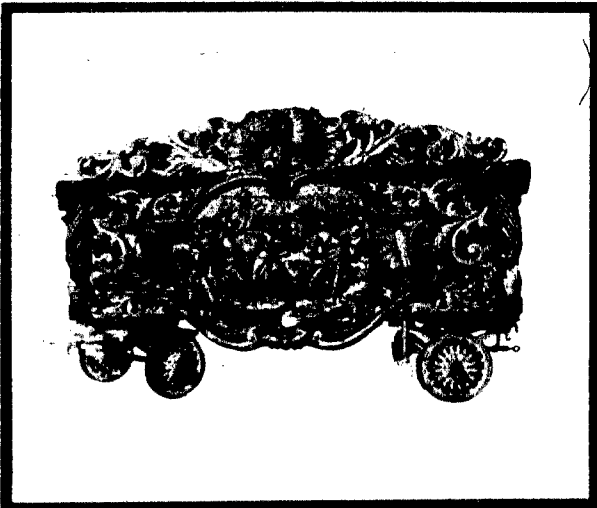

Flags of all nations (for the circus knows no boundaries) flutter from tent poles and the footbridge spanning the Baraboo River, which splits the museum grounds.

Clowns and acrobats cavort. The staccato clip-clop of the horses and the shrill whistle of the ringmaster echo in the warm summer air.

They help turn back the calendar 50 to 100 years . . . re-creating for today's generation the gaiety and gaudiness of a lost era.

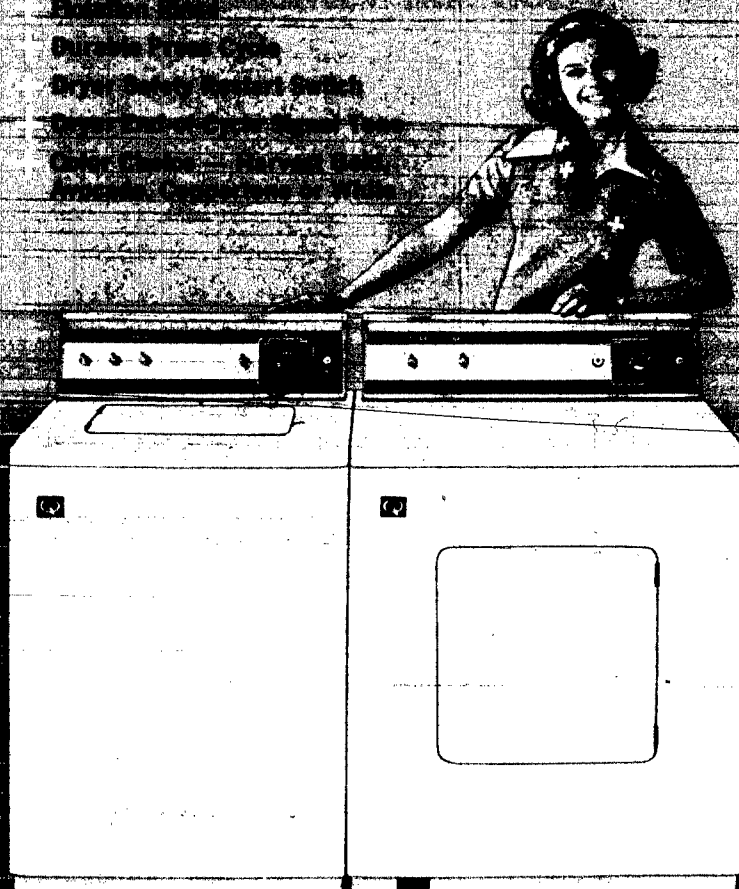

Soon to be opened (in summer of 1970) is an elaborate library to serve, according to Fox — a man who also has no aversion to a superlative — as the circus research center of the world.

Upwards of 200,000 visitors toured the museum in 1969. Open daily from mid-May to mid-September, it charges $2.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

One of the largest bandwagons ever built is at the Circus World Museum in Baraboo, Wisconsin.

Charlotte and General Sherman

By James Aldredge

"Never underestimate the power of a woman!"

It's a cinch that General "Phil" Sheridan had never heard of this familiar advertising slogan when he started his famous ride down the Shenendoah valley of Virginia 105 years ago this October.

But he got an abrupt reminder of the truth of those words when he came face to face with Charlotte Hillman.

Charlotte was the toll-gatekeeper on the Valley Pike that ran southward out of Winchester. The pike was a first-class, hard road and like nearly every good turnpike of those days, its fine upkeep was made possible by all the fees collected from the people who traveled over it.

On this fine October morning in 1864, Miss Hillman got a big surprise. Drawing near in a cloud of dust came a long column of Union horsemen. At their head, sitting easy in the saddle, rode Major General Philip Sheridan, U.S.A.

Whatever fears Charlotte may have had as to the consequences, she was all business in her job and did not hesitate in the least when it came to demanding cash on the barrelhead.

Down came the long pole at the gate. The Federal commander was stopped dead in his tracks.

But it appeared General Sheridan was in a considerable hurry just then. He had some business to attend to with a lot of gentlemen in gray some miles to the south. He had no time to waste in any argument with a determined woman, a Southerner at that.

"How much is it, Miss?" he inquired.

"Twenty-five cents for you and for each of your men!" snapped Charlotte.

Thereupon the General drew out some U.S. "long green" and proceeded to pay for all the members of his staff. Be he added that he could not be responsible for what the men behind him would do.

Charlotte raised the pole and General Sheridan and his aides rode through. But right behind them, an endless horde, followed all the men in his army.

Did some of them whistle as they passed Charlotte? This isn't on the record, but another fact can be vouched for. The toll-gate keeper never left her post as all those chaps streamed through.

The Union men never guessed it, but she was keeping count of every last soldier that went through that gate! Her eagle eye raced along the line, counting off the men by tens. She checked her tallies with swift dashes on the toll gate.

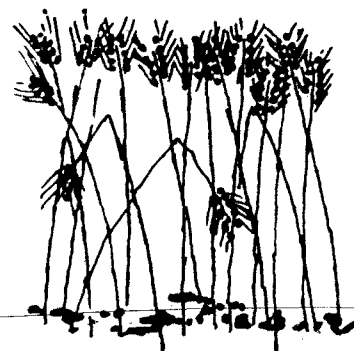

By the time the last stragler had gone through, she had a staggering total. Then, calculating at twenty-five cents a head, it added up to quite an impressive sum.

This reckoning was carefully kept until after the war was over.

Then Charlotte Hillman sent an itemized bill to the Government at Washington. There the legislators hemmed and hawed, trying to dodge the indebtedness.

But in the end, thanks to this spunky, spirited Southern lady, Uncle Sam sent a full check to the turnpike company, covering complete payment for the passage of General Sheridan's army!

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Weber

By the time a wife has given her husband the best years of her life, the husband can't afford to accept the ones that are left, says The Fulton County News of Lewistown, Ill.

"The average man's idea of a good sermon is one that goes over his head and hits his neighbor," reports the Wayne County Press of Fairfield, Ill.

The Eclipse-News-Review of Parkersburg, Iowa tells about the hair tonic which contains alum and lemon. It doesn't grow hair but it shrinks your head so that what hair you have left fits better.

The Janesville (Minn.) Argus reports the following sign in a dry cleaning shop: "Housewives who drop off their clothes here as they go by are assured of prompt attention."

"Just about the time a woman thinks her work is done, she becomes a grandmother," comments The Clear Lake (Iowa) Mirror-Reporter.

The Chaska (Minn.) Weekly Valley Herald tells of the small boy who said to his father: "Sure I know the value of a dollar. That's the reason I asked for two."

"If the people who design women's swimsuits aren't careful, they'll work themselves out of a job," suggests The Devils Lake (N.D.) Daily Journal.

This one comes from The Houston (Mo.) Herald:

"Who was that gorgeous blonde I saw you with last night?"

"That was no gorgeous blonde. That was my new son-in-law."

Teach your clothes to resist wrinkles.

You say you hate wrinkles...? Wrinkles that cause extra ironing and work for you? Then you'll love Sta-Puf for all your clothes—even permanent press. Because Sta-Puf, the wrinkle-reducing Fabric Softener, turns most of your "wash-and-iron" into "wash-and-fold away." Wrinkle-free clothes: they get that way with Sta-Puf...the Fabric Softener that hates wrinkles just as much as you do.

Nothing puts out the fire quicker
than a tall, cool splash of Nestea.
It's 100% refreshing,
because it's 100% tea.
Instant tea.
Just as teaful as any bagged or loose variety.
Only quicker.
So get in the way of it.
Soak yourself cool.
Now's the time
and this is the Instant.
