Field Service Chapter Seeks Home for Pupil

The American Field Service Chapter in Wayne is now seeking applications from Wayne families interested in having an AFS student stay in their home during the 1971-72 school year, according to Bob Porter, AFS president.

Interested families may make such an application by contacting Mrs. Vern Jacobmeyer of Wayne. Porter said although the deadline for the application to be in the New York AFS office is not until February, there are other forms to be filled out. He explained, "We would like to get started on it as soon as possible."

Abdallah Khawaldeh, AFS student from Jordan, is presently attending Wayne High School. His American parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herb Niemann of Carroll. Porter noted that Mrs. Kent Hall is in charge of handling speaking engagement requests for Khawaldeh during the current school year.

The local AFS Chapter recently decided to sell Christmas note cards again this year in November.

The curtain opens on a card game between apartment mates Felix Ungar and Oscar Madison and their friends.

Fast in the lead of Felix Ungar, a meticulous housekeeper and near neurotic because of the recent separation from his wife, is Kevin Hall, a sophomore student from Whiting, Iowa, no stranger to the Wayne theatre

2 Trucks, 2 Drivers, 2 Wrecks in 2 Ditches

Two accidents occurred within 10 minutes on a county road two miles north and slightly more than two miles west of Winside around 11:35 a.m. Saturday on the Highway 98 detour.

Trooper H. Nielsen and Lt. O. Young, state patrolmen, investigated the mishaps involving two identical 1969 International trucks, both owned by the Herman Brothers of Fremont.

Nielsen said the first accident occurred as John T. Sheeris, Blair, was westbound with a truck load of cement and met an oncoming car in which two elderly people were riding. The officer said Sheeris attempted to pull to the right on the narrow road in order to give the approaching vehicle room to pass. The shoulder of the road gave way and the truck rolled over into the ditch. Sheeris was reportedly unhurt. The couple in the car drove on.

Ten minutes later, Nielsen said, a second accident occurred at the same location when another truck, driven by Lester L. Patten, Omaha, was eastbound. Upon coming over the crest of a hill and seeing the wrecked truck, Patten applied brakes. The truck jackknifed into the south ditch. Nielsen said. The truck cab was twisted into an upside-down position and the driver was pinned inside. Crewmen worked 45 minutes to cut away wreckage to release him.

Members of the Winside Rescue Squad took Patten to the Wayne Hospital. Nielsen said the driver was found to have only bruises and a small laceration.

Commission Gives Okay For Grants

The Nebraska Crime Commission approved six applications last week which had been submitted by communities in northeast Nebraska seeking crime commission funds.

Walt Weaver, executive director of the crime commission, notified Attorney Richard Mueting, Norfolk, that applications for funds by the Laurel police and the sheriff's offices in Knox and Antelope Counties, and police departments in Nubara, Creighton and Norfolk, had all been approved Oct. 16.

Mueting, consultant to the Joint Planning Commission for Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, said all of the applications were for communications equipment with the exception of the one submitted by Norfolk. The consultant said Norfolk was seeking funds related to the 911 Communications System.

The amounts approved were as follows: Laurel police, $1,856.40; Knox County sheriff's office, $1,491; Antelope County sheriff's office, $1,800; Nubara police, $745; Creighton police, $1,080, and the Norfolk police, $10,608.

Drouth Damage Shows Up in Harvest

Mix in two months of dry summer sky, add abundant fall moisture, including an early October 5-inch snow, and you have the weather recipe which has drastically affected the 1970 corn and bean crops in Wayne County.

Harold Ingalls, agriculture agent, noted Tuesday that yield per acre and moisture content are widely varied throughout the area. He said some of the corn in the southeast part of the county is yielding up to 70 bushels to the acre. "Many around here are only getting 25 bushels to the acre," he said. When the growing season is good, an average yield per acre is around 60 bushels.

The poor yield this year is due to drouth conditions during July and August. Ingalls estimated between 35 and 40 per cent of the farmers in the area have cut their corn for silage, and pointed out, "This is a higher per cent than normal."

Ingalls continued, "We are not nearly as far along with the harvest as I thought we were. Some farmers are done while others haven't started." He said he would estimate between 10 and 15 per cent of the farmers in the county have finished harvesting. He said, "I would say percentage-wise that about half of the beans are out and about 35 per cent of the corn is out of the field. With favorable weather now, we'll see the bulk of the harvest completed in about 10 days."

We had a shorter crop two years ago, also due to drouth," Ingalls noted, adding, "1969 was the best crop of corn we have had for some time. I'm sure our average yield last year was a new high."

Speaking about the poor growing season this year, and as to how it directly affects the man on the farm, the county agent observed, "We are losing farmers at a real rapid rate. Years like this one accelerate the process." He further explained, "It takes a lot of money to operate now and if a farmer has reached his credit limit, it is difficult to continue. Proposed Amendment No. 13

A vote FOR this proposal will favor the election, beginning in 1974, of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor as a team, with a single vote being cast for the candidate of the same political party, as is now done for President and Vice-President of the United States. It also will make the Lieutenant Governor, beginning in 1975, a full-time officer performing such duties as are delegated by the Governor. It will eliminate the Lieutenant Governor's duty to preside over the Legislature.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will oppose any change in the present system, in which the Governor and Lieutenant Governor are elected independently, the Lieutenant Governor's position is part-time, and he is required to preside over the Legislature.

"Constitutional amendment to eliminate the Lieutenant Governor as the presiding officer of the Legislature and to eliminate his right to vote in case of a tie."

Constitutional amendment to authorize the election of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor from the same political party by one vote cast jointly.

Constitutional amendment providing that the Lieutenant Governor shall serve on boards and commissions in lieu of the Governor whenever designated by the Governor, shall perform such duties as may be delegated him by the Governor, and after January 1, 1975, he shall devote his full time to the duties of his office.

TEXT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska, Section 1. That at the general election in November, 1970, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendments to Article III, section 10, and Article IV, sections 1 and 16, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which are hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Sec. 10. The Legislature shall meet in regular session at 12:00 o'clock (noon) on the first Tuesday in January in the year next ensuing the election of the members thereof. A majority of the members elected to the Legislature shall constitute a quorum; the Legislature shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its members, shall choose its own officers, including a Speaker and such other presiding officer as it may determine. No member shall be expelled except by a vote of two-thirds of all members elected to the Legislature, and no member shall be twice expelled for the same offense. The Legislature may punish by imprisonment any person not a member thereof who shall be guilty of disrespect to the Legislature by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence, but no such imprisonment shall extend beyond twenty-four hours at one time, unless the person shall be guilty of such disorderly or contemptuous behavior. Religion, morality, and knowledge, however, being essential to good government, it shall be the duty of the Legislature to pass suitable laws to protect every religious denomination in the peaceable enjoyment of its own mode of public worship, and to encourage schools and the means of instruction, and in furtherance of such objectives the Legislature may make grants for the benefit of students enrolled in nonpublic schools as reimbursement for the part of their tuition that is allocable to instruction in state-approved courses; provided, that such reimbursement shall not exceed one-third of the per student cost in the public school district in which the student resides who shall any plan of reimbursement which the separation of church and state required by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

A vote FOR this proposal would establish annual sessions of the Legislature, beginning in 1974. Sessions in odd-numbered years would be limited to ninety legislative days, and in even-numbered years to sixty legislative days, unless extended by a vote of four-fifths of the members. Bills and resolutions not acted upon in a regular session in an odd-numbered year could be carried over to the next regular session in an even-numbered year.

A vote AGAINST this proposal would oppose annual sessions and retain the present system under which the Legislature holds a regular session once every two years, with no constitutional limit on the length of the session.

"Constitutional amendment to provide for annual sessions of the Legislature limited to ninety legislative days in odd-numbered years and sixty legislative days in even-numbered years unless extended by a vote of four-fifths of all members elected to the Legislature and to provide that bills and resolutions being considered upon adjournment of a regular session held in an odd-numbered year may be considered at the next regular session."

WS Foundation Elects Officers, Plans Budget

The Wayne State Foundation re-elected Val Peterson as president at its annual trustees meeting and also re-elected the other officers as the foundation begins its tenth year.

Peterson, a Wayne State alumnus, now U. S. ambassador to Finland, led the foundation and has been president since its 1961 founding. The other officers are Henry Ley, vice-president; Adon Jeffrey, secretary-treasurer, and Kenneth Olds, resident agent, all of Wayne.

The trustees adopted a budget of $16,200 for the coming year and decided to sponsor a new alumni directory.

Nearly half the budget, $7,000, was allocated to student scholarships. Other major budget items: $2,000 to sponsor International Institutes, $1,000 for faculty research and grants, $1,500 to produce a sound movie about the college, $1,000 for alumni activities, $500 to purchase art objects for the college's expanding collection, and $2,500 addition to the reserve endowment.

Since 1961 the foundation has received about $110,000 from alumni, friends, and organizations, Dr. Freeman Decker, executive secretary said. About three-fourths of the income has been given to the college for scholarships and support of loan funds.

District FHA Meet

Future homemakers from nine area towns joined ranks in Wakefield Saturday. The event was the District V FHA Convention. The affair, held at the Wakefield school, was under the sponsorship of Kathryn Rabbe, district FHA advisor.

Following opening ceremonies, new officers for the district were installed by the Wisner-Pilger chapter. They are as follows: Anita Grleser, West Point, president; Kathleen Victor, Wakefield, vice-president; Theresa Marksmeier, Wisner, secretary; Jane Vranicar, Stanton, treasurer.

Two Wayne girls, Teresa Dranselka and Ilanec Kulesche received the degree of Junior Homemaker in ceremonies held later on in the convention. Theresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dranselka and Ilanec is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kulesche.

Highlight of the convention was a talk given by Mrs. Fred Frank, Wausa, titled, "I am a homemaker." Mrs. Frank was blinded in a hunting accident about five years ago.

High school homemakers attended the convention from Wayne, Wakefield, West Point, Wisner-Pilger, Norfolk, Randolph, Laurel, Stanton and Allen.

$16,000 Ruts

Hundreds of feet of new concrete, not yet set, on Highway 98 southwest of Carroll was damaged late Sunday night by a vehicle which bypassed barricades and drove onto the surface. The Wayne County sheriff's office said damages may run as high as $16,000. Only one of the two ruts made by the vehicle is pictured. The vandalism remains under investigation.

Finish Gun Safety Course

Twenty-two area youths will probably be 19 times safer hunters than other youths, according to statistics. These 22 young people will be safer because they have completed the hunter safety course under the direction of Richard Lesh.

The two-week course, sponsored by the National Rifle Association taught the youths safe gun handling, good hunting practices and the responsibilities of the hunter. Those completing the course were required to pass both written and practical examinations before being awarded shoulder patches and certificates from the association.

Assisting Lesh with the course were Bill Wilson, Alan Cramer and Jewell Schock.

Police Investigate 5 Wrecks

Sounds of metal being twisted out of shape echoed in the streets of Wayne for three consecutive days during the past weekend. Wayne police reported investigating a total of five auto accidents.

Friday, around 7 p.m., a 1968 Ford driven by Thelma L. Day was southbound on Main Street. Mercury from a private drive way at 1102 Main. Police said the two vehicles collided with great damages set at $254 on the Ford and $56 on the Sharer vehicle.

A 1961 Dodge driven by Henry Reed was westbound in the 100 block on East Second Street Saturday when hit by a 1964 Ford driven by Rita Neuhaus of Wakefield. Police said the Neuhaus auto was backing from a parking stall at the time.

Saturday night around 8:20 a minor accident occurred on the entrance ramp at the Lill' Duffer. Officers said a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Mark Belermann, Wayne, stopped on the ramp. A 1970 Maverick driven by Steve Kamlesh stopped behind the Chevrolet. The two vehicles hit as the Belermann auto backed up, according to the police.

A 1969 Chevrolet belonging to Paul Habbass, Wayne, was parked in the Lill' Duffer parking lot Sunday and was struck by a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Karen Helse, Bancroft, authorities said.

A second accident Sunday occurred at Third and Main Streets and involved two 1970 Chevrolets. One was driven by Calvin Chambers of Soldier, Iowa, who was southbound on Main and stopped for a traffic light. His auto was hit in the rear, police said, by an auto driven by Al Sandahl of Wayne.

Wayne police also investigated three cases of larceny during the past few days.

Schools Plan to Open House Monday

Visitors to the Wayne-Carroll public schools Monday night will have the opportunity to view everything from shop to science to English. An open house is scheduled for 7-9 p.m. in both the high school and middle school buildings.

The event, held in conjunction with American Education Week, will give parents and interested persons an opportunity to inspect the school facilities, visit with their children's teachers, and inspect some of the subject areas being taught in the schools.

The West Elementary School will not be open for viewing at this time, as that level's open house is scheduled for this spring. Coffee and cookies will be served during the evening. American Education Week has been held annually since 1921, under the auspices of the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education, to encourage citizens in all parts of the country to look intensively at their schools in order to provide adequate support and initiate action toward correcting problems or weaknesses in the education program.

The need to "shape schools for the 70's" will be the focus of American Education Week to be observed here and across the country October 25-31.

Threats Disrupt WSC Activities

Bomb scares on the campus of Wayne State College Saturday night and Monday afternoon brought the total of such scares to four. All occurred in a period of six days, interrupting homecoming activities and classes.

A male called the directors assistance operator in Norfolk Saturday evening and stated, "I want to report that a bomb has been planted in the Rice building on the Wayne State campus." He then hung up.

The bomb threat made it necessary for a college spokesman to inform the crowd attending the WSC homecoming dance that festivities in the Rice Auditorium were being terminated at that time which was around 10:45 p.m. A search of the building resulted in finding nothing resembling a bomb.

The college received another call Monday at 12:53 p.m. Again, it was a male who said, "You tell President Brandenburg that he has this afternoon to find a bomb on his campus, and his fascist pigs. This time we aren't kidding around, baby; this one's going to go off."

All buildings were evacuated and searched which resulted in the buildings being closed until around 4:20 p.m. Nothing resembling a bomb was found.

Area Bands to March At NU on Band Day

Several high school bands from northeast Nebraska will take part in the activities during the 33rd annual Band Day at the University of Nebraska.

The schools which plan on sending bands to the affair include Randolph, Coleridge and Beemer. A total of 50 high school bands will join the university band for the march through downtown Lincoln.

The parade will be televised live by the Nebraska Educational Television Network and a replay will be shown at 3:30 Sunday.

Football Insurance Is Deductible

Parents of youngsters participating in the Wayne city recreation football should be aware of a change in the insurance covering the boys out for the sport, according to Wayne Tietgen, secretary of the Wayne recreation board.

Tietgen noted that effective immediately, there will be a $25 deductible clause covering any individual injury. After the first $25 is paid however, the insurance will cover the entire remaining cost of the injury.

Tietgen said that the board will continue to provide insurance for the youths at no cost.

Drouth Affects Harvest

Ernest Grone of rural Wayne was reaping about 25 bushels to the acre off this field of corn two miles north and about three miles west of Wayne Monday afternoon. Like most other area farmers, he reported damage from the drouth this summer. How much was that damage? On good years, says Grone, this field would yield 80 bushels to the acre.

Spotlight on Education

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops." This statement was put upon paper by Henry Brooks Adams around the turn of the century. The statement was true then and remains so today.

Next week, Oct. 25-31, has been designated as American Education Week. Usually held in November, the special week is being held earlier this year and is a united effort of the American Legion, National Education Association, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education.

Since education is often the largest business in a community, the national spotlight will justifiably fall upon teachers, students, administrators, all other school personnel, school buildings and the job of upgrading education.

During the week, the eye of the country will be focused upon the school in terms of meeting educational needs to insure the future of our democratic way of life.

One may easily observe that much of rural American life centers around school activities. Education is really big business with each and every member of the community a stockholder.

Thomas A. Edison once noted, "The most necessary task of civilization is to teach men how to think."

We hope everyone will participate in American Education Week. Those in the Wayne area will likely want to visit their double-A rated school during open house Monday night and tour the middle school and the high school buildings between 7 and 9 p.m.

Wherever you live, we urge you to join in observing the special week by becoming better acquainted with your school, its program, personnel, curriculum, equipment and goals. —MMW.

Beyond a Prank

Wayne State College students are now the victims of four bomb scares in less than a week. In each case, classroom and homecoming activities were terminated so buildings might be searched. It has all come about because one or more people are obviously sick.

Would any person having all of his or her powers of rationality curtail the activities of several thousand other people just for a prank? The answer is obviously no. Well people, normal people, average people, learned and educated people are not so egocentric as to commit such a dangerous and illegal act as phoning in a bomb threat, bringing college activities to a halt.

Who is it that walks our streets smiling on the outside but sick on the inside? Authorities are in the process of finding out . . . and they will find out.

In case there are those who still have not heard, President Nixon has signed legislation which gives the Federal Bureau of Investigation the jurisdiction over acts of terrorism on campuses. Nixon signed the law just one week ago today (Thursday).

We hope the person or persons responsible for the four bomb threats at Wayne State are thoroughly familiar with the penalties for acting in such a reckless manner.

You see, those of us who are mentally, emotionally and physically well have no reason to cry "Wolf! Wolf!" when there is no wolf because we know a false cry will mean not being believed when there really is a wolf. The self-centered sick mind doesn't understand this. He cries "Wolf!" because seeing the result brings about a perverted satisfaction — the satisfaction of believing that he alone is so clever.

We are convinced that one of the finest groups of young people that has ever attended Wayne State College is studying "on the hill" this year. It is too bad their homecoming dance and class schedules have been used as toys, not by a prankster, but by a very sick individual. —MMW.

Concrete Facts

A new strip of freshly poured concrete on Highway 98 south and west of Carroll was raised some time late Sunday night or early Monday morning when a motorist drove over about one-half mile of cement that was not yet set. The Wayne County sheriff's office estimated damage to be as high as $16,000.

Crewmen have been paving Highway 98 for some time and had expected to finish Tuesday. The project will now be delayed.

Someone went home that night with cement on their tires. Only the someone who was behind the wheel, and those with him, if any, knows whether it was an act of vandalism or whether it was the result of assuming the concrete was set. Barricades were in place but the motorist chose to go around and drive on the unfinished highway. One wonders who the fool was behind the wheel.

Since there are barricades and signs warning drivers that the road is closed, we assume the driver deliberately chose to defy common sense and drive on the new concrete.

One must face reality. In this case it means recognizing that in spite of all of the available avenues and sources of knowledge today, there are still those persons who manage to escape any of the effects of learning.

May that individual who cost the taxpayer another $16,000 through an act of stupidity know that not all of us are like Will Rogers who reportedly stated, "I never met a man I didn't like." We've met some, and now one more.

Just this note to the culprit. We hope that beautiful set of tire tracks you left behind will enable law enforcement officers to make your acquaintance through an arrest. Then, of course, there is that possibility that a man who is so smart as to drive on unset concrete could possibly get even smarter yet by forming the floor of a jail cell. It might take a while to set out $16,000 worth of time. —MMW.

Dear Editor: We would like to thank you for the complete coverage you provided for the 1970 homecoming of Wayne High School. It was appreciated greatly and we hope to see you next year.

The Pep Club

Dear Editor: After much consideration and encouragement from business associates and friends, we feel compelled to write a letter to your paper. This letter is being written as a matter of self-defense after two recent articles appeared in your paper concerning our presence at a recent school board meeting.

First, we want it known that it was with reluctance that we even attended the first board meeting. However, after reviewing our records of business with the music department, we felt we had no choice. Last year (school term) approximately $2,200 worth of taxpayers' money was spent in our city school music department. Of this amount approximately $35 was spent in our local place of business.

We have been told by Supt. Francis Haun and the school board that our prices have to be competitive with and have to give as good service as firms from out of town before we can expect business from the school. We have been told that we are seeking a monopoly.

During the first month of school this year, we phoned one of the music instructors, asking if there was anything he needed in the way of music materials, etc. Each time the answer was "no." At the end of that month period, that same instructor ordered over $100 worth of music with an out-of-town firm. Upon request we have a photostatic copy of the merchandise order with the out-of-town supply house. It just so happened that some of that music we had in our stock right there. Yet, when that instructor was contacted for an

Preliminary Budget Request Amounts to over $527 Million

LINCOLN — If state agencies were to get all the tax funds they want for the 1971-73 biennium — and they won't — they never do — the total would reach something like $527 million.

That's a preliminary figure, subject to change — up or down.

But it isn't far off from the amount of general fund money all state agencies are requesting in the budgets they are submitting for the coming two fiscal years.

The general fund total requested two years ago was $548.7 million, but the 1969 Legislature appropriated $355 million.

Similar trimming may be expected this time as the requests — which represent what the agency heads think they need to operate their departments — undergo scrutiny by both the executive and legislative branches of state government.

The $527 million total involves only the general fund requests. That generally is just short of half of the total amount of the budgets. The remainder is comprised of cash funds and federal funds. The general fund is financed chiefly order, he said he didn't need anything.

Further investigation proves that none of the merchandise in this large order was discounted. Neither does the school have return privileges without special permission. This is a practice we have always permitted. As for economizing, we haven't even begun to talk about the method of ordering which very possibly was long distance telephone call, again at taxpayers' expense.

For the public record, we do not alter our prices on merchandise or charge high rates as has been implied. Merchandise is marked as it comes in from suppliers. The only time it is changed is if we have orders from the company requesting such a change. As for the recent bids which were printed at the last board meeting, we are willing to abide with the board decision. We do feel it is amazing how some dealers will sell below their purchase price when dealing out-of-town.

Now that the Wayne Herald has set a precedent of publishing the results of the music bids at the last school board meeting, we trust this practice will be continued in all bid purchases in all departments of the Wayne public school system.

As for service, a set of typeman was purchased from an out-of-town music store in the spring of one term and it couldn't be delivered until a few weeks before the Christmas concert. If we gave service like this, wouldn't it be disgraceful?

To quote your paper, Lynn Roberts, president of the board, said that the school system has a qualified board and a qualified staff and that it is unfair to accuse them of discriminating against a certain local firm. Perhaps it is just such an attitude that lies at the bottom of the problem. As a business, we are open to constructive criticism and we want to please our customers. We don't have the attitude that we are never wrong. However, if we are constantly denied the chance to serve, we think someone, besides our firm, should examine themselves.

As taxpayers we are contributing heavily towards the support of our schools and we feel we are entitled to fair treatment in return.

through revenues from the sales and income taxes. There are several source of other sources but they are minor. Revenue going into the cash fund comes from such things as license fees, registrations and tuition.

The general fund requests, however, get the headlines because they are the ones which have the potential to affect the rates on sales and income taxes. And that means they have an effect on all the citizens.

Here's what happens to the budget request.

After an agency determines what it feels it needs for the next biennium and sets it down on the official forms, the budget is filed with the State Department of Administrative Services Budget Office.

Two copies are kept there and two copies are sent to the office of Legislative Fiscal Analyst Marlin Rein.

In each office, specialists on various aspects of state government are assigned to review the requests. These specialists have been visiting throughout the interim with the agencies in their category and are familiar with their needs and operations. It's their job to determine if the funds requested are realistic.

The next step is to take an overall look at the requests and compare the total amount with what can realistically be expected to be funded. In effect, this is the step where priorities are established on a government-wide basis.

The administrative budget office, under the direction of Darrel L. Stettis, goes over his findings with the governor. The constitution requires the governor to submit to the new legislature his budget recommendations early in the session.

Meanwhile, Rein and his staff will be doing the same thing. A law passed by the 1969 Legislature requires the fiscal analyst to draft budget bill and hand it in early in the session.

The next step involves the legislature's budget committee. The committee will consider the requests which came from the agencies, the governor's recommendations and the analyst's draft of an appropriations bill.

In other words, the senators will have three opinions on what money should be made available to agencies. Agency representatives may be asked to appear before the committee to testify in support of their requests or explain some point to the lawmakers.

Finally, the committee determines what blend of the agency requests, executive recommendations and legislative staff suggestions should be advanced to the floor for consideration there.

Once on the floor, the budget bills are open to amendments by individual senators who want to add or subtract. Like all other bills, the appropriations measures must go through three steps to passage. The first is called general file, the next select file and the last final reading.

On final reading, a bill needs at least 25 votes to pass. But it requires 33 votes to carry the emergency clause. That clause makes a law effective the minute it is signed by the governor. Without it, a bill isn't officially law for three months after the final adjournment of a legislative session.

Since the state budget is for two fiscal periods beginning July 1 of the odd-numbered years, if the appropriations are to be available at the start of the period they are supposed to cover, they almost have to carry the emergency clause — and be endorsed by a minimum of 33 legislators.

There is another reason for the 33 votes. It became apparent last year for the first time, although it's been in the state constitution for decades. The constitution says at least two-thirds of the lawmakers — that's 33 of the 49 senators — must approve of any appropriation which exceeds the governor's recommendation.

A couple of the budget bills for capital construction last year passed, but without the 33 votes. The State Supreme Court said those appropriations weren't valid.

In addition to the bills covering the legislature's decisions on the budget requests from the state agencies, there is

Because of the heavy work season facing farmers, we feel it should be of interest to many readers. The article originally came from "Forestry Facts."

I hereby authorize my husband to work without wearing goggles, proper footwear, hand or other safety equipment and promise that I will, without complaint, perform the following duties in case he is blinded or crippled:

1. Lead him wherever he wants to go.
2. Help him to dress and eat.

4. Read to him instead of watching

5. Describe the way the children's eyes light up at Christmas time and what their graduations and weddings are like.

Mobile museums for art, history and science exhibits have become popular in recent years. The Nebraska State Historical Society was among the early institutions to carry out such projects, starting in 1928. In 1954 in observance of the Territorial Centennial, the Society cooperated with the five railroads to provide an exhibit car.

From June to November, 1928, two railroad cars provided by the Burlington Railroad traveled almost 5,000 miles and furnished to 121,000 people of the state a history of Nebraska and the Burlington Railroad. The involvement of the Nebraska State Historical Society in a project begun by the Burlington Railroad was suggested by Val Kuska, colonization agent for the Burlington. Accounts of this and similar Burlington promotions can be found in the literature of the Nebraska State Historical Society library and archives.

still another package of appropriation legislation.

These are the appropriations to finance programs established by bills passed that session. For example, a bill may be passed which requires a state agency to do something it hadn't been asked to do before. The agency, of course, didn't request funds for that job in its budget.

So an estimate must be made on how much the new legislation costs and an appropriation made to provide the financing. Occasionally, a bill will pass creating a program, but the financing will fail. That happened last year when a state-wide system of public defenders was authorized, but no money was available because the appropriation was defeated. The same was true of the ombudsman bill.

passenger cars equipped to receive displays. The smoking compartment in the Society's car was converted into a state-room for the museum director, E.E. Blackman. A publicity sheet circulated before the event by the "Alliance News" called it "the first known Traveling Historical Museum." This exhibit, which began June 21, 1928, was viewed by over 15,000 people while at Alliance.

The Alliance Chamber of Commerce cooperated with the Burlington and the Nebraska Historical Society in arranging the exhibition. Before being dismantled in November the historical train included over thirty cities in Nebraska including a stop at the State Fair.

The first car, under the direction of Mr. Kuska, was equipped with objects and printed material used by the Burlington in its pioneering days. The second car, under the direction of Mr. Blackman, was furnished with exhibits dating from the Stone Age to World War I. Arranged in chronological order, the displays of the Historical Society "portrayed every period in the development of the state," the "News" reported. "Along the side wall and on the table were an assortment of stone weapons and implements used by the Indian before the coming of the white man." An unusual part of the display was a group of World War I posters selected from a large collection of French, Italian, and German origin brought back from Europe. Augmented with examples of World War I American posters, they are now on display in the Society Building in Lincoln.

In an effort to continue the idea begun in 1928, the Society in recent years has installed mobile trailers with museum displays and placed them in rest areas along main traveled tourist routes during the summer months.

Why I'll Vote for CHARLEY THONE For Congress by Congressman Bob Denney

"Charley was born and raised on a farm in North-past Nebraska. He knows we have to break new ground in the areas of rural revitalization, farm income and preservation of the family farm. He also will work to stabilize the small communities that serve so many of our rural residents. He knows our farm families must have relief from the economic pressures they face. Charley Thone will work to raise farm income to balance other areas of the economy.

"In his campaign he has spoken out on the important issues. Here are some of his comments:

"Inflation and the high cost of living hurts every family. High prices and runaway inflation are the results of overspending by the Democrat-controlled Congress."

"I strongly support cost-of-living increases for our Social Security recipients."

"One of my main goals is to step up the fight against crime and drug abuse."

"President Nixon has publicly stated his support of Charley Thone. I strongly urge you to join me in voting for Charley-Thone for Congress on Nov. 3."

Congressman Bob Denney

Good Morning Feeders & Hi Mom

By Eddie Collins

Rain, rain, rain in Illinois. Ollie Dockendorf looked out the machine shed doors. With turnrows on the concrete road, fences long removed, Ollie faced a decision. To return to cattle, as three prior generations had fed; to sell out to land developers and move to Arizona or California, following Cousin Charlie; or lease his land, move to town and go to work for Farm Bureau. Or maybe become a seed salesman.

Wind picked up. Corn cracked down. Discouraged, Ollie drove the pickup to the Benarie. A dozen farmers were having coffee. All sizes and shapes, from 6-6 to 5-4, from 280 thick pounds to 120 of steel wire. All in bib or overalls.

A mini-skirted young waitress kept the coffee hot. Rumors overran the place.

Charlie Schuman might join the N.E.O. Widow Anderson seen in Peoria with a Producers Hog buyer. Both Nebraska and Notre Dame overrated. Corn blight brought in by a barefooted Texas seed salesman. Hog producers' radio advertising campaign was free. No. $10,000. Hereford and Angus feeder cattle $5 lower in Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota due to the swing to Simmental, Charolais and Limousins. Jack Linkletter the next president of the American Cattleman Association. Wash., D. C. sending out some southern farmers to redevelop the Illinois area. Kansas High Plain feeders moving to Illinois. Clifford Harlin going to eliminate imports. Chicago packing division to reopen and Willie Prince to recapture control of Armour.

Some rumors believed, some discounted. Normal day. Feeders $6 lower. Hummm.

On the phone to the Atchison sale barn Ollie found six different auction locations in north-eastern Colorado.

The plane ride to Denver from O'Hare Airport was faster than mere parking and checking in. On the Colorado map he found Greeley. Drive in an Avis pleasant but disturbing because the corn actually looked better and taller than his ever had, and Colorado is not even in the Cornbelt. But no Indians! Just hitchhiking hippies and camping trailers.

Greeley, a pretty town. But Ollie did notice a strange, but aroma. Someone must feed a few cattle nearby and this reminder must carry in the thin air. Almost as strong as his when granddad Sven fed 135 Montana three-year-olds.

Ollie found the auction barn. New, modern, clean, big. Thousands of cattle in the back pens, mostly Angus or Hereford. Ollie thought, "I'm going back into the cattle business and will be ever cut a fat hog. Six dollars cheaper and prime cattle still topping $32 on Halstead Avenue in Chicago."

Ollie checked into the office to arrange trucking and explain his banking situation. Later in the cafe Ollie heard two slim-waisted, big-nosed, leatherfaced western-looking cowpokes mention that an Illinois buyer was in the crowd, so it would be a "hot" sale.

"Hot" sale, no doubt of that. Ollie would show these few trappers a thing or two. If cowboys were no sharper than feeding dairy calves or Brahmins like that slick papered magazine showed, Ollie might buy 100, 125 head, maybe even kick up the pace a full dollar.

The seats in the auction barn were soft as a Chicago theatre. Cattle started to flow. Buy a load, two loads or the next 200 head, just wiggle a finger.

Poor Ollie had miscalculated. At home on the kitchen table Ollie had used $27 for a base price.

Why not? $33 at home less $6 a hundred. That way cattle would make a $70 bill in August.

Cattle started for $32-$34. Big-hatted cigar smokers bought and bought. One man bid 43¢ on calves while he was talking on the telephone.

The friendly Nebraskan in the next seat asked, "Gettin' in?"

"Not at these prices."

"Man, where've you been? Why, these $34 yearlings fed 125 days will make $2 a head! Yeah, providing the market holds. But between you Eastern hog people going crazy on confinement feeding and Southern feed companies over-promoting those skin and bone chickens, it's gettin' so a cowman can't make even a buck."

Ollie sold his farm. Profit motivation had grown too small for him. Easier to sell insurance and spread coffeehop rumors about the west. And why not? Wasn't Ollie now an expert on western livestock?

fully and analyzing the price critically in terms of your supplemental needs is always a good policy.

Nebraska Gains

Nebraska has more to gain from expansion in cattle feeding than states which usually buy ship grain from Nebraska for their own cattle feeding industry. We first of all have a broad base of cattle feeding know-how in our farmer-feeders and their sons who have grown up in the business. We have a good market - with kill capacity in packing plants greater than our production. And we have a surplus of feed grain - much of which supports the feeding industry in other states.

A six-state marketing monthly report of June 1 shows cattle on feed up two per cent in these major feeding states from a year ago, with Nebraska cattle on feed down six per cent. Although we have been second nationally in numbers of cattle on feed, nothing is sacred about such a designation. We're now third and will be for several months if present trends continue.

Corn, a preferred feed grain, is now being shipped to the High Plains areas, with increasing amounts to Colorado, which showed a 17 per cent increase in number of cattle on feed as of June 1. Nebraska could hold advantage over other states by utilizing these amounts of corn.

Still another favorable advantage is our climate and when all aspects are considered, we have no peer in this regard.

Looking to the future, the supply picture looks favorable for good prices if demand continues steady during this period of recession, thus we have close at hand a good opportunity to improve the cattle industry in Nebraska - by feeding more cattle.

Check Label and Price

Substantial amounts of overpriced and "loaded" feed supplements or compounds are sold every year in Nebraska.

Livestock supplements should be formulated with the goal of making up deficiencies of practical livestock rations in a manner that is effective, economical and convenient for the livestock producer. Most farmers don't have the time or technical knowledge to formulate feed supplements. So if a supplement is required, most producers are best off to purchase a commercial supplement from a local dealer.

But some will not give you your full dollar's worth of supplement value. These supplements may be good in quality and free of toxic materials, but they may not be properly designed or may contain materials that offer no benefit to your feeding program. These products are sometimes priced as much as two to five times what similar, or equally as good, feed products could be purchased for.

Examples of ingredients sometimes included in beef cattle supplements which do not appear to justify additional costs when fed to healthy animals include dried rumen bacteria enzymes, B-complex vitamins and yeast. Reading the feed label care-

Q Governor Tiemann, has Nebraska caught up on highways during your administration?

A. Absolutely. Since this administration went into office, we have contracted for nearly 1,400 miles of new and improved state highways, interstate highways, and roads. That's nearly three times the length of Nebraska. Within the next six-year period, all of the gravel roads in the State of Nebraska which are a part of the State's system will be hard-surfaced. Nebraska will soon have one of the best planned highway systems in America.

Northeast Extension Notes

by Anna Marie Kreifels

Cost of Meats

Meat, poultry and fish are usually the most expensive items in a meal. They are valued nutritionally for their protein, B vitamins and minerals.

Replacing expensive meats with inexpensive ones or with meat alternates can save money without loss of food value. The nutritive value of equal amounts of lean cooked meats from various meat animals differs only slightly. Eggs, dry legumes, peanut butter and cheese are suitable meat alternates.

USDA estimated costs of servings of meats based on an average serving, about three ounces of cooked lean meat. This amount provides for 20 grams of protein or about a third of the recommended daily allowance for a 20-year-old man. Some of the costs per serving were hamburger, 17c; chicken, 20c; fish, 18 to 26c; ham 27 to 31c; chuck roast, 32c; rib roast, 50c; steaks 44c for 3/2 to 83c for porterhouse.

To provide 20 grams of protein would require nine slices of bacon, four frankfurters, six slices of bologna or five fish sticks. Therefore these items are not protein bargains.

Meat alternates or substitutes are good buys in protein. Twenty grams of protein are provided in one cup of cooked dry beans, 4 1/2 tablespoons of peanut butter, 3 ounces of processed cheese or 2/3 cup of cottage cheese. Cost per average serving for these foods ranges from 4c to 19c.

Singleton, Miller Lead WS Homecoming Win

By Dick Manley

Last Saturday Wayne State's offense, spearheaded by senior fullback Sam Singleton's two touchdowns and 184 yards rushing, plus defensive heroes by end Monty Miller produced a 16-0 homecoming victory over Lea College.

Wildcat defenders combined for their best effort of the 4-1 Wayne season. They limited the Lancers to 27 yards rushing, 75 passing. They also intercepted two Lea passes, bringing the season total to 13 and now expect to break the Wayne record of 19.

Singleton, an NAIA All-American candidate on the strength of his power running has amassed 677 yards for a 138-yd average per game—among the nation's leaders. Last week he ranked nineteenth with a 128-yd. average.

The 5-11, 195-pounder from Elizabeth, N.J., scored early in the second period on a one-yard plunge after four efforts of 11, 20, 5 and 10 yards in the drive. Then in the third canto he had four more short gainers, the last going five yards to score.

Sotha more Dan Ernst of Aurora, added extra-point kicks on both touchdowns. That ran his consecutive string of conversions to 30, starting against Peru in the sixth of nine games Wayne played last year plus five this year.

Miller, a junior defensive end from Newcastle, terrorized Lea several times. In the second quarter he intercepted a screen pass on the Lea 27 and nearly broke loose for a touchdown before getting tackled on the 12. Soon after, he blocked a Lancer punt so ferociously at the Lea 15 that it bounded clear through the end zone—and raced into stop it for a touchdown. Since the ball went past the end zone, Wayne scored a safety. Miller came within inches of blocking several other punts.

Lea defenses rallied to stop three deep Wayne penetrations—once recovering a Wayne fumble when the Wildcats had first and goal to go on the half-yard line. The Wildcats, who had lost only two of six previous fumbles, gave up three of their four in this game.

Coach Del Stoltenberg used two freshman quarterbacks—Tim Denham of Cumberland, Ia., and Jeff Olson of Wilmington, Ill.—to spell Marty Going at intervals. Denham, a lanky 175-pounder at 6-1, showed some of the running power he has used in three junior varsity victories.

WS Kearney Clash Rated No. 1 Game

By Russ Baldwin
WOW Sports Editor

It has to be called the number one game of the season when Wayne State clashes with Kearney State Saturday afternoon, 1:30 at Kearney.

Number one because championship of the Nebraska College Conference probably will be decided, and number one because Kearney always represents a major problem for the Wildcats.

Both teams bring once-beaten records to the game, Wayne with four wins, Kearney with five. Both have explosive runners. Sam Singleton for Wayne and John Makovicka for Kearney have been in the higher regions of NAIA national rushing charts all season—Makovicka a bit higher. He also leads the nation in scoring at 108 points while Singleton, at 24 points, has shared Wayne scoring more evenly with other Wildcats.

Both teams have depended more on running than passing. Kearney owns a rushing average of 298 yards to 200 by Wayne. In passing Kearney has averaged 131, Wayne 57.

All added up, Kearney looks more potent on offense, but its defense has given up more yardage, 288 total, than has Wayne, 245, and the Antelopes have allowed the foe an average of 16 points while Wayne foes have averaged nine.

Wayne defense has made life especially tough on Kearney in recent years, even when losing, so the battle likely will turn on defense again Saturday—plus psychology.

Kearney is 2-0 in conference, with only Wayne left to play in the NCC race. Wayne is 1-0, with Kearney and Peru ahead.

BIG RED VIEW FROM THE WOW BOOTH
By RUSS BALDWIN
WOW Sports Editor

The most difficult thing a sportswriter and sportscaster has to learn is to discard rumors until he knows the true facts. A case in point happened this week end when we were informed in Lawrence, Kans., that there was a rumor going around in Omaha concerning one of the Nebraska player's eligibility for Saturday's game. It is a helpless feeling to be quite positive the story isn't true but not being able to track it down right away. Finally, we learned the player was with the team, the rumor was completely unfounded and we could return to our task of preparing for the next day's broadcast.

The Sugar, Cotton and Liberty Bowls were all represented at the Kansas game. We were particularly impressed with the Sugar Bowl's new executive director, Joe Katz, who just retired after serving as a Captain in the Navy. Joe is enthusiastic in his new position and says outright he wants the two best football teams in the country available to play in his bowl. He has spent the last two Saturdays following Nebraska, and admittedly is quite impressed.

In the game against Missouri I saw an outstanding defense hold on until the offense could generate some kind of action in the second half. This past Saturday he saw an outstanding offense explode to put the Huskers out in front at half time, and then continue to roll in the second half while the defense came around.

The Huskers were playing a fired-up Kansas team in Lawrence, a team that really believed they could win. By mid-second quarter, there were many Husker fans who began to wonder about the outcome, too. However, when the final gun sounded, the Huskers were on top again and now comes the preparation for an Oklahoma State team that has had the benefit of a Saturday off, and is capable of throwing a scare into anybody.

We might comment once again about the Big Red Wave that flows into enemy territory on a Saturday afternoon. Over nine thousand Husker fans traveled to Lawrence for Saturday's game, and as usual impressed the locals with their conduct, enthusiasm and color.

The State of Nebraska may well be proud of their road ambassadors who sit in the stands, just as those Red Clads are equally proud of their state and their team.

Three-Way Tie in Recreation League

A win by the 8th and 7th grade White team last Thursday night and a Red victory Tuesday night put the group one division of the city recreation league into a three-way tie as of Wednesday morning. A pair of Red wins on Friday and Tuesday nights changed the standings in the 7th and 8th grade division, however, giving the Red team a one-game lead in the group two division.

In last Thursday night's action the group one White team handily dominated the Reds, 18-6. Rob Mitchell opened the scoring for the White team, taking the ball across from the three-yard line. The second quarter saw the Reds capitalized on a White mistake when Monte Lowe snatched a fumble and took the ball 30 yards to even the scoring at 6-6 at halftime.

Mark Brand opened the scoring in the second half, taking the ball in from the ten to give the White team a 12-6 lead, which remained until the final seconds of the game when Randy Parks widened the White's victory margin to 18-6 with a 69-yard carry.

Tuesday night's action in the 6th and 7th grade division saw the Reds run over the Orange team in group one division play 20-0.

Tom Johansen opened the scoring for the victors in the first quarter, carrying the ball around his own end for a 40-yard touchdown. Monte Lowe added six more points for the Reds in the first half, taking the ball into the end zone from 45 yards out.

The score remained 12-0 until late in the 4th quarter when Tom Johansen took the ball on his own one-yard line and carried the ball 89 yards of the 90-yard field for the final red touchdown. The extra point was good, making the final score 20-0.

In the 7th and 8th grade division, the Red team completely dominated the week's football action. After losing their first time out, the Reds edged out a 14-12 victory over the group two Whites in a Friday afternoon game.

Following their Friday win, the Reds went on to take the Orange team 16-6 in Tuesday night action to take the lead in their division.

As an added attraction, 17 baton twirlers age 7 to 17 will be performing during halftime activities at that game. The girls are under the direction of Vickie Stoltenberg, a senior at Laurel High.

tackle for a 12-yard touchdown run. Hedricks again added the bonus points to give the Reds a 16-6 victory.

In upcoming football action for the recreation league gridlers, the group one Orange team will meet their White team opponents Friday afternoon, with the group two Orange team taking on the group two Whites at 1:30 Saturday.

Tuesday night it will be the Whites vs. the Reds in both divisions, group one playing at 6:30 and group two at 8:15.

It's From The Frying Pan to The Fire for Wildcats

by Norvin Hansen

We predicted the Winside-Randolph game would be a close one. But who would have ever expected that close?

Final result of that contest, which started off like a nightmare for the Wildcats and their fans, was a 23-22 win for the Cards. It not only ended up a harsh pill to swallow for Winside—considering the never-say-die rally the Cats put together—but it also threw a wet towel on Winside's hope for the West Lewis and Clark Conference title this year.

Winside, now 1-1 in the division, is several steps behind Coleridge and Randolph, both with 3-0-1 marks in the division (the two teams tied at 6-6 to open the grid season).

The Wildcats will get another big test Friday night when Coach Doug Barry sees how much resiliency they actually have. The squad meets Coleridge, another L&C powerhouse who worked up a convincing 41-10 win over Allen Friday night.

Coach Barry admits that it's out of the frying pan and into the fire for his squad. After that disappointing loss to the Cards (Winside rallied from a 23-0 deficit to nearly pull off the win), he will have his hands full in getting his players to look forward to Coleridge and not back at Randolph.

Allen, completely overpowered by Coleridge last week, will meet Randolph Friday night for another shot at a West L&C opponent.

The Eagles, admits Buster Yannon, who's heading up the team now that Sonny Retzlaff is hospitalized, was never in the game with Coleridge. Allen made a lot of mistakes, he said, and Coleridge caught his players asleep on several plays they practiced for during the week.

Both teams have a good chance to win Friday despite the losses suffered in their last outings. Winside's failure against Randolph was due at least in part to five fumbles—all in the first period. Allen's was due partially to what Yannon calls a lax attitude. Both of these faults can be corrected.

Action is scheduled tonight (Thursday) between West Point Central Catholic and Wayne. The game has to be played tonight because of the difficulty of scheduling games for two schools on one field (West Point High shares the field with the Catholic squad).

Now carrying a 6-0 mark and tied for first place with Laurel with 5-0 marks in the west end of the Husker Conference, the Devils should dismantle the hosting West Point team with nearly the same ease as they took care of Bloomfield Friday night.

That Blue machine displayed a fine offensive and defensive ability in the 40-14 win over the Bees, racking up 362 total yards to Bloomfield's 209. Much of that yardage was yielded in the fourth period against Wayne's reserves.

Other action scheduled for Friday night pits Wakefield at West Point and Madison at Laurel.

West Point, 3-3 in the tough East Husker Conference, will be another big stumbling block in the Trojans' path. One of the unlicker teams in the area to this point in the season, the Trojans will have to come up with an offense equal to Friday's plus a stiffer defense if they hope to end that winless string. The Trojans held a momentary lead before falling to Oakland-Craig, 31-20.

The Laurel Bears, proving week after week that they deserve almost all accolades thrown their way, will make it a long night for visiting Madison. If the Bears' 6-0 mark doesn't give them the psychological edge, the 72-0 destruction of Crofton Friday night certainly should.

Athlete of the Week

Loren Reuter

By Norvin Hansen

An Allen High athlete, Loren Reuter, becomes the first area prepster to earn his second "Athlete of the Week" card.

The 5-8 speedster for the Allen Eagles gets the nod for the latest honors for his showing against Coleridge in Allen's homecoming game last Friday night. He had the honor of being the first "Athlete" ever chosen by the Herald sportswriters last December when the feature was initiated.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Reuter of rural Allen, Loren has been improving every game, according to Buster Yannon, head coach of the Eagles now that Sonny Retzlaff is hospitalized. Yannon says the senior back has one of the necessary traits for any athlete: a very serious attitude once the game begins.

Friday night Reuter made his presence felt against the visiting Coleridge squad even though the Eagles suffered their worst loss this year, a 41-10 humiliation by the West Lewis and Clark Conference foe.

A usual standout on offense with his fine running ability, Reuter harassed the Coleridge passer, pulling in two aeriels and running them back a total of about 40 yards. Those two thefts partially stopped the strong Coleridge offense in the third period when the visitors picked up 15 points to Allen's zero.

Reuter, who earned his "Athlete" title last year for his performance in the Allen-Ponca basketball game, defended against the Coleridge end very well, said Yannon, and several times figured in stopping end sweeps.

He lugged the ball 10 times for 38 yards against the stiff Coleridge defense which allowed Allen only 73 yards rushing. Yannon said he was stopped from long gains several times by the secondary defense after breaking through the first line.

"He's steadily improving," says his coach. "He's quick, has good speed and is just playing catch-up ball." Yannon also pointed to one other admirable trait the youth has: pride in his performance.

Area Locker Plants Processing Deer

A number of Wayne area processing plants are among the 71 licensed plants contacted by the Game and Parks Commission which have said they will process deer bagged by hunters this year.

Area plants taking in game include Johnson's Frozen Foods in Wayne, Wakefield Locker Service in Wakefield, Hill's Locker in Winside, Laurel Lockers in Laurel, K & P Market in Homer, Reed Lockers in Osmond and Coleridge Lockers in Coleridge.

Another 10 plants in the state have indicated they are considering accepting deer carcasses. Processing of game animal carcasses became an issue with the passage last year of the Meat and Poultry Inspection Act. The law does not prohibit locker plants from handling game carcasses, but imposes stricter requirements on those that do so.

The whole question hinges on two factors—the condition of the carcass and the willingness of the plant operator to meet new requirements imposed by the law.

The Game Commission reminds sportsmen that the first requirements must be met by the hunter, long before he brings his animal in for processing. Animals cannot be handled in any licensed processing plant if they are not properly bled, field

Grouse Hunters Fare About Same as 1969

Grouse hunters in Nebraska during the opening weekend of the season averaged about a bird per man per day, roughly the same success as they experienced last year, according to data from 12 check stations manned by Game Commission personnel.

Some 1,432 hunters passed through the check stations with 1,513 birds during the first 2 days of the season.

Preseason population surveys showed increased grouse populations in the western part of the state's grouse range, but hunter success there was slightly below last year. However, gunners fared better than expected in the eastern part of grouse country.

Laurel High Remains No. 8 in Class B

Handing Crofton a 72-0 trouncing failed to advance the Laurel Bears in The Omaha World Herald's B rating. The Bears moved into the number eight slot last week from the ninth position after rolling over Stanton 42-12.

The class B ratings remained virtually unchanged this week, the only change being in the tenth position. Auburn, sporting a 6-0 record, replaced Auburn (3-1-1) for that spot. All times rated by the Omaha daily—with the exception of No. 1 ranked Lincoln Pils X—added another win to their season records.

Top rated teams:
Lincoln Plus X (3-1); Blair (6-0); Omaha Cathedral (6-0); (6-0); Omaha Cathedral (6-0); Lexington (6-0-1); Columbus (6-0); Ord (5-1); Aurora (5-1); Laurel (6-0); Sidney (5-1); Auburn (6-0).

Washington - When Japan's Expo '70 closed on Sept. 13, a time capsule of stainless steel, 39 inches in diameter, was buried in the Senri Hills near Osaka. It contains specimens of refined metals, alloys and ceramics, tapes, and micro-books on thin silicon wafers, as well as that symbol of the age, a credit card.

Gail Charles Sellon, son of Charles O. and Margaret E. McNeill Sellon, was born July 1, 1897 near Randolph, and spent his entire life in Wayne and Cedar Counties of Nebraska.

August 29, 1923 he married Alice Kardell in St. Louis City. The couple married near Randolph and Laurel until 1954 when they moved into Laurel. At the time of his death Mr. Sellon was engaged in carpentry.

Preceding him in death were his parents, four brothers and a sister. Survivors include his widow, three brothers, Roy G. and Ray L. of Hugo, Colo., and Mark W. of St. Louis City; a sister, Mrs. George Mortensen, Wright City, Mo., and many nieces and nephews.
