

Dangerous Time for Farmers Is Getting Closer

The fall harvest and the approaching change to standard time will result in more tractors and farm equipment being on the road after dark, warns Wayne Fisher, area agricultural engineer at the University of Nebraska, Northeast Station near Concord.

Farm safety should always be a family concern, but at harvest time it should be a prime concern, Fisher says.

Every year persons concerned with safety talk about simple safety measures. Like rest stops and shutting off machines for cleaning and adjusting. Every year a lot of farm operators allow themselves to get into a situation where a farm accident is inevitable, Fisher notes.

Most machine operators who have been injured and recovered wonder how they could have been so foolish to have taken that chance.

One safety help that most operators are not paying as much attention to as they originally did, according to Fisher, is the SMV sign.

If a tractor, wagon or other piece of equipment does not have at least one good reflective SMV sign placed where the motorist can see it, the operator is asking for trouble when he ventures onto the road after dark, Fisher notes.

Many SMV signs have lost their reflective capabilities. Others have been broken or removed. Many SMV signs have been taken off for use elsewhere and some have been bent beyond repair.

Fisher recommends that farmers take time to check their SMV signs and put them in first-class shape. This won't take much time and may save a lot of trouble and grief, he says.

Add warning lights if you want to, but make sure you identify the farm a safer place by keeping out of the way of machinery and equipment, he notes.

Although work habits are hard to change, says Fisher, a farmer should observe good safety rules in order to keep his health so he can run his farm properly.

The best way to stay healthy, says Fisher, is to start now with getting those SMV signs in order.

CHANGE OF POST. Mrs. Ellery Pearson, at left, retired Sept. 30 as librarian in Carroll. Named by the library board to succeed her is Mrs. Lyle Cunningham.

Carroll Librarian Retires After 11 Years of Service

After more than 11 years of buying, watching over and checking out books in the Carroll Library, Mrs. Ellery Pearson, Carroll, retired as librarian at the end of September. Mrs. Lyle Cunningham was named her successor and took over her duties (left).

"It was interesting work," Mrs. Pearson observed Thursday, "and I enjoyed it. It was interesting to visit with people as they came in."

She noted that the library, used to be open from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m., each Saturday. "The board has decided to try new hours now (though)," she explained, continuing, "the new hours are from 1 to 5 p.m., on Saturdays."

"There weren't too many times that I missed," the former librarian pointed out, "but occasionally either Mrs. Clarence Morris or Mrs. Ann Roberts helped out when I was gone."

There are more than 4,000 volumes in the library which was at one time located in the rear of the Farmer's State Bank building. Mrs. Pearson said the library board decided to move the library across Main Street into a village-owned structure about three years ago. Those using the library now find it

Folk Song Concert Fare

A treat of German and American folk songs will be awaiting the people who turn out for the first vocal concert of the school year for students in the Wayne-Carroll school system.

The concert, scheduled for the high school lecture hall on Friday evening, will feature about 140 students in grades seven through 12. The public is invited to attend the 8 p.m. concert. There is no admission charge.

Groups which will be performing during the concert include the junior high girls' glee, freshman choir, concert choir and chamber choir.

Among the 10 selections scheduled for the evening are "Going to Build a Mountain," and a special tribute to friends, relatives and parents attending the concert. Also on the program is a modern version of Bach.

Directing the youths will be LeWayne Carlson, vocal music instructor for the high school and middle school.

Planning Night Set

Several hundred students and their parents from 11 area high schools are expected to attend the annual Vocational Planning Night set to get underway tonight (Monday) at 7:30 in the Wayne High School.

Vocational school representatives will present three 30-minute sessions slated between 8 and 9:30 p.m. Military recruiters and representatives from beauty, nursing, business and technical schools also plan to participate in assisting students plan their post high school education.

43 Attend Tourism Clinic

Forty-three people attended Wednesday night's tourism clinic at Wayne High.

The clinic, sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, included showing of a film on the success of Broken Bow in attracting tourists, information on how tourists can be attracted to a community and listing of tourists attractions in the Wayne area.

Conducting the meeting were Charles Chace, executive secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Council, and his assistant, Donald Crosier.

The clinic also told the local people at the clinic that even attracting a small number of tourists each year can help build a small town's economy. A family of four will spend $3 each stopping, $10 for a meal and $30 when stopping overnight, the group was told. If there are 50

Another Name Added To List of Unluckies

Gall Korn of Wayne has her name added to the list of Wayne area residents who have missed out in the weekly Cash Night drawing.

Had she been present in one of the participating stores for last Thursday night's drawing, she would have collected a $150 check from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. As the result of her not being present, the prize climbs to $200.

No purchases are required to be eligible for the weekly giveaway. However, a person must register and must be present in one of the stores taking part in the promotion in order to win.

National Lunch Week Observed at School

The Wayne-Carroll school system, along with thousands of schools across the nation, last week observed National School Lunch Week.

The observance, proclaimed by President Richard Nixon and Congress, was a time set aside for parents, citizens and civic groups to learn about the lunch program at their school.

Theme for this year's observance was "Always, the Children First."

School lunches make an important contribution to good nutrition vital to the growth and health of the students, according to Mrs. Marjorie Summers, manager of the local lunch program. See LUNCH WEEK, page 6

Kiwianians to Hear Patrol Investigator

Kiwianians meeting at noon today (Monday) in the Women's Club Room will learn something about the work of criminal investigation in northeast Nebraska.

Robert Mavis, Wakefield, criminal investigator for the Nebraska State Patrol, will speak to the club about his work and some of the problems faced by law enforcement officers as the rate of crime increases.

Hansen Is Named Probation Chief In District Two

Herbert T. Hansen, 32, will begin his new duties today (Monday) as chief probation officer of the Eastern Probation District-2. The 4-foot-11-inch man succeeds the late W. E. Fison and was appointed to the post last week by the three district judges who preside at courts in the probation district—Merritt C. Warren of Creighton, Joseph E. Marsh of South Sioux City and George Dittrick of Norfolk.

Counties included in the probation district are Dixon, Cedar, Dakota, Thurston, Antelope, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Cumming, Stanton and Wayne Counties.

Hansen has been working as a criminal investigator in eastern

The new probation officer was born May 12, 1938, near Weeping Water and graduated from Albion High School in 1956. He attended Wayne State College during 1956-57 and married Myrna LeTrotter of Loreto in 1958. They have three children, Traci, 6, Tim, 3, and Terri, 1.

Judge Warren noted the judges designated Wayne as the operational base for the probation officer since it is a central location in the probation district.

Carroll Men Attend Hearing at Norfolk

Several Carroll residents attended a hearing, held in Norfolk Oct. 8 by the Nebraska Railway Commission, to oppose an application by the Eastern Nebraska Telephone Company for a rate increase. Among those attending were Phil Olson, Howard McLean, and Ken Olds, Wayne, legal counsel representing Carroll.

Olds said the telephone company, which has its headquarters at Blair, is seeking rate increases amounting to 50 and 65 per cent. He said the company wants to increase a one-party business phone from its present rate of $5.50 to a total of $9, and a one-party residential phone from $4 to $6.

The Nebraska Railway Commission is taking the application under advisement.

Voter Registration Deadline Is Friday

Deadline for voter registration before the general election Nov. 3 is now but a few days away.

Norris Wetlie, county clerk, said all voters must be registered by 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 23.

Persons who have not voted in two consecutive general elections must re-register. Those who have not previously registered in the county, those who have changed precincts since they registered and those who have changed their name since registering must re-register.

WSC Activities Interrupted by 2 Bomb Threats

Two bomb scares within six hours disrupted classes and homecoming activities at Wayne State College last Wednesday.

A WSC switchboard operator picked up a call from outside the campus around 1:23 p.m. Wednesday and a young male informed her, "This is the weatherman. You have two hours to get a bomb on campus." The caller then hung up.

Administrators dismissed all classes and all buildings were evacuated. Custodians conducted a search for a possible bomb throughout all the buildings. Wayne State College police contacted the city and county authorities to help in the search. Nothing was found.

Wednesday evening a caller described as "a male who meant business" apparently called the long-distance operator in Norfolk from a phone booth in Wayne. See BOMBS, page 6

Schools Benefit From Nine Fines

The city's schools are more than $200 to the good since nine people appeared in the Wayne County Court last week and paid a total of $212 in fines and $45 in court costs. Fines go to the school system while costs are used for court expenses.

Those paying $5 in court costs and speeding fines were Kathleen Carson, Wayne, $12; Preston Roggenbach, Wayne, $15, and Stephen Delperding, Marcus, Iowa, $16.

Others appearing in court paid $5 in costs and the following fines:

—Stephen Hatz, Remsen, Iowa, possession of alcoholic liquor by a minor, $100.

—Rita Ka Rude, Castana, driving the wrong way on a one-way street, $15.

—Mark Brisco, Council Bluffs, Iowa, trespassing, $25.

—Barry R. Phelps, Omaha, no license plates, $10.

—Monte K. Jansson, Nicholson, illegal parking, $10.

—Kenneth L. Jorgensen, Wayne, no 1970 license plates, $10.

Winside Firemen Set Annual Dance Date For October 24th

Volunteer firemen at Winside made final plans Monday for their annual dance slated Oct. 24 in the Winside Auditorium. Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any of the firemen.

Cliff Pinkelman, Wayne fire chief, and Ted Rabde, also of Wayne, were guests. Pinkelman, representing the Wayne firemen, and George Voss, representing the Winside firemen, presented the George Gahl family with $1,715 collected in an area fund drive to help out with their son Tommy's surgical expenses.

The firemen will hold their next meeting Nov. 9.

School Open House Slated Next Week

A special invitation to tour the buildings and visit with the teachers is being extended to residents of the Wayne-Carroll school district during the coming open house.

The open house, an annual affair for the school, is scheduled for next Monday evening, Oct. 25, and helps draw public attention to American Education Week scheduled for all of next week.

Exhibits and demonstrations on the ninth grade science offering, shop projects and the new junior and senior English curriculum is planned for the evening.

Area residents are invited to tour the middle school and visit with the teachers of their children and inspect some of the things being taught by the school.

Hours for the open house are from 7 to 9 p.m. Coffee and

Students in the Wayne-Carroll school system will get a break from the regular routine of classes next week when their teachers attend the district Nebraska State Education Association conventions.

Students will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday of next week, Oct. 28, and there will be no school on Thursday and Friday.

Teachers in the school system will be attending the district convention at Norfolk. Featured speaker at that meeting will be columnist Jack Anderson.

Anderson took over the "Washington Merry-Go-Round" newspaper column after the death of Drew Pearson. It was his investigative skill which helped in columns on the Truman Administration, Senator Joseph McCarthy and the Chappaquiddick incident involving Senator Edward Kennedy.

Mike Isom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Isom, and Rhonda Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Schultz, center, were named king and queen during homecoming coronation ceremonies at Allen High School Friday afternoon. Also competing for the honors were, from left, Corinne Beacom, Linda Book, Loren Reuter, Brian Linafelter, (standing) Jerome Roberts and Sandra Jeffrey. Flower girls were Pamela Kavanaugh, left, and Lesa Hansen, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vince Kavanaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hansen. Jeff Chase, left, and Bobby Osbahr, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chase and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Osbahr Jr., were crownbearers during the event. Allen played Coleridge Friday night.

Gain Spotlight at Allen High

Motorists using the Seventh and Main intersection this winter will be faced with the same problem of telling which lane they are in when snow covers the streets.

That problem bothered numerous drivers last year. With the streets covered with snow, motorists driving through the intersection could not see the markings on the pavement which direct them into the correct lanes for either turning or driving through the intersection.

A traffic engineer for the State Department of Roads has informed the city of Wayne that he thinks it is unjustified to spend money to install overhead signs at the intersection.

Overhead signs would cost several thousand dollars, the engineer told the city in a letter, and are not necessary because it is only a few days of the year that the markings on the street are covered with snow.

Since there are hundreds of such intersections in the state with the same kinds of markings as those at Seventh and Main, it is "difficult to understand why there should be any particular problem" in Wayne, the engineer said.

Informed of the contents of the letter during last week's regular meeting, the city council agreed that the city clerk-administrator should continue trying to get the state to inspect the intersection and make it easier to use during winter.

Students Needed For Course on Care of Elderly

More people interested in learning how to care for elderly or bedridden people are needed for the coming adult education course scheduled for Wayne High.

The course for training geriatric aides is slated for the high school each Thursday evening for 10 weeks starting Oct. 29. Classes run from 7 to 10 p.m.

Open to both men and women 16 years of age and older, the course is designed for those people who have to take care of elderly or bedridden people either in their own home or as part of their job.

Tuition, which covers all textbooks and other materials needed for the course, is $10. The class will be limited to the first 20 See STUDENTS, page 6

Allen High Students Attend FFA Meeting

Five students at Allen High School took part in the national Future Farmers of America convention held at Kansas City, Mo., last week.

The students attending the meeting were senior Dan Kavanaugh, Junior Gaylord Strlains and sophomore John Malnberg, Kent Schach and Terry Ralm. Attending the convention with them was Ken Halvorsen, vocational agriculture teacher at Allen this year. The group left Tuesday evening but was back at Allen in time for Friday's homecoming activities.

Series to Focus on 'Gap'

Northeast Nebraskans will be able to view a series of three 30-minute programs on communications between adults and teenagers for family understanding beginning early in November.

The programs will be aired over the Nebraska Educational Television Network at 8 p.m. on Nov. 5, 12 and 19. Title: "Dial C-1218 for Family Understanding."

Topics for the three shows are "What Is Teenager?", "What Is Communication?" and "How Do Parents and Teens Relate?". Shows can be viewed by families or individuals or by groups of persons who may want to follow up on the programs with group discussions. Anyone in the Wayne

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Mr. Merchant:

HERE ARE TEN SOLID FACTS YOU SHOULD CONSIDER IN PLANNING YOUR ADVERTISING:

- 1 — This newspaper is an advertising medium that is WANTED, it is sought after and paid for, and advertising in it is not an intruder in the home.
- 2 — Nearly all of this newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in this trading area.
- 3 — The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or consumer in that market.
- 4 — People read newspaper ads when they are ready to make a decision and to act... WHEN THEY'RE READY TO BUY.
- 5 — The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most convenient to every member of the family.
- 6 — People LIKE TO READ newspaper advertisements... surveys show 85 percent of the people want their newspaper to contain advertising.
- 7 — Every issue of every newspaper contains INFORMATION AND PICTURES of interest to every member of the family.
- 8 — Newspaper reading is a habit, and a part of people's routine.
- 9 — The printed word is more RELIABLE than the spoken word, and it cannot be refuted because it is easily available for rechecking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than by listening.
- 10 — The newspaper is ideal for comparison... items in a news paper may be easily compared with items in other newspaper ads.

Dear Editor:
I'd like to address this letter to my creditors or any reader that read the Court News in the Oct. 5th, 1970 issue of The Wayne Herald and wondered why Triangle Finance had filed suit against John E. Kay.

Although their (Triangle Finance) request for payment was met and they assured me there would be no law suit, somebody failed to take it off the record. So the law suit that was dropped was printed as still being.

I then asked them (Triangle Finance) for a simple retraction to be printed in the paper to keep from damaging my credit but they refused.

I'd like my creditors to know that my financial affairs are up to date with Triangle Finance and that the law suit should not have been printed.

Dear Editor:
I would like to thank your firm for the support given me at the 4-H calf sale in September. I appreciate it very much.

I wish it were possible to get the druggists, dentists and a few other firms interested in this sale, as I know the 4-H kids and parents patronize them quite a bit in a year. The doctors in Knox County even get in and bid on the calves there.

I am attending Wayne State this year and have found two very good instructors, one in Biology and one in Chemistry. I hope to graduate with a degree in Arts and Sciences.

Thank you again.

Wayne's Contribution

Members of the Wayne city council and the mayor, acting as individuals, have taken a step which should prove assuring to the people living in the surrounding communities and to the people living in rural areas.

They have signed a statement saying they are in favor of giving all the assets of the local municipal hospital to the district hospital board if such a board is ever created and if state law is passed to permit such a move.

The group decided to take that step after being asked by the local hospital foundation to do so in order to show people outside the city limits that Wayne is more than happy to contribute its share toward construction of a new hospital to serve a large area of northeast Nebraska.

What the step means is that the group is in favor of doing exactly that if there are no major changes in circumstances and if the existing restrictive legislation is changed.

It should be a good move on the part of the people in local government to instill confidence in the other people in the area about the sincerity of Wayne in wanting a new hospital capable of serving a large geographical area.

A reproduction of the public statement by the city officials — again, made as individuals — appears elsewhere on this page. — N.L.H.

You Can Take It with You

Allen J. Beermann, deputy secretary of state and now a candidate for secretary of state, reminded his audience of Kiwanians in Wayne recently, "We are facing the most critical set of constitutional amendments that have ever been faced by Nebraska voters."

Beermann pointed out that Nebraska is one of the few states in which voters may mark a sample ballot at home and then take that ballot into the voting booth at election time.

It means you may clip the sample ballot out of The Wayne Herald and give appropriate thought and consideration to each proposed amendment. If you are going to be voting on important constitutional amendments, you owe it to yourself to understand what the amendment is all about. Study the sample ballot and then mark the squares which reflect your vote.

After you have your sample ballot marked, keep it ready to take with you to the polls and into the voting booth Nov. 3.

All you need to do then in the voting booth is to copy your marked squares into the correct places on the official ballot. This will save you a lot of time as it would take an hour to read the amendments in the booth on election day.

Get both pros and cons on the issues, you'll be voting on. Issues at stake include allowing 20-year-olds to vote, re-districting of Supreme Court judicial districts, removal of the county property tax levy limit, personal property taxation and annual legislative sessions. An issue which is likely to draw a great amount of interest is state aid to private and parochial schools.

We would join the deputy secretary of state in advising all voters to use the sample ballots. Find out all you can about the amendments and then mark the sample ballot. Take the sample ballot with you on Nov. 3 and save a lot of time voting. — MMW.

On Non-Public Schools

In an editorial in last Monday's issue of The Wayne Herald we listed three reasons why Nebraska voters in the November general election should reject the proposed change to the state constitution which would permit the legislature to use state money for the benefit of students in non-public schools.

One of the reasons we gave for our opposition to that proposed constitutional amendment is that it would mark the beginning of state support of selective and undemocratic schools.

Several of our readers apparently misunderstood what we meant by that statement, thinking by "undemocratic" we meant "unpatriotic." This was not the intent of the editorial.

What was meant was that private schools need make no public accounting of the expenditure of their funds. Their board meetings are not open to the public. The general public has no voice in curriculum, salaries, subjects taught, and so on. In other words, the schools are private.

This type of operation is not the normal democratic method of operating schools and, therefore, is not (or un-) democratic.

We do not wish to criticize the operation of private schools. Operators of non-public schools have a right to select who they want to attend their schools, how to spend their money, what and how to teach their students. This is their right and we do not deny it to them.

However, we do not think the public at large should be asked to help pay for the operation of a school unless it has adequate and fair representation in the governing and operation of the school.

In other words, public money should not be given to a group of people who would not be responsible for public accounting of their expenditures. — N.L.H.

The Dakota County Farm Bureau has come out in support of the right of school boards to set reasonable rules governing the clothes and appearance of students.

The group passed a resolution during a meeting which says that school boards should be allowed to set reasonable rules, the students should follow those rules and the parents should offer their help.

The resolution apparently stems from the recent trouble in South Sioux and Homer with students refusing to follow school dress codes. Some parents of school students in South Sioux have filed suit to have their children attend high school after being denied admission because they violated the code on personal appearance.

The Pierce County commissioners have decided to get an expression of public opinion on the question of a county airport. The method to be used will be a vote at the general election.

Voters in the county will get a chance to say whether a county airport should be built somewhere in the Foster area. The results of the voting would not be binding on the county officials.

One of the reasons for the decision is the recent ruling by the district court that the Plainview Airport Authority was created illegally and was ordered disbanded. Plans had been progressing for a Plainview airport up to that point.

"The Ransom of Red Chief" will be presented by the Emerson-Hubbard High senior class Tuesday night. Performance is set for 8 o'clock.

The Junior Woman's Club at Wisner is sponsoring a fall and winter fashion show tonight (Monday) at the Wisner city auditorium.

Theme for the evening is "Pushells of Fashions." Local women will model during the fashion show, being headed up by Mrs. Ottill Hias and Mrs. Russell Brahmer.

And way out O'Neill way: Three South Dakota men were injured when their small plane crashed eight miles north of Atkinson recently. The plane crashed into a corn field when trying to land on a highway after becoming lost in rain and a low ceiling.

Quotable Notables:

Our humility were a poor thing but for the divinity that sits within us. — Bacon.

Wire recorders did not remain popular very long. Technicians discovered plastic tape was even better. After the war the big boom was not in radios but in the new source of entertainment called television. At first there were only a few people in each community who had television and they would have nightly "TV parties" with the neighbors as guests. You were fortunate indeed if you had friends who owned a set.

Twenty-five years later most everyone has one or more television sets and the little tape recorders may be purchased for as little as $12. Not only that, but we entered the age of nuclear power and learned to fly faster than sound. Rockets were developed to provide man with the necessary power to walk on the moon. Would you still like to turn the clock back 25 years? Definitely not.

In 1995, or 25 years from now, the tools and instruments we presently use will look even more out of date than those 25 years ago look to us now. Would you like to turn the clock ahead 25 years?

Can you even begin to imagine what life will be like? One thing for sure, all human beings will not be living on earth. Some will live in laboratories orbiting the earth while others dwell on the moon. It is highly possible that complete records of each person and all of his or her transactions will be maintained by master computers orbiting the earth. In such a case the human might be but a number under the power of those who have made themselves rulers.

By 1995 all communication processes will include image and sound. You may be talking to your neighbor next door, or a person in a space station, or on the moon, but you'll have both voice and image. The image will be a three-dimensional projection not even needing a screen. Experiments are being made now with such equipment. But will it all make a better world? Time will tell.

The 1945 Reader's Digest carried a story about Fibber and Molly noting that their address at 79 Wisful Vista was the best known address in the nation. Television changed a lot of things. Most youths less than 20 years old would likely not be able to tell you anything about Fibber and Molly.

The Digest's article about the comedy team said the script writer's number one rule for radio writing was "Keep it clean and keep it friendly." How script writing has changed!

You know friend, as one looks back over those 25 years it is rather easy to get the feeling one really is 10,000 years old. A teenager used to be happy with a bicycle and radio. Now he insists upon having a car and television. Many a young male today has a terrible time parting his hair in such a way as to be able to see out through it in order to see where he is driving or what program is on the tube. We wonder what problems his son and his son's son will face? Got your think-a-majig going today?

WAYNE GETS POSSESSION near midfield after Bloomfield's fourth down attempt failed. Wayne overpowered the Bees, 40-14, on the Wayne State field.

Blue Devils Seal Bees' Doom Early

Wayne's Bill Fletcher, a 147-pound junior guard, pretty well set the stage for the West Husker conference clash with Bloomfield Friday night when he pounced on a fumble in the opening seconds of the game.

Fletcher's recovery of Bloomfield's fumble on the first offensive play of the night gave Wayne ideal field position on the visitors' 38. About a half dozen plays later Tony Pflueger, a 135-pound halfback, slugged through the middle of the Bloomfield line from one yard out for the first Blue Devil score. He added another quick two points when he hauled in a pass from quarterback Mike Creighton to give the Devils an 8-0 lead with only just over three minutes gone in the contest.

Before the night was over, Wayne produced a massive offensive effort to overwhelm the Bees, 40-14. The victory gives the local squad a 6-0 mark for the season and partially makes up for the dismal 6-0 win over winless Plainview a week earlier.

It also gives them a 5-0 record in West Husker play and shoves them into a tie with Laurel for first place in the loop.

Laurel meets Madison and Wayne takes on West Point Central Catholic Friday night before the two teams square off in what promises to be one of northeast Nebraska's top drawing cards again this year. That Wayne-Laurel showdown is slated for Wednesday night, Oct. 28, on Wayne State's field.

Wayne's fine offensive attack completely dominated the first quarter, producing scores on Pflueger's short plunge and on Lonnie Biltoff's 16-yard scamper five minutes later after the Devils took a Bloomfield punt on their own 46 and marched it all the way to the Bloomfield 16 in about five plays.

After forcing Bloomfield to punt at the start of the second period, Wayne stalked 80 yards with only minor setbacks on penalties for the third TD. The score came with just 4:20 left on the clock when Creighton connected with Don Mau for an 11-yard performance. That drive included spirited gains by leading rusher Pflueger, Biltoff, Jim Kenny and Creighton.

Wayne finally permitted the visiting Bees into the endzone with 1:17 left in the first half. Randy Peters, sophomore quarterback for the squad, took the ball over the goal on a four-yard run up the middle. He handed off to Randy Yeager for the two-point conversion to make the score 20-8.

The Devils came back with three touchdowns in the third frame, one of them coming on another crowd-pleasing scamper by Creighton after he found his receivers covered on a pass pattern.

Creighton's 50-yard display, which included some fine blocks thrown by the likes of Kenny and Biltoff, was sandwiched between scores posted by Kenny on a one-yard plunge and a 16-yard pass from reserve quarterback Tom Kerstine to Don Hansen. Biltoff ran for the two-point play after Creighton's TD, but the kick after Kenny's TD and the pass from Kerstine after the Kerstine-Hansen effort failed.

The first score in the quarter was the result of plain handed football with Wayne grinding out yardage behind some fine offensive blocking. The second score came after Fletcher and Chuck Weible covered a Bloomfield fumble on the Bloomfield 26. Lynn Gunderson's interception of a Bloomfield aerial near the 40 and his return to the 21 set the stage for the final score in the third frame.

Bloomfield's alert Bill Frevert started the ball rolling for his team's final score when he speared a Creighton pass on his 25 late in the fourth quarter. The visitors managed to drive to their 42 before Randy Yeager flipped a pass to Greg Suhr on the 50. Uncovered, Suhr made it to the Wayne 19 before being halted down. A few plays later Yeager took the ball in around his right end to knock Wayne's lead to 25 points, 40-14, with just over one minute left in the game.

A host of Wayne players figured in the defensive statistics. Tops among them: Bill Fletcher with four tackles, five assists; Lynn Gunderson with four, four; John Roberts with four, two; Steve Kamish with four, two; Lonnie Biltoff with three, three.

Rushing for the most yardage in the contest were Pflueger with 85 yards in 15 carries, Biltoff with 71 in 13 carries and Kenny with 56 in a dozen.

BUSTIN OVER for yardage on this end play is Wayne's Mike Creighton. Stopping him are a host of Bloomfield defenders.

Wayne Jr. High Flips Laurel, 34-6

The visiting Laurel junior high football squad took a sound 34-6 licking at the hands of Wayne in a Wednesday afternoon contest.

The local squad now holds a 3-0 season record (2-0 win over Lyons, 50-6 win over Randolph) and will travel to Wakefield Thursday afternoon for a 4:15 contest.

Marty Hansen, quarterback for the Wayne squad, started off the scoring for Wayne with about two minutes left in the first period when he fired a pass to Rick Workman for a 25-yard touchdown.

Wayne	6	22	6	0	--	34

Hansen reared 60 yards for another score shortly after the second period opened and then Kevin Jeck recovered a Laurel fumble on the Laurel 32 to give Hansen a chance to hit two 100s for the third Wayne score. Hansen hit Workman for the PAT.

Wayne moved to a 22-0 lead in the third frame when driving to the Laurel 35 before Workman took the ball into the endzone and hit it. Hansen added the two points on his keeper.

Laurel finally scored with just four seconds left in the half on a 60-yard pass play.

Wayne's final TD came when Greg Biltoff went in from three yards out.

Top defensive players in the contest for Wayne included Brian Hedrick, Greg Noyes, Mike Meyer, Rick Mitchell, Hoop and Workman. Offensive standouts were Hoops, Workman, Hansen, Biltoff and Overin.

WH Frosh Rap Gators

Freshman Gordon Cook reared for three touchdowns during Wayne's 18-7 win over Wisner-Pilger at Wayne Thursday afternoon.

The 160-pound fullback sliced through the Wisner-Pilger defense twice in the first quarter, going into the endzone on a 65-yard run and an eight-yard run.

Wisner-Pilger 0 0 0 7 -- 7
Wayne 12 6 0 0 -- 18

His second TD in the opening frame capped a drive of about 50 yards by the Wayne offense.

Cook reared about 40 yards for the score in the second period, again capping a drive by the offense of about 40 yards.

Wisner-Pilger finally scored in the fourth period on a 60-yard run of tackle.

Gaining top honors for defense in the win was Kerry Jeck with seven solo tackles and two assists, a fumble pass and a blocked punt. Cook and Mike Dunklau had eight solos, three assists. Tom Frahm had five and three.

Wayne monopolized most of the statistics in the contest, com-

NAIA Grid Leaders Retain Spots

Most of the leaders in the statistics game among the nine NAIA schools in Nebraska retained their top spots last week.

Among the leaders once again was Wayne State's Sam Singleton, a 195-pound senior back who had rushed for 513 yards in 126 carries going into Saturday's homecoming game against Lee College.

Singleton was just behind the leading rusher in the state, John Mokvichka of Kearney State, who had rolled up 722 yards in 131 carries.

Quarterback for the Wildcats, Marty Golig, had completed 16 of 44 passes for a total of 224 yards and eighth spot among the passers.

Leading that category was Ilcoo Conella of

The University of Nebraska at Omaha with 53 completions in 128 tries for 809 yards.

Wingback Greg Walker, a 185-pound senior, held down ninth spot among the pass receivers, gaining 124 yards and one touchdown on his seven receptions. Leading there was Dick Watson of Chadron State with 37 completions for 655 yards and three scores.

As a team, the Wildcats have rushed and passed for 948 yards in four games while giving up 1,125 yards to the opponents. That yield put the team in third spot for defense.

Leading in that category, with 688 yards in four games while rolling up 1,510, was Hastings.

Gator Players Share Player of Week Title

The co-captains on the Wisner-Pilger football team were named Wednesday to share the Omaha World-Herald high school player of the week honor.

The two Gators, Warren Stork and J. D. Alexander, were named for their performances during the surprising 30-yard setback they helped hand second-ranked Scribner.

Stork, a big 205-pound fullback and linebacker, switched to a special defensive position geared to help stop the Scribner sweeps. The switch apparently proved successful.

Alexander turned in an outstanding performance to help make up for Stork's absence, grabbing 20 tackles and blocking a punt which he recovered for a touchdown. Stork was in on 15 tackles.

Track for LH Girls Scheduled This Year

A total of 62 girls in the Laurel-Concord school system will be taking part in the track program for girls this coming spring.

The track program for girls will be offered for the first time on a state level this spring for schools in Nebraska.

The girls at Laurel High interested in volleyball this year will have to sign up this week. Parental permission is necessary.

Named as reserve cheerleaders in voting last week at the Laurel school were Connie Johnson, Debbie Helms, Peggy Schaefer and Susan Schraeder.

Cougar Film Coming

"Cougar Country," an outdoor adventure movie for family viewing, is scheduled for showing at the Gay Theatre in Wayne on Tuesday, Nov. 10.

The movie, filmed in the high mountain wilderness of Colorado, will be shown at a 4:30 matinee and at 8:30 and 8:30 in the evening. The film follows "Whiskers," an adventuresome young mountain lion, through the first two years of his life.

Included in the film are shots of young mountain lions, coyotes, elk, grizzly bears and marmots.

Eagle Out of Action

Jerome Roberts, a big 185-pound senior end for the Allen Eagles, injured the index finger on his right hand Friday afternoon and was not able to compete in the Allen-Colebridge homecoming game that night.

Roberts had the tip of his finger cut off when he caught it in a chain on a lawnmower being used to cut grass on the Allen football field.

Quacksy's second, Roman Empire babies were soon put on bread crumbs mixed with water, a sort of food in Europe's early centuries, however, not so doing what comes naturally and then went to a substitute of mother's milk!

Airman First Class Emery W. Field, formerly of Wayne, is a member of a special T. S. Air Force survey team that has completed satellite photography operations in South America.

Airman Field is a radio repairman with the Satellite Triangulation section of the 1st Geodetic Survey Squadron at Francis E. Warren AFB, Wyo. The unit is a part of the Aerospace Photographic and Geodetic Service (ACGS) headquartered at Forbes AFB, Kan.

Teams wrapped up operations at sites located at Natal and Brazilia in Brazil, Asuncion in Paraguay and Curacao in Netherlands Antilles. ACGS camera crews have been in South America since 1967, taking pictures of satellites against a background of stars from two or more sites simultaneously. The pictures are compared and the exact location and distance between stations can be computed. This satellite geodesy is used for surveying areas too large to be covered by conventional means.

Requested by South American countries, the project results

Cornstalk Soldiers

With the harvest in full swing, many cornfields in Wayne County have taken on the look of imaginary parade grounds this fall. Stalk-soldiers appear to march for miles in military precision. The 1970 crop is not as good as it might have been due to the long dry spell last summer.

will allow the countries to adjust their geodetic systems to the world-wide system if they wish. Such survey work is necessary since foreign countries, when making independent surveys within their own territories, connect themselves with their neighbors at only one or two border points. Camera surveys from different countries can connect with satellite triangulation—the points thousands of miles apart.

One of the biggest problems on such surveys is keeping the correct time on the site. Time to the closest microsecond (one-millionth of a second) must be kept. Even a small error in recording the time of a picture would mean a difference of several feet in the position of the satellite speeding around in its orbit, and would produce an error of many miles in the positioning of a station.

To keep precise time, each site was equipped with a crystal-controlled clock and two types of radio-time receivers to check the site clock. Regular trips were made to each site with a cesium-beam "atomic" clock, which loses only one second every million years—and a final check was made before closing the sites.

Once-upon-a-time there lived a man named Dumpty. Mr. Dumpty was very interested in the stock market. So interested in fact that he invested all his money in stocks.

When one day Mr. Dumpty's stocks stopped making money. In fact they fell so sharply that Mr. Dumpty suffered great losses.

Moral: The stock market is NOT the place to save money. Smart people invest in a Savings Account at Wayne Federal where their money earns 5% interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal.
