Wins Ak-Sar-Ben Award

Bill Kugler, Wayne, was one of 10 volunteer firemen in Nebraska to receive an award-of-merit plaque "For Outstanding Firemanship" from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha Sunday evening. The presentation of awards was the first event on the evening rodeo program. Kugler was presented a $50 check along with the plaque to be used in attending the State Fire School slated in Grand Island next May. He is currently serving as first assistant to the chief in the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department. He is employed at the U.S. Post Office.

Time Draws Closer For P,P,K Registering

Just a few more days remain for boys ages eight through 13 to register for the annual P.P.K. Pass and Kick contest scheduled for the Wayne State football field. The contest is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30. Entrants should sign up at their local P.P.K. dealer by Saturday. The top three winners in each of the six age groups will earn a trophy in the competition and the right to advance to the zone level of competition. The zone contest is scheduled for Oct. 10 at Fremont.

Laurel Schools Add to Reading Room Equipment

Carpeting, new shelving and additional reading books costing $1,200 are recent improvements added to the developmental reading room in the Laurel Public School system. Local and Title I federal funds have provided modern facilities and a reading program available to all pupils in the Laurel schools regardless of grade level. Each student is given the opportunity to improve his or her reading ability along with periodic tests to determine improvement.

No Serious Injuries In Two-Car Accident

Two teenage girls were checked at the Wayne Hospital for minor injuries and released following a rear-end collision Saturday morning about 9:45 p.m. in front of the Duke Ranch Drive-in Theatre on Highway 15 north of Wayne. The Wayne County Sheriff's office investigated the mishap and reported Lori L. Wagner, 16, was a passenger in a 1962 Ford driven by Nancy E. Krusemark, 17, both of Pender. Authorities said the girls were southbound when their auto was hit from behind by a 1967 Buick driven by Joseph F. Nielsen, Wayne. The Krusemark vehicle was reported as a total loss and the Nielsen auto sustained extensive damage.

No Gimmicks in Dollar Days

There aren't going to be any gimmicks to go along with this year's Dollar Days promotion in Wayne, according to businessman Don Mangers, one of the two men in charge of the Chamber of Commerce affair. Each store is being urged to offer the shoppers honest bargains and good buys, said Mangers, in order to emphasize that Wayne merchants can save shoppers money. "We want to have just an old-fashioned business promotion with no gimmicks attached," said Mangers.

Up'n Coming

---Friday, start of three-day Boy Scout district fall camporee at Ponca State Park.
---Friday, Dixon County annual achievement day at Northeast Station, 1:30 p.m.
---Friday, Homecoming at Wayne, Winslow, Wakefield.
---Friday, welcoming dinner for new teachers in Wayne at Wayne Country Club, 6 p.m.

Scouts to Camporee

Wayne Boy Scouts are planning to participate in the District Fall Camporee slated to be held Friday through Sunday at the Ponca State Park. Scoutmaster Rowan Witse said Troop 175 will be attending the camporee Saturday and will present a program that might include a campfire, he noted the troop's presentation of Indian Lore will be included. The camporee is an instruction-type assembly where the scouts combine learning, working on merit badges and recreation. Diana Lefstad, Wayne, will be one of the adult sponsors accompanying the group. Ponca Boy Scouts and the Ponca Chamber of Commerce are camporee hosts.

Wayne's Parking Woes May Be Nearing End

From now on if you want the parking regulations changed in front of your home, you're going to have to get up a petition, get it signed by the people in the area and present it to the Wayne city council for consideration. If the councilmen consider the change necessary, wanted and not too disruptive, the change may be granted. At least that's the way things stand with the bothersome parking situation in Wayne. The proposal was hashed out and approved by the council Tuesday night, the result of several months of study by city officials and criticism by city residents. The restrictions against parking for several early morning hours will remain in effect wherever they are posted as of now, the latest decision specifies, and they will not be moved unless a majority of the people in an area want them changed. Getting those regulations changed may prove a bit troublesome for at least some of the people living in certain areas, for the council stated that both property owners and tenants should be asked to sign any petitions concerning changes in present parking regulations. Both parties - owners and tenants - have an interest in the parking regulations, said councilman Pat Gross, the person who introduced the plan to keep regulations as they now exist, and they should all be given chances to express how they feel about the parking rules. The weight the council gives the signatures of owners and tenants was not specified, but the council noted that it's understood that those of property owners would probably receive more consideration. Council agreed upon the decision to leave the regulations as they now stand after listening to several alternative plans proposed by residents in the city. One of those alternatives was to prohibit parking on certain streets. See PARKING, page 10

GOP Caravan to Be Here Tuesday

Residents of the Wayne area will get a chance to meet and talk with members of the First District Republican Caravan during its stop in Wayne Tuesday morning. The caravan will include Senator Roman Hruska, candidate for another term in the Senate; Governor Norbert Tiemann, candidate for another term as governor; Charles Thone, candidate for the House from the First District; Frank Marsh, lieutenant governor candidate, and Allen Peerman, secretary of state candidate. Also planning on being with the caravan during its swing through northeast Nebraska is Senator Carl Curtis. The Republicans will be in the Wayne city auditorium for a breakfast from 8 to 9 a.m. Tuesday. The public is welcome to attend. See CARAVAN, page 10

Laurel Band To Compete At 'Harvest'

The Laurel High marching band will take part in the 29th annual Harvest of Harmony Band Festival at Grand Island this Saturday. A total of 140 entries will take part in the all-day affair, beginning at 9:30 in the morning with a parade through the Grand Island business district. Following a free lunch at noon, there will be football show competition starting at 1 o'clock. Laurel will compete at 4 p.m. with the class D schools of Albion, Broken Bow, Minden, Ne-Neight, Hickman, North Bend, St. Paul, Syracuse, Wahoo, Newman and Wood River. Other schools will compete in three other classes. Trophies will be given to the top bands in each class according to their showing in the parade and football competition. Each participating school sends a queen to the Harvest of Harmony. A queen and her court will be named at the Grand Island-Columbus football game Friday night. The queen candidates will ride ahead of their bands in the Saturday morning parade. Candidate from Laurel is Pam Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith of Laurel. She is a junior at Laurel High and was chosen through a vote by the Laurel band and Pom, Pom girls on the basis of character, personality and high school activities.

Rally Opens WH Devils' Homecoming

A victory rally, snake dance and bonfire will kick off the Wayne High 1970 homecoming activities tonight (Thursday). The rally is scheduled to get underway at 7 o'clock at the corner of Third and Main in downtown Wayne. After that short rally, the snake dance will form and lead to the site of the bonfire at the practice football field south of West Elementary. The activities reach a climax Friday night when the 1970 rally is named prior to the Wayne-Stanton football game at the Wayne State field. Crowning the new queen and king will be the two alternates, seniors Bonnie DeTurk and Steve Kamish. Candidates for the queen title are Marsha Johnson, Liz Otte, Nancy Jones, Mary Ellis and Holly Roggenbach. King candidates are Dick Tietgen, Mike Creighton, Rich Wall, Tony Pflueger and Todd Cook. The new king and queen were named in an all-school election today. The candidates were picked by the Pep Club and the W Club last week. The two will be crowned during ceremonies beginning at 7 p.m. Halftime activities will include performances by the Wayne High band under the direction of Ron Dalton. Selections for that part of the night's activities include "Everything's Coming Up Roses"; "Music to Watch Girls By" and "Soul Sauce." The 1970 activities end Saturday with the traditional dance at Wayne High. Playing for the dance, scheduled to begin at 8:30, will be "The Sound Excursion." Named king and queen a year ago were Bandy Helgren and Linda Penn.

Two Wrecks Checked by City Police

A case of vandalism and two auto accidents were investigated by Wayne police earlier this week as motorists had problems with their cars. A car belonging to Jerry Reeg, Wayne, was parked in the 'Lil' Duffer parking lot at Seventh and Main Streets Sunday. While he was out of the auto an unknown person or persons damaged the chrome on both doors and removed the window handle on the 1955 Chevrolet. Shortly after 6 p.m. Sunday, Richard Reeg, Fremont, was backing a 1966 Plymouth out of a private driveway at 705 West Third Street, according to police, and struck the left rear panel of a parked 1970 Ford. Estimated damage to the parked vehicle belonging to Wisner Ford Sales was $142.39. Tuesday around 1:11 p.m. a 1958 Chevrolet pickup driven by Harold Daniels, Wayne, stopped at a stop sign at the intersection of West 19th and Main Streets. A 1969 Chevrolet driven by John J. Delsin, Wayne, stopped

Help Set a Record

Thirty-four days have passed since the Wayne Volunteer Firemen have been called to fight a blaze. Firemen are asking the cooperation of everyone to aid in keeping the fireless streak going. Fire Chief Cliff Pinkelmann reminds residents that if you must burn leaves, be sure to hook the garden hose to a water supply and have the hose ready to go in the event of a fire. Pinkelmann noted, however, not to wait until things get out of hand before calling firemen at 375-1122 for help should the fire spread.

Plant's Beauty Usually Hidden

Nebraska has its own special kind of beauty - some of it hidden until searched out. A simple milkweed plant along the side of the road takes on a new dimension when viewed from below with the sun lighting up the feathery pods.

Ikes' Push for Donations Now Hitting $500 Mark

Contributions to the Ike's Lake Renovation Fund hit the $500 mark this week, still far short of the necessary $3,000 to pay for excavating the lake. Bill Richardson, fund chairman, is still optimistic that the goal will be reached. "When the members realize that it will take an average of only $10 each to pay for half the charge, I am sure more of them will come forward with contributions," he said. Profits from the Sunday Izaak Walton trap shoots at the airport will help defray some of the expenses, Richardson pointed out, but added that the trap shooting season is comparatively short and the shoots must be well attended to produce substantial income. With excavation work already in progress and estimated completion only weeks away, it will soon be necessary to make a payment to the contractor, he said, and urged that members who have not already contributed send or give checks to the club president, Norris Weible, or to the Ike's Lake Renovation Fund, in care of Bill Richardson at the Morning Shopper. Youth groups from churches, Boy Scout groups and other organizations have made use of the lake and its facilities over the past 15 years, Richardson noted. See IKES, page 10

Vincent Haases Home in Omaha
 Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Haase, who were married Sept. 12 in 1 p.m. rites at St. Cecelia's Cathedral, Omaha, took a wedding trip to Lake Okoboji and are making their home at 109 N. 43rd Ave., Omaha.

Mrs. Haase, nee Kristine Kresl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kresl, Omaha. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haase, Wayne.

The bride chose for her wedding a daisy trimmed floor length gown fashioned with full sleeves, cuffed at the wrists and full skirt which extended in back to an aisle wide train. Her tiered illusion veil was caught to a cluster of jeweled petals and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and foliage.

Maid of honor was Francis Stein, and bridesmaids were five: Hely Kimpton, Permadette Gitter and Mary and Patricia Moran, all of Omaha. They were similarly gowned in moss green chiffon and carried yellow and bronze mums. Mary Kresl, Omaha, was flower girl.

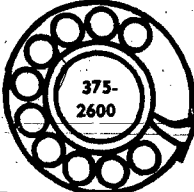

Best man was Jerry Haase, Auburn, and groomsmen were Larry Haase and Steve Haase, Wayne; Jim Anderson, Omaha, and Joseph Witek, Chicago.

The bride, a graduate of Notre Dame High School, Omaha, is employed as a secretary. The bridegroom, a Wayne High School graduate, returned in December from Germany where he had been serving with the U. S. Army. He is employed as a clerk for Union Pacific Railroad.

Raising a Child
 Detailed estimates of the cost of raising a child to age 18 have been made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture based on the department's low-cost food plan and other expenditures of equivalent standard. Costs vary in different areas of the country and in urban and rural areas.

Estimated costs adjusted to the value of 1969 dollars for the first 18 years of life range from $19,360 for a rural non-farm child in the North Central region of the U. S. to $27,600 for a rural non-farm child in the West. These costs compare with costs ranging from $15,800 to $20,190 for a child born in 1951, at prices current to each year through his childhood.

Cost per year for raising a child generally increases as he grows, even without taking account of price changes over his lifetime. In 1969 dollars, costs in the 18th year are about 30 per cent to 45 per cent higher than in the first year. Costs rise most sharply for food and clothing.

Housing takes about 30 per cent of the total annual cost over a child's first 18 years. Food is a close second. Clothing and miscellaneous, which includes recreation and personal care, usually take 10 to 12 per cent each. Transportation takes somewhat more. Medical care takes four to six per cent and education—about one per cent—college expenses incurred between ages 18 are not included in these percentages.

Open House Held For Alvin Temmes

About 125 guests attended the silver wedding anniversary open house held Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne, for Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Temmes, who had charge of the gift table; Albert, Wayne, who registered guests, and Ronald, also of Wayne, who was master of ceremonies. The event also marked Alvin's birthday.

Vicar Lassanne read the original wedding service and Pastor Bernthal spoke briefly. Bob Meyer sang "Jesus Lead Thou On," and Larry Johnson sang "How Great Thou Art."

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Magdanz were dining room hosts and Mrs. Willard Bartels, Wakefield, and Mrs. Edwin Vahlkamp, Wayne, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Harvey Grosse, Wayne, poured, and Mrs. Carl Pauelsen, Carroll, served punch.

Helping in the kitchen were Mrs. Elmer Echtenkamp, Mrs. Don Echtenkamp, Mrs. Ervin Oswald, Mrs. Bob Meyer and Mrs. Harold Ekberg. Waitresses were Amy Jo Echtenkamp and Connie Ekberg.

Alvin Temmes was married Sept. 30, 1945, and has three sons.

Plan Open House for Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Schutte, Dixon, will mark their 28th wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 11, with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Laurel United-Lutheran Church. The event will be hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. David Schutte, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schutte and Mary and Jerry Schutte.

Rural Teachers Hear About Birds in Area

Members of the Wayne County Rural Teachers Association meeting at the courthouse in Wayne Monday were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. John Lueshen of Wisner. Mrs. Lueshen presented a lecture and colored slides concerning area birds.

The husband and wife team have bird traps on their farm and turn the birds loose after banding and photographing them. The Lueshens say they have handled approximately 25,000 birds while working in co-operation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Wisner farm couple displayed books and related materials concerning birds, showed colored slides and spoke about their work during the morning session of the teacher's institute. Achievement tests were distributed to teachers in the afternoon session by Mrs. Gladys Porter, superintendent of schools.

Ila Noyes was named president of the association for the coming year. Teachers named to the executive committee are Edna Cook, Morris Jacobsen and Bette Ream.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emry, Allen, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 11, with an open house at the Glen school auditorium from 7 to 4:30 p.m. Hosting the event will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Emry, South Sioux City; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Emry, Alton, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Emry, Belvidere, Ill. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. No other invitations will be issued.

Laurel Hosts Inter-County Convention

Laurel Tuesday Club was host Friday to the annual Federated Women's Club Inter-county convention held at the Laurel city auditorium. Seventy-eight women from Wayne, Cedar, Knox and Pierce Counties registered for the noon buffet luncheon and afternoon meeting which were followed by a silver tea, proceeds from which are to be used for a music scholarship.

Inter-county president Mrs. Roy Thomas conducted the meeting, and colors were presented by Wa-Akka Camp Fire Girls from Laurel. The Rev. Douglas Potter, Laurel United Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation; and L. J. Mallatt, in the absence of Laurel Mayor Gene Sohier, extended the greeting. Ruth Embeler, Laurel Tuesday Club president, extended the welcome, and Mrs. John Bargestad from the Hartington club responded.

Mrs. Otwin Schleuter, District III President from Pender, spoke on the duties of community club women. Roll call was answered by representatives of the Belden, Pender, Ponca, Bloomfield, Winfield, Wausa, Wayne, Hartington, Coleridge, Plainview, Creighton and Laurel clubs giving one-minute reports on their past year's achievements. Guest speaker, the Rev. Paul Schwaab, St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Ponca, spoke on "Womanhood - In The Age of Feminine Liberation," in connection with convention theme, "Beautiful Nebraska - And Let It Begin With Me."

Newly-elected officers installed by the District III president were Mrs. Claude Israelson, Hartington; president; Mrs. Leonard Kuhl, Bloomfield, vice-president; and Mrs. Hobart Hunter, Hartington, secretary-treasurer. Hartington and Bloomfield organizations extended invitations for the 1971 and 1972 conventions.

Colors were retired by Mrs. Marlen Kraemer, Laurel, and Campfire Girls leaders. Following the business meeting a drawing for nine prizes, donated by Laurel Chamber of Commerce, was held. Winners were Mrs. Mary E. Kleper, Mrs. R. A. Schriener and Mrs. L. D. From, Wayne; Mrs. Duane Thompson and Mrs. Kenneth Stenwell, Winfield; Mrs. Otwin Schleuter, Pender; and Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. Ken Smith, Wausa. Serving as hostesses for the silver tea which concluded the day's events were Mrs. Howard Pehrson, Mrs. V. E. McNaab, Mrs. Fred Hartsch, Mrs. Elmer Hattig, Hilda Mittelstadt and Mrs. Grace Carlson, Mrs. Howard Detlefson and Mrs. Paul Embeler were responsible for decorations.

In 1920, the average woman worker was 28 years old, single, and most likely to be a factory worker or other operative worker. Today, she is 39 years old, married and living with her husband, and most likely to be a clerical worker.

followed by an informal mission program to begin at 2 p.m. A current movie, "To The World - Now!" will be shown. Pastor Dressel will also have a campus ministry display set up.

Hosting the event will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bring, Prescott, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bring, Sioux City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jenkins, Norfolk, and Marie and Emma Mae, Belden. There are six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

PRESENT AT CONFUSABLE Collectibles Questers Club meeting Monday evening was the Questers National president, Mrs. Orville Loper of Des Moines (center) with Mrs.

National President Attends Questers

Guest speaker at the Monday evening meeting of Confusable Collectors Questers (club was National Questers President Mrs. Orville Loper of Des Moines, who explained the history of the organization, begun in 1944 in Pennsylvania. The group, which now has a membership of over 7,000, is not only a study group but is also active in the preservation of old landmarks, she explained. Mrs. Loper also outlined the four types of antiques - authentic, reproductions, collectables and antiques of the future.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Alvin Schmoed, with co-hostess Mrs. Max Hendrickson, who gave a lesson on Haviland china. Fifteen members and other guests, Mrs. Hope Thomas, from the Soulan Questers Chapter in Iowa; Mrs. Don Eckenkamp, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. Larry Cottrell and Mrs. Richard Arett, were present. Mrs. Charles Maier will host the 8 p.m. meeting Nov. 2.

Bingers Observe 35th Anniversary

Pastor and Mrs. E. A. Binger, who serve St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wakefield, observed their 35th wedding anniversary Sunday with a cooperative noon dinner at the church, followed by a program. Bill Hansen was master of ceremonies. The group sang "O Happy Home," accompanied by Kay Dolph and Mrs. Wilbur Utecht gave a reading, "You - 35th Anniversary." Mrs. Albert Nelson gave the reading "Sautéed Shoe strings," and the family history was read by Madalyn Binger. Bingers' children sang "The Will I Love" and "Wide Me, O My Great Jehovah." Eugene Binger expressed words of appreciation and Pastor and Mrs. Binger sang "The Church's One Foundation." Bill Hansen offered the closing prayer and the group closed with "Bless the House Where He Fall."

Bingers' four children, Mrs. Deverne Malchow, Pickrell; Eugene Binger, Joschelle, Ill.; Madalyn Binger, who attends the University of Kansas at Manhattan, and Bernice Binger, who attends the University of South Dakota at Vermillion, were all present, as well as four grandchildren.

I See By The Herald

A former Wayne resident, Warren Helgren, was recently thrown from a horse, suffering a broken pelvis, and will be hospitalized six weeks. He would enjoy hearing from friends and relatives. Mail will reach him at Conell Hospital, Room 205, Libertyville, Ill. 60048.

Norheim to Speak

Pastor Rosenius Norheim, synodical evangelist from the Church of the Lutheran Brethren, and director of the Lutheran Gospel Hour, Pasadena, Calif., will appear at the Concord Evangelical Free Church Sunday, Oct. 4 through 9. Sunday services will begin at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. and week night services at 8 p.m.

Pastor Norheim is currently heard on 40 radio stations in the United States and Canada, as well as over long and short wave facilities of the Far East Broadcasting Company, Manila. Since 1903 he has served churches in Brooklyn, N. Y.; Eau Claire, Wis.; Pasadena and Fullerton, Calif.

As a member of the Lutheran Brethren Choir and Quartet, he has toured Norway three times. The Norheims, assisted by tenor Joe Erickson, have made several sacred record albums.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meetings at the Concord church.

Vincent Haases Home in Omaha

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Haase, who were married Sept. 12 in 1 p.m. rites at St. Cecilia's Cathedral, Omaha, took a wedding trip to Lake Okoboji and are making their home at 109 N. 43rd Ave., Omaha.

Mrs. Haase, nee Kristine Kresl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kresl, Omaha. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haase, Wayne.

The bride chose for her wedding a daisy trimmed floor length gown fashioned with full sleeves, cuffed at the wrists and full skirt which extended in back to an aisle wide train. Her tiered illusion veil was caught to a cluster of jeweled petals and she carried a cascade of Stephanotis and foliage.

Maid-of-honor was Francis Stein, and bridesmaids were Shelley Nimpton, Bernadette Glitter and Mary and Patricia Moran, all of Omaha. They were similarly gowned in moss green chiffon and carried yellow and white bouquets.

Best man was Jerry Haase, Auburn, and groomsmen were Larry Haase and Steve Haase, Wayne, Jim Anderson, Omaha, and Joseph Wetlik, Chicago.

The bride, a graduate of Notre Dame High School, Omaha, is employed as a secretary. The bridegroom, a Wayne High School graduate, returned in December from Germany where he had been serving with the U. S. Army. He is employed as a clerk for Union Pacific Railroad.

Open House Held For Alvin Temmes

About 125 guests attended the silver wedding anniversary open house held Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne, for Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Temmes. Hosting the event were the couple's three sons, Alvin, Lincoln, who had charge of the gift table; Albert, Wayne, who registered guests, and Ronald, also of Wayne, who was master of ceremonies. The event also marked Alvin's birthday.

Vicar Lassanke read the original wedding service and Pastor Bernthal spoke briefly. Bob Meyer sang "Jesus Lead Thou On" and Larry Johnson sang "How Great Thou Art."

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Magdanz were dining room hosts and Mrs. Willard Bartels, Wakefield, and Mrs. Edwin Vahlkamp, Wayne, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Harvey Grosse, Wayne, poured, and Mrs. Carl Paustian, Carroll, served punch.

Helping in the kitchen were Mrs. Elmer Echtenkamp, Mrs. Don Echtenkamp, Mrs. Ervin Oswald, Mrs. Bob Meyer and Mrs. Harold Ekberg. Waitresses were Amy Jo Echtenkamp and Connie Ekberg.

Alvin Temmes were married Sept. 30, 1945, and have three sons.

Plan Open House for Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Schutte, Dixon, will mark their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 11, with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Laurel United Lutheran Church. The event will be hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. David Schutte, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schutte and Mary and Jerry Schutte.

Raising a Child
Detailed estimates of the cost of raising a child to age 18 have been made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture based on the department's low-cost food plan and other expenditures of equivalent standard. Costs vary in different areas of the country and in urban and rural areas.

Estimated costs adjusted to the value of 1969 dollars for the first 18 years of life range from $19,360 for a rural non-farm child in the North Central region of the U. S. to $25,000 for a rural non-farm child in the West. These costs compare with $20,100 for a child born in 1951, at prices current to each year through his childhood.

Cost per year for raising a child generally increases as he grows, even without taking account of price changes over his lifetime. In 1969 dollars, costs in the 18th year are about 30 per cent to 45 per cent higher than in the first year. Costs rise most sharply for food and clothing.

Housing takes about 30 per cent of the total annual cost over a child's first 18 years. Food is a close second. Clothing and miscellaneous, which includes recreation and personal care, usually take 10 to 12 per cent each. Transportation takes a somewhat more. Medical care takes four to six per cent and education about one per cent. College expenses incurred before age 18 are not included in these percentages.

Progressive Supper Is Held Monday Evening

Thirteen couples of the Grace Lutheran Duo Club met Monday evening in the Forrest Magnuson home for appetizers, the first course in their progressive dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Marks hosted the group for salads, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller entertained at the main course, and the group ended in the Willis Johnson home for dessert.

Officers will be elected at the 8 p.m. meeting (Oct. 26 at the church.

Rural Teachers Association meeting at the Courthouse in Wayne Monday were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. John Lueshen of Wisner. Mrs. Lueshen presented a lecture and colored slides concerning aerial birds.

The husband and wife team have had traps on their farm and turn the birds loose after banding and photographing them. The Lueshens say they have handled approximately 25,000 birds while working in co-operation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Wisner farm couple displayed books and related materials concerning birds, showed colored slides and spoke about their work during the morning session of the teacher's institute. Achievement tests were distributed to teachers in the afternoon session by Mrs. Gladys Porter, superintendent of schools.

Ila Hayes was named president of the association for the coming year. Teachers named to the executive committee are Edith Cook, Morris-Jacobsen and Bette Ream.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emry, Allen, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 11, with an open house at the Allen school auditorium from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Hosting the event will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Emry, South Sioux City; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Emry, Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Emry, Belvidere, Ill. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. No other invitations will be issued.

Mission Festival Scheduled for Sunday

St. John's Lutheran Church, Wakefield, will observe its annual mission festival Sunday, Oct. 4, with special emphasis on the church's mission on college and university campuses, according to the Rev. Donald Meyer, pastor.

The Rev. David Dressel, Lutheran campus pastor at the Lincoln University Chapel, will be guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. service. Pastor Dressel, a 1968 graduate of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, spent his year of vicarage internship at Lincoln.

A potluck dinner will be served in the church social hall at noon.

Laurel Hosts Inter-County Convention

Laurel Tuesday Club was host Friday to the annual Federated Woman's Club Inter-county convention held at the Laurel city auditorium. Seventy-eight women from Wayne, Cedar, Knox and Pierce Counties registered for the noon buffet luncheon and afternoon meeting which were followed by a silver tea, proceeds from which are to be used for a music scholarship.

Inter-county president Mrs. Roy Thomas conducted the meeting, and colors were presented by Wa-A-K-I-A Camp Fire Girls from Laurel. The Rev. Douglas Potter, Laurel United Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation, and L. J. Mallatt, in the absence of Laurel Mayor Gene Sohler, extended the greeting. Ruth Ebmeler, Laurel Tuesday Club president, extended the welcome, and Mrs. John Hargstad from the Hartington club responded.

Mrs. Otwin Schleuter, District III President from Pender, spoke on the duties of community club women. Roll call was answered by representatives of the Belden, Pender, Ponca, Bloomfield, Winslow, Wausa, Wayne, Hartington, Coleridge, Plainview, Creighton and Laurel clubs giving one-minute reports on their past year's achievements. Guest speaker, the Rev. Paul Schwaab, St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Ponca, spoke on "Women's Role in the Church."

Following an informal mission program to begin at 2 p.m. A current movie, "To the World—Now!" will be shown. Pastor Dressel will also have a campus ministry display set up.

hood — In The Age of Feminine Liberation," in connection with convention theme, "Beautiful No Braska — And Let It Begin With Me."

Newly-elected officers installed by the District III president were Mrs. Claude Israelson, Hartington, president; Mrs. Leonard Kuhl, Bloomfield, vice-president; and Mrs. Hobart Hunter, Hartington, secretary-treasurer. Hartington and Bloomfield organizations extended invitations for the 1971 and 1972 conventions.

Colors were retired by Mrs. Marlen Kraemer, Laurel, and Campfire Girls leaders. Following the business meeting a drawing for nine prizes, donated by Laurel Chamber of Commerce, was held. Winners were Mrs. Mary E. Keger, Mrs. E. A. Schriener and Mrs. L. D. PRESENT AT CONFUSABLE Collectables Questers Club meeting Monday evening was the Questers National president, Mrs. Orville Loper of Des Moines (center) with Mrs. Charles Thomas, local president (left) and Mrs. Max Hendrickson (right), also of the Wayne Club, who presented the lesson on Haviland china.

National President Attends Questers

Guest speaker at the Monday evening meeting of Confusable Collectables Questers Club was National Questers President Mrs. Orville Loper of Des Moines, who explained the history of the organization, begun in 1944 in Pennsylvania. The group, which now has a membership of over 7,000, is not only a study group, but is also active in the preservation of old landmarks, she explained. Mrs. Loper also outlined the four types of antiques — authentic, reproductions, collectables and antiques of the future.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Alvin Schmoede, with co-hostess Mrs. Max Hendrickson, who gave a lesson on Haviland china. Fifteen members and other guests, Mrs. Hope Thomas, from the Souian Questers Chapter in Iowa; Mrs. Don Echtenkamp, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. Larry Cottrell and Mrs. Richard Arett, were present.

Mrs. Charles Maler will host the 8 p.m. meeting Nov. 2.

Bingers Observe 35th Anniversary

Pastor and Mrs. E. A. Binger, who serve St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wakefield, observed their 35th wedding anniversary Sunday with a cooperative noon dinner at the church, followed by a program. Bill Hansen was master of ceremonies.

The group sang "O Happy Home," accompanied by Kay Dolph and Mrs. Wilbur Utecht gave a reading, "Your 35th Anniversary." Mrs. Albert Nelson gave the reading "Sainted Showstrings," and the family history was read by Madalyn Binger.

Bingers' children sang "This Will I Love" and "Guide Me, O My Great Jehovah." Eugene Binger expressed words of appreciation and Pastor and Mrs. Binger sang "The Church's One Foundation." Bill Hansen offered the closing prayer and the group closed with "Bless the House Where'er We Fall."

Bingers' four children, Mrs. Deverne Malchow, Pickrell; Eugene Binger, Hochelle, Ill.; Madalyn Binger, who attends the University of Kansas at Manhattan, and Bernie Binger, who attends the University of South Dakota at Vermillion, were all present, as well as four grandchildren.

Hold Rally Day Sunday

Immanuel Lutheran Sunday School Rally Day was held Sunday at Laurel during 9 a.m. worship services. The Rev. H. K. Niemann officiated and Sunday School Superintendent Mrs. Fred Halseh presented Bibles to the following third graders: Karen Mackey, Clark Maxon, Blake Maxon, Mark Ebmeler, Lynette Halseh, Julie Bauermeister and Gary Stollenberg, who were introduced by their instructor, Mrs. Larry Maxon.

West Husker Race to Narrow Friday

By Norvin Hansen

The No. 2 slot in the West Husker Conference will almost certainly belong to just one squad after Friday night's contest on the Wayne State field between Stanton and Wayne.

Both teams are going into the game with 3-0 overall marks and 2-0 conference marks. Laurel, recent victors over a strong Pierce team, stands in top loop spot with 3-0 marks both overall and in conference play.

The 7:30 p.m. Wayne-Stanton game promises to draw a good crowd for two reasons: First, the Mustangs may possibly be spoilers in this year's loop race. Returning almost their whole backfield and a good share of their line, they should give the Blue Devils their second toughest game to date.

Second, the game is homecoming for Wayne High, offering grid fans a few glimpses at the homecoming candidates to help break up the evening.

Homecoming is scheduled for two other area schools: Winside will host Walthill in an West vs. East Lewis and Clark Conference tilt; East Husker Wakefield plays East L&C Ponca.

Other contests Friday: Plainville at Laurel and Croton at Allen.

The Wayne-Stanton game should draw the most interest among the area fans. Scouting reports to Wayne's Allen Hansen indicate the Mustangs are capable of producing a passing attack. Quarterback Dave Podoll leads that offensive maneuver, but calls upon a strong running fullback named Marland Erbst to help him on the ground.

Erbst should be remembered by some sports fans. He was named to both the football and basketball West Husker all-star teams a year ago.

New head coach at Stanton this year is Ron Bunkers, a Wayne State graduate. He replaced Terry Lippold, who moved up to principal at Coleridge this year.

Comparing scores of previous games won't help much in trying to decide how the game will end up. Stanton has knocked off Battle Creek (13-2), Plainville (24-0) and Bloomfield (14-8). Wayne has had little trouble getting past Madison (35-0) and Neigh (65-6). Wisner-Pilger two weeks ago was Wayne's toughest game in quite some time. The Devils emerged with an 18-6 win.

The nod in the contest goes to Wayne High. Its strong defense and capable offense will prove too much for the visitors.

Picks in the other area contests would have to go something like this:

—Allen over NENAC for Croton if the Eagles can overcome the disappointment of losing a close 30-28 contest to Ponca a week earlier.

—Laurel over Plainville with little trouble. The Bears, confident after the win over Pierce, are going to be hard to stop the rest of the season if they don't run into a team which can halt a potent passing attack. —Ponca over Wakefield in a close one. Wakefield will have to throw off the effects of winning the last two games everywhere but on the scoreboard before they will be able to drop the Indians.

—Winside over Walthill. The hosting Wildcats shouldn't have too much trouble in knocking off winless Walthill, sole holder of basement honors in the East L&C Conference.

Wayne Frosh Blank Laurel, 20-0

Touchdown funs by Kerry Jech and Sam Hepburn — plus their fine defensive effort by which produced a safety — enabled the Wayne High freshmen to post a 20-0 win over Laurel Thursday afternoon.

Gaining praise from Don Johnson, the yearlings' head mentor this season, was the Wayne defense. That defense came up with the safety in the middle of the second quarter and also set up two touchdowns.

Wayne started the scoring late in the first period when Jech blocked a punt near Laurel's 10 and took the ball over the goal on the next play.

Hepburn and Jech came up with the safety after blocking another punt and covering it in the end zone in the second period.

The locals pulled to a 14-0 lead early in the third period when Jech took the ball over the goal from about six yards out.

Gordon Cook produced Wayne's final tally, going 23 yards on an end zone play about half of the final quarter gone.

Cited for defensive work in the win by Johnson were Jech, Cook and Mike Dunklau, all with over six assisted tackles and a couple solos.

Leading rushers for the winners were Cook with 100 yards in 12 carries, Jech with 36 in 12 and Todd Bigelow with 16 in 58.

Next action for the frosh is at West Point today (Thursday).

Area Bowman Scores Early

Darrell Doeschler of Wayne became the first area archer to score this deer season, dropping his doe near sundown Monday in Dixon County. The deer weighed about 110-120 pounds. He knocked the deer down about 25 yards away with an arrow through the neck. Hunting with him was partner Noelyn "Butey" from of rural Allen. Both men got their deer on the same day a year ago.

'Locker Plants Can Still Process Game'

Meat processing plants in Nebraska are still able to handle deer and antelope carcasses, contrary to rumors that legislation passed by the 1969 bicameral prohibits processing of wild game, the Game and Parks Commission reports.

According to the State Department of Agriculture, the Meat and Poultry Inspection Law of 1969 still allows plants to process game animals, but under more stringent regulations. The whole question hinges on two factors—the condition of the carcass and the willingness of the plant operator to meet new requirements.

Johnston Frozen Foods in Wayne is equipped to handle deer and antelope processing under the new regulations. It is the only firm in the city which can handle the carcasses.

livestock and game carcasses are available, or if processing of livestock is suspended while game is being treated. In every case, the area and all tools must be completely cleaned and undergo a pre-operational inspection by the Department of Agriculture before being used again in processing livestock.

If plants do not wish to suspend all or part of their livestock operation to process game, the Department of Agriculture will provide necessary inspection on an overtime basis at $4 per hour, provided enough inspectors are available. Plants operating on this basis will also have to set aside a portion of their cooler specifically for game animals, where the carcasses will be held for the inspectors.

The 1969 law was passed to assure a supply of clean, wholesome meat for Nebraska consumers and was not meant to exclude game animals in good condition. As long as a game carcass will not jeopardize livestock products, there is no reason to exclude it from processing plants, according to the Department of Agriculture.

However, the decision of whether to accept the hunter's animal and the new conditions imposed by the law is strictly up to the plant operator, according to the Agriculture Department.

Athlete of the Week

Paul McCoy

By Norvin Hansen

"Pound for pound he's one of the toughest football players in northeast Nebraska," says Vince Bramer, coach of the Laurel Bears. In describing this week's "Athlete of the Week."

Bramer should know, for he's talking about his own Paul McCoy, a 155-pound tiger who makes up for what he lacks in size and weight by pure desire and determination.

McCoy, a senior at Laurel High, gets the nod as the latest "Athlete" for his fine offensive and defensive play against Pierce Friday night. That effort, plus what Bramer terms an outstanding team effort by all the players, helped Laurel gain a convincing 28-7 win in the important West Husker contest.

In that game McCoy, offensive end and defensive line-backer, hauled in three passes for a total of 74 yards. Bramer calls the first one he caught from quarterback Steve Erbst the one which really started the Bears' offensive march. That reception came in the first period and gained about 65 yards to the Pierce five after McCoy broke away from a would-be tackler.

The young gridders' defensive effort was once again better than average, says Bramer. McCoy, the one with most tackles and most assists almost without exception, came up with six solos and four assists. The defensive statistics were much closer in the Pierce game than in other games, notes Bramer, when McCoy usually leads the way.

Last year as a junior McCoy led all other teammates with points in the Bear Club. He had a total of 83 points for such things as tackles, pass receptions, blocked punts, etc.). Next closest player was sophomore George Schroeder with 56.

Although not big as football players go—he stacks those 155 pounds into a 5-10 frame—Paul has nothing but football on his mind when he suits up. "When he hits somebody in a game, they know they've been hit," says Bramer. "His attitude is excellent," says his coach.

Because of that attitude and determination, young McCoy earned one of the coveted berths on the 1969 West Husker all-star team as a defensive line-backer.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCoy of Laurel.

Jr. Hi Gridders Smash Randolph, 50-6, Monday

Randolph's young junior high football squad—this is the first year of football for that age group—felt victims to a more experienced Wayne team Monday.

The hosting Randolph squad suffered a 50-6 setback in a game which saw Wayne post a 44-0 lead by halftime.

Randolph managed to outdo the Wayne reserves the second half of the game, scoring three times but having two of them called back on penalties. Wayne managed to post only one score the second half when quarterback Paul Mallette scampered across from two yards out in the third period.

Wayne	22	22	6	0	0	50
Randolph	0	0	0	6	0	6

Wayne's scoring attack included runs by:

—Quarterback Marty Hansen from 20 yards out, Greg Bliffo from 15 yards and Hansen from 10 yards out, all in the first period, and —Hansen from 50 yards out, Steve Brandt on a double reverse from 15 yards out and Brian Hedrick from 25 yards out, all in the second period.

Randolph finally broke the scoring drought in the third period on a 15-yard scot. The two scores called back on the hosts came in the final quarter.

Next action for the Wayne youths will be at the Wayne ball park when they host a strong Wisner-Pilger squad at 4:45 in the afternoon.

- Friday---
 - Stanton at Wayne (Homecoming).
 - Croton at Allen.
 - Plainville at Laurel.
 - Ponca at Wakefield (Homecoming).
 - Walthill at Winside (Homecoming).
 - Saturday---
 - Wayne State at UNO.

The Case of the Missing Yards

Fans wondering how the Blue Devils could have racked up so many touchdowns over Neligh without gaining more than 134 yards rushing have an explanation coming.

The Wayne High squad rolled to a total of 499 yards rushing—not 134 as was reported in the story—while chalking up the 63-0 victory. Neligh gained 51 yards, not 10, on the ground.

The error resulted from the reporter's taking just the rushing yards gained by the two teams in the first period.

Blue Devils, Bears 9, 10 in W-H List

Wayne and Laurel hold down the No. 9 and 10 spots in the latest Omaha World-Herald ratings of Class B football teams in Nebraska.

Wayne continues in the ninth spot after trouncing Neligh, 63-0, Friday night. Laurel, edge in right behind the Blue Devils after giving Pierce a 28-7 setback. Both teams are 3-0 for the season.

So far this season, Wayne has compiled 114 points while giving up just six (to Wisner-Pilger). Laurel has scored 138 while giving up 21.

The top 10 in order: Lincoln Plus X (2-0), Blair (2-0), Aurora (2-0), Omaha Cathedral (2-0), Sidney (3-0), Columbus Scotts (3-0), Lexington (2-0-1), Fairbury (3-0), Wayne (3-0), Laurel (3-0).

Scribner, powerhouse in the East Husker Conference again this year, is rated third in the Class C list. Fremont Bergan is tops among Class C schools.

Saturday's Wayne-UN-O Clash Rekindles Old Rivalry

It should be a handy game, the Wayne State clash at UN-O on Saturday afternoon, probably one of the premiere attractions of the Wayne grid season.

Reasons are numerous:

- Both teams boast explosive offense.
- Both teams are nettled by stringing defeats last Saturday, Omaha the 51-27 victim of Drake at Des Moines and Wayne an upset loser, 21-14, to Washburn at Topeka, Kans.
- Omaha expects a big crowd for the 1:30 game in the campus stadium. It will be UN-O's parents' day and many Wayne students plan to attend.
- This is a revival of a long-dormant rivalry, the first Wayne-UN-O football collision since 1939 after a 21-game series that started in 1914. Each won seven games and tied six. Four of those ties came in consecutive years, 1931 through 1934, and three of them were scoreless. In fact, five of the six ties were 0-0, the other 6-6.

The football revival adds another dimension to Wayne-Omaha sports relations. On the wrestling mat their rivalry always is torrid as the two schools dominate Nebraska collegiate wrestling.

—Omaha won the last five games, the widest margin 19-6 (twice). In early years, however, Wayne whipped Omaha decisively — among the scores, 26-0, 28-0, 62-0. Over the series, Wayne outscored Omaha 235 to 137.

That's the history. Interesting, but it won't prove a thing on the field Saturday. In fact, picking a favorite poses a problem.

Omaha will be the third straight Wayne foe from the strong Rocky Mountain Conference. The Wildcats whipped Emporia State of the RMC, 31-3, before bowing to Washburn, which entered the game an underdog to Wayne by everybody's opinion.

What happened? Too much confidence, or complacency, Coach Del Stoltenberg declared. Wildcat defense gave up more than twice the rushing yardage it has averaged in recent years.

Washburn scored first, early in the second quarter. Wayne tied the count at 7-7 after a long drive ended with Sam Singleton's one-yard run and Dan Ernst's kick.

On another occasion Singleton broke loose for what looked like a sure touchdown, until a Washburn defender jarred the ball loose and recovered it before speeding Sam could stop.

Singleton led all rushers with 136 yards on 38 carries, raising his season to 300 yards.

The loss left Wayne 1-1 for the season. Omaha is 1-2.

Passing Bombs Get Winsiders Past Coleridge

Winside's reserve footballers used two stunning pass plays from quarterback Scott Deck to LaRue Langenberg to hand host Coleridge a 12-6 loss Monday.

The Wildcats struck with only seconds left in the game when Deck hit Langenberg on the first

Archers Score Soon
Three area sportsmen wasted little time in scoring during the recently opened archery-deer season, reports the Game and Parks Commission.

Knocking down their deer were Robert Heldin and Jerry Davis, both of Norfolk, and Robert Petersen of Tilden.

A total of 34 Nebraskans had scored as of the middle of last week.

Hunters Ready Guns
Upland game bird-hunters will take first shots of the fall season on Saturday as Nebraska's prairie grouse season opens in the Sand Hills, Panhandle and south.

Prospects for the grouse season appear about the same as last year, as overall populations remained at last year's pre-season level.

Bag limit this year is two birds per hunter, the same as in 1969. But the possession limit has been upped from four to six birds to allow non-local gunners a longer hunt.

Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, through the close of the season on Nov. 15.

Finally, Rain Holds Off!

THREE TOP GOLFERS in the Wednesday night golf league are, from left, Dale Gushall, Kent Hall and John Addison, winners in the play-offs over Sid Hillier, Al Swan and George Goblirsch. The winners knocked off their opponents in play Sunday, ending a rain-plagued play-off which began in August. The new champions ended up on top of the league by handing the runners-up a 3-0 loss.

South Soo Sleepers Nip Wayne 19-14

Wayne High's sophomore grid squad was caught off guard twice on sleeper plays at South Sioux City Monday and had to settle for a 19-14 setback.

Wayne was leading the contest late in the fourth period, 14-13, but the hosts threw the second sleeper play at Wayne and turned it into six points and the win.

The hosts moved into a 7-0 lead in the second period on a long pass play covering about 50 yards. They kicked for the point after.

Wayne nearly tied the game early in the fourth period when Tom Kerstine used a quarterback sneak to pole the ball over from one yard out, capping a drive of approximately 75 yards.

South Sioux moved further ahead in the first of the two sleepers thrown against Wayne. That pass play covered about 50 yards.

Wayne was able to block the PAT attempt but trailed 13-6.

Wayne's Glenn Biltoff compiled his team's second score from eight yards out after Wayne started a drive about 60 yards back. Shane Giese took the ball in for the extra point to give Wayne the momentary 14-13 lead.

Money collected as fines for violations of fish and game laws in Nebraska goes into school funds of the county where the violations occur.

The lead disappeared almost immediately. South Sioux gained yardage on a face mask penalty and then threw the second successful sleeper play against the locals.

Leading rushers for Wayne were Doug Sturm with 50 yards and three pass receptions for 65 yards. Biltoff with 36 yards, Giese with 27 yards and one pass for 30, and Kerstine with 13 yards.

Leading the defense for Wayne: Biltoff with four solos and six assists. Larry Shupe with three and three, Ron Magnuson with two and five and Kerstine with three and two. Also in on numerous tackles were Jon Rethwisch, Charles Morris, Sturm, Randy Holdorf, Vaughn Glassmeyer and Giese. Freshman Mike Dardau tallied one solo, two assists.

Next action for the youngsters will be Thursday when the reserves travel to Laurel for a 4 p.m. tilt.

Pierce Chosen 'Coach of Year'

Wayne State Coach Fred Pierce was NAIA District 11 Baseball Coach of the Year for 1970, elected by fellow coaches, it was learned this week from the national NAIA office.

Pierce piloted the Wayne team to a 23-10 season and the finals of the district playoff. One of his players, outfielder-pitcher Bill Godwin, rated first-team NAIA All-American, and two others, first baseman Marty Gough and pitcher Tom Sullivan, were honorable mentions.

Bluegill and largemouth bass can reproduce in almost all ponds and lakes in Nebraska that have at least semi-clear water.

Big Band Featured At Ak-Sar-Ben Event

Ben H. Cowdery, chairman of the Ak-Sar-Ben Coronation and Ball Committee, announced today that the big band sound of Dick Jurgens and his Orchestra will be featured at the Ak-Sar-Ben Ball on Saturday, Oct. 24.

The Ball is the day following the coronation of King and Queen Ak-Sar-Ben LXXXVI. Preceding the Ball will be the re-enactment of the coronation, which begins at 8:30 p.m.

Jurgens is heading the revival of the big bands era of the 1940's. Using the theme "Here's That Band Again," he has put together one of the most popular dance bands touring the country today.

Krutz of Stanton and Curtis Frey of Emerson. Second-year students in building are Larry Clisler of Stanton and Tom Lange of Hoskins.

Robert Sanders of Carroll, Ron Heelings of Emerson and Beverly of Hoskins are enrolled in the first year of the data processing course.

First-year drafting students include Doug Moritz of Hoskins.

Other students enrolled include Don McGrew of Randolph and Leray Otto of Wisner, first-year electronics; Jerry Gerding of Wakefield, second-year electronics, and D. Joe Ankeny of Dixon, first-year welding.

Puppet Show Set for Allen

The Eisenpeter Marionettes of one of America's favorite literary stories, "Cinderella," will be shown by Roger Sheeley and Robert Clarke at Allen High School during assembly next week.

The all-school assembly is scheduled for next Friday at 12:45 p.m.

The production will appear under the management of the division of supervised study of the State University at Fargo.

Build and created by R. W. Eisenpeter and E. A. Harvey, the puppets were recently honored by a citation from the office of the President of the United States for their contribution toward the Youth Opportunity Program.

It is unlawful in Nebraska for a fisherman to put any fish on any stringer other than his own.

D-DAY FOR GEESE

GOOSE SEASON—The daily bag and possession limit of 5 geese may not include more of the following species than (a) 1 Ross' goose, (b) in the alternative, 1 white-fronted goose and one Canada goose or its subspecies, or 2 Canada geese or their subspecies. The remainder of the bag may be filled with blue or snow geese.

Young Gridders Compete Tuesday

Parents and fans of the young intramural football players in Wayne will have a chance to see them kick off another season of competition Tuesday night.

The youths will compete in two games that evening, at 6:30 and 8, at the Wayne ball park.

The two teams which do not compete Tuesday night (there are a total of six intramural recreation teams) will practice starting at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Local Man Grad Of IAS Course

Norman H. Maben of rural Wayne has graduated from the International Accountants Society, Inc., of Chicago.

Maben completed the diploma course in advanced accounting offered by IAS, the largest and oldest home study school in America teaching accounting and allied management subjects exclusively. Graduation requires passing a comprehensive resident final examination given in the student's home city under the supervision of a local Certified Public Accountant.

4 Wayne Runners Compete at Crofton

Wayne's Kyle Willis turned in a 15:14 time over 1.9 miles in the Crofton Invitational Cross Country Meet Tuesday.

Winning the competition was Crofton's Steffen with a record 10:30.

Also finishing for Wayne were George Join (15:33), Rex Murray (16:00.03) and Steve Mordhorst (18:00).

Complete results of the meet were not available.

Wayne will take part in the Husker Conference cross country run at Wayne State Monday afternoon. West Husker teams planning on sending runners to that 3 p.m. action include Wayne, Plainview, Neligh, Stanton and Pierce, who will be hosting the event this year.

Two teams from the East Husker Conference will also compete.

Also out for the Wayne cross country team are Tim Ross, Jim Brach, Don Myer and Brian Roberts.

Crossing Guards May Become School's Chore

The city will continue cooperating with the Wayne-Carroll school system in providing crossing guards for Seventh and Sherman Streets during this year, but will notify the school that the school should assume that responsibility for the 1971-72 school year.

That decision was reached during Tuesday night's regular city council meeting.

The city and school system currently share the expenses of providing guards, with the city taking care of hiring and training.

Discussed during the meeting was the possibility of having school children take over as crossing guards next year. Several members of the council noted that other schools are taking care of their problem in this manner and are having good success with it.

The city had taken care of hiring and paying crossing guards up to last year when the council decided it should be the school's responsibility. After the city dropped the program, the city and school worked out the present setup.

School children are currently being used as crossing guards at St. Mary's Catholic School in Wayne, said Vern Fairchild, chief of police. If the program can be used there it should work out for the public school, he said.

No crossing guards were present at the corner of Seventh and Sherman the first day of school this year. Reason, according to Fairchild, was the police department's inability to find anybody for the job.

The last time that the school board considered the suggestion that students be used as guards, the board decided against such a plan.

The city council also held the second opening of bids for a pick-up for the city. The second bid opening was necessary because there was a question whether the bidders knew they could bid both 1970 and 1971 models for the first time bids were asked for.

Bids turned in by Wayne firms were for $2,287.70 from Coryell Auto and $2,370.30 from International Harvester. The bids were turned over to committee for study.

In other action the council approved the preliminary plan for Muhs' Acres northwest of Wayne with the stipulation that entrance and exit drives be provided and that streets meet the new state requirements. The plan goes back to the planning commission before it can get final approval from the council.

Agreed to change to parallel parking on the north side of 10th Street from Logan to Nebraska.

Took steps to adopt new water rates for the city which provide both residential and commercial charges.

Took steps to draw up an ordinance to prohibit burning within the city limits. Voting against the motion was Dick Banister.

Decided to try to work out an arrangement with Wayne State for use by the college of the city landfill. The city has suggested that the college pay $300 a month for that use. The college has rejected that figure as too high.

Acted to add paving of the alley west of Walnut Street between 12th and 13th to a paving contract already let. The addition will cost just over $11,000.

Heard a request from the Wayne Hospital Foundation that the city consider turning over the assets of the city hospital to the foundation. The move would show the rural people in the proposed district for the new hospital that the city is willing to contribute its share toward the new facility. The city attorney told the spokesman for the foundation that present laws don't allow such a move.

Another course for area secretaries is being sponsored by the Northeastern Nebraska College at Norfolk and the University of Nebraska Extension Division.

The course, "Business Administration for Secretaries," will be given each Thursday evening for six weeks at the Norfolk college. Time for the class will be 7:30 to 9:30, starting Oct. 15.

To be emphasized in the course will be information designed to increase the knowledge required for the secretary to handle business encounters in a typical office situation. Economics, investments, insurance, taxes, budgeting, management and planning as it applies to the secretary's function in the office will be taught.

Tuition for the course is $15 a student and includes the cost of materials needed for the course. Teaching the course will be William Gillies, director of the Nebraska Council on Education at the University.

Area people interested in signing up for the course should complete the registration form and mail it to the University Extension Division, 511 Nebraska Hall in Lincoln by Oct. 13. Registration forms can be obtained from the same address.

ESU I Tests Pupils' For Speech, Hearing

Educational Service Unit I therapists, working in co-ordination with Mrs. Gladys Porter, county superintendent of rural schools, administered speech and hearing tests to a group of 200 to 300 rural school pupils at the Wayne County Courthouse Sept. 17.

The students were tested with a group audiometer which consisted of 10 students listening to sounds of normal intensity. Students not responding to the given sounds received further attention.

Pupils were also screened for possible speech difficulties and were scheduled to receive complete speech tests at a later date.

Beth Monson, Wayne, was chairman of the group of therapists giving the tests. Working with her in the program were Floanne Hadd, Jean Ley and Kent Gerlach.

Kiwanis Officers

Installed as new Kiwanian officers during ceremonies Sunday evening at the WSC Birch Room are, from left, Jim Hummel, president; Keith Mosley, president-elect; Bob Carhart, vice-president; Bob Jordan, secretary-treasurer; and Judge John Murphy, Omaha, immediate past lieutenant governor and installing officer. The local club hosted area Kiwanians for a 6:30 p.m. dinner after which R. Max Lundstrom was installed as lieutenant governor of Kiwanis Division Eleven.

Kiwanian Holds New Office

For the first time since 1957 a member of the local Kiwanis Club is serving as a lieutenant governor of the club's division eleven. R. Max Lundstrom, Wayne, was installed in that office following a banquet in the Brehm Room at Wayne State College Sunday evening.

Lundstrom has served in various offices in the local organization and was recently named to succeed Judge John Murphy, Omaha, as lieutenant governor. One hundred-one Kiwanians and their wives attended the installation dinner and program. They represented clubs from West Point, Fremont, Norfolk, Albion and Wayne.

Ken Olds was master of ceremonies. Kent Hall, immediate past president of the Wayne Kiwanis, noted that Olds served as lieutenant governor in 1957.

Ronald P. Hallock, district governor of Kiwanis from Des Moines, was in charge of installing the new division officer. Judge John Murphy, Omaha, installed the following local officers: Jim Hummel, president; Keith Mosley, president-elect; Robert Carhart, vice-president; and Robert Jordan, secretary-treasurer. The Rev. and Mrs. Paul Belmers provided music on the program including "Keep The Rumor Going God Is Alive" and "Happiness Runs In A Circular Motion." Group singing was led by Orvid Owens. Al Wittig offered the invocation and benediction.

Serving as 1970-'71 board members for the local club are Carl Lentz, George Phelps, Dan Sherry, Dale Gutshall, Freeman Decker, Orvid Owens, Cal Comstock and Harold Ingalls.

Hoskins Girl NU Singer

A University of Nebraska freshman from Hoskins, Diane Wachter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wachter of rural Hoskins, has been selected a member of the Madrigal Singers.

The Madrigal Singers, composed of 30 freshmen students selected from 250 auditioning, is directed by Professor John Moran. The group gives several regular concerts and makes many public appearances during the Christmas season. Diane is a soprano.

Curt Rezek of Lemoyne holds the state hook-and-line record for coho salmon with a one-pound, three-ounce fish taken from Lake McConaughy in June of 1969.

INSTALLED as lieutenant governor of Kiwanis Division Eleven during a banquet Sunday night, R. Max Lundstrom, center, received a lapel pin and congratulations from Ronald P. Hallock, district governor from Des Moines. Mrs. Lundstrom placed the lieutenant governor's pin on her husband's lapel.

A PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION OF DEMOCRACY...

"OF THE PEOPLE"

Want Ads are of the people — They spring directly from the wants and needs of the community. Through their columns course the emotions, the hopes, the desires of the people. They are the very heart-beat of the people.

"BY THE PEOPLE"

Want Ads are, in the terms of the politician, "The People's Choice." Not only of their choice, but they are written by them. Want Ads are the people because in them are reflected their own needs and desires, expressed in their own words.

"FOR THE PEOPLE"

In the Want Ads the small individual has an equal voice — the smallest Want Ad is assured a chance to accomplish its purpose — size is unimportant. The People's needs and desires are the guiding impulse to the Want Ad success.

Wildcats Kickoff Homecoming Activities

Homecoming festivities at Winslow High School will get underway today (Thursday) and will climax Friday night when the Wildcats meet the Wallhill Bluejays at 7:30 p.m. on the home gridiron.

The two-day program starts with a pep rally this afternoon led by the following boys named by the Pep Club as cheerleaders: Richard Krause, Gary Soden, Dave Dahl, Doug Jenkins, Scott Deck, Dean Krueger, Larry Wetble and Dan Powers.

Tonight at 7 p.m. the senior and sophomore Pep Club girls will stand the junior and freshman Pep Club members in a powder puff football game. A pep rally will conclude the program.

Homecoming festivities Friday will start with students and faculty members marching to the village park at 2 p.m. Pupils in grades seven through twelve will entertain with skits centered around the theme "Spirit in the Sky." The Pep Club, sponsor of the afternoon activities, will hold another pep rally.

During halftime at the game Friday night, students selected from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes as attendants to the queen and king will be announced. Immediately following the game, coronation of the king and queen will be held in the school gymnasium.

Queen candidates chosen by the student body are Jeanette Hansen, Barb Jackson, Bunie Langdager and Mona Langenberg. King candidates are Richard Krause, Dave Langenberg, Gary Soden and Gaylen Stevens.

A homecoming dance, sponsored by the W Club, will be held following coronation activities. A group called The Bandits will provide music.

sides of the street on odd and even numbered days.

Vern Faltrecht, chief of police, said such a plan is almost impossible to get people to live with since people too often forget which side of the street they should be parking on. It's hard enough getting people to read and abide by signs, he said.

Other suggestions by the people at the meeting included restricting parking during a few late morning hours when few people want to park on the streets.

Pointed out by Gross during the meeting was what he considered the city's responsibility to help provide parking for the large number of students at Wayne State. They bring a lot of revenue into the city and the city should try to provide them with parking, according to Gross.

Making the people move their cars off the streets is not helping provide parking and often causes other problems, he said. Mayor Kent Hall told the group that the previous council started things in motion last November which resulted in expanding the parking restrictions to areas of the city other than the northeast quarter.

He suggested that the council go back to the areas which were restricted prior to that decision, remove the signs posted this spring and let the people with problem areas come to the council and ask that changes be made in their area.

Later Tuesday, around 5 p.m., a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Daniel Groene, Wayne, stopped in the traffic lane in the 600 block on Main Street. Police said the Groene auto was struck in the rear by a 1969 Pontiac driven by Bradley H. Pfeiffer, Wayne.

Richard Mulhairs At Norfolk Home

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duane Mulhair, who were married Sept. 25 in 3 p.m. ceremonies at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Norfolk, are making their home at 513 S. 1st, Norfolk, where he is employed at the Nebraska Veterans' Home Annex. The bride attended school in Wakefield and the bridegroom attended Litch Public School and MDTA Trade School in Lincoln.

Mrs. Mulhair is Donna-Jean Woodward, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thayne Woodward, Concord. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mulhair; Bristow. Attending the couple were Nancy Woodward, Omaha, and Donald Berg, Bristow.

The Nebraska National Forest at Halsey was established in 1902 to demonstrate that forests could grow in the Great Plains area.

Farm ponds that are properly designed and constructed can produce 100 to 300 pounds of fish per acre each year.

Seniors Host Dance

For Wakefield Frosh

The senior class of Wakefield High School sponsored a dance for the freshmen Friday night following the Trojan football game with Pender. The dance was held in the multi-purpose room at the elementary school.

Reigning over the evening festivities were Queen Kitty Fischer and King Sam Uelcit. The royal freshmen couple were elected Thursday by the student body. Judy Schroeder, Fremont, and Bob Twite, last year's royal couple, crowned the new queen and king.

Sponsors for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lubr, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Critpen, Coach Lyle Trullinger and Principal William Schnoor.

Wakefield High School will hold a homecoming dance Friday night in the multi-purpose room following the 7:30 p.m. game against Ponca.

Funeral Services

For James Maben Are Set for Today

Funeral services for James Maben, 65, Wayne, are set for today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne. Mr. Maben died Monday at a Sioux City hospital.

The Rev. S. K. deFreese will officiate at the rites. Ted Babe will sing, accompanied by Mrs. William Kugler. Pallbearers will be Marvin Nydahl, Wilmer Deck, Glen Maben, Herman Dinklage Jr., Dean Dinklage and Ronald Hass. Burial will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

James Ernest Maben, son of Chester and Magdaline Maben, was born May 30, 1905 at Ewing. As a young child he moved with his family to Clearwater where he attended schools.

February 23, 1929 he married Emma Dinklage at Lincoln. They made their home on a farm at Wisner and two years later they moved to a farm near Winslow. In 1946 they moved to Wayne where he had since made his home.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother. Survivors include his widow; one son, Norman of Wayne; one daughter, Mrs. Lake Weber, West Point; four brothers, Fred, Mark and Vic, all of Clearwater, Frank of Northfield, Minn.; one sister, Marie Adair, Clearwater; two granddaughters and several nieces and nephews.

THE JOURNALIST'S Creed I believe

IN THE PROFESSION OF JOURNALISM.

Way Back When

Wayne Has It

While no one would claim Wayne has 100 per cent of everything, our community does have a great many assets.

If you're looking for recreational facilities, good homes, a double-A rated school system, a growing college, fine libraries, functioning churches, and a lot of unpolluted air, then Wayne is the place to live.

Wayne has a number of municipal assets such as the light plant, hospital, parks and airport. In this day and age of progressive business, many executives fly, since time is so important. Those city fathers who have been instrumental in planning and maintaining the local airport were wise indeed.

One may fly or drive for many hundreds of miles. In any direction and realize that many communities the size of Wayne are not available to those who travel by plane due to inadequate airfields, or none at all.

If you want to live in a community that has an up-to-date airport, Wayne has it. During the past decade the city fathers, working with local, state and federal funds, have seen to it that the local field is operational 24-hours a day with a lighted all-weather runway. Adequate hangar space is available along with a convenient pilot's lounge and rest rooms. The lounge also serves as a classroom for ground-school students.

If Wayne did not have its municipal field, those traveling to Wayne by air would have to land at either Norfolk or South Sioux City.

People who travel across country daily in private aircraft carry air maps. Wayne can be proud that it occupies an important place on the map showing the location of the field.

If hunting in northeast Nebraska this year is any good at all, there will be hunters landing here. The occupants may want to either refuel, stay a day, or stay overnight, and hunt.

As an affluent society travels by air for business, sport and pleasure, we're glad the city dads developed the airport. It is one more facility helping to make Wayne a good place to live. Is there a good airport in northeast Nebraska? Wayne has it. — MMW.

On the Youth Scene

Take a look around Wayne County and look for the good. A part of the fabulous fall scenery includes 350 4-H youths who are marking, along with nearly 4 million other boys and girls, Oct. 4-10 as National 4-H Week.

These young people in the county and over the nation have pledged their head, heart, hands and health to their club, community and country. They are concerned about getting their part of the action in life and consistently demonstrate concern for their fellow man. Along that line of action they have chosen as their theme for national observance "We Care."

We must remember there are always two sides to most everything, the good as well as the bad. While we fight environmental pollution, we must remember environmental assets. Young people who get involved in their part of the social action, as do those in 4-H, are one of the county's greatest assets.

Through their project work and club activities, they develop into responsible citizens, improve our environment, and build nutrition and health. They also engage in community development, strengthen family life, promote education, chart careers, and help spread the 4-H learning-by-doing idea around the world.

Most of the 4-H youths are action-oriented boys and girls from 9 to 19 years old. They are fast learning the idea of involvement and are learning to build a better way of life for themselves and the world.

An editorial salute goes to each and everyone of you in area 4-H work who mark National 4-H Week. When you say "We Care," we know you do. — MMW.

Those Crunching Sounds

That unique sound which may be heard as far away as your insurance company's office is not a bit pleasant to hear. You are backing out of a parking stall and miss seeing the other car rounding a corner — and crunch.

You may be driving north on Main Street at the speed limit of 30 m.p.h. when the driver ahead decides to stop suddenly so he can make a left turn after on-coming traffic has passed. Not knowing he was going to slow or stop, you manage to ram him a good one in the rear end — and crunch.

Each car-r-u-n-c-h may be heard by your marriage mate, your local insurance adjuster, the local police, and your own office. There have been 110 collisions in Wayne since the first of the year. This total does not include those occurring on private property.

Many collisions in town take place while one of the vehicles involved is backing up, either out of a parking stall or on a parking lot. Damage may be minor or may amount to several hundreds of dollars.

Parallel parking on Main Street in downtown Wayne has eliminated some of the potential for backing-from-the-stall mishaps. Caution on the part of the driver is the main ingredient needed to help eliminate the other accidents.

Collisions at intersections seem to occur more frequently during the winter when it is difficult to stop on ice-coated streets.

On a clear evening, driving west on any street in town, particularly Seventh Street just before sunset, is a real chore since one is blighted by the sun.

Various things are involved in any mishap, but most usually the accident occurs due to at least one of the drivers not exercising his or her neck muscles sufficiently to see if there is an on-coming vehicle.

It's the car-r-u-n-c-h that sends the insurance rates up. Will you join us in trying a little more steering engineering? — MMW.

The Problem Fan

Granted, emotions run high when rivals, such as Laurel and Pierce take to the football field. But that doesn't excuse some of the actions and reactions of some of the fans at the recent football game between those two schools.

There were fans there who were making nothing but fools of themselves, shouting at the officials and players in an apparent attempt to get the game to go the way they wanted it to go.

There are times, without a doubt, when yelling and cheering during a game such as this is appropriate. There are probably even times when signs of disappointment are called for. But, there's never a time for remarks heard from some of those fans. Not when high school youths are playing a game for the fun and excitement of competition. It's fairly remarkable that our schools are able to put out so many fine young athletes when those athletes are given so many bad examples by the fans they are playing in front of. It's a wonder that those athletes don't start imitating the crying, complaining, sportsmanlike behavior of those fans.

We don't know the solution to the problem fan who thinks he can officiate at the game better from 30 or 40 yards away than the official can from five or 10 yards. We do know that he makes the game a lot more unenjoyable to many of the fans. And we are afraid that he is destroying many of the things the coaches are trying to instill in their players. — NLH.

craft in the 1870's partially on the Omaha-Republican and later as editor of the Nemaha Valley Journal at Falls City. He then moved to Atchison where he lived until his death in 1937.

Nebraska History magazine published in 1937 an article by Everett Dick, professor of history then and now at Union College in Lincoln, entitled "Ed Howe, a Notable Figure on the Sod-House Frontier." On the cover of the magazine its editor, Addison E. Sheldon, even then put vindicated their judgment.

Howe wrote other novels, but none ever matched his first. One, "The Mystery of the Locks," was laid in Davy's Bend, a village patterned after Brownville, Nebraska, during the period the railroads were reducing its importance as a Missouri River port. Howe describes Davy's Bend as "a river town, a falling town, an old town." The book's title comes from an old mansion, The Locks, a place "of wild and wreted portents, with a wooded tract, a heavy iron gate, neglected trees, and rank undergrowth."

Despite his literary eminence, Howe is best known in his own Kansas ballistics as the editor of a small-town newspaper, the Atchison Globe, and an earthy humorist whose paragraph-sized witticisms found their way into most farm-belt newspapers. Contributing to Howe's fame, no doubt, was his paradoxical sobriquet, "The Sage of Potato-Hill," by which he was known to a wide spectrum of Americans who might otherwise have been ignorant of his accomplishments. The nickname resulted from his joking reference to his Atchison home as Potato Hill when newly-affluent neighbors gave grandiose names to their residences.

Sheldon's reference to him as a novelist is an obvious allusion to Howe's famous book, "The Story of a Country Town" (first published, 1882), a realistic treatment of an 1870 village in mid-America. Soon after it was written, white called "The Story" "one of the ten best novels written in America," and other literary giants — Mark Twain and William Dean Howells — were laudatory of it. Time has a bid for Nebraska by claiming Howe as the state's "first novelist."

Two recent events have reminded Nebraskans again of their partial claim to Howe: accounts in the press of the death in California of his son, James Howe, 91, a distinguished journalist in his own right; and the publication of a full-scale biography of the man by Calder M. Pickett entitled "Ed Howe: Country Town Philosopher." The library of the Nebraska State Historical Society is the repository for a number of works by and about Howe.

Vote on Constitutional Changes Scheduled for November Election

LINCOLN — Nebraska voters will decide Nov. 3 on a series of proposed changes in their state constitution.

Fifteen amendments were advanced to the ballot by the 1969 Legislature. They will be explained briefly, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot.

No. 1 — This proposal would lower the voting age from 21 to 20. In 1968, a similar amendment was defeated. That one would have reduced the voting age to 19. During the 1969 session, the age of majority in Nebraska was dropped to 20 and supporters of the amendment say 20-year-olds ought also to have voting privileges.

No. 2 — The legislature would be required to reappoint the State Supreme Court districts after each federal census. If this amendment is adopted, under present constitutional provisions, the legislature may, but doesn't have to, re-appoint the six districts (the chief justice is elected from the state at-large).

No. 3 — The constitution now requires that every bill up for final reading before the legislature must be read in full by the clerk. This requirement dates back to the days when printed bills weren't available and the only way senators could tell what they were voting on was to have it read to them. Amendments No. 3 would remove this requirement and leave it up to the lawmakers to decide whether a bill should be read in its entirety. Many bills are quite long and the oral reading takes a lot of time.

No. 4 — If this amendment passes, retired supreme court or district court judges could be called back to fill tem-

Our family has been in 4-H work since 1936. Every year many businessmen show up at these sales.

I hope to see you again next year. Nancy Meyer (Editor's Note: We think this thank you can be directed to all the businessmen who made the recent sale a success. It probably sums up the feelings of most of the 4-H youths who sold animals at the show.)

We read the editorial on the detour of Highway 15. I've driven these roads for 40 years. We have no choice, we live on that detour and near the Scurve.

You fellows drive on pavement and hard-surfaced roads all the time and don't realize what kind of roads some of the rural folks have to contend with. We can't all live on fancy highways.

I've heard so many people knock the detour. It's that bad for you, drive a few more miles and take a highway. We will be glad when the highway is done. It nearly gives us a heart attack the way some people drive on our road. A Subscriber

October 6, 1955: Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winslow, were held Sunday afternoon. The $172,000 building will replace the original church built in 1891. Wayne's city council will open bids Tuesday night on a new engine and generator for the municipal light plant. Cost of the project has been estimated at $265,000. Three Wayne County youths left for induction into the Army at Ft. Ord, Calif. Wednesday morning. They were: Alvin Peterson, Wayne, Elton Welch, Carroll, and Robert Koll, Winslow. Opening of Malesse James bowling alley has been slated for Oct. 14, owners Al Bae and Glen Petersen announced this week.

No. 8 — This proposal would change the method for determining how many signatures are needed to petition for amendment of a city's home rule charter or call a charter convention. A number equivalent to five per cent of the voter for governor in the last election now is required by the constitution. The amendment would change this to 10 per cent of the registered voters before the previous general election. This provision is possible now that voter registration is mandatory across the state.

No. 9 — Several changes in the court system are proposed in this amendment. For one thing, it would remove constitutional requirements for justice of the peace courts. The amendment also would place general administrative authority with the supreme court over all courts in the state. The high court could hire an administrative director if it wishes. Also proposed is a restriction on all judges from practicing law in any court in any matter arising in or growing out of any proceedings in his own court. Only county judges now have this restriction.

No. 10 — This amendment would permit the legislature to classify personal property and exempt any classes it wishes from taxation. This amendment is boosted by dealers in implements, lumber, hardware and automobiles. Farm interests also are concerned with taxes on farm machinery. The amendment is permissive and it would take legislative action to exempt any type of personal property. Property taxes are used to finance subdivisions of government and revenue lost through exemptions would have to be made up from other sources.

No. 11 — This proposal would permit the legislature to allow some agency other than the Board of Educational Lands and Funds invest funds which now are the board's responsibility. The legislators have indicated they have the State Investment Council in mind.

No. 12 — If this amendment is adopted, state tax funds may be granted for the benefit of students enrolled in non-public schools as reimbursement for that part of their tuition allocable to state-approved courses. The reimbursement cannot exceed one-third of the per-student cost in the local public school district.

No. 13 — Under this proposal, the governor and lieutenant governor would be elected on a party ticket instead of individually. The lieutenant governor no longer would be the presiding officer of the legislature. With the right to cast a vote in case of ties. Furthermore, the lieutenant governor would become a full-time state officer with authority to serve on boards and commissions in lieu of the governor.

No. 14 — This amendment would create a super-board of regents with administrative authority over the University of Nebraska, the state colleges and publicly supported junior colleges, vocational technical schools and other public higher education. It would replace all the individual boards which now govern these institutions.

No. 15 — The legislature now meets in regular session at the odd-numbered years for as long as it needs to get its work done. Under this amendment, sessions would be held annually — not more than 90 working days in the odd-numbered years nor more than 60 working days in the even-numbered years. Pending bills and resolutions upon adjournment in an odd-numbered year may be considered at the next session.

Reading Grain for Cattle

Leland Herman, who farms three miles east and a mile and a half north of Wayne, spent several hours Monday afternoon green-chopping this plot of grain for feed for his cattle. Herman operates about 400 acres of land. Several farmers took advantage of the warm weather to get into their fields and harvest some of their crops.

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

The stormy session was in full swing at the Mau Mau Chapter House of the Black Panthers in Central City. The local leader called for quiet: "Gentlemen, Brother Lucius our agricultural chairman has his annual report... Brother Lucius."

Brother Lucius stood up: 6-2, muscular, non-smiling, dressed in sweaty black pants, an open necked, sleeveless, faded blue denim shirt under a cotton suede vest. Bewiskered, athletically he shuffle-stepped to the podium, adjusted the whistling microphone, looked hard at the sea of black faces.

"Brothers, first a cattle group is stealing our stuff, our line. A group called Angus... Black Angus. They're making fun of us. They claim 'Black Power.' Then I read in a farm magazine laying 'round the Vocational Rehabilitation Center an article written by a college 'jockey. This dude was brain washing' as always. He wrote for farmers to get rid of blacks cause they were too small and too fat and the judges wouldn't give 'em no breaks."

"This professor, 'Short' was his name, vocalizes from a southern state. He claims you have to be white to get any favors from any judge, who is incidentally selected by a fair board. Fair

Board, huh, not one Black Man on it. More propaganda. And this judge's list is recommended by the state extinction service. Come right out and said it, Extinction Service... So, Brothers, 'He tells me now they got so many flat-sided plain cattle coming in, the government white coats won't even grade it. Says that meat is selling on a yellow sheet (must be a list of the guys that are scared) for $5 a hundred under the kind I want, the

we have a fight on our hands. In the Marboro country as well as in the Ghetto.

"Also, for years, we've known - because of Malcolm and Eldridge, and Stokely - that a massive plan going 'round for black genocide. Eliminate Blacks. 'Tain't no Hitler gas chamber deal, nor army draft, but food!"

"These cow college professors are saying we'll lose our vigor by feeding us calves instead of grown up meat. That will weaken us. Even worse, they are pushing the idea of taking the fat off meat."

"All my life, I wanted a good steak. I eaten this kidney-colored Ghetto choice from some place foreign. Tough, chewy and stringy. Now we get in a strong position and there won't be no more good fat cattle."

"Trend is make 'em thin. Make 'em look sickly. Look ten feet tall and look like they wore their belt too tight and had hemorrhoids. Nobody can tell me that plan ain't meant for spread of malnutrition."

"So, Brothers, here is the whole picture. These southern educators are fightin' us from within. Want to do away with all Blacks. Want the white, especially some Frenchie, to come forward. I overheard where they are importing some bigger, all muscular brutes to take over. I heard a guy say leaders will all be driving Limosines... another hood... name of Simon Tal, another Char Lay... all coded... another is Murray Grey. They copied those name systems from Moslems, I guess. Another bad group is called the white faces."

"Now, Brothers, Black cattle are like our brother athletes. Won everything. But, now the powers are making rules against them. Jealous 'cause Blacks top Chicago Market over 100 per cent of the time."

"Now my brother-in-law works at the packing plant. I did once, jugging beef, beautiful beef, big bulging rounds, heavy fat covered everything just so."

"He tells me now they got so many flat-sided plain cattle coming in, the government white coats won't even grade it. Says that meat is selling on a yellow sheet (must be a list of the guys that are scared) for $5 a hundred under the kind I want, the choice stuff. Brothers, I can't find one store no place that is pricing the meat cheaper. In fact we get it in the ghettos at the top price, or more."

"My brother-in-law says we'd better move soon or starve from a no-fat diet."

"Brothers, we can get protein from government food stamps, but no fat. Soybean protein, like cattle eat, or like dog biscuits is only 14¢ a pound, but it's that fat taste I want. What good is it to win the struggle, if..."

About that time a siren sounded and a Bulhorn echoed. "All right, Panthers, you're surrounded, come out. Hands clasped on top of heads."

Brother Lucius, got behind a sandbag barricade. "See, Brothers, none of us fear dying. It's that starved, no-fat feeling I hate."

Treat Thistles

Favorable moisture for seed germination will start many thistles growing this fall. 2,4-D applied to musk thistle rosettes in the fall, in many instances, is more effective than 2,4-D applied to musk thistle in the spring. Musk thistle plants suffering only damage from 2,4-D in the fall, are usually not strong enough to survive winter freezing.

On the whole, spraying musk thistle rosettes in the fall of 1969 was more effective than spraying in the spring or early summer. Consequently, this of five areas, county weed control authorities to take whatever steps are necessary to insure that any serious existing musk thistle infestations be fall sprayed.

Following is a blueprint for musk thistle control:

You must inspect for rosettes about Sept. 15. Fall spraying offers the most positive control. It should be done in September to early November, or any time when temperature is above 40 degrees. You may also inspect for rosettes about May 1. Then you should spray while in the rosette stage.

Remember, you should keep stragglers from producing seed. Cut single plants two inches below surface. Burn such plants to burn area. Remember that a single plant will produce 10,000 seeds and will reseed three acres nearby. It will also supply seed on windy days for distant areas.

Minks are common throughout Nebraska and are common in Sand Hill lakes where marshy habitat occurs.

State's Feeders Okay Check-Off

Plans to kick off a drive to establish voluntary beef check-off in Nebraska by January 1 were formulated at a meeting of the Nebraska Livestock Foundation Board of Directors and Advisory Committee at Grand Island last week.

Attending the meeting were the Foundation's Board of Directors representing Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, Sandhills Cattle Association, Nebraska Cow Belles and Nebraska Stock Growers Association. Advisory members were also present representing the Nebraska Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, Grange, National Livestock Dealers, Nebraska Certified Auction Markets Association, Nebraska Beef Packing Industry, Animal Science Department of the University of Nebraska, Nebraska Beef Committee and National Livestock & Meat Board.

The Nebraska Livestock Foundation is organized to improve the beef industry through promotion, education, research and development programs financed by a voluntary investment of 10 cents per head on all cattle which exchange hands in Nebraska. The full support and cooperation of all organizations represented was pledged.

This meeting was preparatory to regional meetings to organize an educational program to inform the beef industry of the Nebraska Livestock Foundation program during the next three months.

Some 140,200 migrant workers and family members were assisted by the Farm Labor and Rural Manpower Services of the Manpower Administration during 1969.

Gardeners Final Job: Cleaning by Plants

Football, school children and changing color patterns of vegetation all signal the passing of another season. To the home gardener the coming of fall signals the end of countless hours spent in the flower beds and vegetable gardens. But, before hanging up the hoe and rake, one more process is necessary to help insure next year's crop. This process is known as "clean up," says University of Nebraska extension pathologist Jack Riesselman. Many of the common disease-producing organisms overwinter in plant debris and organisms may be the source of initial infection on next year's plants, he says. Some of the common diseases which survive the winter in plant residue are black spot of roses, apple scab and tomato leaf blight. Here's some of Riesselman's suggestions: Remove leaves from the area surrounding an apple tree to lessen the amount of potential inoculum. In other cases it may be necessary to pull the plants, removing both the root and upper portions of the plant. After removal, allow the debris to naturally decompose in a compost heap well away from plant sites

The Story of the Bill Norvell Agency and the President's Trophy

(Five winning efforts in five years)

Earning the Ohio National President's Month Trophy is somewhat comparable to scaling the Matterhorn. Winning it five times is about as easy as creating the eighth wonder of the world.

And yet, that's exactly what the Bill Norvell Agency has done. Five years in a row this six-year old service organization has been recognized for excellence of service to current policyholders and for adding new ones during a special month set aside each year to honor M. Rey Dodson, our Company President.

Five for five. How is this possible? It happened at The Bill Norvell Agency because Bill Norvell insists on quality... the highest degree of professional competence in matters concerning life and health insurance for family and business.

Six of the Norvell career agents (including Bill himself) earned "Wall of Fame" honors for individual performance: Bob Ditman, Charles Girdner, Rick McGeorge, Dick Rimel, and Jimmie Thompson. Charles Girdner and Jimmie Thompson also received additional recognition from the Company.

Records are made to be broken, and the Bill Norvell agency members know it. So don't be surprised next time you read about another citation earned by this team of competent underwriters. It will be because Bill and his staff think of your financial needs and how life and health insurance can best fulfill them.

Johnny and Mary Are Learning How to Read

By Merlin Wright

Exciting things are happening again this year in the West Elementary School in Wayne. Johnny and Mary Kindergartener are learning to read. Not only are the 60 kindergarteners learning to read, but they are also learning to understand and comprehend what they read. Learning to read is turned into a genuine adventure with teachers and audio-visual aids as companions. The school uses an interesting recipe. Take 60 youngsters and stir in both boys and girls. Add a few teachers, books, audio-visual aids, and place them in a classroom for about one hour a day. Continue this process until well done. Be sure to sample before serving.

A taxpayer's dollars provide many a wonderful opportunity in school today, but perhaps none of them are more important than those dollars invested in teaching Johnny and Mary to read the written word.

While visiting with Principal Richard Metteer at the school Monday afternoon as to how a child learns to read, he first explained that new kindergarteners do not all begin learning at a common starting point.

"These children are quite a ways apart when they walk into school on the first day," Metteer noted. "All kindergarteners do not start on the same starting line, as in a race," he said, "due to some having had nursery school, parental training, or have consistently watched such television programs as Sesame Street."

The principal explained, "It is quite evident to the school as to which parents have read to their children at home on a regular basis. These children have a vocabulary that is advanced above the average for those in the kindergarten group."

West Elementary School teachers face the same problems as teachers do everywhere. All of the Johnny's and Mary's enter kindergarten with various levels of ability, training, background, vocabulary, attitude and general intelligence. "Our job," Metteer explained, "is to provide an individualized program which will fit the individual student's needs."

Pointing out as to how different incoming kindergarteners may be, the principal said some five-year-olds can pick out the letters of the alphabet and distinguish words while others cannot.

The Wayne-Carroll Schools have 60 kindergarteners enrolled at West Elementary and 12 in Carroll. The youngsters spend two hours and 15 minutes a day in school and each pupil spends one hour of this time in a reading class each day. Some learn rapidly, some do not.

Just how does Johnny learn to read? In years gone by, all students in a reading class would be taught on the same level on the theory they all had about the same capacity to learn. The teacher had a time table stated as to when the class should be at a certain place in the book. Methods have changed.

Johnny must be five-years-old prior to Oct. 15 before he may enroll in kindergarten. After he starts to school he gets ready to read by becoming acquainted with pictures and the alphabet. He must learn the alphabet, not only in sequence, but more importantly, he must learn to recognize any of the letters regardless of the sequence.

If Johnny comes from a home where he has observed his mother reading and has heard his father read bedtime stories, then Johnny realizes that reading is a family affair. The lad knows the school is not trying to teach him something that is only of value at school, but rather, to be able to read is important to him in both places.

Maybe Johnny has watched Sesame Street on television and is already familiar with the alphabet, as well as a few words, by the time he enrolls in kindergarten. Such a student is going to be ready to move ahead in further training much sooner than a student who comes from a home that has failed to work with him in learning the essentials.

Because some students are at different learning levels, the kindergarten reading program at West Elementary is set up so as to allow the student to progress according to his ability.

Methods in teaching different students to read may vary. If the child appears to be having difficulty learning to read due to what Principal Metteer describes as auditory discrimination or visual perception, then the student is switched to an entirely phonetic approach to reading.

A student with auditory discrimination problems is not able to hear clearly all of the distinct sounds of each letter as it is pronounced. Those having visual perception difficulties may not be able to distinguish between the words "was" and "saw" as they see them on the page. Such youngsters are then aided in learning to read by sounding out each letter in a word—the phonetic system.

Modern methods of teaching children to read include the use of various audio-visual equipment. Pupils today may hear themselves on tape recordings. Second grade through fourth grade, students may read a story into a tape recording and can hear just how they sound and the mistakes they are making. This part of a student's learning to read also helps him to develop a self-image," noted the principal.

The school also makes use of a videotape machine in reading classes. A class may be photographed during a recitation period, and then students are able to both see and hear themselves read and note as to whether or not they are holding their book too close or making a finger to follow the line. The video-tape machine is also a help in giving the student confidence by building a good self-image.

In some cases, if a student is having difficulty with a particular story he may listen to the story on a tape recording while following the story word-by-word in his book; he thereby learns through both sight and sound.

Principal Metteer emphasized numerous times the importance of allowing a student to learn to read via an individualized program. He noted that students who learn rapidly should be allowed to learn at a fast pace and not be held back with classmates who learn more slowly. Likewise, the boy or girl who learns, but at not so rapid a pace, should not be forced into competing with the fast-learning student. For this reason there are three reading classes in each of the first four grades at West Elementary. The children are grouped according to their similar reading abilities.

"The program is flexible," Metteer explained, "so that a student showing a different capability as the school term progresses may move to one of the other classes."

Another type of audio equipment employed by West Elementary teachers is a small tape recorder which uses cassette tapes. The little recorder may be used by individual students to listen to pre-taped stories or the youngster may make his own recording. The tape may be played over and over and is designed to help the student with enunciation, reading speed and comprehension of what he has read.

Comprehending what one is reading is of course very important, Metteer emphasized that the student is taught to comprehend what he is reading as well as reading it. Making what he feels to be an important point, Metteer noted that even if a person is able to read 1,000 words a minute, but does not do any reading, the ability is wasted. See JOHNNY & MARY, page 9 ty is of little use. Consequently, the students are not only being taught how to read, but are being encouraged to read a wide variety of materials related to their maturity level. "Another of our objectives is to instill in each individual an interest in and enthusiasm for reading," he explained.

The children are taught not only to read for pleasure but also to master the techniques needed for analytical and interpretive reading. They are also taught how to make good use of a dictionary.

Specialized materials and equipment available in the classrooms or through the library include a controlled reader, films and filmstrips, records and record players, tape recorders, periodicals, literary crossword puzzles, reference books, newspapers, phonics charts and overhead projectors.

A demonstration of the controlled reader is proof enough that methods of teaching a child how to read have experienced a revolution during the past few decades. Thanks to electricity and the imaginative genius of laboratory technicians, all types of equipment are now available for use by reading instructors.

The controlled reader is a filmstrip projector with the capability of projecting either single words or word lines at a given pace, fast or slow. The student must learn the word, its meaning, and read the word as it is used in a story. The machine is an aid to help a student increase his reading speed as well.

Can you write, spell and read such words as "antenna" and "thorax"? Well, there are a lot of folks who cannot. Some of the folks who can are the little folks in the second grade at West Elementary.

As stated earlier, there are a lot of exciting things going on at West Elementary as Johnny and Mary learn to read in 1970.

Morrison Joins BBQ Force for Demo Gathering

Frank Morrison, three-time governor of Nebraska, is the latest to add his name to a growing list of candidates who will participate in the Election-Countdown Barbecue to be held Sunday, Oct. 11, at the Dixon County Fairgrounds in Concord at 1:30 p.m.

Other candidates who will be present include Jim Exon, candidate for governor; Bill Burrows, candidate for Congress, and Stan Matzke, candidate for Secretary of State. Ronald Reagan, who is running for Lieutenant Governor, has also indicated he plans to attend.

The barbecue, hosted by Dixon County Democrats, will include Wayne, Cedar and Thurston Counties. Tickets in Wayne can be purchased at Workman Auto or from Kenneth Olds in the downtown area. In Winslow, Vernon Hill is serving as chairman and in Carroll, Dallas Havenner.

The more TV your family watches...

the more your TV should be...

Quasar II Color TV

with the "works in a drawer"

• No matter how much TV your family watches, they'll probably be able to watch more of it on Motorola's Quasar II Color TV. Because, the "works in a drawer" help keep it home working. The works are solid-state, plug-in mini-circuits that are designed for greater reliability. They also help Quasar II Color TV's keep new set circuitry cool, new set sound, new set sharpness. If a mini-circuit ever fails, a new one can be replaced usually right at home, in minutes. • Has The Bright Tube for a more "like it is" color. • Automatic fine tuning brings in best possible color signal, keeps it even when you change channels. • Motorola has introduced IC's into Quasar II Color TV's chassis. These advanced solid-state devices provide increased performance and reliability in color and sound.
